After more than two and a half hours of discussions and explanations, during a special meeting Monday night, members of the Kewaskum School Board told administrators they had done a good job in keeping within the 1986-87 3.5% gross levy increase limit recommended earlier this year. But for board member Perry Ankerson, good wasn't enough as he asked the administrators to go back over the proposed school budget and do better.

Ankerson wasn't alone in his feelings as board members Ralph Horner and Clara Trapp indicated they also felt more cuts could be made in the budget.

After Business Manager Cherna Gorder took the board through the proposed $6,762,927 budget step by step, Ankerson questioned several areas where he felt more cuts could be made. "There are several items I feel could be reduced," said Ankerson, "gas for heat could be cut $5,000, teacher travel $2,000, general supplies $25,000, parts $4,000, gasoline $4,000, non-capital objects $5,000, dues and fees $3,000, and building repairs $5,000, resulting in another $53,000 I feel could be trimmed from this budget."

District Administrator Penny Kleinhans told Ankerson, "right off the top I can tell you $25,000 out of General Supplies would be very difficult to meet." Both Kleinhans and Director of Instruction Julie Backus felt they had trimmed all they could in that area. Kleinhans told the board, a majority of the items in that object classification are materials which are needed for direct work with students. These are things we've ordered so we'll have them on hand when school begins, she noted. Backus also indicated that some items, although included in the budget, will be covered by funds received in the form of grants to the district during the next year.

After listening to the administration's comments on the areas he felt could be cut, Ankerson agreed that it might not be able to make the exact reduction in the specific items he had outlined, but that he still felt another $50,000 could be trimmed from somewhere in the budget.

Board President Tom Brigham told Ankerson, "What you might want to do is set a dollar figure and then leave it up to the administrators to decide where the reductions should be made." Ankerson moved that the administration reduce the budget by $50,000 in the areas they see fit. Horner noted that his vote for Ankerson's motion did not mean he was also approving the revised budget proposal. Brigham said, approval of the motion only meant the board was instructing the administration to reduce the 1986-87 proposed budget by $50,000 and to bring it back to the board for further discussion and consideration at the August 11th meeting.

Gorder reminded the board that the district still has three items in negotiations, a bus contract and salary talks with both support staff and teacher personnel. Only estimated costs have been used to get them into the proposed budget. Exact costs will not be known until negotiations have been completed.

Co-Chairmen Named for Kewaskum United Way

Preliminary plans were made for this fall's Kewaskum United Way Drive by the organization's board of directors at their summer meeting.

John Tessar and Tom Larsen have agreed to act as co-chairmen for the drive. Tessar, personnel director at Regal Ware, served as co-chairman last year and indicated that people and their voluntarism are the ingredients for a successful drive.

Larsen, principal of Farmington and Wayne Elementary Schools, was a division captain in charge of outlying business for the drive last year and will assist there again this year in addition to his co-chairman duties. He said "I'm optimistic that the drive will do as well as or even better than last year."

Margaret McFadden heads the board of directors as president after serving as vice-president last year and co-chairperson in 1984. Jerry Gosa, Kewaskum High chemistry teacher, not only serves as vice-president but will again direct the drive in the Kewaskum district schools as he has done the past several years and also head a campaign in August at Kemp's Dairy in the village.

Darlene Tessar is secretary while Ralph Rimmel is serving as treasurer. Rimmel plans to retire as treasurer after this year and would be interested in someone to work with him this fall on the campaign so they could take over the post next year. Anyone interested should contact the co-chairmen, John Tessar and Tom Larsen, for additional information.

Other board members are Gerald Zimmel, new president of Kewaskum Valley Bank and budget director of the drive; John Coulter, auditor of the drive; Elaine Vetter, Judy Harlow, Dr. Dennis Connor, Ruth Ramel, Mark Jansen, James Hammen and new members Janet Martinson, Joan Groh, Gene Akin and Mary Secor, publicity chairperson.

September 22nd is the starting date of the campaign which has a goal of $30,000 the same as last year. Areas included in the Kewaskum United Way are the village and town of Kewaskum, town of Wayne, Kohlsville, St. Michaels, New Fane, Beechwood, Boltonville and Fillmore. A computer list of residents of the above areas will be updated by board members Ramel, Martinson and Secor.

Volunteers for division captains include Ron Schmitz as head of the professional division, Dave Nigh in charge of the retail division and Gosa heading the public sector division while John Tessar, Larsen, Cy Wietor and Jerry Stollenwerk will oversee the industrial division.

Kewaskum, Other School Districts To Receive Block Grant Funds

Wisconsin school districts will receive nearly $7.5 million in federal Chapter 2 block grant funds for the 1986-87 school year, according to a plan submitted by State Superintendent Herbert J. Grover to the U.S. Department of Education.

Schools can use the money to improve basic literacy skills in reading, mathematics, and communication; to support services such as counseling and guidance; and to meet special needs for innovative and experimental school improvement projects.

Under the distribution formula, recommended by Wisconsin's Education Block Grant Advisory Committee, 50 percent of the funds will be distributed on the basis of 1985-86 enrollments of private and public schools in each school district, 47 percent on the number of children whose families receive Aid to Families with Dependent Children, and 3 percent on a sparsity factor — school districts located in the least-populated areas of the state.

Of the state's $9.3 million award, $1.8 million will remain with the Department of Public Instruction. It will be used for grants to school districts for school improvement and for statewide educational improvement programs and activities that strengthen the planning, management, and implementation of educational programs at the state level.

