Kewaskum Okays Police Contract

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

"The significance of this is that it is the first year we've had a two-year contract with the Police Department," stated President Gerald Stollenwerk as the Kewaskum Village Board unanimously approved the pact at its meeting Monday night.

The new contract provides a 3.5% across the board increase for 1985, and a 4.5% raise for 1986. Salaries in 1985 will range from $1,460.16 per month for a first-year officer to $1,836.76 after the fifth year. In 1986, the starting salary will be $1,525.87 and go to $1,919.41 after five years of service. The board also approved some changes in contract language.

In other action, the board approved a recommendation of the Plan Commission to re-zone a portion of the Theodore Meilahn property on Roseland Drive from P-1 park, to R-1 residential, for the construction of a single family dwelling.

The Board also approved a request of the Library Committee to purchase a new index card file and desk which is to be installed after completion of the library remodeling. Trustee

Mary Krueger told the board, the items could be purchased from Quality Cabinet of West Bend, for a cost of $3,595 including delivery and setup as compared to ordering from a catalog for over $5,000 plus the cost of shipping and setup, which the village would have to do.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt updated the board on state and federal proposals to stop revenue sharing programs.

Schmidt said, at a recent meeting which he had attended, State Representative Donald Stitt made the comment that while Governor Earl was seeking to cut state revenue sharing, he has done nothing to cut the state's budget. Instead, the budget contains increases ranging from 15% to 300%.

Earl is also looking to change the program's growth rate percentage from 5% the first year, to 2.5% in the second year. The Board unanimously approved a resolution which will be sent to Earl asking that the state continue its revenue sharing program and, with the 5% growth ratio.

The trustees also approved a resolution regarding federal revenue sharing which will be sent to Senators William Proxmire and Robert Kasten.

Schmidt said Earl is also considering a change to the "Wisconsin Fund" which could seriously affect the borrowing abilities of communities like Kewaskum. Presently only 1/3 of the fund is available to the City of Milwaukee. However, Earl's new recommendation would allow Milwaukee to get up to 56%, seriously reducing

Regal Ware Lays Off

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Increased imports and the high value of the American dollar abroad are being partially blamed for layoffs at Regal Ware, Incorporated, Kewaskum.

James Moran, Director of Human Resources at Regal, last week confirmed the layoffs but declined to verify the actual number. According to several unofficial sources, 66 employees in the manufacturing plant were laid off on February 22nd, and 30 to 40 office workers were scheduled to be laid off last Friday.

Since the company is privately owned, Moran said it is not required to make any public statement on the layoffs. He stated, however, that Regal's business is feeling the effects of increased imports against which the company is competing on the American market.

Moran also noted that the high value of the American dollar abroad is affecting sales in other countries. Moran said that while these are contributing factors to the layoffs, this is normally the company's slowest time of the year.

Moran also refused to comment on reports that the plant's aluminum casting operation will be moved from Kewaskum to Arkansas. Again, unofficial reports are the entire aluminum casting operation will be moved by the end of July.

The company which has its home offices in Kewaskum, also operates plants in Wooster, Ohio; Flora, Mississippi; Dallas, Texas and Ontario, Canada. It is the largest privately owned manufacturer of cookware and small appliances in the United States.

Snowstorm Closes Schools

After springlike weather the entire week before had melted most of our huge piles and drifts of snow, another snowstorm swept through the area Sunday night.

The snow started late Sunday afternoon and continued through the night. Approximately six inches of snow fell but was accompanied by violent winds of 40 miles an hour, gusting to 46 miles per hour, causing much blowing and drifting.

The storm brought out all available snowplows and sanders, closed schools Monday, plowed in cars, drifted streets with high piles of drifted and plowed snow and abandoned cars, some in the ditch.

By Tuesday we were pretty much back to normal again.

Schmidt 2nd Write-In For Village Board Race

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Richard Schmidt has publicly announced he will be a write-in candidate for a trustee's position on the Kewaskum Village Board in the April 2nd election.

Schmidt is a former member of the board, having served as trustee three years, one being elected to fill the unexpired term of Carl Spaeth and a two-year term of his own. He was defeated in seeking his second full term on the board last year when newcomer Tom McElhatton won a seat along with incumbents Donald Mlodzik and Howard Laubenstein.

