Village Board Adopts 1982 Budget

Tax Levy $25.795 Per Thousand After State Tax Credit; Increase of 8.87%

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Village Board voted unanimously to adopt the proposed budget of $860,382.00 for 1982.

The 1982 budget is broken down as follows: State taxes of $10,885.12 equaling 30c per thousand, County taxes $152,161.02 at $4.14 per thousand, School taxes $541,017.50 at the rate of $14.72 per thousand, Vocational taxes $68,665.32 at $1.87 per thousand, Village taxes (including debt retirement and interest) $331,026.00 at the rate of $9.00 per thousand. This equals a gross tax levy of $30.03 per thousand of assessed valuation, an increase of 13.91% over 1981. A State shared tax credit of $4.229 will bring the net tax levy down to $25.795, which is an 8.87% increase over the 1981 net levy.

The State tax credit ended up slightly less than the $4.558 anticipated, but considerably higher than original estimates of $2.70.

The board also adopted Resolution No. 81-11 which will allow the first half of split tax payments to be paid by February 26, 1982 rather than January 31, 1982. February 28th falls on Sunday in 1982.

In other action the board voted to allocate 15% (approximately $3,500) of the Federal Shared Revenues to Parks and Recreation and 85% (approximately $20,000) to public protection.

Village President Jerry Stollenwerk commended Officer Tom Bauer and the Kewaskum Police Department on the quick action involving vandals who caused approximately $600.00 in damage breaking windows at the high school. Stollenwerk said, on occasion, he has received criticism on the need for the 24-hour police protection system, noting without this protection, apprehension would not have been made.

Moving Into New Quarters

Jaeger Sewing Center Buys K & R Carpeting Buildings

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

In a move that will more than double their store size, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jaeger, of Jaeger Sewing Center, have purchased the former K & R Carpeting building on Main Street.

Jaeger said they are presently working in the new store and hope to begin moving after Christmas. He hopes the store will be open and ready for business by the first of the year. Jaeger noted the new store would permit them to operate more efficiently allowing them to display more, as well as expand into other areas as rentals.

Jaeger hopes his customers will bear with him as the transition to his new place of business takes place - a move he feels will allow him to serve the community better.

Honor Outstanding Conservation Farmers

Norbert Thull and William Volm of Route 2, Kewaskum, were honored as the 1981 outstanding conservation farmers for 1981. The awards were presented to them by Kewaskum Kiwanis President Roy Esser at their annual Farm-City recognition program held on the night of November 23 at Hon-E-Kor. Slides of conservation practices that were applied on the Volm and Thull farms, with the assistance of the Soil Conservation Service, were shown. Jack Trzebiatowski, University Extension Agricultural Agent, presented a talk on the Washington County farmland preservation plan.

The Thulls farm a 120-acre dairy farm in the Town of Farmington. They have been a Washington County Soil and Water Conservation District cooperators since 1958. Since that time 32 acres of contour strip cropping, 730 feet of grass waterway, and 77 acres of conservation tillage has been applied on the cropland. These practices were applied in addition to a good crop rotation of corn, oats and hay to keep top soil loss within allowable limits. About 1,400 feet of drainage ditch was also constructed to make low cropland more predictable. To make the farm plan complete, 11 acres are maintained for wildlife habitat and 14 acres are managed for woodland by including the cattle from it.

The Volms farm an 80-acre farm on County Highway H about 1 mile west of Kewaskum and have been a district cooperators since 1965. Sixty-three acres of conservation cropping rotation is used in conjunction with 53 acres of alternate contour strips of corn and hay to control erosion. Six hundred feet (600') of diversion terrace and 1,300 feet of grass waterway were constructed to divert and carry runoff water safely down the slope without erosion occurring.

Over 1,600 feet of subsurface (tile) drainage was installed in the lowland for crop production. Livestock have been excluded from 3.5 acres of woodland and one acre is being managed for wildlife which included a farm pond.

Village Board

Schmidt presented a letter from Dr. Arthur Peterson, University of Wisconsin-Madison, regarding odors from sludge disposal when combined with manure. Peterson stated in his letter, "We contacted the Agricultural Engineering Department at the University of Illinois in Urbana and found out they have conducted several studies mixing animal wastes with sewage sludge and felt that this reduced rather than increased the odors. I have discussed this matter with other researchers in the midwest working with animal and sewage sludge and the concensus from this group is that they have not experienced any increase in odor by such a mix and in some instances there has been a slight reduction."