The federal Education Consolidation and Improvement Act (ECIA) of 1981 created Chapter 2, which consolidated 28 categorical programs into one block grant. The block grant program allows states more flexibility in allocating funds.

Chapter 2 block grant recipients in this area include: Campbellsport, $11,011; Kettle Moraine, $19,044; Kewaskum, $10,320; Lomira, $6,082; Northern Ozaukee, $4,524; Random Lake, $7,254; Slinger, $10,292; West Bend, $46,912.

Fire Damages Home, Boxes Stolen

A 2:10 a.m. fire on Tuesday of last week, July 22, damaged the James Stallman residence at 731 County H in the Town of Farmington. According to investigators, the fire originated in an upstairs portion of the home which was more than 100 years old. Estimates of the damage were not available.

Boxes were reported stolen last week from a travel trailer stored at a home in the 500 block of State 84 in the Town of Farmington. Access was gained by cutting a latch secured by a padlock, using what appeared to be a bolt cutter.

Campus Notes

Two area students are among young men and women who visited the University of Wisconsin-Madison recently to begin registration for studies starting with the opening of the 1986 fall semester on Sept. 2.

The young people took advantage of the university's summer advising orientation program for new freshmen and transfer students. Under this program, students-to-be visit the campus for at least a day, often with one or both parents, arrange for housing, take placement tests, meet student leaders and faculty persons, and begin the registration process.

The students are: Jeanne Lynn Cudnohoske, 208 North Avenue, Kewaskum; Richard J. Heller, 517 Keller St., Kewaskum, Computer Sciences.

Michael Kirchner, 4643 Ridge Rd., Kewaskum, enrolled as a transfer student from UW Center-Washington County, majoring in electrical engineering, at the University of Wisconsin-Platteville during summer registration. The fall semester begins Sept. 2 with the last formal registration session scheduled for Aug. 29.

Enrollment at the University of Wisconsin-Platteville, located in the southwest corner of Wisconsin, 20 miles north of Dubuque, Iowa, is headed toward a record high. The UWP Housing Office, for the first time ever, has placed a ceiling on residence hall occupancy.

Maxwell Street Day In West Bend Aug. 6

Gehl Forage Equipment Boosts Don Nelson's Farm Fund

Friday, Aug. 1, 1986,
Kewaskum Statesman, Page 7

Milwaukee Bucks Coach Don Nelson and Gehl Company President/CEO Bernard Nielsen hope the Gehl forage box, shown here with the top removed, will be filled soon with pledges and donations to help needy farmers.

(WEST BEND, WI) — "Nellie's Farm Fund," named for its founder and benefactor, Milwaukee Bucks Coach Don Nelson, is richer today, thanks to Gehl Company. According to Bernard L. Nielsen, Gehl President/CEO, a new Gehl 970 self-unloading forage box and running gear, valued at $10,000 have been sold to Nelson for $1. The equipment eventually will be given to a deserving farmer.

"Gehl Company is pleased to be part of this worthwhile project to raise funds for financially troubled Wisconsin farmers," says Nielsen. "Our participation in Nellie's Farm Fund is in keeping with the Gehl corporate slogan, 'Investing today in the future of agriculture.' There's no better investment than helping deserving farmers stay in business."

Coach Nelson, who is devoting his summer to raising funds for state farmers, plans to drive a farm tractor, pulling the Gehl forage box, from Milwaukee's State Fair Park to Wausau in August and stop in communities on the way, including Kewaskum, to "pass the hat" for Wisconsin's farmers. (See related item on page 1).

Nelson also drove the tractor with forage box in the Washington County Sesquicentennial parade in Slinger on Tuesday, July 22, at 6:30 p.m.

The tractor, donated by Case IH Corp. of Racine, will pull the Gehl forage box, which will carry a big piggy bank measuring 9 feet by 4½ feet, along with bushel baskets for collecting pledges and donations.

The farm equipment will be given away in Wausau in August, just prior to a statewide telethon hosted by Coach Nelson.

Nelson can appreciate the solid construction and many other quality features of the new Gehl forage box and running gear. He grew up on a farm in Illinois.

He's not sure if that's what prompted him to start his farm fund. "I don't know why I'm doing this," he admits. "I think it's one human being to very worthwhile cause that every contributor can take pride in. Farmers, in a real sense, are America's backbone."

Gehl President Nielsen echoes his sentiment: "It's a

Johnny Cash, Ricky Skaggs, Nitty Gritty Dirt Band to Appear Advance Tickets Available For Sheboygan County Fair

Advance tickets for country western performances by Johnny Cash, Ricky Skaggs, and The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band are now on sale at several locations for their performances at the Sheboygan County Fair being held Labor Day Weekend, Thursday, August 28 through Monday, September 1.

Johnny Cash - June Carter Cash performances are Sunday, eve. Reserve seat advance tickets are $6; at the door tickets are $8.

Ricky Skaggs, along with The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, performances are Thursday evening, August 28. Reserve seat advance tickets are $6; at the door tickets are $8.

Both sets of musical entertainment will include festival or stageside seating for $10 advance tickets. There are some bleachers, but to be even closer people bring their own chairs. This has been popular with fan clubs. Sand will be brought in to reduce mud possibilities.

The stage will be higher and wider this year to provide better visibility for the new covered grandstand with backed seating for 4,000.

Last year and this year's musical entertainment promoter, Jimmy Jay from Tennessee, said Sheboygan

County Fairgrounds has one of the finest facilities in the country, classifying it as a "class act facility."

Advance combine demolition derby tickets are also on sale for $4.

