School District Energy Study Approved by Board

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum School Board Monday night approved the request of Business Manager Baird Stouffer to conduct an energy conservation study on district buildings.

The study, along with information collected in a 1980 survey done by Bray and Associates, will be used to apply for a grant from the Wisconsin Division of State Energy which administers the Institutional Conservation Program. Under the National Energy Conservation Policy Act federal funds are provided to eligible schools, hospitals, public care institutions and units of local government for energy audits and studies to compete for additional funding to implement energy changes in buildings.

The program offers 50% matching funds for these studies. If the grant is approved, Stouffer felt some of the steps presently being taken by the District, such as the installation of air locks, could also be eligible for 50% matching funds. Stouffer said such a grant would fund 1/2, up to $50,000 per building for the purchase and installation of capital equipment which will effect energy conservation. He noted the general requirement of the program was that the measures taken have a payback period of not less than one year and preferably not more than three to four years.

The cost of the study, a total of $8,400 ($5,700 for the high school and $2,700 for KES), would be eligible for funding if Kewaskum's request is approved.

Stouffer told the board that while May 1st is the deadline for grant applications in this cycle, there is a time frame of 36 months for completion of any conservation program which the district may decide to undertake.

On a 6-0 vote, the board approved Stouffer's request. Board President Jean Goeden was absent from the meeting.

Mrs. Karen Matthies presented a report on the Competency Based Testing Committee's study. The six-point report stated the committee was in favor of CBT and recommended the district use the Department of Public Instruction's shelf test for a two-year trial period beginning in the spring of 1986.

At the end of the trial period, the program would be evaluated and, at that time, it could be decided whether or not to make passing the test a graduation requirement and/or the determinant in grade to grade promotion.

The committee also recommended that special education students, except the Trainable Mentally Retarded, be included in the program. The group also felt a policy should be established regarding the re-testing and remediation of students who fail the CBT.

Transfer students should be tested except those transferring in after 10th grade, unless CBT becomes a graduation requirement.

Although Mrs. Matthies said she would not be able to continue on the committee, she noted the other members would like the committee to continue so it could follow the program through the two-year trial period.

In other action, the board approved the request to allow Kewaskum AFS students to participate in a "short term" exchange program.

Five students will participate in the one-week exchange designed to allow students to experience cultural diversity which exists in the United States.

Speaking for the chapter, Sue Schmitz noted that while Bolingbrook, the exchange school is located nearby in

Teacher Contract Talks Continuing

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

In response to questions by resident Art Fleury, Kewaskum School Board Vice President Neal Weare told Monday night's meeting that teacher contract negotiations were proceeding and he was optimistic that a settlement would be reached without arbitration.

Fleury told Weare, "you're negotiating on my behalf and I want to know what proposals are on the table." He said not knowing exactly what kind of offer was being made and the stand of board members on the issue made it difficult for district residents to vote for a candidate in the upcoming election.

While Weare said there was proposal and counter-proposal on the table, he felt he was not at liberty to go into detail because such discussions might hurt the negotiations. He did indicate a two-year contract was under consideration.

District Administrator John Long interrupted Weare noting that because both sides had agreed to negotiations in closed sessions, he did not think any additional details should be revealed unless such a release was mutually approved by both sides.

Weare did say that the fact that negotiations had gone this far without mediation was a good sign a voluntary settlement would be reached. The next negotiating session is scheduled for March 29th.

Stoffel Files As Write-in For County Board Position

Daniel Stoffel, an area resident and local government official, has filed as a write-in candidate to fill the 10th Supervisory District of the County Board of Washington County. This position was left vacant by the death of Charles Miller in January.

Stoffel, who has served on the Town Board of the Town of Kewaskum for the past seven years, is a life-long resident of the Kewaskum area. He is also secretary-treasurer of the Washington County Unit of the Wisconsin Town's Association, a member of the Parish Council of Holy Trinity Church, and was the recipient of the "Outstanding Young Man" award of the Kewaskum Jaycees in 1982.

A dairy farmer with a degree in Biochemistry, Stoffel says of the County Board position: "I would like to be as responsible and as responsive as my predecessor in meeting the needs of our area."

The position will be filled by write-in ballot in the April 3rd general election.

Hanrahan Named No. 3 Jaycee President in State for Feb.

The Kohlsville/Wayne Jaycees are pleased to announce that their president, Pat Hanrahan, was named the number three president in Wisconsin for the month of February.

The chapter grew by fourteen new members and extended a new chapter into the Boltonville area.

State Vice-President, Glen Welnak, said, "I can't remember if there was ever a president from a chapter less than a year old in the top five in the state."

Plans are currently being made for a trip through the beautiful countryside of the Kohlsville and Wayne areas. Look for further details coming up. Plans are also in the making for a "Farm Olympics" which will be held sometime in June. We will be looking for support from our community as well as neighboring ones. A good time for all is being planned.

A Reminder

Some news and advertising copy has been coming in to our office Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning. We had to leave many news items and several advertisements out of this week's paper because of coming in too late. A reminder that our deadline is Tuesday noon at the latest (earlier would be appreciated).

Candidate's Forum Here March 22

The League of Women Voters of Washington County will be sponsoring a series of candidate forums prior to the April 3 general election.

Kewaskum school board candidates and Kewaskum Village trustee candidates will meet the public Thursday, March 22, 7:30 p.m. at the Kewaskum High School cafeteria. Candidates for the Kewaskum school board are incumbents Jean Goeden, and Thomas Brigham, and challengers Charles Bindrich, Norma Serwe, Kim Peterson, and Ron Beimborn.

Those running for the Village Board are incumbents Donald Mlodzik, Richard Schmidt, and Howard Laubenstein and challenger Thomas McElhatton.

Westphal Resigns As Head Basketball Coach

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum School Board has accepted the resignation of James Westphal as head coach of the Kewaskum High School basketball team.

Westphal began his coaching career when he came to Kewaskum in 1969, when he coached both wrestling and football. He began coaching basketball in 1970 and for the past eleven years has served as head varsity coach.

Westphal also served as assistant football coach for thirteen years, from 1969 to 1982. He was also involved with the baseball program and under his guidance the 1975 baseball team made it to the state tournament.

Westphal has no plans to work in any coaching capacity for the present.

SCHOOL

northern Illinois, it is a much larger community than Kewaskum and the student body of the school is racially mixed including Chinese, Arabian and black students.

