Week's Wit

When the mother finished coloring the Easter eggs, she took them to the chicken house and hid them under the old setting hen. Her children didn't find them there, but when the rooster came home, he did. He flew into a rage, jumped the fence and beat the devil out of a peacock.

Village Board Denies Cable TV Rate Hike

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

On a 4 to 3 vote, the Kewaskum Village Board Monday night voted to deny a Riverbend Cablevision request to increase rates to village subscribers.

A motion to approve the new rates, which would have become effective May 1st, died for lack of a "second" to the motion.

The board was somewhat divided in its feelings regarding the request. After reviewing the firm's financial statement, Board President Gerald Stollenwerk said, "I don't think any of us would want to be in business and only make $8,000 for the year."

Trustee Howard Laubenstein sympathized with the CATV representatives, however, he said, "I can't increase my costs that much in one year, I'd lose all my customers." Trustee Mary Krueger indicated she would be willing to go along with smaller or partial increases, but not those being asked for by Riverbend. "I still feel the increase for basic cable is too much for one year," said Krueger. Trustee Paul Blumer agreed with Krueger, noting he had talked to quite a few people who have indicated they would drop or cut back on their subscriptions.

Trustee Dave Nigh, who made the defeated motion, to increase rates stated, "I consider Cable TV not to be a necessary item." He felt that anyone wishing to drop cable service was free to do so. One board member noted, this is not like utilities where customers must accept the increases because they can't do without the services. If customers do not wish to pay the higher cable rates, they can simply discontinue the service.

Krueger asked Riverbend representative Steve Peterson if his company would accept a smaller increase if the board approved it. He said no. Peterson told the board these were three years of pent up increases. The board said they understood that, however, it was Cablevision who had set the rates for the three-year contract and it was not the village's fault the firm's projections did not cover eventual operating costs.

Following Riverbend's statement that they would not

No Permit for Havenwood Retirement Village

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

On a 6 to 1 vote, the Washington County Parks and Planning Commission vetoed the application for a conditional use permit for the Cedar Lake Home Corporation's proposed Havenwood Retirement Village in the Town of Wayne.

Approximately seventy people were at the public hearing to hear Commission

Member Harold Westerman make the motion which received only one "no" vote, that of Commission Chairman David Zoerb. When Zoerb asked Westerman the basis of his motion, Westerman replied he could not go against the people who voted approximately 4 to 1 against the proposed project. Zoerb indicated that the motion should be based on physical facts such as incompatibility

Kewaskum Frozen Foods Receives State Honors

The Wisconsin Association of Meat Processors held their annual convention at the Americana Resort in Lake Geneva April 13 through 15.

Kewaskum Frozen Foods was represented at the convention by Mr. and Mrs. Dave Nigh and family and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Beisbier and family.

One of the highlights of the convention is the Meat Products Show whereby plants from throughout the state enter their products in competition. These products are judged by the University of Wisconsin Meat and Animal Science Department.

The top four products in each class receive a plaque in recognition of their efforts. Kewaskum Frozen Foods received the first place (grand champion) award in the wiener class with their entry of skinless wieners. They also won the reserve Grand Champion (second place) for their entry of smoked breakfast sausage.

The Wisconsin Meat Products Show is the largest show of its kind on a state level in the entire nation. This year the show had a total of 711 entries in 18 different classes.

Dave Nigh of Kewaskum Frozen Foods served the convention this year as chairman of the Meat Products Show.

Kewaskum Frozen Foods has been a consistent winner of awards in both state and national competition for a number of years.

Kewaskum Frozen Foods will also be represented at the American Association of Meat Processors convention to be held this year in New Orleans, La. August 4-8.

KHS Forensics Team Receives 5 A's at State

On Saturday, April 14th, seven finalists on the KHS forensics team participated in the State Forensics Contest in Madison. In order to reach state competition, the students had to receive "A" ratings at the sub-district and district contests.

