Village Shooting for Zero Increase Base Budget for 1985

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

If Administrator Dan Schmidt can come up with a combination of budget cuts and additional revenues totaling approximately $11,000, the Village of Kewaskum's tax levy may not go up for 1985. Village President Gerald Stollenwerk acknowledged that as 'good news' during Monday night's Village Board meeting. Stollenwerk noted that might make up, in part, for some of the hefty increases faced by villagers in past years.

Schmidt told the trustees he had worked out six different proposals for the 1985 budget with increases ranging from 3.2% to 13.4%. The proposal submitted at Monday's meeting came to $1,153,295, an increase of 3.2% over the 1984 budget. However, after reviewing the various individual department budgets with the board, Schmidt felt he might be able to trim the proposal still further to bring it down to a zero base increase if the board directed him to do so.

By making approximately $6,500 in budget cuts and coming up with another $4,500 in revenues, Schmidt said the proposed 1985 budget could be reduced to $1,146,770. Based on that figure, Schmidt said the levy would increase only $9,000, and between increased revenues and growth in assessed valuation, the village's portion of the 1985 tax rate would be almost the same as last year's. The 1985 tax rate would be $6.651 per $1,000 of assessed valuation as compared to $6.654 for 1984.

Using preliminary 1985 tax rates of $6.65 per $1,000 for the village, $2.61 County, 19.6c State, $11.30 School, and $1.52 Soud residents' tax rates would be approximately $22.28 per $1,000, less tax credits that would come to $20.01. That figure would result in an overall increase of 75c compared to the 1984 rate of $19.26 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. Schmidt stressed that figure is not final since he has not received the actual rate for the County's portion of the tax rate and probably will not get that information until mid-November.

In other action the board approved the recommendation of village engineering consultants Ruekert and Mielke to accept the low bid of $96,737.86

State President to Speak at Jr. Woman's Club Meeting

Carolyn Seawell

Mrs. Carolyn Seawell, state president of the GFWC Wisconsin Federation of Women's Clubs will be featured as the guest speaker at the Kewaskum Jr. Woman's Club meeting on Tuesday, November 13th, at 7:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall. Mrs. Seawell's presentation, entitled "Characteristics of a Good Clubwoman" is timely for the November initiation of new members into the club.

Mrs. Seawell was elected president of the state organization in May, and will serve in the position for a two year term. She recently led the Wisconsin delegation to the 93rd Annual GFWC Convention in Las Vegas, and has been a guest speaker for the 6th District Fall Conference in Greenbush as well as the State Jr. Fall Conference in Fond du Lac.

While serving as state president, Mrs. Seawell maintains her membership in the Ripon Woman's Club, where she has played an active role in community service leadership. She is currently a member of the Wisconsin Arts Board, who, in conjunction with the Division of Tourism, is promoting the special project "Wisconsin Tourism and the Arts." This promotion will highlight visual, performing and creative arts available to tourists and residents of Wisconsin.

In her article from "The Wisconsin Clubwoman" magazine, Mrs. Seawell writes "Our society has seen many changes over the years, but our heritage remains the same; to be true to certain high ideals of volunteer community service. What a fantastic challenge is ours...in the closing years of the 20th century. The key to community service (is) through volunteerism."

Appreciation Night Held for Retired Teacher

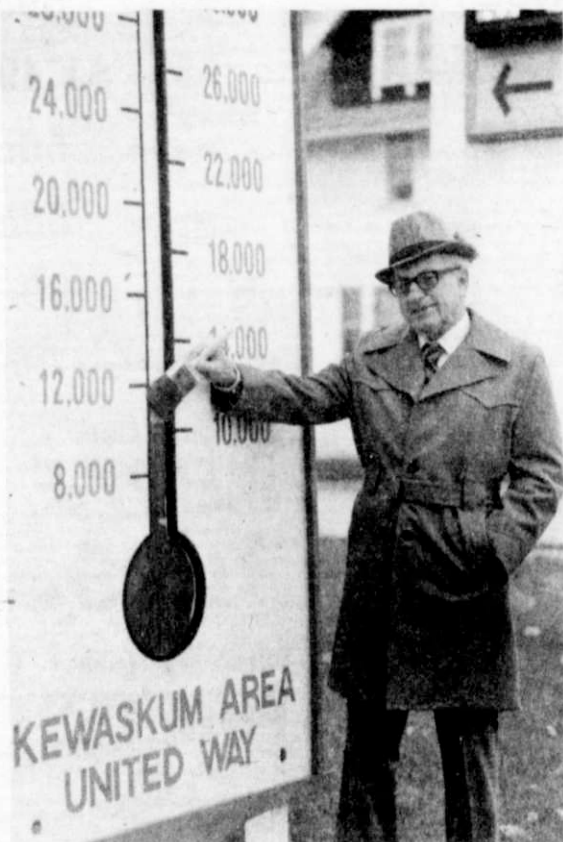

On Wednesday night, November 7, an appreciation night was held, arranged by the School and Home Association, to honor Mrs. Irma Reindl, in thanks for her fifteen years of service in teaching at Holy Trinity School. Mrs. Reindl was very well liked and popular with her pupils. She retired this year.

The evening started with a Mass, read by Father Robert Berghammer, pastor, at 7 p.m. at Holy Trinity Church. This was followed by a reception and party in the lower church hall of the parish.

A beautiful knotted quilt, with blocks made by pupils from the 1st thru 12th grades, was presented to her. The blocks were put together by Jane Gerhardt, Helen Lauters and Pat Geidel, officers of various societies. A book, explaining the meaning of each block, was also compiled.

