Groundwork in Motion For Fire-Police Commission

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Although it would not be required to set up a Fire and Police Commission until the village's population reached 5,500, the Kewaskum Village Board, Monday night, approved a recommendation to begin preliminary work for the creation of the joint commission.

At its March 18th meeting, the Police Commission unanimously voted to accept the Fire Department under its jurisdiction. The main duties of the commission would be basically the same for both the Fire and Police Departments, namely recruitment and discipline.

The Fire Department, as with the Police Department, would remain under the direction and control of its chief. The commission would not have any control over wages or budgeting procedures.

Fire Chief Donald Ehnert said he had no problem with the plan but he did state, "I hope these people (the commission) know what they're getting into, it's a whole different ballgame than the Police Department. With the Police Department you're talking ten paid men and a couple pieces of equipment, but with the Fire Department, you're talking 50 volunteers, eight pieces of equipment with the most expensive costing $150,000," said Ehnert.

Trustee Mary Krueger told Ehnert she thought the commission understood the situation. "I would think the Fire Department would be glad to have someplace to go if a problem did come up beside trying to handle it within the department."

The commission, Fire Department Committee and Protection and Public Safety Committee will meet to discuss the plan.

of Cedarburg to furnish a new diesel lawn tractor for the Public Works Department. The price for the new unit, including a 60-inch mower, was $5,993.00 including trade-in.

The board approved advertising for bids on the repair and repainting of the village's water tower #1. The cost of the work is estimated to run between $15,000 and $20,000.

The trustees also approved the purchase of fireworks for 1986, at a cost of $1,582, which will include a special Statue of Liberty display.

Administrator Dan Schmidt informed the board that the village has received an increase in the fee it is charged by its private contractor for refuse disposal. The cost to the village was raised from $6.50 to $7.00 per yard. In accordance with the village's March 7, 1983, minutes, this increase will be passed on to those affected by the village's refuse collection.

The new village fees are, $7.00 per week for each one-yard mobile container, $10.50 per week for each 1.5 yard mobile container, $14.00 per week for each two-yard mobile container, and $10.50 per month for garbage cans or bags.

The board adopted Resolution 86-4, which accepts the Petition for Annexation of a 10.1 acre parcel of land for Regal Ware, Incorporated. The petition will now be turned over to the Plan Commission for review and recommendations on temporary or permanent zoning classifications.

The board approved the purchase of two replacement garage doors for the village garage at a cost of $3,290 for the two units.

Schmidt informed the board that the latest update on the Highway 28 resurfacing indicates the whole project may not be completed in 1987 as originally anticipated. He said that work within the village itself is expected to be completed during 1987, however, there is a chance that work on Highway 28, from the east village limits to Highway 144, may not be completed until 1988.

Schmidt also informed the board that the village had won the lawsuit between itself and Ralph and Henriette Scott which had gone to Federal Court.

The village has scheduled an open book on assessments for April 14th, and a Board of Review for May 12th.

The board then adjourned to closed session.

16th BIRTHDAY TRIBUTE to BRENDA OELHAFEN April 10, 1986

She loved to live, the life she had. She loved to give, as no one can. Why then we ask, was her life given, To break our hearts, as just she can?

Just yesterday, we saw her here. Her cheerful smile, her auburn hair.

She spoke of loves, she'll never have. For God has taken her from here.

Our lives were changed, her love we'll store. A life we knew, we'll know no more.

For she has left the world today, To walk with God, from this day forth.

We love you and miss you. John & Cindy Shaske

Local AMPI Women Served Dairy Snacks at School Sporting Events

M'mm Good!

A recently sponsored dairy promotion has been completed by women of the local District 7-C AMPI (Associated Milk Producers) and Borden's of Milwaukee.

With youth and health on their minds, AMPI members, Karen Gudex, Kathy Schreffler, Janet Panzer and Carol Oelhafen began a milk and cheese snack give-away promotion, to all area athletes, following various sporting events.

Athletes, parents, cheerleaders, coaches, bus drivers, statisticians and teachers were invited to enjoy ample supplies of nutritious dairy snacks, as a change-of-pace from junk foods.

The response to the refreshing, nutritional pick-er-uppers was overwhelming. Visiting teams and parents were so impressed, that many hoped a similar program could be started in their schools. It also was an opportunity for all athletes to get acquainted and build good will.

Sporting events included girls and boys basketball, gymnastics, wrestling and track at the high school level. The Kewaskum Booster Club became involved in several of these events and provided nutritional apples for munching.

Promotions were also held for Kewaskum Middle School girls and boys basketball, Holy Trinity girls and boys basketball and St. Lucas girls and boys basketball.

The group also offered hot grilled cheese sandwiches prior to KES away games at Two Rivers, as a hot carry-over for the long trip.

Hopefully the nutritional values of dairy products will carry on in our athlete's minds, and they will continue to support Wisconsin's dairy products.

Women of District 7-C wish to thank everyone involved in making this such a tremendous success, and we hope you will all continue to support our efforts at our Dairy Card Party on April 10 at Amerahn, our On the Farm Breakfast on Dairy Day, our cream puff booth at Crazy Day and our Dairy Booth at the Washington County Fair. See you there!

Jim Oelhafen, seated, and Jill Rimmel discuss the nutritional value of milk. [It makes mustaches curly!]

Area Members Attend Texas AMPI Meeting

FT. WORTH, TEXAS... An effective long term dairy policy framework is over-due according to leaders of the nation's largest dairy farmer cooperative holding their 17th Annual Meeting, April 2-5. Ivin Elkin, President of Associated Milk Producers, Inc., emphasized the industry dilemma in remarks to the 2,000 dairy cooperative delegates and elected officials gathered here.

Attending the AMPI Annual Meeting in Fort Worth, TX, April 2-5, from this area were: James Esselman, West Bend; Barbara Laux, Adell; Gordon and Kathy Michaels, West Bend; Elmer Schulz, Rubicon; and Martin Haack, Alvin Panzer, Dan Rodenkirch and Daniel Stoffel of Kewaskum.

