Area Townships Set 1983 Tax Rates

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Local townships are in the process of mailing out their 1983 tax bills.

The Town of Kewaskum has set a gross rate of $35.10 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, minus a State Tax Credit of $3.70, for a net rate of $31.40. Last year the rate was $29.62.

Because it is in two school districts, the Town of Auburn has two rates. Those residents in the Kewaskum School District will have a gross rate of $14.74, less $1.64 Tax Credit for sport District taxpayers will have a gross rate of $13.49, less $1.57, for a net rate of $11.92.

Town of Farmington residents will face a $40.85 gross rate less $4.43 Tax Credit for a net rate of $36.42. Last year the gross rate was $36.676.

The Town of Wayne 1983 gross rate will be $19.10, less a credit of $2.09 for a net rate of $17.01, as compared to 1982's net rate of $15.13.

Part of the increase in property taxes is due to reduction in the State Tax Credit being returned to the various municipalities.

Town of Wayne Treasurer, Ray Kudek Resigns

Ill health is the reason for the resignation of Town of Wayne Treasurer Raymond "Sam" Kudek.

Clerk Orville Kern said Kudek, who has served the township for 29 years, was replaced at a special meeting held Monday night. Replacing him will be Gerald Schulz of 5520 Highway D, West Bend.

Village Board Approves 1984 Salaries

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

After completion of a study by the Arthur M. Young Company, the Kewaskum Village Board approved a new salary schedule which will become effective in 1984.

After an in-depth study of each job, the company did an eleven-point evaluation or grading of each job. The grading system was then used to set salary standards for each position according to comparable wages being paid for similar work in approximately ten neighboring communities.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt informed the board that, along with the new salary scale, the company indicated four village employees were under the minimum wage scale for their jobs and eight were above the maximum wage.

In adjusting salaries in accordance with the study and new wage scale, increases will range from .34% to 26.2%.

Beginning in 1984, the Water Pollution Control Assistant and General Maintenance Workers will receive a .34% increase to $8.76 per hour. The Water Pollution Control Superintendent will receive a 4% increase to an annual salary of $23,546. The Department of Public Works Superintendent will also receive a 4% increase to $25,518 per year.

The Police Association will receive 4.3% increases with Step 1, to $1,410.78 per month and $1,774.65 at Step 5. Part time employees will receive a 4.42% increase as will the bookkeeper/records coordinator $5.50/$6.52 per hour, and secretary $5.25 per hour. The Police Clerk will receive 5.6% to $4.22 per hour, the Police Chief salary will go up 7.8% to $24,578 per year.

The assistant librarian up 9.7% per hour, new general maintenance workers 10.7% to $8.32 per hour, administrator up 14.9% to $26,981 per year and head librarian up 26.2% to $5.64 per hour.

Village Board President Gerald Stollenwerk stated, the large increase for the head librarian was due to the fact she had not been given an increase in five years. The large increase in the administrator's salary was recommended by the study which indicated the present salary was below present comparable minimums. The new

Fire Destroys House Trailer in -20° Weather

Fire completely destroyed a Kewaskum couple's house trailer and all its contents during bitter cold weather early Monday morning. Kewaskum firemen were summoned to the scene at 12:08 a.m.

According to Fire Chief Augie Bilgo, the owners of the trailer, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Larson, were awakened around midnight when they heard water running in their 12 by 60 foot trailer, trailer No. 7, in the Tompkins Trailer Park on U.S. Hwy. 45 just south of the village. Apparently the extreme cold had caused a water pipe to burst.

When Larson went to a neighboring trailer for help in stopping the water, a portable propane heater in the trailer apparently touched off flammable material, possibly curtains or a blanket, setting them ablaze.

When Larson returned to the trailer, his wife alerted him about the fire. He unsuccessfully tried to beat it out with a rug. Firemen were called and worked for two hours in 20 degree below zero temperatures, the coldest of the winter, which hadn't officially started yet, to fight the blaze.

Bilgo said when firemen arrived at the scene the trailer was engulfed in flames like a ball of fire. Everything was lost and Bilgo estimated the damage at $20,000. No one was injured. The Larsons went to a neighbor's home to spend the night.

The early sub-zero temperatures over the weekend were the lowest for the area in two years. Last year the only sub-zero temperatures reached were a minus 3 degrees on two dates in January and February. There also is a good amount of snow already on the ground.

The Kewaskum fire department's tanker and one pumper also answered a mutual aid fire call at 11:30 a.m. Monday to assist the Kohlsville fire department at a house fire at the Leo Zehren residence on St. Kilian Drive. The roof was damaged and there was some water damage. The cause of the fire was unknown at the time.

Rail Employees Seek Support For Proposed Caboose Law

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

James Ward, an employee of the Soo Line, who has worked as a brakeman and conductor for 35 years, appeared before the Kewaskum Village Board asking that it consider formally supporting State Assembly Bill 809, which will require a manned caboose at the rear of all freight trains in Wisconsin in excess of 1,500 feet (roughly the equivalent of 30 cars).

Ward stated, "the reason for such a law is, approximately a year and a half ago, the railroads of this country decided they no longer needed cabooses." He said the organizations fought this, but the management referred to a presidential committee which ruled in favor of the companies, "not knowing or taking into consideration the public safety factor." Ward stated, "the railroads historically feel that what they do is no concern of the public."

Ward cited numerous instances and points which rail employees feel back the fight to keep cabooses in operation. From grass fires which would go undetected, to breakdown of cars which cannot be spotted from the forward engine. Ward noted a car could jump the track or tip and still not cause the train to brake, going un-noticed until it broke loose ending up going into homes or storage tanks which commonly line the tracks in many communities. He gave one example in which he was personally involved. While on a run this year, two small children crawled under his train which was starting up. Had he not been in the caboose to radio the engineer to immediately stop the train, both children would have been killed or seriously injured.

Ward told the board that approximately six other states have already passed such legislation and several others have bills in the works. He said

Wisconsin AB 809 already has the signatures of 18 state lawmakers including Democrats and Republicans. Ward noted this was almost unprecedented that so many legislators have shown their support by signing a bill. He asked the board to contact Kewaskum's representatives asking that they back passage of the bill which will have its hearing sometime in January.

Board President Gerald Stollenwerk said his request will be brought up for discussion at the board's first meeting in January.

The 10th Fast For a World Harvest at KHS

On Wednesday, December 7th, the National Honor Society of Kewaskum High School sponsored the 10th annual Fast for a World Harvest. This fast is sponsored worldwide by Oxfam America, a non-profit organization, and raises money to support efforts to grow more food, raise community health standards, and learn new economic skills in deprived countries.

This year over fifty students and teachers donated either their lunch money or their snack money for the tenth annual fast. On Monday and Tuesday, December 5th and 6th, students and teachers could pledge the amount of money they wished. Then on December 7th, those who pledged anything were to fast (an apple was given to anyone who pledged 50c or over). The snack machines were closed to this day to discourage people from eating junk food.

The response to the 10th annual Fast for a World Harvest was wonderful with $49.40 donated towards the cause. Overall, the National Honor Society was well pleased with the outcome of this worthwhile fund raiser.

Salvation Army Members Visit Samaritan Home, Bearing Gifts and Christmas Cheer

On December 5th, Salvation Army members visited the Samaritan Home at West Bend, bearing gifts and Christmas cheer, as is their custom at Christmas time. While some visited residents in their rooms, delivering gifts they had brought, others in their company presented a Christmas program in the chapel for those residents able to attend. This program was energetically led by Major Lodge of Milwaukee, an individual personifying the Salvation Army's credo of peace, good will and love toward all.

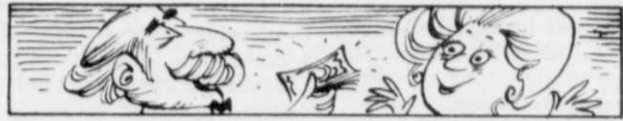

She led the residents in singing Christmas tunes such as "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Jingle Bells," and "Deck the Halls with Boughs of Holly." In singing the latter song, Major Lodge divided in the room in half, with one side singing the verses of the song and the other side singing the chorus, thus producing an echoing effect as well as some added enjoyment. After reading the Christmas story from the Bible, Sister Bernice, also of the Salvation Army, offered a prayer, asking God's help in interpreting, understanding and appreciating the Christmas story.

Major Lodge then asked which resident had celebrated the most Christmases; ninety-eight was discovered to be the highest number in the room. However, there were many in the room who had enjoyed Christmases several years beyond the eighty year mark. The high point of the program was Major Lodge's Christmas story about a man named Conrad whose Christmas wish was that he would be able to greet the Lord at his door on Christmas Eve. The first person who knocked, however, was a poor lady, begging for food. Conrad was disappointed it was not Christ, but he gave her food. The second he was that of an old man in need of warmth and shelter which Conrad, though again disappointed, supplied. The third visitor was a young child, also begging of the man to share what he had on this cold night. Later, when he was alone once more Conrad lamented the fact that he had not been visited by Christ as he had hoped. Suddenly he heard a voice from above which said, "I was that beggar woman, that old man, and that child... For as much as you have served them, you have served Me also." The program was then concluded with the singing of three more Christmas carols, recalling for residents their memories of Christmases past.

These memories are dear to Samaritan residents, but their participation in the Salvation Army's Christmas celebration would provide them with another pleasant Christmas memory. In addition to the Christmas cheer provided by the program and their gifts, the Salvation Army also provides the Samaritan Home with wrapping paper to be used by staff and volunteers to wrap gifts given to residents by well-wishers in the community. It is with gratitude that residents and staff accept the Salvation Army's gifts as evidence of their concern for all of God's children.

English husbands used to give their wives money on New Year's Day to buy enough pins for the whole year. The custom disappeared after the invention of pinmaking machines.

Salaries

increase will bring all salaries up to at least minimum according to the new schedule adopted by the board.

Schmidt noted that after the adjustments have been made, future increases would be reviewed and given on a merit basis. He said the only employees which were over the maximum scale were the Police Patrolmen, and only by 1/10%. This was adjusted by review of some insurance coverage.

In other action, the board approved the 1984 budgets for the Water Pollution Control Department $257,529, down from 1983 by .06%, and the Water Department 1984 budget of $117,059. It was noted that no rate increases are being planned for either department in 1984, however, both the Department of Natural Resources and Public Service Commission recommended the village apply for increases in late 1984 to be effective in 1985, in an effort to get the departments to run in the black.

Administrator Schmidt updated the trustees on the new General Relief program. He told the members, all communities will now be required to pay their share of relief bills within 120 days of receipt of which will be dropped from the program. If this were to happen, the village would then have to run its own program and become responsible for not only the food and shelter costs but all medical assistance which is presently picked up by the county.

In 1981, General Relief cost the village $914.16, in 1982 $2,498.58, and 1983, $6,665.90.

The county program is voluntary, however, Schmidt said it is considerably cheaper than a village run program which would include administrative costs as well as the additional medical costs. It was noted the Town of Auburn had dropped out of a similar program and they had just received a General Relief medical bill of $23,000.

The board approved the moving of the January meeting from Monday, January 2nd, to Tuesday, January 3rd.

ATTENTION Kewaskum Cablevision Customers THANK YOU...

for your patience and understanding during our recent cold weather Cable TV interruptions.

In bitter sub-zero temperatures, the cable on the telephone poles sometimes contracts and disconnects, causing your cable television reception to go off. Our technicians must then go out, find the site of the problem and reconnect the cable, often working in terribly cold and inclement weather.

