$4.5 Million School Budget Approved At Annual Meeting by 62-26 Vote

By DAN MEILAHN
Statesman Staff Writer

The School District of Kewaskum's budget of $4.5 million was approved for presentation to the annual meeting by a 62-26 vote. Also at Monday night's annual meeting, a total tax levy of $2,185,482 for operating expenses and $354,022 in debt retirement was unanimously approved with only one voiced opposition.

An increase of $341,246 or 15.52% in the tax levy was re-explained by Supt. of Schools Floyd Brenholt, mostly in response to questions. He repeated his premise that the district likes to present the worst possible picture at the budget hearing. "We want to be able to change it to the good in September and October rather than change it so it looks worse. We'll take our lumps in July."

Again he said that due to Kewaskum's history of consistently spending less per student and maintaining a higher certified staff to student ratio, Kewaskum could not cut as some other districts who have spent more. "We have been spending less per pupil than the vast majority of school districts in the State of Wisconsin."

Orval Behnke asked why Slinger's increase was only 6.5% while Kewaskum's was 15.5%. Brenholt said he didn't know Slinger's exact situation but said that they did have $\frac{1}{2}$ million less in debt service and their bussing was somehow less. Brenholt also pointed out that some neighboring districts' taxes were up from 17% to 35%.

Board member Charles Ogi wondered why Governor Dreyfus ordered 4.4% cut in state aids could not be reflected in the budget and how this was going to be absorbed by the district if it was upheld. Brenholt expected that of \$75,000 the district might lose, expenditures for gas might be as much as \$35,000 less than the \$160,000 budgeted. He added that the remaining \$40,000 might be picked up by using some of the \$504,000 in back taxes due in August. He reassured the electorate, "So without a tax increase, we would be able to handle this thing come Sept. or Oct." He also mentioned that other districts are also using this tactic and stated that each year about $\frac{1}{2}$ million is carried over when all the current year's bills are paid.

Kay Petrie asked if education was getting out of hand and if all the specialists were needed. Brenholt replied that a greater percentage of students were staying in school longer, some of whom had little desire to be there. Therefore, personnel were needed to deal with this. He also cited the special education dept. in which special services to the handicapped from age 3 - 21 are mandated by the state.

The state interventions of cutting aid and mandating specialists prompted John Steger to ask why local districts were governed so extremely by the state and if this wasn't dictatorship. Brenholt explained that the constitution gives the responsibility of education to the state and any power of local school boards is only delegated by the state.

Tony Janik directly questioned the percentage of increase in comparison to other districts. "They come up with a 6. They got the same kind of expenses. You guys come up with a 15. It's no good!" Brenholt explained that most costs were fixed and beyond the district's control. Of the $480,000 increase in the budget, an unpredictable gas allocation accounted for 15% of this, a new bussing contract

KHS Swing Choir to Display Talent, Potential at State Fair

"Music is the universal language." We've all heard this expression at one time or another, but the Kewaskum High School Swing Choir has come to realize the true meaning of this simple but valuable expression. After performing for and being well accepted by people of all ages and backgrounds, members of the 1979-80 KHS Swing Choir will make their final appearance together at the State Fair in Milwaukee on Tuesday, August 5, at 11:00 a.m. in the Activity Dome.

Performing at the State Fair is a great way to end an eventful year, as it will be the first time that the Swing Choir from Kewaskum will have done so. All year long the group has been kept busy, especially during the Christmas season. In addition to the annual Christmas Concert, the Swing Choir performed for community groups, people confined to nursing homes, and local business Christmas parties.

Along with spring came the Evening With the Arts Concert, competition, and performing for area grade school students. A fine performance at the District Solo-Ensemble Contest earned the group the opportunity to move on to the State Contest, where they wore their new outfits for the first time. Shortly after, the group went "on tour" to area grade schools to stimulate young interest in music. They met with most receptive and appreciative audiences of youngsters, and teachers as well.

Even though school let out for the summer, Swing Choir didn't! Early summer found the group singing "The Star-Spangled Banner" at Kewaskum: Night at the Brewers' game. They felt right at home when the Kewaskum fans stood up and cheered when they were finished.

And so, it is easy to see that the KHS Swing Choir has used the "universal language" to reach out to many different people - young and old, men and women, business executives and Brewers' fans. As they perform together for the last time before establishing the Swing Choir for the coming year, members of the 1979-80 KHS Swing Choir would like to see you at the State Fair on Tuesday, August 5, and they invite you to attend their performance at 11:00 a.m. in the Activity Dome.

Channel 12's Rod Luck to Cover Kewaskum Tournament

Rod Luck, sports announcer for channel 12 TV, Milwaukee, will be paying Kewaskum a visit on Saturday, August 2. He will be arriving with Copter 12, the channel 12 helicopter. Luck will be covering the Kettle Moraine League Girl's Softball Tournament which begins on Friday, August 1, at Kewaskum Kiwanis Community Park.

According to Bob Schmidt, coach of two of the Kewaskum softball teams, the exact time of Luck's arrival in Kewaskum is not known. Schmidt was instrumental in contacting Luck. He had talked to the sportscaster some time ago and Luck stated he would let Schmidt know at a later date.

Schmidt received a call from Luck on Wednesday, July 30, confirming the visit.

The filming of the tournament will be aired on channel 12 TV on Saturday evening during the 10:00 p.m. newcast on the "Milwaukee Sports Today" segment of the sports news.