Board member John Spoerl questioned why the group had not sought to go farther away than Illinois. Schmitz noted that this is the Kewaskum AFS's first experience with this particular program and since the costs, such as transportation, etc., are born by the students themselves, the group decided to proceed slowly on a more limited scale.

On a 5-1 vote, board member Charles Ogi voting no, the board approved the exchange which will allow the five students to visit Bolingbrook from April 8 to 15. Kewaskum families will host thirteen Bolingbrook students from March 18 to 25.

Buildings and Grounds Superintendent Fred Boehlke gave an updated report on the maintenance repair and roof work going on at the various district school buildings.

High School Counselor David Wietor reported on the one-week seminar on Drug and Alcohol abuse at DePaul which he and his committee members attended. Wietor noted, that while he felt Kewaskum was no worse off than any other community, he believes even more strongly now that such a program should be started in Kewaskum.

Wietor told the board he had applied for a grant to fund a program and he would know by July whether the application had been approved.

The board approved a request by District Administrator John Long to purchase 14 drafting tables and 30 drafting machines. Long told the board that approximately $12,000 in interest which had been earned on Trust Fund money could be used to cover approximately 2/3 of the $16,680 the equipment will cost. Ogi felt the interest money should be held and used for any additional roof repairs that might be needed. President Pro-tem Neal Weare noted, however, that while this was money earned on the trust fund money, it was not actually a part of that money.

Building Trades teacher David Stradtman told the board, the present equipment was 25 years old. Board member Ralph

Horner asked Stradtman if it wouldn't be better to salvage the tables and purchase some computerized drafting and machining equipment which would be in line with today's technology. Stradtman told the board the present equipment was beyond salvaging and the trades departments would like to have new modern equipment. "But, he told the board, 'we're having trouble just getting tables.'"

Teacher Howard Zemlicka told the members, the school had received some donated equipment. He noted the only reason the company gave us those tools is because they're obsolete and no longer used by the company.

Stradtman and Zemlicka admitted that while they knew such high-tech equipment was extremely expensive, there were programs available which were adapted for Apple II computers. Stradtman felt even these could greatly improve the quality of the shop courses and he thought these programs could be purchased relatively in-expensively.

Resident Art Fleury told the board he had "put his foot in his mouth" a few meetings back regarding the fact that age should have not great bearing on equipment. However, he noted, after visiting the shop he was shocked at what he saw. After looking at some of the equipment down there, he felt no student should have to use machinery as obsolete and old as what our kids have to use in that shop.

Another Kewaskum resident, Margaret McFadden, told the board she saw no reason for even discussing the request. "You approved the purchase two years ago and you still haven't bought them," she said. On a 4-2 vote, the board approved a motion to purchase the drafting tables.

Historical Society To Meet Tuesday

The Kewaskum Historical Society will be holding their March meeting on Tuesday, March 20, 1984, at 8:00 p.m. The location of the meeting will be the Kewaskum Public Library, 204 First St. The celebration of the Historical Society's 10th anniversary will be the main topic of discussion. For the entertainment or educational part of the meeting the topic will be "Old Fashion Butchering." The public is always welcome to attend.

In other action, board members Lynn Dieringer and Tom Brigham agreed to hand out diplomas at the 1984 graduation ceremonies.

Read This and Win!

Within the following article the Kewaskum FFA will be giving all Kewaskum residents some facts and data on Agriculture Safety. Then, within the time span of one month, members of the Kewaskum FFA will be calling residents of the Kewaskum School District. We will be asking questions concerning the information in this article. If you can answer these questions correctly, you could be a winner of various prizes.

FACTS

Agriculture is one of the high-rated industries when it comes to accidents.

In 1982, farm accidents resulted in 1,800 deaths and 180,000 disabling injuries.

Persons 24 and younger accounted for every one out of four of the preceding total.

In 1982, Wisconsin had 38 fatal accidents from machinery, 20 of these were from tractors.

July led with the most fatal accidents in 1982.

The most common farm accident is the tractor tip-over.

Farming accidents were the leading causes of death in the United States for persons ages 1-38.

Since the National Safety Council was established in 1913, the death rate per 100,000 victims has been cut in half.

In 1982 the total cost of farm accidents was over $5 million, however, no dollar was placed on suffering and grief or the hardship and emotional devastation of the families.

At least two people will die of silo gas this year.

Next to tractors, the manure spreader has caused the most fatal accidents in Wisconsin and third in that category is the power take-off.

Remember to keep this by your phone!

Kirk Vogt Awarded $500 Scholarship

The University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point will be awarding about $55,000 in scholarships this spring to outstanding high school seniors who will be enrolling on campus this fall.

Twenty-five recipients including Kirland Vogt of 1941 Trails End Lane, Kewaskum, are sharing a total of $23,500 in the first of two rounds of scholarship selections conducted by the UW-SP Office of Alumni and Development.

Vogt will be receiving a $500 Alumni Honors Scholarship Award.

Another $31,000 will be awarded later this spring to 65 recipients.

Prospective new freshmen with academic ranks in the top 10 percent of their high school classes have until April 1 to submit their applications. The Office of Alumni and Development will then invite all eligible applicants through that date to compete for the scholarships. Besides high grade points, the selection committee will consider the students' involvement in extra-curricular and community activities.

Inquiries about the scholarship program for new freshmen can be made to Karen Engelhard, director of alumni relations at UW-SP.

Mayville Firm
Is Awarded $5 Million Contract

On Saturday, March 10, at 1:30 p.m., U.S. Representative F. James Sensenbrenner and Small Business Administration District Director Curt Charter announced a major federal contract award. Ceremonies were held at the Tab Products Company, 605 Fourth Street, Mayville.

The contract award from the General Services Administration (GSA) is in the amount of $5,955,936. This contract calls for Tab Products to provide automatic data processing furniture for use by various federal agencies.

According to John Petry, Vice President of Manufacturing and Distribution for Tab Products, this one contract will include subcontracts being let to several other businesses. Mentioned as subcontractors were Maysteel, of Mayville and Allenton; Rumar Manufacturing Corp. and Service Printing, both of Mayville. Other companies include Thill Company of Oshkosh, Gardner Manufacturing of Horicon, and Bayview Plastics of Oak Creek.

The items contracted for include workstations, tape/reel trucks, and storage cabinets and will directly affect 80 full time jobs.

