Kemps Introduces 100% Calcium Lowfat Yogurt

Get your total daily requirement for calcium in one refreshing, delicious drink.

Marigold Foods, Inc. is introducing Kemps 100% Calcium Lowfat Yogurt. In a six-ounce serving you will get 1000 milligrams of dairy calcium. That is four times the calcium in other brands. Kemps is a delicious, smooth Swiss-style yogurt available in eight fresh-fruit flavors: strawberry, blueberry, strawberry banana, peach, pineapple, cherry vanilla, boysenberry and raspberry.

Marigold Foods, manufacturers of Kemps dairy products, large bottling plant is located in Kewaskum.

Are you getting enough calcium? Have you had your calcium today? Calcium is one mineral that many Americans — two-thirds of women and half of men — don't get sufficiently in our diets. There's a new way to ensure that you can. Kemps 100% Calcium Lowfat Yogurt is the first yogurt to supply all of the adult Daily Recommended Allowance (RDA) for calcium in one serving.

Researchers are learning more everyday about calcium's vital role in our health. Adequate calcium prevents osteoporosis, a degenerative bone condition that affects 15 million Americans, mostly post-menopausal women; lessens the risk of periodontal disease that leads to tooth loss, may help some people suffering from high blood pressure, and may play a role in preventing colon cancer for some people.

Man Dies, Another Injured In Farmington Collision

One man died and another was seriously injured in a rear-end collision in the Town of Farmington Friday, when a fishing boat they were hauling was rammed into the passenger compartment of their pickup truck.

Lloyd J. Walter, 62, of 240 Heather Drive, West Bend, a passenger in the pickup, was pronounced dead at the scene. Ralph Duenkel, 62, of 1710 Monroe St., West Bend, driver of the pickup, was in critical condition with head injuries. He was flown to Froedtert Memorial Lutheran Hospital in Milwaukee by the Flight for Life helicopter.

The mishap occurred at 10:15 a.m. as the pickup was northbound on State Hwy. 144 about two-tenths of a mile south of Shalom Drive. When the pickup stopped suddenly in the lane of traffic, it was rammed from behind by a following van. The van struck the back of the over-hanging fishing boat which was being transported on the cargo bed of the pickup.

Neil Peterson, 32, of 4225 County Trunk Y, Sheboygan, the driver of the van, was not injured. No citations were issued.

The traffic death was Washington County's 14th of the year, compared to seven dead during the first six months of both 1985 and 1984.

Sandra L. Schmidt, 40, of 3723 Badger Road, Kewaskum, was treated for a head injury and released from St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend, after the pickup truck she was driving was struck from behind by a car at 12:55 p.m. on Monday of last week. Traveling north in the 300 block of South Main Street, West Bend, she had stopped for traffic when struck by the car driven by Rodney G. Severence, 27, of 105 S. Eighth Ave., Milwaukee. Severence was issued a citation for inattentive driving.

Koth Named New Athletic Director at High School

Principal LeRoy Kopecky has announced that Perry Koth has been named to replace him as athletic director at Kewaskum High School. Kopecky had served as director for the past two years.

Koth's assignment took effect on July 1 and as athletic director he will be in charge of sports programs at the high school and middle school. In taking over these duties, Koth will be given two hours of release each day plus $1,600 annually.

Koth, a Kewaskum native, is a physical education and health instructor and a graduate of the local high school, where he participated in four sports. He later attended UW - LaCrosse and completed his work on his bachelor's degree at UW-Oshkosh.

The new athletic director presently is boys head basketball coach and an assistant coach in football and track. Previously Koth headed the baseball program for three years.

Koth first intends to organize the various sports programs and improve on the cohesiveness in the current programs. Another assignment will be the recruiting of coaches while Kopecky will still hire and evaluate coaches. He also hopes to get the numbers up and more kids involved in sports.

Perry feels his familiarity with the coaches will help him in his new duties.

Doc and Alma Edwards Attend His 63rd High School Class Reunion

The invitation to attend their 5th "Five Year All Graduates of C.H.S. Reunion," came two months ago. Indeed, I felt a real desire to go to my first reunion after 63 years of absence.

My wife and I left home on Friday, June 27, at 7:30 a.m. for Milwaukee, where her sister and brother-in-law, Irma and Nick Heymanns, were to come with us, as we knew a change of drivers would be most welcome.

The roads are newer and better out west than in Wisconsin, possibly due to the fact that there is much less heavy traffic to cause wear on the roads. Each day we travelled through rain showers. In Dakota, there has been too much rain for all fields to be planted and many areas of standing water were to be seen. Also, sad to report, many hundreds of empty deserted farms stand along the roadsides. Thousands of cattle dot the pastures - all standing belly deep in grass.

We arrived at my sister, Leah's home at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, and she came with us to Cresbard on Saturday morning. We all toured the small village and the school building from 1 to 3 p.m., visiting with several local people, none of whom were old enough to remember me. The granddaughter of one of my classmates was able to tell me some interesting facts about the school's past. She told me how the basketball team, the Comets, almost won the State Championship a few years ago, all performed by a team from a high school enrollment of 150 students. The high school began in 1911 and I had graduated in 1923 with a class of seven members. The classes recently number only 15 to 20 each year.

The committee produced a great reunion of many class members to attend this five year reunion, a plan that was started in 1961, and the next one will be in 1991. The Holiday Inn at Aberdeen, 40 miles distant, was the only place large enough to accommodate this large group of people, and The Holiday Inn management is to be praised for granting a 40% reduction in the price of rooms with the privilege of allowing extras to be in the room free. In addition I wish to state that the prime rib slice of boneless meat served to all 440 people was so tender that when I placed my knife in position to cut it, the knife fell through the meat by its own weight. It was that tender and had a delicious flavor.

Kewaskum, Other UWWC Students Guests at Rotary

Brian Kleinhaus, Jennifer Beilke, Jeff Eisenmann, Denise Meyer, and Pam Schultz, students at the University of Wisconsin Center-Washington County, were recent guests at the West Bend Rotary Club.

Kleinhaus, a 1985 graduate of West Bend East High School, is a freshman student at the University. He was a member of the men's varsity basketball team, averaged 19 points a game, and shot 52% from the floor. He was named to the all-conference second team. Kleinhaus plans to transfer to UW-Stout and major in hotel and restaurant management.

Beilke, a 1985 graduate of West Bend East High School, is a freshman student at the University. She is a reporter for the Ubiquitous, the weekly student newspaper. After completing her studies at the University she plans to major in communication arts at a four-year college or university.

Eisenmann, a 1984 graduate of Kewaskum High School, is a sophomore student at the University. He is a pre-engineering student, is on the Dean's List with Highest Honors (GPA 4.0), and plans to major in electrical engineering at UW-Milwaukee.