We know it is very frustrating to have service interrupted, and we are working with manufacturers and cable construction people to solve these service interruptions.

We would also like to thank our technical staff for giving up time with their families on evenings and weekends to go out in bitter cold weather to repair the cable.

Kewaskum students with Woodsy Owl.

Woodsy Owl, whose motto is "Give a hoot - don't pollute," recently spent some time in the Kewaskum Elementary School visiting Kindergarten and special education students. Woodsy also traveled to West Bend to see youngsters at the Decorah School and the YMCA. The classes sang a song about Woodsy, saw the film entitled "Help Woodsy spread the Word," saw a skit about the growth of a tree and received pamphlets on pollution before getting a chance to shake wings with the celebrity himself.

The Woodsy character and film are available for programs by the Kewaskum Junior Women's Club.

Diann Ramel, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Ramel, Kewaskum, was quite seriously injured when she was struck by a car as she was apparently pushing her bicycle on the Kewaskum hill on Hwy. 45 just south of the village on Saturday. Miss Ramel suffered a possible fracture of the right leg, injuries to her left leg and head injuries.

Marth and Marth, attorneys at law of West Bend, announce the opening of an office in the theatre building on Fond du Lac Avenue in Kewaskum. The law firm consists of William J. Marth and Robert D. Marth, both experienced attorneys.

White Dutch clover seed, Washington County's fabulous cash crop of the 40's and early 50's and once commonly referred to as "White Gold" in the days when a bag brought $100 or more, found an unusual home recently when the Strachota Seed Company of St. Kilian, exported a shipment of 22,000 pounds of this seed to the Western Zone of Germany. The shipment on December 1, which was made out of the Port of Milwaukee, via the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River, consisted of seed produced in the Washington County area and was completely processed at St. Kilian.

Airman 2/c Richard Schaefer arrived home last Friday to spend a leave until January 20 at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin "Shorty" Schaefer. Dick had been serving in Japan and Korea. Following his leave he will report for duty at Bakalar Air Force Base in Columbus, Ind.

Oscar Zimmermann, 16, of West Bend, who was employed for the past few months for Alex Walschewske on the Mrs. Chas. Geidel farm located at the north village limits, last Friday morning had a miraculous escape from being cut to pieces with a circle saw attached to a gasoline saw rig. He was however, badly cut on the back side of his right leg from the hip to below the knee. It was one of the most severe cuts any person in this community ever received. The accident happened as Mr. Walschewske and young Zimmermann were preparing to saw wood for the day, and both assisted in turning the flywheel of the engine to start same. After the engine was started and not realizing that the circle saw was in motion, Oscar accidentally backed onto same and consequently received the serious injuries. The only thing that perhaps saved the unfortunate boy's life was that he was thrown about 20 feet away.

Last Saturday morning, fire destroyed the Boltonville Cheese Factory, the origin of which remains a mystery. The fire was first noticed by Jack Schoetz when the flames had already found their way through the roof. The Boltonville Fire Department responded to the alarm, but nothing could be done as the fire spread very rapidly. Aid was appealed to from neighboring towns, but by the time these fire departments arrived the building was destroyed. Attention was then given to adjacent buildings which were in danger of being destroyed. It is estimated that the loss will exceed over $2,000.

This Friday afternoon the children of the Holy Trinity school will present a two act play entitled "The Christ Candle." The children will exchange gifts after the play. The cast includes Pearl Hron, Paul Kral, Monica Strupp, Harold Schlosser, Rosemary Haug, Louis Bath, Sylvester Kohn, Leo Becker, Dorothy Harter, Jerome Kies, Donald Seil, John Stellflug, Allen Dreher, Alice Koepsel, Harriet Stoffel and Sylvester Harter.

Two more civil works projects were started in the village on Monday, one being that of widening the shoulder on the east side of Highway 55 alongside the Herbert Backhaus property. Large size stone and rocks are being hauled to the place to be used for building a side wall. The project will require considerable filling. The second project started was that of plastering four rooms in the school building.

The Ev. Peace congregation held their annual meeting last Monday and elected the following officers: President, Chris. Schaefer Jr.; vice-president, Charles Backhaus; secretary, L. D. Guth; treasurer, Fred Backhaus Sr.

The farmers' telephone line running from the village to J. B. Day's farm was completed this week. The following named can now be reached by phone on that line: August Schnurr, Jacob Bruessel, George Metzger's cheese factory and J. B. Day.

The Bank of Kewaskum has received some of the new $5, $10 and $20 gold pieces coined by the government, which will make a novel Christmas gift.

The finest, assorted, fresh twisted stick candy and apples and cherries on wire for 8 cents per pound are on sale at L. Rosenheimers.

Joseph Uelmen, the local

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Simon of St. Kilian last Friday, and a baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Val. Peters of Kewaskum last Wednesday.

CHRISTMAS INCOME

Some teenagers have discovered a quick way to holiday earnings is as simple as setting up a family or neighborhood gift wrapping service. An additional service, for which most everyone is willing to pay, is that of mailing gifts for those persons who don't have time to wait in line at the post office.

Also unknown is the author of "God Rest Ye, Merry Gentlemen," but it is known that he lived before Shakespeare.

EVALUATE DAIRY COMPROMISE BILL

Dairy farmers in Washington County have an important decision to make regarding the new Dairy Compromise Bill recently passed by Congress and signed by President Reagan. The Dairy Compromise Bill provides an opportunity for dairy farmers to receive an incentive payment for reducing their milk production.

The intention of this article is not to provide all the details of this dairy program, as many of the details are still being worked out and the official rules and regulations have not been written. It is expected that this information will be available at the end of the month. Dairy farmers need to take some time to become familiar with the provisions of this dairy program, see how it affects their own situation, and then make a decision whether or not to participate.

The first step in this decision process is to take a long-range look at where you expect your dairy business to be in the next three to five years. How will this dairy program fit in with your projections?

Dairymen will have opportunities to find out more about the program through a number of meetings that will be scheduled in Washington County in early January.

Individuals will need to calculate their cash flow and financial situation with participation in the program and not participating.

The main concern at this time is not to make a fast decision regarding whether or not this program will be helpful, but to wait until the information is available to help you understand the program and make the best decision for your situation.

Part of the dairy program provides that animals that are sold from the herd must either go directly to slaughter or to another individual that will be participating in the program. With this in mind, it would be important not to make any drastic changes in your farm operation at this time if you intend to keep yourself eligible for participating in the dairy program.

More information on the dairy program is available at the Washington County UW-Extension office.

4-H NEWS

By Bob Stodola
4-H and Youth Agent

VOLUNTEERISM PROVIDES EXPERIENCE AS WELL AS COMMUNITY SERVICE

Volunteers are the backbone of organizations such as 4-H. A March 1981 Gallup poll showed that 52 percent of adults and 53 percent of youth participate in volunteer activities. Their contributions of time, if put into monetary terms, far exceed the value of private donations.

Until recently, volunteers were primarily women. But with the increase of women in the job market and the government budget cuts of the past few years, organizations need more male volunteers.

Volunteers receive a number of benefits. They build their self-confidence and develop responsibility, they increase their patience and their ability to work under pressure. Such benefits can help when applying for a job. Many businesses and organizations are beginning to recognize the benefits and experiences the individual has had in volunteer roles in the community, especially if the experiences relate to the job being sought. I know of city council and county board people who say their participation in 4-H activities helped them develop the community leadership abilities they need in public office.

Becoming a volunteer doesn't necessarily mean jumping right into an organization without any preparation. Most organizations make an earnest attempt to train volunteers. Wisconsin 4-H, for example, has a structured leadership program involving about 90 professionals. We try to develop programs that will develop self-confidence and show volunteers the kinds of things they can do and feel comfortable about, as well as teaching skill development. The upcoming January 14 4-H Leadership Day is one learning opportunity.

People are beginning to take more of an interest and responsibility in volunteer work. I think it's a very important kind of value that's beginning to permeate society, the fact that we can do something for ourselves, without the need of help from Washington. And one of the greatest ways of doing that is by volunteerism through the various organizations we have in society.

Use old Christmas cards to decorate large boxes that are expensive and awkward to wrap. Cut illustrations off cards and glue them to the box in a montage-effect. It's like making a patchwork quilt.

... about your Social Security

By David Becker, Social Security Branch Manager in West Bend

RETIREMENT AGE

Under the original Social Security Act, the age at which a person could retire with full benefits was set at 65. Since then, many people have come to regard 65 as the retirement age. The fact is, however, that a 65-year-old man or woman in the 1980's is a very different person from the 65-year-old of the 1940's, not only in terms of life expectancy but in relation to their attitudes, activities, and self-perception. The rocking chair is no longer an accurate symbol of their interests.

Under the 1983 Social Security Amendments, beginning with the year 2000, the age at which a person will be able to retire with full benefits will increase to 65 years, 2 months. The retirement age will then continue to increase by 2 months each year until it reaches 67 in 2027 and after. A worker will still be able to receive reduced benefits at 62, as now, but the rate will be lower than it is at present.

Today people who retire at 62 receive 80 percent of the benefit that would be payable to them at 65. Under the new law, people retiring at 62 will receive 70 percent of the benefit that would be payable at 67.

Another provision of the 1983 amendments calls for a study of the effects of the change in retirement age for people who are engaged in physically demanding work or who, because of reasons of health, may not enjoy increased longevity. A report and recommendations are due by January 1, 1986.

HISTORY OF THE WISCONSIN DEER HERD

By Dave Weitz,
DNR Public Information Officer in Eau Claire

MEASURE OF SUCCESS
[Fourth in a series]

For a moment, consider the successful deer hunter.

What image stands out? It might be an orange-clad hunter, tall and thin, hunched slightly forward with his cheek pressed to the stock of a 30-06, squeezing the trigger as the rifle's sights swing into the chest of a 10-point buck, trophy of the woods.

Or, perhaps, the shining face of a young boy stands out; a lad too young to hunt alone. His father, bending, whispers a little excitedly. "Look there. Down by that big oak. See that spike buck walking out? Now, lift the shotgun slow so you don't scare it."

Instead, it could be a young woman, watching from behind a stump as suddenly four deer glide like grey ghosts through the oak brush and dogwood to disappear soundlessly.

The face might be lined, wrinkled with age and yesterday's worries, an old-timer sitting against a tree in a straight-backed kitchen chair behind a camp. It is the face of patience with alert eyes watching a deer trail and hands carefully ready to raise the lever-action rifle that rests over legs covered by blanket-like wool pants.

His is the face that brightens as steps sound from near the camp and orange-clad figures move forward, one tall and smiling, the other shorter version grinning wide and running forward shouting: "Hi, grandpa! Did you see a buck yet?"

What image? What success? Success, to the people who wrote Webster's New World Dictionary, is "A favorable or satisfactory outcome or result."

But the dictionary doesn't define the goals we seek; and among the more than 630,000 deer hunters afield in Wisconsin each deer-gun season, the goals are manifold.

What chart can measure the memories of yesterday's hunt; the taking of a trophy deer or hopes of a young boy? What scale records the satisfaction of a grandfather as tradition is carried on, or the beauty of a deer seen and not shot at?

Yet, if memories cannot be quantified, the number of hunters can be counted, and the deer brought to registration stations throughout the state can be totaled.

So those totals become the surrogates for success, the measure of the deer season.

And by that measure, in recent years, Wisconsin's deer seasons have been ever more successful.

