Glacier Inn Under New Ownership

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

As of August 15th, the Glacier Inn will be owned and operated by Ms. Karen Janowiak.

Janowiak left her position with PT Components of Milwaukee to purchase the tavern and will be living in Kewaskum by the time she formally takes over the business from Nancy and Bill Kulas, its present owners.

While Janowiak will manage and work in the kitchen, she will be assisted by C. J. Galliard, who will handle the duties of bar manager. Galliard is presently employed in the Milwaukee area on a consulting assignment with a manufacturing company.

Janowiak said this is her first experience as a bar and restaurant owner, however, "C.J." has had tavern experience. His father operated a resort in Iowa, and C.J. put himself through college working as a bartender.

Janowiak said operations and personnel would remain basically the same. She will continue the Friday fish fry and buffets. The tavern will open at 4:00 p.m. and after Labor Day she will open to serve lunches.

Bill and Nancy would like to invite their customers to a farewell party being held August 13th. "It will give us an opportunity to thank our customers for their past patronage the last seven years and introduce them to the new owner," said Kulas.

The Kulas family will continue living in Kewaskum.

Wayne Elementary to Have Two Kindergarten Sections

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

In another discussion of the Wayne Elementary Kindergarten situation, the Kewaskum School Board Monday night changed its latest decision again.

At a special meeting held last month, the board had voted to transport seven children from Wayne to attend kindergarten classes in Kewaskum. Since that meeting, several parents of youngsters to be bussed, brought their objections to the board, and two new families with kindergarten students have moved into the Wayne area, bringing the class size back up to 27.

Parents of two Wayne youngsters who are being held back said their children were upset by the fact they would not be returning to Wayne. To ease the fact they were being kept in kindergarten another year, these children were told they would be teacher's helpers with the new students and were really looking forward to returning to school.

Richard Zarling, Director of Elementary Education, was asked if there was any problem in busing the two new students. He said there would be since each family had moved in on opposite extremes of the Wayne

Woman Dies, 3 Injured In Town Auburn Crash

A West Bend woman died Sunday night from injuries sustained in a two-car collision northeast of Kewaskum in Fond du Lac County which occurred about 5:45 p.m. that day.

According to Fond du Lac County sheriff's officials, the accident occurred on County Highway G at Youth Camp Road (County Trunk DD) in the Town of Auburn, near New Fane. Three others were injured in the crash.

Janelle Wagner, 21, of 425-A S. 5th Ave., West Bend, was pronounced dead at Milwaukee County General Hospital Sunday night.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Christian Wagner, 24, who remained in serious condition Monday at St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend, after surgery for internal injuries. He also suffered leg and wrist injuries, according to a hospital spokeswoman.

The couple's daughter, Jennifer, 2½, sustained a broken femur in the accident and was listed in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's Hospital.

The driver of the second car, June E. Klemme, 19, Route 1, Allenton, was also listed in satisfactory condition Monday with multiple abrasions, a leg injury, and possible internal injuries.

The injured were taken by Campbellsport and Kewaskum ambulances to St. Joseph's Hospital. Janelle Wagner was then transferred to the Milwaukee medical facility where she died about 8:52 p.m.

The sheriff's department was continuing an investigation into the accident. No citations had been issued.

There will be beer, soda and games with music being provided by Jerry Mueller, an attorney and very good musician from Kenosha, who has been blind since birth.

In conjunction with the bar-b-que, the Lions will also run their Kettle-20 foot race. Along with the K-20, there will also be a 3.5 mile race. Both races will begin at 9:15 a.m. from the village park.

There will be 5 divisions for men and 3 for women in the K-20. The 3.5 race will have 5 divisions for men and women. The 3.5 race is also aimed at young runners where there are divisions for runners under the age of ten and divisions for teenagers, as well as divisions for older runners.

Medallions will be awarded to the first three places in all divisions, and ribbons for fourth and fifth places.

To date, there are about 50 runners registered.

All winners will receive their choice of a K-20 T-shirt or patch.

Entry fee is $5.00 in advance with a T-shirt and $3.00 without. Runners may register the day of the race at a cost of $6.00 and $4.00.

Runners may also purchase tickets for the chicken bar-b-que at reduced cost ($2.00) if purchased before race time.

If there are any questions, contact Dale Squier at 626-2731.

Registration for High School Set for Aug. 16-18

Kewaskum Community High School will hold registration for the 1983-84 school year on:

Tuesday, August 16 - 8:00 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. (Reserved for freshmen and their older brothers and sisters).

Wednesday, August 17 - 12:00 p.m. - 7:00 p.m.

Thursday, August 18 - 8:00 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

ALL HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS MUST REGISTER AT ONE OF THE ABOVE TIMES.

Tuesday, August 16, will be reserved for freshmen (and their older brothers and sisters to eliminate extra trips). We plan to have a special program for freshmen, tour of the building, help with lockers and schedules and a special program by the guidance department. Please allow an hour for freshmen orientation.

When the student registers, he/she will pay their fees and fines, turn in their completed registration cards, receive their class schedule for the school year, receive their locker number and combination, and receive their library cards.

Students who will be driving cars to school must also register their car at this time. We will need to know the license number, make and color of car. You will then be able to pick up your parking permit for 50c.