Meyer, a 1985 graduate of Kewaskum High School, completed her freshman year at the University during her senior year in high school. She is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, the scholastic honor society, Director of the Social Board, and a student representative on the Curriculum and Campus Life and Interests Committees. She plans to major in linguistics at UW-Madison.

Schultz, a 1984 graduate of Washington High School in Germantown, is a sophomore student at the University. She was a member of the varsity volleyball team, a student counselor in the Career and Learning Laboratory, and was elected President of the Student Government. She will be an assistant coach in the girls' soccer clinic this summer. She has been admitted to the School of Business at UW-Whitewater next fall and will major in public relations and marketing.

An hour's talk was given by a former graduate, who had the crowd laughing most of the time, with his clever stories and remarks made about some of the more recent class members.

A dance was held back in Cresbard that night, and all were invited to attend a church service in the park on Sunday at 10:30 a.m. We did not attend either event as we wished to make our way home where we arrived on Monday evening about 8 p.m., tired of riding, but very glad to have been able to revisit an area where four years of life had been so happily spent.

Property Taxes May Rise 10% If School Spending Is Not Restrained

By Senator Donald K. Stitt
[R-Port Washington]

The bipartisan Legislative Audit Bureau recently reported that property taxes will rise approximately 10% next year unless school spending increases are kept below 6.4%. Since inflation is currently at 2.5%, this spending level is significant and deserves close scrutiny.

During the 1985-87 budget, state school aids were significantly increased to lower property taxes, yet local school spending increased by 8.2%. Moreover, pay increases averaged 8.2% for teachers, 7.2% for administrators and 12.1% for teacher aides. These pay increases, according to the audit, resulted from the binding arbitration law which allows a third party to preside in labor disputes.

The audit recommended local spending limits as one means of controlling local spending and property taxes. However, the audit indicated that voluntary actions to hold down local spending are preferable.

Recent actions by school districts clearly demonstrated that if current spending increases continue, property taxes will certainly rise significantly. To truly hold property taxes to a reasonable level, more restraint will be necessary on the local level. Further, our state government must examine policies that provide direct property tax relief rather than allowing school districts and local governments to simply increase their budgets behind the taxpayers' backs.

Please feel free to contact me, Senator Don Stitt at P.O. Box 7882, Madison, Wisconsin 53707 or call my office at 608-266-7513 or leave a message with the Legislative Hotline at 1-800-362-9696.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

Letter to the Editor:

A great big thank you to all who made the 5th Annual Big Brothers/Sisters triathlon a success. Few realize how many months of planning go into staging such an event, so I am very grateful to the committee of Bob Bodensteiner, Tim Chybowski, Jim Rothenbach and Dan Sargeant for giving us so many hours from their very busy lives.

Our Corporate sponsors who contributed greatly to the success of the triathlon were the West Bend Company which supplied all the T-shirts, Burrough who supplied the computers and their programs, along with Mike and Diane Kent to run them. Among the other sponsors were Fast Food, Sentry, Clothes Clinic, Hanson's foods, and McDonalds.

The organizations that deserve recognition are the West Bend Communications Patrol, the West Bend Parks Dept., West Bend Public Works Dept., the Red Cross, the City of West Bend, the Exodus House of Kewaskum, the Sheriff's Dept. and the West Bend Police Dept. Their input in planning and race day participation was vital.

Individuals to be singled out for their efforts are Doug Johnson, Karen Richmond, Dan Hammond, Bob Pischke, Phil Gabrich, and Gary Herdrich. The staff at the Big Brothers office, Kathy Saemann, Denise Clancy, Mary Winkler, Lisa St. Peter also put in many extra hours in preparation.

Finally, the dozens of corner workers, rest stop volunteers and other associated workers who took the time to help out on Saturday morning. We couldn't have done it without you.

Many contributed to make this day a financial success for Big Brothers/Sisters and it is a tremendous effort for a one morning event. The money raised benefits our program throughout much of the year and on behalf of all the kids who are enjoying a very special relationship with an adult because you took the time to lend a helping hand I thank each and everyone of you.

Sincerely,

Dennis Connor

National Fire Fighters Day to Be Observed Oct. 8

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Rep. Les Aspin (D-Wis.) announced that after weeks of intense work, his bill to honor the nation's fire fighters has been signed by the President and is now the law of the land. "This is a historic first," Aspin said. "I'm gratified that National Fire Fighters Day has become a reality, because these courageous men and women really deserve our recognition." The President put his signature on House Joint Resolution 479, sponsored by Aspin last December, which declares October 8, 1986 "National Fire Fighters Day." This day occurs during the annual Fire Prevention Week, which is devoted to educating the public about fire safety and prevention.

Aspin said that the signing of the bill follows a successful legislative strategy he launched in May. The combined efforts of key congressional members, their staffs and national fire fighter organizations provided the impetus for swift action by Congress and the President. Local firefighters memberships throughout the country contacted their representatives to urge support of the legislation. Aspin got special help from Senator Dennis DeConcini (D-Az.), who introduced the Senate version of the bill and pushed for its approval.

"Support for the bill caught on immediately," Aspin said. "We got it through in near-record time."

Aspin said that it only took three weeks for the House to pass his bill after initiating the drive for local support. Senate passage followed easily three weeks later.

"The President put his John Hancock on the bill without hesitation," Aspin said. "He knew a good thing when he saw it."

Aspin said this is the first time there has ever been congressional recognition for all fire fighters.

"The legislation instructs the President to issue a proclamation calling upon people to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies and activities," Aspin said. "I'm looking forward to honoring fire fighters this October, and I hope everyone will take a moment to think about the brave men and women who make up fire fighting force."

"I also hope that this day can be made a regular part of Fire Prevention Week," Aspin concluded.

Crop Reporting Time at ASCS

All Washington County farmers are urged to report their 1986 crops to the ASCS office soon according to Donald E. Sampson, director of the county office.

514 farms are enrolled in the Acreage Reduction Program who must certify their acreages planted and set aside. Participants are under contracts which are firm and binding. Anyone not complying is subject to a penalty according to Sampson. Producers not enrolled are also urged to report their acreages as this record becomes part of the history record. This is used to establish bases in future years. A farm receives a zero report if no report is filed.

July 15th is the final day to report, however, those reporting early will avoid the waiting line. Measurement is still available for anyone uncertain of field sizes.

Extension Catalog Available from UW

To many people, the idea of university "extension" is represented by a pamphlet on how to treat diseased tomato plants or how to can apple jelly. Publications on those traditional extension subjects, and thousand of others, are listed in a free catalog available from the University of Wisconsin-Extension.

