Fire Completely Destroys Area Barn Marigold Foods to Transfer All Milk Production to Kewaskum Plant

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Men and equipment from six area fire departments helped Fire Chief Joe Enright and the Boltonville Fire Department battle a blaze on the Norbert Thull farm located about five miles east of Kewaskum late Monday afternoon.

Boltonville received the call at 4:25 p.m. After arriving on the scene, a mutual aid call to Kewaskum asking for a full equipment and men response was made. Tankers and men from Fillmore, Beechwood, Silver Creek and Batavia also aided in fighting the fire. The tankers hauled water from a pond located on the Richard Johann property in St. Michaels. The West Bend Fire Department sent out its unit to refill firefighters' air tanks.

Firemen were on the scene until approximately 3:15 a.m. Tuesday morning.

Chief Enright said sparks from a feed grinder and tractor, being operated by Thull's son Kevin, flew into the barn igniting the straw.

The barn and its contents of grain, hay, straw and feed, located at 2342 Highway 28E, were completely destroyed. Enright said preliminary estimates put losses at approximately $50,000.

Relocation and Expansion of Horseshoe Courts Discussed

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Members of the Kewaskum Horseshoe League appeared before the Village Board Monday evening, requesting permission to relocate and expand its courts along the west side of the river in River Hill Park.

The league presently has four courts and is looking to expand to eight. Also included in the league's plans are construction of a fence around the area, future installation of lights, restrooms and a storage shed. Herb Theisen, speaking for the group, said the four present courts would be closed and eight new ones built at the new proposed river area site. Village Administrator Dan Schmidt said he had explained the situation to Theisen that no decision had been made as yet and that the request would be discussed at Monday's meeting.

Schmidt explained that the courts are within the floodplain area and any further development of the area would require plans which must be approved by the Department of Natural Resources. Some of the interested parties felt they were being pressured out of the area by other interest groups using the same area.

Schmidt told the meeting that the horseshoe league had been approached by the Historical Society regarding the site of the log home before reconstruction was started. The society had approval from the league before any work was done Schmidt noted.

Schmidt also said that even if the log home had not been constructed in that area, there still would not have been enough room to add four more pits.

Trustees Howard Laubenstein, Jeff Rohrer and Dave Nigh all questioned the citizens about their reasons for not wanting to move to the new

Fire Department Will Host Open House Saturday

The Kewaskum Fire Department, in conjunction with National Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 3 thru Oct. 9, is having an open house. It will be held Saturday, Oct. 9, from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m., at the Fire Station, 1106 Fond du Lac Ave.

All the fire fighting equipment, including the recently acquired, 1982 1000 gpm, Pumper, which was purchased at a cost of $100,000, will be on display.

Fire prevention materials and fire extinguishers, will be on display and any questions you may have will be answered by Kewaskum Firemen.

It is hoped that local residents will take this opportunity to get acquainted with your Fire Department and help prevent fires before they start, whether it be on the farm, home, business, or place of employment.

Marigold Foods to Transfer All Milk Production to Kewaskum Plant

Marigold Foods announces that they are discontinuing production at their Green Bay Plant effective October 9, 1982. All accounting, distribution, fleet maintenance, sales and marketing functions will remain in Green Bay according to current company operating plans.

The full line of Kemps milk, cottage cheese, sour cream, ice cream, and yogurt will continue to be marketed and sold throughout Northeast Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

The milk production will be transferred to Marigold's Kewaskum plant. All raw milk for bottling will continue to be purchased from Wisconsin farms.

Company officials stated that this move was necessary to take advantage of the efficiencies of more modern facilities.

Bids in on Municipal Building Roof Repairs

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

At Monday night's village board meeting, bids for repair work on three levels of the Municipal Building's roof and chimney were opened.

Brian Fischer of Ruekert and Mielke, the engineering firm for the project, read bids from four companies competing for the job. Dehling-Voight of Newburg came in with the low bid of $21,465.00. Midwest Roofing of Waukesha quoted $23,700.00. C.W. Haug and Sons, West Bend, came in at $23,947.00 and Laubenstein Sales of Saukville presented the high price tag of $27,826.00.

The bids will be reviewed by Fischer who will make a formal recommendation at Thursday evening's special village board meeting.

Work could be started as early as October 15, with completion by December 1, 1982, as stipulated by the village.

In other action, the board approved the request of Police Chief Donald Hlavaty to advertise for bids on the 1983 replacement squad.

Paul Blumer, Public Services Chairman, recommended the board approve a request for the installation of a street light on the north end of Western Avenue.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt presented the preliminary proposed 1983 budget for the fire department, along with fire contracts for the Towns of Kewaskum and fifteen sections in Auburn. Schmidt noted one of the major increases in the proposed budget is an anticipated increase of approximately 35% in gas heating costs over the next year. Schmidt stated the gas company's marketing manager noted increases of 12% in November 1982, 1% in January 1983, 4% in February 1983, 10% in May, 1% in September, and 7% in November of 1983. Schmidt said he had conflicting reports of electric rates going up either 5% or 28% in 1983. The telephone company refused to give rate increase estimates, said Schmidt.

Changes in equalized valuation will result in approximately a 13% increase in fire protection costs for the village, while the Town of Kewaskum will see a 9% decrease, and Auburn a drop of 12% because of a related drop in equalized value. The equalized value figures and number of calls are used in a formula to calculate fire contract costs.

The board also approved the request of Pete Albers, Wastewater Treatment Superintendent, to purchase testing equipment which will reduce the number of hours needed to run sewage treatment tests.

