Kewaskum Girl Dies Of Accident Injuries

Jennifer Jean Ramthun

A 12-year-old Kewaskum girl died Sunday night of injuries she received when she was struck by a car Monday, May 9, while riding her bicycle on Highway 28, east of the village.

Jennifer Ramthun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Schiek Ramthun Jr. of 9175 North Mill Road, Kewaskum, died at Froedtert Memorial Lutheran Hospital, Milwaukee, at 6:45 p.m.

The driver of the car, Marvin E. Wahnschaffe, 29, of Main Street, Kewaskum, was cited for driving a vehicle while intoxicated. According to authorities the investigation of the accident was continuing and charges are expected to be filed against Wahnschaffe.

According to Washington County Sheriff's officials, Wahnschaffe was driving eastbound about 4:50 p.m. when he pulled into the westbound lane to pass another car. Oncoming traffic forced him to pull back into the eastbound lane. When he returned to his lane, he drove partially on the shoulder of the road, striking the Ramthun girl.

The sixth-grader at Holy Trinity Catholic School, Kewaskum, had suffered a fractured skull in the accident, the medical examiner's report said.

An obituary appears on another page.

Issuance of TIF Bonds Approved

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

At Monday night's meeting, the Kewaskum Village Board approved resolution 83-9, authorizing and providing for the issuance of general obligation bonds by the village.

The $1,175,000 which will be borrowed will finance development and construction of several TIF district projects including the new well #3. Interest rates for the bonds will be 7.9%.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt said construction of the new well will begin as soon as signed contracts are received from Wagner Brothers, hopefully in early June.

Schmidt also said repair work is progressing on Well #1, and it was expected to be back in operation by the middle to end of next week.

In other action, the board approved a liquor license for Thomas E. Neuy. Neuy will take over operation of "Serwe's Tap" located at 1310 Riverview Drive, as of July 1st. The new business name will be "Ole' Chaperal."

The board also approved a request by the Parks and Recreation Committee to advertise for bids to enclose the horseshoe pits at Kiwanis Park.

Parks Committee Chairman Richard Schmidt informed the board that 1983 swim passes will go on sale Saturday and the pool will be officially opened Memorial Day weekend, weather permitting.

No New Leads in Search For Campbellsport Boy

The Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department and volunteers are continuing their search for 5-year-old Bobbi Joe Fritz, Campbellsport, missing since late Saturday afternoon from his home.

The search for Bobbi Joe began Saturday afternoon along the river and at the Mill Pond where he had been playing. His home borders the Milwaukee River not far from the village Mill Pond.

According to Mrs. Sharon Fritz of 605 E. Main St., the boy's mother, an older sister walked Bobbi back across the street to the driveway of their home about 4:30 p.m. Saturday, when he said he was hungry, "but he never made it into the house," she said.

Bobbi wasn't with the family when they were ready to eat. Mrs. Fritz said she then sent his 7-year-old brother, Todd, out to find the youngster.

When Bobbi couldn't be found, a neighbor notified the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department. The call was received at 5:13 p.m. Saturday and the search began.

A toy gun which Bobbi had been playing with was found in the water near the bridge. Sheriff's Department officials immediately called for a coldwater rescue team in case the little boy had fallen into the fast-moving current.

Divers worked Saturday evening until dark searching deep areas of the river while members of the Campbellsport Fire Department walked along the shallows.

The search continued throughout Sunday with the Campbellsport Police Department, Kewaskum Fire Department, the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Reserve, Alert CB Team and REACT, and local citizens assisting the sheriff's department and Campbellsport Fire Department.

As the search concentrated on the area of the Milwaukee River, searchers made their way upstream from two miles south of where the dam forms the mill pond on the Milwaukee River. A boat was also used in the search.

Mrs. Fritz and her husband are divorced. Five children live with her, while two are with her ex-husband in Illinois. Chief Deputy James Gilmore said the boy's father has been contacted.

Ice Age Comes to Life During Walk on the Wild Side in Northern Kettle Moraine

The Northern Kettle Moraine of Fond du Lac and Sheboygan counties is glacier country, molded by the great fields of ice that inched their way through the area thousands of years ago.
You can experience this unique region and learn how natural forces shape the world by enrolling in "Walks on the Wild Side," a University of Wisconsin Cooperative Extension Service course.

Naturalist Marion Moran will make the Ice Age come alive as the class visits Spruce Lake Bog, the Parnell Asker and other areas. She'll discuss the Kettle Moraine's ecology, and its natural and human history.

The class meets Saturday, June 11, from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The course fee is $24. For more information, call the Environmental Resource Unit at
(608) 262-1377. To register, call
(608) 262-2451.

This is the first of three summer walks led by Moran. In July, she'll lead a walk along
Green County's Sugar River Trail, and in August she'll take a class to Iowa County's Bethel Horizons, a wilderness area near Governor Dodge State Park.

Fire Destroys
Barn on Dins
Farm in Osceola

A barn on the Ronald Dins Sr.
farm on Vista Drive in the Town of Osceola was destroyed by fire
Wednesday night.

Also lost were farm machinery and boats belonging to various people, as well as 700 to 1,000 bales of hay owned by Carl Smith that were inside the barn located south of Armstrong.