Guidance people will be available on these days and by appointment only on August 29 and 30, to help students with any schedule problems or changes. Once school starts, schedule changes will be made only in exceptional cases.

All high school students new to the district should also register at this time.

Schools Open Aug. 31

The School District of Kewaskum will start school on Wednesday, August 31, 1983. Buses will run on their regular routes. Any students new to the school district should enroll immediately.

Fiftieth Anniversary

Ray and Kathrine Sharpe

Ray and Kathrine Sharpe of Milwaukee, were honored at a surprise early 50th wedding anniversary celebration at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Dennis and Jean Scharpe, 1127 Edgewood Road, Kewaskum, on Saturday, July 30.

Attending the party were their five sons from Virginia, Indiana, Milwaukee (2) and Kewaskum; two daughters from Milwaukee; two sisters from Indiana; 13 grandchildren, two great-grandchildren, numerous cousins, nieces and nephews. A great time was had by all.

boundaries. One family will be Kohlsville, the other near Highways 28 and 41.

Zarling said, as of Monday's figures, the best way to handle the Wayne overloading would be to drop the busing plan and schedule a morning and afternoon session of kindergarten at the Wayne school. This would result in two classes of 17 at Wayne, dropping KES down from 73 to 65 students in three classes of 22, 22, and 21, with 26 students at Farmington and 19 at Beechwood. Board member Lynn Dieringer questioned whether an aide would be hired to help with the large class at Farmington. Board President Jean Goeden said she would do her best to see if one could be hired.

A resident asked what the increased cost would be for the second section at Wayne. District Administrator John Long said it would run $8,000 to $10,000. On a 4-3 vote, the board approved setting up two sections at Wayne for the 1983-84 school year.

On a recommendation by Long, the board voted to increase the cost of a daily student lunch ticket by 10c. Weekly tickets will now cost $4.75 for elementary students and $5.00 for middle and high school students. Adult tickets will cost $6.75. Last year's student tickets were $4.25 and $4.50. Long said the increase was necessary since last year's lunch program had ended up in the red, and he did not want to see the same situation occur this year.

A motion by board member Ralph Horner to increase required credits for graduation, from two to three in math, and three to four in English was defeated. Joan Rosenberger, a Farmington resident, said she and her committee which had been appointed to look into graduation requirements, had not even met yet, and the board was voting on a recommendation made by Horner. Several board members agreed that further study of the recommendation was needed before any changes were made.

Goeden asked that the Graduation Study Committee and Evaluation Policy Committee work together on this item and present their findings at a future meeting.

The board moved to accept recommended bids on milk from John Engelhardt, and Strobel Oil Company for gas and fuel oil.

The board accepted two teaching and one office employee resignations, two transfers, and seven position appointments including that of appointing Tom Larsen principal of Farmington, Beechwood and Wayne schools.

High School Principal Clark

Pearson asked for, and received, permission to raise the minimum grade point average needed for students to become eligible for National Honor Society. Beginning with the class of 1985, the requirement will go from 3.2 to 3.4. The induction ceremony will be changed from spring to October or November.

The district will assist Mr. Horner in a campaign to become Director for District #11, of the Wisconsin Association of School Boards.

The board adjourned to closed session to discuss administrative salaries.

Benefit for Robert Haney, Assault Victim, on Sunday

Various local organizations are sponsoring a benefit for Robert Haney, Kewaskum, at the Amerahn on Sunday, Aug. 14, from 1 p.m. until midnight. Haney was brutally beaten on May 21.

The benefit, which will feature six bands, will get underway at 1:00 p.m. and end at midnight. The bands are donating their services for the event.

Tickets are on sale from members of the Lions Club, Kiwanis, Firemen, Legion, Jaycees, Woman's Club and Jr. Woman's Club for $1.00. Contact a member of these organizations and buy some help for a very deserving family.

The Ta Nase Kapela Band will lead off the Cavalcade of Bands on Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock and will play until 3. They will be followed by Bob Breuer Band from 3 to 5;

Revival 5 to 7; Ferd Buchel, 7 to 9; Bill Thull Orchestra 9 to 10:30 and George Leonard Orchestra 10:30 to midnight.

Radio station WTKM, Hartford, will be broadcasting from Amerahn from 8 to 10:00 p.m.

Haney, who was operator of the R L's Game Room on Main Street, was beaten with a pool cue, in what police officials feel may have been an attempted burglary, although nothing was taken. The incident occurred at the game room.

Haney had impaired vision before the attack, with vision in only one eye. He suffered injuries to his sighted eye, as a result of the beating, necessitating surgery. He is now almost totally blind. Further surgery will be required.

A 17-year-old rural Campbell-sport man has been charged with battery in the attack.

Early Farm Days Aug. 13-14 In Kewaskum

On August 13 and 14, area residents and summer visitors are invited to take a trip through "memory lane" at the 9th annual Early Farm Days event sponsored by the Kewaskum Historical Society.

Beginning at 10 a.m. on both days, visitors will be able to view the antique farm machinery displays, some of which will be in action. Items to be included are gas and steam engines, oil pull, old tractors, antique fire-fighting equipment and hand-built and hand-crafted miniature replicas of some of the above.

