Haney Benefit a Success

Amerahn Hall was filled with music and merriment as five area bands played Sunday afternoon and evening at a benefit for Robert Haney who was brutally beaten in an assault on May 21, and suffered severe eye damage.

The music started with Ta Nase Kapela, the Kougl Family Band, followed by the Bob Breuer Orchestra. Then Ferd

Buchel oompa-pa'd and Bill Thull kept the beat going. The evening was capped off in Big Band Style by the George Leonard eleven-piece orchestra. One group of couples drove down from Oshkosh to dance from 1:00 'till 12:00. We wish to thank these bands for donating their time. They made it possible for us to raise over $1,000 for the Haney's.

We also wish to thank the Lions Club, Kiwanis, Jaycees, Legion, Woman's Club, Jr. Woman's Club, and Firemen for all their hard work; most especially Earl Etta, Diane Buchel and Roy Esser for helping to organize. Earl Kleinke deserves recognition for donating the hall and lining up the bands. Thank you to Regal Ware for printing the posters and tickets and Kewaskum Statesman for publicity.

Scott Lopez of WTKM, Hartford, broadcast live from Amerahn Hall Sunday and we thank him for coming. Also WBKV for airing our cause to the public.

Our biggest thanks must go, however, to all those people who bought tickets and donated to the fund. The Haney Family expresses their heartfelt appreciation to you all.

Board OKs Another Phase Of Municipal Building Remodeling Project

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

At its meeting Monday night, the Kewaskum Village Board gave the "go-ahead" for another phase in the remodeling of the municipal building.

Brian Fisher, of Ruekert and Mielke, the village's engineering firm on the project, presented preliminary blueprints for the replacement of windows on the library's south side and the council room area. Village Administrator Dan Schmidt noted only the windows which will exist after the remodeling is completed will be changed. Any windows which will be removed due to later updating and remodeling will not be worked on at this time.

Fisher also showed the trustees the preliminary layout plan for the new vestibule area. All the window and vestibule materials and construction would be designed so that later remodeling of the present garage area would blend in, both in architecture and building materials.

Fisher said development of final drawings and specifications could be completed by August 31st, with bidding done by mid-September. Actual construction should be completed by mid-November.

Kewaskum Frozen Foods Wins 3 National Champion Awards

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

That was the good news heard by Dave Nigh of Kewaskum Frozen Foods Tuesday, when he received a call from his partner Bob Beisbier.

Bob and his family are attending the American Association of Meat Processors National Convention being held in Portland, Oregon.

Nigh said all the details were not available yet, but Beisbier had called to tell him their business had earned three national grand champion awards with their entries for cooked summer sausage, uncooked summer sausage, and ring bologna.

Nigh said this was the fifth consecutive year Kewaskum Frozen Foods had won a national grand champion award with at least one of their entries, however, as far as he knew, this was the first time one entrant in the national competition has received three grand champion awards in three separate categories in the same year.

Over the past several years, Kewaskum Frozen Foods has received national recognition for their quality line of meat products. This year's honors confirm that Nigh and Beisbier have continued to put all their efforts into maintaining their high standards and quality.

Receives Two Grand Champion Ribbons at County Fair

Michelle Etta

It isn't very often that one receives the award of Grand Champion at the Washington County Fair. But when you receive two Grand Champion ribbons, it's quite a thrill, as was the experience of Michelle Etta.

Michelle took her three pets, which are black and white Dutch rabbits, to the county fair. After taking three blue ribbons for each on her senior buck, junior doe and junior buck, Michelle's junior doe and junior buck each took Grand Champion in their respective classes.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Etta, Hwy. S, Kewaskum, and is a member of the Kewaskum 4-H Club.

In conjunction with the bar-b-que, the Lions will also run their Kettle-20 foot race. Along with the K-20, there will also be a 3.5 mile race. Both races will begin

This picture was taken about 50 feet south of Schrauth's mill on Schrauth's pond which was shown in last week's Statesman. The dam and bridge has been there many years on the Milwaukee River. It washed out in 1924 and before had to rebuilt several times. It looks just about the same as it always did.

Paul Kleinhans is on the bridge. His family had a store and tavern in Elmore. Sometimes the fishing was real good on Schrauth's pond. This picture was taken in 1910.

Summer Program at First Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church of Campbellsport will be featuring the last in its three part summer programs on Sunday, August 21, at 7:30 p.m. This last film is not only entertaining but will supply food for thought. Have you ever entertained an angel unaware? Don't miss this exciting film.

As with all our summer programs a nursery will be provided, refreshments served and a free will offering will be taken to help with the cost of presenting the event.

We want to welcome everyone to share this, the last of our summer programs and to thank all those who have attended the first two and helped to make them a success.

Village Board

The estimated cost for this phase of the remodeling is expected to run approximately $42,000. Schmidt told the board $26,000 would come from the 1983 budget and the balance would come from the village Restricted and General Funds.

The board also approved advertising for bids on construction of the water tower for the new #3 well. Schmidt said the tower would be constructed before the pumphouse because an extensive area at the well site is needed to lay out the steel work as the tower is built. Once the tower is finished, construction will begin on the pumphouse.

Fabrication of the tower is expected to be completed by March 1984, and completion of the pumphouse by August, 1984.

Schmidt informed the board the village had received its bill for the repair work done on Well #1. The total cost for repairing the well and updating the present codes came to $52,879.00. Because this was an unexpected breakdown, funds had not been budgeted, Schmidt noted. Approximately $30,000 will come from General Water Funds, with the balance coming from the General (Contingency) Fund.

Treatment Plant Superintendent Pete Albers presented the board with another large bill. This one was for the partial payment of $36,115 for the two new clarifier covers which arrived and were being installed at the plant. Albers said work should be completed by next Thursday.

The board approved repair work on Braatz Drive to correct drainage problems caused by sump pump run-off from several homes in the area. The work will consist of removing a portion of the curbing and blacktop to drop the catch basin. Constant run off had caused undermining of the area, resulting in water and ice standing in several areas on the street.

Public Works Committee Chairman Don Mlodzik said his committee recommended the village foot the cost of approximately $1,700, since the situation was in existence before present code revisions and there are some "gray" areas as to who would be legally responsible for the cost of the work. "If we had to go to court on this," said Mlodzik, "it might cost us more than just going out and correcting the problem."

Mlodzik told the board there were some other areas in the village with similar problems. However, these would not be corrected until money had been included in future budgets to cover the work.