Campbellsport Fire Chief
Donald Lackas said his department received the phone call about 11:30 p.m. from a neighbor of Dins.

Mount Calvary and Eden Fire Departments were called to assist in hauling water. Lackas estimated the barn to be about 30 feet by 80 feet.

Leo Shea, a neighbor of Dins, said his daughter, Colleen, heard a loud "boom," looked out the window and saw flames.

Shea said he drove past the barn a short time before the fire was discovered and did not notice anything.

Dins said he arrived home at 11 p.m. Wednesday and noticed nothing unusual before going to bed. He said he was awakened by a neighbor pounding on his door about 11:40 p.m. When he looked outside, Dins said the barn was engulfed in flames.

The barn and its contents were destroyed, but no dollar estimate of the loss was available.

Lackas asked the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department to assist in determining the cause of the barn fire. Detectives who examined the scene said the fire appeared to be of a suspicious nature possibly arson.

Dins said all electrical power to the barn was turned off previously.

A fire department crew remained at the scene throughout the night. Firemen kept the blaze from spreading to a nearby shed.

Dear Friends

Most families decide in advance upon a doctor in whom they have confidence to call in an emergency. In like manner, it is wise to decide upon a funeral director in whom you can place your confidence in time of need. Select this man in advance, when good judgment is not upset by the stress of your grief.

Almost all the trees are still bare except for a few courageous efforts of green on the part of some confused trees.

If this is spring, can summer snowmobiling be far behind?

Hartford Centennial To Feature Pageant

The Hartford Centennial celebration's major event will be the professionally produced outdoor spectacular "Hartford One-Hundred." The 90 minute pageant, produced by the John B. Rogers Company will be presented live Monday through Saturday, May 30-June 4, 1983, at Gib Mahr Field, Cedar Street, Hartford. Pre-pageant entertainment begins at 8 p.m. with the pageant getting underway at 9 p.m.

The show requires nearly 350 local persons "performing in pantomime, with the voice parts being done by six narrators. Costumes for the entire production will be loaned by the Rogers Company free of charge to all participants. The 250 foot setting for the production will be constructed on the field, and will be comprised of ramps, rake stages, and scenery backdrops so that the show will be continuous.

The production will dramatically tell, through the media of visual and narrative emphasis, the highlights of Hartford's colorful past. Many familiar faces and historical figures of the past will reappear again—from Timothy Hall, James and Charles Rossman, Hartford's first pioneers, to the arrival of the first train; from names like Place, Frank, Dietzler, Loos and Schmidt, to the naming of the town of Hartford. The early churches, schools, and businesses will all come to life to reveal the past in this most memorable event.

There will be drama, comedy, six choreographed production numbers, and a mammoth fireworks display each night to bring the show to a befitting twentieth century climax. Unusual lighting, the finest in sound, combined with a cast of hundreds, will give the audience a most impressive evening of entertainment and history. "Hartford One-Hundred" will certainly be the biggest event in the area for 1983.

Mary Reilly-Kloss, left, demonstrates machine applique technique while Mary Pearson, center, Elvira Nigh and others observe. The session was offered in the high school sewing room as part of the KEA Community Night.

KEA vice president Fran Charland, who is also a private pilot, presented a class on Private Aviation. Over 70 district residents attended sessions at the KEA Community Night.

KHS teacher Howard Zemlicka presented "Lake Michigan and Inland Fishing." This session was one of the most popular offerings of the KEA Community Night.

State Representative Esther Luckhardt Votes Against 'Consenting Adult Bill'

MADISON — Our State Representative Esther Luckhardt (R-Horicon) today reported that she voted against the so-called "consenting adult bill" (Assembly Bill 250) "because I have deep reservations about putting the Legislature in the position of appearing to condone unbridled sexual activity between unmarried adults regardless of the potential welfare costs or the corrosive effect on the moral climate of our society."

Noting that "it frequently is argued that teenagers who abuse the use of alcoholic beverages are merely following the example set by adults who drink," the GOP lawmaker added, "Supporters of the 'consenting adult' bill apparently are ignoring the fact that under their proposal unmarried adults will be setting the example of casual, random sexual activity for our impressionable teenagers to follow."

Luckhardt continued, "while there may be a semblance of merit in their concern of the right of privacy in this case, we have numerous other rights which are curtailed or abridged for what is called 'The Public Good.'"

Among those rights abridged she listed: the right to use property as the owners see fit; the right of mothers of small children and other homebound homemakers to help their family budgets by taking in work to do in the home, such as sewing and knitting for "needle trade industry" employers; the right to work without being forced to join a union or pay the equivalent in dues; the right of parents not to have their children vaccinated with drugs which have had serious and sometimes fatal side-effects in the past; the right of an employer to hire whomever he wants; the right of a landlord to rent his property to whomever he wants.

"In my opinion, 'The Public Good' also should include the preservation and strengthening in our society of a healthy, sound moral climate, based on time tested customs developed over thousands of years — to prevent the moral decay which eventually caused the collapse of many great civilizations and nation states including Persia, Greece, Rome, Carthage and China," declared Luckhardt.