Those receiving top honor "A" ratings at this year's state meet were Jama Jacak in prose reading "Stone Age Versus Rock Age" and Anne Rosenberg - "A Hike in New York City." In declamations Doreen Jacobs received an "A" with the selection "Eloise." Amy Sekas received an "A" in poetry reading with the selection "Nightmare Number Three." In the four minute speech category, Beth Strigenz, who wrote her own speech, received an "A" for her selection "Computer Hacking."

"B" ratings went to Barbara Panzer and Jill Schmidt in the area of declamations. Unfortunately Mitzi Nigh and Michelle Beesten who had qualified for the state contest were unable to participate.

"A" winners in this year's competition received medal awards for their efforts and "B" winners received certificates.

Coaches Barbara York and Judy Jacak were well satisfied with the performance of this year's squad and with a large number of underclassmen on the squad, they are looking forward to a strong team in the upcoming year.

Kewaskum Students Honored by WMTA

On Saturday, April 14, at UW-Oshkosh, the Wisconsin Music Teachers Association held their Spring Auditions. Anna Asch and Margaret McFadden took several of their students from the Kewaskum area to participate — Paul McFadden, Shannon McFadden, Patrick McFadden, Becky Lindau, Sara Pearson, and Steve Gergetz.

Each student participating must play three memorized pieces from three different style periods and must include one Baroque or Classic style piece. They also take a theory test at elementary, intermediate or advanced level. The piano pieces are judged from 5 to 1 and the test is graded at A, B, etc., with A=5. If a student receives a 14 or 15 for his pieces and at least a C on the test, he goes on to the state level in the Fall. One winner is picked from each age group at state to go on to National Competition.

As a student participates each year he accumulates points and receives awards at 25, 50, 75 and 100 points. When a student earns 25 points he receives a plaque; a medal at 50 and 75; and an outstanding achievement award at 100. Paul McFadden achieved 100 points this year and will receive an outstanding achievement award. Shannon McFadden received a medal for earning 50 points. Steve Gergetz, Sara Pearson, and Becky Lindau received plaques for earning 25 or more points. Patrick McFadden, who received a perfect 15 for his piano pieces and a B on his theory test, and Steve Gergetz will be going on to State Competition in the Fall.

Vocational! Education In the High School

This is the 3rd in a series of articles on vocational education at Kewaskum High School.

Metals at Kewaskum High School is offered in three 18-week courses: Metals I, Metals II, and Metals III.

The students in Metals I are given an introduction to the field through a nine-week classroom course covering metals and processes common to the industry. The remainder of the semester provides the student with hands-on experience in sheet metal, forging, heat treatment, foundry and machine tool metalworking.

The second course is basically a machine metalworking course in which the student builds an assembly, using the five basic machine tools he/she has studied in the related lecture/- textbook part of the course.

Metals III could be re-named Metal Fabrication as it is in this class that we work with fabricating a metal project. Some of the common processes are welding, gas cutting, machine tool cutting, set ups, jigs, fixtures, and simple dies. These experiences give the student the opportunity to plan and carry out a project using common metal shaping methods. Some of the projects which have been produced by the class include punch press and stamping dies, log splitters and welding benches.

Students in Metals III are usually those students who have interest in becoming metal workers, leading them to post high school training in this field.

Postal Inspectors Warn Public About COD Misrepresentations

Numerous complaints nationwide are being received concerning vacation packages being offered by various firms through use of COD Service.

The Postal Inspection Service has reported initial contact with the public is made via the phone or postcard to notify the recipient that they have been selected by computer to receive an exciting three-day, two-night vacation in "one of 32 different major resort areas including Atlantic City, Mexico City, Canada or the all new Disney World Epcot Center."

They are promised first class accommodations for four and as a further enticement to accept the package, a coupon for a lifetime supply of Kodak color film and several hundred dollars of vacation discount books is offered. For their part, recipients are asked to accept a COD package through the mail usually costing $39.00 to cover the expenses incurred in the processing and handling of the vacation package.

Investigation by U.S. Postal Inspectors disclosed recipients were led to believe no other additional payments or fees would be necessary. Upon receipt of their free gifts, however, customers noted the packages did not include transportation to or from the resort areas, many additional fees and surcharges were required, and the free film and vacation discount books were available only if additional payments were made for processing and handling.