"These contracts," said Charter of the SBA, "are an example of the far greater emphasis being placed by SBA on its procurement assistance program — those programs which help small firms obtain a greater share of government contracts."

"That emphasis has been mandated to SBA nationally," Charter said. "But let me stress this, in Wisconsin we are going to go beyond what is required of us in the area of procurement assistance."

"For too long the procurement assistance programs of our Agency have been a virtual secret. Ask anybody about SBA and you will get the answer, they make loans."

"Well, we do make loans, but we also help small businesses obtain federal contracts."

Charter said SBA is developing a team approach — a team involving federal agencies, state government, Chambers of Commerce, and small business groups — to attack the government contract problem.

"If a federal contract is available which can be performed by a Wisconsin small business," he said, "we are going to make every effort to find out about it and to tie in the appropriate small business."

"Wisconsin can and will get its fair share of federal contracts," Charter concluded.

SUGAR vs EYESIGHT
"You can improve your eyesight, especially your nearsightedness, by cutting down on sugar, and reducing prolonged eye strain," said optometrist Ben C. Lane, addressing the Optical Society of America. Tests on 100 patients to check diet, eye strain, and hair samples indicated that the intake of sugar and other refined carbohydrates may force the body to use its supplies of B-complex vitamins, needed to regulate fluid pressure in the eye. "Folks with worsening nearsightedness consumed relatively more sugar and refined carbohydrates than those folks with unchanging eyesight," said Dr. Lane.

WFBF Farm Women to Attend Leadership Seminar at Oshkosh

Farm women will gather in Oshkosh in late March to polish their leadership skills and learn about current farm issues. Set for March 27-29 at the Pioneer Inn, the Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation Women's Leadership Seminar includes workshops and speakers aimed at encouraging women to take on leadership roles in the organization.

Far from being a large-scale "kaffee klutch," the seminar gets down to business on Tuesday with sessions on communication skills and financing public education.

A presentation on The Clearing, the WFBF-operated school in Door county, and remarks from Don Haldean, WFBF president, comprise the evening program.

Wednesday's program consists of workshops. Topics to be discussed are: Agriculture in the Classroom, improving your self image, Machinery for Freedom, legislative contacts, computers, Campaign '84 and achieving goals through member participation.

Current farm issues will be the subject at the luncheon program. Mary K. Thatcher, assistant director of National Affairs for the American Farm Bureau Federation, and Roger Cliff, WFBF executive director of Governmental Relations, are the speakers.

Later that afternoon, a "share shop of county ideas" will provide an opportunity for county leaders to discuss successful projects carried out by the county women's committees.

County "Women of the Year" will be recognized during the closing session on Thursday morning.

Peter Pruessing, program coordinator, UW Hospitals, will explain the Wisconsin Rural Health Care System.

'WTKM Farm Fair' at Hartford on Tuesday

With the first day of spring and Agriculture Day on the way, it's time once again to say "thank you" to the farmers in the community for their help in providing us with our country's plentiful food supply. To coincide with the start of this new planting season, the Second Annual Agriculture Appreciation Day has been set by WTKM Radio for Tuesday, March 20.

The "WTKM Farm Fair" will be held at Zivko's Chandelier Ballroom in Hartford from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., and will feature over 70 agribusiness firms from throughout the area, exhibiting their products and services. Guests can also enjoy free milk courtesy of Cedarburg Dairy and Bordens. Food and refreshments will also be available.

The Farm Fair will also give farmers a chance to talk with local and regional farm leaders, and area home economists will be able to answer questions from the farm wives.

Admission to the "WTKM Farm Fair and Agriculture Appreciation Day" is FREE, and will also feature a free dance in the evening from 7:30 to 11 p.m. with the Normie Dogs Trio with Klass.

Ag Day Recognizes Wisconsin Farmers

In proclaiming Tuesday, March 20, as "Agriculture Day" in Wisconsin, Gov. Anthony Earl says that "Wisconsin's agriculture and agribusiness community directly contributes to the economic health and stability of the state's economy because of regional, national and international marketing of farm products."

Agriculture Day is an 11-year-old nationwide tribute to the entire food and agricultural system and an opportunity for the public to consider the important role of American agriculture.

The State Ag Day Kick-off will take place at the State Capitol in Madison March 20, when the Wisconsin Women in Agriculture will sponsor a "Legislative Brunch."

The Badger Chapter of the National Agri-Marketing Association (NAMA) is again spearheading the Ag Day activities in Wisconsin.

Motivating participants to use their new skills in their family and community life is Ken Cheatham's aim as the closing speaker at the seminar. Cheatham is AFBF director of health and safety.

"Women are very much in the mainstream of farming. For years, they have pulled their share of the load on the farm, and the time is long overdue for them to get in the mainstream of the politics of agriculture," said Mary Jane Nelson, WFBF women's committee chairman.

"The Leadership Seminar can aid in developing the talents women need in their roles as farm leaders," she said. WFBF received a Gold Star Award for its women's program at the AFBF annual meeting in January. This is the third consecutive year that the organization has received the award designating the program as tops in the nation in its membership category.

Little Known Facts About Agriculture

On Tuesday, March 20, 1984, Wisconsin residents are urged to consider the important role that American agriculture plays in their lives. Too often, grocery and food decisions are spread out over the course of 365 days and the average consumer never really realizes how the American farmer, livestock producer and dairyman fit into his or her daily diet.

For instance, the average American family of four consumes approximately 2½ tons of food per year. This includes nearly 630 pounds of red meat; 306 pounds of beef; and 272 pounds of pork. Poultry adds another 260 pounds of meat to the family's diet.

Dairy products, such as cheese, cultured yogurts, cottage cheese, milk and ice cream add up to another 1,233 pounds. Also included are 51 pounds of seafood; 88 dozen eggs, 336 pounds of fresh fruits; 13 pounds of frozen fruits; 400 pounds of fresh vegetables and 598 pounds of flour and other cereal grain products.

Agriculture in America is expected to continue to provide cost-efficient food benefits for the average consumer because of new technological advancements in planting, harvesting animal health, packaging and distribution. The future of agriculture is important to all of us.

Wisconsin's $5 Billion Bread Basket

Midwestern agriculture has appropriately been called the "bread basket of the world." And Wisconsin farms produce an overlying part of that basket. Last year alone they marketed crops and livestock valued at $5.2 billion.

