Board Approves Teacher Contract; Get 9.01% Wage, Benefits Increase

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

On a six to one vote, the Kewaskum Board of Education ratified the 1985-86 contract with the Kewaskum Education Association which represents the district's teachers. Perry Ankerson was the only board member to vote against the proposal presented at Monday night's meeting.

Local Olympics Of Mind Teams Go to Regional

The six Olympics of the Mind teams from the Kewaskum School District will compete in the Wisconsin Regional at Morse Middle School on Saturday, March 15, starting at 8:00 a.m.

Morse Middle School is located at 84th and Hampton east of Hwy. 41.

Spectators are welcome.

The new contract provides for an 8.49% raise in salaries, an increase of $223,630 over 1984-85. Plus increases in social security, dental and health benefits and a 1% increase in retirement benefits, which brings the total package to 9.01%, or $302,724.

The average increase per teacher comes to $1,900. Plus benefits, the average increase equals $2,572. The teachers will be paid on a "split" schedule, with the first 9.5 days of the school year's salary calculated on the old contract schedule and the remaining 180.5 days being calculated on the new schedule.

A beginning teacher's salary was raised to $16,208, up $983 from the 1984-85 contract figure of $15,225.

Business Manager Cherna Gorder said she is preparing a report which will provide each teacher's salary for both 1984-85 and 1985-86. The report is expected to be completed and available within the next two weeks.

In other action the board approved the Finance-Transportation, Building and Grounds Committee's recommendation to hire Warzyn Corporation to do a re-evaluation of the Wayne School gym ceiling at a cost of $1,400. The board also approved the committee's recommendation to include, as part of the district's contract talks, installation of strobe lights when it begins negotiations with Johnson Bus Service next month.

The Finance Committee's next meeting has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. March 24th, in the High School Library.

The Policy-Legislation Committee presented the first readings of the In-service Policy and job description for the local Vocational Educational Counselor. The next Policy Committee meeting is scheduled for 7:00 p.m. April 9th, in the Administration

Diary of An OM Coach, or Every Day Is 'Manic Monday'

Back in January, when Olympics of the Mind Coordinator Tom Larsen gave the district's team coaches his go-get-'em pep talk, along with a thick, black handbook, it finally sank in: what I had earlier supported in principle, had become in reality, little ole volunteer coach, me. Likewise, it took a few days for one of the team members to recover from the shock that his mother was the coach. His wise counsel given was "try not to be intentionally flaky." Enough said.

OM teams in the district are chosen from scores on creative problem solving exercises, plus input from teachers. KHS team members are: Beth Bartelt, Lisa Fusek, Mitch Gebheim, Tara Kleinhans, Leighton Peterson and Ron Theusch. Creative problem solving by a team is what Olympics of the Mind, an international competition, is all about. The most creative requirement for the coach is to schedule meeting times when at least half the team can be there. Our thanks to the high school office staff who very patiently accept schedule changes on a regular basis.

During weeks of practice on spontaneous thinking and long-range problem solving, several special supporters of this team effort deserve gold stars. The maintenance crew who share their secret supply of garbage bags and clean up the creative mess. Art and music directors who offer their expertise, limited supplies and cramped spaces. A certain asst. principal who unlocks doors and then spends many overtime hours waiting. Parents who realize their kids are not getting enough rest or a hot meal. These are just a few of the many.

Picasso No Piece of Cake

The team selected for its long-range problem one entitled "Great Art Lives," in which they have to replicate two works by a master artist (they chose Picasso). In addition they have to create an original art piece in the style of the master, and finally, they have to "bring to life" one of the replicated art pieces. Judges grade on the spirit of the problem, quality of the art, the performance, music props, lighting, overall effect ...in other words, everything. Any thing required to solve the problem must be done by the team, with no assistance from anyone, including the coach. Knowledgeable persons may be resources for information or teaching basic skills and techniques involved in the problem, but they may not be involved in the doing of it. The team and the coach sign a pledge to honor this outside assistance principal. Coaches do purchase supplies and creatively scrounge cardboard and garbage bags.

Long hours spent together these past few months have provided opportunities for some observation on OM team, KHS, behaviors:

- *Creative energy flows in direct proportion to food consumption. Little Debbie anything and chocolate donuts get high marks for creativity; bran muffins, zip.

- *Creativity is not bound by time constraints. Only coaches worry over deadlines, time-on-task, etc.

- *High decibel levels on boomboxes provide mood for creative thinking. Especially effective is something called "Rock me Amadeus."

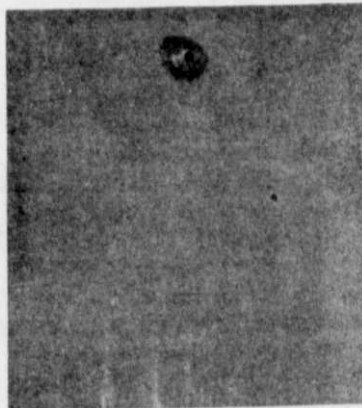

- *Spontaneous problem solvers are most productive when sprawled on the floor or across a desk.

- *The closer to competition (March 15) the higher the food, noise and coach's nervous levels.

At one of our first meetings, I told the team to start identifying with "I am a creative person," which translates to different, off-the-wall ways of doing things. Some amazing metamorphoses have occurred:

Those who have not done cut, paste and color time since grade school are seriously involved in replicating "Guernica," considered to be the art world's major statement on war by one of its creative giants. The massive bull depicted in Picasso's work, the disjointed horse (named Bill) with its

Vandals Damage Windows

A hole in the window of one of the properties victimized in Tuesday night's vandalism incident.

The Kewaskum Police Department is investigating a vandalism incident in which the windows of several village homes and businesses were damaged with marbles apparently fired from a sling shot.

The incident occurred late Tuesday evening with the police department receiving the first call about the damage at about 10:20 p.m. Officer Thomas Bauer said the department's preliminary investigation indicates there were no witnesses. Some of the homeowners said they just heard the screaming death mask ... cardboard, glue, garbage bags and magic markers, plus a lot of creative problem solving.

Also post-war garbage - bag fashion have been designed and modeled, for a photo session with a free-lance photographer with the Milwaukee Journal, by devotees of jeans, sweats and Hawaiians.

One of the most interesting developments in bringing this art to life has been the intense non-verbal statement about the agony and anguish of war depicted by people who know of it only through TV and textbooks.

As the March 15 regional competition at Morse Middle School in Milwaukee approaches, the coach becomes increasingly anxious and incredibly proud. Of one thing I am sure...this OM team will go for it.

"snap" as the marbles hit the windows.

