WANTED - One Miracle Man for Maintenance Manager Position

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

At Monday night's Kewaskum School Board meeting, a job description and salary for the newly created position of Supervisor of Building and Grounds was presented.

After reading the outline, district resident Art Fleury told the board, "I think this job description is terrible. You want him to be a plumber, carpen, electrician and sweep floors too. What do you want for $25,000? And you want him to work 24 hours a day." Charles Voge, resident, told the board, he felt it was a good proposal, but added "we want the best man we can get for the job. I think you should set a salary and make it top dollar."

When board member Neal Weare made the motion to accept the job description and direct District Administrator John Long to post the position, board member Tom Brigham questioned how this could be done when a salary had not been set. Board member Ralph Horner said the board had already approved the salary when it approved the proposed 1983-84 budget, because $22,500 has been set aside for the position. Brigham did not feel this could be considered board approval of a set salary figure. Fleury noted, even if he were qualified, at that kind of money, he wouldn't waste his time applying for the job. Referring to the Weare and Horner who had worked on the description

Size of School Budget Surplus For 1982-83 Pleasant Surprise

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

At the close of the 1982-83 fiscal year June 30th, the Kewaskum School District had a cash balance of almost $100,000 contrary to earlier forecasts that it might end up in the "red."

At the School Board meeting June 27th, District Administrator John Long indicated there might be a small balance of around $36,000. He indicated he was now happy to see the district was in the "black" to the tune of $99,745.00.

Once the balance was confirmed, Long authorized payment of several bills for the 1983-84 school year. They include approximately $42,000 to Kettle Moraine Agency for insurance, $11,000 for paper supplies, approximately $22,000 for CESA services and $25,000 for miscellaneous bills.

Long said the cash balance must be spent in order for the district to receive state aids on the money. If we were to hold on to the money like some people would like us to do, said Long, we could lose state aid dollars.

Long was asked why the money had not been used to pay for the new computers which had been ordered. He stated only bills whose invoices were received prior to the June 30th closing of the accounts could be paid with the 1982-83 surplus funds. As yet, we have not received any invoices for the computer purchases. "If we tried to pay any bills dated after June 30th, the state would really get on our case," said Long.

Long was asked where the money would come from to pay for the computers. It will have to come out of the State Trust Fund loan he said. Commenting further on Trust Fund progress, Long also said the district would begin the process of hiring an architect for the various roofing projects. We should begin advertising for bids in about two to three weeks, he said.

The major projects are going to be combined into seven or eight packages for bidding purposes. The first will be roof repairs at the various schools.

Because of the delay with the state loan application, we're about four weeks behind schedule, noted Long. I'm sure we'll get all the roof work done before winter, but I'm afraid work on the front of the high school will be delayed until next spring. This will not create any serious problems, said Long, the district will simply place the unspent money in an account and let it draw interest until it is needed in spring.

Authorities Continue Drowning Investigation

Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department is continuing their investigation into the apparent drowning in a small pond in the Town of Eden on Friday.

The victim was James L. Dyer, 39, of 158 E. Main Street, Campbellsport.

The apparent drowning happened at the property of Gregor Laudolff at Scenic Drive and Creekview Road in the Town of Eden. Authorities were notified at 2:48 p.m., Friday. When the Campbellsport ambulance arrived an unidentified man and woman told attendants they found Dyer floating face down and nude in the small pond. The man was questioned by authorities on Sunday.

Dyer was an employee of David Schaefer Enterprises, Kewaskum, and lived with his mother, Mrs. Jessie Dyer, in Campbellsport.

Area High School Students Attend Farm Bureau Seminar

Nearly 100 high school students learned about their heritage and the American system when they attended the Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation Youth Seminar. Held June 28-30 in Stevens Point, the seminar is a program of the WFBF women's committee.

The objective of the seminar was to assist students in becoming better citizens, and to increase their understanding of their duties and responsibilities as good citizens.

Kevin Hermening spoke on "Citizenship—One Man's Story" at the opening session of the conference. Hermening was the youngest American held hostage in Iran.

Later that evening, Ken Cheatham, AFBF director of safety and local affairs, discussed "Achievement and Motivation." The following day, Bruce Hanks, a direct descendent of Abraham Lincoln, presented "Lincoln Speaks Today."

Other sessions during the three-day seminar featured discussions on the American judicial system, the state legislative process, local government process and the workings of the federal government.

"The Youth Seminar is an investment in the future of our country," Tom Lochner, WFBF program specialist, said in commenting on Farm Bureau's sponsorship of the citizenship seminar.

Attendees are high school freshmen or sophomores and are sponsored by county Farm Bureaus, local Farm Bureau affiliates, and other local businesses.

Participants from Washington County included:

Kenneth J. Falk, 619 Hwy M, West Bend; Judy Ihlenfeld, 7022 Hwy WW, West Bend; Laura Mortiz, 6912 Hwy WW, West Bend; Michael Pamperin, 7850 Midland Dr., Allenton; Duane Wolf, 2743 Powder Hill Rd., Slinger.

Physicians Offer
Help to Unemployed

At the present time many people in Wisconsin and in Washington County are unemployed. At its June meeting, the Washington County Medical Society reaffirmed its commitment to provide health care to the unemployed of Washington County. Those that find themselves unemployed do not need to postpone necessary health care, thus jeopardizing their health, due to their current financial circumstances. People who find themselves in need of medical care and are unable to pay for it through standard health insurance plans should contact their personal physician to work out suitable arrangements until their financial situation improves.

The physicians of the Washington County Medical Society have always been ready to discuss their charges and make adjustments where necessary because of financial need. Those who have a family physician in Washington County should contact their doctor directly. Those without a physician who are in need of medical care should contact the Washington County Medical Society Referral Service to obtain the names of physicians who are currently accepting new patients. This phone number is 338-3666.

