1982 Village Employee Contracts Approved

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Village Board Monday night unanimously approved 1982 contracts for the Police Association and non-union village employees.

Police Association employees will receive a 9.2% increase with minor changes in benefits including addition of a 1/2-day holiday. Step No. 1 salary will be $1,234.45 per month, Step No. 5 $1,636.05 per month.

Non-union village employees will receive a 9% increase, which includes an "Hourly Wage Adjustment." Due to budget cuts and reductions of some services, there has been an hourly wage adjustment making the real per cent increase (9%) much less than indicated. What this means is that as part of their raise employees have had their hours cut (example - village crew hours have been reduced from 2,288 in 1981 to 2,148 hours in 1982). This reduction is being considered part of their raise since in 1982 they will be working less hours for the same (1981) wages plus small actual increases ranging from 1.5% to 4.2%. Hourly wage adjustments and actual increases will, however, equal the 9% total increase.

The Waste Water Treatment Superintendent's salary will be $21,769 which includes a 4.8% HWA plus actual increase of 4.2%, Public Works Superintendent will receive $23,939, 6% HWA plus 3%; Police Chief $21,931, 6% HWA plus 3%; Assistant Waste Treatment

Superintendent $18,998, 4.8% HWA plus 4.2%; Commissioner

Village Issues Ice Skating Warning

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Due to unusual weather conditions, the Village Board has officially stated that anyone ice skating on the river will be doing so at their own risk.

Administrator Dan Schmidt said the village has received several calls asking when skating on the river will be open.

Public Works Superintendent Augie Bilgo said his crew has not cleared any area for skating as the ice depth has not been sufficient for skating. Bilgo noted any cleared areas had been done by the skaters themselves. He noted the shoreline is more treacherous since the water is very high and pressure on the ice is causing water to seep through.

Bilgo said, "we're not saying the ice isn't safe, even if we say it isn't safe kids will still skate on it."

Trustee Don Mlodzik stated, "to be safe, no matter how thick the ice, is, we should put up signs stating 'Skate at Your Own Risk'." The board unanimously agreed with Mlodzik's suggestion and the signs will be put up.

Trustee Dick Schmidt said the same thing should be applied to the hills at the park where kids are sledding down to the river.

Valley Bank thanked Ammel for the fine job he did in arranging the four-hour program.

New Overhead Railroad Crossing Signals Installed in Kewaskum

No folks, those aren't the Jolly Green Giant's Christmas trees on Main Street, they're Kewaskum's new railroad crossing signals.

Railroad crews finished installation and testing of the new overhead signals on the Main Street crossing last week along with the removal of the old signals. One crew man joked, "they're the railroad's Christmas present to Kewaskum, of course your tax money paid for them."

VOLUNTEERS WANTED

VOLUNTEERS you can get involved in many valuable ways. Volunteer work is a great way to gain skills and experience to put on your resume for that job that isn't available now. If you have lots of time on your hands right now, volunteering is a great way to share your interest and time in a meaningful and appreciated way. Following is a list of opportunities for volunteer service in Washington County. If you would like to volunteer for one of these services contact the person listed below.

- At this time we are in need of a driver to transport a patient, in her own car, for daily treatment. One day a week would be a great help to assist her in completing her treatment. Call the American Cancer Society at 334-3175 or 692-2806.

- Joanne lives in Kewaskum with her parents. She is a hard worker and enjoys children. Joanne, 36, would really benefit from having a female friend around her age who would be supportive and accept Joanne as she is. A friend could share Joanne's interests in shopping, music and crafts while encouraging Joanne in making changes in her life, such as seeking employment outside of the sheltered workshop where she is presently working, and learning skills for living independently. If you are interested in learning more about a 1 to 1 relationship as a volunteer, contact Sue Moser at the Citizen Advocacy Program at 334-3384.

- Volunteers are needed to help with recreation activities sponsored by the Threshold every Friday afternoon from 1:00 - 3:00 at either Weiland's (bowling), Shorty's Artistic (roller skating), or the YMCA (swimming). Here's an opportunity to have fun while helping supervise and teach activities with disabled people. If you think you might be interested or would like more information on the program, call Nancy Roskopf at 338-1188 between 8:00 - 4:30, Monday-Friday.

- Big Brothers/Big Sisters is looking for volunteers to spend

3 - 5 hours per week with a single parent child (age 6 - 17). Volunteers should be at least 18 years of age, able to make at least a one year commitment and have a sincere interest in children and their future. We are also looking for volunteers to work in the different areas of the agency, either in fund raising or promotion. Please call us if you're interested in any aspect above at 334-7896.

This column is a service of the Organization for Professional Exchange Now (O.P.E.N.) Volunteer Committee. Non-profit agencies that would like an item in this column can contact Susan Moser, Volunteer Committee Chairperson, P.O. Box 676, West Bend, WI 53095, or call 334-3384.

KHS Mass Media I Enjoys Trip To Milwaukee Newspapers

Twenty-eight Kewaskum High School Mass Media I students will create three mini-newspapers based on their trip to the Milwaukee Journal and Sentinel, Friday, December 18.

Tour highlights included viewing the movie "Dateline Milwaukee," the Journal and Sentinel newsrooms, and the three-story high printing presses. The Journal is annually ranked as one of the country's top ten newspapers.

The class is using the trip as the basis for its mini-newspapers. The papers are: The Snoozer Times, Post Median and The Kewaskum Journal. Editors are Tim Endlich, Mary Schmidt and Joy Pamperin, respectively. Each newspaper has its own editors, reporters and photographer.

According to Kevin Chambers who teaches the junior/senior group, "the field trip and resulting mini-papers are used to give students practical applications for their news writing skills. The students also get a better understanding of what goes into producing a newspaper after they work on their own papers."

from Tom Leitzke, R.P.E.

CIGAR INHALERS

When a smoker inhales, a dangerous compound called carboxyhemoglobin forms in the blood. It interferes with the blood's ability to carry oxygen to the body's cells - and it induces hardening of the arteries. At the Tampa V.A. Hospital, doctors found that inhaling cigar smokers had almost twice as much carboxyhemoglobin in the blood as cigarette smokers - and eight times as much as the normal level among non-smokers.

Garbage Pickup To Be Cut Down To Once a Week

The Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum, with the approval of the 1982 Budget, eliminated twice-a-week refuse (garbage) pick-up. This action was taken to minimize any increase in the Village's property tax. This action also brings the Village in line with other communities as far as once-a-week refuse pick-up. The Board feels this action will not create any problems or hardships. If a problem or question does arise, please call the Municipal Building and an effort will be made to resolve the problem or answer your question.

The Board has kept open the possibility of resuming twice a week pick-up for the three (3) main summer months. This matter will be reviewed and discussed in the spring of 1982 and a decision made.

The proposed pick-up schedule will be the same as it is currently. That is the normal Monday and Tuesday pick-up, with NO Friday and Saturday pick-up.

Due to the Christmas and New Year Holidays there will be a once a week pick-up the weeks of December 20 and December 27, 1981. Those pick-ups will be on Monday and Tuesday.

The Village Board and Public Works Department would like to ask for your cooperation with the change. Thank you!

Signed the Village Board,
Village of Kewaskum

Thanks Expressed

Thanks again to ALL for the prayers, support and the kindness shown us in the four years of Ray's illness and after the Lord took him from us.

We would like to share with you, parents and children alike, this poem given to us when Ray was first taken so ill.

To All Parents

"I'll lend you for a little time a child of Mine," He said,
"For you to love the while he lives, and mourn for when he's dead.

It may be for six or seven years, or twenty-two or three,

But will you, 'til I call him back, take care of him for Me?

He'll bring his charms to gladden you and shall his stay be brief

You'll have his lovely memories as solace for your grief."

"I cannot promise he will stay since all from earth return,

But there are lessons taught down there I want this child to learn.

I've looked the wide world over, in My search for teachers true

And from the throngs that crowd life's lanes, I have selected you.

Now, will you give him all your love, not thinking the labor in vain,

Nor hate Me when I come to call to take him back again?"

"I fancied that I heard you say — 'Dear Lord, Thy Will be done;

For all the joy Thy child shall bring, the risk of grief we'll run.

We'll shelter him with tenderness; we'll love him while we may

And for the happiness we've known, forever grateful stay;

But shall the angels call him much sooner than we've planned

We'll brave the bitter grief that comes and try to understand."

Allen Reindl Family

Helium Balloons Released at School Found in Other States

What goes up usually comes down, but WHERE and WHEN? Five of the ten second graders who released helium filled balloons in September have found out.

Karen Junk was the first to learn that her balloon had been found at Lamartine, near Fond du Lac. Tricia Shultz's was found in a hayfield near Slinger. Leila Byers' balloon landed near Oconomowoc. Karri Brace's and Sheldon Oppermann's were found the farthest from Kewaskum, namely Illinois and Indiana. Sheldon's letter received November 30 follows:

November 28, 1981

Dear Sheldon,

My husband found this balloon & card on the shores of Lake Michigan in Highland Park, Illinois when he was cutting trees to clear the power lines last week.

I hope you are in Kewaskum, Wisconsin since that's the only Kewaskum we know.

Have a happy day.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

To The Editor:

I am writing to you because I am concerned about "Kewaskum's Bright Light District," also known as the Exodus House on Fond du Lac Avenue. I am glad to see that the occupants have the Christmas spirit, but their display makes me wonder if they have heard about the increasing cost of energy, the high unemployment rate and that some people are concerned about making ends meet. The occupants don't have to worry about paying the electric bill, but surely someone must be in charge and could encourage that a little common sense be used in the current economic depression.

A CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

As we pause to celebrate another Christmas, we should all make ourselves a promise in the spirit of the season. This promise should be for each and every one of us to reach out and help as many people as we can in the coming year.

This sounds like a nice sentiment, but how many of us are really willing to make such a commitment? Maybe more of us would be willing to do so if we stopped and thought about why we should.

All we need do is look back a hundred years ago, when there were no government programs to help people in need. Americans were used to helping each other, mostly as a matter of survival in a still wild land, doing everything from barn-raising for the neighbors to lending a hand to the widow and her children down the street.

