County's Farm Operators Urged to Complete Census Questionnaires

Officials of Washington this week encouraging cooperation with the 1982 Census of Agriculture now being conducted by the U.S. Department of Commerce's Census Bureau.

The proclamation points out that "many business decisions affecting the county's farmers in today's economy, depend heavily upon accurate data from the Census of Agriculture."

Officials urged the county's farm operators to complete the census questionnaires accurately and return them promptly to the Census Bureau. Similar proclamations are being issued by officials of other counties and state governors in support of the census, the 22nd in a series that began in 1840.

The current census will update the findings of the most recent farm census conducted for 1978 operations. Census figures are used in many national and state programs affecting agriculture which are based or allocated on the basis of this data. These include funds for extension work, soil conservation, research, and other services. The more dependent a county is on agricultural income, the more vital census information becomes, local officials point out.

ANNOUNCE WINNERS OF CHRISTMAS STOCKINGS

Rosenheimer's of Kewaskum would like to announce the winners of the world's largest Christmas stocking give-away. They are Timmy Thorn, 3½ years, of 704 Pleasantwood Dr., Kewaskum and Joanne Stautz, 11 years, of 133 Clinton Street, Kewaskum.

Warm Christmas Breaks Record

Now people in this vicinity know what it's like to spend Christmas in Florida.

Christmas Day here was a balmy, springlike day with a temperature of 60 degrees and sunny with no snow on the ground. (Northern Wisconsin had two feet of snow on Tuesday but it missed our area). Even a few golfers were out Christmas Day making their round at Hon-E-Kor Country Club.

The unseasonably mild temperatures set an all-time record, breaking the previous record of 55 set 87 years ago, on Dec. 25, 1895.

Hit-and-Run, Thefts Reported

Kewaskum police located the vehicle but not the driver involved in a hit-and-run accident that occurred at the corner of Fond du Lac Avenue and Forest Avenue at 9:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 23. The accident caused $1,000 damage to two glass windows at Miller's Furniture Store.

According to the police report, a pickup truck was traveling north on Fond du Lac Avenue when the driver tried to turn left onto Forest and struck the Miller building.

The truck was located at 4:20 a.m. the next day in the driveway of the owner at West Bend, after a woman gave police a description.

West Bend police arrested and cited for theft a Kewaskum man, 18, and a West Bend man, 19, in connection with six thefts of Christmas lights on Christmas night. They also arrested a 17-year-old Kewaskum boy in connection with the same incidents, charging him with being a party to the crime of theft and with a liquor law violation, police said, adding that the boy would be referred to the Youth Service Bureau. About a dozen other reports of recent thefts or attempted thefts of various Christmas decorations were on file with West Bend police and the County Sheriff's Department.

Three Christmas floodlights valued at $25 were also taken last Monday from the 1600 block of Scenic Drive in the Town of Farmington, a Sheriff's Department report said.

Campus Notes

A total of nine students from this area have been included in the fifth annual edition of THE NATIONAL DEAN'S LIST, the largest recognition publication honoring college students, published by Educational Communications, Inc., Lake Forest, Illinois.

Students are selected for recognition by their deans or on their school's Dean's List. The 77,000 students included in the current edition are from 2,000 colleges and universities nationwide and represent one half of one percent of the more than 8,000,000 college students in the country.

Local students selected include:

CAMPBELLSPORT — Ann

M. Krebs, Univ. of WI at Whitewater; Mary Loehr, U. of Wisconsin La Crosse; Robert W. Nigh, Univ. of Wisconsin; Theresa R. Ruplinger, Univ. of WI at Whitewater.

KEWASKUM — Denise E. Dean, Univ. of Wisconsin; Doreen J. Klug, Univ. of WI at Whitewater; Tim E. Perkins, Univ. of WI at Whitewater; Constance L. Sleger, Coll. of Saint Scholastica; Barbara A. Thill, Univ. of WI at Whitewater.

Twenty-three Buffalo State College students have been selected for inclusion in the 1983 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. They include:

Julie Mae Jeske, daughter of Mrs. Patricia Jeske, 8856 Hickory Drive, Kewaskum.

More than 9,000 students are again enrolled this fall at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point.

Among them are:

CAMPBELLSPORT — Patrick Pelischek, senior, 133

Fond du Lac Ave.; Melody Rowe, freshman, R. 2, Box 199A.

While there's growing enrollment in the university's Division of Business/Economics, about 20 percent of the new freshmen came here this fall without having chosen a major to pursue. But campus officials say that is no problem; in fact, they believe it is healthy. These students are advised to use a new computer assisted counseling program that evaluates personal likes, goals, skills, values and dislikes. This is one of the most objective career decision processes known to exist.

The university currently is developing new academic offerings related to computers and has received the only federal grant allocated to a public institution in the state to wire the entire campus for this new technology.

In facilities, a $1 million remodeling is being completed in the University Center where students are provided dining and extra curricular activities. And, a natural resources camp is being developed on a 900-acre tract near Tomahawk that was donated several years ago to UW-SP. Several buildings already have been constructed there, and more are planned before Treehaven is fully operational.

May the warmth of this holiday season extend throughout the new year....