This is an old picture of a shipment of concrete mixers manufactured by Rimmel Mfg. Co. of Kewaskum ready to be shipped out from the local depot. The Rimmel plant was located just across the street and to the north of the depot, on the corner where an apartment building now stands. Owner Nic Rimmel [who incidentally was the grandfather of the publisher of the Statesman], is shown between the first two mixers. At the far left are some of the Rimmel employees. The man at the right is believed to be Louis Bath Sr., who later took over the business.

School Meeting

accounted for 7%, and teachers' salaries which are still being negotiated accounted for 39% of the increase. Again it was stated that $300,000 had been cut from original staff orders on equipment and supplies. Actually 10-15% less materials would have to be used, because the dollar amount was being held the same for those materials. He also added that while some districts have CESA budget for their special ed. programs, Kewaskum has to include this relatively large expense in its budget.

Tony Janik again stated the plight of the taxpayer. He stated that in the present recession, "We have to buckle down, tighten up ... and you guys got to do the same thing. You can't lay this 15% on us. Hey, we're hurting here!"

Brenholt then explained, "We've got a different mission," which was to do a decent job of educating children. He added that the district's "first responsibility is not to the taxpayer." He claimed that the state's cut came at the wrong time and that they should actually be providing more aid in recessionary times. "I think the place we ought to be getting the taxes is on the income tax." He advocated that those who were working and could pay should be assessed instead of those who were unemployed and couldn't pay.

John Steger mentioned the possibility of running kindergarten full days to eliminate some bussing. Business Manager Bob Borch verified this could save $21,000, but Brenholt cautioned that this may be at the expense of adequate education. "A 5-year-old is just not ready to go to school full-time."

Brenholt finally explained that, "If you tell us to cut back, we're going to cut programs," but was not recommending this. "I'm telling you there isn't 10% of fat. If you cut, it's going to hurt." Some extreme possibilities mentioned were to eliminate athletic programs or even close one school building.

It was pointed out by several members of the audience that ultimately the board can change the budget prior to Oct. Orv Behnke recommended acceptance of the budget and said there was a lot of "Elbowroom" since up to $800,000 had been approved for short-term borrowing to maintain cash flow in emergencies.

The vote of 62 - 26 to present the budget was challenged by John Steger who said that since Board President John Tassar was the only one counting hands, it should have been done by secret ballot. Attorney Jerry Kiefer said there was no requirement for such a ballot.

The usual 9 resolutions were carried to allow the district to operate - to dispose of unused furniture and to rent buildings during emergencies, etc. One new resolution to allow the board to set the date of the annual meeting anytime between May 15 and the end of Sept. was also approved. If the meeting were later, it would allow more time to finalize the budget and probably set a lower figure for final approval. Also, the exact amount of state aid might be known.

As for rivalling the Republican National Convention, the annual meeting had no "demonstrations" and no pompous seconding speeches.

The only Fords were parked outside and the closest thing to a Bush were a few taxpayers lying in the weeds to commendably voice their opinions. The meeting was efficiently run by Chairman John Tassar, and the budget was thoroughly explained by Business Manager Borch and Supt. Brenholt. The adequately represented electorate seemed well informed and asked legitimate questions and hopefully received legitimate answers. Another year of school seems assured for Kewaskum (oh boy)!

Associate Degree Nursing Progression Program to Be Offered at MPTI

Page 4, Kewaskum Statesman, Friday, August 1, 1980

With the beginning of classes in January of 1981, licensed practical nurses will be able to enroll in an associate degree progression program at the Moraine Park Technical Institute.

According to Jane Williams-Ziegler, Health Occupations Division Chairperson, "Moraine Park received approval to grant the Associate Degree in Applied Science in Nursing from the State Board of Nursing and the Wisconsin Board of Vocational, Technical and Adult Education. However, we've been working on this program for the past three years. We had to hire a supervisor one full year before the program was to begin." Josephine Roehrborn, RN, MSW, is the Supervisor for this progression program. She is a resident of Kewaskum.

Josephine Roehrborn comments on the program: "It is designed for licensed practical nurses to upgrade themselves to the associate degree registered nurse level. Upon completion of the course work, the student must write the state board test pool examination to become a registered nurse."

Though the program will begin at Moraine Park's West Bend Campus in January of 1981, courses are now available to prepare students for the progression program. "There are many transition prerequisites for this program and if anyone is interested, they should contact us immediately so they can begin fulfilling those requirements." A registrant must have worked as an LPN for at least one year and must have a current state of Wisconsin license as a practical nurse. Minimum grades in chemistry and on the ACT test are also necessary. "Classes required before entering this program are called transition requirement," said Roehrborn, "and include Introduction to Psychology, Communication Skills 1, Anatomy and Physiology 1, and Technical Science survey. All of these courses will be available in the fall semester at MPTI."

Both Williams-Ziegler and Roehrborn are expecting full enrollment for the first class beginning in January. "At this time, we have over 20 registrants," said Williams-Ziegler, "and as more people become aware of the program, enrollments will start to increase. Nursing is a very exciting profession and registered nurses are at a premium, with jobs available all over the state. In fact, some hospitals are even offering bounties to lure re-registered nurses."

The difference between licensed practical nursing and registered nursing is explained by Josephine Roehrborn. "In the LPN role, the practitioner works as an assistant to the RN. The RN is an independent practitioner. The preparation for this role transition will be an important part of the nursing courses the student will be taking. Theory Challenges in Fundamentals of Nursing Care and a Skills Challenge given in the nursing lab at the West Bend Campus, all based on previous LPN education are required. Satisfactory performance in these areas and in the transition courses will mean the applicant has been accepted into the ADN Program."