The incident appears to have taken place over a short period of time, about 10 or 20 minutes, with all the damage reported so far, happening to properties east of Highway 45, noted Bauer. It appears that an individual or individuals were traveling in a car taking random shots at windows.

Two windows at the post office and one window at the Kewaskum Statesman office sustained damage.

Several homes in the Holy Trinity Church and Fire Department areas also had window damage. Bauer declined to go into detail while the incident is still under investigation.

Residents noted that the street lights along Main Street were out at the time the damage occurred.

If anyone has any information regarding the vandalism, they should contact the department, noted Bauer.

Over the 3,000 islands in the Bahama chain in the Caribbean, only 20 are inhabited.

Your HEALTH TIP

from Tom Leitzke, R.P.H.

SURGERY? DON'T SMOKE

If you smoke, and are scheduled for surgery, it is wise to abstain from smoking at least 12 hours before the operation. In that time the blood can rid itself of 'carboxyhemoglobin,' which is useless in carrying oxygen from lungs to body tissues, and its effect on the body is like that of anemia. Without smoking, the body can better tolerate the trauma of surgery and anesthesia.

For Music in Our Schools Month

KHS Music Department to Present Free Choral Concert

The Kewaskum High School music department will present a free choral concert on Wednesday, March 19th, at 7:30 p.m. in Kewaskum High School. The concert choir will feature pieces by Brahms and Hassler, the Treble Choir will perform "Out Here on My Own" from Fame, and the Swing Choir will entertain with popular selections such as "Rhythm of the Night" and Whitney Houston's "How Will I Know."

The concert is part of the observance of Wisconsin Music in Our Schools Month (MIOSM). MIOSM provides the opportunity to demonstrate not only the breadth, depth, and quality of music programs in the schools, but also the unique ways in which music contributes to intellectual development. Researchers have shown that the mind requires rich sensory experiences, which music can provide, before it can proceed to more abstract processing. Music in Our Schools Month is designed to inform the public of these and other contributions of music in our schools to education and community enrichment.

In her pageant, Debra and other 13 to 18 year olds will be honored and recognized for their achievements, personally, in school, and in their communities.

Miss Pamperin and other young ladies from the state who will participate in the Pageant must maintain a "B" grade average in school. Through this program many teen girls are becoming involved in community activities by contributing at least 12 hours of time benefitting those less fortunate than themselves. This past year, Miss T.E.E.N. contestants, because of the volunteer service requirement, have donated over 300,000 hours of time across the country to many volunteer and civic organizations.

During the Pageant Weekend, contestants will participate in a Leadership Training Seminar. A professional motivator will be there to share her abilities and skills with these young ladies, as they will be our leaders of tomorrow. They can return to their individual communities better equipped to be the positive role models for their peers.

Contestants will be judged on Scholastic Achievement, Volunteer Service, Talent or Speech, Personal Interview, and Formal Presentation. Awards will be given in each category. The new state queen will receive a $1,000 cash scholarship, a $1,000 scholarship to Lowthian College, a full modeling scholarship, a round trip flight and all expenses paid to compete in the National Miss T.E.E.N. in Kansas City, Missouri, finals for over $30,000 in scholarships and awards, the official Miss T.E.E.N. crown, banner and trophy, a 16 x 20 living oil portrait, an 11 x 14 full color portrait, personalized queen stationery, a Miss T.E.E.N. gift ensemble, plus various other prizes.

At the National Miss T.E.E.N. FINALS IN Kansas City Missouri, our state winner will be competing for a four year full tuition scholarship to the University of New Mexico, a $5,000 cash scholarship, a $2,000 personal appearance contract, a $2,000 wardrobe plus gifts from Nike and Pendleton Wool and Mills and other clothing, a one week all-expense paid "Dream Vacation" in Hawaii, plus many other prizes and awards. In addition, over $15,000 more in cash scholarships in the individual competition areas will be awarded.

Debra Pamperin's accomplishments and hobbies are: painting and collecting knick knacks. She is a member of the Kewaskum FFA, YPS of Zion Ev. Church, German Club and participated in forensics.

Her sponsors are Walter and Sandra Pamperin, West Bend; Jack Walters and Sons, Inc., Allenton; Don's Elevator, Allenton; Farmer's Inc., Allenton; Carmel Lanes, Allenton, and Kewaskum Veterinary Clinic.

Jaycees Asking for Nomination For 'Outstanding Young Person'

Now is your chance to select a young person you know between the ages of 18 and 35 years who has been active in community, civic and church affairs, as the Jaycee "Outstanding Young Person" award.

Such people as Ken Weyers, Roy Peterson, Richard Thiemer, Daniel Schmidt, Paul Behring, Robert Danielson and Oscar Knoeck have been honored in the past.

So sit down and write a resume of that young person you know who gives herself or himself to help in our great community. It is people like that who make our future brighter in this community.

Send resumes to Kewaskum Jaycees, Post Office Box 118, Kewaskum, Wisconsin 53040. Please postmark no later than April 5.

KES Special Olympics For Physically Handicapped

Special Olympics is a chance for the mentally and physically handicapped individuals to train and compete in athletic events. We have a team in Kewaskum comprised of five students from Kewaskum Elementary Schools Special Education classes.

They train locally in bowling, swimming, and track and field. They compete in Sheboygan at the area level, and the first and second place award winners compete at the state level.

The program is funded by local organizations, including United Way, Lions Club, and the Legion Post. Also, the Modern Woodmen of Kewaskum are holding a matching fund card party and bake sale for the benefit of the Special Olympics on Thursday, March 20.

Money is needed for transportation, registration, lodging at the state meet, uniforms and equipment.

The volunteer coaching staff

this year includes Jeaneen Kudek, Karen Hirschinger and Kathy Charland.

Kiwanis Selects 1986 Projects

The theme for the Kiwanis 1985-86 Major Emphasis Program is "Walk With a Child." The purpose of this project is to aid the materially underprivileged child in various ways, such as providing food, clothing, school materials, etc.

The Kewaskum Kiwanis have chosen the Kiwanis Cupboard program wherein each member has been asked to bring a can of food to each meeting (weekly) over a four month period ending in May. The results to date have been very successful. The food is to be distributed through a local food pantry. The Kiwanis Key Club, a local high school organization, has also expressed interest in joining this project. The public is welcome to participate and can do so by dropping off any kind of non-perishable food at the Valley Bank.

Another 1986 project has the Kewaskum Kiwanis involved in donating funds toward the construction of a new shelter in the Kiwanis Park. Kewaskum Kiwanis is committed to provide up to $30,000.00 this year and anticipates making additional donations to cover up to 50% of construction costs in the near future.

XYZ CLUB SKAT RESULTS

State Representative Dwight York will be the speaker at the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club meeting Tuesday, March 18, at 7:30 p.m.