But Wisconsin's $5 billion bread basket falls far short of the real effect agriculture has on our economy, according to the Wisconsin Agri-Business Council. "That figure describes just what the farmers received when they sold their products," noted Council Executive Director Russel Weisensel at Ag Day functions in Waukesha, Janesville, and New London.

"That doesn't include the agribusiness sector which processes, transports and retails our food, the utility, equipment, livestock and crop businesses which make it possible to produce our food, and of course, the horticultural, paper and fiber industries. In Wisconsin that $5 billion figure is multiplied over and over, providing jobs and touching every person in this state."

Quoting from a Council publication, Weisensel said, "Our state could be called the 'Greengrocer for America' since more acres are devoted to specialty crops than any other state. Thirty percent of the nation's green and wax beans, 28 percent of the peas, 39 percent of the beets, 37 percent of the cabbage, and 1 out of every 5 cans of sweetcorn is produced in Wisconsin."

The Council pamphlet called "The Wonderful World of Wisconsin Food and Fiber" describes the vastness of our state's agricultural production and is available through the Council's office in Madison.

Weisensel commented on the 400 million pounds of fresh, smoked, cooked, and dried sausage produced in our state annually, quipping that Wisconsin's "wurst" is America's best. Noting that Wisconsin produces enough mozzarella cheese for 800 million pizzas and enough pressed cheese for each Wisconsinite to have 15 grilled cheese sandwiches every day for a year, Weisensel said, "It is easy to see why 85 percent of Wisconsin's food production is sold outside the state."

The lumber, paper and Christmas tree industry is a thriving part of agriculture according to the Sun Prairie farmer. With nearly 14.5 million acres of commercial forestland which covers about 42 percent of the land area in the state, the forest products industry is the second largest employer in the state, providing more than 80,000 jobs and a payroll in excess of $1.2 billion. The total agricultural industry provides well over 400,000 jobs.

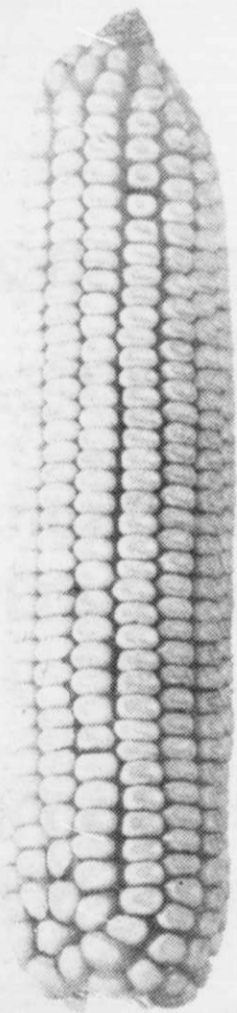

And if all this is not enough, honey production meant a sweet $4.4 million to the state's economy last year, maple syrup production ranked us 3rd in the nation, and we sold 85 percent of the nation's supply of ginseng.

Recycling Closed

The GFWC Kewaskum Jr. Woman's Club Recycling Center on Fond du Lac Avenue will be closed Saturday, March 17th and until further notice. Recom, Inc., the company with whom the Jr. Club worked, has apparently gone out of business, and will no longer be picking up recyclable materials at the Kewaskum facility. Permanent plans for the future of the recycling center have not been determined. The public will be notified as soon as a decision is made.

The Jr. Woman's club asks that newspapers collected for the Lions Club paper drive NOT be left at the recycling center, rather that they be taken to the village garage, near the new water tower.

AG DAY March 20

It's a day for all Americans to recognize the importance of agriculture, and heartily salute the men and women across the nation who contribute to the success and strength of our greatest industry.

Amber waves of grain and fruited plains
give root to 1 out of 5 jobs in our country.

It takes more than cotton bolls to make denim jeans, more than corn kernels to make taco shells. It takes more than 20% of our workforce to produce, process and distribute finished food and fiber goods for Americans and people in a multitude of foreign nations as well.

In the restaurant business alone, 3.1 million are employed. And 85% of the remaining 19.9 million jobs are off the farm, too. Agriculture provides jobs like no other industry. So our food chain becomes a human chain.

Please join us March 20 in observing Agriculture Day!

Planned Irish Immigration To Cedar Creek

This coming Saturday, March 17th, better known as St. Patrick's Day, will result in a massive influx and immigration of the Irish and others who claim to be of similar heritage to beautiful downtown Cedar Creek. The annual event has been Cedar Creek's outing of the year thanks to Joe and Lou Schwai and family, owners and operators of Schwai's Country Store and Tavern.

Activities of this Irish flavored "Leprechaun Luau" begins at 10:00 a.m. and ends at 12:30 a.m. It will undoubtedly include reunions of the Callahans, Dempseys, Driscolls, Flannagans, Lyons, McDonalds, McGuires, Murphys, O'Briens, O'Connors, O'Learys and O'Sullivan. "Their boasting and merriment will be interrupted with an occasional snort of good old imported Irish whiskey or green beer," remarked Tom Schwai. Homemade corned beef sandwiches will be available. Last year, approximately 1840 sandwiches plus 25 half barrels of green suds were consumed," said Joe.

At 8:00 p.m. the local and popular German band, Carl Ratzler Lederhosen Orchestra will be featured at the Schwais' upper level dance hall. "We're sure he'll throw in a few Irish tunes and lullabies. The question is will he be wearing green lederhosen," related Lou Schwai.

Joe Schwai related that 2-3000 people who dropped by last year kept his offspring, Mike, Sue, Tom, and Pat and their spouses hopping all day and night.

Commemorative souvenir buttons and purse mirrors featuring this year's logo of two Irish jig dancers will be on sale along with a special and official "O'Schwai Irish cap."

In 1983, Schwais raised $3900 for the benefit of The Threshold, a workshop and training center for the 210 handicapped adults and an early intervention program for 28 handicapped children under age 3 of Washington County. With the "luck of the Irish," Schwais hope to raise $5000 this year.

As a kick-off and advanced gift of appreciation, The Threshold has awarded the Schwais a woodburned plaque which commemorates the 1984 St. Patrick's Day at Cedar Creek.

Pictured are Joe and Lou Schwai alongside of Bob Axness, a Threshold supervisory volunteer, who made the plaque.

Top performance, top to bottom.