Bringing joy and good health to those you hold dear.

Middle School Gym Gets Facelift

The green walls on the Kewaskum Middle School gymnasium have been taking on a new, more exciting look in the past month, thanks to the school's art teacher, Mr. Anglim, and his art students.

Many paint brushes have been working meticulously by seventh and eighth grade art students on a wall mural in the Middle School Gym, titled "Kewaskum has Spirit." The project was springboarded from the first mural painted by his art students last year. The mural in the cafeteria of the school has taken the theme of Wild-life of the Kettle Moraine Area. After receiving many compliments from parents and visitors it was suggested by Mr. Reha, Principal of the Middle School, to do another mural, this time in the gym.

Money for the mural was contributed by the students, both eighth and seventh grade students from their efforts of magazine sales. Anglim is very grateful to all students for their support, and effort on the mural. Anglim was surprised to note that in the eight years the Middle School was in existence no such projects were undertaken to beautify and show the students abilities and best of all a willingness to work together as a group with great enthusiasm.

The school's new logo is part of the mural, designed by Ed

Walz, an eighth grader. The project began the last week in October with Anglim sketching a variety of lifesize pictures of athletes competing in different sports. Anglim worked after school and weekends completing the sketchings. Now the students, all 128 of them taking his class, are getting into the act by painting the mural.

According to Principal Dennis Reha, the students are loving every minute of the project. He praised Anglim and the students for the "tremendous" effort they were putting forth on the project.

EARNING MONEY FOR SPECIAL DUTIES GIVES CHILDREN SATISFACTION

Parents play a large role in shaping children's attitudes toward money.

Some families use money as a disciplinary tool, cutting back or stopping a child's allowance as a punishment. This defeats the purpose of the allowance by not allowing the child to practice responsible spending. Also, it is not a good idea for parents to pay children for getting good grades or being good. This teaches them that money can right wrongs and buy good.

Household chores should have nothing to do with allowances. Every child needs to have household responsibilities as his or her contribution to the family. But a child's refusal to do a chore is different from teaching good money management.

Parents may pay children for performing jobs that usually require hiring out, such as painting the house, hauling heavy trash, or sewing a garment. Agree upon the amount beforehand, and pay them after they finish the job. This helps them to gain satisfaction from earning money.

When children receive gifts of money, they should have a say in what happens to it. Parents may and probably should help decide what to do with large cash gifts, but children should use small cash gifts as they wish.

STROKES

The carotid arteries carry blood up both sides of the neck to the brain, and their blockage with fatty deposits often leads to strokes. Surgery can remove these fatty deposits. Prevention means a low fat diet. Vitamin C also tends to inhibit the fatty deposits and plaque in arteries.

May your brand new season be filled... with miles of smiles! And, best of luck, too!

Cy Swiecichowski, president of the Jackson Area Businessmen's Association adds the name of Chuck Nevsimal, vice president of the Wisconsin Pharmacal Company to his list of donors at the first annual Jackson Holiday Blood Drive. Wisconsin Pharmacal Company opened its door to accommodate the crowds who flocked into the building on December 21, to give blood during the holiday season. Jacksonites had challenged neighboring cities to a championship and a trophy to be offered by the Jackson pharmaceutical firm.

Free Courses for Senior Citizens

Senior citizens, aged 62 and older, who wish to continue their education or just want to develop new interests, can audit University of Wisconsin Center-Fond du Lac credit courses free. If audited, the courses are for personal enrichment only and are not taken for credit toward a degree. There must be space in the class, and students must have permission of the instructor.

For further information, write the Office of Student Services, University of Wisconsin Center-Fond du Lac, Campus Drive, Fond du Lac, WI 54935, or call 929-3606.

Sports fans notwithstanding, the annual football game has not always been the highlight of the Tournament of Roses. The parade and other festivities pre-date gridiron action and, after the first game in 1902, there was a period of 14 years in which football was not part of the event.

After the first game in 1902, in which Michigan defeated Stanford, no game was played in 1903. Chariot races were substituted. In 1916, football returned and the "granddaddy" of bowl games has been going strong ever since.

When the president makes a policy speech, it is instantly translated into thirty-six languages and sent via practically every known means of communication to every corner of the globe.

365 PEOPLE IN THE JACKSON, WI AREA GAVE OUR COMMUNITY A REALLY SPECIAL GIFT THIS CHRISTMAS . . .

Each day, including Sundays and holidays, hospital patients in southeastern Wisconsin require 450 pints of blood. In any community, 98% of the population will need a blood transfusion before reaching the age of 70. And there's only one source for this life-saving blood. It's volunteer blood donors.

When John Wundrock, president of Wisconsin Pharmacal Co., in Jackson heard that the holidays are a time when the blood supply often runs low because people are so busy, he decided to do something about it. Together with the employees at Wisconsin Pharmacal and volunteers from the Jackson Businessmen's Association, he set out to sponsor the most successful community blood drive in Wisconsin.

They recruited 401 people who were willing to come to the December 21, blood drive hosted by the Company — people ready to roll up their sleeves to give this community a very special Christmas gift. Of those who came in, 365 were able to donate. (There are always some who are willing, but can't donate because of colds or other minor health problems.)