Miracle Man

with her, School Board President Jean Goeden stated, "I think if you read it over, these two gentlemen are asking for a 'Miracle-Man'."

After approving the position on a 4 to 2 vote (John Spoerl was absent), Brigham told the other members, "after about a month goes by and you don't get someone to fill this position, I hope the board will put this in its proper perspective." He noted, more power to the board if they could get someone to fill the position at this salary.

In other business, the board heard a petition presented by John Stephani on behalf of himself and other residents who live in the Bilgo Lane area near the high school. He said these residents would like the board to consider a closed campus for the 1983-84 school year.

Stephani said he and his neighbors had been subjected to vandalism, trespassing, and verbal abuse from high school students who are using their yards and the alley to congregate and smoke during their lunch hours. Board member Charles Ogi said he thought the situation had been corrected. Stephani said it had improved for about a year. But, since the high school had set up the restricted smoking area at the school for students, the neighborhood again experienced problems during the past year. "The students who apparently can't get a smoking permit to use the smoking area, probably because their parents don't know they smoke, apparently have not quit but come behind my house to smoke," said Stephani. He noted there had been numerous calls to the high school and police, however, by the time someone came, the youths had moved on. Many of my neighbors are afraid to leave their homes unattended during lunch hours, because they are afraid of what damage may result while they are gone. Several people have been threatened with recrimination if they reported the students, Stephani said.

The board said it, and the high school administrators would look into the problem.

In other action, the board approved a motion to increase to three, the number of science credits required for graduation. This followed an earlier recommendation from the Evaluation Policy Committee. The three-credit requirement will not go into effect until the 1984-85 school year in order to give the high school time to set up a curriculum to handle the added requirement.

Due to a change in state law, the board also approved a change which will make Driver Education an elective rather than required course for graduation. Horner told the board, a new state law makes it illegal to require the course and charge a fee for it. By dropping the required aspect, the district will be in compliance with the new law which went into effect this June.

The board tabled action on setting up kindergarten classes for 1983-84. Due to the large number of students at Wayne this year (33), the board voted to bus approximately nine students to Kewaskum, but the motion died because of a 3-3 tie vote. A second motion to have two sections at Wayne also died due to a 3-3 tie vote. The board then tabled action until all board members could be present to vote and break the deadlock.

District Administrator John Long presented the State Department of Public Instruction's facilities study report. One recommendation, which again brought up voices of opposition is the closing of Beechwood School. The investigator felt that because of the small number of students attending the school, it was not efficient or economically feasible to keep it open. Also, he did not approve of the two grades in one room with one teacher concept being used at the school.

Long also said the DPI report stated the district should look into the eventual closing of Wayne Elementary because of declining enrollments. Richard Zarling, Director of Elementary Education, said present census figures bear out these recommendations, especially at Wayne where, after the 1983-84 school year, kindergarten classes are expected to drop from the previous 30 plus student counts down to the high teens.

Long stressed the DPI's report only made recommendations and it would be up to the board to decide what, if any, action they would take.

The board approved teaching contracts for Mary Pearson, Shirley Mayo, Patricia Herdrich and Therese Kline. Earlier in the meeting the board had moved to table approval of the contracts because Mr. Long had inadvertently forgotten to post the positions with the Kewaskum Education Association, a fact which was brought up by KEA president David Wietor. Ogi made the later motion to approve the contracts noting that notification had been a board practice, not policy and approval of the contracts should not be held up because the notice had not been given this one time.

Ralph Horner gave a report on CESA 16. He told the board, reorganization of the Comprehensive Educational Services Association will result in reducing CESA districts from 19 to 12, through redistricting of the state school systems. "CESA 16 will not be in existence as of next year," said Horner, "and it looks like data processing is one of the services which will no longer be available to us." (Reporter's note: Two years ago the district had voted to buy its own in-house data processing equipment, however, the board later changed its position by vetoing the plan and cancelling its order for computer equipment).

Financial Aid at UWVC Linked to Draft Registration Requirements

All new or incoming UW Center - Washington County students, who intend to receive federal financial aid, must certify their compliance with federal draft registration laws before such aid will be processed.

This requirement, known as the Solomon Amendment, was enacted by Congress in September 1982, to induce more young men to fulfill their legal duty to register within 30 days of their 19th birthday. However, the process of securing registration information was halted in April, by UW System President Robert O'Neil, after a Federal District Court issued a permanent injunction barring the federal government from seeking compliance with the amendment.

But the process was reinstated last week after a ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court on June 29 stayed the enforcement of the injunction issued by the lower court.

According to John Nametz, Centers' financial aid coordinator, all students - regardless of their age or sex - will be required to sign such a statement certifying that either they have registered for the draft or are exempt from registration requirements. Those failing to do so will not be eligible for federal loans, grants and/or work assistance, Nametz said.

Students, who have already applied for financial aid, will be required to sign a certification of registration statement before any checks will be issued, Nametz said.

If students comply with this requirement, a delay in the awarding of financial assistance is not expected," he said.

For more information, contact the Office of Student Services - 338-5201.

Maximizing the Use of Your Freezer

By Shelby Maier
Summer Extension
Home Economist
U.W. Extension, West Bend

Freezing is one of the simplest and least time-consuming ways to preserve foods. In these days of rising energy costs, it is important to get the best, most efficient use out of your home freezer.

For economical use of your freezer, all foods should be used within a year, and most of them should be held for much less time. By continuously using foods from the freezer, and replacing them with others in season, the space in the freezer may be used many times during a year.

A full freezer operates more economically and efficiently than one which is half full. There is less empty air to keep chilled and the frozen food helps hold the temperature down.

Here are some helpful tips to help you get the most use of your freezer:

*Freeze only high-quality, fresh foods to protect the original quality.

