Village Board Hears Report on County Incinerator Proposals

By GERRY MUELLER Statesman Staff Writer

Washington County Supervisor Daniel Stoffel spoke to Monday night's meeting of the Kewaskum Village Board regarding proposals for a county program to dispose of the 96 tons per day of solid waste produced by communities within the county.

Stoffel told the meeting, the third phase of a search to find a solution to the problem focused on an incineration system. That study also included looking into the cost and whether steam generated from such an operation would be more salesable than electricity.

"This is the most expensive item ever put before the County Board," stated Stoffel. He noted that nine of ten constituents couldn't tell me how much it would cost. Preliminary indications are the figure will be around $6 million.

The present proposal calls for the installation of two, 60-tonper-day incinerators working 24 hours a day, to be constructed possibly on county land north of the County Courthouse Complex in West Bend. Four different options regarding use of the steam energy are also under consideration, said Stoffel. They include heating and cooling various combinations of buildings including the county complex, county garage, Samaritan Home, Fair Park School, and one plan which would even see steam piped down to the south end of West Bend for Badger Middle School and the Amity Leather Company factory.

Stoffel said West Bend's two major industries, The West Bend Company and Amity, however, were reluctant to commit themselves to any purchases of steam at this time.

If the county does go with the incineration program, Stoffel felt the safest first step would be to only use steam for the County Complex until it is decided if the project is functioning properly. The complex would only use a maximum of 14% of the steam generated daily, said Stoffel.

C. of C. Establishes Missing Children Bulletin Board

By GERRY MUELLER Statesman Staff Writer

Through a bulletin board easily visible to the general public, the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce has become a part of the national effort to locate missing child-

A request through the Chamber's newsletter seeking space to set up an information board was answered by the Village Sport Shop which has donated the glass enclosed showcase located in front of its store at 334 Main Street.

The Chamber had the showcase repaired, installed a cork bulletin board and provided a large sign informing residents that missing children bulletins were being posted inside.

Chamber members got the idea after receiving a missing children bulletin from the Colorado Chamber of Commerce. The Kewaskum Chamber decided to look into what it could do to assist in locating missing youngsters and came up with the bulletin board idea.

Pat Geidel, of the sport shop, will now receive and regularly post flyers from Sergeant Jed Dolnick of the Washington County Sheriff's Department. Along with the missing children posters, there will be bulletins from the Sheriff's Department which they feel are pertinent to the welfare of young people.

The Chamber is asking everyone to take time to look at the posters. A few minutes of someone's time could mean a 'found' instead of 'missing' child.

The showcase sign was made by Karen Breitzmann of KB Lettering and installed by "Hank" Becker.

Village Board Okays Roof Repairs

By GERRY MUELLER Statesman Staff Writer

On a unanimous vote, the Kewaskum Village Board approved a bid of $1,864.00 from Dehling-Voigt Company to repair the office area roof at the Wastewater Treatment Plant.

The board had tabled action at its last meeting indicating work should include repairs to correct a standing water problem which would hopefully result in the new roof lasting longer than the present one.

In other action the board approved various resolutions including transfer of funds to various accounts and a declaration regarding special assessments for the new curbs and sidewalks which will be installed along Highways 45 and

3 Area Students Graduate From UW-Whitewater

Students from the Kewaskum area were among the approximately 1,160 candidates for graduation at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater on May

In celebration of the 15th anniversary of founding of the UW-Whitewater College of The Arts, Arley Curtz, executive director of the Wisconsin Arts Board, was speaker for the 116th spring commencement exercise in which a number of summer graduates also participated, although their degrees will not become effective until their course work is completed in August.

Degree candidates included: Doreen Klug, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Klug, Route 1, summa cum laude Bachelor of Business Administration in accounting.

Ginger Pamerin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pamperin, West Bend, a graduate of Kewaskum High School, Bachelor of Science in Education in special education, early childhood exceptional educational needs.

Steve Yahr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Yahr, 9230 Bolton Dr., Bachelor of Business Administration in finance.

Trustee Mary Krueger asked if the village had any formal plan for sidewalk installation in the established parts of the village. Village Administrator Dan Schmidt said not at this time, however, money for a study in 1986 was being budget-Schmidt said the study would be conducted so that when work began it will be done in an orderly systematic manner. Once the study is completed, money for the actual work will be budgeted.

