New Owners for 'Opera House'

Gary, Joan and Jimmy Bickelhaupt next to a plant presented to them by friends on their opening of the Riverview Inn.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Joan and Gary Bickelhaupt officially opened the Riverview Inn for business last Friday.

The Bickelhaupt family purchased the property, formerly known as the Chapperal or Apollo's Lyre, from Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scott. They have already made several improvements and will be making additional changes in the hall and kitchen areas.

Joan hopes to be serving short order lunches within the next few weeks. She also plans to work in daily specials once remodeling in the kitchen is complete. Gary said, "Joan is a super cook and we're hoping to offer Friday Fish Frys later on." Bickelhaupt also noted there has been interest shown by a local caterer to set up a Sunday

Brunch in the hall. He said he is giving the idea some serious consideration.

The Riverview Inn will be open Tuesdays through Sundays from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 a.m. "I'm a day person," said Gary, a former truck driver for Allied Van Lines, "so I'll be opening and handling the bar during the day and Joan will tend bar at night."

The Bickelhaupt family are now living in Kewaskum. For the past few weeks they have been traveling back and forth from the tavern to their home in Milwaukee.

While Gary is from the Milwaukee area, Joan grew up and attended school in West Bend. Her mother is related to the Volm families of the Kewaskum area.

Gary and Joan have one son, Jimmy, a fourth-grader at Holy Trinity School.

Kindergarten Registration

This year's annual "round-up" for the parents of all prospective kindergarten pupils in the Kewaskum School District will be held during the day on Monday, February 4, and Tuesday, February 5, 1985 from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, and 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. in the Beechwood, Farmington, Kewaskum and Wayne School offices. Please register your child at the school in your area on one of the above days. It is not necessary to bring the child while registering.

To be eligible for enrollment in kindergarten, children must have attained their fifth birthday on or before September 1, 1985. Evidence of date of birth, either a birth certificate or a baptismal certificate, must be brought to the office at the time of enrolling.

Parents of bus pupils will need their section number and fire number as well and also fill out bussing forms.

Parents will register their children for next year's term and get the necessary health forms. If you know of any new families in this district, please pass this information on to them.

Richard E. Zarling, Director of Elementary Education, should like to impress upon you the importance of registering your child on either of these two days so that they may plan for them and know staff requirements for next year.

Kewaskum Elementary's Statue Of Liberty Project Needs Help

With a little over two weeks to go, the Kewaskum Elementary School's project to help in the restoration of the Statue of Liberty is just slightly over half way to its goal of 5,000 box-tops.

School Principal Richard Zarling said the students were making a courageous effort to collect the Kellogg's box-tops, but it now appears the school will not reach its goal unless there is an all-out effort by the Kewaskum area to help the youngsters earn their plaque.

Zarling noted the students had put a lot of time and energy into the project, but it may be just a little too much for them. The students are still hoping to reach the 5,000 mark and anyone is welcome to contribute Kellogg's box-tops of any kind.

The Kellogg Company will still make a cash donation for those box-tops collected, but the school would not receive a plaque unless it reaches the goal set.

The deadline is February 15th.

Plan Commission to Recommend Rezoning for Lot

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

On a six to one vote Tuesday evening, the Kewaskum Plan Commission okayed a motion to recommend re-zoning of a lot on the Theodore Meilahn property on Roseland Drive adjacent to the Meadow Creek Apartments.

The vote came after some active discussion for, and against, the Meilahn request to have an area 150 feet by 350 feet, re-zoned from P-1 (park) to R-2 (residential).

After some discussion, a majority of the commission members felt that, if the property were re-zoned, it should be changed to R-1. The difference in the two codes being R-1 requires a larger lot, setback, and home size as compared to R-2 specifications.

Zoning Administrator Richard Zarling told the commission, since the proposed lot size already exceeded the R-1 requirement, and the village was trying to avoid high density construction, he felt the R-1 recommendation was the proper procedure.

Commission member Robert Kirst, the only vote against the recommendation, was not in favor of allowing a lot to be created in that area and definitely not in an R-1 zone. Kirst said, first of all, "He did not

The fifth annual "Sturgeon for Tomorrow" South West Chapter banquet was held Saturday, Jan. 12 at the Holiday Inn, Fond du Lac. Cocktails at 5:00 p.m. started the big event, followed by a 6:30 p.m. tasty chicken and ham dinner.

The 650 members and guests were treated to a short program and slides showing how the D.N.R.'s propagation of the fresh water lake sturgeon in the waters of Wisconsin, namely Lake Winnebago and connecting waters, is proceeding. The South West Chapter of "Sturgeon for Tomorrow" has donated to the D.N.R. of Wisconsin $27,500.00 for this worthy cause.

"Ike and Mike" were on display for all to see. These being two sturgeon "fingerlings" 5 to 7 inches in length, that were samples of the thousands to be released in state waters this fall.

"Sturgeon Spearmen of America," the chapter from Kewaskum and surrounding area, sent a large group of delegates to this event. The hearty group braved the cold weather and drifting snow covered roads. Many found the evening full of fun, with many exceptional door prizes being awarded, as 9 of the 17 Kewaskum delegates can verify. A dance concluded the program.

