Kewaskum Woman Wins Car

Claude Holden, vice president and general manager of Mills Motor congratulates Pam Schwinn of Kewaskum who recently won a 1985 Ford Escort in the Mills Fleet Farm "Great Escort Giveaway."

Santa Claus was good this year to Pam Schwinn of 8424 White Wood Dr., Kewaskum. He brought Schwinn a brand new 1985 Ford Escort GL for Christmas!

Schwinn is one of the eighteen lucky winners recently announced in the Mills Fleet Farm Great Escort Giveaway contest held in December. The Great Escort Giveaway was sponsored by Mills Fleet Farm Stores, the H.D. Lee Company and Mills Motor, Inc. of Brainerd, Minnesota.

Drifting Snow Closes Schools

Schools in the Kewaskum District and Holy Trinity School were closed Tuesday due to high winds and drifting snow which made some roads impassable following Sunday night and Monday's snowfall. The high school boys and girls basketball games and many other events were postponed. The girls gymnastics meet at Valders Monday night was also called off.

There is so much snow, people don't know where to go with it anymore. The normal snowfall for the winter is 47 inches and we have already had over 50 inches with half of February and all of March still left. The village crew hauls the snow off the two main streets but the side streets are piled so high with snow from drifting, shoveling and plowing that driving and backing out of driveways has become hazardous.

Land Donated for New CESA District 6 Site

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Board member Ralph Horner informed the Kewaskum School Board Monday night that a new site has been selected for the CESA District 6 offices.

The building will be constructed on a four-acre tract of land located at the intersection of Highway 41 and 44, south of Oshkosh. The land was donated by the City of Oshkosh to CESA 6, which means the $350,000 limit set by the CESA board can be directed toward construction.

In other business, the board approved a recommendation to institute a seventh and eighth grade Girls' Volleyball program at the Middle School for the 1985-86 school year.

The board also tabled action on a check from Employers Mutual covering legal costs related to the Beechwood School court case.

The board approved the administration's recommendation to hire Mr. Dale Schatz as a part-time business education teacher and Miss Shari Nothem as a part-time math teacher for the high school.

A report on the Wisconsin Association of Schoolboards Convention was tabled due to the absence of Board President Jean Goeden, who recently broke her ankle.

The board accepted the resignation of Joe Butschlick who retired January 2nd, 1985, after working 12½ years as a custodian for the school district.

Things Are Tough All Over

By GERRY MUELLER, Statesman Staff Writer

This pheasant rooster has been a daily visitor to this reporter's front porch. Through the winter we have been feeding the wild birds and one morning much to my surprise, I found this gentleman eating with the Juncos, Finches, Sparrows and Bluejays.

He enjoys the cracked corn which is left behind by the other birds. The pheasant has become so comfortable at our house that when we open the door for any reason, he stands there flapping his wings and scolding us for interrupting his dining.

LOW FAT DIET

Besides diabetes, Dr. Whitaker labels fat as the villain in heart health also. "When large amounts of fat are eaten, the red blood cells stick together and stack up. This limits the flow of blood cells thru the capillaries. It creates 'sludging' with 30% less oxygen reaching the heart. "A very low fat intake boosts the oxygen supply to nourish the heart, creating a 'forever young' condition of basic health," states Dr. Whitaker.

IN HONOR OF GEORGE WASHINGTON

The first in peace,
The first in war,
And in the hearts of everyone,
His name is honored near and far,
The great George Washington.
In all the pictures that I've seen,
He is so very big and tall.
I wonder when he cut the tree,
If he was really small?

Troop 744 Wins Award in Klondike Derby

Friday, Feb. 15, 1985, Kewaskum Statesman, Page 7

Troop bundled for below zero weather.

As the Boy Scout Troop 744 left early Saturday morning Feb. 2nd, the temperature at Valley Bank was 15° below. This year's Klondike Derby was held at Stonecroft, just south of Port Washington. About 100 Boy Scouts from 15 troops braved the extreme temperatures to compete for Scouting awards. The competition ended at noon and lunch outdoors was optional because of the cold temperatures. Our Troop was one of three that ate their lunch of hot soup and sandwiches in the sunny but cold outdoors.

It's Girl Scout Cookie Time!

February, 1985

Kewaskum Statesman
Kewaskum, Wisconsin 53040

Dear Editor:

The Annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale is just around the corner. This American tradition offers everyone the opportunity to support a good cause and get a great box of cookies.

Cookies are the financial mainstay of the local Girl Scout Council which offers a wide range of specialized programs and workshops for young women in this area. Today, Girl Scouts can learn about everything from computers and aerospace, to traditional crafts and cooking.

Cookie selling is also a very valuable learning experience for Girl Scouts. It teaches young girls about the benefits of setting goals, individual initiative and the value of purposeful team effort. So, when a scout knocks on your door and asks that all-time favorite question, "Would you like to buy Girl Scout Cookies?" Remember: giving never tasted better.

Sincerely,

Vivian Stommel

BIG BROTHERS/SISTERS ORIENTATION MEETING

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Washington County are holding an orientation and informational meeting on Tues., Feb. 19, at 129 A. South 7th St., West Bend, at 7:30.

All those who would like to volunteer or learn more about the program are welcome to attend.

To the editor,

We are seeking the help of your readers in making a recommendation to the Postmaster General that "Small Town, America" become the topic for a series of U.S. postage stamps. Other countries have honored small towns with stamps. The U.S. has not. We think this is an oversight and small towns are long overdue this form of recognition.

The Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee that reviews subject matter for stamps will meet again in March and will consider the "Small Town, America" series then. We urge anyone who supports the notion that small towns deserve recognition on postage stamps to write in support of the series to:

Paul N. Carlin, Postmaster General, %Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee, U.S. Postal Service, 475 L'enfant Plaza, Washington, D.C. 20260.

The series proposal calls for scenes from small towns in each of the 50 states. This will be the fifth time the Advisory Committee has considered the topic "Small Town America." The committee has thus far rejected honoring small towns. Consequently, timely letters to the Postmaster may prompt the Committee to approve this worthy series.

Thanks for considering small towns for a postal stamp subject.

Sincerely yours,

Mike and Maggie LaNoue

MPTI Celebrates Vocational Education Week

Feb. 10-16 is national Vocational Education Week and Moraine Park Technical Institute's entire community of students, instructors and other staff are holding a big celebration.

On Monday, Feb. 11, Vocational Education Week at MPTI kicked off with "Legislator Visit Day." Senator Scott McCallum, Representative Mary Panzer and Representative Dwight York visited a number of vocational programs at MPTI's Fond du Lac Campus. An informal question/answer session and luncheon with the staff followed the legislators' tours of the programs.

Also on Monday, Campus Administrator Phyllis Nagler and her staff hosted the Beaver Dam Rotary Club at MPTI's Beaver Dam Campus. Rounding out Monday's agenda, Lee Flanders, Campus Administrator at MPTI's West Bend Campus, gave a talk at the West Bend Rotary Club.

On Tuesday, more MPTI staff brought the message of vocational education to service organizations; Clement Stapleton, Chairperson of MPTI's Office & Marketing Division, visited with the Fond du Lac Noon Kiwanis Club. Mr. Flanders again spoke in West Bend; this time to the Kiwanis Club. Tuesday evening features the second annual Advisory Committee Appreciation Dinner. Moraine Park's advisory committees, composed of hundreds of District citizens, provided each program area at MPTI with expert advice and counsel. A new twist at this year's dinner - committee members partook in eight different workshops designed to keep them up-to-date with changes in education, industry and society.

On Wednesday, MPTI's Agri-Biotechnology Division set up shop for the day at KFIZ's annual Farm Expo at the Fond du Lac Fairgrounds. The public found out more about such outstanding programs as Water/Wastewater Treatment Technician, Food Science Technician and Farm Operations. At noon on Wednesday, Roger Gibbons, Chairperson of Moraine Park's Trade & Technical Division, spoke at the Fond du Lac Noon Lions Club.

Also on Wednesday, the Moraine Park Vocational Association, MPTI's professional organization, hosted receptions for staff at all three campuses. MPTI prides itself on the staff's professional commitment to excellence; MPVA provides a forum and agenda for that commitment.

MPTI's students also are actively involved in Vocational Education Week. From Thursday to Saturday at Forest Mall in Fond du Lac, Ray Gorden's Office Machine Repair students are once again repairing typewriters for the general public. Throughout the week, other students are staffing an MPTI display booth at Forest Mall in Fond du Lac. Free balloons and decals, demonstrations of various programs, and other activities were planned. The annual student Winter Carnival at the Fond du Lac Campus also adds to the festivities of Vocational Education Week.

Boltonville Bunch Raises $800 On MS Club Ride

Boltonville Bunch Snowmobile Club leaving Boltonville for their 200 mile trip to Mishicot to raise money in pledges for M.S.

Some of the snowmobilers at Fox Hills, Mishicot.

The Boltonville Bunch snowmobiled to Fox Hills Resort in Mishicot on Jan. 26 and 27 and raised $800 in pledges for MS. The club left Boltonville at 8:30 a.m. and arrived around 6:00 on Saturday evening. Seventeen snowmobiles were in the group. There were also two trucks - one with a snowmobile trailer, and 3 cars. They met the group at certain places along the way in case help was needed.

Stops made along the way included the 4 Seasons in Greenbush. They gave money toward the MS club ride. Lunch was at Louis Corners tavern, 5 miles east of Kiel.

The trails were very poorly marked, which led us into situations we will long remember. Our leader, - Jerne Minzlaff of Boltonville, did a good job of guessing. When it became dark outside it was impossible to find the trail. Some of the men in our club stopped a car on Highway 147 to see where we were and how to get to Mishicot. We could see lights of a town but didn't know this was it. Once we got to town we still didn't know where Fox Hills was. We found two gentlemen who were snowmobiling and they took us to Fox Hills.

The evening was spent eating in their beautiful dining room, dancing to live music, swimming in the early morning hours, relaxing in the whirlpool and then off to bed. By 8:00 a.m. everyone was awake. Some members were back in the swimming pool already.

The ride back went much faster. Jerne knew where we had to go and we did. We left at 11:30 a.m., stopped at the same pit stops, and were back to Boltonville by 8:00 p.m. Total distance was very close to 200 miles.

This was the first MS club ride that the Boltonville Bunch participated in. Pledges based on cents per mile were gathered by the members before we left. Top fund raisers were Orville and Kathy Kuehl of Fillmore and Tom and Cathy Fay of Kewaskum. Everyone seemed to think we should try this again next year. A good time was had by all.

THE SOIL CONSERVATION TRADITION

50th Anniversary — 1935 - 1985

By Don Kurer
District Conservationist

This year the nation commemorates the 50th anniversary of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service.