"I also reject the argument used by supporters of the 'consenting adult bill' who contended our current laws regarding extra-marital sexual activity should be repealed because they are unenforceable," Luckhardt said. "This, in effect, undermines the whole purpose of our statutes by telling people to start violating any law they don't feel like obeying and the Legislature will repeal it for them."

"After all, the quality of life and liberty in our free society, and its survival, depend upon the degree to which its citizens are willing voluntarily to obey those laws which are difficult to enforce," she pointed out.

"I do agree that the preservation of morality in our society also is the responsibility of our churches, schools and individual families — but I feel that the Legislature should be fortifying their efforts — not sabotaging them," Luckhardt concluded.

If anyone wishes to get in touch with me, please do not hesitate to call the Hotline - 266-9960 or my office number - 266-1190.

"Then let us laugh — it is the cheapest luxury man enjoys."

I believe the general public views with dismay the abortions being performed on potentially viable infants at tax-supported facilities. In addition to panging our consciences, these "survivors" raise other questions surrounding the human rights tragedy of late-term abortion practices in general.

Six babies have briefly survived abortion procedures at public hospitals in Madison within the past year. Madison General Hospital recently announced resumption of their late-term eugenic abortions after a brief suspension upon learning from other facilities that live births are simply a "common risk" of the procedure.

An important bill, AB148, which confronts the problem of abortion in tax-supported hospitals is currently assigned to the Assembly Committee on Family and Economic Assistance. Unfortunately, the committee chair, Rep. Marcia

Open House Held At Recycling Center

Troop #12 Farmington

Jr. Helpers and Scouts

On April 16th the Kewaskum Jr. Woman's Club Recycling Committee, with lots of Jr. helpers, held an "Open House" to celebrate "Recycling Month." The committee served homemade cookies and a gesture of goodwill for the communities commitment to the Jr. Woman's Club Recycling Project.

Girl Scout troop #12 from Farmington School plus their leaders came to help that morning and learn a little about recycling and they did! Thanks girls.

Madison hummed with the voices of over 5,000 boys and girls from every corner of the state for the Annual State Music Festival on May 10. Kewaskum was not without its share of participants, being represented by a triple trio, a clarinet duet and an alto vocal solo. The triple trio was composed of Gloria Schaefer, Connie Rossow, Sharon Harbeck, Gwen Edwards, Patty Edwards, Geraldine Guttman, Karen Gruhle, Sandra Gruhle and Carole Schultz. Gwen Edwards and Eileen Hanselman played a clarinet duet and Shirely Strehmel sang an alto solo. The triple trio received a Division I (superior) rating. The clarinet duet and alto solo, although not receiving a Division I, did very well and also should be complimented on their fine work.

4-H MEMBERS PREPARE PROJECT DEMONSTRATIONS

There are two important parts to 4-H. One is to learn, the other is to share what you have learned with someone else. This sharing can be done by showing and telling and demonstrating to others in their homes, at meetings or at demonstration programs.

A county demonstration program will be held Wednesday, June 29. This is an opportunity to teach someone something about a particular project. It is also an opportunity to see how skillful you are in presenting a demonstration. A judge will evaluate each of the demonstrations and give comments on how to improve. Since this is considered a part of county fair, prizes and ribbons will be awarded.

There are different divisions by age. There is a 9-11 age group, 12-14 and 15 and over. As members demonstrate at their club or project meeting they should keep in mind the county demonstration program. It is another opportunity to improve your skill in presenting information to others.

Several of the top demonstrators in the county program are invited to participate in the State Fair in August.

The bright youngster said to his daddy: "If you give me a dime, I'll tell you what the milkman said to mother this morning." The father dug down speedily, handed over the coin, and said: "Okay, now, what did he say?" The little lad headed out the door as he replied: "Do you want any milk today, lady?"

had a narrow escape from being seriously injured last Tuesday while helping Mr. Westcott saw lumber. Mr. Bremser stepped over the belt between the engine and sawing apparatus, when he got caught, the belt carrying him along and then throwing him with force against the machine. He escaped with a dislocated shoulder and several minor injuries.

The marriage of Miss Anna Beisbier of St. Kilian to Mike Jaeger of Hartford (formerly of Ashford) took place last Tuesday. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wenzel Beisbier and the groom is the youngest son of Peter Jaeger of Ashford.

A company known as the Crystal Spring Brook Trout Hatchery, has incorporated at Lomira with a capital of $150,000. John Buerger is the president and Harry Potter, secretary and treasurer. The company owns 10 acres of land on which are 5 large ponds and 5 springs. The company will engage in raising brook trout for the eastern market.

St. John's Church at New Fane was the scene of a very pretty wedding on May 2, when Miss Emelie M. L. Schultz became the bride of Emil W. Gessner. Miss Schultz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schultz and Gessner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Gessner Sr.

"Gesundheit," the German word for health, is a very appropriate toast to offer over glasses of Lithia beer.

Miss Rose Mayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nic. Mayer of Kewaskum, and Archie C. Scherer of Milwaukee, were married at Holy Trinity Church here last Tuesday.

Rodenkirch Candidate in Milk Marketing Board Elections

Wisconsin dairy farmers recently approved the Wisconsin dairy promotion order.

