DA's Letter Doesn't End Citizen's Crusade Kemp's Aids in Missing Children's Program

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Clara Trapp, Town of Scott, has accepted Washington County District Attorney David Resheske's finding that the Kewaskum School Board did not violate the open meetings law but, she still has other questions regarding their recent actions on the district administrator's resignation that neither the board or Resheske have answered to her satisfaction.

In a letter replying to Trapp, Resheske told her it was not his responsibility to determine whether the decision of the board was right. The district attorney's job was just to decide if the open meetings law had been violated. Resheske also said, any decisions reached by the board in closed session can be announced without an open vote of that board.

"I still think there should be one hell of an investigation of the board and its action on the Long resignation," said Trapp in a conversation Monday morning. "What we need is a little more honesty and above the table talk from the board to the taxpayers."

Trapp said when she took the confidential letters she had acquired regarding Long's resignation to the DA, she was not so concerned about any meeting violations as she was about the contents. "I just wanted him to see what was going on," said Trapp. "There's a lot more to the jigsaw puzzle than people know," she stated.

"I'm so fed up with these taxes, if we don't put an end to all this high spending for lawyers fees we'll all be in the poorhouse," said Trapp.

Referring to last week's West Bend News, Trapp said, "what makes me made is that article quoted me as saying the wrong guy was in the stew pot, that the school board was in trouble. What I said was President Jean Goeden should have been in that pot."

Trapp is hoping to get Goeden to step down as board president. "At the present time

As of March 8th, thousands of half-gallon Kemp's milk cartons throughout the upper midwest entered consumers' homes carrying pictures and descriptions of children listed as missing with The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children.

Dick Hill, manager of the Kewaskum bottling plant of Kemp's Division of Marigold Foods, said the project has been undertaken as a public service of the dairy and the National Child Safety Council.

Along with the Kewaskum operation, three bottling plants in Minnesota also started using the new containers to package their milk. The descriptive milk cartons are being purchased from International Paper of New York.

Surprising Turn of Events in Long Resignation

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Late Tuesday afternoon, it was learned that confidential letters regarding the resignation of District Administrator John Long were being made public by the Kewaskum School Board and copies would be available for the news media.

Confirming this information with Business Manager Cherna Gorder, this reporter picked up a packet of papers. Upon going through the documents, we found a letter marked "privileged and confidential" addressed to Board President Jean Goeden from the law firm of Quarles and Brady. The letter enclosed a copy of a settlement agreement, plus Long's formal letter of resignation.

Among other statements, the settlement included eight points to be agreed upon by Long and his lawyers. They were basically, as follows: 1. Long would submit his written resignation effective June 30, 1985. 2. Long would continue to search for other employment and the board would assist in the search. 3. Long would be paid his present salary for July and August with all benefits unless he found other employment. 4. If Long accepts benefits in #3, he will be available to perform his duties or assist in transition process. 5. Neither Long or the board would issue any public statements on the subject of the settlement or events which led to the settlement, "with the exception of such statements that may be mutually agreed on by Long and the board, and with the exception of the disclosure of any records or information which must be made available to the public." 6. The board would not contest Long's claim and receipt for unemployment compensation. 7. In consideration Long would release the district and board from any and all claims, etc., which Long may now have or may hereafter assert related to Long's employment or non-renewal. 8. This settlement agreement constitutes the entire agreement of the parties. The agreement also stated that by letter dated January 25, 1985, Long was informed that the board was considering non-renewal of his contract.

Included among the documents were copies of Long's 1982 three-year contract and a later contract dated September 10, 1984, for one year at a salary of $43,091, plus fringe benefits. A copy of the joint release announcing Long's resignation was also included.

When Gorder was asked what had brought about this reverse in the board's position, she indicated she had no idea. "All I know," said Gorder, "is Mr.

Property Tax Receipts Ahead of Last Year

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt told the Kewaskum Village Board Monday that collection of 1984 property taxes had reached 69.95% compared to last year at this time when 68.1% of the total taxes had been received. Last year the village had 38 properties placed on the delinquent roll, this year there are 33.

Schmidt also presented Resolution 85-1 concerning the borrowing of funds for the Municipal Building remodeling. Schmidt said because the Wisconsin Trust Fund is governed by two separate state codes, a previous vote on the resolution was not acceptable. The resolution has to be passed by a 3/4 vote of the board. Since trustee Paul Blumer was absent for the original vote and Mary Krueger voted "no" the approval was legally short one vote. On the second vote, the resolution was approved 6 to 1, with Krueger voting no.

Updating the board on the remodeling, Schmidt said work had begun on March 1st in the old firehouse garage area. The plumbing and some of the electrical work has been done and necessary demolition of some areas and re-cementing of floors has been completed.

The board approved a request to purchase approximately 2,000 feet of drain tile at a cost of $1,216 to be used in correcting some sump pump run-off problems in the area of North Avenue.

In other action, the board approved the purchase of a mower for the diesel tractor which had been purchased last year. The mower cost of $1,190 had been a budgeted item.

Because there have been some recent court cases regarding the legality of municipalities charging cable TV companies franchise fees, the board unanimously voted to grant River

Resident of Exodus House Commits Suicide

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum police and ambulance were dispatched to the Exodus House early Tuesday evening in response to an apparent suicide.

Roger Merlin, of 2577 Rosewood, Kewaskum, who discovered the victim, directed authorities to the Exodus House attic area where the body of Andrew R. Kraemer, 20, was found with a rope around his neck. Merlin said, on finding Kraemer, he cut the rope which had been attached to a pipe.

While there were no apparent life signs, rescue workers administered CPR and emergency treatment. Kraemer was transported to St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend, where he was pronounced dead.

Kraemer, whose home address was listed as 4264 North 84th Street, Milwaukee, had come to the Exodus House on Jan. 28th, 1985.

Prior to coming to Kewaskum, Kraemer had been treated for drug and alcohol problems. Records showed two previous suicide attempts.

Investigation of the premises indicated the man first tried killing himself by swallowing gasoline and lighter fluid. The coroner's report indicated evidence of petroleum products in the victim's system.

Several residents at Exodus told authorities Kraemer had been talking about suicide during the day.

They said Kraemer had not been seen for at least an hour before discovery of his body.

Michael Spector of Quarles and Brady called and instructed me to have copies of the letters made and make them available to the media.