Based on early inquiries about the travel offer, thousands of victims nationwide are losing money to this scheme. With summer approaching, similar schemes may appear. Consumers are asked to check the legitimacy of the advertisement and company before accepting a COD. The U.S. Postal Service allows customers to read and copy the name and address of the mailer from COD mail while the mail is in the possession of a postal employee. The addressee always has the option to refuse or accept delivery of a COD article.

The majority of business people who use the mails are legitimate and ethical in the conduct of their businesses. Postal Inspectors say. To avoid problems, consumers receiving COD's through the mail should deal with reputable firms known to the consumer. If COD merchandise is unsatisfactory, the consumer should first correspond with the sender. If consumers believe a mailer is involved in blatant merchandise misrepresentation, they may refer the information to the Chief Postal Inspector, Washington, D.C. 20260.

consider smaller rate hikes. Krueger motioned that the Board deny the submitted request for an increase.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt informed the board he had received a check for $300 from the Chamber of Commerce to help defray the cost of painting Kewaskum's name on the new water tower. The board noted anyone else wishing to contribute money for the project was welcome to do so.

In other action the board approved the bid of Honeck Chevrolet to furnish a new chassis and dump box at a cost of $21,370.00. Public Works Committee Chairman Donald Mlodzik said Honeck was third low bidder, but because of several questions on the bids of the two lower bids he recommended accepting Honeck's quote. There was a difference of $176 between Honeck and the low bid of Cooley's IHC, and $40.00 on the second low bid from Bob Fish.

Schmidt informed the Board that the village's permit for the Town of Auburn landfill was due. The permit, which runs for two years, has increased substantially since 1980, Schmidt said. The permit cost $150.00 in 1980, jumped to $1,000 in 1982, and this year the fee has gone to $4,500.

Schmidt said the permit, which is issued by the Department of Natural Resources, is calculated according to the size of the landfill. Kewaskum's landfill is calculated at "over 500,000 cubic yards." Schmidt told the board, he and Public Works Superintendent Augie Bilgo recommended the village apply for a reduction in capacity. If the village would reduce the capacity to "up to 500,000 cubic yards," the village would then be able to apply for a permit costing only $1,600.

Schmidt said, however, the DNR would require a survey of the landfill which would cost approximately $750, still saving the village over $2,100. The board voted to go ahead with the landfill reduction request.

The board also approved advertising for bids on repair work on the Municipal Garage.

In closing the meeting, President Stollenwerk thanked Trustee Richard Schmidt for his dedicated time and effort on the board and the many added hours he spent working on various committees.

Wastewater Treatment Superintendent Peter Albers was recognized for sixteen years of service to the village.

with the area. On that note, the motion was changed to indicate the project would be incompatible with the area and passed.

When contacted Monday, regarding the results of the public hearing, Reverend L.C. Riesch said, "I was just shocked by the proceedings, it was nothing but politics." Riesch felt the project itself was never really considered except from the political view.

The Statesman asked Riesch what the Benevolent Corporation's plans were now. He said he was not sure, "as a person, I don't care to appeal at this point." Riesch said the corporation has 30 days to appeal the decision and the Cedar Lake Board of Directors will review the project at its monthly meeting on May 27th.

In a phone conversation with Land Use and Parks Department Assistant Administrator Herb Wolf, we asked if the project was considered dead because of the permit denial. Wolf noted that this particular request had been denied, but nothing is ever really dead unless a project is dropped by the applicant. It depends on what happens from here. Wolf noted it is up to the Cedar Lake Home Corporation, they may appeal the decision, or come back with new plans and another application.

Conservation Awards Presented to Two County Landowners

The Slinger - Allenton Rotary held their noon luncheon meeting on April 6th, at Addison Townhall in Allenton, where Joe Schwai, chairman, presented conservation awards to two Washington County landowners who have been involved in practicing sound conservation work on their land for many years. The two landowners receiving awards were the Marvin Kissinger family of Polk township and Dennis Gehring family in Hartford township near St. Lawrence.

