New Curfew for Village Snowmobilers

Kewaskum Will Not Sign Landfill Closure Agreement

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

On a unanimous vote, the Kewaskum Village Board, at its meeting Monday night, adopted a resolution stating the village president or administrator are not authorized to sign a Department of Natural Resources agreement to close the village's landfill by 1999.

The move came after considerable discussion of the DNR's letter the past several meetings. Although the board's action will not guarantee the landfill will remain open, it informs the DNR of the village's decision to operate the site as long as possible. Administrator Dan Schmidt noted at earlier meetings that signing the agreement, however, would not guarantee the site would remain open until 1999. The DNR could still decide to close the site at any time, whether the village signed the agreement or not. The landfill is used for the disposal of such things as brush, leaves, grass clippings and some types of construction debris.

In other action, the board approved a recommendation by Trustee David Nigh that the village immediately begin hauling its garbage to the Zahn transfer site rather than waiting until January 1985. Poor winter road conditions and the time saved in transport were the primary reasons for moving up the switch in disposal sites.

Robert Staehler, president of the Kewaskum Sno-Chiefs Snowmobile Club, appeared before the board to ask for the board's annual approval of snowmobile routes within the village limits.

Staehler also asked the board to consider amending the village's curfew on the operation of snowmobiles in the village. He explained that with the improved technology of

Hwy. 28 West Open to Traffic? Not This Year

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

With the completion date of October, 1984, come and gone, residents along Highway 28, west out of Kewaskum will be looking down a "long dusty road" for many months to come.

In a telephone conversation Tuesday, with William Bordihn of the Wisconsin Department of Transportation office in Waukesha, this reporter learned it will be next summer before the reconstruction project is completed.

Bordihn was asked what the problem was and why the hold-up in completing a job that had more than enough time and good weather to see a new road in by the end of the year. The contract was bid on completion in 110 working days. However, according to Bordihn's records, there are 23-1/4 days left.

Bordihn said it was a combination of things including weather and slow movement on the part of the prime contractor, Stoehr Grading Company. October was a very wet month said Bordihn, however, he agreed there was ample time for Stoehr to make up the work. "There were letters and meetings," said Bordihn, "but we can only pressure a contractor just so much."

There was some rumor that the contractor had accepted more jobs than it could handle resulting in a slow-up of work on Highway 28, this could not be confirmed though.

Bordihn stated while the state had hoped to have the road blacktopped by the end of October, there are still sections which have not even been graveled yet. "Our plans now, are to have the entire roadway graveled and signs off the roadway discouraging thru-traffic other than local traffic and school busses."

Bordihn was asked if the contractor would be fined for not completing the project on time. Since the contract was based on a working-day and not a "date" deadline, Bordihn said no action could be taken until the 23 remaining days were used up, which will probably be next year, and the job still not done. He anticipates final blacktopping will take about a month. With only 23 working days left, Stoehr would be late approximately seven to ten days, according to this reporter's calculations. Not necessarily, indicated Bordihn. The State only considers Monday through Friday as working days. Therefore, if the contractor works on Saturdays and Sundays, his own time, he still could complete the job on time, within the 110 day contract.

If the contractor goes beyond the 110 days, however, the State will assess him $540 per day in liquidated damages. A contractor cannot be fined said Bordihn, but we can charge for the extra time and paperwork through a liquidated damages clause.

Meanwhile, with the onset of cold weather, all work will be halted except for the remaining gravel work. "If we have a dry May, we will finish then, if not, it will be June, 1985, before we finish the final asphaltting," said Bordihn.

Stollenwerk Will Not Seek Re-Election

Gerald Stollenwerk

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Kewaskum's Village Board President Gerald Stollenwerk has announced he will not run for re-election next April.

His statement came at the end of Monday night's regular board meeting. Stollenwerk told the meeting: "I will not be seeking re-election in April. I am making the announcement now to provide sufficient time for the current members to consider running for the village presidency. I have been president for five years. It has been a very rewarding experience and I have no regrets. However, now I feel it is someone else's turn. The Village of Kewaskum is 'alive and well.' We have an effective and dedicated administrator and department heads working harmoniously for the good of Kewaskum. Also,

we are in a good financial position."

Stollenwerk was elected to the board in 1980. He served as trustee for approximately nine months before being appointed board president, replacing Robert Danielson, who resigned before completing his term. Stollenwerk went on to run successfully for his own term as president.

Stollenwerk's announcement was completely unexpected. Trustee David Nigh said he was surprised by Stollenwerk's announcement. "I hadn't realized he had been president that long," said Nigh.

Besides, Stollenwerk's office, three trustees will be up for re-election. They are Mary Krueger, Paul Blumer and David Nigh. Nigh said he has not made any decision as to whether or not he will run for another term.

Correctional Institutes Toured By KHS Social Studies Classes

Mr. Rhode's high school social studies classes went to the Kettle Moraine Correctional Institute and to the Dodge County Correctional Institute in Waupun on Nov. 15th.

The students participated in a program called "Project Aware" which is a take-off of the original "Scared Straight" aired on television.

At the Kettle Moraine Institute seven convicts, convicted of anything from murder, to drug involvement, to armed robbery, talked to students about their lives before prison, life in prison and also tried to tell students how and why to stay out of prison.

The session at the Dodge County Institute was given by the administration. They told of the daily life of a prisoner and gave a very informative slide presentation.

The students found the presentations to be valuable experiences.

today's machines, noise levels have been drastically reduced and also, snowmobilers are now traveling three to four times farther on an evening ride than they were a few years ago. Staehler noted snowmobilers from outside the village also come into town and spend money through stopping at area restaurants to eat, etc. "With the village's present 11:00 p.m. curfew, I still might be 30 miles from home," said Staehler, "making it difficult to return home without going against the law."