How your alfalfa grows underground is just as important as how it grows above ground. Funk's G-7730 proves this point well. This Flemish variety consistently yields big because it has such a healthy root system...to fight off diseases, such as Phytophthora root rot...to reach for moisture when it's scarce...and to keep coming back with high-tonnage yields, cutting after cutting, year after year.

The next time you choose an alfalfa, consider the whole plant top to bottom. Seed G-7730.

Performance you can bank on.

Letters to the Editor

March 12, 1984

Dear Editor,

I could just scream!!! I am not a 2 year old. I am not a fool. I am not a simpleton. I am tired of being talked down to as if I were.

I am not a "professional." I am not a sales executive. I am not a lawyer. I am not a dentist. I am not the wife of any of them either. My family works hard. My parents work hard. My spouse's parents work hard, too. I am tired of being talked down to because of it.

I can think for myself. I can make up my own mind. I do not need somebody calling me on the telephone to tell me how to vote in the school board election because they think I am not smart enough to figure it out for myself. I don't want that call. In fact, I resent it.

I do not need somebody pounding on my door like a "brush salesman" trying to force me to vote for them or "their" candidate by telling lies about the "other" candidate. They think I am dumb. They think that I do not even know what is good for my family and my kids. They are wrong! I do not want the "brush salesman" pounding on my door. In fact, I resent it.

I do not need to read a letter in the paper written by somebody who thinks they are smarter and better than me, telling me why I should vote for his "spendthrift" school board candidates. The letterwriter thinks that it is bad that 350 other school districts in the state spend more than Kewaskum does. Maybe that is not bad. Maybe that is good. I can hardly keep up with the bills and pay my property taxes now. My kids are getting a good education now. What would happen if the "spenders" were elected? Maybe that would be bad.

I am not a banker. I am not an economist. I am not an accountant. I am not a big time financier. I am not smart enough to figure out why the school district should spend $1.00, like one board member suggests, to get 38c back from the state just for the sake of getting 38c from the state. Next time there is a 50% off sale at Sears, I will spend every dollar I have at the store. It does not matter what I spend it on. If I spend $1.00 I will get $1.00 from Sears because I will get $2.00 worth of stuff. Good Deal! I hope the bank understands when I can't make my payments.

Aagghhhh!!!

Disgusted by the Rabble Rousers who fooled the public last year - but never again!!! I will vote for members who work and pay taxes!

Editor of Kewaskum Statesman:

Recently in my 8th grade civics class we have been discussing the subject of "nuclear war." Most people aren't aware of what is happening to the United States because of the threat of nuclear war.

Many families in the United States are starving and have poor housing. I think the reason for this is that we spend too much money on defense, and not enough on social problems. The United States is already ahead of the Soviet Union in the production of nuclear weapons, so why do we spend our money for more?

All President Reagan seems to want to do is to spend more money on defense and to pay less attention to social problems.

Sincerely yours,

Jenny Schuster
Kewaskum
Middle School

To the Editor:

One item at last night's School Board meeting pointed out a problem in our district. This was a request to spend over sixteen thousand dollars on drafting tables. There was a need for this, and the motion passed. I do not argue with the need for the tables, but I do protest the lack of long term planning that requires massive spending all at one time. There is a great need for replacement funding in several program areas—business education, home economics, shop, just to name a few.

We all know that machinery is going to wear out, and I'm sure that all of us do our best to save a little money so that when something does wear out, we don't have to borrow a lot of money to replace it. It makes a lot more sense (dollars too) to plan for replacing a little every year rather than having to borrow money to replace everything at once.

If elected, I pledge to work with the administration, faculty, and maintenance team to set up a realistic replacement funding schedule.

Sincerely,

Norma S. Serwe

To: The Voters of the Kewaskum School District

Once again, I'd like to thank the voters of the Kewaskum School District for their support in the primary. This year has been especially gratifying in many areas. The board has been able to work together and achieve many of our goals. As a result of hard work by board members we have improved education in Kewaskum.

For the first time in many years, we have implemented a program of evaluation of administration, teachers, and support staff. This evaluation will continue as an ongoing process in all our schools.

I am very pleased to see the implementation of a computer program in our schools. We plan to enlarge the program to meet the needs of all students.

With the help of many citizens and teachers, we have made progress towards updating and improving the curriculum. We hope to see better correlation throughout the district in all subjects.

These are just a few things I have been happy to help bring about this past year.

With your continued support, I hope to accomplish even more in my next term of office. See you at the polls!

To the Editor:

PETS DO NEED CARE

When the strong March winds blow at 40 miles per hour with the temperature at 10 degrees Fahrenheit, the wind chill factor hovers near the 10 degrees below zero mark. A real cold snap is much too cold for your pet dog to exist outside in the average dog shelter. Your dog needs straw, lots of straw, to burrow into for the warmth he can get from his own body heat, because the straw blanket acts like a layer of insulation — a thermal blanket-like effect. Straw is real cheap too.

In addition to straw your dog needs water daily, best in morning and evening plus a good meal at noon with meat proteins and fat. Suet is cheap and dogs love this food. Do not fail to give your dog real bones. They will sharpen his teeth and aid his digestive system. Do not give dogs the long leg bones of chickens, turkeys or ducks, because they tend to splinter as the teeth shatter them and the sharp ends can pierce the bowels and cause death from peritonitis.

All dogs need water to drink at least morning, noon and evening. Food alone will not give your dog the strength to endure the cold. A round bottomed metal bowl placed on a metal ring attached to the dog shelter about 12 inches above the ground will make an ideal drinking cup, one that is easily emptied of ice when you bring fresh water, and one that will not be spilled by the dog chain as your pet exercises himself.

All pets need a chance to exercise freely, at least once a day for 1/2 hour, plus lots of love shown by the dog's master. All pets thrive better on loving care and kind treatment. Remember all dogs are dumb animals — so use good common sense in your treatment of your pet.

Actually I do believe that any one who does not treat his dog properly should be deprived of this pleasure by the Humane Society.

R. G. Edwards, M.D.
Health Officer

Open House Program on Educational Opportunities for Adults Scheduled

An Open House program on educational opportunities for adults is scheduled for West Bend on April 10, to answer questions adults have about continuing or completing their education.

The free Open House program is designed to help adults answer such questions as whether to return to school, how to choose careers, how to update skills, how to finance more education and what educational opportunities are available nearby, including evening and weekend programs.