The displays will be located on the beach side of the river on Parkview Drive in the village. Admission will be $1.50 for which you will receive a 1983 collector's button. If anyone has already purchased and is wearing the 1983 button, you will be admitted free. There will be no charge for children under 12.

Older visitors will enjoy seeing and remembering and the younger set might be interested in how things used to be done. Refreshments, including and old-fashioned corn boil will be on hand.

All proceeds from this event will be used for the Society's museum in the village.

The displays will be closing down at 6 p.m. on both days, so come early and spend some time in "yesteryears."

This is a picture of Schrauth's Mill at Schrauth's pond, now known as Lake Bernice. It is less than a mile from the Village of Elmore. This is the way it was in about 1910. The Schrauths also had a tavern and a picnic ground up on a high hill. The land on the south and west of the lake was owned by Otto Backhaus, father of Ella Andre of Kewaskum. This farm was 160 acres. Fishing was good there. Many people from the city came and camped there every summer. The farm was owned by the Engler family and was purchased by Mr. Backhaus in 1907. There is a team of horses buried on the farm that was driven by Mr. Engler on a gun powder wagon in the Civil War in 1861-1865. He brought them home when he was discharged from the army. The mill has been remodeled into a home by Walter Spradau and later by the Andy Pyles. Mr. Engler was an uncle to my dad, Otto Backhaus.

Mud Wrestling Draws 800 Spectators to New Fane

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

More than 800 people came to New Fane Sunday to view a "first" for the area, Women's Mud Wrestling.

Promoters of the afternoon's entertainment were Jan Jordan and Mike Zahares, owners of Mi-Ja's Country Inn, on Mill Road. Jordan and Zahares recently purchased the tavern from former owners Larry and Irene Boccaccio.