"The Administration's efforts to apply what they call a 'market orientation' policy has given the term a bad name," declared Elkin, a dairy farmer from Amery, Wisconsin. "This has not been a true market orientation, but a produce or perish philosophy, U.S. farmers are told. Produce as much as you can, as long as you can, and if you are among the fortunate, when the shakeout is complete — you will be a survivor."

Elkin noted the fallacy of price cuts reducing production has been painfully proved not only in dairy, but also in other commodities. Despite two 50-cent/hundredweight price reductions in 1985, dairy farmers were forced to produce at record levels in an effort to maintain cash-flow to preserve their farms.

Since the formation of AMPI in 1969, members have repeatedly emphasized the need for an effective supply-management response to milk surpluses. The 15-month Milk Diversion Program demonstrated that milk producers respond to positive incentives to reduce production.

"The dairy men and women of this country should not be squeezed any further," continued Elkin. "A more realistic and more efficient market orientation is supply-management. It provides producers with options or tools that will assist the individual operator in tailoring production to the real needs of the market.

"The AMPI Corporate Board of Directors has re-dedicated itself to securing implementation of a dairy supply-management plan at the earliest possible time," concluded Elkin.

Customers Behind In Bills Urged to Contact Utilities

Natural gas and electric utility customers who are behind in paying their bills should make payment arrangements before the conditional winter ban on service disconnections ends Tuesday, April 15.

The state Public Service Commission's cold weather disconnection rules, in effect since last November, prohibit utilities from disconnecting customers when human health could be endangered. However, the rules do not prohibit all disconnections.

To avoid disconnection, customers who are behind in paying their bills should contact the utility immediately to arrange a payment agreement such as an installment plan.

Utilities are required to work with customers to design deferred payment agreements. Under such an agreement, service may not be turned off if a customer makes a reasonable down payment and agrees to pay the arrears in reasonable monthly installments as well as current bills.

In addition to deferred payment agreements, utilities offer other programs to help customers manage their energy bills.

*Budget billing plans allow customers to pay the same amount every month. Past gas and/or electric bills plus expected rate increases are averaged over a 12-month period to arrive at the monthly payment figure.

*Early Identification Programs try to help customers before they are seriously behind in paying their utility bills. Working with other community organizations, utilities identify customers with energy hardships or related financial problems. These customers are then referred to other agencies for appropriate assistance.

*Utility Weatherization Assistance Programs provide funds for weatherization to low-income households. Weatherization makes homes more energy efficient through insulation, furnace modifications and other conservation measures, thereby reducing utility bills.

Consumers who are not satisfied with the utility's solution to their payment problem or other complaint can contact the Public Service Commission (PSC) for help. Write: PSC, Consumer Services Bureau, P.O. Box 7854, Madison, Wisconsin 53707 or call: (608) 266-2001.

The PSC regulates Wisconsin's electric, natural gas, telephone, water and combined water and sewer utilities to ensure they provide customers with adequate services at reasonable rates.

West Bend Savings Reduces Rates on Existing Loans

West Bend Savings' President, Richard A. Larson, announced the association's plans to substantially reduce interest rates on many existing residential owner-occupied mortgage loans, and to introduce special loan modification and refinance programs to current owner-occupant mortgage loan customers.

Downward adjustments are not a new phenomenon for the local lender. "We've adjusted rates downward on existing mortgages in the past, but never quite this extensively," said Larson, "it is our desire to help our customers bring their loans more in line with rates available today."

Steep declines in residential mortgage rates in recent months prompted the association's Board of Directors to substantially decrease the rates on many older loans. According to Larson, normal rate reductions on loans made prior to 1981 could not keep pace with the rapidly dropping market. "Many of our pre-1981 loan customers will soon be receiving notices outlining their rate reduction options which will be in effect between May 1st and July 1st," Larson said.

Mortgage loans made prior to 1981 contained an "escalator clause" that permitted gradual increases up to 11.9%. In addition to the scheduled rate reduction, this group is being offered a special modification plan that would allow the rate to reduce even more rapidly to as low as 10% (this reduction would normally take 1-2 years on a normal schedule). There will be no cost for the modification and the loans would be protected by a slightly higher interest cap.

Loans made after 1981 were primarily adjustable rate mortgages which is common for Wisconsin savings and loans. These loans have been decreasing regularly and have not needed special modifications or significant reductions ahead of their normal schedule to stay current with the fast rate decline.

"We are also offering refinance discounts to existing owner-occupied mortgage customers who would like to consider one of our many other mortgage plans which could result in added savings," Larson said. Refinancing requires additional closing costs and it is the discount on these costs that may make refinancing for some very feasible.

In Larson's opinion, even though the interest rate future cannot be forecast with any definite degree of accuracy, it is highly unlikely interest rates would significantly increase for some period of time. "The high rates of 1982 and 1983 were an aberration which has seldom occurred before in the history of this country, and may never occur again," Larson said.

"The rapid change in interest rates has had a definite impact on the housing market," Larson continued, "real estate sales are now becoming extremely vigorous and more people are entering the housing market today than at any time in the past five years." Larson indicated that West Bend Savings' mortgage volume has already far exceeded the year-to-date average of the past number of years and expects 1986 to be very strong.

Valley Bancorporation Receives Regulatory Approval to Acquire Banks

It was announced Friday by Valley's Chairman, Gus A. Zuehlke, that approval has been received from the Federal Reserve Board for the affiliation of First National Bank & Trust Co. of Beaver Dam, Bank of Spring Green, The Commercial Bank (Chilton), Peshtigo State Bank and First National Bank of Minocqua and Woodruff with Valley. Shareholders of the banks had previously voted overwhelmingly to approve the mergers.