In the absence of Goeden who was out of town, Neal Weare, Vice President of the board, was contacted. He stated Spector had called Board Clerk Tom Brigham late Monday and instructed him to release the documents. In a phone conversation Spector told Weare, in his professional opinion, it was the only step to take, noting if the matter were taken to court, the school board would lose resulting in release of the documents, plus a considerable amount of legal fees for any court actions.

When Weare was asked where copies of the remaining letters referred to by Clara Trapp at last week's meeting were, he said he had no idea which letters they were. There's been a considerable amount of correspondence between the lawyers, and lawyers and board members, Weare noted. According to Spector's instructions, we released exactly what the various newspapers requested, the settlement, contracts, resignation and the letter pertaining to the settlement agreement, said Weare. That's all they asked for.

Missing from the packet were letters purportedly sent to, and from, Long's law firm of Franke and Cook. Documents which stated specific dollar figures were also not among the letters.

In a phone call late Tuesday afternoon, Trapp again indicated she possessed still other letters which had not been released. She stated she was expecting a letter Wednesday from the attorney - general's office regarding public disclosure of confidential materials.

DA's Letter

I have decided not to do anything because the papers I have are confidential," stated Trapp. "It all depends on whether or not Mrs. Goeden steps down as president of the board. If we can't get Goeden to step down, I'll release the papers to everyone."

Trapp said she had been deluged by phone calls and people stopping her and asking who gave her the letters. "The Journal even called and wanted copies," said Trapp. "All I'm going to say for now is, I did not get them from Mr. Long, the lawyers, or any of the school board members. For the time being, a snowball in hell would have a better chance of getting that information from me," said Trapp, "so people might as well stop trying and give me some peace. All I'm trying to do is get this board's actions back into perspective."

Kemps

Hill stated, each week the plants will receive shipments of cartons which will contain a new set of four different children who are listed with the center. A panel with pictures of two the children and information regarding them will be shown on each carton, along with the center's telephone number.

Hill said Kemps is the first dairy in the area to participate in the program. Hawthorne-Melody began a similar campaign about six weeks ago, however, their cartons are circulated in the Chicago area.

Because of a slight delay in getting the initial shipment of cartons, Kemps presently has containers displaying information on eight different youngsters. After the company gets on a regular schedule, there will be only four new pictures in circulation each week.

If anyone has any information on any of the missing children, they are asked to call the national center for missing children, telephone 1-800-843-5678.

bend Cablevision an extension with interest charges at the appropriate rate. Riverbend had requested a 90-day extension.

The board held a preliminary discussion on the possibility of setting up an ordinance governing the installation of satellite earth stations (TV dishes). Schmidt asked the trustees to review the data he had given them so further discussions could be held at a future meeting. Schmidt said more and more satellites are being installed and the Southeastern Wisconsin Region Building Inspectors Association has recommended municipalities consider such an ordinance. Presently, the village is using the antenna ordinance as a guide.

On a unanimous vote the board approved lifting of the winter parking ban effective immediately.

Safe Found in Roadside Ravine

A safe which was rusted and had a peeled off bottom was found last week in a deep ravine in the Town of Kewaskum.

The safe, approximately two feet square and of a dark green color, bears the inscription "Victor Safe and Lock Co." The word "Campbellsport" was also stenciled on the safe.

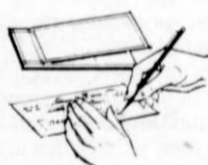

The safe was found by men putting up road signs. It was in a ravine on the south side of East Moraine Drive about one-quarter of a mile west of Kettle Moraine Drive.

A sheriff's deputy's report said the safe appeared it had been there awhile, possibly since last fall. Deputies are continuing to investigate.

KES Students Reach Goal

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

It was nip and tuck the last two weeks, but students of Kewaskum Elementary School can now proudly say they have reached their goal of 5,000 cereal boxtops needed to earn a plaque from the Statue of Liberty fundraising promotion sponsored by the Kelloggs Cereal Company.

At the original February 15th deadline, the students had reached 80% of their mark, and things looked dark in hopes of collecting that last 1,000 boxtops. The deadline was then extended to March 15th, and with a lot of help from parents, area residents, and groups from as far away as Fox Lake, Principal Richard Zarling was able to announce last week that the school had reached its goal.

The sixth grade's job of bundling the boxtops and mailing them this past Monday was all that remained of a task well done by a school full of determined young people who weren't about to give up on a project they had set out to accomplish.

Now... you can learn how to finish with the pros!

McClain to Serve As Chairman for Local Bike-A-Thon

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced today that Chuck McClain has agreed to the chairmanship of the "St. Jude Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon in Kewaskum. The Chairperson will be seeking co-workers, riders, and sponsors to assure the success of the Bike-A-Thon...scheduled for May 18, 1985.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is important to every parent because childhood cancer kills more children than any other disease. St. Jude's is curing better than 50% of its Leukemia patients, and has already treated over 8,000 children completely free of charge. It costs the hospital about $20,000 to take care of one Leukemia patient for one year...and we have 2,300 patients under treatment at this time.

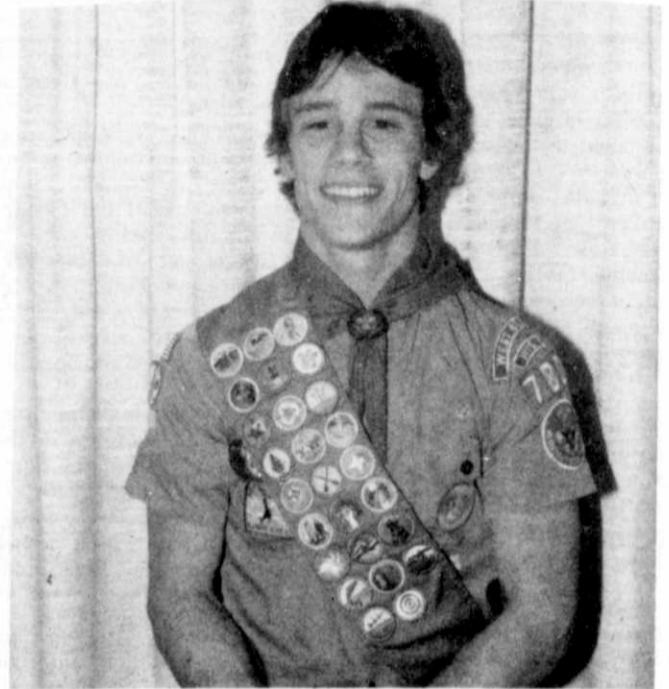

St. Jude Research and St. Jude patient care struggles with the most terrible diseases chance ever inflicted on children...Leukemia, Retinoblastoma, Osteosarcoma, Neuroblastoma and a host of others.