Irma also received a pillow, which was handmade by the faculty.

Former pupils, parents, teachers and members of Holy Trinity Congregation were invited. Bars, cookies, coffee and punch were served.

A LITTLE PAINT goes a long way! United Way volunteer Ralph Rimmel cheerfully paints in more red on the UW campaign thermometer in front of Valley Bank. The '84 campaign hopes to hit that $30,000 mark. Rimmel, who lives on Bilgo Lane in Kewaskum, is treasurer of UW for the greater Kewaskum area.

Chamber of Commerce Holds 'Business After Hours' Meeting

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce held another successful "Business After Hours" meeting.

The following board members and guests were present: President Earl Kleinke, Vice President Leroy Bier, Marie Kleinke, Donna Bier, Gina Haney, Charlene Barutha, Wayne Rimmel, Sandy Rimmel, Judy Jaeger, Fred Miller, Richard Bechler, Jane Bechler, Don and Carol Sedgwick, Bill and Karen Breitman, Orv Behnke and Nanc Malvick.

The 1985 "Dairy Daze" issue was discussed and the Christmas coupon promotion given the go ahead.

Also a special just social evening for chamber members and guests is planned for Thursday, Dec. 13th. It will be a Christmas Party and dinner will be available for those who are interested. Call Karen at the Glacier Inn. Cocktails at 6:30, dinner at 7:30.

After the meeting a scrumptious assortment of hot and cold hors d'oeuvres and much camaraderie was shared by all. If you missed it, see you next time.

Wisconsin Snowmobilers Recognize Village Board Staehler's Work in Their Sport

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

It was a happy and emotional weekend for Bob Staehler of 535 Keller St., Kewaskum, as he received double recognition for his work to advance the sport and improve the image of Wisconsin snowmobiling over the past fourteen years.

The first honor came Friday night at a meeting of the Governor's Advisory Recreation Council held during the Association of Wisconsin Snowmobile Clubs workshop at Olympia Resort in Oconomowoc, November 2nd and 3rd.

The council, made up of fifteen members from throughout the state, presented Staehler with a plaque recognizing his four years of work on the council. Staehler was appointed to the Council in November, 1979, and served as its chairman from 1980 to 1984. It is only the second time in its history that the council has bestowed such public recognition on an individual.

The second honor came Saturday evening during the AWSC's fall banquet. Staehler was again recognized for his tireless efforts to promote snowmobiling, but this time the recognition came from his friends and fellow members of the AWSC.

The association, which is made up of thousands of snowmobilers from throughout the state of Wisconsin, also wanted to show their appreciation for the hundreds of hours Bob worked and the thousands of miles he has traveled on their behalf. AWSC President Jim Gescheidle of Fond du Lac, stated it was estimated Staehler had traveled over 175,000 miles throughout the United States and Canada for the association.

Representing the AWSC, Bob Kay, the association's attorney, presented Staehler with a plate noting his service as vice-president of the AWSC in 1977 and President in 1978 and 1979.

Staehler now serves as a Director-At-Large for the association and is currently president of his home club, the Kewaskum Sno-Chiefs.

Staehler gratefully acknowledged the honors stating that if it had not been for the patience, understanding and cooperation of his wife Jean and his children, he would not have been able to accomplish the work he has.

from Mueller Excavating of Campbellsport for watermain and sanitary sewer extensions work on the Roseland Waterloop.

The village had received six bids on the project, Mueller's low bid, Westra Construction at $98,367.05, Zunker Constructors $99,540.90, Michels Pipe Line $110,623.00 Super Excavators $130,533.00, and Ozaukee Excavating $130,605.10.

Schmidt said construction costs had been estimated at $96,000. While Mueller came in at that price, their figure is actually $20,000 below the estimate or $76,000 for the village's portion of the work. The additional $20,000 on the contract covers pipeline work to be done for the AMPI reload station and the Meilahn property. Schmidt said that part of the work will be special assessed to the two property owners. Work is expected to begin before the end of the month.

Bids were also opened for the purchase of a 1985 replacement squad car. The village received three bids, Mayfair Chrysler/Plymouth for a Plymouth Gran Fury at $10,642.03, Meyer Ford for a Ford Crown Victoria $11,360.00, and Schwartzburg Chevy/Olds for a Chevrolet Impala $11,485.00. The board approved Chief Hlavaty's recommendation to accept Mayfair's low bid. The company has been low bidder and supplier of the village's cars for the last two years.

Schmidt provided the board with a study which showed over the past four years, since the village switched from a one-squad system to a two-squad system, maintenance costs have been substantially reduced and the resale value of the old squads increased.

The board discussed a Department of Natural Resources letter regarding closing of the village's landfill by 1999. Because of the various alternatives and possible affects each might have, the trustees decided to postpone any action until the next meeting.

The board signed the fire contract for the Town of Kewaskum's 1985 fire service in the amount of $37,484.

The meeting then adjourned to closed session.

Elementary Students Cast Votes In Mock Presidential Election

Poll workers Jenny Campbell and Joe Rehbein sign in voters.

Stephanie Gildemeister casting her vote on computer, while voting assistant Julie Yahr looks on.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Thanks to the efforts of 5th grade teacher Mary Pearson, students at Kewaskum Elementary School were given an opportunity to cast their vote in Tuesday's presidential election.

Pearson acquired information for a program which could be fed into one of the school's new computers. The program tallied the votes, listed each party's count, as well as broke down the votes by boy or girl and indicated the vote count for each gender.

