State Awards Won by Kewaskum Frozen Foods

The Kewaskum Frozen Foods won the grand championship award for their home-made summer sausage at the Wisconsin Association of Meat Processors State Convention. It was held at the Olympia Resort, Oconomowoc, from April 10-13.

This renowned firm also won the President's Trophy which included fifteen categories of the most outstanding meat products. There were over 400 entries in the fifteen classes. This highly esteemed award was presented by State Secretary of Agriculture, Gary Rohde.

Last August Kewaskum Frozen Foods took the national grand championship award at the American Association of Meat Processors Convention at Caesar's Palace held in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Delbert Shea, the chief sausage maker, has a lifetime of sausage making behind him and joined Kewaskum Frozen Foods about seven years ago.

Over 900 lbs. of the famous summer sausage is made weekly. During the holidays the firm averaged just double that amount, or 1800 lbs. Other sausages are also made such as ring bologna, bratwurst, breakfast sausages, homemade wieners, blood sausage and others.

Robert Beisbier and his wife Darlene and several employees attended the convention.

David Nigh and Robert Beisbier are the proprietors of Kewaskum Frozen Foods. They bought out the owners, Greg and Anna Nigh, in January of 1979. Dave and Bob were in their employ from 1958 and 1961 respectively.

KHS Key Club to Present Program to Elementary Schools

In this beautiful month of April, the Key Club of the Kewaskum High School, has again come up with a worthwhile project. They will be presenting a single service project, concerning drinking, smoking and drug abuse, to a few of the surrounding elementary schools.

The project will be separated into three weeks, each week consisting of one of the three topics. Each session will last from 30-45 minutes, basically containing a film strip, study questions, and a discussion period.

The Key Club hopes to get across the main idea of the big decision that the children will have to make in their future years of getting involved with these health hazards. They know that the children have the opportunity to make their own decisions and hopefully will make the right ones.

Pat Peterson Honored for Service to AFS

The Kewaskum Woman's Club honored Mrs. Pat Peterson for her many years of dedicated service to the AFS at their Spring Luncheon on April 12.

Mrs. Ruth Schmitt presented her with an orchid corsage from the local AFS chapter and an AFS pin was presented to her by the club president, Mrs. Phyllis Bade. Mrs. LaVerne Hron then read the certificate of commendation given to Pat and told the members about the unbelievable number of hours Mrs. Peterson has put in as area chairman of the domestic program and the student-family liaison for the local chapter.

It was twenty-one years ago that Pat became a charter member of AFS. She has been involved in this program every year since that time and served as an officer many times. Her significant service is appreciated by the Kewaskum Woman's Club and the entire community.

A delicious luncheon was served to 32 women after the President welcomed members and guests. The hostesses, Mmes. Midge Swanson, Alma Edwards, Renetta Schwind, Mary Miller and Bernice Groh endeavored to bring us spring inside with lovely decorations, though it was certainly not spring-like outside.

Door prizes were won by Mrs. Mary (Edwards) Steinberg, Mrs. Agnes Garvey, Mrs. Pat Moody, Mrs. Carolyn Smucker and Mrs. Elaine Buswell. The winners in cards were Mrs. Agnes Schaefer, Mrs. Marcella Buehner and Mrs. Phyllis Bade.

Discuss New Football Field

School Board OKs Purchase of New Gymnastics Equipment

By DAN MEILAHN
Statesman Staff Writer

Monday night's Kewaskum Board of Education meeting centered around athletics. The board decided to purchase $3681 in gymnastics equipment and ruled that in the future, cheerleaders may not go out for sports. Moving the football field closer to the high school was also discussed.

Several meetings ago, a motion died that would have meant a $200 savings for the gymnastics equipment if purchased after a state meet. Jane Vesper, girls' gymnastics coach, explained that the present parallel bars used for both physical education classes and gymnastics were broken and re-welded and actually unsafe and illegal under WIAA standards. Floor plates are needed to make them acceptable. High School Principal Clark Pearson added that adequate equipment would mean new equipment.

Kewaskum presently has 28 girls in gymnastics and did very well this last season. Other schools are reluctant to invite Kewaskum to meets because Kewaskum cannot presently host meets because of the faulty equipment. Vesper and Pearson wished to have a decision on the equipment so that meets could be scheduled. There is only one other conference school offering gymnastics, so meets would primarily be with non-conference schools including Wau-pun, Chilton, Grafton, Markes-an, Columbus, West Bend, Fond du Lac, and Beaver Dam.

Board member Rich Theusch wished to see the finalized budget for next year before agreeing to purchase additional equipment. Board member Charles Ogi was concerned about the fuel situation and attending meets. Kewaskum Education Association President Bob Getter said the equipment would allow home meets which would mean only one-half the present travel expense. Vesper noted that most other schools were within 50 miles. Pearson said 100 miles of travel would cost around $60.

Board President John Tessar observed that after attending a gymnastics meet, he "went away very happy and proud." Finally the board voted to approve the purchase of uneven parallel bars, floor plates, beam supports, vaulting runways, and competition landing mats for $3681 on a 5 to 1 vote.

The question of whether or not cheerleading is a sport recurred during a discussion on part of the revised cheerleading code. Athletes may only go out for one sport at any one time, and there was some disagreement among cheerleading committee members if cheerleaders should be allowed to go out for any sports, most likely gymnastics, as had been done in the past.

Most coaches felt that there was a definite conflict between practice for cheerleading and other sports and conflicts between different sports events where cheerleaders should be present. The coaches voted virtually unanimously in favor of cheerleaders not participating in other sports.

Most board members seemed to consider cheerleading not a sport and Ogi proclaimed, "I never saw a sport where they didn't keep score." Board member Jean Goeden felt it might be a sport since WIAA rules were to apply to the cheerleader's conduct according to their constitution. Other board members and Supt. of Schools Floyd Brenholt felt otherwise - that these were only guidelines of conduct that could even be applied "to the annual staff."

Debbie Bargman, a student, wished to have a "grandfather clause" added that would allow the seniors of 1980-81 to participate in both gymnastics and cheerleading since some had been doing both for three years. Eventually the board accepted this qualification to the rule that sports and cheerleading not be mixed for future students.