In fact, for thirty-five cents you can get a pamphlet called "How to Make Jellies, Jams and Other Fruit Preserves." And yes, there are at least five publications available with information on tomato plant diseases. But there are lots of publications on not-so-traditional extension subjects, such as furnace efficiency, acid rain, the state of migrant farm-workers, and computers on the farm.

The catalog is available by writing: Agricultural Bulletins, Room 245, 30 North Murray Street, Madison, WI 53715, or contact your local county extension office.

Timber Sales Assistance Available In Washington County

If you are a woodland owner in Washington County, you have probably been contacted by several timber buyers over the years. Unfortunately, in some cases, timber is sold with no thought given to competitive bidding, the actual volume to be cut, or forest management planning. This is understandable as timber is seldom sold more than once in a lifetime; experience is not easy to acquire. Careful consideration should be given to both the sale procedure and the biology of the forest. Properly applied timber sales are used to improve and perpetuate the forest and provide income to the forest owner.

The best way to care for your woodland is to employ a professional forester. Foresters are trained in forest ecology and timber harvesting procedures. Assistance is available for any of the steps in the timber sale process including forest management planning, tree marketing, timber sale advertising, contract preparation, and timber sale administration. The forest management plan will identify a harvest date for the timber crop. Once the plan is prepared, timber should be harvested accordingly.

A study by Dr. George Cabbage of the University of Georgia showed that landowners utilizing professional forestry assistance received 66% greater income than landowners who sold independently. Additionally, unassisted landowners had less wood volume and fewer seedlings remaining on their property after the harvest.

In southern Wisconsin, consultant foresters and Department of Natural Resources foresters are the main providers of professional assistance. The Department publishes a list of consultant foresters; it is available at no charge from the address given below. Another listing gives locations of DNR foresters statewide.

The DNR office in Washington County is located at Pike Lake State Park, 3340 Kettle Moraine Road, Hartford, WI 53027. The phone number is 414-644-5248.

Several publications explaining the timber sale procedure including contract and income tax considerations are available either through the DNR or the Cooperative Extension Service office at the Courthouse in West Bend. The Extension Service phone number is 414-338-4480, 644-5204, or 342-2929.

NEWS EXTRA

Swimming, Walking/Jogging Favorite Summer Activities

Swimming and walking/jogging are Wisconsin residents' favorite summertime outdoor recreation activities, according to results of a survey conducted for the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

Based on total number of participants, swimming was the most popular activity, followed closely by walking/jogging and fishing. Based on total number of days of participation, walking/jogging was first, bicycling second and swimming third.

A random telephone survey of 485 Wisconsin residents asked them about their outdoor recreation activities for the entire month of August 1984. Pam Foti, outdoor recreation planner for DNR's Bureau of Management and Budget, said that DNR commissioned the survey to determine how important outdoor recreation is to state residents and to identify outdoor recreation trends.

Survey results will be used to help DNR develop its 1986-91 Statewide Comprehensive Outdoor Recreation Plan (SCORP). Foti said that Wisconsin is required to have a SCORP to be eligible for federal aid from the Land and Water Commission Fund. Last year Wisconsin received about $1.4 million from the fund. According to Foti, 40% of the money was allocated to local communities to help them meet their outdoor recreation needs.

The survey found that Wisconsin residents are active in outdoor recreation activities with 78% of those interviewed having participated in at least one outdoor activity during the month. Of those surveyed, 36 percent had been swimming, 31 percent walking/jogging, 24 percent fishing, 18 percent bicycling, 17 percent boating/waterskiing, 14 percent camping, 14 percent picnicking, 11 percent hiking/backpacking, 10 percent golf/tennis, and 9 percent organized team sports. (Total percent exceeds 100 since many people participated in more than one activity).

The number of days of participation indicates the high-level of importance people place on outdoor recreation, according to Foti. Those who walked/jogged did so an average 15 times during the month, bicyclists were out riding an average 10 times per month, and swimmers were in the water an average 8 times per month.

the Pork Promotion, Research and Consumer Information Act.

The delegates' voting power is determined by the dollar amount of pork sales in their respective states. This means Wisconsin delegates' votes may carry more weight than votes of delegates from minor states. The number of delegates per state doesn't always reflect the size of the industry in that state.

The mandatory check-off funds will be used to support marketing, product and production research. This research is intended to improve the public image of the pork industry and to increase public awareness of pork's nutritional value and its role in healthy diets.

The development of the Pork Act is an ongoing process. The research projects to be funded are yet to be determined. Since pork producers are going to be investing in it, it's a good idea to follow the process and get to know the candidates and the program.

Pork producers in Washington County can vote at the Washington County Cooperative Extension Service Office located in the Washington County Courthouse. Office hours are from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

On Saturday, June 7, the prairie was planted with the help of Mr. Bob Ahrenhorster of Prairie Seed Source, who was our supplier of seed. Three grasses and 56 plants were incorporated into the Prairie. We are all anxious to see what will grow but were told this is a very slow process and must exercise patience. In fall, Mr. Ahrenhorster shall give us a slide presentation on the plants. The Colgate Palmolive Co.

KMLHS Awarded Two AAL Grants

Appleton - Kettle Moraine Lutheran High School, Jackson, has been awarded two grants totaling $3,900 for the 1986-87 school year from Aid Association for Lutheran (AAL).

The money will be used to subsidize tuition and related expenses for 15 teachers attending conferences, workshops and seminars, and to develop a special education program at the school. Local high schools determine their needs in three general areas: faculty and staff development, program enrichment and constituent relations.

The grants are part of AAL's Lutheran High School Enrichment Program, which this year will provide nearly $500,000 to 100 Lutheran high schools in the United States.

Last year, the grants helped 893 Lutheran high school teachers seeking advanced degrees, state certification or other professional develop-

In addition, schools used the grants to enhance computer courses, business classes and career guidance programs. Other courses were developed or improved for college-bound students, and to teach basic skills.

In the area of constituent relations, the grants were used for newsletters and church bulletin inserts, and to develop recruiting and fund-raising programs.

AAL funds many educational support programs, which this year will provide more than $4.5 million to students and the schools they attend. Other AAL grants provide millions of dollars to Lutheran institutions and other not-for-profit organizations, and to provide support for AAL members who conduct volunteer activities through 6,400 local branches across the nation.

Genius is one per cent inspiration an ninety-nine per cent perspiration.

Milwaukee Gas Light Company has received approval from the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin to distribute and sell natural gas in the Village of Kewaskum. An exclusive franchise to serve the community had been granted the utility by Kewaskum's Village Board.