Upon consummation, the shareholders of the banks will receive common stock of Valley Bancorporation. In addition, approximately 20% of the shares of First National Bank of Minocqua and Woodruff will be exchanged for cash.

Zuehlke stated, "We at Valley are looking forward to the additions of these banks. As is Valley's management philosophy, each bank will continue to be managed by its existing Board of Directors and Officers who are personally acquainted with the people and business in each respective trade area."

With the addition of these five banks, Valley Bancorporation, Wisconsin's fourth largest bank holding company, will have assets in excess of $2 billion and deliver financial services through 75 service locations.

Worried about having to choose a long-distance company?

There's lots of confusion these days over how, when, and why you must choose a long-distance company to handle your "one-plus" calls.

(Actually, many people have already chosen the long-distance company they want to use. And, of course, you may sign-up with companies serving your area anytime you wish.)

The confusion is coming from all the ads telling you that if you don't choose, someone else will do it for you. They're talking about the new service called "equal access." With equal access, you must choose the company you want to handle your direct dialed calls.

But don't panic. You don't have to do anything until you hear from us. Since we are the ones to make equal access available in your area, you can bet that nothing will happen until we've notified you.

(Some areas may never see equal access. That's because long-distance companies may choose not to offer the service in all locations.)

If your town is one of the ones to get the new service, we will send you all the information you need to make a decision...

We'll send you a package explaining the how, when, and why of equal access. It will tell you exactly what you must do. And when you must do it. In fact, it will even include a ballot to make it easier for you to notify us of your choice.

But, until then, you don't have to do a thing. So sit back, relax. Your long distance service will be the same tomorrow as it is today.

On March 22, the Kewaskum Indian Booster Club held its 4th Annual Booster Basketball Classic with funds going to support extra-curricular activities. It was a fun evening for all. The basketball players were from Beechwood, Kohlsville, Fillmore, Boltonville and Kewaskum Fire Departments, plus Kohlsville/Wayne Jaycees, Kewaskum Alumni Ladies, and Kewaskum Teachers. The fans were treated to lively games and entertainment.

We thank the Indian Princess Twirlers and the Rope Jumpers for their contribution. We thank all the officials who donated their time, plus our announcer, scorekeeper and timekeeper, and our fine Kewaskum Band who started the night on a peppy note. A special thanks to Tom Larsen, our organizer.

Fifty door prizes were donated by area businesses and groups. We sincerely thank them for their support.

The Booster Classic is our big fund-raiser for the year and without the support of all of the above, many extra-curricular activities would be without essential equipment.

Thank you all for coming!

Reconstruction Work to Start on Cedar Creek Bridges

Road construction is expected to start the week of April 14th, 1986 on the reconstruction of the bridge over Cedar Creek on CTH "P" (old US 45) south of Sherman Road. The work will consist of removing the old bridge and building a new twin 10-foot span box culvert.

The work will be performed under a contract let to Pfeifer

Brothers Construction Co., Inc. at an estimated cost of $131,684.90. Financing will be shared on approximately an 80 percentage by the federal government and 20 percent by state government respectively, from funds provided primarily by gas taxes.

CTH "P" will be closed to through traffic during construction operations, with access only to local property owners. It is anticipated that the road will be closed during the week of April 14th, 1986 and will be reopened in the beginning of June. Traffic is urged to use caution in the construction zone.

A suitable detour will be provided by using the new West Bend Freeway.

Upon the completion of the bridge south of Sherman Road, the road at this location will be reopened to traffic. Another bridge over Cedar Creek, south of STH 60, will then be removed and replaced with a new twin 10-foot span box culvert. This work under the same contract will be completed in July.

Every possible effort will be made to provide continuous and safe ingress and egress to all business and residential properties during this reconstruction, but pedestrians and motorists are urged to use caution in the construction zone.

TRAFFIC RESTRICTED OZAUKEE COUNTY I.H. 43 - Southbound S.T.H. 32, 57 Interchange to Milwaukee County Line

Traffic will be restricted to one lane southbound for approximately two (2) weeks beginning April 7, 1986, for the sealing of joints, weather permitting.

Lane restrictions will not begin until after 9:00 A.M. each day, but will continue into the evening hours.

Drivers are urged to use caution in the area.

To the Editor:

There was recently held in the Town of Barton a public meeting which was for us an occasion of deep disappointment. Residents of that town were expressing their displeasure with a proposed group home that was slated to be established in their community.

According to a newspaper account of that meeting, the protesters complained that...
-property values would decline

-the group home people would endanger "the safety and welfare of our children"

-no one was paying any attention to "their rights"

All three claims are false of course, but the last one - "we are being deprived of our rights" - is the most sad of all.

Human history is filled with these sorts of misconceptions. People proclaim that they need to be "protected" and the protection that they desire is all too often at the expense of the poor, the disadvantaged, and the oppressed.

We do feel compassion that our brothers and sisters in Barton are so afraid, but we urge them, and other members of the community, to take a deep breath and, just this once, "allow the facts to interfere with their opinions."

Fact number one is that residential group homes do not depress property values. Fact number two is that persons who happen to have disabilities are no more dangerous or undesirable than are the rest of us, whose disabilities are perhaps not so obvious.

The final "fact" is that the worth of a community's life is measured precisely by how warm, open, friendly, and welcoming it is. In large measure, America is a great nation precisely because we have learned how to celebrate our many differences.

We urge our friends in Barton to face these facts and suggest that they can best do that by opening their eyes. We also urge other readers of this letter to get on the side of those whose rights are too often, too easily denied.

Sincerely,

Dear Editor:

With less than two weeks left until the filing deadline for personal income tax forms, the time is right to draw attention to an often over-looked section on the income tax form: the box for the Wisconsin Election Campaign Fund check-off.

The Fund was originally established in 1977. The purpose of the Fund is to make races for elective office as competitive as possible. Public financing decreases the degree to which candidates must rely on large campaign contributions. Since the Fund's inception, over $3 million has been distributed to candidates. This has led to cleaner, more competitive races.