Schmidt also informed the board that bids for the 45/H curbs and sidewalks will be opened on June 11th, and a public hearing on the work will be held on June 17th.

The board then adjourned its Financing would be handled through general obligation bonds at around 9% to 91/2% interest. Stoffel outlined four alternative plans on how the tab could be picked up by the local muricipalities. Depending on how this is financed, tipping fees (the cost per ton to each commun y to incinerate) could range anywhere from $9.00 to over $40.00 a ton, plus the community's pick up costs.

Before the County Board decides to go ahead with the plan, however, it will need a firm committment for financial backing from it least 60% to 65% of the communities in the county, said Stoffel. So far eight of the thirteen townships and three cities have said they are in on the plan, stated Stoffel. Germantown and Hartford have indicated they will not participate because of their connections with major landfill operations, inted Stoffel.

If the county does not get the 60% backing, the entire plan will be dropped, and, since the county is not liable to provide a landfill site, every municipality would be on its own to find a landfill operation to handle its refuse, said Stoffel.

An earlier phase of the plan by the county also included finding a suitable county landfill site. But that has since been dropped, said Stoffel, because there are no sites within the county suitable physically, or politically to handle our refuse.

Stoffel told the trustees he wanted them to be aware of what is happening because, within the next few weeks, the village will receive a letter asking them to make a firm committment to the project.

If the incinerators are approved, it will be at least two years after approval before they actually begin operation.

Kewaskum Statesman 250 Main Street Kewaskum, WI 53040

Dear Editor,

A word of commedation and thanks to School Administrator, John A. Long for his courageous sharing of expertise while serving our Kewaskum school community. The notable and positive change that we have noticed in students rediscovering respect in language and habits has been most gratifying. It also has been great to learn that both preventive and "now needed" facility maintenance is receiving attention.

Mr. Long, we are grateful for your openness and dedication in serving.

Sincerely,

Rev. L. C. Riesch, Superintendent Cedar Lake Home Campus May 21, 1985

To the Editor:

Gehl Engineers Awarded Patent

Four members of the Gehl Company, West Bend, product engineering division have jointly been awarded a patent for the new Auto-Max electric control and drive system recently introduced on new Gehl forage harvesters. The four are, from left, Jaime J. Shutes, Virgil B. Martin, Phillip F. Fleming, all of West Bend, and Roger L. Villers, Waubeka. The system is designed to reduce "downtime," or repair time, in the instances when the attachment or harvester feedrolls are plugged by too much incoming crop and in instances of harvester plugging when there is a loss of tractor power. The Auto-Max is an exclusive feature of the company's new model 1060 and 1260 forage harvesters.

WHAT IS A GRANDMOTHER?

[Composition by a third grader]

A grandmother is a lady who had no children of her own. She likes other girls and boys. A grandfather is a man grandmother. He goes for walks with the boys and they talk about fishing and stuff like that.

Grandmothers don't have to do anything except be there. They are so old they shouldn't play hard or run. It's enough if they drive to the market where the pretend horse is and have lots of dimes ready. Or, if they take us for walks, they should slow down past things like pretty leaves and caterpillars.

They should never say hurry-up.

Grandmothers are usually fat but not too fat to tie your shoe. They wear glasses and funny underwear. They can take their teeth and gums off. Grandmothers don't have to be smart, only answer questions like - why isn't God married? and why do dogs chase cats? Everybody should try to have a grandmother, especially if you don't have a T.V. because they are the only ones among the grown-ups who have time.

Early Delivery of Social Security Income Checks

Monthly Supplemental Security Income (SSI) checks which are normally delivered on the first day of the month, will delivered on May 31st instead, according to David W. Becker, Manager of the West Bend Social Security Office.

'Benefit checks are mailed early when the usual delivery date falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal Holiday, Becker said. "In these instances, the checks are dated and delivered on the first day before the first of the month that is not a weekend or holiday."

Becker stated that this procedure helps reduce the problem that people have when they receive their checks and their banks are closed. These situations occur several times during the year, and Becker added that SSA would provide similar information about early check deliveries as they occur.

Try Seat Belts During Buckle-Up Week and National Highway Traffic Safety Administration

Governor Anthony S. Earl wants Wisconsin drivers to buckle their seat belts every time they are in a vehicle from May 24 to 31.

