An increase of 4% was approved for the Police Association (the only union-represented employees). For beginning full-time officers at Step #1 of the scale it means an increase of $49.38 per month from $1,234.45 to $1,283.83. The police contract also contained some minor fringe benefit changes and language clarification.

Non-union supervisory and hourly employee increase were 0% for part-time crossing guards and summer help (no increase), 2.5% Public Works Superintendent from $23,937 per year to $24,537, Commissioner 3% from $19,679 to $20,269, Wastewater Depart-

Bus Service to Be Discontinued

Wisconsin Coach Lines is terminating its bus service from Milwaukee to West Bend, Kewaskum and Campbellsport as of Dec. 31, ending 19 years of service to Washington County.

Deregulation of the bus industry Oct. 1 put the finishing touches on the line's twice-a-day run between Milwaukee and Fond du Lac along U.S. Hwy. 45.

"The run has been marginal for the past several years," said Eugene Sheedy, the bus company's general manager. "We used to have two round trips a day but cut back to one Oct. 1. The ridership just isn't there."

Village Board

for giving the Village Administrator an additional 1% was, "so we can get the administrator's salary in line with those of the department heads he supervises."

The balance of the village employees received 4% increases. The village's office secretary rose from $5.98 per hour to $6.22, Public Works Crew $8.39 to $8.73, Wastewater Assist. $8.39 to $8.73, Head Librarian $4.30 to $4.47, Assist. Librarian $3.70 to $3.85, new Public Works crew $5.52 to $7.01 and Police Clerk $4.16. Other miscellaneous part-time employees also received a 4% increase. The assistant librarian and new public works crew raises also included an experience step increase in addition to the 4% increase.

The non-union employee contract had one change which gives employees with 24 years service a fifth week of vacation. At present, this effects only one employee, the commissioner who has 31 years service.

Fire contracts have all been approved and signed for 1983. The village cost increased 10% from $46,084 for 1982 to $50,517 for 1983, a difference of $4,433. The Town of Kewaskum's cost will drop by 4% or $1,473 in 1983 from $37,190 to $35,717. The Town of Auburn will see a 14% drop of $2,034 from $14,460 in 1982 to $12,432 for 1983.

Factors included in the formula used to calculate costs are the number of fire calls over a three-year period and the equalized value. Any increases or decreases in these areas affects the final cost figure.

In other action the board approved a motion to enter into a contract agreement with Clayton Brown and Associates as financial consultants for the village's TIF district.

Parks Committee Chairman Jeff Rohrer informed the board the new ice skating rink at the Kiwanis Park is officially open for use. Rohrer noted, however, there will not be any lighting this year for night skating. The rink at the river will no longer be considered the official village skating rink and will be plowed only when conditions improve. Rohrer reminded everyone that skating at either area is done at the skater's own risk.

The board approved a building permit for Schaefer Trucking company for construction of a garage at 1319 Riverview Drive.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt advised the board that the village's tax bills were put in the mail Monday.

CONGRESS GIVES ITSELF A PRESENT

As Christmas approaches, we naturally are thinking about giving presents to our families and friends, and Congress is no exception. The fact is Christmas came early this year - last week - for Congress, as it gave itself a whopping 15%, $9,100, pay raise.

Santa Claus could not have been more generous, but in this case, Congress was dead wrong in upping its salary. It does not need it, nor does it deserve it, which is precisely why I voted against it.

The salary of Congressmen has been frozen for over two years at $60,662.50, but Congress arranged for a neat way to increase it without getting directly involved. Some time ago, it legislatively ordered the President to issue automatic annual inflation-based raises to Congressmen and certain federal employees. However, Congress has halted hikes for itself in four of the last five years because of the indignation of the taxpayers - wisely so.

This time Congress had to do something. Feeling the heat from back home, the leadership decided the House should take up the raise directly, for under the vague language in the law, Congress would receive a 27% hike - $17,000 - if it sat back and did nothing.

As a result, the Continuing Resolution, the catch-all bill keeping federal programs alive in the absence of the appropriations bill Congress has failed to enact, came out of committee with a provision lifting the pay freeze and granting a 27% hike.

Once it came to the floor, the greedy Members came up with a unique plan to pass a large raise. First up was an amendment to choose between two raises - 27% or 15% - on which I voted for the smaller amount to control the damage. This was a sneaky way to get all Members on a vote which could be wrongly interpreted either way as supporting a pay raise.

Next up was an amendment to freeze pay again and delete the 15% raise passed in the first vote. It failed on a tie vote, on which I voted for the freeze. Finally, the House passed the entire bill, which I opposed.

The pay raise is a slap in the face for America's jobless workers, who cannot look forward to a pay raise for Christmas. Congress has put a nice present under its own tree - at taxpayer expense. This was an act of greed which deserved a piece of coal in Congress's stocking, and for which it should be held accountable.

CHRISTMAS TRAFFIC HAZARDS

"Your presence is more important than the presents you give to your loved ones at Christmas," it was declared today by Washington County Sheriff Clarence Schwartz.

"Give extra attention to your driving this month when holiday attractions easily become distractions," he urged.

Colored lights near traffic lights may distract your attention from the all important colors of red, yellow and green - your signals to stop, proceed cautiously, or go, it was pointed out. "On highways, on city streets, and in shopping center parking lots, keep your eyes moving to take in the changing traffic patterns all around you," Sheriff Schwartz recommended.

"Inattention, intoxication, and ineptness will spell trouble for some motorists and pedestrians this holiday month - causing hospitalization for injuries, time lost from work, time required for court appearance, time to meet with an insurance adjuster, and serious disruption of holiday celebration plans," the Sheriff commented.

HOLIDAY PARTYGOERS WARNED OF NEW OWI LAWS

Christmas and New Years partygoers today were reminded that state, county and local law enforcement agencies have stepped up enforcement programs to remove drunken drivers from Wisconsin roads and streets.

Washington County Sheriff Clarence Schwartz said total convictions for operating while intoxicated (OWI) are down slightly this year, indicating that the state's new drunken driving law is having an effect.

"On the other hand, convictions for having open intoxicants in the motor vehicle have tripled since implementation of the new law, making it illegal to possess open intoxicants, in addition to being illegal to drink from a container of open intoxicants in a motor vehicle,"

Sheriff Schwartz said.

It's important to point out that law enforcement officers are not making moral judgements about drinking," the Sheriff added. "But they recognize that well over half of the drivers killed in traffic accidents have been drinking. That's why we are saying that if you choose to drink, do it responsibly, and don't drive if you're even moderately impaired."

An OWI conviction is very costly — in the initial forfeiture or fine of about $500, including the surcharge, and associated costs of increased insurance premiums, assessment and treatments costs, alternative transportation during the suspension or revocation and legal fees, Sheriff Schwartz said. "I'm sure that we all agree that money would be much better spent for Christmas presents and family fun," he concluded.

Farmers Act to Fight Pollution in Big Cedar Lake

By Donald Kurer
District Conservation Service

"I cause zero pollution now — none — and my corn looks great." This statement by Robert Nehm, a dairy farmer, with land within a stone's throw of Big Cedar Lake is typical of the clean-up work going on around the lake since 1979.

Joe used to spread 200 pounds of commercial fertilizer on each acre before planting in the spring. Now, with better management of his farm manure, he spreads 65 pounds per acre. And that "Better management" means he doesn't spread the waste in the winter like he used to. Instead, he stores it in his concrete pit and spreads it after the spring thaw.

Spreading manure on frozen ground is wasted effort, and wasted dollars. It means crop yields on the farm become smaller, while 'crop' yields in the lake increase dramatically. Algae and other water weeds thrive on nutrients from barnyards and cropland.

"There are fewer weeds in the lake below my property now since I put my manure holding tank and pit in," said dairy farmer, Norman Spiel.

According to a two and one-half year study completed in 1978 by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, almost one-third of the phosphorus pollution in the lake was coming from runoff from the fields and barnyards of several farmers who live around the lake.

With this information in hand, a group of concerned citizens, headed up by Bill Genthe of Menomonee Falls, formed the Big Cedar Lake Protection and Rehabilitation District (BCLPRD). (Genthe's family has had a summer cottage on the lake ever since Genthe can remember. So he has had a real interest for years in the water quality of the Big Cedar). After organizing, the BCLPRD immediately signed an agreement for technical assistance with the Washington County Land Conservation Committee (LCC) — and the Big Cedar Lake clean-up effort got underway.

The farmers who were shown to be contributing to the high phosphorus level in the Big Cedar were approached by representatives of the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) and the Land Conservation Committee (LCC). It seemed that what each of these farmers needed was a manure storage facility in conjunction with some good conservation farming practices. The manure storage facilities would allow the farmers to hold their farm manure through the winter, thus avoiding spreading it on frozen fields where spring snow melts and rains could easily carry off the valuable nutrients into the Big Cedar.

Some good conservation farming practices, such as farming on the contour, using good crop rotations, installing waterways and stripcropping systems were needed that could help keep nutrients and soil particles out of the lake and on the land where they belong, and where they do the most good.

However, many of these farmers contacted were pretty skeptical. They didn't really believe their farming methods were so bad that they were responsible for one-third of the phosphorus level of the lake. After all, they'd been farming in the same manner for years. In fact, Norman Spiel's great-grandfather started farming there, on the east shore of the lake. And after him, Spiel's grandfather and father also farmed there — in the same manner his great-grandfather had. "There was one ditch on that hillside I couldn't jump across as a kid," Spiel said. "I filled in the ditch years ago and improved the tilth of the soil by using more hay in the crop rotation."