Community Halloween Party Receives Tremendous Support

Community support for the second annual Kewaskum Community Halloween party has been tremendous. Donations have already been received from the Jaycees, Kiwanis, Kewaskum Junior Women's Club, and Modern Woodmen of America. Individual contributions from the drop-off boxes located throughout the community are coming in steadily. The drop-off boxes are located at Behring's Meat Market, Campbell's Village Inn, Gerry's Beauty Shop, J & N Liquor, Kennelly Pharmacy, Kewaskum Frozen Foods, West Bend Savings & Loan (Kewaskum office), Shop Rite, Valley Bank of Kewaskum, and Village Hair. Donations may also be mailed to Ms. Sheryl Rinzel, 3800 Ridge Road, Kewaskum 53040. All checks should be made payable to the PTO Halloween Fund. The money collected will be used to help defray the cost of entertainment and refreshments for approximately 500 children.

Many community volunteers have signed up to help, but more are needed to make the party a big success. If you would like to help, contact Mary Pearson (626-4594).

Parents and community members are encouraged to attend the costume parade and judging which will kick off the event at 5:00 p.m., October 30, on the football field behind the Kewaskum Elementary School. Seating is available in the bleachers. Following the judging, the parade will continue to the Kewaskum Middle School where there will be exciting entertainment and refreshments will be served.

The party is open to all children from kindergarten through sixth grade who attend the following schools in the village: Kewaskum Elementary School, Holy Trinity, and St. Lucas. Pre-school brothers and sisters of elementary school children are also welcome if accompanied by a parent. If your child would like to participate and you have not yet filled out a reservation form, please fill one out and return it to the school or to Ms. Mary Pearson, 2705 East Moraine Dr., Kewaskum, as soon as possible.

PREGNANCY

Pregnant women should be very hesitant and selective about taking drugs, stated Dr. M.L. Soentgen to the AMA Convention. Drugs may pass thru the placenta and stay in the bloodstream of the unborn baby longer than in the mother's bloodstream. Toxic substances resulting from breakdown of the drug may also reach the fetus. The placenta is not always an effective barrier against transfer of drugs from mother to fetus.

Ebert Receives Award For Superior Work at Arkansas Post Office

Jim Ebert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ebert of Kewaskum, a Rogers, Arkansas, postal carrier, was the recipient of a Superior Accomplishment Award from the postal service recently.

Ebert was cited by Rogers Postmaster Bob Edwards for superior work during the recent period of retirements and the addition of routes, creating understaffing at the post office. Ebert often carried extra routes that he normally would not carry in helping ease the shortage of manpower, Edwards said.

The certificate and cash award of $250 were presented by Edwards and approved by Central Sectional Manager Jim Zaner. Ebert has been a postal employee for 3 years.

Jim lives in Bentonville, Arkansas, with his wife Mary and two children, Lisa and Jody.

From the School Board President's Desk....

Usually I'm answering your questions in this space, but this week I have some questions for you to answer. Are you satisfied with what Kewaskum School District children are being taught? Are your children learning what they must know in order to become productive members of the community? How could the education received by Kewaskum School District children be improved?

The quality of our district's education has come up several times lately, especially as the Board has been interviewing superintendent candidates. A periodic assessment is always valuable, but I've been thinking more about it as some of the candidates have asked the Board about our schools. I do want to make something clear—we have a good community, a good school system and good students...but we can be better. How? That is what I'm asking you.

Some people have suggested a "back-to-basics" approach. The problem with that is, what is it? It seems as if everyone who favors it has a different definition. If it means stressing reading, writing, science and math, I hadn't realized we'd gotten away from it. On the other hand, those PSAT scores were alarming.

Are there subject areas in which the district is weak? Are there things that our school system should do in order to better prepare students to assume their places in our community? In the 1960's and 1970's parents were discouraged from getting involved in the formal education of their children, but you know and I know that we parents have to do more than just foot the bill. We have the responsibility to assure that our children get what they need to succeed.

How can we improve our schools? I welcome your suggestions. Send them to Dr. Charles Ogi, P.O. Box 201, Kewaskum, Wis. 53040.

Superintendent Search Update: The candidate interviews are continuing.

Dr. Charles J. Ogi

Kiwanis Park.

Schmidt said there was more than enough land (34 acres) at the proposed site in the new park. In fact, the village's five-year recreation plan calls for construction of six courts with more than enough room to expand to twelve courts. Theisen had noted earlier that if the league wanted to hold tournaments, it would have to have at least 12 courts, and this was not possible at the present site.

Laubenstein questioned the need for the added expense to install lighting and rest rooms at the river site when the village has already spent the money at the new park to provide these items. Schmidt noted the new park site would be close to the restrooms, concession stand and lighting facilities.

Schmidt said neighbors in the area of the league's proposed site were not happy about the relocation. Police Chief Donald Hlavaty said speaking as a private citizen, he was not in favor of the expansion plan. He felt it was a beautiful nature spot where people enjoy going for walks along the river during the evening. "It's a shame to waste a beautiful spot like that by closing it," he said.

Trustee Paul Blumer said the village had put so much money into the new park and the proposed horseshoe courts area was a nice private picnic area that would be spoiled by the expansion plan.

Rohrer said he had looked at the site noting there could be two or three alternate site recommendations including moving the courts to the east side of the river on the south end of the parking lot. Rohrer felt, however, the site at the new park would probably be the best, meeting the requirements the league is looking for in their plan.

The trustees still wondered what the exact reason was for the league not wanting to move to the new park. President Jerry Stollenwerk recommended the board study the situation further and asked that the request be put on the agenda for the special meeting scheduled for Thursday, October 7, at 7:00 p.m.

Candidate Pat Jerominski Speaks At West Bend Rally

On Monday, September 27, Pat Gruber Jerominski, candidate for the 88th Assembly District, spoke at the 9th District Committee on Political Education (COPE) rally at the Nellen's West Bend Motor Inn.