A PICNIC IN WINTER? — The second graders and their teachers from the Farmington school celebrated "wonderful winter" with an indoor picnic. The highlight of the picnic was the nutritious menu of all white foods: string cheese, saltine crackers, cauliflower, bananas, marshmallows, popcorn, milk and white frosted cupcakes topped with snow-like coconut. The children seated themselves upon white sheets, simulating winter snow ground cover. Mary Ann Koss and Mary Dallmann, the teachers, were delighted with the children's enthusiasm for their efforts to combat "cabin fever."

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Schmidt, 4358 Hwy. 28, R. 2, Kewaskum, brought in the above copy of a tax record from 1863 in the unbelievable small amount of $5.99 for the assessed property at that time. The dog tax was $1.00. The receipt was made out to Mrs. Arnold Schmidt's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doms. The farm has been in the family for 122 years. Mrs. Schmidt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Doms, purchased the property from the Charles Doms and the Schmidts purchased it from her parents, the Louis Doms. The 1984 taxes on the farm property have increased over 300%. Quite a contrast in 122 years. The dog tax is still relatively cheap; male and female is $7.00 and neutered or spayed is $4.00.

Rezoning

know why someone would want to build a new home on a lot that would have multiple-family units on one side and 50 to 60 year old home on another side." He felt those factors alone would considerably reduce the future resale value of the home.

Kirst said, if any change were made, it should be to R-2, which would require a smaller lot and home, making the property more saleable. Zarling stated, "you're talking about marketing (Kirst) and we're talking about planning. Our job (the commission's) is not to worry about the marketability of a property, but the uniform orderly growth of the village," said Zarling.

Tax-wise, it would be more advantageous for the village to go to R-2 zoning because that would mean more homes on less land, Zarling noted. He told the commission however, he felt the R-2 code should only be used in the few instances where development would be severely restricted, such as in the golf course area on the east side of the village. In a situation such as that, said Zarling, R-1 would have prevented development on that land.

The commission then voted to recommend that the Village Board approve the re-zoning request to R-1.

The balance of the parcel will remain zoned P-1. Ted Meilahn, who was present at the meeting, said there were no immediate plans for the rest of the land. The parcel had been considered for another housing project by Meadow Creek developer Peter Knaup last year but those plans were dropped after some controversy regarding a proposed road through the property.

Bids

Schmidt said seventy companies had requested specifications for bidding on the job.

In other action, the board approved the hiring of Thomas R. Johnson of Kewaskum as the village's new certified building inspector. Schmidt noted two applications for the position had been received, however, the second individual did not have his certification.

Schmidt informed the board that the Roseland watermain loop had been completed last Friday and portions of it are already in service. After a few more tests, the entire loop will be in operation.

A report of village building permits for 1984 show an increase over 1983. In residential building permits the number rose by 18, from 54 in 1983, to 72 in 1984. Mercantile permits increased from six to nine in 1984. There were no permits issued for manufacturers in 1984, compared to 8 in 1983. Non-taxable property permits remained the same at two in 1983 and 1984.

Board President Gerald Stollenwerk issued a proclamation declaring February as Children's Dental Health Month in Kewaskum.

Letters to the Editor

January 24, 1985

Letter to the Editor:

I have retired from A.F.S. as far as meetings are concerned. I will continue to work with Rosi Cano as the liaison until she leaves July 1st. Yes, I am sure I will miss it after being so involved for 25 years but it is time to let the very young take over and continue on with this great program.

It was with great satisfaction to see so many turn out Saturday in the -28 degree weather to honor me. That I did not expect.

I want to thank all of you at the Statesman for all the kind articles you did for me and my committee these past 25 years. The publicity you gave us over the years made the readers aware of our program A.F.S. We all on the program appreciated all you have done.

Sincerely,
Pat Peterson

Letter to the Editor:

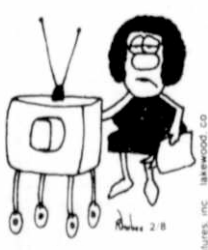

Recently a law was passed in New York penalizing motorists who didn't wear seat belts. This law was meant to protect them from uncertain death in an accident.

I also read in the Milwaukee Journal that a woman, wearing a seat belt, drove from the State of Washington to meet her fiance in California. On the way she was forced off the road by a hit and run driver. She spent seventy-two hours trapped in her car, on its side, on a ledge, just above a ravine. She had broken bones and other injuries. Plus she had no food or water. She was buried under brush so that nobody could have seen her. If her boyfriend hadn't been waiting for her, and when she didn't show up, went looking for her, she could have died a cruel death.

I'm against seat belts, because they are confining and hinder any escape from a car which is burning or in deep

Willowbrook Development Group Formed

Citizens/Weis Corporation, a member of West Bend Savings' Financial Resource Group, recently announced the formation of The Willowbrook Development Group. Development team members include Cauley Builders, a Division of Camelot Systems, Ltd., of Pewaukee; Gordon Hoffmann Construction, Inc. of Jackson; and, Tom Knoepel Builders, Inc. of Menomonee Falls.