*Choose the kinds and varieties of foods which freeze successfully.

*Maintain the temperature in the freezer at 0 degrees Fahrenheit or lower to insure the highest eating quality and nutritive value possible.

*Label containers with the name and date of each food item.

*Clean and defrost freezer regularly. Frost build-up of 1/4 inch or more actually helps to keep the food warm.

*Put no more unfrozen food into the freezer than will freeze within 24 hours.

First Reunion of Schmidt Family to Be Held Sunday

Approximately 270 people will be gathering from many different areas to attend the first reunion of the descendants of George and Christina Schmidt to be held on Sunday, July 17th, at the River Hill Park in Kewaskum.

Both George and Christina Schmidt were born in Waldeck, Germany - George in 1824 and Christina in 1827. They had seven children: Ludwig, William, George W., Frederick, Christian, Louise (Schmidt) Schaefer, and Augusta (Schmidt) Prange.

Seidemann Family To Hold 50th Reunion

Over 2,400 living direct descendants of Friedrich Seidemann and his wife, Rosina, have received invitations to attend the 50th consecutive annual family reunion which will be held Sunday, July 17, at the Ray Seidemann Family Farm located east of West Bend and about 1½ miles northwest of Newburg.

When Friedrich Seidemann and his wife came from Germany with their eight children in 1853 they settled here in the area of the Ray Seidemann farm. Thus, since 1933, the descendants have met there each year to hold an annual get-together.

Games and contests for all age groups, attendance prizes and music have been planned by the entertainment committee. Also, there will be a display of over 75 family heirlooms and antiques dating back to 1845, some of which were brought along by members of the family when they emigrated to America from Germany.

We are also planning to have a group picture taken at 2:30 p.m. that day. The third printing of the Seidemann Family's history and chronological table listing the descendants of Friedrich and Rosina (nee) Koch will be available at the reunion.

The committee planning this year's reunion consists of: Gerald Seidemann, Fillmore - General Chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Schubert, Fredonia - Entertainment; and John Pohland, Mequon - Refreshments.

The Schmidts and their family came to America and settled in the Town of Auburn, where he farmed for many years. Sometime after Christina's death in December, 1869, George moved to New Castle where he lived alone and was found dead in his home on November 17, 1903.

Throughout the years, most of the children remained in this area, but some of them settled in Minnesota. Most of the descendants of George W. and Augusta (Schmidt) Prange are still in the Minnesota region and only in recent years have made contact with the Schmidts in this area. It was after such a contact that the decision to hold a reunion was made.

The reunion chairman is Mrs. Virginia (Schmidt) Oppermann, 4370 Highway 28 W. Kewaskum. She is in the process of compiling a photo album of pictures of Christina and George Schmidt, their children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. Any additional pictures will be gladly accepted.

Anyone who thinks they are descendants are welcome to attend the reunion on July 17th. The reunion will include a pot-luck dinner and supper at River Hill Park in Kewaskum beginning at 11 a.m. Any descendants or relatives who have not yet replied, may contact Mrs. Oppermann at 626-2026.

Picnic Huge Success

The weather was hot and the annual Kewaskum Firemen-Legion picnic Saturday night and Sunday was largely attended and another great success.

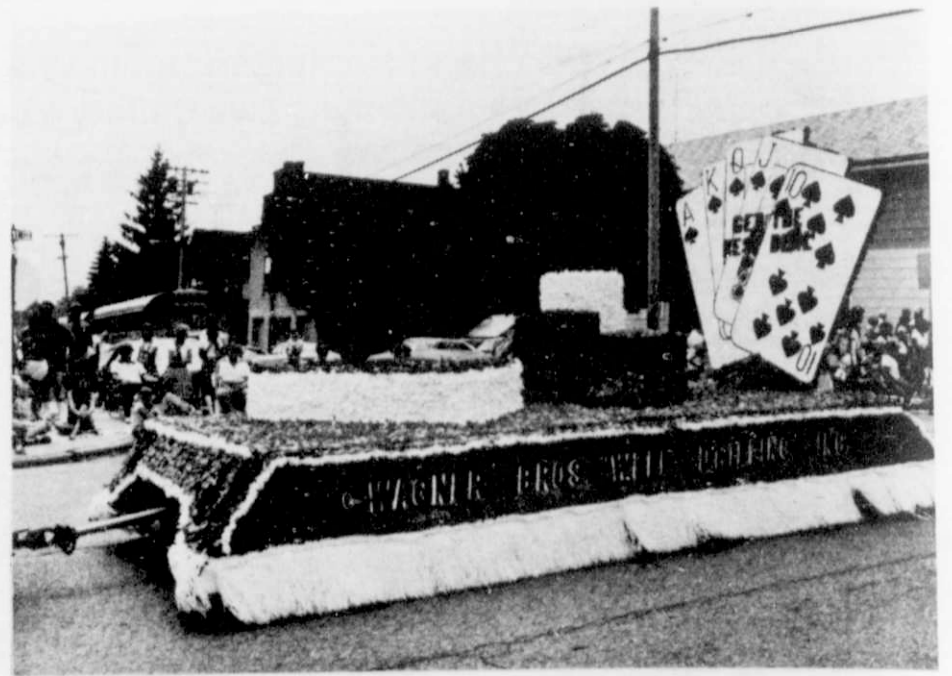

The big parade Sunday noon again was the highlight of the event. The parade was rated by spectators as the best one ever held here with thousands of people lining the streets to witness it. Kewaskum has the reputation of having one of the best parades to be seen in this area and Sunday's was no exception. There were 11 bands and drum and bugle corps, more than expected, numerous dance bands on trucks, many beautiful floats, clowns, children's specialties, organizations, visiting firemen and equipment, and many other marching and riding units.