Trustee Howard Laubenstein said he, Staehler, and Chief Hlavaty had discussed the situation. Laubenstein recommended the hours be amended from the present 11:00 p.m. to 8:00 a.m., to 2:00 a.m. to 6:00 a.m. President Gerald Stollenwerk asked Hlavaty if he had any problem with Laubenstein's recommendation. The Chief said no. "The time has really never been a big problem," said Hlavaty.

Staehler told the board 10 miles-per-hour speed limit signs had been posted all over the village. He also informed the board his club was holding a public meeting, Sunday, December 9th, open to all snowmobilers. At that time, all the village's regulations will be presented. "We are trying very hard to cooperate with the rules and regulations," stated Staehler. "After our meeting, there will be no excuses for breaking the law."

Laubenstein stated, there still is a curfew for youngsters which must be obeyed. Staehler agreed with that. On a unanimous vote the board approved Laubenstein's recommendation to amend the curfew hours to 2:00 a.m. to 6:00 a.m.

The board also approved a resolution to retain the accounting firm of Virchow, Krause to audit the village's books for 1984. Finance Committee Chairman Dave Nigh said he had instructed Schmidt to obtain bids for the work. Kannenberg & Kieckhafer, the village's present firm, bid $3,625, Virchow, Krause $4,300, and Conley, McDonald & Sprague were high at $4,800. Nigh recommended going with Virchow, Krause even though they were not low bidders, rather than Kannenberg. Schmidt and Nigh said there had been problems with the present company including discrepancies in the 1983 audit. In other years, the company had also been late in completing the audits.

Trustee Mary Krueger questioned whether or not the 1983 audit had been accepted by the federal government. Schmidt indicated yes, but with a letter of duress, because of the discrepancies. Krueger said Kannenberg seems to have answered our questions. "Not to my satisfaction," said Schmidt, "they either gave little or no information." Schmidt also recommended going with a new accounting firm, feeling the village would benefit from the change. Krueger noted the audit had been accepted and felt the discrepancies could not have been that serious if the feds accepted it. She also favored Kannenberg because they were $675 cheaper. Referring to mistakes, Schmidt told Krueger, there's a $38,000 error in our 1983 sewer department audit.

Trustee Don Mlodzik said he was in favor of switching accountants. People who have experience in this area have given us this advice before, I think its time we should take it. On a 5 to 2 vote, Krueger and Tom McElhatton voting nay, the board approved the new accounting firm.

Schmidt also informed the board he had received the state tax credit of $2.26, up 2.3% over last year.

The board then adjourned to close session.

a subway to the Empire State Building where they were treated to a guided tour of the towering structure. They also were given time to explore "Macy's" and Fifth Avenue. From here the group was transported back to Washington Airport where they boarded their flight home at approximately 7:00 p.m. on Monday.

The group arrived back in Milwaukee at 10:00 p.m., tired, broke, but rich in travel experience.

Thirteen KHS juniors and seniors spent their Thanksgiving vacation (Nov. 22-26) on a guided tour of Washington, D.C. and New York City.

The students and their chaperone, KHS vice-principal Roy Esser, left Milwaukee at approximately 4:05 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 22, via Northwest Flight #378 and arrived in Washington, D.C. almost 1½ hours later. That evening, they toured the Jefferson, Lincoln, and Marine Memorials, as well as the John F. Kennedy Center of the Performing Arts.

The next day the students toured Arlington National Cemetery where they witnessed the impressive changing of the guard ceremony at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, as well as seeing the gravesights of John F. and Robert Kennedy. From here the students went to Christ Church, the church George Washington attended, and to Mount Vernon, the home of Washington.

Returning back to Washington, D.C., the group was guided through the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and the Smithsonian Institute of Technology. During the evening, the students toured the Congressional Library and passed through Embassy Row and Georgetown.

On Friday, the students visited the Capitol, National Archives, Ford Theatre, Peterson House (the house where Lincoln died after being shot across the street at Ford's Theatre), and the Washington Monument. The White House was too crowded to be toured.

The students ended their busy day with an evening bus ride to New York City where they bedded down for the night in a hotel just off Times Square.

On Saturday, the students enjoyed a tour of Manhattan. Included was the Garment District, the Bowery, Chinatown, the Financial District, Central Park, Lincoln Center, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, and Millionaires Row. Highlighting the day was a tour of the Statue of Liberty by ferry boat and the United Nations.

On Sunday, the students took

Loveroot

The following poem was written by Diana Darin, 18 oldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joe [Patty] Darin of Brookfield. She is the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. R.G. Edwards, who submitted the poem. Diana is attending the University of Wisconsin.

I sprouted from the stem and started to grow.
I was shadowed by your gentle leaves
and guided with your branches.
you showed me -
to reach to the sun,
blow in the wind
and most of all to grow...
grow strong amongst the others,
to bloom loudly,
and never
wilt without a fight.
but there was a time
when our roots entangled the sun was hidden and I didn't follow your branches-
I didn't need your leaves.
I thought I could bloom
on my own,
and grow without your help.
of course, I was wrong.
I missed your leaves.
they weren't as vivid-
and neither were mine.
we just weren't the same...
no more was the soil as rich
no more were we growing together.
now that it is Autumn
our leaves have fallen.
tears have enriched the soil,
laughter has cleared the skies
and the sun is shining.
we are growing leaves together,
has time away
strengthened our roots?
like vines let's
grow all over the earth and spread our roots
as before...
we now reach to the sun
and blow in the wind-never to grow away from each other again.
Oh mumma, thank you for giving me my life!

Local Schools Participating in State Academic Competition

School District Administrator John Long recently named the nine high school students who will represent the Kewaskum School District in the statewide Academic Decathlon program sponsored by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction (DPI).