"After careful consideration and support from individuals in the village, especially my wife, I've made my decision to run. I feel that with the past years of experience I've had on the board being on the various committees, it would be a great asset to the Board. The biggest concern I have is for the village is its growth and making it a good community to live in."

Schmidt is married and works for the Washington County Highway Department.

Schmidt brings the total to four candidates who are seeking a post on the Kewaskum Village Board. He will be running against incumbents Mary Krueger and Paul Blumer and newcomer Richard Schlice, who is also running as a "write-in" candidate.

At the close of the January

8th deadline for filing nomination papers, there were only the two incumbent candidates seeking one of the three trustee seats becoming available with the expiration of Krueger, Blumer and David Nigh's terms. With Schmidt's announcement at the Village Board meeting Monday night, there will be a real contest for village voters come April.

Nigh opted not to seek re-election for his trustee's position but instead is running for Board President replacing Gerald Stollenwerk, who is not seeking re-election.

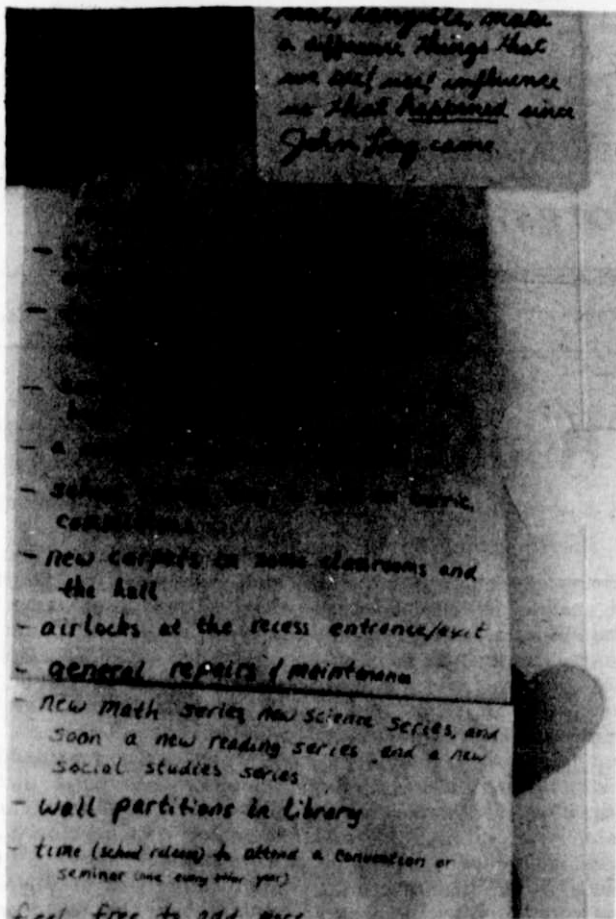

Since both Schmidt and Schlice declared their candidacy after the filing deadline, their names will not be printed on the official ballot. Voters wishing to vote for either Schlice or Schmidt must remember to write in their choice as well as mark their vote on the ballot for their vote to be valid and counted.

Free Blood Pressure Clinic Here March 13

A blood pressure screening clinic will be held in Kewaskum on Wednesday, March 13, from 11:00 to 12:00 noon at the Kewaskum Senior Club at American Legion Hall, 1538 Fond du Lac Avenue.

This clinic is a service offered by the Washington County Community Health Nursing Service and is provided without charge.

Apparently Not Everyone Dissatisfied With Long

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

While none of the Kewaskum School Board members will publicly make any statements regarding the reasons for District Administrator John Long's resignation, there seem to be some people around who feel significant changes have occurred since he's been here.

In the Teachers Lounge at Kewaskum Elementary School, there hangs a very large poster that makes the following statement: "Real, tangible, make-a-difference things that we see and use and influence us that 'happened' since John Long came."

Below that statement the following things are listed: Not one, but copy machines on machine stands. Two physical education sessions with Phy Ed teacher per week. Some rooms and hall painted. A computer in most classrooms. School release time to work on curriculum committees. New carpets in some classrooms and hall. Airlocks at the recess entrance/exit. General repairs and maintenance. New Math series, new Science series, and soon, new Reading and Social Studies series. Wall partitions in library. Time (school release) to attend a convention or seminar (one every other year).

the money available to other municipalities.

Schmidt also reviewed the village's balance sheet. He noted one point of interest was, that by the end of February 1984, the village had spent $1,901 on snow and ice control. By the end of February this year, the village had spent $5,916.