A total of 344 votes were cast, including the school staff. Reagan received 230 votes and Mondale 114. Of the 153 boys voting, 105 cast Republican ballots while 48 cast Democratic votes. Of the 191 girls voting, 125 voted Republican, while 66 voted Democrat. The youngsters' voting results were closely in line with actual election results, with the Republicans winning by approximately a two to one ratio.

The experience not only gave the children the chance to learn first-hand about the election process, it also provided them with an opportunity to become familiar with the versatility of the computer.

The election was run like a real election, with poll workers signing in the voters, a voting booth and assistant to help if you had any problems casting your vote.

34 Youngsters Complete Hunter Safety Course Here

Thirty-four Kewaskum area youngsters recently completed the Wisconsin Hunter Safety Course sponsored by the Department of Natural Resources, the Kettle Moraine Sportsman's Association of Kewaskum and the Kewaskum Middle School. The course was conducted by Jan Rosenthal, Jim Borusky and Jim Hanson, who are registered hunter safety instructors.

Young shooters who received their Hunter Safety certificates and embroidered shoulder patches after successfully completing the eight-week course are Curtis Arndt, Kevin Bartelt, Dale Bowser, Jeff Brigham, Ryan Degnitz, Chad Dorschner, Brad Enright, Dan Fischer, Barbara Harmon, Sandra Harmon, Mark Hartmann, Mike Heberer, Regina Herman, David Jacak, Joe Jeske, Pat Lightner, Scott Limberg, Jon McClanathan, Shane Megonigle, Anne Niver, Robin Niver, Ronald Panzer, Mark Peters, Richie Radtke, Mike Ramthun, Andy Schalk, Chad Schmidt, Tim Schultz, David Schulz, Tim Schulz, Jeff Taylor, Ryan Verhunce, Charles Walls and Mike Yahr.

Instructors Rosenthal, Borusky and Hanson held the session in the Kewaskum Middle School for one hour each Monday and Wednesday beginning at 2:50 p.m. Field shooting exercises were conducted at the West Bend Barton Sportman's Club outdoor range located just south of Kewaskum. Range firing was done with .22 rim fire rifles on loan from the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club. Instruction was also given each shooter with BB guns indoors by Louis DeLauch, an Olympic coach and member of the West Bend Barton Sportsman Club.

In addition to the shoulder patch and certificate certification permits, these youngsters between ages 14 and 16 are permitted to shoot and hunt without adult supervision. State Law prohibits persons under age 16 from handling firearms for any purpose without supervision unless they have successfully passed this hunter safety course.

The course covered proper gun handling, firearms safety at home and in the field, care of firearms, basic marksmanship, and responsibilities of hunters and shooters.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

Letter to the Editor:

Thank you to all Kewaskum area residents who accepted the responsibility of their American citizenship and voted on November 6th.

This Sunday marks the day we honor men and women of our country who have fought and died so we might continue to have those rights.

Please remember our veterans on Sunday, November 11th.

Letter to the Editor:

The Fillmore Fire Department wishes to thank all the people in their fire district for their overwhelming support of their semi-annual auction and their annual picnic. Without your donations and help, neither would be a success. It gives us a sense of security knowing that when help is needed we can count on the Farmington residents.

We wish we could thank each one of you personally, but knowing that is impossible, we hope you accept our thanks with this letter.

Fillmore Fire Dept.
James Dieringer, Pres.

P.S. On Dec. 16, we are having a Christmas Party for the children of the Fillmore Fire District, with a film starting at 2:00 p.m. and Santa coming at 3:00. Please mark your calendar.

Joanne Stautz tried a little body English to get that last pin down.

The seven members of Kewaskum's Fall Special Olympics team showed just what kind of athletes they are during last Saturday's regional bowling meet in Sheboygan Falls. All seven members finished in one of the three top places.

First Place honors went to Liza Loomis, Tim Moody and Joanne Stautz. Second Place Ribbons were won by Julie Morgan and Stacy Mueller. Rounding out the excellent team effort were Joan Bath and Jean Wiesner who earned Third Place

FmHA to Begin Loan Reviews for Possible Debt Restructuring

West Bend — Reviews will begin the week of December 17, 1984 of Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) loan accounts to see which farmers in Washington, Ozaukee and Waukesha Counties need and will qualify for a one-time set aside of part of their loan, Ray A. Ellenberger, County Supervisor said.

FmHA has been authorized to set aside up to 25 percent — to a maximum of $200,000 — of the debt owed the agency for farmers who are experiencing severe financial difficulty, if the set aside will help achieve a positive cash flow for the borrower.

"We will begin scheduling appointments for our borrowers to review their accounts, determine if they need special assistance and see if we can make that assistance available," Ellenberger said.

"Not every borrower will qualify for the set aside, but there might be some other way to help, such as consolidation or rescheduling of existing loans. We will look at all alternatives."

Ellenberger said all accounts will be reviewed. There are some exceptions, such as accounts in bankruptcy or foreclosure or those determined able to graduate to other sources of credit.

Two informational meetings will be held to explain the program and appointments for analysis will be scheduled at that time. The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the Washington County Courthouse in West Bend on November 16 at 1:00 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. The courthouse is located at 432 East Washington Street.

Maple syrup and maple sugar are exclusively North American products.

COFFEE...CANCER?

Why the sudden association of coffee with pancreatic cancer? Coffee has been with us for centuries, whereas decaffeinated coffee has only been produced a few decades. Decaffeinated coffee is made by extracting the caffeine from coffee with a chemical solvent, traces of which may remain. It is more likely that this trace chemical in decaffeinated coffee is responsible for the increased association with pancreatic cancer, than is regular coffee itself.