Three young men from Kewaskum and area left June 17 for Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., for six months of training with the National Guard. The trio included Ken Bales, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bales, Route 2, Campbellsport, Konstantyn Sadownikow, son of Mrs. Norman Rauch, Kewaskum, and Claude Johann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Johann, St. Michaels.

Mrs. Wesley Kuehl, 40, of 669 Indiana Ave., West Bend, a native of Kewaskum, died very unexpectedly at her home on June 26.

A free summer band program is again being held at Kewaskum High School this year. These classes consist of rehearsals with the senior band on Thursday and the junior band on Wednesday and sectionals and private lessons during the day. A total of 140 students from the Kewaskum area are participating. Included in this number are nineteen beginning band students. These people, most of whom have never read music before, will play in the beginning band for one year before being advanced to the junior band. These beginners are: Dennis Backhaus, Nancy Bullette, JoAnne Bunkelman, Neal Degner, James Foerster, Colleen Frank, Kathryn Hansen, Terry Heberer, Leslie Kaschner, Clifford Kleinke, Diane Maedke, Kenneth Ogi, Suellen Reigle, Daniel Schaefer, Jean Schaefer, Jeffrey Schleif, Renee Teeselink, Susan Werner and Cynthia Wertz.

Coroner Joseph Murray of Fond du Lac County reported that searching crews late Tuesday night had removed from Long Lake, located north of Kewaskum, the body of Fred Luthy, 45, of the Town of West Bend, who drowned Sunday when he was stricken while fishing from a boat and fell overboard.

Ten years have passed since the first class graduated from the present Kewaskum High School building. Although it does not seem that long, the class of 1926 was the first group to receive their diplomas in the new building. This class, along with their wives and husbands, held a reunion banquet at the Republican House here last Sunday. Of the 13 graduates, 10 were present Sunday evening. They were: Oscar Boegel, Clarence Weinert, Aloysius Volm, Alois Wietor, Marc David Rosenheimer, Mrs. Elmer Yoost (Cecelia Guth), Mrs. Edw. E. Miller (Mae Little), Mrs. Wm. Becker (Hilda Windorf), Mrs. Herman Schaefer (Alpha Meilahn), and Mrs. Lawrence Gaffney (Nelora Klein). The three others: Mrs. Harry Kellar (Bernice Perschbacher), Mrs. Peter Kohler (Rosalind Pflum) and Lorraine Boegel were unable to attend.

Wednesday, July 8, the young ladies of St. Kilian parish will give a grand "Kirmes" dance in the spacious school auditorium. Refreshments will be served. Sunday, July 12, the married ladies of the parish will sponsor a big "Kirmes" celebration. A delicious country dinner, as you like it, will be served at 40 cents to adults and 25 cents to children. The picnic will continue all afternoon.

A popular young couple of the Town of Wayne was united in marriage, Tuesday, June 30, when Miss Martha Faber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar A. Faber of the Town of Wayne, and Joseph Kudek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kudek, of the same township, became man and wife, at the parsonage of Holy Trinity Church in this village.

With pageantry and parades, citizens are commemorating the 100th birthday of Fond du Lac this week in a series of events scheduled to attract thousands of persons.

Included in the list of graduates at the Dodge County Normal School, Mayville, this year is Miss Florence Westerman of Kewaskum, R.R.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Rosenheimer at St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac, last Friday.

July 1, 1911

Fred Backhaus Sr., living just outside the village limits on the New Fane road, had a narrow escape from death last Monday evening, when a vicious horse almost chewed him to death. Mr. Backhaus was preparing to leave for his son Adolph's place to help the latter do some butchering. He had led the horse out of the barn and left him standing alone outside to go and get another horse. When returning he found that the horse had left and went towards the road, where he was eating grass. He proceeded to go after the horse. When within reaching distance the animal without any warning sprang upon his master and grabbed the latter by the back of the head inflicting a bite wound, which is not serious. Mr. Backhaus no doubt then swung up his arm to defend himself and by doing so the crazed animal grabbed his arm at the wrist and chewed it up badly, throwing the unfortunate man to the ground. The screams of Mr. Backhaus attracted his daughter, who grabbed her father by the legs and dragged him to safety. Medical aid was at once summoned.

Again we call to the people of this community to come to Kewaskum on July 4th to celebrate that day. Kewaskum has always been noted to give all visitors all the enjoyment possible on that day. For a picnic grounds the North Side Park cannot be outclassed. There will be plenty of amusements for the benefit of all. The day will close with a grand dance. Music in the afternoon will be furnished by the Kewaskum Brass Band of 16 pieces, while the Kewaskum Quintette of 8 pieces will furnish the dance music in the evening. Arrangements for an auto parade on the afternoon of the Fourth have been made. The closing festivities will be held in the South Side Park hall with a grand dance on the evening of the Fifth with music by the Kewaskum Quintette. Once more, come to Kewaskum to celebrate the 4th and 5th and Let the Eagle Scream.

Adolph Rosenheimer of this village and J. B. Day of Hartford on last Wednesday made another large real estate deal by purchasing the 300 acre farm together with some personal property of Gust. Kuehl of Wayne. The amount paid for the farm is $17,500.

The village now has ten automobiles, the last one being received by Henry Ramthun on Monday. It is a Ford roadster and was purchased from Geo. Klein of Lomira. Mr. Ramthun's car is the tenth car in the village. That the automobile craze has reached this village has been shown the past few weeks as several new cars have been purchased.

Mrs. William L. Gatzke, 31, Beechwood, died on June 16, with the cause of death being tuberculosis.

A new shoemaker arrived in town last Saturday morning when a bouncing baby boy made it's appearance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mich. Heindl.

APPOINTMENTS APPRECIATED

by KANDIVEAL
U-W Extension
4-H & Youth Agent

Wisconsin 4-H youth will show how well they can judge livestock this month at Wisconsin District Livestock and Dairy Days.

They'll come together to demonstrate their skill at evaluating dairy cattle, beef cattle, sheep and swine.

Junior 4-H'ers (ages 9 to 12) and seniors (ages 13 to 18) will participate individually and as teams at Cedarburg. Washington County's livestock judging team consists of eight members. Senior judging team members include Pam Hetzel, Bill Butzlaff, Diane Schmidt, and Philip Filber. Junior judging team members include Kurt Langenecker, Tina Langenecker, Jeff Steinert, and Vicki Janz. These youth have participated in a series of fair judging workouts.

Each animal species will be grouped four to a class. Participants will rank those four animals according to marketing characteristics, then explain the ranking to the judges. Judges will decide how well the participants know the characteristics that make up the ideal animal, and the seriousness of various defects.

Youth learn to make decisions and justify their decisions through oral reasons. Youth then develop communication skills and decision making skills.