The agreements to cooperate with the Lake District were not all that easy to come by. Often several farm visits were made before some landowners would even listen.

But now — after most of the work is done, and all the manure pits planned have been installed and are functioning well — even the most skeptical landowner is satisfied with the changes he has made in his operations.

Joe Chilani, for one, beams. "It's the best thing that could have happened to me — that pit. If a guy would have known this years ago — what a savings in fertilizer costs. And what an improvement in my crops! All in the first year, yet."

Norm had manure reaching the lake from two different sources: by way of a narrow blacktopped channel running directly into the lake from one barnyard, and on the other side of the hill, manure spread on the frozen hillside was running off into a creek which outlets into the lake. Besides his new manure storage facility, Norm now uses a crop rotation of corn, oats and hay which helps reduce runoff, and he will keep the field next to the creek in alfalfa just as long as possible. This alfalfa strip will help filter out nutrients and soil sediment that might be presented in runoff water coming from the hillside.

While Ralph and Leo Dornacker's home farm is not near the lake, they are renting a farm on the west side of the Big Cedar. This farm also was contributing to the pollution level in the lake. "When we first rented the farm, it was full of ditches. We couldn't drive through them, they were so deep. We had to haul soil from the road ditch where it had collected back to the field to fill them in," said Ralph. (The previous renters planted sweet corn for two years followed by five years of field corn — a practice which can contribute heavily to soil erosion). "The Soil Conservation Service representative advised us to seed down the fields that had the worst gullies to permanent hay," continued Ralph. The Dornackers will plant only one year of corn on steep slopes followed by several years of hay. These fields never see a moldboard plow anymore either — just a chisel. Corn is planted on the contour, and with permission from the landowner, over one acre of grassed waterways and a 500 foot terrace with a rock chute outlet have been constructed to prevent runoff water from causing erosion. The next step in this conservation plan will be to lay out a stripcropping system. "We welcome the Big Cedar Lake Project not only because we received financial assistance (funds from DNR, BCLPRD and Agricultural Conservation Program footed the bill), but also because we felt strongly that something had to be done in the watershed to prevent the lake from becoming more polluted. It's not only we farmers who enjoy the recreation the lake offers, it belongs to everybody, and we share a certain responsibility to help keep it clean," concluded Dornacker.

Joe Chilani and his manure storage structure in the background stores manure from 60 head of cattle for 6 months.

Columbia Architect Visits Kewaskum

An architect from Columbia, South America, paid a visit to Kewaskum on Sunday, Dec. 12. Antonio Bonilla and his daughter Martha visited the Double Envelope Passive Solar Home built by Elmer Schmitz on Stark St., here in Kewaskum.

Bonilla was here to gain knowledge about the Solar Home design and introduce it to his native Coli, Columbia. He is visiting active and passive solar homes in Wisconsin and Florida, and learning from our experiences to help him.

Bonilla has been an architect for 24 years and owns and operates the BEC Company in Coli. His daughter Martha (nicknamed Ta-Ta) is a Rotarian Exchange Student in Slinger and resides at the Jim Fryer residence in Slinger. Fryer made the arrangements through Kirst Builders of Kewaskum to see the Low Energy Design Systems Home.

All their homes in South America have the sun in the North windows, just the opposite of North America.

The Christmas card-sending record, it is believed, is held by Werner Erhard of California, who, in 1975, sent 62,824.

From the School Board President's Desk....

Do students really need two years of math if they aren't going on to college? Are the math offerings sufficient?

I think all of us can see the need for the two year minimum mathematics requirement. We simply cannot function today without understanding numbers. While filling out one's income tax forms may be more in the creative writing discipline, one still must be able to add, subtract, multiply, and divide. Budgeting, something especially important now, cannot be effectively done without basic math skills, and everyone, regardless of post high school plans, must have a budget. Checkbooks of academic endeavors (or so banks have suggested) regardless of academic endeavors. We cannot answer a question without knowing what the question is; the logic that is a part of mathematics helps us in knowing how to formulate a question.

The offerings of the Mathematics Department are sufficiently varied to fill the needs of the majority of the students—although some college-bound students may have difficulty working in the necessary courses, and the Board and Administration are going to have to work on this. According to the Joint Council on College Preparation, a high school student who wishes to go to college needs a minimum of three years of mathematics, which should include algebra, geometry, and advanced algebra, in addition to the ability to use a computer. Some college majors require even more mathematical preparation, and we must insure that these students who wish to pursue these careers have access to the necessary advanced courses—Calculus, for example.

The required two credits in mathematics are not unreasonable, and students, regardless of future plans, should be encouraged to thoroughly explore the mathematical offerings. However much we may decry the increasing technology of our world and the increasing emphasis on numbers, we still have to cope with them, and mathematics can help us do so.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editors,

I am deeply disappointed with the School Board's decision to not fund the Beechwood library this year.

The Beechwood Elementary School is the only school in the district without a library.

I was glad to see Mr. Horner and Mr. Spoerl, who both campaigned for quality education, made good their promise by voting in favor of the funding as did Dr. Ogi.

I noted with a feeling of betrayal that Mr. Brigham and Mrs. Goeden, who also stressed the need for quality education, voted against the library funding. Perhaps they can explain how our children are to learn without library books in which to pursue their special interests. The joy of reading is something worth experiencing at the earliest possible age.

I commend the people of Beechwood for their concern and help to open a library for our children and I ask the board members to reconsider their position and to grant us the monies this year, as there is money available from the money saved thru the board accepting the lower bid on dental insurance, in fact approximately ten thousand dollars is available.

Signed
Mrs. Colleen Narbatovics

KEWASKUM STATESMAN

Attn: Editor
250 Main Street
Kewaskum, WI 53040

Suzanne Schurrer
Route 3, Box 259
Campbellsport, WI 53010

I am writing in response to a letter printed in the October 1, 1982 edition of the Kewaskum Statesman. This letter to the Editor appears on page 8 and is signed: Suzanne Schurrer. The letter concerns my participation at a public meeting of the Campbellsport School District. Contained in the letter as printed are the following false and defamatory statements:

1. a) "Persons who attended the special meeting of the Campbellsport School District witnessed a special interest group violate the constitutional right to freedom of speech of those persons who represented other views."

b) "What is important is that basic, fundamental rights were denied to electors of the district."

c) "When those voices were silenced through manipulation and fear, every one of us lost..."

d) "...We all lose when constitutional rights are denied to any segment of our free society. If those voices can be silenced this time, whose will be silenced next time? Is this what you want in your community? If it is allowed this time, what about next time? Will you be able to stop it? What if it is YOUR opinion next time? Will you approve this technique then?"

The true facts are no one's constitutional right to freedom of speech was violated. Proper parliamentary procedure was followed. Those who had questions to ask were allowed to ask them. Divergent opinions were expressly asked for and given. There was no special interest group. The meeting was a large gathering of concerned taxpayers with shared concerns but different views as to the best solution.

2. a) "Mr. William Stoffel, president of the 1st State Bank of Campbellsport (an affiliate of the 1st National Corporation of Appleton) successfully seized control of the meeting and used that control to prevent any alternate view from being voiced."

b) "Although he spoke for over an hour and a half in favor of one of the alternatives, he personally selected those persons who would be allowed to ask questions."

c) "Was it coincidence that no one representing an alternate view was chosen?"

d) "When the vote was taken: ...2) only Mr. Stoffel's position had been fully presented; 3) no one had been allowed to speak in opposition; 4) no one with alternate views had been allowed to speak..."

The true facts are the chairman of the school board gave me permission to speak. Before speaking I said that if anyone had questions, to interrupt me. I then explained the effect of a frozen mill rate and of increased equalization in real property taxes. On at least three occasions I encouraged people to ask questions or make comments. I told the people at the meeting that if something was bothering them, that this was the time to say it. Some persons agreed with what I said; others expressed disagreement. I finished speaking and was thanked for my presentation. Many taxpayers then spoke, some at length, and expressed their opinions. Everyone was encouraged to participate before the question was called to a vote.

3. a) "...Could the fact that if the district is forced to borrow money, the loan is arranged through the bank have influenced his position?"

b) "The outcome of the vote is not important. Somehow it will work out - even if the district is forced to borrow money from Mr. Stoffel's bank..."

The true facts are I have lived in Campbellsport School District all my life, and, along with many others, am a taxpayer. My appearance at the meeting had no connection with the 1st State Bank of Campbellsport. In fact I expressly stated that I am dead set against borrowing money for daily operational expenses, including teachers' salaries.

4. "Was it coincidence that someone seated in Mr. Stoffel's general area made a motion which prevented anyone else from speaking? Was it also coincidence that when one other speaker did gain the floor, he was forced down by cat-calls and hand-clapping also done by someone in Mr. Stoffel's general side of the room?"

The true facts are I had no "area" or "side" of the room. After explaining the effect of a frozen mill rate and increased equalization, I then returned to my seat.

I prevented no one from speaking, and I encouraged everyone to say what was on their mind.

5. "...5) during the voting, people were heard asking how to mark their ballots and receiving answers from Mr. Stoffel's area..."

The true facts are, I had no "area," as stated above. I encouraged each person to vote according to their own view, and not to ask their neighbor what to do.