Rep. York will discuss the new marital property law recently passed by the State Legislature.

Many questions have been asked about the new law and how it can affect marital property arrangements.

Anyone in the area who would like to know more about it is invited to attend the program which will be held at the American Legion Hall, Kewaskum.

Please call 626-4808 if you have further questions about the program.

Agri-Business Is Everybody's Business

Have you ever considered how many times a day you come in contact with products related to Wisconsin agriculture? This $5.2 billion agricultural industry affects every person in the state every day. How? The possibilities are endless.

You awake on a bed built with lumber from Price County. Columbia County sheep produced the wool in your slippers. The corn in your cereal grew in a field just south of Milwaukee and the milk came from a cow near Marshfield. As you walk to your car in leather shoes fabricated from a steer hide near Livingston, you remember to fill up your car with an ethanol blend fuel derived from corn near Janesville.

You arrive at work seating yourself behind a desk built from trees in Forest County. The variety of textures and colors of paper on your desk were produced in Marinette County.

It's noon. Your lunch consists of a hamburger contributed by a steer near Green Bay, topped with cheese from Manitowoc, and lettuce, onions, and French fries grown near Stevens Point. For an afternoon snack you munch on an apple grown in Gays Mills.

Later that day on your way home, you impatiently drive behind two semi-trailers hauling 85% of Wisconsin products out-of-state.

For dinner you bake a Barron turkey, Oconto Falls snap beans, and an Antigo potato.

Ice cream from DePere smothered with strawberries from Portage complete your meal. (In addition to eating high quality, safe food, your grocery bill was only 55% of what you would pay in Tokyo, Japan.)

You alone touched Wisconsin agriculture over twenty times during a single day.

It is estimated that over 500,000 Wisconsinites, 22% of our work force, rely directly on agriculture for their jobs. Whether you grow, produce, use, manufacture, or eat Wisconsin products, remember: Agri-business is truly everybody's business!

Abalone steak, the popular seafood dish found along the Pacific Coast and in Japan, comes from the muscular foot of the snail.

Farming requires multi-skills

Today, successful farming requires immense knowledge and management skill from American agribusinessmen and women.

The three basic "inputs" for agricultural production are land, labor and capital.

Land is no longer the major production tool. The productivity of the land now depends upon the skill and knowledge with which capital is applied -- the use of mechanical power and machinery, fertilizer, lime, better seed, pest control chemicals, and the technology applied to conserve and enhance the land while in production use.

The total volume of all resources used in agriculture -- land, labor, machinery, and supplies -- has changed little since 1955.

The composition of inputs, however, has changed drastically as farmers have struggled to be more productive and more efficient. Farm labor inputs have declined rapidly; farm real estate has remained relatively constant. All other inputs, chiefly purchased, have increased rapidly. Purchased inputs are nearly 64 percent greater than in 1955; nonpurchased inputs have declined 40 percent.

The management of these inputs and resources demands increasing skill and knowledge from U.S. farmers. Farming today is a very complex business.

Ag industry big employer

American agriculture employs more workers than any manufacturing industry. Only government and the construction, trade, finance and service industries employ more people than agriculture, and agriculture's role as a purchaser of inputs or supplier of its output looms large in several of those.

Food processing, of course, is highly related to agriculture, as are textiles, transportation and trade -- all users or marketers of agriculture's output. Also, agriculture is an important customer of the chemical, machinery, finance, real estate, and service industries.

AG DAY

March 20

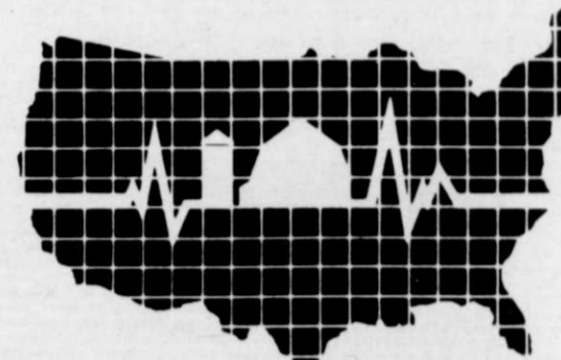

It's a day for all Americans to recognize the importance of agriculture, and heartily salute the men and women across the nation who contribute to the success and strength of our greatest industry.

First Day Of Spring • March 20

AGRICULTURE America's Heartbeat
Vital to Us All

U.S. agriculture

Heartbeat of America's economy

At the time of the American Revolution the United States was almost totally agrarian. Ninety percent of our population was engaged in farming and 60 percent of income went for food. Almost all our exports were agricultural products, and the basic structure of society depended on the agrarian economy.

Through time the U.S. agricultural system has produced an increasing abundance of food and fiber, using relatively fewer resources. The unparalleled productivity gains in American agriculture have resulted in a broader choice of nutritious food available for a declining portion of income.

Today Americans spend less than 17 percent of family income on food. Only 3 percent of our labor force is engaged directly in farming. And agricultural products now account for only about 20 percent of total exports. The importance of farming seems to have diminished. But it would be erroneous to conclude that agriculture is no longer vitally important to our economy. The food and agricultural sector -- as a source of productivity gains, a user of resources, and a source of employment -- remains large and important by any standard.

Increased agricultural productivity, the rise in output per unit of input, has been a major contributor to improved living standards for Americans. Where just 10 years ago one farm worker supplied food and fiber for 47 people, he now supplies enough for 78, up from a mere seven persons at the beginning of this century. Total agricultural output has more than doubled in the past 50 years, though the agricultural land base has not substantially changed. These increases in agricultural productivity have contributed to the domestic economy by enabling consumers to upgrade their diets at lower cost while simultaneously expanding their consumption of non-food items. At the same time increased productivity has facilitated the transfer of production workers from agriculture into industrial and service industries, expanding the supply of nonfood goods and services, and enabling our economy to meet the new demands of consumers.

The great strides in productivity have been accompanied by major changes in the input mix. From the earliest periods of American history hand power gave way to horsepower then to mechanical power, and ultimately to "science power." New technologies introduced over the past 50 years have resulted in a nearly fifteenfold increase in fertilizer use, a fivefold increase in tractor numbers, and a tenfold increase in tractor horsepower used in farming. Purchased inputs are 2.6 times their 1930 levels and farm labor input only 30 percent of 1930 levels. Farms are larger and significantly more dependent on capital and purchases from the nonfarm economy.

As farming has come to rely more on purchased inputs and less on inputs supplied on the farm, the sector has become more fully integrated with the general economy. Consequently, farming is influenced by and has an influence on the same factors that determine conditions in the general economy.