Stollenwerk stated, "I, for one, am in favor of going ahead with the same dumping schedule we had before. If it continues to work as it is now, fine, but if necessary, it can be stored." Trustee Dick Schmidt said, "the village has gone out of its way to prove its point" (that mixing Kewaskum's sludge with manure is not causing increased odors). Stollenwerk instructed Dan Schmidt to send all interested parties a copy of Dr. Peterson's letter.

The board was informed that 101 applications had been received for the Public Works position which will be available in January. Twelve finalists are now being scheduled to take their aptitude tests at MPTI. Dan Schmidt noted he would like to clear up a rumor that selection had already been made. "There are no 'Schmidts' in the twelve applicants," said Administrator Schmidt. The board will make a final decision after test results have been received.

The board received preliminary 1982 budget of $248,145 for the Sewer and $110,227 for the Water Departments. A public hearing on both budgets will be held December 21.

The Library Committee requested and received permission to close the library on December 26 and January 2 because of the holidays.

The board then adjourned to closed session.

Kathy Theisen and Paul McFadden

Two local piano students have won honors at the state auditions of the Wisconsin Music Teachers Association, which were held at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater on Oct. 26.

Kathy Theisen, a student from Campbellsport High School, was the second place winner in the state level of the Badger Piano Auditions. To qualify for the state auditions, the student must first receive a superior rating in the district auditions and must play three pieces. Kathy performed for the Music Teachers Association State Convention which was held at UW-La Crosse Nov. 7 and 8.

Paul McFadden, a student from Kewaskum High School, was chosen to participate in a Master Class at the State Convention of The Wisconsin Music Teachers Association. The class will be taught by Nelita True, a pianist of national renown. True has concertized throughout Europe and the United States and has made appearances with the Chicago and Baltimore Symphonies. She and her husband will give the premier performance of "Concerto for Two Pianos," written by the Pulitzer Prize winning composer, Leslie Bassett.

Kathy Theisen and Paul McFadden are both piano students of Anna Asch, piano instructor at the University of Wisconsin-Washington County Campus.

The Old Timer

"Old age is when you bend over once you pick up two things."

On Tuesday, November 17, the Kewaskum Indian Booster Club met in the High school cafeteria. The Program of the evening was an informal chat with several coaches and advisors of extra-curricular activities. We heard from Mr. Chambers and Mr. Wangrin of the High School and Middle School wrestling squads, Mr. Bertelson of the High School and Middle School Swing Choirs, and Ms. Vesper for gymnastics. The purpose of the Booster Club is to keep in touch with the coaches and advisors so that we may furnish items for their activities that the school budget doesn't include.

Area Parents Visit UMV on Special Day

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Tiemann of Campbellsport, had the chance to go to college with their daughter, Kelly, who is majoring in Diversified Ag Production at the University of Minnesota Technical College, Waseca, on Parent's Day, December 4.

In addition to visiting classes and meeting faculty members, parents toured campus facilities and attended the Parents' Association meeting where they elected officers and learned more about UMW.

UMW places strong importance on letting the parents of students know about the education of those students. Parents have a chance to become involved and make recommendations to the faculty and administration.

The Parent's Council is the executive body of the Parent's Association and is determined by popular vote by zones at a ratio of one council member for each 24 families. This results in a group of approximately 40, and this group meets quarterly to discuss college topics in depth.

The tax roll as compiled by the village council at their regular monthly meeting, shows that the 1931 tax roll will be $25.08 per thousand, as compared to $31.00 last year, which is a little less than $6.00 per thousand lower than in 1930. The main reasons for this decrease is due to the decrease in the county tax roll and the lowering of the district school tax.

At a meeting held last Friday by the members of St. Bridget's congregation, it was voted in favor of rebuilding the church which was totally destroyed by fire November 27.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

December 4, 1981

Dear Editor,

We would like to write an open letter to all the Cross Country runners and joggers around the Kewaskum area. Please come to the December 14 school board meeting and help support the cause of bringing back the Cross Country team into the school's extra-curricular activities program.