6. "...7) persons in the district had received threatening telephone calls to "stay away or pay." Is this the democratic way?"

The true facts are no threats of any kind were made by me. I did not ask or encourage anyone to make threats and am unaware of any threats being made.

The true facts may be ascertained with definiteness and certainty by listening to a tape recording of this meeting of the Campbellsport School District. This tape recording is available to you for listening upon contacting me. My mailing address is 418 Ladwig Street, Campbellsport, WI 53010. My telephone numbers are: (414) 533-8386 (Office) and (414) 533-4101 (Home).

This letter is being written to give you a reasonable opportunity to retract and correct the false and defamatory statements contained in the letter printed in the Kewaskum Statesman.

DRINK TO THIS

Consider a few public statistics for these coming holidays. At least 75% of men and 60% of women over 21 years drink alcoholic beverages in some degree. And, virtually every person arrives and leaves by car when attending Christmas and New Year Parties. Also, consider that between 50 and 60% of fatal car accident victims last year had alcohol in their blood stream. This is the reason that the old truism is so valid. "If you drive don't drink; if you drink don't drive."

We include our best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year from the personnel at J & J AUTO Service. We want to see you around for many holidays.

How to Stay Warm and Healthy

H. L. Rumsey, D.C.

Several cold weather reminders can help you stay warm this winter and help keep you healthy:

In turning down your thermostat for energy and dollar reasons, don't overdo it. Younger people can persevere at 60 degrees or a little lower, but elderly people should keep their temperatures at 70 degrees to avoid hypothermia.

Layers of clothing are better than a single heavy garment when going outside, because layers trap the air and give better insulation against the cold. Remember gloves, a hat, socks and boots when you go out, for the extremities are sensitive to cold.

Carbohydrates and fats are heat production fuels for the body, so increased consumption of breads, pastas, beans, meats and nuts will produce additional body heat. Eating and drinking warm foods increases body temperatures.

Exercise speeds the body's adjustment to cold weather by forcing heat production. Maintain your regular exercise, such as walking or jogging, as much as possible, or use a stationary bicycle or jog in place if the weather is too bad.

The body is more susceptible to strains and sprains in the winter months, so don't overdo your outside sports or work. If shortness of breath or a pain occurs, take a break. Do warm-up exercises before doing outdoor physical activity, and afterwards allow the body to adjust to room temperature before jumping in a hot shower.

If you have any sprains or strains, neck or backache, or a cold or headache that persists, better see your doctor of chiropractic.

MAKING ENDS MEET

By Joyce Albrecht, Extension Home Economist

FOOD SUPPLY AND PRICE OUTLOOK FOR DECEMBER

The USDA expects that the overall price increase for food during all of 1982 will be between 3% and 4%—the lowest price increase since 1976. And food prices during 1983 are also expected to be very moderate, in the 3% to 5% range. During December, we can expect to see many featured specials on popular holiday—poultry, seasonal fruits, sweet potatoes, etc. Overall, prospects look good for food shoppers.

Red Meats and Poultry. Beef supplies are staying about the same, with some decreases expected. However, prices have not moved upward very much due to sluggish demand. Stores have featured beef quite often to encourage shoppers to buy, and these offer an excellent chance to increase freezer stocks. Pork supplies are down considerably from a year ago, and prices have increased somewhat. Again, prices have not risen as much as could be expected because of large poultry supplies and lagging consumer spending. Turkeys are in good supply, with variable prices. Consumers should watch ads carefully for specials which are certain to occur this month. Buy when the price is right if you can. And remember that frozen turkeys not only cost less but are as fresh or fresher than "fresh" turkeys. Duck, Goose, Capons, Cornish Hens are holiday alternatives for smaller families and may also be featured. On all these birds, the price per pound will likely be higher than on turkey, as well as the price per serving since the yield per bird (except for capons) is lower.

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables. Excellent supplies on most produce. Oranges, apples, grapefruit should all be in good supply this month, with increasing harvest of the orange crop. The navel crop in California and Arizona is predicted large, and Florida expects an excellent crop. The high early-season prices on oranges will be dropping. This may also decrease apple prices a bit too. Table grapes will continue to be available. Price will probably stay about the same as they are now. Look for some of the seasonal exotic fruits, too. Kiwi, pomegranates, pineapple, will be in most stores. Most fresh vegetables will be in adequate supply with carrots, celery, potatoes, onions, radishes, sweet potatoes, leading. Lettuce supplies and prices are available. Too early to tell if the severe storms in the West during the week of November will affect the fresh produce picture. (Watch newspapers and TV for updates).

Processed Fruits and Vegetables. The supply of noncitrus processed fruit appears to be adequate for market needs, with the exception of freestone peaches where this year's pack was low. Prices of processed fruit items are likely to be fairly steady, with possibilities of occasional promotions. In frozen fruits, red cherries, strawberries are both up in supply. Frozen concentrated orange juice supply will be about the same as a year ago, because of a low carryover from last year. Prices may not change much even though a large pack is anticipated this year. Processed vegetables...supplies are adequate on most products.

Dried Fruits and Nuts The raisin industry managed to salvage production from September rain damage, so it looks now like supplies will be adequate. Supplies of tree nuts will be slightly less this year. The pecan, walnut and almond crops are all slightly below last year, but filbert production is expected to reach record levels. Consumer prices will likely advance slightly from last year.

NOTICE TO USERS OF WATS SERVICES WITHIN WISCONSIN

Wisconsin Telephone has filed an application for a general rate increase, including increases in WATS rates. The company asked that after investigation and hearings the Commission authorize increases in an order effective April 15, 1983.

The company's application, testimony and exhibits filed in support of its request may be reviewed at any Wisconsin Telephone public business office and at the offices of the Public Service Commission (PSC) of Wisconsin.

The specific rates to be requested are being developed by the company and will be filed with the PSC by December 17, 1982. The testimony and exhibits describing the company's rate proposals will be available for review at those same locations.

Because the proposed increases in WATS rates would apply to calls made between locations in Wisconsin, the company is providing notice to users of WATS services in the state. No increases will be proposed for regular message long distance service.

A prehearing teleconference will be held by the PSC on January 11, 1983, at 1:30 p.m. for the following purposes: 1) identifying the persons who will actually participate in hearings as full parties; 2) scheduling the times, locations and dates of public hearings; 3) scheduling witnesses; 4) scheduling additional prefiled testimony and exhibits; 5) resolving data requests; 6) identifying and designating issues; 7) considering such other matters as will facilitate the hearing.

Since full parties will be bound by the designation of issues and the schedules adopted at the prehearing teleconference, those who will have status as full parties should be represented at the prehearing teleconference. Full parties who wish to be included in the prehearing teleconference should provide the Commission with their name, telephone number and address by letter no later than January 6, 1983. Persons intending to participate as full parties should indicate such interest at the same time. Individuals who wish to testify may do so at public hearings to be held on dates to be announced by the Commission whether or not they are full parties.

Child Development Classes at KHS Completed

Kewaskum Statesman, Friday, Dec. 24, 1982, Page 19

Instructor of Child Development Class, Ms. Carol Martin [standing] assisting Santa with some Christmas songs.

Santa's visit to the Child Development Class highlighted the day's activity.

[Graphics Arts Class photos]

The Child Development classes at Kewaskum High School just completed eight days of supervised instruction for children ages 3-5. This year 29 students were enrolled. The senior members of the child development class spent three weeks preparing activities and gathering equipment for their instruction.

Activities gave the students a first-hand glimpse of what school will be like. Daily story time was conducted, as well as math activities - shapes and numbers, science activities - objects which float and sink - planting and the seasons, art activities, play dough, finger painting, Christmas activities and music activities.

Because of the number of children involved this semester enrollment was limited to child associates of class members only.

The class offered student enjoyment and a valuable learning experience for all involved. Santa's special appearance on the last day of school climaxed the class offerings.

Indians Nip Chilton in Overtime for First Win

The Kewaskum Indians scored a come-from-behind overtime win at Chilton Friday night, 67-62, for their first victory of the season. The Indians were 0-5 going into the game.

Guard Rod Donnelly scored five of his 12 points in the overtime to pace his team in the victory, which finally broke the ice for the Indians. Good efforts, especially by Donnelly, Dan Dean and Brian Arndt helped Kewaskum to a big win.

Donnelly was super in the three minute overtime, when he sank a basket and three of four free throws to help decide the outcome. His rebound basket in the last minute and a half of overtime put the Indians out in front for good and his free throws clinched it.

Dean, the Indians leading scorer with 22 points on 11 baskets, also made some big plays. Arndt, who had problems in the first half, came back with 12 of his 15 points in the fourth quarter to help his team into overtime. He had just one bucket in eight attempts in the first half but found the range when the Indians needed him, hitting six of six important free throws.

The score was tied five times in the final quarter, the final time at 58-58 after the Tigers' 6-5 freshman, Todd Eisner, hit the first of a bonus free throw situation, with 45 seconds remaining. Chilton had a chance to win when they came up with a steal with 19 seconds left but never got a final shot.

Kewaskum came from behind after being down by 11 points after the first quarter. By halftime they had cut the advantage to just two points, 27-25. The Tigers had to play the overtime without Eisner, who injured his leg. Nennig, who topped all scorers with 24 points had several chances in the overtime but could not convert.

For a change the Indians got some help from their reserves. Paul Anderson scored six points and Bartelt four and Tim Leitheiser played well defensively. Coach Jim Westphal was also pleased with his team's comeback.