First prize among the floats went to the Kewaskum Girl Scouts, "Past, Present and Future;" second to the First Baptist Church of Campbellsport, "Religious Freedom;" third to the Kewaskum 4-H'ers, "Today's Youth - Tomorrow's Leaders," and fourth to Wagner Bros., "Best Deal."

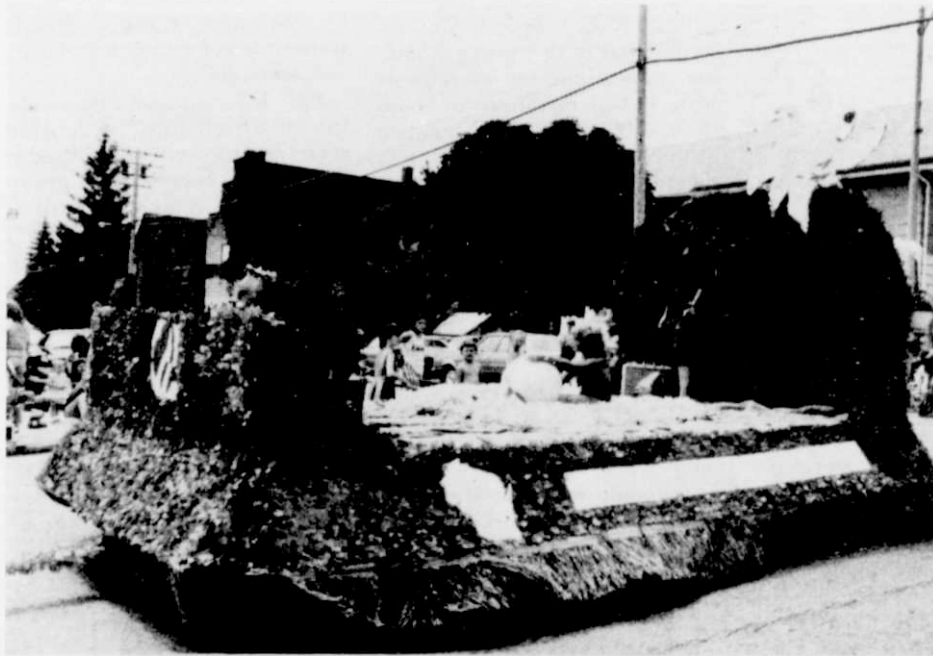

Children's float prizes went to: First, Space Patrol, K & B Lettering; second, Missy Wietor and Tiffany Schultz; third, Patrick Bertram; fourth, Camel (children were Jim McChain and Ron Petermann).

Many surrounding fire department teams competed in the evening water fights Sunday and the championship trophy was won by Campbellsport.

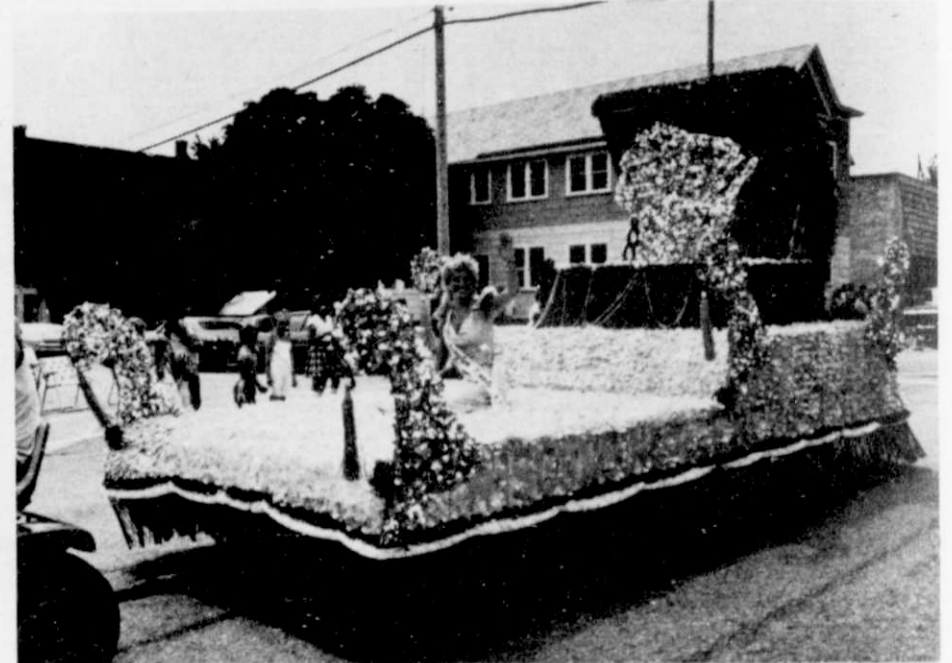

Winners of the advance ticket sales prizes will be announced at a later date.

County 4-H Favorite Foods Revue Is Held

The 4-H Favorite Foods Revue was the first official activity of the 125th Annual Washington County Junior Fair. The revue was held on Thursday, June 23, at the West Fair Mall in West Bend.

Creative 4-Hers from all over the county prepared and displayed a food product from their menu and category. Among the most popular choices of themes included: An outdoor meal, lunch for friends and children's birthday party.

The contestants had an opportunity to speak with and evaluate their exhibits with the judge. The 4-H members were judged according to the appearance and flavor of the food item, the overall effect of the placemaking, the appropriate menu and the participants' understanding of food preparation.

In addition to the overall judging, each participant had the opportunity to vote for the Merit Award winner. All the 4-Hers judged the exhibits, in their own age group, according to general appearance, nutritional contributions of menu, table setting, and the appropriateness of the menu to the occasion selected.

The Merit Award winners for the 1983 Favorite Foods Revue were Diana Buckmann, in the 9-11 age group, and Jeanne Awve in the 12-14 age group.