The board approved building permits for the school district's construction of a storage shed near the Middle School. (The building materials have been donated to the high school by Walters Builders), and a storage shed for Pete Albers' property.

The board approved the hiring of Colleen Shaw as police clerk. Shaw will replace Jennifer Doherty who will be leaving to take a different job.

The board approved Parks Chairman Richard Schmidt's recommendation to change the hours for the Kiwanis Park. Beginning August 22nd, hours will be 12:00 to 6:00. The last scheduled open day for the pool will be August 26th, however, weather permitting, the pool will open Labor Day weekend September 3, 4 and 5.

Evening Adolescent Pregnancy Clinic Begins at St. Agnes

An Evening Adolescent Pregnancy Clinic began Tuesday, August 9, as a joint venture of Pregnancy Healthline, Inc. and St. Agnes Hospital in Fond du Lac.

The first program of its kind in the area, the clinic will be held at St. Agnes Hospital the second and fourth Tuesday of each month from 7 to 9:30 p.m. It is open to any pregnant adolescent through age 20 or any teenager who thinks she may be pregnant. The clinic will be run by Pregnancy Hotline volunteers trained in pregnancy counseling. An OB/GYN physician specialist will provide consultation as needed.

Clinic services will include on-site assessments including pregnancy testing (for a small fee) and a physical exam by a physician if requested. Pregnancy Healthline volunteers will also provide ongoing programs each session on pregnancy, labor and delivery and child care. If teenagers request, ongoing support and follow-through will be provided by Pregnancy Healthline volunteers. Referral sources to other community agencies will also be available.

The program is modeled after the "Community of Caring" program developed for pregnant adolescents under the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Foundation. It's an opportunity for pregnant adolescents to have a successful pregnancy, give birth to a healthy baby, learn to become a loving parent, take responsibility for education and vocation and affirm ethical values in sexuality and family life.

For more information, parents or teenagers can call Pregnancy Healthline at 923-4140.

Fine Weather Draws Early Farm Days Viewers

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Two days of excellent weather and approximately 25 exhibitors helped to attract over 600 visitors to the Kewaskum Historical Society's Ninth Annual "Early Farm Days" held over the weekend.

Society President Dan Schmidt said Sunday he was pleased with the turn-out even though his attendance figure of 600 was still preliminary since the event had a few more hours to run.

Visitors, young and old, found something of interest which taught them something about their ancestors' life on the farm, or brought back memories of what farming was like before the diesel tractors, combines, and electric milking machines.

Schmidt said several new exhibits had been added to the museum and log house this year, including a showcase of antique dolls.

Visitors were able to walk through the old log house which was donated to the society by Marshal and Orville Reysen of Beechwood, and reconstructed and restored by society members. Each room is furnished to show early life in the farm home.

Other exhibits on the park grounds included a corn shelling operation, an operating saw mill and demonstration of spinning wool into yarn. Several displays included collections of early steam and gas engines.

Historical Society member Hilda Firks greeted visitors to the log house during "Early Farm Days."

Exhibitors operate an old time corn sheller.

EVERYONE IS WELCOME TO ATTEND

First Reunion Of Dieringer Family Held

In the year 1844, four sons of Valentin Dieringer, of Rangendingen, Germany, immigrated to the United States. They were Andreas, Sigmund, Norbert, and Barnabas Dieringer. Descendants of the Dieringer family held their first annual reunion at Campbellsport Fireman's Park on Sunday, August 7, beginning at noon with a potluck dinner. The 14 generation genealogy books were a sellout and orders were taken for more books to be printed.

A total of 186 people attended, the oldest being Mrs. Olive Dieringer, of Beechwood Nursing Home, age 84. She is the mother of Andrew, Gregor L., Addie, Tom, Francis, and Jim Dieringer, and Lucille Odekirk, all in attendance. Mrs. Olga Dieringer of Belleview, Florida, age 75, traveled the farthest to attend, even though in a wheel chair, and was accompanied by her son Donald, granddaughter Sandra Coronado, great-grandchildren, Jeanette, Jeremy and Tasha, all of West Bend. Amanda Jo, daughter of John and Jan Dieringer, age 3 months, was the youngest.

Descendants of three of the brothers, Andreas, Sigmund, Barnabas as well as a sister Franceska were in attendance. Ralph Gruber, Bernice Jutila and her husband Edward of Wauwatosa were also there. Ralph and Bernice's great-great uncle was Franz Gruber who wrote "Silent Night." The Grubers are descended from Franceska Dieringer, who married Jeremias Dieringer, probably a distant cousin. Franceska was brought to America by her daughter Josephine after 1885. She was sponsored by Andreas, her brother. Ann Felden Skrentny and her son Tom of Sun Prairie, Wis. were there. Ann is the granddaughter of Barnabas Dieringer, and was married the longest, 48 years.

Other guests traveled from La Crosse, Laona, Port Washington, Plymouth, Eau Claire, Hartford, Glendale, Kewaskum, Fond du Lac, West Bend, Greenwood, Spencer, Milwaukee, Saukville, Glenbeulah and Grafton, Wis. Many Campbellsport area relatives also attended.

Chairperson and geneologist was Loraine Dieringer Seibel. Ruth and Norman Menke, Helen and Gene Rohlinger, John Dieringer, Rose Hackbarth and Clarence Seibel served on the planning and preparation committee.

Everyone had an enjoyable time, visiting the relatives they had never seen before, and are looking forward to next year—same time, the first Sunday in August, August 5, 1984—same place, Campbellsport Fireman's Park for the second annual Dieringer Reunion.

WITI-TV 6 to Air Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon

WITI-TV 6 will televise the Jerry Lewis Extra Special Special, the Labor Day Telethon to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA). The 22-hour extravaganza will go on the air Sunday, September 4, at 7:30 p.m. and run continuously to 5:30 p.m., Monday, September 5.

"I'm delighted WITI-TV 6 will be joining our 'Love Network' again this year," said MDA National Chairman Jerry Lewis. "Love Network" affiliates make an indispensable contribution to the MDA Telethon fund-raising effort. In one day, we produce the equivalent of a whole season's worth of live entertainment. Without the support of stations such as TV 6, we couldn't raise the funds necessary to carry on the fight against neuromuscular disease."