He has proclaimed that period to be "The All-American Buckle Up" in Wisconsin. The rationale is that it takes several days for people to develop a habit. But once a habit is formed, it requires a conscious effort to break it.

Governor Earl's proclamation says that if every Wisconsin driver and passenger wore seat belts throughout the eight-day period, an estimated ten lives could be saved, 1,400 injuries could be prevented, and $11.9 million in accident costs could be saved.

If drivers get the seat belt habit and continue to use them throughout the year, the saving in lives could reach 300 or more.

The state Department of Transportation has prepared promotional materials for the buckle up, including a public service announcement for television featuring Governor Earl and the children of some of his staff. In the spot, the Governor urges drivers to use their seat belts even if they're only going to the corner grocery Posters, leaflets, and newspaper graphics are being distributed by the Wisconsin State Patrol, county and local law enforcement agencies, and volunteer groups.

The All-American Buckle Up is a regional effort which began last year in the upper-midwestern states. This year 14 states are involved, and it will be adopted nationally in 1986 if it proves to be successful.

ASCS Reports

Payment Activity

ton County currently have $3,308,745.00 in the farmers hands. Of this, $1,771,969.00 is direct payments of recent months and $1,536,776.00 is in outstanding loans according to Donald E. Sampson, Director of Washington County ASCS Office.

Last month, corn deficiency payments amounted to about $560,000.00. This was due to low corn prices which created a $.43 per bushel payment to the 212 participating farms. Advanced payments for 1985 feed grain signups amounted to $405,480.00 and small grain payments in December came to $59,950.00.

Fifty-five dairy farmers in the Milk Diversion Program were paid $567,894.00 thru December. The fifth and final payments being issued recently should be about $130,000.00. payments include $24,365.00 for cost-sharing on conservation and $5,174.00 for wool incentive program.

According to Sampson, commodity loans account for $978,439.00. Of this $839,-066.00 is loaned on 1984 production and $139,373.00 remains outstanding on prior year loans in the grain reserve. A balance of $558,337.00 remains outstanding on storage facility and drying equipment loans.

The conservation costsharing program (ACP) also has $94,612.00 approved for conservation practices. Payments will be issued when the work is completed. Of this, $41,732.00 is for the 1985 program and the balance is for Long Term Agreements. Payment activities will be slow for several months as farmers plant and plan for 1985. According to Sampson, programs will remain much the same in 1985, the final year of the farm bill.

Correction on Tax Return Can Be Made

Errors on previously filed tax returns can be corrected by filing an amended return, the Internal Revenue Service said.

If you discover that you failed to report some income, failed to claim tax credits or deductions, or erroneously claimed deductions or credits to which you were not entitled, you can file to correct these errors.

However, the agency noted, it is not necessary to file an amended return to correct addition and subtraction errors. These are automatically corrected by computers at IRS service centers when the returns are processed. It is also not necessary to file an amended return if you discover you failed to submit a required schedule. If this is the case, IRS will write you to request this schedule or attachment.

The amended return is filed on Form 1040X. Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, and can be used to correct any previously filed Form 1040, 1040A, or 1040EZ. Form 1040X must be filed within 3 years from the date of the original returns or within 2 years from the time the tax was paid, whichever is later the IRS said.

Form 1040X and instructions may be obtained by using the handy order form in the tax forms package, or by calling IRS toll free 1-800-424-1040.

County Medical Society Sponsors Teachers at Postgraduate Workshop

Three science teachers from the West Bend Joint School District #1 received grants from Washington County Medical Society. Kevin Searock, Richard Jansen, and Paul DeChant attended a teacher workshop at Ripon College entitled "Starship Earth." This postgraduate workshop in the basic sciences focused on Astronomy and Earth Science.

The workshop is sponsored by the Green Lake - Waushara County Medical Society and local school districts.

The teachers were able to obtain experience using classroom activities developed by the Soil Conservation Service. These activities are designed for all grade levels and at least three of these activities will be included in the 9th grade Earth Science classes next year. In addition there were presentations by teachers and students of classroom projects sponsored and funded by the State Medical Society of Wisconsin. These projects involved the use of protein electrophoresis and gas chromatography. The sophisticated equipment needed for these projects is available for use by local schools on loan.

Washington County Medical Society President, James Froehlich, M.D., announced that next year the Medical Society would offer similar grants to each of the school districts in Washington County.