In her address Jerominski stated, "property tax is one of the most burdensome of all taxes affecting the people of this state." She touched on a number of issues and alternatives to the property tax issue:

1. Increase aids and property tax relief in all areas—shared revenues, tax credits, social service aids, highway aids, school aids, Homestead, Farmland Preservation, etc.
2. Shift part of shared revenues into the Wisconsin State Property Tax Relief program.
3. Will, if elected push for passage in the 1983 biennium session of the constitutional amendment earmarking 40% of sales tax collections for property tax relief.
4. End property tax support of schools.

Jerominski also stated on the education issue "changing the constitution to allow other alternative local funding sources for education would force the Legislature in the position of giving the issue the thorough study which it deserves."

Jerominski also noted that the incumbent, Esther Luckhardt, called for property tax relief but gave no specific solutions. Jerominski stated that "according to Luckhardt's past assembly voting record, she has consistently voted against all bills promoting property tax relief including:

- * Homestead Credit
- * Farmland Preservation Act
- * Exempt Home Improvements
- * Highway Aids
- * All immediate tax relief programs

In closing, Jerominski stated, "without property tax relief people will lack the motivation to defeat the frustration that is associated with our state's depressed economy."

Kewaskum Statesman
Kewaskum, WI

To the Editor:

We wish to compliment the members of the Kewaskum School Board who voted in favor of requiring the 1.5 minimum grade point for participation in interscholastic sports.

If a student cannot achieve a D+ average, then that student does not have the time to spend on interscholastic sports. We do not denigrate sports—they certainly have a value, but the benefits derived are far short of the benefits gained from knowing how to read, how to write, how to communicate, and how to solve every day mathematical problems. Sports should be regarded as a valuable addition to the academic curriculum, not as an alternative to it.

Sincerely,

Mr. & Mrs. Robert G. Serwe

THULL BARN FIRE

The Kewaskum Fire Department's Tele-Squirt aerial ladder was instrumental in fighting the blaze.

Time may be running out on the greatest tax-break for savers ever authorized by Congress!

All Savers Certificate

Act Now . . .
Offer Ends
December 31, 1982.

In October, 1981 Congress authorized a one-year, high interest earning, tax-free savings account that allowed individuals to earn up to $1,000 of tax-free interest and couples up to $2,000 of tax-free interest.

That account was called the 'All Savers Certificate'.

Congress also, at that time, established December 31, 1982 as the expiration date for the All Savers Program.

Despite the many attempts that have been and are still being made to persuade Congress to grant an extension to the All Savers Program, the distinct possibility exists that these attempts will prove unsuccessful and the program will end on December 31st as planned.

How does this affect you?

If you have not yet opened an All Savers Certificate . . .

There is still time for you to take advantage of this high interest, insured, tax-free savings account. Just open your West Bend Savings' All Savers Certificate before December 31, 1982.

With as little as $500 or more you can be on your way to earning up to $1,000 (individual) or $2,000 (joint) of tax-exempt interest income.

West Bend Savings' All Savers Certificates earn high market rates, guaranteed for twelve months. And, your deposit is insured up to $100,000 and backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. Government.

Why not join the thousands of West Bend Savings' customers already taking advantage of the All Savers Certificate's tax-free earnings? This may be the last tax incentive ever authorized by Congress.

Please remember that the current All Savers
Program will end
December 31, 1982.

So, act now!

Federal law requires a substantial penalty and loss of tax exemption for early withdrawal of these certificates.

If you already have an All Savers
Certificate . . . you may be entitled to earn more interest.

Many people have opened All Savers Certificates that have not yet earned the maximum tax-free interest allowed by Congress. In these cases, we feel your best options are to reinvest your current All Savers Certificate for another twelve months when it matures — provided the maturity date is before December 31, 1982 — or, open another All Savers Certificate before December 31st and deposit the amount you need to earn the maximum tax-free interest allowed. Our savings counselors can help you determine the amount that can be reinvested in the program.

If your current maturing All Savers Certificate has earned the maximum amount of tax-free interest permitted . . .

We suggest that you check with us a few days before your certificate matures just in case Congress decides to grant an extension, in which case you may be entitled to earn more tax-free interest.

Should an extension not be granted our savings counselors will be happy to suggest other insured investment alternatives ranging from tax savings and retirement plans to short term cash management accounts to long term investments. We're confident one or more of our plans will meet your needs.

Propane Torches Can Cause Fires

Persons who use a propane torch to peel away old paint are reminded that this practice can be dangerous because certain types of wood will smolder, creating a fire hazard.

That's the word from Tom Crist, director of the consumer protection bureau in the Wisconsin Dept. of Agriculture, Trade & Consumer Protection, who points out that several propane torch related fires have been reported recently in the Madison area.

According to Crist, old or porous wood is particularly vulnerable to smoldering conditions which can break out into flames long after the paint has been removed from the wood.

A warning issued by the Madison Fire Department reminds homeowners that they should not use a propane torch when peeling paint from wood. The department says further that homeowners should be extremely cautious this winter when thawing frozen water pipes with a torch, because the heat will travel on the copper pipe creating combustible conditions.

Little Whistler Homemakers Meet

After a summer break, the Little Whistler Homemakers of Kewaskum met at the home of Sandi Schultz on Tuesday evening, September 28, for their regular monthly meeting.

The agenda consisted of a report from the various committees, and a discussion of coming events.

The club agreed that the events planned by the Outing and Summer Picnic committees were a great success. The outing to the Melody Top in July, and the summer picnic in Kewaskum park were enjoyed by all. Plans are now underway by the Christmas committee to provide an enjoyable holiday party in December.