In April, 1935, prompted by demonstration work such as in Coon Valley, and the severe dust storms, Public Law 46 was enacted to establish the Soil Conservation Service. Modern soil conservation on farmland is considered to have actually started in 1933 with the Coon Valley watershed demonstration program near La Crosse, Wisconsin. Cultivation of its steep slopes and wooden hill-sides had caused floods that washed out roads, farmsteads and fields. Woodlots were over grazed and creek bank erosion was excessive. By mid 1935, 413 farmers became cooperators affecting 43,299 acres and involving about half of the farms and acreage in the Coon Valley watershed. Civilian Conservation Corp (CCC) workers and farmers had built 1,184 gully control structures and applied 13,000 acres of contour strip cropping. Today 9 out of 10 farms in Coon Valley and the region around it area practicing soil conservation. However, the first erosion control practice on farmland in Wisconsin is credited to August Kramer, who imitated the strip cropping of his native Germany on the slopes of his LaCrosse County farm about 1885. The farm, now five generations later, continues this erosion control plan.

The first county to organize as a soil conservation district (now Land Conservation Department (LCD) was La Crosse in 1939. Washington County organized in 1943.

In the past 40 years, Soil

Conservation has also spread throughout Washington County. Leading the way was Louis Opgenorth of Kewaskum township who was the first cooperator in the county to plan and apply contour strip cropping to the hilly drumlins of his farm in 1944. He was followed by Alfred Gehl, Addison; Julius Gould and Phillip Hegy, Hartford; John Schuppel, Clarence Jung and Edger Miske, Wayne township; Elmer Happel, Polk; Leon Buker and Jerome Mueller, West Bend; Florence McConohie, Richfield; Hilbert Kluewer, Erin; Harvey Jansen and Herbert Cash, Barton. All of them started their conservation programs before 1950. Dan Stoffel, Washington County Land Conservation Committee member, is now farming the contour strips on the Opgenorth farm.

Today, there are almost 700 landowners throughout Washington County cooperating with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service and the Washington County Land Conservation Dept. to assist them in planning and applying soil conservation practices. Our hats go off to all of them for a job well done.

The Washington County Land Conservation Committee of the County Board is responsible for the development and administration of the Soil and Water Conservation Program in the county. Members of that committee are Chairman Reuben Schmah, Jackson township; John Kohl, Secretary, Richfield township; Frank Falter, Trenton township; Harold Westerman, Wayne township; Dan Stoffel, Kewaskum township, and ASCS County Committee Chairman Allen Peil, Polk township. All members are active or retired dairy farmers.

Sludge Management Meeting at UWWC

A meeting to discuss sewage sludge management has been scheduled for Tuesday, February 19, 1985 from 8:00 to 10:00 p.m. in Room 201 at the University of Wisconsin-Washington County Campus (UWWC).

Sludge contains the solids remaining after sewage treatment, substantial amounts of plant nutrients, and other chemical elements. Usually sludge contains about 3 to 5 percent solids on a dry weight basis but, if dewatered, may contain 20 percent or more solids.

There are two schools of thought as to what to do with sludge. One is to dispose of it; the other is to recycle it.

A number of disposal methods have been used over the years. Sludge has been dumped into oceans, incinerated, and buried in landfills. Each of these methods has benefits and drawbacks.

The alternatives to disposal involve recycling nutrients and organic matter in the sludge through means such as drying to produce granular fertilizer, composting, and applying sludge to farmland.

The February 19 meeting is designed to inform local officials, farmers, and other interested people about sludge management to help them decide how best to utilize it.

Jim Nemke, Manager of the Madison Metropolitan Sewerage District, will discuss the sludge disposal alternatives. Regulations governing disposal of sludge will be presented by Tom Nelson, Sludge Specialist, Department of Natural Resources, while Keith Kelling, Cooperative Extension Service Soils Specialist, will talk about agricultural utilization of sludge.

'Spring Cleaning'

The following news story was written by Rosalie Kwiecinski of Milwaukee, a classmate of R. G. Edwards, M.D., Kewaskum, who is attending classes in Creative Writing at Concordia College:

When I was young, spring cleaning was an exciting event. For a short time the world stood still while my mother cleaned house from top to bottom, putting a bright shiny face on her dwelling place for the birth of Spring.

At four or five the greatest excitement for me came as the dishes were removed from the buffet in the dining room and taken to the kitchen for their annual bath. I got to see them close up, instead of through the smudges I made on the glass doors. The ultimate was having the cocoa set where I could turn the cups and look at oriental figures in their boat on a sea of pale turquoise. I fantasized their movement with my careful manipulation round and round on the saucer beneath. Even the broken lip of the pitcher couldn't take away from the glory of touching and feeling. I watched the pieces plunge into hot soapy water, and then rinse in steamy liquid so they dried quickly. At four or five that was all I was allowed to do - watch.

Mom had a friend Irene who came each year to help. When they finished the dishes, pails were filled and wall washing began. Then it was woodwork, windows, and carpets. Polish was applied to furniture and floors. Room by room the pattern was repeated. Perspiration ran down their noses, and housewives stuck to their backs with dampness.

I looked forward to lunch, although it was sandwiched in between a multitude of other things. That was one of the few occasions in the year when I was allowed to drink tea. In later years, liver sausage and onion sandwiches were part of the fare, and became my long standing favorite.