"An important aspect to this program is the ability to challenge the course work. In fact, students are urged to challenge the theory component of all the nursing specialty courses," said chairperson William-Ziegler. "Students may write the National League for Nursing Achievements tests in four areas - Psychiatric Nursing, Nursing Adult 2, Nursing of Children, and Maternal/Newborn Nursing. They must score in the upper 50 percentile in these challenge exams." Students may also elect to take the clinical challenge exam, but they must first pass the theory exam to qualify for the clinical component.

Substantial remodeling of the West Bend Campus has taken place to enable the program to be held there. "We will have all new labs and remodeled classroom facilities, so it will be quite a nice learning environment." Of course, the West Bend location, according to both women, is the prime spot for the clinical assignments that the nurses must also undergo. "We have wonderful facilities in the Samaritan Home and in the Cedar Lake Home, also at St. Joseph's Hartford Memorial, and Beaver Dam Hospitals. The availability of health care facilities in three counties make this a good location for the program."

Anyone interested in the Associate Degree Nursing Progression Program can contact any of the Moraine Park Campuses in West Bend, Beaver Dam, or Fond du Lac. Applications should be submitted to the West Bend Campus Admissions Office, 2151 North Main St., West Bend, WI 53095.

Polka Mass at St. Kilian Aug. 15

There will be a "Polka" Mass in the area for people who enjoy participating in the "Polka" Mass. It also is a good opportunity for those of you who haven't attended any as yet, but were thinking about it.

The "Polka" Mass is the same as any mass you attend on Sunday, the only difference is most of the music is in the waltz and polka tempo. The "Polka" Mass will take place at St. Kilian, St. Kilian, on August 15, the Feast of the Assumption at 7:30 p.m. The music will be provided by the Bill Thull band and his choir.

MPTI Traffic Safety School Course Begins

Moraine Park Technical Institute is offering a Traffic Safety School-Point Reduction Course starting August 4, 1980. This four-week course will run on Monday evenings from 6:30 to 9:10 p.m.

Upon successful completion of the class, the Motor Vehicle Department of Wisconsin will allow a reduction of three points from an individual's driving record.

The class presents an opportunity for motorists to learn specifics about Wisconsin's driving laws, and is based on the idea that each individual can relate to other's driving situations and learn from them. The primary objective of the class is to encourage students to examine their driving habits and determine areas where improvement would allow them to function better in today's driving environment. The cost for this course is $5.65. For more information and to pre-register, call Moraine Park Technical Institute at 922-8611, extension 445.

When the Time Comes, be Sure They're Immunized

Immunizations — Don't forget them. A new state law Sec. 140.05 (16) requires that students through grade 12 and children in day care centers be immunized against such diseases as measles, rubella, polio, diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis for the 1980-81 school year.

Immunizations and further information are available from your physician or local public health agency.

BREAKFAST DOESN'T HAVE TO BE 'BREAKFAST' FOOD'

Breakfast is important to children. They have a high caloric need, because of their activity and stage of growth — and by morning have gone many hours without food.

Yet studies show that 15% of Wisconsin schoolchildren go to school without breakfast. Studies also show that food needs lost by children who do not eat an adequate breakfast are not made up during the day. Without breakfast youngsters fidget and learn less well.

Children may miss breakfast because both parents leave early for work or the child may have to catch an early bus. Many children just don't want to eat when they first get up.

If lack of time is the problem, serve cold or hot instant cereals, but not the highly sugared ones. Quickie-blender-drinks, yogurt and fruit, cottage cheese and fruit — even crackers and cheese — make a good fast breakfast.

The nutritive value of the food and whether the child likes it and will eat it is what's important. Breakfast doesn't have to be a huge, hot meal. Even leftovers from the night before make an adequate breakfast.

Don't force a child to eat who is not hungry. Even if he has to take a long bus ride, you can send breakfast with him to be eaten on the bus or when he gets to school. If your school has a breakfast program, he can eat at school.

Carry along breakfasts might be a peanut butter on whole grain bread sandwich, fruit, a fried or scrambled egg sandwich, muffins, yogurt from a carton, a pizza muffin made from grilled cheese and tomato sauce on an English muffin. Fruit juice (not drink) or milk can accompany any of these breakfasts.

The first year of life and the teen years are the two stages of fastest growth in a child's life. During these periods a child's caloric needs are greatest.

The young child who is learning to feed himself needs simple foods that he can pick up and handle and eat at his own rate — small pieces of toast, vegetables, cheese and fruit.

When a teenager says, "I get so hungry...." it's true. Children this age have a real concern for "body image," but rather than dieting, teenagers need to maintain their present weight and grow into it.

Junk food eaten when a teenager is "starving" provides more caloric and less food value than the average breakfast. The nutrients found in quality food are necessary for the growth and maturing of youngsters.

Sensenbrenner Offers Housing Information

Homeowners and potential homeowners can get practical tips on the best ways to build, buy, renovate, or remodel their homes from Ninth District Congressman F. James Sensenbrenner, Jr.

Sensenbrenner has announced that his Washington office has supplies of Department of Agriculture booklets available for free distribution to Ninth District residents interested in buying or improving their homes.

Booklets available include "Selecting and Financing a Home," "House Construction — How to Reduce Costs," "Renovate an Old Home?," and "Remodeling a House — Will It Be Worthwhile?"

The publications provide a good overview of all the considerations that homeowners should review before making these major investments of their money, according to Sensenbrenner.

Sensenbrenner encouraged area residents to take advantage of the information, which has been researched and published at public expense.

Persons wishing to order any of the booklets should write Sensenbrenner at 315 Cannon Building, Washington, DC 20515. Due to limited quantities there is a limit of one of each booklet per family.