All musician and combine tickets are available at First Interstate Banks and First Wisconsin Banks, Ticketron outlets (at Sears in Sheboygan or toll free 1-800-382-8080 for Visa and Mastercard), Haberman's Drugs, Adams Drugs (both in Plymouth), and the County Fair office, Plymouth. Fair office hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

It is probably the first demolition contest of its kind in Wisconsin. Over eight combines have been lined up with hopes for a few more. Contests have been held at many state fairs and have drawn sellout crowds. Anyone can enter to compete for prizes of $500, $400, $300, $200, and all other entries will receive $100; there is no entry fee.

The combine demolition follows the local tractor pull 7:30 p.m. Friday, August 29.

Local entertainment throughout the fairgrounds and the usual features will again be part of the fair. This year's theme is "Youth Expo of Talent." Sheboygan County has Wisconsin's Largest Youth Exhibit.

The second annual local talent show will be held Labor Day, plus free acts, the 4-H tent, Tip Top Shows' rides and concessions on the midway, and helicopter rides.

Pioneer Wagon Train Brings Back Memories of Yesteryear

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Spectators dressed in shorts, T-tops, sunglasses and toting cameras were a sharp contrast to the men wearing boots, cowboy hats, neckerchiefs and old-fashioned suspenders, accompanied by their ladies who wore long dresses, high-top shoes and sunbonnets, but both groups accurately portrayed the present and the past as they came together last Saturday for a re-enactment of a pioneer wagon train trip.

Curious youngsters walked among the covered wagons, buggies and horses while their parents snapped pictures of teams being harnessed and hitched up in preparation for the start of the trip which would see ten covered wagons, farm wagons and buggies, accompanied by outriders including cavalymen in original uniforms travel from West Bend to Slinger. The route went west along Highway 33, to 18th Avenue, south to NN, on to the fairgrounds.

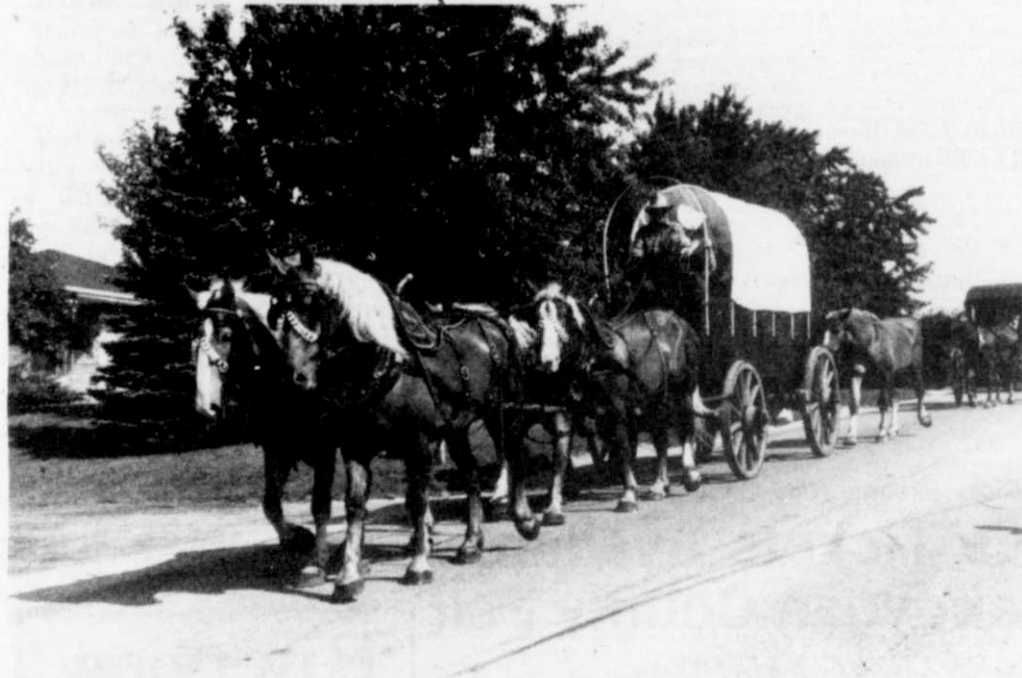

Lewis "Bud" Schmidt of 200 Highway DD, Kewaskum, acted as Wagonmaster, giving last-minute instructions and lining everyone up for the start of the trip. Schmidt said he expected the group to arrive in Slinger about 4:30 p.m. Schmidt said he did not expect any problems along the route. "We'll have one spot, a short steep hill on 18th Avenue from Decorah south, but we'll take it slow and easy and there shouldn't be any problem. Most of the drivers have gone over the route and checked it out so they know pretty much what to expect."

The wagon train was organized by the West Bend Tourism Council as part of the Washington County Sesquicentennial celebration held during fair week.