Blue ribbons were awarded to Jeanne Awve, Vicki Bindrich, Diana Buckmann, Lisa Melichar, Ann Shaw and Kristine Werhand. Red ribbons went to Mark Hautamaki, Renee Kapp, Moureen Miller, Holly Prochnow, and Linda Prost. White ribbons were awarded to Sandra Buckmann and Monica Piboske. judging the revue projects. Garments were also evaluated on various aspects such as fabric and pattern selection, garment fit and construction, and personal poise and grooming.

All of the participants will model their garments again at the Washington County Fair on Saturday, July 30, at 7:30 p.m. The two state fair representatives and two alternates will be announced also that evening.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

To the Editor:

Has anyone been watching the new members of the school board? The spenders have control of the board now. They have been joined by Mr. Brigham, who has turned 180 degrees into a big spender. Twenty-nine people decided to borrow $400,000.00 at a meeting where some hanky panky was involved. Voting by hand and not by ballot was a definite attempt to intimidate voters. With children in school, many in attendance that night were teachers and their wives. Mrs. Goeden ran a very bad show. She seemed totally confused. The district had a $100,000 surplus this year with a 4% increase in the budget. Now they want an 8 1/2% increase, which added to the $100,000 surplus. Plus $125,000 which is to be spent on operation of the school next year, translates into a 13% increase in spending in next year's budget. How can they justify this goofiness in a recession, with so many people out of work. Last year we had 12% inflation, and still had a $100,000.00 surplus. This year inflation is 4 1/2% and tripling our increase in spending. They say our children are having problems with math. I can understand why!

Cedar Lawn Farm to Host County Dairy Twilight Meeting on 100th Anniversary

Cedar Lawn Farm, operated by George and Kathy Muth, will host the 1983 Washington County Holstein Association Twilight Meeting. One hundred years ago in 1883, Carl August Schroeder purchased the first two registered Holstein cows for Cedar Lawn Farm. To help commemorate this event, Zane Akins, National Holstein Association Executive Secretary, will be present to share in the program.

The event will be held on July 20, starting at 7:00 p.m. The farm is located on County Highway G, one mile south of Decorah Road or two miles north of Highway 143.

Registered Holsteins have been raised on the Cedar Lawn Farm for the past 100 years. George and Kathy Muth represent the fifth generation to raise Holsteins on this farm. Their sons, Peter and Kevin, represent the sixth generation.

The Cedar Lawn Farm has had a long history starting with Frederick Schroeder who had settled on the 80 acre farm in 1847, immigrating to this area from central Germany. His son, Carl August (C. A.) Schroeder, purchased Mattie K and Theresa, the first two registered cows, in 1883. These two cows were purchased from an Illinois farmer and had originally been imported from Holland.

Carl tested the two cows every day and found that Mattie K produced more butterfat than Theresa. He kept Mattie K and sold Theresa. Some of the present cows in the herd can be traced back to the Mattie K cow.

Carl Schroeder experimented with his cows, milking them three times daily. He also bred and sold two cows that later went on to be world champions. He was also honored at the University of Wisconsin in 1922 for outstanding service to agriculture and dairying.

In 1923, the Schroder family hosted nearly 10,000 rural and urban people for the second annual Wisconsin Dairying's Field Day.

C.A. Schroeder died in the 1940's. His son Guido continued the Cedar Lawn operation. Guido's sister Charlotte and her husband Egbert Muth farmed an adjoining 80 acres. When Egbert died, Charlotte Schroeder Muth and her one-year-old son, also named Egbert, moved into the Cedar Lawn farm house with Guido and combined the land.

Guido and Egbert continued the experimentation begun by C. A. Schroeder. Guido Schroeder died in 1980 and Egbert Muth in 1981.

Today Cedar Lawn Farm is managed and operated by George and Kathy Muth. They have 46 cows and 50 head of youngstock. They have won the Progressive Breeder Registry Award and have a BBA of 104.0 on 44 cows. Their classification scores in September 1982 were 6 excellent, 11 very good, 23 good plus, and 4 good. Three gold medal cows have carried the Cedar Lawn prefix.

This will be the third time that the Washington County Twilight meeting will be held at the Cedar Lawn Farm. The Muth family and the Washington County Holstein Association invite all interested persons to attend. They are planning a special display of historical articles from their farm.

Many people now realize that money can't buy happiness; so they're trying credit cards.

Youth Camps Employ 840 Summer Workers

The Wisconsin Youth Conservation Camp (YCC) program, now in its 22nd year, will provide employment for 840 young men and women of high school age this summer.

They were selected from 4,695 who applied for employment at the four resident camps and one nonresident camp to work on developing, restoring and maintaining our natural resources.

Eight hundred will be employed at the resident camps located at Manitowish Waters, Minong, Montello and Campbellsport, and the other 40 are registered for the nonresident camp. All the camps are operated by the Department of Natural Resources.

They young people will work a 32-hour week and will receive $3.35 per hour. Work activity offered at the summer camps include projects related to forestry, fish management, wildlife, recreational use areas and ranger stations.

The summer work camps enable the DNR to accomplish a wide variety of forestry, fish and game habitat projects and facility maintenance that otherwise could not be done locally if we relied solely on DNR manpower. The camps provide an educational opportunity for participants because of the experiences and associations each youth will find in group work assignments, educational tours and presentations.

ASTHMA ATTACK

As soon as an asthma attack begins, the patient should sit down and keep sipping from a large glassful of warm (not hot) water. Take 15 minutes to swallow it, then another glassful should be sipped during the next 15 minutes. Modern Medicine reports this often stops asthma attacks before they fully develop. Dehydration often triggers an asthma attack - the pint of water sipped slowly can stop it.