Because of all the work put into this effort, a new record was set for community blood drives. The record turnout also meant that some of those who donated had to wait in line to give their special gift — but wait they did. And special, indeed, was the gift they gave the community this Christmas.

Thanks to these donors and the many volunteers who made their gift possible, hospitals in this area will have a much safer blood supply to meet the needs of the sick and injured during this holiday season.

The Blood Center of Southeastern Wisconsin, which serves the hospitals in this area, says thank you to John Wundrock, Wisconsin Pharmacal employees, the Jackson Businessmen's Association and to the 365 people who gave such a special Christmas gift to the community this year. They are all examples of what this season is really about — the spirit of giving to others.

From the School Board President's Desk....

What exactly is included in the social studies area? Why does Kewaskum require one and one-half credits in United States history?

The Kewaskum School District requires a minimum of two credits in social studies for graduation. The social studies area includes history, current affairs, political science, geography, social problems, economics, and social psychology.

Kewaskum High School offers several history courses. I have no quarrel with that, for as Confucius said, "Study the past if you would divine the future." A more modern wise man said that those who ignore the lessons of the past are doomed to repeat them. I am certain all of us feel a need for everyone to know of our nation's past—if for no other reason than to understand our nation today.

I do, however, wish that Kewaskum High School would require only one credit in United States history, thus allowing the student to choose from other social study offerings for the other required credit. I feel this way for several reasons. First of all, the study of economics is very important. Every citizen should understand the basic economic principles affecting us every day. All of us should be economic-literate. Then too, I feel students need to understand our political system, so political science is a necessary course. Just as our knowledge of government is necessary, so is our relationship with the environment; thus geography is important.

As you can see, there are many valuable courses in the social studies area, and students are quite hard pressed to fit all of them into their schedules. The other schools I've checked with require only one year of United States history, thus allowing the students to take other valuable courses in social studies. The Joint Council on College Preparation has recommended three years in social studies: one year of United States history; one year of United States and global relations; and one year of government/civics (including economics).

The social studies area is quite important, and, as I'm certain you can see, the two credit requirement is not unreasonable... but I still would like to see economics and political science made a necessary part of the requirements.

P.S. Members of the new long range planning committee include Norma Serwe, Sally Joiner, Wayne Vogt, Betsy Strigenz, Ralph Horner, James Oelhafen and Jan Hubbell.

I thank these fine members of our community for agreeing to serve on the committee.

Mr. Long will select four staff members who can be called upon to serve in a non-voting advisory capacity.

Dear Bill:

As we draw 1982 to a close, the staff at the Washington County Soil Conservation Service office would like to take this opportunity to say "Thank-you" for your cooperation in helping us bring the soil and water conservation message to our county residents this past year.

Our information and education work is of vital importance to getting the conservation work done on the fields. Many people still don't understand the "who, what, when, where or why" about soil erosion, and we need to keep trying to reach them so that they can better understand and participate.

We have seen many of our news articles printed in your newspaper this past year, and we greatly appreciate your efforts in helping us "get the word out." We are looking forward to working with you again in 1983.

May you have a most happy holiday season, and a prosperous new year!

Sincerely,

Marc Bethke and Don Kurer

"A DEALER YOU CAN TRUST"

A FARM CENSUS PROCLAMATION

Since the economy of Washington County benefits in large measure from farming, the county's presiding officials bring to the attention of all county residents the 1982 Census of Agriculture.

Whereas, the periodic farm census is the primary source of accurate information on the number of farms and farm operators in our county;

Whereas, it also provides accurate data on sales of farm products as well as production costs in our county;

And whereas, many business decisions affecting the county's farmers in today's economy, depend upon accurate data from the Census of Agriculture;

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the county's presiding officials urge all farm operators to fill out and return promptly the farm census questionnaires they have received in the mail and thus help to make the 1982 census the most successful in a series of 22 farm census counts which began in 1840.

Washington County Board of Supervisors

Jan. 4 Is Deadline To File for School Board Candidacy

The deadline is approaching for public-spirited citizens who have an interest in education to make known their willingness to serve in a leadership capacity. In common, union high, and unified school districts, formal declarations of school board candidacy must be filed by January 4. That's also the deadline for filing school board nomination papers in Wisconsin's few remaining city school districts.

What makes a good school board candidate?

The only legal qualification for school board membership is that the candidate be an elector of the district. "But it's very important for the candidate to be aware of the scope of school board responsibility," according to Merlin Kilty, Colby, president of the Wisconsin Association of School Boards. "And it's equally important for voters to know how the candidate is likely to deal with that responsibility," he added.

"Everyone knows that school board members levy a property tax," said Kilty, "but it appears that fewer people know why. Before that levy is set, there are long hours of salary negotiations with employees, deliberations that weigh the needs of students and concern for taxpayers, nights and weekends spent learning how to improve the educational program. For present and potential board members, the practical requirements include a significant time commitment, a broad perspective about the issues we face, and a willingness to evaluate and balance two bottom lines: the one on the tax bill and the one that gauges how well our boys and girls are prepared for life beyond the schoolyard.