The Board approved the request of the various village departments to advertise for part-time summer help.

Bartender's licenses were also approved for Timothy Leitheiser and Bonnie Kassekert.

Swimming fees for the 1985 season were also approved.

Letters to the Editor

A Letter to all Kewaskum School principals and coaches:

I'm writing in gratitude to the Feb. 23rd letter by the mother who has had enough with some of the unfairness in school sports. Someone finally spoke out!

I've witnessed often how the same people play over and over, while the same sit on the sidelines and watch. I think it's great that we have some really good athletes but please don't forget the ones that aren't as good and are out for the fun and learning.

High school sports are in trouble, finding it difficult with teachers willing to spend the time and effort to become a coach, especially with the lack of interest on the students part (our 1984 football team is proof of this). But we must remember that this lack of interest may be partly due to the fact that they, the students, feel they will become one of the unfortunate to sit on the sidelines.

I hope this situation will be looked into and solved before we lose our school sports completely, which would be the greatest loss of all. Only you, the coaches and principals can change this problem.

To the Editor:

On behalf of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society-Wisconsin and the thousands of state residents it serves, I would like to thank the media and residents of your community for their support of our MS fund-raising efforts.

Particularly at this time, when The 500 snowmobile tour (Three Lakes-Boulder Junction-Iron River) has just raised an additional $53,000 for Wisconsin MS, do I want to express appreciation to all those who made that achievement possible.

Thanks to those who got pledges and rode. Thanks to those who contributed.

Thanks to the individual snowmobilers and snowmobile clubs of Wisconsin, to the groomers and guides, to the many volunteers who helped, and to our wonderful sponsors, R.L. Ryerson Co., Inc., distributor of Polaris snowmobiles in Wisconsin, and Polaris Industries of Minnesota.

Interest and support such as yours have brought us to the point that the answers to this baffling disease seem nearer now than ever before. Many speak with confidence of discovering its cause, prevention, effective treatment and cure in the 80s.

We hope you will stand with us until then.

Sincerely,

Dr. Van Ess Visits Schools

ST. LUCAS SCHOOL — Fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

BEECHWOOD SCHOOL — Kindergarten, first and second grades.

WAYNE SCHOOL — Fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

FARMINGTON SCHOOL — Afternoon kindergarten.

As part of the observance of National Children's Dental Health month, Dr. Stephen Van Ess of Kewaskum recently visited St. Lucas, Beechwood, Farmington and Wayne Schools. The month of February is designated for education in proper dental care and oral disease prevention.

Students saw films entitled "toothbrushing with Charlie Brown" and "The Haunted Mouth." Each group was questioned by Dr. Van Ess to test their knowledge of a variety of oral health subjects. The students responded with excellent answers and some interesting questions for "Dr. Steve." Each student was given a packet of educational material and a kit with a toothbrush, toothpaste and disclosing tablets.

Dr. Van Ess, Vice-President of the Washington-Ozaukee County Dental Society observed, "The Washington County dentists were very active this year, speaking to most of the schools and many civic groups. Everyone enjoys these presentations, and learns a lot at the same time."

On Feb. 1, the Farmington third grade had a Teddy Bear Rally in conjunction with their study of Theodore Roosevelt and National Parks.

Eighty years ago President Roosevelt went bear hunting. He didn't see any bears for a long time. A guide spotted a cub and pointed it out to the president. Roosevelt refused to shoot. He thought the bear was too little to defend itself. A newspaper artist drew a cartoon about it. That was the start of the teddy bear idea.

Our bears were judged in three categories: Tiniest Bear: 1st place "Fluff" Gundrum, 2nd place "Teenee" Schinker, 3rd place "Tiny" Melichar; Best Dressed Bear: 1st place "Betsy" McChain, 2nd place "Ted E." Smith, 3rd place "Betty Bear" Winkels; Largest Bear: 1st place "Winnie the Pooh" Michaels, 2nd place "Shirttail" Thull, 3rd place "Sylvester" Meyer.

We had a "bear-y" good time!

Little Whistlers Homemakers Meet

The Little Whistlers Homemakers Club of Kewaskum met on Tuesday, Feb. 19th, at the home of Carolyn Schultz.