Annual Ag Day salutes farmers

Thursday, March 20, is AGRICULTURE Day in the United States. Each year, the Agriculture Council Of American Education Committee designates the first day of Spring as a special day to salute the nation's producers of food and fiber.

American farmers and stockmen deserve this special recognition for they make an immense contribution to our country's economic prosperity and the high standard of living enjoyed by Americans.

Any way you cut it, farmers are important to the U.S. and its citizens. Here are a few reasons why:

- Agriculture employs more workers than any manufacturing industry. The flow of farm products -- in addition to related dollar purchases and expenditures -- requires the services of nearly 23 million people, a full 20 percent of the labor force throughout the U.S. economy.
- Annually, farm operators spend about $131 billion for goods and services to produce crops and livestock. Hence, farmers are important consumers as well as producers.
- American farmers today produce over 76 percent more crop output on the same number of acres than did their fathers. One farmworker now supplies enough food and fiber for 78 people. Only 10 years ago, the farmworker was producing enough for 47.
- The increased productivity and efficiency of American agriculture has contributed largely to a higher standard of living. Today Americans spend less than 17 percent of family income for food compared to 28 percent in 1930.
- Agricultural exports totalled $38 billion in 1984 and generated $80 billion of economic activity in the U.S. economy.

Consumers benefit from farm efficiency

American farmers are efficient producers, a key fact that translates into more buying power for the consumer.

American farmers today produce over 76 percent more crop output on the same number of acres than did their fathers. Today, one hour of farm labor produces 14 times as much food and other crops as it did in the 1919-21 period.

One farmworker now supplies enough food and fiber for 78 people. Only 10 years ago, the farmworker was producing enough for 47.

Because of the farmer's efficient output, we can enjoy a satisfying quantity and variety of food.

And despite recent rises in food prices, family income buys considerably more food today than 30 years ago, partly because agriculture has become much more efficient and partly because consumer incomes have risen faster than food prices.

The tremendous productivity and efficiency in the U.S. food and fiber system also equates to lower food prices for American consumers than others throughout the world.

Farmers are consumers, too

Like everyone else, the American farmer is a consumer as well as a producer. And farmer purchases to support production agriculture alone significantly impact the nation's economy.

Annually, farm operators spend about $131 billion for goods and services to produce crops and livestock.

Farmer's annual purchases include:

- $13.2 billion for farm tractors and other motor vehicles, machinery and equipment. About 150,000 employees are required to produce farm equipment alone.
- $16.4 billion for fuel, lubricants, and maintenance for machinery and motor vehicles used in the farm business. Farming uses more petroleum than any other single industry.
- $22.4 billion for feed and seed.
- $8.9 billion for fertilizer and lime.
- Products containing 360 million pounds of rubber -- about 5 percent of the total used in the United States, or enough to put tires on nearly 7 million automobiles.

Where the customer is the company

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

March 7, 1986

Dear Editor:

[and residents of the Kewaskum School District]

Week after week, we have been subjected to the sarcastic and libelous letters from the candidates for school board. I, and many of our neighbors, are to the point where we do not want to open our Statesman.

First we have the candidate who is constantly harping on the raise our business manager received. For how long are we going to hear about this? In checking, I have found that through investments she has probably made us, in interest alone, her salary plus. Regardless, we are lucky to have someone with her education and experience for so small a salary. And, when has Ms. Gordner ever screamed at the taxpayers? I've attended the meetings and I have never heard her raise her voice in an unprofessional manner to the public. Why must Ms. Gordner be subjected to this constant harassment?

Our superintendent and director of instruction have also been on the firing line. Any resident who has taken the time to talk with these women and where they stand on education would realize that they would never do anything to harm or jeopardize our children's futures. No wonder they're always on the defensive.

The changes at our middle school have been criticized by every candidate. But I have been in the schools, both elementary and middle, and, as a parent, I am for this change. Our sixth graders, socially and emotionally, are ready to be grouped with seventh and eighth graders. Take a good look at them!

Not only that, but educationally, they will be offered so much more -- science, art, phy. ed., home ec, industrial arts. Is this so bad?

As far as the middle school environment, I guess you'd have to see it to understand. I have, and it's not the unruly hell that some led me to believe. Mr. Reha is running a tight ship. (Congrats Mr. Reha!) It's quiet, pleasant and very neat and clean. You can't even tell when classes are changing. I've also had the room changes pointed out to me and I don't believe it will be overcrowded.

Parents, if you think your sixth grader will obtain bad habits by being moved -- open your eyes. Your child gets these ideas no matter where he is (TV, magazines, life in general). Be realistic.

Secondly, we have a candidate who has pointed out all the "far from great" decisions of the board. Hindsight has always been better. Yet when he was on the board before, he could have done something about the outdated science books (they surely were outdated then) and could have gotten us curriculum improvement through CESA back then. So why blast the board now?

I also believe that when our counselors ask the board for social workers because they cannot handle the types of problems brought to them we are not throwing our $$ away. We are offering help to our children. Does this have a price tag?

The most outstanding thing about this candidate is his fear to face the public either on radio or at the forum. Through his letters in the papers, his candidacy has been one sided -- his. Do we vote for a candidate who is too busy to face the public?

The third letter-writing candidate has criticized just about everything. But wasn't she on the committee that voiced the need for a director of instruction? Miss Backus has given the board several options for improving curriculum and saving money. And if the schools are overstaffed, isn't it about time that was brought to light? (Not that I want to see teachers laid off, but...)

I think it's about time we, as a community, need to become "upbeat" about our schools -- GO THERE -- SEE WHAT'S HAPPENING -- GET INVOLVED WITH OUR CHILDREN EVEN AT THE HIGH SCHOOL LEVEL.

For quality, at every level, we need to spend some money. We are going to get what we pay for. Our schools need to be progressive but not excessive. I, for one, want my children to graduate from our schools with a quality education and the confidence and ability to compete in the outside world.

Our buildings need repair, our curriculum needs to remain in touch with changing times, our teachers must remain top-notch, our administrators need to be progressive, educated individuals and our school board members need to be realistic.

I wish there was a candidate worth voting for. Someone who wouldn't try to stop progress by tightening the purse strings any tighter or hindering our administrators, but who would make sound judgements toward continued improvement in our schools.

Sincerely,
Janet Martinson
Kewaskum Resident and Concerned Parent

To Ralph Horner, Ruth Schmidt and Clara Trapp:

I have read your many letters for the past several weeks. The thought that keeps coming to mind is the fact that your comments are always so negative. It is easy to sit back and criticize and say what should have been done. It is easy to look at the present school board and point the finger, but in effect, this accomplishes nothing.