I wanted the rooms on the first floor to be finished, because the next day was attic cleaning day.

The attic was paradise. By the time I was ten, I was given the privilege of pulling out all the things from the crawl space on either side of the attic bedroom. I was in never, never land with old pictures, lamps, dishes, and boxes. Boxes held treasure, and some of the boxes belonged to me. Aunt Jane and Aunt Jean came to Milwaukee and brought boxes of clothes my older cousins no longer wore.

One year there was a dress with tiny flowers, and a silk blouse of palest blue. There was nightgowns and socks, but the jacket with the fur collar enveloped and kept me warm until my arms hung four inches out of the sleeves.

The box I cherished most was the one that held mom's wedding dress. I dusted it off, removed the old silk ribbon that imprisoned the contents, then raised the lid. My rapture at ten years of age was unbelievable.

I reverently lifted the satin gown from its tissue, put it over my head and felt its smoothness as it slid down my skinny frame. I went to the long mirror on the bedroom door, and relished the beauty its image reflected. I was hypnotized by pearls and rhinestones in intricate swirls, and removed one rhinestone to keep in my drawer. No one would notice that one missing stone.

Fantasy soared. I reached for the cloud of veil and draped it over my long blonde hair. Fanning the veil out as far as it would go, I made sure the embroidered flowers were smooth and flat. Then, I picked up the bouquet of dried roses and maybells, straightened all the streamers, and turned to the mirror again. The image reflected me "ready." I hummed the wedding march and started down the imaginary aisle on the attic floor.

Oh, how hard it was to fold the dress and veil and return them to their resting place for another year. As I replaced the flowers and dropped the lid on my fantasy, reality resumed, and so did cleaning the attic.

Many years have gone by, and when I clean the attic of my own home, there are no fantasies. There is no wedding gown for a little girl to dress in. It has long since been disposed of. The job is over in a short time, not the full day of another age. But...there is my basement.....but, that's another story.....

Hearing Tests Set For Senior Citizens

(West Bend)—Free electronic hearing tests will be given at the Beltone Hearing Aid Center at 2395 W. Washington, West Bend on Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Anyone who has trouble hearing is welcome to have the test. Many people with hearing problems don't need hearing aids. But only a modern hearing test like the one now being offered by Beltone can really tell for sure. Beltone Hearing Aid Specialists will conduct the tests.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year — even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them. Only a hearing test can determine if modern methods of hearing amplification can help them hear better.

The free hearing tests will be given Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at 2395 W. Washington St., West Bend. If you can't get there on Thursday or Friday, call 338-6969 to arrange for an appointment at another time. In-home testing is also available.

Would you like to buy Girl Scout Cookies?

When you open your door and say "yes" to that all-time favorite question, you're saying "yes" to more than just buying all-time favorite cookies. You're helping Girl Scouts in your own community to discover new worlds . . . and remember, Giving Never Tasted Better.

GIRL SCOUTS

Nearly 4,000 members of The Wau-Bun Girl Scout Council will be out knocking on area doors soon trying to get the Council's annual Cookie Sale, a major source of funding for the organization's programs, off to a promising start.

Last year, the Council sold nearly 150,000 boxes of cookies, an eleven percent increase over the previous year's sales. All of the proceeds from the local sale remain in this area. Revenues are distributed to the individual troops and used by the Council to provide various Girl Scout facilities and many diverse educational programs.

Orders will be taken Feb. 20 through March 6, with deliveries scheduled for April 8. Cookies sold during the annual sale are baked exclusively for the Girl Scouts. All varieties cost $1.75 per box and contain no preservatives.

The annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale, the organization's main fundraising project for more than 40 years, has become an American Tradition. Many of the programs and facilities currently available to the Girl Scouts were funded through the sale revenues of the past years.

Senator Donald K. Stitt [R-Port Washington] [center] with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gee.

MADISON. . . State Senator Donald K. Stitt (R-Port Washington) toured Central Center in Madison recently with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gee, Milwaukee, in response to their request that he take time for a firsthand look at the facility.

"I was extremely impressed with Central Center," Stitt said. "The rapport between the staff, residents, parents and administration was wonderful."

Central Center, one of three state facilities for the developmentally disabled in Wisconsin, has the largest population of profoundly retarded residents. The Centers are faced with a projected $24 million budget deficit. Concern over the Department of Health and Social Services proposals to fund the shortfall, prompted the Gees to contact Senator Stitt. The Gees and other parents are concerned that the Centers will eventually close as community integration programs are intensified.

Through conversations with the Department, Stitt learned that they are in fact committed to providing care for developmentally disabled people in the least restrictive environment possible and believes people should have a choice concerning the type of care received. However, the community placement will be voluntary and residents will be relocated only with the consent of the resident's parent or guardian.

Center care will continue to be available to developmentally disabled people who are unable to obtain necessary services in their community.

Stitt, a member of the Joint Committee on Finance, indicated the visit would prove very helpful when the funding issue is discussed. "I have a basic understanding of the care provided and will be in a better position to weigh the needs of all concerned," Stitt said.

Comments can be addressed to Senator Donald K. Stitt, 417 South, State Capitol, P.O. Box 7882, Madison, Wisconsin 53707 or you can call him at 1-800-362-9696. Please feel free to contact him at anytime.

Respect Snowmobile Trails

Because of cooperation between landowners and snowmobile clubs, area snowmobilers can enjoy excellent trails throughout the county. Unfortunately, acts of vandalism are spoiling the beauty of these trails and causing difficulty for the landowners who grant permission for the trails to cross their property.