President Lois Thull called the meeting to order. Some of the items discussed were the new projects for the year, child abuse in the county, our coming summer trips, and ideas for raising money.

Our project leaders for the month handed out literature for our project which was, "Create a Comfortable Home...Inexpensively."

The highlight of our evening was a demonstration by "Colleen" of West Bend, who does color analysis and make-up. "Colleen" chose to do a "make-over" on Joan Stoffel. She showed what colors were best on her. We learned how subtle color changes can make a big difference in a person's appearance.

The evening ended with a snack of cherry and blueberry muffins made by Carolyn our hostess.

Bighorn Sheep Trapped, Treated and Transplanted in Colorado

Quite a bit of muscle-power goes into a bighorn sheep trapping operation. Fifty-two sheep were trapped and treated for lungworm and bacterial pneumonia at two sites near Ouray recently. Larry Coulter [with beard] at the right in the photo is shown assisting in the operation.

(Colorado Division of Wildlife photos)

On Friday, January 11th, the Colorado Division of Wildlife, with the help of some 20 volunteers, trapped Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep at two different sites near Ouray, Colorado, in order to treat the animals for lungworm and bacterial pneumonia. Twenty of these animals were taken out of the Ouray herd and transported to Sugarloaf Mountain near Buena Vista.

Among the helpers in the project were Larry and Jeanne Coulter of Ridgeway, Colo. Larry is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Milton Coulter, who formerly operated the M & E Restaurant in the Town of Wayne, and Jeanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Reindl of Kewaskum. Both are graduates of Kewaskum High School and subscribers to the Statesman.

The bighorns are trapped in the wintertime because that is the only time they come down out of the mountains, when there is a scarcity of food.

Before trapping the bighorns everyone was sitting in their vehicles, waiting for the signal. It wasn't a long wait. "They're all spread evenly under the net," Wildlife Biologist Jim Olterman whispered over his two-way radio. "Be ready to come in fast when I drop it." A minor explosion was heard over the radio. The detonator had worked and the net fell over 39 Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep on Jackass Flats near Ouray.

"About three bighorns have died from the pneumonia so far," Olterman said. "We wanted to get to these animals as soon as we could to treat them."

Dr. Terry Spraker, a pathologist and professor from Colorado State University, and Bill Adrian from the Division's Wildlife Research Center in Ft. Collins, injected the animals with oxytetracycline for pneumonia. The animals were also given fenbendazole, an oral treatment for lungworm.

"We want to prevent a die-off from the pneumonia," Spraker said. "The last die-off we had in the state was in the herd of Waterton Canyon."

Olterman said the pneumonia in the Ouray herd is stress-induced. One reason is that there are too many animals in this particular herd.

"They all go to the same place," Olterman said. By transplanting some of the sheep to another area and keeping the herd at a manageable level, some of the stress may be relieved.

The bighorn sheep were baited into a couple of sites with hay and apple pulp since mid-December in order to be treated. Although no more were to be trapped this year, the week of Jan. 14 the antibiotic for the pneumonia was put directly into the apple pulp so the sheep would get another dose of the drug.

The sheep were also to be treated again for lungworm in late February or early March for the benefit of the unborn lamb. Lungworm is transmitted through the placenta to the fetus, so this later treatment is designed to prevent this from happening.

Otto Stenschke, Kewaskum's clever and speedy forward, is the scoring champion of the northern division of the Land o' Lakes basketball league which came to a close on Sunday.

The dusty snow which fell over portions of Wisconsin recently was caused by fine dirt from the snowless wheat fields of Kansas. Drawn up into the snow clouds two to three miles above the earth's surface and carried by the air currents on the snow, it was finally left covering the fields, streets and sidewalks of the Badger state, according to Eric Miller, chief of the Madison bureau of the Federal Weather Service.

August Degner of the Town of Farmington suffered cuts to his lips requiring five stitches and had several teeth knocked out, necessitating his spending the night in the hospital in West Bend, as the result of a collision between his 1926 Ford coupe and a 1927 Chevrolet coach last Friday.

'The Farm'

The following news story was written by Ann M. Allen, a former classmate of R. G. Edwards, M.D., Kewaskum, who is attending classes in Creative Writing at Concordia College:

Yesterday I plowed 40 acres of rich bottomland, disked another 40 on the landing, fed and watered the livestock, and mended the corral - leaving hardly enough time to tend my own meager fields and animals. All of this had to be finished before my eleven-year-old brother returned from basketball practice.