The development of Willowcreek (a sixty acre project located northwest of the intersection of Park and 18th Avenue) has taken place during the past two years. In the first two phases Citizens/Weis Corporation created a 9-acre lake in the center of the project and completed street construction. The lands surrounding the lake will be held in commons with all homeowners of Willowbrook and will function as a passive recreation area for the exclusive use of the homeowners.

"Willowcreek is a unique development in the city of West Bend, with the lake, an abundance of trees and centrally located open space," said Richard A. Larson, President of West Bend Savings and Loan Association, "and will never be duplicated in this community. No other site in West Bend has all the natural features of Willowbrook," Larson continued, "and, to enhance the distinction of Willowbrook we have assembled three of the top custom home builders of southeastern Wisconsin to provide the residents of the city of West Bend a fresh, distinctive look in housing."

The development group will focus its attention on a country/colonial theme for Willowbrook. Their house plans, along with a scale model of Willowbrook, will be on display in the lobby of West Bend Savings and Loan Association's main office, 201 South 5th Avenue, West Bend.

Ron Weis, President of Citizens/Weis Corporation is coordinating the project.

The Annual Meeting of Stockholders of Firststar Bank Campbellsport and Eden was held on Monday, January 14, 1985 for the purpose of reviewing the 1984 bank activities and financial results. The meeting was conducted by President Wm. J. Stoffel who also presented the financial condition of the bank.

During the presentation, which showed a $6 million growth in deposits and a favorable return on equity, President Stoffel pointed out the financial strength and soundness of Firststar Bank throughout this lingering recession. He also pointed out that 90% of the growth in deposits was reinvested into the community through the bank's loan portfolio while maintaining favorable and very competitive interest rates for the various borrowers. This not only reflects the soundness of Firststar Bank, but the community as a whole.

A discussion was held regarding the recent merger with Marine Bank Milwaukee and how it will affect the bank and community. President Stoffel reiterated the importance of the decision to merge at this time before state boundary lines are deregulated and the possibility of an out-of-state bank coming in and purchasing this bank. Marine is a very solid Wisconsin based banking firm.

Stoffel ended by stating that the people of this entire area can be very proud of their bank in Campbellsport and Eden and that the continued community loyalty toward Firststar Bank can only mean an even brighter future for Campbellsport, Eden and the surrounding area.

The Stockholders voted unanimously to retain the nine holdover directors for the ensuing year. They are, namely: Arthur G. Brandt, Donald Langkamp, William Lenz, Dr. John F. Pesch, John W. Reilly, Corney P. Schill, Wm. J. Stoffel, Orville N. Strachota, and Donald W. Uelmen.

The meeting was then adjourned to the organizational meeting at which time the following officers were elected for the 1985 year. Wm. J. Stoffel, President and Chairman of the Board; Dr. John F. Pesch, Senior Vice President; David C. Nims, Vice President and Security Officer; Patricia Lemke, Cashier and Mortgage Loan Officer; Marilyn Schill, Assistant Vice President and Personal Banking Officer; Michael D. Morgan, Assistant Vice President and Manager of the Eden Office; Mary Tuttle, Assistant Vice President and Personal Banking Officer; Barbara Schanen, Assistant Cashier and Consumer Loan Officer; Gary Schoenbeck, Agriculture Officer; Patricia Hintz, Assistant Cashier and Teller Supervisor; Mollie Schill, Executive Secretary. Firststar's professional staff also includes: Colleen Karoses, Sheryl Anders, Julie Roth, Jeanette Thelen, Jane Halfmann, Carolyn Floyd, Lori Serwe, Anna Fichtner, Ann Geiger, Pam Tagliapietra, Anna Butschlick, Barbara Ketter, Vicki Brown, Julie Miller.

Indian Culture Studied at Farmington School

A recent Friday morning was anything but typical when 31 fourth graders from Ms. Doris Delzer's and Mrs. Karen Larson's classes learned a little more about Indian culture and foods.

For the past several weeks the two classes at Farmington had been studying about the Woodland Indians who lived in Wisconsin before the white man. In addition to studying about these Indians the classes also compared them with tribes from the southwest, northwest and eastern parts of the United States.

As a culmination of the unit, a Native American Day was planned.

Participation in the Festival was excellent. Each student earned a "ticket" to participate by completing projects totalling 50 points.

On Festival Day students arrived at school in costume prepared to enjoy a morning filled with games, crafts, and foods.

The food was prepared with the help of several mothers and lots of willing helpers. The menu included authentic Indian recipes for squash, succotash, cornbread, sweet potatoes, baked apples, harvest pie and custard pie. In addition, Mrs. DuWayne Tackes brought salmon and venison which she prepared during the morning. The aroma was enticing.

After preparing the food, it was time for games and crafts. Students were able to try their luck at an Indian dice game, and tossing corncobs for points. The highlight of the morning was seeing a demonstration of a snow snake, a length of wood similar to a ski and painted to look like a snake. Originally it was used in competitions between Indian tribes. The men of the tribes would compete to see who could slide it the farthest. After the demonstration, the students each tried their luck at shooting the snake.

The crafts included yarn paintings from the Southwest and Eskimo finger masks. Many intricate designs were created.

The morning ended with all the students sitting down to the feast they had prepared. The meal was a big success with each student proud of what he had made and eager to try all the other tasty and colorful foods. The final comments summed up the day - "We had a great time. When can we do this again?"