Can Vitamin D help to control epileptic seizures? So it appears from a study at Glstrup Hospital, Denmark, where Dr. Claus Christiansen had 23 patients, all of whom had been on anti-convulsant medication for periods of 3 to 17 years.

During the 84-day study, while the medication was continued as usual, some of the patients received vitamin D, and others, for comparison, received an inert pill. Vitamin D proved effective in reducing the number of seizures, the medical team reports, though how it does so is unknown.

Appointed CCSA Program Director

Washington County is pleased to announce that Douglas A. Johnson has been appointed to the position of Program Director of the County's Comprehensive Community Services Agency. Johnson was selected this week by the C.C.S.A. Board from a field of over sixty candidates to fill the position which entails a salary of $25,147.20 with periodic increases to $29,494.44.

Johnson is a graduate of Cornell University with an A.B. in Government and received a Master's Degree in Social Work from the University of Wisconsin. Currently he is working toward a graduate degree in Mental Health Administration through the University of Minnesota.

For the past five years Johnson has been employed by a similar 51.42/.437 Board operated agency in Green County, Wisconsin. He has served as Program Director of the agency for three years and previously worked as the agency's Mental Health Coordinator.

A native of Connecticut, Johnson has been a Wisconsin resident for the past eight years. He is married and has one daughter.

Johnson will begin working for the County on September 8, 1980, and will be responsible for the management and operation of the Comprehensive Community Services Agency Programs, managing a budget of over $3.4 million dollars.

New Boating
Registration Fees, Rules Announced

MADISON, WI — A new law changes fees and some requirements for registering boats in Wisconsin and responding to signals from law enforcement officers while on the water, according to Dale Morey, DNR Boating Law Administrator.

Boats will now be registered for a $5.00 fee for two years rather than the present $4.50 three year fee. All motor driven boats and sailboats over 12 feet long must be registered by the Department of Natural Resources.

Morey says state law now requires boat operators on Wisconsin waters to stop or reduce to a "slow no-wake" speed (now defined as the slowest speed possible while still maintaining steering control) when signaled or requested by law enforcement officers.

The law, which went into effect May 12, also requires that boaters carry proof of registration renewals, title transfers and other transactions on board. Proof of transactions and certificates of registration must be displayed when requested by law enforcement officers.

Other provisions of the May 12 law affecting boat registration include:

— All sailboats registered in Wisconsin must display 3-inch, block letter numbers on the forward half of the sailboat. Numbers must contrast in color from the boat hull. Sailboats without vertical bows must display the numbers in a conspicuous location of the forward half of the deck. Sailboats currently displaying numbers on the transom may write the DNR for a free set of new decals to accompany their new set of numbers.

— All boats principally used in Wisconsin must be registered in Wisconsin. Boats currently carried valid registrations from another state may be used in Wisconsin for up to 60 consecutive days before it must be registered here. Federally documented vessels principally used or based in Wisconsin must be similarly registered. "Principle use" means the state when the boat is used or intended for use most during the year.

— Boat owners registering boats in Wisconsin must notify the DNR within 15 days of a change of address. Requests for address changes should state the old and new addresses as well as the boat number. Prompt notification insures that mailed boat registrations will reach boat owners quickly.

Watch for Ozone Alerts

Wisconsin's summer air pollution season has begun and Department of Natural Resources air management experts are reminding citizens to watch for ozone alerts that might recommend reduced outdoor activity to protect health.

Ozone, the major air pollutant found in smog, develops when hydrocarbon (unburned fuel vapors) emitted from automobile exhaust and some industrial processes react in sunlight's presence.

"Hot, humid hazy days with temperatures above 70 degrees are ideal for ozone formation," says Brad Stachowiak, a meteorologist in DNR's Bureau of Air Management. "A stagnant high pressure system is usually located to the east-southeast of the state with southerly winds."

Stachowiak adds that hazardous, ground-level ozone should not be confused with the beneficial ozone layer found much higher in the atmosphere that shields the earth from damaging ultraviolet rays.

Ozone irritates mucous membranes in the lungs, and may cause breathing difficulties in the elderly, children and people who have respiratory diseases. Even healthy people may become short of breath after exercising if they've inhaled certain levels of the pollutant. Ozone may also damage sensitive crops and trees like soybeans, alfalfa, tobacco and white pine.

According to Stachowiak, ozone levels are generally lowest in the morning, reach a peak in late afternoon and decrease later in the evening. A significant weather change, such as a cool front and associated northwest winds passing through an area, usually causes ozone concentrations to decrease.

Southeast Wisconsin usually averages from 10 to 25 ozone alerts each summer, depending on weather conditions, Stachowiak says. Pollutant levels there may occasionally reach 0.25 parts per million, which is over twice the national health standard. DNR records few ozone alerts outside southern Wisconsin, but ozone in the rest of the state frequently approaches alert levels.

DNR chemists record ozone levels daily at five monitoring sites in Milwaukee County, three in Dane County, and one each in Kenosha, Racine, Grafton, Waukesha, Slinger (Washington Co.), Delavan (Walworth Co.), Oshkosh, Appleton, Green Bay, Hudson (St. Croix Co.), La Crosse and Beloit. Two air monitoring vans are also measuring ozone in Park Falls and Biron (Wood Co.) for the summer. DNR will continue to monitor ozone at most of these sites through October 15.

Whenever DNR detects unhealthy ozone levels, it notifies major news wire services and the National Weather Service so citizens can be alerted rapidly through various news media. Physicians often rely on these reports so they can advise their patients with respiratory problems to take appropriate health precautions during the ozone alert.

