Highway 84, rural West Bend (near Fillmore) died early Sunday morning when her car apparently skidded on an icy bridge, struck and was pierced by a guard rail and plunged into the Milwaukee River in the Town of Farmington. She was alone in her car.

The Washington County Sheriff's Department records indicate Gaffke's vehicle was southbound on Trading Post Trail Road, south of Highway 84, when it skidded on a bridge which was about 65% ice covered. The car hit the guard rail, traveling about 185 feet before it came to rest in the river.

A scuba diver from the Sheriff's Department pulled Gaffke's body from the car. She was pronounced dead at St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend. Two wreckers and the Newburg rescue squad were called to the scene.

According to the sheriff's report, Gaffke suffered severe chest injuries and multiple fractures. Coroner Bob Boltz did not order an autopsy but the accident was still under investigation by the Sheriff's Department

By GERRY MUELLER Statesman Staff Writer

After a review of its Fund 40 priority list, as requested by the Kewaskum School Board, the Finance-Transportation-Buildings and Grounds Committee voted again, to stay with the original twelve items presented

District Administrator Penny Kleinhans told the committee. 'I feel very comfortable with the list (as originally presented) and don't feel any of the kitchen items are of a higher priority than those now on the list.'

Business Manager Cherna Gorder told the group, the dishwasher could be replaced with either Fund 40 or Fund 50 (Food Services) money. When asked what her recommendation would be, she said, go with Food Services and if necessary. any deficit created in that fund would have to be picked up by the General Fund. Boehlke said he had not gotten any bids on a new dishwasher, but anticipated replacement would be around $6,000. The committee moved to make the recommendation to the full board that the dishwasher be replaced with Fund 50 money. Kleinhans noted other kitchen items could be handled over the next few years with either general fund or food services money.

Chairman Perry Ankerson and his committee went through the list in an effort to determine whether any of the seven top items could, or should be replaced by items which came to light in a recent study and report on the district's food services.

One item given serious consideration was replacement of the high school dishwasher. Although not specifically mentioned in the Department of Public Instruction's report, Buildings Superintendent Fred Boehlke informed the committee that the dishwasher was twenty years old, badly in need of major repair and most of the parts were no longer available.

All vehicles are prohibited from parking, stopping or standing on any street within the corporate limits of the Village of Kewaskum between the hours of 2:00 a.m. and 6:00 a.m. These are the same restrictions as in the past and will be in effect until April 1, 1986, or until rescinded by the Village of Kewaskum Board.

Violators will be fined $5.00 if paid within 3 days of the violation, $10.00 if paid within 10 days and $20.00 after the 28th day of the violation. After 28 days the registrations for any vehicles you own will be suspended for failure to pay fines.

Panzer's wife was at work and his two children were attending Kewaskum High School at the time of the fire.

Kohlsville Fire Chief Gerald Schulz said the cause of the fire was not determined since the home was totally involved by the time his department arrived on the scene. No dollar figure has been set for the fire loss and Schulz said he did not plan any investigation of the fire.

Refuge in Village

With a record herd population of approximately one million deer in Wisconsin and a record kill of 280,000 predicted this hunting season, the deer and other game apparently don't know where to take refuge to escape the army of hunters. Probably the safest place would be right in town.

One woman called Monday afternoon to report seeing a deer right in the back yard in the Kewaskum Street area on the east side of the village. Another woman reported spotting a pheasant crossing the street on Western Avenue on the west side of town the same afternoon re-submit its original priority list to the school board at its next meeting. Ankerson again voted against the list stating, "The only hang-up I have is the A dministration Office remodeling. I don't think it should come out of Fund 40 (Wisconsin Trust Loan) money, it should come out of Fund 10, General Fund)."

In other business, the committee heard the report of Mrs. Janet Martinson concerning busing in hazardous areas. Martinson told the group she had been in contact with Captain Fleming and Sherman Carr of the Washington County Sheriff's Department. What Martinson's report boiled down to is, the original maps were most likely out date, there were new guideliness initiated in 1977, and the best thing to do, according to Carr, is review the district's policy and start over.