"It's usually advantageous for a school board to reflect diverse elements of the district as well. Looking at statewide membership, one sector that is noticeably under-represented lately is business. That's possibly due to reluctance of people in business to risk offending customers when it's necessary to make unpopular decisions," said Kilty.

"That's too bad, because the local merchant can bring to the board insight into the local economy, knowledge of good business practices, and experience in dealing with personnel. These are extremely valuable contributions to a community's educational enterprise.

"Another matter of concern is the trend in Wisconsin toward fewer years of school board service," Kilty said. "Incumbent board members whose performance is satisfactory need public encouragement to continue their service. The diminishing level of school board experience doesn't bode well for realization of long range educational goals, and rapid board turnover can alter immediate plans as well. So it's important that the board candidate be aware of the scope of activity, and be willing to consider the long term commitment that is often in the best interests of the total program.

"School board members typically receive little or nothing in pay for their public service," noted Kilty, "but the successful candidate will be joining 2,917 of the finest people in Wisconsin sharing the noblest goal and most overwhelming responsibility of any governmental body: serving as advocates for boys and girls."

AMPI Wins Court Battle Over NFO

FOND DU LAC...Wisconsin Circuit Judge Jerold E. Murphy ruled in favor of Associated Milk Producers, Inc. here Wednesday, permanently restraining the National Farmers Organization from using false statements to lure AMPI members to breach existing membership agreements. "This is a significant victory for us," stated Walter C. Kirchner, AMPI Mid-States Region General Manager, "No longer can NFO use lies and half-truths to mislead our membership to switch milk markets."

The case was initially commenced in August, 1971 with a preliminary injunction issued against NFO in July, 1973. Following a trial in early 1976 the Fond du Lac County Circuit Court issued a permanent injunction enjoining NFO and any co-conspirators from inducing AMPI members to breach or terminate their marketing agreements.

Judge Murphy's findings reveal that "This Court has previously found that NFO has engaged in extensive and broad scale solicitation of AMPI members by using fraudulent and disparaging statements for the purpose of interfering with the relationship of AMPI and its members. This Court finds that, due to NFO's conduct, at least approximately 200 AMPI members terminated their agreements with AMPI."

The permanent injunction orders "That the defendant National Farmers Organization and defendant individuals, their agents, servants, representatives, employees and attorneys, and others acting in concert with them, be and they are hereby permanently restrained and enjoined from participating or engaging in or causing others to participate or engage in the following acts: 1. Interfering with the Membership and Marketing agreements between the plaintiffs (i.e. AMPI) and their producer-members by making fraudulent representations, false and disparaging statements for the purpose of attempting to induce any members of the plaintiffs (i.e. AMPI) to terminate their agreements...."

TAX ON INTEREST AND DIVIDENDS SHOULD BE REPEALED

In the last few weeks, there have been several campaigns around Wisconsin to convince Congress to repeal one of the more regressive taxes it has enacted - the 10% withholding tax on savings interest and dividends. This ill-advised tax was created in last year's $98 billion tax hike bill, but it is not too late to stop it.

I have opposed the idea of taxing savings and investment yields in this manner every time it has been presented in Congress. I have never been convinced it has any merit whatsoever.

The proposal was sold on the basis of two arguments: 1) we need the money, and 2) many people intentionally or unintentionally fail to report interest and dividend income, thereby escaping payment of taxes on it.

Unfortunately, the tax was folded in the omnibus tax bill, preventing a separate vote on it, which I am sure would have resulted in its being killed by Congress.

The arguments against the tax are still strong and convincing: 1) it takes income away from many people, especially the retired, who depend on it to help meet the necessities of life or add a few comforts; 2) it creates a horrendous paperwork burden on all savings and investment institutions, who will act as Uncle Sam's tax collector and recordkeeper of the tax, the cost of which will be passed on to the saver; 3) it is unnecessary, since most people (90% or more by one estimate) do report this income and pay taxes on it; and 4) it creates a paperwork burden on low-income people paying the tax, but who must file tax returns to recover it at the end of the year because their low incomes are tax free.

The success of our economic recovery depends in part on the availability of saved and invested money for use by individual businesses, individuals, and farmers to expand their activities and stimulate the economy. This tax will hurt the recovery.

I have cosponsored H. R. 7041 to repeal the withholding tax and other legislation to restore the old $200/$400 interest and dividend exclusion on income taxes. We need to do both to restore incentives for savings and investment.

There were some hopes this could be addressed in the "lame duck" session of Congress which ended last week, but that did not happen. Now it is up to the new Congress being sworn in next week to do it, and restore savings to its rightful owners - us!

County Conservation Officials Convene In Fond du Lac

Washington County Land Conservation Supervisors and agency staff recently participated in the annual conference of Wisconsin Association of Land Conservation committees in Fond du Lac. The theme of this year's conference was, "Soil and Water For Tomorrow."

Wisconsin's new soil conservation law was explained on the opening Wednesday session. The new law abolished soil and water conservation districts (SWCD) in the state and replaced them with Land Conservation Committee of the county board. While the new law still emphasizes voluntary efforts by cooperating landowners, the long term intent is to locate critical erosion problems in each county and to develop strategies designed to correct the problems. It is also hoped that increased state funding for conservation practice cost sharing will come about.