Members of the district's Academic Decathlon team are: Michelle Beesten, Mike Steinhardt, Sandy Secor, Sharon Land, Amber Charland, Denise Meyer, Paul McFadden, Tom Herriges, Vic Dobney, and Craig Miller.

"The decathlon program is aimed at stimulating competition among junior and senior high school students and at promoting respect for and interest in academic excellence," Mr. Long said.

According to Dave Wietor, Co-ordinator of the decathlon team and high school counselor, ten students applied for the nine team positions. The nine member team will be composed of students with an equal number of "A," "B," and "C" grade-point averages.

"To prepare for the competition, our decathlon team studied with various teachers between 2 and 3 hours a night for the past three weeks," Mr. Wietor said. The following teachers held the sessions with the team: John Baitinger, Gail Dehnel, Larry Ammel, Dave Bertelsen, Fran Charland, Dean Roe, Bill Lickel, Gerry Gosa, Denise Leong, Mike Fifrick and Terry Candelario.

During the week of November 17, participating high schools administered the first exam. The top scoring high schools from the state's 12 regional cooperative educational service agencies (CESA) plus the next 12 highest scoring teams in the state on the qualifying exam will advance to the second level of competition in January at six regional sites.

The top scoring team at each of the six regional competitions plus the next three top scoring teams will then meet in Madison in February to determine who will represent Wisconsin at the International Academic Decathlon in Los Angeles, California next spring.

The exams at the state level will consist of six tests of academic strength in economics, language and literature, fine arts, mathematics, science, and social studies; three demonstrations of communications skills—interview, essay, and speech—and a Super Quiz on "futurism."

Noting that nearly half of Wisconsin's 420 public and private high school plan to participate in this first full-scale state Academic Decathlon program, Wietor said, "The competition will be stiff but I am confident our team will represent our school and community very well."

Commenting on the Academic Decathlon program, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Herbert J. Grover said, "We're exceedingly pleased with the number of high schools that have signed up for participation. Intellectual competition is part and parcel of all our life's experiences. In that sense, the Academic Decathlon is the kind of program we like to promote to provide opportunities for our students to gain that experience early in their lives."

Consumer Alert

MADISON — "Beware of 'free' prizes arriving C.O.D. especially if they arrive from Los Angeles and cost between $50 and $100," Attorney General Bronson C. La Follette said today.

The Office of Consumer Protection reports a new onslaught of calls from Wisconsin businesspeople who have received promotional mailings from a number of California firms. The schemes are all the same: the mailing arrives with great news of your free gift from an impressive list of potential prizes. You return a card stating your interest in being a winner, they send you a C.O.D. envelope or package that will tell you what you've won. Everyone who pays the money discovers that they've won the same prize — recently a gemstone collection, which turns out to be worthless.

The Postal Inspector from Los Angeles has issued a list of fourteen companies operating boiler room schemes under the firm of Meddock & Sons: Zevulun Marketing, Shallon International, Executive Promotions, Beverly Hills Telephone Consultants, ISZ Enterprises, IBC, Buckingham Promotions, Farthingham Promotions, Ultra Promotions, Metropolitan Promo Company, City

(or Citi) Corp. Promo Company, U.S. Premiums and Mitchell Brothers. "I urge Wisconsin business not to accept C.O.D. packages from these firms," La Follette said. "Once the money is paid to the postal service for C.O.D. packages, the money is gone — those checks cannot be cancelled."

La Follette also urged businesses to alert their employees not to accept any C.O.D. packages that have not been approved ahead of time by their supervisors. One of the reasons these kinds of schemes are successful is that many state businesses frequently receive legitimate C.O.D. packages in the course of the business week.

"If you're not sure, don't sign until you check out the company name and address on the package with others in your company or with our office," La Follette said.

The Office of Consumer Protection has alerted all state Chambers of Commerce plus other business groups to be on constant alert for these and other promotional prize offers, La Follette said. "The names and prizes change so quickly that it's almost impossible to keep up with all the variations," La Follette cautioned. The key to avoiding problems is, "If you have to pay to get something 'free' — don't sign."

Last Tuesday night around 11 p.m., fire of unknown origin gutted the interior of the Stella Cheese Company warehouse, located just north of the Northwestern railway station at Campbellsport, and for a time it looked as though the nearby residential buildings would also go, as there was a heavy wind of about 35 miles an hour blowing at the time. Although the fire was confined to the interior of the building, the loss will be about $10,000. It is also claimed that about $50,000 worth of cheese stored in the warehouse is badly damaged. The fire was noticed by Engineer Bashford on a southbound Northwestern passenger train when they pulled through the village shortly before 11 p.m. The engineer sounded the locomotive whistle repeatedly until he succeeded in arousing the village. Repairs on the building will be begun immediately.

Stanley Heppe, a relative of Frank Heppe of this village, and a member of the Slinger baseball team of the Land O' Lakes league for the past two seasons, has signed a contract to play with the Knoxville, Tennessee, team of the Southern league for the 1935 season.

Clarence A. Schwartz, Sheriff

Local Sheriff Announces Honorary Membership Program

Sheriff Clarence Schwartz recently announced that Washington County citizens who would like to join him in the fight against crime are invited to become honorary members of the Wisconsin Sheriffs and Deputy Sheriffs Association.

Founded in 1947, the Wisconsin Sheriffs and Deputy Sheriffs Association is a non-profit professional and educational organization dedicated to the preservation of peace and the protection of the lives and property of the citizens of Wisconsin, according to the Sheriff.

The honorary membership was begun to provide citizens with an opportunity to lend their support to more effective law enforcement and to better help local sheriffs protect the lives and property of citizens.