Kleinhans agreed that while the maps were old, it was just a matter of updating them. "I don't think we have to start from 'Ground Zero'," said Kleinhans.

Martinson and Carr recommended getting a bus for a day, riding the routes and reviewing the maps making any corrections or additions necessary.

The committee went along with committee member Tom Brigham's suggestion that each member receive a copy of both the maps and district's policy to review before any action was recommended. "I don't think you can work on this without both of them in front of you," Brigham stated.

The committee also discussed adding strobe lights to the district's school buses as an added safety measure. After some discussion of the lights, which would cost between $38 and $110 per bus, plus installation, the committee directed Boehlke to contact Johnson Bus and find out just what the costs would be.

H.S. Vice Principal Roy Esser told the group, this is the kind of thing you put into a contract when you negotiate with the bus company. Ankerson agreed and said the subject would be put on "hold" till negotiation of the busing contract comes up.

Boehlke gave a short report on some of the energy conservation projects which can be accomplished by the district on its own. He indicated it would be another two months before his report, including costs and paybacks would be complete.

Due to the holidays, the committee's next meeting is scheduled for January 27th.

sentatives have answered all our questions and as far as I am concerned, they have met all the conditions required by the village in requesting this permit." He told the meeting that he had no reservations about recommending approval to the Village Board now.

To meet land and space requirements, the proposed architectural plans were revised from a two-story to a three-story structure. The three-story proposal is still below our height limitations, noted Zarling.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt told the commission and Dr. Sison, there was no need to re-zone the land since a conditional use permit would be required whether it remained B-2, General Retail and Service, or re-zoned to R-4 multi-family residential.

At the September meeting, Sison stressed that the proposed 44-unit building will not be a low-income project, but rather a structure designed with elderly tenants in mind. The apartment units will include such things as extra wide doors to accommodate wheelchairs, lower counters and an emergency response system which will alert the building manager of any tenant needing help. Although there will be no age limitations, Sison noted the project will be built from the standpoint that residents will be basically in the senior citizen age category.

A public hearing for the permit has been set for December 16th. If the project is approved, construction could start next spring.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR...

November 24th through the 30th has been proclaimed National Jaycee Family Week. It is a week set aside to make a special effort to bring families closer together. Take some time during this week and do some things extra with the members of your family! It could be something as simple as watching T.V. together, or playing a good game of monopoly (or UNO). Spending time together during a meal, can be a great way to share your day. Go to church together, for a drive, or window shopping - but do it as a family!

In this fast-paced world in which we live, things like these are often not a part of our "every day" – and they should be! Start today, by increasing your family time (just a little), and I feel we'll create a better place for all of us to live! Better families make better communities; make better states; make better countries!! Sounds great, doesn't it!

On behalf of the Kewaskum Jaycees, I wish you a Happy Thanksgiving and a very happy Family Week!!

> Sincerely yours, Richard Thiemer

ALL-AMERICAN BUCKLE UP WEEK NOV. 24-30

Wisconsin has issued a challenge to the people who don't wear safety belts — try it for seven straight days during the All-American Buckle Up Nov. 24-30 and you might make it a habit for life.

Governor Anthony S. Earl has proclaimed the week of Thanksgiving All-American Buckle Up week in Wisconsin, joining the first-ever nationwide effort to get all motor vehicle drivers and passengers to buckle up at the same time.

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation, which is cosponsoring the campaign with the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, said a study of Wisconsin traffic accidents recently showed only 16 percent of the occupants were buckled up.

"Getting everybody to buckle up. "Getting everybody to buckle up is a formidable challenge," said Maynard Stoehr, director of DOT's Office for Highway Safety, "but Wisconsin could avoid a lot of needless bloodshed if everyone did wear a safety belt. The tremendous potential for saving lives is what keeps us trying."