The Cross Country girls' team has always had plenty of girls out for the team. Where else can you find a sport that can carry over into life after high school? We have always told our children, "Be Active!" "Get Involved!" Don't say, "I don't know what to do." Our daughter got involved with Cross Country. What do we say now when she says, "Mom and Dad I got involved and the school has taken it away." We would much rather see our daughter running on the streets or sidewalks of Kewaskum than walking or standing on the streets or corners with a group holding cigarettes in their hands.

Being in an extra-curricular activity gives our children something to strive for and to achieve something. Our daughter is not strong enough for volleyball, nor tall enough for basketball. Not everyone can be able to play basketball, football, volleyball, etc. Each individual has to pick a sport that they feel is right for them.

We have had other children on the cross country team in years past and we have never met a closer group than the Cross Country runners. There is no jealousy among the girls. They are close and helpful to each other. We have found that when the upper classmen runners were passed up by some of the younger runners they holler nothing but encouragement to them. They all look out for each other. How can we take this away from them?

Our son, who ran for 4 years and graduated in 1981, is now attending college. He is not out for Cross Country but he said to us several weeks ago when he called home, "whenever I get feeling down or have been studying alot, I stop suddenly and go out for a long run on campus." He said it makes him feel so much better.

So, please area runners, joggers and parents, come Dec. 14 and support this great group of kids and their wonderful coach, Mr. Drexler.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Klein

State Rep. Hephner Appointed to Assembly Revenue Committee

State Representative Gervase Hephner (D-Chilton) has been appointed to the Assembly Revenue Committee.

Pleased with the assignment, Hephner pointed out that he has served in the past on the Revenue Committee, holding the vice-chairmanship during the 1971 session. Due to his previous experience, the chairman of the committee asked if Representative Hephner would be willing to serve again.

"Basically," Hephner explained, "the committee considers legislation and topics dealing with the impact of different taxation policies on the state and the taxpayer." For example, he added, one big issue the committee has already completed action on is the reworking of the mining tax in Wisconsin.

On Monday, December 7, at public hearings in Cedarburg and Manitowoc, the committee heard testimony on Hephner's proposal which calls for quarterly property taxes. The legislation would allow taxpayers to make payments on the last day of the month in January, April, July and October. Presently, property taxes must be paid before the end of February or in two payments — one at the end of January and the other at the end of July.

"Considering today's economy and larger property taxes, it can be very difficult for people to meet payments within the first six months of the year," Hephner observed. The proposal would not only help homebuyers spread out their property tax payments, but it would also be especially beneficial to farmers and small businesses who do not have the luxury of letting money sit in an escrow account and who need cash on hand to keep their operations going.

Hephner predicted that the most important issue that will come before the Revenue Committee next year will be property tax relief for the elderly. The committee plans to hold public hearings and assess exactly how senior citizens are affected by property taxes and what types of legislation will help relieve their property tax burden.

Hephner was pleased to accept his new duties on the Revenue Committee. In addition to his new post, he also serves as chairman of the Consumer and Commercial Credit Committee, vice-chairman of the Excise and Fees Committee, as the Senior member on the Agriculture and Nutrition Committee and as a member of the Insurance Cooperatives and Risk Management Committee.

KEWASKUM 4-H'ers

The November 12 meeting of the Kewaskum 4-H'ers was called to order by our newly elected president, Tim Indermuehle. Scott Borgman and Billy Butzlaff led the pledges. The treasurer's report was read and approved.

Sandy Holz reported on the County Awards Night held at Silverbrook School on October 31. Debbie Seideman told about our window display, for which we won a first. It was built in Rosenheimers and its theme was "Go for the Gold."

We will be having a Christmas Party at our next meeting. Everyone should bring a gift valued at about $2.50. It should be labeled "Boy/Girl - age."

Mr. Seideman explained about our fund raiser - candy and nuts. The candy bars cost .50 each and the nuts cost $4.00 a can. Members are reminded they are to return money and leftovers at the December meeting. Because our newly elected reporter resigned, Pat Indermuehle was elected by an unanimous ballot.