In 1972, a decade ago, 517,724 hunters went afield in Wisconsin to take 74,827 deer. In 1982, 637,320 hunters took 182,715 deer during the gun season. That means that in 1972 one deer was taken for about every 7 hunters while in 1982 two deer were taken by the same number of hunters.

In each year since 1979, more deer have been taken and more hunters have gone afield. Records show that 125,570 deer were taken in 1979 during the gun deer season. In 1980, the number was 139,624 and during 1980 it was 166,673. In 1982, a new record was made at 182,715.

The deer herd in Wisconsin is high now, according to Frank Haberland, Madison, chief of big game management for the Department of Natural Resources. He estimates the state deer herd numbers more than 900,000.

Haberland and DNR researchers Bill Creed and Keith McCaffery at Rhinelander estimate that the 1983 deer gun harvest will exceed the 1982 season. It could top 200,000 deer.

But the trend won't last forever.

"The land base can't continue to supply a rate of return at the rate that it has," Haberland says.

In most years, since 1971, winters have been relatively mild. "There have been occasional severe ones, but until we get two severe winters in a row, they don't mean much," Haberland says.

It means that the deer herd in northern Wisconsin is high and in southern Wisconsin, the herd has thrived. Creed believes, like Haberland, the record deer harvests won't continue.

"We're kind of flushed with the excitement with killing these huge numbers in the past few years. I don't think that's going to last," he says.

The deer herd in Wisconsin is likely to be smaller in the future than the 900,000 that it is reaching this autumn. Actually, according to Haberland, the number of deer that winter in the state should be about 575,000. That would mean a deer season population of about 800,000 in months before the deer season.

So it appears, say the biologists, that the total number of deer in the state will decline somewhat. The people who watch things like trends in hunting point out, however, that deer hunting is attracting more people each year in Wisconsin.

For experts like Haberland, the implications are clear: "Certainly one of the major implications is that eventually hunter success rates are going to go down."

In Wisconsin's north country, limits on the deer herd largely are winter weather and available food stocks. The deer herd in the north will change little in the long run, Creed says. Still, there can be rather dramatic short-term changes in the northern deer herd due to severe winters. Two or three years from now, the herd north of Highway 64 could be half of what it is now if we get two hard winters back to back. In southern areas, where deer densities are extremely high, there will be fewer deer as populations are adjusted to be more compatible with other land uses (primarily farming).

Creed and McCaffery say Wisconsin's deer herd management should aim at an over-winter population of approximately 550,000 to 575,000 deer, which will yield a fall population of about 800,000 statewide. Gun and archery hunters could, at most, take 175,000 to 200,000 deer yearly from the herd at that level.

Kewaskum Statesman, Friday, Dec. 23, 1983, Page 15

Weather alone would be enough to prevent a consistent deer harvest such as the 1982 season, but steady management of the herd can result in relatively consistent seasons, Creed says.

Carl Batha, at Madison, is the area wildlife staff specialist for the Southern District of the Department of Natural Resources. He is hesitant to make predictions about the future of the deer harvest.

"I don't know where it's going to stop. It can't go on forever, but I don't know where the top line is."

What is clear to Batha is that in the rich southern Wisconsin countryside, deer thrive. About 30 percent or more of the fawns this year will bear fawns next spring and multiple births are typical among adult does.

Batha quickly notes there are weather limitations in southern Wisconsin just as there are in the north country, but that the degree of starvation and exhaustion from exposure to cold is far less in the south.

In the south, deer have benefitted from agriculture but, because they thrive, they often become a problem to farmers.

"There is some check (due to weather) but down here we have the potential for a much more rapid herd growth due to the productivity of fawns."

Batha says that flexibility in managing the deer may be a key to providing hunting for larger numbers and high harvests. He questions whether a 9-day season is flexible enough.

He suggests a special season for recent hunter safety graduates accompanied by adults after the regular deer season. He speculates about possibilities of special seasons for people hunting with "primitive" weapons such as muzzle-loading rifles and muskets.

Pat Kaiser is wildlife manager at Poynette.

He questions whether deer densities in the southern agricultural area he manages should be maintained at high numbers. "We're a heck of a lot better off working with what the habitat base can actually sustain . . . rather than causing damage to private landowners."

It is likely to be in the southern counties of the state that changes in deer numbers take place as harvest rates catch up with expanding birth rates, according to Creed. "We're (now) pretty close to goals across the north. (The) major readjustment to be made is in the south."

Deer numbers are high right now in Wisconsin. Creed, and other deer biologists, anticipated a high harvest in 1983. "This is probably going to be it. This year (may be) the kill record for the foreseeable future."

Then, as the deer population is reduced in areas that are currently overpopulated, the success of hunters also will be reduced, as measured in sheer numbers, of deer harvested and success rates.

In the immediate future, the deer harvest may be closer to 150,000 to 175,000 animals annually during the 9-day gun season, Creed says.

And how many hunters will pursue the Wisconsin white-tailed deer in the future is unknown. There will be those who watch quietly, as grey ghosts slide through the popple thickets; and those who proudly drag trophy bucks from the woods. Youngsters still will meet grandfathers at the hunting camp and the "first deer" will still be special. The measure of "success" still will be an individual yardstick.

A simple holiday gift for a favorite neighbor: decorate an empty coffee can to match her kitchen decor and fill it with some handy kitchen utensils... wooden spoons, a whisk, a new rubber spatula.

TAKE ALL THE MEDICATION UNLESS DIRECTED OTHERWISE

Don't stop taking your medication as you begin to feel better. Altering the full course of treatment, as prescribed by your physician, may prevent complete recovery even though you may think you are well. CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

This Christmas, as Americans come together all over this great nation and exchange gifts with their loved ones there is much to be thankful for. Last year at this time, the economy sat still in an 18-month recession. Today that same economy is alive and kicking as the GNP grew at a 7.7% rate during the third quarter. This demonstrates the people of this country have confidence in their capacity to bounce back from adversity and have faith in the future.

Yet, as we celebrate Christmas with a renewed belief in ourselves, I am moved to ask: "Does the average Russian also have faith in the future?" The USSR and its captive countries are almost unique in reversing the world's historic advance to longer life. The French magazine La Recherche, observes that between 1965 and 1980, life expectancy at birth in the USSR declined from 66.2 years to 61.9 for males and from 74.1 to 73.5 for females. This point to an astonishing failure in the Soviet system's ability to care for people.

But, even more tragic is the belief that many experts feel this problem is the product of despair. The U.S. Census Bureau reports that the death rate from alcohol poisoning in the USSR is 88 times that in America! Drinking is blamed for more than half of all fatal accidents in Russia. Professor Feshback of Georgetown University's Center for Population Research declares that alcoholism is close to being the No. 1 enemy of life expectancy behind the Iron Curtain.

These unfortunate masses are driven to the bottle as they have little hope for the future. They have nothing to spend their money on, they are bored, cold, frustrated, silenced and tired of food shortages. The statistics show that Moscow's brand of government, while it may yet presume to take control of the world by military might, has failed to take care of its own people.

So this holiday season as we seek comfort among our families and friends, we should give thanks as we are blessed with the spirit of vitality. Although we take the many freedoms we have for granted, they are the reason this is still the land of opportunity. As long as we follow our Founding Fathers' doctrine, Americans can always feel a sense of hope that through verve, hardwork and bold initiation our children's lives can be better than our own. Let us remember, as President Reagan is fond of saying, America represents the "last best hope for mankind."

State Senator

SCOTT McCALLUM Reports

MOST PEOPLE IN DISTRICT FAVOR TOUGHENING OF WISCONSIN'S DRUNK DRIVING LAWS

State Senator Scott McCallum (R-Fond du Lac) today said "most people in the 18th Senate district favor toughening Wisconsin's drunk driving laws."

"With the holidays rapidly approaching and the past week being proclaimed as National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week, I think most people are truly aware of and concerned with the drunk driving menace on our roads," said McCallum.

Senator McCallum's comments reflect the results of his district-wide survey sent to area residents in October. One question on the survey asked, "Would you favor lifetime revocation of driving privileges for persons convicted three times of drunk driving?" With over 4000 responses tabulated, 67.2% of the respondents said yes, while 29.3% said no. Seven percent were undecided.

The Fond du Lac lawmaker noted that statistics show that over 25,000 Americans are killed each year by drunk drivers. Another 750,000 are injured. What's even more startling is that one out of every two Americans can expect to be involved in an alcohol-related auto crash during his or her lifetime.

"As the holiday season approaches, the awful fact is that these statistics become even more of a reality," said McCallum. "Seasonal parties put more drunk drivers on the road than usual."

"I think people are beginning to realize that we have a very real and very dangerous problem on our hands," McCallum said, "and I think they are beginning to tell lawmakers something more must be done to end the slaughter occurring on our roads."

Here's how you can make this the cookiest Christmas ever!

From first sniff to last bite, these cookies make everyone's Christmas merrier! tantalizing peanutty aroma wafting from the kitchen brings the first hint of good things to come — for these are sugar cookies with a difference.

Peanut butter chips are the delicious secret ingredient here! And along with the extra goodness, the chips add a bonus of protein, niacin and riboflavin because they're made from real peanuts.

Let the whole family join in the cookie-decorating fun (older children can add dollops of frosting, while little tots will love sprinkling on colored sugar.)

And if these treats don't vanish at once, they make delightful gifts, place card "markers" or centerpieces (group decorated cookie trees, for instance, on a bank of artificial snow).

PEANUT BUTTER SUGAR COOKIES

- ½ cup butter or margarine, softened
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract

Bake at 375° for 6 to 8 minutes.

Cool on wire rack.

Decorate with frosting, colored sugar, miniature gumdrops.

About 5 dozen cookies.

Wells to Be Sampled For Pesticide Contamination

The first major sampling of southeastern Wisconsin rural wells for pesticide contamination will be conducted by the Department of Natural Resources, beginning January 1984.

About 45 wells in the eight-county Southeast District will be tested for as many as 22 pesticides, according to Ted Bosch, supervisor of the district water supply unit of DNR. Sampling should be completed during March, he said.

Except for a few tests for aldicarb, a pesticide commonly used in potato farming, little pesticide sampling of wells has been done in this region, Bosch said. Aldicarb contamination has been found in numerous groundwater supplies of the central sands area of Wisconsin but not in this district, Bosch reported. The Southeast District covers Kenosha, Milwaukee, Ozaukee, Racine, Sheboygan, Walworth, Washington and Waukesha Counties.

Pesticide sampling will be done by Anthony Pirelli, a DNR intern who also is a graduate student of geology at University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. He will concentrate on shallow wells in sandy or loose soils where pesticides might easily penetrate into groundwater. In selecting wells for testing he will work with farmers and farm organizations to determine which pesticides have been used in areas most likely to have pesticides reach groundwater supplies.

Bus Drivers Can Report Drivers Who Fail to Stop for School Buses

Wisconsin law enforcement officers have an extra 16,000 pairs of eyes helping them watch for drivers who fail to stop for school buses with flashing red lights.

A new Wisconsin law permits school bus drivers (all 16,000 of them) to report the license number of vehicles which fail to stop as required to local law enforcement agencies. Citations for the violations are issued to the vehicle owner under Section 346.485 of the Wisconsin

Statutes.

The school bus law specifies that operators of vehicles approaching from front or rear of a school bus which has stopped and is displaying flashing red warning lights, must stop not less than 20 feet from the bus, and remain stopped until the bus driver turns off the lights or the bus resumes motion.