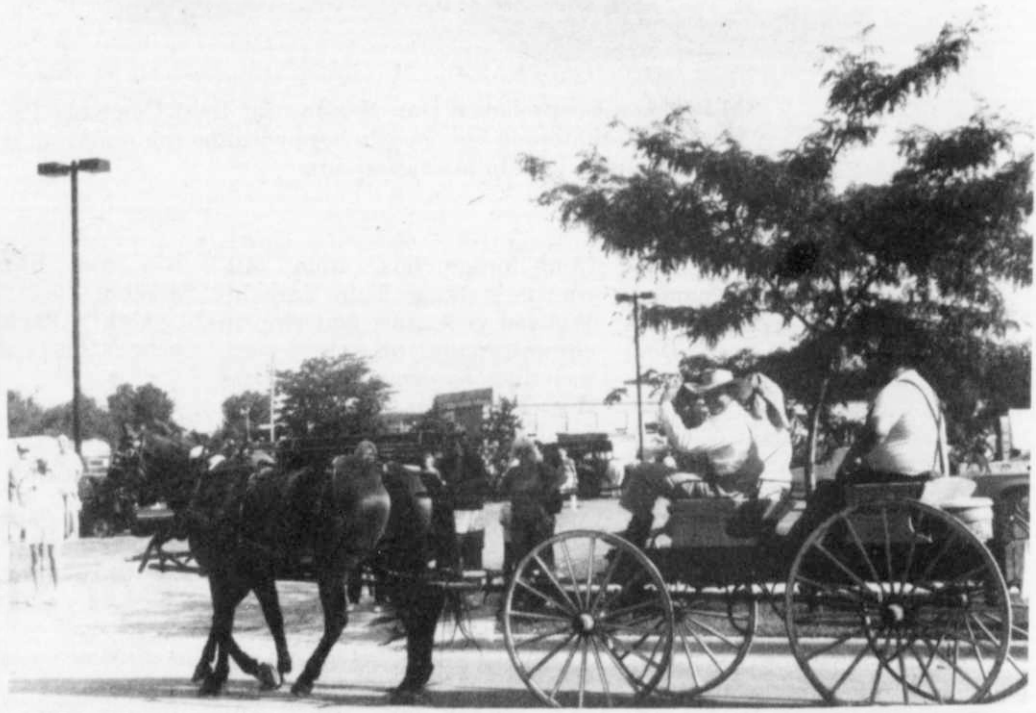

Other activities scheduled as part of the festivities were a dinner at the fairgrounds Wednesday evening, a parade in Slinger, and a variety of competitive events throughout the week.

The Pioneer Wagon Train moved out from the courthouse parking lot west on Highway 33 to 18th Avenue.

Lewis "Bud" Schmidt and his wife Evie of Kewaskum led the Pioneer Wagon Train as it headed south on 18th Avenue toward its final destination, the Washington County Fairgrounds at Slinger.

Bob and Dutch Coulter of Lomira waved to spectators who lined Highway 33 to watch the Pioneer Wagon Train start its journey. Bob and JoAnn Manthei of Kewaskum are the "back seat drivers."

Water Safety Stressed

Hot summer days are ideal for swimming, but water can pose dangers for children.

Children's Hospital of Wisconsin (Milwaukee) reports that drowning is the third most common cause of death among children ages 1 through 15. In fact, the hospital has handled ten near-drowning victims this summer.

"We see the pain and tragedy of water accidents first-hand. To help prevent accidental injuries and deaths, Children's Hospital urges parents to follow certain safety guidelines," said Leigh E. Morris, director of Public Relations for Children's Hospital.

"Water is fun, but it deserves your child's respect. Instill your child with confidence, not dread. Fear of water will only cause panic if your child should fall in," said Morris.

"At 3 or 4, a child may be ready for swimming lessons. However, the right age for swimming lessons varies with each youngster."

The hospital urged parents never to allow children to swim alone or to play near water unless an adult is present.

Children should stay in the part of the pool that is safe for the child's skill as a swimmer.

Only one person should be allowed on a diving board or slide at a time. A child should never dive head-first into the water, except from a diving board.

Running and pushing in pool areas should never be allowed. Glass objects should not be allowed in or near a pool.

Furthermore, children should never be allowed to play in or swim in rivers. Sharp rocks, branches and refuse can cause injuries. Polluted water can be dangerous. River currents can cause drownings even among the strongest of swimmers.

While many lakes are used for swimming, only officially designated swimming areas should be used.

People with backyard pools should make certain they are enclosed with a fence at least six feet in height with a locking gate.

A safety float line should be used to separate shallow water from the deeper side. Pool depths should be clearly marked. Nonslip surfaces should be installed on all decks, diving boards and ladders.

Slides used by children should be located where water is at least three feet deep. Additional depth will be necessary for older children and adults.

Backyard pools should never be accessible through a door or window of the house.

Wading pools should always be emptied after every use, and children must never be allowed to run through or jump in wading pools.

"Water is fun and observance of safety rules can keep a day at the pool from turning into a nightmare," Morris said.

Boy Scouts Trek at Philmont, New Mexico

Friday, Aug. 1, 1986
Kewaskum Statesman, Page 11

On Thursday morning, June 19, six scouts from Troop 744, Kewaskum, headed west to Cimarron, New Mexico, and the Philmont "High Adventure" Boy Scout Ranch. On the way they stayed at the SAK Air Base in Lincoln, Nebraska, and at Fort Carson in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

After two days the scouts arrived at Philmont and began their 10 day, 66 mile backpacking trek through the Bear-Black Mountain Region of the Rocky Mountains.

Each day the group hiked to a new challenge and experience, where they learned and participated in activities like panning for gold in a mountain stream, burro racing, rock climbing and rappelling, or looking for old relics at an abandoned Indian village.

On the hike they encountered many deer, some Pronghorn antelope, rattle-snakes, and a huge brown bear eating from a grease pit in their campsite.

They spent one full day climbing the 14,000 foot Baldy Mountain which is far above the timberline and was partially covered by snow.

The 10th day they returned to base camp hungry, tired and looking for a shower.

The return trip took them through Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, St. Louis, Missouri, and after 3,100 miles back to Kewaskum, on Sunday, July 5th.

Fair Queen Adrienne Thull of Kewaskum presented Ann Shaw a champion ribbon for her home-bred beef steer.

Brian Oelhafen of rural Allenton [Wayne] anxiously looked out into the crowd as buyers bid on his champion dairy-breed steer.