To be broadcast by some 200 stations around the country, the 18th annual Labor Day Telethon for MDA will originate live from Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas. Ed McMahon and Casey Kasem again will co-host the show with Lewis, and Lewis' special friend, Sammy Davis Jr., will be an extra added attraction.

For most of the telecast, each station will cut in for 15 minutes per hour with local programming. Local stations use part of this time, Lewis noted, to educate viewers about what MDA does with the money they donate. MDA supports more than 230 hospital-affiliated clinics around the country, where patients with any of the 40 neuromuscular diseases covered by Association programs can receive medical care, counselling and orthopedic aids and other needed equipment—all at no direct cost to them or their families. The Association also funds more than 500 individual research projects in this country and abroad to find the causes of and effective treatments for neuromuscular diseases.

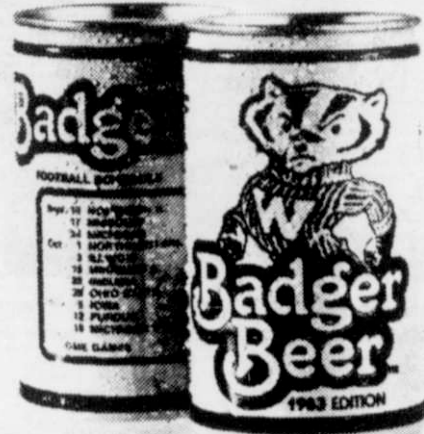

In the Southeastern Wisconsin area, MDA clinics are located at Milwaukee Children's Hospital and Froedtert

Memorial Lutheran Hospital. MDA also sponsors some 70 summer camps throughout the country for youngsters with neuromuscular disease, including one at Camp Minikani in Hubertus.

Last year's MDA Telethon raised more than $28 million in pledges, attracting an audience of approximately 92.5 million people.

General Telephone Opens New Phone Mart Customer Service Booth at Lomira

General Telephone customers in the Lomira area can obtain telephone service "without leaving the neighborhood" via a new Phone Mart Customer Service Booth that has opened at Valley Bank of Brownsville - Lomira Branch, 250 E. Main Street.

"The Customer Service is an expansion of the GTE Phone Mart concept," said Robert G. Burger, division manager for the company's Southeastern Division. "The seven-foot tall booth acts as a self-service showroom, telephone instrument exchange, pick-up and delivery point - all in one convenient location."

Located in the bank, the booth provides a direct toll-free telephone line customers may use to apply for new service or change or discontinue service. The display also includes brochures and catalogs that explain equipment features and describe decorating ideas with today's telephones.

Customers can order telephone equipment and arrange for delivery on a specified date (usually within one day of their order) to a storage area within the booth. They also may return defective or discontinued-service equipment to the booth for General Telephone pick-up.

The direct line to the telephone company's business office permits customers to ask any questions they may have about service or billing. Customers also may deposit bill payments with bank clerks on site.

Customers can call General Telephone's business office from the new booth Monday through Thursday, 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., and Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Phones may be picked up or returned Monday through Thursday 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., and Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

The Lomira exchange serves 840 customers in a 28 square mile area of Fond du Lac and Dodge Counties.

Perry Lindquist Named New County Conservationist

Perry M. Lindquist has been named the new County Conservationist for the Washington County Land Conservation Department. Perry is a 1980 graduate of U.W. Stevens Point with majors in Natural Resource and Watershed Management with a minor in Soil Science. For the past two and one-half years he has worked at the Southeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission as a Planning Draftsman. Now, in cooperation with the residents of Washington County, he will be working with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service personnel towards a common goal of reducing soil erosion in the area. This of course has an added benefit of enhancing the water quality of the many lakes and streams which we all enjoy. Being native to rural Oconomowoc, Perry says he shares our appreciation for these resources and is very enthusiastic about working towards preserving them.

Perry's job mainly consists of the planning and application of soil management practices for farms. This includes such things as terraces, diversions, contour strip cropping, grass waterways, or any other practice that would help to conserve the soil and improve the "productivity" of the farm.

If you would like to express your thoughts on any natural resource concerns, you are welcome to contact the office at 2395 W. Washington Street or phone 334-3706.

SCS Proclaims August 1983 to August 1984 Food and Fitness Year

Sound agricultural practices have been a hallmark of Wisconsin since the beginning of the USDA Soil Conservation Service, fifty years ago, according to Cliff Maguire, SCS State Conservationist.

SCS was born in 1933 in the fury of the Dust Bowl Days when temporary Soil Erosion Service was established by President Franklin D. Roosevelt to combat rampant erosion in Wisconsin. The agency, headed by Hugh Hammond Bennett, was made permanent and renamed Soil Conservation Service in 1935. This early Wisconsin SCS agency developed conservation methods still in use across the United States.

"Because of the impact of agriculture on our state, it is appropriate that August 1983 to August 1984, has been proclaimed Food and Fitness Year," Maguire said in reference to the document signed by Governor Earl, August 4. Maguire is Chairperson of the Wisconsin Food and Agriculture Council, who sponsored the observance. The council is composed of heads of all USDA agencies in the state.

The proclamation recognizes the value of food and agricultural to the state and the nation and encourages regular exercise for physical fitness.

"Wisconsin's agricultural system provides wholesome and nutritious foods," Maguire said. "But it is also important for persons of all ages to have adequate physical exercise to maintain good health."

"Because of our bountiful food supply and our many opportunities for physical activity, each Wisconsinite has the freedom to choose the food and exercise that is right for his or her lifestyle and physical condition," he said. "By maintaining an appropriate balance of good nutrition and suitable exercise, physical fitness is assured."

Food and Fitness Year is being celebrated in conjunction with similar observances in all states across the nation.

Corn Acreage Down 27 Percent in State

Wisconsin's corn acreage for all purposes is estimated at 3.2 million acres, down 27% from 1982, and the smallest corn acreage in the state since 1972, when 3.1 million acres were planted, according to a report just issued by the Wisconsin Agriculture Reporting Service.

Ron Kriesel, crop statistician with the Wisconsin Dept. of Agriculture, Trade & Consumer Protection, says that grain acreages are estimated at 2.4 million acres, down 28% from 1982. Soybean acreage is down by 15% while oat acreage is up by two percent.

According to Kriesel, U. S. corn planted for all purposes is estimated at 60.1 million acres, down 27% from last year, and the lowest acreage since records began. Growers in the U.S. expect to harvest 52.5 million acres for grain, down 28% from 1982.