Kewaskum hosted Lomira in a non-conference game Tuesday in their final appearance until after the holidays.

Both the JVs and freshmen also won their games for a Kewaskum sweep. Todd Wiedmeyer and Joe Riebe had 17 and 12 points respectively in the JVs 44-41 victory over the winless Tigers. The Indians were ahead by a small margin all through the game.

The frosh won easily, 56-36. Ron Theusch, Bob Yahr and Todd Steger had 12, 12 and 12 points.

Fond du Lac Tips KHS Chess Team

The Kewaskum High School chess team lost a non-conference match against Fond du Lac on Tuesday night by a score of 24½ to 30½. The Indians collected 3 wins and 2 draws out of the 10 boards.

Romie Holl and Ed Ham both drew their opponents at boards 2 and 3. Holl had a queen-pawn endgame which is particularly tough to win while Ham had a bishop and pawn endgame.

Jeff Igel had the easiest win for Kewaskum. His victory was assured when he trapped his opponent's bishop behind Jeff's pawns and soon won the piece and game. Tom Crandell and John Martin both had rook-pawn endgames. Crandell won his endgame gaining three pawns in the process while Martin miscalculated and his opponent queened his pawn. Advisor Roy Peterson said he was very pleased with the match as Fond du Lac has one of the better chess programs in the state.

Lakes Team Nips Mayville, Brings Record to 3-1

MAYVILLE — The Kewaskum Lakes basketball team won their third game in four starts this season at Mayville Sunday night, turning back a winless but competitive Mayville team, 105-95, as Leon Laatsch again led the way with 32 points. Kewaskum thus goes into the holidays with a 3-1 record and a share of second place in the Lakes "B" Division with Slinger. Port Washington leads the division with a 4-0 record. Mayville, on the other hand, is in the "B" cellar with 0-4.

Kewaskum was also aided by the additions of Bill Gonwa and Brian Larsen, who finished with 24 and 20 points, respectively. Clark Eichstedt added 14, as Kewaskum sported their strongest lineup of the season.

The two teams played on even terms in the first quarter, with Mayville holding a slim 25-24 lead behind balanced scoring. Kewaskum took control of the game with a big 33-23 second quarter, as Laatsch laced 12 and Eichstedt eight, and held a 57-48 lead at halftime. Kewaskum maintained their nine point lead in the third quarter and led 81-72, as Gonwa tallied eight for Kewaskum and Randy Wellhoefer had 10 for Mayville. Mayville got as close as three points in the fourth period at 84-81, before Kewaskum widened the lead again. Kewaskum outscored them 24-23 in the quarter, as Laatsch had eight, to bring the final margin to 10. Wellhoefer led Mayville's scoring with 22 points, while Dan Heim added 19 points and Dave Drozd 17.

Kewaskum made nine of 16 free throws for 56.3 percent, while Mayville was five of 10 for 50.0 percent.

The Lakes league now breaks one week for the holidays. Kewaskum will resume play on Sunday, January 2, hosting Sussex at 7:30 p.m.

Girls Edge Kiel, Run Win Streak to Six Straight

By Cathy Schlice

The Kewaskum girls basketball team finished their 1982 part of the season with a perfect 6-0 record.

Their sixth victim was the Kiel Raiders, who gave the Indians their toughest battle of the season at Kiel Tuesday night. The final score was 57-53.

The Indians held a slim 19-18 lead at the half with the Raiders playing a box and one on Linda Larsen, holding her to only five points in the first half but the rest of the Indians took up the slack with Julie Koepke scoring 10 in the first half.

The Raiders could not hold Larsen for the entire game as she scored nine of her game high 20 points in the fourth quarter but Kiel still kept close, tying the game with 44 seconds remaining but the Indians maintained their composure and won by four points.

Linda again led her team with 20 points and 18 rebounds. Koepke was right behind Linda with 19 points and Lisa Matenaer added 10 points. Holly Kempf also pulled down 10 rebounds.

At the line the Indians connected on 11 of 18 for 61%.

Kiel was led by Brenda Weiskopf with 12 points, 10 of them in the final quarter, and Sue Kuester, who also had 12 points.

Coach Soerens was pleased with his team's performance, especially when it was close.

The Indians were without one of their starters, who was home with the flu.

KAHLUA Pumpkin Pie

A Little Holiday Magic

Kahlua and spice turn everything nice about pumpkin pie into a special event when you serve Kahlua Pumpkin Pie. Kahlua mixes magically in this original recipe which offers a new flavor surprise for family and friends. Top with Kahlua Cream for a little more holiday magic.

- |   |                                |
|---|--------------------------------|
| 1 (9-inch) unbaked pie shell                | 1½ teaspoons pumpkin pie spice |
| 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk             | ½ teaspoon salt                |
| ½ cup light brown sugar (packed, lump free) | 2 large eggs, beaten           |
| ¼ cup Kahlua                                | 1½ cups canned pumpkin         |
| ¼ cup light corn syrup                      | Kahlua Cream Topping           |

Line a 9-inch pie plate with your favorite pastry crust recipe. Beat milk, sugar, Kahlua, corn syrup, spice and salt together until blended. Stir in eggs and pumpkin until mixture is smooth. Bake pastry shell in hot oven (450 degrees F) for 7 or 8 minutes until it begins to brown lightly. Stir filling. Pull oven rack part way out and slowly pour pumpkin mixture into shell. Reset heat control to moderately slow (325 degrees F) and continue baking until filling is barely set in center—about 40 minutes. Cool pie on wire rack. Serve with Kahlua Cream Topping. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

Kahlua Cream Topping: Beat 1 cup whipping cream with 1 tablespoon each of powdered sugar and Kahlua, just until stiff. Turn into serving bowl and drizzle 1 tablespoon Kahlua on top.

Card Tree

Want to make a cute display tree for the cards you receive this Christmas?

Build a tree with coat hangers, starting at the top with one hanger and adding another hanger each row.

Fasten the hangers together with tape or wire.

Spray paint the hangers gold, silver, or green. Twist some greenery around the hangers if you like.

Now your tree is ready to display the beautiful Christmas cards your friends send this year.

Toys made out of cookies in the shape of animals, people, castles and houses were popular Christmas gifts in Europe in the 1700's.

Living Up The Day!

All dressed up in his best suit he was, and mighty glad to have a break to get out in a world of kids and family fun. A little smile played around his lips as he sat in the rocker and watched the gifts being opened, and he seemed surprised that he, too, would be remembered by gifts.

A trac-ball set was given to one young person and after the gifts were "o-o-hed" and "a-a-hed" over, and kisses and hugs of thanks had been given—the kids dashed out to try out that trac-ball set.

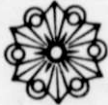

The old gentleman watched for awhile, then slowly slid open the glass patio door, and soon, with racquet in hand, he, too, was bending to catch the gently thrown balls and beaming as if to say, "Eat your hearts out, nursing home occupants, I'm going to really live up this day!"

Afterwards he munched up Christmas dinner with real gusto!

Hearts of the kids and the adults were warmed to see the fun the guest was enjoying.

If you haven't tried having some lonely person to join your family for Christmas—bet you, too, would receive an extra glow of joy from doing so.

May this be your happiest Christmas as you reach out to make another happy!

Christmas With A Live Tree

Choose a freshly cut tree. Look under it to see if needles have fallen off. Feel a limb; if it is fresh it will be pliable; older ones are more brittle.

Place your selected tree in a bucket of water outside your house for at least 24 hours. A fine, misty spray with your garden hose will help to keep the moisture in. Your garden shop may have a commercial preparation to be mixed with water and sprayed on your tree, or you might like to try the following for better preservation of your tree: Mix 4 teaspoons of liquid chlorine bleach; 2 cups of corn syrup; and 4 tablespoons of micronized iron (from your garden supply store) with a gallon of boiling water. The boiling water helps to mix the added ingredients into a good solution, but of course you will want to cool the mixture before using it.

When you are ready to bring the tree in the house for decorating, place it in a container of moist dirt or water. Check the dirt daily, adding water or the solution you made, to keep the earth moist.

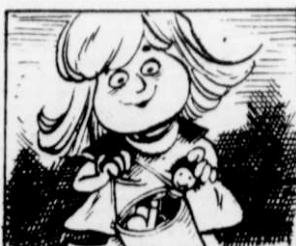

Choose a place not too close to the fireplace or heaters, not only to keep your tree from drying out too quickly but to avoid a spark from landing in the middle of your Christmas presents.

A live tree can still be a beautiful part of your holidays with special precautions.

Swiss Bellringers Welcome Holiday

Mention Switzerland and one thinks of watches, cheese, yodelers and mountain climbers. But, if it's Christmas, one cannot miss the bell-ringing.

One of the most famous of Swiss traditions is bell-ringing. It begins when the mountaineers of the Canton of Valais signal a welcome to the holiday and, as their ringing bells echo from mountain to mountain, other villages join the competition, each trying for the most beautiful — or loudest — notes.

Children love things they can carry. Cover an empty coffee can with vinyl, attach yarn handles. It can make a great Christmas gift in which to carry crayons, miniature cars, toy soldiers and many other little treasures.

Make Ahead Dessert

You can make this frozen mousseline-like delight ahead of time and seal it right in a half gallon, plastic container that's designed for keeping ice cream. Then, when you're ready to serve this delicious dessert to your guests, it can easily be unmolded, ready for frosting and slicing. Any leftovers can go right back into their original, sealed keeper and stored again.