The terms of office for the present Vice-President and Treasurer will expire in December, therefore, nominations and voting for new officers will take place at the October meeting.

A questionnaire from the County Office on projects of interest to be used in planning the 1983 club projects was answered and discussed. Topics concerning the family were of main interest to everyone present.

A report of the various activities held at the County Homemakers Craft Day was given by members who attended, and the meeting closed with a discussion on, "Versatile Vegetables," the project for the month.

A delicious dessert was then served by the hostess, and enjoyed by all.

BARN FIRE!

The following article was written by the late Ruth Stoffel of Route 2, Kewaskum, after the barn fire on their farm 15 years ago, and was submitted to the Statesman by her daughter in observance of Fire Prevention Week:

The sun comes up on August 3rd at 4:59 a.m., a good half hour after the alarm clock wakes my husband for his morning milking chores. I heard him hunting in the half-dark for some fresh work clothes before he headed for the night pasture to round up our herd of Holsteins. I rolled over to enjoy another hour's sleep before starting my day — or perhaps only a half hour, since the air was already muggy and there was a birthday cake to be baked for our five-year-old before the kitchen got too warm.

By 4:45 the cows were all penned in the holding area and the first group of four were being milked in the milk parlor stalls. Each of the 120 cows had been marched past the 40' by 80' steel hay barn minutes before, and my husband, locking the gate behind them, felt the satisfaction a farmer knows when a crop has been successfully stored for future use. Just two days ago he and the boys had finished filling the barn to the rafters with chopped hay — 250 tons of it — and the electric dryer had been going full tilt to bring the moisture down to a safe level. It was a time to feel content.

At 5:00 a.m. that contentment was to be challenged by the unmistakable smell of burning hay. By the time I heard Jerry's cry, "The hay barn's on fire!" and ran to the screen door to look, the flames were already squeezing through the air vent on the north side of the building. I knew, as I dialed the volunteer fire department, those flames would gain too much headway on us during the two-and-a-half mile fire run to harbor any hope of saving the building.

The voice on the other end of the phone answered, "Yes, I know — they're on their way." I learned later that the teen-age boy down the road, suffering from his annual attack of hay fever, had noticed the fire from his sleepless perch on the side of his bed, and put in the first call to the fire department.

Sooner than I could have believed, the fire trucks arrived with a skeleton crew aboard, but a retinue of volunteers in private cars streamed in behind the trucks. County police were there at once, and they were needed almost immediately to direct traffic for the early risers whose usual route to jobs in nearby towns was slowed by waves of smoke choking the highway. The police radioed for extra help from the next township when it was apparent that pumpers would be needed to haul great amounts of water to protect the other farm buildings.

A summer wind had sprung up from the southwest, a blessing in terms of keeping the flames away from the milking parlor, a scant ten feet away from the burning barn, but a growing threat to the rest of the farm buildings directly in line to the north and east — the old stanchion barn, its upper part also filled with hay, and the lower level home to 75 head of young stock; the silos; a heifer shed, and our new free-stall barn that housed the milking herd. The cows had been led out to the pasture at the first sign of the fire. The hoses were being played on the milking parlor in an effort to keep the roof from bursting into flame. The fire had taken over the entire hay barn, and in a hastily called conference, some neighbors offered to bring a load of 18-foot boiler flues from the next farm, where they had been stockpiled as salvage from an old demolished factory. They reasoned that the boiler flues, ends braced against the foundation of the milking parlor, the opposite ends propped against the steel walls of the hay barn ten feet away, would cause the walls of the barn to fall in rather than out and onto the parlor roof. The flues were quickly put in place and we waited and prayed that the parlor and the adjoining string of buildings would be saved from the fire.

Meanwhile, sparks and burning debris were blowing into the hay loft of the old barn and onto the dry shingles of the long building. Neighbors spent all day keeping vigil inside, quickly stamping any smoldering fragments that found their way through the wide openings between the rough boards.

I alternated between standing helplessly in the smoke-filled yard and watching, or just as helplessly in the house as one by one the children woke to the noise and confusion. There are ten children in our family, and we had many fire drills over the years to waylay any tragedy. I carefully drilled them as we dressed so that I would know where they were at all times. Full light had broken by this time, and the yard and highway were jammed with cars filled with helpers — and we needed all the help we could get. Saving the farm buildings seemed hopeless — and I was expecting a cruel change in the wind that would have the fire take our house, too.

The first break came with the realization that the boiler flues were doing their job, helped by the wind, in keeping the fire from the milking parlor. Firemen scrambled over the milking parlor roof with the hoses and straddled the peak to keep the water trained on the hay barn. Now all we could do was wait and see if the wind continued to cooperate.

Al, our neighbor, looked me up after the flues were in place. "Ruth, these fellows haven't had any breakfast and that's mighty hard work. I'll run over home and get our big coffee maker. If you've got something for sandwiches I can bring Isabel along to give you a hand."

Of course they were getting hungry! It was nearly eight o'clock, but I hadn't given a thought to food! But what could I do — there were at least fifty men fighting smoke and flames out there and I wasn't prepared to feed a crowd that size. I found the loaf or two of bread I had put aside in the freezer, pulled a summer sausage out of the refrigerator and had barely begun to put the two together when I saw a familiar face behind two armfuls of ring baloney. It was the owner of the local locker plant where we did business.

"I thought you could use these," was all he said, and he has successfully resisted all our efforts since to pay for them. Someone else appeared with a dozen or more loaves of bread and a huge package of lunch meat. The man who operates the local grocery opened his store early to send the food out to us. We made sandwiches as fast as we could and saw them disappear even faster. When we finally got caught up it was almost dinner time, and the firemen still had a big job that would require a hearty meal. If I was concerned for a time, it was only because I had not reckoned with the old-fashioned virtue of neighborliness. We have an extra large kitchen table to accommodate our large family, and by dinner time that day it was filled with every sort of casserole, hot dish, cake and dessert and the overflow was crowding my counter space as well. One especially thoughtful neighbor, knowing five-year-olds, brought a beautifully decorated birthday cake as her offering.