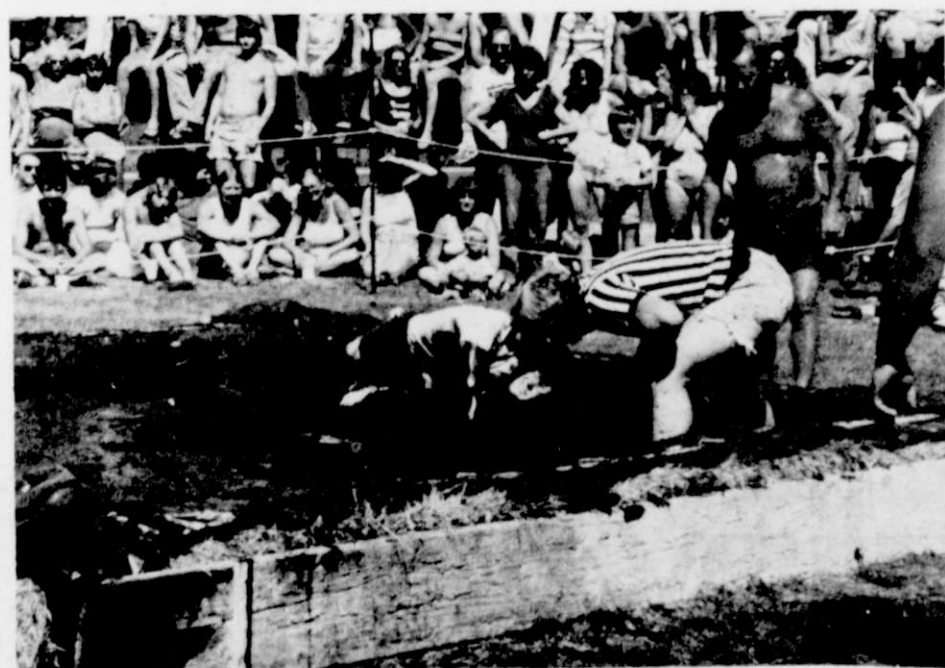

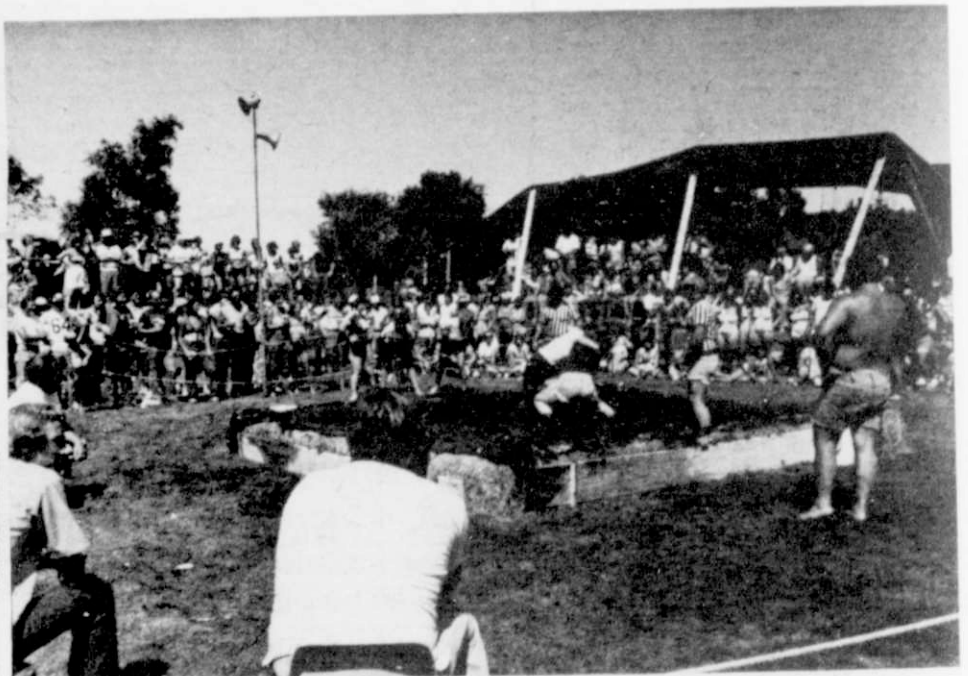

"It just started out as a friendly little contest between three or four neighboring bars, but then word got around and the whole thing really snowballed," said Jordan. By the time contest day arrived, six bars entered, some sponsoring two teams. In all, 32 women participated in the knock-down, no holds barred events. One from DePere sent a team down on a chartered bus with its own personal rooting section.

Three separate contests were run, four-girl team, tag-team and singles. Mi-Ja's team took first in the four-girl, Lurch's Bar of Hartford slid away with the tag-team first, and Bonnie Bechler of the Scenic Bar took first in the women's single event. Jan was a little embarrassed that their team took a first. "Our girls had wrestled at Silver Creek and a couple other places so they had a little experience and knew what to expect," said Jordan.

We never dreamed we'd have the crowd that we did noted Jordan. We want to thank our neighbors and all the New Fane residents for being very understanding and cooperative. We really appreciated their allowing people to park in front of their homes in their driveways and yards. Mi-Ja's had two Fond du Lac County Sheriffs on hand, however, the day turned out to a really enjoyable one with people of all ages enjoying the "action."

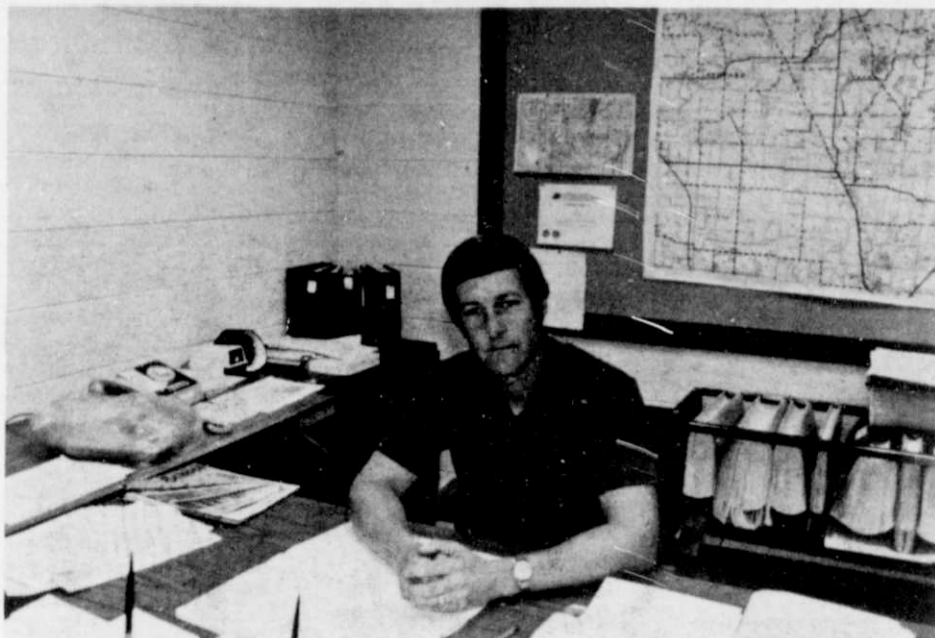

When she was asked if they would have another mud-wrestling match, Jordan said definitely not this year. Maybe next year, but she would like to run some other activity after the excellent turn-out we had on Sunday.

Battery Suspect Is Held in Jail

Collin Becker, 17, of rural Campbellsport, who has been charged with beating Robert Haney, 43, with a pool cue in Kewaskum May 21, was in the Washington County Jail after turning himself in, officials said last week.

Becker was to have appeared for a plea hearing before Judge Richard Becker July 25, but failed to show, although his parents and attorney Dennis Thornton were present. A warrant was issued for his arrest, and District Attorney David Resheske said if Becker did not appear by July 27, he was considering asking for bail-jumping charges and forfeiture of the $5,000 signature bond which was co-sponsored by his parents.

But Becker, who had been charged with battery and attempted armed robbery in connection with the robbery, turned himself in on Thursday and appeared in court Friday.

A $5,000 cash bond was requested, and a hearing for further proceedings with his attorney was set for 9 a.m. Aug. 8.

Although Becker is still 17, the case has been waived into adult court.

The principal goal of research is to find a cure for cystic fibrosis, the number one genetic killer of children and young adults in the United States. Every day, every five hours, a child is born with CF and every day, every eight hours, someone dies from CF. One in twenty Americans carry the CF gene. Half of those afflicted with CF die before they reach the age of twenty.