Refreshments for next month are to be brought by the Borgman and the Lauters families. Michelle Becker made a motion to adjourn the meeting and Brian Seideman seconded it. The meeting was adjourned followed by the awards ceremony and refreshments.

Special Tax-Deferred Savings

Now every worker can set up an IRA and save up to $2,000 annually. If both husband and wife work, each may set up their own IRA and save up to $4,000 annually. If you have a non-working spouse, you can set up an IRA for yourself and your spouse and save up to $2,250 annually. ALL TAX-DEFERRED!

Everyone qualifies, even if you are currently in a pension or profit sharing plan where you work.

What's The 44% Advantage?

The 44% advantage is the difference between a retirement savings plan that is taxable and a special tax-deferred Individual Retirement Savings Plan.

At today's rates, retirement income of $2,000 a year in an IRA for 25 years (for an individual in a 30% tax bracket) would be approximately $300,000. Had that income been taxed it would only be approximately $168,000 or 56%.

That means the new special tax-deferred IRA gives you a 44% advantage.

Build A Future Fortune A Month At A Time

Even on a modest income you can build a large retirement fortune one month at a time. At West Bend Savings you can make monthly deposits as low as $20 using one of three ways: (1) use an automatic payroll deposit plan where you work (ask your employer); (2) West Bend Savings will transfer money automatically every month from your checking account even if it is at another financial institution; or, (3) deposit the money each month yourself at any West Bend Savings office (if you prefer to make a lump sum deposit, you can do so anytime).

Threshold Receives Donation

According to Mary Ann, the Sweet Adelines were formed in 1978. Their present membership of 24 do four-part harmony under the direction of Donna Huberty of Sussex. They meet every Tuesday evening at Christ Lutheran Church in Jackson.

Membership is open to anyone interested. At present, their members come from Cedarburg, Grafton, Jackson, Saukville, Slinger and West Bend. If anyone is interested in joining or obtaining more information, they may call Mary Ann Rose at 677-2561 or Sandy Duehring at 677-3562.

The members of Sweet Adelines sing for many charitable organizations. They obtain operating funds to purchase costumes and music by having bake sales, flea market participation and having benefit-paid performances.

Is That Holiday Tree Obtained Legally?

Was the Christmas tree in the trunk of your car obtained legally? All trees in Wisconsin are owned by someone, whether the tree has been sheared and is growing in a plantation or growing wild in the woods.

If the trees are privately owned, whether growing wild or in a plantation, see the landowner and get written permission to cut, and a bill of sale for the tree or trees you purchase.

If the land you are planning to cut on is in public ownership, you must contact the manager of that property and get permission to cut the trees. You may in many cases have to pay a small fee.

Be certain that the written permission or bill of sale has the date and quantity of trees to be taken.

Under Wisconsin Statutes, DNR conservation officers, state traffic officers and county and municipal law enforcement officers have the authority to stop anyone hauling any quantity of Christmas trees. It's best to keep your bill of sale or written permission to take trees readily available. If you cut the trees on your own property and are transporting them, carry your latest property tax bill for the property.

If you know the owner of the land where you have cut the trees and have written permission from that owner, or a bill of sale, you shouldn't have any problem in case you are stopped.

If you follow all the rules, you and your family will be able to enjoy your Christmas tree with the same peace of mind that is the spirit of Christmas.

Wooden Toys Make Thoughtful Gifts

By Bob Stodola
4-H and Youth Agent
University of Wisconsin Ext.

When my children were little I made them toys out of wood. They spent many happy hours of playing with their bear or their blocks or their trucks.

Toys from wood are tools for learning and for intellectual development. They will encourage children to use their senses of smelling, touching, hearing, seeing and yes, even tasting, to explore their world, and find answers to "What's it all about."

Young children are creative, inquisitive beings who will have a variety of learning experiences using these toys.

Toys from wood are fun to play with and fun to build. Their uses are limited only by the imagination of the child. As my children grew older, they began to make their own toys. Sure, their first attempts were rather crude, but gradually they became more skilled at wood-working. Today they have enough confidence in themselves to build their own bookshelves and stereo cupboards.