While the hospital may be in Memphis, it is only as far away as the sickest child in your county. St. Jude is winning the fight against childhood cancer, and a victory at St. Jude's means hope for children everywhere. Please help us.

Actor Kirk Mustard, in the character of the famous humorist, will speak to the assembly group about Twain's boyhood in Hannibal, Missouri, and his life on the mighty Mississippi. Dressed in his characteristic white linen suit, "Mr. Twain" will also transform an audience member to look like a riverboat pilot through the use of a few simple costume props and a makeup demonstration. Superstitions and incantations will be discussed and performed.

Mr. Mustard comes to Wisconsin from Los Angeles. He has performed on the West Coast in more than 40 productions. Mr. Mustard's one-man show, "In Search of James Thurber," won critical acclaim throughout California during its three-year run.

Letter to the Editor:

The Washington-Ozaukee County Dental Society wishes to express its thanks to the Kewaskum Statesman for printing the series of eight dental education articles, entitled "Be a Tooth Sleuth." The series enhanced the efforts of area dentists during February, National Children's Dental Health Month.

Your continued support of the education of your readers on all health matters is commendable.

Sincerely,
Stephen R. Van Ess, D.D.S.
 Vice-President, W.O.C.D.S.

To whom it may concern:

The last couple of weeks I have been reading letters to the editor on KHS athletics. I was a KHS athlete, I played for the 1983 state runner-up football team, and I have also played on the KHS basketball team. I agree with the athlete that says sitting on the bench isn't unfair, it's just called "SPORTS." You parents that are complaining about your son/daughter sitting on the bench, don't complain to your coach because the coach knows a lot, for sure more than you. The coaches don't make millions of dollars for coaching. You, the parents, are causing all of our coaches to quit coaching so please get off their backs. If it isn't my son/daughter is sitting on the bench, it is why aren't we winning. I know you can't win every game, but it gets to be a damn long season when you lose every one of your games, and I know how that is because I have played on teams like that.

About sportsmanship, it begins in the home, and the parents that write these letters do not show too much sportsmanship, and you're passing it on to your kids, and then your kids can't take the role they play on the team so they quit. I was taught winners never quit, and quitters never win. "I never did quit and I have been a winner and I'm going to be a winner in life. I hate to tell the parents of those quitters, your kids are a bunch of "losers."

Sincerely,
 "An Athlete That Knows"

To the Editor:

I found Gerry Muller's article covering the March 11 School Board meeting (Meeting Causes More Hard Feelings Between School Board, District Residents) to be quite perceptive. The paragraphs in which she discussed the pros and cons of the excessive number of closed sessions, and the handling of the John Long resignation, probably should have been on the editorial page. However, what she said was certainly true. To quote: "It appears that the insinuations and rumors have proven to be far more damaging to all concerned than facts brought out into the open."

As publicly elected officials, the school board should strive to conduct as much of their business as possible in a public forum so that the electorate can be kept informed. As voters, we must be in a position to judge the conduct of our public officials in order to hold them accountable for their decisions. Our democratic system is based on the free flow of information — without it we have lost our access to the decision making process, and we are left with guesses and suppositions.

In order to encourage the school board to conduct more of their business in open session, threats of legal action and personal attacks on school board members must stop. These threats only create more animosity between the school board and the public, and force the board to rely more heavily on their lawyer — consulting him on legalities before any decisions are publicly announced. It is vital that school board issues be aired publicly and that an open dialog be maintained between the board, the administration, the teachers and the voters.

Dear Editor:

I would like to inform your readers of what abortion has done for me.

When I was 16 years old I became pregnant. Everyone told me to get an abortion (my best friends) they said it was the best thing for me. My parents did not know, but they always favored abortion for any reason and would have encouraged me to get one had I gone to them for advice. My mother has told me recently she would have held my hand while the abortion was performed on me, had I asked her for her advice. At that time I thought parents could force you into getting an abortion, now I know by law they cannot. I was highly pressured into this decision, feeling it was the only way out of this bad situation. Also, at that time there was no help Pro-Life organization located in Washington County.

No one cared enough about me or my baby all they kept telling me was that it "was just tissue." The real fact was that it was a real baby from day one. My baby, at three months, was exactly the way you and me are right now only miniature. My baby could feel pain! When the doctor was trying to kill my baby by sucking him up into that vacuum suction machine I could feel him fighting it. Before the abortion, the clinic told me I would feel no pain during the abortion, only slight period cramps after it was all over. (I had to be at least 3 months along the clinic told me so they could get it all - the tissue - otherwise the tissue would continue growing). I was in so much pain on that abortion table it was like a hot knife stuck deep inside tearing at my belly button. Now I know that it was my baby trying to stay alive, but he was being torn up into pieces by that suction vacuum machine. When I got off of the abortion table there were several spots of my baby's blood on the floor. When I asked the nurse what the blood was from (I was NOT bleeding) she just said "oh, don't look at it." I knew for sure then, I had just killed my baby - not tissue.

After all of this I tried desperately to get it all out of my mind (pain, blood, pregnancy, etc.). The way I tried to do this was to drink alcohol and try to commit suicide. I almost succeeded in killing myself, so I went to a social worker and when I said the abortion was the reason I tried to kill myself and I needed to talk about the abortion, he didn't want to talk about the subject.

The only person that would help me was Jesus Christ. Through my husband and Christian friends they showed and told me about a man named Jesus Christ who was sent to die on the cross for my sins and yours! I knew I needed to be forgiven and to feel forgiveness, so I asked Jesus Christ to come into my heart and wash me clean of all my sins with his precious blood he shed for me on the cross. Praise God for loving me so much that he would send his only son to die for my sins and yours!

Please if you are considering abortion (the killing of your baby) won't you please reconsider this so called "decision." It is not worth the guilt you will carry around with you for years. Call FRIENDS FOR LIFE at 338-3288. This is a Pro-Life group who does care about you and your child. They have real alternatives not just hot air. With this available there is no reason to have to "choose" to kill your child.

Also a group is forming of women who have had abortions and would like to help you if you have had one and are experiencing any of the above mentioned frustrations, guilt, etc. Call Friends for Life at 338-3288.

If you would like more information on either helping out by Volunteering at Friends For Life or questions about services available call the above number.