"YOUR PET AND HEAT STROKE"
By Gregory G. Ogi, D.V.M.

During the summer months we see a number of cases of heat stroke at our clinic. In most cases the problem could easily have been prevented.

Several factors are involved in causing heat stroke. High ambient temperatures, especially above 90 degrees F, are usually involved. Virtually all dogs in which the condition occurs are confined in some manner. In most instances dogs are confined to an enclosure with poor ventilation, such as an automobile or a transporting crate. The condition can also occur in dogs confined by chain outdoors. Although exercise and excitement can significantly contribute to the induction of heat stroke in confined dogs, the condition is rare in dogs that run free regardless of air temperature and exercise. Other predisposing factors are high humidity, lack of available water, obesity, and decreased heat tolerance associated with young and old age.

Cats seem to tolerate higher temperatures better than dogs. Heat stroke occurs rarely in this species.

A few common sense precautions can help to insure that your pet won't be overcome by heat. Fresh water should always be available to your dog. Some form of shade such as a tree should be available so your dog can get out of direct sunlight. Exercise your dog during the cool part of the day such as in the morning or evening. Whenever you must leave a pet in the car, be sure to park in the shade and leave the windows cranked open for ventilation. Return to your car as soon as possible to check on your pet. In minutes the interior of a car parked in the sun can become unbearable.

If you suspect that your dog is heat stressed, call your veterinarian immediately. Heat stroke is an emergency and can be life threatening if untreated.

This year's annual Kewaskum firemen and American Legion picnic in the village park is all set for July 12 and 13. Highlighting Saturday night's entertainment will be an amateur show. Harry Koch reported that already 10 amateur groups or individuals had entered the contest and more may be added before Saturday. Cash prizes will be awarded to the winners. Music Saturday night will be provided by Les Schneider's Orchestra. The big parade at 12:30 p.m. will begin Sunday's activities. Entertainment Sunday afternoon and evening will feature the Maggie and Scotty Show of WEAU-TV, Eau Claire, stars of radio, stage and television.

At the budget hearing of the Kewaskum High School District on June 30, it was moved by James Reigle and seconded by Walter Wesenberg, to present the proposed budget for operating expenses in the amount of $179,515 to the electors at the annual meeting.

Margie, 2 1/2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Belger, Kewaskum, had a narrow escape from drowning on July 11, when she accidentally fell or possibly may have been pushed by the family dog into a private pool of water owned by the Belgers on their rural property located just south of the village. Margie and her brother Monty were playing in the sand next to the pool. With them was their large dog, which loves to play with the children and jump on them. Suddenly Monty noticed his little sister struggling in the water. He immediately ran into the house and told his mother who found the child floating and sinking in the water. Mrs. Belger waded into the pool and pulled the tot out, immediately applying artificial respiration. Members of the Kewaskum rescue squad were called and sped to the scene and by the time they arrived Mrs. Belger had succeeded in getting her daughter to regain consciousness. The rescue squad administered oxygen to the little girl. Later the girl remarked that the dog had pushed her into the pool.

A transaction has been made whereby Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kirchner and family, who operated the New Fane Grocery, have made a trade with Mr. and Mrs. William Staszak for their tavern in Nenno. The Kirchner family has already moved to Nenno to take over the tavern while Mr. and Mrs. Staszak and daughter are now at home in New Fane where they have taken over their grocery store.

SFC Arnold A. Gulley, local army recruiter, announced recently that Theodore W. Meilahn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Meilahn of Route 2, Kewaskum, has enlisted in the Regular Army Corps of Engineers.

Kober, whose wife, the former Beverly Ramthun of Kewaskum has been living with him at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, recently completed the 12-week guided missile electrical equipment repair course at the Army Engineer School, Fort Belvoir. The 22-year-old soldier is a 1953 graduate of Kewaskum High School. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christ Kober Jr. live on Route 1, Kewaskum.

Curtiss Klostermann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Klostermann, New Prospect, has enlisted in the U.S. Navy for a three-year-period. He left last Thursday morning for the Naval Training Station at Great Lakes Illinois.

Wisconsin automobile license plates for 1934 will have black figures on a light blue background according to a recent announcement made by officials at the Wisconsin State Prison, where the plates will be manufactured.

To take care of the increased amount of business that is coming to them daily, the West Bend Lithia Brewing Company of West Bend, is building a new 40 x 50 addition to their brewery. The new addition is located just east of the present storage tanks on the south end of the brewery and will be two stories high. Hot Weather May Reduce Butterfat Tests

As we approach the warm days of summer, many dairymen will start to notice a drop in their butterfat test levels. There are a number of reasons why the butterfat test can drop, but warm weather is definitely a factor.

It is well documented that the ambient temperature can have a pronounced effect on milk fat percent. You can get as much as a 0.1 percentage point depression in fat test per each 10 degrees Fahrenheit increase in temperature above 70 degrees Fahrenheit.

Heat stress causes the depression in fat in at least two ways. First, there's evidence to indicate that a cow suffering from heat will produce less saliva and bicarbonate, a natural buffering material.

Secondly, it has been shown that extreme heat and humidity can cause a reduction in feed intake. Generally, the lowered intake is associated with reduced forage consumption, while grain intake remains constant. When this happens, any cow at higher production levels getting a fair amount of grain can get into a serious forage/grain imbalance, and fat test depression occurs.

Dairymen can use some management factors to reduce the heat stress and reduce fat test depression. Some suggestions are as follows.

Keep cows out of the hot sun during warm days. Provide shade or possibly keep cows indoors. Provide an adequate amount of water available at all times.

It might be helpful to make some changes in your feeding program. Be sure that forages, especially wet feeds such as haylage or corn silage, are not allowed to accumulate in feed bunks and begin to spoil and reduce feed consumption. Feed forage before grains so that the animals will consume enough forage to keep the forage/grain intake in balance.