On a per share basis, 1985 totaled $.80 per share compared with $.76 per share a year ago. Weighted average shares outstanding totaled 2,737,836 in 1985 and 2,721,860 in 1984.

As of March 31, 1985, consolidated assets totaled $1.354 billion, an increase of $329 million over the $1.025 billion recorded a year earlier. Net loans as of March 31, 1985 amounted to $774 million, compared with $585 million recorded in 1984, an increase of $189 million. Deposits in 1985 climbed to $1.147 billion compared with $869 million a year earlier. The increase in assets. loans and deposits between years was impacted by the October, 1984, acquisition of the $56 million-asset Valley First National Bank of Rhinelander and the March, 1985, acquisition of the $170 millionasset BANCWIS Corporation (Janesville). Internal asset growth between vears amounted to $103 million or 10.0%

Stockholders' equity. showing a $20.3 million increase over the previous year, totaled $80.6 million at quarterend compared with $60.3 million recorded a year earlier. Approximately $14.3 million of the increase resulted from the March, 1985 acquisition of BANCWIS Corporation. In that transaction, Valley issued approximately 579,000 shares of its common stock along with $5.5 million in cash for all of the outstanding shares BANCWIS Corporation. As of March 31, 1985, book value totaled $24.28 per share compared with $22.13 per share in 1984. Valley Bancorporation common shares outstanding at March 31, 1985, totaled 3,319,268 compared with 2,-722,851 at March 31, 1984.

Effective March 29, 1985, Valley completed the acquisition of BANCWIS Corporation. Through this acquisition, Bank in Janesville and an office in Evansville, became a member of Valley Bancorporation. Bank of Wisconsin had quarter-end assets of $170 million, loans of $112 million and deposits of $141 million. This acquisition was accounted for as a purchase and therefore, the results of operations of BANCWIS Corporation for the three month period ended March 31, 1985 are not included with the results of Valley Bancorporation.

Bancorporation Valley currently has two acquisitions pending; Bank of Oregon with March 31 assets of $38 million, and United Banks of Wisconsin, Inc. (Madison) with March 31 assets of $346 million.

United has banks in Madison (13 locations), Sun Prairie, Sauk City (2 locations) and Menomonie (2 locations). Valley anticipates that these acquisitions will be finalized, including all regulatory and shareholder approval, during May and July, 1985, respectively. After completion. Valley will have assets of approximately $1.8 billion and will deliver financial services through 64 Wisconsin locations.

At their recent meeting, the Valley Board of Directors declared a $.27 per share dividend ($1.08 annualized). dividend is payable June 7, 1985 to stockholders of record May 31, 1985.

May Is High Blood Pressure Month

May, 1985 marks the 11th anniversary of National High Blood Pressure Month. This year's theme, "Make Control Your Lifetime Goal," continues to emphasize detection, adherence to therapy, and control of high blood pressure.

High blood pressure is one of the nation's major public health problems. An estimated 60 million Americans are at increased risk of stroke, heart attack and kidney disease. Studies show that high blood pressure-related risks increase continuously as blood pressure rises. Although high blood pressure is most often treated with medication, hypertensives can help the effectiveness of their medication by losing weight, reducing sodium intake, use alcohol moderately, and decrease tabacco use.

Most hypertensives will have to continue taking their prescribed medication throughout their lives, and changes in lifestyle are unlikely to become substitutes for those taking medication, but these changes may help them reach and maintain goal blood pressure. In some cases, adapting healthier habits will reduce the medication dosage and in limited cases, if detection is early enough, the changes in lifestyle will help to lower the blood pressure without the use of medication.

The Washington County High Blood Pressure Control Program is co-sponsored by Community Health Nursing Service, American Heart Association, and the Wisconsin Division of Health. The program's emphasis is to increase early detection through ongoing screening programs at various community locations and industrial work sites. Anyone interested in more information about the program may contact Coordinator Doris Dauer, Washington County Community Health Nursing Service, 338-4462 or 644-5204 or 342-2929.

McCallum Blasts Federal Government, Seat Belt Bill

State Senator Scott McCallum (R-Fond du Lac) denounced the Federal government for requiring states to pass mandatory seat belt laws and criticized the seat belt bill (SB-7) currently before the Legislature.

"I would vote against a straight bill on seat belts if there were no Federal involvement," said McCallum. "But there is Federal involvement and I am totally against air bags."