I'm not saying it was a perfect world then, as there were many other problems to deal with, but people cared more about what was going on about them, they trusted each other more, and they looked out for each other more.

As years passed, these attitudes changed. We turned over the caring and the responsibility for the less fortunate to government. We handed the bureaucrats money and said, in effect, "Here, take this and take care of my neighbor's problems, so I don't have to any more."

We got lazier as time passed, and turned more and more over to the government to do for us. It was fairly easy, as our country mostly prospered, so there were the tax dollars to do it.

Now, our economic troubles are forcing us to cut back some of those programs of help for others. Many are complaining or expressing their fears about having to do this. They ask, how will we help those less fortunate than us without these government programs?

Simple. We can make up the difference by getting out of our comfortable and self-centered ruts and start to help others ourselves — each and every one of us. There are plenty of ways, too, from visiting a senior citizen or lonely child to giving our time, skills, and money to develop new community alternatives for helping our neighbors. Let's care for each other again.

Isn't that what Christmas is all about?

Over 1,000 Farmers Attend Annual Meeting
Of Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation

Over 1,000 farmers attended the 62nd annual meeting of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation recently at Oconomowoc. Delegates from 59 county Farm Bureaus debated policy issues and voted on the direction of the organization.

In recognition of recent favorable federal estate tax changes and the elimination of inheritance taxes in interspousal transfers, delegates voiced support of further state inheritance tax legislation to parallel federal estate tax treatment.

"This should be accomplished by eliminating the current state inheritance taxes and enacting 'gap or pickup' tax which would simply detour to the state treasury estate taxes that would otherwise be collected by the federal government," was the wording from the policy statement.

Farm Bureau was successful in its efforts to eliminate gift and inheritance taxes on interspousal transfers this past year.

The delegates expressed concern over the rising cost of vocational education and its impact on the property tax. They directed the farm organization to "establish a study committee to examine the Department of Public Instruction's recommendation for testing of our elementary and secondary school pupils and to explore alternate funding sources for VTAE."

As in past years, the dairy price support program generated considerable debate on the delegate floor. The final policy endorsed by the voting delegates said: "We support continuation of a flexible dairy price support system, with support at levels to insure an adequate supply and protect dairy farmers from severe price declines."

They also went on record in opposition of unlimited casein imports citing the detrimental effect on the dairy price support program and recommended that sodium caseinate be placed under import quota limits.

Don Haldeman, a dairy farmer from Norwalk, was elected to his eleventh term as Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation president. Howard

D. Poulson, Palmyra, was re-elected as vice president. Delegates seated George Engel, New Holstein, to serve on the Board of Directors from district six. He replaces Wilfred Huenink, Cedar Grove. Re-elected to new three-year terms were: Palmer Behm, Lomira, district two; and Don Halde- man, Norwalk, district four.

Mary Jane Nelson, Holmen, was reelected as state women's chairman and Larry Laux, Adell will serve as young farmers' chairman. Both will serve one-year terms on the State Board of Directors.

More Animals, Less Money at County Humane Society Shelter

A middle aged man came into the Washington County Humane Society (WCHS) one Saturday in November with a large adult mixed breed dog. He told shelter workers he had to give up his pet because he could no longer afford to feed his family of five and the large animals. His voice faltered as he gave the requested information. It became obvious he was making a painful but necessary choice.

WCHS President Phyllis Cook, noting a recent layoff of hundreds of workers from a local firm, said that this type of scene is becoming commonplace to the shelter. One day in November, thirty animals were given up for adoption. The shelter only has room for fifty or sixty dogs, depending on size, and about thirty cats.

Last year, the shelter handled about 2000 animals. This year, the number will be well over 2500. Because of this increase, some animals must be euthanized, but even that is expensive.

"We try to be honest with people. The only promise we give them is that we will give their animal the best we can. If we have to put the animal to sleep because we know there are no homes out there or because we do not have the space or money to feed it, we put it to rest humanely," Cook said.

Adoption of animals from the shelter is down to 30%. Eight months ago, there was a 70% adoption rate. Cats are a special problem. Many farm cats which have had little human contact are brought in. Cook keeps a few of these cats in the front office to help them develop personalities suitable for adoption.

At a time when the shelter is dealing with more animals, it is also having internal financial problems. The recent elimination of CETA (Comprehensive Employee Training Act) caused a loss of $20,000 in wage money and $15,000 in Social Security, all formerly paid by the Federal Government. To compensate for this loss, the staff has been cut from four full time employees to one full time and three part time. Cook, 54, who also works full time at an industrial plant, has voluntarily taken over most of the work formerly done by the full time people.

Cost reductions have had to be made. Some maintenance and repair work isn't getting done. Bills are being paid late. Many of the small businesses seem to understand the shelter's problems and are willing to wait, but the larger operations including the utilities and a waste removal company have often threatened to cut off service.

Another financial problem stems from the construction of an addition to the shelter known as The Ricki Room (in memory of a slain WCHS supporter). The room was constructed entirely from funds donated specifically for that purpose, donations which cannot legally be used for any other shelter expense. In some cases, the money might have been donated to defray general shelter expenses. The addition may have cost the shelter some loss of donations since some have observed the addition as a sign that the shelter is in good financial condition.

The holiday season has traditionally been the highest fundraising time of year for WCHS. With current debts totalling almost $8000, Cook hopes 1981 will be no exception. Contributions and fundraisers make up all but $1000 of the shelter's $42,000 operating budget. The $1000 is a part of the dog license fee which the shelter is receiving for the last time this year.

"People assume because of our name that we are county supported," Cook said. "The name Washington County only designates the area we serve." Other than the dog license money, the only government money the shelter has ever received was a donation of $2838 from Washington County and another of $10,000 from West Bend, both back in 1977 when the shelter opened.

The shelter provides many community services despite lack of tax support. These include a lost and found pet service, an animal adoption center, tattoo and rabies clinics, dog training classes, and stray animal pick-up. The shelter is staffed from 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. and open to the public from 1-5 p.m.

Tax deductible donations may be sent to Washington County Humane Society, 3650 Hwy. 60, Slinger, WI 53086.

SEASONAL THOUGHT

Merchants begin their Christmas advertising a little earlier each year. At first the Thanksgiving Holiday was considered the appropriate time to begin. But through the years it advances earlier and earlier until it is not unusual to see Christmas ads in early October. I think we set a record on receiving a mail order Christmas catalog last August.

Lest we forget, this time of year should strongly remind us about the real meaning of life as given to us by a Man whose birthday we celebrate on December 25.

It is with this thought that we at J & J AUTO SERVICE want to wish all the very fullest of joys in celebrating this Christmas and Hanukkah Season. And may it extend on into many New Years.

PHONE 626-2311

Recently several Girl Scout Leaders from the Kewaskum Area headed for Camp Tiwau-shara near Redgranite, for the weekend. We left Girl Scouts behind, as well as our own children and husbands. It was a weekend for adults, to learn and to share.

We taught each other new camp cooking skills, such as breakfast outside on "Buddy

Burners" that wouldn't stay lit, and "Zip Backs" that just wouldn't get done, and "Hobo Popcorn" that wouldn't pop. (You see girls, it doesn't always "work" for the leaders either!)

We spent Saturday afternoon in the lodge with a huge fire in the fireplace, sharing new craft ideas. We made several beautiful Christmas ornaments, and did a string art butterfly. With others giving gentle nudges, several of us were able to finish projects we had started years ago.

I'm sure everyone will agree, it was over too soon, and time to return to micro-wave ovens and electric dishwashers and comfortable beds, with electric blankets. but we sure had fun!

Charles Dickens On Christmas

These lines from the pen of the great Charles Dickens are an expression of one man's attitude and thoughts about Christmas:

"I have always thought of Christmas time, when it has come round . . . as a good time; a kind, forgiving time; charitable and pleasant: the only time I know of, in the long calendar of the year, when men and women seem by one consent to open their shut-up hearts freely, and to think of people below them as if they were really fellow passengers to the grave, and not another race of creatures bound on other journeys. And therefore . . . though it has never put a scrap of gold or silver in my pocket, I believe that it has done me good; and I say, God bless it!"

Dial [800] Prefix When Calling for Road Condition Reports, State Patrol Says

The state department of transportation has issued a reminder to people calling for winter road condition reports to be sure to dial the toll-free (800) prefix when calling from outside Milwaukee and Madison.

The problem has been called to the attention of the State Patrol, which provides the free information, by a Beloit resident whose phone number is the same, without the prefix. As a result, whenever people forget to dial the prefix, or mistakenly dial a (608) prefix, the phone in the private residence rings.

The State Patrol said the road condition information is available to people within the Madison direct-dial area on 266-7040; to Milwaukee area residents on 342-2211. The number of people outside the Madison and Milwaukee direct-dial areas is (800) 362-3000.

The information is the same on all three lines, the State Patrol said.

People calling from outside of Wisconsin should place a long-distance call to (608) 266-7040 in Madison.

Soil and Water Resource Problems

(Editor's note: This is the second in a series of three articles that outlines the soil and water resource problems, trends and analyses, and the proposed national conservation program).

Continuing present nationwide soil and water conservation trends would mean serious future conservation and farm production problems, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) report.

The finding is based on an analysis of the condition and trends of the soil, water and related resources of the United States. The analysis was part of a report required by Congress in the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977 (RCA), explains Cliff Maguire, Soil Conservation Service (SCS) state conservationist.

The analysis shows that the demand for food and fiber produced in the United States would increase while technological advances in agricultural production would decrease.

Without better technology to boost production, the demand to produce more food and fiber will mean that more acres of marginal land will be farmed. The result will be increased soil erosion rates and other resource problems.

If this happens, the productive of American agriculture would decrease and production costs would increase.

The report says that these resource problems need to be addressed most quickly: Excessive erosion rates, upstream flood damages, groundwater depletion, and deteriorated water quality.

To project future conditions, the USDA analysts used a computer model to simulate the nation's agricultural productivity related to erosion. Although the model's results can't be taken as absolute indicators of what will happen, they do show the relative direction of American agriculture and the possible magnitude of future resource conditions and problems.

RCA Appraisal Part II, the second of three major RCA documents, contains the detailed analysis of the trends in the use and condition of America's soil and water resource base. A copy of this and other RCA documents are available for reference use at SCS and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) offices throughout the state.