As a resident of the Kewaskum School District, I plan to vote in the next election. But so far, none of you has given me any reasons why I should vote for you. I would like to see a positive letter about what you personally would do as a school board member to make things better for our district.

Those of us who read the "Letters to the Editor" already know that you are dissatisfied with the administration, the taxes, and the present school board. Let us hear some fresh ideas as to how you plan to change things and provide that "quality education" that everyone is always talking about.

To the Kewaskum School District Members:

I would like to thank you for voting for me in the February 18th primary and would like to ask for your continued support in the April 1st election. With your vote in the primary, we have sent a message to the school board - the people want a change. We want to be heard. This school district is owned by the people and financed by the people, therefore; it would seem to me that the board should be an ARM of the people. No one expects all people to agree on any one issue, but we should expect that the majority would rule. On an issue as important as a school closing, I see nothing wrong with asking for a referendum as was suggested. I would like this district to come together, to work on our problems together, we all would agree that our main concern is -- that our children receive a good education. I don't believe money can buy quality in our schools. We are top heavy in Administration and we need to cut back. We have approximately 100 teachers in our district. These professionals hold a wealth of untapped knowledge that could help to solve our problems. More Administrative staff does not mean more solutions.

At our last school board meeting, we were told that this is a meeting in public, not a public meeting. My interpretation of this would be, "This is our meeting, not yours!" We, as residents, have the right to say what we have on our minds and to be given some respect. As we express our views, we don't need to be talked down to. To me higher education is wasted if you have no common sense! Taxes, whether they are federal, state, county, or property -- all come out of our pockets!

If elected, I will work for tax relief and work toward giving control of our schools back to the people!

Respectfully submitted,
Donald Nowak

To Kewaskum School District Residents:

I would like to take issue with some of the letters I have read in the past few months and, I hope, clear up some misconceptions.

The issue is the position of curriculum coordinator. That story starts back in 1979 when the superintendent asked the consortium in Madison to send two curriculum specialists to Kewaskum to help us set up an ongoing system of self-study. This system would get our curriculum down in black and white, plus keep our curriculum current and up to standards.

A committee was appointed composed of teachers, community members and the superintendent - nine members. Our job was to set up a self-study policy a la North Central for K-12. We were dubbed the Evaluation Policy Committee - EPC. Following is the process

we found workable:

May - appoint a self-study committee for each of four disciplines, such as - math, special ed, health, and social studies. Each committee, made up of teachers, community members and students, will send out surveys and observe their discipline to find out what is wrong, what is right, and what improvements are needed.

January - self-study committee reports back to EPC with its recommendations.

February - EPC passes on the report with its own recommendations added, to administrative council.

April - The superintendent presents recommendations to the school board.

May - begin again with four new disciplines.

All of this work was done on a volunteer basis after school and in the evening without remuneration. Teachers and community members who care about the students and the quality of the schools were willing to give of their time for this project. Each year over 40 people were involved to get results as follows:

Our curriculum follows a scope and sequence, in other words when Johnny at Wayne, Mary at Farmington, Joe at Kewaskum and Judy at Beechwood learn math in 2nd grade, they are all taught the same concepts. The same in 3rd, 4th and 5th grade, so that when they enter middle school they are all equally prepared for that level of math. When they go on to high school, middle school should have prepared them for algebra, or business math or courses in shop.

Our curriculum should answer the needs of our community. What percentage of our students go on to college? What percentage to trade schools? What percentage enter the work force immediately? The answers should to a degree, dictate our curriculum offerings.

Our curriculum should be written so that our teachers use it as a constructive guideline and don't feel restricted by it. Plus, any new teacher entering our system should find it easy and helpful to use.

Now that I have lulled you to sleep with the story of the EPC, I want to tell you the point of this story. The writing of curriculum is a massive task! To ask our teachers, community members, or the superintendent to undertake this task is asking a great deal. The EPC had only begun to make headway in the 6 years of our existence. For the last two years one of our recommendations to the school board has been to hire a curriculum coordinator, which they wisely did. Ms. Backhaus can bring to the job first and foremost her expertise, and then her undivided attention. While the EPC and its committees were squeezing the job in between all their other duties, our coordinator will do it when it should be done during school hours - observing actual classes, meeting with teachers on their own ground, and watching students at work. If she does her job as well as I think she will, she will give us a curriculum as mentioned above in two or three years and do herself out of a job.

I hope this letter has cleared up some of the errors about Ms. Backhaus' position. I think her salary is cheap recompense to keep the curriculum in Kewaskum on a quality level.

To the Editor:

During the past few weeks, I have expressed grave concerns about some of the recent decisions made by the Kewaskum School Board; however, we don't want to lose sight of the fact that the Kewaskum School District has many good things going for it.

Our district has many fine and dedicated teachers that have benefitted our children in many ways, and don't forget we have our children. For example, we should be proud that in just a matter of the past few weeks, we have sent members of the ski and wrestling teams to state competition. Numerous students are going on to state from the district solo ensemble contest. Future Business Leaders are participating in regional and state competition. Thirty-one forensic team members are going on to district competition.

We as a district and the parents in particular have a right to be proud of these young adults, our future leaders. Congratulations to these young adults and their parents and may you have continued success!

Agri-Business Council Is Formed in Washington County

Washington County has formed an agri-business council. This operation will function to coordinate and support a number of agricultural events, programs, and activities. Agri-business councils have been started in many counties to provide a forum for communication among the area's agri-business entities, assist in cooperative promotion of our area's agri-business from the field to the table, and provide local awareness among the various agri-businesses of each one's role in the economy of the county.

An agri-business council can be involved in many areas such as education, legislation, promotion of agricultural products and including sponsoring such activities as June Dairy Month, Farm City Week, and other types of promotional events. An organization can take an active role in providing education and information to citizens, legislators, and others who need to be aware of the problems and concerns facing agriculture.

Membership in the Washington County Agri-Business Council is open to any individual with an interest in agriculture. This includes farmers, individuals involved in various agricultural businesses, agriculture professionals and others. The organization has established membership dues of $10.00 per year.

After several months of Indian Summer and a practically snowless winter, a vicious blizzard swept into this area and all of southern Wisconsin with a vengeance Wednesday, creating widespread havoc as it closed roads, schools and factories. The storm dumped from 6 to 10 inches of snow in this village. The snow was accompanied by 25 to 30 mile an hour winds with gusts up to 45 miles, piling the snow into drifts of three to four feet.