Sheriff Clarence Schwartz

reminds the public that vandalizing snowmobile trails is a serious offense. State Statute 350.135 prohibits any interference with trails signs and markers. Convictions of this offense can result in a fine as high as $250.00. Other vandalism to bridges, fences and other property adjacent to the trail can be prosecuted as Criminal Damage to Property.

"Not only does this senseless vandalism ruin the trail but the landowner may change his or her mind about allowing the trail to cross the property. In short, the behavior of a few can ruin a winter sport for hundreds," the Sheriff observed.

The Washington County Sheriff's Department will investigate reports of such vandalism and take appropriate action when a suspect is located. The Sheriff pointed out that the Department has two (2) snowmobiles which are operated by deputies throughout the winter months. "Just as our patrol officers observe offenses when driving their squads, they will do the same when on patrol on snowmobiles," He cautioned.

CRIMINALS BEWARE

Bernhard Goetz stands on a New York City subway car. Four youths quickly surround him, harass him, and ask for $5. He pulls a gun, shoots them all, two in the back. After running away, nine days later he turns himself in.

Overnight, Mr. Goetz became a national hero. Victims everywhere applauded when he sent a message to criminals across this nation, "citizens won't be intimidated." Los Angeles District Attorney Ira Reiner referred to the public support for a victim of crime who fights back. "To live today in urban America means that you are severely at risk and essentially helpless to deal with the problem of crime. When someone comes along to make you feel you are not helpless, then everyone collectively throws their hats in the air."

President Reagan summed it all up when he was asked about the subway shooting at a recent news conference. His comment: he sympathized with public frustration about crime, but citizens should not take the law into their own hands.

Unfortunately, the youths that harassed Mr. Goetz were hardly innocents. The four have had a history of brushes with the law that have included nine convictions, twelve outstanding cases and ten bench warrants for non-appearances in court. One of the youths is awaiting trial on charges of robbing three men with a shotgun.

What can we do to combat the fear in the streets? Viewing all this as a legislator, it's encouraging to note that Congress passed the most sweeping anti-crime bill in years last fall. This will help keep some of those criminals off the streets. Included in the package were provisions to revise federal sentencing procedures, allow pretrial detention of dangerous suspects, restrict the use of insanity defense, and increase penalties for drug trafficking.

As a Member of the Judiciary Committee, I have been working on these reforms for years. Fortunately, for law-abiding Americans, we have a President who cares about safety in our streets. Most observers agree the crime package moved because of the President's leadership. Despite this recent tragic case in New York, there is no question that most Americans will be assured a safer future as a result of this comprehensive crackdown on criminals.

NATIONAL CHILDREN'S DENTAL HEALTH MONTH
FEBRUARY 1985

ADA American Dental Association
©Henson Associates, Inc. 1985

The Washington-Ozaukee County Dental Society brings you this article in observance of National Children's Dental Health Month. It is fourth in a series of eight on "The Many Worlds of Dentistry."

Almost as soon as people learned that they could get relief from an aching tooth by having it pulled, they started trying to replace the missing tooth. As long ago as 500 B.C., the Etruscans fashioned bridgework out of gold. Like modern bridges, these devices fastened to the natural teeth and supported artificial teeth.

It is important to replace teeth lost because of accidents or dental disease. If you are missing all or most of your teeth, your diet will be severely limited, and you will look older and less attractive. If you are missing one or several teeth, other problems may result. The neighboring teeth may tip over into the empty space. The teeth in the opposite jaw may move up or down toward the space. Teeth that are out of position may not "mesh" or fit correctly with teeth in the other jaw. Chewing and other movements of the mouth may put added stresses on these teeth, pushing them even farther out of line and breaking down the tissues that hold them in place. Teeth that are tipped or out of position are also hard to clean, which increases the risk of tooth decay and periodontal (gum) diseases.

To replace one or more missing teeth, removable or fixed bridges are used. As their name indicates, removable bridges may be taken out of the mouth and put back again by the persons wearing them.

They are held in place by metal clasps around the natural teeth on either side. In some cases, these teeth are crowned, and an artificial tooth is fused between the crowns, to replace the lost tooth. In other cases, the artificial tooth is bonded to the neighboring teeth. The success of a bridge depends greatly on the continued health of the teeth supporting it, so people who must wear bridges should be particularly careful to brush and floss thoroughly every day.

When too many teeth have been lost to permit the use of a bridge, dentists recommend the use of a partial denture. When all of the teeth in one or both jaws are missing, the only possible way to replace them is with full or complete dentures.

If you are about to become a complete denture wearer, you have a choice. After your remaining teeth are removed, you can wait until the extraction sites have healed to have dentures made, or you can have dentures inserted right away — immediate dentures.

What are the advantages of immediate dentures? They minimize changes in your appearance. You will never have to appear in public without teeth or learn to speak and chew without them. Also, immediate dentures help to control bleeding from the extraction sites. However, they have some disadvantages, too. More visits to the dentist are required. The denture must usually be relined and sometimes must be re-made. Finally, immediate dentures are more expensive than regular dentures.

Dentures are made to fit precisely. However, if the gums and bone supporting the dentures change, they can become loose. When this occurs or when the dentures break, you should see your dentist immediately. Only a dentist can determine what changes have taken place in the mouth and what should be done to correct the fit of the dentures or to repair them.