Brenholt mentioned that the present football-athletic field near the elementary school posed several problems: a lack

Receives $2000 Hospital Auxiliary Scholarship

Laurel Wilson

Laurel Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wilson, 8527 Wescott Road, Route 3, Kewaskum, has been selected to receive the St. Joseph's Community Auxiliary Scholarship given annually in the amount of $2000.

Laurel has excelled academically while in attendance at Kewaskum High School and will be graduating with high honors. She has also been active in Student Council, Track, the Math Team and is a member of the National Honor Society.

Laurel will be attending Marquette University where she intends to pursue a career in nursing.

Kewaskum School's Reading Program To Be Featured at State Conference

Kewaskum Middle School's reading program for gifted and talented students will be featured in a special seminar at the Wisconsin State Reading Association's 1980 Spring Conference at the Olympia Resort and Spa at Oconomowoc, Wisconsin.

The seminar on the Kewaskum program will be presented by George Allmann, district reading specialist, and Mrs. Kathy West, instructor of the 7th and 8th grade gifted and talented courses.

Kewaskum initiated its gifted and talented reading program during the past school year through local school funds and matching federal funds under a Title IV B grant. Approximately 45 students are involved in the program which gives students an opportunity to expand their reading skills by covering a gamut of subjects and authors. Students who are presently in the eighth grade will continue with the program at the ninth grade level next year.

Students are permitted to enroll in the gifted and talented class at both the junior and senior high school if they score at the 95% on standardized tests administered to all students in the respective grades, or if they placed three or more years above their grade level in reading on the same test. Additional student data is obtained from classroom teachers.

The state conference annually brings together educators and parents from all over the state to review current trends in reading. The theme of this year's conference is Reading Covers Everything.

DIET DELIGHT, MICROWAVE CLASSES START TUESDAY

School Meeting

of parking for games; the dual use as a muddy playground area for grade school students; and the 25-year-old outdated lights which were also becoming a fire hazard. He suggested two alternatives in an effort to get a playable football field: 1) Let the area inside the track near the high school lie dormant for a year so that it could be used for afternoon football games beginning in 1981 while fixing up the field near KES to get through this fall. 2) Let the area near KES lie dormant and have it reseeded this fall and ready to be used in '81 as the official football field. This would mean the area inside the track would be fixed up for football this fall.

Brenholt didn't wish to spend a possible $25,000 or so on any new lights and wished to coordinate any athletic field plans with the Village of Kewaskum which is also considering a lighted field in its new park.

Board members felt that it certainly would be more convenient for parking and practice to have games held nearer the high school. This would also allow the KES playground to expand more. There still is some conflict with baseball games and certain recreational activities on the old athletic field. Afternoon games seemed to be favored by most of the board for bussing safety reasons and saving in energy.

A program evaluation plan for the district was approved. Over the next seven years, each instructional area's program and curriculum will be evaluated. This will be on a K-12 basis and will meet the standards of both the Wisconsin Consortium and the North Central Accreditation Association.

Some goals of the plan are to improve instructional programs and community school relations as well as assist in decision making concerning resources, program needs, and post-school success of graduates.

The agriculture, business education, industrial arts, and home economics programs will be evaluated this coming school year. A self-study committee will be appointed for each area and later an outside evaluation team will also make recommendations before presentation to the school board for action.

The Title I program was approved by the board for presentation to Madison. George Allmann explained that most Title I programs had been in remedial reading the past years. However, each district determines its area of need and appropriate program before submitting an application for funds. This year about $55,000 has been requested.

Allmann also noted that the elementary reading program for children functioning below grade level has been successful with some students leaving the program. He also stated that Title I funds can be applied to any area where there may be a need - even math. He further said that "the major emphasis we plan to place next year (will be) on language arts and not on reading."

Several board members and administrative officials visited Silverbrook School in West Bend to observe its anti-drug program. They were very impressed and were reassured by the West Bend district of assistance in setting up a similar program here, most likely for next year.

A request for a child rearing leave of absence of one year for an elementary art teacher was tabled until the May meeting. The teacher has been in the district for more than two years and is therefore eligible for such a year's absence under the present contract if a suitable replacement can be found. Rich Theusch hesitated on this matter because the contract for next year is still being negotiated. He said, "If something gets changed in the contract that we're negotiating, I don't know if we can actually grant that leave of absence."

Six teacher resignations were accepted from Denise Leong (8th grade English), Sharon Trampf (middle school art), Terese Dunlavy and Karen Rademacher (elementary speech and language), Don Liebetau (high school health) and Susan Schmitz (high school German).

Personnel was hired for kindergarten screening. Six days each were allowed for Mrs. Glick, Mrs. Zemlicka, Miss Rademacher, Mrs. Butz, and Mrs. Marx.

The rate of pay for school census takers was increased to 25c per student and 18c per mile. Census workers must register the names of all school age children during the summer months and are sometimes hard to come by. Business Manager Bob Borch said that five individuals would be hired for a total of $1100 - a $408 increase over last year.

A Ford tractor will be purchased for around $1050 from Kohn Bros. of Kewaskum. It will primarily be used to mow weeds near the Milwaukee River with a 6 ft. rotary mower. This was narrowly approved since the budget for next year promises to be very tight.

The firm of Graf and Van der Jugt was retained for the yearly audit of the school district. Tassar appointed a budget committee of Jean Goeden and himself.

Backhaus-Moe

Jeanne Backhaus, 1550 Riverview Drive, Kewaskum, and Philip Moe, 4849 S. 24th Street, Milwaukee, were united in marriage on Saturday, March 29, at St. Lucas Church, Kewaskum, by Pastor Paul Hoenecke.

Music was provided by Mrs. Paul Hoenecke, organist, and Wally Cudnohoske, soloist.

Jody Irene Krueger, daughter of the bride, of Campbell-sport, was the matron of honor, and John C. Moe, son of the groom, of Milwaukee served as best man.

A reception and dinner for about 50 guests was held at the Glacier Inn, Kewaskum, and the bride's home.

The bride is a teacher at Kewaskum Elementary School and the groom is semi-retired.