Holiday Nesselrode Loaf

1. In a small saucepan combine:
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup orange juice

Simmer 2-3 minutes to plump the raisins. Set aside to cool.

2. In a small mixing bowl, beat with your electric mixer until it's very thick and falls off the beaters in sheets:

- 3 egg yolks
- 1/2 cup sugar

Gradually stir in 1 cup scalded milk.

3. Return the mixture to the top of the double boiler, cooking over boiling water and stirring constantly until the mixture thickens and coats a metal spoon.

4. Stir in:

- 1 teaspoon vanilla

5. Place the 3 egg whites in a small bowl and beat until frothy. Gradually add 1/4 cup sugar and beat until stiff but not dry.

6. Fold the egg whites. Add the 1 cup heavy cream that has been whipped; the raisin mixture; the 1/2 cup chopped nuts; and the 1/2 cup mixed candied fruits into the egg yolk mixture.

7. Line the 1/2-gallon plastic container with ladyfingers. Spoon in the custard mixture. Seal and store in freezer.

8. When you are ready to serve your dessert, let the container stand at room temperature 10 minutes. Run a knife around the inside. Turn out into a serving platter.

9. Whip 1/2 cup heavy cream with a bit of sugar. Smoothly frost the loaf, then spoon whipped cream into a pastry tube. Use the star tip to pipe the cream around the base and around the top. Decorate with whole red maraschino cherries. Split green maraschino cherries and spread them open for leaves.

Wish Books

For many years the little kids, as well as "big" kids look through those Christmas catalogs that have long been known as "Wish Books"!

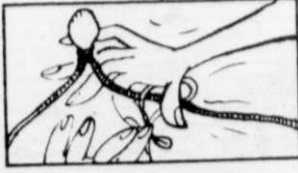

It wasn't too many years ago that while turning the pages of those "Wish Books" one would discover diagonal signs across some ads that proclaimed, "NOT AVAILABLE". In fact, it became a game to some younger ones to see how many such signs could be spied in the catalog.

Times have changed and today so many things ARE available. What an abundance of things we have to choose from! But there is one thing that often seems to have the sign, "NOT AVAILABLE", stamped all over it - and that is TIME. Taking TIME to take the children out in the woods or to the shopping lot to let them help choose the Christmas tree is a little something for big trees.

If often takes so little, really, to please children. What will become most important to them is not so much the THINGS that soon will break, or they'll out-grow, or they'll just get bored with, but it's the TIME and love we spend on them - the time and love of ourselves that will mean the most. This goes not only for the children in the family but for husbands and wives as well. How often the spic-and-span house, the cookies and pies and candies and casseroles that have been slaved over, the long hours spent at the office to pay for THINGS - make only a pressured house and not a loving, relaxing home.

This year, why not let's balance the holiday fun to really make it a home full of the fragrance of love and togetherness that will make beautiful memories that will last a lifetime and not just for a fleeting season.

Wire twisters used to fasten plastic bags and bread wrappers can be useful for fastening lights to Christmas trees.

POSADAS

The posadas represent an old tradition in Mexico—nine parties for nine continuous days preceding Christmas. People dance at these parties and receive a small present, which may be porcelain, with candy inside, or simply a small candy package wrapped in crepe paper. The family dinner was enjoyed on Christmas Eve, rather than on Christmas day.

Cherry Christmas Sandwiches

Cut and mash maraschino cherries into cream cheese. Remove the crusts from your bread slices (the square-type loaf will be easier to use instead of the rounded loaf).

Cover the crustless slices with your cherry cream cheese spread. Now cut each bread slice into about 4 even strips.

Roll one strip, then start another strip where that strip ends until you have a neat, colorful pinwheel sandwich!

Place your sandwiches on a pretty platter with sprigs of mint or other greenery here and there.

Five million American children now save money through personal sacrifices during the year to help needy children overseas.

The American youngsters, members of The Holy Childhood Association, ask adults for help only once a year, at Christmas.

By buying Holy Childhood Christmas Seals from these youngsters when they call on their neighbors, adults will not only brighten Christmas cards and packages, but also provide food, shelter, medical care and Christian education to millions of mission children throughout the world.

On-the-spot stain removal hints

"Oops . . . Sorry I spilled my drink on you."

"It's okay. It's just my favorite dress."

If the above scenario sounds all too familiar and you're unsure about what to do with the fresh stain on your best clothes, don't fret. Most stains can be removed if proper care is taken, fast. The following suggestions will keep that smile on your face and your whole wardrobe will look like new.

• Rinse fresh stains immediately in cool water. Gently rub the stain with mild soap or detergent. Lipstick or ink stains should not be immersed in water as the water may release the dye and spread the stain.

Velvets, crepes, satins, taffetas and other delicate fabrics as well as heavy stains or stains on expensive clothes, should be rushed to the cleaners. Make sure the ticket is marked with the type of stain as the cleaning procedure may differ depending on the fabric and the stain itself.

Do not vigorously rub a stain; the abrasive motion may damage the fibers causing the stain to fade and making removal more difficult. Trust an experienced dry cleaner to do the "dirty work."

• Take immediate action for efficient stain removal — the longer a spot remains on a fabric, the more stubborn it is to remove. Make sure clothes are cleaned before they're put away for the next season.

• If you choose to do the cleaning yourself, choose your weapons carefully. Inexpensive prewash chemical spot remover fights grease-based stains such as mayonnaise, butter, body oils, hand lotion, salad dressings and gravy.

Enzyme presoaks break down proteins in non-greasy stains on washable fabrics as eggs, blood, grass, wine, fruit and perspiration. Don't use enzyme products on silk or wool; these animal-derived fabrics are also proteins and will be destroyed.

A Big Christmas Bonus

It was Christmas Day and her little heart yearned for only one thing—to find her real daddy!

As she'd been looking through the telephone book, her eyes fastened on the listing: "Finder of Missing Persons". Now, somehow, she'd mustered up the courage to make the phone call. Her little heart pounded loudly in her ears as the phone rang on the other end. What would she say to the "big" man (well-known heir-finder, Bill Jones)? What would he care about a little girl's call—a little girl who had no money to pay for a fee. Would he sigh, "Oh, no, what a botheration on a holiday—Christmas Day, no less?" Would he say, "Sorry, little girl, I've just got too many other cases to handle—and cases with big money to gain?"

As the "big" man picked up the phone and listened—his heart was touched. Here was one little girl—her only Christmas wish to find her real daddy!

Christmas Day or no Christmas Day, Bill Jones took up the challenge like he'd never taken on any assignment before.

That very same day the little girl's father was found! But something just as great happened within the heir-finder's heart—the joy of having a part in helping a little girl's Christmas dream become real. That joy was worth more than any accumulation of heir-finder's fees for a lifetime.

This year may you receive the greatest Christmas bonus ever—simply because you found "Room in the inn" to make others happy.

Peanut Butter Flavors Brittle

Peanut brittle, a traditional candy favorite, is ideal for gift-giving and to keep on hand for the holidays. This new variation calls for super chunk peanut butter in place of peanuts.

PEANUT BUTTER BRITTLE

2 cups sugar	1/2 cup Skippy super chunk peanut butter
1/2 cup light corn syrup	1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 cup water

Grease 2 large baking sheets. Place on wire racks. In heavy 1 1/2-quart saucepan stir together sugar, corn syrup and water. Stirring constantly, bring to boil over medium heat. Cook without stirring until temperature reaches 300°F on candy thermometer, or until syrup when dropped into cold water forms threads which are hard and brittle. Stir in peanut butter until well blended. Remove from heat. Quickly but gently stir in baking soda. Immediately pour onto baking sheets; do not spread. Cool 3 to 5 minutes or just until cool enough to handle; take the candy by the edges, and lifting it slightly, pull as thin as possible. Cool. Break into irregular pieces. Store in tightly covered container. Makes about 1 1/4 pounds.

Holly, which was first hung in the windows of English homes at Yuletide, has long been a symbol of well-being.

Rose Parade Message: 'Rejoice'

Rose Queen Suzanne Gillaspie and Grand Marshal Merlin Olsen

The spirit of joy and competition will be reflected in the 1983 Rose Parade spectacular and the classic Rose Bowl Game on New Year's Day.

The grandest of all floral parades, showcasing the theme "Rejoice," reminds local and worldwide television viewers of the happiness found in faith, family and friends.

Leading the 94th Pasadena Tournament of Roses Parade as Grand Marshal will be former football great Merlin Olsen, the popular sports commentator and star of the television series "Father Murphy."

Also presiding over the pageantry will be Rose Queen Suzanne Gillaspie, a 17-year-old San Marino, Ca. high school senior, and Tournament of Roses President Thornton H. Hamlin, Jr.

An estimated 1.4 million curbside spectators and another 125 million television viewers worldwide are expected to watch the New Year's Day extravaganza—a cavalcade of 60 dazzling floral floats, 4,000 marching musicians from throughout the nation and 230 colorfully-dressed equestrians.

The parade begins at 8:30 a.m. PST, with the Rose Bowl Game kicking off at 2 p.m. PST. Both are broadcast live. For more information, call (213) 449-ROSE.

An old English tradition: toasting from Wassail Bowl

Wassail is derived from the Anglo-Saxon expression "Was Haile"—your health. For centuries, the Wassail Bowl was drunk in England with much ceremony and exchanging of holiday greetings. The custom was so common throughout the country that "wassailing" came to mean any kind of Christmas toast.