Answers will be readily available since representatives of several educational institutions will be on hand to answer questions. The Open House is sponsored by the Community-Based Educational Counseling for Adults (CBECA), University of Wisconsin-Extension in cooperation with the following participating schools: Alverno College, Cardinal Stritch College, Concordia College, Lakeland College, Marian College, Mount Mary College, Moraine Park Technical Institute, University of Wisconsin Center-Washington County, UW-Green Bay, Extended Degree Program, UW-Oshkosh, Weekend College, UW-Milwaukee, and UW-Platteville, Extended Degree Program.

The Open House is scheduled for April 10 from 3:00 to 9:00 p.m. at the UW Center in West Bend. The Open House will feature display tables with program offerings from the participating institutions, in addition to two career workshops. Materials that are available at the West Bend Public Library on education and career planning will also be on display.

Judy Martin, who provides a free educational counseling service for area adults, points out that people are encouraged to drop by at any time during the Open House program and stay as long as they like.

Martin suggests that adults may benefit from the following special workshop sessions, however.

A session on Career Inventories is set for 6:00 - 7:00 p.m.

A session on Career

Decisions is scheduled to be held twice during the Open House; 4:00-5:00 p.m., and 7:00-8:00 p.m.

Wayne Behrens of Racine, community-based educational counselor in the southeast Wisconsin area, will lead the workshops. During the career decisions workshop he hopes to help participants with the process of choosing a career, decide whether they're satisfied with their current jobs, and learn how to utilize a career planning worksheet.

At the career Inventories session Behrens hopes to encourage adults to concentrate on self-assessment and interest inventories, rather than worry about completing traditional skills and knowledge tests. He will discuss the usefulness and limitations of tests.

Snow in this area isn't news anymore, but when a snow-storm hits like the one last Thursday and Friday, which was the most severe of the winter's many, it deserves "honorable mention." Approximately 8 more inches of snow fell, but as a result of 25 to 35 mile an hour winds and severe drifting, it was considerably higher in most areas. Add this to the couple of feet already blanketing the ground and it makes several feet of snow in many places.

In connection with Kewaskum's planned Dairy Day March 21, eight rural Kewaskum girls have been nominated by the local FFA chapter, one of whom will be chosen by penny ballot and crowned "Kewaskum Dairy Queen." The proceeds of the balloting will be donated to the Easter Seal Society for crippled children. The candidates are Carol Schladweiler, Diane Becker, Patty Eggert, Judy Oelhafen, Jeanee Vetter, Duane Etta, Carol Bier and Carole Schultz.

The Kewaskum Dairy Day will be one of the biggest events ever held here with celebrities and prominent speakers participating. The entire day's activities are all free. Highlights of the day will feature newly elected Gov. Gaylord Nelson, who will speak; a personal appearance by Wisconsin's Alice in Dairyland, who will be making her first appearance in this area, and will crown our dairy queen; over $700 in free door prizes to be given away; a home talent show; 25 attractive booths and displays by local merchants; a free noon dairy lunch of vegetarian beans, spaghetti, cheese, ice cream, milk, etc.; a dairy queen contest; a program for women; bands, entertainment and agricultural speakers. For the children, there will be free movies shown at the Kewaskum theatre.

Preparation of dairy products and their use in the menu will be the main portion of the afternoon program for the women at the Kewaskum Dairy Day. Nine members of the F.H.A. are preparing an interesting schedule of demonstrations for the viewers. Marlene Jung, Diane Becker and Catherine Herriges will present a demonstration using recipes with American cheese, cottage cheese and sour cream. Milk drinks and their preparation is the subject chosen by Judy Oelhafen and Naomi Engeleiter. A delicious dessert featuring cream cheese and whipping cream will be the feature of a demonstration by Bonnie Butzke and Elaine Bruessel. Pat Klein and Judy Rahn will demonstrate how to make a variety of toppings for ice cream.

Bandits were foiled in an attempt to hold up the State Bank in Theresa last week Thursday noon, when assistant cashier Clarence Bodden refused to submit to orders that it was a "hold up." Bullet-proof glass no doubt saved the life of Mr. Bodden as the bandits before they fled fired three times against the glass. Bodden not fearing the shooting bent down and pressed the alarm button and grasped his own weapon and shot at the bandits thru a porthole. It is believed that one of the shots fired by Bodden seriously, if not fatally, wounded one of the bandits.

SMILE AMERICA

A Healthy Smile Brightens Everyone's Day

Sugars Harmful to Teeth

The Washington County Dental Society brings you this article in observance of National Children's Dental Health Month. It is the sixth in a series of eight on "Going Through Life with a Smile."

Ask a hundred people what foods are bad for their teeth and they'll all say "sugar." They're right. The bacteria in our mouths that live in dental plaque use the sugars in our foods to produce acids that attack the tooth enamel. But what exactly is meant by the word "sugar?"

There are many different types of sugars. In the past, dental researchers thought that only one type—sucrose—was harmful to teeth. The white or brown refined sugar found in sugar bowls or used in cooking is sucrose, but sucrose is naturally present in many foods, too, including bananas, beets, melons, peaches, and sweet potatoes.

Today, studies have shown that all types of sugars can promote tooth decay. These sugars include sucrose, fructose (fruit sugar), glucose, lactose (milk sugar), and maltose (grain sugar). Many natural foods contain one or more of these sugars — for example, apples, pears, grapes, raisins, and even milk.

Processed foods often contain one or more types of sugars. Sugars are added to these foods to help preserve them, as well as to enhance their flavor. The list of foods that have added sugars includes some you might not guess, such as catsup, coffee whitener, lunch meat, peanut butter, and salad dressing.

Instead of refined sugars some people prefer to use honey, molasses and corn syrup. They believe that these sweeteners are better for their health or for their teeth. However, these sweeteners all contain fructose, glucose, sucrose, and other sugars that contribute to tooth decay. In fact, because these products tend to stick to the teeth, they may be even more harmful to the teeth than refined sugars.

Should you eliminate all foods containing sugars from your diet? That's not a good idea. Your body needs the nutrients found in milk, vegetables, fruit, and other foods, as well as the calories these foods provide.

Here are some suggestions from the American Dental Association:

1. Limit your snacks. By doing this, you will minimize the number of acid attacks your teeth receive.

2. Avoid snacking on foods that contain sugars. These foods cause the bacteria in your mouth to produce acids.

3. If you're hungry for a piece of cake, wait until dessert. Research has shown that foods containing sugars are less harmful to the teeth when eaten as part of a meal.