THE WARDEN'S MISTAKE

by Doc Edwards

It was a hot Thursday afternoon during an exceptionally dry spell in October. The pheasant hunting had begun two weeks earlier and I had heard reports of unusually good bag limits. So, on the spur of the moment, I decided to go hunting for an hour or so. My chores could wait for once (I did my own bookkeeping every Thursday afternoon).

At 2:30 p.m. I hurriedly put on my overshoes to protect my shoes from the scratches of weeds and thistles. Then I checked my hunting coat to make sure that there were several shells in the pocket. My Chesapeake Retriever, Pat, and the 16 gauge semiautomatic were loaded into the car and we sped to the big swamp just a mile south of my office. The swamp is about 2½ miles long and ¼ of a mile wide with a high ridge of hills on the west side. The main highway, U.S. 45, lies along the east border. In the spring the land is wet with standing water in many places. But now in October, all was dry, dry to the point that walking through the hip-high weeds caused a powdery dust to fill the quiet air. This dust irritated the dog's nostrils and mine too, as we plunged into the vast area from the west side.

We moved slowly seeking out partial trails and open spaces hoping to flush a pheasant rooster. Pat would not go out ahead of me to search for the birds. I scolded him a little, but soon relented, for the air was so unhumanly hot and dry, with not a breath of breeze stirring. Besides, I felt that he probably knew that there were no birds around anyway, so why hunt!

As we neared the eastern border of the swamp, no birds had been flushed, so at about 3:15 we turned around and moved toward the west. We probably had gone 15 or 20 minutes in a westerly direction when a slight breeze stirred from the west, blowing the dry dust away from us. Slowly we moved back toward the location of our car, and I thought that possibly a rooster or two would soon come flying over the ridge of hills ahead from the farm fields where they feed, to rest in the swamp for the night. So I watched the ridge of hills very closely, hoping to see a bird in the air. Pat seemed to know that we were heading for home, and now he led me back toward the west. I watched the clear sky over the hills one-quarter of a mile away and also the tree tops at their base for any sign of the return of a pheasant which had finished feeding.

Suddenly I spotted a flying red rooster coming toward me as we neared the rim of trees at the base of the hill. With bated breath I held the gun at ready until the bird was approximately 120 feet away. Then UP and BANG! "I never aim, only point, for I had learned years ago that the spot pattern is 30 inches wide at 120 feet."

Down came the big rooster. Pat was after him at once and, just as he reached the struggling bird, another rooster came hurtling toward me. Again the performance was repeated, but this time the bird was winged, and ran away after he hit the ground. Pat delivered the first bird to my hands, then bounded away to search for the second one.

Meanwhile, I crawled under the line fence and was slowly walking toward the hills, where Pat was eagerly searching for the pheasant. Then I heard a sudden noise to my right, and turning, saw a man frantically running and slipping on the hillside as he headed toward me. I stood and awaited his arrival, but did not expect a tirade from him. He was the warden and he was releasing pheasants from a truck 600 feet north of where we stood. He demanded to see my wrist-watch, and "didn't I know that hunting stopped at 4:00 p.m.?"

"Yes," I said and I showed him my watch. At that moment it was just 4:00 p.m. on the watch. His watch showed 4:05 p.m. hence he said "mine was slow." He did not arrest me, only said that I had ought to check my watch better the next time I hunted.

The warden went back to his truck to release more pheasants, and Pat and I with our two birds quickly moved through the meadow to the car and home. As the motor started I said, "Thank you God, for allowing exactly two birds to be released," (for that was the allowable limit).

into Wisconsin woods and fields.

Parents concerned about the safety of their young hunters can play a large role in reducing the odds of their sons or daughters being involved in a hunting accident.

It almost goes without saying, but young people who hunt should be accompanied by an adult. But if that adult doesn't follow rules of hunter safety, the teenager probably won't either.

Though about 18,000 people a year—mostly teens—participate in Wisconsin hunter safety courses, much of what is learned isn't practiced due to peer pressure. As a result, impressionable teenagers may learn unsafe, unsound hunting attitudes that lead to accidents and unsportsmanlike behavior.

Young people tend to "do what they see, not what they hear." When junior sees dad go barreling over the fence with gun in hand instead of putting it down while crossing, he'll probably learn to do as dad does.

Therefore, parents who hunt may want to brush up on hunter safety principles or take hunter safety training themselves.

Hunter safety courses are held in most communities in Wisconsin and try to prepare hunters for smart hunting in the field. The courses focus on identification and knowledge of wildlife, sportsmanship and hunter ethics, gun handling and marksmanship.

Since 1967, about 260,000 hunters—half the number of hunters in Wisconsin—have completed the course. Beginning in 1985, enrollment will probably increase due to a requirement that all hunters under age 16 born after January 1, 1973 complete the course.

In the last few years adult participation in the courses has increased as well. This may be because kids are telling their parents some of the things they have learned in the hunter safety courses.

One principle taught in hunter safety courses is that groups of hunters should always know the pattern each person will take. In addition, hunters should always see their target, and beyond, before they shoot.

Wardens who have investigated hunting accidents have found that many accidents may occur because people do not look beyond their targets. Bullets can easily miss or ricochet off objects in unexpected directions.

Many people think that shooting at what one hears instead of what one sees is a major cause of hunting accidents. This behavior should definitely be discouraged, but it probably doesn't occur as often as people think.