Holli Etta waited her turn to enter the auction area with her reserve champion beef-breed steer.

East Central/Select Sires Reports Record-Breaking Year

East Central/Select Sires Cooperative (EC/SS) reports fiscal 1985-86 as its best year ever. Even with the signs of doubt and concern facing agriculture, EC/SS reached all-time highs in insemination service and direct herd sales volume. Overall they realize an 8.7 percent margin, as reported at their recent Annual Delegate Meeting held in Madison.

"The past fiscal year produced significant returns on investment. EC/SS solidified its business foundation through effective cost containment and aggressive marketing," remarks Bill Thompson, General Manager.

Long term debt was reduced nearly fifty percent and tight credit management resulted in a literally stable accounts receivable position. Even when the cooperative experienced significant sales growth. The resulting gains in cash flow allowed EC/SS to meet all routine obligations without seasonal borrowing and to finance all capital replacement and remodeling.

Thompson attributes much growth to the keen interest of southern Wisconsin dairymen to invest in the industry's best genetics offered. With dairymen critically scrutinizing their dollars spent, they turn to progressive genetics from an organization they can rely on, adds Thompson.

In other Annual Meeting business, Randy Nigh, Viroqua, was re-elected as EC/SS Board of Directors President. Newly elected or re-elected board members are Mike Bystry, Platteville; Gary Fredrick, Mayville; and Robert Trampf, Berlin.

The delegate body approved nonmember sales. This will allow EC/SS to penetrate areas of strong independent semen sales areas thereby increasing East Central's unit volume.

Employee performance awards honored Howard Minnema, Viroqua, as Member Service Representative of the Year; Glen Stewart, Readstown, as Direct Herd Sales Representative of the Year; and Brian Heisner, Sparta, as Regional Sales Manager of the Year.

Local delegates representing District 1 Jefferson, Kenosha, Ozaukee, Racine, Walworth, Washington, Waukesha:

SHERIFFS DEPARTMENT

Clarence A. Schwartz, Sheriff

Jail Report

The Washington County Jail is in full compliance with the provisions of applicable Wisconsin statutes and the administrative codes of the Wisconsin Department of Health and Social Services. Sheriff Clarence Schwartz was advised of these findings by the Division of Corrections after an inspection by that agency conducted on May 29, 1986.

The inspector reported that he found the jail to be clean and in good order. Medical programming "remained commendable" as the jail retained its American Medical Association certification.

The juvenile detention area in the jail was found to be in compliance with state requirements, and was reapproved for the confinement of juveniles. The inspector reported that the jail in general was a very well run facility, with improvements being made on an ongoing basis.

The new county jail opened in 1979, and replaced an older facility that was no longer adequate. The jail has a capacity of 101 inmates.

"As Sheriff, I am proud of the report. It is due in no small part to the professional attitude of the deputies who work in the Communications/Corrections Division of the Sheriff's Department," the Sheriff stated. "Washington County is indeed fortunate that it constructed this jail when it did. Other counties which delayed replacing their jails have run into trouble with the state, and also face ever-increasing costs for replacement of the outdated facilities. Our jail is a model for other counties who need to replace their own jails."

Scale Inspections Show Truck Defects

The Wisconsin State Patrol's current push to beef up truck inspections promises safer driving for all of us.

That's good news for people driving automobiles on Wisconsin highways.

And for some truck drivers, the results of the inspections have been eye-opening.

"We've seen trucks with six bad tires, a truck with no electricity to the back of the trailer," said Supervisor James Cmeyla of the Patrol's Waukesha district, who was supervising one of the inspection teams in a recent inspection program in Dane County.

"There was one truck with no brakes in the trailer," Cmeyla said, "another with broken springs and an axle ready to fall out."

"You have to be looking at some pretty serious violations before you put a truck out of service." Trucks which failed the inspection had to be repaired before they could be driven back on the highway.

The inspections were an outgrowth of the federally-funded Motor Carrier Safety Assistance Program, which encourages the state to step up safety checks on big trucks.

Last week, the Patrol launched a concentrated week-long test by randomly inspecting trucks at 10-minute intervals at two I-90 weigh stations — Utica and Kegonsa. Both stations are located near Stoughton. And 20 inspectors worked at them, logging 10-hour days to make state roads a little safer.

The test was designed to measure, as accurately as possible, the size of the truck safety problem in terms of both vehicle and driver condition.

The pace was lively at both stations, with more than 8,000 truckers pulling across the scale. Those who were tapped for an inspection were directed to a parking area, where orange-hatted inspectors circulated among the rigs and performed the checks.

New trucks or old — both were showing their share of problems. And the problems weren't mechanical alone. "Drivers were checked for proper licensing, logbooks and rest," said Maj. George

Wenzel, director of the Patrol's District Operations Bureau. "The inspections turned up one driver who'd gone 23 hours without sleep. He was disoriented — out of it."

The requirements, Wenzel says, call for not more than 10 hours of driving at one stretch.

Inspections ran about 30 minutes, and that was the end of the delay for drivers who showed well. For those who didn't, the stay could be much longer — up to eight hours for a driver rest violation, several hours for a mechanical violation.

Trucks that were pulled out of service for mechanical violations weren't allowed to roll until the problems were rectified.

"Pretty soon, we'll be able to put on a circus right here," said one dry-docked driver for Florida's Big Top Productions. In the course of inspections, his truck — and another from Big Top — had been held over for inspection at Kegonsa.

"I've been taken out of service," the driver said. "There's a bad trailer spring that needs repair, and I don't have a logbook. With the circus I mainly drive short runs, six months a year in the Midwest and along the East Coast."