A short leaflet summarizing the RCA findings and proposed conservation program is also available at these USDA offices. The leaflet contains a pre-addressed, postage-paid response form that may be used to send comments to USDA. Responses should be mailed by January 15, 1982. If you have questions and want a comment leaflet, please contact Don Kurer or Don Sampson at USDA Offices, 2395 W. Washington St., West Bend, or phone 334-3706.

Record Deer Harvest of 166,443

Nearly final registration totals for the 1981 gun deer season show that hunters took more than 166,000 deer during the nine-day season, and that total coupled with the more than 24,000 deer already taken by archers this year establishes a record annual total harvest of deer in Wisconsin by hunters, according to Frank Haberland, big game specialist in the DNR.

The previous record for a registered gun season in Wisconsin was 150,845 deer in 1978 compared with this year's harvest of 166,443. An estimated 167,911 deer were taken by gun hunters during the either sex season in 1950 prior to the establishment of the registration program for deer in 1953. Bow hunters in 1950 bagged only 383 deer.

Haberland noted that 1981 was the eighth consecutive year that the annual deer kill has exceeded 100,000 in the state, and "the almost 99,000 bucks taken this year during the gun season is an all time record for Wisconsin and many individual counties had record buck and total kills as well."

Commenting on the hunters choice success ratio this year, Haberland said, "about 62,000 antlerless deer were taken on 108,430 permits issued this year for a success rate of 57 percent, a slight increase over the 53 percent success rate during the first year of the hunters choice permits in 1980."

Haberland summed up by saying, "this has been another excellent season proving the productive capability of our deer population and the success of our management system. However, the rapid increase in deer numbers following two consecutive mild winters has probably raised many of our management unit populations above goal levels and established higher levels of expectations among deer hunters. Experience has shown that such ideal conditions cannot continue indefinitely and a downward trend will inevitably occur. In the meantime, we can plan on still another excellent season next year."

A total of 170,433 deer hunters submitted applications with preference this year for the 108,430 Hunters Choice permits available, so on average, about two out of every three hunters who submitted preference applications received a permit, according to Department of Natural Resources officials.

However, the odds for receiving a permit varied from 23 percent to 100 percent for preference applicants depending on the deer management unit for which the permit was sought. In 13 units out of the state total of 86 managements units, there were more permits available than there were preference applications received. In those 13 units, each hunter who had preference and applied received a permit for a 100 percent success rate. The permits which were left over in those 13 units then went to hunters who applied by the October 2nd deadline and did not have preference.

On the other hand, there were only 725 permits available in Unit 64, and 3,039 preference applications were received for those 725 permits. That means that only 23 percent of the hunters who submitted a preference application for Unit 64 received a permit. However, a hunter who did not have preference and who applied for a permit in Unit 64, had no chance of receiving one.

In many of the more popular deer management units where the number of preference applications received greatly outnumbered the available permits, a hunter submitting a preference application had a less than 50-50 chance of getting a permit. His odds were still better than the hunter who didn't have preference and had no chance of getting a permit in those units.

A hunter had preference in applying for a permit this year if he applied for a permit in 1980 and did not receive one.

A hunter who applied for a Hunters Choice permit this year by the October 2nd deadline and did not receive one will have preference when applying for a permit for the 1982 deer gun season. Those whose Hunters Choice applications were received after the October 2nd deadline this year will not have preference next year.

Even with a Hunters Choice permit, the hunter is limited to taking one deer during the nine-day gun season. If he elects to shoot a buck, it can be taken anywhere in the state where legal. However, if he elects to take an antlerless deer on his Hunters Choice permit, it must be taken in the management unit for which the permit is issued.

Senior Citizen Recreation Card Available From DNR

Gift certificates for the Senior Citizen Recreation Card are available at the Madison office of the Department of Natural Resources.

The certificate can be used by Wisconsin residents age 65 and older to obtain the Senior Citizen Recreation Card. The card entitles the holder to lifetime vehicle admission to all Wisconsin state parks and forests plus fishing and small game hunting privileges. The cost of the gift certificate is $7.50, equal to the one time charge for the recreation card.

Loren Thorson, chief of Recreation Programs, commented that "many children and grandchildren are buying their parents or grandparents the gift certificate as a present on their 65th anniversary. Others bought the certificate as a Christmas present in anticipation of the senior citizen becoming eligible for the recreation card during the coming year."

The gift certificate can be picked up in person at the GEF II Building, 101 South Webster Street in Madison or by writing to the Department of Natural Resources, Attn: License sales, Box 7921, Madison, WI 53707.

Sensenbrenner to Be in Kewaskum

Ninth District U. S. Rep. F. James Sensenbrenner, Jr. will hold open office hours for Kewaskum residents on Tuesday, January 5.

Sensenbrenner will be at the Municipal Building from 10:00 to 11:00 a.m. to give residents a chance to meet with him about issues of concern or problems they may be having with federal agencies.

No appointments are necessary, and everyone will be seen on a first come, first served basis as time permits.

Wildlife Protection Aids Diversity, Checks Pests

By Bob Stodola
4-H and Youth Agent
UW-Extension, West Bend

Whether in an acre of farmland or in a backyard, habitat improvement projects can help Wisconsin's wild creatures and provide opportunities for nature study for 4-H groups.

With no habitat you have no wildlife.

For farmers, more wildlife can mean better hunting, extra income from trapping and help in keeping pest problems down. Even in cities and towns, encouraging wildlife can populate the neighborhood with singing, colorful and lively outdoor companions.

While it doesn't take much to make wildlife happy, it's wise to avoid making a place too attractive to wild troublemakers. Encouraging deer may not be such a good idea if they've been invading the neighbors' gardens and orchards. Some wildlife — geese, for example — take a heavy toll on cropland around large refuges each year. And not everyone is fond of all wild creatures; as beneficial as skunks may be, you don't want one living under your house.

But wild creatures can often be helpful in dealing with pests. Many song and game birds feed on insects that damage crops. So do shrews, ground squirrels, and even larger animals like skunks and foxes. Some animals thrive on weed seeds in winter. Hawks, owls and some furbearers prey on crop-destroying mice year-round.

Simply fencing a farm woodlot, gully, pond or stream to keep grazing animals out and let brushy vegetation grow can encourage wildlife to move in. Making large brushpiles instead of bonfires can improve the local rabbit hunting. Providing nesting boxes where natural shelter is scarce may keep squirrels around.

Offering birdhouses of the right size and design can make your favorite birds a more common sight and could mean extra feathered help keeping insects out of the garden.

What you allow to happen in the plant community will influence wildlife. Replacing sod fencerows — a favorite home for mice and insects — with brushy hedges encourages a diversity of species so that no particular pest is as likely to dominate.

Four-H groups can actively encourage landowners to improve wildlife habitat through the "Wisconsin Acres for Wildlife" program, sponsored by the Department of Natural Resources, or the "Backyard Wildlife Habitat Program" run by the National Wildlife Federation.

Private land is critical. Public wildlife areas can't adequately make up for habitat lost to human development, particularly in southern Wisconsin.

Landowners who participate in the DNR program receive signs to identify land managed for wildlife, arm patches, certificates and management information plus the satisfaction of participating in a 4-H youth project.

More information on habitat improvement projects is available from DNR district offices and local 4-H leaders.

Indians Rout Chilton 75-47; Record Now 5-1

The Kewaskum Indians rolled over Chilton here Friday night in a 75-47 mismatch. The victory left the Indians with a 5-1 record going into the 1982 portion of the season. Their only loss thus far has come at the hands of West Bend West.

Kewaskum is 2-0 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference but as the result of drawing a bye the opening week of the season, trails Two Rivers, which is 3-0, by a half game. Two Rivers squeezed out a two-point, 54-52 win over New Holstein at home Friday. In comparison, the Indians beat New Holstein by 7 points on the Huskies' floor the week before after a close contest. Chilton is now 0-3 in conference.

It was no contest from the beginning on against Chilton as the Indians raced up and down the floor a dozen times to jump into a 10-2 lead in the first 3 1/2 minutes and stretched it to a whopping 21-6 advantage at the end of the first quarter. There was no sign of a letdown that Coach Jim Westphal had feared.

Kewaskum dominated early in the game and there was no doubt which was the better team. The Indians' advantage in size, experience and shooting showed from the beginning. After a 2-2 tie at the start it was all Kewaskum.

Following baskets by Ric Leitheiser and Mike Heisdorf, Brian Larsen went on a solo spree to score nine straight points. It was 17-2 with over two minutes still left in the first quarter. At this time Westphal began to substitute and continued to do so throughout the remainder of the game.

By the intermission, the Indians held a 40-15 bulge and nine players had scored. Westphal was glad to have a game with some breathing room and was pleased with the way his Indians have been playing in compiling their 5-1 record.

The 6-2 Larsen, who was the leading scorer with 22 points, played a good game and hit the boards hard. Center Dale Wodsedalek, 6-5, who had been averaging 24 points a game, scored only 11 against the Tigers but took only seven shots, making five of them. "Wods" didn't get the ball much as everyone else was open as the points were spread among the 12 players who got into the contest. Dave Nennig led Chilton with 10 points and Dave Sell had nine.

Kewaskum made good on 21 free throws as the Tigers were charged with 27 personals. Chilton hit on 11 charity tosses.

The going will get tougher when the Indians resume play Jan. 8 at Kiel. The Raiders are rated as a contender in the conference.

Indian Gymnasts Lose at Chilton

The Kewaskum High School gymnastics team was defeated at Chilton Thursday, 96.2875 to 76.1375. The match was closer than the score shows but the Indians had trouble on the parallel bars and vaulting.

Amy Nigh did well with a first place in floor exercise with 7.6 and a third on the beam with 6.8. A mixup with the music prevented good performances of two of the girls in floor exercise for Sandy Nigh and Wendy Wilson. Nigh and Wilson took a second and third in overall competition. The only other place won by the Indians was by Doreen Sese, fourth in bars with 5.2.

The JVs won easily, 57.875 to 7.200. Rachel Ellefson took a second in floor exercise and third in vaulting. Kewaskum also got two places in the beam, a first from Sandy Klein with a 4.9 and second from Mary Secor with a 4.4.