Some of the participating 4-H'ers may one day be taking over the family farm. Others are pursuing careers as breed classifiers, artificial inseminators, or as buyers for milk and meat companies.

The District Livestock and Dairy Days are intense learning experiences. It's not just a matter of evaluating the animals. The 4-H'ers must also be able to logically and rationally organize their thoughts, and clearly articulate them to the judge. Basic science is also involved. For example, participants must understand the genetics involved in animal breeding.

In addition to the main judging events, the 4-H'ers will participate in dairy and livestock bowls, poster-making competitions and interviews for livestock and dairy leadership awards. Two Washington County youth will be interviewing for the leadership award. They are Ann Shaw of the Myraneers 4-H Club and Bill Butzlaff of the Kewaskum 4-H Club. Doug Mayer will be representing Washington County in the Dairy Showmanship Contest.

CHILD FINGERPRINTING TO BE PROVIDED AT FAIR

The Washington County Sheriff's Department will provide child fingerprinting at the County Fair, thanks to the financial support of the Washington County Homemakers.

The fingerprinting will be provided for children who are at least four years of age, and who are accompanied by a parent or other adult family member. Sheriff's deputies will provide this service on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday (July 25, 26, 27) from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. The printing will be done at the law enforcement information tent.

"I am sure that parents will appreciate the service provided by the Washington County Homemakers and will take advantage of this program," said Sheriff Clarence A. Schwartz.

Parents are reminded that fingerprints are generally useful only after a child is in danger. "It is important that parents educate their children to stay clear of strangers and from situations that can place them in danger in the first place," the Sheriff stated. "To that end, we supply information on child safety to parents when they bring their children in to be printed."

Liability Insurance Costs Affect Summer Recreation

MADISON...Numerous communities around the state have been hit so hard by rising liability insurance costs, some canceled their Fourth of July celebrations, picnics, and sports events, according to Representative Dwight York (R-Lomira).

In a survey done by the office of Senator Robert Kasten (R-Wisconsin), nearly half of 372 county and municipal officials said that they have been denied liability insurance or had their insurance canceled.

"In the May special session, the liability crisis should have been high on the list of issues to be addressed," Representative York said. "The crisis is hitting everywhere, this summer it's really put a damper on summer recreation. Local officials are saying basic services may be at risk. The mood was there to address this problem in the special session, the leadership certainly wasn't."

The City of Oconomowoc has reported its insurance costs increased more than 250% in the past year. Seven percent of the survey respondents had increases of more than 250%. Twenty-six percent had their insurance canceled, twelve percent decreased coverage, and six percent was turned down.

York said, "The survey's figures are frightening. The liability insurance program definitely hurts a town's treasury. Festivals held in the past had brought in revenue."

Input from people around the State of Wisconsin, says York, should be directed to Governor Earl to prompt him from delaying any further from solving the program of skyrocketing liability insurance costs.

York Supports Business, Jobs

MADISON...In a study recently released by the Wisconsin Manufacturers and Commerce, State Representative Dwight York rates as the leading supporter of issues affecting Wisconsin's business climate and job creation.

The study, a tabulation of legislative voting records, depicts York as consistent with WMC objectives 92 percent of the time. Legislators spanned a WMC consistency rating from a low of 30 percent to York's 92 percent.

The WMC is a statewide voice for business, manufacturing, and chamber of commerce in matters of public policy. In a representative government, legislators are judged on the votes they cast. "I believe the State of Wisconsin needs to do more to create jobs with a pro-business attitude," the Lomira Republican explained.

Among the 42 issues covered by the study and supported by the WMC are economic development, tax policies, unemployment compensation reform and utility diversification.

"We need to do much more if Wisconsin's jobs and business climate is to rebound. I fully intend to continue to support legislation that furthers these goals and opportunities for our state," York said.

City of West Bend Wins Governor's Energy Award

MADISON — The City of West Bend was honored by Gov. Anthony Earl for the development of its energy-saving, curbside recycling program.

Governor Earl presented the Governor's Award for Energy Innovation in a ceremony at 11 a.m. on Thursday, June 26, in the Conference Room, 115 East, State Capitol.

West Bend began a mandatory curbside recycling program, collecting newspapers and waste oil, in 1983. The program was so successful that in 1984 the city expanded the program to include voluntary recycling of metal, glass, plastics, and cardboard.

West Bend's recycling project combines the best features of many other programs. It requires separation of recyclable materials at the source, it includes mandatory recycling of motor oil (a continuing serious disposal problem in most communities), and it is well used because of curbside service. Finally, the West Bend program was developed with a high level of citizen participation.

The program saved about 3.4 billion BTUs in 1985, generated $15,000 in revenue, eliminated 3,000 cubic yards of waste (which if dumped in a landfill would have cost the city $21,000), and created two new jobs in a local recycling firm.

Now in its third year, the Governor's Energy Award program was established in cooperation with the federal Department of Energy to recognize effective new energy conservation ideas, programs and technologies.

Five 1986 Governor's Award winners and three honorable mention winners were selected from more than three dozen competitors ranging from commercial businesses to schools and civic groups. This year's award winners will go on to compete for the National Awards for Energy Innovation in Washington, D.C. In the last two years, most of Wisconsin's state winners have received national awards.

Garvey: Bringing Ag. Sec. Lyng to State Like Rubbing Salt in Wounds of Dairy Farmers

MADISON — "Bringing Secretary of Agriculture Richard Lyng to Wisconsin is like rubbing salt in the wounds of Wisconsin dairy farmers," U. S. Senate candidate Ed Garvey said this week.

Lyng visited a Jackson County farm last weekend at the invitation of Rep. Steve Gunderson.

"For those two to come to visit Wisconsin farmers really takes some nerve," Garvey said. "Lyng and Gunderson have signed the death warrants for thousands of family farms in Wisconsin. Now they've come to deliver them in person."

"The only people missing were Senators Robert Kasten and Jesse Helms," Garvey said. "If they showed up, we'd have the whole family farm firing squad lined up in one place."

Helms chairs the Senate Agriculture Committee and is a leading supporter of administration farm policies, which are forcing farmers off the land, Garvey said.

"Lyng has supported lower milk prices, which will push even more dairy farmers into bankruptcy," Garvey said. "He says Wisconsin dairy farmers may be the most efficient in the country, but his policies guarantee they still won't be able to make a living."

Garvey criticized Kasten, whose seat he is seeking, for voting to confirm Lyng's appointment as agriculture secretary.

"Only one Senator from Wisconsin voted to confirm Lyng's appointment, and that was Robert Kasten," Garvey said. "Kasten voted for him on his earlier record of working and lobbying against the interests of dairy farmers. Kasten may criticize administration farm policies now and then, but he's responsible for them."