"Don't get me wrong — I think the inspection program is great. You're always concerned about good operation. Sometimes, though, it just seems like the percentages run against you."

Richard Soens, a trucker from Minnesota, was laid over at Kegonsa about 45 minutes for the inspection and a brake adjustment. Soens, an independent who hauls feed among several states, agreed the inspections seemed a good idea.

"It's good to check 'er over, make sure everything's O.K.," Soens said. "But not all drivers will tell you that."

"What you're seeing here at the scales are some of the better drivers and the better equipment. The truckers who don't have the decent equipment aren't going by here. They're holing up at a truck stop, or taking the side roads."

Wayne Haser, a driver for Food Distributors of Illinois, said he "noticed a lot of trucks getting off at the last exit." Haser came through the inspection well. "And basically," he said, "I think the inspections are a real good idea."

"But I think it's the little trucks — the ones with spare tires all over and chickens squawking in the back — that really need a good going over."

Seniors Handcraft For New Shoppe

By Kevin Gribbon

Remember the days of the past when almost everything you bought was hand crafted. Everything from furniture to quilts and dolls were made by your mother and dad or grandpa and grandma, not imported.

Friday, Aug. 1, 1986, Kewaskum Statesman, Page 14

Starting on August 4, the This 'N' That Craft Shoppe will open for business in the Fond du Lac Senior Center, located at 151 East First Street in Fond du Lac. Open to the public between 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Mondays through Fridays, a large variety of handcrafts will be available. All of these items will be the result of the creative talents of Fond du Lac County residents who are 55 years and over.

For those of you interested in displaying and retailing your handcrafts, merchandise intake day began on July 21. Registration of merchandise will be on every Monday thereafter from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Gillett Room in the rear of the Center. It is suggested that crafters know in advance of registration what price they want to receive for their item to facilitate the processing of merchandise. All proceeds are returned to the crafters with only a small 15% withheld for funding of the craft shoppe.

For further information, contact Bernice Arnold at 922-0779, or the Center at 929-2940.

Walborg Pettersen will arrive in Kewaskum July 29, to spend a year in our community attending high school. She will live with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller during her stay. Walborg arrived in New York by jet plane from Oslo, Norway, on July 27. From there she boarded a bus for Milwaukee where she will be met by the Charles Millers and Mrs. L. N. Peterson on Saturday. Since Walborg is the first student awarded an American Field Service International Scholarship to come to Kewaskum, this community is very eager and happy to have her.

In a three-way, real estate transaction completed recently, Dr. H. L. Rumsey purchased the two-apartment residence of William Bruhn at 1554 Fond du Lac Ave., and Bruhn purchased the Ralph Poelling home and property on Route 2, Kewaskum, located on Hwy. H about two miles west of the village. Dr. Rumsey will remodel the lower floor of his newly purchased property into office and business quarters. He will move his office from its present location in the Walter Mathis building on Fond du Lac Ave. into the former Bruhn residence about three blocks north and he and his family will also move there.

Ollie's Texaco Service, operated by Ollie Staehler, Jr., last weekend moved from the former filling station on South Fond du Lac Ave., into the new, deluxe type Texaco station recently constructed on the corner of Fond du Lac Ave. and Clinton St., two doors north of the former place of business. Ollie is now open for business in the large, modern station.

Lt. Col. Lehman L. Rosenheimer of Kewaskum, who for the past nine years has commanded Flight B of the 9664th Air Reserve Squadron headquartered in the Robert G. Romaine Legion Post in Kewaskum, received orders last Friday promoting him to the permanent grade of colonel in the U.S.A.F. Reserve, effective July 1, 1961.

The local fire department answered two calls over the past weekend to extinguish grass fires caused by the dry weather which threatened nearby buildings. On Friday afternoon the firemen were summoned to the John Klumb farm, located 3½ miles southwest of Kewaskum, to put out a blaze which threatened the farm buildings. On Saturday afternoon an alarm was answered to the Theo. R. Schmidt residence in the village where a rubbish fire to the rear of the house spread through the grass and endangered homes. Both fires were extinguished before any damage was suffered.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Fellenz, Town of Scott, was baptized Sunday receiving the name Ralph James Christopher.

One of the biggest attractions ever held in Kewaskum will take place next Wednesday evening when donkey baseball will make its initial appearance here. The game will be played under floodlights on the high school grounds. The game will feature a local team against some outside team.

August 2 is the day of the big homecoming celebration at Boltonville, sponsored jointly by the fire department and Sunrise camp of the Modern Woodmen. Festivities will begin at 12:30 and a gay afternoon and evening of fun and frolic will be in store for everyone.

An automobile owned by David Rosenheimer of this village was nearly destroyed by fire last week Friday evening. Mr. Rosenheimer had the car in front of H. E. Henry's place and was about to start the machine to take it back to the garage when in some manner the oil pan below the front seat started to burn. Dr. Klumb, who was nearby noticed the fire. He rushed to the car and by throwing dust and sand upon the fire easily extinguished the same.

The fall examinations for teachers will be held at the Court House in West Bend on August 8 and 9.

Several Boltonville men were engaged on Wednesday afternoon fighting fire which was with difficulty extinguished after destroying one man's pasture and is still burning in the fences.

SENSENBRENNER

DEADBEATS WHO DEFAULTED ON GOVERNMENT LOANS FORCED TO PAY UP

I have good news to report to you. Major strides have been made in forcing those deadbeats who have defaulted on government loans to pay up!