In the early years of the check-off, contributions rose each year. However in the past four years, collections declined each year. This may be due to inadequate information regarding the rules of the check-off. Let me emphasize that a contribution to the Fund will not increase or decrease a person's tax liability. In addition, under a change in effect for the first time this year, one is not required to have a tax liability to be eligible to make a designation to the Fund.

The Election Campaign Fund decreases the influence of special interests in our election process and leads to more responsible government. It is important that tax filers understand the rules of the Fund so they can make an informed judgement about the check-off. I urge people to consider making the check-off before mailing his or her tax forms in the next couple days.

Sincerely,

Michael Ley
Secretary of Revenue

To: All Members of the Kewaskum School District:

Thank you so very much to all those who supported me in the election for school board. Your support and encouragement along the way made it a real pleasure for me to be a candidate. I met and talked with many new people throughout the district which was an additional reward for my efforts.

Now that the election is over, Clara Trapp and Ralph Horner will need everyone's support, including yours and mine. From our letters to the editor during the campaign, you can see that there are some serious problems in our district. Don't wait until the Annual Meeting to speak up because it might be too late. If you cannot attend a meeting, make a phone call to one or more school board members. I am sure they will welcome your input.

Thank You,

Ruth A. Schmitt

Dear Editor:

This letter is to commend one of your town's fine small businesses - the Village Bootery - which I believe is run in the finest tradition of friendly small town service. Besides fixing a couple minor problems at an almost unheard of price now a days, I always leave the store feeling good because of the owner's great sense of humor. It's a safe bet I will return in the future for either repair or new foot wear.

RE: KHS Lift-A-Thon Article in the March 28 Issue

The sentence in the aforementioned article, "The girls group was divided up in a like manner, however, in our society girls are never required to make their weight known, and in this way we protect their fragile feminine images," greatly disturbed me and prompted me to write.

I feel that by publicly supporting the myth that women are fragile, you are doing the female gender and the entire human race a grave disservice. By referring to females as "fragile," you are discouraging them from exploring and developing their full potential as human beings, and encouraging them to accept only what comes to them as a result of their stereotyped role. If all the women in the world were "fragile" as you stated, there would be no female astronauts, church leaders, government officials, store owners, college presidents, mothers, firefighters, teachers, engineers, musicians, doctors, homemakers, entrepreneurs, and scientists.

Let's stop protecting the "fragile feminine image" of the female sector of our society and instead work to encourage, strengthen, and recognize the qualities and abilities of the girls and women of the world.

I expect that you will avoid discriminatory remarks of all types in the future. Thank you for letting me voice my opinion on this important matter.

Sincerely,

Janine M. Thull
St. Cloud, Minnesota

EDITOR'S NOTE - The sentence in the article referred to in the above letter was not written by the editor but was intended to be taken as a humorous viewpoint, according to the writer.

NEWS EXTRA...

WILDFIRE SEASON HERE

The spring wildfire season, which usually reaches its peak in April and early May, is here as the snow cover has disappeared in much of the state.

Department of Natural Resources' fire control officials report the lack of snow combined with early warm temperatures this year increases the fire hazard. "However, just how severe the danger will be later this spring depends on the amount of precipitation received and on how warm the weather is from now until greenup in late May," Earl Meyer, fire control specialist, said.

With the snow cover gone, Meyer noted that a burning permit is required before any outdoor burning is done in Wisconsin. Depending on where the burning is to take place, burning permits may be obtained from local emergency fire wardens, Department of Natural Resources field stations, or town chairmen. In the case of incorporated villages and cities, the local government officials or fire department would have jurisdiction.

"Before doing any burning outdoors," Meyer advised, "obtain the required permit and then follow all of the safety precautions to prevent your fire from getting away. Remember, if a fire you start gets out of control, you can be required to pay for the costs of suppression and these can range up to thousands and thousands of dollars."

Meyer also pointed out that arson is one of the leading causes of wildfires in Wisconsin. We appreciate any assistance from citizens in helping to cut down the incidence of arson and the resulting waste of resources which results from deliberately set fires. Anyone who has any reason to suspect arson or sees anything which might indicate that a fire is being deliberately set is requested to phone the information to the Wisconsin Arson Insurance Council toll free number any hour of the day, seven days a week. 1-800-362-3005.

Tax Tips...

TAXPAYERS MAY REQUEST A FOUR-MONTH EXTENSION

[Eighth in a series]

Taxpayers who are not able to complete their 1985 federal income tax returns on time may receive an automatic 4-month extension of time to file. To get the extension until August 15, 1986, they must file the application, Form 4868, before the April 15, 1986, deadline.

An extension of time to file is not an extension of time to pay. Applicants must make an estimate of their tax for 1985 and pay any tax due with the Form 4868. There is a penalty for paying the tax late unless there is reasonable cause for not paying the tax when it was due. If the unpaid amount is more than 10% of the tax, then a 1/2% per month failure-to-pay penalty will apply.

The Form 4868 is available at any IRS office or it may be requested by calling the number in your phone book. The deadline for filing Form 4868 is April 15, 1986.

'Neighbor to Neighbor' Introductory Program for County Farmers Slated

The Cooperative Extension Service has developed a program called "Neighbor to Neighbor" to help provide support for farm families. Individuals that are interested in finding out more about the "Neighbor to Neighbor" program are invited to attend an introductory program scheduled for Tuesday, April 22, at 8:00 p.m., at the basement meeting room of the Washington County Courthouse in West Bend.

Many of us remember the days of barn raisings and threshing bees. They were the days when farm families came together to help each other with seasonal pressures (threshing bees) or to get a new start in farming (barn raisings). Such happenings provided much more than physical help — they provided a great deal of emotional support as well. They helped farm families to understand that they were not alone or isolated during times of adversity; families could see that they were part of a broader community which cared for them and supported them through difficult times.