The Indians will now be idle over the holidays until Jan. 5, when they host Valdars.

Lakes Team KO's Undefeated Port

The Kewaskum Lakes team upset the Port Washington Lakes, the previously undefeated 'B' Division leaders, 122-103, here Saturday, for their first win of the season. Kewaskum's record is now 1-3 in the 'B' Division and Port is 3-1.

"We really came together as a team tonight," Manager Bill Backhaus noted. "We played good team ball and everybody contributed. This should give us a boost for the rest of the season."

Kewaskum led in the game throughout. They took a 25-21 lead in the first quarter and increased it to 60-42 at the half. In the third quarter, Kewaskum increased their lead to 22 points, before Port started a big comeback. They narrowed the lead to seven at 88-81 by the end of the third quarter as Kewaskum couldn't buy a basket. They came as close as six in the fourth quarter before Kewaskum got their offense going again. Kewaskum outscored them 34-22 in the quarter to win by the final margin of 19.

Kewaskum kingpins Leon Laatsch and Don Gruber each poured in 35 points and did a good job on the boards. Bill "Fly" Gonwa scored 19 points and did a good job of ball handling. Backhaus had 14 points and Henry Schliter 11. Kevin Stautz hit a couple big baskets in the fourth quarter to help thwart Port's rally.

Chuck Lanser and Rollie Kitt led Port's attack with 29 and 28 points, respectively. Dave Ross and Scott Kartheiser each had 14 points.

Kewaskum shot 75.0 percent on free throws on 12 of 16, while Port was 61.1 percent on 11 of 18.

Kewaskum now takes a break from their schedule until after Christmas. Their next game is at Sussex on January 3 at 7:30 p.m. They will also be participating in the Mt. Calvary Tournament, which starts on January 22.

Results Dec. 19 — Cedarburg 127, Thiensville-Mequon 93; Kewaskum 122, Port Washington 103. Dec. 20 — Oconomowoc 97, Meno. Falls Badgers 92; Hartford 117, Mayville 84; Slinger 102, Sussex 83.

Wrestlers Maul Slinger, 'Pinned' by Plymouth

In a wrestling meet at Slinger last Tuesday, the rival Owls and Kewaskum went at it with the Indians blowing out their opponents in a one-sided 48-5 victory. The Indians won every match except for one loss and one draw as their experience made the difference.

The key match was at 126 pounds where Wayne Boudreau was seeking revenge against the Owls' Tom DuFour, who was undefeated in six matches this year. DuFour had pinned Boudreau twice in previous matches but this time it was all Boudreau, who dominated until the final horn. DeFour's only points in the 8-2 match came near the end on a reversal.

Another rematch of the Horicon Invitational final came at 145 pounds where Kewaskum's Dave Goeden faced Gus Unertl, whom he had beaten 2-0 in overtime the Saturday before. This time Goeden decided his opponent, 6-0.

Boudreau is now 5-1 and Goeden 4-1.

The lone Slinger win came at 138 pounds when Dave Konrath decided Mark Fuller, 11-1. Todd Corey earned the other Slinger points at 112 when he drew with Bob Callison, 6-6. Callison, a freshman, usually wrestles at 105 but moved up one weight class to take Russ Katzenberger's place.

Panthers made the difference as the Indians went down, 33-25.

Both teams won six matches but the Indians had only two pins to the Panthers' five.

Kewaskum's three seniors all came through with victories. Boudreau won a 7-4 decision after falling behind in the first two minutes by a 4-0 margin. Boudreau (6-1 overall and 2-0 in conference) came through in the final two periods, picking up near falls and a reversal. Both Don and Dave Goeden won at 132 and 145. The win was Don's sixth against one loss and Dave also hiked his record to 6-1 with a fast first period pin at 1:57.

The Indians are now 0-2 in the Eastern Wisconsin and 2-3 overall. They closed their season before the holidays at Campbellsport Tuesday.

Happyville Christmas

By Mike Bennett

Once there was a village called "Happyville," high in the mountains of a far-off land. It was a happy place, most of the time. But on a few occasions there was a bit of sadness here and there—which made Happyville more or less like villages and towns anywhere in the world.

Happyville was famous in a particular part of the world because of the Happyville Christmas tree. Each Christmas Eve, high on the very top of the mountain, the tree was visible for miles and miles, a perfectly-coned shaped arrangement of lights, blinking on and off like a beacon in the sky.

There are some who say that Happyville never existed. Men have searched the mountains in recent decades and found no evidence to prove anything one way or the other.

The simple truth of the matter is that Happyville still exists.

Many years ago, so the story goes, Happyville was a home for little people. These little people were friendly with the birds and the animals and at peace with all the creatures of the world. The little people even talked with the animals, which shows how wonderful things were in the village at the top of the Mountain of Faith.

The first Christmas tree appeared at the top of the mountain long, long ago, right after the visit of the jolly old man in the red suit. He was a sky-traveler, and he came to ask the little people for a very small favor.

Once each year, he told the little people, he planned to fly over their mountain and he would be ever so grateful if they would build a fire or light some candles to help guide him on his journey to the south. It seemed a simple enough request.

But, there was a problem. When the day approached for the fire to be built, the little people remembered they had no matches. And, they knew nothing of fire-building, anyway. Something had to be done.

A village conference was held. Everyone attended, even the birds and the animals. After many hours of conference, a plan was made. It was a simple plan, but whether or not there was time to put it into operation was another matter.

In any event, when the meeting ended, the hawks, the eagles, the robins and wrens, every winged creature flew down the mountain south, east and west, searching and searching.

On that first trip the jolly old man, whom we now know as Santa Claus, passed high above the Mountain of Faith and marveled at the beauty of a Christmas tree—blinking on and off with the golden light of a million fireflies.

So, now you know the legend of the Happyville Christmas tree and why you never see fireflies about during the wintry season.

The Mountain of Faith still exists. We can't tell you exactly where it is; but you can find it if you try, and if you really believe. You may find its reflection in the lights of your family tree, or in the flickering flame of a church candle. Look closely and you may see.

The little people are all around you. You may not recognize them, but you can hear them if you close your eyes and open up your heart and mind to the magic of Christmas!

GIVE A BOOK

Give a book for Christmas—lots of people do. It's an easy way to select a gift to match a person's interests, whether it be history, health, natural foods or wine. With the interest in good cooking steadily increasing, a cookbook will please many this Christmas.

YULE LOG

In days of old, the Yule Log was brought into the house on Christmas Eve and kindled with a piece of last year's log. It was necessary that the log be very large, so that it would burn throughout Christmas Day. If it died out prematurely, bad luck was foretold for the coming year.

Some Things Needed Are Not For Sale

There are so many valuable and worthwhile gifts that may be freely presented without cost or sacrifice. We speak of some small token of love . . . of love itself . . . and friendship . . . understanding . . . a prayer . . . a helping hand.

The world needs most those things which may not be traded or sold. This we should all remember as the crowds gather and rush about to prepare for the Christmas celebration. Let nothing crowd the spirit of Christmas out of our hearts, where it rightfully belongs; it is the spirit of love and giving.

HOLLY LEGEND

The early druids used decorations fashioned from boughs of holly to extend a welcome to spirits threatened by frost and winter winds. Britons believed it was unlikely to bring holly into the home before Christmas Eve and for a long time perpetuated a legend which held that the type of holly brought into the home determined who would rule the house in the months ahead — if fair, the wife would dominate; if bad, the husband would hold sway.

LET US PRAY

In the true spirit of the Christmas season, let us pray that joy, beauty, hope and, above all, abiding faith be with us, one and all. May the blessings of peace surround us—the peace to build and grow, to live in harmony and sympathy with our fellow man. Let us pray that strength and abundant courage be given to all whose mission is to work for a world of reason and understanding—so that the good that lies in every man's heart may day to day be magnified.

REJOICE

Let this happy occasion bring you and yours spiritual peace and love. As we all share in the blessings of Christmas, may you also discover true joy and enlightenment.

Kewaskum Kiwanis

May this Christmas season fill your heart with old-fashioned peace, love and joy.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus

One of the most famous newspaper editorials of all time has to do with Christmas. It first appeared September 21, 1897, in the pages of a leading newspaper of the day, the New York Sun.

Virginia O'Hanlon, eight years old, was torn between the doubts placed in her mind by playmates and her own sincere belief that each Christmas a jolly old man came to help spread joy through the world. To settle the matter, she posed the question to the editor of the Sun.

Francis Pharcellus Church replied as follows:

"Is there a Santa Claus?"

"We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of the Sun:

"Dear editor:

"I am 8 years old.

Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus.

Papa says 'If you see it in the Sun, it's so.'

Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

Virginia O'Hanlon

115 West 95th Street

"Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except what they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable their existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your Papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

"You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, not even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside the curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else more real and abiding.

"No Santa Claus! Thank God he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

CHRISTMAS SALE

BY BILL BENNETT

Biff Coleman eased the pressure of his foot and watched the speedometer needle drop down to 35 miles-per-hour. Central City was probably a speed trap and he didn't want to get started off on the wrong foot.

Top-drawer inefficiency, Biff thought, to start a branch office in such a small town. And just his luck to draw the assignment. Exiled, and at Christmas, too.

He saw the faint flow of red in his mirror. Yep, he had guessed right. Cops. Good thing he wasn't speeding. Or was he? That guy had his siren on. He's tailgating me, signaling me to move over, Biff thought, "What the . . . brother, I couldn't have been doing over thirty. What's the limit in this burg, anyhow? I'll fight through every court in this state before I pay a cent."

Meeting

He pulled over, the squad car edging up behind him. A young, smiling officer emerged from the car. The type that likes his work, Biff guessed.

"Now, listen officer, I want you to know . . ."

"Never mind, sir. Please step out of the car. I am Officer Paul McGrath, Central City police force. May I see your driver's license?"

Biff had it in his hand, all ready. "Here you are, but I would like to say . . ."

"Mr. Coleman, from River City. Mr. Coleman, welcome to Central City. Are you just passing through?"

"I had planned to stay. I . . ."

"It doesn't matter, sir. May I ask that you come with me? We won't be gone long. You can lock your car and leave it where it is. It will be all right."