Shop Around for Insurance Agent

By Joyce Albrecht
Extension Home Economist

Select a life insurance policy as carefully as you choose a new car.

The premiums you pay add up, so shop around for the best deal. Good insurance deals also depend on the insurance agent you do business with. Independent agents sell insurance from several different companies. They may offer the best deal on what you need because of this variety and their non-affiliation with a specific company.

Captive agents sell insurance from only one company. They have the advantage of belonging to a very large company with which customers are usually familiar. The quality of service may also be an advantage.

Before buying insurance from any agent, determine what your needs are before you talk with them. We're all familiar with the insurance agent who comes to our door and sells us an insurance policy. Even if the agent calls in advance, most people don't calculate their needs before he or she arrives.

Purchasing life insurance tends to involve more pressure than buying other services. It can be hard to say "no" to a salesperson in your home. To counteract this, visit the agent's office to buy life insurance.

If you go to the agent's office, it's more of a business transaction than if the agent is in your home. If it's more convenient to have the agent come into your home, make sure the visit is planned and you have determined your needs in advance.

Consult popular financial magazines and other library resources to determine your needs. If you know your needs, you can tell the agent, "I need this; what kind of a deal can you give me?"

Once you know how much life insurance coverage you need, start shopping around for agents. The easiest way is to page through the phone book or ask friends for recommendations.

After you narrow down prospective agents to three or four, find out how long they have been in business. Ask if they sell insurance full-time or only as a sideline. An experienced full-time agent will probably possess the skills to best serve your needs.

Also investigate the agent's company. All insurance companies must be licensed with the state; check with the Office of the Commissioner of Insurance in Madison for information about the company. Look through "Best Reports," a publication that rates insurance companies on financial soundness. Remember, the company backs up your claims, not the agent.

With a little investigating, you should be able to cover your insurance needs without straining your budget.

Offer Weekend in Northern Kettle Moraine Near Kewaskum

People often get so entangled in the details of daily life that they lose their connection to the natural world. A University of Wisconsin Cooperative Extension Service course, "Late Winter Ecology of the Northern Kettle Moraine," offers participants a chance to spend a relaxing weekend rediscovering nature.

Naturalist Marion Moran will lead walks to illustrate the geology, nature history and ecology of the once-glaciated area. Men and women will stay in separate dormitories at the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources Northern Kettle Moraine Youth Camp near Kewaskum.

"Spending an entire weekend gives people a chance to explore more thoroughly, to be in a setting where they can be away from their everyday lives," Moran says. "Often we get ensnared in hectic comings and goings and don't get time for relaxation and regeneration."

The course will be offered from 7:30 p.m., Friday, March 1, through noon Sunday, March 3. Registrants will receive additional information a week before the course. The course costs $36, which includes two nights lodging, but not food. Registration deadline is Feb. 18.

To register, send a completed registration form and a check, payable to UW-Extension, to: Madison Registration Office, Room 101, Extension Building, 432 N. Lake St., Madison, WI 53706. For more information on this and other courses sponsored by Extension's Environmental Resources Center, call (608) 262-1377.

On a late fall day Junior troop 32 from Farmington, under the leadership of Lynn Miller, took a plane ride over the Farmington area. It was a small 3 passenger airplane from the West Bend Flying Service.

Most of the girls got a chance to view their own homes and school from the air. A great time was had by all. After their ride they toured the airport.

The girls paid for this trip from some money they had left over from their train trip to Chicago last year. They also earned money by saving aluminum cans, newspapers and from cookie sales.

On December 27 Junior scout troop 223 from Wayne under the leadership of Judy Goetsch and Kathy Merty, held a "Cook Your Own Dinner" Christmas party at 2:30 p.m. at the Salem Church in Wayne.

The purpose of this party was to share a Christmas holiday dinner with friends. They served baked chicken, mashed potatoes with gravy, corn, cream fruit salad, milk and after dinner they had mints and nuts.

After they had the dinner prepared and while it was cooking they played games. After the dinner they exchanged Christmas gifts. Then of course they had to do their dishes. A swell time was had by all.

On January 22, Girl Scout troop 53 went to West Bend to the Pizza Hut for a tour of that business. The girls received a first hand tour of just what all is done to make a pizza one of America's greatest foods. When the tour was completed, the girls had a chance to taste the pizza. It was enjoyed by all.

Hearing Tests Set For Senior Citizens

(West Bend)—Free electronic hearing tests will be given at the Beltone Hearing Aid Center at 2395 W. Washington, West Bend on Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Anyone who has trouble hearing is welcome to have the test. Many people with hearing problems don't need hearing aids. But only a modern hearing test like the one now being offered by Beltone can really tell for sure. Beltone Hearing Aid Specialists will conduct the tests.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year — even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them. Only a hearing test can determine if modern methods of hearing amplification can help them hear better.

The free hearing tests will be given Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at 2395 W. Washington St., West Bend. If you can't get there on Thursday or Friday, call 338-6969 to arrange for an appointment at another time. In-home testing is also available.