Workshop for Adults To Complete Degrees At West Bend July 10

Information workshops about the Extended Degree Program will be held July 10 in West Bend.

The program enables Wisconsin adults with some college experience to complete their degrees without returning to campus. Because students do most of the course work on an independent basis in their own homes, the program is especially beneficial for those with job and/or family obligations or for those who do not live close to a campus which grants degrees in business administration.

The program in business administration is offered through the University of Wisconsin-Platteville. The degree earned through this program is the same as that earned by on-campus students and is fully accredited by the UW system. Areas of specialization available include finance, management, marketing, and personnel and labor relations. An accounting minor is also available.

The workshop will be held at 5:30 p.m. at the UW Center-Washington County, 400 University Drive. It will last for approximately one hour and there is no charge to attend. To register or for more information, call the UW-Platteville's Extended Degree Program office toll-free at 1-800-362-5460.

Graduation: Coping With a New Lifestyle

By Mary P. Benoit
Washington County Extension
Summer Home Economist

Sara Jenkins, a senior and honor student at Will James High School, plans to attend the University of Wisconsin-Madison next year on a scholarship. For her, graduation will mark the end of an illustrious high school career, one she says she'll miss.

Walt Whitman High School senior John Abrams will continue working at his uncle's auto body repair shop after graduation. He'll move into an apartment, located five blocks from his parents, with a friend.

Sara and John are just two of about 73,000 Wisconsin high school seniors, who may soon be making the transition from living at home to "life on their own." Some will leave parents and hometowns for marriage, college and/or jobs. Others will remain at or closer to home.

Though each graduate will follow a separate path, they will all have one thing in common during the next few years. While the length of time and the degree of affection will vary, each graduate will go through a period of stress while adjusting to a new lifestyle.

At the same time graduates are facing difficult career and job decisions, they must also cope with less apparent, and harder to plan for, lifestyle changes. These include adjusting to roommates, paying bills, budgeting money, making decisions on sexual relations, and coping with peer pressures.

Many teenagers tend to glamorize that eventual time when they can move into their own apartment and "cut the apron strings."

Part of our culture stresses independence and the ability to be cool and suave when coping with new situations, it's easy to forget how stressful this period can be for those who are leaving home for the first time. This is a time when many teens are turning to alcohol and drugs to cope.

Some youth try to completely sever the emotional bond with their parents when they leave home. They really want to be completely independent.

Most people maintain ties with their families, but research has found that teenage kids who completely break off from their parents are more apt to return home, or become dependent on their parents, in their mid-twenties.

Many graduates going through this period of change experience mood swings. Sometimes the young person will feel independent and confident in making personal decisions. Other times she/he'll feel insecure and dependent on others, especially parents.

High School graduates who leave home should realize that it's okay to call or visit parents, as long as they aren't relied on to make all the decisions.

During this stage, graduates are learning to make household management decisions previously handled by parents. This is one area where students probably should consult parents.

Parents, who have built up years of experience in this area may help to prepare the graduate before he or she leaves home by teaching money management and other consumer skills. But good advice may be especially important while the graduate is finding an apartment, learning to live in it and learning how to manage the household smoothly.

For many graduates, leaving home will mean a drop in standard of living. Many will not be able to afford to keep themselves in the style they were used to at home.

Those who have been accustomed to their own room will often have little choice but to share their living quarters with at least one roommate, often more, to cut rental and other costs of setting up household. A bulk of the young person's income must go toward buying first time household goods and furnishings.

Unlike working high school students whose income is mainly spent on recreation, clothing, records and other personal items, the graduate will have to pay bills and purchase necessities.

An area of decision-making which students often keep independent of parental advice is sexuality. There is a lot of pressure for this age group to be sexually active. In fact, many students have already had sexual encounters by the time they leave high school.

Making decisions on birth control, who to enter into relations with, and how to deal with guilt require a thorough exploration of values. Sometimes the pressure of the moment and the desire for emotional closeness tend to cut that searching process short.

Roommates and friends often are a source of advice on these issues. Dating habits and sexual relations, however, can cause difficulties, especially with roommates. If a boyfriend or girlfriend begins spending time in the apartment, the other roommate may begin to resent having to share with more people than she or he expects. It's important to discuss these possible occurrences in advance.

Choosing the right roommate is important. A roommate can determine whether you feel safe in your home, whether you have the freedom to live the way you want and whether home is somewhere you want to come home to at night.

The key to successful sharing is respect for the others involved and open communication. Don't make any assumptions. Talk about the hours you keep, how loud you like to play the stereo and things like whether you're messy or a compulsive cleaner. If you find too many differences, friendship alone won't solve your problems.

A DOUBLE CELEBRATION

Birthdays are a time to sit back and reflect on times past, more importantly, on what lies ahead. There are so many challenges which lie before our America of 1986, yet it does not seem they could be any greater than those faced by our forefathers of 1776.

The problems we face are different, but history has proven America is most capable of conquering these problems. The difficult times cannot be ignored, but one fact remains, America has endured. Our greatest national symbol has also endured. The Statue of Liberty is celebrating her 100th birthday. But she is more than a national symbol. She stands for something deep within the American spirit. Millions of people have been welcomed by her shining torch. She has remained a glorious symbol of opportunity and hope. The Lady Liberty represents the same ideals left to us through the legacy of a group of men over 200 years ago.

Presently it is all too easy to take this country for granted. We must not abuse our ideals of justice, liberty and equality. Instead it is our job to continue nurturing and preserving these rights for generations to come.

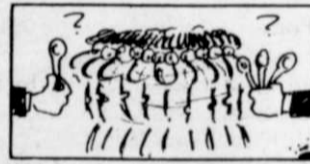

In the future we cannot accept complacency. America is a country of continuous growth. Through trial and error, a way of life has been built that exceeds anything our ancestors could have imagined or past immigrants could have dreamed. We must strive to ensure the same for the future of America. In doing so, the spirit of the Statue of Liberty will continue to light the world.

On this the 210th birthday of America, we can reflect upon and be proud of the greatest nation on earth. So, happy birthday, America, and many, many, more....

Hephner Begins Campaign For Lt. Governor

State Representative Gervase Hephner (D-Chilton) has announced his bid for lieutenant governor saying he will be a candidate "for all the people." Hephner formerly represented our area before the districts were realigned.

Pointing to his diverse background, Hephner said, "I plan to bring a good balance to the Democratic ticket this fall."

Hephner was born in a beet weeder's shack near Chilton, Wisconsin, 50 years ago. Today, he is a successful businessman, farmer, family man, and lawmaker.