The couple is residing at 1550 Riverview Drive, Kewaskum.

100 Area Girl Scouts, 22 Leaders Attend Fly-up Weekend at Youth Camp

Approximately 100 Girl Scouts from eleven troops from Kewaskum, Farmington and Wayne attended a fly-up camp weekend, along with 22 leaders. The event was held last weekend at the Kettle Moraine Youth Camp. The purpose of the weekend is for third grade Brownies to have their first camping experience along with the Junior troops. A Cadette and Senior troop also went along to help.

They arrived at camp about 6:00 p.m. on Friday, April 11, and the first order of business was a formal flag ceremony. After supper there was plenty of time for the girls to get to know each other better with a campfire and song fest.

On Saturday, the girls spent the day learning skills and crafts such as: fire-building, trail-blazing, folk dancing, macrame, basic survival and first-aid, rock painting and making "God's-eyes." These were taught by the Senior Scouts, Cadette Scouts, leaders, and a special session on knot-tying that was taught by Ken Bartz, a local Boy Scout.

At 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, church services were held in the main lodge. Father Bill Key, the brother of leader Vickie Key, from a parish in Milwaukee conducted the Catholic services, and Rev. Steve Crites of the West Bend Church of the Nazarene held a protestant service.

After supper at a special campfire ceremony, the Brownies received their wings and were welcomed by the Junior troops they will be a part of in the fall. The 6th grade Juniors also took part in a Scouts Own with the Cadette troop they will join in September.

During the entire weekend, all the cooking, as well as dishwashing and clean-up was all done by the girls, and cooking for 120 people can be quite an experience! Sometimes quite a disastrous one as the leader and girls from troop No. 223 can tell you. On Saturday with all 120 hungry people ready for a chicken dinner, the girls prepared only half of the chicken. When the serving began and there wasn't enough to go around, the leader discovered there was another 20 lbs. of chicken still in the cooler. Raw!

Despite this small calamity, I am sure all the girls will agree a wonderful time was had by all, thanks to the many hours of planning necessary for a group of this size. Mrs. Lois Bartz and Mrs. Carol Neuser, assisted by Mrs. Kathy McGinnis and Mrs. Judy Goetsch, deserve our thanks for a job well done. We are all looking forward to going again next year.

HEALTH INSURANCE COUNSELING AVAILABLE

The Washington County Committee on Aging and the Washington-Ozaukee Life Underwriters Association are jointly sponsoring the Senior Citizens Health Insurance Counseling Program or as it is commonly called, the SCHIC Program.

This program is available to all older adults age 60 and over in Washington County every fourth Thursday of the month from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m.

For an appointment, please contact Joan Gagan at 338-4497.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP NO. 53, which has 17 members, observed Thinking Day with a very special ceremony. Each girl lit their own candle and spent a few minutes thinking about why they are Girl Scouts and also what they have learned from scouting.

They have spent a very busy year working on badges, especially the cooking badge and the sewing badge. They received their achievements at a special Court of Awards on March 4.

The Kewaskum High School Music Department is proud to announce that the Lawrence University Wind Ensemble will be presenting a concert in the high school auditorium on Wednesday, April 23, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

Lawrence University has a long tradition of being one of the country's leading small colleges. The intelligence, curiosity and independence of its students; the preparation of a faculty that thrives on teaching as well as research; the quality of its facilities, and a generous financial aid policy — these are all indicative of Lawrence's position at the forefront of private higher education.

As one of the largest divisions of the university, the Conservatory of Music has the staff and facilities to support a rich variety of courses, programs, and organizations. In addition to the Wind Ensemble, musical organizations include the Symphony Orchestra, Studio Orchestra, Jazz Ensemble, Concert Choir and Lawrence Singers, and many more. All ensembles are open through audition to students from either the College or the Conservatory.

The Lawrence University Ensemble under the direction of Robert Levy is open through audition to all students at Lawrence. The group performs extensively on campus, frequently with guest artists appearing as soloists. Kewaskum is the first stop of their Spring Tour.

Following the concert, the Lawrence students will be spending the night with members of the Kewaskum Music Department. On Thursday, a clinic will be offered to the band students of Kewaskum.

The Kewaskum musicians sincerely hope that the public will mark this date on their calendar. Admission is free, so see you there.

Town of Auburn Charities Report

The four combined Auburn Charities wish to thank the 100 donors to the various charities. A total of $594.00 was collected. The only expense is $21.90 for the printing of the envelopes. After that amount was taken off, the individual Charity amount is as follows: Wisconsin Heart Fund - $161.63; American Red Cross - $117.63; Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation - $136.72, and American Cancer Society - $156.12. A check in those amounts has been sent to the respective Charities.

Mrs. Orville Mathieu, Chairman of the Arthritis Fund, would like to inform anyone with arthritis that information on this disease can be obtained by calling this toll free number — 1-800-242-9945. This is the number of the Arthritis Information and Referral Resource. The information will be sent out.

The four chairmen, Mrs. Orville Mathieu (Arthritis), Mrs. Wm. Marchant (Red Cross), Mrs. Elmer Krueger (Cancer), and Mrs. Ralph Strassburg (Heart) wish to thank all those who donated to these Charities, and also Elmer Krueger, the town treasurer, for taking care of the envelopes.

WEEKLY Health TIP

from Tom Leitzke, R.P.H.

Shaking a small baby can lead to whiplash, brain damage, and even death, because an infant's head is relatively heavy and the neck muscles are weak. Many 'battered babies' are actually 'shaken babies', reports Dr. John Caffey of Pittsburgh University School of Medicine.

Many parents who would never strike an infant, may shake it in what they mistakenly think is 'harmless' punishment. Dr. Caffey says "Shaking may cause repeated bleeding within the head and eyes, leading to permanent disorders such as cerebral palsy, mental retardation, and vision impairment."

Earth Day '80 to Be Observed in County

When Neil Armstrong took his first step on the moon and looked back at the small inconsequential sphere called Earth he realized that it was not the giant never ending source of life as it appeared from its surface.

Realization that the Earth is a closed system that contains all the life as we know has been one of the seeds of the environmental movement. Knowing that if people blow it here, they will not get a second chance.