Most states use the Pollutant Standards Index (PSI) to uniformly report ozone levels in terms people can readily understand. The index ranges from zero for good air quality to 500 for hazardous air quality. DNR will use the following PSI descriptions in Wisconsin to report ozone levels in parts per million (ppm):

0-50 GOOD. Up to 0.06. No adverse health effects.

50-100 MODERATE. 0.06 to 0.12 ppm. No noticeable health effects.

100-200 UNHEALTHFUL. 0.12 to 0.20 ppm. Mild aggravation in susceptible people. Mild irritant to healthy population. People with heart or respiratory ailments should reduce physical exertion and outdoor activities.

200-300 VERY UNHEALTHFUL. 0.20 to 0.40 ppm. Significant aggravation of preexisting health conditions; decreased stamina. Elderly people and those with heart and lung conditions should stay indoors and restrict physical exertion. (General population should restrict outdoor activities.)

300-500 HAZARDOUS. 0.40 to 0.40 ppm. Illness and premature disease problems; general population should avoid outdoor activity. In extreme levels, ozone can cause premature death or illness in elderly people.

State Aids for Local Recreation Projects

Approximately $1.0 million in state aids is available to Wisconsin communities this year (July 1, 1980 to June 30, 1981) to share their costs in acquiring and developing outdoor recreation areas.

The Outdoor Recreation Action Program - Local Park Aids (ORAP-LPA), created in 1969 by the Wisconsin legislature, provides 50 percent matching grants to towns, villages, cities, counties and Indian tribes to develop public outdoor recreational facilities. Funds have been made available for a wide range of local projects including acquisition of land for parks, development of ball fields, play areas, swimming facilities, trails, picnic areas, tennis courts and shelter buildings. Since 1969, over 900 individual ORAP-LPA projects have received state aids to assist communities in providing outdoor recreational opportunities for their citizens.

Communities interested in participating in the program should contact the Community Services Specialist in the appropriate Department of Natural Resources' District Office. These offices are located in Milwaukee, Madison, Eau Claire, Spooner, Green Bay and Rhinelander.

An eight-year-old Kewaskum boy, Frank Schoenbeck, son of Mrs. Gladys Schoenbeck, is a patient at South View Hospital, Milwaukee, since Tuesday after being stricken with polio. This is the first case of polio reported in the community this year.

A new 1955 Ford auto owned by Marvin Schultz of Kewaskum was badly damaged Tuesday when it was struck by a northbound North Western train on the Main Street crossing in Barton. Edwin J. Odermann, 37, of Barton, the driver of the car sustained minor injuries when the car's motor choked and rolled onto the tracks.

During a nuptial mass at Holy Trinity Church, Kewaskum, July 30, vows were exchanged by Miss Doris Bruessel, Route 2, Kewaskum, daughter of Mrs. Jac. Bruessel and the late Mr. Bruessel, and Robert Bonlender, Route 1, Campbellsport, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Bonlender, Sr.

Mrs. Betty Koepke, daughter of Mrs. Alma Petri, Wayne, was among the 78 graduates receiving degrees at the close of the summer session of Wisconsin State College at Milwaukee on July 29. Mrs. Koepke received a Bachelor of Science degree in upper elementary education.

The annual fishing contest held in conjunction with the summer recreation program took place on the Milwaukee River Thursday morning. About 30 children entered the contest. Prizes were awarded for the largest fish and most fish caught by boys and girls 12 years and under and 13 years and over. Winners were as follows:

Older boys—Largest fish — Constantine Sadownika, 16 inch northern; most fish - Jim Marx; most weight — Harvey Ramthun. Smaller boys — Roger Yeadeke, Tom Weddig and Doug Landmann.

Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weddig, Jr., Route 1, Kewaskum, July 30, and to Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Bonlender, Kewaskum, August 2.

A deal was recently closed whereby the Sinclair Oil Company purchased a tract of land 130 x 170 feet from August Schaefer, at the intersection of Highways 55 and 28, just west of the Schaefer residence upon which the Sinclair Oil Company will erect a new modernly equipped filling and service station.

Part of the old James Hamilton farm of 40 acres, in section 20 of the Town of Farmington, which was purchased last May by Arthur J. Ehne of Milwaukee, is to be converted into an artificial lake. About twenty acres of the farm are lowland, these being east and south of the old Hamilton home, and this part of the farm will be flooded, there being a considerable number of strong flowing springs just east of the old home to eventually fill the space intended to be flooded.

Some time last Thursday night burglars broke into the Schaefer Brothers garage and stole $17.70 in change out of the cash register. The robbers also stole a spare tire and rim from Dr. Edward's Chevrolet sedan. Having completed these two jobs which apparently did not net them enough money to make it worthwhile, they then tried to break into the L. Rosenheimer store, but were apparently scared away when the burglar alarm went off.

O. F. Schwartz of Milwaukee, recently leased the soft drink parlor, park and dance hall at St. Kilian, formerly known as the William Kirsch place.

Five automobile loads of Gypsies stopped off here Wednesday, while on their way south. Their visit here, however did not last long for Chief-of-Police Geo. F. Brandt, was right on the job and ordered them to leave as fast as they knew how.

A telegram was received here last week Friday from Shawano announcing the death of the old Indian, Kewaskum, after whom this village was named. Kewaskum was chief of the Potawatomi Indians here at that time. He was nearly 90 years of age and of late years lived on the reservation near Shawano.