By following these suggestions, you can have your cake and good dental health too!

FARM AND INDUSTRY SHORT COURSE PROGRAM

The brochure detailing the 1984-85 Farm and Industry Short Course Program has just been printed. You can get a copy from your High School Guidance Counselor, the County 4-H Office, or by writing directly to Rick Daluge, Farm and Industry Short Course, 105 Agricultural Hall, Madison, WI 53076.

The short course is a 15 week winter educational experience to prepare men and women for satisfying careers in agriculture and the industries that serve agriculture. Classes begin about mid November and end about mid March.

The short course is designed to build upon the high school vocational agriculture experience. However, high school vocational agriculture is not a pre-requisite for admission. Usually high school graduates would attend, although there are also students who have been out of high school for some years.

For a rewarding future in agriculture a person needs to know how to apply science. You need to develop skill in the care and handling of livestock equipment and machinery. You need to know sound business principals, economic trends and something about people and how they get along with one another. With more than 50 elective courses available, you can certainly better equip yourself for a satisfying career by attending the Farm and Industry short course.

Scholarships are available to help pay the cost of the short course. Applications are due by April 1.

... about your Social Security

By David Becker, Social Security Branch Manager in West Bend

THE SOCIAL SECURITY EARNINGS RECORD

Everyone who has ever worked in a job covered by Social Security has an individual lifetime earnings record on file at the Social Security Administration headquarters. This computerized record, identified by Social Security number rather than by name, is updated each year. It is this earnings record that helps determine if a person worked long enough to be eligible for Social Security benefits and, if so, the amount of the monthly payment.

Since wages did not count for Social Security purposes until 1937, no earnings before that time are recorded. In addition, no self-employment earnings are credited before 1951. Basic pay received by persons in military services on active duty in 1957 or later is in the earnings record.

On request, the Social Security Administration will send a person an earnings statement that summarizes the information contained in the record.

The earnings shown on the statement includes wages as well as income from self-employment, which is reported on the Federal income tax return filed each year. Since all earnings are recorded after the close of a year, there may be a lag of 18 months or more before earnings for a given year are actually recorded.

The maximum amount of earnings that count for Social Security purposes is set by law.

In 1984, only the first $37,800 in wages count for Social Security. If a person works for more than one employer during a year and, as a result, pays Social Security taxes on more than the annual maximum, he or she may claim credit on his or her Federal income tax return.

Additional information about the Social Security earnings record can be obtained from any Social Security office.

TODAY'S AGRICULTURE

By Jack Trzebiatowski, Washington County Agricultural Agent

WISCONSIN AGRICULTURE DAY

Tuesday, March 20, has been designated as Agriculture Day in Wisconsin. A number of different farm organizations, cooperatives and other support groups will be calling special attention to the importance of Wisconsin's agriculture on that day.

Wisconsin's agriculture and related agribusiness are a very important part of the state's economy. Wisconsin has a strong agricultural heritage.

We all know that Wisconsin ranks first in the nation in its production of numerous dairy products, but were you also aware that Wisconsin ranks first in production for cranberries, green peas for processing, snap beans for processing, beets for canning, cabbage for sauerkraut, all hay and corn silage, and mink. Wisconsin exports a large percentage of its agricultural commodities to other states and through international exports.

Agriculture Day is an 11 year old nationwide tribute to the entire food and agricultural system, and an opportunity for the public to consider the important role of American agriculture.

The average consumer may not realize that one U.S. farm family raises enough products and commodities to feed 78 people. Today, total U.S. agricultural production is more than twice the levels of 1930, even though the agricultural resources base has not changed substantially since then.

In 1984, food and agricultural products are still a bargain for the U.S. consumer. Because of the production efficiencies of today's farms, Americans can buy their food for less of their disposable income than they could have even a few years ago. Food expenditures represent 16.6 percent of disposal income today, compared with 17 percent just five years ago and 23 percent in 1951.

It's also appropriate that Wisconsin Agriculture Day is scheduled for the first day of spring, as Wisconsin farmers prepare to plant their 1984 crops.

Students Study at Cedar Lake Home

Music therapy students from coast to coast come to spend six month internships studying the use of music in working with the elderly and handicapped at the Cedar Lake Home Campus, West Bend.

Three students currently studying on the Campus are from the states of California, Kansas, and New York.

Lucinda Beil, who hails from Newport Beach in southern California, wanted to be part of the Cedar Lake Home's "excellent music therapy program working with the elderly." Lucinda will receive her Music Therapy certification degree from California State University, Long Beach, this spring.

Charlotte Bott, a native of Newton, Kansas, chose to intern at the Cedar Lake Home Campus because "it is nationally known for being an innovator and a leader in the care of the elderly." Charlotte will receive a Bachelor of Music degree in Education-Therapy in May from the University of Kansas in Lawrence, Kansas. The University of Kansas originated the first program in the nation for students to earn a degree in Music Therapy back in 1946.

William Folger, Webster, New York, is a student from Fredonia State University of New York. His professor recommended the Cedar Lake Home Campus to Bill who says this campus "is the facility with the most to offer." Bill graduated with a Bachelor in Music degree in December, 1983.

Under the supervision and guidance of the campus music therapy department, interns observe and become involved in the total music therapy program, director of music therapy at Cedar Lake Home, Dave Stone, tells.

The music therapy internship program is only one of the many educational opportunities available for students to intern at the Cedar Lake Home Campus.

Indians Give Favored Sheboygan North a Scare in WIAA Sectional

By Denise Leong

The Regional champion Kewaskum boys' basketball team's WIAA tournament hopes were ended Friday night, March 9, in the Oshkosh Class A Sectional semifinal game against heavily favored Sheboygan North, who defeated the Indians at the Kolf Sports Center at UW-Oshkosh by the close score of 60-54.

Kewaskum played aggressively and impressively against a much taller Sheboygan North squad but could not hold them off in the final minutes of the game. Sheboygan North, which had a 12-2 record as champions of the Fox River Valley Conference, found themselves in a struggle against the much underestimated Indians. As Coach Jim Westphal said, "North knew they were in a ball game."