Old-time ingredients

The old-time recipe for the Wassail bowl was a heated combination of ale, cinnamon, ginger, sherry wine, lemon and sugar which was poured into a heated bowl. Toasted bread and roasted crab apples were added.

Today, even in England, the contents of the Wassail Bowl can be any kind of punch which stands ready to serve and toast friends when they drop in on Christmas.

Today's holiday punches

Popular holiday punches today include egg nog, and zesty cranberry punches such as one combining six cups each of cranberry juice cocktail and grapefruit juice with a 16 ounce can of jellied cranberry sauce. This should simmer for five minutes with four cinnamon sticks, some whole cloves, and the peel of two oranges. It is good served hot or cold.

Just be sure not to pour the hot punch into a glass punch bowl unless it is heatproof.

Merry Christmas

May you rejoice in the spirit and gladness that this Holy holiday brings.

Have Safe Holidays

Keep your holidays merry by following some safety tips:

1. The milky substance from poinsettias is said to be toxic if swallowed. Also, some decorative berries may be harmful if swallowed. If you have small children or pets, you will want to keep these Christmas plants out of reach.
2. It's not wise to put cotton or paper around the base of a Christmas tree. These Christmas tree skirts should be inflammable.
3. Keep your live Christmas tree's stand filled with water. Dried out Christmas trees catch fire quickly.
4. Unplug the tree when you leave the house. Be sure its stand is stable so that it won't topple easily.
5. Keep breakable ornaments, angel hair or other glass filaments up high out of baby's reach.
6. Secure all extension cords into their sockets to prevent getting shocked when you turn on your electric decorations. Keep these cords away from doors and hallways or other places they may be easily tripped over.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS — THE SAFE WAY!

Baubles or Diamonds?

To some of us no jewel, not even a diamond, is more beautiful than a cheap Christmas bauble.

Going up into the attic with your cousins and discovering a whole box full and overflowing with delicate, sparkling, translucent Christmas baubles—some round, some teardrop-shaped, interspersed with strings of glittering beads and shining tinsel—you wonder, "Could a king's treasures be any more splendid?"

At the same time those baubles are so full of splendor—there's hardly anything that can shatter more easily. Here's where the true beauty of the diamond comes in. It holds fast while the gaudy, cheap trinkets burst asunder!

Diamonds sparkle in the eyes of those who take selfishness out of Christmas by putting each other first. May the joy that your family receives this season be the kind of joy that will last a lot longer than it takes to pay off the Christmas bills!

A REMEMBERED GIFT

"Well, if you want to get a Christmas gift someone will always remember—get a CHEAP one!"

HOLIDAY FLAVOR

Of all the spicy, nostalgic smells of the holiday, that of nutmeg and its sister-spice, mace, is recalled with particular pleasure. We top the frothy eggnog with nutmeg, use it to add final flavor to a hot glogg. Hard sauce for the plum pudding gets a dash of nutmeg or mace, as does the whipped cream to top holiday desserts. Mace is delightful in chocolate and, like nutmeg, has dozens of gourmet uses in the kitchen.

Plum Pudding Sure To Please

If you are having special guests for the New Year, why not please them with traditional plum pudding? This oldtime favorite is always appreciated and, although it has been around for a long, long time, some have never tasted plum pudding.

- ½ cup sugar
- 3 cups all-purpose flour — unsifted
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon each ginger, cloves and nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ cup each currants and raisins, soaked overnight in ½ cup brandy

- ½ cup chopped mixed candied fruit
- ½ cup chopped nuts
- 1 apple grated
- 1 cup finely chopped suet
- 1½ cups milk
- ½ cup molasses
- ½ cup brandy
- Brandy hard sauce or Foamy sauce

Sift dry ingredients and add fruits, nuts and apple. Stir in next three ingredients. Pour into one buttered 2½ quart mold or two 1½ quart molds. Cover tightly with lid or double thickness of waxed paper or foil. Secure paper or foil with rubber bands or string. Put on rack in large kettle and add boiling water to come halfway up sides of mold. Cover kettle and steam 3 hours. Unmold on serving plate, decorate with holly sprig and pour heated brandy over top. Makes 8 servings.

To make Brandy Hard Sauce: Cream 1 cup sweet butter and 2 cups confectioners' sugar, beat in 1 teaspoon vanilla and ½ cup brandy.

The Christmas Sled

Oh, for the winters that used to be!
The winters that only a boy may see!
Rich with snowflakes' rush and swirl;
Keen as a diamond; pure as a pearl;
Brimming with healthful, rollicking fun;
Sweet with their rest when the play was done;
With kindly revels each day decreed,
And a Christmas sled for the royal steed.

Down from the crest with a shrill hurra!
Clear the track, there! Out of the way!
Scarcely touching the path beneath;
Scarce admitting of breath to breathe;
Dashing along, with leap and swerve,
Over the crossing, round the curve.
Talk of your flying machines!
Instead,
Give me the swoop of that Christmas sled.

Giving Beyond Christmas

You've already reached into that billfold for gifts for many relatives and friends—and yet there's your party at work that is still to come. It wouldn't seem like Christmas unless you exchanged gifts.

Here's one idea that has turned out to be a money-saver at Christmastime and is a heap of fun.

At the party, each guest is given a pencil and a card on which he or she will write some special gift to be given sometime in the next few months. At the top of the paper the guest indicates whether it is a gift to a guy or a gal. The giver's name is written at the bottom of the paper.

The gift is a HAND and HEART gift; it may be:

- A free car wash,
- Three dozen cookies,
- A piece of ceramic (from the one who make ceramics),
- A small oil painting from the artist,
- A lemon pie,
- So many hours of helping to cut firewood,

A free shampoo and set,
A chocolate cake,
A free automobile tune-up, or many other things one would have fun making or doing for another.

The guys' "gifts" are placed in a box, while the gals' "gifts" are placed in another. Each guest draws a card from the respective box, and there's a lot of merriment, thinking of the special, personalized gifts to be received after the other Christmas gifts have been forgotten about!

PARTY PLANNING POINTS

If you don't have a special centerpiece in mind, or just don't have room for one on your table, set the kids to folding brightly colored napkins in triangle shapes to stand up in the glasses.

Colorful, permanent press sheets can become lovely holiday tablecloths.

If you think you can't have a large crowd because of not enough matching tableware, the patterns can be mixed to have a festive look. Or plan a buffet meal where each goes his own way, not paying particular attention as to whether his utensils happen to match someone else's or not.

It's the comfortable, happy atmosphere you have at your party that will cause others to have a great time, rather than the finery you could exhibit.

Happy partying!

SPECIAL ANGEL

You can easily make a very beautiful angel for your treetop.

1. Use a plastic bottle for the body.

2. A styrofoam ball becomes the head. Paint the facial features on the ball. Fine, yellow baby yarn can be glued on for hair.

3. Fold round, 8" doilies in half for the angel robe and for its wings.

Your special angel is personalized for your family; no one else will have one with the exact expression yours has!

The first Christmas card is said to have been designed in 1843, at the suggestion of Henry Cole of England. Supposedly, he had been unable to write to all his friends at Christmas.

Edible Santa

Find a firm, red apple.
Stick a toothpick in each of four big marshmallows. Two will be Santa's arms and two his feet. Insert them, with the other end of the toothpicks, into the apple in the proper places.

Place a large marshmallow (lollipop-fashion) on a toothpick for Santa's head.

Break a toothpick in half. Impale a raisin on each toothpick half and stick the toothpick in place for Santa's eyes.

Put a large red gumdrop on top of Santa's head to be his hat, and a red cranberry for his nose.

Use cotton for Santa's beard and around his hat, using toothpicks to hold it on as necessary.

Following The Star

Midnight wraps the hills around Bethlehem in stillness. Woolly sheep lie on shadowed hillsides. Shepherds cluster together, talking quietly of the main topic of the day — the ironclad Roman rule over their country. In subdued tones they talk of how the prophets have foretold the birth of a Deliverer, and pray earnestly that it may be very soon.

An even as they talk, suddenly a bright halo of light envelopes them — so bright that they are frozen with fear. Then an angel calms their fears with the glad news, "Behold, unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord."

While the shepherds watch — still spellbound, the light slowly fades and once again the stars shine down on sleeping Bethlehem. Looking at each other with wonder, the shepherds are filled with the greatest happiness they have ever known.

Midnight brings starlight to ancient Persia. Soft breezes stir the palm fronds and gently ripple through an open window, lightly touching the rolls of parchment on the table. Three men are intently studying the scrolls — scientists they are, who have included the Scriptures in their research. Suddenly they catch a glimpse of a strange flow through the open window, and watch as it seems to become one glowing star that hovers just above the far horizon.

Following the Star, the Wise Men are led to the greatest Star on Earth. Happiness glows on their faces.

Midnight enfolds the hills and vales, towns and cities of Christmas 1982. Christ looks down upon the birthday celebration planned in His honor; His heart is made glad as His children follow the Star, giving Him the gift of their hearts, and sharing the gift of His love with one another.

Dr. Stephen R. Van Ess

Who Has Paid?

Who has paid the light bill for the warmth and light of the sun?

Who has paid the water bill for the waters that quench our thirst and wash the earth?