Funds raised in the Bike-A-Thon program help to support our two CF Clinics at Milwaukee Children's Hospital and the University Hospital in Madison. There are also two state based research grants funded by the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. There is no cure or long-term control for cystic fibrosis.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

To the Editor,

On Sunday, August 7, I had an opportunity to see two local emergency rescue teams work at a two-car accident which resulted in very serious, near fatal injuries to all four people involved. I would like to commend the performance of both the Campbellsport and Kewaskum Rescue teams for their prompt, professional and resourceful response to this tragic accident. As a local resident, I am not only proud of these teams, but rest easier knowing the quality of the volunteer rescue and fire service available.

I would also like to commend and thank the people of both Campbellsport and Kewaskum who have supported these volunteers through fund raisers. The end result of the teams' hard work and citizens' generosity is well trained personnel and very fine equipment which reflects their commitment to saving lives.

I hope that every member of the volunteer departments realize how much they are appreciated and needed.

I would like to thank each of you and encourage you to maintain your present level of excellence.

Sincerely,
Fran Charland,
DNR Patrol Officer

The Birth of a Czech Band Here

The easy way to start your own band is to choose a music style, arrange your music according to your chosen style and to hire good dedicated musicians.

There is another way to start your own band, more difficult and more time consuming, but much more satisfying — raise your own musicians.

Bob Kougl certainly didn't plan it that way. In fact he wasn't even married when he started his first band, "The Polka Boys" in 1955. The six-piece group wasn't very successful with their German style music and disbanded after a few dance bookings.

In 1960 Bob again brought a group together, a four-piece band, and once again it didn't go too far. Not willing to let his dream fade, in 1962 Bob started a three-piece group, himself on accordion, Bob Sparks on saxophone and various drummers. They played Slovenian style music and "The Kool Gents" were booked locally for weddings and dances until 1978 when Bob Sparks retired.

Kougl is of Czech heritage and in 1975 he started adding more and more Czech music, which is a very smooth, peppy style, to the band's music portfolio. Bob's parents, who lived in the Kewaskum area, taught him and his wife, Kathy, the words to a number of Czech songs, and the band added Kathy as vocalist.

When Bob Sparks retired, the Kougl's were afraid that they would have to see their band break up again. Their son, Tim, who had joined the band at age 11 as "The Kool Gents" permanent drummer three years before, had worked out so well that the Kougl's began to seriously consider using some of their other children in the group. Mary, age 17, played saxophone and Andy, age 14, was studying the trumpet. Why not?

So in July, 1978, Ta Nase Kapela (Czech for "Our Orchestra") was born. The Kougl's have seven children and three of them were now part of the band, plus Mary's fiance, Bryan Kempf, and Vance Reif, a school friend. Soon Amy, 11, would join the group on clarinet and Christie, 10, would be starting on trumpet.

Just imagine for a moment, five young people, ages 15 - 21, all with the exception of Bryan Kempf, having played in the school band — playing two trumpets, two baritone horns, two clarinets, six saxophones, a soprano, two altos, two tenors, a baritone, and drums. Now what to do with them. Well, Bob had some experience arranging music, but this seemed astronomical.

Think Bob! And he did. Some of the arrangements this talented man has come up with are hauntingly beautiful.

The other two Kougl children, while not directly involved in the band, "make music" too. Tom and his wife Cindy had recently had a daughter, Mandy, whose laughter and gurglings were the purest form of music to the Kougl family. Laurie, 16, provided some "sweet music" for "Ta Nase Kapela" too — she applauded a lot! A welcome sound to a group that had worked long and hard to keep a dream alive.

Now it's 1983, and some things have changed. Bryan decided the band wasn't for him. Vance went on to school and a new job, but that didn't stop the Kougl's. Kathy studied under Mary and learned to play the saxophone and Christie and Amy both joined the band.

There have also been several new additions to the family. Mary and Bryan were married and now have a son, Gabriel. Tim and Gale were married and have two little girls, Kimberly and Jessica, and Tom and Cindy have another daughter, Cassandra. All these little ones love music, so there most likely will be new members added to the band in years to come.

"Ta Nase Kapela" now has a professional sound. The bookings are coming in and for Bob, something that started as a dream has become a reality.

The band will be performing at the Haney Benefit Dance on Sunday, August 14, at the Amerahn from 1 to 3 p.m. There are six bands scheduled for the afternoon and evening dance.

The Bob Kougl's, now of rural West Bend, are former residents of Kewaskum and are in the Kewaskum School District.

LEARN CPR

If you were to collapse in public with a heart attack, and someone quickly applied 'cardiopulmonary resuscitation' (CPR) while the ambulance was on its way, it would double your chance of surviving. Starting to give CPR within seconds rather than minutes is really important. To be prepared as a Good Samaritan, many of us should learn to apply cardiopulmonary resuscitation in an emergency.

TELL SOMEONE YOU LOVE ABOUT POWER LINES.

Children get into lots of things. And that's to be expected.

But sometimes they get too close to power lines. And that's to be prevented.

Talk about it. Take the time to tell someone you love about power lines.