"I have stood at an assembly line for eight hours a day, and I have pulled a small business up by its bootstraps. I volunteered to serve my country and am classified as a Korean Era Veteran. My wife, Kay, and I have raised a family and we still farm the homestead founded by my great-grandfather in 1866. And, of course, I have represented the people of the Fox Valley for twenty years in the Legislature," Hephner said.

"It is this varied background that has helped me understand and better serve all the people of Wisconsin," Hephner said.

Hephner has been labeled as a "maverick Democrat" and as "the Silver Fox" during his colorful legislative career. But if his style is unorthodox, it is also effective. Probably no lawmaker has a longer list of major accomplishments this past legislative session.

The past two years included creation of Hephner's CROP loan program, which is keeping many Wisconsin farmers — and the businesses they deal with — afloat during tough economic times. "Many of our farms will not make it, but we must help those that we can," Hephner said. "Agribusiness is, after all, our number one industry."

He also authored the liquor creation and training, economic development, property tax relief and crime. However, his number one priority would be to actively promote Wisconsin, its products and its people.

"It is high time we tell the rest of the country — the rest of the world — just what Wisconsin has to offer," Hephner said. "I will be the Ambassador for Wisconsin as a place to live, work and vacation, and as a source of the finest products and services in the world."

The diversity of Hephner's background is also reflected in his legislative district, which primarily consists of the urban south side of Appleton and rural Calumet County on the eastern shore of Lake Winnebago.

Hephner has been elected to the Assembly since 1966, and notes that he is the only Democrat from the Fox Cities holding state office. "I must be doing something right," he said. "There has never been a person in 20 years who could not get a response from me or my office when they had problems. Now I hope to expand that tradition of service to the entire state."

Hephner's four-day announcement tour began on his farm in Chilton. Other stops included Manitowoc, Sheboygan, Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha, Madison, LaCrosse, Eau Claire, Chippewa Falls and Wausau.

Goodrich to Run For Lt. Governor

Former Assembly Representative Patricia A. Goodrich (R-Berlin) has announced she will seek the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. Goodrich declared her candidacy at the Republican State Convention held in Milwaukee.

HANAWAY CANDIDATE FOR ATTY. GENERAL

Several weeks ago, Sen. Don Hanaway made the decision to become a candidate for Wisconsin Attorney General in this year's election.

liability law, which prevented insurance problems from bringing an end to Wisconsin's tradition of community fairs and picnics. But Hephner said the many other insurance problems facing all businesses and individuals must also be addressed. "It is an issue I would provide leadership on as lieutenant governor," Hephner said.

The legislator also authored a new law which provides quicker increases in school aids to areas with depressed real estate and land values. "This law will send millions more dollars to the areas where it is needed the most. It benefits manufacturing centers as well as struggling rural communities, like Milwaukee," Hephner said.

Hephner also worked on a law which created a new recycling program for industrial wastes such as foundry sands and paper mill sludge. "Some of these wastes can be put to productive use, benefiting businesses and the environment at the same time," he said.

Previous accomplishments include Hephner's successful push to create a University of Wisconsin veterinary school, creation of the "Something Special from Wisconsin" marketing campaign and the extension of the period during which unemployed workers can continue under their group health insurance policies.

Hephner said he would continue his leadership among lawmakers as lieutenant governor on issues such as job

Thiemerdome Thursday Goodtime League

BJ & Co.	3	0
Bartelt Ins.	1	1
A & M Const.	1	1
Barrel Haus	1	1
Thornton	0	3

Highlights

My apologies for no highlight article last week. I was on a 5 day religious retreat up north.

The week of 6/19 featured a close game between BJ & Co. and Thornton's Bombers. The game was decided in the last inning with a belly slapping shoestring catch by Dennis "Jacker" Jazak as BJ & Co edged out the Bombers. The 2nd game saw A & M Construction continue on their winning ways by defeating Barrel Haus.

The week of 6/26 a boisterous overflow crowd witnessed 2 fine games as Barrel Haus crushed the Bombers 8-5 and BJ & Co. edged out Bartelt Ins. 1-0. That's right, it is not a misprint, the score was 1-0 in a slow pitch game mind you. The only run was a home run by here's that name again Dennis "Jacker" Jazak. The catcher for BJ & Co., What's His Name, hit a fly ball. It is evident that father time is catching up with the Bartelt squad when former speed merchant Dennis "Wheels" Reha hits into a double play. The play went like this. Slow grounder to the shortstop, he bobbles then throws to 2nd for the force, the 2nd baseman then bobbles and throws to 1st and nails "Wheels" by 5 feet. It was a bitter defeat for Mike "Rags" Pfeiffer as he just came off the injured reserve list and pitched a dandy of a game. He muttered something about the Sisters of St. Mary having a better hitting attack. It looks like the general manager of Bartelt Ins. may have to entertain the outrageous demands of hitting coach Cy "Mayor" Wietor and hire him for some of his tips on hitting a moving sphere with a long cylinder.

So far the biggest disappointment in the league has been the inept play of Jeff "Rabbit" Ramel for the Barrel Haus team. Jeff is a former Triple A superstar who has cut back his softball schedule due to a nagging wife. He came to the Thiemerdome backed by a lot of east coast media hype and he had newspaper clippings from head to toe. He has been having trouble hitting the ball out of his shadow. He claims it is the split finger hover dip pitch used by the pitchers at the dome. The pitchers have had to develop this pitch to compensate for the east to west slope of the playing field. Derby Rinas, the coach of the Barrel Haus squad, indicated a little "pine time" may be in order for the Rabbit.

PLAY OF THE WEEK

Homer "Ageless Wonder" Justman made a game saving 7th inning catch with the bases loaded to save a win for BJ & Co. Mike Reuteman for Bartelt Ins. hit a frozen rope to right field and Homer chased after it as if it was wearing a skirt and made a fine catch.

Results: It seems like the over-the-hill gang, made up of John Kleinke, Beno Krueger, Mike Ebert, Greg Kudek, and Dennis Jacak are giving Amerahn the winning combination to lead the league for the first half. Home runs from the big guns were by Greg Kudek, Beno Krueger, Steve Ebert, Randy Fechter, Lee Schultz, Dennis Jacak and Steve Tackes.

Oh, yes! the Saloon had a couple homers from Gary Zehren. Manager Mark Herriges, known as "Hoss," said, "we're mainly a hit and run team and usually turn it on after the Kewaskum Picnic."

Tom's Milling of Ashford can't seem to get the boys to play together this first half. From the head coach there'll be some changes this next half or else. There is a bright side. Gary Bonlander had a 4 bagger for Tom's.