Soybean acreage in the U.S. is down by 12% this year, while oat acreage is up by 42% from last year.

Kriesel points out that the large decrease in corn acreage can be attributed to the heavy sign-up in acreage reduction programs. "The large increase in oat acreage reflects acres planted for conservation use under the Payment In Kind Program," he adds.

ELDERLY HEALTH
People "can make their last years less of a trial... keep on their own feet and out of nursing homes" if they follow 3 precautions to avoid stroke and heart attack, says the Journal of AMA.
1. Check blood pressure at least once a year - medicate if necessary.
2. Don't smoke.
3. Maintain low blood cholesterol by eating few eggs and almost no animal fat.
Breaking even one rule doubles the risk. Breaking all three makes one 10 times more liable to stroke or heart attack.

Letters to the Editor . . .

August 16, 1983

Dear Editor,

I would like to use your paper to thank the Kewaskum Jaycees for their sponsorship of the Youth Softball Program. My son has been involved for two years now and I have been impressed with the dedicated coaches, umpires and general good sportsmanship of all the teams. The Jaycees should be commended for a well-organized, well-run program, and I for one say, "Keep up the good work."

Sincerely,
Larry Ammel

To the Editor:

How irritating that some of our school board members have absolutely no idea of the economic straits many of the people of our district are in. Last year the entire board voted to bus twenty children to Beechwood, the reason being to save money. This year the we-bus/-we-will-not-bus board members (the same board members switching from side to side) ignored the economics and finally decided to have two small sections at Wayne rather than bus nine students to Kewaskum.

I am most upset with one board member. The others who voted for the spending campaign as liberal spenders and are just living up to their campaign promises. This member, on the other hand, seems determined to become our newest liberal after campaigning as a conservative. His vote, since he changed it twice, is evidently based not on principal but on how many people in the audience are yelling at him or organizing telephone campaigns. It is sad when a very small vocal minority of district residents can sway the vote of a board member. What will be the next issue on which he changes his vote? Perhaps he is simply playing politician, looking forward to next year's election. I wonder what he will consider himself then—a liberal conservative, a conservative liberal, a fence straddler?

TWO THINGS MISUNDERSTOOD!

Several items crossed my desk this week which shed light on our current highway accident problems. The first was a rambling, bitter article that took nearly 36 inches of newspaper space to say that a friend of the writer had run a red light, been arrested, and fined.

Actually, only one sentence was devoted to admitting the friend broke the law. The rest was an outraged blast at the police and Judge who heard the case. The writer was upset because his friend had to plead either guilty or not guilty to the charge. He was highly critical of the fact that his friend was given a pamphlet, "mistitled," as he put it, "A Traffic Violation, Your Right and Responsibilities."

After saying the title was wrong, the writer reversed himself and said, "besides telling about these rights, the pamphlet contains a few paragraphs of pure 'corn' about the number of traffic accidents and the cost of them."

The red I saw at that point must have been brighter than the one his friend chose to ignore. We fail to see anything 'corny' about sudden death, severe injury, pain and suffering, in addition to the tremendous economic loss.

We cannot go along with the twisted logic in the story which, after admitting the driver ran a red light, virtuously said all drivers are more concerned with traffic safety than the Judge, and then claims the offending driver was "driving safely, sanely and defensively" when he got the ticket.

The writer was outraged because "the cop," as he calls the arresting officer, didn't stop the driver immediately but several blocks away. He also made much of the fact that his friend hadn't seen the Officer when he ran the red light. And I guess this may be the whole problem. When people see a police car they drive properly. Otherwise they do just as the friend did - they ignore laws that interfere with the way they want to drive.

Wouldn't it be an interesting experience to drive if every one of us could set our own rules? I wonder how long it would take to wipe out the human race, or how long before the survivors decided they needed rules to go by if they were going to keep on being survivors?

Drivers should also note that one year the State of Wisconsin's Highway Safety Office won the nation's top award with the "Are You Putting Me On?" safety belt campaign. Again, little change in seatbelt usage was found.

It's a sad commentary on the human race when we have to be forced to protect ourselves and our loved ones from serious injury and death. Why do we always have to learn the hard way?

Sincerely yours,
Clarence A. Schwartz,
Sheriff

Child Support Payments $60,508 In County in 1982

Wisconsin counties collected $50.8 million in 1982 from fathers who did not provide financial support for their children. This is a 326% increase over the $11.9 million collected in 1976, the first year the child support program was in operation, according to a report by the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance (WTA), Madison.

The WTA, a privately supported government-research and citizen-education organization, said that a 1975 federal law required every state to set up a program of child support enforcement for parents, mainly fathers who did not provide money for their children who are receiving aid to families with dependent children (AFDC). The federal government pays 70% of the cost of the collection program. In Wisconsin, the program is administered by the county under contract with the state. In 1982, $38.3 million was collected from AFDC-related support payments.

In addition, the county collects court-ordered child support payments where the parent is not receiving AFDC. This amounted to $12.5 million in 1982.

The WTA said that the federal law authorizes a county to retain 15% of the AFDC collections as a means of encouraging collections. In 1982, these incentive payments were $5.6 million, compared to the counties' share of the administrative costs of $3.4 million. This means a profit of $2.2 million for Wisconsin counties in 1982.

According to the WTA, 58 counties, or 81% of the total, earned more in 1982 collection incentives than their cost to administer the program. The counties producing at least $2.50 in revenues for every $1 in county funds spent were: La Crosse (ratio of 2.67); Outagamie (2.66); and Marinette (2.52).

In Washington county, 1982 collection incentives were $60,508, while the county's share of costs was $25,473. This was a revenue-to-cost ratio of 2.38, compared with the statewide average of 1.46. There were 3.00 full-time equivalent county employees working in child support enforcement in Washington county. This was 0.35 per 10,000 population, compared with the 1.09 statewide average.

The WTA said that the state also benefits from the program because it receives about 42% of AFDC collections. This is the same percentage of AFDC grants financed by state taxes. In 1982, the state share of collections, which was a revenue to the general fund, was $16 million.

For a free copy of the report on child support enforcement, write the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance, 335 West Wilson Street, Madison 53703.