From "realization to implementation" is often a difficult if not impossible task. Lifestyles, and tradition are the basis of cultures which people wish to preserve, and rightly so. However, parts of these cultures which demand that resources be wasted, polluted, or destroyed, should be altered.

April 22, 1980 has been proclaimed Earth Day '80 by President Carter as a day to gain an awareness of our environment and make a commitment to enhance environmental quality and the effort to conserve energy.

There have been agencies, clubs and organizations that have been busy planning programs, activities and displays for the week of April 21-26 in Washington County. These include:

April 19 - (Not finalized). A canoe trip with teachers to encourage and give examples of what they can teach in the up-coming week.

Monday, April 21 - The (AAUW) American Association of University Women will sponsor a program on Alternative Energy at the West Bend Public Library at 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday, April 22 - Earth Day

1) Environmental displays at the Westfair Shopping Center, West Bend by various citizens groups and agencies.

2) Free Auto Emission Tests will be given at the Westfair Mall parking lot from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

3) Many schools have indicated that they will stress an environmental theme.

4) Hardwood trees purchased by the Kettle Moraine Audubon will be planted in 4 different locations in the county.

5) A coffeehouse lunch program on environmental concerns at UW-Washington County, by Dr. Wayne Schaefer from 12:00 noon to 1:00 p.m., entitled "Limits to Growth, Man's Challenge in the Eighties."

Wednesday, April 23 - John Reindl, UW-Extension Solid Waste Management Specialist will present a program on Resource Recovery at 7:30 p.m. in the lower level auditorium in the Courthouse, 432 East Washington Street, West Bend.

Friday, April 25 - Arbor Day.

Saturday, April 26 - Various clubs and organizations will have a litter pick-up and fill out a survey to analyze the composition of litter and its volume in relation to area.

Besides these activities and programs there are environmental displays at the public library, the university library; information can be picked up at the Park and Recreation Departments in West Bend and Hartford, and the Environmental Council will publish its newsletter for distribution.

Attend one of the programs, visit the displays, or become involved!

Wisconsin Earth Day '80 Proclamation

WHEREAS, In the past decade we in Washington County have made significant progress in the restoration, protection and maintenance of environmental quality and energy conservation;

WHEREAS, In the decade ahead, we face the challenge to balance environmental concerns and energy conservation with human needs;

WHEREAS, The people of Wisconsin have assumed the responsibility of guarding our natural resources, as echoed in the 1972 Wisconsin Environmental Policy Act, "to promote efforts which will prevent or eliminate damage to the environment or biosphere and stimulate the health and welfare of humankind;"

WHEREAS, The purity of Wisconsin's air and water and the abundance of unique and aesthetically pleasing scenery continues to draw young and old to our communities and countryside;

WHEREAS, Parks and other recreational areas have cradled Wisconsin's natural heritage;

WHEREAS, Farmers, foresters and fishers, as stewards of the land and water have harvested and replenished our renewable resources;

WHEREAS, The results of man's residential patterns and economic pursuits have often threatened the integrity of our precious water, air and soil resources;

WHEREAS, Wisconsin is striving to conserve energy and develop alternative and renewable sources to reduce dependence on outside energy supplies;

WHEREAS, A renewed dedication to our physical environment is based on the integration of ecological principles and a conservation ethic into the public education system of Wisconsin;

NOW THEREFORE, I REUBEN SCHMAHL, do proclaim the 22nd day of April, 1980 as Washington County Earth Day '80 and call for this day as the focus for a Spring-long reasoning together in community programs that will enhance environmental quality and energy conservation without jeopardizing the needs of present and future generations in Wisconsin.

Adopted this day March 28, 1980
By Reuben J. Schmahl
Chairman-Washington County

To the Editor:

The Town of Auburn Compactor.

The Town Board is running its meetings as best it can. Many times the silent majority does not come to the meetings or speak up. Neither I or Joe Zahn are violating any town ordinances.

The DNR did an unannounced inspection on the compactor and on February 22, 1980, said it is maintained in a clean and nuisance-free condition. Joe Zahn is doing a good job for the town people.

To move the compactor would cost thousands and thousands of dollars. The cost of land and others would make this worse.

To do what only a few want at so much expense is not right. Come to the meetings.

Steiner Named President of Threshold Board

The Threshold Board of Directors, at their recent monthly meeting, elected Robert Steiner as President of the Board. He shall serve a one year term.

Other officers elected were Jim Hopp, Vice-President, and Elaine Shanebrook, Secretary. John Rozek was reelected as Treasurer.

Steiner succeeds Don Stevens of Hubertus. Stevens shall remain on the Board, being reelected earlier to a three year term.

Bob Steiner has been a Threshold Board member for the past three years. In 1972, he volunteered as Chairman of the Threshold New Building Fund Drive which resulted in obtaining donations and pledges of $451,000. In 1977 he was appointed by the Board to head a new addition fund drive. That drive netted $251,000.

Steiner is presently a member of the Board of Directors of the 1st National Bank of West Bend, the Y.M.C.A., and St. Joseph's Hospital.

In prior years he had been very active in St. Frances Cabrini Catholic Church (past Council President), West Bend Jaycees (past President, 1963), and West Bend Business Association (past President).

Steiner, a lifelong resident of West Bend, is the owner of Steiner Electric, an industrial electrical contractor, and electrical appliance sales firm. He has stores in West Bend, Cedarburg and Kewaskum.

Other Board members are: Ken Kreskeck (Hartford); Bill Bailey, John Beisbier, Norman Colby, Ted Dickman, Doris Fisher, Derry Wagner, Kathleen Walter (all of West Bend); Robert Zarling (Kewaskum), and Al Zimmerman (Slinger).

All Board members serve on a volunteer basis and meet monthly.

The Threshold is a non-profit, non governmental agency which provides services and programs daily for handicapped children under age three and adults over age 18. Threshold presently serves 23 children and 170 adults, all of whom reside in Washington County. All programs operate daily on a year around basis.

Lawrence W. Kelly of Regal Ware Inc. To Be Moderator at Incentive Workshop

Lawrence W. Kelly

Lawrence W. Kelly, premium sales manager, Regal Ware Inc., Kewaskum, has been selected to be a moderator at the annual Incentive Workshop to be conducted May 4 by the National Premium Sales Executives.