Stochr predicted that 300 lives could be saved each year in Wisconsin alone if motorists got into the safety belt habit and continued to use them throughout the year. The rationale is that it takes several days of de!iberate effort for people to develop the habit. But, once the habit is formed, it requires a conscious effort to break it.

Locally sponsored events will include safety belt use surveys, rewards to users, reminders to non-users, seat belt Convincer demonstrations, and safety belt testimonials.

DOT has prepared promotional materials, including posters, leaflets, and petitions in which signers pledge to wear belts. Printed materials are being distributed by the Wisconsin Association of Women Highway Safety Leaders, the Wisconsin Highway Safety Coordinators Association, Wisconsin Seat Belt Coalition, Wisconsin State Patrol, county and local law enforcement agencies, as well as private businesses and industries. According to Stoehr, this national effort is scheduled to coincide with the

According to Stoehr, this national effort is scheduled to coincide with the Thanksgiving holiday season when many people are on the roads as they head toward family celebrations. Unfortunately, during the 1984 Thanksgiving holiday 603 people lost their lives in traffic accidents on our nation's highways. Stoehr said one of the best ways to ensure the success of these celebrations is to use safety belts. Cheryl Forbes, DOT occupant protection coordinator, said although safety

Cheryl Forbes, DOT occupant protection coordinator, said although safety belt usage has increased in recent years, most people still do not buckle up. This effort gives us a great opportunity to educate people about the positive benefits of safety belts, she said.

Governor Earl's proclamation says that if every Wisconsin driver and passenger wore safety belts throughout the seven-day period, an estimated ten lives could be saved, 1,400 injuries could be prevented, and $11.9 million in accident costs could be saved.

Country singing star Barbara Mandrell is honorary national chairman for All-American Buckle Up. Last year Mandrell and her two children were involved in a severe automobile accident and she is convinced using safety belts saved their lives, Forbes said.

Citizens or groups who wish to join the campaign may receive the posters, flyers and petitions from the DOT Office of Information, P. O. Box 7910, Madison, WI 53707 (phone 608/266-3581).

Satisfying Your Needs Is Always Our Main Consideration Whether you make arrangements beforehand or when death occurs

IV Jaking funeral arrangements either in advance or when someone you love dies requires numerous decisions. There are needs to be met, concerns to be faced, and preferences to think about. You will want to consider the person's lifestyle and those who shared in their life.

Whatever the circumstances your funeral director will give the same unhurried attention to your specific needs. He will be sensitive to your wants and responsive to your requests. He knows how important they are to your personal well being.

The key to a worry-free funeral arrangement, both before need or at need, is careful counseling with an experienced and trusted funeral director. He'll tell you about all the options. The decisions will be yours.

Many of you, particularly those under 40, have not made funeral arrangements of any kind before. It is never an easy task. But your funeral director strives hard to make it easier. Remember, satisfying your needs is always our main consideration.

4 Attend Lions Quest Institute

Recently four different facets of the community attended an institute on "Problems of Adolescence'' at Madison.

Attending the institute and representing the school district were Dennis Reha, administrator, and Mary Holfeltz, health teacher. Representing the Kewaskum Lions Club was Earl Etta and Richard Knoebel representing the Kewaskum community.

The purpose of the institute was to meet and discuss adolescent issues, particularly drug and alcohol abuse. At the institute the "Skills for Adolescence" curriculum was introduced and explained. The program, it was explained, is directed toward prevention and education. The program was chosen because it is a conscientious approach to the issues of drug and alcohol abuse.

This program also includes a comprehensive curriculum, teacher learning program and emphasizes parent involvement. It embodies the values and objectives which are characteristic of American communities. It is a program that requires not only parental involvement but community involvement as well.

The Quest Program is already in place in many school districts across the state of Wisconsin. The people in the Kewaskum area should give serious thought to the implementation of such a curriculum. This could be added to what we already have or could be the beginning of a new and valuable program.

Mail Early Season Opens

The Postal Service is cooperating with Milwaukee's business community in urging customers to shop early and mail early for the holidays.