Marvin Kissinger has installed conservation practices starting in 1969 such as 17,375 feet of tile drain to improve wet cropland, 6 acres of grass waterways to control runoff, 28 acres of contour strips and 471 acres of conservation tillage plus 3,950 feet of surface drainage. Marvin has been instrumental in 2 group waterway projects where water passes from his farm through neighboring farms to a suitable outlet.

In 1958, Dennis Gehring started out by planting 1/2 acre to trees, then almost each year since he has installed various practices such as 8 acres of woodland improvement, 50,486 feet of tile lines, 2,150 feet of diversions, 1,450 feet of terraces, 10,925 feet of drainage ditches, grass waterways and conservation tillage. Dennis presently is a director of the St. Lawrence Drainage District which was formed in 1968.

Both of these outstanding conservation farmers deserve congratulations for the example they have set in the community and the recognition they received.

Easter Bunny Visits Kewaskum

Over one hundred area residents were entertained on Saturday, April 14th, by Bert, Ernie, Mr. and Mrs. Easter Bunny and the gnome that nearly ruined Easter. Young and old alike enjoyed a Bugs Bunny cartoon with popcorn and orange drink before hearing the story of "The Easter That Almost Wasn't" and receiving a treat from the bunnies. The GFWC Kewaskum Jr. Woman's Club would like to thank all who volunteered time and materials in making this visit so successful.

Honor Girl Scout Leaders Sunday

On April 22 the Nation honors all Girl Scout leaders for the time and effort that they put forth to make Girl Scouting what it is today.

What is a Girl Scout Leader? Girl Scout Leaders come in assorted sizes, weights and colors, but all have the same purpose to work toward the growth and development of girls into useful and productive citizens.

Girl Scout Leaders are found everywhere—at troop meetings, leaders' meetings, finance meeting, in tents, sleeping bags, on canoes, on buses hiking, over a campfire, and are usually surrounded by girls.

Parents appreciate them and Girl Scouts look up to them.

A Girl Scout Leader needs the energy of an atom bomb, the lungs of an Ethel Merman, a mind of a steel trap, the patience of a saint, a strong shopping bag, and an understanding husband. She is teacher, coach, planner, organizer, motivator, coordinator, reviewer and most of all, friend.

She likes "girls in green," the arts, the home, and the out-of-doors. She's not much for rudeness, cheating, laziness, or "gloomy Gusses" and does her best to change faults into virtues.

CLARENCE A. SCHWARTZ, SHERIFF

Blue Light for Squad Cars

On or about May 1, 1984, the Washington County Sheriff's Department will begin equipping its marked squad cars with flashing red and blue lights. The blue lights will be installed on the right side of the squad and the red lights will be installed on the left side of the squad, in accordance with state requirements on their use.

Sheriff Clarence Schwartz believes that the use of the blue lights will increase the visibility of the emergency vehicles during inclement weather, particularly during snowstorms and fog. Because state law will limit the use of blue lights to law enforcement vehicles, this will also help to identify the nature of the hazard to approaching motorists. The Sheriff pointed out that this is an optional feature permitted by state law. Some law agencies will not use the blue lights and will choose to remain with all-red lights systems instead. Motorists will have the same obligations to yield the right-of-way to these vehicles as well.

Fire departments, ambulances and unmarked squad cars (per the law) will only use red lights. No matter what the color, red or blue, motorists must pull to the right and come to a full stop when emergency vehicles approach from any direction with these emergency lights activated.

Tornado Tips

TORNADO SAFETY PRECAUTIONS CAN SAVE LIVES, PROPERTY

[Second in a Series]

When a tornado approaches - your immediate action may mean life or death, according to the Wisconsin Division of Emergency Government.

The tornado season in Wisconsin is generally recognized as April through September. However, tornadoes have occurred in every month in Wisconsin with the exception of February.

There is little that can be done to avoid the property destruction tornadoes bring; but tornadoes do not have to be killers. You can take precautions when a storm threatens and thereby save lives, reduce threat of injury and lessen property damage.