The only exception to this law is that drivers on the opposite lanes of a multi-lane highway with a median strip or other physical barrier do not need to stop.

The uniform traffic deposit schedule specified a normal forfeiture of $122 for a first offense. Drivers cited by law enforcement officers are assessed four (4) demerit points against their driving record. If the violation causes bodily injury or death, the penalties are much more severe.

The school bus law is designed to protect children during the most dangerous part of their school day...the trip across the road when they get on or off the bus. Please watch for school buses on rural highways and town roads during early morning and afternoon hours. Be alert to the possibility that the buses may be nearing a bus stop, and be prepared to stop when the flashing lights are turned on and the STOP arm is extended.

Kewaskum Blows Lead, Loses to Sussex in Lakes

The Kewaskum Lakes team almost upset "B" Division leader Sussex there Sunday night but blew a big lead in the last quarter to lose by three points, 110-107.

Kewaskum was ahead by 14 points, 88-74, at the end of three quarters but was outscored, 36-19, in the final period by Sussex. The victory gives undefeated Sussex a 4-0 record, while Kewaskum dropped to 1-3.

Kewaskum really lost the game at the free throw line. Sussex made good on 16 free throws, while Kewaskum only had 7, sinking 5 of them.

In the final quarter Rollie Pearson led the way for Sussex with 10 of his 28 points while his team hit all eight of their free throws. Pearson also scored 10 points in the opening quarter.

Kewaskum's Clark Eichstedt took game scoring honors with 38 points, 12 of them in the second period and 12 more in the third quarter. Leon Laatsch and Bill Gonwa were the next leading scorers for Kewaskum with 25 and 19 points respectively. Laatsch netted 12 of his in the first quarter. Five other Sussex players also scored in double figures.

The Lakes team will now take a break for the holidays. Kewaskum's next game will be Sunday, Jan. 8, when they host the Menomonee Falls Badgers, "A" Division leaders.

Reservations For Campsites Can Be Made Jan. 3

A reminder to campers that the first day for making application for campsite reservations for the 1984 reservation season is Tuesday, January 3, 1984.

"Beginning on that date," Dave Weizenicker, Director of the Bureau of Parks and Recreation, noted, "reservations may be made for the period from May 1st through September 30th, except for Peninsula Park where reservations can be made through the last weekend in October."

Campsite reservations must be for a minimum of two consecutive days, and can not be made for more than 21 consecutive days, according to Weizenicker. There is a three day minimum for holiday weekends.

The 1984 campsite reservation application forms are now available at DNR offices. Reservation requests may be made in person beginning January 3rd, or by mail. Remember, mailed applications cannot be postmarked prior to January 3rd. Stating that many campers take the opportunity to personally bring in their reservation requests on the first day they will be accepted, Weizenicker observed, "All reservation applications, whether delivered in person or mailed, will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. Peninsula State Park, which in past years used a lottery type system will also be processing all applications this year on a first-come, first served basis."

Weizenicker also noted that many campers bring along reservation applications for friends and neighbors. "We will accept these, but they will not be processed until all reservations from person actually present have been processed," Weizenicker said.

Campers are encouraged to plan their vacations early and to take advantage of the reservation system. Questions on the campsite reservation program should be directed to: Dennis Konkol at (608) 266-0004.

Health Caring

Chesley P. Erwin, MD, President
State Medical Society of Wisconsin

HOLIDAY HAZARDS

If you haven't already, it's time to get those holiday decorations down from the attic and trim your home in a festive holiday mood. While in the midst of all the hustle and bustle of decorating, however, the State Medical Society of Wisconsin reminds you to be aware of some of the health hazards that accompany this special time of the year.

Although Christmas trees are almost synonymous with the season, there are some fire hazards associated with them. To minimize or avoid these potential risks, select a fresh tree. The higher the moisture content of the tree, the less likely it is to dry out and become a fire hazard. If you buy a pre-cut tree, make sure it has springy branches and tight green needles. Keep it outdoors in water or snow until ready to set up.

In the house, erect the tree in a sturdy container kept filled with water since heated rooms can quickly dry out a tree. In addition, position the tree away from the stove, radiator or fireplace. Use strings of lights that are free from defects and in good repair. As much as possible, use fire-resistant decorations on the tree.

Examine all tree and outdoor lights before using them. Check for defects such as loose connectors, frayed wires, broken or cracked sockets, and spots where barbed wire is exposed.

Before you decorate, check the lights for possible smoking or melting by placing them on a nonflammable surface and plugging them in for 10 to 15 minutes.

Outdoor decorative lights should be weatherproofed and clearly labeled for outdoor use. It is important not to overload extension cords and to unplug all lights before retiring for the night or leaving the house.

The careful selection of holiday ornaments is a good safety practice. Avoid metallic ornaments since they can be a shock hazard if placed near a set of defective electrical lights. Fragile ornaments should not be placed in lower branches where small children or pets can reach them. Every year children are treated for injuries from broken ornaments or for swallowing ornament parts.

Invest in holiday decorations that are noncombustible or flame resistant. With the trend toward more do-it-yourself decorations and craft items, insist on flame resistant materials whenever possible.

Another potential holiday hazard is misuse of a fireplace. Often around the holidays it is a common mistake to use the fireplace as an incinerator to burn gift wrappings, boxes and packing materials. Since these wrappings burn very rapidly and generate high heat, they should not be burned in the fireplace. Chimney fires have occurred when flames ignited soot deposits in the chimney. Avoid this problem by having your chimney inspected regularly.

In addition, the Consumer Product Safety Commission offers the following general safety tips. Post this list as a constant reminder for the entire family:

- Keep matches, lighters and candles out of the reach of children.
- Avoid smoking near flammable decorations.
- Make an emergency plan to use if a fire breaks out anywhere in the house. See that each family member knows what to do.
- Avoid wearing loose flowing clothes near the open flames of a fireplace, stove or candlelit area.
- Never burn candles near evergreens on a mantle piece or table.
- Plan for safety. Remember, there is no substitute for common sense. Look for and eliminate potential danger spots near candles, fireplaces, trees, and/or electrical connections.

Kitchen carpeting can be restored to original brightness in 15 minutes with Nylac. No machine needed. Miller's Fine Furniture recommends Nylac for nylon carpets.

Indians Tip Two Rivers For 1st Conference Win

By JOHN HARJU

The Kewaskum Indians defeated the Two Rivers Raiders, 62-54, Tuesday night in Kewaskum.

The Indians, who broke their two-game losing streak and are now 1-2 in the EW-Conference, took command of the game early and never relinquished their lead. Two Rivers dropped to 2-2 in the standings.

Although Kewaskum had to fight off a late Raider comeback in the second half, the first half proved to be an easy one for the Indians.

Strong all-around offensive play by the Indians and some good rebounding enabled Kewaskum to take a 34-20 halftime lead.

The second half proved to be much like the first half with Kewaskum controlling the tempo of the game and continuing to keep a big lead.

The Indians were met by a Raider full-court press through most of the second half which cut the Indian lead down a little, but fine offensive play by Jim Hanrahan and Jeff Squier enabled the Indians to stay ahead.

With about two minutes remaining in the game, Two Rivers began to put together a string of baskets which at one point cut Kewaskum's lead to 4 points.

Kewaskum, however, responded with baskets by Hanrahan and some timely free throws by Tim Leitheiser and Squier, which brought the Indian lead back up to eight points when the game ended.

Leading scorers for Kewaskum were Hanrahan with 16 points, followed by Brian Arndt with 13 and Squier with 11. Dennis Butz scored 8 points and collected 7 rebounds. Boyd Williams and Mark Monka led Two Rivers in scoring with 22 and 18 points respectively.

The Indian JVs met some stiff competition in their game as they were defeated, 70-50. Bob Yahr and Tim Rohlinger led the Indians in scoring with 12 and 11 points, while Todd Steger chipped in 6.

In freshmen action, the Indians lost to the Raiders, 54-32. Pat Ruplinger led the freshmen in scoring with 12 points and Jesse Mueller followed with 6.

TWO RIVERS (10-10-11-23-54); Larsen 1-0-1, Williams 9-4-4, Monka 9-0-3, Johnson 0-2-2, Peterson 0-1-5, Welsh 1-2-4, Malach 0-5-0, Feest 0-0-3. Totals 20-14-22. FTM: 6.

KEWASKUM — (17-17-12-16-62); Ruplinger 1-1-5, Hanrahan 5-6-2, Arndt 6-1-0, Butz 3-2-4, Squier 3-5-2, Steinhart 2-1-4, Leitheiser 0-2-0, Herriges 1-0-0, Menzel 1-0-1, Wiedmeyer 0-0-1. Totals: 22-18-19. FTM: 8.

Gymnasts Lose To Beaver Dam

The Kewaskum gymnastics team hosted Beaver Dam Thursday night and lost their second meet of the young season, 94.4 to 87.5.

Jacque Erickson and Laura Wilson paced the Beaver team. Erickson was awesome in winning all-around competition after taking two individual first places. She won vaulting with an impressive score of 8.55, took uneven bars with 7.85 and tied for first on beam with 7.55. Wilson won floor exercise with 8.1 and tied with Erickson on the beam.

The best place by Kewaskum was second in vaulting by sophomore Darlene Luedtke with 7.35. Senior Dolly Swenson was close behind her with 7.0.

The Indians also got a second from Sandy Nigh on bars with 7.45. The uneven bars were Kewaskum's best event.

Senior Wendy Wilson picked up a third in floor exercise with a 7.05 to give the Indians a better score than they had against Germantown in their opener.

Most of the Kewaskum competitors showed improvement, especially the freshmen.

For the JVs Debbie Schoofs and Lori Batzler were second and third on the balance beam and Batzler won all-around competition.

Wrestlers Whip Cedar Grove, Lose to Random Lake, 3rd in Horicon Invite

The Kewaskum wrestling team lost only two matches, the first and the last, in a non-conference match against Cedar Grove at home Tuesday night and won easily, 50-12.

The Rockets forfeited at three weight classes, with a couple of their regulars ill but it made little difference as the Indians wrestled exceptionally well.

Kewaskum's Brad Dieringer remained undefeated with a 20-3 superior decision over Al Mondloch at 145 pounds. Dieringer brought his score to 6-0 on the season.

Sophomore Wade Jepson finally got in a match after receiving forfeits in the last two. He dominated Yuki Kida, 22-7, picking up 11 points in the first period on a takedown and three near falls.

Bob Callison was also impressive, rolling up a 17-0 score before pinning his opponent with seconds to go. Jepson is now 5-1 while Callison is 4-1-1. Tim Landvatter boosted his record to 4-2 with a 20-3 decision at 138 pounds.

In another non-conference match at home Thursday night, Kewaskum ran into a veteran, aggressive Random Lake wrestling team and dropped the match, 33-20.

The Rams jumped off to an 18-0 lead with pins at 98 and 105 pounds and a victory on a default at 112 when the Indians' Wade Jepson hit his head hard on the mat, and did not continue.

Kewaskum is now 3-4 in dual meets. Brad Dieringer at 145 remained undefeated (7-0) with a tough 4-2 win over Jim Huiras. Bob Callison again did well, scoring a superior 15-1 decision at 119.

The Indians only pin of the evening was by Chris Harlow in the 185-pound match. Harlow put away Don Mueller in 1:40 while Mark Fuller won a 9-5 decision at 132 and Tim Landvatter dominated his opponent, 7-2.