A greater number of accidents occur among young people than older, more mature hunters. Young people are more likely to make mental errors, because they lack hunting savvy and complete development of motor coordination. In addition, when a young person has anticipated an event with great excitement, she/he is probably not going to be totally objective and level-headed.

Another problem is that since 1967 more hunters come from urban backgrounds. Though most young people who get interested in hunting do so because hunting has been a part of their family tradition, many who participate in hunter safety training lack an understanding of the outdoors and an appreciation for wildlife.

There are a lot of hunters who are more interested in harvesting game rather than appreciating the sport. Some people equate this attitude to the emphasis in Wisconsin on deer drives rather than one-on-one hunting which gives deer a more equal chance.

Accidents statistics show that more accidents occur during these large deer drives. Anytime you have people walking between people and deer, and people on both sides are shooting, the odds for an accident go up drastically.

Sometimes group hunters also have an attitude problem. Group hunting expeditions often include alcohol, which can spur a kind of reckless bravado and disregard for safe hunting practices. Such behavior can teach youth wrong ideas about what hunting is about.

Parents, however, can find comfort in the fact that accidents involving Wisconsin hunters of all ages have dropped 40% since 1967. Several factors account for an improved safety record. These include the increased wearing of blaze orange clothing and the use of black powder guns rather than smokeless powder guns.

Open Container Law Explained for Hunters

People making plans for a fall hunting trip should keep in mind that open containers of alcoholic beverages are banned from motor vehicles (including vans, motor homes and pickup campers), according to Washington County Sheriff Clarence Schwartz.

The number of arrests for open container violations has more than doubled in the past two years and includes a number of people who are not aware the law applies to recreational vehicles, as well as autos and trucks, the Sheriff explains.

Under section 346.935 of the Wisconsin statutes, the owner or driver is responsible for making sure that bottles or receptacles containing alcoholic beverages are not in the passenger compartment when the seal has been broken. The passengers are also prohibited from having an open container on their person while in any motor vehicles on the highway. The only legal place to transport open containers is in the trunk, or outside passenger compartment of vehicles without trunks. The ban applies also to refrigerators or coolers within the passenger area as well.

The penalty for an open container violation is forfeiture of $120.00 for the driver and $64.00 for a passenger, as established by the Uniform Deposit Schedule of the Wisconsin Judicial Conference.

Joseph Ruplinger Sr., 65, lifelong farm resident of the Town of Wayne, was accidentally killed at about 4 p.m. on November 3, near his home when a tractor he was driving fell on him. Mr. Ruplinger was plowing near the edge of a field when he was thrown from the tractor into a ditch. The tractor tipped over and landed on top of him, fatally injuring the man. The mishap occurred as Ruplinger came to the end of a row in the field and turned the tractor. The machine apparently went over the edge of the field and onto a steep bank along a road, causing it to tip.

At the present time, 13 new homes are going up or have been completed in the village, the building permits issued by the village commission in the past few months reveal. All of the homes are being built in the residential area on the west side of town except one, which is on Fond du Lac Avenue.

Professional staff members of the Kewaskum Public Schools recently received their charter as an affiliated local chapter of the Wisconsin Education Association. Officers of the group are: Ernest Mitchell, president; Eugene LaMarche, vice president; LaVerne Hon, treasurer and Mary Lou Porinsky, secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schacht of West Bend have announced the engagement of their daughter Judy to Al Braun, son of Mrs. Alphonse Braun Sr. of St. Michaels. The announcement was made on Judy's birthday.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Thull, Kewaskum, on November 1. A daughter was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Schmidt, Route 2, Kewaskum, on October 31. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Bercau of Seattle, Washington, on November 2. Mrs. Bercau is the former Barbara Schaefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Schaefer of Kewaskum.

On Halloween the intermediate room literary society of the Kewaskum Public School had its first program of the year as follows: 1. Halloween song by all; 2. "The Singing Lesson," a play with Bobby Brauchle, Erhardt Schultz, Harriet Backhaus, Erna Lubitz, and Patti Brauchle; 3. Accordion solo by Lloyd Etta; 4. "Halloween Wishes," a recitation by Evelyn Weddig; 5. Mandolin solo by Roger Stahl. The fifth grade furnished the lunch for the Halloween party.

Charles, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Halfmann of Campbellsport, narrowly escaped serious injury and possibly death, when he was knocked down and run over by a car prior to the Halloween parade, given for the children and sponsored by the Campbellsport Lions Club last Wednesday evening. Master Charles momentarily dropped out of the line of parade, directly in front of an approaching automobile, which struck him and threw him to the pavement. He was taken to a doctor where it was found that his injuries were limited to several bruises on his forehead. The Halfmann family is well known to many residents of Kewaskum, as Mrs. Halfmann, before her marriage, was Miss Helen Schlosser of this village.

Mrs. Christ. Schaefer Sr. of Kewaskum was very agreeably surprised by the Ladies' Aid of the Ev. Peace Church last Wednesday afternoon when they congratulated her on her 80th birthday anniversary. They spent the afternoon with Mrs. Schaefer in a social way.

Bernard Ulrich of Campbellsport observed his fiftieth anniversary as a cigar manufacturer at his home in that village on October 24. Mr. Ulrich began his business on East Main Street in 1884 and for the past 49 years has been located on South Fond du Lac Avenue in Campbellsport. Although he has reached the age of 75 years, Mr. Ulrich still spends everyday at his work.