Thursday's session was highlighted by programs on ground-water pollution problems in Wisconsin. Related to this was a discussion on animal waste pollution problems, and the possible need for regulating animal waste management on larger farms.

Various award winners from around the state were honored for their efforts in soil, water, wildlife and forestry conservation work.

SHERIFFS DEPARTMENT

Clarence A. Schwartz, Sheriff

CELEBRATE NEW YEAR'S EVE WISELY

Celebrate New Year's Eve wisely, so you will be around to see the start of 1983 in good shape, urges Washington County Sheriff Clarence Schwartz.

"If you're planning to drive to a party where you expect to be served intoxicants, pace your drinks so that you will not be staggering to your car when it comes time to drive home," he recommended.

"If you're hosting a party for friends in your own home, keep in mind that being a good host means more than being a bartender," the Sheriff added.

Provide some tasty items for nibbling - cheese bits, crackers, sausage slices, nuts, popcorn, pretzels - to slow down the rate of drink consumption," he continued. "Don't rush to refill glasses only half empty; avoid serving doubles; offer soft drinks as an alternative choice; and encourage stimulating conversation along with your holiday meal," suggests the Sheriff.

"Make sure that your guests are in safe condition to drive home," Sheriff Schwartz concluded. "As a good host, don't be afraid to find another ride home for the guest who is clearly not up to the driving task. Friends don't let their friends drive drunk."

EXTRA CARE ON SLIPPERY ROADS NEEDED WITH FRONT WHEEL DRIVE VEHICLES

Although front wheel drive vehicles have better traction on snow, there is no greater ability to stop than rear wheel drive vehicles, cautions Clarence Schwartz, Washington County Sheriff.

"People can get themselves into trouble if they assume that because they have better traction, they also have greater stopping ability," the Sheriff adds.

Sheriff Schwartz says that owners of front wheel drive vehicles should ignore advice from well-meaning safety "experts" that they should accelerate in a skid. Once a skid occurs, the advice is the same for all vehicles: get off the accelerator, steer in the direction of the skid, and apply the brakes gently to avoid locking the wheels.

Other special advice to front wheel drive drivers is to make sure snowtires or chains go on the front driving set of wheels, and to carefully read the owner's manual which gives detailed information on driving and equipping each manufacturer's particular vehicle.

Petri to Donate Pay Raise to Charity

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Congressman Tom Petri says he is extremely disappointed that the House has voted to increase Congressional pay.

"I fought against it. I voted against it. And I intend to donate my pay raise to charity for the next two years if it gets through the Senate," Petri said.

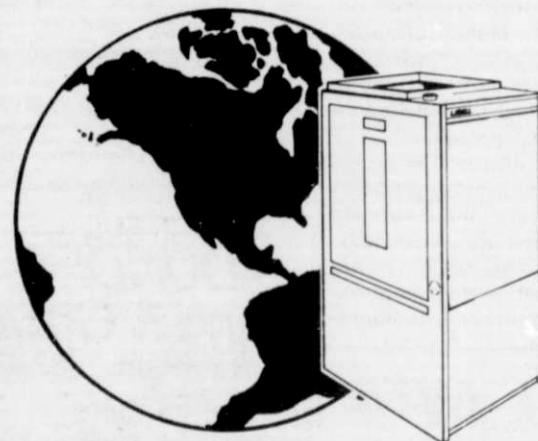

"It's true that the pay raise was reduced from 27 percent to 15 percent. But 15 percent is still unacceptable," Petri said. "Congress should not be increasing its pay during a time of high unemployment."

"I have consistently supported the proposition that Congress should not vote itself a pay raise without an intervening election so that the people can decide whether or not to rehire their representatives at the new rate," Petri said. "This is why I will donate my raise to charity for two years."

"A $9,000 salary increase under current economic conditions would clearly be excessive even if Congress had passed it before the election," Petri concluded.

MAKING ENDS MEET

COOKING WITHOUT THE SALT

We have all become more aware of the need to cut down on our sodium consumption. Excessive amounts of sodium are added to most of the processed foods we eat. Alarmingly high levels of sodium are present in our favorite fast foods.

This holiday season, give someone you love their favorite treats without all the sodium.

Experimentation is especially important when reducing salt and sodium in general. Although we are only beginning to understand the possibilities, there are a few simple things that can be done in everyday situations which do not require exacting measurements. When "sprinkle with herbs" is indicated in the following tips, it means the situation is really that flexible. Just take a pinch each of whichever herbs you feel would be appropriate in that kind of dish and sprinkle them on. Take a taste and add more if necessary, until the desired flavor is achieved.

Here are a few everyday ways to cut back on salt:

—Use onion and garlic powder in place of bouillon cubes or instant packaged soups. Make homemade broths using dehydrated, mixed vegetable flakes.

—When making sandwiches, use lettuce, cucumber, and tomatoes for moisture rather than prepared mayonnaise. Sprinkle the vegetables with herbs to replace the missing flavor from the dressing.

—Before roasting or boiling chicken or fish, rub with lemon juice and herbs, or poultry seasoning.