Pat Jerry's had some highlights with John Minz hitting a few homers with Pat Jerry's helping out too. Games are played at 1:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m. Come on out, see if the Amerahn will hang onto its lead. Will the saloon start their hit and run game tactics for the 2nd half?

Indians Have Good Week, Win 3 Games

The Kewaskum Indians finally found their batting eyes and as a result won three games the past week, two of them over conference opponents and the other one over Campbellsport. The three straight improved their overall record to 9-5 and 4-4 in the EW.

The first victory came Wednesday over Campbellsport, 10-3, and put a dent in the Cougars' fine 10-2 record. Back to back wins over Kiel Thursday, 14-5, and Two Rivers Friday, 7-0, then followed.

The Indians scored 30 runs in the three games. Bob Yahr has gotten 10 hits in his last 15 times at bat to lead the way, many of them for extra bases. Tim Dettmann has five hits in his last 11 at bats, and Don Menzel has also started to club the ball.

The first two innings were scoreless in the Campbellsport contest before Tim Bingen opened the scoring with a home run. Kewaskum scored one more run in the inning and then continued to score in all of the rest of the frames to take a comfortable lead. Yahr, Menzel and Mark Schlosser each had three hits for the Indians while Rick Staehler and Dettmann had two.

The Cougars scored two runs in the fifth when eight batters went to the plate. In the sixth Campbellsport loaded the bases but Troy Zimdars came in to relieve Yahr and struck out Grahl. Only Jeff Narges managed more than one hit against the Kewaskum pitchers.

The Indians trailed Kiel, 5-1, Thursday but bounced back with two runs in the fourth, three in the fifth and eight in the sixth, giving Menzel a victory. Kiel shouldn't have had any of its first runs. An Indian fielder lost the ball in the haze and this was followed by a based loaded triple by Todd Zorn.

After a walk and two singles, Jack Aupperle singled to start the big rally in the eighth. Then two more walks and a hit batsman followed, Dettmann's double emptied the bases and Yahr drove him in with a single.

Menzel, the Indians' all-conference pitcher, had eight strikeouts and issued only three walks in garnering the victory. Dave Lepisto took the loss for the Raiders.

In the shutout win over Two Rivers Friday, Tim Rohlinger went the route, allowing only three hits. He only had three strikeouts but also was stingy with walks.

Kewaskum scored three runs in the first two innings, which was all they needed. Four singles in succession by Menzel, Jeff Newhauser, Rohlinger and Staehler accounted for the final two runs.

The Indians are still well behind leading New Holstein (8-2) and were scheduled to meet Plymouth in a double-header here Thursday at 4:30 p.m. Kewaskum travels to New Holstein Monday and Two Rivers Tuesday.

Coach Dickinsen was pleased with their scrappy style of play and also the enthusiasm, intensity, unselfishness and great defense they displayed.

WIAA Football Playoffs Expanded to 96 Teams

WIAA football playoffs will expand in 1987 from 48 to 96 teams.

The Board of Control made that decision Monday (June 23) on the basis of sentiment expressed by the membership and the recommendation of the Advisory Council and Sports Advisory Committee.

Action by the Board came at its regular June meeting in La Crosse. The Council made its recommendation at its tri-annual meeting earlier in the weekend, and the Sports Committee met a week ago. Both the Council and the Sports Committee had recommended in January that the expanded playoff format be adopted but the Board decided the membership should have an opportunity for input at the Annual Meeting and that a survey should be conducted thereafter.

The survey - participated in by 91.2% of the 397 football schools - showed 234 in favor of expanding and 109 opposed (with 17 others opting to let the Board make the decision).

The proposal to expand the playoffs originated with the Coaches Advisory Committee for football after the 1985 season.

The Board did not finalize the format for the expanded playoffs but generally the additional teams will be conference runners-up. Only conference champions presently participate in the playoffs. The expanded format will not extend the present season but it will retain the Tuesday playoff opener.

Effective 1987 when the 96-team plan goes into effect, schools will be limited to a maximum of nine games (instead of ten), and the playoffs will move its opening game into what presently is the last week of the regular season.

In a related football playoff move, the Board gave preliminary approval to a plan drawn up by the office staff in which sites for football playoff games effective this coming season (1986) will be pre-determined. The tentative plan is to announce in September the approximately 100 possible sites for playoff games. The actual location of sectional semifinal and sectional final games will not be made until all participating teams are known - a few days before the opening round of play.

Among other business the Board also tentatively assigned Oakfield of the Wisconsin Flyway Conference to the Central Lakeshore Conference for football only effective 1987-88.

Motorcycle Hill Climb at Sunburst Draws 59 Riders

The 3rd annual motorcycle hill climb was held Sunday at Sunburst Ski Hill near Kewaskum, with 59 amateur and pro riders competing on the 325-foot length hill with a drop of over 200 feet.

The race was sponsored by the Kettle Moraine Sport Riders and offered a $1,000 purse, along with bonuses sponsored by Van Beek Cycle of West Bend and Bob's Harley Davidson of Fond du Lac.

This year a new record was set by Jay Parmeter of Wisconsin Rapids with a time of 9.66 seconds. He received a share of the purse and a $100 bonus.

The Kettle Moraine Sport Riders did the work in developing and cleaning up the track, which will be a new run at Sunburst next winter. Some riders had a hard time keeping their front wheels on the ground, others lost control and only made it half way up the hill.

The event attracted a goodly amount of spectators. The four top riders in each event were as follows:

Stock Class 259cc - 1. Paul Heidenreich, Stockton, Ill.; 2. Mike Bronk, Wisconsin Rapids; 3. Phil Ridley; 4. Brian Phillips, West Bend.

Profits of Softball Tourney Here Go Toward Park Lights

The Kewaskum Softball Association hosted an eight team men's softball tournament at the Kewaskum Kiwanis Community Park over the weekend.

The Trio Bar of Barton copped first place honors in the event. The tourney was sponsored by Marlin Dreher, Jim Rinas and Earl Kleinke of the Softball Association. All proceeds of the tournament go toward the future purchase of lights in the park for night softball.

The event was a round robin affair. Trio Bar clinched the title by winning all of its seven games, including a 10-2 victory over the Kewaskum Saloon in the finals Sunday afternoon.

Finishing second in the tourney with a 6-1 record was the Brown Jug of West Bend, whose only loss was to Trio Bar. Next came the Hill Billies of Slinger, 5-2; Bohn Dry, 4-3; BJ and Company, West Bend, 3-4; Trenton View Recreation Center, 2-5; Kewaskum Saloon, 1-6, and Serigraph, West Bend, 0-7.

Another tournament is being planned later in the summer and a benefit golf outing in September. The event made $1,600 last year and the same amount was expected to be taken in from the weekend tourney.