I'd like to encourage 4-H members in the woodworking project to make toys from wood for their younger brothers and sisters. Their 4-H woodworking literature has lots of ideas of things to make. There is also a booklet "Toys from Wood" which was written by Glen Barquest, U.W. Extension woodworking specialist. It contains information on such wooden toys as puzzles, doll house furniture, grasshopper, carts, building blocks, autos, trains, and planes. It is available from the U.W. Extension office for 50c. If you'd like a copy, stop at the office at 515 E. Washington Street, West Bend or call us at 338-4478, 644-5204 or 342-2929. Wooden toys make excellent gifts to give to younger children.

A block of charcoal in the refrigerator may help keep the onions and fish from "perfuming" the butter.

RADAR BRAKES

It looks like we'll be buying more electronic auto servicing equipment at J & J AUTO SERVICE. Radar auto brakes are being tested again and the reports are good.

Originally, radar brake systems didn't identify all objects and would cause needless stops. But now it has been perfected so density shape and distance are equated and the vehicle is braked the most efficient way. A buzzer sounds, too, and alerts the driver.

We'll be ready for this kind of brake servicing. After all, we got all the equipment for regular brake jobs already. So drive over carefully to 450 E. Main.

Soil and Water Resource Problems

(Editor's note: This is the first in a series of three articles that outlines the soil and water resource problems, trends and analyses, and the proposed national conservation program).

America will face reduced agricultural productive capacity and increased production costs unless the critical soil and water resource conservation problems of the nation are addressed. This is the conclusion of a three-year study by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The study was required by congress in the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977 (RCA), according to Cliff Maguire, state conservationist, USDA Soil Conservation Service (SCS) in Wisconsin.

Specifically, the RCA study showed that:

—One-third of America's cropland is eroding faster than the soil can rebuild itself through natural processes. Unless corrective actions are taken, the acreage of this excessively eroding land will increase further.

Wisconsin's cropland erosion problem appears to be less than the national average, reports Maguire. This is due partially to the fact that Wisconsin has large cropland acreage in rotational hay. There are however areas of the state that do have severe erosion. The average soil loss from more than 2 million acres of cropland exceeds the rate at which nature can rebuild the soil, stated Maguire.

—Floods threaten human life, cropland and other property, livestock and crops in upstream watersheds. Greater damage is likely in the future.

In Wisconsin more than 500 communities are threatened by possible flooding and the damage causes yearly amounts to more than $50 million, said Maguire.

—Depletion of ground water threatens the continuation of irrigated agriculture in extensive areas of the West.

—Deterioration of water quality may limit the use of water for irrigation, municipal and industrial supply, fish and wildlife habitat, and other purposes.

These RCA findings are based on the most intensive and accurate appraisal of the country's nonfederal natural resources ever conducted, Maguire reports. "Much of the data came from outside onsite examinations at about 200,000 sample points across the United States. In Wisconsin, over 5,000 sample points provided information for the national summary."

The information gathered included data on land uses, soils, erosion, prime farmland, cropping sequences, and crop residue treatment.

Besides the SCS inventories and other USDA studies and evaluations, the RCA process drew on studies made by the Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, Fish and Wildlife Service, Environmental Protection Agency, Water Resources Council, Bureau of Outdoor Recreation and others.

RCA Appraisal Part 1, the first of three major documents, contains detailed information on the resource base — status, conditions and trends. A reference copy of all three major RCA documents is available for use at SCS and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) offices throughout the state.

Copies of a short leaflet summarizing the RCA findings and proposed conservation program are also available at the two USDA offices. It contains a pre-addressed, postage-paid response form that people may use to comment on the program. If you have questions please contact Don Kurer at the Soil Conservation Service, 334-3706.

Burn-Proofing Home A Key to Child Safety

Prevention is the key to saving children from what doctors at the Shriners Burns Institutes call a national epidemic of burn injuries. Every year, more than a million children suffer serious burns in their homes.

A Texas plastic and reconstructive surgeon calls burns "one of the most critical, catastrophic injuries that can occur to a human being of any age. Burn victims carry emotional scars, as well as physical scars, for the rest of their lives."

"The sad thing, for the most part, is that about 75% of the burns occurring in the home can be prevented. Everyone thinks a child is safe inside his own home. In fact, a child is subjected to more harm in the home than he is outside. But it is not easy to convince people that scalds from hot liquids are, by far, the most common home accidents among children."