He is a member of NPSE, a professional society concerned with advancing the management of trade and consumer incentive campaigns. The association publishes legal bulletins and monthly newsletters, organizes informative meetings

County 4-H Speaking and Poster Program April 28

The 1980 Washington County 4-H Speaking and Poster Program will be held on Monday, April 28, at 7:00 p.m. at Silverbrook School in West Bend.

The County Program includes the top speakers and posters from each club in the county. Any member may participate in their local club program. The Belle Albright committee presents cash awards to the speakers and members making posters in the County event.

Each year a theme is selected for the speaking and poster program. The theme this year is "Conservation of Our Resources and the Environment." It is especially important and timely because of the oil and energy shortage and the need to conserve energy.

The purpose of the county poster and speaking program is to help people learn things about the theme of the program. It is also to help members learn communication. Communication is information or feelings being passed from one person to another. This can be done in many ways. It can be by speaking, drawing or by actions. The county speaking and poster program gives members experience in communication through the spoken word and through visual communication.

A good talk needs to be planned and organized logically. Then it needs to be presented in an interesting way. Posters need to be made to catch your attention and to give a single message that can be understood at a glance. The talks and posters are evaluated and comments given to the participants to let them know how well they have done and how they can improve their communication.

and endorses trade shows. The association's membership is limited to 350 qualified special-markets executives.

NPSE, along with two other organizations, is endorsing the 42nd Premium Incentive Show scheduled to open May 5 at the New York Coliseum. The show draws more than 1,100 exhibitors and almost 30,000 buyers annually.

The NPSE workshop preceding the show will be held at the Sheraton Centre, New York. The workshop, which is expected to attract an estimated 450 marketing executives, will examine changing incentive market conditions and provide a forum for premium experts to exchange ideas. This year's theme will be: "One Step Beyond - The Universe of Incentives."

Haig Babian, chief economist, Research Institute of America, and keynote speaker will talk on "Marketing Challenges of the 1980s" followed by four discussion sessions on incentive usage. Each session offers seven seminar selections.

Discussions will focus on how to reach the incentive market, supermarket promotions, games, contests and sweepstakes, financial marketing, trade incentives, testing and evaluating consumer premiums, direct selling, mail marketing, self-liquidators and free mail-in offers.

Following the program, NPSE and four other organizations will sponsor a reception for all attending the Premium Incentive Show.

Medical Scholarship Offered by County Legion Auxiliary

The annual Medical Scholarship is again being offered by the Washington County Council, American Legion Auxiliary.

The $100.00 Scholarship is awarded to a student desiring to enter any field in the medical profession. This would include training to become a nurse, technician, medical secretary, etc. The other requirements are that the student be the child or grandchild of a veteran, a 1978 high school graduate and reside in Washington County.

Application blanks are now in the offices of the Germantown, Kewaskum, Hartford, Slinger and West Bend High Schools.

Any qualified person should contact their high school counselor. Additional information can be obtained from Mrs. Dorothy Kleinke, Scholarship Chairman, by telephoning 334-9198. The deadline for applications is June 1, 1980.

Scout-O-Rama to Be Held April 26

District II Scout-O-Rama will be held April 26, at St. Peter's Church in Port Washington. Displays of Scout skills and activities by both Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts from Ozaukee and Washington Counties will be on display.

Tickets cost $1.00 and each one admits one adult and one child. Two tickets admit an entire family. Each ticket also allows the bearer to receive one Big Mac free with the purchase of one at the North-Eastern and Upper Peninsula McDonald's Restaurants. McDonald's is this year's co-sponsor for the Bay Lakes Council's Scout-O-Rama.

Scout-O-Rama gives the public a chance to see what over 2000 Scouts have been doing for the past year. Both indoor and outdoor activities will be presented. Participation by visitors will be encouraged at many of the functions. There will be foods to taste, and skills to try. The show will be open from 12:00 to 5:00 on Saturday afternoon.

FRIEDA KERTSCHER

Frieda Kertscher, nee Nitschke, of the Samaritan Home, West Bend, formerly of Fillmore, died Tuesday, April 15, at the Samaritan at the age of 90.

She was born Dec. 30, 1889, in the Town of Farmington and lived in the Fillmore area until becoming a resident of the Samaritan nine years ago.

She married John Kertscher in Fillmore on Oct. 14, 1916. He passed away March 6, 1966.

Survivors include three sons, Wilmer (Ann) of Fillmore, Allen (Dolores) of Wayne and Raymond (Ruby) of West Bend; a daughter-in-law, Bernice Kertscher of Silver Creek; 16 grandchildren; 28 great-grandchildren; one sister, Elsie (Jess) Kertscher of West Bend, and other relatives and friends.

One son, Melvin, two sisters and two brothers predeceased.

Funeral services will be Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Schmidt Funeral Home West Bend. Rev. John Klindt will officiate and burial will be in Union Cemetery, Fillmore.

Visitation at the funeral home will be Thursday from 4 p.m. until time of services.

Junior Women to Observe Arbor Day, Plant Tree in Park

Arbor Day has its origins in Nebraska. Pioneers moving west in the mid-19 Century found the Nebraska Territory to be a treeless plain. The pioneers missed the trees of the eastern homes they left behind, but more importantly, trees were needed for windbreaks to keep the soil from blowing away, and for fuel, lumber and shade.

Among the pioneers moving into the area in 1854 was J. Sterling Morton from Detroit. Morton and his wife were nature lovers and their new home in Nebraska was soon planted with trees, shrubs and flowers.

Morton was a journalist and he became editor of Nebraska's first newspaper. Through his articles, he spread agricultural information and his tree planting enthusiasm to an eager audience.

Morton not only advocated tree planting by individuals, but urged schools, civic organizations and groups of every kind to join in. He also encouraged the planting of trees as memorials.

Morton became Secretary of the Nebraska Territory and was able to use his new post to stress the importance of agriculture and family life. On January 4, 1872, he first proposed an annual tree planting day, to be called "Arbor Day" at a meeting of the State Board of Agriculture.