Noisy

Biff stepped into the car. The officer started the motor and headed up the street, red dome light flashing, siren going full blast.

The squad car came to an almost screeching stop in front of a building which appeared more like a church than a police station.

"This is our community center," the officer said. "We use it for just about every meeting we have in this town."

Biff allowed himself to be pushed through the door. "Meeting?"

"Sure, meeting. Look."

Crowd

Biff looked. The place was alive with people. Little groups standing around, talking, eating cake and sipping punch.

"Meeting," Officer McGrath said. "We do this every Christmas. We choose someone apparently passing through and bring them here to meet the friendly folks of Calvert City." He gave Biff another friendly shove. "Here he is, Mayor."

The big man grasped Biff's hand. "Your name, sir?"

Biff stammered, "Uh, Uh, Biff, Biff Coleman."

The mayor raised his hands. "Ladies and gentlemen. Step up, if you will, and meet Mr. Biff Coleman. Mr. Coleman is passing through and just stopped to let us wish him a Merry Christmas."

Biff found his voice. "Thank you, Mr. Mayor. But, I'm not passing through. I have come to stay. You know that building on the corner of First and Main just remodeled? Now, my company is opening a branch office there and I want to invite . . ."

He was drowned by a chorus of voices, "Merry Christmas, Biff."

Christmas Trees Plentiful in State

"Wisconsin Christmas trees are again plentiful for the holiday season, with retail prices slightly higher than last year," reports Bob Williams, marketing specialist with the Wisconsin Dept. of Agriculture, Trade & Consumer Protection.

In checking with many growers and Christmas tree association officials, Williams found that retail prices are expected to increase slightly in some areas of the state. The price range on trees in retail lots is governed by both the tree quality and the variety, and is expected to range from $2.00 to $4.50 per foot.

According to Williams, the "cut your own" method is a popular way of selecting a Christmas tree because it allows families the opportunity of visiting the areas where trees are grown. Most operations sell trees by height, at prices ranging from $2.00 to $5.50 per foot, with a few operations selling at a fixed price of approximately $9.00 per tree.

When selecting a tree from a retail lot, check to see that the tree has a fresh appearance, springy branches and pliable needles. If you purchase or cut your tree early, make a fresh cut on the trunk and place the tree in a pail of water or wet sand to keep it fresh. When you put your tree up at Christmas, again make a fresh cut on the trunk and keep it in water in a tree stand. "A well watered tree is much safer than one with dry needles," Williams points out.

A listing of "harvest your own" operations and retail lots may be obtained from county extension agents, foresters, tourist centers, or by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Christmas Trees, WDATCP, PO Box 8911, Madison, WI 53708.

ABOUT LEFTOVERS

If holiday meals left you with excess food, don't wait until you have served a meal several times before deciding to freeze some of it. Food frozen after the first cooking will be much better than food that has gone through numerous re-heatings and then frozen. This is especially true for holiday turkey.

The gold, frankincense and myrrh which were brought to the Christ Child by the Three Wise Men were symbols rather than mere signs of wealth. Each had a special meaning. Gold signified that they accepted Him as their king, as the King of Kings; frankincense was given as a symbol of his deity; and myrrh represented the prophecy of His death on Calvary.

CHRISTMAS HOLDS TRUE MEANING

Some say we have lost the true meaning of Christmas, that the holiday has become too commercial. Nothing can be farther from the truth. Jesus himself said it . . .

"For the Son of man is come to seek and save that which was lost."

We have not lost the meaning of Christmas; it remains, it flourishes. We see it all around us. We need only look through the open door of a church, search the eyes of a child, reach out in some way to touch the heart of a friend or relative.

The spirit of Christmas lives within all mankind. We may disguise it, fail to recognize it openly, but within the heart there lies a knowledge that Christmas marks more than the birth of a child; it pronounces a fulfillment of the promise of God.

Nothing can be more certain; nothing has so well stood the test of centuries to remain forever the same.

Legend Says Mary Died In Ephesus, Turkey

A ruined city in Turkey may have been the last home of the Virgin Mary.

Ephesus, a ghost city, lies some 35 miles from Izmir, near the Aegean Sea. Ephesus is frequented by archaeologists, chiefly interested in the Temple of Diana, one of the Seven Wonders of the World. In recent years, Christians have come to Ephesus in increasing numbers, drawn by the legend that Mary spent her last years here, cared for by St. John the Apostle.

Amid the ruins of the 6th century Church of St. John, a tiny chapel is believed by many to stand over the site of Mary's home. Local tradition says that both Mary and John died in Ephesus, but their tombs have never been discovered.

Ephesus was destroyed by Goths in A.D. 262 but the Christianized city revived and became the seat of two of the most important councils in Roman Catholic history. Later invasions by Arabs, Turks and Mongols completed its ruin.

TORCH PARADE

Caroling and Midnight Mass are longtime traditions in the mountains of Western Austria. Beginning with the family living farthest from the village church, torch-bearing carolers begin a procession. At each house along the way, greetings of "Froehliche Weihnachten" are exchanged and the inhabitants join the march to the next home. Eventually, the whole population is part of the parade as it arrives at the church steps in time for Midnight Mass.

How To Lighten Holiday Foods

Start with a bowl of relishes—the greater the variety, the better. Skip the dip.

Make the cream sauce for onions with half as much fat and with skim milk instead of whole. Thicken with corn starch.

Serve baked sweet potatoes rather than candied sweets, or skip the marshmallows.

To cut calories in the gravy, pour off the turkey drippings, leaving brown particles. Add corn starch, using half as much corn starch as you would flour. Gradually stir in fat-free broth. Stirring constantly, bring to boil.

Serve fruit, lightly glazed, for dessert. For the glaze, stir together in saucepan 2 tablespoons corn starch and a pinch of ginger. Gradually stir in 2 cups orange juice. Stirring constantly, bring to boil and boil 1 minute. Pour over a mixture of fruit, toss and chill.

For pie, choose pumpkin chiffon over creamy pumpkin or make a mincemeat pie that's more apples than mincemeat.

For additional light ideas and recipes, write to Argo and Kingsford's, Dept. LT-NP, Box 307, Coventry, Ct. 06238.

EXTRA-SPECIAL HOLIDAY DISH FOR EXTRA TURKEY

TURKEY-RICE CASSEROLE

- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons butter or margarine
- 1-1/2 cups Minute rice
- 2 chicken bouillon cubes
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 package (9oz.) Birds Eye small onions with cream sauce
- 1 cup Birds Eye sweet green peas
- 1-1/2 cups diced cooked turkey
- 2 tablespoons sliced pitted black olives (optional)
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine (optional)
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Combine 1-1/2 cups water, the salt, 2 teaspoons butter and the rice in 1-1/2-quart casserole. Cover and bake at 450° for 10 minutes. Meanwhile, heat bouillon cubes and 1/2 cup water in saucepan until cubes are dissolved. Add milk, onions, peas, turkey, olives, and the 1 tablespoon butter. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Cover and simmer about 4 minutes. Move rice to sides of casserole; pour turkey mixture into center and sprinkle with cheese. Place in preheated broiler for 2 or 3 minutes, until lightly browned. Makes 4 cups plus rice or 4 servings.

WAX ON CARPET

If candle wax falls on your new carpet, don't despair. Remove as much as you can with your fingers. Sponge the spot with carbon tetrachloride and clean cloths, changing the cloths often. If the carpet has pile, brush the pile gently with a wire suede brush. When using carbon tetrachloride, avoid breathing the fumes. Be sure the area where you work is well ventilated.

THE EPIPHANY

Many times during the holiday season we hear reference to the Epiphany, yet many do not know when it occurs and how it fits into the Christmas calendar. The Epiphany is observed on January 6 to mark three events in the life of Jesus: His baptism, the visit of the Wise Men to Bethlehem, and the first miracle at Cana.

Caution! Christmas Plants And Holly Berries May Be Poisonous

When decorating the house this Christmas this year, proceed with caution! Your favorite holly wreaths and plants are potentially poisonous.

Many red berries, common to Christmas wreaths and decorations, are poisonous when ingested. The most likely candidates for accidental poisonings are toddlers and preschoolers, who investigate and taste most foreign objects, edible or not. In addition, these berries closely resemble tiny, cinnamon candies.

So this year shop for live wreaths without berries. Don't rely on your merchant to know which berries are lethal. No decoration is worth risking your child's life.

Also, forego mistletoe and poinsettia. They're poisonous, too. Opt for bright red ribbon instead or buy artificial decorations, which will last from year to year, cost less and are flame retardant.

To protect your family, PBS Medical Systems Inc. manufacturers of the POISON-AID Emergency Poison Treatment and Prevention Kit, recommends that parents poison-proof their homes by following these 10 rules.

1. Learn which products can be dangerous. Keep them out of reach of young children.
2. Install child-proof locks on all cabinets containing medicines, household products, etc.
3. Never transfer dangerous materials into another container, (for example food jars, which your child may consider his private property).
4. Keep medicines in bottles with child-proof caps.
5. Put warning labels on all potentially hazardous substances.

6. Explain the dangers of poison to your children as soon as they are old enough to understand.

7. Never take or give medicine in the dark or without reading and understanding the label directions.

8. Throw away prescription drugs after they have served the purpose for which they were prescribed.

9. Thoroughly wash hands and other exposed body areas after exposure to potential poisons, such as insect and plant sprays, rat poisons, etc.

10. Never refer to medicine as "CANDY" to entice children to take it.

If an accidental poisoning should occur (there are over one million such disasters each year, affecting children under the age of five), parents must act quickly. The Food and Drug Administration advises parents to keep Ipecac Syrup and Activated Charcoal on hand for treatment. However, these substances are not always readily available to consumers. PBS Medical Systems has changed this by creating the Poison Aid Kit which contains Syrup of Ipecac and Activated Charcoal in handy one ounce bottles, packaged with a wall chart that identifies most common causes of poison accidents and their treatment.

You can order directly by sending a check for $6.00 to PBS Medical Systems, Inc. P.O. Box 89 Department C, Summit, New Jersey, 07901.

The Christmas Sled

(author unknown)

Oh, for the winters that used to be!

The winters that only a boy may see!