By 8:00 a.m. Jerry decided to try milking the cows, reasoning that if we had to find a new location for the herd, there would be one less milking to do in a strange barn. Some of the men fenced off a lane around the burning building and drove the cows through the smoke and into the holding area. Surprisingly, the animals didn't seem to be affected too much by the change in their routine and the milking chores were finished, a little behind schedule, but without complications.

For the first time since giving the alarm at dawn, Jerry headed for the house. He had seen the major part of his summer's work go up in smoke and flames. He had watched time after time as his neighbors put out small fires in the nearby buildings, and he knew he could count on them to help rebuild when the time came. Yet the full impact of the outpouring of neighborly concern did not hit him until he walked into the kitchen and saw the gifts of food filling every available space, representing neighbors who lived miles away from our farm. "That was when," he said later, "I broke down and cried like a baby. I couldn't believe so many people cared."

A barn fire is devastating and I wouldn't want it to happen to anyone. But I do wish everyone would have some occasion to witness the concern and help shown us that day. That kind of caring could set the world on fire.

Children Often Victims of Confusion In House Fires

Would your family know what to do, if the smoke detector in your home went off in the middle of the night and you awakened to find your house in flames? Or, in the confusion, would your children huddle in closets or under beds trying to escape smoke or flame? Fire chiefs say that's what children often do where there is no predetermined plan to escape.

A family escape plan can help prevent a tragedy. With such a plan, your whole family knows the best ways to get out of the house safely, depending upon where the fire is. They also know where to meet outside, so you can make sure all are safely out of the house.

It's not enough to simply develop a plan; you should practice putting it into action. Just as your child's school has fire drills, you should have regular fire drills at home. The few minutes' time it takes is cheap "life insurance;" frequently the tragic results of children not knowing what to do in an emergency are severe burns — or worse.

Few other injuries produce the pain of severe burns. The body becomes extremely susceptible to infection. Organs function abnormally. There is a massive loss of body fluid. Once a burn starts to heal, there is danger of crippling disfigurement. Burn victims often carry emotional scars, as well as physical scars, for the rest of their lives.

Treating acute burns in children is a long process — and a painful one. Records of Shriners Burns Institutes in Boston, Cincinnati and Galveston show that the average length of stay for several burned children from January through December, 1981 was 32 days.

Doctors at these Shrine hospitals point out that most burns are preventable. Developing a family escape plan is one of the simple precautions to take around the house that can drastically reduce the chances of tragedy.

Fire Prevention Week October 3-9 Learn Not To Burn Wherever You Are

History of Fire Prevention Week

This year commemorates the 60th anniversary of the first Fire Prevention Week. Over the years, Fire Prevention Week has reminded people of the importance of firesafety, particularly through the experiences of some very famous fires, such as the "Great Chicago Fire." From October 7-9, 1871, the Chicago fire claimed 250 lives and destroyed more than 2,150 acres of the city. At the same time, another fire devastated the small lumber town of Peshtigo, Wisconsin and within 24 hours claimed 800 lives. These two fires accounted for the largest loss-of-life in American fire history.

What was learned, however, was that fire prevention must be practiced. In 1911, the first Fire Prevention Day was initiated by the Fire Marshal's Association of North America, and officially declared by President Woodrow Wilson in 1920. President Warren Harding proclaimed the first Fire Prevention Week in 1922. In Canada and the United States, Fire Prevention Week is always observed during the week in which October 9 falls. This year, Fire Prevention Week is October 3-9.

Campus Preview Day
At UW Oshkosh

High school students who wonder what type of university or college best meets their needs or what academic area they should study will find answers to their questions at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh Campus Preview Day on Friday, Oct. 15.

Preview Day will open with registration at 8:30 a.m. at Albee Hall, where all sessions for the high school students and their parents will be held.

In addition to the general sessions at which UW-Oshkosh personnel will discuss academics, financial aids and student services, high school students will be able to meet individually with faculty from the various academic departments and university offices to obtain answers to any questions they may have.

Persons seeking additional information about the Campus Preview Day for high school students may contact the UW-Oshkosh Admissions Office by phone at (414) 424-0202.

Waupun Land Swap
Could Save 100 Jobs, Luckhardt Says

The State Building Commission has approved a land exchange that could prevent the loss of as many as 100 jobs in the city of Waupun, according to State Representative Esther Doughty Luckhardt (R-Horicon).

The commission gave the green light to a plan under which the city would obtain just under two and a half acres of state-owned farmland in order to construct a street serving Bird Trucking Company. It had been feared that the company's Waupun's second largest employer, might move away if it could not acquire more efficient access to its property.

"In the presence of the state cooperating with industry, this is very similar to the Milbrew situation in Juneau, where 150 jobs were threatened by a tax increase," Luckhardt said. "We stopped that tax increase and those jobs were saved, and with just a little bit of care and cooperation, we can save a lot of jobs in Waupun."

Under the proposal, Waupun would agree to purchase about 2.3 acres of farmland and trade it to the state for an equivalent parcel now contained in the state prison farm and needed for construction of the street. The city would cover the cost of appraising both parcels and payment would be made by either the state or the city to compensate whichever party received the parcel of lesser value.

Location of the acreage Waupun would buy to trade to the state was undetermined.

"This is the best possible kind of cooperation between the state and the business community, because it doesn't involve any subsidies. It simply involves an attitude on the part of government of making it possible to do business, and that spells jobs," Luckhardt said.