Lomira captured the Horicon Invitational Saturday by a 33-point margin. The Lions came in with 186 points, followed by Slinger with 153 and Kewaskum with 151.5. The Indians battled right down to the end for the runnerup spot.

Fourth place went to St. Mary's Springs with 141 points, and then came Mayville with 96, Horicon 86, and Brown Deer 63. The scheduled eighth team, Milwaukee Marshall, cancelled so Horicon JVs filled in.

Lomira won four championships. Kewaskum had two champions and two seconds to Slinger's one and three.

After Callison (119) and Landvatter (138) scored their victories, the Indians needed to get a win at 145 from Dieringer or at 185 from Harlow to overtake the Owls but could not get either.

Dieringer went up 4-0 over his opponent, Jeff Yockey of Springs before the match went into overtime, 4-4, and Yockey scored a takedown and won a 4-0 decision. It was Dieringer's first loss of the season after eight straight wins.

Harlow gave up four points near the end of the first period against undefeated Randy Krantz of Slinger and even though he drew to within two points and rode Krantz almost the entire last period, he could not turn him over.

Kewaskum coach John Nell was pleased with Callison's three wins, all pins. He is now 8-1-1. Also with Landvatter's 7-2 decision in the finals, Landvatter is now 8-2.

The Indians' Wade Jepson missed the meet after hitting his head on the mat against Random Lake Thursday and this kept Kewaskum from taking second.

Kewaskum is now off until after the holidays, next traveling to New Holstein Friday, Jan. 5.

Kewaskum Defeated by Oostburg Girls, 47-38

By DENISE LEONG

The Kewaskum girls' basketball team was defeated by the Oostburg Flying Dutchmen on Saturday, December 17, in Kewaskum by the score of 47-38, in a non-conference game.

Kewaskum was unable to establish offensive momentum during the entire game and suffered from numerous turnovers. Defensively, the Indians had their hands full with Oostburg's Shelly Winkelhorst and Jennie Smies, who controlled the ball well and who hit on their shots consistently. The two combined to score 30 of Oostburg's 47 points.

Good performances were turned in by Holly Kempf, who led Kewaskum scorers with 10 points; Donna Hlavaty, who added 8, and Debbie Bastian, who showed good hustle on defense.

In JV action, the Indians made a strong comeback but fell short as they lost 44-42. The Indians got balanced scoring from Michelle Gebheim with 12 points, Angie Swenson with 8 points, and Chris Franzen Jenny Hintz, and Cheryl Schladweiler with 6 points each.

The Indians played again on Tuesday night in Two Rivers.

Merry Christmas

The tale of a Christmas plant: the lovely poinsettia

Ready or not, there's no denying the arrival of the holiday season once the poinsettia plant begins to make its appearance.

Whether it appears on the cover of a greeting card, in the windows of a local department store, or in a sea of red, pink and white flowers at a roadside nursery, the poinsettia is a sure sign that Christmas is just around the corner.

Although the poinsettia plant is not indigenous to the United States, Americans have come to associate its brilliant red, delicate pink and snowy white bracts with the Christmas season.

This exotic flowering plant, used to decorate homes and churches in Mexico during the Christmas season, was introduced to the United States in 1828 by Dr. Joel Robert Poinsett, at that time the U.S. ambassador to Mexico. Upon returning from his term of service in Mexico, he brought the plants home to his native South Carolina.

Poinsett propagated these plants, which he called "Painted Leaves," in his own greenhouses, and sent cuttings to botanists throughout the country. The plant was later named "Poinsettia" in his honor.

Poinsettias grow wild in Mexico and other areas of Central America, where they are shrubs that can reach 30 feet in height. Their brilliant flowers are most profuse in mid-December.

The Spanish name for poinsettias, Flor de la Noche-buena (flower of the holy night), derives from a Mexican legend which holds that the plant originated in a miracle.

As the legend has it, a poor peasant child, ashamed at having nothing to take to a service honoring the nativity of the Christ child, sadly picked a few weeds along the road to give as an offering at the church.

As he knelt at the altar with his humble gift, the child's earnest prayer and tears of reverence transformed the weeds into the flowering plant that has become as much a part of Christmas in this country as the ever-green tree.

Today, poinsettias are still imported from Mexico, though commercial growers in Hawaii and other warm-weather states add to the supply. A careful plant-lover, however, can keep the plant from one season to the next and enjoy its brilliant flowering year after year.

The poinsettia will flourish outdoors during the summer months in most parts of the country, becoming denser with foliage as the weeks of sunshine pass. Prior to putting the plant outdoors, it should be pruned to avoid its becoming too "leggy."

Use common sense at holiday time

"Each year thousands of families suffer needless injuries, loss of life and destruction of property due to accidents during the Christmas holiday season--yet many of these accidents could have been avoided with proper precautions and a little common sense."

That's the advice from Jane Jansen, consumer protection bureau director with the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection, who offers these common sense tips for a safe holiday:

- Check tree lights and outdoor lights before you use them. Look for frayed wires, loose connections, broken or cracked sockets and spots where bare wire is exposed. Any set that is damaged should be thrown out or repaired.

- All lights should be fastened securely to the tree. Curtains and other flammable materials should be kept away from bulbs.

- Do not overload extension cords. Don't put more than three sets of lights on any extension cord.

- Don't try to use indoor lights for outdoor lighting. Remove outdoor lighting as soon as the season is over.

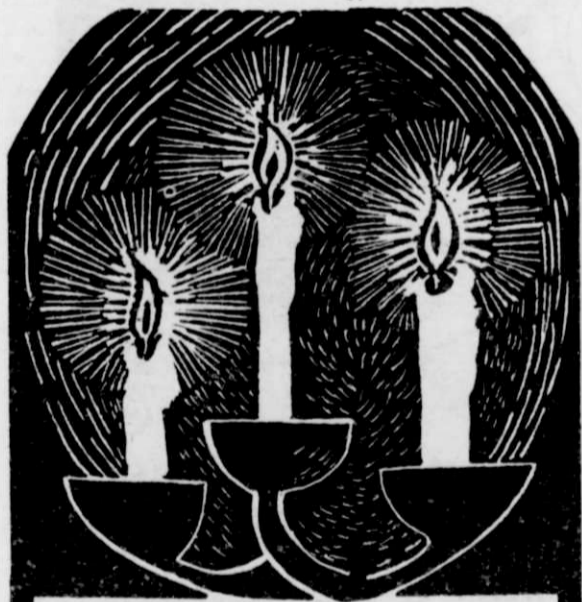

- Do not buy an electrical toy--or any toy--for a child too young to use it safely.

- Supervise the use of any electrical product and consider both the maturity of the child and the nature of the toy.

- If you have a fireplace, use it carefully during the holiday season. Always use a screen that completely covers the opening to keep sparks from flying out. Don't put combustible materials near a fireplace.

- Keep children away from the fireplace. Check your fireplace to determine that all vents and chimneys are operating properly.

"Remember to use common sense and play it safe during the holidays," Ms. Jansen says.

Here's hoping that the warmth of this joyous Yuletide brings happiness and prosperity, good health and good luck to all!

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Kewaskum
Lions Club

And it came to pass, a brilliant light on high
Would settle over the Bethlehem sky
A star, it shone in the heavens so bright
A sign of the great birth that came that night
Shepherds, Wisemen and Kings, they would come
To bear witness, to see, one by one
It was the star, it showed them the way
And the faith in your coming, promised some day
A great King, of great kings, ruler of all nations
All glory and honor, our Savior, our salvation
As the dawn approached and the sun would rise
That glorious star it faded and died
But the announcement it made, the reason it came
Will not be forgotten, it's an eternal flame
An eternal flame of the love on earth
You gave to us on the day of your birth
The love you preached, "We must share"
Give to each other, show that you care
So on the eve of your birth we'll look to the sky
That flame it still flickers by and by Never give up hope, for mankind must know
It's love for each other, that strengthens the glow
And brings forth the star, the star so bright
That appeared just for you on that glorious night
That star it will be our sign from above
Your promise to mankind, "Eternal Joy, Peace and Love"

If you check your State's holiday death statistics, you will probably find a great percentage of these involved drivers who had been drinking intoxicating drinks. Why not contribute to this holiday's joy by staying away from the driver's wheel if you choose to drink during the season? Other traveling safety suggestions are:

1. Before leaving on your trip, check the weather conditions of the route you will be traveling.
2. Give yourself plenty of time to reach your destination without the feeling that you must rush.
3. Buckle seat belts and use the child restraint devices.
4. Just in case you run into bad weather or have car trouble, take blankets along, and carry a bag of sand.
5. Report any drunk drivers—it's for their sake as well as yours.

Christmas Is Sharing

Children can have the feeling of achievement if long before the holidays they can start a savings. As Christmas approaches, the children can learn to balance the Christmas budget by not overspending, but keeping within their limits.

True giving hurts just a tid bit. To see his own savings dwindle as he gives to others is true giving. His giving helps him to become less selfish. Also, children can be taught to receive joy from giving out of their own savings to charities.

Planning allowances and projects by which the children can save for their own Christmas shopping can be one of the greatest gifts a parent can give his child—for truly unselfishness brings the greatest joy throughout life—from the toddler to the tottery!

The custom of putting toys and other presents into a stocking on Christmas Eve started in Germany and arrived in England and the U.S. in the 1800s.

1. Prepare a 2-layer cake batter according to directions. Fill 6 small loaf pans (4½ x 2¼ x 1½ inches) ½ full of batter. Pour the remaining into a 9 x 1½ inch round pan to be used as you wish. Bake the layer as directed and the loaves 20-25 minutes. If you don't have loaf pans, bake in 2 square 8" or 9" pans or one 13 x 9" pan, then cut into 4 x 2½" pieces.

2. Make a track of licorice rope sticks. Set the cakes, top side down on the track. Frost the sides and top of the cakes.

3. A big marshmallow becomes the smokestack. Another big marshmallow goes in front of the engine with a gumdrop attached to it with a toothpick. Two big gumdrops sit on top the engine. Silver balls are used to outline the windows or for any writing you may wish to do. Candy mints become wheels.

4. Pretty candies can be placed on top each car as if it were filled.

5. Cut each loaf in half to serve.

Evergreen Cards

1. Fold a stiff piece of paper into fourths.

2. Glue small sprigs of evergreen on the front.

3. Tie a piece of ribbon into a bow and paste it to the bottom of the sprig.

4. Dab glue on the spots where you'd like glitter to sparkle. Sprinkle the glitter on the glue. Shake off the excess.

Extra Christmas Winks

Mom and Dad, if you would like to take advantage of a few more winks on Christmas Morn, the one day you can sleep in, here is a game that will help.

The game has two rules: (1) Don't disturb Mom and Dad before 8:00 a.m., (2) When you wake up in the morning, look under your bed.

Now, when Mom or Dad wakes early Christmas Morn (they may need to set an alarm) slip a present for each child under his bed. When the children wake up they entertain themselves in their rooms until Mom and Dad wake up.

Generosity

Tammy: "My husband has got to be one of the most generous men in all the world!"
Sally: "What makes you think ..."

Tammy: "Well, I gave him a dozen of the most stylish neckties for Christmas and he turned right around and gave them to the Salvation Army."

And may life's good things be yours in full abundance.

Santa Cookies!

With a little creativity—and a lot of fun—you can make the jolliest Santa Claus cookies of the season!