Tornadoes are the most devastating local storms that occur in the world. On the average, 700 tornadoes occur nationally, killing at least a hundred people and causing millions of dollars in damage during a bad year. The winds in a tornado turn counter-clockwise with speeds that can reach 300 miles an hour. As an illustration of the horrifying power of these killer storms, it's reported a Minnesota tornado carried an 83-ton railroad coach with 117 passengers aboard, 80 feet in the air. While most tornado damage is caused by the violent winds, most injuries and deaths result from flying debris.

Most tornadoes move from southwest to northeast. Generally, tornadoes occur in the spring in the late afternoon on a hot day. But remember, tornadoes can happen any time.

EASY TO RECOGNIZE. You'll have no trouble recognizing an actual tornado! It is a funnel-shaped cloud extending down from the base of a thunder cloud. As it touches earth, it writhes and twists throwing up debris in all directions. It is usually accompanied by hail, violent thunderstorms and wind. Its noise is so loud it can blot out the sound of crashing buildings and falling trees.

When the skies look threatening listen to the radio. The National Weather Service and the Severe Storm Warning Center track all weather systems with sophisticated radar and are usually able to give adequate advance warning of violent weather conditions. A TORNADO WATCH means the atmospheric conditions are such that tornadoes could develop. A TORNADO WARNING means an actual funnel has been sighted in your area. Warnings are usually accompanied with a description of the speed and direction of travel of the funnel. Many communities have also arranged special warning systems such as sounding warning sirens.

When a watch is issued, listen to broadcast advisories, and be ready to take cover. It is wise to collect a battery-powered light and radio and have family members within earshot under watch conditions. Also, take your car keys; should a tornado hit your area, your car keys could be lost in the rubble.

IMMEDIATE ACTION SAVES LIVES. When a tornado

threatens, immediate action can save lives.

Stay away from windows, doors, outside walls and protect your head.

IN HOMES OR OTHER SMALL BUILDINGS go to the basement or a place in the middle of the house, like a closet, bathroom, or interior wall. Get under something sturdy.

IN SCHOOL, be calm and follow the directions of your teacher. Stay away from auditoriums and gymnasiums with wide, huge roofs that could collapse easily.

IN SHOPPING CENTERS OR VERY LARGE BUILDINGS look for a pre-designated shelter. If there isn't any, a middle hallway on the lowest floor is the next best place to take shelter.

IN MOBILE HOMES OR CARS, leave them and find shelter in a building. If there is no shelter nearby, lie flat in the nearest ditch, ravine or culvert with your hands shielding your head (be sure to shield out for standing water in these culverts).

COLLAGEN

A little-known substance, collagen, made within the body may hold the key to total health and rejuvenation. Collagen serves as a cement to hold together the cells of your body tissues. It is needed to strengthen and rejuvenate the billions of cells and tissues. Collagen also nourishes and heals bones, body organs, blood vessels and glands. Insufficient collagen creates a "missing link" in the healing chain: wounds do not heal, cells break down, tissues disintegrate, skin sags, and bones, organs, and glands start to break down.

Partnership in Recovery

*Comprehensive Community Services Agency
Washington County*

This is the first in a series of articles dealing with the partnership of many groups in Washington County dedicated to helping those seriously affected by alcohol and other drug abuse to get on the road to recovery.

Located in our County is an agency known as the Comprehensive Community Services Agency (CCSA), also known as the 51.42 Board. CCSA was formed as a result of a law passed in 1974 and which became Wisconsin Statute 51.42. This statute states that the County Board shall elect a group of concerned citizens onto a Board and that Board shall use State and local funds to develop programs to provide for the needs of the developmentally disabled, the mentally ill and the chemically dependent. This series of articles will focus on that function of CCSA related to the chemically dependent.

My title is that of Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse Coordinator, and I work for CCSA. I am the person responsible for the development and monitoring of the programs funded by CCSA and which deal with the chemically dependent. With the help of a group of local citizens who belong to an advisory group called the Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse Task Force, I prepare a budget every year and with that budget decide what kind of care is needed and who should provide that care to our chemically dependent.

In order to help those affected by alcohol and drug abuse problems, many types of treatment and services are needed. CCSA provides these services by contracting with other agencies for specific types of care.