The Lord said to me, "I knew you before you were formed within your mother's womb; before you were born I sanctified you and appointed you as my spokesman to the world. Jeremiah 1:4-5

Win a Cruise for Two!

The Kewaskum Jaycee Women are selling tickets for a raffle where the prize is a Sitmar cruise for two to one of the following places: the Caribbean, Mexico, Canada/-Alaska, or Trans-Panama. (Winner's choice of one of the four places). The cost is only $1.00 per ticket! If you are interested in a chance at this cruise, contact any Jaycee Women member or call Robin at 626-2793 (after 5:00) or Beth at 338-8841 (after 5:30). All Proceeds go to the National Reye's Syndrome Foundation for research into this childhood disease. This is truly a worthwhile cause to support, and who knows, YOU might be the lucky one to win the cruise!

The Jaycee Women have been helping to make people aware of Reye's Syndrome. It is a disease that affects the liver and brain, occurs in children from infancy through teenage years (during recovery from a recent illness), and the cause is unknown. Research has gained ground in the last few years. In January of 1985, the aspirin industry agreed to put warning labels on aspirin bottles since a link has been found between the disease and children who had been taking aspirin for their illnesses. Reye's Syndrome can cause retardation or death, so it is essential for parents to know as much as possible. The warning signs are continuous vomiting, listlessness, loss of pep, aggressiveness, confusion, and irrational behavior. Time is vital, so phone your doctor immediately if your child has any of the symptoms.

Last year, the Wisconsin Jaycee Women raised $18,000.00 in a raffle for a cruise like the one they are having this year. It would be great to surpass that amount this year. There is also a canister drive that goes on through out the year. The Kewaskum Jaycee Women have placed canisters in the following local businesses: Sentry, Valley Bank, Rich's, Kewaskum Frozen Foods, Behring's, Gina's, Kennelly Pharmacy, and K L Home and Hardware. Please consider placing a contribution in any of these canisters. Small change from a lot of people can add up to lots of dollars for research.

Registration for Spring Story Hour

Dates for the spring session of preschool story hour have been set by the GFWC Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club. The six-week session, which begins April 10th and 11th, is open to children ages 3-5 who are not yet in kindergarten.

Parents must pre-register children for one of the four sessions: 9:15 or 10:30 on Wednesday or Thursday, as attendance will be limited to 20 children per group.

Story-hour, which is free of charge, and meets in the Kewaskum Public Library at the Municipal Building, will present games, songs, stories and weekly themes to youngsters.

Children will "check out" and "return" books weekly, and will receive a free book at the end of the session.

To register for one of the four Story Hour sessions, call Jan at 626-4497.

SUGAR vs EYESIGHT

"You can improve your eyesight, especially your nearsightedness, by cutting down on sugar, and reducing prolonged eye strain," said optometrist Ben C. Lane, addressing the Optical Society of America. Tests on 100 patients to check diet, eye strain, and hair samples indicated that the intake of sugar and other refined carbohydrates may force the body to use its supplies of B-complex vitamins, needed to regulate fluid pressure in the eye. "Folks with worsening nearsightedness consumed relatively more sugar and refined carbohydrates than those folks with unchanging eyesight," said Dr. Lane.

'The Awful Cellar'

The following poem was written by Suzanne Muehlbauer, a classmate of R. G. Edwards, M.D., Kewaskum, who is attending classes in Creative Writing at Concordia College:

The darkness is complete
Broken only by the meager light from
A solitary bulb.
Eerily swaying on its dusty cord.

Clammy, grey stone
Made vulnerable by staring,
onyx window panes,
Alive with grotesque shadows.
Warily, I descend the creaking steps.
Trepidation sharpening my senses.

Spidery.
Cardboard treasure chests
Filled with decrepit relics.
Murky corners
Inhabited by menacing fig-ments.

A massive iron beast
Crouching in the stygian gloom,
Banging as though kicked by Mischievous spirits in passing.
Prickling hairs on my neck, warn of
A stalking adversary.
Conjured from news releases
And fairy tales.

Whirling around, I am confronted
By lifeless objects gaping at my foolishness.

Pursued by myriad concrete fabrications,
I escape up the stairs,
Slamming the door on my fear!
Secure in the haven
Of a bosomy, lavender-scented hug.
Intoxicated with the warm

Plan Campus Day Program

You may have heard "it's not what you say, but how you say it." Plan to attend the 1985 Campus Day program on April 2. Karen Howard, Child Development Specialist from UWEX, Madison, will be conducting a session called "Winning Ways to Talk With Your Children."

In this session, you will learn what you say is as important as how you say it. Clear positive communications helps children develop confidence, and feeling of self-worth. It helps to make life with them more pleasant and has a helpful effect on relationships in the family.

You will have an opportunity to learn and practice positive communication techniques.

Plan to attend the 1985 Campus Day. Over 20 classes including "Winning Ways to Talk With Young Children" will be offered.

SLIM, TRIM MICROWAVING

Are you on a diet? Trying to watch your calories?

Learn how to use your microwave oven as an excellent tool for fast and easy low calorie cooking. Kathy Hetzel, Home Economist, will be teaching "Slim, Trim Microwaving" at the 1985 Campus Day on April 2.

The class will explain how calories can be reduced, time saved and how more nutritious and appetizing foods can be prepared in a microwave.

Trim, Slim Microwaving is one of 21 courses being offered at Campus Day.

Campus Day is co-sponsored by Ozaukee and Washington County U.W. Extension Service. Registration forms and complete details on all courses can be gotten from the Cooperative Extension Service, Court House Annex II or by calling 338-4479, 644-5204 or 342-2929. Deadline for registration is March 25.

Jump Rope for Heart To Be Held at KHS

Did you ever know anyone with heart disease or has died from it? Maybe you felt frustrated and felt like there was nothing you could do to help. Now there is! On Saturday, March 30th, the Kewaskum High School Gym will be alive with energetic rope-jumpers in hopes of winning one or more great prizes while also helping the American Heart Association.

All you have to do is get a team of six people together (of any age) and pick up a pledge sheet in the high school office for each member of the team. On jumping day, all participants must register his or her pledge sheet in the gym between 8:30 a.m. and 9 a.m. so that the actual jumping can begin at 9 a.m. sharp. The idea is that each person on the team must jump for a minimum of two minutes at a time, while the team as a whole will have someone jumping at all times for a maximum of three hours. It will last until noon, but since this doesn't necessarily mean your heart will last that long, you're free to leave whenever you feel you're done. Pledges are not necessary if you want to jump for the health of it. You are also welcome.