Postmaster James D. Oster asks holiday shoppers to mail early this year and to make certain that mail is addressed correctly (including ZIP Codes) and that packages are wrapped correctly so that cards and parcels reach their destinations in plenty of time for the holidays.

"This year we anticipate more than 13 million additional cards and letters - over and above our regular volumes during the holiday season," Oster said. "We in the Postal Service take pride in carrying your messages of love and joy. Mailing early helps us deliver the messages on time.

The key to successful holiday mailing is to mail early and correctly. Postmaster Oster says that includes planning now for gifts that must travel long distances by Christmas.

"Customers should also take care to write legible ZIP Coded addresses for both the address and the return address. The use of ZIP Codes following the name of the particular city and state aids us in the processing of mail."

'Last year our customers helped us tremendously. They mailed early in the season and early in the day. We hope they will choose to cooperate with us again this year, so we both will have an enjoyable holiday mailing season.

Paula Wilson, a member of the Kewaskum High School twirlers, twirls her flag in the Beechwood parade June 30th.

(Last in a series)

As the noon whistle blew, the girls were off and marching to the beat of the Kewaskum High School band. Every year the twirlers are grateful for the rhythm and music that is provided by the Kewaskum High School Band. The corp follows the band as they march down the streets in several local parades.

The summer parade schedule this past year looked like this: Boltonville - Sunday, May 26th Kewaskum Dairy Daze -Saturday, June 15th (rained out) Beechwood - Sunday, June

FUND RAISERS

This was the year of fund raising for the Indian Princess Twirlettes. Making new uniforms not only takes a lot of time, but it also costs money. Therefore, each school formed their own fund raising activity and succeeded in bringing in enough money to pay for the new uniforms and flag batons. BEECHWOOD: Carolyn

Foods almost done

That was some walk for my little legs. When we returned to camp we cooked all our meals on an open fire. It sure did taste good.

As the time came closer for us to say good-bye to camp, we all agreed that the Halloween party had to be the top highlight of the weekend. It came complete with costumes and pumpkins, right in the woods. The weather co-operated and we had a perfectly wonderful time. A special thanks goes to Mr. Richard Goetsch who went along when other leaders were unable to attend. We couldn't have gone without him.

It was a nice visit for me and my little sister at camp but we came along hac' back because we want to spend a complete year in Kewaskum with the scouts

Troop 223 Boating is fun -

With the recent surprise attack of winter, I sure am glad that I had the chance to go along with the Girl Scouts from Wayne on the weekend of October 25 - 27, up to Camp Tiwaushare for a final campout.

The purpose of going was to enjoy camping in tents and to compare seasons of the year at Tiwaushare.

The scouts that went were from Junior troop 223 and four cadettes from Troop 20 under the experienced leadership of Judy and Richard Goetsch. The cadettes came because they are working on a leadership interest patch. They helped with planning a campfire and sing-along. The big event was a Halloween party with games, costumes and scares.

The weather was perfect for camping out. The girls were able to go boating on the lake

Members of St. Lucas Lutheran Church, gathered for a brief ceremony on Sunday, November 20, to mark the commencement of construction on the new Sunday school building.

The first weekend of the deer hunting season showed a marked decrease in the number of hunters in Washington County and also the number of deer registered. Only nine deer were registered up to noon on the third day of the season Monday and some of these were shot in Sheboygan and Fond du Lac counties. On the first two days of the 1959 season over 150 deer were registered in this county, 141 more than this year. Warm weather (in the 50's), water in the marshes (instead of ice) and no tracking snow accounted for the big decrease in the number of deer shot and sent many disgusted hunters home early. Conservation Warden Bob Lake said that in one township there were more men fishing and hunting ducks than there were deer hunters.