British doctors questioned 103 women whose babies were born with defects of brain or spine. These women had diets deficient in protein and vitamins by excess reliance on potato chips, pastries, doughnuts, sugary soft drinks, while neglecting meat, dairy products, vegetables and fruit, all of which are especially necessary during pregnancy. With a balanced diet, all but 3 of the 103 women gave birth to normal babies in their next pregnancies. The women who failed to correct their diets had abnormal babies again.

Jacob H. Reiland, 54, of the town of Barton, who has a daughter, sister and brother living at Kewaskum, was crushed to death Sunday morning at his farm home in that township when he was pinned against a trailer by a runaway tractor in a farm shed. The accident occurred when Reiland attempted to crank a tractor and it suddenly started while in gear, pinning him against the trailer. He suffered internal injuries and a crushed chest. Reiland was born in the Town of Barton on October 11, 1905 and lived there all his life. He was married to Evelyn Koening on June 17. She survives him together with three children, Gloria (Mrs. Virgil Weinreich) of Fillmore, Georgiana (Mrs. Howard Kirchner) of Kewaskum and Jacob Jr. of Barton. He is further survived by two sisters, Mrs. Ed Junk (Adeline), Route 2, Kewaskum, and Mrs. Edwin Knoeck (Helen) of New York and a brother, Martin Reiland of Route 2, Kewaskum.

Starting on Monday, February 1, wrecking operations will begin at the former Joe Eberle tavern building in Kewaskum. Persons interested in purchasing items may call between 3:30 and 4:30 p.m. daily and contact Reuben Schultz. The former Eberle buildings and property, which runs from Main Street back to First Street, were purchased by the Peace United Church of Christ in October of 1958. Last summer the congregation resold the buildings at a public sale. Carroll Haug purchased the tavern and residence building as well as the barn at the rear of the property. Joe Gruber purchased that part of the building housing two bowling alleys, which have been out of use for years. The tavern was operated by Syl and Susie Serwe until July 1, 1959, when the license was discontinued. The Peace congregation has completed plans for the erection of an educational building at an estimated cost of $80,000 furnished and equipped, on the First Street portion of the property purchased from Eberle. Present plans are to utilize the Main Street portion as a parking lot for church activities. The parish also purchased an adjoining lot at the rear of the church, on Main Street in 1958, which is now in use as a parking lot.

'Group Power'

The following news story was written by R. G. Edwards, M.D., Kewaskum, who is attending classes in Creative Writing at Concordia College:

In the evening of October 31st, 1922 several of my buddies and I were lounging in front of the drug store where I worked part-time since I was a freshman and now, being a junior, I was very happy to have the night off duty because it was Halloween. A few youngsters, ages 7 to 12, came by to begin applying bar soap to the windows. For them it was fun to hear the screech of the soap on the glass, but, us oldsters we realized that this was child's play.

After darkness arrived, our group moved up the street of our small unincorporated village of 300 souls named Cresbard, South Dakota. We stopped at the home of the hardware merchant to check on his outhouse and, finding it unguarded, it was a snap for us six boys to push it over on its back with the door flopping open. Away we ran in several directions to again reassemble in the next block. This process was repeated three or four times when my friend Joe suggested we should go up to the new high school as he had heard some other fellows were going there tonight.

Our small village, with the help of the farming community for 15 miles around, had only two years before gone into debt to build a new school building for high school use, thus giving ample room for the lower grades to be housed in the old school building. The people in South Dakota are strong believers in higher education and try to send their children on to college long before they did so in most Wisconsin communities.

At the high school, we found a larger gang of at least 20 boys roaming around the area searching for something different to do. Again, my buddy Joe erupted with an idea. He pointed to a 40 foot long telephone pole lying on the ground near the school building and said, "let's put this pole through the window on the west end of the stage, don't damage anything, just set it there and everyone will wonder how it was accomplished." All the older boys agreed, so one lad was sent to search for an unlocked window in order to get into the building. Very soon our scout was inside the school and called to us from the two foot square window he had opened at the west end of the auditorium stage.

Willing hands grasped the heavy pole and hoisted it above our heads. Slowly we began to move toward this window, much like a caterpillar moves, making short steady steps. Meanwhile, the front door was opened by the lad inside so that several boys could go onto the stage and assist there. One lad had grabbed a strip of old tarpaulin to place over the window sill to prevent damage. With so many willing hands, the work was accomplished in less than 30 minutes. All traces of dirt were wiped away so that no one could see from where this big pole had come. It filled the stage from end to end. The window was closed and the scout even locked the window through which he had entered so as to further confuse the teachers and all others. Then we left by the front door to go home, for we all felt satisfied and happy that we had done a trick which had not ever been tried before and no damage done at all.

All was in an uproar at school the next morning. The teachers just could not understand how that large pole could have been placed on the stage. Most people do not know nor comprehend what can be done by willing hands when a good leader is their advisor. We boys called it "group power."

This story is true and, as far as I am aware, not one of the 50 or more boys has ever admitted to anyone how this deed was accomplished.

WASB Supports a 180-Day School Year

MADISON — The Wisconsin Association of School Boards (WASB) firmly supports a 180-day school year, despite media reports to the contrary.

The association will continue to encourage school districts to provide students with 190 days of face-to-face instruction, Dr. Reinhard Ulrich, WASB president, said Friday. State law presently permits school districts to use up to five of those 180 days for parent inservice meetings or for closings during inclement weather.