Refreshments will be available and spectators are more than welcome! Please participate in something which will help both your heart and someone else's too. For more information, call the high school office: 626-2166.

Toddler and Booster Car Seat Rental Program Available in County Through P.A.L. Program

Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club member Lori Schoofs, presents a seminar for the P.A.L. Toddler and Booster Car Seat Rental Program for Washington County.

"Protect A Life" is the motto of the Toddler and Booster car seat rental program available to residents of Washington County through the West Bend Police Department.

As a public service in the interest of child safety, the program is designed to provide parents or legal guardians a low-cost rental opportunity on toddler and booster car seats.

More small children die in traffic accidents than from any disease or any other type of accident. For every one child killed in a car accident, ten are disabled for life, 100 are hospitalized and 1,000 are injured to some degree. The P.A.L. program is designed to protect children with seats for toddlers generally 20-40 pounds and 9-24 months old, and booster seats for older children ages 2-5. The program is aimed at reducing loss of life or serious injury in small children while helping parents comply with the New Wisconsin State Child Restraint law.

In the Kewaskum and West Bend area, a one-hour seminar is held every 2nd Thursday evening at 7:00 p.m. at the West Bend Public Library.

In order to qualify for the P.A.L. program, a parent or legal guardian must pre-register by mail and attend the seminar, which deals with child safety in an automobile, shows a 22 minute film on the importance of child restraints, explains the new Wisconsin state child restraint law, and demonstrates use of toddler and booster seats.

The Rental Agreement includes a $15.00 refundable deposit and $12.00 yearly rental fee in advance for Toddler Seats or a $6.00 refundable deposit and $6.00 yearly rental fee for Booster Seats.

For full details, brochures, or pre-registration for the upcoming seminars, contact Sgt. King J. Riffel, West Bend Police Dept., 338-5022 or 338-5005.

Volunteers in the P.A.L. Rental program include the West Bend Police Cadets, Hartford Women of the Jaycees and the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club.

In an early morning fire Wednesday, flames completely destroyed the farm home in which a Town of Wayne family of five was living on Hwys. 28 and W several miles west of Kewaskum. The family escaped uninjured by fleeing the burning residence but all of their belongings were lost. The dwelling which burned to the ground was occupied by the Donald Schickert family and the blaze was discovered by Mr. Schickert about 5 a.m. when he woke up and smelled smoke. The Schickert family was asleep on the first floor and apparently did not notice the fire until it had already gained considerable headway. When local firemen arrived the entire roof of the dwelling was already enveloped in flames. The fire had gained such headway that the home could not be saved and firemen stood by to prevent the fire from spreading to neighboring farm buildings. The farm and buildings, owned by Walter Theusch, are insured, but it was stated that none of the Schickerts' personal belongings or furnishings were insured.

The second annual Kewaskum Dairy Day event will be held this Saturday in the high school gymnasium and agriculture department. One of the attractions will feature "Miss Wisconsin," who is Mary Alice Fox of Sheboygan. She will be on the program during the afternoon and evening and will crown Kewaskum's new dairy queen. Candidates in the dairy queen contest include: Cathy Herriges, Dorothy Reindl, Virginia Campbell, Judy Theusch, Karen Fickler, Gelene Vetter, Darlene Prost and Sandy Oppermann. The winner will be elected in a rather unique way. The students of Kewaskum High School have been able to get one vote for one cent. In other words, they can have as many votes as they want, only each one will cost them one penny. The girl with the largest number of pennies will be crowned queen of the Dairy Day and all the money will be given to one of the charities that operate in the Kewaskum area.

Airman Second Class Gerald J. Schacht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Schacht, Route 2, Kewaskum, was recently assigned from Kessler Air Force Base, Mississippi, to the 376th Armament and Electronics Maintenance Squadron, Lockbourne Air Force Base, Ohio.

Sixteen outstanding farm boys and girls in Wisconsin will each receive a Series E, $25 United States Savings Bond from the Wisconsin Bankers Association for their achievements in 4-H Club activities during the past year. Among the 4-H Club winners who will receive the bonds during presentation ceremonies is Aldwin Seefeldt, Kewaskum. His 4-H agent is Robert Stodola, West Bend.

Again the hand of the grim reaper has appeared in our midst and struck down another of our prominent businessmen. Rosier Sylvester Demarest, 72, passed away in death at St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend, on March 17, after an illness of three weeks' duration. Mr. Demarest was born on July 2, 1862 at New Prospect. When a young man he came to Kewaskum and was united in marriage shortly after to Ida Krahn on April 7, 1897. Barney, as he was familiarly called by all his friends, was a very widely known fur dealer, and was known throughout the country as one of the best judges of furs in the business.

At the annual meeting of the Washington County Barbers' Association in West Bend, on March 12, the following officers were elected: president, Hubert Wittman, and secretary-treasurer, Clarence Kluever. Both are from Kewaskum.

Two cars loaded with malt by the L. Rosenheimer Malt and Grain Company, were badly wrecked here last Monday afternoon. The smashup was caused by a string of cars left standing in the side track, without the brakes being set which started running down the track, which is on a decline, and crashed into two cars of malt at the point of the switch as the two cars were being pulled out of the malt house tracks. Both cars were derailed and so badly damaged that the grain had to be transferred into other cars.

John H. Martin, rural carrier on Route No. 5, experienced a runaway last Saturday, 3 miles north of St. Michaels, while covering his territory. The roads being in such bad condition he was forced to drive over a stone pile and in some manner was tipped out, being unable to stop the horse. It proceeded at a break-neck speed up to Bernard Haack's place, where it was caught. The only damage done was to the cutter, which was considerably broken. Mr. Martin started to cover the remainder of his route on horseback, but upon reaching Johnny Bremser's place, the latter willingly offered to take him over the route with his team and sleigh.

The following named children were examined in catechism at the Ev. Lutheran St. Lucas church last Sunday and will be confirmed tomorrow, Palm Sunday: Alfred, Arthur and Herbert Ramthun, Edward Bassil, Clarence Kocher, Emma Bunkelman, Hilda Martin and Clara Ramthun.

Statewide Tornado Safety Campaign Planned in March

[1st in a series]

Wisconsin lies on the fringe of the famed path of tornado destruction, aptly named "Tornado Alley." Despite this, the state recently ranked fifth in the nation in tornado deaths.