The Dollar Day sale held at the L. Rosenheimer store last Saturday proved to be a decided success, both for the customers and sponsors. After a busy day in the store, prizes were awarded in the evening to people coming closest at guessing how many kernels of corn were devoured by the turkey displayed in the show window of the store from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. After a thorough counting, results showed the gobbler to have eaten 584 kernels during the 14 hours. Jos. Uelmen Jr. of this village was the closest guesser with 587 and won first prize of the turkey or $3 cash. He took the latter. Mrs. Reynold Bonlender of Route 1, Campbellsport was second with a guess of 589 and Mrs. Jacob Marian, Route 3, Campbellsport, was third with 590. Both received $1.00 cash awards.

WASHINGTON COUNTY WASTE TO ENERGY ACTION

PLAN - COMMITMENT TO USE

WHEREAS, The Washington County Board of Supervisors by Resolution of June 11, 1985, have requested an expression of community commitment to the Waste to Energy Action Plan Phase 3; and

WHEREAS, this plan would result in the construction of an incinerator with energy recovery near the courthouse, which would provide steam to heat the court house complex buildings, and

Wrestlers Prepare For 1985-86 Season

Six Year Veteran Coach John Nell

By Chuck Voge

Six year veteran wrestling coach John Nell is pretty busy these days working with the twenty-five boys that will make up this year's Indian wrestling team.

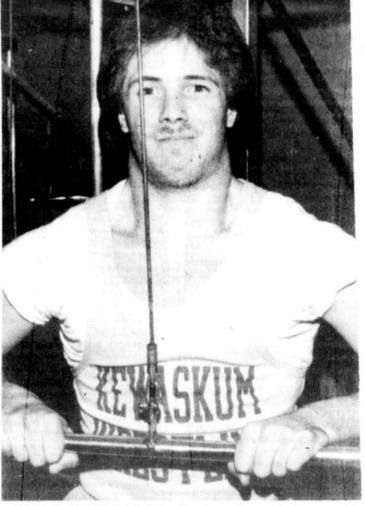

The Indians open the season on December 3, when they travel for a Triple-Dual meet at St. Mary's Springs, Fond du Lac.

Of the twenty-five man squad, nine are returning lettermen: Seniors Jeff Diels, Wade Jepsen, Bill Lehmann, Ken Miller, Brian Spartz and Rick Staehler; Junior Daryl Landvatter, and two sophomores, Steve Kapp and Rick Straub.

Nell was quite pleased with the progress of two of his boys, seniors Jerry Vetter and Wade Jepsen. He also mentioned that he felt the Indians' toughest competition will come from Plymouth, Sheboygan Falls and Two Rivers.

Team wise the Indians might have some problems with open spots in some of the weight classes, however, Nell expects the boys to do well in tournament wrestling on the individual level.

The complete 1985-86 schedule is on the winter sports schedule printed by the Kewaskum Booster club. They are available at the school, as well as many business places in Kewaskum.

KEWASKUM SENIOR Brian Spartz works out in the weight room as the Indians prepare for the 1985-86 wrestling season.

Indians Even Record With Win Over Slinger

By Chuck Voge

The Kewaskum boys' basketball team evened their record for the young season to 1-1 with a second half 62-51 victory over Slinger here Friday night, Nov. 22.

Dynamite rebounding by Ron Theusch and Mike Coulter made the difference for the Indians in the home opener played in front of a good crowd at the Kewaskum field house.

Theusch started at center for the Indians and collected a total of 21 points for the evening with 14 of them coming from the floor. Starting at forward for the Indians were Tim Rohlinger and Mike Coulter, with Bob Yahr and Otto Ramthun in the back court.

Officiating for the game was top shelf and both refs left the teams play a very physical game throughout the entire evening. Both sides went home knowing they'ed been in a basketball game.

All of the Indians' first period scoring came from the floor with Theusch picking up six and Rohlinger and Yahr adding two apiece. In spite of the Owls having a big advantage in height, the boards clearly belonged to Theusch and Coulter. Slinger used a man-toman defense for the entire game and the Indians seemed to handle it much better then the zone that they faced earlier in the week at Campbellsport. The first period ended with Kewaskum down by four at 14-10 Slinger.