The Reagan Administration has recovered $135 million from loan defaulters so far this year through a pilot program which permits the Internal Revenue Service to withhold tax refunds from those most delinquent in repaying debts. An additional $30 million was recovered from defaulters who voluntarily paid old debts when faced with the threat of having the IRS withhold their tax refunds.

In the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984, Congress granted the IRS the authority to "offset" tax refund payments to pay toward debts owed to the federal government which are overdue and cannot be collected by other means. This authority was granted on experimental basis for the tax years of 1985 and 1986.

While 86% of those whose refunds were withheld had defaulted on student loans, about 217,000 people, it should be noted that 9 out of 10 student loan recipients do repay their loans on time and in full.

With $24 billion in nontax debts currently delinquent and deficits of over $200 billion, the federal government can no longer afford to be taken for a ride. Therefore, I will work to see that Congress makes this program permanent. It's time people realize that if you owe a debt to the taxpayers of America, you can run, but you cannot hide!

Drinking Age Law Includes Stiff Drunk Driving Penalties

By Senator Donald K. Stitt
[R-Port Washington]

The recently passed 21 drinking age bill did more than increase Wisconsin's legal drinking age. Drunk driving laws were toughened and taverns will be forced to operate differently under the new law.

In addition to the current penalties for driving while legally intoxicated (0.1 blood alcohol concentration), the penalties for driving with a 0.2 blood alcohol level are now doubled. Drivers tested at 0.2 blood alcohol will have their license revoked and have ten days to request a hearing. These individuals, if convicted, will face stricter penalties and be guilty of a criminal offense.

Moreover, first time convicted drunken drivers will have to perform 20 hours of community service if their county has such a program. Also, first offenders must wait 15 days before obtaining an occupational license, second offenders 60 days, and third and subsequent offenders 90 days. Repeat drunk drivers will also receive much stricter penalties.

Taverns will also be allowed to take part in discouraging drunken driving and their emphasis on alcohol consumption. They will be permitted to halt the serving of alcoholic beverages and hold social events for underage individuals.

Some opponents of the new law argued that more people will plead not guilty and the community service programs are complicated and time consuming for local officials. Supporters, such as myself, believe that the tough penalties will go further to deter drunk driving and increase road safety.

Please feel free to write me, Senator Don Stitt at P.O. Box 7882, Madison, Wisconsin 53707 or call my office at 608-266-7513 or leave a message with the Legislative Hotline at 1-800-362-9696.

Panzer Secretary For Committee Study On Venture Capital

Representative Mary E. Panzer (R-West Bend) was appointed secretary of the Legislative Council Committee on Venture Capital, it was announced.

The 18-member committee consists of legislators, bankers, security brokers, venture capitalists and business developers who will look into ways Wisconsin can invest in companies starting up their businesses in the state.

"Wisconsin has not been as innovative as many other states in developing venture capital programs," Panzer said. "Michigan, Illinois and New York have all had success in wooing entrepreneurs to their respective states."

Panzer pointed out that since 1982, the Michigan Venture Capital Fund has invested in 32 companies that have provided 3,162 new jobs.

"Job creation, of course, is the most appealing outcome," Panzer said, "but once one company starts out and begins to flourish, others are likely to follow."

The committee will examine the level of state involvement, securities regulations and will eventually formulate possible legislation for the next legislative session.

"The time is right for Wisconsin to become more aggressive in pursuing ways to bring new companies to the state," Panzer said. "We may not develop a Silicon Valley, but we can certainly improve the business environment here in Wisconsin."

July 21, 1986
8:00 P.M.

Gun Deer Season Changes

The 1986 Wisconsin gun deer hunting season will see major changes, affecting hunters in western, southern and southeast portions of the state the most, Steve Miller, Director of Wildlife Management for the Department of Natural Resources announced.

"The primary change is that Wisconsin will have a statewide nine-day hunting season framework eliminating the short two, three, and five-day seasons formerly used across the southern part of the state," Miller said.

The most significant change in season framework is that southeast Wisconsin will change from a five-day, either sex deer hunt to a nine-day buck plus hunter's choice permit season. Hunters from this area will now have to apply for a hunter's choice permit if they want to shoot an antlerless deer.

This is consistent with what occurs over the rest of the state except for four management units along the Mississippi River.

The other season changes will see southwest Wisconsin going from three-day and five-day buck hunter's choice season, to a nine-day buck plus hunter's choice season. Unit 74B (primarily Crawford County) will join the Mississippi River block units by changing from a two-day either sex season to a two-day either sex season followed by a seven-day buck only season.

In recent years, record high deer populations, increasing car-deer collisions and increasing agricultural damage complaints have stimulated the Department to look at state deer population objectives. At the urging of the Conservation Congress and with the cooperation of county Land Conservation Committees, Department wildlife managers began looking at management unit boundaries and overwinter deer population goals.

"Each year, the Congress requested minor changes to boundaries and goals here and there throughout the state," Miller said. "Department managers also felt some changes should be made in specific areas. Finally instead of a piecemeal approach to the deer program, we took a comprehensive look. All the proposals were put on the 1986 spring fish and game hearing questionnaire for public review and comment."

At the June meeting of the Natural Resources Board, the policy setting board governing the Department, the final joint recommendations of the Conservation Congress and the Department were approved.

Here are the changes passed by the Natural Resources Board:

1. Boundaries in 44 deer management units were modified (the new unit map plus hunter's choice permit numbers included).

2. New overwinter deer populations goals were set in 30 deer management units.

3. A statewide nine-day gun deer season was set including: Zone A; nine-day buck plus hunter's choice (standard throughout most of the state); and Zone B; two-day either sex and seven-day buck only (includes shaded management units on map adjacent to the Mississippi River).