Such was the life of a hired hand - a tenant farmer, a happy subsistence life. My pay would be a tattered old bull, a legless horse or a chicken that didn't lay eggs anymore. Without the right equipment and correct combinations of lime and nitrogen, good yields eluded me; so we would barter for grain, hay and straw. Owing your soul to the company store becomes a way of life, and it is well worth it just to be a part of this grand farming operation.

My brother had all of the latest in farm machinery. It was treasured with the same adoration as many "city boys," loved cars or model airplanes. The combines, balers, disks, harrows, tractors and planters must be carefully parked each night in the sheds he had made of bricks, boards and Mom's dining room table leaves. The plow shares must be greased every evening. Rust was their enemy and time became ours.

His farm existed in our large old gray farm house, but on a different plane from where the grown-ups lived. Their giant footsteps never crushed the corn as the razor sharp leaves begged the rain god for mercy or the vacuum cleaner never inhaled the brittle golden soybeans as they waited for harvest. Of course, we saw the fields with all of the bounty and hopped around the house, over one, then the next, as if surely they would be ruined by one misplaced foot.

As many employer - employee relationships go, I was afraid. Afraid of failure, his wrath, and his disappointment. I might do something stupid, like leave the barn door open. Or maybe a clumsy gesture would knock down a fence row and the cattle escape to gorge themselves on young corn. Or what if I watched cartoons after school, and the smell of Mother preparing dinner awoke me to the realization that I had 80 acres to plant! Back and forth, and back and forth, and back and forth, I would diligently push that little tractor down the rows of carpeting.

Thinking back, as a grown-up, it seems that he would never have known whether I went back and forth and back and forth or not. I suppose I could have told him that the field was planted and never have left my chair in front of the television. That thought never occurred to me when I was six - farming was serious business.

The exact date that we quit farming was - well there was no exact date. There was basketball, track and then came baseball, football and eventually girls.

I hope that I didn't leave the gates open and all of the livestock ran away or forgot to harvest the wheat and a wind storm blew it down. I can't seem to remember exactly what happened, but I sure hope it wasn't my fault.

Somewhere in the Smithsonian Institute of my mind lies all the facts and figures and details of this operation. How many acres were there under the stair case? What was the yield of the corn in the living room? How many head of cattle lived in his bedroom barnyard? How much did hay cost back then? My brother probably remembers - but I don't. Of course, he was the brains of the operation and I was just the tenant farmer - happy to be part his life and such an important business.

NATIONAL CHILDREN'S DENTAL HEALTH MONTH
FEBRUARY 1985

ADA American Dental Association
©Henson Associates, Inc. 1985

The Washington - Ozaukee County Dental Society brings you this article in observance of National Children's Dental Health Month. It is the seventh in a series of eight on "The Many Worlds of Dentistry."

Do you try to hide your teeth when you smile or laugh? Do you feel that they are ugly? Stained? Too far apart?

Whatever the problem, the chances are that it can be reduced or even eliminated by "cosmetic" dentistry. Cosmetic dentistry is a term used to refer to dental treatments intended to improve appearance.

Many dental treatments involve both cosmetic and health considerations. For example, your dentist may repair a decayed tooth by using a tooth-colored filling. Removing the decay and putting in a filling helps prevent further damage to the tooth. Using a filling that matches the shade of the remaining part of the tooth helps make your mouth look more attractive.

Among the wide range of techniques your dentist can use to improve the appearance of your smile are the following:

- oral prophylaxis (professional cleaning), to remove stains on the surface of the tooth;
- bleaching, to remove stains actually within the tooth;
- cosmetic contouring, to improve the shape of a tooth;
- crowns or "caps," to improve the looks and strength of badly decayed or weakened teeth;
- bridges, to replace missing teeth;
- orthodontic treatment, to correct the position of the teeth, and
- oral surgery, to correct abnormalities in the lower or middle parts of the face.

Perhaps the technique with the greatest variety of cosmetic applications is bonding. Bonding, a relatively new technique in which plastic materials are used, can be used to treat teeth that are fractured, decayed, chipped, too widely spaced, malformed, or badly stained from the use of certain antibiotics. Bonding is primarily a treatment for front teeth, as bonded restorations are not yet strong enough to withstand the pressures on the back teeth or the chewing surfaces of the teeth.