Four girls of "Betty's" Tavern, operated by Tony Testilon, better known as Kohn's Curve, 2 miles north of Kewaskum on Highway 55, were taken into custody by Undersheriff C. W. Booth of Fond du Lac last week Thursday night, and on Friday morning appeared before Justice H. M. Fellenz and were each sentenced to 60 days in jail. The complaint charging the girls with improper speech and behavior at the roadhouse was signed by the Undersheriff, who was on Thursday night directing a night patrol under orders of Sheriff George Freund. Undersheriff Booth entered the tavern shortly before midnight and found the four women standing at the bar, cursing and talking loud. He cautioned them and when they refused to heed the warning, he took them to the county jail.

Fire on Monday night destroyed two farm buildings on the Frank Wiedemeyer farm, 1 1/2 miles east of St. Michaels in the Town of Farmington, together with approximately 5,000 feet of dry lumber and about $300 worth of blacksmith and farm tools. The loss is estimated at $1,500. One of the buildings destroyed was that of the blacksmith shop alongside the highway, where the tools and lumber had been stored. The shop had not been operated for a number of years and was best known as the Rodenkirch shop. The other building, which was a frame structure, was formerly a residence, but rearranged into a garage. It was located a few feet north of the blacksmith shop. The cause of the fire was attributed to a son of Mr. Wiedemeyer taking gasoline out of a barrel stored in the garage to fill the gasoline tank of their automobile. In some manner the gasoline ignited and immediately spread and enveloped the garage into flames.

Filing Deadline for Highway Use Tax Return Draws Near

Owners of most large trucks, truck-tractors, or buses must file an IRS Form 2290, "Federal Use Tax Return on Highway Motor Vehicles," by August 31, 1983, the Internal Revenue Service said.

The tax period for the highway use tax began July 1, 1983, and ends June 30, 1984. Taxpayers who will first use vehicles after July must file Form 2290 by the last day of the month following the month of first taxable use. The return must be filed with the Internal Revenue Service Center for the area in which the taxpayer's principal business, office or agency or legal residence is located. For Wisconsin truck owners the return must be filed in Kansas City, Missouri.

The highway use tax applies to highway motor vehicles, including single-unit trucks of 2 or 3 axles weighing 13,000 pounds or more; single-unit trucks with 4 or more axles, regardless of weight; 2-axled truck-tractors weighing 5,500 pounds or more; 3-or-more-axled truck-tractors, regardless of weight; 2-axle trucks of 9,000 pounds or more, equipped for use in combinations; 3-or-more-axled trucks equipped for use in combinations, regardless of weight and buses with a taxable gross weight of more than 26,000 pounds.

The tax is imposed on those vehicles using any public highway, which includes federal, state and city roads. Revenue from the tax helps states in financing the Interstate Highway System.

Form 2290 and IRS Publication 349, "Federal Highway Use Tax on Trucks, Truck-tractors and Buses," can be ordered by writing the IRS or calling the IRS Tax Information number listed in the telephone directory.

Threshold Receives National Accreditation

The Threshold, West Bend, has been informed by the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities that it has received a 3-year accreditation for meeting high standards of performance for their adult programs in Vocational Evaluation, Work Adjustment Training, Job Placement, Work Services and Activity Services. The accreditation, per Horst Wagner, Threshold's Executive Director, is a result of a 2-day on-site visit and survey by Shirley Joppie, Executive Director of EBI Breakthru, Inc., located in Lake Odessa, Michigan. Ms. Joppie was assigned by the National CARF office.

Rehabilitation facilities throughout Wisconsin and other states are encouraged by local, state and national funding sources to follow and maintain CARF accreditation. It also, according to Wagner, "enables agencies to keep abreast and maintain objective and ongoing high standards of operation for those we serve."

In a letter received by Threshold from Allen Toppel, Executive Director of the CARF office located in Tucson, Arizona, Toppel related that... "your facility has successfully met high standards of performance..." "This important achievement on your part is a further indication of your dedication and commitment to improve the quality of the lives of handicapped and disabled individuals."

The survey report included standards which covered the following areas with the following comments:

A) Purposes - The range, scope and depth of services offered by the facility are comprehensive and consistent with the stated purposes of the facility. The purposes of the center are stated clearly throughout various corporation documents and brochures in a manner which defines the character and direction of its service programs.

B) Governing Body - The Board of Directors consists of 15 members who from all indications are actively involved in the overall facility program and represent a wide range of community interests.

C) Organization and Administration - Clear lines of authority and responsibility exist throughout the organization and administration of the facility. There appears to be good lines of communication established among administration, management staff and the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors, administration and staff are commended for their responsiveness to the needs of disabled persons in their community.

D) Evaluation, Management Information System, Reporting & Administrative Recordkeeping - The administration is commended for maintaining excellent administrative records which not only reflect status of the facility, but also help guide its operations. The facility is commended for developing a program evaluation system designed to identify the results of the service programs and the effect of the program on individuals served.

E) Personnel Administration and Staff Development - The Board and administration are commended for dedicated and enthusiastic staff members who are well qualified to perform the services offered by the facility. The facility has good personnel policies and job descriptions and staff members appear well aware of their job responsibilities.

F) Fiscal Management - The facility's financial operation and fiscal management are in accord with sound practices and legal requirements.

G) Public Relations - The facility enjoys excellent community identity... The Board and staff are commended for their continuing efforts to inform the public of facility services and the needs of people with disabilities in general.

H) Physical Facilities and Safety - The facility is well located, accessible, extremely well maintained and appropriate for the services provided and the population served. The committee and safety chair have established and are monitoring an excellent safety plan and safety procedures.

The Threshold also was commended for standards for all programs. These included the areas of intake and orientation; assessment and evaluation; program management; referral, discharge and follow up; and case records.

The Threshold has been CARF accredited since 1976. Our most recent accreditation related Wagner, "is a credit to the many staff who have been involved in various subcommittees to insure compliance to standards."

As taken from the CARF rationale for the accreditation report, related Wagner, "The primary strengths of the facility are its dedicated, qualified, competent and enthusiastic staff. Services are highly coordinated and comprehensive enough to meet the needs of the clientele of the facility."

Threshold presently services 190 adults residing in Washington County. The majority of which are based on a daily basis to the agency.

UW Center-Fond du Lac to Begin Classes Sept. 6

The University of Wisconsin Center-Fond du Lac begins its 16th year of service to the community with classes beginning Tuesday, September 6.

Over 100 credit classes in 23 subject areas are offered at the freshman-sophomore campus, with courses offered during the day, late afternoon, and evening to provide flexibility to area residents. Courses are open to all students, full-time, part-time, and adult.