If you have a dental problem that requires bridges or dentures, your family dentist may treat it or you may be referred to a prosthodontist. A prosthodontist is a dentist who has additional training in this area of dentistry and who limits his or her practice to the diagnosis and treatment of prosthodontics.

Your teeth were designed to complement each other. Each one has a specific function and helps to keep the arch in which it is located in proper balance. For satisfactory chewing, speaking, and laughing, you need a complete set. If you have missing teeth, you have a problem that can hurt your dental health and make you look less attractive. Why not do something about it? See your dentist, and find out how these teeth can be replaced.

Do-It-Yourself Tax Return Workshop

Are you frustrated over doing your income tax? Are you looking for some help? Do you want to do your own taxes this year?

Then plan to attend the U.W. Extension "Do-It-Yourself Tax Workshop" scheduled for February 21 and 28. This 6-hour course is designed to assist you in completing your Federal Form 1040 and State Form by familiarizing you with the mechanics of both, as well as the accompanying schedules and forms. Changes resulting from the Tax Reform Act of 1984 will be highlighted.

The workshop is designed not only to enable you to file this year's returns, but will also help you gain insight into your own tax situation to do some tax planning for the coming year. It is hoped that it will assist you to avoid any of the mistakes you might have made in 1984.

The course is geared to show you how to go about finding your own answers to your tax questions and to instill enough confidence in you that you will want to continue trying to do your own returns in the future.

The workshop is for you if all your 1984 income is from one or more of these sources: salaries, wages, interests, dividends, pensions, annuities, capital gains or limited residential rental income.

The course is NOT for you if you are self-employed, have a farm, own a business, have significant income property, foreign investments or a complicated trust arrangement.

The fee is $9.00 per person/$15.00 per couple. Pre-registration is mandatory. Registration forms are available from the U.W. Extension Office, Court House Annex II in West Bend or by calling 338-4479; 644-5204 or 342-2929.

The course is divided into two, three-hour sessions from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. The first is a generalized discussion of the forms and instructions and the second week the class will be broken into smaller groups and the emphasis will be on individual participants needs and questions.

The National Federation office has authentic studies which reveal that the dropout rate of high school students involved in sports, music, speech, etc., is almost infinitesimal in comparison to the dropout rate of students not involved in those activities.

Is Your Home Making You Sick?

Making homes airtight for winter is becoming more popular as fuel costs continue to rise. But as the American Lung Association of Wisconsin points out, many people don't realize sealing their homes not only keeps cold out — it also keeps air pollution in.

Fatigue, frequent colds, sore throats, headaches, nosebleeds, nausea, eye irritations and allergic reactions have all been traced to indoor air pollution.

Researchers have found air pollution can be 10 to 100 times higher inside than outside the home. Common indoor pollutants include:

- nitrogen dioxide, a by-product of any open flame;
- formaldehyde in carpeting, draperies, foam insulation, particle board and plywood;
- smoke from fireplaces, woodstoves and cigarettes.

The Lung Association has several tips for controlling indoor air pollution:

- Never use a gas oven to heat your home; its flame will use up oxygen from the surrounding room.

- Have your furnace and chimney inspected every three years to make sure air ducts are not clogged. Extra stoves and heaters must be crack-free and vented to the outside.

- If you must use a kerosene heater, be sure it is vented, burn a low-sulfur fuel, fill it outdoors, and keep it clean and properly adjusted.

- Never cook with charcoal in an enclosed space; it gives off carbon monoxide, a deadly gas.

- Never let a car or lawn mower engine run in a garage or shed attached to your home.
- Vent your gas clothes dryer outside.

- Clean air conditioners, air ducts, humidifiers and dehumidifiers regularly to avoid spreading harmful airborne organisms.

- Cover sources of formaldehyde with coating and sealers or use an appropriate air cleaner.

- Cover exposed asbestos with plastic and/or duct tape to provide an airtight seal. If asbestos is flaking, do not try to remove it yourself — get a professional.

- When using aerosols and other household or personal care products, read labels carefully, follow directions, and have adequate ventilation.

- Kick the cigarette habit, and don't allow others to smoke in your home. At the very least, reduce cigarette smoke pollution by using an effective air cleaner or by opening a window and using an exhaust fan.

For a free brochure with more detailed information on the source and effects of nitrogen dioxide, formaldehyde and other indoor pollutants, call the American Lung Association of Wisconsin at 463-3232 in the Milwaukee area or toll-free at 1 (800) 242-5160.

Report Current Mailing Addresses For Social Security

It is important that all people receiving Social Security Benefits provide their current addresses, according to David W. Becker, Manager of the Social Security Office in West Bend.

Becker said, "people receiving checks at home usually notify us of any change of address because they want those checks to follow them."

"But," he added, "about one third of those getting benefits have them deposited directly to their bank accounts, and many of them fail to notify us of new addresses."

Becker advised those who had not given Social Security their current address, to do so immediately, so that they could receive important notices such as benefit amount changes, and benefit statements.

"You can change your address by telephone or mail. Just contact us at the number or address in your local directory under United States, Social Security Administration," Becker said. "Make sure that important information about your benefits follow you."

Lakes Team Loses Close One to Twins

Playing at Homestead High School Sunday night, the Kewaskum Lakes team lost a close game to the Thiensville-Mequon Twins, 111-108.

It was a real see-saw game and a tough one to lose for Kewaskum. They led by five points in the third quarter and led 85-82 at the end of the quarter. However, Thiensville-Mequon, behind Jim Endsley and Dan Doedens, took control in the fourth quarter and regained the lead.