The first step in bonding is the application of a mild etching solution to the enamel of the tooth or teeth being treated.

This solution roughens the enamel slightly, allowing other materials to bond to it. A liquid plastic material called a resin is then painted into the etched surface.

The next step depends on the problem being treated. In some cases, the dentist will apply a thicker plastic material called a composite resin to the tooth. This resin is then shaped to rebuild or replace parts of the tooth. After reshaping, it is hardened either by a chemical process or by a brief exposure to a special light. Finally, the surface is polished. In other cases, the dentist may bond acrylic or porcelain veneers to the front surfaces of the teeth, using the same resin materials as the bonding agent.

No treatment method is suited to every problem or to every person. Before recommending a particular treatment for your problem, your dentist will examine your mouth and teeth and consider your individual needs. In some cases, X-rays will be taken or impressions of your teeth made for plaster study models.

If you don't like the way your teeth look, ask your dentist what can be done about their appearance. Thousand of other people have, and they've got happier, more beautiful smiles to prove it.

County Dentists Attend Meeting

Washington County dentists heard the president of the Wisconsin Dental Association (WDA) during a special trustee meeting on Wednesday, March 6, held at the Red Carpet Country Inn in Pewaukee.

Dr. Claude I. Sime, a Madison orthodontist, talked to dentists and auxiliaries from the Association's Eighth District including the counties of Jefferson, Washington, Ozaukee and Waukesha.

The Wisconsin Dental Association, with headquarters in Milwaukee, is a professional association of over 3000 dentists, and is a constituent society of the American Dental Association. The counties at the meeting comprise the Association's eighth district, whose trustee is Dr. Michael J. Inda of Waukesha.

Dentists at the program also heard Mr. Doug Meske, a psychotherapist with Elmbrook Family Counseling Center. His discussion was on looking at one's emotional critical needs and on showing which ones can be taken care of by an individual and which ones require a good relationship with someone else.

A Family Tradition for 60 Years

"You always taught me to tell the truth, dad. Should you expect anything less from our computer?"

"Actually, I'm pretty proud of that boy. Knows his seed... I can tell you that. He's been feeding facts into that new computer about Wisconsin

Certified Seed... things like varietal purity and identification... high germination and low weed seed content.

"Computers don't lie. And, right now, it's reminding us to go pick up our Wisconsin Certified Seed for next year's crops. Let's go do it, son."

A flock of 50 even geese [count 'em], one of three flocks which followed Highway 28 over Kewaskum last Friday. A hopeful sign that spring is on the way. If the birds could have foreseen the snowstorm which swept through the area Sunday night, they probably would have made a U turn and headed back south again.

Laatsch Scores 52 Points As Lakes Team Defeats Port, Regains Lead

The Kewaskum Lakes team won their showdown battle with Port Washington for first place in the "B" Division here Sunday night, 136-113. The win moves Kewaskum a half game ahead of Port in the standings, with a 4-7 record, while the Lakers drop to 4-8.

In addition, Port has all "A" Division teams left on its schedule, while Kewaskum has Sussex and Hartford among its remaining opponents.

Kewaskum coasted in the third quarter and poured it on with a 36-28 fourth period as Laatsch had 16.

Laatsch, always one of the league's top scorers, had his best game of the year with 52 points on 25 field goals and two free throws to take scoring honors. Eichstedt was next with 28. Rollie Kitt and D. Ross led Port with 27 and 24 points respectively.

This Sunday Kewaskum hosts unbeaten "A" Division leader Cedarburg, which has run off 11 straight wins this year and is in position to finally unseat the Menomonee Falls Badgers as Lakes grand champions. Game time is 7:00 p.m. at the KHS gym.

VOTING BY ABSENTEE BALLOT

Any qualified elector, unable to get to the polling place on election day for any reason, may ask to vote by absentee ballot. A qualified elector is a person who is a U.S. citizen, who will be 18 years of age or older on election day, who has resided in the ward or municipality where the person wishes to vote at least 10 days prior to the election. If the voter resides in a municipality which requires voter registration, then registration is also required for the voter to receive an absentee ballot.