In one of the biggest basketball attractions ever staged here, outstanding stars of the Green Bay Packers football team, champions of the Western Division of the National Professional Football League the past season, will come to Kewaskum to play an exhibition game with the Kewaskum Chevrolets of the Land o' Lakes league on March 18, in the spacious high school gymnasium. Members of the Packer squad include such famous former college and professional grid stars as Tom Bettis, linebacker; Leu Carpenter, halfback; Gary Knafelc, end; Bob Skoronski, guard; Bart Starr, quarterback; Fred Thurston, guard; Dale Hackbart, defensive back; Ray Nitschke, linebacker; and Babe Parilli, quarterback. The team is coached by Norb Hecker.

A frame garage owned by John Kreilkamp of Allenton, who operates a trucking business between that village and Milwaukee, was burned to the ground last Sunday afternoon, in a fire caused by an overheated stove. One of Kreilkamp's trucks and his car were destroyed, while another truck, newly purchased, was damaged. A small tool shed next to the garage also burned down, with the loss of a few chickens which were being kept there. The total loss was estimated at $6,000, none of which was covered by insurance.

The following pupils in the intermediate room of the Kewaskum school ranked high in the good behavior contest: Lucille Backhaus, Rachael Brauchle, Marian Ramthun, Lloyd Etta, Beatrice Vorpahl, Robert Luebke, Homer Schaub, Shirley Backus, Lois Koch, Lorena Vorpahl, Lavern Ramthun, Lillian Werner and Delores Ramthun.

Ray Geib, who had charge of a grocery store and tavern in the Herriges building at St. Michaels the past several years has moved his family and household goods to West Bend where they will make their future home. The interior of the building is now being redecorated and will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Math Herriges Sr. of West Bend, who will conduct a store and tavern.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Anton Herriges, St. Michaels, on March 10.

It now looks as if the street car line through this village is assured, as the Milwaukee Northern is advertising for the sale of $500,000 gold bonds at five per cent interest. The reason for the sale of the bonds is because the company contemplates double tracking its line in the future from Milwaukee to Cedarburg, and also to extend its line from Cedarburg to Fond du Lac, through West Bend, Barton, Kewaskum, Campbellsport and Eden.

Joseph Eberle, proprietor of the Farmers' Hotel in this village, will, as soon as the weather permits, make extensive improvements on his building. The alterations to be made are, the building to be raised so that it will be even with the sidewalk, a new iron front with plate glass windows, a flat roof and a complete change of the interior.

Carp were quite plentiful the forepart of the week. Scores of people could be seen every day just below the dam spearing and catching the finny tribe with dip-nets. The reason for the quantity of carp is due to the breaking of the dam and the fish seeking shelter under the ice. It is estimated that several tons of said fish were captured.

August Schnurr commenced sawing logs in the log yard last Monday.

The brush dam on the local mill pond is now completed. Backhaus and Marx, proprietors of the local mill, are now grinding feed again.

Last Thursday, A. G. Koch negotiated a transaction whereby he sold his five acre piece of land, known as the ball park, to Otto Habeck.

The First Baptist Church of Campbellsport will be showing the film "A House Divided" on Saturday, March 15, at 8 p.m. We invite you to come and share in this outreach and fellowship program.

"A House Divided" is a touching film which underlines the need for all Christians to put God first in their lives. It is a film for discussion which poignantly illustrates how the complexities of life can blind us to our own weaknesses — a film for challenge to commitment.

The film is 58 minutes long and will be followed by refreshments and fellowship. We urge you to come and share this film that touches us all and encourages our walk with God.

A nursery will be provided for the young children. A free will offering will be taken.

Harju, Hass Are National Award Winners in English

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Peter Harju and Scott Hass have been named United States National Award winners in English.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American high school students.

Peter Harju and Scott Hass attend Kewaskum Middle School and were nominated for this National Award by Miss Margaret Smith, an English teacher at the school.

Peter and Scott's biography will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

Peter is the son of Barbara Harju, Kewaskum. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kohlhagen of Sheboygan Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Veikko Harju of Wild Rose.

Winners at Home Show Announced

Persons attending the 1986 West Bend Home and Garden Show found themselves eligible for a great number of prizes. In most cases, the requirement was merely to fill out a slip of paper asking for name, address and phone number, although one exhibitor required a guess at the number of tablets in a glass container. (The winner came within two of the correct number!)

The winners include the following from Kewaskum: grand prize, VCR or $500 - Richard Vorderbruggen; $20 gift certificate - Sandy Miller; $50 value homecleaning service - Joan Repinski; $10 drycleaning - Josephine Roehrborn; Dillon Royale Hotel Fantasy Suite - Josephine Roehrborn.

Teepees and wigwams are not the same thing. A teepee is a conical tent of the North American Indians, while a wigwam is a hut or dome-shaped wooden house.

County Humane Society to Hold Rabies Clinic

The Washington County Humane Society, 3650 Hwy. 60, Slinger, will hold a rabies clinic for dogs and cats on March 16 from 1 to 3 p.m. No appointment is necessary. The fee is $5 per vaccine.

Since entering into the Washington County Pound contract late in 1985, it has come to the attention of the County Humane Society that holding the yearly rabies clinic before the April 1 deadline to license dogs would be more beneficial to dog owners and dog licensing officials.

State law requires proof of a current rabies vaccine before the animal dog license can be issued. Dogs receiving their first rabies vaccination will need a booster shot the following year. The booster is then current for one or three years, depending on the type of vaccine used.

Other Washington County Pound services include, upon notification from the sheriff's department, the pick up of stray dogs. All stray dog calls should be directed to the Washington County Sheriff's Department or Police Department of your area. Even when the animal is not confined, it usually can be secured.

Stray dog calls have included minor to severe injury from vehicles, traps, starvation and neglect, being shot, choked and even doused with gasoline. Locating the owner, if the dog has tags, is done by checking county and town licensing records. Untagged strays are checked through the lost dog list or may be put in lost and found ads.

All dogs claimed by the owner must have a current rabies vaccination and dog license before the pound can release it. Owners can apply for a dog license from the licensing official in their jurisdiction and obtain a prepaid receipt for rabies vaccination from a veterinarian before going to claim their dog. All dogs over 5 months of age require an annual license.

Unwanted dogs from any source are accepted without charge. This is in accordance with the state law on pound procedures. A donation, if affordable, would be appreciated but is not required.

Unclaimed, impounded strays are held for seven days by law. After the seven day period, every attempt to adopt the dogs out to new owners is made. Rabies and license requirements within 30 days of acquiring ownership or when the animal becomes of age is adhered to according to law by the Washington County Humane Society and county pound.

All unclaimed and unwanted dogs that are not placed for adoption are reluctantly put to sleep, in a humane manner. This procedure is also used on hopelessly injured and starved animals unable to respond to care and treatment. This must be done to keep the population within operating limits. The key to minimize this problem is owner awareness of licensing, dogs at large, and proper care. The animal should not have to bare the burden of injury, starvation and death because of uneducated or irresponsible owners.