The first Arbor Day was observed in Nebraska on April 10, 1872. It was estimated, statewide, that more than one million trees were planted on that day.

Morton's home in Nebraska

City became Arbor Lodge and it now contains extensive planting of more than 160 species and varieties.

Morton died in 1902 and a memorial to him at Arbor Lodge was dedicated by President Grover Cleveland in 1905. One of Morton's own phrases adorns the marker, "Other holidays repose upon the past - Arbor Day proposes for the future."

The Kewaskum Jr. Woman's Club will also be observing Arbor Day, April 25, with the planting of a tree in our new Kiwanis Park. Everyone is welcome to come at 4:00 and help us "plant a tree for the future."

NATURE AND TECHNOLOGY CAN SHARE THE ENVIRONMENT. WE HAVE LIVING PROOF.

You'll find some of the best fishing on Lake Michigan within a short cast of any Wisconsin Electric lake shore power plant. In fact, many fishermen tell us the waters next to our power plants are among the best fishing holes in the entire state.

We're proud of that kind of reputation, because we've worked hard at making sure our plants work in harmony with the environment.

Everything we do is reviewed with its environmental impact in mind. Whether it's locating a power plant or simply putting up new lines.

We installed our first pollution control device over 50 years ago. Long before it was fashionable to be an environmentalist. Today we have over 35 environmentalists on our staff. Biologists. Chemists. Land use planners. Geologists. And meteorologists. Just to mention a few.

At Wisconsin Electric, we're committed to keeping our state a land of plenty.

Plenty of good fishing, green forests and clean air. And plenty of electric power.

BY THE YEAR 2000, MILLIONS OF AMERICAN FAMILIES WILL HAVE ONE OF THESE.

The device is called a Load Control Receiver, or LCR for short. And right now, in one of the first programs of its kind, thousands of Wisconsin families are volunteering to have them installed in their homes — long before most other Americans will ever hear about them.

The device is part of an all-out effort begun by Wisconsin Electric to find ways to hold down the growing demand for electricity.

The LCR connects to home electric water heaters. Most of the time it does nothing — until the demand for electricity in your community reaches a certain high level. Then, a dispatcher signals the LCR to turn off the heating element in your water tank. As soon as the demand for electricity has gone down, the heating element is turned back on.

People won't be inconvenienced because the hot water in the tank is enough to get most households through those periods when the heating element is turned off.

If most electric water heaters in this area had an LCR installed, we could reduce the peak demand for electricity enough to meet the needs of over 50,000 new families — without having to build more electric power plants to do it. The LCR is just one of the many new ideas Wisconsin Electric is working on to help solve Wisconsin's energy problems. But we can't do it alone. It'll take your help, too, in conserving energy. There are ways to solve the energy problem.

And they'll all work better if we all work together.

A SALUTE TO AGRICULTURE

Many people don't realize the contributions that the farming community makes, not only to our food and fiber supply, but to the strength of the entire economy as well. They deserve our support.

As a whole, the agriculture community is the nation's top industry and employer. For example, assets of the agriculture industry total $950 billion, equal to 80 percent of all assets of all American corporations combined.

Nearly 17 million people work in some phase of agriculture — from growing crops to selling them in the supermarket. Farming itself employs 4.4 million workers. In all, agriculture accounts for one out of every five jobs in private enterprise.

The agriculture industry is also one of this country's best inflation fighters. The rate of productivity in the agriculture community is double that of nonfarm industry. One farm worker today supplies enough food and fiber for 65 people.

Compared to other nations, American farm production is unparalleled. For example, annually Asian farmers produce an average of 4,400 pounds of food crops and Russian farmers produce an average of 33,000 pounds, but American farmers produce an astonishing 375,000 pounds apiece.

As for our balance of trade, the agriculture industry is the nation's number one exporter. Agricultural exports totalled $32 billion last year — by far the leading positive factor in an otherwise inflationary, dismal balance of trade. These exports provided employment of 1.6 million U. S. workers, and generated more than $110 billion in related activity in our economy.

With less than 7 percent of the world's land, the U. S. produces 48 percent of the world's corn and 63 percent of the world's soybeans.

Despite these advantages to our economy, people still complain about food prices, forced up by inflation like everything else. Yet, family income buys much more food today than it did 30 years ago. For example, a U. S. factory worker's hourly pay could buy 3 dozen eggs in 1950, but 8 dozen today.

In all, we ought to recognize the outstanding contributions of the agricultural industry. If the rest of our economy were as productive and vital, our country would be in much better shape.

TEACHERS PRINCIPALS NEEDED IN ARCHDIOCESE

Elementary and secondary teachers, and elementary school principals are needed to staff the schools in the ten counties of the Milwaukee Archdiocese. Interviews will be conducted at Marian College, Fond du Lac, on Monday, April 21, by Sister Lucille Flores, Archdiocesan Director of Professional Placement Services. Applicants must possess an appropriate academic degree and Wisconsin certification. Candidates interested in making application can arrange for an interview by contacting Sister Marie Wagner, Marian College at 921-3900, Ext. 244.

County Will Observe National Volunteer Week

Washington County will join communities across the country in saluting the contributions and achievements of volunteers during National Volunteer Week, April 20-26. The week of activities serves not only to focus public attention on the contributions of a wide variety of volunteers, but to publicly thank them for their contributions and to encourage all citizens to become more actively involved in meeting needs in their community.

National Volunteer Week is being coordinated locally by the OPEN Volunteer Committee. According to the volunteer coordinators, 11 local organizations, American Cancer Society, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, Cedar Lake Home, Citizens Advocacy, Elderly Nutrition Program, Open Door, Planned Parenthood, Red Cross, Samaritan Home, Threshold, and Washington County Department of Social Services, are participating in the week's events.

One event is a county-wide volunteer appreciation night set for Wednesday, April 23, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at the Fifth Avenue United Methodist Church, 323 S. Fifth Ave., West Bend. Ron Franzmeier will talk on "The Future of Volunteerism."

Established in the early '70's, National Volunteer Week is recognized nationally by a message from the president and locally by proclamations from governors and city officials. Washington County Board Chairman, Reuben Schmah, has proclaimed the week Volunteer Recognition Week.