Farm families are often more isolated now than in the past. There are a number of reasons for this. First, advances in farm technology have made it possible for most farmers to own their own machinery. Second, lower agricultural prices in the last few years have caused farm families to be more efficient and competitive and to pull back from other farm families. And third, consolidation of schools, churches, farm implement dealerships, cheese factories and other institutions has resulted in less day-to-day contact with people in the immediate neighborhood.

Education/support/- action groups can reduce the isolation farm families experience as a result of the trends just outlined. What are these groups? Quite simply, they are people organized in community groups which provide learning, togetherness and emotional support for their members. Such groups can also provide their members with ideas, hope, and courage to take actions which will improve their situation. They can build on the strengths of farm families, not only to help themselves, but also to reach out and help others to help themselves.

Education/support/- action groups can be especially helpful in these times of farm financial crisis. While they don't provide badly needed capital, they can provide acceptance, support and understanding. They also help farm families meet financial difficulties with increased hope and confidence.

Farm families (both husbands and wives) are invited and encouraged to attend this session. It will give you an opportunity to find out more about the "Neighbor to Neighbor" program. Families can then make decisions whether or not they wish to participate in the activities.

There is no charge for the session. However, individuals planning on attending should contact the Washington County Cooperative Extension Service at 338-4477, 644-5204 or 342-2929 by Monday, April 21.

Homestead Tax Help Available In District

State Senator Scott McCallum (R-Fond du Lac) reminds everyone who qualifies for Homestead tax credit to fill out the form by April 15, 1986. "You qualify for the credit if your income is under $16,500 or as a non-farm property owner you own one acre or less. If you have a farm you can own up to 120 acres and still qualify," said McCallum. "I urge everyone who thinks they qualify to pick up a form, after all, we all know we pay enough as it is in taxes. Why pay more?"

The third term Senator went on to say assistance in filling out any Wisconsin tax forms, including Homestead, is available in the district. The Wisconsin Department of Revenue has offices in Appleton at 265 West Northland, Fond du Lac at 160 South Macy Street, Oshkosh at 404 North Main Street and West Bend at 429 Walnut Street. The Appleton office is open daily while the remainder are open only on Mondays.

Just like in the horse and buggy days, when doctors and nurses made housecalls, the tradition of being treated at home is carried on by The Visiting Nurse Association (VNA). Our commitment to the good health of the community began in 1952, and it continues today.

Medicare, with its governmental gobblede-gook, is one of the most complicated legislations we have. The home care benefits section of the program description is shrouded in mysterious legalese, and, in case you are curious, here's what it says as it applies to the services of the Visiting Nurse Association.

You qualify for Visiting Nurse Association services under Medicare if you are:

- * 65 or older and have worked long enough to be insured under Social Security, the railroad retirement system, or in federal government;

- * already receiving Social Security or railroad retirement benefits;

- * under 65 and have been entitled to Social Security disability benefits for 24 months;

- * entitles to Medicare because of permanent kidney failure.

Medicare pays the full approved cost of all covered Visiting Nurse Association visits if:

- * a physician determines you need home health care and sets up a home health plan for you;

- * you are confined to your home and cannot leave without the aid of crutches, cane, wheelchair, walker, special transportation or the assistance of another person;

- * your condition is such that you need skilled nursing care on an intermittent basis, or physical or speech therapy.

MEDICARE covers these Visiting Nurse Association services:

- * professional nursing care on a part-time basis

- * physical therapy services
- * speech therapy services

- * occupational therapy services

- * medical social services
- * home health aide services

- * limited medical supplies such as surgical dressing (not drugs)

- * medical appliances such as wheelchairs, crutches, hospital beds, and other prescribed apparatus

Visiting Nurse Association, founded in 1952, is fully certified for Medicare and Medicaid. It is the area's oldest and largest home health agency. Anyone may make a referral to Visiting Nurse Association by simply calling 458-4314 or 893-4314.

There are many advantages to home care. It gives you more freedom to sleep, eat, dress, and have visitors, plus you worry less, and have more privacy when you're in your own home and your family can participate in your care.

For additional information about services, please call us at 458-4314 or 893-4314.

Herbicide Pre-Mixes Combine Weed Control With Handling Ease, West Bend Elevator Says

WEST BEND — For years, area corn growers have relied on herbicide tank mixes to combat the wide variety of weeds found in their fields. Now, according to Dick Engeleiter, salesman of West Bend Elevator, Inc., West Bend, many of these farmers are discovering the benefits of a herbicide pre-mix, which provides greater handling convenience without sacrificing weed control performance.

"Corn growers have used tank mix combinations, such as Lasso and atrazine, because of the broader spectrum weed control they offered compared to a single herbicide," Engeleiter says. "But tank mixing requires purchasing, measuring and mixing several products. This process is simplified if fewer products can be used to accomplish the same job."

"Farmers can save time, handle fewer products and still get the broad-spectrum weed control they need by using a herbicide package mix, like pre-mixed Lasso and atrazine," advises Engeleiter. "This combination gives them full-season control of both labeled grasses and broadleaf weeds, as well as the yield advantage of Lasso — all in a single product."

The pre-mixed Lasso and atrazine formulation (2½ lbs. Lasso and 1½ lbs. atrazine per gallon) fits the majority of corn acres in this area, the dealer says. "It can be applied in both water or liquid fertilizers for excellent weed control in a wide variety of tillage and cropping situations. And it is available in 2½-gallon jugs, or mini-bulk containers for added convenience in larger farming operations."

Package mixes can offer additional benefits in an effective weed control program. With products like pre-mixed Lasso and atrazine, the dealer concludes, farmers can help achieve the weed control necessary for top yields with greater ease and convenience.

4-H FAMILY CAMP: GREAT PLACE FOR FAMILIES TO GROW TOGETHER

If you're looking for an activity that your family can enjoy together, you can't beat camping. And though it may not seem like camping weather yet, it's not too soon to sign up for 4-H Family Camp, held at Camp Upham Woods near Wisconsin Dells.