The milk marketing order approved the process of assessing each dairyman 5c per hundred weight on all milk produced in the state and sold to plants. It is estimated that $11 million will be raised annually to finance programs designed to maintain and expand sales of milk and dairy products.

Funds collected by the marketing order will be administered by a 25 member board of dairy farmers. These individuals will be elected from a list of 252 candidates. Producers will be mailed election ballots according to the district in which they reside.

Each ballot will contain a list of candidates specific to that district. Producers will be asked to vote for one of the candidates, or as an alternative may write in the name of another producer from the same district who is currently producing milk.

Individuals, partnerships, corporations or other business entities currently engaged in the production of milk will be entitled to one vote. Producers will be asked to certify eligibility to participate in the election and enclose a signed eligibility certificate with the ballot. To be valid, each ballot must include the certificate and must be returned to the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture postmarked on or before June 3, 1983. All ballots will have the proper return address and are postage paid.

Washington County is a part of District 18. Candidates for that district include Robert Bartholomew, Big Bend; William P. Emsile, Eagle; Sylvia J. Hemauer, Plymouth; Wilfred Huenink, Cedar Grove; Norman F. Kerkman, Burlington; Fred Linstedt, Colgate; Edward Paulus, Belgium; Richard G. Rehberg, Burlington; Daniel J. Rodenkirch, Kewaskum; Mrs. John A. Scott, Caledonia; and Roger F. Sherman Sr., Wilmot.

The person receiving the most votes will be the representative on the board. The person receiving the second most votes will be the alternate.

The target date for implementation of the milk marketing order is July 1, 1983. The first contribution of 5c per hundred weight will appear on the producers July check.

Wendy Volz, daughter of Joseph and Deanna Volz, 318 S. Fond du Lac Ave., Campbellsport; has been selected to work as an intern at Lincoln Hills School, a state institution for delinquent boys and girls located in Irma, Wisc. It operates as a reception center for youths between the ages of 12 and 18 who have been adjudicated delinquent by the juvenile court and whose custody has been transferred to the Department of Health and Social Services. It also serves as a facility to provide residential care, treatment, and training for those youths.

Volz has worked at Regal Ware, Inc. in Kewaskum for two summers.

Her major responsibility will be the supervision of the children in their everyday living activities as well as being a counselor. Ms. Volz will be counseling in the drug and alcohol rehabilitation program and in school as an academic educational counselor. She will be involved in direct treatment services to the children in the institution. Wendy will be living on the institution grounds for ten weeks so as to learn all aspects of the juvenile justice system.

The internship program at The University of Wisconsin-La Crosse integrates classroom theory with practical experience and allows students to work in field experiences related to their academic and occupational goals. Wendy is a senior at UW-La Crosse majoring in broadfield social studies (Secondary Education) and minoring in psychology. She hopes to pursue a career in juvenile justice and correctional education.

LENNOX PULSE™ FURNACE.

PIK

By Stewart Truelsen

For the first time in a few years, we can safely say that American farmers are not going to produce record crops this year. Think of it as agriculture on a diet. Spring planting will continue over the next couple months but instead of those long, neat rows of field crops or stretches of wheat, some of the cropland will have a green blanket over it.

Farmers have pledged to take 92 million acres of land out of production. That is about 35 percent of the nation's cropland base. The final figures may slip some but they will be substantial nevertheless. The idled land will be seeded in alfalfa, clover or grass instead.

The cornerstone of this most massive farm acreage set-aside ever is the PIK program. PIK is an acronym for payment-in-kind and it literally means that farmers will be paid in surplus commodities for what they otherwise would have produced on the idled acres. Wheat, corn, sorghum, rice and upland cotton are all eligible for PIK.

The overwhelming response of farmers to PIK surprised many people. After all, farmers are production oriented and also have a disdain for government programs, that however well-intentioned, often result in adding to farm problems. For instance, the farmer owned grain reserve which was intended to temporarily isolate excess stocks from the market is bloated with over four million bushels of grain.

But analysis of the PIK signup by American Farm Bureau Federation economists indicates PIK will achieve its two initial objectives. It will reduce carryover supplies at the end of the 1983/84 marketing year and it will improve net farm income by reducing production expenses.

The AFBF analysis estimates a corn crop this season of 5.8 billion bushels, our smallest crop since 1975, and well below last year's record of 8.4 billion bushels. For wheat, the Farm Bureau estimate is for production of 2.2 billion bushels, substantially below last year's record of 2.8 billion bushels.

More importantly, end of the year stocks of all crops are reduced. Corn and rice stocks will decline by 40 percent from a year earlier, wheat and cotton by 20 percent, sorghum and soybeans by 5 percent. Soybeans are not part of the acreage reduction program but plantings are expected to decline anyway.

Commodity prices have increased markedly since President Reagan first detailed PIK at the American Farm Bureau Federation Annual Meeting last January in Dallas. At the time he said, "We've got surplus commodities sitting useless in bins and overflowing in warehouses. Let's put those surpluses to work to help the American farmer. Those surpluses hanging over the market can't help but have an effect on prices."