In announcing the local plans for celebrating National Volunteer Week, all volunteer coordinators encourage all citizens to renew their own commitment to making Washington County a better place by volunteering a part of their time and energy to help others in their neighborhood and community.

ACID RAIN MAY HARM FISHING IN NORTHERN WISCONSIN LAKES

The jewels of the north are in jeopardy. The lakes of northern Wisconsin will still sparkle among the trees, but if acid rain continues to fall many of them may lose their attraction for fishermen.

The trouble-causing acids form in the air from chemicals in smokestack and exhaust fumes, produced when coal and oil are burned. The acids are washed from the sky by rain and snow, or settle to the ground as dry particles.

The acids fall on most parts of the northern hemisphere. But so far, they are causing problems only where soils and waters contain low levels of acid-neutralizing minerals. Because of the high PH in southeastern Wisconsin we have hardly been affected.

Acid precipitation has wiped out fish populations in nearly 1,500 lakes during the past 35 years. Recently, hundreds of lakes in eastern Canada and the northeastern United States have lost their fish to acidification.

The area of acid damage seems to be spreading westward. In Wisconsin, concern focuses on lakes in the northern half of the state, where geologically sensitive soils and waters abound.

How much acid falls on northern Wisconsin is not known for certain, but available information indicates that rain and snow may be 10 times more acidic than normal, says Joe Eilers, Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) water quality specialist.

So far, investigators have found no clear-cut evidence that northern Wisconsin lakes are being harmed by the acid, but they have only begun looking for the signs of acid buildup and damage.

Last year, a DNR and U.S. Environmental Protection Agency team sampled 350 lakes in northern Wisconsin, including portions of Vilas, Oneida, Langlade, Lincoln, Price and Taylor Counties, and found 280 lakes with some degree of acid sensitivity, based on their low content of acid-neutralizing minerals.

Forty of the lakes had extremely low neutralizing abilities, and acid levels were at or above the fish danger level. But just how much of the acid came from the air isn't clear, says Eilers. Many of the lakes are naturally acidic from the chemical products of decaying plants.

There doesn't appear to be any declines in Wisconsin fishing success that are definitely traceable to acid rain. He emphasizes, though, that it takes several years for the effects of acidification to show up as reduced fishing success. High acid levels rarely result in observable fish kills. Instead, they usually interfere with fish reproduction.

In addition, even though one kind of fish might decline in numbers from acidification, another, more resistant kind might remain and even increase in numbers. Changes in relative abundance of different fish species are common, so at least during the early stages of acidification, it's difficult to distinguish those caused by acid from those caused by other factors.

Acid interferes with fish reproduction in several ways. Some species fail to reach spawning condition. Others spawn, but eggs fail to hatch, or larvae die soon after hatching. The acid also works indirectly by leaching toxic metals from soil and sediment. Aluminum, in particular, damages fish gills.

The coincidence of snow melt and the spawning season for many species magnifies the damaging effects of acid and toxic metals. Snow meltwater can be very acidic with the winter's accumulation of acid. To compound the problem, when the ground is frozen, meltwater runs directly into lakes without benefit of neutralization by soil minerals. Meltwater may also contain high levels of toxic metals from atmospheric fallout.

Walleye and members of the sunfish family, including largemouth and smallmouth bass, are the most sensitive of Wisconsin fish to acidic water. Lake trout, suckers, bullheads and rock bass are less sensitive, and yellow perch and various minnows still less. The sensitivities of muskie and northern pike are unknown.

But the loss of fish may not be the only problems fishermen face. Fish that survive in acid waters may not be safe to eat. The chemical form of mercury that accumulates most rapidly in fish also forms most readily in acid water. In one study, trout in acid lakes in New York's Adirondack Mountains contained three times more mercury than trout from non-acidified lakes.

Beyond the direct toxicity of acid water to fish, a variety of other changes limit fish production in acidified lakes. Bacteria decompose dead plants and animals more slowly. As a result, algae, which need the recycled nutrients, do not grow as well. The lack of algae limits the growth of animals that normally feed on them and, in turn, that of creatures all the way up the food chain to fish.

At the same time, acid-tolerant organisms, such as sphagnum moss and certain fungi, grow prolifically and may choke out other aquatic plants, depriving young fish of cover. Amphibians are also sensitive to acid. There is special concern for frogs and salamanders that breed in temporary rain and snowbelt pools. In another New York study, only about one-third of spotted salamander embryos survived in water with an acid content that is known to occur in northern Wisconsin snowmelt water.

There are about 10,000 lakes in northern Wisconsin. If the proportion of lakes with extremely low neutralizing abilities and already high acid levels—40 of the 350—hold throughout the north, perhaps as many as a thousand lakes may be nearing the threshold of acid damage.

Over 70 Boys, Girls Participate In Kid's Wrestling Tournaments

Over 70 grade school boys and girls participated in the first annual Kewaskum Kids Wrestling Tournament held in the KHS gym Saturday, April 12.

After a brief clinic presented by Indian head coach Fran Charland and members of the high school team, the first through sixth graders were given the chance to practice their skills in three minute matches.

The participants were grouped according to age, weight, and ability. Each was given at least two matches.

First and second grade wrestlers included: Tina Ebert, Claire Staehler, Wendy Figeler, Mike Kocher, Nick Spartz, Seth Fry, Danny Stollenwerk, Dennis Prunty, Tiffany Higgins, Kevin Herriges, John Schmidt, Sandy Stollenwerk, Eric Giese, Tim Schultz, Scott Limberg, Peter Harju, Chris Weddig, Matt Dorzak, Scott Borgman, Rich Thiemer, Tina Weddig, Jackie Bielaga, Chuck Metz, Jerry Sese, Kevin Resch, Danny Bastian, Bret Rauch and David Yogerst.