—Bottled salad dressing are high in sodium. Make your own with lemon juice or vinegar, herbs and a bit of oil. Shake well in a covered jar. Great for salads and meats, poultry and vegetable marinades.

—For lovers of southern cooking, cook greens with a beef bone instead of ham bone. Season with plenty of black pepper.

—When entertaining, dips can be made from yogurt—flavored with dill weed, garlic and onion powders. Fresh vegetables are good dippers. Puffed wheat or rice, seasoned with unsalted chili powder or garlic and onion powders, may be toasted in the oven or heated in a non-stick pan. Popcorn is another good food for entertaining. Don't add fat or salt—use garlic or onion powder instead.

—For a sausage flavor in spaghetti sauce, make your own fresh tomato sauce, or use canned, unsalted tomatoes with such typical sausage herbs as fennel, basil, pepper, onion, and garlic powders.

—Brown rice, bulghur (cracked wheat) and kasha (buckwheat) are recommended. They have more taste—and nutritive value—than the refined wheat products, and they accept seasoning for variety very well. Try curry powder, Italian seasoning (blend), poultry seasoning and for a surprise, a touch of cinnamon.

—When you eat in a restaurant, try to order individually broiled items such as chicken, chops, or fish and tell the waiter that it should not be salted. You might make up little cards which can be given directly to the chef: "Sprinkle with oregano and lemon juice. Please do not salt."

—Make up your own packet of herbs without salt and take it with you whenever you eat out.

—Cook green and yellow vegetables in water flavored liberally with oregano, Italian seasoning, dill or caraway.

—Onion and garlic salts are forbidden but don't forget that other forms—flakes, minced and powder—are all fine to use.

—Choose savory and bitey spices, herbs, blends and vegetable seasonings. Black pepper is an all-around helpful spice as are cumin and dill seeds, basil, ginger, coriander and onion, though these depend on the type of food.

CONSERVATION PROGRESS

The newly reorganized Conservation/Recreation Career Explorer Post, Bay Shore Council, BSA held their "First Nighter" program. Seventeen high school students registered. This post is created to give students an awareness and "hands on" experiences in soil conservation, forestry, fish and game management.

A member of the West Bend City Council requested soils information to be used in a search for a potential land fill site since the county indicated a desire to give up the search.

The Gehl Company, West Bend, has been invited to receive an award at the Soil Conservation Society of America annual meeting in January. This award is for their faithful contribution to conservation education in elementary schools of Washington County through purchase and sponsorship of the SCSA educational booklets for the past 17 years. All 5th graders in Washington County are provided a copy of the booklet.

Jerome Mertons, of Jackson area, has developed a conservation plan with the assistance of Ivan "Ike" Kumrow, Soil Conservation Technician, which involves 9,500 feet of terraces, 182 acres of contours, 182 acres of conservation tillage and 3,000 feet of waterway. These practices will convert this farm into a very productive land unit.

The 850 acres of Friess Lake D.A. was inventoried for land-use in cooperation with SEWRPC. This is also a part of the Oconomowoc watershed which was selected by the S.E. Wisconsin area for possible Wisconsin funding. About nine sites are erosion or water quality problems. Most pollution problems appear to be from septic systems and flooding in residential areas adjacent to the lake. Ten watersheds submitted to the state will be selected to give presentations. Of these, several will be selected for planning grants to begin shortly thereafter.

The Big Cedar Lake Project is experiencing international popularity. Recently, storage structures were toured with the Mexican Minister of Agriculture and Water Resources with a DNR and UWEX representative. The Mexicans are considering projects for lakes Chapala and Cajitlan near Mexico City.

The Washington County Board held their annual highway tour in which many conservation practices were pointed out along the way including some in the Big Cedar Lake project. A stop was made at Homestead Hollow County Park on which SCS has a conservation plan.

Farmers of Washington County will no longer be greeted by Myra Brummond, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Myra retired after 17 years of service as the ACP cost sharing program for conservation practices. Through her, many thousands of dollars were distributed for conservation practices to make Washington County farm landscapes as beautiful as they are. Delores Skidmore, a 7 year veteran is replacing MYRA at this time.

Thirteen farms (7 farmers) are involved under ACP special project funds for no-till corn planting this year compared to 3 farms last year. No-till corn means planting corn in old corn rows or hay with no prior tillage. A 95% reduction in water erosion and a cost reduction of 70% (based on Wisconsin custom rate guide) can be expected using this method.

The ordinances of Washington County and Village of Germantown to control erosion and sediment in subdivisions are becoming popular as models in many parts of the state. Recently a request came from the Fox Valley area for copies to be used to assist in ordinance development there. The Village of Jackson has an erosion control ordinance and the City of West Bend has one in draft stage. Good work by these Washington County municipalities and the Park and Planning Commission.

The Kewaskum Kiwanis recognized two cooperators as outstanding conservation farmers at their recent Farm-City banquet. Bill Meyer and Mike Lettow, dairy farmers in the Kewaskum area, were the 1982 winners. Roy Esser, Assistant High School Principal and Dave Rizzardi, Vo-ag instructor conducted the program.