"With all sorts of political candidates talking about attracting new industry to Wisconsin, I think it's important to remember that the first priority is to hold onto the industry we already have," she added.

He pointed out that the volunteer leaders are the most important part of the entire 4-H program in making opportunities available to our youth.

Some of the opportunities in 4-H were described by members who have participated in them. Emily Schroder of Hartford told of the Citizenship-Washington Focus; Karen Doll of West Bend explained the Older 4-H Youth Group; Helen Doll of Allenton and Robby Falk of West Bend told about the South Dakota cultural exchange and Mary Ellen Shaw of West Bend told of her experience at the National 4-H Conference. These and many other opportunities are available for youth from the ages of 9-18 in Washington County. To get more information on the 4-H program you can talk to any local 4-H leader or call the University of Wisconsin Extension office at the county court house.

COFFIN NAILS AT AGE 40 or LIFE CAN BE BEAUTIFUL UNTIL AGE 80

By R. G. Edwards, M.D.

As a young drug store soda jerk in a small village in South Dakota in 1917, I often heard this exclamation by one buddy to another, as they purchased a pack of Camels or Lucky Strike cigarettes (at 20c a pack) from me, "so you are buying another pack of 20 coffin nails," or more often, "just another nail in your coffin," said in jest then, but oh how true it is today.

In those years no hint of danger to your health was ever expressed because no one knew before about 1960 that primary lung cancer, usually in men, was almost always caused by the hot smoke sucked into the lungs of the dying man who may have smoked 2 or 3 packs of cigarettes daily for 20 to 30 years.

I, too, did not realize this danger and continued to smoke one or more packs per day for 35 years. A thousand times I tried to quit or reduce the habit, but not until the day after our first Kiwanis Turkey Shoot 30 years ago did I face the truth: EITHER STOP ALL CIGARETTE SMOKING AT ONCE FOR GOOD OR DIE VERY SOON. I STOPPED IN NOVEMBER, 1952, AND YOU CAN TOO!

Now over 30 million people have stopped smoking. Due to my heckling, all but three doctors at St. Joseph's Community Hospital have stopped smoking cigarettes. Please, everyone, tell the young people not to ever start smoking, which is a filthy habit. Show them by YOUR EXAMPLE that you quit so you can have a normal span of 73 years to live, hopefully.

Death by cancer of the lung is slow, horrible and very painful; death by emphysema is only slightly easier, but much slower and incapacitating; death due to coronary occlusion is swift and painless at 39 YEARS OF AGE!

Smoking is responsible for about 83% of lung cancer cases in men and 43% among women — more than 75% overall. (NOTE: Cancer of the lungs in women is rapidly increasing annually).

Smoking related disorders are estimated to cause some 325,000 premature deaths each year at a cost of $27,000,000,000.00 (billion) to our nation for medical care.

In 1979 the U.S. Surgeon General's report disclosed: Cigarette smoking is the single most important environmental factor contributing to premature deaths in the United States.

Who wishes to become a statistic? DO YOU? (To be concluded next month).

R. G. Edwards,
Health Officer

AIR CASING TIP.

Some of the hot rodders drill holes in the air cleaner casing of their cars. Supposedly, this increases gas mileage and gives the car more speed. But, the disadvantages are greater because dirt is sucked into the carburetor and engine creating extra wear that far exceeds the little gas saving. Changing the air filter more often would be a wiser action.

Also, in some cases the emission control becomes inoperational and that's a violation of federal law.

Among the many auto services at J & J AUTO SERVICE, we maintain carburetors and make it part of the overall tune-up package. You will notice the difference after you drive to 450 E. Main for this service. See us today.

Installation of the newly purchased tower clock and bell ringers at Holy Trinity Church in Kewaskum, which has been eagerly awaited by the citizens of the community since the old clock broke down and was stopped last February, will take place next week. The new tower clock was purchased with funds solicited by the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club in a drive the members conducted among the businessmen and other adults of the community in recent months. The approximate cost of the clock is $2,700. The task of purchasing the bell ringers for the clock was undertaken by members of Holy Trinity Congregation. The old clock, now idle, served the community constantly for a period of 47 years.

MAKING ENDS MEET

By Joyce Albrecht, Extension Home Economist

USING LESS TENDER BEEF CUTS

Only 1/4 of the meat from a steer is tender cuts. The other three fourths are less tender cuts. They are just as nutritious as tender cuts. On your next trip to the meat counter, look for chuck steak, chuck roasts, shank, arm roast or brisket and try one.

Less tender cuts of meat are usually pot roasted, simmered or stewed. Pot roasting meat traps the steam in a covered container or foil wrapped. Water, soup or meat juices can be the source of the steam. Pot roast such cuts as brisket, eye of round, chuck, arm chuck or heel of round.

Beef Brisket with Vegetables (serves 4-6)

- 2 1/2 lb. beef brisket water
- 1 onion, slices
- 6 sweet potatoes
- 1 medium head cabbage

Cover meat with water, add onion. Cover and simmer slowly until tender, allowing one hour per pound. One-half hour before meat is done, add pared sweet potatoes. Fifteen minutes later, add quartered cabbage. When done, remove meat and vegetables to chop plate. Slice the brisket across the grain and serve.

For a maximum tenderness and juiciness, cook at a low to moderate temperature that keeps the liquid just below boiling.

Stretch your meat dollars a bit further by using planned over meats combined with dried beans or peas in casseroles or main dish soups.