(The following paragraph is an excerpt from "Kewaskum Then and Now" published in 1976). Jesse Myers named the Town of Kewaskum for the chief in 1849, so he must have lived in the area sometime prior to that time. In "The Story of Washington County," Carl Quickert maintains that Chief Kewaskum lived on an extremely high hill in the vicinity of the present Village of Kewaskum, which was known as "Indian Hill" and had a roomy depression on its top which protected its inhabitants from strong winds. Since he was chief, he was also his tribe's medicine man, and was respected by his people and the settlers equally.

The St. Michael's post office was closed on Tuesday and all patrons will now receive mail by rural carriers.

H. W. Schnurr had a new forge built in his blacksmith shop in Kewaskum this week.

A cement sidewalk was laid at the public school property this week in Kewaskum.

transportation said the habitual traffic offenders law, adopted by the state legislature, provides for revocation of drivers who "by their conduct and record, have demonstrated indifference for the safety and welfare of others...and their disrespect for laws, courts and agencies of the state."

Under the new law, a person may be declared a habitual traffic offender if he or she, during any five year period, amasses 12 or more convictions of moving violations; or four or more convictions of the following (including any combination thereof): homicide involving the use of a vehicle; reckless driving; operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of an intoxicant or controlled substance; operating while suspended or revoked; making a false statement to the department; or any crime punishable as a felony under motor vehicle laws, or any felony in which a motor vehicle is used.

The law requires the department to notify the district attorney of the county in which the person resides, or the attorney general if the person is an out-of-state resident, whenever conviction records fall within the definition of a habitual traffic offender. Prosecution is through local courts. Penalty for operation of a motor vehicle by a habitual traffic offender is a fine not to exceed $1,000 and not more than 90 days in jail.

Dear Editor:

During the past year, there has been much discussion that the Energy Department may designate Wisconsin as a site for a nuclear waste depository. The discussion has been prompted by reports that granite rock formations, such as those in Marquette, Shawano, Waupaca and Waushara counties, are possibly suited to house such wastes.

As a nation, we must decide what approach to use and which sites to choose. Waste stockpiles from the Defense Department as well as nuclear power plants are building up and the present holding sites are inadequate for long-term storage.

We can't allow ourselves to become so caught up in emotionalism that we become distracted from solving the problem. We should feel deeply about the problem, but we also have to act. Although many different methods of disposal as well as many different sites are being considered, the overriding concern must be for the safety of our citizens.

State and local governments must have a role in the site selection process. To accomplish this I have co-sponsored legislation that would give states veto power over the placement of nuclear waste sites within their boundaries. This will ensure that the federal government seeks the consultation and concurrence of the officials who are closest to the people.

Otherwise, the Energy Department may simply dictate a site over the objections of state and local officials.

This legislation is now in committee. I am writing to ask concerned area residents for assistance. If you agree that state and local officials should have a voice in the selection process, and that the way to do this is to give the states veto power, please write me.

An outpouring of public support for this position may help to move this legislation through Congress. With the passage of such legislation, we will all have an opportunity to fully and responsibly participate in the site selection process.

Please write to me at my Fond du Lac office, 20 Forest Avenue. The zip code is 54935. Or call 1/800/242-4883.

Sincerely,
Thomas E. Petri
Member of Congress

Visitations Down, But State Parks Busy

MADISON, WI...Though visitations to Wisconsin state parks and forests are down this year, camping activity is up and the state operated recreation areas are busy, according to state park officials.

Through June, the 3.9 million visitations was about 3 1/2 percent behind a year ago at that time, though camping is up one percent over last year. Park officials indicate that the reason for the attendance decline appear due to be a drop in usage during the months of January and February this year when a lack of snow cover drastically cut into cross country skiing and other related activities.

Use of state parks during May and June this year is about the same as it was a year ago and when the figures are in for July, there is an excellent prospect that last year's figure will be surpassed.

Loren Thorson, Chief of Recreation Programs, summed up the prospects by saying, "Favorable weather was experienced over the entire state during the three-day 4th of July weekend with all parks reporting heavy use. The hot weather so far the rest of this month, plus long range forecasts of above average temperatures, should continue to encourage state park usage. They are favorite spots to cool off, particularly those with swimming beaches."

Advance campsites reservation requests continue to run ahead of last year's figure, with the best estimates placing the number about 25 percent ahead of a year ago at this time. Based on weather predictions and advance campsites reservations to date, Thorson expects camping use this year to exceed the 1979 total.

Park officials are unable to note any changes in patterns of use of state parks by residents and nonresidents this year. The sale of annual park stickers to residents is down by 21 percent, but the sale of daily park stickers to residents is up 74 percent over a year ago. On the other hand, the sale of annual park stickers to nonresidents is down this year by 36 percent, but the sale of daily park stickers to nonresidents up 57 percent over last year.

"Sale of park stickers is our barometer of resident-nonresident use," Thorson said. "After the July sticker sale reports are in, we may be able to make a better judgement on whether there are any changes of use of the parks by residents as compared with nonresidents this year," he added.

Tuition Costs Lower At UWWC Than Four Year Schools

The UW Board of Regents have set tuition costs for the center system campuses, including the University of Wisconsin-Washington County campus, that are lower than those for four year schools.

Students who are still making up their minds about going to college in the fall or are having second thoughts about living away from home, should keep this economy in mind.

In addition to lower tuition, students who remain at home a little longer can also save about $2000 in room, board and incidentals.

At UWWC the tuition for two semesters is $798. In contrast, resident undergraduates at UW-Madison will pay $946 a year, and the eleven other universities' tuition and fees will range from $865 to $887 per year.

These savings, made possible by attending the center campus, are enough to finance a third year of college with little additional outlay of funds.

Both part-time and full-time students at the center system campuses are eligible for a variety of financial aids.