In some feeding situations, it may be helpful to utilize a buffer during periods of stress. With good management practices and careful feeding, buffers should not be necessary.

Carefully evaluate how you can best feed and manage your cows this summer to prevent a significant depression in milk fat test.

ASCS Deadline Nears for Farmers

Friday, July 15, is the final date for farmers to report their 1983 acreages to ASCS according to Donald E. Sampson, Director of the Washington County ASCS Office. Office hours are daily from 8:00 - 4:30. The office also was open on Wednesday night, July 13th, from 6:00 - 9:00 p.m.

Participants enrolled in the PIK Program must comply and report compliance as the agreement is mandatory. Others enrolled in the Acreage Reduction (ARP) Program must certify and be in compliance to receive benefits.

According to Sampson, farmers should be aware that weeds must be controlled before the bloom stage. Also small grains standing on Set-Aside acreages must be clipped by the soft dough stage.

Aerial compliance is being conducted and field inspections will be underway soon. Much emphasis is coming down from higher levels according to Sampson, regarding compliance. Penalties are severe and producers should be aware of the consequences.

County Fair to Have Chuck Wagon Bar-B-Q

The Washington County Junior Fair will be holding a Country Chuck Wagon Bar-B-Que the opening evening of the fair. The Chuck Wagon Dinner will be served in the dairy barn from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday, July 27.

The menu will include chicken, ribs, potato salad, baked beans, fruit salad, relishes, homemade breads and assorted cakes. Tickets will sell for $4.50 for adults and $2.75 for children under 10. Tickets must be purchased in advance and can be obtained from the Fair Office.

The Country Chuck Wagon Dinner will kick off the 125th Washington County Fair. Immediately following the dinner will be the dedication of the new milking center.

Following the dedication will be the Fairest of The Fair Contest. Lisa Badini, reigning queen, will crown the 1983 Fairest of the Fair. A polka dance, sponsored by WTKM Radio will follow the pageant in the new beer garden.

Plan to be a part of the festivities on opening night of the county fair.

Favorite Park — Let DNR Hear About It!

Do you have a favorite state park for camping, picnicking or for other forms of recreation? Does your family plan an annual reunion in one of Wisconsin's state parks? Have you had an interesting experience or enjoyable visit to a state park?

If so, the Department of Natural Resources would like to hear from you. We need stories contributed by park users for possible use in a special edition of the "Natural Resources Magazine" on Wisconsin state parks which will be published next summer. If you have some interesting color pictures either by themselves or to go with your story, we would like to see those also.

Here's your opportunity to share your enjoyable experiences in state parks with other park users, and with those who have not as yet discovered the numerous recreational opportunities offered in our state parks.

If you have a story to share, or pictures you have taken in state parks that others would enjoy seeing, contact Bill Moorman, Bureau of Parks and Recreation, Department of Natural Resources, P.O. Box 7921, Madison, Wisconsin 53707. Or call Bill at (608) 266-7616.

... about your Social Security

By David Becker, Social Security Branch Manager in West Bend

SURVIVOR BENEFITS PAYABLE

If people in the area are anything like those in other parts of the country, many of them do not know that Social Security pays monthly benefits to survivors of deceased workers who worked in jobs covered by Social Security long enough to become insured. David Becker, Social Security branch manager in West Bend, said recently.

More than 7 million people receive survivor benefits. It is important for survivors to contact Social Security as soon as possible after the worker's death to make sure that no benefits are missed, Becker said. In any event, a person should apply no later than the month after the month the worker dies.

Social Security survivor benefits can be paid to:

- A widow or widower 60 or older.
- A disabled widow or widower 50-60.
- A child under 18 or 18-19 if a full-time high school student or over 18 is disabled before 22.
- A mother or father caring for an entitled child under 16.
- A parent 62 or older who was dependent upon the worker for half or more of his or her support.

Under a special rule, children and their mother or father can receive benefits if the worker had Social Security credit for 1 1/2 years of work in the 3 years before death. Also, Becker said, children can receive benefits on their mother's Social Security record as well as their father's.

In addition there is a $225 lump-sum death payment that can be made to an eligible widow or widower, or if there is none, to an eligible child.

More information about Social Security survivors benefits can be obtained at any Social Security office. The telephone number is 1-800-242-9946.

Cyclists Have Problems Too!

If the problem you encounter in traffic occasionally "gets to you," take a moment and consider the poor motorcyclist. The biggest hazard from the cyclist's viewpoint is the motorist!

"On a cycle, you might as well be invisible, one rider said. Adding, people seem to look right through you before they cut you off, crowd you, or turn in front of you." The facts bear out the truth of that statement. In well over half the cycle accidents involving another vehicle, the other driver told investigators they didn't see the cyclist.

Even though state law gives motor-driven two and three-wheelers the right to as much room on the road as other vehicles, most motorists ignore the cyclist's rights. It's an important topic to consider because Wisconsin ranks high in cycle registrations. We, in Wisconsin, rank high in cycle accidents and fatal cycle accidents.

Did you ever wonder why motorcyclists don't ride in the center of their lane? First, because the center tends to be slightly greasy and slippery from oil dripped by automobiles; and second, because they are harder for motorists to see in that position.

The two-wheeler is quite vulnerable to pavement conditions...things such as bumps, holes, debris, railroad tracks, water, grease and sewer gradings. A little sand, gravel or wet leaves on the road can slide the cycle out from under an unwary rider. And it takes far less of any of these items to spill a cycle (and its occupants) than to even be noticed in a four-wheeled vehicle.

Motorists are to be reminded that state law gives the motorcyclist the right to use as much of the traffic lane as any other vehicle, and riders need that room for safety.