The camp, held this year on April 18-20, isn't limited to 4-H members.

We encourage all interested families in the state to participate, regardless of size, make-up or background.

Having family members together outside of the home helps the family learn and grow together. Also, getting family members together on neutral territory helps encourage open communication.

The camp has six objectives: 1) Improve family communication, 2) Familiarize families with 4-H literature, 3) Increase awareness of family folklore and storytelling, 4) Pass on leisure and recreational skills, 5) Develop participant's appreciation of nature, 6) Provide an opportunity to share and develop family traditions and customs.

The camp begins with registration at 8:00 p.m. Friday evening. After registration a guest speaker will talk about sharing nature with children. Saturday sessions will feature communication, recreation (Upham Woods offers canoeing, volleyball, softball, arts, a nature center and island nature hikes) and an evening folklore program. The camp concludes Sunday noon.

Fee for the weekend is $25 for adults and $15 for children if families stay in a cabin, or $30 and $17 respectively for those who stay in the dorm. There's no fee for children three years or younger. The fee covers all activity materials and equipment, three meals on Saturday and breakfast on Sunday.

Deadline for pre-registration is April 4. Space is limited, so apply early. Applications are available from Cooperative Extension 4-H agents.

Look Before You Plow

The farm bill, the Food and Security Act of 1986, went into effect on December 23, 1985 when signed by the President. It contained the sodbuster and swampbuster provisions.

Clifton A. Maquire, state conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, cautions that any producer that plows out highly erodible land or drains wetlands after that date could forfeit USA program benefits in 1986.

If anyone is considering breaking sod, they should make sure it does not meet the definition of highly erodible land. The same caution goes for installing drainage.

Maquire recommends that they contact their local Soil Conservation Service office for help on these definitions. If you have a question, you can call Don Kurer or Ivan Kumrow, Soil Conservation Service at West Bend.

Ye Olde School Program of Cedar Lake Home Campus Receives Award

The Ye Olde School program of the Cedar Lake Home Campus, West Bend, will receive the 1986 Innovation Program of the Year from the Council for Health and Human Services Ministry, an organization serving institutions and programs related to the United Church of Christ.

Ye Olde School is a unique intergenerational program enabling youth to get a taste of the American educational system at the turn of the century. Classes are held on the Cedar Lake Home Campus in an authentic one-room school house built in 1917.

For residents of the Cedar Lake Home Campus, a retirement center and home for the aging, the one room school is not foreign to them. Many went to school in a one room building. This part of our nation's past will soon only be known through pages of a history book.

With each student's pull on a rope, the bell of Ye Olde School calls for the start of an adventure into history. The program at Ye Olde School involves 16 students from area schools (two from each class grades one through eight) plus two to four elderly community members or campus residents. The day's assignments are written on the school's original blackboards by the full-time certified Cedar Lake Home Campus teacher. The curriculum is based on materials dating from 1917. Assignments are completed on chalk slates, fountain pens are used for penmanship and paper is folded into drinking cups for the water, hand carried into the school.

Concentrating on assignments is difficult at times as students gaze at interesting items displayed throughout the school: a bed warmer, a flag with 48 stars, a button hook, a kerosene lamp, handmade skis and many other antiques. Time is spent examining these artifacts and residents show youth how the objects were used. Together they discuss why and how the antique items have changed over the years.

Students have the opportunity to talk with residents who knew people who are heroes to today's kids, like baseball player, Lou Gehrig.

To provide the students with a broader idea of what life was like in 1917, each day a guest speaker from the area business community comes to discuss the history of his/her company and how it has changed since it began. The speaker goes on to discuss the type of job he or she has and how it affects the company's goals. During this time, the residents have the opportunity to reminisce about their careers and influence in society through sharing their experiences with the speakers and children.

The residents leave the school beaming and comment how they feel "so young again." They have shared their treasured memories and anecdotes in an environment which will benefit the youth of today plus they have learned the status of education today. This opportunity to meet the young people from our community, and learn from them, has become very important to these residents.

The children do not just learn about "old-fashioned" values and ways at the school, they live them through new elderly friends and experience them in a way which adds meaning and purpose to their own lives. Cedar Lake Home discovered that warm relationships often develop between the children and the residents...relationships which last much longer than the short one day experience.

Throughout the day the students learn from the elderly, from printed materials, from objects, from each other and from the input of the teacher. What is learned is not facts, but values. The value of the elderly, with their wisdom and patience, the value of a full and useful life, and the value of sharing between young and old.

The mixing of generations and sharing "old-fashioned" values gives the elderly an opportunity to share their "roots" and provides students a sense of the firm foundation on which their educational system is built. The result of sharing is the realization of common hopes and dreams and mutual respect for one another.

This is not the first time the Ye Olde School program has received national attention. It was recognized by the White House in 1984 by their Private Sector Initiatives office as an important intergenerational program. The American Association of Homes for the Aging also commended the program at their national meeting in 1984.

President of the not-for-profit Benevolent Corporation of the Cedar Lake Home Campus, Burt Lass, accepted the award March 1 in Denver, Colorado, on behalf of the Ye Olde School Program.

Clarence A. Schwartz, Sheriff

Recognize County Dispatchers During National Telecommunicator's Week

The nation's public safety dispatchers will be among those honored the week of April 6-12 during National Telecommunicator's Week, as designated by APCO, the Associated Public Safety Communications Officer's, Inc.

The dispatchers who work in the Communications Division of the Washington County Sheriff's Department have an important job, according to Sheriff Clarence A. Schwartz. "The deputies must answer telephone and radio traffic for our department, as well as for the fire departments and rescue squad services that are dispatched through our office. During peak periods, it can become an almost impossible job, many times having to perform two or three tasks at one time."