William Hopkins, a graduate of the Kewaskum High School, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hopkins, caretaker and manager of the Moon Lake Wild Life Refuge, located 6½ miles north east of Kewaskum, has left for Rolla, Missouri, where he has been given a position. William recently graduated from the School of Forestry and Conservation of Michigan University and at Rolla, he will have charge of fish and game work in a national forest. He is employed by the United States Forest Service.

A large vote was polled at the election last Tuesday, both by the village and Town of Kewaskum. In the village of Kewaskum, 320 votes were cast: Republican 67, Democratic 34, Progressive 30 and 189 split tickets. In the town, 241 votes were cast, 86 Republicans, 26 Democrats, 20 Progressive and 109 split tickets.

Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Pesch of East Valley, are the proud parents of a baby girl born on October 29, and baptized on Sunday. The young miss received the name Arline Ann.

Louis Dreikosen, the 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dreikosen of the Town of Ashford, was playing with a pair of scissors and in some manner stuck one of the sharp points in his eye. Attending physicians say an operation is necessary in order to save the eye.

Among the teachers from this vicinity who attended the state teachers' convention at Milwaukee Thursday, Friday and Saturday were: The Misses Gretchen Assmann, Lorinda Guth, Alice Henry, Lily Schlosser, Mariann Schmidt, Olga Haug, Anna Schield, Susan Hauffs, Elsie Kocher and the Messrs. J. F. Cavanaugh, Thomas Manning and Henry Haufschild.

Louis W. Schaefer, son of William Schaefer of this village, and Miss Doris M. Kloke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kloke of Campbellsport, were quietly married at the home of the bride's parents at Campbellsport on November 4.

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Matthew's Church in Campbellsport on November 3, when Miss Marie Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christ. Becker, and Joseph Karl were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.

There are now 50 pupils enrolled in the local high school.

Veterans Day To Be Observed

Veterans Day will be observed at the VA Medical Center, Milwaukee, November 11, 1984. The ceremony begins at 10:45 a.m. at the flagpole site in front of the Medical Center.

"Veterans Day recognizes the important contributions of the millions of our citizens whose military service had a profound effect on history," says R.E. Struble, Medical Center Director. Struble will deliver the welcome, "A Very Special Day," at the ceremony.

Fred Heinle, State Service Officer for the American Legion, will be the featured speaker. The American Legion and Auxiliary, State of Wisconsin, has sponsored the Veterans Day observance for the past 33 years.

The Veterans Day observance will be held at the Veterans Administration Medical Center, 5000 West National Avenue, Milwaukee, WI. The public is invited to participate.

VETERANS DAY — 1984

Veterans Day 1984 marks the seventh anniversary of the return of the observance to November 11 and the tradition of honoring the unknown soldier at Arlington on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month.

From 1971 to 1977, Veterans Day was observed on the fourth Monday in October in compliance with a 1968 law that changed most national holidays to Mondays.

Believing, however, that the November 11 date held great significance for this country, Congress passed a law in 1977 which returned the holiday to November 11. The law became effective in 1978, the sixtieth anniversary of the World War I armistice.

With the return of the observance to the armistice date of that "war to end all wars," this year's observance is an occasion to pay tribute to the 1,081,000 Americans who have died in the defense of their country in all American wars since 1776, and to more than 28 million living former servicemen who served during both war and peace.

Of a total of 38,924,000 war participants — going back to the earliest days of the nation — more than half of the men and women who have worn their country's uniform in wartime are still alive. Another 4.4 million living veterans saw only peacetime service.

By far the most costly of America's wars was its Civil War in which 5 million persons participated. That conflict resulted in 364,000 Union deaths and more than 133,000 Confederate casualties.

In contrast, 290,000 Americans fought in the Revolution, and 4,000 died in service. Out of 287,000 American participants in the War of 1812, 2,000 lost their lives in service.

During the Mexican War only 79,000 Americans were in uniform, yet 13,000 died in service. In the Spanish-American War, 11,000 of the 392,000 U.S. participants died in service.

A total of 4,744,000 answered the country's call to arms in World War I, and 116,000 died.

World War II saw the greatest number of Americans ever in uniform — 16,535,000 men and women. There were 406,000 deaths in service during that conflict.

During the Korean fighting, 6,807,000 saw service, and when it was over in 1955, 55,000 had died.

A total of 9,834,000 Americans were in service during the Vietnam Era. Of that number 47,000 deaths were due to action of hostile forces.

Today's population of living veterans — including those who served in more than one period — is made up as follows: World War II (39%), Vietnam (29%), Korea (19%), Peacetime (18%), and World War I (less than 1%). Only 22 veterans — America's oldest — remain from the Spanish American War.

4-H NEWS

ENCOURAGE 4-H'ERS TO DEMONSTRATE

Demonstrations serve as a valuable learning tool in the 4-H program. Youth can work on projects they like and learn new information. As they learn more about their subject and project area 4-H'ers can share what they learned with other 4-H'ers. In the process, they acquire the skill of speaking and performing in front of groups, learn to plan and organize their thoughts to transmit ideas easily and apply what they learn.

Think of the following four parts as you prepare your demonstration.

-Introduction: A catchy way to introduce your topic and catch your audiences attention.

-Body: The meat of your topic. What you want your fellow 4-H'ers to learn.

-Conclusion: Last impression. Summarize the main parts and leave the audience with enthusiasm to try that project.

-Questions: All demonstrations are based on fact. Your audience may want to know more about a certain area you cover.

10 Demonstration Ideas:

List ideas from project outline.

List things you do at home and would like to show others.

List the things you do very well and would like to teach others.

List the things you want to learn this year.

List ideas from T.V. or your weekly newspaper.