Delegates from each of Wisconsin's 432 school districts meeting Jan. 16 in Milwaukee soundly rejected a resolution which would have defined the school year in terms of minimal hours of instruction, but remain in favor of requiring 180 days of instruction, Ulrich said.

"We feel that setting a state-mandated number of hours of instruction per year or per day would limit the ability of individual districts to offer the best possible education," he said.

The defeated resolution would have urged districts to establish 1,080 hours of direct pupil instruction, equivalent to six hours a day, for grades one to six, and 1,170 hours of instruction, equal to 6.5 hours a day, for grades seven to 12.

NATIONAL CHILDREN'S DENTAL HEALTH MONTH
FEBRUARY 1985

ADA American Dental Association
©Henson Associates, Inc. 1985

The Washington - Ozaukee County Dental Society brings you this article in observance of National Children's Dental Health Month. It is the second in a series of eight on "The Many Worlds of Dentistry."

Although tooth enamel is the strongest material in the human body, it cannot repair itself once it has been visibly damaged. This simple fact is the reason that restoration of teeth injured by accidents or decay is one of the primary responsibilities of the dentist. A tooth that has been damaged in an accident may fracture or decay unless it is repaired. In a tooth with existing decay, the decay will get deeper and more damaging if the tooth is not treated.

The major steps involved in the restoration of most teeth are: preparing the cavity, selecting and preparing the filling material, and putting this material into the cavity.

When the cavity is prepared, the dentist is careful to remove not only the decayed area but the area immediately around it, which may also have been affected by the decay. He or she tries to shape the cavity in such a way that the filling will be easily retained.

Materials used for filling teeth must meet strict requirements: They must stay the same size in the mouth as time goes on; they must not disintegrate although bathed in saliva; they must not be too readily affected by heat or cold; and they should not fall apart under the heavy pressures of chewing and biting. To some extent, the choice of filling materials depends on the location and nature of the cavity with which the dentist is concerned. To fill teeth in the front of the mouth, dentists usually use materials that are tooth colored, such as porcelain or composite resin (plastic) materials. Farther back in the mouth, where the looks of the filling matter less, fillings may be made of metal (gold or silver amalgam). Metallic fillings are hard and can withstand the stresses that are exerted on the back teeth.

When a tooth is filled with amalgam or composite resin, the filling material is in the form of a soft mass that can be tamped into the prepared cavity. In other cases, with materials such as gold, the dentist makes an impression of the tooth and an inlay or onlay is cast to fit the prepared tooth.

If a tooth is badly decayed or weakened by a large filling or if little of its original structure remains, the dentist may decide to restore it with a crown. Crowns or "caps" are restorations that cover the exposed surface of the tooth. The strength, color, and shape of a badly damaged tooth can be greatly improved with a crown. Many different materials can be used to fashion a crown, including gold, other metals, porcelain, and porcelain fused to metal.

In some cases, if a tooth is badly fractured or has a deep cavity, the pulp within the tooth dies. The pulp is a soft tissue containing nerves, arteries, veins, and other vessels. It extends from the tip of the root through the center of the tooth to the crown. When it dies, an infection called an abscess can spread to the tissues that surround and support the tooth in the jaw.

Before restoring a tooth with a dead pulp, the dentist must treat the tooth with root canal therapy, also called endodontics. In root canal therapy, an opening is made through the crown of the tooth into the pulp chamber and the pulp is carefully removed.

The root canals are cleaned, enlarged, and shaped to a form that can be easily filled. After the infection has been eliminated, the root canals are filled and sealed with a material that will keep bacteria out. Only then can the crown of the tooth be restored. Often gold or porcelain crowns are used for this purpose.

If you have a tooth that needs root canal therapy, your family dentist may treat it or you may be referred to an endodontist. An endodontist is a dentist who has additional training in this area and who limits his or her practice to the diagnosis and treatment of endodontics.

Teeth that need to be restored don't get better by themselves. They usually get worse. If you suspect that your teeth need professional treatment, don't delay. By calling your dentist immediately, you can save yourself time, money, and discomfort.

INAUGURAL MESSAGE

I hope many of you were able to hear the President's Inaugural speech on January 21st. Possibly more than any other speech, this outlines Ronald Reagan's vision for America. Like the overwhelming majority of Americans, I share this vision. I would like to share some of the speech with you:

-The President noted that we cannot rest until every American enjoys the fullness of freedom, dignity, and opportunity as our birthright.

-These will be the years when Americans have restored their confidence and tradition of progress; when our values of faith, family, work, and neighborhood were restated for a modern age; when our economy was finally freed from government's grip; when we made sincere efforts at meaningful arms reduction, rebuilding our defenses, our economy, and developing new technologies, and helped preserve peace in a troubled world; when Americans courageously supported the struggle for liberty, self-government, and free enterprise throughout the world, and turned the tide of history away from totalitarian darkness and into the warm sunlight of human freedom.

-Our Nation is poised for greatness. We must do what we know is right and do it with all our might. Let history say of us, these were the golden years when the American Revolution was reborn, when freedom gained new life, when America reached for her best.