To gain admission to the center, students are required to file a UW System admission application form. The only placement test required is for English Composition classes. Application for admission and the English placement test should be completed before seeking advisement and registration.

Registration for the fall semester for students who have not filed programs is Wednesday, August 31, at 1:30 p.m. in the Student Center. Students will meet with advisors to choose classes, file programs, register, and pay fees - all in one session. Another session at 5:30 p.m. is for evening-only students and those who cannot make the earlier session.

The UW Center-Fond du Lac is a tax supported institution, which allows Wisconsin residents access to a low-cost university. Fees for the fall semester are $38.65 per credit up to 11 credits and $464.50 for 12 or more credits. Audit students pay only half the normal fee, but do not receive credit. Persons 62 and over may audit a course free of charge.

The purpose of the local center is to provide area residents with the opportunity to obtain UW courses without having to travel great distances. Advantages are that students can live at home for the first two years, saving expensive room and board costs, averaging close to $2,000 at resident colleges. They can also keep their jobs and continue activities in their home communities. The savings incurred by living at home could pay for much of their third year at the college to which they transfer. Part-time students, those enrolling in less than 12 credits, are increasing in number at the state's two-year commuter schools. Able to hold jobs while attending classes, students can complete two years of college study and receive an associate degree. Some continue to four-year colleges and receive bachelors, masters and doctorate degrees. Last year UWC-Fond du Lac had a part-time enrollment of 28 percent. Most of these students attend classes to obtain better jobs or to move up in their careers.

The center also has a "special student" category for people who just want to take a course or two for personal interest or professional development. Anyone may enroll as a "special student" for up to six credits of course work without submitting previous educational records. High school seniors may also enroll in credit classes prior to graduation on a part-time basis. To qualify, they must file an application for admission form and have the recommendation of their high school principal. Credits and grades earned by the high school student will be fully accredited, transferable UW credits for the student.

Individuals may also audit courses at the center to gain whatever knowledge and understanding is available by sitting in on a class. Auditors are not expected to take examinations nor expect to have any course work evaluated by an instructor. Audits are on a space-available basis with the consent of the instructor.

The center offers students the opportunity to participate in activities which include: student government, the campus newspaper, and various clubs in Science Fiction and Fantasy; Astronomy, Space and Computers; History and Political Science; Sociology; Allied Health; and Chess. Fine arts activities include: Reader's Theater, Community Band, Swing Choir, Jazz Band, University Choir, and the Madrigal Dinner.

Athletic activities include soccer, golf, women's volleyball, men's and women's basketball, tennis, women's softball, and intramurals. The center also provides entertaining activities during the year which include: lectures, theater productions, music performances, movies, and dances which are all open to the public. For information on credit classes at the UW Center-Fond du Lac, contact the office of Student Services at 929-3606. Office hours are from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

ECONOMIC INDICATORS ENCOURAGING

Presently, our economy is producing encouraging signals to our policymakers. Let's examine some of them:

-The economy grew at a very healthy 8.7% annual rate during the second quarter, the strongest growth rate since the first quarter of 1981.

-Consumer prices rose only 0.2% in June, bringing the annual inflation rate to its lowest level in more than fifteen years.

-Personal income rose 0.5% last month, reflecting the improved employment situation. This increase meant that personal income for the second quarter was 8.9% above the first three months of the year, on an annual basis.

-Consumer spending climbed in June, with purchases totaling $21.2 billion. Some of the consumer spending was directed toward domestic new car sales, which jumped 38.6% in mid-July from the year earlier period.

Due to the strength of the economic recovery, the administration revised its estimate of the deficits, lowering them by $10 billion to $20 billion per year. This faster economic growth will boost tax receipts and lower federal spending for recession-related programs, including unemployment benefits.

And remember, this economic recovery is about to become even stronger due to the third installment of President Reagan's across-the-board tax cut.

McCallum Criticizes Reports on Legalized Gambling in Wisconsin

State Senator Scott McCallum (R-Fond du Lac) today criticized recent reports that legalized gambling will be okayed in Wisconsin, creating an economic boon for the state.

"The talk around town lately has been that the Legislature will expand legalized gambling this fall to include either horse racing, a state-run lottery, or both," said McCallum. "The result, say several lawmakers, will be an additional $50 million in revenue over the next two years."

"While at first glance, this paints a rosy picture for our economically ailing state, there are no guarantees that legalized gambling will be an overnight money-maker," McCallum commented. "We'd do well to view these figures with caution."

The Fond du Lac lawmaker explained that investments in pari-mutuel betting such as race tracks and horses, need time to pay-off. In addition, while licensing and regulation would result in long term revenues for the state, their implementation would involve start-up costs.

In all likelihood, the state would also have to set up a gambling bureaucracy, creating more red tape, added McCallum.

"We must consider what we are trying to achieve with this measure. If we just want to increase state revenues, there are other more efficient and feasible means," McCallum said.

"Lotteries have been known to draw from those who can least afford them," said McCallum. "Do we really want to adopt this kind of hidden, regressive tax?"

The voters of Wisconsin will ultimately be responsible for answering this question. In order to legalize gambling, a Constitutional amendment would have to pass successive legislative sessions and be approved in a state-wide referendum.

Currently, only bingo and raffles, conducted by charitable and religious, and service groups are allowed in Wisconsin.

Since 1960, over 16 states have authorized state lotteries, including Wisconsin's neighbors, Illinois, Michigan, and most recently, Minnesota. The fact that such Wisconsin money funnels into these states through participation in their gambling activities adds fuel to the fire of the recent legalization push in Wisconsin.

"Simply because our neighbors participate in legalized gambling does not mean Wisconsin should follow suit," concluded McCallum. "The progressive, clean-government image of Wisconsin is at stake. We should seriously consider this before we gamble it away for a few dollars."

TELEPHONE RATE INCREASE

A month ago, the Wisconsin Telephone Company announced plans to develop a new plan for local measured service. The announcement quickly came under fire by consumer groups concerned with prohibitively expensive phone rates.

A recent Federal Communications Commission (FCC) decision now guarantees higher phone rates for Wisconsin residents, regardless of how the State Public Service Commission acts on the local measured service proposal.

The FCC decision is based on last August's Federal Court ruling which ordered the dissolution of the American Telephone and Telegraph Corporation (AT&T). The corporate break-up will begin January 1, 1984, and continue for the next six years. The FCC's rate increase approval covers the first half of this transition period.