Rich with snowflakes' rush and swirl;

Keen as a diamond; pure as a pearl;

Brimming with healthful, rollicking fun;

Sweet with their rest when the play was done;

With kindly revels each day decreed,

And a Christmas sled for the royal steed.

Down from the crest with a shrill hurrah!

Clear the track, there! Out of the way!

Scarcely touching the path beneath;

Scarce admitting of breath to breathe;

Dashing along, with leap and swerve,

Over the crossing, round the curve.

Talk of your flying machines!

Instead,

Give me the swoop of that Christmas sled.

Food Stain Removal

Food stains are part of the holiday season. Good food and drinks abound and mishaps are frequent, with clothing and tablecloths the most frequent recipients of someone's miscue.

Prompt treatment is recommended for any stained material—the sooner, the better. Protein-based stains such as milk, blood and fruit can be soaked in an enzyme pre-soak product before washing. Greasy stains should be spot treated with a pre-wash product.

Some difficult stains may require bleaching, but check garment label first. Some fabrics should not be chlorine bleached. Washable fabrics can be spot-cleaned with pre-wash products, then laundered. Non-washable materials may be spot-cleaned with a sponge wetted with a dry-cleaning fluid.

BEGORRAH!

According to an old Irish belief, the gates of heaven open wide at midnight on Christmas Eve and those who die at that time go straight through without having to go to Purgatory.

HERALD ANGELS

Charles Wesley, brother of John Wesley, wrote the words to "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing" in 1739. Legend says the original carol began, "Hark, how all the welkin rings."

Holiday Food Safety

'Tis the season to eat well. There is, after all, a mouth-watering assortment of goodies from which to choose — home-baked breads, delicious cheeses and cheese spreads, citrus surprise packages from the sun belt and sumptuous serving of turkey, ham and lamb.

With all these taste treats around the house, it's a good idea to take added precautions to guard against food spoilage. That way, you can enjoy holiday foods well into the new year. And you can rest assured that they're safe to eat.

Here are some tips from the U.S. Department of Agriculture for safely storing various foods:

- Breads: If you're going to use within five to seven days, wrap and store in a bread box. (Bread actually stays fresher longer at room temperature than in the refrigerator). If you're not, then wrap and freeze. Breads will retain their eating quality for two to three months if frozen.

- Hard cheeses (such as Cheddar, Parmesan and Swiss): Wrap tightly and keep refrigerated. Hard cheeses will keep for several months this way. Make sure, though, to cut off any mold that may form on the surface of the cheese.

- Soft cheeses (such as cottage, cream and Camembert): Tightly cover and refrigerate. Use cottage cheese within three to five days, others within two weeks.

- Cheese spreads: Once opened, cover and refrigerate. Use within two weeks.

- Citrus fruits: Store at a cool room temperature (60 to 70 degrees F) or in the refrigerator. Use within two weeks.

- Jellies, jams and preserves: Once opened, cover and refrigerate.

- Nuts: If shelled, store in airtight containers in the refrigerator. They'll keep for up to six months this way. Unshelled nuts, in general, can be stored for the same period of time at room temperature.

- Leftover cooked meats: Cover and refrigerate. Use within three to four days.

- Leftover stuffing: Remove from chicken or turkey, cover and store in refrigerator. Use within two days.

- Leftover gravy and broth: Highly perishable. Cover, refrigerate and use within one or two days.

Remember also to check that your refrigerator and freezer are maintaining adequate

Fireplace Adds To Holiday Atmosphere

For many families, the holidays would be incomplete without a fire in the fireplace. However, a small fire is just as cheerful as a roaring one — and much safer.

Most people prefer wood logs, although coal or charcoal can be used, especially in small fireplaces with grates. Hardwoods make the best wood fire. Scrap lumber or softwood create too hot a flame and can cause sparks to fly out the chimney. This may be a fire hazard to your roof or nearby trees.

If a fire is not out before you retire, push the logs in to the rear of the fireplace or stand them securely into either corner. Be sure the fireplace screen is securely in place. At Christmas-time, DO NOT burn wrappings from presents in the fireplace, flames may flare into the room.

An unusual, festive look into the future.

In Czechoslovakia, fortunes are told after dinner on Christmas eve. Melted wax or lead are poured into water and the shapes they form are the signs that foretell the future.

PERSONALIZED PACKAGES

Personalize your Christmas packages this year—with handmade salt sculpture "nametags."

To make the dough, combine one cup Morton® Salt and two cups flour. Mix them well. (Be sure NOT to use self-rising flour.) Next, add one cup water, a little at a time, mixing as you pour, to form the dough into a ball. Knead the dough for about ten minutes until it is smooth and firm. Place dough that won't be used right away into a plastic bag to keep it from drying.

Then—you're ready to sculpt!

For nametags, roll out long piece of dough until it is about the thickness of a breadstick. Shape letters of name from one continuous piece on the cookie sheet for the handwritten effect. Or, make each letter individually, as in printing, joining letters by moistening both edges with water and pressing them together.

For more elaborate letters, braid or twist dough pieces before shaping, if desired. When name is completed, tiny aspic cookie cutters can be used to add further decorations—bells, stars or small flowers—to the letters.

To bake, set cookie sheet in the oven at 325 degrees. Allow them to bake for one half hour for each 1/2-inch thickness until hard and golden brown.

For a natural brown finish, brush the pieces with egg or milk during baking. Or, paint to match holiday wrapping paper after they are cooled. Be sure to finish up with a good coat of lacquer, varnish or shellac to seal all sides from moisture and humidity.

How to attach to the Christmas package? Just loop an extra piece of ribbon from the bow through one letter of the name. For more firm attachment, add tape to the back side to connect sculpture to the box.

And, when the packages are open, hang the name on the holiday tree!

Holiday Brings Baroques Of Paris

The Christmas season brings out the baroques of Paris. The small stalls, or booths, are erected along the boulevards and sell sweets, toys, and all the latest novelties. It is quite like a fair and the booths remain open till after New Year's Day.

Also in evidence are the street vendors and barrows that sell holly and mistletoe. In France one sees mistletoe in perfection, for it is the country of mistletoe and everyone buys it. A branch hung above the doorway at this season is believed to insure good luck during the entire year.

Applesauce Cookies Are Easy To Make

If you want to bake some cookies with the flavor of Christmas, try applesauce cookies. The following recipe will provide about 4 dozen cookies.

1 cup brown sugar
 3/4 cup oil
 1 cup applesauce
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup chopped nuts
 1 tsp. vanilla
 4 cups rolled oats
 1/2 cup chopped dates

Beat oil and sugar together until well blended, add remaining ingredients, mix well. Drop from teaspoon onto oiled cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees for 25 minutes, or until nicely browned. Allow to cool before removing from cookie sheet.

An unused swing set can turn a backyard into an eyesore ... unless you hang flower baskets from the frame, attach a bird feeder to the overhead bar and plant climbing vines to trail up the legs. A thing of beauty!

Reviving Traditions Inspires A New "Spirit" In Egnog

Time-honored traditions and treats are what make the holidays special. Yet these same reappearing festivities can become routine and bring on the groans of "Bah, hum-drum!"

No need to cast aside the customary decor—the hand-crafted stockings or the heirloom ornaments. Instead, find new ways to use them.

Perhaps the ornaments become the focus of a centerpiece and the stockings aren't "Hung by the chimney with care," but placed in a window that had been bare.

Continue to nourish your holiday guests with the traditional turkey or roast duck, but prepare the family recipes a little differently each year. Use a new seasoning or stuffing to make it more than just the "same old thing."

For inspiration to renew your holidays try a transformation of the classic Christmastime cocktail eggnog.

The following revives an old family recipe. It's made from scratch and the effort makes it a home-made delicious treat.

For a real difference, instead of just rum or brandy, make the "spirit" of eggnog a truly American specialty by using an unique authentic liquor, Southern Comfort.

This distilled spirit was created more than a century ago in Old World New Orleans.

COMFORT EGGNOG FAMILY RECIPE

- 6 egg yolks
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 2 cups Southern Comfort
- 3 cups heavy or whipping cream
- 1/2 cup brandy
- 6 cups milk (1 1/2 qts.)
- 6 egg whites

Beat egg yolks until thick and fluffy. Gradually beat in sugar, then Southern Comfort. Cook the custard mixture over simmering water, beating constantly, until thick and foamy, about 7 minutes. Chill.

Just before serving, whip cream until thick and fluffy; then beat in brandy. Stir milk into chilled custard. Gently fold whipped cream into custard. Whip egg whites until stiff and shiny; gently fold into custard mixture. Make 32 servings, about 5 ounces each.

England's Christmas Is Jovial Holiday

Christmas in England is very much like Christmas in America. Joviality and generosity are everywhere; presents are exchanged; carols are sung on the highways, byways and in the churches.

The day after Christmas is known as Boxing Day and is observed on a scale almost equal to that of Christmas. Originally, Boxing Day was the day on which the village priest opened the poor box in the parish house and distributed the money. Nowadays, mail carriers, newsboys and other public servants often receive gifts as they make their rounds from house to house.

Robin's Red Breast Came At Bethlehem

Animals and birds are the subject of many Christmas legends but one of the most interesting supposedly tells how the robin got his red breast.

According to the story, the fire in the stable on that first Christmas began to die, with only a few smoldering embers, while the family slept. A little bird swooped down and with his wings fanned the embers until they glowed. His breast reddened from the heat but he kept on until the coals burst into flames. Since that time the robin's breast has been red as a reminder of his devotion to the Holy Infant.

Indoor Christmas gardens bring year-round enjoyment

Small-scale rooms in today's houses and apartments often rule out those splendid ceiling-high Christmas trees of years gone by.

Happily, there is an alternative—a tabletop Christmas "garden" that will continue to bring joy throughout the year.

Seasonal houseplants

Christmas gardens can be fashioned from any number of ornamental houseplants available at florist shops this time of year. One of the most popular combinations is a small Norfolk Island pine tree, bright red miniature poinsettia and variegated spider plant, arranged together in a wicker basket or similar large container.

The symmetrical branches and needle-like leaves of the pine can be dusted with artificial snow. They are also sturdy enough to support small Christmas ornaments, tinsel, tiny ribbon bows and other festive decorations.