We are inviting the public to help us to better serve them by joining the fight for effective law enforcement, said Schwartz. County residents should soon receive membership applications in the mail. It is difficult to get an application to everyone who might want to join the Wisconsin Sheriffs and Deputy Sheriff Association as an honorary member. If you don't receive an application by mail you can come to the Sheriff's Department or you can send your name, address and check — $20.00 for an individual membership — to the Wisconsin Sheriffs and Deputy Sheriffs Association, P.O. Box 145, Chippewa Falls, WI 54729.

Membership dues are to upgrade, professionalize and train our officers to protect the men, women and children of Washington County, said Sheriff Schwartz. In addition, all honorary members will receive a membership certificate, a windshield decal, two bumper stickers, and a year's subscription to the Association's publication.

The theme of this year's membership campaign is "HELP PUT THE CUFFS ON CRIME." I hope that all law abiding citizens of this county will join me in the fight for good law enforcement by joining the Wisconsin Sheriffs and Deputy Sheriffs Association when your membership letter is received, Schwartz concluded.

Sheriff's Dept. Has Film Available to Schools, Youth Groups

The Washington County Sheriff's Department has purchased the film "Better Safe than Sorry, Part II." According to Washington County Sheriff Clarence A. Schwartz, this film will be made available to interested schools and youth groups. The film is targeted for students in the kindergarten and primary grades. The film is designed to teach children to avoid situations of potential sexual child abuse and to help them understand what to do should such a situation occur.

"The narrator discusses the problem with a group of children, the children are urged to play a game of 'Let's Pretend' in which they picture themselves in certain situations and are asked to make decisions based on the circumstances they encounter," the Sheriff said.

There are four situations covered in the film. The first involves two young girls who are asked by a man to go with him to help find his dog. Then, three boys are confronted by a man who for no particular reason is hanging around their playground. A third situation involves a girl who is unexpectedly invited into a neighbor's house on the way home from school. Finally, a young boy is told by someone in his home not to tell anyone about an incestuous incident that has just transpired.

All of the situations are handled with sensitivity and are not designed to frighten or shock the children.

"This is a very impressive film and has been met with enthusiasm by both social workers and law enforcement officers alike. We are pleased to make this film available to interested groups," the Sheriff said.

The Washington County Sheriff's Department regularly presents "STRANGER DANGER" programs at the request of schools and groups. Requests for the "STRANGER DANGER" program which incorporates the use of the "Better Safe Than Sorry" film can be made to the Washington County Sheriff's Department at 338-4432, 644-5204 Extension 4432, and 342-3537 Extension 4432.

INFLUENZA SEASON APPROACHING

Along with the cold temperatures this winter comes something that can make your life and the lives of members of your family miserable. This is influenza or more commonly called the flu.

While the beginning of the flu season varies from year to year, state health officials say that early cases start appearing in November and December and that by January, February and March, the season is in full swing.

This year, health officials are predicting the return of three flu strains or their variations: Type A/Philippines, Type A/Chili and Type B/USSR. Predicting the flu strains which will be prevalent is tricky business. This is because flu strains can mutate which usually leads to some slight change in the flu strain.

Flu is caused by a virus that spreads from one person to another in the spray from coughs and sneezes. The virus enters the upper part of the respiratory tract through the nose or mouth, and it may also invade the rest of the tract, including the lungs.

The flu victim usually becomes acutely ill with fever (sometimes as high as 104 degrees), chills, weakness, loss of appetite, and aching of the head, back, arms and legs. The flu sufferer may also have a sore throat and dry cough, nausea, and burning eyes.

While the flu is a moderately severe illness for most people, a certain part of the population falls into the high risk category, that is, they are particularly susceptible to complications that can follow the flu. It is important that individuals at high risk be vaccinated yearly against flu.

If you are among the nearly 580,000 Wisconsinites who are age 65 or older, or who, regardless of age, suffers from a chronic lung disease such as asthma, emphysema, bronchitis, bronchiectasis, tuberculosis, or cystic fibrosis, or from such chronic conditions as heart disease, kidney disease, diabetes and other chronic metabolic diseases, you should be vaccinated. Vaccinations can be obtained from your physician or local public health agency.

Since children tolerate flu viruses well, and because the vaccines are not entirely free of side effects, flu shots are not ordinarily indicated for children.

The flu is often hard to distinguish from the common cold. In general the flu is most likely to come on suddenly, while colds tend to build up gradually. Furthermore, the symptoms of a cold tend to be more specific such as runny nose or sneezing, while flu symptoms are more generalized such as muscle pain or weakness.

If you should come down with the flu this winter, the best medicine is to rest, keep warm, and drink plenty of water and fruit juices. If your fever lasts more than three days, or if you become short of breath while resting, call your physician. Beyond this, there is not much you can do but let the illness run its course. Within one to two weeks you should be fully recovered.

The weaverbird, a relative of the sparrow, lives in large nest colonies—with as many as seventy birds populating a single tree.

Budgeting: The Key to a Worry Free Christmas

by Joyce Albrecht
Extension Home Economist

The many joys of Christmas: having dinner with relatives and friends, relaxing on a day of warmth and peace, opening gifts—and worrying about all the money you spent.

Before you spend more than you can afford again this year, plan ahead. There are many small ways to make Christmas happy and worry-free.

Before you go to the store and get caught up in the holiday frenzy, make a list of gifts or holiday foods to shop for and estimate how much you can afford to spend. This will keep you from frantically shopping at the last minute.

If you find that the amount you want to spend is too much for your December budget, you may be able to put off payment by using credit. But ask yourself if paying later is a good solution and if you want to spend next year's money on this year's gifts.

Pay cash if you can, or investigate credit options offered by local retailers. Some offer a deferred payment plan with no finance charge if you pay the bill within ninety days. But make sure you'll be able to pay the bill when it's due.