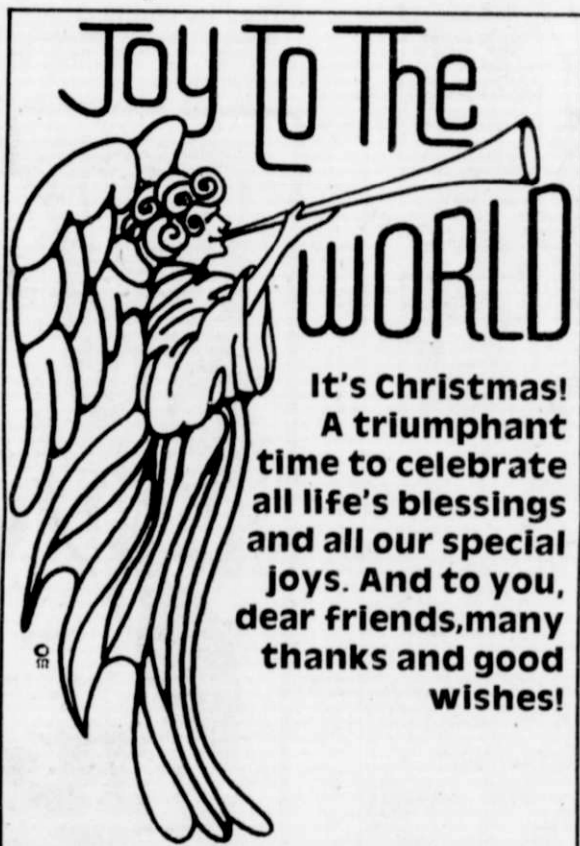

Who has paid the transportation bill for two good legs that carry each of us about?

Who has bought the tickets for the movies seen each day—the colorful birds, the majestic mountains, the delicate flowers, blazing sunsets, and the diamonds glistening in the snow?

Who has paid the great Physician's fee for health and strength—the price of all the tonics for our happiness?

All these things and many, many more are FREE gifts we receive all year long. But Christmas is a special time to think of these gifts and with a heart full of gratitude and love, sincerely thank our loving Benefactor and pass these blessings and our love on to others.

Put CHRIST in CHRISTmas by giving from the heart, through CHRISTian love!

THE CUSTOM OF SENDING CHRISTMAS CARDS originated in England in 1843, where the first known Christmas card was designed by John Calcott Horsley. Today, Americans exchange more than three billion cards during the holiday season. Pictured here is "Best Christmas Wishes," a European print (circa 1890). Say, "Merry Christmas" With Kitchen Goodies

Besides the old favorites of Brownies and Snowball Cookies, you might like to try giving your friends a different kind of treat by making chocolate-covered and Almond-covered Pretzels. They make a lovely gift placed on a lace doily in a foil-wrapped gift box.

CHOCOLATE-COVERED PRETZELS

- 1 can Chocolate Fudge Frosting
- 1 lb. pkg. pretzels
- 1. Place the frosting in a small saucepan and stir constantly, over low heat, until it's just melted.
- 2. Line a cookie sheet with waxed paper and place a cooling rack over it.
- 3. Dip pretzels into the heated frosting, with a fork, allowing the excess frosting to drip off.
- 4. Place the covered pretzels on the cooling rack.
- 5. Immediately sprinkle the pretzels with either candies, coconut, finely chopped nuts, or colored sugar, etc..
- 6. Let pretzels dry at room temperature, about 6 hours.

ALMOND COVERED PRETZELS

- 1. Follow the recipe for Chocolate-covered Pretzels, using vanilla frosting instead of the chocolate.
- 2. Add 1/4 teaspoon of almond flavoring to the frosting.
- 3. Immediately sprinkle the pretzels with chopped almonds. M-m-m-m-m! Your friends will love your special gift!!

Roast Goose

If you have a yen to try something different this Christmas, forget the turkey and roast a goose. We're not trying to "fowl" up any Christmas traditions, just suggesting something different. After all, New Year's Day—another turkey-time, is just around the corner. If you wish to try goose, here's how:

Combine three cups lightly whipped potatoes with two cups of crumbs, 1 cup finely diced onion, 1 teaspoon rosemary, 1 cup coarsely chopped pecans or walnuts, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper, and three tablespoons melted butter. Blend well and stuff the goose with the mixture.

Place goose on rack and bake at 450 degrees for 30 minutes. Reduce heat to 325 degrees and roast for another 1 to 1 1/4 hours or until breast is tender and skin crisp.

Basting is not altogether necessary. Pour off the goose fat as it accumulates in the pan and save for cooking. Salt and pepper the goose just before removing from the oven. Usually, an 8-10 pound goose should roast about 2 - 2 1/4 hours.

Hoping that the holy light of Christmas will brighten all of your days. To our friends, special thanks.

Yuletide customs: all part of the fun!

"Ho! Ho! Ho! Meeerrrry Christmas everybody!" shouts Santa Claus from his toy-laden sleigh as he deposits each family's gifts down the chimney. He does his job quickly then, off he goes, powered by a pack of eight reindeer. (Can anyone recount them? There's Dasher, Dancer, Prancer, Vixen, Comet, Cupid, Donner and Blitzen.)

Retelling Christmas legends of St. Nick and his reindeer and sharing memories of Christmases past, especially those of childhood, renew the joyous spirit of each holiday season. Tradition, the continuity of customs from one year to the next, surrounds each family like a warm security blanket.

In many homes, parents try to persuade the children that Santa Claus actually paid them a visit.

The afternoon before Christmas, Mom and the youngsters bake sugar and anise cookies and place a few on a plate for Santa. Hours later, after a festive meal, and a long wait by the window for signs of Santa, the kids are sent to bed. The moment they're tucked in, another relative rings bells on the roof, by the chimney opening, sounding as if Santa's sleigh had pulled up.

A sly "Santa"

Later, a dedicated Dad pulls a sled across the backyard leaving "sleigh" tracks and "Santa's" footprints in the snow. Then one or two of the cookies are munched; sometimes one is half-eaten showing Santa's particular preferences.

Presents under the tree, gifts peeking out of stockings hung over the fireplace and the few remaining cookies and sleigh tracks, sure signs that Santa visited, send squeals of glee upon discovery.

Children, anxious to open the pretty packages under the tree, are usually restricted to peeking into their stockings and opening the contents: The large gifts remained wrapped until the entire family has eaten a leisurely breakfast.

These families who hadn't read the Christmas story, Luke, Chapter 2, on Christmas Eve, did so after breakfast. After all, the religious element is what is bringing the family together! Then, the fun begins.

Truly, gift-opening and seeing what everybody has received, is the most exciting for the children.

Contagious delight

Did Santa read the gift request list? Did he comply? Parents, grandparents and other relatives share in the contagious joy and delight as ribbons and colored paper accumulate in an ever-mounting pile.

From the trimming of the Christmas tree with miniature toys; animals, bells and tinsel, to the Christmas carolers singing door to door, spreading good cheer, Christmas is a time of joy and love.

Reminiscing of Christmases past while sipping eggnog after returning from Christmas Mass, until the early hours of the morning, bonds the adult family members, as they try to catch up with the news of the year from friends and acquaintances.

And, inevitably, somebody sneaks away to dress in a red suit, stuffed with towels and pillows found in a nearby closet and the curly white beard carried along.

Walking around the back of the house and waving through the window, the sleepy people try to figure out who is missing. Or, was it really Santa? "Ho! Ho! Ho! Happy holiday!"

Fringed Centerpiece Tree

For a pretty little tree to use as a table's centerpiece, cut a large piece of paper into a half circle, making it two times longer than it is wide. Roll this circle into a cone and tape the cone together. Trim the base of the cone to make an even circle.

Cut a package of green crepe paper into strips while still folded. (You may wish to use tin foil for a silver tree or green florists' cellophane paper.) While the strips are still folded, slit them halfway up for fringes. Now open the strips.

Start at the bottom of the cone and glue on the paper strips overlapping the rows and continuing to the top.

Cut out a gold star for the top of your tree. Stick on gummed stars.

If the tree is small enough, you may wish to place the cone on a paper towel tube and paint the tube brown for the trunk.

Set the tree in a blanket of cotton snow. Wrap tiny gifts to place under the tree.

Toasting Is Traditional World-Wide

The New Year toast is traditional around the world and this year, as always, friends everywhere will raise their glasses to extend wishes for good health and abundant wealth.

Centuries ago, toasting was something of a ritual. The right to make a toast at a public gathering was considered a high honor, usually reserved for persons of high standing.

Also, in ancient times, a toast could have serious consequences. Poison was the quickest and most effective way to do away with an enemy and many a guest or visitor who thought he was being "toasted" was actually poisoned by some concoction the host slipped into his cup.

The term "toast" goes back to Stuart's time in England. Chunks of bread were toasted over the fire, then dropped on tops of cups of wine or liquor. At first, the dripping piece was eaten, but then it became custom to "Drink one's toast." Thus, the term "toast" came to mean raising one's cup in good faith and cheer. We no longer float toasted bread on drinks, but we still toast, mostly on New Year's Eve, but on any festive occasion.

Some toasts from around the world include: Germany - Prosit; Great Britain - Bottoms Up; Israel - L'Khaim; Italy - Salute; Japan - Bonzai; Spain - Saldos; Sweden - Skal; Russia - Na Zdorovje and the U.S. - Cheers!

May your Christmas celebration produce an abundance of glorious pleasures. To you and yours, our thanks.