In 1984, 34 "confirmed" tornados struck Wisconsin communities, killing 12 people and injuring several hundred others. Property damage totaled more than $50 million and resulted in two Presidential Disaster Declarations.

No one can stop a tornado, but there are precautions you can take to protect your life and your property. That's why the Wisconsin Division of Emergency Government and the National Weather Service have joined forces to make sure this tornado season is not remembered as one of the worst to hit our state.

Governor Anthony S. Earl has proclaimed March 24th through the 30th "Tornado Awareness Week." A number of activities are planned to inform all citizens of the dangers involved—and safety precautions necessary—in the event of a tornado. During that week, a tornado drill will be conducted statewide. Schools, local governments, business and hospitals are encouraged to take part.

Time after time, the biggest tragedies occur in areas where tornados have never been reported and have no precedent in most people's memories. To find out more about tornado safety, contact your local emergency government director and watch for the second part of this series entitled "Tornado Tips to Save Lives."

Farm Tractor Safety Course Set for County

Accidents cause more deaths to persons between the ages of 15 and 24 than all other causes combined. On the farm, the major cause of accidents is working with tractors and farm machinery. Most of the accidents happen when the operator does not know how to operate the tractor or machine correctly or is unaware of the dangers involved.

To help reduce accidents, a farm tractor safety course has been started. A federal law says that no youth between 14 and 16 years of age may be hired to operate a tractor on a farm unless he has taken the safety course.

A tractor safety course will be conducted by the High School Vocational Agricultural Departments, MATC, and University of Wisconsin Extension in Washington County. It will be on Saturdays at the Slinger High School beginning March 30 from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. It is open especially to youth who will be 14 and not over 16 years of age by June. However, if there is room, other youth will be accepted. The federal law requiring the safety course does not apply to youth who will be working on their own farm. However, the safety course would be a good thing to enroll in even if a youth does not plan to work for others.

The course includes instructions on understanding how to operate a tractor, with the emphasis on safety. To complete the course a member must attend four sessions and then pass a written and a driving exam.

You may get details and information on registration from your High School Vocational Agriculture Instructor or from the University of Wisconsin Extension Office in West Bend. Phone 338-4478, 644-5204 or 342-2929.

County to Take Part In Tornado Warning Exercise March 28

Washington County is participating in a statewide tornado safety drill in cooperation with the National Weather Service and the Wisconsin Division of Emergency Government.

As part of this exercise, we urge you to review your severe weather plans and procedures to insure they are updated and current.

Local jurisdictions, agencies, and organizations are urged to participate in this exercise to the extent deemed appropriate.

On Thursday, March 28th, the National Weather Service will issue a SIMULATED TORNADO WATCH for EXERCISE PURPOSES ONLY at approximately 1:10 p.m.

At approximately 1:40 p.m. the National Weather Service will issue a SIMULATED TORNADO WARNING for EXERCISE PURPOSE ONLY.

At approximately 2:10 p.m. the National Weather Service will issue a cancellation of the SIMULATED WARNING, which will terminate the SIMULATED TORNADO WATCH.

Here FFA members record information about the pets and hand out the receipts and tags that show the animals have been vaccinated.

Doctor Charles Ogi, right, administers a vaccination while the owner holds down the "patient" during last year's rabies clinic.

It is the time of the year once again when dog and cat owners should begin to think about having their pets vaccinated against rabies.

Rabies is an acute disease caused by a virus. The most common form of contamination is by means of a bite from animal to animal containing the virus bearing saliva. The virus may be transmitted by contamination of fresh existing wounds.

The incubation period is variable but signs of the disease may become visible within 15 to 20 days. There are three phases the disease divides into. The first sign is general loss of appetite and change in behavior. The second phase is known as the paralytic form - where paralyzation and salivary excretion begin. The third phase is the furious form, when the animal becomes very irrational and viciously aggressive. Dogs rarely live more than ten days after the onset of these signs. Death usually results through progressive paralysis of the central nervous system.

Wisconsin is one of the leading states in rabies and rabies related cases, a statistic the state could do without. The Kewaskum Future Farmers of America is concerned about the problem. The chapter will conduct a rabies clinic Thursday, April 4th, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Kewaskum High School Agriculture Shop. Doctor Charles Ogi and Doctor Greg Ogi will administer shots at a reduced cost of $5.00 per pet. All proceeds from the clinic go to the Scholarship Fund.

First place winners received $100 Savings Bonds and second place winners were awarded $50 bonds. The essay theme was "Agriculture — The Business of Food and Fiber."

(WEST BEND, WI) — Carl Nehm, Slinger FFA, has been named the overall winner of the AG Day Essay Contest sponsored annually by Gehl Company.

Nehm's essay was also selected as first place winner from the Slinger group. Other winners were: Karen Mayer, Slinger, 2nd; Jim Schulz, Kewaskum, 1st; Jon Etta, Kewaskum, 2nd; John Gehring, Hartford, 1st, and Mary Weiss, Hartford FFA, 2nd.

The theme for the contest was "Agriculture: The Business of Food and Fiber." There were 33 entries submitted.

Second-place winners were awarded $50 U.S. Savings Bonds, while first-place winners received $100 bonds. Nehm was also presented a trophy by John W. Gehl, executive vice president of Gehl Company.

Gehl Company has sponsored the essay contest for the past six years. The announcement of the winners and presentation of awards coincides with National Agriculture Week, March 17-23.

Nehm's winning essay reads:

THE BUSINESS OF FOOD AND FIBER

America has become the great country that it is because of the strength, determination, and endurance of the American farmer. The definition of "farmer," which used to be simply "someone who makes hay and milks cows," has now been broadened drastically. The term "farmer" now includes anyone directly involved with the production of food and/or fiber.

Although only three percent of the American population is directly involved with the actual production of food and fiber, twenty percent of all Americans, that's one out of every five, are involved in jobs created by the initial three percent.

The business of food and fiber is not just the growing of cotton or flax, the milking of cows, or the harvesting of sweet corn. It extends far beyond to include everything from the designing of a machine to buying a can of green beans at the local supermarket.

The production of food and fiber consists of many different aspects. This portion of agriculture creates thousands of varying jobs, ranging from the dairy farmer to the cattleman, and from the botanical engineer to the agricultural mechanic who keeps the combine running. Every job created must be filled in order to keep the production of food and fiber running smoothly and efficiently.