Please take advantage of the rabies clinic being held on March 16, and follow through by licensing your dog and providing proper care and shelter.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Comparing the real estate transfers of February, 1985 to February, 1986.

In February, 1985 the Washington County Register of Deeds recorded 69 transfers with a fee. A total of $9,338.10 was collected in transfer fees. This amount reflects $3,229,900.00 in real estate transferred.

In February, 1986 the Washington County Register of Deeds recorded 75 transfers with a fee. A total of $12,884.90 was collected in transfer fees. This amount reflects $4,323,300.00 in real estate transferred.

Exceptionally large transfers include the following:

- 2/3/86 - Apartment Complex - City of Hartford...$570,000.00.
- 2/13/86 - Single Family Dwelling - Town of Richfield ... $143,000.00.

McCallum Makes Decision to Seek Lieutenant Governor's Nomination

FOND DU LAC---Republican State Senator Scott McCallum said he has made a definite decision to seek the GOP Lieutenant Governor's nomination and announced the formation of a blue-ribbon finance committee.

McCallum, who plans to make a formal announcement of his candidacy in mid-March, said the ability to attract some of the most influential Republican leaders in the state provided "additional incentive to seek the nomination."

He said Carl Weigell of Milwaukee, president of the Motor Casting Co. and Gerard Veneman of Port Edwards, retired president of Nekoosa Papers, would serve as his campaign chairmen. In addition, McCallum said his Finance Committee will be headed by Quinn Martin, a partner in the Quarles and Brady law firm in Milwaukee and Willard Walker, president of Walker Forge in Racine.

McCallum said when he first considered becoming a candidate "one of the main considerations was whether we could put together a solid viable campaign effort."

The veteran state senator said he has had a positive response to his candidacy while attending Lincoln Day dinners throughout the state. In addition, he noted he has received support from GOP workers across Wisconsin who are willing to help in the organizational phase of the campaign.

"We are, I believe, putting together a strong coalition effort made up of Republicans from every element and sector of the Republican Party," said McCallum, who added that additional appointments to his finance committee will be forthcoming in the next few weeks.

McCallum said, however, he believes the Republican leaders who have already committed to the campaign will "assure that we conduct a vigorous and successful effort. The finance co-chairs have guaranteed our maximum $201,000 funding allowed under state law."

"It was my intent from the start to assure we would not only have a solid primary campaign, but that we could attract the needed support and resources to build toward the election of the Republican ticket in November," McCallum said, "Although it is still early in the campaign cycle, we believe we have put together the nucleus for a winning campaign."

In addition to Martin and Walker, other members of the McCallum Finance Committee from this area are: Bernard C. Ziegler, Ret. Chrm., B. C. Ziegler & Company; John R. Dedrick, Pres., West Bend Mutual Ins. and Russ Darrow, Pres., Russ Darrow Auto.

Tax Tips...

FILING TIPS THAT SPEED PROCESSING

[Fourth in a series]

Many simple errors that may cause weeks of delay in the processing of federal tax returns can be avoided if taxpayers follow some simple guidelines from the Internal Revenue Service.

The peel-off label containing the taxpayer's name, address, and social security number is designed to speed processing. It is important that taxpayers verify the accuracy of their mailing labels. If corrections are necessary, taxpayers should make them directly on the label.

Math errors, using the incorrect tax table or schedule, wrong line entries, failure to attach all necessary schedules and failure to sign the return are the most frequent problem areas which cause delays in refunds. Taxpayers should carefully read the instruction and review their returns before sending them to the IRS.

Starting early can be beneficial. Not only would taxpayers receive their refund earlier, but they would also have the time to double-check the returns before filing. Returns filed late in the filing season are often completed hastily and under pressure, dramatically increasing the chance of errors.

2,000 Attend Area Sports Show

Friday, March 14, 1986, Kewaskum Statesman, Page 19

KEWASKUM TAXIDERMIST Allen Broecker and part of his display at the Mini-Sports Show held at the Amerahn.

By Chuck Vogt

Approximately 2,000 people attended the second annual fishing seminar and mini-sports show Saturday, March 8th, at the Amerahn on Hwy. 28 outside of Kewaskum. The seminar and show was sponsored by Wayne Slaton, owner of Wayne's Sport Shop at 1903 Main St., West Bend.

The show started at 11:00 a.m. and by 12:00 every parking space in the Amerahn lots was filled. Due to the overwhelming response, Slaton is considering making his show a two day event in 1987.

The highlight of the show was a series of lectures on fishing by speakers Mike and Jim Slavinski, and Lance Joaquin. The Slavinskis spoke on Lake Michigan fishing as well as inland lake fishing for walleye and bass. Joaquin spoke on fishing with scents.

The following businesses and organizations had booths at the show and did their best to make this day one well spent on enjoying the outdoors:

Al's Taxidermy, Kewaskum
Cedar Lake Sales, West Bend

Citizen Advocacy - Food Booth
Cooper Moutin Arts, Campbellsport - Jewelry

Entries Coming In for Lift-O-Thon

By Chuck Vogt

The March 19th lift-o-thon is showing early signs of being a success. The count of entries last week showed a total of 30 boys and 9 stout-hearted girls who have come forward and said, "we're not afraid to pump iron with the best of 'em!"

That's no surprise considering that the girls have their names on more of the trophies in the south hall of the school than the boys do. This writer would not be one bit surprised if the Kewaskum girls banded together and came forth in an all-out effort to try to raise more money in the event than the boys are able to. Girls give it some thought. Why not challenge your male counterparts and show them just what kind of stuff your made of.

Lift-o-thon organizers would also appreciate as much community support as can be mustered up in the form of private and corporate sponsors for the young lifters. A new blocking sled is just one of the many items that the lift-o-thon committee is looking at, and the cost of one sled is approximately $2,000.00.

Should any corporation, small business or fraternal organization be interested in providing sponsor money for the event please contact Fran Charland at the high school.

Indians Defeat Hartford, Lose Out To Waupun in Regional Finals Here Wrestling Awards Banquet Held at KHS; Staehler MVP

By Chuck Voge

After posting a one point win over the Hartford Orioles here Friday night, March 7, in the first round of regional play, the Kewaskum Indians boys basketball team lost out on their chance to advance to sectional play, with a hard fought 79-73 loss to the Waupun Warriors at the field house on Saturday, March 8, in the final round of the 1986 W.I.A.A. regional tournament.

In the first round opening win over Hartford the Orioles weren't much of a threat for the first half of the game. In the third period, however, they pulled their offense together and played to a 46-46 tie to end the third period before going on to lose to the Indians by a final score of 62-61.