Explain how careful they have to be. That they should never climb trees that are near power lines. Or climb poles or towers that hold power lines. And that those wood "telephone" poles carry electricity, too.

Warn about flying kites near power lines. And make sure they know that if the kite should get caught on power lines, they should not try to get it down. Explain that they should never fly model airplanes near power lines, especially when a metal wire is used to fly them.

And be sure to say that if they ever see a power line down to get away from it immediately and come and tell you so you can report it.

Give someone you love this short course in self-defense:

When it comes to power lines, keep your distance.

Today's Medicine

STOP THE SPREAD OF LICE

By David G. Ley B.S., RPh.

The incidence of louse infection appears to be spreading. It's estimated that two to ten million Americans are infested with lice every year. Lice are parasites...little insects that live on people infesting most often the hairy parts of the body and live by feeding on human blood. There are three kinds of lice, 1) head lice, 2) body lice, and 3) pubic lice (crabs).

Head lice live mainly on the scalp, at the back of the head and behind the ears. They are rather transparent and barely large enough to see (1.0-2.0 mm in length). They grow from little round eggs (nits) and are usually found attached to the base of hairs with a kind of cement produced by the female. Eggs are small, pearly and look something like dandruff flakes, but unlike dandruff, they are extremely difficult to remove. Lice produce an intense itching as a result of the saliva injected into the skin when the louse feeds. Sometimes secondary infections can occur when people scratch and create an abrasion. Head lice are usually spread from one infested person to another through the use of such personal items as combs, brushes, towels, bedding and clothing such as hats and scarves. Because children are less concerned with hygiene and more apt to share combs and hats or engage in "direct-contact" play, they are the most frequent victims of lice infestation.

Body lice are less common than the other types of lice but are the only lice that transmit serious diseases. Body lice leave tiny bite marks that can be found on the body around the waist and between the shoulders. Scratch marks or rash may be a symptom of lice infestation. They do not live all day long on the body but lay their eggs in the clothing or bed linens of the infested person and move to the patient's body to feed. The major symptom is a disturbing, maddening itch of the body that may be generalized or may shift from one spot to another.

Crab lice do have a crab-like appearance when examined under a magnifying glass. They are frequently the color and size of small freckles. They usually attack the pubic areas of the body and sometimes are found underarms, on eyelashes, on moustaches and in the peri-anal region. They are spread by close body contact with an infested person. Occasionally, they can spread through the use of someone else's infested clothing, towels, bedding and sometimes contaminated toilet seats.

There are several things to do when lice are detected. Do not panic. The infestation is usually very easy to control, if detected and properly treated before it has a chance to spread. Current non-prescription pediculicide products (such as A-200, Cuprex, Rid) should be applied to the infested areas, wetting it completely and massaging it in for ten minutes. Reapplication may be necessary in eight to ten days. Itching may persist for a while, even after the lice have been destroyed. Fine-toothed combs should be used to remove dead lice and eggs from the hair as the pediculicides do not dissolve dead lice or their eggs. The comb must be used in such a manner that it penetrates to the hair roots. Treat the patient's family and close associates if they too are infested. Clothes, bedding, etc. may harbor lice and should be washed in hot water or dry-cleaned. Carpets should be thoroughly vacuumed. Alternatively, items may be isolated in plastic bags which kills all lice in 30 to 35 days. Use a pyrethrin-containing aerosol spray on carpets, mattresses and upholstery that cannot be washed or laundered (examples are R & C spray and Liban spray). These products are to be used on inanimate objects only. For widely infested or persistent problems, consult your personal physician.

Since having lice is not a social disgrace, the important point is not to keep it a secret. Inform any persons you may have had contact with, the school authorities, or community health departments. They can then take the necessary measures to inspect and treat other people in the community to keep the condition from spreading.

A two-pack-a-day cigarette smoker could, by quitting, save enough in just ten years (at six percent interest and at present prices) to buy an around-the-world cruise or a good sized boat. In 25 years, you could save $25,000. The savings to your health and longevity are even greater.

Something new in the line of baby showers was given by Mr. and Mrs. William Martin at their home Saturday night honoring father-to-be Ed Keuper of this village. Nine couples were guests at the surprise shower and was he surprised! The expectant father was presented with beautiful, practical gifts for the baby and an equal number of humorous gifts for himself. After being presented with and donning an apron to which was attached all necessary "equipment" for the care of the baby including oil can, hammer, aspirin, diapers, cotton, etc., nervous Eddie opened the gifts. The variety of comical gifts presented to the father-to-be kept the guests in stitches.

Clarence A. Schwartz, Sheriff

What to Do on the Approach Of An Emergency Vehicle

Perhaps one of the most frustrating situations encountered by Sheriff's Deputies and other operators of emergency vehicles is trying to weed their way through traffic to an emergency while operating with their red lights and siren, stated Washington County Sheriff Clarence Schwartz in a recent release.

Often times it seems the driving public is oblivious to the flashing red lights and howling siren and gives little consideration, more often than not, that the emergency vehicle is responding to a life and death matter.