Before someone becomes involved with drugs or alcohol is the time to help prevent the use or abuse of these substances. This type of services is known as prevention. Prevention is getting into our schools and educating our children on the dangers of alcohol and drug use. It can be the utilization of the media to educate the public as to the potential problems of alcohol and drug use. To provide this service, CCSA funds a program at the Council on Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse known as the Prevention Program and which has two full-time AODA specialists whose sole jobs are educating the public.

If prevention does not work, the next step is to intervene and provide help for those with alcohol and drug problems. Some people need help on an emergency basis and come to the Detoxification Unit at the Washington County Mental Health Center where they can stay while seriously intoxicated. At some time during a person's stay on the Detox Unit, a counselor from the Council on Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse will come and visit. The counselor will encourage treatment for the alcohol or drug problem that resulted in the detox admission.

Treatment could be an inpatient stay in the hospital CCSA has chosen to help our more seriously ill citizens and which is called the Dodge County Inpatient Unit, located in Juneau, Wisconsin. Or treatment could be outpatient counseling at the Council on Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse. Outpatient counseling comes in several different forms including an intensive program that lasts for a set length of time and requires attendance for five hours a day. Or counseling could be a weekly group or individual interviews with a counselor.

If the counseling one receives at the Council does not seem to be enough structure, an individual can enter a halfway house. Right now women and adolescents must enter halfway houses in the LaCrosse area because no such programs exist in Washington County. Men can enter the Exodus House program in Kewaskum. What is a halfway house? It is a program that provides a structured living situation that lasts for approximately 90 days and where counseling and help for one's drug and alcohol problems are available every day.

How does one pay for any of these services? Generally, services are provided either by insurance coverage or on a sliding scale based on a person's ability to pay. What if you have no ability to pay? CCSA funds will pay for people who have no means to pay for any of the services mentioned.

The remainder of this series will go in depth into the local programs mentioned. As your understanding of this complex system grows, we encourage you to jot down your thoughts, concerns or comments about what you have read using the attached coupon. In early May public hearings will be held in local communities at which time CCSA would like to hear from you, the public, as to what you think of our programs or changes you see needed. Please use the coupon and share those concerns with us either at the public hearings or by mailing them to me directly.

... about your Social Security

By David Becker, Social Security Branch Manager in West Bend
DIRECT DEPOSIT OF SOCIAL SECURITY CHECKS

Most decisions are made after a person weighs the pros and cons of a course of action. Sometimes the difference is wide; other times, narrow. The direct deposit of Social Security checks is a case in which the advantages of a course of action are obvious.

Direct deposit means having the monthly Social Security check sent directly to a financial institution—a checking or savings account in a bank, savings and loan association, or similar institution, or to a Federal-or-State-chartered credit union. What are the advantages of doing this?

The first advantage is obvious. A person who has direct deposit doesn't have to worry about having a check lost or stolen. If away from home on vacation or for any other reason, the person doesn't have to worry about a check remaining in the mail box for days at a time.

In addition, a person who has direct deposit doesn't have to stand in line to cash or deposit a check since it goes directly into the person's account.

Anyone wishing to arrange for direct deposit should contact the financial organization of his or her choice and complete the necessary form. Only the person or those he or she authorizes can make withdrawals from the account.

Moreover, people who later change their mind about direct deposit can arrange to have their checks mailed to their home once more. People may also change the financial institution to which their checks are sent.

Additional information about direct deposit can be obtained from any Social Security office.

4-H DRAMATIC ARTS PROGRAM ENCOURAGES SELF-EXPRESSION

"Drama says 'yes' to everyone," says Joan Lazarus, youth theatre specialist with University of Wisconsin Cooperative Extension, whose job takes the dramatic arts to every corner of the state. "One of the great things about informal drama is that there's no right and wrong way."

This is her second year heading 4-H's dramatic arts program in a state long committed to developing grassroots art. Wisconsin, the only state with a full-time drama specialist in Cooperative Extension, has the largest 4-H arts enrollment in the country.

Activities like those in our 4-H drama program offer a unique educational experience which allows children to develop their skills of self-expression, creative problem solving and interpersonal communication.