Deputies who are appointed to the position of dispatcher are sent to 40 hours of telecommunications school, and 24 hours of teletype school. They also have on-the-job training with an experienced operator for up to six weeks. Each year they attend update training on the use of the law enforcement teletype system. This is in addition to the 80 hours training they receive at a jail officer school, as they also are required to be able to perform that function at times. All of this instruction is conducted by the State of Wisconsin, in conjunction with area technical schools.

"For many people, the dispatcher is the first person they contact when notifying this department of a problem, and when asking for help. While it may be natural to think of the patrol officer as the hub of a law enforcement agency, no sheriff's or police department could hope to function without trained, competent, and professional communications officers on the job. I am pleased that APCO has taken the initiative in setting aside a week of the year to recognize all communications personnel in law enforcement throughout the nation. I am also pleased to join with them in recognizing our dispatchers at the Washington County Sheriff's Department," Sheriff Schwartz concluded.

Handicapped Can Now Apply for Easter Seals Camps

For hundreds of handicapped Wisconsin residents, summer means Easter Seals' summer camp. And now is the time to apply to attend those camps.

The Easter Seal Society of Wisconsin runs two camps for physically handicapped children and adults - Easter Seals Camp Wawbeek and Pioneer Camp. Both are located on a 400+ acre wooded site in the Wisconsin Dells.

Easter Seals Camp Wawbeek serves campers from 8 through adult, offering a two-week program of swimming, campouts, cookouts, archery, crafts and much more to its campers.

At Easter Seals Pioneer Camp, campers from 10 through adult, are involved in canoeing, extended campouts, and a generally more strenuous program.

Sessions at both camps are organized by age groupings and begin June 1.

For applications, financial information and answers to questions about Easter Seal camping, contact Delores P. Harder, R.N., Washington County Camp Chairman at Community Health Nursing Service, 515 East Washington Street, West Bend, or telephone 338-4462 or 644-5204 or 342-2929.

April 15 Last Day
To Apply for Crop
Insurance in County

April 15 is the last day to apply for crop insurance for barley, corn, grain sorghum, oats, peas - green, soybeans and sweet corn in Washington County, according to Jerold Van Beek, a representative of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC).

Crop insurance covers unavoidable loss of production resulting from adverse weather conditions, wildlife, earthquake, or fire.

"Three coverage levels (50, 65, or 75 percent) are available for insurance protection. Additionally, FCIC offers three optional price elections for valuing production lost or damaged," says Van Beek.

A new crop insurance plan, called Actual Production History (APH), is available this year to producers of soybeans, wheat, barley, and oats in addition to corn, grain sorghum and other crops. Producers of these crops may now qualify for higher yield guarantees by proving their yield history. Rates have been developed to offer reduced premium for producers with above-average yields. "With the increased cost of producing a crop, it makes good sense to take a look at this new concept," says Van Beek.

To find out more about the APH PLAN, producers should contact a local, authorized agent. To select an agent, producers may check the list of agents at their local ASCS office. April 15 is the final deadline for applications.

Cancer Society Says Thanks During Door-To-Door Crusade

The American Cancer Society says, "Thank you!" to Washington County residents during April, Cancer Control Month. The Society plans to show its thanks during the annual door-to-door crusade on April 20. Billy Bailey, Chairman of the 1986 Residential Crusade, announces a shift in emphasis from the collection of donations to a "no strings attached" educational campaign for cancer prevention.

"Washington County has shown a generous support for the American Cancer Society's research, service and education programs," Bailey said. "We wish to thank residents for supporting Jail and Bail, cook-book sales, Tavern League activities and other fund raisers." This year, the Crusade effort will focus on how individuals can try to avoid cancer by making wise food choices.

"As much as 60 percent of all cancer might be prevented" said Bailey. "By making simple changes in daily habits, many people can reduce their cancer risk. Our message is that how you live may save your life," Bailey added.

The purpose of this year's Crusade is to inform as many people in Washington County as possible about cancer prevention. More than 100 volunteers will distribute a folder entitled "Eating to Live: What Food May Help You Reduce Your Cancer Risk?" The folder includes recommendations that may reduce your chances of getting cancer, such as adding more high fiber foods, and foods high in vitamins A and C to your diet. For more information about Crusade 1986, or about cancer prevention contact the American Cancer Society's Washington Unit at 334-4646.

She is married, the mother of four children and resides in Mequon.

Reservations can be made by sending $2.00 by April 10, to Lou Reichert, 937 Redwood St., West Bend. Nursery services will not be provided.

There are 336 dimples on an average golfball.

The 1986 Scout-O-Rama is scheduled for Saturday, April 12th, from 11:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Manchester Mall, Highway 57, in Grafton. Scouting units will be represented from Washington and Ozaukee counties.

McDonald's will once again sponsor this eventful scouting experience. The Order of Arrow Lodge will set up a food stand to sell taste tempting treats.

McCallum Protests Prison Guard Loss At Kettle Moraine

Fond du Lac Republicans State Sen. Scott McCallum and State Rep. Earl F. McEssy last Wednesday circulated a letter in the Capitol protesting the elimination of two guard positions at Kettle Moraine prison.

Several other legislators signed the letter to Walter Dickey, Division of Corrections administrator, which was faced with budget cuts when the Legislature and Governor passed the fiscal repair bill in February to avert a projected $340 million state deficit. Deputy Administrator Steve Kranzer said the division chose to eliminate about 6 positions, including two tower guards.

"We are concerned about security as well as the message the state is sending to area residents," McCallum wrote. "Five years ago, the local community and government, and legislators, helped the prison add security... Now it appears that state is willing to risk regression to the previous dangerous conditions."

McCallum and other legislators had been contacted by constituents protesting the move, including a Cascade couple who were bound and robbed in 1980, and about 1,600 people who signed a petition.