Registration for the fall semester, which begins September 2, is going on through the summer. Prospective students should take placement tests in math and English to make sure that they register for classes in those subjects that match their abilities.

Students registering for the first time will receive individual attention in planning their program. Plan to spend two to three hours on campus for the registration process. For any questions regarding placement tests and/or registration, call the Office of Student Services at 338-1161 any weekday all summer long from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

Area Moraine 4-H Booster

Blue ribbon beef and pork was purchased by AREA MORaine REALTY at the recent Fond du Lac County 4-H Fair Market Livestock Sale at the fairgrounds.

After purchasing the Grand Champion in 1979, Area

Moraine, along with a host of other buyers, helped elevate live-weight 4-H prices by constant bidding on a variety of animals. By the time the last sound of the auctioneer's gavel was heard, the Campbellsport real estate firm had purchased a prize winning steer entered by Jeff Wilke of Rt. 1, Campbellsport, and a choice hog shown by Joe Walsh of Rt. 1, Eden.

Area Moraine looks forward to next year's auction in its continuing effort to help the young people engaged in the County Fair 4-H projects and who are the real future of our American Agri-business.

VEC to Honor Rep. Hephner at Banquet

(MADISON) — State Rep. Gervase Hephner (D-Chilton) has been requested to attend an annual award banquet by the Veterans Education Committee of Wisconsin.

A political arm of the Wisconsin Veterans organization, the VEC will hold its 7th Annual Awards Banquet on August 2 at the American Legion Post in New London.

Other honored guests at the banquet will include U.S. Rep. Toby Roth, State Senator Clifford (Tiny) Krueger, and State Rep. Cloyd A. Porter.

William H. Emanuel, executive director of the VEC, said one purpose of the banquet "is to show our appreciation to those legislators who have shown consistent support for the veterans' cause."

State Rep. Hephner is one of several legislators who will be awarded a special citation from the VEC in appreciation of his past support.

Commenting on the awards, Emanuel said Hephner will be given a "damn fine legislator" award because of his excellent voting record on veterans issues during this and previous sessions. "He's been a 100% supporter even during the days when when it wasn't popular to do so," Emanuel remarked about Hephner.

Researchers say tolerance for alcohol decreases with age.

Cherries Abundant At Lower Prices

"Fresh Wisconsin cherries are now available at retail outlets and at 'Pick Your Own' orchards in the state. Processed cherries will soon be available, too — and at lower prices than last year."

That's the word from John Polich, marketing specialist with the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection, who points out that a large national crop is expected to lower prices by as much as 25% from last year when supplies were short.

Polich reports that the national cherry crop is expected to total 247 million pounds, well above the 170 million pounds harvested in 1979. Wisconsin will harvest a near normal crop this year of 12.5 million pounds, slightly less than the 14.6 million pounds harvested last year.

"Prices at 'Pick Your Own' orchards are expected to range from 25c to 40c per pound with lower prices in the northeastern areas of the state where the crop is larger," Polich says. He estimated that consumers will save up to 40% by picking their own cherries.

The cherry harvest is now underway and is expected to end in the northern areas about August 15.

Consumers may obtain a brochure entitled "Pick Your Own Operations - Fruits and Vegetables," by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Pick Your Own, P.O. Box 8911, Madison, WI 53708.

Registration and Orientation at MPTI-Fond du Lac

Orientation and registration for the 1980 fall semester at the Fond du Lac Campus of the Moraine Park Technical Institute has been planned for all first-and second-year students during the week of August 4-8. Approximately 1,000 students are expected to attend the week-long session. Students are assigned a meeting time with advisors, career assessment counselors, and financial aid specialists.

Husband - Wife Golf Tourney Won by Grubers

The husband-wife tournament at Hon-E-Kor held over the weekend was won by Harlan and Joyce Gruber, who wound up low in both the low gross and low net category with one of the lowest scores recorded in the event.

Harlan hit a three over par 38 on the back nine and Joyce hit her all time low of 44 for a low of 82. Their net score was 62.

A couple can only receive one trophy for this event, so the second place team in the low net of Clark and Mary Pearson were named the net winners. The Pearsons also had a good total of 87 and their net score was 70.

Others with low net scores were: Carl and Doris Bohn, 71; Dick and Mary Wietor, 71; Bill and Corey Wuebben, 73; Jack and Joan Eggers, 74; Roy and Tudy Warner, 75; Dotzie and LaVerne Hron, 75, and Mike and Ellen Coulter 76.

In the low gross event, the Bohns and Wuebbens had a 145 for low net for a foursome. There were 38 couples in the tournament.

Sunday the mixed Florida scramble will be held. Over 100 players are expected to participate.

pastry or liquid scent. Apples and pastry must be placed in a hole in the ground measuring no more than two (2) feet square. For additional restrictions on baiting, consult the 1980 hunting regulations pamphlet.

Bear hunters should note that baiting is now allowed year around, but are warned that they may hunt over only one bait station at a time.

New Archer Tag To Save Money

This year, bow and arrow deer hunters will not have to worry about crunching a metal carcass tag in their pocket or their back tag carrier as the tag will be made of Tyvek, a no-tear paper.

The tag is similar to the carcass tag used for tagging Canada geese and replaces the cumbersome metal tag. It is attached to the gambrel of the deer's hind leg, then sealed and tied with string incorporated into the tag. The hunter must then validate the carcass tag by cutting out notches on the tag indicating the month, day, and time of kill and the type of deer.

If successful, the Tyvek carcass tag will also replace the metal tag used by gun deer hunters resulting in a significant dollar savings.