He joins fire chiefs in urging parents to be aware of things they can do to burn-proof their homes:

Turn handles of pots and pans in away from the edges of stoves and counters, so that they are out of reach of children.

Never try to douse a flaming pot or pan with water. Cover it with a large lid to smother the fire. Or, keep a fire extinguisher in the kitchen.

Keep electrical cords from dangling where children can pull on them and spill the hot contents of an electric appliance on their heads and shoulders.

Keep electrical cords off the floor, so that a toddler is not tempted to chew on the cord. Cover unused electrical outlets.

Do not leave a child unattended in the bathtub. It takes but a few seconds for him/her to turn on the hot water and get burned.

Turn down your hot-water heater to 120-125 degrees. Test the bath water with your hand before placing your child in the tub. Tap water is deceptively dangerous; a child can be scalded in less than three seconds, if the water is as hot as 145 degrees.

Turn down your hot-water heater to 120-125 degrees. Test the bath water with your hand before placing your child in the tub. Tap water is deceptively dangerous; a child can be scalded in less than three seconds, if the water is as hot as 145 degrees.

Enclose radiators with non-heat absorbing covers, to keep children from touching.

Put screens around wood-or coal-burning stoves or fireplaces, to guard against children getting too close.

Be careful with space heaters. Do not install them without sufficient insulation and clean flues.

Have an escape plan to use in case of fire in your home and practice it regularly with your children.

Install smoke detectors in your home. Keep heat sources, including lamps, away from drapes and other combustible materials.

Keep fire extinguishers or containers of water in several places throughout the house.

Caution children against playing with matches — and keep them out of reach of children.

Put children in close-fitting pajamas, rather than flowing nightgowns which can fan a flame and smolder if they touch fire.

Teach children the stop-drop-roll procedure to use if their clothes catch fire: Stop right where you are, so you don't fan the flame. Drop to the ground or floor. Roll around to put out the flames.

Recognize and Deal With Holiday Stress

By Joyce Albrecht
Extension Home Economist

While plenty of songs proclaim this as the jolliest of seasons when happiness abounds, many people are coping with feelings at the opposite end of the continuum. Stress and tension are common during the holidays.

Schedules often go out the window. That can create stress. Whether visiting or entertaining friends or relatives, there's the unavoidable stress when there are more people in the house, more people to feed, and more individual schedules to juggle.

With no set schedule, there may be some uncertainty about who's responsible for doing what. Perhaps kids home from college act like home is a motel. This can set both parents and kids up for a miserable holiday vacation. On the other hand, if you can't be with family or friends during the holidays, this can be depressing, too.

The signs of being under stress are not hard to spot — a feeling of dissatisfaction, loss of sense of humor, an inability to make decisions, or a feeling of fatigue. Some people lose their appetites or lose sleep when under tension. Others might want to be alone.

A certain amount of stress is unavoidable during the holidays, but planning can help you minimize the negative effects and maximize the good things the holiday change-in-pace brings. To minimize holiday stress it is most important to keep in touch with your own feelings, and plan your schedule to "keep in control" of your holidays.

When there is a house full of company, it may help to establish a rotating schedule of who is responsible for what and when. For example, maybe a couple people are responsible for meal preparation one day and someone else is in charge of clean up. Another might do the everyday picking up. This can help take the pressure off Mom.

Try planning and carrying out a family project. This may be helping an older person or couple decorate for the holidays or sharing a meal with another family during the holidays.

Learning about how people in other countries celebrate the holidays can be an exciting family activity that never gets old since each year you can pick a new country. Explore the food, music, decorations and rituals used to celebrate the season. The local librarian should be able to help with the research.

Some families help each other make presents for other family members. Since often shopping causes a "hassled" feeling, perhaps it's time to turn to more non-material gifts — for example, a gift of time doing a certain activity that persons enjoys. Notes promising three games of Monopoly before New Year's, a half day of bread baking, or playing cards with Grandma may be the most appreciated gifts under the tree.