The veteran Republican lawmaker made these statements in reference to an order handed down by U.S. Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Dole. Her ruling would require automakers to install air bags or other passive restraints unless states representing two-thirds of the population passed mandatory seat belt laws by April 1, 1989.

"The state really has its hands tied behind its back on this one," McCallum said. He also stated that he did not like the fact that the Federal government was forcing the states to enact mandatory seat belt laws and added that Dole's order was "very discouraging since it came from an administration that has advocated returning some of its power to the states."

"Responses from my district have been overwhelmingly negative," said McCallum, a Fond du Lac native. "Of the letters and phone calls I've received, 84% have opposed the seat belt bill."

McCallum stated that the only reason he would vote for a mandatory seat belt bill was to avoid a federal air bag requirement. He said that the air bag rule would "cost Wisconsin consumers thousands of dollars every year by unnecessarily raising the price of automobiles."

He also criticized SB-7. McCallum said the bill is 'meaningless in its present form, since it does not meet the criteria spelled out in the Federal order.' Implying that any bill passed should meet the Federal guidelines, he asked, 'Why should the Legislature bother passing a law that will be obsolete when the Federal requirements become effective?'

Petri Appoints Sill As Senior Citizen Intern

FOND DU LAC — Congressman Tom Petri has announced the appointment of Elmer Sill of Waupaca as his Senior Citizen Intern for a six month period beginning April 1. State Needs AFDC 'Freeze' Says York

MADISON....A subgroup of the powerful Joint Finance Committee has endorsed Governor Earl's proposal for a three percent per year increase in Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), according to State Rep. Dwight York (R-Lomira). "This increase will cost taxpayers an additional $22.3 million, said York on Thursday."

He continued, "while I do not support a reduction in AFDC or related benefits, it would seem more sensible to freeze benefits at current levels while we take a serious look at the program and how it compares to other states.

"Wisconsin ranks fifth in the nation and 50 percent above the national average for its benefits of this type. However, our state ranks only 28th and is below the average for personal income per capita. Our higher benefits are making our state more attractive to AFDC families from states where benefits are much lower. For example, Wisconsin's AFDC benefits are almost twice as much as those in Illinois."

York cited a recent report which showed over one-third of those applying for AFDC benefits listed another state as their previous address. Fortynine percent of the applicants in Kenosha County listed another state.

Those who qualify for AFDC benefits are automatically eligible for free medical services, food stamps and programs offered through county social services and mental health agencies. "The programs have grown to enormous proportions, and we need to look at other options, such as workfare programs," said York, "and we need careful scrutiny before increases are made."

Threshold Staff Preparing For Annual Spring Fling

The Threshold staff is busy preparing for the 2nd Annual Spring Fling to be held Friday, May 31, and Saturday, June 1, 1985. The idea for the First Spring Fling originated with Donna May, Food Service Instructor at Threshold, to give the staff an opportunity to work together to plan and promote an event and give the Washington County community an opportunity to join in the fun. Spring Fling was a success and the proceeds from the activities were used to purchase a Commodore 64 computer which is currently being used in several of the agency's programs.

Because the staff had a good time preparing for last year's event, it was decided to make it an annual affair. This year, Spring Fling will be bigger and better than last year.

The fun begins on Friday, May 31, at 10:00 a.m. with a huge Rummage Sale featuring thousands of items. The sale will continue until 3:00 p.m.

On Friday night, there will be an outdoor dance from 8:00 p.m. until midnight featuring the music of Artie Minz and The Countrymen. Tickets for the dance can be purchased for $1.00 in advance ($1.50 that evening) at The Threshold, Inc., or from any West Bend Jaycee or Threshold staff member.

Along with the dance, you will have an opportunity to meet a disc jockey, Morgan in The Morn'in from WMIL-FM 106 and the WMIL Chicken. There will also be plenty of good food and a beer garden available.

The fun continues on Saturday, June 1, beginning at 9:00 a.m. with the Second Spring Fling Outdoor Arts & Crafts Faire. Reservations for exhibitor's spaces are available for $5.00 for a 10' x 10' space. Stop in or call Threshold for an application form. There are 72 spaces available and all types of arts and crafts will be featured. In case of rain, this event will be held indoors so be sure to come to browse, rain or shine.