The thought of those surpluses being reduced can't also help but have an effect on prices. But American Farm Bureau economists warn farmers not to be too optimistic. Assuming normal weather and above average yields, because the less productive land is normally idled, annual average farm prices will not increase substantially because of PIK. Net cash farm income however will increase by $4 or $5 billion because productive expenses will be less.

PIK is only the diet plan. The health of agriculture will not be fully restored until we rebuild demand for American agricultural products in the world market. The world recession, grain embargoes and the competitiveness of other suppliers have taken the edge off farm export growth.

According to AFBF research economist Ross Korves, "PIK is great for one year or two years to get stocks back in line, but in the long run we have to develop new markets so once again the use potential approaches production capacity. That is the thing that no one is talking about now, but that has to be the central issue in the long run."

Hope always runs high during spring planting. This year the farmers won't be planting nearly as much. That in itself should turn some of that hope into reality.

Congressman JIM SENSENBRENNER Reports

CUSTOMER SUGGESTIONS CAN HELP IMPROVE POSTAL SERVICE

The U. S. Postal Service, which handles over 110 billion pieces of mail a year, plays an important role in our lives and a critical one to most businesses. This is why my constituents keep me informed on how they feel the Postal Service is doing. That's good, for complaints and suggestions often can result in service improvements.

For example, a Lake Mills businessman informed me not long ago that a late afternoon downtown mail pickup had been discontinued, despite the popularity of the box in question. Many senior citizens, he noted, bought stamps at a nearby store and used this mailbox rather than the more distant post office. Eliminating the afternoon pickup also delayed delivery by almost a day.

I asked the Madison postmaster, who supervises the Lake Mills operation, to reconsider the decision. As a result, a 4:45 p.m. pickup was restored, which allows local postal workers to get it ready in time for the daily 5:10 p.m. outbound mail shipment.

This may not be a dramatic change, but it illustrates how the alertness of a citizen can bring about better postal service.

In another case, a Brookfield worker noticed the collection boxes at a local industrial park were nearly always overflowing at the end of the day. Although mail was picked up twice daily, most was deposited late in the afternoon.

At my request, the Milwaukee postmaster ordered an inspection of the site and subsequently increased in capacity of the boxes to handle the mail volume. Again, a citizen's observation produced better service.

A common complaint I hear at my "town hall" meetings is that letters are sent to the wrong community. This happens when postal workers sorting letters (at a rate of one per second) misread a digit in the ZIP code. Automatic sorting equipment is being used at more post offices to solve this problem.

Recently, I talked to a constituent who worked overseas for a time. He said the mail service there was unpredictable and was like playing roulette.

The Postal Service is a huge organization with 670,000 workers. Problems happen sometimes, but given the size of the job, it does it respectably well. Those workers can be proud of the service they provide, for despite its quirks, it is still the best in the world.

County Receives Federal Funds to Train Older People

Five county agencies have received federal funds for demonstration projects to train older people to help other older people cope with problems such as grief and loneliness.

Gerald Berge, Administrator of the state Division of Community Services (DCS), announced the awards.

Approximately $10,000 went jointly to aging commissions or mental health agencies to conduct projects in Adams, Barron/Polk, Oneida, Washington and Winnebago counties.

DCS received a grant from the federal Administration on Aging (AoA) for the project to develop effective, low-cost services for older persons with mental health problems.

According to AoA more people over age 65 experienced mental or emotional disorders than any other age group, yet they are "underserved in nearly every mental health system in the country."

AoA estimates that people over 65 commit 25% of all suicides reported annually and that at least 25% experience mental or emotional disorders. They make up only 11% of the general population.

Washington County Mental Health Center, Gail M. Johnson (414-338-4545) received a grant of $9,987.

County Fair to Recognize 125 Year Farms, Homes

The Washington County Junior Fair will be celebrating its 125th fair this year. The Fair Committee would like to recognize Washington County farms or homes which have been owned by one family for at least 125 years at this year's fair. The farm or home must have been in continuous family ownership.

Application forms with complete requirements for the award are available at the Washington County Junior Fair Office, P.O. Box 537, 515 E. Washington Street, West Bend 53095 or by calling 338-4485; 644-5204 or 342-2929. Deadline for application is July 1.

Washington County farms or homes with 125 years of continuous ownership will be recognized at a special program at the 1983 Washington County Junior Fair (date and time to be announced later). The recognition will only be held at this year's fair.

If you're the lucky owner of a cast iron skillet, after washing and towel drying, place it in a warm oven to complete drying. Moisture is its worst enemy.

Today's Medicine

YOUR CHILD'S TEETH By J. D. Connor, D.D.S.

We have two sets of teeth during our lifetime. The teeth making up the first set are called "baby" or primary teeth. The technical name for them is deciduous teeth, because they grow, mature, and come out like the leaves of deciduous trees. However, unlike the shedding of the leaves in the fall, the 20 teeth are lost over a period of six or seven years.

The second set of teeth are permanent. There are 32 in a complete set. A first essential for a lifetime of good permanent teeth is to keep the deciduous teeth in a healthy condition.

With what we know today about dental care, your child can usually keep this permanent teeth for a lifetime. But good dental health practices are necessary from infancy throughout life. They are vitally important during preschool years.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF YOUR CHILD'S TEETH

All 20 deciduous and the first permanent teeth are developing in your child's jaw at birth. The process of development begins during the prenatal period and continues the first 12 years of your child's life. These years are of great importance in the development of his teeth.