These decorated cookies have great flavor, too, because they're made with Reese's Peanut Butter Chips. And mixing's easy—simply pour the little chips right from the package to melt quickly and blend smoothly with the other ingredients.

SANTA COOKIES

- 2 cups (12-ounce package) Reese's Peanut Butter Chips
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 2 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
- 1-1/2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Melt peanut butter chips in top of double boiler over simmering (not boiling) water; stir until smooth. Cream butter and sugar in large mixer bowl until fluffy; add eggs and vanilla. Beat well; blend in melted chips. Combine flour, baking soda and salt; blend into creamed mixture. Cover bowl tightly; chill about one hour. Roll dough to 1/4-inch thickness on lightly floured surface; cut with 3-inch diameter round. Place rounds on baking sheet; put wooden stirrer or lollipop stick on cookie with top of stick near center of cookie. Press stick lightly into dough. Bake at 375° for 6 to 8 minutes. Cool slightly before removing to cooling rack. Decorate cooled cookies with white and red frosting and semi-sweet chocolate chips. About 3-1/2 dozen cookies.

Sentimental Christmas Card

Approaching the Christmas card counter, the young man asked, "Have you anything sentimental?"

"Oh, here's one," the ready-for-the-occasion salesgirl replied. "To the only girl I ever loved!"

"Great! I'll take three—no—five of those, please!"

Great Ideas For Holiday Stocking Stuffers

Stumped when it comes to suitable stocking stuffers for your favorite friends and family members this holiday season? Here are some ideas that may help.

Stocking stuffers can be inexpensive, yet innovative. For the children, hand-made mittens, dolls or small stuffed animals make special gifts. If you have a budding artist in the family, slip some crayons or felt-tipped marking pens into the stocking. A popular choice with bookworms is small-size picture books or paperbacks on their favorite subjects or by favorite authors.

If there's a young couple just setting up housekeeping on your Christmas list, there are many handy household items you can stuff a stocking with—utensil sets, miniature tool kits, potholders, trivets and other decorative items.

Scented soaps, colognes and perfumes are always welcomed on Christmas morning. And who says stocking stuffers have to cost less than other gifts? Imagine the delight on the face of a young lady as she shakes out the stocking and a diamond necklace, earrings or a watch spills into her lap!

Delicious, small-serving sizes of gourmet treats also make unique stocking stuffers—special cheeses, meats, pastries, cookies—all beautifully wrapped and ready for Yuletide palates. Among the scrumptious snacks you might choose to stuff a stocking with are granola snacks from Nature Valley, available in a variety of flavors from chocolate chip to peanut butter, raspberry to apple. They are a tasteful way to say "Have a merry Christmas and a happy New Year."

He Was Remembered

Christmas is for children—God's children, young and old! He was nearly 85 years old—and squeezes the lady's hand who came to bring Christmas to this nursing home resident. "You know, we have not always been like this," he meekly said, pointing to his arthritic hands and tapping the floor with his cane.

Tears rolled down his wrinkled face, then he smiled, shuffled his cane and proceeded to the tree to select his gift.

What joy there is in doing for others and seeing their pleasure at being remembered!

When Christmas shopping, try browsing in antique shops. They are treasure troves that can spark the imagination.

Sure-footed hopes for a Christmas that's perfect in every way. It is our great pleasure to say "thanks for your valued business."

Christmas Cake Decoration

For a quick but mouth-watering cake decoration, bake your favorite cake in a one-layer oblong pan. When the cake is cool, frost with a light green frosting. Arrange pillow-shaped mints for the tree's base. Two peppermint sticks, one on top the other is the tree trunk. Diagonally place 4 peppermint candy canes on each side of the trunk and a peppermint star-round at the top. Round mints can be spaced on the sides of the cake, and candy silver balls sprinkled here and there for a sparkly, delicious Christmas cake!

They Look "Good Enough to Eat"

While the bright red holly berries, pearly white mistletoe berries, and Jerusalem cherries add beauty to the Christmas season, it is well to remember that if chewed or swallowed, they can cause serious illness. For a safe holiday, plan these decorations to have a special place high above the reach of small children who naturally like to taste what "looks good enough to eat."

AT THIS JOYOUS TIME OF YEAR, WE WISH ONE AND ALL A VERY MERRY HOLIDAY.

Christmas Candy Tips

What could be more of a Christmas treat than a box of homemade candy! A few mailing tips for candy are: choose candies that will travel well, like fudge, fruit drops, or caramels. Place a layer of crushed waxed paper in the bottom of a tin box. Divide the box in fourths with cardboard dividers to help prevent the candy from shifting.

Set container in a strong, larger carton. Pack unsalted popcorn all around the container.

Cute Christmas Manger

Cut a round box (such as an oatmeal box) in half, lengthwise. Cover the box with a pretty wrapping paper or fabric. Attach cardboard rockers underneath. Glue on green garlands and baubles. Place a baby doll in the box. Cover the doll with a blanket; crisscross green garland over the blanket. Place gold doilies as a halo around the head.

Just rolling in to say, "May your holiday flower into a fun-filled time for all!" Many thanks for your valued business.

Stained Windows

1. Use a sliver of soap to sketch an outline of a scene on a window. Paint the outline with black tempera paint.
2. Pour several cups of soap powder or detergent and a bit of water into a bowl. Mix with a hand beater or an electric beater, adding enough water to make a stiff meringue texture. Add poster paint or food coloring along with the water when beating the suds.
3. Spoon a different color of soap into each cup of a large muffin tin.
4. Brush the soap on the window, being careful not to cover the outline.

Marzipan Cookies

1/2 cup soft butter
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/8 tsp. almond flavoring
 1 1/4 cups flour
 2-3 drops yellow food coloring

Cream butter, sugar, food coloring, flavoring. Stir in the flour and mix thoroughly. Use 2 level teaspoons of dough to form fruits. Chill the fruits on an ungreased baking sheet for 30 minutes. Preheat oven to 300 degrees. Bake cookies for 30 minutes.

APPLES: Roll into a ball and shape like an apple. Insert a cinnamon stick in the stem end and a clove in the blossom end. For the apple blush, dilute 1/8 teaspoon red food coloring with 1 teaspoon of water and paint.

BANANAS: Roll the dough in a banana shape; taper the ends. Paint the markings on the banana with a mixture of three drops red food coloring, 2 drops of yellow food coloring, one drop of blue food coloring, and 1/2 teaspoon of water.

Experiment with shaping and painting a variety of colorful Christmas Marzipan cookies.

Our fond thoughts of you will sparkle from one end of Christmas to the other. Warm thanks.

It's Birthday Time

"...when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth His Son..." Galatians 4:4.

When God's great clock of time pointed to that hour, the Babe Jesus was born in Bethlehem. The world was ripe for the coming of the Deliverer. Generally speaking, people's faith had grown dim. The beyond, to them, was only gloom and uncertainty. God was thought of as a tyrant and not a God of love. God looked down upon the world with pity and compassion, and permitted His Son to come as a helpless babe, to fight the battle as every child of humanity must fight.

Jesus accepted humanity after the race had been weakened by 4,000 years of sin. He accepted our sorrows and temptations and came to lift us from the dust. God gave His only begotten Son in order that the path of life might be easier. Herein is love!

And now, on the day representing Christ's birthday, we have the opportunity to show Him, in some small way, our appreciation for His Gift of Love.

Holiday Baby Sitter Picking

The busy holiday activities sometimes bring the necessity of a baby sitter.

It's sometimes difficult to find a reliable baby sitter during this season. The idea is to establish a relationship with your potential baby sitter before needed.

Sometimes a lonely grandma would cherish being with the little folk. A special food treat can be left for her to enjoy, a good book for pleasant reading, or a cross-stitch piece she'd like to make, etc.

Student nurses and other medical students often welcome extra Christmas money. Some high schools offer a baby-sitting course and perhaps could recommend someone from that class.

Have a peaceful holiday picking the right baby-sitter.

COOKIE SNOWBALLS: TO SERVE - TO GIVE

It's cookie-baking season. Trays of irresistible Coconut Cookie Snowballs promise delicious eating for holiday company. Think of the satisfaction, too, when you earmark a few dozen for gift giving. ## Gift-Giving Ideas

More than 1600 years ago the original St. Nicholas salvaged one poor maiden's future by tossing a bag of gold coins into her window for her dowry. They landed in a stocking hung by the chimney to dry. So began the entire Christmas stocking tradition!

People of all ages are still finding new and unusual ways to use Christmas stockings for gifts, according to Rennoc Corporation, the world's largest manufacturer of plush Christmas decorations. They suggest it can be fun to give a hand-selected assortment of little treasures that reflect an individual's special interests. For example:

To fill the handyman's stocking, raid a hardware store; for the sailor, a marine supply shop; for the gardener, a good nursery. A stocking is the perfect cornucopia for homemade wines, breads, and jellies.

The jet-setter's stocking might contain an airline ticket, sun glasses, suntan lotion, bikini and film.

Fill the health nut's stocking with a foot massager, avocado cream, ginseng tea, banana chips, granola bars and "The Book of Tofu."

And, of course, a stocking is still appropriate to give a gift of gold.

Originally, a Christmas "carol" meant a dance. They began when St. Francis of Assisi led villagers in joyous dancing around a recreation of the nativity scene.

Holding Off Heartburn At The Holidays

Most of the year you're careful, watching what you eat and seemingly going to great lengths not to over-indulge. But the approaching holiday season has a not surprising way of changing all that.

During the holidays, the combination of good food, good company, and good cheer can produce more than good times. It can also add up to heartburn, a common condition that afflicts an estimated 25% of the U.S. population.

Heartburn is a term used to describe the unpleasant symptoms sometimes produced by overeating. Generally they include a tightness, pain, or burning sensation in the chest area behind the breast bone caused by a backup of stomach acid into the esophagus.

The best way to avoid heartburn is to be aware of your individual limitations and eat accordingly. Here are some other helpful hints to keep in mind during the upcoming holidays and throughout the year:

- Certain foods and beverages—such as chocolate, fried and spicy foods, processed meats, mints, alcohol, and coffee—have a tendency to produce heartburn.
- Eat small bites and chew your food thoroughly.
- Sleep with the head of your bed raised about six inches.
- Don't lie down right after eating.
- Do not wear clothes too tight around your waist.

For those who suffer from heartburn, many physicians recommend an effective antacid such as Gaviscon®, which forms a foamy layer on top of the stomach contents that protects the delicate tissue of the esophagus against acid irritation.

Assemble Toys Before Holiday

It's Christmas Eve, fathers of America—assemble! They always do. It's not to get together, but a put together. For some reason, two or more Christmases are necessary for the average father to realize that he didn't really buy a bicycle or a coaster wagon, he purchased a box of bicycle or wagon parts.

Most also learn the hard way that Christmas Eve is not the right time to put things together. Toys should be assembled at least a week before Santa's arrival, because only the man with an engineering degree can do it right the first time. Panic is the word used to describe what happens when a bicycle is fully assembled and there, in the bottom of the carton lies four bolts, two screws and something that looks a little like a can opener.

Don't wait, dads! Do it early. And, don't complete Step 1 until you've read what you will do in Step 1, (B) and Step 1 (C). In fact, you can save both time and temper if you read directions completely, not once, but twice—and study the pictures carefully.