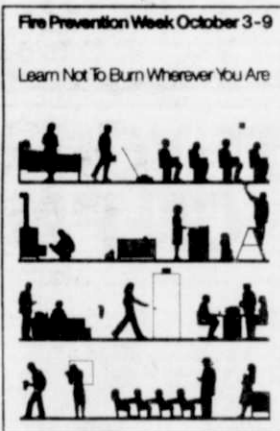

Save good bones and pieces of meat. Freeze them and use in making soup stocks.

Save fat trimmings to render and use for frying, seasoning and other uses. Remember, when you shop, check for specials and read newspaper ads. Cuts which are usually too expensive may be within the budget when on special. Remember to consider the cost per serving rather than the cost per pound. A high price per pound doesn't always mean a high cost per serving.

Remember the basic four food groups. The recommendation is two servings from the meat group. The meat group includes meat alternatives like eggs, dry peas and beans, peanut butter and cheese.

Remember that serving sides need not be huge. Many families might consider quantity needed to get adequate nutrients.

A Weekly Commentary by SENATOR BOB KASTEN

WISCONSIN RECEIVES $2.5 MILLION FOR HUNTING AND FISHING

Wisconsin has long been a paradise for fisherman and hunters. To see that it stays that way, the U.S. Department of the Interior is sending us $2.5 million.

Wisconsin will receive $2,520,015 for sport fish and wildlife restoration and hunter education programs. This money will ensure that our hunting and fishing resources are protected and developed.

The State of Wisconsin will be using this money to acquire land suitable for fishing and hunting, and to develop and rehabilitate resources already in use.

Revenues for the Wildlife Restoration programs are raised through an excise tax on sporting arms and ammunition and archery equipment. Funds for the Fish Restoration come from an excise tax on fishing rods, reels, artificial baits, lures and flies.

Distribution of the Department of the Interior funds is based on the number of fishing and hunting licenses sold in each state. For this reason, Wisconsin ranks sixth in the nation in both the Fish Restoration and the Wildlife Restoration program funding.

The fact that Wisconsin is sixth in the nation in receiving these funds clearly demonstrates the important role hunters and fishermen have in the local economy.

With outdoorsmen directly contributing over $230 million into Wisconsin each year, it is vitally important that we protect and enhance our natural resources. Since Wisconsin sportsmen paid the excise taxes to contribute to the Department of Interior funds, it is gratifying to see them returned to the state to improve hunting and fishing here.

The average person can distinguish about 150 different colors; while someone with an expert eye can pick out more than 100,000 hues.

Village of Kewaskum NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held by the Zoning Board of Appeals of the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, on Tuesday, October 26, 1982, at 6:30 P.M. in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street, Kewaskum, Wisconsin, at which time the Board will consider the following application.

The application of Robert Teofilo/Embassy Construction Corp. for a variance, for the property situated at 819 Pleasantwood Drive, (lot 1, block 3) Bel-Ric Acres Addition #1, Kewaskum, Wisconsin. The reason for this variance request is because of the rear yard requirements set forth in Chapter 3.4 of the Village of Kewaskum Zoning Ordinance entitled "R-2 Single-Family Residence District." If the variance would be approved it would allow the west side yard to be used as the rear yard.

After the public hearing the Board of Appeals will meet in closed session to consider the application for variance. The public hearing and meeting have been called by Eugene LaMarche, Chairman of the Board of Appeals.

All interested persons will be given an opportunity to be heard.

Petri Letter Blasts Reduction of Canada Geese Hunting Quota

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In a move to force greater consideration for Wisconsin hunters and farmers, Congressman Tom Petri has organized a Wisconsin delegation letter to Secretary of the Interior James Watt.

The letter, which was signed by all nine Wisconsin congressmen and both senators, blasts the reduction of Wisconsin's Canada geese hunting quota from 20,000 to 18,000 by the Interior Department's Fish and Wildlife Service.

"While it is claimed that the number of Canada geese is declining," Petri's letter states, "counts by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources show that the goose counts in Wisconsin, for 1981, increased 19% over 1980, hardly a decline. At times during the season over 125,000 geese were counted in Wisconsin by DNR officials. Horicon Marsh, which is managed to provide for 75,000 geese, reported a peak of over 90,000 last year."

"The very large number of birds in Wisconsin creates problems for many farmers as the birds eat the farm crops," Petri continued. "With an increasing bird population also comes the potential for disease outbreaks. Reductions of the quota only worsen the situation."

Petri's letter is particularly critical of the haste with which the geese quota decision was made. "This year's action of proposing the changes on August 20 and making a decision by September 2 was unacceptable and should not be repeated," Petri states.

While restrictions in Wisconsin statutes prohibit last minute changes in this year's quota, Petri has requested that the Fish and Wildlife Service work closely with the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources to arrange for an acceptable quota for Wisconsin next year.

New Record Pink Salmon Is Caught

An Algoma angler has caught a Wisconsin record pink salmon in Kewaunee County.

The two-pound seven-ounce fish was taken in the Ahnapee River by Daniel S. Ferron of Algoma on rod and reel, September 22nd. The 20-1/4-inch pink had a girth of 12 inches and broke the previous record by five ounces.

Ferron will receive a certificate from the Department of Natural Resources acknowledging his record catch.

Don't Shine Wildlife

A reminder that Wisconsin's law prohibiting shining of wild animals becomes more restrictive in September each year.

It is illegal to shine wild animals between the hours of 10:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m. from September 15 through December 31 whether or not you have a weapon in your possession. At other times of the year, it is permissible to shine wild animals if you are not in possession of a weapon.

Shining is defined as casting rays of light on a field, forest, or other areas for the purpose of illuminating, locating, or attempting to illuminate or locate wild animals. Anyone casting rays of light on such areas which are frequently by wild animals is presumed to be shining.

During any time of year it is illegal to shine animals from the vehicle or while on foot if in possession of a firearm, bow and arrow, or crossbow.