To obtain an absentee ballot, the voter should contact the clerk of the city, village or town in which the voter resides. A written request must be made by the voter for the absentee ballot. If the voter contacts the clerk by telephone the clerk will send the application form to the voter. If the voter requests an absentee ballot by mail, the written request, signed by the voter which indicates that the voter resides within the municipality, will be honored. Written requests may be made beginning three months prior to the primary election. The deadline for receipt of the written request by mail is 5:00 p.m. on the Friday before the election. If the voter goes to the clerk's office to complete a written request, the request must be made no later than 5:00 p.m. on the day before the election.

With one exception, the voter who wants to cast an absentee ballot, must make a separate written request before each election. If a voter is indefinitely confined to their home or a care facility because of illness, age, or disability, the voter need not make a request before each election. There is a special statement on the application form which is provided by the municipal clerk which can be completed asking that an absentee ballot be automatically mailed to the voter before each election if they are indefinitely confined. If the indefinitely confined voter fails to vote and return the ballot sent to the voter, a separate written request for the next election must be made before the voter can get a ballot.

The municipal clerk will send the absentee ballot to the voter once the request is received and the ballots are prepared. Absentee ballots are available three weeks prior to the election. The municipal clerk keeps a record of all individuals requesting an absentee ballot, when the ballot is sent and returned to the municipal clerk.

Absentee ballots can be voted at home any time after they are received in the mail. Absentee ballots can also be voted in the clerk's office if the voter appears in person and fills out the written request. The voter should make sure that the affidavit-certificate is properly completed and witnessed by two persons. The voter and the witnesses must sign the certificate on the absentee ballot carrier envelope. If the absentee elector receives assistance in marking the ballot, the assistance must be provided by a person authorized to administer oaths such as a notary public, municipal clerk or deputy municipal clerk. The municipal clerk will make sure that the affidavit-certificate is properly completed by the voter when the absentee ballot is voted in the clerk's office.

The completed absentee ballot must be in the hands of the issuing municipal clerk no later than the close of the polls on election day. Voted absentee ballots may be delivered in person to the municipal clerk. Any absentee ballot received after the polls close or any ballots which are not properly completed cannot be counted.

quite well. LaCrosse Central, known for years as a powerhouse in downhill skiing, won the overall championship. Wally Schaub of Wausau West was the overall individual champion. The competition consisted of three events: the downhill, giant slalom and slalom.

who scored eight inside points of his team-high 16 during this period.

In the second half, Kewaskum played Waupun evenly for the first 10 minutes, cutting the Warrior lead to within three points three different times, but, unfortunately, just couldn't get over the hump as a relentless Warrior defense and Indian mistakes turned the game into a rout.

Following Steinhardt in scoring for the Indians was junior Bob Yahr with 10 points. Ron Theusch, also a junior, added six, while seniors Tom Herriges and Todd Wiedmeyer and sophomore Mike Coulter each had 4. Senior play-making guard Brian Ruplinger, who led the EWC in steals this year, was limited to only two free throws.

Warriors Beat Fond du Lac for Title

Indian Boys Ousted By Waupun in Regional

By John Harju

Kewaskum's season came to an abrupt end last Friday evening as they lost their regional opener to the Waupun Warriors, 61-48, in Waupun.

In the other WIAA Class A Regional opener, Fond du Lac defeated Beaver Dam, 50-38, in a violent game in which tempers flared and near fisticuffs broke out on two occasions. Thus Fond du Lac and Waupun advanced to the regional finals at Fond du Lac Goodrich gym Saturday night, in which the Warriors defeated the Cardinals 67-62, to gain a berth in this weekend's Oshkosh Sectional against Neenah, a 58-54 overtime winner over Oshkosh West at Neenah. Waupun goes into the Sectional with a mediocre 10-11 record. All four teams in the Fond du Lac Regional had losing records this season.

Kewaskum, which finishes the year with a 6-14 record, came out painfully flat in the first quarter and allowed the host Warriors to take a 21-7 lead after the first eight minutes. KHS Coach Perry Koth commented that his team's first quarter play was "unbelievable," noting that after trailing 4-2 his Indians went into one of their season-famous "lapses" and let Waupun score 10 unanswered points (many on offensive rebounds). 6'4" Warrior center Brian Fulton scored 12 of his game-high 23 points during the first quarter.

The Indians got their act together in the second quarter, outscoring the Warriors 14-5 to pull to within 26-21 at half. This was due mainly to the efforts of 6'5" senior Mike Steinhardt,