With normal care, the Norfolk Island pine will flourish for many Christmases to come, as will the spider plant.

Post-holiday care

To keep the poinsettia blooming brightly after the holidays, remove it from the arrangement and place it in a watertight container. Position it where it will get full but indirect sunlight, but away from drafts and excess heat from radiators or ventilation ducts.

Check the soil daily and, when it is dry to the touch, water the plant thoroughly and discard excess water. Feed the plant liquid plant food once a month in the amount indicated in the directions.

Florists also stock other seasonal plants that work well in a Christmas garden. They include the Christmas cherry, also known as Jerusalem cherry; Christmas kalanchoe; Christmas pepper; and Christmas cactus.

CHRISTMAS GARDENS SAVE VALUABLE SPACE and bring long-lasting holiday cheer. A popular combination is a small Norfolk Island pine, bright red miniature poinsettia and variegated spider plant, arranged in an attractive container.

HOLIDAY FLAVOR

Of all the spicy, nostalgic smells of the holiday, that of nutmeg and its sister-spice, mace, is recalled with particular pleasure. We top the frothy eggnog with nutmeg, use it to add final flavor to a hot glogg. Hard sauce for the plum pudding gets a dash of nutmeg or mace, as does the whipped cream to top holiday desserts. Mace is delightful in chocolate and, like nutmeg, has dozens of gourmet uses in the kitchen.

WINTER FESTIVALS

Christmas has not always been celebrated on December 25, but in ancient times this date marked the Mithraic rite of the birth of the sun, a festival to honor Mithras, the Persian god of light. Winter festivals were popular in early days. The Teutonic tribes of Northern Europe celebrated the winter solstice to mark the rebirth of the sun. The Roman festival, saturnalia, held about the same time, was a season of rejoicing and feasting.

The tale of a Christmas plant: the lovely poinsettia

Ready or not, there's no denying the arrival of the holiday season once the poinsettia plant begins to make its appearance.

Whether it appears on the cover of a greeting card, in the windows of a local department store, or in a sea of red, pink and white flowers at a roadside nursery, the poinsettia is a sure sign that Christmas is just around the corner.

Although the poinsettia plant is not indigenous to the United States, Americans have come to associate its brilliant red, delicate pink and snowy white bracts with the Christmas season.

This exotic flowering plant, used to decorate homes and churches in Mexico during the Christmas season, was introduced to the United States in 1828 by Dr. Joel Robert Poinsett, at that time the U.S. ambassador to Mexico. Upon returning from his term of service in Mexico, he brought the plants home to his native South Carolina.

Poinsett propagated these plants, which he called "Painted Leaves," in his own greenhouses, and sent cuttings to botanists throughout the country. The plant was later named "Poinsettia" in his honor.

Poinsettias grow wild in Mexico and other areas of Central America, where they are shrubs that can reach 30 feet in height. Their brilliant flowers are most profuse in mid-December.

The Spanish name for poinsettias, Flor de la Noche-buena (flower of the holy night), derives from a Mexican legend which holds that the plant originated in a miracle.

As the legend has it, a poor peasant child, ashamed at having nothing to take to a service honoring the nativity of the Christ child, sadly picked a few weeds along the road to give as an offering at the church.

As he knelt at the altar with his humble gift, the child's earnest prayer and tears of reverence transformed the weeds into the flowering plant that has become as much a part of Christmas in this country as the ever-green tree.

Today, poinsettias are still imported from Mexico, though commercial growers in Hawaii and other warm-weather states add to the supply. A careful plant-lover, however, can keep the plant from one season to the next and enjoy its brilliant flowering year after year.

The poinsettia will flourish outdoors during the summer months in most parts of the country, becoming denser with foliage as the weeks of sunshine pass. Prior to putting the plant outdoors, it should be pruned to avoid its becoming too "leggy."

In order to have the plant bloom at Christmastime, poinsettias require equal amounts of daylight and darkness from the first week of October to the second week in November.

Hot Buttered Rum Recipe

For unexpected guests or a get-together that does not include meal serving, hot buttered rum and cookies are a good choice. In preparing the drinks for company, you can have the mugs set out with their spices in advance, then complete the drinks with the addition of warmed flavorings and boiling water.

- 2 whole cloves
- 2 whole allspice
- 1 short stick cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- Boiling water
- 1½ ounces light rum
- ½ ounce dark rum
- 1 teaspoon butter or margarine
- Ground cinnamon-optional

Put the cloves, allspice, stick cinnamon and sugar in mugs or glass and add a tablespoon or two of boiling water. Combine the rums in small saucepan and heat but do not boil. Pour rums into spice mixture, filling mug or glass with boiling water and immediately add butter. Sprinkle with cinnamon if desired. 1 serving.

 To be our sweet Saviour.
 The Holly bears a berry

 And Mary bore sweet Jesus Christ
 To do poor sinners good.
 The Holly bears a prickle
 As sharp as any thorn;
 And Mary bore sweet Jesus Christ
 On Christmas in the morn.
 The Holly bears a bark
 As bitter as any gall;

 For to redeem us all.

 Now both are full well grown;
 Of all the trees are in the wood,
 The Holly bears the crown.

Knowledge Of Customs Helped Washington

George Washington's knowledge of Christmas celebrations helped the struggle for colonial freedom.

In 1776 many, if not all, Puritan settlers in the new world disapproved of Christmas festivities. The same was not true for the mercenary Hessians fighting for King George against the colonists. They observed Christmas wherever they went.

Christmas customs throughout the world were not generally known in 1776, but George Washington knew the Hessians would be celebrating. Thus, it was on December 25-6, 1776, that American troops crossed the Delaware, attacked and put to rout the surprised Hessians who were obviously sleeping off the effects of their holiday "cheer."

Moisture Essential to Christmas Tree

Whether you cut your own Christmas tree, or buy it from one of the service clubs or individuals who make them available during the holiday season, remember that the tree, although cut, is far from dead. It is, or should be, fresh and should be so treated.

Place the tree in a water well and keep it well watered. Once a tree absorbs all the water in the well, pitch will form rapidly on the base of the tree and it will lose its ability to absorb more moisture when it is made available.

According to superstition, it is unlucky to spill salt on New Year's Day and to sweep out any dust - it takes your fortune with it.

MISTLETOE

That friendly, kiss-producing Christmas decoration, mistletoe, is really a parasite which lives and feeds on the branches of other trees. The dwarf mistletoe, cousin to the Christmas variety we so often use, is a particular pest in the West, where it attaches itself to the trunks of firs, larches, hemlocks and spruces and retards growth by robbing the trees of nutrients.

Pleat these ends neatly toward the center, making firm creases. Cut two circles of paper to fit the ends and paste over the pleats.

Round packages may also be wrapped in several layers of tissue paper with overlap fixed with tape, and two or three inches of paper at each end. Tie the end wraps firmly with ribbon or yarn. Cut rosette-like ends that result in thin strips to resemble a party "snapper." Decorate each end with a bow.

HEALTH FOOD CANDY

Here's something for weight watchers who find it difficult to resist the endless chocolates, jellybeans, caramels and candy canes that seem to be everywhere during the holiday season. This is a health food candy that's not only good, it's good for you.

- 1 1/4 cups quick-cooking oatmeal
- 1 cup flaked coconut, chopped
- 1 cup walnuts, coarsely chopped
- 1/2 cup toasted wheat germ
- 1/3 cup sesame seeds
- 1 tablespoon ground cinnamon
- 1/2 cup snipped dried apricots
- 1 stick butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 1/3 cup honey

Combine oatmeal, coconut, walnuts, wheat germ, sesame seeds and cinnamon in large bowl and stir to mix well. Add apricots and toss. In a small saucepan, melt butter, stir in brown sugar and heat until dissolved. Drizzle over cereal mixture and toss until evenly moistened. Spread evenly in 13 x 9 x 2-inch baking pan, sprinkle with honey. Bake in 350 degree oven 25 minutes, stirring occasionally with a fork. Turn onto lightly greased aluminum foil and spread into layer about 1-inch thick. Let cool. When mixture is cool enough to handle, shape into 1-inch balls. Allow to cool completely and store in plastic bag or airtight jar. Makes about five dozen balls.

MAKE IT PERSONAL

A homemade card speaks of special thoughtfulness. Anyone with a little time and talent can devise a Christmas message that will be especially appreciated. It is becoming increasingly popular to poetize the family gossip of the year in the form of a holiday greeting message to friends and neighbors.

THREE KINGS'S DAY

Driekonigendag, or Three Kings' Day, is a festive occasion in Belgium. It is a special day for children who dress in costumes and go from farm to farm, singing nonsense verses about the Kings and are given gifts, coins and cakes.

The cake of the Kings is shared at a party. The youngster who receives the piece of cake containing a dried bean is proclaimed King and chooses a Queen to help him rule over the party. The royal pair receive gold paper crowns and robes that are often pieced together from purple, orange or scarlet scraps.

TREAT THE BIRDS

The Christmas season can be a difficult time for our feathered friends, the birds, particularly if there is a snow cover. You can trim an outdoor tree and decorate it with meat, vegetables and seeds to share your holiday blessings with cardinals, juncos, sparrows, finches and other birds. Those named above like vegetable seeds, but you can use such things as pine cones dipped in suet, bits of apples or carrots, even pie crusts to attract hungry blue jays, woodpeckers, nutcrackers, chickadees, warblers and brown creepers.

B.C. — Okay!
What About A.D.?

Most everyone knows the notation "B.C." following dates means "before Christ." But, quickly now, what about "A.D."? This notation means "in the year of our Lord" and was affixed by Charles III of Germany who began attaching his symbolism to the years of his reign in 879.

The system of retroactively dating years prior to the Saviour's birth and dedicating succeeding years to His Greater Glory was invented, along with the Christian era, by a monk about 532 A.D.

The Christian era begins on January 1 in the middle of the fourth year of the 194th Olympiad, the 753rd year of the building of Rome and in 4714 of the Julian Period.

The Julian Period, invented by Joseph Scaliger about 1583 A.D., was devised by multiplying the lunar cycle 19, solar cycle 28 and the Roman indication 15.