At 11:00 a.m., the Spring Fling Five, a five mile run/two mile walk will be held beginning and ending at Threshold. There is a $5.00 registration fee and runners/walkers will all receive a Spring Fling Five Painter's hat donated by M & I First National Bank of West Bend. There will be five separate divisions for men and women: ages 0-19; 20-29; 30-39; 40-49; and 50 and over. Registration forms for the Spring Fling Five will be available at Threshold and Fast Foot, West Bend.

Saturday afternoon will feature celebrities galore for the children to enjoy. Ronald McDonald will be here for a 1:00 p.m. performance along with Wally the Walrus, compliments of Marine Bank and Homer the Lion compliments of West Bend Savings & Loan. There will be a Children's Craft Corner, face painting, and clowns and balloons for children of all ages.

The Rummage Sale will continue on Saturday from 9:00-4:00 and there will be live continuous music throughout the afternoon along with food and beverages and a Bake Sale.

For all you sports fans, John Anderson, linebacker for the Green Bay Packers will be available from 11:00-1:00 p.m. for pictures and autographs. John is one of the most consistent and talented performers in Packer history and was voted the team's most valuable defensive player for two seasons by Wisconsin media.

Members of the Milwaukee Wave, the professional men's indoor soccer team, will be at Threshold beginning at 9:00 a.m. to conduct a soccer clinic for all soccer players and fans, young and old. The clinic will be followed by a soccer tournament between Threshold Special Olympic soccer team and other Special Olympic teams.

All in all, a fun two days are planned for you and your family. Hopefully, you'll join with us to share in the events. See you all on May 31 and June

May Is High Blood Pressure Month

May, 1985 marks the 11th anniversary of National High Blood Pressure Month. This year's theme, "Make Control Your Lifetime Goal," continues to emphasize detection, adherence to therapy, and control of high blood pressure.

High blood pressure is one of the nation's major public health problems. An estimated 60 million Americans are at increased risk of stroke, heart attack and kidney disease. Studies show that high blood pressure-related risks increase continuously as blood pressure rises. Although high blood pressure is most often treated with medication, hypertensives can help the effectiveness of their medication by losing weight, reducing sodium intake, use alcohol moderately, and decrease tabacco use.

Most hypertensives will have to continue taking their prescribed medication throughout their lives, and changes in lifestyle are unlikely to become substitutes for those taking medication, but these changes may help them reach and maintain goal blood pressure. In some cases, adapting healthier habits will reduce the medication dosage and in limited cases, if detection is early enough, the changes in lifestyle will help to lower the blood pressure without the use of medication.

The Washington County High Blood Pressure Control Program is co-sponsored by Community Health Nursing Service, American Heart Association, and the Wisconsin Division of Health. The program's emphasis is to increase early detection through ongoing screening programs at various community locations and industrial work sites. Anyone interested in more information about the program may contact Coordinator Doris Dauer, Washington County Community Health Nursing Service, 338-4462 or 644-5204 or 342-2929.

McCallum Blasts Federal Government, Seat Belt Bill

State Senator Scott McCallum (R-Fond du Lac) denounced the Federal government for requiring states to pass mandatory seat belt laws and criticized the seat belt bill (SB-7) currently before the Legislature.

"I would vote against a straight bill on seat belts if there were no Federal involvement," said McCallum. "But there is Federal involvement and I am totally against air bags.

The veteran Republican lawmaker made these statements in reference to an order handed down by U.S. Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Dole. Her ruling would require automakers to install air bags or other passive restraints unless states representing two-thirds of the population passed mandatory seat belt laws by April 1, 1989.

'The state really has its hands tied behind its back on this one," McCallum said. He also stated that he did not like the fact that the Federal government was forcing the states to enact mandatory seat belt laws and added that Dole's order was "very discouraging since it came from an administration that has advocated returning some of its power to the states.

"Responses from my district have been overwhelmingly negative," said McCallum, a Fond du Lac native. "Of the letters and phone calls I've received, 84% have opposed the seat belt bill.'

McCallum stated that the only reason he would vote for a mandatory seat belt bill was to avoid a federal air bag requirement. He said that the air bag rule would "cost Wisconsin consumers thousands of dollars every year by unnecessarily raising the price of automobiles.

He also criticized SB-7. McCallum said the bill is 'meaningless in its present form, since it does not meet the criteria spelled out in the Federal order." Implying that any bill passed should meet the Federal guidelines, he asked, 'Why should the Legislature bother passing a law that will be obsolete when the Federal requirements become effective?