Sheriff Schwartz wanted to make it clear that all vehicles are required to yield to an emergency vehicle. That is to move as far as is practical to the right side of the roadway, STOP, and REMAIN STOPPED until the emergency vehicle has passed. This applies to vehicles traveling toward the emergency vehicle, as well as in the same direction. All too often, vehicles traveling toward the emergency vehicle fail to comply with this law and in a sense are the worst violators.

In most cases, a driver approaching from the opposite direction is able to see the red lights far in advance of a driver traveling in the same direction. Drivers traveling in the same direction too seldom check their rear view mirrors, and because of the sound barrier provided, and often with their radio on, do not realize they are being overtaken by an emergency vehicle until it is directly behind them.

Sheriff Schwartz concluded by stating that drivers should check their rear view mirrors often, and be alert for approaching emergency vehicles, which include police vehicles, ambulances and fire trucks. He also emphasized that all drivers traveling in both directions should immediately pull to the right and stop when they encounter an emergency vehicle. This will give the squad car, fire truck, or ambulance the little extra room it needs to proceed safely on its way to its emergency call.

Sheriff Schwartz also related that it is illegal to follow an emergency vehicle closer than 500 feet and to park or stop within 300 feet of a fire or other emergency unit, where fire apparatus has responded.

Certificate of Title Fee Increased by $1

The cost of a title certificate has increased by $1 as of July 2, the state Department of Transportation said.

The fee changes were adopted as part of the state 1983-85 budget bill. Under the new schedule, both first certificates and certificates of title after a transfer cost $5. The cost of a replacement certificate of title increased from $7 to $8.

Carl Johnson, director of the Division of Motor Vehicles' Registration and Licensing Bureau, said dealers and law enforcement agencies have been advised of the changes, but it will take several weeks before new application forms can be printed and distributed.

... about your Social Security

By David Becker, Social Security Branch Manager in West Bend

APPLYING FOR SOCIAL SECURITY RETIREMENT BENEFITS

People who wish to apply for Social Security retirement benefits but who find it difficult to visit a Social Security office can make initial application by telephone. Social Security personnel will obtain the necessary information and then arrange to complete the application process by mail.

Application for retirement benefits should be made at least 2 or 3 months before the person plans to stop working. This will help assure that benefits will start for the month of retirement. The first check should be received early in the month following the first full month of retirement.

Certain documents are essential for establishing eligibility for retirement benefits. They include a Social Security card or a record of the number and proof of date of birth, such as a birth certificate or a religious record of birth or baptism that was recorded before the person was 5 years old. These documents must be original records or copies certified by the agency that issued them.

In the event that original records or certified copies are not available, the best possible evidence of date of birth should be submitted. These include, among others, school and church records, a marriage license, a passport, and employment or military service papers.

Applicants for retirement benefits should also submit their Wage and Tax Statement forms (W-2) for the preceding 2 years, and self-employed individuals should submit copies of their tax returns plus proof of filing, such as a cancelled check. The reason is that the most recent reports of earnings may not yet have been credited on the applicant's Social Security record.

A spouse who applies for benefits will have to provide similar documentation. In addition, a marriage certificate may be required. The birth certificates and Social Security numbers of eligible unmarried children should also be submitted.

Additional information about applying for Social Security retirement benefits can be obtained at any Social Security Office.

Horticulture Agent Plans Walk in the Park

If you have weeds in the lawn or a dying Russian Olive tree, you might want to reserve Wednesday, August 17, on your calendar.

Dan Wilson, Washington County's Horticulture Agent, is planning a leisurely walk through Regner Park, West Bend. He will talk about a variety of recommended plants, plant problems and solutions to those problems. He'll be identifying weeds and recommending controls. He'll also be looking at many other plants to discuss their good and bad points.

If this sounds interesting to you, meet Dan in the Regner Park parking lot which is just to the west of the soccer field. (Enter the park through the main entrance off Hwy. 45 and go past the pond and ball diamond to the parking lot straight ahead). He'll be wearing a red and white "plant doctor" cap for those that don't recognize him!

Since the days are getting shorter plan to start at 6:00 p.m. and go to 7:30 p.m. or later if there's still light. Rain date will be Thursday, August 18.

So Dan knows how many people to expect, please give the UW-Extension office a call at 338-4480, 342-2929, or 644-5204 to make your reservation.

Roll call vote was 6 "Aye," 0 "Nay," 1 "Absent." The public hearing was declared closed.

Police Chief Hlavaty asked that the Protection and Public Safety Committee look into the revising of the winter parking ordinance. The Board agreed to have the committee review the matter.

The application of Casper John Galliard for an Operator's (bartender's) license was tabled because it was not complete. (The health certificate was not turned in).

On a motion by Trustee David Nigh, seconded by Trustee Donald Mlodzik and unanimously carried by voice vote, the application of Kathleen V. Janowiak for a Combination Class "B" Fermented Malt Beverage and Intoxicating Liquor License at 109 Main Street (Glacier Inn) was approved upon proper payment of fee and the surrendering of William Kulas' license. TIPS ON HOW TO KEEP COOL
WHEN YOU FIND OUT ABOUT ALL THE TAX INCREASES

As you probably know by now, the state budget recently passed and signed by the governor is going to be very costly to Wisconsin taxpayers. About $2.7 billion in new taxes have been raised in Wisconsin since the first of the year. That is the equivalent of more than $2,000 for the average-size family in the state.