List the ways you help other members in your club learn.

List the community projects you or your club have carried out.

List the things you learned on a tour.

List things that interest you and your family.

UWWC to Offer Course on Investing

James Piwowarczyk, investment counselor and stock broker with Robert W. Baird Company, will offer a course titled Focusing Your Investment Dollar at the University of Wisconsin Center-Washington County on Saturday, November 10.

This seminar will be based on a formula created by Mr. Piwowarczyk that, when applied to individual situations, will accurately reflect the type of investing that's right for you. Anyone can take this course—investment knowledge and experience isn't necessary. Everything you learn in this short seminar will be applied to your individual investing power. Follow this formula and then get ready to watch your money make money for you.

The class will be held from 9:00-11:30 a.m. in the Center, 400 University Drive in West Bend. The seminar fee is $15.00.

To register, call UWWC at 338-5233 for reservations and enrollment forms.

Volunteers Needed For County Elder Peer Counselors

Volunteers are now being recruited for training as Elder Peer Counselors. This training is sponsored by the Elder Peer Program of Washington County.

The Elder Peer Program was developed in 1981 to meet the needs of the older adult in Washington County. The Elder Peer Program is a joint project of the Washington County Mental Health Center and the Washington County Office on Aging.

The Elder Peer Counselors participate in a twelve (12) session training course that develops their skills in assessment, interviewing, listening, and knowledge of the physical and psychological aspects of aging. They are taught how to use community resources and to develop basic counseling skills.

The Elder Peer Counselors provide a bridge to the traditional health services. They receive ongoing consultation and supervision with the outpatient therapist of the Mental Health Center. All Elder Peer Counselor services are offered to Washington County residents at no charge.

Community presentations and caregiver support groups are also offered as a service of the Elder Peer Program. If you or your group are interested in volunteering or receiving more information, please contact Bill Driscoll at 338-4545.

Youth to Participate in Activities in Observance of National Farm-City Week

Youth will be participating in a series of week-long activities as they observe National Farm-City Week from Nov. 16-22.

National Farm-City Week is a nationwide effort designed to create a better understanding of the American farmer, the needs of suburban city dwellers and the interdependence of each segment in maintaining our nation's supply of food and fiber.

Since its inception in 1955, the National Farm-City Council has traditionally promoted youth activities as a vital part of Farm-City Week, and youth continues to be a vital force in planning and conducting special activities at the local level.

Last year Farm-City Week was observed in more than 18,000 U.S. and Canadian communities. The success of Farm-City Week is also evident in that it has gained the interest and commitment of more than 150 business, government, educational, industrial, religious and professional institutions.

The National Farm-City Council suggests the following activities: "Farm-City Day" at school or throughout the entire community or county; booths and exhibits at youth exhibitions, shopping malls, schools; local publicity of Farm-City Week in the local paper, newsletters, and on radio and television; a "Career Day" to provide youth with information about the career possibilities in agriculture, business, industry and the professions; a Children's Barnyard exhibit of farm animals in parks or shopping centers; and exchange programs for farm and urban youth to see how the "other half" lives. The National Farm-City Council is a non-profit organization headed by its 1984 National Chairman, Dale E. Ruckman, Vice President and administrative assistant to the CEO, Farm Credit Banks of St. Louis, (Mo.).

A presidential proclamation and a joint congressional resolution have called for Farm-City Week observances each year since the inception of the event. For further information contact the National Farm-City Council, c/o Kiwanis International, 3636 Woodview Trace, Indianapolis, IN 46268.

Also special thanks to the Ladies Aid and Women's Club members and a very special thank you to the Kewaskum High School classes of 1931-32 who remembered me with their thoughtfulness and monetary gift.

I wish to thank everyone for their flowers, bakery, meals, phone calls and all the beautiful cards with the special well wishes. These acts of kindness you all did for me in so many different ways are deeply appreciated.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of Mary Behring, who passed away one year ago, November 6, 1983:

We watched through all your suffering, and often had to cry, For we knew that very soon, we'd have to say Good Bye,

When days are sad and lonely and everything goes wrong, we seem to hear your whisper, "Cheer up and carry on."

Each time we see your picture, you seem to smile and say;

"Don't cry, my loved ones, I'm only sleeping, we'll meet again someday."

Sadly missed by her husband, mother, father, sisters and brothers.

Order Blanks for Trees and Wildlife Shrubs Now Available

Order blanks for trees and wildlife shrubs are now available, according to William L. Carlson, Forester for the Department of Natural Resources Southeast District.

Both evergreen and hardwood tree seedlings as well as shrubs are available to establish windbreaks or shelterbelts, to control soil erosion and for game food or cover. There are eleven tree and six shrub species available. The tree species available are Black Walnut, Sugar Maple, Red Oak, White Oak, White Ash, Red Pine, White Pine, Norway Spruce, White Spruce, White Cedar and Jackpine. The shrub species include Mixed Crab, Ninebark, Silky Dogwood, Hawthorne, Highbush Cranberry and Mountain Ash.

Landowners are encouraged to order as soon as possible. Although state nurseries have increased their projection, supplies are still limited. Orders must consist of at least 500 trees of one species and age, 500 wild life shrubs in multiples of 100 of each species or one packet. Two types of packets are being offered. The wildlife packet consists of 100 hardwoods, 100 conifers and 100 shrubs. The windbreak/shelter-belt packet is made up of 300 evergreens of two different tree species.