Since Farm Progress Days, we have had several inquiries regarding Jerusalem artichokes. One landowner said they are growing as a weed on his property. In fact, "he just ate some." I understand there was also a public meeting held on the subject in West Bend. Evidently, many people are looking for a better profit crop than corn.

Teeth are bones—but harder than most of the other bones in the body.

Congressman Tom Petri inspecting a billboard which is part of this season's campaign against drunk driving.

HOLIDAY DRUNK DRIVING

The holiday season will be a joyous time for most of us. For some, however, it will be a time of tragedy. The cause? Drunk driving.

Drunk driving is a national epidemic which kills nearly 70 persons every day in the United States. Nearly 26,000 Americans are killed and more than 1 million crippled or seriously injured in drunk driving incidents every year. The economic cost created by the drinking driver surpasses $5 billion annually.

America's number one highway safety problem—the drunk driver—represents a threat to every one of us. It is easy to dismiss this as a problem that has little relevance in our daily lives, until you take a look at the odds that a drunken driver will directly affect your life or the life of a member of your family.

Studies by the Department of Transportation have shown that, in some cities, as many as one out of every ten drivers on the road on a typical Friday or Saturday night is legally drunk. In fact, of the next 100 persons born in the United States, one of them can expect to die in a traffic accident caused by a drunk driver—unless we act to prevent it.

Fortunately, there is good news. On October 25th President Reagan signed into law HR 6170, a bill which provides incentive grants in fiscal 1983-85 to states that enact stricter drunk driving laws.

To be eligible for the grants, a state will have to require, among other things, prompt suspension or revocation of a driver's license for at least 90 days for a person convicted of drunk driving, and at least one year for a repeat offender. Furthermore, the state will have to have a mandatory jail sentence of 48 consecutive hours or at least 10 days community service for anyone convicted of drunk driving more than once in five years.

Additional money will be available to states with stricter measures such as a minimum drinking age of 21 and impounding of a vehicle operated by a motorist whose license has been suspended or revoked for drunk driving.

Included in the new law is a provision requiring the Secretary of Transportation to administer a national driver register to assist state driver licensing officials in electronically exchanging information regarding the motor vehicle records of certain individuals. Such a register will make it much more difficult for an individual whose license has been suspended to simply move to another state and obtain a new license.

These tough new laws are essential for dealing with the drunk driving epidemic. But there is also, of course, a better way to reduce the carnage on our highways. Simply put: don't drink and drive.

During the holiday season many will be going to parties and family gatherings. The temptation to drink and then drive will be strong. Many of those who fail to restrain themselves will end up as statistics on police blotters. Even more tragic: many drunk drivers will take innocent pedestrians and drivers of other vehicles with them.

If you must drink, drink sensibly. And remember that friends don't let friends drive drunk. Do your part to keep your family, your friends and yourself around for another year.

Lomira Edges Indians On Off Night, 61-60

The Kewaskum Indians lost a non-conference game here last Tuesday night which they should have won when they were shaded by Lomira of the Flyway Conference, 61-60.

The Indians shot just 33 per cent and hit on just one of seven free throws in the last quarter. Coach Jim Westphal said his team came out very sluggish in the early stages of the game, in which the Lions took a 22-12 lead in the first quarter. Kewaskum didn't appear like the same team that defeated Chilton the Friday before.

On the other hand Lomira showed a lot of hustle. Four players contributed to the 22-point first quarter effort. The Lions were led by 6-2 sophomore Rick Koll, who had eight points.

The Indians' Dan Dean had four baskets in the second quarter, cutting the Lions' lead to just seven points at the half, 37-30. Kewaskum outscored Lomira 17-14 in the third period to cut their advantage to four.

The Lions shot out in front 54-46 on two buckets by Tom Quay and Dave Muehlius early in the final quarter. Paul Anderson came into the game for the Indians and responded with two 10-foot jumpers as Kewaskum outscored the Lions 10-4 in the next few minutes. With a little over three minutes left on the clock Dean hit on a basket to tie the score at 58-58.

With less than two minutes left Jeff Buerger's free throw put the Lions ahead, 59-58. The Indians went ahead again on a rebound shot by Brian Arndt. This gave Kewaskum its only lead at 60-59. For a short time it look like the Indians would hang on as they got the ball back after a jump ball.

Jim Hanrahan took a shot that could have put the game away for Kewaskum but it failed to drop. Then Koll got free for a shot which turned the tide over to Lomira with 12 seconds left. The Indians set up a final shot, which was taken by Arndt from well out but the ball rolled off the rim just before the buzzer sounded. It was a good shot but the ball just wouldn't fall.

Coach Westphal was disturbed by his team's cold shooting. They made good on just 25 of 76 attempts.

The Indians' overall record is now 1-5, while Lomira is 1-2 in Flyway action.

The Indians were again led by Dean with 23 points on 10 field goals and three free throws. Hanrahan chipped in 11 and Arndt 10. Koll led the Lions with 18 while Joel Graff had 10 before fouling out in the last period.

In other non-conference games involving Eastern Wisconsin Conference teams, Chilton slipped past Random Lake 71-70, Sheboygan Falls lost to Port Washington, 54-39, and Kiel shaded Green Bay Preble 54-52.