-We must never again abuse the trust of working men and women, by sending their earnings on a futile chase after the spiraling demands of a bloated Federal Establishment. You elected us in 1980 to end this prescription for disaster, and I don't believe you reelected us in 1984 to reverse course.

-We have come to a turning point, a moment for hard decisions. I have asked the Cabinet and my staff a question, and now I put the same question to all of you: If not us, who? And is not now, when? If must be done by all of us going forward with a program aimed at reaching a balanced budget. We can then begin reducing the national debt.

-We have already started returning to the people and to state and local governments responsibilities better handled by them. Now, there is a place for the federal government in matters of social compassion. But our fundamental goal must be to reduce dependency and upgrade the dignity of those that are infirm or disadvantaged. And here a growing economy and support from family and community offer our best chance for a society where compassion is a way of life, where the old and the infirm are cared for, the young and, yes, the unborn protected, and the unfortunate looked after and made self-sufficient.

-There is only one way safely and legitimately to reduce the cost of national security, and that is to reduce the need for it. And this we are trying to do in negotiations with the Soviet Union. We are not just discussing limits on a further increase of nuclear weapons. We seek, instead, to reduce their number. We seek the total elimination one day of nuclear weapons from the face of the Earth.

-Freedom is one of the deepest and noblest aspirations of the human spirit. People worldwide hunger for the right of self-determination, for those inalienable rights that make for human dignity and progress. America must remain freedom's staunchest friend, for freedom is our best ally.

I've only touched on a few points made in the Inaugural speech. If you would like a copy of the entire speech, contact either my Washington or District office at: (414) 784-1111, outside Milwaukee Metro calling area call toll-free 1-800-242-1119, or write to 120 Bishops Way, Brookfield, WI. 53005, or in D.C. call (202) 225-5101, or write to 2444 Rayburn HOB, Washington, DC 20515.

Kewaskum Halts Hartford, Gains Share of Lead

Another second half surge carried the Kewaskum Lakes team to a 119-105 win over Hartford there Sunday night. With the win, Kewaskum has regained a share of first place in the Lakes "B" Division with a 3-4 record, along with Port Washington, which lost to Thiensville-Mequon, 130-101. It was Kewaskum's third victory in a row after four opening losses. Hartford drops to 1-5 in third place in the division.

The Morainers led Kewaskum 59-55 at halftime, thanks to a 35-20 second quarter. However, Kewaskum came back with a strong third quarter to regain the lead, 89-84, and then poured it on in the fourth quarter to win going away. Leon Laatsch and Bob Nigh led the second assault with 19 and 17 points respectively.

Kewaskum was without the services of point guard Bill Gonwa, who has an injured back. It is not known at this time how long he will be out. Kewaskum went with a tall lineup for most of the fourth quarter, actually without any natural guards, and seemed to control the boards.

Kewaskum's top scorer, Leon Laatsch, had another big night to take honors with 40 points. Nigh added 25. Leading scorers for Hartford were Pete Hauser with 31 points and Mike McGuire with 21.

This Sunday Kewaskum makes the trip to Oconomowoc to take on the second-place holders in the "A" Division at 7 p.m.

Kewaskum — Laatsch 17-6-4, Eichstedt 4-1-2, Nigh 12-1-1, Backhaus 4-4-2, Schroeder 6-5-2, Kern 3-0-1, Thomas 3-0-0, Carpenter 2-0-3. Totals 51-17-15.

Ice Forms Quickly on Bridges

Unlike howling blizzards or driving sleet storms which are apparent to any driver, frost can form on bridges and roads without being noticed, according to Sheriff Clarence Schwartz.

Bridges are most susceptible because they expose the underside of the roadway to cold winds, allowing any moisture present on the pavement to freeze. Washington County uses meteorological services, patrols, and the experience of Highway and Sheriff's Department personnel who have faced this problem for years, to keep bridges and other areas as free of frost as possible. However, the Sheriff states the limited resources and the unpredictability of weather means there will be times when frost forms before the surface can be treated.

Sheriff Schwartz advised motorists to approach bridges or other suspicious looking areas cautiously when the temperature is near freezing and the bridge deck or roadway looks wet or frosty. SLOW DOWN as you approach the area where frost may have formed, and once you are on a frost area, avoid braking if possible, the Sheriff added. Remember too that if you encounter one such hazardous overpass there may be more ahead, even if the roadway appears to be clear and dry.

Sheboygan Falls Upsets Indians for First Win

By John Harju

Inconsistency plagued the Indians as they lost to previously winless Sheboygan Falls, 67-54, last Friday in Sheboygan Falls.

A stubborn Falcon defense forced Kewaskum (2-6 and 5-9) to take bad shots through most of the first half, a fact coach Perry Koth was very displeased with. At the end of the quarter, Falls was ahead 16-8.

Kewaskum rallied in the second quarter behind the play of 6'4" forward Todd Wiedmeyer, but just as the Indians came close turnovers allowed Falls to pull away and take a 35-21 halftime lead.

Wiedmeyer ended the night with a team-high 10 points and an impressive 12 rebounds.

In the second half, the Indians did manage to rally to within four points at 52-48 via a Brian Ruplinger steal, a basket by Bob Yahr, and two buckets from Tim Rohlinger.