Kewaskum thus dropped two games to the Twins this year by a total of five points.

Fortunately though Hartford scored a mild upset over Port Washington, 116-110, so Kewaskum remains tied for first place in the "B" Division with Port, both with 3-6 records.

Kewaskum ace Leon Laatsch again topped all scorers with 38 points. Next in line was Bill Gonwa with 19. The Twins were led by Endsley with 30, Brian Rindfleisch with 24 and Dan Doedens with 23.

Kewaskum has a bye this week. The following week they will host the Menomonee Falls Badgers on Sunday, Feb. 24, at 7:00 p.m. in the first of three straight home games.

Kewaskum — Laatsch 18-2-6, Nigh 7-1-2, Kern 2-1-5, Backhaus 4-0-0, Gonwa 9-1-3, Schroeder 7-0-2, Carpenter 3-1-1, Mollwitz 1-0-3, Waechter 0-0-0. Totals: 51-6-22.

Former KHS Players Shine in Basketball

Former Kewaskum High School basketball ace Brian Arndt scored 20 points for the University of Wisconsin-Washington County in their 89-71 victory over UW-Fox Valley at Appleton Friday night. In UWWC's loss to UW-Sheboygan there Wednesday night, 53-52, Arndt scored another 19 points. He has been among the leading scorers on the team all season.

The UWWC women lost to Lakeland College of Sheboygan last week, 87-52, and in this game another former Kewaskum player, Julie Koepke, led Lakeland with 15 points. The UWWC women's team is coached by Tom Brigham, a member of the Kewaskum School Board. Both Arndt and Koepke are very tall players.

WOMEN'S WORK

For many women, non-traditional jobs have become a way of life. Just ask some of the female truck drivers, yardliff operators, electricians, machinists and electronics technicians at R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

One of those women is Rebecca Middleton. When she reports to work each day, it's not with briefcase in hand, but with a tool belt strapped around her waist. Middleton is the company's first female chief repairer, a position she turned down three times before deciding to accept the challenge.

Jan Brown drives a 40,000-pound yardliff and Linda Boles does electrical work jobs once reserved for men. But all three agree that the men they work with are now their biggest supporters. ▲

Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Washington County Solid Waste Management Board to be held at 1:30 P.M. on Thursday, February 21, 1985 in the Auditorium of the Washington County Courthouse a PUBLIC HEARING will be held on proposed amendments to the Washington County Solid Waste Management Plan regarding: proposed further consideration of incineration with heat recovery as a primary method of handling solid waste in the County; and a proposal of communities conducting a "clean sweep" or public sponsored pickup of household quantities of hazardous waste to be properly disposed of at public expense.

The primary purpose for proposing these amendments now is the need for these issues to be addressed in the Plan to qualify for upcoming DNR grants supporting these efforts.

High School Ski Team Qualifies for State

The Kewaskum High School downhill race team, coached by Dave Wietor, has qualified for both conference and state competition in this, their first year of competition. The team, which is made up of Kewaskum High students, races as part of the Midwest Ski Conference made up of approximately 22 schools in the southeastern part of the state.

The top ten teams in total points after the season qualify for both conference and state competition. Kewaskum qualified by securing the 10th place last Wednesday night when it finished third in its race at Sunburst. "I think it is quite an accomplishment for our first year. I give the guys a lot of credit. None of our members had ever raced before this year, so they've really come a long way," said Wietor.

The three top place winners at Kewaskum's Sunburst Ski Area Wednesday were: Milwaukee Marquette Hilltoppers, combined time of 191.69; West Bend, 194.04; Kewaskum, 210.28.

The conference meet will be held Thursday night, Feb. 21, at Little Switzerland in Slinger at 6 p.m. The state meet will be held at Rib Mountain in Wausau on Feb. 25th. Over thirty schools are expected for the competition. Varsity racers for Kewaskum this year are: Jess Mueller, Brian Sedgwick, Mark Johnson, Paul McFadden, Ethan Miklas, Sonny Sison and Corey Garbisch.

The junior varsity also has had an outstanding year, finishing 4th in the conference overall. Junior varsity skiers this year are: Steve Markus, Ken Miller, Eric Pearson, John Lightner, Scott Schmitt, Mark Brodzeller, Dave VanAssche, Craig Hubbell and Wade Jepsen.

Things look bright for future seasons as only two boys will be lost to graduation.

KHS Wrestlers Qualify Four for Sectional

By John Harju

Bob Callison, Rick Staehler, John Nowak, and Ken Miller all qualified for this weekend's Manitowoc Sectional Wrestling Tournament by placing in the top four in their respective weight classes at last Saturday's Regional Tournament held at Sheboygan South. As a team, Kewaskum placed fourth out of eight.

Callison (now 23-1-1) took first place at 126-pounds with three decisions, the final being a 7-1 win over Matt Ebertz of New Holstein whom he beat a week ago at the EWC meet.

Staehler (17-8-1) and Nowak (19-7) each finished second at 132 and 155 pounds.

Staehler beat Bob Williams of Sheboygan South, 4-1, to get to the finals before losing to Dan Mueller of Fond du Lac, 7-0.

Nowak lost, 5-3, in the finals but then pinned John Nickel of Beaver Dam to nail down second place.

Miller, who started wrestling only a month ago after breaking a leg during football season, finished third at 145 after winning two matches and losing two.