4-H CLUBS RECOGNIZED FOR CONSERVATION AND BEAUTIFICATION EFFORTS

Several clubs were honored for their efforts at conservation and beautification of their community at the 4-H Achievement Program on October 30. The Myraneers 4-H club under the leadership of Mrs. Carol Esselman, Mrs. Barbara Falk and Charles Mayhew worked at cleaning up the Newburg park. They also cleaned up along the Milwaukee River in the Village of Newburg. They planted flowers and took care of the grass around the Trenton Town Hall.

The Badger Boosters 4-H club is under the leadership of Cheryl DuBrava of West Bend. The group had a litter pick up project around Silvermaple school. They also planted trees in the city.

Paul Cypher is a leader of the Good Luck 4-H club of West Bend. Their group had a clean up day in the spring around their 4-H club house. They also collected newspapers. They had conservation activities at their club meetings by having the members give conservation slogans.

The Happy-Go-Lucky 4-H club is under the leadership of Karen Belger. Their group planted shrubs around the sign at the town hall. They plan to continue more beautification efforts around the new hall in the future.

Hartford Wins Over Lakes Team

Hartford handed the Kewaskum Lakes team their second loss of the season here Saturday night, 121-100. Hartford's record is now 1-1, while Kewaskum is 0-2 in the 'B' Division.

Hartford led throughout most of the game. They took a 26-22 first-quarter lead; each team scored 27 points in the second quarter and Hartford still maintained its four-point lead at halftime, 53-49. Kewaskum rallied at the start of the third period and took a brief four-point lead, but Hartford's superior strength again took over, and they lead 87-76 at quarter's end. They added 10 points to their lead in the fourth quarter to win by 21.

Jim Wagner, 6-5, of last year's Hartford High School team, proved to be a valuable acquisition for the Morainers, pouring in a game-high 34 points, including 22 in the first half. Pete Hauser added 26 points, Randy Miller 22, and Don Lechner 17.

For Kewaskum, Leon Laatsch led with 30 points, while John Slesar added 18, and Don Gruber and Bill Backhaus each had 14.

Kewaskum shot 80 percent from the free throw line on 12 of 15, while Hartford was 53.8 percent on 7 of 13.

Kewaskum will be looking for their first win this Sunday, when they host Mayville at 7:30 p.m. This game has been changed from Saturday.

WBC 'Cards for Camp' Campaign Now On

Wisconsin Badger Camp would like to announce its 8th annual "Cards for Camp" campaign. Each year the camp asks to be placed upon the christmas card mailing list of individuals from all over the state of Wisconsin. The camp has been serving the mentally and physically handicapped for the past sixteen years.

The "Cards for Camp" appeal asks that individuals pick out their favorite christmas card and send it to the camp along with a donation. The campaign is very unique in that the entire card will be used in the 1982 summer program. The card will be used in the craft program, the envelope to start the first campfire of the season and the donation will help to send a needy person to camp.

Everyone is encouraged just to send one card with their donation as these cards will provide more than enough for the summer crafts program.

Wisconsin Badger Camp is a non-profit organization founded by a group of concerned parents and teachers of the mentally retarded. The camp is located ten miles south of Prairie du Chien, WI and has served campers from 59 counties in Wisconsin as well as from the three adjoining states.

Badger Camp is the only camp in the state of Wisconsin that accepts everyone regardless of the severity of their disability or their inability to pay.

During the summer months Badger Camp provides staff, meals, activities as well as total care for each camper attending. Badger Camp's cost per person is $190 for a one week session. The donations from "Cards for Camp" will help defray these costs and are all tax deductible for participating donors.

Last year's campaign raised $1121. It is Badger Camp's hope that last years total can be met or exceeded with the help of many friends.

How's Your 'HO-HO' Holding Up?

Check your "ho-ho-ho" in time for the holidays. The American Lung Association of Wisconsin will offer free lung function testing in their Service Center, December 15, from 2:00 to 8:00 p.m.

The test, which takes about a minute, consists of blowing into a tube. A registered technologist will give you the test's results immediately. The test measures the actual volume of air your lungs can hold and the amount of air you can exhale in one second.

The Service Center is located at 10001 West Lisbon Avenue, Milwaukee. Free parking is available in the lot and one the street.

Indian Girls Suffer First Loss at Two Rivers, 56-42

By Cathy Schlice

The Kewaskum girls varsity basketball team lost their first game of the season Tuesday, but not without a battle. The final score being Two Rivers 56, Kewaskum 42.