A lot of unnecessary spending was added to that budget by the Democrats, who control both houses of the Legislature and the governor's office. Republicans, a large minority in the Legislature but the minority nonetheless, tried to keep the tax increase to a minimum, to do what is best for all of Wisconsin. But to no avail.

Now, when you start to realize just how much this new wave of taxing and spending will cost you, you might get a little hot under the collar. In fact it might hit you like a July heat wave. So here are a few tips for keeping cool:

You could move to a better climate. This may seem drastic, but you wouldn't be alone. Many lifelong state residents have been leaving Wisconsin in their retirement years to avoid paying such high income taxes. (Wisconsin personal income tax rates rank at the top for most income levels). Unfortunately, the state then loses all their income tax, property tax and sales tax revenues in the process, not to mention their good citizenship.

Businesses have been leaving the state seeking a cooler tax climate too. Unfortunately, they have been taking thousands of jobs with them when they go.

Another way to stay cool might be to sit in front of the fan or air conditioner. But then you'd probably just get to thinking about your electric bills and how much they will rise as a result of major new taxes on utility companies, which are, of course, passed on to you. It could make your temperature rise.

Perhaps you'd do best to just relax in your yard under a nice shade tree, sipping your lemonade. But then you might realize how expensive that shade is getting to be as a result of reduced property tax credits, another discredit to the Democrat's budget. You'll be paying for it in higher property taxes.

Oh, forget about going to your little cottage. With the scuttling of the second-home tax credit, you probably decided you couldn't afford it anymore and already sold it.

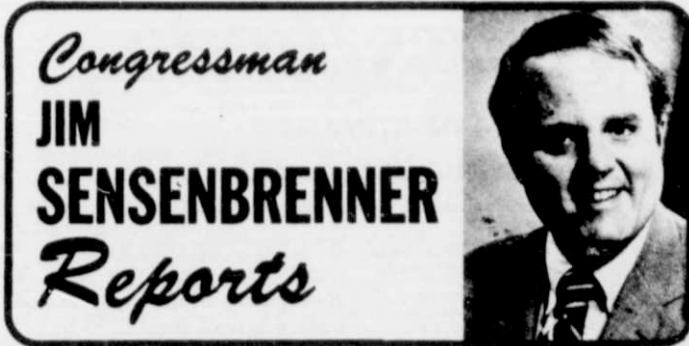

At least you've still got your cool lemonade, and the extra penny sales tax on it is hardly noticeable.

semester of the 1982-83 school year. Wisconsin residents who enroll part time, less than twelve credits, will pay $38.65 per credit.

Non-resident full-time tuition and fees will amount to $1,630.-50 per semester. Part-time costs for non-residents will be $135.-90 per credit.

Applications are currently being accepted for the fall semester. Classes are scheduled to begin on Tuesday, September 6.

WASHINGTON'S WASTE

"Nobody has any guts in Washington." These were the words of J. Peter Grace when describing the lack of courage by our lawmakers to reduce spending. Mr. Grace chairs the President's Private Sector Survey On Cost Control in the Federal government.

Recently, the last of a series of major reports issued by one of its task forces stated the U.S. could save more than 340 billion dollars in the next three years by being more efficient and businesslike. The reports make 2,236 specific recommendations for saving tax dollars in every federal field from data processing to weapon procurement.

For example, in the Defense Department alone $92 billion could be saved in a three year period by consolidating weapons-purchasing decisions, using common parts where feasible, closing unnecessary military bases, and so on. Additionally, the Department of Health & Human Services could

Dependent Care Tax Credit Legislation

Families who must use day care services so they can work will now be given a break in Wisconsin, thanks to State Representative Mary Panzer (R-West Bend), who co-sponsored legislation providing for a dependent care tax credit.

Panzer said Wisconsin has over 40,000 women with children under six years of age in the work force today, according to the 1980 census, which is an average statewide increase of over 46%. A tax credit was needed, she said, to aid those families who had to go to work in order to make ends meet, but were then forced to spend quite a bit of money on day care facilities for their children or handicapped or elderly dependents.

The tax credit is equal to 30% of the federal credit for working people who are paying for dependent care so they may continue to work. Panzer noted the credit is available even for those who don't itemize their income tax returns, which makes it a more equitable deal.

Panzer said, "A family with an adjusted gross income of between $14,000 and $16,000 and two or more dependents, for example, may be eligible for almost $1300 as a tax credit. And this credit applies to elderly and handicapped dependents as well as children."

She continued, "Wisconsin has almost 50,000 elderly people in institutions, and hopefully the tax credit will allow some families to bring elderly persons back home."

The dependent care tax credit wasn't designed mainly to help those in larger cities such as Milwaukee and Madison, Panzer said, but was aimed at families in rural areas, where there have been some of the largest increases in the number of women working outside the home.

"In Washburn County there was a 266% increase in working women, and Barron County had an increase of 128%!" Panzer said. "This tax credit will really help families statewide who are trying to stay off welfare and work, but must then use costly day care services. I'm very happy the legislature has passed it."