It also appears that motorists fail to consciously see a motorcycle. While their eyes may fall on the cycle their mind doesn't identify it as a part of traffic; or if it does, fails to properly evaluate the cycle's position and speed. The difference in size (or mass) may have something to do with our perception of the cycle.

One major problem a motorcycle has is protection, or rather the lack of protection. There is a very high injury rate for cycle crashes simply because there is nothing to protect the rider. A helmet can protect the head. Leather gloves, jacket and boots offer protection against scrapes when a cycle spills, but the rider is not protected by the sheet metal of a body on a vehicle. Nothing really stands between the cyclist and injury except skill. And even a skillful rider is at the mercy of other motorists.

The two-wheeler is becoming more and more common. With the rising cost of automobile and gasoline, it is becoming an increasingly popular means of transportation.

That means all of us are going to have to make an extra effort to understand their problems, and a special effort to see cycles when they are present. Remember, they have their problems too! They DO have a right to be there.

The hippopotamus is born underwater.

Arrest Man for Making Annoying Phone Calls

After a two year investigation, the Washington County Sheriff's Department arrested a 32-year-old Hartford man for making annoying phone calls. The suspect was referred to the District Attorney's Office for charges.

The Sheriff's Department started receiving complaints concerning the annoying phone calls in October of 1981. The calls continued on a fairly frequent basis until June of 1983 when the arrest was made. The suspect would use the telephone to call people, advising that he was representing John Powers Modeling Agency from Milwaukee, and would offer young females a job posing for Sears and Penney's catalogues. He would then ask personal questions of the victim.

Conviction of unlawful use of a telephone would be a Class B Misdemeanor, a fine not to exceed $1,000, or imprisonment not to exceed 90 days, or both.

Indians End Losing Streak, Then Drop 3 Close Games

The Kewaskum Indians ended their 10 game losing streak last Tuesday when they defeated New Holstein 12-7, in which they let their opponents commit the errors for a change.

The Indians scored all of their 12 runs in the first two innings and stayed out in front for their first victory since beating Two Rivers back on June 6.

Jim Hanrahan started on the mound but two other pitchers had to be brought in to preserve the victory. Hanrahan ran into control problems in the second

Playing at home Thursday, the Indians played well but lost a 5-4 decision to Sheboygan Falls in 8 innings, when the visiting Falcons scored 3 runs to take a 5-2 lead. The Indians came back in their half of the 8th with 2 runs on Dennis Butz' towering home run over the fence in left centerfield. But winning pitcher Jeff Schomberg got the next batter on strikes to end the game.

Butz had 3 hits in 4 at bats and pitcher Brian Arndt, who took the loss in relief, was 2 for 3. Arndt came up with a clutch single to tie the game in the last of the 7th.

John Swanson started for Kewaskum and pitched well. He went 7 innings, giving up 2 runs, both unearned, on 5 hits. Swanson struck out 5 and walked just 2. Arndt gave up a walk and 2 hits and had a wild pitch in the 8th when the Falcons scored their winning runs.

On Friday the Indians entertained league leading Plymouth in a double header and lost two heartbreakers by the close scores of 3-1 and 3-2.

Hanrahan was a hard luck loser in the first game. He had a two-hit shutout going until the 7th when the Panthers rallied for 3 runs, all of which were unearned. Except for two costly errors the Indians should have won, 1-0.

Winner Tom Richards gave up 5 hits to the Indians who scored their only run in the 3rd on a walk and RBI single by Leitheiser, who had 3 of Kewaskum's 5 hits.

In the second game of the twin bill, Plymouth was the home team and again came from behind to win, 3-2.

Rohlinger came in to relieve Arndt in the 7th with the score 2-1 Kewaskum. Rohlinger walked the first two men he faced and Braun replaced him to face Limberg, who tripled to drive in the tying and go-ahead runs.

Kewaskum's scoring in the 2nd came on two singles by Butz and Swanson, a wild pitch, walk and Tim Landvatter's single. Ric Meyer came in to pitch and ended the threat by getting Braun to hit into a double play. Meyer gave up just 2 hits and 0 runs in the last 5 innings.

The Indians played well and got good pitching in all three games. They are now 2-11 in the Eastern Wisconsin and 2-16 overall.

Kewaskum Golfer Participates in Milwaukee Pro-Am

Two area golfers, Jim Zernzsch and Steve Van Ess, had the opportunity to participate in the Pro-Am at Greater Milwaukee Open last Wednesday.

Van Ess, a Kewaskum dentist, was in the group with Mark Lye, who carded the second low round of the day for the touring pros, a 66, which was one shot in back of Rex Caldwell's pace-setting 65.

Zernzsch, of West Bend, was paired with Vance Heffner after Danny Edwards, his original partner from the tour, withdrew from the tournament.

Van Ess' group came in with a 15-under-par 57 for the five man low net event, which put them in a tie for 16th place, one shot out of the prizes. However, one of the amateurs in his group ended up closest to the pin so all of them received lawnmowers compliments of the Allis Chalmers Company. Zernzsch's group was 14 under.

Both men said the experience was one they will not easily forget and pretty frightening teeing off with thousands of people gathered around. Van Ess commented his stomach was in a "knot."

Still both players scored fairly well on the par 72 Tuckaway layout. Zernzsch was satisfied with 84 and Van Ess said he hit the ball well but couldn't putt on the lightning fast greens, but still ended up with 76.

Van Ess has a six handicap at Hon-E-Kor Country Club in Kewaskum where he is a member. Zernzsch has a 14 and plays mainly at Hon-E-Kor and Hawthorne Hills.

All who participated in the Pro-Am were invited to a pre-tournament dinner at the Pfister Hotel.

A golfer in search of an errant golfball in Melbourne, Australia, discovered a toadstool weighing 22 pounds.