However, hunters may use a flashlight at the point of kill while hunting on foot for raccoon, fox, or unprotected animals during the open season for the animals hunted.

Two Rivers' Defending State Champs Tip Indians

Two Rivers' defending Eastern Wisconsin Conference champions and Class "A" WIAA state champs from last year, rolled over the Kewaskum Indians here Friday night, as expected, 29-8. In doing so, the Raiders proved that they may again be the class of the conference. They have 18 lettermen back from last year's champions.

Chris Harlow's 3-yard run late in the second quarter and a two-point conversion held the Raiders to a 15-8 lead at the half but Jeff Peterson and Brian Juchniewich combined to lead Two Rivers to a 29-8 advantage in the third quarter. Kewaskum held Two Rivers scoreless in the final period.

The setback was the third straight for the Indians in conference play but they are 2-3 overall, thanks to two non-conference victories.

Two Rivers has lost just one game in conference play in three years.

The Raiders were paced by the passing of senior quarterback Peterson, who may well be one of the best passers in the state. He connected on 9 of 13 attempts for three touchdowns, including one in the closing minutes of the first half to erase an early 8-7 Kewaskum lead.

The Raiders scored first late in the first quarter after Kewaskum's Jim Braun fumbled on his own 14 yard line. The ball was recovered by the Raiders' Paul VanLaarhoven. Two plays later VanLaarhoven dashed over his own right guard and tackled for a touchdown from nine yards out. All-Conference kicker Stu Fronk made the score 7-0 with his boot.

In the second quarter a short punt by the Raiders gave Kewaskum good position to start a drive at Two Rivers' 45. Led by fine running by halfback Brad Dieringer and fullback Harlow, the Indians picked up two first downs. A pass interference ball gave them a third on the Raiders' 12. Kewaskum had fourth and one at the three when Harlow broke into the end zone, running behind the blocks of John Swanson and Steve Seitz.

The Indians lined up for the extra point attempt but used a fake with holder Tim Leitheiser throwing to Darryl Tews for the two-point conversion and the early lead.

With just a little over three minutes left in the half, the Raiders took over. They moved 74 yards in seven plays, the final 16 coming when Juchniewich got past cornerback Rick Heberer and hauled in Peterson's pass with a minute and a half left on the clock. During the drive Kewaskum was hit with a 15-yard penalty which moved the ball to the 16.

The Raiders went for a two point conversion and were successful on a Peterson to Jacobs pass. This gave Two Rivers the lead at the intermission, 15-8.

This score seemed to take something out of the Indians and in the second half the Raiders dominated, especially in the third quarter. Peterson to Jacobs pass for eight yards capped a 65-yard scoring drive in the third period. Peterson also hit Juchniewich for a five yard touchdown, capping a 96-yard drive. Peterson hit on five of seven passes in this match, including a 43 yarder to Juchniewich.

The Indians did drive to the Two Rivers three on its first series in the second half but there Stuart Stautz was tackled for a one-yard loss and Braun's halfback pass fell incomplete. Stautz had a fine game defensively with two fumble recoveries.

The Indians played well in the first half before falling to the experienced Raiders. Kewaskum had 116 of its 170 yards in the first half and an ineffective passing game hurt.

Kewaskum soph Monty Shaw came through with another strong effort against strong Huskie runners. He edged one New Holstein runner by two seconds for fourth place. The Indians were second in the meet with 53 points.

Juniors Jeff Nigh and Steve Hubbell were 10th and 11th in 17:47 and 17:51 but after that the Indians fell off.

Both the Kiel and New Holstein girls are strong but a fifth by the Indians' Sandy Klein and an 8th, 9th and 10th by Erika Follman, Laurie Batzler and Mary Murre respectively helped to make the outcome close.

It was all Mayville in Friday's Slinger Invitational as the Cardinals won the Division I boys' and girls' titles, the Division II girls' championship and the JV meet. Kewaskum did not run in the Division II competition.

Running at Ridge Run Park, Mayville edged Slinger teams in both Division I races, the boys coming out on top 52-64, while the girls won, 55-63.

Indian Spikers Downed by Kiel, Upset Two Rivers

The Kewaskum girls' volleyball team split two Eastern Wisconsin matches last week.

The team lost an opportunity to pull to the .500 mark Tuesday night when they lost the rubber game at Kiel, 5-15. They had dropped the first game, 6-16, but then came back in the second game to win, 15-10.

The Indians led in the second game, 11-2, but the Raiders came back to make it close, causing Kewaskum to lose some momentum. The local girls had a lot of missed points but there was some good setting leading to nine spikes by Julie Koepke.

The loss dropped the varsity to 2-4 at the end of the first round of action.

The Kewaskum JVs won, 15-5, 17-15 and 15-12. They are now 3-3.

Fans here Thursday saw a very exciting comeback by the Indian volleyball team. Down 7-14 in the third and deciding game, Kewaskum, behind the serving of Cathy Schlice, the setting of Hiroka Yamada, and the spiking of Julie Koepke, overcame the deficit to defeat Two Rivers, 19-17.

Schlice's serves spiced the comeback, with Two Rivers trying to break her momentum with timeouts when the score reached 10-14 and 13-14. The Indians took the lead at 15-14 before she lost her serve. The match see-sawed for nearly 10 minutes before Yamada served the winner.

Coach Dave Rizzardi also praised "out setters" Holly Kempf and Pam Heberer for hustling and subs Brenda Kempf and Mary Jo Hupfer. Kewaskum had won the first game 16-14 and dropped the second, 4-15.

The win boosted the Indians' record to 3-4 in the conference, while Two Rivers dropped to 4-3. The Raiders had defeated Kewaskum earlier.