Beginning on January 1, 1984, residential users will pay $2 more a month for an "access charge" for interstate long distance. Rates will then increase by an additional $1 on both January 1, 1985, and January 1, 1986. While residential rates will increase $4 during this three year period, businesses will experience a $6 boost over the same time period.

Telephone Company officials say that long distance rates have traditionally been over priced in order to support local service and keep rates down. The advent of other long distance services from corporations such as ITT and MCI, however, is forcing the Bell system to lower long distance rates in order to compete. The FCC ruling is designed to completely end the local service subsidy and make the long distance market fully competitive.

While most observers believe the break-up of AT&T was inevitable, the relatively short amount of time between the ruling and its enactment came as a surprise. At present, many questions concerning the ultimate impact upon consumers remain unanswered. One thing is known for sure, however: phone rates will go up. In addition, changes such as initiating local measured service and establishing a three-tiered system of long distance rates have been discussed.

The FCC rate increase plan is expected to generate an additional $3.5 billion during the next year. Most of this money will return to local phone companies to cushion the impact of local phone bills. Consumers won't really notice the cushion, though. By the end of the divestiture, they will have seen their phone bills increase by 2 or 3 times current rates.

In the meantime, there is very little the State Public Service Commission can do. Because the decision to deregulate the phone system was a federal one, the rate-making authority of the PSC was, for the most part, preempted.

Club Seeks to Improve Walleye Fishing at Long Lake

Walleye fishermen on Long Lake, near Dundee, have recognized over the past few years that the number of fish being caught has dropped dramatically. DNR nettings the last two springs have verified the reduced walleye population.

In an attempt to reverse this trend and return the lake to its former reputation as an excellent walleye lake, the Long Lake Property Owners Association initiated the formation of the Long Lake Fishing Club. The club's purpose is to improve, protect and maintain the necessary environments to provide quality fishing in Long Lake.

In May of 1983 the DNR planted 427,000 walleye fry. Additional stocking will be continued on a regular basis.

In an effort to improve the walleye spawning habitat the club is planning, in cooperation with the DNR, the installation of two rock spawning reefs early in 1984. Fish cribs, buoy placement, weed control and pollution testing are being considered as future projects. Matching funds and a grant from the DNR are possible for the rock reef project, making adding new members and raising funds a primary concern.

Fishermen, campers, lake and area residents and businesses and anyone interested in Long Lake are invited to become members of this positive action club. The Long Lake Fishing Club currently has over 165 members. The first official club meeting is scheduled for this fall.

Special fund raising events are being discussed for next spring and summer. The Long Lake Legend, a quarterly newsletter, will give members a current update on all interesting and important lake activities.

Memberships are available at the following area businesses: Benson's Hide-a-Way, Bohlman's Bar, Mr. Ed's, Benson's Campground, Bait 'n' Browse Sport Shop, Dundee Hair Styles Unlimited, Kanes Grocery and Village Sport Shop. They are also available by sending your name, address and check in the amount of $10.00 to Long Lake Fishing Club, Rte. #2, Box 155A1, Campbellsport, WI 53010.

THURSDAY NITE GOODTIME LEAGUE Standings

Bartelt Ins.	6-2
Kennelly	6-2
BJ & Co.	4-4
Grand Larsony	2-6
Thornton & Schaub	2-6

Highlights

In last week's battle for first place it was more like David against Goliath as Kennelly moidered Bartelt Ins. 21 to 10. There were several turning points in the exciting game. Bartelt Ins. played without the services of two of their aces, David Wietor and Markie Roth. In order to fill out the roster they dredged up two ex-allstars from their Boltonville farm team namely Perry "P.K." Koth and Joel "Vitas" Fehlhaber. From their performance last week it was apparent that the rust was more than skin deep and they were on the next train back to Boltonville where Ralph "Barracuda" Koth promised to teach them the fine art of hitting a large slow moving ball in a forward straight line direction. The losers pitcher, Mike "base on balls" Pfeiffer, said the blustery winds were affecting the control of his slip sinker pitch as he allowed a total of eight walks. His brother, Ed Pfeiffer, allowed only one walk for the winners. I guess the wind stopped when Ed was on the mound. Kennelly's bats were booming as they had a total of 21 hits. They had just come off a five-game weekend tournament and they were fine tuned. What really diminished Bartelt Ins. chances of a victory was the surprise guest appearance of Amy Justman, who is a cheerleader on the Dallas Cowboys football cheerleader squad. Whenever the game would get close she would lead a cheer and Kennelly's bats would respond. The opponents hope she is back in Texas for this week's game. The playoff game for first place will be at 6:00 p.m. and the Bartelt squad vowed this game will be closer. Mike Pfeiffer has been seen practicing in his backyard with his wife Josie and rustoleum is being applied to their bats. There are still some bleacher and upper grandstand seats available. Last week's second game was a forfeit as Thornton & Schaub failed to field a team.

Player of the Week

The entire Kennelly team as they played just superb. Attendance: 176. The largest crowd of the year. The word no doubt leaked out about the appearance of Amy Justman for the games.

RACING NEWS

By Tom Gross

PLYMOUTH--Defending modified champion Ron Luedtke of Lomira sprinted into the lead on lap 13 of the 30-lap modified feature Saturday night at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds Speedway to mark up his second feature of the season at the Speedway. Luedtke is currently in second place in the Budweiser point series, behind West Bend's Frankie Heimerl. Heimerl has 974 points, Luedtke has 848.

Rick Van Der Vaart of Sheboygan also won his second feature of the season with a dog-fight win over Randy Markwardt of Sheboygan in the 20-lap sportsman feature. Steve Schad of Kiel won the hobby stock, 10-lap feature.

Luedtke, starting four rows back in the feature, moved up to the number three position behind Dave Deicher of Plymouth and Bill Johnson III of Slinger and the fourth lap. He maintained that spot until he swept past Johnson coming out of the third corner on lap ten.

Gene Erdmann of Sussex spun out on the next circuit. On the re-start Luedtke zipped past Johnson and never lost his lead. It was the second win for Luedtke at the Speedway with one feature win at Beaver Dam before Eastern Wisconsin Stock Cars, Inc. stopped racing there in June. "We ran on a borrowed engine last week, but Bob (Wondra, the owner of the car) rebuilt another one and it worked well." Luedtke added that the track was good and that he knew he had the win when he finally saw the checkered flag.