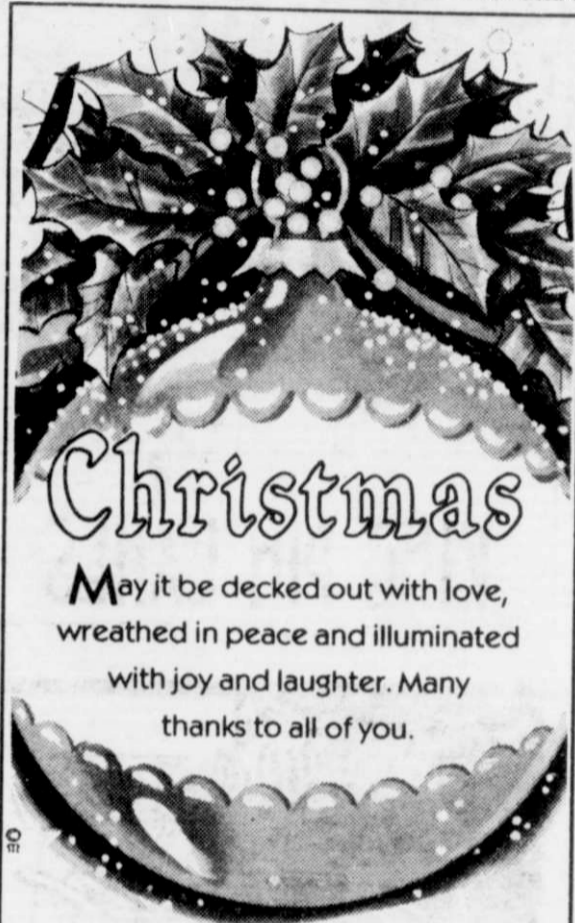

Have fun—and a Merry Christmas.

Christmas is a time of joy and harmony. Hope yours is wonderful in every way! Thanks and happy holiday!

Good Planning Makes Holiday Entertaining Easier

With the holidays nearing, you're probably already thinking about your seasonal parties and dinners. Now is the time to attend to details—good planning will allow you to relax and enjoy your family and guests.

Now is the time to:

- Get out your silverware and serving pieces and check for tarnishing. Polish items that need it, and store pieces in sealed plastic bags.
If stored this way, silver will remain bright and shiny and will be ready to use when the holidays arrive.

- Choose centerpieces or special flower arrangements.
Most florists become extremely busy around the holiday season and might not be able to give you the time and attention they can offer now.

- Make your upholstered furniture look fresh and clean with a do-it-yourself cleaning and protecting product like Scotchgard Upholstery Cleaner+Protector.
You'll be able to relax and enjoy your parties more if you know that spills will wipe away easily.

- Make preliminary invitation lists so you can determine how many chairs and tables you will need to seat your guests. If you need to rent or borrow chairs or tables, make plans to do so now. They are sometimes scarce at holiday time and, if you're renting, you'll have left yourself ample time to compare prices.

- Protect your table-
cloths, napkins, placemats, aprons and even your upholstered dining chairs by using Scotchgard Fabric Protector. You'll be able to bring out the linens you've been afraid to use and holiday clean-ups will be quicker and easier.

- Check your crystal for spots or dust and store glasses upside down in a covered, dust-free place.

- Begin collecting recipes for dishes you will want to prepare and serve. Check to be sure you haven't misplaced any of your old favorites.

tail and comb, and curl the fringes slightly. Staple to the body. A rhinestone sequin or pretty button makes a neat eye. Punch a where string or wire can be inserted and looped for hanging.

CHRISTMAS

*As long as there are pine trees growing on a hill,
As long as there are firesides with candle on a sill,
As long as there are reindeer, snowflakes glistening white,
As long as there is a Santa Claus, there will be a Christmas night.
As long as happy children sing with pure delight the age-old song of goodwill to men, there will be a Christmas night.
As long as there are wise men who choose to be star-led,
and loving hearts made ready to crown the Christmas head,
As long as there is tinsel and wrappings gay and bright, and church bells chime throughout the land,
there will be a Christmas night.*

A PRAYER for Christmas

On this great holiday, let us join together in prayer. Let each ask, in his own way, that the true spirit of this Christmas season—its joy, its beauty, its hope, and its ever-abiding faith—find its way into every heart and home.

Let us pray for the blessings of peace, with time to build and grow, to live in harmony and sympathy with our fellow man—and to plan the future with a determined confidence.

Let us pray that those who work for a world of reason and understanding be given courage and energy unlimited.

And, let us pray that the message of Bethlehem be made known to one and all, so that the good that lies in every man's heart may be ever magnified.

When wrapping holiday packages, if you have an assortment of unmatched "just too small" pieces of gift paper, try combining different patterns and colors for packages that are sure to please the eye.

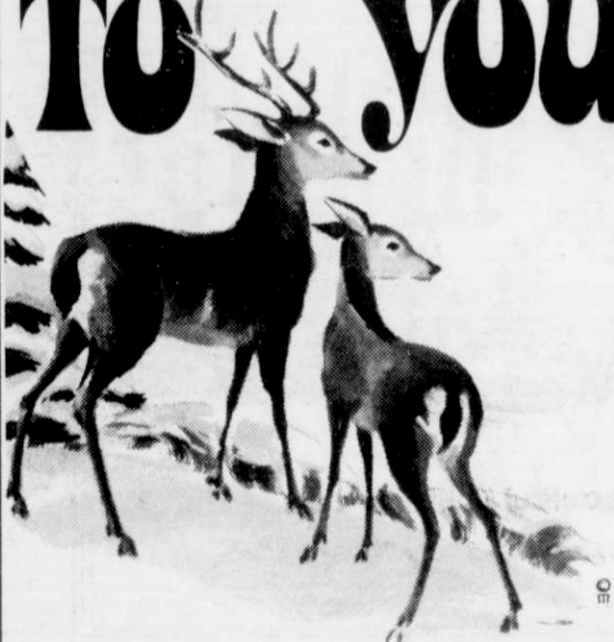

We'd like to say thank you for your graciousness in all our dealings and for the opportunity to be of service.

Homemade Gift Ideas

Here's a fun idea for the holidays—making your own Christmas tree decorations and Christmas gifts from clay, right in your kitchen.

It doesn't take marble, chisels and an "old master" to make modern masterpieces out of Play Clay. Jewelry, toys, decorations, even art objects can be fashioned by everyone.

Play Clay Recipe:

- 2 cups ARM & HAMMER® Baking Soda (1 pound package)
- 1 cup cornstarch
- 1 1/4 cups cold water

Stir together baking soda and cornstarch in saucepan. Add water and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly. When mixture is the consistency of moist mashed potatoes, turn out on a plate and cover with a damp cloth. When cool enough to handle, knead like dough, then follow directions for object you wish to make.

Flat Ornaments: On waxed paper, roll out clay to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut with cookie cutters into circles, stars, triangles, Christmas tree or animal shapes. For raised designs, cut small circles with bottle caps, or model freehand; moisten and press onto larger cut-out. Etch patterns with knife or paper clip. Insert loop of wire into one edge for hanging. Let dry. Paint and finish.

Dashing by with wishes for a Christmas resplendant with old time pleasures!

JOHANN
Plumbing and Heating, Inc.

In Austria, children put notes to "dear child Jesus in Heaven" on the window sill for St. Nicholas to take so that the Christ Child could bring the requested gifts on Christmas Eve.

In Belgium, children place shoes, baskets, or dishes under the tree for St. Nicholas to fill on Christmas Eve. They put water, hay, and carrots outside the door to attract his gray horse to their home. St. Nicholas wears a bishop's robe and a miter, and he carries a pastoral staff. On Christmas morning the children find chairs tipped over in their rooms and further disarray to show evidence that St. Nicholas has been there. Good children find their shoes filled with gifts. Bad ones find switches stuffed in theirs.

Father Christmas

In Finland, Father Christmas brings children their gifts from England. In some sections he is known as Wainamoinen or Ukke. He is an old man with a long white mustache. He wears a white peaked cap with blue trim and a red coat.

In Hungary, the children believe that a male Kriss Kringle brings their gifts. He is dressed in white and rides a white horse.

In South America children leave notes to "Little Jesus" during Posada. They leave them in front of the crib for the angels to take to heaven for answering.

In Sweden, Jul-nisen in his red robe, pointed cap, and long white beard, riding his goat, brings gifts to good Swedish children.

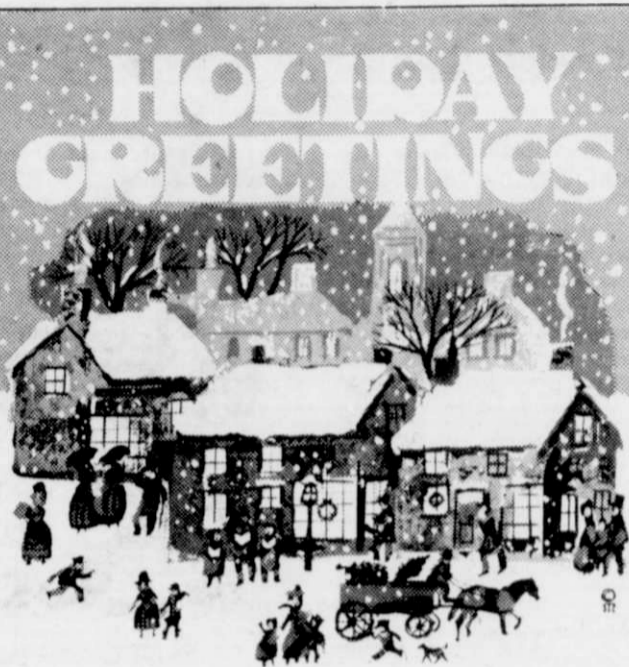

In Mexico, Santa is not as popular as the figure of Quetzalcoatl, the Aztec god of the sun. He is an old man with a long white beard and flowing white robes. Before Christmas children write to the Christ Child listing what they want. And on the eve of Epiphany, January 6th they place their shoes at the foot of their beds for the Three Magi to fill.

Good Old St. Nick

In Switzerland, the tradition of St. Nicholas is observed. He arrives on December 6th and distributes fruit, candy, and toys. Sometimes there is a parade in his honor. A giant figure of St. Nicholas leads a group of children dressed in long white nightgowns and masks. The paraders blow long Swiss horns and bells ring.

Spanish children fill their shoes with straw for the camels of the Three Kings, on the eve of the Epiphany. It is thought that each year the Wise Men repeat their journey to Bethlehem and pass through Spain on the way. As they pass by, the camels eat the straw and the shoes are filled with gifts by Balthasar, who rides on a donkey.

In Poland, children write letters telling what they wish to receive and place them on the window for the Wise Men. Then on Christmas Eve, after supper, the children are examined on their knowledge of religion by the Star Man (the village priest). If they do well, they receive small gifts from the Wise Men. Gifts are believed to come from the stars, and the Wise Men act as emissaries.

As we gather together to share the blessings and joy of the holiday with those we love, we greet old friends and say thanks.

Seasonal Greetings

TRADITIONAL TREATS WITH NEW ENDINGS

The holiday season is the get-together season. One fun and easy way to entertain is to have the party—or part of it—somewhere other than your house!

For instance, invite friends to join you at a nearby pond for a skating party. Take a group to the local theatre to see the holiday production. Or gather singers to spread holiday cheer by caroling throughout the neighborhood.

After the entertainment, invite everyone to your house for refreshments. Most appropriate are these two party-size recipes, which use traditional favorites of the season in exciting new ways.