Overall, Coach John Nell has high hopes for the four wrestlers, noting that Callison especially has been wrestling well and should defend his sectional title and advance to state.

Gymnasts Lose To Markesan

By John Harju

Lack of depth once again hampered the KHS gymnastics squad as they lost to host Markesan, 88.65 - 82.63, last Monday evening.

Sophomore Chris Kirchner highlighted Kewaskum's efforts as she won both the floor exercise and the balance beam with scores of 7.55 and 7.35.

Sherri Batzler scored a season-best (7.1) on the uneven bars, giving her second place. She also placed second on the beam and second in the all-around competition with a season-best average of 6.63.

Darlene Luedtke and Jackie Voge scored a 1-2 finish in the vault with scores of 7.4 and 7.05 to round things out for the Indians.

At the JV level, Nancy Goeden, Patty Padden and Mitz Nigh placed 1-2-3 in the vault with scores of 7.5, 7.3 and 7.2. Carrie Batzler's 7.8 gave her a win in the uneven bars while Angie Nowak and Nigh won the beam and floor with scores of 7.8 and 6.0.

Indians Fall to Two State-Rated Teams

By John Harju

Kewaskum (now 5-11 overall and 2-7 in the EWC) lost to two state-rated teams last week. On Tuesday, the Indians traveled to Mayville where they absorbed a 62-52 loss. Kewaskum then lost to undefeated conference rival New Holstein at home on Thursday.

The Indians will travel to Chilton Friday before finishing regular season play at Two Rivers on Feb. 22. The Indians' last scheduled home game with Plymouth Tuesday was postponed due to high winds and drifting snow.

Mayville 62, Kewaskum 52

Kewaskum gave state-rated Mayville a good score last Tuesday, but the host Cardinals rallied in the fourth quarter to stretch a two point lead after three quarters into a 65-52 win.

"The game was a lot closer than the score might indicate," commented KHS coach Perry Koth afterward, "we just went into a lapse and they ran off eight unanswered points," with about six minutes remaining.

The Indians, who upset Mayville last year, suffered through 32% field goal shooting on 18 of 56 tries. Mayville, on the other hand, blasted their way to victory on a 59% shooting clip (28 out of 47).

Mayville was led by a 6' junior floor-general in the form of Tim Blair. Blair scored 20 points, had 3 steals and blocked 3 shots. "When he penetrates he's almost impossible to stop," later commented Koth. Also contributing were post-men Craig Walters and B.J. Royes with 12 and 10 points apiece.

Kewaskum was led by the senior trio of Mike Steinhardt, Todd Wiedmeyer and Tom Herriges with 13, 12 and 10 points, respectively.

Steinhardt also grabbed 8 rebounds while Wiedmeyer had 7. Herriges scored all 10 of his points in the first half with his three buckets accounting for Kewaskum's first six points.

Free throws continued to haunt Kewaskum. After hitting 11 of 14 in the first half, the Indians went cold in the second, hitting only 5 of 13.

New Holstein 65, Kewaskum 53

If undefeated and state-rated New Holstein had one weakness it was rumored that they couldn't shoot from the outside.

This rumor was proven false last Friday when the visiting Huskies shot a hot 46% from the field and handed Kewaskum a 65-53 loss.

The Huskies used fine outside shooting over the Indians' zone defense to take an early 10-0 lead. At the end of one quarter, New Holstein was comfortably out in front, 20-8. The closest Kewaskum came the rest of the way was 10 points at halftime.

KHS coach Perry Koth had his Indians play a 3-2 zone with 6'3" John Harju, 6'5" Mike Steinhardt, and 6'4" Todd Wiedmeyer clogging up the lane forcing the Huskies to shoot from the outside. Unfortunately this plan back-fired as fine outside shooting and tenacious defense frustrated Kewaskum into submission.

"They're a very well balanced team," commented Koth, noting that New Holstein had five players score between 10 and 13 points.

Steinhardt scored a season high 21 points and played well, according to Koth. Bob Yahr scored 10 while Brian Ruplinger added 9.

The Indian JVs lost as well, 48-43. Mike Coulter Jr. led the sophs with a modest 13 points. Don Menzel and Ken Vogt added 10 and 8, respectively.

The KHS freshmen lost 69-57. Noel Stollenwerk, Joel Fleury and Dallas Wodsedalek hit 14, 12, and 8 points.

Indian Girls Massacre Chilton, 60-16; Now 5-5

By John Harju

Everybody got into the scoring act last Thursday as the KHS girls upped their conference record to 5-5 with a 60-16 shellacking of visiting Chilton.

Kewaskum (8-9 overall) limited Chilton to only 18 field goal attempts all night and the inexperienced Tigers made only 5 of these. "The girls played well," commented KHS coach Milt Dickinsen, but he noted that Chilton's girls' basketball program is undeveloped and that many JV players were moved up to varsity in order to give them some experience.

None the less, the Indians had an easy time against the Tigers, leading at half time, 26-10, and then coasting the rest of the way for an easy win.

Leading Kewaskum in scoring were seniors Chris Frantzen and Sandy Secor with 9 points each. Debbie Bastian and Michelle Gebheim followed with 8 while Dawn Fellenz added 6. Lori Rieder paced Chilton with 6 points.

As a team Kewaskum shot a respectable 41% from the floor (26-63). Dickinsen hopes this will improve as the Indians begin to get set for the Regional tournament.