The production is only the beginning, however. Now that we have a product, it must be processed or packaged in some way. Agricultural processing creates jobs ranging from the truck driver who transports the products to central processing plant, to the quality control agent who makes sure everything is running up to standards.

Once our efficiently produced product of food or fiber has been processed and packaged, it must be marketed. This is the one area where agriculture has been lagging behind many other industries. The prices being received for agricultural products of food and fiber have been poor, forcing many agriculturists out of business. Something can, and must, be done to solve this crisis.

The American consumer can only eat so much food, drink so much milk, or buy so many clothes; thus internal advertising is only part of the answer. In present times we belong to a truly worldwide marketplace. The answer to the problems of the food and fiber industry is not merely to produce more efficiently, but rather to utilize the world market more proficiently

Career Fair to Center on Fields 'With a Future'

FOND DU LAC AREA GUIDANCE COUNSELORS ASSOCIATION

Second row: Bryan Sorenson, Goodrich High School; Linda Derleth, Mayville High School; Joe Roblee, Mayville High School; Ann Steffan, Winnebago Lutheran Academy; Robert Nugent, Horace Mann High School; Diane Boycks, Laconia High School.

Third row: Dan Keuler, Horicon High School; Wayne Joniaux, New Holstein High School; James Bentley, Goodrich High School; Robert Caves, Oakfield High School; Charles Anderson, Princeton High School; Stan Mathes, Lomira High School.

Not Pictured: Sharon Blank, Kewaskum High School; Terry Thomas, Goodrich High School; Carol Smith, Goodrich High School; Gloria Leibert, Goodrich High School; Janet Hauer, Green Lake High School; Carol Welch, Waupun High School.

Sharon Blank, a guidance counselor at Kewaskum High School, has issued an invitation to all local high school students as well as to adults of the community to attend a career fair entitled "Careers With a Future" which will be held on Thursday evening, March 28, 1985, at the Moraine Park Technical Institute in Fond du Lac.

This career fair has been organized by the Fond du Lac Area Guidance Counselors Association of which Blank is a member. The purpose of the career fair is to give everyone who is concerned about their future career a chance to hear what experts in their own career fields have to say about their career field. All those attending also will be able to talk to the experts and get their questions answered regarding what the future career opportunities appear to be for several career areas.

Since many indicators are that the jobs or careers of the future will be much different from those we know up to the present time, the counselors feel that this fair will give anyone attending a chance to get more information so that they can make better career and education choices.

The career fair is free and open to anyone. The fair program will begin at 7 p.m. and will allow each person attending to participate in "give and take" discussions with experts in three of seven career areas being featured in the "Careers With A Future" career fair.

A number of local businesses and industries also will have display materials available which will tell more about their types of business or industry. These will be businesses or industries who are potential employers in the area.

Blank stated that the format of this career fair was started 2 years ago and received excellent comments from all who attended. The idea of display materials is new this year.

The Fond du Lac Area Guidance Counselors Association is made up of high school guidance counselors from approximately 15 high schools in the area who cooperatively work on this career fair project. Again this year, many area businesses and industries have donated much time and many dollars in support of the guidance counselor's efforts. We applaud all of these businesses for wanting to help others in making better career and education choices. We hope that many of you will be at Moraine Park Technical in Fond du Lac on Thursday evening, March 28th to take advantage of the opportunity to participate in "Careers With A Future."

Brownie Troop 25 News

Brownie Troop 25 Kewaskum has had a busy year. This photo was taken at a recent meeting, after the girls visited the Broy Co. factory in West Bend. They learned all about the silk screening process and each Brownie made a silk screened T-shirt of her own. The girls in the front row are all wearing the shirt that they made.

In November, the troop traveled to Milwaukee to visit the Folk Fair. After visiting a few displays from different countries, they sat down to sample foods from around the world. Nachos, French fried cheese puffs, and elephant ears were their favorites.

The highlight of the trip was the afternoon program in the arena. Children dressed in ethnic costumes from countries around the world performed folk dances from their homelands. It was very colorful and exciting.

At later meetings during the winter the Brownies worked on a folk dance of their own, the "Ribbon Dance" from England. On Feb. 22, Girl Scout Thinking-Thanking Day, they entertained the residents of Meadow Creek Apartments with the dance they had learned and a skit.

The first outing of the year was to Riveredge Nature Center in Newburg. The girls learned all about how plants and animals get ready for winter. In spite of the time of year, they were still able to find many "living things" in the woods. Their favorite activity was making friends with a tree.

When was the last time you hugged a tree?

With the end of the school year fast approaching, the Brownies are busy selling cookies and planning their bridging activities to become Girl Scouts next year.

Food Habits Begin with the Bottle

by Joyce Albrecht,
Extension Home Economist

The "I hate spinach," "I hate stewed tomatoes," "I hate prunes" litany is familiar to many parents. In fact, these comments may echo recent complaints at your own dinner table.

Food likes and dislikes often form during childhood. Dietitians working with adults who have eating disorders are finding some harmful eating habits are rooted in childhood.

The chocolate addict, the non-stop nibbler, the plate cleaner, the nervous eater, the chronic dieter, or more serious, the "closet" eater or "Binge-purge" eater apparently start their habits young.

Attitudes about "good" and "bad" foods become ingrained at an early age, as do weight problems. Researchers are examining the relationship between childhood eating patterns and adult weight problems.

Overfeeding can begin when your baby is a few days old. Keep in mind, your baby's cries may not always signal hunger. Your baby may be uncomfortable, or want to be held or changed.

Not only is food often used as a pacifier, but also as an enforcer. Shopping centers are primary places for bribery. Parents bribe children to display "acceptable" behavior, such as being quiet.

Today's dieters may have developed a childhood habit of "treating" themselves for doing unpleasant tasks. Often the treat is a caloric chocolate creation or a piece of pie.

With this in mind, parents can consider rewarding children with more parental attention. Parents can read a book with their child, or you can listen to music together or play a game.

Besides learning from treats and punishments, children also pick up food attitudes by watching how and what their parents eat. Recent studies find an amazing similarity between how parents and their children rank their food likes and dislikes.

Parents who skip breakfast or pass up the broccoli often have children who also skip breakfast and ignore broccoli. So if you want your children to eat breakfast, at least sit down for juice and toast with them.

It's up to parents to set the tone. It's up to them to stand by sound nutritional choices. A major decision parents make is what food they buy. If parents don't like a food, they won't provide it as a choice.