PUMPKIN-GINGER BARS

- 1 package Betty Crocker gingerbread mix
- 1/4 cup raisins
- 1/4 cup chopped nuts
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 1 cup cooked pumpkin
- 1/3 cup water
- 1 egg
- Lemon Cream Frosting (right)

Heat oven to 350°. Mix all ingredients except frosting in medium bowl until batter is of uniform consistency, about 2 minutes (batter will be stiff). Spread in ungreased rectangular pan, 13x9x2 inches; smooth top with rubber spatula. Bake until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean, about 25 minutes. Cool completely on wire rack. Spread Lemon Cream Frosting over top. Cut into bars, about 3x1 inch. 32 bars.

Lemon Cream Frosting

- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon milk
- 1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened
- 2 1/4 cups powdered sugar

Mix lemon peel, lemon juice, milk and cream cheese in small bowl. Gradually beat in powdered sugar until frosting is smooth and of spreading consistency.

High Altitude Directions (3500 to 6500 feet): Heat oven to 375°.

FROZEN CRANBERRY CHEESECAKE

- 1 1/2 cups vanilla wafer crumbs
- 1/4 cup margarine or butter, melted
- 1 tub Betty Crocker Creamy Deluxe cream cheese ready-to-spread frosting
- 1 cup small curd creamed cottage cheese
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 1 can (16 ounces) whole berry cranberry sauce

Heat oven to 350°. Mix wafer crumbs and margarine. Press in ungreased square pan, 9x9x2 inches. Bake 10 minutes; cool.

Mix frosting, cottage cheese and sour cream in small bowl. Beat on high speed until blended, about 3 minutes. Spread half of the frosting mixture over crust; spread with cranberry sauce. Spread remaining frosting mixture over sauce. Freeze until firm, about 8 hours. Garnish with sugar-frosted cranberries and mint leaves if desired. 16 servings.

High Altitude Directions (3500 to 6500 feet): No adjustments are necessary.

ONE SOLITARY LIFE

(Author Unknown)

Here is a man who was born of Jewish parents in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in another obscure village. He worked in a carpenter shop until He was thirty, and then for three years, He was an itinerant preacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office. He never had a family. He never went to college. He never put his foot inside a big city. He never did one of the things that usually accompany greatness. He had no credentials but himself.

He had nothing to do with this world except the naked power of His divine manhood. While still a young man, the tide of popular opinion turned against Him. His friends ran away. One of them denied Him. He was turned over to His enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed to a cross between two thieves. His executioners gambled for the only piece of property He had on earth while He was dying—and that was His coat. When He was dead He was taken down and laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.

Nineteen wide centuries have come and gone and today He is the centerpiece of the human race and the leader of the column of progress. I am far within the mark when I say that all the armies that ever marched, and all the navies that ever were built, and all the parliaments that ever sat, and all the kings that ever reigned, put together have not affected the life of man upon this earth as powerfully as has that One Solitary Life.

Merry Christmas

May your Christmas be abundant with all good things. Thanks.

Gift Pondering

In all innocence a husband gives a middle-aged wife a crock-pot and the wife may think, "That's how he thinks of me—just a cook or maid! Why didn't he give me a lacy nightgown?" Or a beau's lady friend has been wanting him to get that fashionable, bulky turtle-neck sweater which he detests—so, this year, there it is under the tree.

Then there is the couple who uses Christmas gifts as ego boosters. Each year that goes by brings a more expensive gift for the other. They go on spending in a self-centered way and if either breaks the pattern the other will feel unloved.

All the budgets in the world can't compensate for poor communication. Before doing Christmas shopping it might be well to have a family discussion with each member of the family feeling free to express his feelings about gifts. The age-old idea of each family member making a list of what he'd like can simplify shopping.

For holiday happiness do a bit of pondering before giving.

Cookie Ornaments

1. Draw around cookie cutters that you have placed on colored construction paper.
2. Cut out the paper cookie shapes.
3. Dampen the cookie shapes and dip them one at a time into artificial snow.
4. Or you might like to brush some cookie shapes with rubber cement, then sprinkle glitter on the wet cement. Shake off the excess glitter.
5. Attach string to your pretty Christmas cookie ornaments and hang.

Christmas Quiz

1. When was December suggested as a date on which to celebrate Christ's birth?
2. Who wrote the words to the famous Christmas carol, "Joy to the World"?
3. Who first described Santa Claus' sleigh and reindeer?
4. Where did the traditional dish of plum pudding originate?
5. When was the "Messiah," by George Frideric Handel first presented?

Answers:

1. In 336.
2. Isaac Watts.
3. Clements C. Moore, in 1882 in his poem now called, "The Night Before Christmas."
4. In England.
5. In 1724 in Dublin.

Christmas In Birdland

Wish the birds a merry Christmas this year. Decorate a living tree with strings of popcorn, apples, nuts, and suet. And as they receive, they will give a trill of "Thank you" not only in the cold winter, but songs of happiness in the spring, summer and fall. Save a bird this Christmas!

Brunch Can Be a Joy For the Holidays

Holiday Baked Eggs is the star of this menu with condensed cream of celery soup saucing the herbed potato mixture beneath the eggs.

Brunch can be an elegant but inexpensive way to entertain. For a festive, yet easy entree, serve Holiday Baked Eggs, with a tiny French touch. Condensed Cream of Celery Soup offers its double-rich, double-thick goodness to the egg main dish. Complete the menu with a tureen filled with condensed tomato and onion soups laced with tarragon, a fruit compote and basket of warm corn muffins.

Whatever your choice of dishes, condensed soups can make a festive brunch a holiday—even for the cook.

5. Heat remaining soup mixture; serve with eggs. Makes 6 servings.

The Santa Claus we know today was first drawn in 1863 by cartoonist Thomas Nast.

It Takes Much More

It takes much more than candlelight or shining tinsel or sparkling snow. It takes a hand clasped tight—a smile, love, kind thoughts, wrongs made right and heartfelt prayer to prove we care.

Let this holiday season be filled with true care!

Hope the bright sparkle of this Christmas tops them all for you!

Thanks.

Hints for Holiday Entertaining

A holiday Christmas Angel treat...a cake that will delight family and friends.

Here's a festive dessert for the holidays that can be made well ahead of time and tucked into the freezer till serving. It's a cake, light yet rich in flavor, which is ample enough to serve a large gathering of family and friends.

Along with it is a recipe for an easy-to-prepare holiday drink, a hot, spicy swizzle.

These delectables owe their distinctive flavor to America's new favorite, the first liqueur to offer the richness of cream, the flavor of chocolate and the spirit of fine Irish whiskey.

It's the secret blending in the marriage of these ingredients that has made Baileys Original Irish Cream Liqueur an unprecedented success since its introduction in 1979. It is enjoyed both before and after dinner, in hot weather or cold. Despite the fact that it's made of real cream (only two hours old), it need never be refrigerated, thanks to the Irish whiskey preservative action.

BAILEYS CHRISTMAS ANGEL
1 fully-baked angel cake
1/2 to 2/3 cup Baileys Irish Cream
3 cups heavy whipping cream

1/2 cup confectioners sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
Sliced toasted almonds

Slice top off cake horizontally about 1-1/4" down. Remove inside of cake, leaving wall 1" thick. Whip the cream until stiff. Blend in vanilla, sugar and then slowly mix in the Baileys. Fill cake with two-thirds of the cream mixture. Set top in place and frost with remaining cream mixture. Sprinkle toasted almonds on top. Freeze until firm. If storing cake in freezer, freeze first and then wrap tightly in moisture-proof wrapping.

BAILEYS CINNAMON SWIZZLE
1/2 cup hot coffee
1/4 cup Baileys Irish Cream, warmed
Cinnamon stick
Lemon peel strip
2 teaspoons superfine sugar
Place sugar, cinnamon stick and lemon peel in eight-ounce cup or mug. Add coffee and Baileys. Serve immediately.

These recipes are from chef Carol Brownson, who suggests that a great twist for traditional eggnogs is using 2 teaspoons of Baileys Irish Cream.

Sparkle Cards

Cut out objects from old Christmas cards or winter outdoor scenes.

Add enough water with 1 cup of flour to make a thick paste. Add 2 drops of white glue. Gradually add 1/4-1/2 cup of salt until paste is thick and gritty. One to two teaspoons of fine silver glitter added to your mixture makes even more sparkle.

Brush your glitter mixture on with a paint brush to add snow to trees, shrubs, roofs, etc.

Fold a piece of paper like a greeting card. Paste your sparkling items on. Write a message inside and you've made creative Christmas cards!

HOMER'S Barber Shop

Jingle Bell Party Game

"It" is in the center of the circle of players, his eyes closed and counting to 10, while a small bell is passed around the circle.

After "It" counts to 10, he quickly tries to see who has the bell.

The players try to pass the bell as quietly as possible. If "It" catches the person with the bell, they change places.

True Gifts

Give a gift of courage to the discouraged, a gift of loyalty to those who depend on us. Give a gift of understanding to someone whose opinions may not be just like ours, to a person who's in trouble and needs our help, or to a person who's "blown it" for sure and needs an understanding hand rather than a pounding censure. These gifts will be true gifts from the heart.

Holiday Peanut Cookies

The Peanut Advisory Board Test Kitchen has developed several cookie recipes using peanuts. Chocolate Peanut Buttons are especially festive for holiday entertaining and gift-giving. They're fun to prepare and friends love to receive a present that has been home-baked.

CHOCOLATE PEANUT BUTTONS

- 1/2 cup butter, softened
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 3/4 cup creamy peanut butter
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 4 ounces semi-sweet chocolate, melted

May peace & serenity surround you at this joyous time.

Hydraulic Gear

1/4 cup chopped salted or unsalted peanuts

Cream together butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in egg, peanut butter and vanilla. Thoroughly blend flour, baking soda and salt. Gradually add to creamed mixture. Beat until well mixed. Form into 1-inch balls. Place on greased baking sheet 2 inches apart. Using bottom of glass, flatten into 2-inch circles. Bake at 375°F. for 15 minutes or until golden. Remove from baking sheets and cool. Spread about 1/2 teaspoon melted chocolate on each cookie. Sprinkle with chopped peanuts. Makes about 4 1/2 dozen.

Don't Put It In The Attic

As soon as the Christmas decorations are put back up in the attic and the last crumbs of the fruitcake are eaten, then usually comes the after-Christmas let-down. The lavishly displayed love and concern for our fellowmen is often also put away in the attic—abandoned for another year. But the Gift to mankind, given to us by a loving Father, is not limited to a season. This Gift continues to be given down through the ages.

Two of the most beautiful words in our language are "love" and "kindness." May they be developed in our lives not only during this Christmas season but throughout the whole year.

We truly hope your stockings will be filled to the top with gifts of joy, hope and love. Our thanks.

Blow up small balloons 1" to 2" in diameter. Pour about 1 1/2" of liquid starch into a small bowl (or make a starch with flour or dry starch mixed with water to make a thin paste).

Place a spool of colored thread, on its side, in the starch, making sure it's completely covered with the starch.

Hang a balloon over the bowl of starch. Wind the wet thread all around the balloon like a cobweb. After you've wound as much thread around the balloon as you'd like, cut the thread and smooth the end down. While the threads are still wet, sprinkle them with glitter.

Let the balloons dry overnight. Pop the balloons and remove the balloons from the thread very carefully. Now hang your lacy bauble on the tree or in a window!