If you don't want to charge anything, give a promissory note for a surprise gift or a picture of an intended gift. Then you can shop for it during the after-holiday sales.

Another way to spread Christmas cheer past December is to give gift certificates. Parents can turn their children's music lessons into a gift. This makes the lessons special and teaches children the monetary value of gifts. Or they can give a gift certificate for summer camp, to be redeemed in June. Make it even more special by including a picture or brochure that shows what they will get when the time comes.

If you like to buy expensive, elaborate gifts for your loved ones, but can't afford it, think about whether this is really what they want. Often, family treasures such as photographs or jewelry that have been in the family for years, or something you make yourself are valued more than anything you could buy.

But if an expensive gift is really what you want to give, consider pooling your resources with those of others. For gifts for your parents, ask your brothers and sisters to go in with you and encourage your children to do the same. They may be able to buy a more valuable gift than one person alone could afford, and each may be spending less. Or, instead of everyone buying gifts for everyone else, draw names so that each gives a gift to just one person.

Holiday entertaining can also be costly. Simplify your entertaining and meals. Substitute creative ideas for elaborate foods, or serve only a few special items, like two or three of your favorite Christmas cookies instead of a large variety. You'll cut down on the amount of food to prepare and eliminate waste.

Tasty, non-alcoholic beverages will save you money and free you from worry about guests over-indulging and possibly have car accidents.

For those of you who love to go all out on Christmas decorations, don't feel that you have to buy new ones each year. Holiday decorations from past years are probably more charming than this year's tinsel items.

CHRISTMAS SAFETY

Christmas trimmings, trees and wrappings add up to festivity, but also to fire; the most frequent and most often tragic of all of the season's hazards. To help prevent a Christmas fire:

*Pick a tree as fresh as possible. Be sure needles are not dried out.

*Cut the trunk diagonally about two inches above the original cut and place in water, wet dirt or sand. Set up away from heat.

*Do not use candles on a Christmas tree. Use only lights with a UL (Underwriters' Laboratories) or a recognized testing laboratory label of approval. Be sure cords are in good condition. Check for overloaded circuits. Keep cords away from traffic areas. Identify proper types of outdoor lighting.

*If using a fireplace, be sure the opening is completely covered with a tight screen.

*Do not burn a large amount of trash or wrapping paper in a fireplace. Remember that soft woods, such as pine and spruce burn quickly, throwing sparks and coating the chimney with resins that could start a chimney fire.

*Avoid hanging stockings or greens from the mantel if the fireplace is being used.

Fire is not the only Christmas hazard, however. Slippery streets, the holiday rush and poor visibility take their toll every year. One of every four Christmas accidents involves a pedestrian. Christmas toys also contribute to the season's mishaps, especially those which are unsafe or unsuited to the age of the recipient.

When selecting that special toy consider durability, construction, if parts of the toy could pull off and cause choking, child's age relating to the toy, and flammability of the product.

Have a Happy Holiday Season - but a safe one!!

ON THE WAY TO VICTORY

The following news story was written by Gere Bamchill of Mequon, a classmate of R. G. Edwards, M.D., Kewaskum, who is attending classes in Creative Writing at Concordia College:

My mom was constantly ill - either in the hospital or at home in a very weak condition. It was her body that was feeble, not her mind. My mom was very creative, writing stories and poetry, and reading all hours of day and night. Reading the newspaper one evening, she noticed "NEED TALENT FOR TALENT SHOW," the talent show was to be held in Wausau to benefit St. Mary's Hospital.

The next day she entered me in the talent show. Later, after she informed me of what had transpired while I was at school, I questioned her as to what I was going to do? My mother just shook her head and told me not to worry—she would take care of everything.

My mind began to spin - now what could I do... What was my talent...

I remember leading the band as a majorette on a beautiful Memorial Day. I was really twirling up a storm, when the end of my baton flew off—into a spectator's face. I really don't want to do this again. OR

I have always like acrobatics - was a cheerleader, once as I was doing a cartwheel I lost my shoe. No more penny loafers, from that time on I wore saddle shoes... embarrassing to say the least. OR

My sister and I had danced in a previous talent show. We were the wooden dolls, I as a soldier and my sister a ballerina. Not good enough I'm sure...

At last she called me to read something she had been writing - mmm-very interesting, quite funny, YES!!

"THERE THEY GO FOLKS FASTER AND FASTER"

She had written a monologue, a parody of a race car announcer, as he would be calling the Sunday afternoon race. My mom even had a P38 entering the race down the stretch. All the drivers were well known in Wausau - such celebrities as the Mayor, Judge, etc...

We started rehearsal immediately (after dishes). I stood at the end of the bed with a spoon as my microphone, at least I didn't have to twirl my baton. After a while my mother began to smile and seemed quite delighted about her new project. (I liked pleasing her and seeing her happy).

My father thought all of this excitement was fine as long as we were occupied and not bothering him—just leave me alone (pure nonsense - quite trivial) - I'm busy.

I was not allowed to read from my written copy- memorize-use facial expressions-be happy-be excited-be confused-be upset-like a dummy-around don't stand like a dummy-more expression-wow...I would like to do other things too, she should deliver this herself, she's never satisfied, all she did was write this...

My father had to travel 21 miles to pick me up in a small town called Birnamwood, for the final rehearsal and take me back again. This absolute annoyance was due to the fact that my mother was back in the hospital for surgery and I was staying at my grandmother's. My father was late, and I was already pacing back and forth very nervous and anxious. I knew he didn't want to be bothered - what an annoyance...