Kewaskum was down at the half, 28-18, and down by as much as 22 in the fourth quarter. The Indians put on a man-to-man full court press and forced the Raiders to commit some turnovers, cutting Two Rivers' lead down to 7 before they recovered and boosted the score back up to 14.

Linda Larsen was credited with 7 steals which contributed to her 15 points, and also pulled down 11 rebounds. Senior Jill Yearling topped all scorers with 19 points and had four steals and 8 rebounds. Only two other Kewaskum players scored points. Seniors Michele Rodenkirch and Brenda Fuller chipped in 6 and 2 points respectively. Pam Perkins did a fine job in the second half when she broke loose for two steals in the game.

Two Rivers was led by Short with 13 points.

Coach Soerens was disappointed with the loss but was happy with the team's hustle.

The JVs were victorious over Two Rivers, pulling it out in overtime, 35-32.

Indian Matmen Lose to Chilton

The Kewaskum wrestlers hosted Chilton Thursday night and were defeated by a sizable 43-15 margin.

Only one Indian, Wayne Boudreau, at 126 pounds, was a winner, however, Kewaskum did win two bouts by forfeits.

Boudreau's victory was a big one, coming over Andy Thome, one of the Tiger seniors who had gone to the State Meet last year. Winning on a decision, Boudreau was in command much of the way, after an early takedown, winning 4-3. The senior is now 3-8 so far this season.

Going up one weight class because of an injury to 138-pound Tim Landvatter, Don Goeden barely lost, leading most of the way before giving up four points in the last 30 seconds. Brother Dave Goeden at 145 drew as his opponent Wayne Hoerth, who placed fourth in Class B at State last February, and lost 8-0.

One of the most thrilling matches was at unlimited where 220-pound Scott Durian battled the Tigers' 275-pound Paul Neuber. Durian almost pinned Neuber before making a mistake when he attempted to fight off the pin but the weight difference was too much.

The Indians' next action will be in the Horicon Invitational Dec. 12.

KHS Chess Team To Seek Third Straight Title

The Kewaskum High School chess team will try to win its third consecutive South Central Chess Association title. The team is looking forward to a good year with seven of last year's top ten returning.

Returning are seniors Rob Slegler, Andy Rosenberger, Ken Bauer and DuWayne Schacht. Slegler and Rosenberger are the top two players in the conference returning. Slegler finished 4th and Rosenberger 6th in the individual standings last year, while Bauer finished with a 9-1 record and Schacht has improved greatly over last year.

Brian Pamperin is the only junior returning from the top ten. Brian went undefeated last year in dual meets.

The sophomores are Gregg Classey and Romie Holl. Gregg should battle Rosenberger and Bauer for the second board behind Slegler, while Holl has taken over the 5th board.

Returning from the novice team and expecting to break into the top ten are juniors Dan Butzke and sophomore Glenn Classey. Butzke has shown the most improvement of all the players from last year. KHS Gymnasts Lose Opener to Hartland; 7 Lettermen Back Opening the season at Hartland Thursday, the Kewaskum High School gymnasts were defeated, 71.26 to 53.5. Arrowhead's strength on the parallel bars and overall talent spelled the Indians' downfall.

KHS coach Jane Vesper said her team was low on the bars with Kara Weinreich coming off an injury and another regular on the bars, Phyllis Birkholz, sick most of the week.

The Indians got a third and fourth in floor exercise from Wendy Wilson (5.8) and Annette Jandre. The latter added a third in vaulting. On the balance beam, Dolly Swenson and Wilson tied for fifth.

With seven letter winners returning and several other promising prospects, the Kewaskum team has hopes for an improved season, although the number of participants this year has decreased.

Back are seniors Amy Nigh and Kara Weinreich, juniors Annette Jandre and Phyllis Birkholz, and sophomores Sandy Nigh, Dolly Swenson and Wendy Wilson.

All look promising, with Weinreich and Birkholz working primarily on the parallel bars and the other five practicing all four events—bars, balance beam, free exercise and vaulting.

In varsity tryouts soph Geri Coulter and senior Doreen Sese, have looked promising.

Kewaskum opens the home season Thursday, hosting Waupun.