Carlson noted that it is illegal to use trees and shrubs for ornamental or landscaping purposes. They also cannot be used for growing Christmas trees, except where Christmas trees may be a byproduct of their growing, partial cutting or other accepted forest management practices. If the proposed planting is ornamental or landscaping in nature, landowners should purchase their stocks from a private nursery. A listing of private nurseries is available from William Carlson and other DNR offices.

Landowners wishing to apply for seedlings may obtain an application form from the University of Wisconsin - Extension Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Stabilization/Conservation Service and DNR offices. Written requests for applications should include a stamped, self-addressed business size envelope.

Advice on planning reforestation and wildlife projects are available from William Carlson and other DNR foresters throughout the state.

Indians' Follmann E-W 'Player of Year'

By John Harju

Senior quarterback Mark Follmann was named E-W's Offensive Player of the Year at last Thursday's annual balloting meeting.

The 6'2," 175 pound Follmann, who has been the Indians' QB since his sophomore year and who was the second team QB last year, was unanimously selected for the honor as well as being unanimously selected at first team QB.

In addition to Follmann's nomination, senior Tom Herriges won first team honors at offensive end while senior offensive guard John Gundrum and senior offensive end Mike Steinhardt were named to the second team. End-wingback junior Tim Rohlinger was given honorable mention.

Follmann finished this year's conference season by completing 95 of 173 passes for 1,073 yards (63%). He also ran or passed for all of Kewaskum's conference scores. For his KHS career, Follmann completed 190 out of 365 attempts (53%) for 2,505 yards and 33 TDs.

Herriges caught 29 passes for 379 yards to lead the league. He caught one touchdown and had a 13.1 yard average per catch with his longest reception being a 44-yarder.

Gundrum, a 6' 185 pound senior, "was probably our best lineman," according to coach Mike Fifrick, while Steinhardt, a 6'5" 195 pound senior, had stats including 15 receptions for 229 yards and 5 TDs even though he went down for the season during the second quarter of Kewaskum's second last game.

Every school except Plymouth placed at least one player on the all-conference team.

All of the all-conference selections are seniors except Peterson of Two Rivers and Voelker of Kiel, who are juniors.

Kewaskum Connection Continues

Scott Klein Named UW-Stevens Point Wrestling Captain

At first glance, a person would have a time finding anything that Kewaskum High School and the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point have in common.

A closer look, however, reveals that for the fourth time over the past nine seasons, the team captain of the UW-SP wrestling team is from Kewaskum High School.

This year's addition to the captain's list is Scott Klein, a 1981 graduate of Kewaskum who is a four-year starter. The 126 pound Klein compiled a 15-12 record last season.

Klein joins a distinguished list which includes Joe Ketter, Cal Tackes and most recently Dan Schmidt. Ketter was the first as he captained the 1975 squad while Tackes led Point's 1976-77 and 1977-78 teams. Schmidt is the only captain to lead three squads as he headed the teams from 1979 through 1982.

Tackes is currently the head wrestling coach at Stratford High School while Schmidt recently completed his master's degree in exercise physiology at Purdue University.

In naming Klein captain of this year's Pointer squad, UW-SP coach John Munson praised him for his dedication to the team.

"Scott is recognized as one of the toughest competitors in the Wisconsin State University Conference," Munson said. "His work habits rub off on our younger wrestlers. Nobody is able to outwork him as he constantly strives to improve his wrestling skills."

In the same mold as his predecessors, Klein's talents are not just limited to wrestling. He has a double major in managerial accounting and business finance plus minor in Spanish and economics. He is also a member of the ABES Accounting Club, Fastrack, and is the UW-SP student government budget controller.

In saluting the quality of his four captains from Kewaskum, Munson also took time to acknowledge the quality of the Kewaskum school system.

"Kewaskum school system teachers and coaches are to be complimented for producing high quality people. We have enjoyed the fruits of their work over the past nine years. These student-athletes are obviously reflections of those who taught them."

The only question that remains for Munson is who will be the next Kewaskum wrestler to step forward and lead the Pointers. One thing for sure, Munson will enjoy his leadership.

Trespass decriminalized

Landowners liability limited

Starting October 1st of this year a new law decriminalizes trespass in Wisconsin with offenders to receive a ticket similar to a traffic citation.

A maximum fine of $1,000 is specified in the new law although the actual amount will depend on the situation. As in the past, enforcement will be carried out by local police officials not DNR wardens.

The decriminalization law also limits landowner liability for recreational activities on their property. Among activities for which liability is limited are hunting, fishing, trapping, camping, picnicking, exploring caves, nature study, bicycling, horseback riding, bird watching, motorcycling, hiking, snowmobiling, skiing and sight-seeing.

Secor All-Conference In E-W Volleyball

By John Harju

Kewaskum senior Sandy Secor was named to the first team all-Eastern Wisconsin conference volleyball team at last Thursday's balloting.

Secor, a 5'7" spiker who was given honorable mention last year, joined five other E-W seniors on this year's first team. They include: Lisa Weedman, 5'8," Plymouth; Kathy Jacquert, 5'9," Two Rivers; Lisa Parent, 5'6," Sheboygan Falls; Candy Keyes, 5'8," and Kathy Steffen, 5'9," both from New Holstein, which won the E-W title with an 11-1 record.

Kewaskum coach Dave Rizzardi commented that Secor highly deserved the nomination to the first team, noting that her strong leading ability allowed her to turn an average spike into a strong serve.

Kewaskum, which finished with a 4-8 record and fifth place in the E-W, didn't have anyone named to the second team, but 5'10" junior Lisa Fusek did receive honorable mention for her season's efforts.