Your child's lower front teeth usually appear when he is about six months old. After the two lower front teeth come in, the upper front teeth appear, followed by the lower and upper back teeth, the cuspids or eye teeth, and the "second year" or deciduous molar teeth. These teeth come in earlier in some children and later in others.

Once the teeth erupt, do not let your child have access during the day or be put to bed at night with a bottle. The constant exposure of the teeth to natural or added sugar in the bottle's contents results in decay called "nursing bottle syndrome."

At about age six, the first permanent molars ("six-year molars") appear. Because they come in back of the deciduous teeth, parents sometimes mistake them for deciduous teeth. They are permanent and should last a lifetime. The first permanent molars serve as chewing surfaces while the deciduous teeth are being replaced by other permanent teeth. The molars also help to shape the lower part of the face. Their position and health influence the position of other teeth. Under normal circumstances, you can figure out how many "baby" teeth your child should have by subtracting 6 from his or her age in months.

IMPORTANT FUNCTIONS OF THE PRIMARY TEETH

The deciduous teeth serve four important functions. First, they are necessary for chewing foods thoroughly. Second, they affect your child's appearance. Third, a full set of sound, properly spaced, deciduous teeth holds space for the permanent teeth forming underneath them. This can influence the general health of your child for the rest of his life. Fourth, the primary teeth help your child to speak clearly.

May Is High Blood Pressure Month - Take Control

May is recognized nationwide as High Blood Pressure Month.

High blood pressure - hypertension - is one of the most serious diseases in the United States. Statistics tell us that uncontrolled high blood pressure is still the leading cause of disability and contributes to more than 750,000 deaths annually. High blood pressure adds to the workload of the heart and arteries. If it continues for a long time, the heart and arteries may not function as well as they should and other body organs may be affected. There is increased risk of stroke, heart failure, kidney failure, and heart attack.

High blood pressure is treatable. If it is detected early and treated, you can lead a normal healthy life. Because high blood pressure has no symptoms, many people do not know they have the disease. The only way to find out is to have your blood pressure checked routinely, at least once a year. It is a safe, simple, inexpensive test that takes only a few minutes.

If a person has high blood pressure, it is important to stay under medical treatment. Your doctor will select a medical program suited to individual needs. This may mean taking medicine and changing your diet and health habits. Control means living every day with your treatment plan. It is easier to follow than most people think.

Once you have high blood pressure, you will probably always have it. If you treat it, it can be kept under control. You can be healthy, live a full life, and continue your normal activities.

Help celebrate High Blood Pressure Month by having your blood pressure checked. Listed below is the schedule of May screening sites.

The Washington County High Blood Pressure Program is co-sponsored by the Community Health Nursing Service and the American Heart Association.

MAKING ENDS MEET

By Joyce Albrecht, Extension Home Economist

MAY FOOD SUPPLY AND PRICE OUTLOOK

The USDA has recently revised its estimate for 1983 food price increases downward to a range of 2% to 4% from its earlier estimate of 3% to 6% for the year. The revision is due mainly to larger than expected supplies of both fresh winter vegetables and meats plus lower crude oil prices. Grocery store prices are expected to rise less than 3%, and restaurant meal prices by 4% or 5%. Strengthening consumer demand is expected to cause part of the price increase, with marketing costs (primarily labor, transportation and packaging) rising at more moderate rates than in the past couple of years.

For May, the food supply and price picture looks like this:

Red Meats and Poultry

Beef. Cattle prices are lower than a year ago, with wholesale prices for beef running about 9c under April 82 levels. Retail price averages for all cuts should be fairly stable as we approach summer, but expect some increases in the tender cuts which are most popular for outdoor cooking. Watch for retail features on sub-primals—i.e. whole tenderloins, short loins, ribs, etc. You may find attractive prices on such cuts if you are willing to buy the entire subprimal. Some retailers include cutting to your specs in the advertised price—others may charge extra for it.

Pork. Supplies are up, and there has been a slight decrease in market prices. Pork prices are down quite a bit from a year ago, with hams wholesaling 20c under spring 82 levels. Further price declines may occur during the summer and early fall. Consumers should watch ads carefully to take advantage of pork features. Remember, today's pork is lean and well-marbled beef. It's also good for outdoor cooking.

Broiler-Fryers. Prices remain attractive. Expect continuation of frequent features on fryers and plan to use them in many ways if you are trying to keep food expenditures at a reasonable level.

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables

The produce section gets more interesting every week. ASPARAGUS supplies are increasing, with heavier supplies from CA and some other states. The MI harvest is just beginning. Prices are lower, but are still high enough to keep this delicious spring treat in the "expensive" category. Adjust other choices in your meals to include some anyway. LETTUCE supplies are up, with peak harvest in the Central AZ and San Joaquin Valley. Prices have moderated. CUCUMBERS, GREEN PEPPERS, CELERY increasing in supply. Peak season for RADISHES, GREEN ONIONS. If you have a yen for corn on the cob before your local supply is even planted, May is the first of the four top months for SWEET CORN. It's coming from FL and CA now. CAULIFLOWER supplies are steady. BROCCOLI and BRUSSEL SPROUTS are decreasing in supply.