Rick Van Der Vaart began the race in the second row for the 20-lap sportsman feature, moved up quickly to the number three spot by lap three, then continued his dog-fight with Markwardt from the sixth lap until the checkered flag came down. "We've had problems for the last three weeks, but tonight everything was hooked up and working good."

Van Der Vaart kept the inside track to preserve his lead. He took the lead on the 11th lap. "I knew it was close until I got past Markwardt on that lap."

Schad grabbed the hobby stock feature lead on the third lap when he got by hobby stock point leader, Dave Haag of Plymouth, and held on for the 10-lap feature. Mark Froh of Ada won the sportsman A semi-feature while Dave Becker of Greenbush won the 8-lap B semi-feature.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of Mrs. Harold Meisenheimer, who passed away three years ago, August 23, 1980:

Three years have passed and gone
Since one we loved so well
Was taken from our home on earth
With Jesus Christ to dwell.

The flowers we place upon her grave
May wither and decay
But the love for her who sleeps beneath
Shall never fade away.

Sadly missed by husband, children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

In those we love

... about your Social Security

By David Becker, Social Security Branch Manager in West Bend

COST-OF-LIVING ADJUSTMENT DELAYED

The automatic Social Security benefit increase based on the cost of living, previously effective each July, will be delayed for 6 months, to January 1984 under a new law designed to strengthen the Social Security system, Mr. Becker, Social Security branch manager in West Bend, said recently.

The purpose of the delay is to save the system money and to help it regain its financial strength, Becker said. Largely because of economic conditions in recent years, Social Security has had an increasingly severe financial problem.

The new law is designed to meet the problem both in the near-term and into the years after 2000. Other changes made by the new law provide additional income to the system. They include:

The Social Security tax rate increase scheduled under previous law for 1985 will go into effect in 1984. The new 1984 rate will be 7.0 percent each for employees and employers; up from the previous rate of 6.7 percent. But, employees will receive a tax credit against 1984 taxes of 0.3 percent, which will be given when taxes are deducted from wages. In effect, 1984 employee taxes will remain at the level set under previous law.

Also, part of the tax rate increase scheduled for 1990 will go into effect in 1988.

Starting in 1984, the Social Security self-employment tax rate will be equal to the combined employee-employer tax on wages. This will be 14.0 percent for 1984. Previously the rate for self-employed people was about 1½ times the employee rate.

Under the new law, self-employed people will receive a self-employment tax credit of 2.7 percent of self-employment income for 1984; 2.3 percent for 1985, and 2.0 percent for 1986 - 89. After 1989, these credits will be replaced with deductions designed to treat the self-employed in much the same manner as employees and employers are treated for Social Security and income tax purposes.

A free leaflet, "Social Security Strengthened" is available at any local Social Security office which tells about all the changes in Social Security. The telephone number is 1-800-242-9946.

Reminders for UWVC Registration

The University of Wisconsin Center-Washington County reminds continuing students and entering freshmen who have taken placement tests and attended pre-registration planning sessions that their special registration date was set for Tuesday, August 16, from 2-4 and 6-8 p.m.

Entering freshmen who have not taken required placements tests may do so on Tuesday, August 30, from 9-11:45 a.m. A pre-registration planning session will also be held from 2-4 p.m. on that day. This is the final round of placement tests and pre-registration planning sessions. New students must have completed placement tests and attended a pre-registration planning session before they will be permitted to register. Appointments for both of these sessions must be made in advance. Call 338-5201 for a reservation.

The final open registration date before the fall semester at UWVC will be August 31, from 2-4 and 6-8 p.m. Registration for classes after this date will only be available by appointment.

UWVC's Office of Student Services will be pleased to answer any questions students may have concerning the registration process. Call 338-5201.

Clarence A. Schwartz, Sheriff

What Are the Chances of Getting Arrested for Drunk Driving?

A drunk driver's chances of being arrested in Wisconsin are one in 240; much greater than the one in 2,400 previously estimated.

That's the projection of Julie Hughey, the Office for Highway Safety alcohol safety specialist, speaking to the Wisconsin County Highway Safety Coordinators Association meeting in Green Bay.

According to Clarence Schwartz, Washington County Sheriff, the estimate is based on the formula developed by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and concerns only Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights (between 10:00 p.m. and 4:00 a.m.), when it's believed at least five percent of drivers are intoxicated. He stated, "At that rate, 183,566 persons in Wisconsin are driving drunk each week, and 9,178,284 each year."

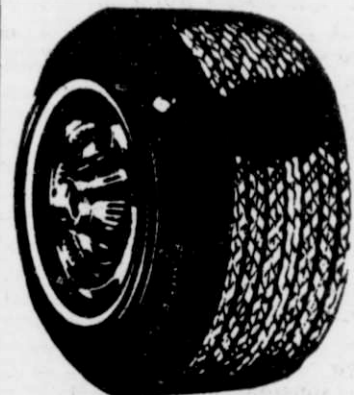

A record 38,227 drivers were arrested for drunk driving in Wisconsin during 1981.

Sheriff Schwartz added, "Some people think getting killed or hurt in accidents is an act of God. It's not; it's an act of being gullible and unwise."

score.

Coach Kuechler felt that if there were nine innings the mothers could win. The daughters' coach heard this and agreed to the nine innings. The official score book couldn't be located so a final score could not be determined.

Coach Kuechler stated his spring training would be in May next year instead of August. He contributed his defeat to the superior season of the Midget girls, who received first place in the league and first place in the tournament.

The game was followed by a bar-b-que cooked by the fathers and a good time was had by all.

Rubicon River Run in Hartford Sept. 17

The Rubicon River Run, a five and two mile walk/run, will be held Saturday, September 17th. This year, the race will begin at Hartford Memorial Hospital. "A team relay with five members is a fun way for groups, companies, or offices to join the fun, support, and good cause and not get exhausted," says Tom Meisenheimer, Executive Director of Hartford Hospital Foundation, the run sponsor. Each team member runs one mile and then will be transported back to the finish line to watch the fifth team member cross the line.

The cost is $5.00 per person for the run, walk, or relay and includes a t-shirt. "Last year over 175 people of all ages participated. We'd like to double that this year," said Meisenheimer. "It's a great warm up for Al's Run on the 24th."

Application blanks are available by calling the Foundation Office at 673-2300, Extension 230 (metro - 334-7731).