Petri Appoints Sill As Senior Orville Kern, Clerk Citizen Intern

FOND DU LAC - Congressman Tom Petri has announced the appointment of Elmer Sill of Waupaca as his Senior Citizen Intern for a six month period beginning April 1. Sill will meet and work with senior citizens and senior citizen organizations throughout the Sixth District. In 1983 and 1984, Sill served in the same capacity for Rep. Petri.

Sill, 77, is a native of Milwaukee and has lived in Waupaca for 30 years. He graduated from Milwaukee Technical High School, served in the U.S. Navy Air Force and has studied at the University of Wisconsin and Milwaukee School of Engineering. A marketing representative for 45 years, Sill retired from the Heyman Corporation in 1981. He and his wife of 44 years, Alvina, have 3 children and 7 grandchildren.

DNR Encouraged About Sightings of Wild Turkeys in Kewaskum-New Fane Areas

PLYMOUTH, WI - May 9, 1985 - Department of Natural Resources wildlife managers are encouraged about the recent sightings of wild turkeys in east central Wisconsin.

More than 12 sightings of wild birds have been reported so far, according to Dale Katsma, Area Wildlife Manager. Most of the reports are from New Fane to the Kewaskum areas. The sightings are a result of turkey stockings last winter.

The stockings occurred last January, February and March when wildlife managers released 37 hens and 11 toms in Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, and Washington Counties. The birds were taken from a flock established in southwestern Wisconsin during the early 1970's. Those stocked turkeys come from a strain of birds obtained from the State of Missouri. The recent sightings are the first time truly wild birds have been seen in the area for over 100 years.

'We expect some of the hens to have young this year," said Katsma. "Area residents should start seeing the hatched poults sometime in June. We would appreciate any information from area residents if there are any sightings.

Persons who wish to report a sighting can call the DNR office at either Plymouth or Mauthe Lake. The Plymouth number is (414) 862-8756 and the Mauthe Lake number is (414) 626-2116.

Katsma added that he has also been getting a number of sightings of domesticated game birds that have been released into the wild. He noted that it is illegal to stock any animal or bird without a permit from DNR.

'Those stockings concern us," said Katsma. "There is a chance of cross-breeding which could lower the survival rate because of inferior genetics in pen raised birds. There is also a potential of introducing disease into the wild flock from the domesticated flocks.

Boating Safety Important, Especially During Spring

Boaters should always be safety conscious on the water, but they must be doubly cautious during the early spring season when water temperatures are very low and currents fast, Dale Morey, DNR boating safety coordinator, warned.

Over the past decade about accidents have occurred during the early and late "out-ofseason" months when water's cold temperatures increase chances of hypothermia (the lowering of the body's central core temperature). The U.S. Coast Guard reports that cold water robs body heat 32 times faster than exposure to cold air. course information.

"Many Wisconsin boaters enjoy taking to the waters shortly after ice-out and before the fishing season just to go get back in touch with nature,' Morey said. "This is a beautiful time of year when hunters. boaters, and naturalists alike can view migratory waterfowl and birds, or people go on a boat ride just for the fun of it."

There are several factors making safety consciousness very important. Usually springtime waters are higher than normal because of recent snowmelt. This sometimes covers stumps, snags, logs and rocks that otherwise would be exposed. Flowage lakes often have swifter currents than normal. Streams and rivers valued by canoeists and kayakers also develop powerful hydrolic runs and chutes which under normal water conditions aren't present.

"Water oriented recreationists must plan for these changed water situations." Morey said. "One of the basics is to dress properly and always wear a personal flotation device or PFD."

Several layers of light clothing offers better protection than one single heavy layer. Next to a diver's wetsuit, cool clothing offers the best protection.

Preparation is essential when boating on cold water. Boaters are cautioned to make sure the basketball team. His five years boat and all its equipment are in of experience at West has led first class shape. A check of the weather forecast is advisable before taking a trip. River water levels should also be checked before launching to make sure they are safe and not at extremes.

'Boaters and especially canoeists and whitewater 50 percent of the fatal boating runners should tell someone where they are going and when they will return," Morey added. 'It's advisable to go with a group or an organized club.'