The Indians will return to conference action following the holidays on Jan. 7 when they entertain Kiel.

The Kewaskum JVs also lost to Lomira, 58-49. Tom Herriges had a good game in leading the Indians with 17 points, while Brian Ruplinger added 15. This wasn't good enough, however, to get past a crack Lion sophomore team.

KHS Chess Team Beats Hartford

The Kewaskum High School Chess Team defeated Hartford Tuesday night by a score of 38½ to 16½. Kewaskum was to open its conference season Tuesday night, but Kettle Moraine postponed the match to January 5th and the Indians used the open date as a final tune up before the Christmas break.

Brian Pamperin started the team out with a quick win. Pamperin's win came less than 5 minutes after the match started. Romie Holl and Ed Ham came in with wins at board 2 and 3. Holl completely dominated his opponent while Ham used a strong attack forcing his opponent to trade his queen for a knight to avoid a mate.

Frank Voge won his opening but overlooked a checkmate against his uncashed king. This made the score Kewaskum 20, Hartford 1.

John Martin used the seldom played English opening to surprise his opponent and won a piece and the game. Jeff Igel insured the match win when his opponent accepted a draw offer in an endgame that featured bishops of opposite colors.

Glenn Classey came up with a back rank mate against Andy Wieg while Todd Jaromin was losing at board 9. Tom Crandell used a bit of luck and skill to win his game. Crandell was outplayed in the opening and fell a knight behind. In the endgame though, Crandell looked beyond the obvious move and came up with a 5 move checkmate. Hartford's Luke Hesprich completed the scoring as he defeated Gregg Classey in a very close game.

- Board 1 — Gregg Classey lost.
- Board 2 — Romie Holl won.
- Board 3 — Ed Ham won.
- Board 4 — Jeff Igel drew.
- Board 5 — Tom Crandell won.
- Board 6 — Glenn Classey won.
- Board 7 — John Martin won.
- Board 8 — Brian Pamperin won.

Local Men In County Volleyball Play

State Mutual Life Assurance Co's Volleyball Team played its finest 4-game set in its 1st year history, stated Norbert Keller, of 229 Forest Avenue, Kewaskum.

Keller, who is one of the team's playing captains, said the recent December 21st four-game sweep over King's Guard Pub, 15-11, 15-8, 15-8 and 15-11, was the second such series in the past two outings. The week prior on December 14th, the team's initial 4-game victory was led by Travis Canfield, (a former Kewaskum resident) ace spiker, over the West Bend 5th Ave. Methodist Men's Club chaired by Randy McSwain of the Kewaskum-Campbellsport area.

Back in July, 1972, the Kohlsville - Wayne U.C. Churches, under former Pastor Timothy Prasad began its volleyball activity - as a summer playground interest among its Men's Club and other community participants, and managed by John P. Leithold formerly of Ashford-Auburn Rd. and northwest Kewaskum and now of rural West Bend. Of this original 8 to 10 men, only Theodore Sailer, Leithold, and Keller from this first group the Koh-Way Churchmen remain and became the nucleus of the new State Mutual team.

Norbert, who is an avid volleyballer, softball, baseball and basketball sports leader, said this team is undoubtedly his finest group ever! Veteran members include Ed Yagodinsky, Richard Widmann, Gary Fisher, Ralph Hensel, Glenn Milkus, Gary Forston, John Buck of West Bend and John Stockhausen of Newburg. Captain Keller cited the fine offense-spiking of Canfield, Milkus, Yagodinsky, Sailer, Forston and Stockhausen, plus the superb defensive skills of Hensel, Milkus and Leithold in the past two contests and season record play to date.

He said that at present, Buck was on job-leave and Stockhausen, a promising spike offensive threat, was off until mid-January with a severely sprained left ankle and foot. In summarizing the past 10½ years, Keller commented that David Rizzardi, K.H.S. Women's Varsity Volleyball Coach and William Heckl, middle school English instructor, of 1166 Stark Street, along with Paul West, a Neosho School Educator, (whose wife Kathy is a Kewaskum School teacher), were former Koh-Way volleyball alumni, now coaching or playing on other area volleyball teams.

Local Black Belt Member Attends Judo Promotion

The West Bend Judo Club held a special promotion test and ceremony Tuesday for Matthew F. Elliott, instructor of the Sheboygan Judo-No-Kata II Judo Club.

Mr. Elliott tested before head instructors Jon and Joseph Sanfilippo for 2nd degree black belt. His test included the Nage-No-Kata, which is a pre-arranged set of 30 throws done in a ballet-type form. He was also required to do the last two sets of the Go-Kye-No-Waze. His test was completed with a perfect record.

Promotion ceremonies included presentation of the 2nd degree black belt certificate, the Kododan (head Judo school of Japan) Judo book and an honorary life membership in the West Bend Judo Club. Other black belts present were Nancy Fehlhaber of Kewaskum and Lynn Roethke of West Bend.

In other club news, Lynn Roethke has been informed by the Pan American selection committee that she has been invited to the Pan American trials this February. It will be held at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colo. Her expenses will be paid for by the Judo governing committee.

Winning the trials will send Lynn to the Pan American games which is the equivalent to the olympics for North and South America.