In the fresh fruit department, the best buys are fairly limited. APPLES, VALENCIA ORANGES, PINEAPPLE and RHUBARB are leaders. May is one of the top months for pineapples from Hawaii, Mexico and Central America, so you are likely to see features. STRAWBERRIES are also at high supply levels this month. CA berries are large and at more reasonable prices. Nice combination with fresh pineapple, don't you think? The season is just beginning for WATERMELON, BLUEBERRIES, PEACHES. Weather has caused severe damage to the South Carolina peach crop, with losses estimated at 65%. Some losses in Georgia, but much less severe. Since the early peaches come from these areas, don't expect any bargains. Peach prospects in Arkansas and Missouri look all right now, but it's too early to tell. Also, uncertain predictions for the size of the CA crop.

Processed Fruits and Vegetables

CORN seems to be about the only canned vegetable in good supply. CANNED PEAS, GREEN BEANS are in tight supply with prices firm. The supply situation for FROZEN VEGETABLES is better, but prices are firm. CANNED FRUITS are almost all in tight supply, as retail prices indicate. Some features on canned PINEAPPLE may occur this month, but specials on PEACHES, PEARS OR FRUIT COCKTAIL are unlikely. If you find any, take advantage of them. Industry sources are not optimistic about a large pack of new season fruits, especially peaches, but again, it's a bit early for confident predictions.

Child Restraint Penalty Section Goes Into Effect

According to a recent news release by Sheriff Clarence Schwartz of the Washington County Sheriff's Department, the grace period for child restraints is over, and parents who don't use them when transporting small children will be liable for a forfeiture of up to $75.

The law requires an approved child safety seat for a child under two years of age, and either a car safety seat or safety belts for two and three year olds.

Although the law actually went into effect in November, a six month educational period was provided before the penalty provision went into effect May 1st. Now convictions for violations involving a child under two years of age will result in forfeiture of $30 to $75, Sheriff Schwartz said. However, if the violator obtains a child safety seat within 30 days, the forfeiture will be excused; but there is no provision for waiving the penalty for a violation involving a two or three year old child, the Sheriff added.

The new law applies to Wisconsin parents or guardians transporting their own children in the family vehicle. However, there is a provision for waiving the law for children who cannot be transported in safety seats because of a particular medical condition, body size, or a physical disability. In this case, the child's physician provides a typewritten statement which the parents or guardians carry in the transporting vehicle. The statement must be updated annually.

Although no demerit points are assessed against the driver's license, evidence of compliance or non-compliance may be used in a civil court action arising out of motor vehicle accidents.

Sheriff Schwartz said the information on the law and a shopping guide to infant and toddler car seats is available from the Washington County Sheriff's Department at 500 N. Schmidt Road, West Bend, WI.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank my dear family, relatives, neighbors and friends for the visits, cards, flowers, gifts, phone calls and food brought to my home while I was a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital. Also thank you to Rev. Robert Lindau for his visits and prayers; Dr. Paul Schneider and Dr. James Froelich, and the nursing staff on the third floor at the hospital.

All these kindnesses will not be forgotten. May God Bless you all for it.

Stock Car Opener At Plymouth May 21

"Farmer Ron" Luedtke of Lomira along with Scott Vollbrecht and Jeff Brill, both of Sheboygan, will be out to defend their respective championships in the modified, sportsman and hobby stock divisions which begin racing for Eastern Wisconsin Stock Cars in the season opener May 21, 8:00 p.m. at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds in Plymouth.

The trio, accounting for 14 of the 30 feature races sponsored by Eastern last season, will be leading the 100-plus field racing each Saturday evening through September 10.

Luedtke will once again be powered by the 1972 Maverick which took him to six feature victories on the way to his top money winning spot in 1982.

Top challengers will be Willie Goeden, Kewaskum, 1978 Vega; Dick Berth, Cedar Grove, 1961 Corvette; and Frankie Heimerl, West Bend, 1969 Corvette. Other strong competitors will be Tim Crimmings, Neosho, and Dick Hed, Sheboygan. Both men will be entering new cars this season. Wayne Goetch, Sheboygan Falls, 1981 Camaro, and Gene Erdmann, Sussex, 350 Corvette, figure to be among the top drivers as well.

Main competition against Vollbrecht and his 1976 Firebird will come from Buck Carman, Sheboygan Falls, 1979 Camaro; Gary Laack, Glenbeulah, 1970 Camaro; and Dave Deicher, Plymouth, 1974 Camaro. Jim Horneck, Sheboygan, 1976 Chevelle, and Pat Harshbarger, Mt. Calvary, 1974 Dodge Challenger, figure to be stiff competition in the sportsman division.

A trio from Plymouth will be the main challengers for Brill and his 1967 Chevelle, Dave Dippel, 1967 Firebird, Randy Walter, 1967 Chevelle, along with Dave and Richard Haag, 1965 Chevelle, will be tough competition in hobby stock racing at the fairgrounds.