Parents also set the tone by admonishing their children to eat everything on their plates. Many of today's dieters were members of the "Clean Plate Club" as kids. Children and adults become attuned to their own appetite controls. If a child is full, then he or she should stop eating.

Let your appetite guide you, rather than eating on social cues or to please others. Sometimes parents want the baby to finish the bottle of formula so it won't be wasted. Or parents think their baby should be eating so much food for such an age. Actually "kids will eat to satisfy hunger, if their parents let them."

Let children decide when they have eaten enough. If you make sound nutritional choices and stick to a reasonable meal and snack schedule, children should be able to regulate their food intake until the next scheduled meal or snack. Then it will take the parents' practice and commitment, so they don't offer food till the next scheduled time to eat.

A lot of parents feel uncomfortable setting scheduled eating times. If you make basic choices, if you have nutritious food available, that's what they'll eat.

Many of us were brought up to believe snacking would spoil appetites. But kids do need snacks. They're small and can't eat a lot in one sitting.

What are the advantages of evaluating your family's food habits and attitude about food?

By eating a variety of foods, they can establish optimal growth and health.

Developing consistent meal-times results in fewer kitchen power struggles.

It also gives you a better handle on your food budget.

Meals and snacks are limited to certain times of day and certain foods.

Food is a very powerful influence in our lives. As your children develop a healthy attitude about it, they learn to eat moderately and enjoy a variety of foods.

FFA 3-on-3 Basketball Tournament Held

Competition was at its best in the championship game; evenly matched players worked hard for the first place plaques.

On Sunday, February 3, the Kewaskum FFA held their 3-on-3 basketball tournament at the Kewaskum High School.

How this tournament worked was each team consisted of three members. The teams would keep advancing as long as they won. Once a team lost twice, it was out of the tournament. Scoring was by ones up to fifteen, but a team had to win by at least two points.

The teams also had to call their own fouls, and settle any disputes between them. The teams called their own fouls until they advanced to the finals.

The tournament had a total of fourteen teams from Slinger, Hartford and Kewaskum. The team that took first place was the Rubicon Rockers and second place went to the Gunst team. Both teams were from Hartford.

Sussex Upsets Lakes Team in Overtime for First Victory

The Kewaskum Lakes basketball team missed an opportunity to widen their lead in the "B" Division race at Sussex Sunday when they were edged by previously winless, last place Sussex, 116-115, in overtime.

Kewaskum, shorthanded for this game, held a 15-point lead in the second quarter, and led 50-39 at halftime. Sussex kept coming back and narrowed the gap to 72-70 after three quarters.

Kewaskum maintained a slight lead most of the fourth quarter but seven missed free throws in 14 attempts in the quarter allowed Sussex to stay close and they eventually tied the game up, 101-101, at the end of regulation time.

The overtime period was close all the way. After Bob Nigh's basket Kewaskum held a one-point lead, 115-114, when Terry Youngbauer was fouled with three seconds left. He made both free throws in the bonus to put Sussex ahead, 116-115. Chris Schroeder's last-second shot from midcourt was just wide as the game ended.

Three technical fouls called against Kewaskum also hurt their chances.

Leon Laatsch again led all scorers with 42 points for the losers, followed by Clark Eichstedt with 34. Youngbauer paced the winners with 36 points and O'Rourke added 28.

Cedarburg clinched at least a tie for the grand championship, downing the Menomonee Falls Stingers, 109-92, Saturday night.

This Sunday Kewaskum takes on the Stingers at Falls North High School at 7:00 p.m.

Kewaskum - Laatsch 18-6-5, Eichstedt 15-4-6, Nigh 8-2-4, Backhaus 4-0-4, Schroeder 5-0-2, Kern 0-3-6. Totals: 50-15-27.

Sussex - Youngbauer 16-4-5, Weber 8-3-4, Pearson 5-4-2, Krull 6-3-6, O'Rourke 13-2-2, K. Kroneberg 0-0-0, J. Kroneberg 2-0-2. Totals: 50-16-21.

Girls Run Past Hartford In Indoor Track Opener

Sandy Klein's setting of a school record in the 3200 meter run highlighted the KHS girls' 1985 opening indoor meet which they easily won over visiting Hartford, 60-40.

Klein, a senior, who holds KHS records in the indoor 1600 and the outdoor 1600 and 3200, raced away from the rest of the field in finishing in a record time of 12:52.5, breaking the old mark of 13:01 set by Carol Schmidt in 1981.

Klein heads the list of eight returning letter winning girls who make up second-year coach Denise Leong's 1985 track team. Klein also won the 1600 in 5:45.6.

The other senior letter winners, Sandy Secor and Lori Batzler, picked up two firsts, two seconds, and a third place finish for their team. Secor won the 45m hurdles (8.1) and the 200 dash (30.4) and placed second in the long jump (14'8"). Batzler took a second in the 800 and a third in the 1600.

Lisa Fusek and Amy Kougl, the only returning junior letter-winners, nailed down two firsts, a second and a third between them. Fusek, a first in the high jump (4'10") and a third in the 200 (31.0) and Kougl, a second in the high jump (4.8") and a first in the 40m dash (6.1). The 40 meter dash, incidentally which used to be the 45 meter dash, was changed this year because of an injury suffered to a Hartford girl last year when she was unable to slow down and hit the wall past the finish line in the KHS gym.

Leong picks up a lot of depth this year from a host of sophomores, of whom three lettered as freshmen. Two of the letter winners, Renee Kapp and Brenda Vetter, picked up a first, a second, and two thirds Friday, Kapp, a second in the hurdles and a third in the 40m dash and Vetter an impressive first in the 400 (1:06.3) and a third in the high jump. The third soph letter winner, Sherri Batzler, is currently sidelined with an ankle injury which she suffered in gymnastics, but is expected back soon.

As far as fresh(women) go, two girls, Carrie Batzler and Debbie Felix, have shown promise. Felix's long jump of 15'10 1/4" actually beat all the varsity performers last Friday, but because she was on the JV roster for the meet, her jump didn't count towards the varsity score.

Batzler, meanwhile, placed second in the varsity 3200 run and third in the varsity 400.

Others who will add depth to this year's girls' squad are juniors Jodi Yearling (shot put), Mary Harju (distance), Ellen Beisbier (distance), and Mary Murre (distance); sophomores Dawn Dieringer (hurdles, sprints), Jenny Hintz (weights), and Jill Rimmel (sprints); and fresh(women) Patti Padden (weights) and Nanci Goeden (sprints).