The first half was almost a one-man show for Kewaskum as center Brian Arndt had the hot hand and scored 19 points. Arndt, a senior, was almost unstoppable as he brought Kewaskum back from a 7 point deficit early in the second quarter to a 2 point lead at halftime, 25-23. Sheboygan North had gone cold after leading 14-11 at the end of the 1st quarter and hurt themselves by hitting only 5 of 13 free throws in the first half.

At the start of the second half, Kewaskum jumped out to a 4 point lead. However, the rest of the third quarter was a seesaw battle that saw the score tied 3 times and the lead change hands 4 times. Dennis Butz led the Indians in this quarter with 7 points while North's 6-9 sophomore Kurt Portmann countered with 8 points. The Indians were plagued at the end of the quarter with 3 shots which wouldn't drop, and Sheboygan North went on to take a 45-42 lead.

Although North never relinquished their lead in the fourth quarter, Kewaskum continually threatened to overcome the deficit. With just under three minutes left in the game, Kewaskum guard Jim Hanrahan hit on a basket and pulled the Indians to within 2 points, 50-48. However, with 1:17 left in the game, the Indians were forced to foul to gain possession of the ball. Sheboygan North hit on these free throws to win the game, 60-54. In the fourth quarter, the Raiders made 11 of 14 free throws, 6 by Peter Dales, to secure their win.

Statistically, the Indians hit on 44% of their shots compared to 40% for North. The difference came in the fouls — Kewaskum committed 22 fouls to the Raiders' 11. North hit 20 of 32 free throws while Kewaskum made 10 of 13. On the boards, North also had the advantage 42-32.

Leading the Raiders' scoring was Dales with 18 points, followed by sophomore Troy Rudoll with 17 points, and Portmann with 14 points. Arndt led the Indians with 23 points and 10 rebounds, followed by Dennis Butz, who scored 9 points.

Kewaskum was the only Eastern Wisconsin team to reach the Sectionals.

Sheboygan North advanced in the finals by defeating Oshkosh North, 50-46, on Saturday and will play in the state tournament in Madison this weekend. They will face Milwaukee Rufus King in their opening game at 7:05 p.m. Thursday.

The Kewaskum Indians ended their season with an 11-10 record, a regional championship, and memories of a sectional well-played.

WRESTLING TOURNAMENT AT CAMPBELLSPORT SAT.

The Campbellsport Wrestling Club is sponsoring a wrestling tournament for all boys grades 1-8, Saturday, March 17, at the Campbellsport High School gym. Weigh-ins are from 9:00 to 10:00 a.m.

Medals will be given for first place wins and ribbons for other participants.

Arndt, Koepke on All-Conference 2nd Team

Kewaskum High School's Brian Arndt and Julie Koepke, both seniors, have been named to the second unit of the Eastern Wisconsin's all-conference basketball team for the second year in succession. Balloting by the coaches took place last Tuesday night.

The three championship teams, New Holstein and Sheboygan Falls, co-winners of the boys' title, and Plymouth, girls' winner, took top honors, together with several other players who had impressive statistics.

Arndt, 6-5, who has been on the varsity for the past three seasons, had an outstanding career. He was the conference's sixth leading scorer with a 13.6 average, hitting 46 percent of his shots from the field and 66 percent from the free throw line. Brian also finished eighth in rebounding with 75. He was a very hard worker.

All five of the first team selections were unanimous, and two of the five, 6-7 senior Dan Wilberscheid of New Holstein and 6-6 sophomore Todd Eisner of Chilton, were on the first team last year. The two finished 1-2 in scoring with 278 (23.1 average) and 249 (22.6 average) points respectively. Eisner might have won the scoring title but he missed a game and a half with the flu. He did win the rebounding title with 137 boards.

Rounding out the top five were Scott Schroeder, a 5-10 junior guard from Kiel, 6-1 guard Drew Haske of Sheboygan Falls, and 6-2 junior forward Rich Lorenz of New Holstein. Schroeder was third in scoring with 191 points, Lorenz fourth with 183, and Haske fifth with 172.

All seven teams were represented on either the first or second unit of both all-conference squads.

Julie Koepke, 6-0, won the rebounding title with 131 and averaged 8.2 points in conference play. She was the team leader and a strong defensive player. Julie played on the Indian varsity since the end of her sophomore year when she helped the team to a 1982 trip to the girls' state finals.

Four of the top scorers made the girls' first team which was headed by two unanimous choices, Sharon Koene of Plymouth, and Holly Wiese of Two Rivers. Wiese finished second in scoring with 198 points and a 16.5 average, while Koene was fourth with 152 points and a 12.6 average. She was one of the leaders in assists and steals.

Koene was a repeater on the first team, together with Linda Hetzel of Sheboygan Falls, who easily won the scoring title with 233 points and a 19.4 average. Rounding out the top five were Chilton's Jody Leitner, who had 170 points, third high in the conference, and Judy Mueller of Kiel, third leading rebounder with 127.

Three Kewaskum seniors were given honorable mention. The boys were Jim Hanrahan, 6-0 guard, ninth in scoring with 145 points, and Dennis Butz, 6-4 forward, who was third in conference rebounding behind the two leaders with 96. The girl was Lisa Matenaer, 5-2 guard, who averaged 8.6 points per game and was one of the Indians' main outside threats.

Regional Champions

After a disappointing season in the strong Eastern Wisconsin Conference, in which they placed last with a 3-9 record [several of the games were very close and could have gone either way], the Kewaskum Indians basketball team reached their peak in post-season WIAA tournament play.

They won the Class A Regional championship at Goodrich High School in Fond du Lac by defeating Fond du Lac of the Fox River Valley Conference and Hartford of the Little Ten Conference, and advanced to the Sectional at the Kolf Sports Center on the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh campus before losing a surprisingly close game in the semifinals to Sheboygan North, champions of the Fox River Valley Conference. [Sheboygan North went on to defeat Oshkosh North in the Sectional finals and will advance to the state tournament at Madison this weekend].

However, Kewaskum had a near perfect record in non-conference games, winning all eight of them before finally losing to Sheboygan North in the Sectional. These included some important victories over West Bend West and Hartford of the Little Ten, Mayville's unbeaten champions of the Flyway and defending Class B State Champions, also ending their 36-game winning streak; Fond du Lac and Hartford for the second time in the Regional.

The Indians started off their 1983-84 season with six returning lettermen and ten players on their varsity squad at least six feet tall or taller.