Through workshop and drama opportunities, 4-Hers learn to use make-believe to help people realize how much they have to give to a situation and how much fun it is to create.

Lazarus thinks it's important to provide arts opportunities at many different levels, especially where schools don't have drama programs. Without 4-H arts, too few people will have an opportunity to participate in drama, she says.

Even youth who are not considered "talented," and might not get a chance to perform in their school play can gain from informal drama experiences such as theatre games and improvisations.

At training workshops for drama leaders, informal drama is stressed. Lazarus encourages leaders to sequence activities so that everyone can succeed. Some of the training workshops take place over a weekend, and adults and teen leaders practice many of the methods they will take back to clubs. They work informally, experimenting and discovering, learning a lot of the essential details of "how to do it," as well as glimpsing the commitment needed in the dramatic discipline.

Some of those who attended past workshops are now directing plays in the Washington County 4-H Music and Drama Festival. It will be on Sunday, May 6, at the University of Wisconsin-West Bend. The 1:30 p.m. program of plays and music will be presented by the following 4-H clubs and their directors:

- Addison Achievers - Carol Stommel
- B-Mer-E - Joan Peterson
- Good Luck - Arlene Cypher
- Jr. Hi-Lite Happy Workers - Marge Slaughter
- Sr. Hi-Lite Happy Workers - Marge Slaughter
- Myraneers - Patricia Nysse
- Thompson Irish Settlers - Beverly Schroeder
- The 4:00 p.m. program will be presented by
- Badger Boosters - Lois Pikoske
- Happy-Go-Lucky - Mary Lou McKee
- Kewaskum 4-H'ers - Debbie Seideman
- Kirchhayn Trotters - Eileen Klug
- Richfield Hillsiders - Carol Kohl
- Dolores Bruni, West Bend, is coordinator of the Festival. Members of the Cultural Arts Committee planning the Festival are: Marjorie Slaughter of Richfield, Chris Ojstrsek of Allenton, Dolores Bruni of West Bend, Caroline and Mike Doll of Allenton, John Spors, Todd Wessing, Jim Hupfer, Lois and Karen Pikoske, all of West Bend; Pauline Schroder and Carrie Masiarchini of Hartford and Loraine Schoeni of Slinger. The public is invited.

Wayne Girl Scout Sunday Brunch

The four Girl Scout troops from Wayne held their first family Sunday Brunch at Wayne Elementary School. The festivities were started with an opening flag ceremony, and then everyone enjoyed all the wonderful food prepared by all the families.

After dinner, the guests were introduced. Father Donald Braun of St. Anthony's church, and Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Maschmeier of Salem United Church of Christ were present, and earlier that day had conducted ceremonies for the girls in both churches.

Miss Ann Fuerbringer, who is our field representative from the Wau-Bun Council in Fond du Lac, and also the Camp Director was also present.

Even though the leaders did all the work for our brunch, they were all introduced as guests and given corsages as a thank you for all the hours of hard work and dedication. Wayne would not have the Girl Scout Program it does without the super job they do.

A Girl Scout Silver Award, the second highest award in Girl Scouting was given to Miss Goetsch. It is the first time anyone in this area has earned this award, and as a leader, and as her mother, I was very honored to present her award after 2½ years of work, including 234 hours of volunteer service at the Samaritan Home.

Each troop participated in the program that helped make the afternoon enjoyable. Cadette troop 20 started with "The Great Bullfight" that had the audience doing all the sound effects, including a bull that mooed.

Junior troop 223 did a take-off of "Family Feud" with its own Richard (Katie) Dawson, and in the true Dawson tradition they not only had questions, "good answers," and fun, they had all of Dawson's kisses!

Brownie troop 222 sang for us about their "Pile of Tin," and even brought the car along. Troop 50, which is a third grade fly-up troop sang a special "Fly-up Farewell."

Cadette troop 20 led us all in the traditional candle ceremony and we sang "Let There Be Peace On Earth."

The girls were all awarded a special patch, designed by the older girls, that reads, "Wayne Cook-out 83." It commemorates a cookout held last fall, but the patch is only Wayne's, and we are very proud of it.