Steve Schad, Kiel, 1970 Chevelle and Chuck Amweg, Elkhart Lake, 1970 Nova, also figure to be top competitors for Brill.

Time trials are scheduled to begin at 7:00 with the feature racing to begin at 8:00. A Sunday rain date has been set into the schedule this season.

Girls Fifth, Boys Last in Eastern Wisconsin Relays

The Eastern Wisconsin Conference relays were held at Sheboygan Falls Thursday for the girls and at Kiel Friday for the boys. The New Holstein track teams won both meets.

The Huskie girls finished with 109 points Thursday, with Sheboygan Falls second with 70, Two Rivers 64, Kiel 56, Kewaskum 49½, Chilton 47, and Plymouth 38½.

For the boys Friday, New Holstein was first with 107 points, Sheboygan Falls next with 94½, Two Rivers 76½, Kiel 51, Chilton 26, Plymouth 35, and Kewaskum 43. The boys meet lasted 6½ hours.

The Kewaskum girls had one first place, in the shot put, won by juniors Holly Kempf and Julie Koepke and senior Marea Kuphal. The girls combined for 100-2, which is better than they did in the New Holstein relays the week before.

The distance medley unit of Sandy Nigh, Lisa Fusek, Darlene Luedtke and Linda Larsen took second in 4:40.4, just five seconds off first place.

Larsen, Lori Batzler, Erika Follmann, and Sandy Klein also came in third in the 3,200 meter relay.

The best the boys could do was a pair of fourths, in the 6,400 meter relay and 900 meter low hurdle shuffle.

Jeff Nigh, Andy Kougl, Bill Gruss, and Paul McFadden picked up the fourth in the long distance event, in 20:44.3.

Hurdlers Brian Johnson, Dan Menzel, and Peter Nohlmans all had their best times of the year, combining for a 1:30.2. Johnson led with 40.9.

Girls Win Triangular, 3rd in Mayville Invite

The Kewaskum girls won a meet last Tuesday at home when they defeated Plymouth and Chilton in a triangular.

Featuring the Indians' win were six first places and two second bests. They scored 64½ points to 53½ for Plymouth and 49 for Chilton.

Freshman Lisa Fusek went 5-0 in the high jump, her best effort in competition. Sophomore Sandy Klein came in with a 12:17.7 in the 3,200 meter run for a win.

Junior Holly Kempf was a double winner in the shot put with 36' 6 3/4" and discus with 110 1/4. Sandy Secor also hit 30 3/4" in the triple jump, to become the first Indian to hit the 30-foot mark.

Other Kewaskum wins came in the 800 meter run and 1,600 meter run by Linda Larsen and Erika Follmann respectively.

Last Monday the Indians participated in the Mayville Invitational and took third with 105 points, just 4 1/3 behind Horicon and 16 behind the host Cardinals. Waupun was fourth with 86 2/3 and Dodge Land fifth with 65.

The Indian weight people provided good points. Kempf won in both the shot and discus.

Fusek and Amy Kougl finished 2-3 in the high jump as both hit 4' 8" and Darlene Luedtke placed second in the long jump with 15' 3".

Other than Kempf's firsts, the only other Kewaskum winner was Larsen, who hit 2:31.3 in the 880.

Leitheiser Scores Hole-in-One As Golfers Win 2, Lose 2 Meets

Kewaskum High School's golfers lost two Eastern Wisconsin Conference meets last Monday and Tuesday, even though one Indian scored a hole-in-one.

While Kewaskum was losing to Chilton at Hickory Hills, Tim Leitheiser, using a five iron, hit a hole-in-one on the 150 yard, fifth hole. The ball bounced twice and dropped into the cup while Leitheiser and other members of his group watched. The ace did not upset Leitheiser until the final hole where he four-putted for a final score of 43.

Chilton's Zarl Zacharias took medalist honors with a three over par 39. The Indians' Chris Harlow was one shot behind with a 40. Paul Poznanski shot 47 and Karl Zarling 50 for Kewaskum.

On Tuesday the Indians played Two Rivers at Mishicot on the Fox Hills course and lost again.

Harlow led Kewaskum with 42 and Leitheiser had a 46, but their other scores jumped to 52 (Jeff Igel) and 53 (Frank Voge). The Indians were without Zarling, who had the flu.

Kewaskum's JVs split, led by Igel and Brodzeller.

On Thursday and Friday, the Kewaskum golfers showed improvement with victories over Green Lake and three Eastern Wisconsin teams and their lowest four man total of the season.

Playing the front nine at Green Lake's Lawsonia, the Indians came in with a 190 total, 16 lower than host Green Lake. The losers' Maguire took medalist honors with a four over par 41. Then Kewaskum had the next four best scores, led by 46 scores by Harlow and Zarling.

The JVs also won as Green Lake did not have a full team.

The next day, playing at Hon-E-Kor, the Indians put it all together, combining for a 169 to defeat Kiel (178), Chilton (181), and New Holstein (192).

Harlow was medalist with a four over par 39, and three other Indian counters came in with scores of 45 or better. Zarling had 42, Igel had his best round to date with a 43 and Leitheiser recorded a 45, despite a double bogey on the last hole.

The three conference victories give the Indians a 3-8 mark in the EW and they are 5-11 overall.