In the second period the Indians outscored Slinger, 13-10, with Ramthun picking up four from the floor and two more on free throws. Theusch added four and Menzel two. Rohlinger scored once on a free toss, and the Indians pulled to within one before the half ended at 24-23 Slinger.

The second half started with the Indians moving the ball around more and faster. With the score tied at 26-26, Menzel hit from the outside on a twenty-foot jumper to give Kewaskum a lead that they held on to for the rest of the game. In the mistake department the Owls made a big one in the period when they sent Yahr to the free throw line for four. He made all four and added another four from the floor and was the Indians' big scorer for the period with eight. The period ended at 42-36, Kewaskum.

For most of the final period the Indians played good solid basketball as they set the pace for the rest of the night. Theusch scored ten points in the quarter with eight coming on free throws as the Indians went on a twenty point scoring binge. Then with only minutes left to play and a ten point lead Kewaskum got wild and started throwing passes the length of the court and into the wrong hands. Coach Perry Koth wisely called time and brought all that grandstand nonsense to a halt and the Indians coasted to a easy 62-51 win. High scorers for the Indians were Theusch with 21 and Yahr with 12. Owl high scorers were Mark Dahlke 18 and E. J. Walter with 12.

The junior varsity won 52-51 in a double overtime thriller. The freshmen were idle.

Next Tuesday the Indians travel to Lomira for their final pre-season warm up game before their conference opener at Sheboygan Falls Dec. 10.

Kewaskum — Ramthun 2-2-5, Rohlinger 3-1-3, Theusch 7-7-4, Yahr 3-6-1, Coulter 2-5-1, Menzel 2-0-3, Steger 1-1-3, Troeller 0-0-3. Totals: 20-22-21. Slinger — Kirkland 2-2-2, Dahlke 5-8-4, Kleinhans 1-2-2, Kubicek 3-3-1, Farrell 1-0-1, Hohmer 0-0-1, Walter 5-2-5, Evans 0-0-3. Totals: 17-17-29. Kew. 10 13 19 20 - 62 there just might be another regional championship in the making.

High scorers for the Indians were - Yearling 18 and Fusek 10. For Lomira - Kathi Neitzel 11, and Heidi Klein 10. Both the freshmen and JV teams lost to Lomira.

Tuesday night the girls played at Campbellsport and next Tuesday they host a very strong Hartford team of the Little Ten Conference.

Girls Volleyball Champs Hold Banquet

By Chuck Voge

The Kewaskum girls' volleyball team held their season-end banquet, on Wednesday evening at 7:00 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. Approximately one hundred people listened, as coaches Dave Rizzardi and Sue Paul-Kenfield re-capped the season's events and accomplishments for the three Indian teams.

Rizzardi spoke well of the freshman team. They finished with a 5-5 record for the year, and that put them about at the half way point in conference standings.

The freshman girls received their jacket numerals during the presentation along with individual recognition certificates.

In her re-cap of the JV season coach Paul-Kenfield gave special recognition to Shelly Petsch, the JV's top spiker. Shelly's spiking average for the year was 89 percent. On a vote of her teammates, foreign exchange student Sandra Heinrich was voted most improved JV.

The Junior Varsity finished 3-9 for the season.

In his summary of the varsity season Rizzardi spoke of the many lifelong memories that the varsity girls stored up on their way to winning the 1985 Campbellsport Invitational tournament, the Eastern Wisconsin Conference championship, and the W.I.A.A. regional title. All three of the team trophies were on display.

Rizzardi said a special thanks to all of the team's supporters. He made special mention of the fact that at times, the Indians had more fans in the stands at their road games than the home team did.

All varsity players earned letters during the season.

Junior Terri Schmidt was voted most improved, and senior Lisa Fusek team MVP. Fusek also earned the conference MVP for her performance during the 1985 season. honored at their banquet last Wednesday, some 20 other Kewaskum High School athletes received varsity letters in tennis and cross country.