A Touch of Christmas To Houseplants

Give your regular houseplants a festive, Christmas look!

That Norfolk Island Pine can look absolutely beautiful with small, feathery birds and a few icicles on its branches! Since the limbs are delicate, you will want to use very light decorations, however.

Reindeer and candy canes can be perched on metal rods and placed in the soil of your plants. You may wish to wrap the pots in a special Christmas foil to help spread Christmas cheer.

That Boston Fern can have a special Christmas look with two, tall, tapered candles in its soil; however, it isn't recommended to light candles that are among plants unless the candles reach high above the plants.

Say "Merry Christmas" with an extra Christmasy touch to your regular plants as well as your Christmas tree!

Merry Feathered Friends

Make a merry holiday season for your fine, feathered friends, as well as for your own entertainment. Create a bird cafeteria!

Cut a piece of tree limb, that is about 4" in diameter, to at least a foot tall. Leave the twigs and branch stubs on for bird perches.

Bore a hole above each stub and space holes around the bottom of the logs.

Fill the holes with different types of treats for the birds. Obtain some suet from your meat counter; melt the suet and mix it with peanut butter and scratch feed. Fill some holes with apple pieces, lettuce, etc..

Drive a nail partially into the top of the log. Bend the nail over for a hook. Attach a piece of wire to the hook and fasten it around a tree limb.

Nail a strong, sturdy piece of branch to the bottom of the piece of log for the large birds to perch upon.

Merry Christmas to the happy, little carolers! They will thank you all year long!

Plan Foods In Pre-Holiday Time

More than any other season of the year, Christmas brings unexpected visitors. The pace picks up as the holiday approaches and continues through the New Year. It can be a hectic time, unless there is some prior planning—such as baking ahead of time foods and desserts that can be frozen until needed.

Pastries, such as pies, tarts, filled rings and cookies come through freezing well, whether baked or unbaked. Cakes and frostings should be frozen separately; do not frost the cake before freezing. Butter mixtures and frostings and fillings made from uncooked confectioner's sugar can be frozen. Candy-type frostings can be frozen for up to three weeks, after which time they will crack apart. Egg-based, boiled or brown sugar icings do not freeze well as they tend to become sticky.

Cookie dough and baked cookies both freeze well. Baked cookies should be allowed to cool before freezing in a tightly sealed container. Most cookies will thaw and be ready for serving in minutes. Fresh fruit, mincemeat and squash pie fillings freeze best.

ORNAMENT HANGERS

You've just discovered that one of your treasured ornaments is missing a hanging hook! Don't throw that treasured ornament away just because a hook is missing. Bobby pins can be twisted into a spring so that the lower end can be inserted into a bauble neck and when it is released it will enlarge to fit snugly inside. The loop at the top is left for hanging. If the loop isn't large enough to loop over a branch, or whatever, slip a rubber band into the bobby pin loop and bring the rubber band back through itself. Then stretch the rubber band over the branch.

Paper clips can make neat hooks, as well as the metal/paper sandwich bag twist 'ems.

The scene of fabulous gold and silver mining a century ago, Virginia City entertains a half-million tourists each year. ## Christmas Wedding Wishes

In noting the many different Christmas traditions for various countries, it's very interesting to see that in many cases the Christmas spirit also includes wedding wishes. For instance, in Czechoslovakia a girl puts a cherry twig in water on December 4 and if the twig blooms before Christmas Eve, it supposedly means that she will marry sometime during the year.

In Albania, at the end of a meal each person shows he is grateful for having more than he needs by leaving a spoonful of food on his plate. Then everyone stands and swings the table back and forth as they sing, "May there be plenty in this house. May the time for a wedding be near!"

In Switzerland, on their way to the midnight Christmas Eve church services, the young people visit nine fountains, taking three sips of water from each fountain. According to a legend if they do this they will find their future husband or wife waiting at the church door.

In Norway, the family bakes a special Christmas pudding which contains an almond. The person who gets the almond in his portion of pudding will be the next to be married, they say.

May the Christmas holidays be the beginning of a year of happiness!

"Please, Daddy, Don't Get Drunk This Christmas!"

John realized his problem and had been to programs for alcoholics. For eight months John and the bottle had happily parted company. Then the boss opened up the alcoholic beverages that Christmas Eve, just before closing time, and invited the staff to have a drink.

"Thanks, but I'd better be on my way home," John replied, lifting his coat from the coat rack.

"Ah, don't ask John! His wife won't let him drink," laughingly taunted one of the secretaries.

That did it! Before he left for home, John was drunk.

John doesn't remember clearly all that happened that Christmas Eve, but he solemnly declares he didn't commit the crime "jealous" persons accused him of.

For close to twenty years, now, John has sat behind bars. It all started from a taunt and a Christmas Eve drink.

Fancy Christmas Baubles

1. Cut out 8 scalloped circles, each about 2" in diameter from whatever pretty paper you might like. (Red or green tissue paper; red or green florists' cellophane paper; or just scraps from Christmas wrapping paper make pretty baubles.)

2. Place the circles one on top of the other in a stack.

3. Fold the top circle in the stack in half, then unfold it. Sew through all 8 circles with heavy thread or fife yarn, using the fold line as a guide. Leave a piece of the thread long enough at one end to hang the ball.

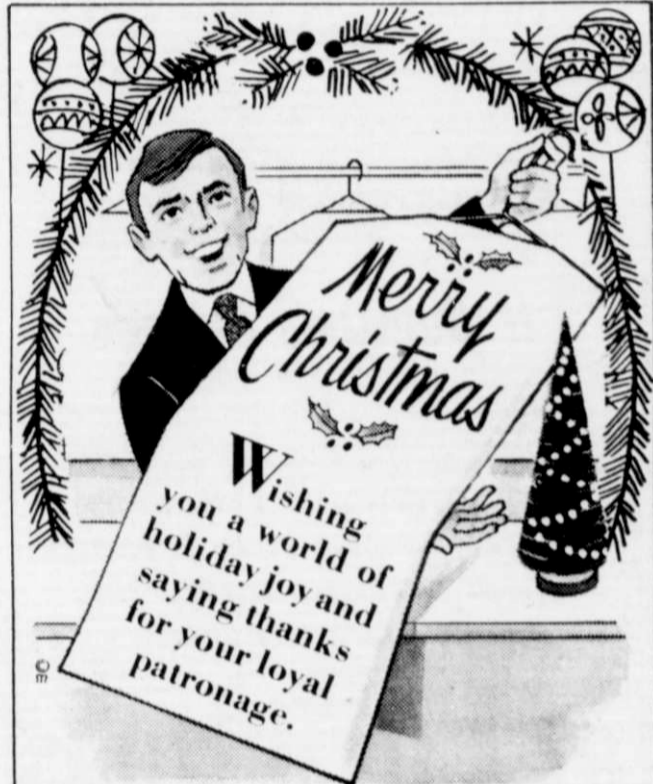

4. Open up the paper circles, spreading and slightly creasing each of the 16 sides so that they fluff out to make a lovely Christmas bauble.

Christmas Rose Gaining Favor

The Christmas rose is becoming a serious competitor of holly, mistletoe and the poinsettia that decorate our homes at Christmas time.

A cold-weather plant, the Christmas rose flowers naturally in December or January, sending forth seven or eight white, roselike blooms tinged with pink. The plant can withstand snow and low temperatures, although it does not propagate well in the United States. The plant develops best in soil peculiar to the western parts of Belgium and the Netherlands and these countries are leading exporters.

Christmas Craft
Dough Creations

Want to fashion your own Christmas ornaments, wreaths, wall hangings, and figurines? Make your own craft dough:

Combine 1 cup of salt with 2 cups of all-purpose flour. Gradually add 1 cup of water, thoroughly mixing it to form a ball of dough. Knead the dough for about 10 minutes until it is smooth. Your molding dough may be stored in the refrigerator for 3 to 5 days.

When you are ready to use the dough, you can hand-mold it or roll it out and use a knife or cookie cutter to cut shapes.

Bake your completed objects at 300 degrees until they are completely dry and hardened. This may take from 1 to 3 hours depending on thickness of your objects.

The baked items may be painted if desired.

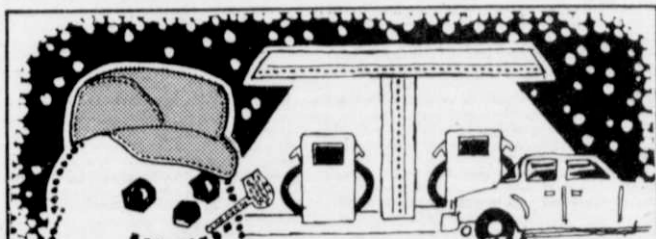

The whole family can enjoy their own Christmas creations!

There is no tree at traditional Greek Christmas celebrations. Instead, a small cross wrapped in herbs is kept in a bowl to protect the house from prankster goblins.

ENGLISH CHRISTMAS

Christmas in England boasts all the joys and traditions of a Christmas in America—but the English celebration continues through the next day. Boxing Day, the day after Christmas, is observed on an almost equal scale. Traditionally, on Boxing Day, the village priest opened the poor box and distributed its contents to the needy families in the parish. Today, bosses present gifts to their employees and most everyone in some way recognizes newsboys and others who provide regular services throughout the year.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

We're happy to be of service and thankful for the opportunity to extend a battery of good wishes for holiday happiness to you all.