Centuries before, about 4,000 B.C., the Egyptians devised a calendar based on the Mundane era of Alexander, estimating the "beginning" to be about 5502 B.C.

Holiday Helpers

The holiday season is upon us. That usually means too little time with too much to do. Don't let the rush turn you into a dessert scrooge. Instead, take advantage of holiday shortcuts.

Save time with holiday baking by starting with Betty Crocker® variety dessert mixes such as gingerbread, pineapple upside-down cake, Boston cream pie and date bar. The dates, pineapple and cream filling are already in the boxes to make baking easy. You just add water or milk and eggs.

Preparation time is reduced because many of the baking steps, like creaming shortening and measuring dry ingredients, are already done for you.

Here's one snappy-tasting cookie recipe to add to Santa's plate. It starts with Betty Crocker gingerbread mix.

SOUR CREAM LEMON GINGER COOKIES

- 1 package Betty Crocker® gingerbread mix
- 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon peel
- Sour Cream Lemon Frosting (below)

Heat oven to 375°. Beat all ingredients except frosting in large bowl on low speed. Shape dough into about 1-inch balls. Place about 3 inches apart on ungreased cookie sheet. Flatten to 2 inches with bottom of glass dipped in flour. Bake until set, 9 to 11 minutes. Immediately remove from cookie sheet; cool. Frost with Sour Cream Lemon Frosting. About 2 1/2 dozen cookies.

Sour Cream Lemon Frosting

- 1 1/4 cups powdered sugar
- 2 tablespoons dairy sour cream
- 1 tablespoon margarine or butter, softened
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice

Mix all ingredients until smooth and of spreading consistency.

MAKE A SPECIAL HOLIDAY TREAT

Christmas time wouldn't be the same without special homebaked treats like this classic Holiday Fruited Coffee Cake. But this old-fashioned yeast bread is made the contemporary way — without kneading. Developed by the Kitchens of Fleischmann's Yeast this easy recipe allows you to save time and energy for other activities during this busy season.

EASY HOLIDAY FRUITED COFFEE CAKE

- 1/3 cup milk
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) margarine
- 1/2 cup warm water (105°F. - 115°F.)
- 2 packages Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast
- 2 eggs, beaten (at room temperature)
- 3 1/2 to 4 cups unsifted flour
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 1 cup mixed candied fruit and peels
- 1/2 cup snipped pitted dates
- 1/2 cup quartered candied cherries
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger

- 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- confectioners sugar glaze

Scald milk, stir in sugar, salt and margarine. Cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle in active dry yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, eggs and 2 cups flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in enough additional flour to make a stiff batter. Cover bowl; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1-1/2 hours.

Meanwhile, thoroughly combine walnuts, candied fruits and peels, dates, cherries, cinnamon, ginger, orange peel and nutmeg.

Stir batter down. Mix in nut and fruit mixture. Spoon evenly into greased and floured 12-cup Bundt pan. Cover; let rise until slightly more than doubled in bulk, about 1 hour and 15 minutes.

Bake at 375°F. about 30 minutes, or until done. Remove from pan and cool on wire rack. Frost with confectioners' sugar glaze when cooled.

Safe Christmas Is Best Of All

Christmas, the happiest of holidays, should never be spoiled by tragedy.

Remember that most holiday accidents take place during the last 6 hours before Christmas Eve than during the remainder of the holiday. The hourly rate for accidents is much greater during this 6-hour period than during the rest of the holiday.

Most accidents happen on the highways and in the home. If you're driving, don't get in a hurry. If you've been enjoying Christmas "cheer" of the alcoholic variety, don't drive. Check Christmas tree lights and other sources of danger around the home. Never leave tree lights burning if you leave the house.

Lots of old fashioned cheer to our friends and neighbors. Thanks.

ONE SOLITARY LIFE

(Author Unknown)

Here is a man who was born of Jewish parents in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in another obscure village. He worked in a carpenter shop until He was thirty, and then for three years, He was an itinerant preacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office. He never had a family. He never went to college. He never put his foot inside a big city. He never did one of the things that usually accompany greatness. He had no credentials but himself.

He had nothing to do with this world except the naked power of His divine manhood. While still a young man, the tide of popular opinion turned against Him. His friends ran away. One of them denied Him. He was turned over to His enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed to a cross between two thieves. His executioners gambled for the only piece of property He had on earth while He was dying—and that was His coat. When He was dead He was taken down and laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.

Nineteen wide centuries have come and gone and today He is the centerpiece of the human race and the leader of the column of progress. I am far within the mark when I say that all the armies that ever marched, and all the navies that ever were built, and all the parliaments that ever sat, and all the kings that ever reigned, put together have not affected the life of man upon this earth as powerfully as has that One Solitary Life.

Bayberry Candle Burns For Luck

To learn your luck for the year they say,
Burn a bayberry dip on Christmas day.

If the flame burns bright and the light shines clear,
Good luck will be yours throughout the year.

One of the early traditions of our country was that of burning a bayberry candle on Christmas Eve to assure a long and happy life.

Early settlers discovered that the bayberry gave off a wax that would make fine candles — an important discovery because animal fats were important as food and for other uses. Consequently, animal fats were preserved as much as possible and children were assigned the task of gathering bayberries for candle-making.

Find the Christmas Spirit...

We hear so much that Christmas is too commercial and that the spirit is gone from this ancient holiday observance. Nothing can be more distant from the truth.

Let us begin the search for the Christmas spirit by looking into the eyes of a child. Let us listen for the sounds of laughter and joyous greetings. Let us consult with the less fortunate, with the sick, the shut-ins, the lonely and the poor to determine if the spirit of Christmas has not brought some ray of sunshine, some glimmer of hope into their lives.

Then, let us turn our thoughts and our steps to the church by the side of the road. Here, in solitude, or in the echo of familiar hymns and traditional services we must find the unescapable truth. The spirit of Christmas continues on as another Yuletide season marks the birth of Jesus and signals again a message of hope and peace for all the world.

Reaching out with thanks for your patronage. You can depend on us for service and for the sincerest wishes of this happy season.

Santa's Image By Nast, Moore

The jolly, rotund figure that we know as Santa Claus has come a long way from the image of St. Nicholas, the benevolent Bishop of Myra. Thomas Nast, a political cartoonist, and Dr. Clement Clark Moore, a scholar and poet, were primarily responsible.

A drawing by Nast appeared in an 1874 issue of Harper's Weekly, depicting a rotund and gift-laden Santa Claus about to slide down a chimney, or perhaps, waiting patiently for the children inside the house to go to bed.

Earlier, in 1822, Dr. Moore painted Santa's portrait in the words of a poem that was to become one of the most traditional and beloved of all time. Dr. Moore wrote "A Visit from St. Nicholas" for his children. They memorized it and would often recite it at family gatherings. Moore thought so little of it that he put the original manuscript away in a drawer. A family acquaintance later sent a copy of the poem to a newspaper, without naming the author, and the poem was published anonymously for several Christmases before credit was given to Dr. Moore.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

This Christmas, for the 77th year, letters and packages will bear Christmas seals as well as stamps, the seasonal reminder of the continuing fight against tuberculosis.

The idea was conceived in 1903 by a Danish postal clerk, Einar Holboell, who suggested it to his friends. Someone presented the idea to King Christian, who set the plan in motion by authorizing the image of Queen Louise as the illustration for the first seals issued in 1904.

Some three years later, a Danish-born American, Jacob Riis presented the idea to the American public in a magazine article and an American Red Cross worker, Miss Emily Bissell, started the first American sales that year.

Plants And Greenery Are Traditional

In America and throughout much of the world, plants have long been associated with Christmas customs and traditions.

There is an old legend which holds that, wintry weather notwithstanding, trees burst into bloom and bore fruit on the night that Christ was born. The modern day transformation does not occur as a miracle; it takes work, yet each Christmas homes throughout the world are trimmed with greens and garlands and set aglow with lights to mark the anniversary of the Holy Birth at Bethlehem. Like the trees that burst forth with blooms and fruits, holly, mistletoe, poinsettias and many other plants have become an essential part of the holiday observance.

Many of the customs and traditions associated with flowers and plants have their origin in pagan rites and rituals but they have taken on important implications in the Christmas observance. The giving of plants as gifts probably stems from the visit of the Three Wise Men. In some countries, it is still custom to present plants as gifts on Epiphany, January 6, the date on which it is believed the Wise Men appeared at Bethlehem.

The use of greenery at Christmastime can be traced to ancient Greece and Rome. Holly was a great favorite of the Romans, who considered its winter beauty to be the promise of the sun's return to earth for another year. In later times, it was custom to hang sprigs of the bright-berried plant in the doorway of French and British homes to indicate homes in which Christ dwelled. One legend holds that holly first sprung up where the infant Jesus took his first steps. By contrast, the same plant was supposed to have been used to fashion his crown of thorns, with the berries turning from red to white with the Crucifixion.

Christmas Drummer Old German Custom

In old Germany, children looked forward to the arrival of the Christmas drummer. According to custom, once the Christmas dinner was completed, an elderly man, with a drum attached around his neck and resting on his stomach, would lead a procession through each room in the house, beating the drum to frighten away witches and evil spirits. When he reached the children's room, the door was opened with great ceremony to reveal a large Christmas tree, illuminated with candles and laden with gifts for boys and girls. A huge Janus head—or Jack-o-lantern—was placed in the center of the tree and lighted with candles so that flame and smoke issued from the nose, mouth and ears. This was the signal for the children to surround the tree and strip it of the gifts, while the older members of the family exchanged presents and joined in the spirit of the occasion.

Heavens Open On "Le Jour de Noel"

Le Jour de Noel, or Christmas day, in France is a great day for children. For centuries, they have been told how "le Petit Jesus, Saveur adorable, le nuit de Noel" was born in a stable and they came to believe that the heavens would open on Christmas Eve and Le Petit Noel would come down to bring gifts for those who had been good.

In more recent times Le Petit Noel has been replaced by Le Pere Noel—Father Christmas—a heavenly personage who distributes toys and goodies to well-behaved children. In some parts of the country children believe that Le Pere Noel is accompanied by Le Pere Fouettard—Father Spanker—who carries a load of switches which he leaves with children who have not been well-behaved.