Third and fourth grade participants included: Miles Shaw, Rosalyn Staehler, Glenn Neumann, John Paul, Chris Charland, Mike Sabish, Donny Nelson, Adam Miklas, Russell Krezman, Joel Serwe, Bobby Castro, Matt Gruss, Scott Brenner, David Prunty, Tom Zimdahl, Billy Petersen, Marty Schulteis, Eric Pearson, Bob Kode, Jason Reysen, Randy Trapp, Glenn Dorzok, Wayne Neumann, Andy Swenarski, Tim Frigge, Bruce Krezmann, Dion Hood, Craig Hubbell, Greg Weddig, Chris Reysen, Jeff Vorpahl, and David Martin.

Girls Edged by Custer, Nicolet; Compete in Madison USTFF Indoor

The Kewaskum girl's track team traveled to the City of Milwaukee Thursday for competition against Nicolet of the Braveland Conference and Custer of the Milwaukee City League.

A second place finish in the mile relay, won by Kewaskum, gave Custer the victory. Custer edged Nicolet, 57-55, and the Indians had 47.

Kewaskum's Laurie Wilson won the 200 low hurdles in 32.9, a very good time so early in the season. Julann Zemlicka hit a 27.7 in the 200 meter run for first and Jill Yearling took the high jump with a 4-10. Freshman Linda Larsen won the 400 meter in 64.1. Wilson, Diane Bremser, Zemlicka and Larsen won the mile relay in 4:24.7.

On Saturday the Indians competed in the USTFF indoor meet at Madison against many of the top Class A runners.

The Kewaskum girls finished 9th in the mile relay, a yard ahead of Slinger. Most likely the best for the Indians was Barb Wilson's 2:28.3 in the half mile, her best time of the season by six seconds.

The Indians' 880 relay team had problems with exchanges and the outer lanes and the best they could do was a 1:57.6. Laurie Wilson, Bremser, Zemlicka and Larsen combined for a 4:20 flat in the mile relay.

Slinger's Cathy Branta proved she is one of the best milers and high school distance runners in the state. Competing in the USTFF meet against many of the best 30-Class A milers in the state she chalked up a 5:04.5 to win. Almost 90 milers competed.

Boys Tip Rams in Outdoor Opener

The Kewaskum boy's track team opened their outdoor season here Thursday by easily defeating Random Lake of the Central Lakeshore Conference, 74-53. Chilly weather slowed down the times.

The Indians won all but one of the running events but the Rams finished first in all five field events. Random Lake also won one of the two relays.

Jim Geldreich, Washington County indoor high jump champ, did not have a good day. He placed third with a 5-6. The KHS long jumpers were also short of their usual efforts. This may have been due partly to a loose takeoff board.

Steve Beck's performance in the 800 meter run tops for the day. He was clocked in 2:09.9. Joel Herriges also won the 200 meter run in 25.3 and helped the mile relay unit to a first.

All-Stars Beat Lakes Champs In 'A', 'B' Games

The Menomonee Falls Badgers and Oconomowoc, champions from the "A" and "B" Divisions of the Land o' Lakes basketball league, ended the season by losing to all-star squads in games played at Menomonee Falls Wednesday evening.

In the "A" game the stars overcame a 38 point performance by the Badgers' Bob Wolf, league leading scorer, to win 105-102. Ron Hayek of the Falls Stingers and Scott Murray of Thiensville-Mequon led the winners with 24 points each.

Oconomowoc, led by John Sibley's 33 points, trailed by just two after three quarters before dropping a 126-112 decision to the "B" stars. Kewaskum's Ken Loest and Chris Schroeder paced the winners with 23 and 19 points, respectively. Clark Eichstedt of Kewaskum was also selected to the all-star squad but did not play.

The annual Lakes awards banquet was held at Reuter's Supper Club, Germantown, Saturday evening. Wayland Tassar, President of the Valley Bank of Kewaskum and Allenton, was the main speaker. Other details were published last week.

County Saddle Club to Sponsor Horse Clinic

A Horse Clinic will be held Saturday, May 3, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the J & S Farm II, 5194 Hwy. E, two miles south of Slinger.

The forenoon will feature a judging and showmanship seminar conducted by James Chaffin. The afternoon session on English and Western riding will be conducted by trainer Jerry Gillette.

Participants may bring their horses or take part without a horse. Participants must have a responsible parent present and be dressed to show.

Bring a bag lunch. Drink and donuts will be supplied.

The clinic is sponsored by the Washington County 4-H Saddle Club and is open to the public. Send a $1.00 reservation fee to Jean Beisentein, 6601 Hwy. K, Hartford, WI 53027, phone 673-2053.

KEWASKUM JAYCEES BASEBALL/SOFTBALL

The Kewaskum Jaycees will again be running a Little League Baseball/Softball program this summer. Our program will be run as in the past where EVERY player bats and fields in each game. The emphasis is NOT placed on winning, but on enjoyment and the "Fun of playing."

SIGN UP INFORMATION:

1.) REGISTRATION DAY will be Saturday, April 19th, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Savings and Loan Building. Enter through the back door of the building. This will be the ONLY

TIME for signing up. Registration fee is $5.00 and must be paid at time of registration.

2.) All player's ages will be based on the player's age on August 1st! A player who is 8 today, but who will be 9 on August 1st is eligible to play. A player who is 12 now but will be 13 on August 1st will NOT be eligible to play. For "Traveling League" the same rules apply, except a player's age may not exceed 15 years on August 1st.

3.) Any youngster who resides in the Kewaskum school district is eligible to play.

4.) Due to the large turnout expected, players are asked to sign up for ONLY one of the programs.

5.) All games and practice sessions will take place on the new park diamonds.

6.) Little League Baseball - Monday, Youth Softball - Wednesday. "Traveling League" - Thursday.

7.) Any questions should be directed to Chuck Kleinke (626-4753); Gary Panzer (338-8732); or Richard Thiemer (626-4734).

Don't forget, if your child is age 9 thru 12 (for Baseball/Softball) or age 13 thru 15 (for "Traveling League") and wants to play in League this summer — sign them up on April 19th. Fill in the form below and bring it in on the 19th. Forms will also be available at registration site.

This is an adult volunteer program designed to allow youngsters the opportunity to play organized baseball/softball. We need the assistance of parents to run this program. All it takes is one night per week for about an hour. If you can help in any way please come with your player to the initial practice session. We try to have three coaches per team to allow for vacations, etc. Extensive playing knowledge is not required.