I jumped in the car immediately and we were off. We were definitely speeding, almost as if we were in a race ourselves, passing this car, blowing the horn, yelling at other drivers. (My father was a former race car driver). I prayed we would arrive safe, even if we were late. As we sped over this long, high hill, we definitely received the red flag for danger, - a herd of cows was crossing the road—cows all over - OH GOD... My father reacted immediately, he yelled to me "HANG ON," We swerved and swerved and slid, it was an eternity—I just knew this was going to be the end, the next stop either the hospital or the morgue.

All of a sudden we stopped... we didn't hit a single cow, we were in the ditch. My father just looked at me, as if to say, I knew we'd be okay— no problem, everything is under control, we just have to get out of the ditch— no problem. The last few miles to Wausau were completed in a very queer, strained silence, almost as if we were driving under the yellow flag (caution).

I was still shaken when we arrived. It must have been noticeable (I always thought I covered my true emotions and displayed a different person). Someone told me to sit in a chair for a while and relax (yeh sure), I was to be the last performer. I did sit down and closed my eyes, but my name was called. I honestly do not remember what I did or how I performed - I just did. I do remember some laughter and some applause. All I wanted to do was go back to my grandmother's and go to bed...

Finally the show, I had on my new dress and my hair curled. I felt tension, my palms perspiring and my knees shaking, but I went through the full dress rehearsal and smiled for my mom. My mother had arrived home from the hospital that same day, but she was unable to attend the show.

WOW... where did all of these people come from, I never saw such a huge crowd in one room. The show started on time and the performers were very energetic and creative, exceptional singers, popular musicians. (What a cute accordion player). I was really enjoying the show.

OUR NEXT CONTESTANT... GERMAINE

Compose yourself - smile - now what did my mother say?? I remember just imagine the audience is a herd of sheep—you are speaking to sheep—look at the sheep—speak loudly—smile—pause—give the audience time to react—they need time to clap or laugh.

The lights were dimmed, the spotlight was on me. I couldn't see my sheep (I mean the audience) - my knees were shaking - they laughed—AND THE WINNER IS...I WON. WOW...WE WON.

I was Miss Victory, what a beautiful trophy (I still have it).

My father met me backstage, he held my hand... I met the Mayor, my father told him I was "his" daughter. Later my father even gave me a kiss...

My face hurt, but I kept smiling and smiling. I wanted to go home and fast.

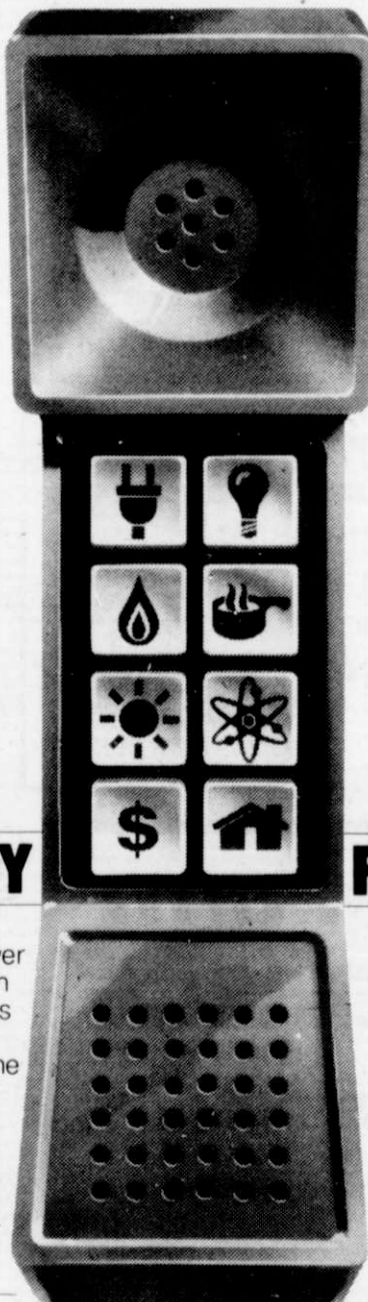

I ran to show my mom our trophy...

She cried...I cried...

THERE THEY GO FOLKS FASTER AND FASTER EACH LAP THEY MAKE IS ANOTHER MILE.

Minutes of Village Board Meeting

Special Meeting
November 26, 1984
7:00 P.M.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in special session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Gerald F. Stollenwerk presided. All Trustee Members were present.

A public hearing was held on the proposed budget for 1985. It was noted that there was no one present for the public hearing, other than two reporters. The Board reviewed the proposed budget and its impact on the tax rate. There was some detailed discussion on the Municipal Landfill account and Garbage and Refuse Collection. On a motion by Trustee Paul Blumer, seconded by Trustee Mary Krueger and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board closed the public hearing.

A public hearing was held on the proposed uses of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds. It was noted that in the past 15% was designated for Park and Recreation and 85% for Street Lighting. Administrator Daniel Schmidt indicated the Street Lighting costs are stabilizing and due to the increased amount of Federal Revenue Sharing, recommended a 20%/80% split for the two accounts equalling $6,667.20 and $26,668.80. On a motion by Trustee Donald Mlodzik, seconded by Trustee David Nigh and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board closed the public hearing on Federal Revenue Sharing Funds for 1985.

Final discussion was held on the proposed 1985 budget, which had been presented at the public hearing, in conjunction with the public hearing on the proposed use for the 1985 Federal Revenue Sharing Fund. VOTING BY ABSENTEE BALLOT

Any qualified elector, unable to get to the polling place on election day for any reason, may ask to vote by absentee ballot. A qualified elector is a person who is a U.S. citizen, who will be 18 years of age or older on election day, who has resided in the ward or municipality where the person wishes to vote at least 10 days prior to the election. If the voter resides in a municipality which requires voter registration, then registration is also required for the voter to receive an absentee ballot.