Last Wednesday evening at the 141 Speedway in Francis Creek, Willie Goeden of Kewaskum won the 30 lap feature. His second at that track this year, as he, after an absence of five years, again tries his driving abilities in the modified division.

Frankie Heimerl and Etchie Biertzer, both of West Bend, placed second and third in the field of the 16 car feature.

Fuzzy Fassbender of Rubicon won the 15 lap semi, with Gib Wisner of Neosho taking the honors of quick time for the evening of 12.18 seconds.

At the Slinger Super Speedway on Sunday evening, Joel Laufer of Hartford won the mid-season championship 50 lap feature. He was followed by Tony Strupp of Slinger and Willie Goeden of Kewaskum. Laufer also posted quick time of 12.172 seconds for the evening.

On the 6th lap of the feature, Allan Kulwicki drove over Jim Grazanna's left front wheel and went up into the wall, bringing out the first of four yellow flags.

Strupp and Goeden also compete every Thursday night at the Wisconsin International Raceway in Kaukauna.

On September 20 and 21 at the W.I.R. in Kaukauna, the Old Style Invitational will be held.

In this two-day event, Willie Goeden of Kewaskum will be driving in the modified and late model divisions.

Saturday the events start at 3:00 p.m. and on Sunday racing begins at 2:00 p.m.

There will be something for everyone. Late models, modifieds, sportsman, figure 8 and mini champs. A full weekend of fun and racing!

McClain, Eichstedt Fifth in Tourney

Area golfers finished high in the Billy Sixty best ball golf event at Oakwood Golf Course, South Milwaukee, over the weekend.

Chuck McClain, Kewaskum, now playing out of West Bend CC, and Clark Eichstedt of Hon-E-Kor combined for a 69 to finish in a tie for fifth place. McClain and Eichstedt had five birdies and two bogeys in their round, in which they went out in 35 and came in with a 34.

Prizes were given to the top 28 teams which turned out to be all groups who came in with 72s or under. Mike O'Connor Jr. and Len Carroll of Hon-E-Kor hit 73. Hon-E-Kor's Jerry Allen, playing with Jim Brinker of Barron, ended up with a 75. Three Hartford-golfers also made the prize list.

The event was to have been 36 holes, but Saturday's round was rained out.

Baiting Rules for Hunting Clarified

Hunters are cautioned to pay close attention to the new uniform baiting restrictions which apply to the hunting of any species of wildlife.

Baiting rules, which formerly applied only to bear hunting, now apply to any hunting activity.

The only materials which may be used to attract wildlife for hunting purposes are apples,

Annual Kettle Moraine Girls League Tournaments to Be Held in Kewaskum

On August 1, 2 and 3, and August 8, 9 and 10 (rain dates August 15, 16 and 17), the Eighth Annual Kettle Moraine Girls League Tournaments will be held in Kewaskum Kiwanis Community Park. Each team in league takes a turn holding the League Tournament. Friday games each weekend will commence at 6:00 p.m. with the throwing out of the first ball. Sponsor of the games is Kewaskum Team No. 1.

Mrs. Jim (Sue) Westphal, the first coach of Kewaskum in 1973, will throw out the first ball to a representative of Kennelly Pharmacy, sponsor of the Kewaskum I Junior Team for the last four years, for the Junior Game on August 1. A representative of Regal Ware, Inc., sponsor of the Senior Team of Kewaskum I, for the past five years, will pitch out the ball of the Senior Tournament on August 8, to Jerry Stollenwerk, President of the Village of Kewaskum.

The Kettle Moraine Girls League started in the summer of 1973, with eight teams in only one division. We were probably the first in the area or perhaps in the state to recognize that there was a need to provide a good, clean competitive outlet for the girls. Original teams in the league were Adell, Cascade, Batavia, Boltonville, Campbellsport, Greenbush, Kewaskum and Long Lake. The league changed to two divisions in 1974, the Junior Division (ages up to 15), and Senior Division (ages up to 18). Kewaskum had only one team in each division, and Greenbush dropped out. In 1975, Boltonville did not have an older team, so Kewaskum split their Senior Team, and operated one team out of Boltonville to even out the league, and was coached by Bob Schmidt. In 1976, Boltonville again had an older team, so Kewaskum split up the Junior Team and had two teams in each division. In 1977, Greenbush came back into the league, Long Lake split into Long Lake and Parnell, and Campbellsport split into two teams in each division, making the league a 12 team unit. Greenbush now operated out of Glenbeulah. In 1978 and 1979, an informal Midget League was set up by Bob Schmidt for ages 7 to 12 and played seven games. Starting in 1980, the Midget League is now a regular part of the league with ten teams entered. Their games are played on Saturday. The junior and senior games have always been played on Wednesdays at 6:30 and 7:30 respectively.

Sue Westphal was first coach for Kewaskum from 1973-75. John Coulter was coach of junior girls from 1974-76, and senior girls from 1976-77 for Kewaskum II. Ron Stange has been coach of junior girls of Kewaskum II from 1976-80, and coach of senior girls for 1978. Dennis Westerman was coach of senior girls of Kewaskum II for 1979. Mike Ruplinger is coach of senior girls for 1980 for Kewaskum II. Bob Schmidt has been coach of Kewaskum I senior girls from 1975-80, and coach of junior girls from 1976-80. He was also coach of midget girls from 1978-79. Willard Manthei was coach of junior and senior girls of Kewaskum I from 1977-79. Bobbi Schmidt has been assistant coach of junior girls from 1979-80, senior team for 1980, and midget girls for 1978-79 for Kewaskum I.