Lastly, we would like to say a special thank you to all Girl Scout parents. Our program wouldn't work without parent cooperation. Our first Sunday Brunch was a huge success, and we hope to have many more.

Indians Win Golf Opener

Even though the weather was far from ideal, the Kewaskum Indian golf teams managed to get their opening meets of the season in Friday against Sheboygan Falls, an Eastern Wisconsin opponent. Both the varsity and JVs won their matches over the Falcons.

The varsity won by 26 strokes over Falls. Led by Chris Harlow, who posted a two-over-par 37 on the front nine at Hon-E-Kor Country Club, Kewaskum came in with a total of 167, compared to 193 by the Falcons.

Harlow, in his fourth year on the varsity, had a birdie, five pars and three bogeys. Jeff Nigh, in his first year out for golf, had a 42, returning letterman Tim Leitheiser had a 43. All three are seniors. Kober, the fourth player, came in with a 45.

The JVs posted a fine 173 to easily defeat the Falcons with their 208. The Indian JVs finished with a better score than the Falls varsity. They were paced by sophomore Ethan Miklas, who, with his good putting, fired a 38, including one birdie.

Nine of the 10 Indian players in the matches came in with scores of 46 or better, which pleased Coach Joe Harlow, who said it was nice to start out with a victory. The competition for varsity and JV spots should be keen.

The Indians had another home meet scheduled with Ozaukee Wednesday.

Brookfield Central won the tournament, going 5-1 with 4 schools tied at 4-2. Kewaskum received 3rd place based on the first tie breaker - total points scored.

It was the second year in a row that the Indians had gone 4-2. Last year's team finished 7-2. According to advisor, Roy Peterson, the difference this year was that Kewaskum soundly defeated its opponents in rounds 1 and 5.

The varsity team consisted of Tom Crandell, board 1; Todd Jaromin, board 2; Gregg Classey at three; Romie Holl at four and Jeff Igel at five.

The team had 3 individuals who were in contention for individual board honors. At board 1, Tom Crandell went 4-1-1 and tied Chris Maisa of Milwaukee Tech for top honors. Jeff Igel also tied at 5th board with a 4-1-1 record only to lose to Greg Mode of Fort Atkinson on tie breakers. Igel had defeated Mode in round 6 giving Mode his only loss.

The team had a six round Swiss. This meant that a school was matched against another school of the same record. Kewaskum opponents were:

- Round 1 — Kewaskum 40, Milw. - James Madison 0.
- Round 2 — Kewaskum 21, Milw. - Marquette 19.
- Round 3 — Kewaskum 9½, Fond du Lac 30½.
- Round 4 — Kewaskum 14½, Brookfield Central 25½.
- Round 5 — Kewaskum 31, Milw. - Riverside 9.
- Round 6 — Kewaskum 23, Ft. Atkinson 17.

The top 5 schools were (top three received trophies):

- 2. Fond du Lac 4-2
- 3. Kewaskum 4-2
- 4. Milw. - Tech 4-2
- 5. Milw. - Thomas More 4-2

....

The Junior Varsity team finished in second place. The tournament was a six round individual Swiss tournament with the top 4 individuals counting for team points. Kewaskum was led by John Martin at 4-1-1, who finished 4th individually. Team members that counted besides Martin were Glenn Classey 4-2, Randy Igel 3-3, and Roger Mueller 3-3. Other Kewaskum players competing were Craig Miller, Steve Hubbell, Gary Classey and Randy Wilhelm.

State Junior Varsity results:
 1. Marquette 15 pts.

 3. Fond du Lac 12.

Kempf, Secor Pick Up Only Firsts Sheboygan Falls Thumps Kewaskum Girls in Track

By John Harju

Holly Kempf and Sandy Secor picked up the only first place finishes for Kewaskum as the Sheboygan Falls girls' track team won 13 out of the 16 events and easily defeated Kewaskum, 99-33, in the Indian girls' first outdoor meet of the season held last Tuesday in Sheboygan Falls.

Kempf easily won both the shot put and the discus while Secor won the triple-jump for Kewaskum's only wins.