To obtain an absentee ballot, the voter should contact the clerk of the city, village or town in which the voter resides. A written request must be made by the voter for the absentee ballot. If the voter contacts the clerk by telephone the clerk will send the application form to the voter. If the voter requests an absentee ballot by mail, the written request, signed by the voter which indicates that the voter resides within the municipality, will be honored. Written requests may be made beginning three months prior to the primary election. The deadline for receipt of the written request by mail is 5:00 p.m. on the Friday before the election. If the voter goes to the clerk's office to complete a written request, the request must be made no later than 5:00 p.m. on the day before the election.

With one exception, the voter who wants to cast an absentee ballot, must make a separate written request before each election. If a voter is indefinitely confined to their home or a care facility because of illness, age, or disability, the voter need not make a request before each election. There is a special statement on the application form which is provided by the municipal clerk which can be completed asking that an absentee ballot be automatically mailed to the voter before each election if they are indefinitely confined. If the indefinitely confined voter fails to vote and return the ballot sent to the voter, a separate written request for the next election must be made before the voter can get a ballot.

The municipal clerk will send the absentee ballot to the voter once the request is received and the ballots are prepared. Absentee ballots are available three weeks prior to the election. The municipal clerk keeps a record of all individuals requesting an absentee ballot, when the ballot is sent and returned to the municipal clerk.

Absentee ballots can be voted at home any time after they are received in the mail. Absentee ballots can also be voted in the clerk's office if the voter appears in person and fills out the written request. The voter should make sure that the affidavit-certificate is properly completed and witnessed by two persons. The voter and the witnesses must sign the certificate on the absentee ballot carrier envelope. If the absentee elector receives assistance in marking the ballot, the assistance must be provided by a person authorized to administer oaths such as a notary public, municipal clerk or deputy municipal clerk. The municipal clerk will make sure that the affidavit-certificate is properly completed by the voter when the absentee ballot is voted in the clerk's office.

The completed absentee ballot must be in the hands of the issuing municipal clerk no later than the close of the polls on election day. Voted absentee ballots may be delivered in person to the municipal clerk. Any absentee ballot received after the polls close or any ballots which are not properly completed cannot be counted.

By John Harju

The KHS wrestling team was overwhelmed by a strong West Bend East squad, 48-14, last Thursday night in Kewaskum.

Kewaskum managed just two wins on the night. 126-pound senior Bob Callison upped his seasonal record to 4-0 by pinning West Bend East's Pat Spaeth in 4:33.

Indian heavyweight Jeff Diels also won via pin. 132-pound Rick Staehler battled his East opponent Matt Muckerheide, who like Callison, was a state qualifier last year, to a draw.

After jumping out to a 3-0 lead, Staehler suffered a take-down in the final seconds and had to settle for a 3-3 tie.

Indians Nipped by West Bend West, Defeat Falls

By John Harju

Free throws decided the outcome of last Tuesday's game in which host West Bend West edged Kewaskum, 67-64.

The Indians made a respectable 14 out of 22 from the line (64%). The Spartans, however, literally "lived" at the free throw line, making 29 out of 37 attempts (78%). (14 out of 21 in the fourth quarter).

"When a team gets to the free throw line 37 times, it's going to be hard to beat them," commented KHS coach Perry Koth. This definitely held true last Tuesday.

In the first half, West Bend West controlled the game, jumping out to an early 16-9 first quarter lead. Two buckets by Todd Wiedmeyer cut the Spartan lead to 28-23 with 2:05 to go in the half, but the Indians could get no closer. At halftime it was 32-27, West.

"We just couldn't put them (Kewaskum) away when we had the chance," commented Spartan coach Tom Busse, noting that his team's turnovers, poor rebounding, and missed opportunities in the first half as reason for this.

West Bend West surged ahead numerous times in the third quarter and this could have put the game out of reach for Kewaskum, but junior reserve Todd Steger, who led the Indians with 16 points, rose to the occasion and popped in a few baskets of his own to keep the Indians in the game.

"It seemed as if he (Steger) was the only one who could score for us in the third quarter," commented Koth.

In the fourth quarter, behind the efforts of Bob Yahr, Otto Ramthun, Tim Rohlinger, and Brian Ruplinger, Kewaskum staged a comeback with 2:42 left to play and brought the score to 59-50 in West's favor.

Two free throws by Rohlinger, a 10-footer by Yahr, and another bucket by Rohlinger cut the Spartan lead to 59-56.

Yahr was then fouled driving to the hoop and proceeded to cut the Spartan lead to one with two free throws.

It was here where Kewaskum's early foul trouble came back to haunt them.

6'5" Spartan senior Mike Wolf then suddenly got hot, putting in two inside shots and a pair of clutch free throws to again put West comfortably out in front.

Kewaskum, however, wasn't about to quit as a bucket by Wiedmeyer and a free throw by Ruplinger again threatened to start another Indian comeback.

Spartan free throws by Chris Buddenhagen and Wolf quickly killed the new Kewaskum threat, and even though up-front pressure by Ramthun and Ruplinger resulted in two late back-to-back steals by Ruplinger, it was too little, too late, as one more free throw by Wolf with :01 to go made the final score, 67-64.

Wolf ended the game with 16 points to lead West while Jeff Renn and Gary Luduha pumped in 13 and 9 points, respectively.

Following Steger in scoring for Kewaskum was Rohlinger and Yahr with 13 and 12 points apiece. Wiedmeyer led the Indian board attack before fouling out late with 8 points.

The Indian JVs were defeated in their game 52-41. KHS coach Mark Ffirick commented that poor rebounding and (deja vu) poor free throw shooting cost his team a victory.

Mike Coulter led the Indian sophs with 16 points. Rick Krahn added 6.