Knowing what actions to take in a boating emergency is important. Take a boating safety course. Contact your local warden or DNR office for

It is illegal to Possess 'Wild' Pets And Also Dangerous

During the next few months wildlife will be raising their young, a period when the young are vulnerable to many natural dangers and some unnatural tamperings by humans.

'In late spring and early summer, the DNR often is contacted by individuals who find wild animals appearing to be injured or orphaned," Terry Amundson, DNR wildlife disease specialist, said. "At times these animals are in need for help, but more often than not they are perfectly healthy.'

Wildlife young are not helpless. When individuals find them, usually they have not been abandoned. In most cases the parent is nearby out of sight, or off in search of food.

'Wildlife young do not need constant attention like some domestic pets, or human infants." Amundson said. Amundson said. 'There are cases when young birds are active and fall out of nests before fledging, or when human activity like cutting down den trees gives young-ofthe-year some unnatural exposure.

Problems arise when wellintentioned people decide that the young will make good pets and adopt them. The problem is two-fold, Amundson relates. The cute little bundle of fur will usually grow-up in a few short months to be an unmanageable and unruly adolescent or adult.

"There's also a possibility that the wildlife young might carry a disease or parasite that can be transmitted to humans. Fleas, ticks, mites, lice, tapeworms, roundworms and distemper are common, but the most dangerous is rabies, which is becoming more prevalent.

"Rabies is very common in the eastern and southeastern parts of the country animal populations, especially raccoons," Amundson said. 'Rabies was spread in those areas by some translocated raccoons. Often the young show no signs of being sick themselves, but can still be carriers of the disease.'

Rabies can be transmitted to humans through the saliva of these young animals licking an open cut or scratch on the hands of their adopted human parents.

Turkey Harvest Up 497 Birds Taken

Wisconsin turkey hunters took 497 birds during the three periods of the 1985 season. That compares with 308 gobblers harvested during the 1984 seasons, and 190 during 1983, the first wild turkey season in the state since the birds were reintroduced here.

Turkey hunting in Wisconsin is by permit only, and the success ratio was up considerably this year over the first two seasons. Almost 23 percent of those with permits harvested gobblers this year compared with about 16 per cent in 1984 and 15 percent in 1983. That's an indication of very good wild turkey population growth in the state during the past two years. Only bearded, or male turkeys may be hunted, and the season limit is one bird.

The weather for the first and third periods this year was rated excellent by hunters. Very windy conditions prevailed during the Friday and Saturday of the middle hunting period.

In contrast to the first two seasons when the largest number of gobblers were harvested during the first period of the hunt, this year the largest number, 181 birds, were bagged during the third period. Hunters said the gobblers responded best to their calls during the third hunting period, an indication a high number of hens were either laying or incubating eggs because of the early spring this year.

The three hunting periods this year ran from April 18th through the 22nd, April 25th through the 29th, and May 2nd through May 6th.

Julie Koepke Named Athlete-of-The-Year at Lakeland College

Julie Koepke

Sheboygan, Wis. - For only the third time in 30 years the Lakeland College "Athlete-ofthe-Year" award has been won by a woman athlete. The winner was Julie Koepke, Kewaskum, a three-sport letterwinner as a freshman, and it is the first time that a freshman woman athlete has received the award, according to Duane (Moose) Woltzen, the school's athletic director.

Three other end-of-the-year major athletic award recipients were Jeffrey Dornburg, Merrillville, Ind., the Pat Curran Football Award; Helle Stokke, Oslo, Norway, the T.W. Hoernemann Basketball Award; and John Kolbus, Chicago, Ill., the Ellen Kregel Athletic Award. The awards all go to seniors for their athletic and academic achievements.

Koepke earned varsity letters in volleyball, basketball, and softball. She was named the volleyball team's "most valuable" player, averaged 7.5 points and 7.8 rebounds per game for the cage team, and hit .409 as the regular third baseman for the softball team.

"Julie was our top freshman on the basketball team," commented Coach John Klein. "She did things this past season that I didn't think she would be able to do until at least her junior year."

Koepke, who is an art major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Koepke, Kewaskum. She received a Presidential Scholarship, requiring a 3.5 grade point average or better, to attend Lakeland.

The only other female athletes to be named Lakeland's athletes of the year were Vanessa Ewert in 1981 and Lorie Damrow in 1978. Last year's top athlete was John Koslowski, the Muskies' all-time leading basketball

Koepke was a former Kewaskum High School standout.