At this point, Falls' Kevin Mauer was called for a technical foul after fouling Rohlinger. Kewaskum now had the opportunity to go up by one, instead Rohlinger, after making the first free throw, missed the second. Yahr missed the technical shot and the Indians failed to score on the ensuing possession following Yahr's miss.

From here things faded for the Indians, as on their next four possessions, Yahr and Rohlinger missed two shots each from 20-feet.

The Falcons then ate up the remaining time, thus forcing Kewaskum to foul in one last desperate hope.

Leading the winners was senior guard Mauer with 17 points. Randy Rabe and Terry Van Engen added 13 and 12, as well.

For the Indians, Yahr took scoring honors with 12 points, followed by Wiedmeyer with 10, Tom Herriges with 9, and Ruplinger with a well earned 8.

The Indian JVs (2-6 and 5-9) suffered a 71-58 defeat. Don Menzel and Jess Mueller led Kewaskum with 12 and 9 points, respectively.

Despite 16 points from Joel Fleury, 13 from Steve Johnson and 11 from Noel Stollenwerk, the Indian freshmen (2-8) lost, 68-62.

Kewaskum is off this week before traveling to Mayville next Tuesday for a non-conference game.

Girls Beat Sheb. Falls, Avenge Earlier Defeat

By John Harju

The KHS girls avenged an earlier season loss to Sheboygan Falls (3-5) in defeating the visiting Falcons, 54-36, last Thursday before a "Parent's Night" crowd.

Three things enabled Kewaskum (4-4 conf.-fourth place, 6-8 overall) to win last Thursday. The first was the fact that Kewaskum out-rebounded Falls 42-27. The second was their aggressive defense which enabled the Indians to record 23 steals on the night. Because of this, the Falcons made only 12 shots the whole night.

The third and final factor was the third quarter play of Debbie Bastian. Bastian, Kewaskum's senior spark-plug guard, scored 9 of her team-high 11 points during this quarter, enabling the Indians to outscore the Falcons 21-10 and stretch a 20-16 halftime lead into a 41-26 advantage after 3 quarters.

Not only did Bastian lead the team with a season-high 11 points, but she also contributed 5 steals and 5 assists, as well.

Following her in scoring was Lisa Fusek with 10 points and a season high 10 rebounds. Jodi Yearling had 8 points while Chris Frantzen had 7, as well.

The Indian JVs (4-4 and 8-6), won their game, 43-31. Lisa Schneider and Brenda Vetter sparked the sophs with 9 and 8 points, respectively. Jenny Hintz added 6 while Jill Rimmel had 5 and 4 steals.

The fresh(women) blew out their opponents, 61-19. Brenda Theusch had a season-high 26 points and 10 rebounds, while Brenda Oelhafen added 16 points.

Next, Coach Milt Dickinsen and his Indians will take on Chilton on Feb. 7.

Third Non-Teacher Coach

Tom Bartelt to Take Over As Head Baseball Coach at KHS

Tom Bartelt, who lives north of Kewaskum at 1226 Pine Lane, Route 2, Campbellsport, has been named head baseball coach at Kewaskum High School. He replaces Perry Koth, who asked to be relieved of the duty after becoming boys' head basketball coach.

Bartelt is the first non-teacher head coach at the high school, however, the school has two other non-teacher coaches. Mike Coulter, Sr. coaches the JV boys basketball team and Michelle Wiedmeyer coaches the girls freshman basketball team. All three were former Kewaskum High School athletes.

Bartelt has been Koth's assistant for the last two seasons and has much baseball experience after also managing the Kewaskum Land o' Lakes League team off and on since 1973. Tom, 39, still plays with the Lakes team.

Bartelt graduated from Kewaskum High School, played two years of varsity baseball for the Indians and also went out for football for three seasons.

The baseball coaching job had been advertised for several months to members of the Kewaskum Education Association but no one applied for it, so District Administrator John Long looked outside the association to obtain a coach.

St. Lucas Basketball Teams In Full Swing

The 1984-85 St. Lucas basketball season has been challenging and also, on the whole, quite successful.

The girls' team is one of youth. With only one eighth grader and two seventh graders on the roster, the girls give up much age and experience to most of their opponents. Under the direction of their coach, Miss Ruth Huebner, the 76'ers have fared well throughout the year and hope to have a third place seed in the annual Kettle Moraine Lutheran Grade School tournament.

The girls' team is led by 8th grader Stacy Wilson, and 6th graders Jenny Lauer and Brenda Falk. Good defense and hustling play is the mark of this girls' squad.

The boys' A team, coached by Jon Woldt and Stan Jagler, is led by 8th graders Scott Stern, Tod Stange, and Erik Munson. The much improved play of David Garvey, the 18 pt. per game production of Scott Stern, and hustling team defense have kept the 76'ers near the top of their conference. The boys are presently 4-1 in their conference play and could move into a tie for first with a victory Feb. 1 against undefeated David Star of Jackson. The boys' A team is presently undefeated at the KMS gym where the home games are played.

The next and last "home" game for the boys and girls is Friday, Feb. 1. The game times: Girls 6:00 p.m., Boy's B 7:00 p.m., Boy's A 8:00 p.m. Come and cheer the 76'ers on to victory!