Kewaskum 70, Sheb. Falls 57

The KHS boys basketball team (2-1 overall) won its opening E-W conference game last Friday Night against visiting Sheboygan Falls, 70-57.

Kewaskum opened up the game in the third quarter outscoring the Falcons 21-8. After the first half, Falls enjoyed a well earned 32-30 lead, due largely because of a stubborn zone defense they inflicted on Kewaskum which allowed them to come back after the Indians grabbed an early 18-13 1st quarter lead.

Bob Yahr was KHS coach Perry Koth's "zone buster" in the third quarter. Koth had Yahr move up in the Falcon zone, thereby splitting it. Yahr responded with 3 straight baskets. Guard Tom Herriges added a layup, Ron Theusch a free throw, and with Yahr adding a pair of buckets, before Falls' coach Arden Luker could say "who was that masked man" Kewaskum was comfortably in front and on the verge of victory. "That pretty much killed them (Falls)," commented Koth.

Yahr ended the night with 22 points (10 of 19 shooting) and Todd Wiedmeyer added 19 (11 in the fourth quarter, mostly on power-layups).

As a team, Kewaskum shot a respectable 43% from the floor. Wiedmeyer also had a good night on the boards, leading Kewaskum with 9 rebounds. Brian Ruplinger and Tom Herriges each dished out 5 assists to round out the Indian statistical leaders.

6'3" Derek Perrone led Falls with 18 points. Jeff Schomberg was next with 13.

The KHS JV and freshmen teams both lost. The JVs are now 1-2 while the frosh are 0-2.

Girls Beat Campbellsport, Edged by Sheboygan Falls

By John Harju

The KHS girls basketball team won its first game of the season, 59-50, over the visiting Campbellsport Cougars last Tuesday night.

Coach Milt Dickinsen's Indians controlled most of the game, enjoying comfortable but not huge leads throughout the game.

Kewaskum out-shot their Campbellsport foes 43% (23-54) to 24% (12-49), outrebounded them 30-10, and out played them in almost every part of the game except one, free throws.

Kewaskum committed 29 fouls, a stat Dickinsen was very displeased with, and sent the Cougars to the line 41 times where they scored over half (26) of the points.

Kewaskum, however, was clearly the better team. Sandy Secor, Lisa Fusek, Jodi Yearling, and Brenda Kober helped prove this as they popped in 11, 10, 10, and 9 points, respectively.

Dickinsen cited Lisa Fusek's rebounding and Debbie Bastian's hustle also as factors to the win. Fusek dominated underneath with a game high 9 rebounds while Bastian had 5 points, 2 steals, and 5 rebounds before fouling out.

Campbellsport threatened in the final quarter, outscoring the Indians 22-19, but it wasn't enough as Dawn Fellenz scored 4 of her game total of 8, and Yearling scored a basket and 4 free throws to keep the Cougars at bay.

Leading the Cougars in scoring was Karla Lohse and Trudy Oestrich with 14 and 13 points, each.

After jumping out to an early 26-7 halftime lead, the Indian JVs cruised the rest of the way for an impressive 41-13 win.

Kewaskum coach Keith Amundson commented that his team played well, noting in particular that, "Brenda Vetter's defensive pressure stopped Campbellsport cold!" and that Jenny Hintz and Michelle Beck, "played smart, as usual."

Laurie Blum led the sophs in scoring with 10 points. Hintz, Beck, and Vetter followed with 9, 8, and 6, respectively.

The KHS freshmen rounded out a 3-team Kewaskum sweep of the Cougars with a 36-19 win.

Coach Michelle Wiedmeyer reported that, "a solid effort by the whole team," was turned in.

Brenda Theusch led the young Indians with 14 points, while Brenda Oelhafen had 6. Jean Klahn "did a great job on defense," according to Wiedmeyer.

Sheb. Falls 56, Kewaskum 52
The KHS girls basketball team dropped its opening EW conference game at Sheboygan Falls last Thursday night, 56-52.

Indian coach Milt Dickinsen commented that two factors cost his team a victory. The first one was the 19-12 advantage that Falls enjoyed after one quarter. "They (Falls) got ahead right away," said Dickinsen.

The other factor was the free throw situation. Kewaskum, 0-1 in conference and 1-3 overall, missed 16 free throws on the night.

Despite the loss, Dickinsen insists that his team is getting better, especially on defense. Dickinsen, in particular, noted the play of senior guard Debbie Bastian, who had 9 points, commenting that, "she's always hustling."

Falcon guard Lisa Ertl was one reason for Falls' 31-25 lead at halftime. Ertl scored 15 of her game high 19 points in the first half while tearing down 8 rebounds, as well.

Ertl, however, wasn't a factor in the second half, as Lisa Fusek and Sandy Secor led a spirited fourth quarter comeback for Kewaskum, but it fell four points short.

Fusek led Kewaskum in scoring, with 15 points, and rebounding, with 5. Secor followed with 12 points while Jodi Yearling had 5 points and 5 rebounds.

One negative aspect which Dickinsen pointed out was the rebounding. His Indians were out boarded 37-27.

The Indian JVs (0-1 conference, and 2-2 overall) lost in their game, 35-28. Coach Keith Amundson commented that, "the team played very well, but the shots wouldn't go in the hole for us."

Laurie Blum led the sophs with 12 points. Brenda Vetter and Terri Schmidt followed with 6 and 5 points, respectively. Schmidt led in rebounding with 7.

The Kewaskum fresh(wo)men remained unbeaten at 1-0 in conference and 3-0 overall with a 35-28 victory.

Coach Michelle Wiedmeyer later commented that, "a great effort was put in by everyone." Brenda Theusch scored a season-high 20 points and played a "superb game" overall said Wiedmeyer. Brenda Oelhafen followed Theusch in scoring with 8 points of her own.