High scorers for the Indians were Bob Yahr with 26 points and Ron Theusch with 13. For the Orioles, Al Schmitz had 18 and Tom Schaefer 12.

Very early in the first period the Indians' hopes of taking home a regional win were dealt a severe blow when Kewaskum's leading scorer for the season, Todd Steger, left the game with an ankle injury that sidelined him for the rest of the game, as well as Saturday's championship match up with the Warriors.

Kewaskum led at the half by five points, 32-27.

Kewaskum — Ramthun
1-0-2, Schlosser 1-0-2, Rohlinger 3-1-7, Menzel 2-0-4, Theusch 3-7-13, Yahr 10-6-26, Steger 0-0-0, Coulter 4-0-8, Fleury 0-0-0.

Hartford — Toepfer 0-0-0, Thielmann 0-0-0, Dobson 1-2-4, Schaefer 2-8-12, Klink 1-3-5, A. Schmitz 8-2-18, Leair 4-2-10, Canfield 1-0-2, Poole 3-4-10.

Scoring by quarters
Kewaskum 11 21 14 16-62
Hartford 9 18 19 15-61

In the championship game with Waupun, Rohlinger and Ramthun started at guard for the Indians and Coulter and Yahr at forward with Ron Theusch at the center spot once again.

High scorers for Kewaskum were Yahr and Coulter with 20 apiece and Rohlinger with 16. For Waupun Dean Stelsel had 18 points and Brian Fulton 17.

Some cold Indian shooting helped the Warriors to a commanding first period 21-11 lead. The Indians did everything right when it came to forcing turnovers and getting the ball inside but their shots just wouldn't drop for them. Coulter was the Indians' big scorer in the period, picking up 2 on a lay up and 4 more as he converted on all of his chances at the free throw line.

In the second period Waupun's Stelsel scored on one bomb after another from the outside and with 1:14 left in the period, the Indians were down by 20. High scorer in the period for Kewaskum was Theusch. Ron hit on two lay ups, one of them coming on an offensive rebound and also scored once more from the free throw line. Ramthun hit on a short jumper to end the half at 43-29, Warriors.

The Indians came out of the locker room looking like a different team. In spite of being down by 14 they were not about to give this one up and started whittling away at the big Warrior lead. High scorer in the period was Yahr. Bob scored 8 with all of them coming from the floor. Sophomore Joel Fleury, who was called up from the junior varsity for regional play, scored his first points of the tournament picking up a field goal and the period ended at 60-49, Waupun.

In the fourth and final period the Indians came on strong as they put up shot after shot and finally had them drop. With 0:57 left in the game the Indians narrowed it down to just a three point margin at 74-71, Waupun, however, they failed to cash in on several opportunities that came their way on Warrior turnovers and with only 0:17 seconds left on the clock Waupun's Corey Krohn went to the free throw line for a pair to end it at 79-73, Warriors.

The Warriors incidentally advanced to the championship game with Kewaskum by beating Beaver Dam in their first round game at Waupun on Friday by a score of 67-60.

The Warriors were without the necessary style on offense that will be required to take them much further in post-season play in the sectional at Oshkosh this weekend and were carried into the victory over Kewaskum strictly on the outside shooting of Dean Stelsel.

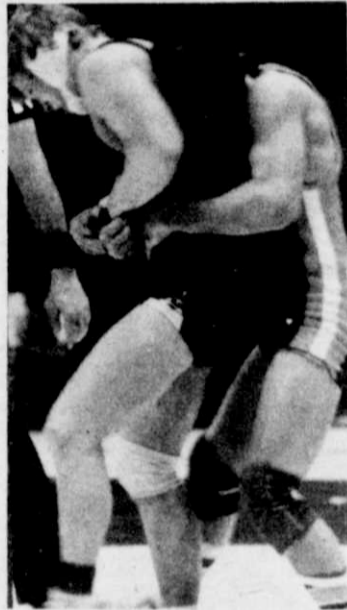

One Kewaskum school official summed it up best by saying after the game that, "I don't think the best team won here tonight."

Kewaskum — Ramthun
1-1-3, Schlosser 0-0-0, Rohlinger 7-2-16, Menzel 0-0-0, Fleury 2-0-4, Theusch 4-2-10, Yahr 9-2-20, Coulter 7-6-20.

Waupun — DeBoer 3-9-15, Bruines 0-0-0, VandeZande 5-2-12, White 0-0-0, Krohn 5-4-14, Tempas 0-0-0, Omdahl 1-0-2, Stelsel 7-4-18, Fulton 5-7-17, Bresser 0-1-1.

The annual Kewaskum High School wrestling awards banquet was held last Tuesday with senior Rick Staehler taking highest honors.

Staehler was picked by his teammates as the squad's MVP and co-captain. He was Kewaskum's only representative in the recent WIAA State Tournament. He also was the winner of the takedown competition, recording 52 in the 33 matches he had, and wound up the season with a 24-9 record. Rick also received the Roman Muckerheide Memorial Award, which is presented to the wrestler who shows the most dedication. Muckerheide lost his life as the result of a hunting accident two years ago and would have been a senior this year.

The MVP award was the second for Staehler during this school year. He was also named the Indians' most valuable athlete on the football team last fall.

Coach John Nell also presented three other special awards. Bobby Castro, a freshman (17-11), won the medal for the most pins, nine. Senior Ken Miller (16-8-1), won an award as the winner of the Waupun Invitational and third place finisher in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference meet at 145 pounds. He was the other co-captain along with Staehler. Junior Rick Straub was picked as the Most Improved Wrestler going from a 7-12 season last year to 13-8-1. This included a runnerup finish at 126 pounds in the conference meet.

Seven other varsity starters awarded letters included: Seniors Jerry Vetter (13-9), Wade Jepsen (15-7), Brian Spartz (4-10) and Jeff Diels (5-10); freshmen Chis Charland (9-5-1), Dennis Aupperle (5-10) and Shane Megonigle (3-8).

Other lettermen included: Kyle Vogt, with a perfect 9-0 record in JV competition; Steve Kapp, who replaced Charland when he was injured, and Daryl Landvatter, who wrestled a couple of varsity matches and was 16-0 in JV competition. Landvatter was named MVP of the JV team and winning four different tournaments. Kapp was Most Improved and Vogt took the JV Award.

Other JVs coached by Kevin Chambers, included: Chad Schmidt, Tim Ruppert, Robbie Brooks, Ken Ruppert and Robbie Hron. The JVs won 63 matches while losing 49.

Coach Nell said the future looks bright because of four freshmen on the varsity team and two undefeated JVs coming up, among other returnees.