Koth, Fischer Help UW Badgers Baseball Team on Spring Trip

The University of Wisconsin's baseball team completed one of its best ever spring trips with a 5-2 record at the 19th annual Riverside Baseball Invitational in Riverside, California. The Badgers finished second in the blue division behind Brigham Young (6-1) and third overall behind BYU and Tulane (gold division champ at 6-1). This brought Wisconsin's record to 7-8.

Contributing prominently to the Badgers' success were two Washington County pitchers, Terry Koth of Kewaskum and Tom "T.J." Fischer of West Bend. Kewaskum sophomore Koth, a 6-1, 200 pounder, earned 10 letters at Winnebago Lutheran Academy, Fond du Lac in high school, four of them in baseball, won the Rock River Northern Division batting title at .507 and the league's triple crown in 1985. He also played for Barton's grand champions in the Tri-County Nite League last summer. All-conference three times, Koth helped Winnebago Lutheran make the WISAA State Tournament all four years in high school.

Freshman Fischer, possibly one of UW's top pitching recruits in years, struck out 42 in 40 innings pitched while posting a 0.90 ERA in fall practice. He learned a lot from his dad and possibly from his uncle, Bill Fischer, pitching coach for the Boston Red Sox. MVP and pitcher of the year last summer while also with Barton's highly successful club, Fischer was a standout at Kettle Moraine Lutheran High, Jackson.

The Badgers arrived in California Saturday, March 22, on their eight-day spring trip. They faced the University of California-Riverside Saturday night and fought back from a 7-3 deficit with four unearned runs in the ninth after two were out. But UCR catcher Mike Sheridan hit a solo homer on a 3-2 pitch off Terry Koth (1-1) with two out in the bottom of the ninth to give the Highlanders an 8-7 win.

Wisconsin opened the Riverside Invitational on Monday, March 24, with host University of California-Riverside. This time it was the Badgers who came out on top, 3-2. Badger reliever Tim Roman saved the game for starter Tom Fischer (1-2).

Brian Wegner's bases-loaded triple highlighted a five-run fifth inning as Wisconsin routed Oregon State, 15-6, Tuesday night. Scott Pelowski earned the win with relief help from Jim Rosplock and Koth. Koth earned his first save of the year by holding the Beavers to only three hits over the last three innings.

The Badgers faced Tulane University Wednesday and lost 8-6. Neither Koth nor Fischer appeared in this contest.

In two tournament games Thursday, Wisconsin dropped a 5-4 decision to Brigham Young but came back to defeat Notre Dame, 11-9. In the second game Koth earned his second save of the tourney.

Fischer earned his first collegiate shutout as Wisconsin downed Cornell, 4-0, Friday. Fischer (2-2) allowed just four hits while striking out seven and walking just two in going the distance.

The Badgers beat Washington, 8-4, Saturday in the tournament final. Reliever Koth (2-1) pitched the final two innings to pick up the victory for Wisconsin.

The Badgers placed three players on the all-tournament team, including rightfielder K. J. Dickman of New Holstein, who batted .500 through seven games; second baseman Brian Wegner of Watertown, who hit .333 and fielded 52 chances without an error, and pitcher Tom Fischer of West Bend, who was 2-0 in the tourney.

Koth has been the stopper out of the bullpen this season. In 9 2/3 innings Koth has a 2-1 record with two saves and a 1.86 ERA. Fischer and Jim Rosplock of Beaver Dam are tied for the team lead in strikeouts with 14, while Fischer leads the staff in complete games with two.

S.S.A. Awards Night Coming Up Soon

Harvey Ramthun, Kewaskum, cutting the hole for the sturgeon spearing at Lake Winnebago.

The "Year of the Fish 1986," is past and just as the banner reads, it was the year of the fish. Cloudy water, heavy snow, uncertain ice, and an interrupting two-day (2nd week-end) opening on the small lakes made for a mediocre spearing season for the hard working S.S.A. members.

Fifteen ice shanties set up on different locations on opening day. Cloudy water made a mockery of watching staked out territories. Eleven shanties moved to Lake Poygan the second week. Large northern and gar fish were observed but no success at landing a sturgeon. Back to Lake Winnebago for the last two weeks the hardy bunch returned.

Although trying hard they were not very successful. One member though, undaunted by the cloudy water and hardships of spearing, connected on the 3rd week-end. A 35#, 53" fish came out of the water on the spear of Rick Halfmann, RR, Campbellsport. This veteran spearer, who has speared a number of fish in years past will receive a trophy at the annual S.S.A. awards banquet which will be held in the near future. This banquet honors with worthy awards those most deserving. The commissioner has not yet set the date of the banquet until corn picking, injuries, and unstable conditions are overcome. Members will be notified as to the time and place of the banquet.

Dan Heisdorf Wins Regional Wrestling Crown

WEST BEND - Dan Heisdorf, an eighth grader at the Kewaskum Middle School, captured first place in the 14 and under junior division, one of the six junior and cadet wrestling regionals held last weekend. By doing so, Heisdorf qualified for the state competition which will be held at Wisconsin Rapids on April 18th and 19th.

Heisdorf went 5-0 with three pins in the 120 pound weight class at the West Bend competition where 500 boys wrestled for the right to go to state. In two of his matches, Heisdorf posted shutout victories by scores of 4-0 and 8-0. The other three were all won via first period pins.

In the finals, Heisdorf was pitted against Todd Raymond of Markesan, whom he pinned in 1:58.

Dan also wrestled in five other tournaments, taking 1st at Oconomowoc, Port Washington and Fond du Lac, and taking 3rd at Bettendorf, Iowa, and Hartford.

Bobby Castro, a freshman at KHS, also qualified by finishing 5th in the 112 pound class of the cadet division while Dennis Aupperle was second in the unlimited class.

Shawn Fideler, a fourth grader at Kewaskum Elementary, qualified by finishing 3rd in the 75 pound class in the 10 and under junior division. Noel Stradtman, David Jacak, and Joshua Kurtz competed in the event but did not place high enough to qualify. Noel also took 3rd in tournament at Oconomowoc and Hartford.