4. Allow rifles, shotguns, muzzleloaders, and handguns in deer management unit 22A.

5. Create a nine-day buck plus hunter's choice permit season in deer management unit 60A.

"All in all, these changes will allow for better deer herd control and will increase the amount of deer hunting recreation in the state," Miller added. "These changes will also simplify hunting regulation information, deer season administration and enforcement."

The 1986 deer management unit map will show all of the boundary changes and all of the new management unit numbers along with the number of hunter's choice permits available in each unit. It is important for each and every gun deer hunter to look at this map before applying for a hunter's choice permit.

The 1986 deer hunting licenses have been distributed to each of the county clerks in the state along with copies of the new deer management unit map listing the number of hunter's choice permits available in each of the units (including all the new units). Most of the licenses will be distributed to local vendors and be on sale by August 1. It's estimated that more than 500,000 licenses will be sold prior to the October 3 deadline for submitting hunter's choice applications.

"Along with the longer deer season for some Wisconsin hunters, there also will be a preference system for landowners to get hunter's choice permits this year," Miller added.

The first 30 percent of available permits in any given unit are reserved to qualifying landowners. Second preference will be given on the remaining permits to all other residents who applied for, but did not receive a permit for that unit the previous year. Third preference will be given to all other residents and nonresidents will be considered last.

'Farmer's Resource Guide' Available

Where does a person turn to when everything seems to be coming in around them? This is a question that many people are asking as the effects of the farm crisis become more severe for many farm families.

There are a number of places where individuals can receive assistance, but many times knowing about them and who to contact may be very difficult. A Wisconsin "Farmer's Resource Guide" has been developed by the Governor's Work Group on Farmer Assistance. This resource guide has been developed for each county, listing sources of information and assistance available in that county. The resource guide also lists statewide agencies and sources of information and assistance. As a part of this process, a statewide toll-free farm crisis information line has been established. The phone number is 1-800-362-3020.

Individuals who are in need of assistance can obtain a copy of the "Farmer's Resource Guide" at their local county extension office. This publication is provided free of charge.

The Cooperative Extension Service is continuing to work with farm families through the Strategies on Survival - SOS program. This program provides opportunities for counseling, assistance, and referrals to other agencies when needed. Individuals who are interested in more information on the SOS program can contact the Washington County Cooperative Extension Office at 338-4477, 644-5204, 342-2929.

Indians to State

Slinger and West Bend West in regional play and Port blanked Random Lake in the regional finals. The other team in the Port sectional was Cedarburg, which ousted Grafton in the regional. Port beat the Bulldogs Thursday to gain the finals against Kewaskum Friday.

Besides Kewaskum, one other Washington County team is represented in the state tournament. That team is Germantown (21-9), which won over Kewaskum earlier in the season. The Warhawks tied for second in the North Shore Conference. It is the first ever appearance for Germantown in the WIAA State Tourney and the second for Kewaskum. The Indians other trip to state was in 1975, although the Indians have come close a couple of other times.

Good defense, hitting and pitching carried the fired up and confident Indians through the sectional. The team was hitting .307 going into the sectional. The defense played flawlessly. Bob Jahr brought his record to 7-2 in pitching a complete game in the victory over West Bend East, Don Menzel improved his record to 8-2 in shutting out Port. The Indians' other pitcher, Tim Rohlinger, is 3-3. Leading hitters in conference play were Tim Dettmann .484 (29 for 60), Jahr .350, Jeff Newhauser .362, and Jack Aupperle .302. High in RBI were Dettmann with 27 and Rick Staehler with 14. Menzel already made all-conference in the EW last year with his fine pitching.

The eight sectional survivors, among 82 schools that started the WIAA summer baseball series, are Ashland, New Holstein, Franklin, Kewaskum, Frederic, Whitehall, German-town and Onalaska. Kewaskum was scheduled to play Franklin (Milwaukee) (at which school our granddaughter will be a sophomore this fall) in the second game Wednesday afternoon. The winner faces the New Holstein-Ashland winner Thursday afternoon in the semi-finals. New Holstein defeated Kewaskum twice during the regular season. Championship finals are Thursday evening.

Sectional

KEWASKUM 11, WEST BEND EAST 5

Kewaskum defeated West Bend East, North Shore Conference champions (24-6) in its WIAA sectional opener at Port Washington Thursday, 11-5. It was the Indians' third victory over East in as many games this season, and advanced Kewaskum to the sectional finals Friday against Port Washington.

Kewaskum scored first and never fell behind, bringing home as least one run in every inning. The run in the first came on Rick Staehler's double and a two out error.

The Indians made it 2-0 in the second on a solo homer by Don Menzel over the left field fence. East then scored in the third to make it 2-1 on a double and single.

Then Kewaskum broke the game wide open in the fourth with six runs on seven hits. Jack Aupperle started the big rally with a bloop single, following which East starter Mark Mundinger complained of a sore elbow and was replaced by Ken Hemauer. The Indians went right after Hemauer, scoring six runs on a double by Jeff Newhauser, double by Don Menzel, triple by Tim Bingen, error on a wild throw in, single by Bob Jahr, walk, single by Tim Dettmann and second single by Aupperle to make it 9-1.

While Jahr was holding the hard-hitting Suns in check, the Indians scored another run in the fifth. Tony Barth came in to pitch. Menzel's single, Troy Zimdars and Rick Staehler walked, a hit by Jahr made it 10-1.

The Suns came back with some offense in the sixth, scoring three runs on four hits. The uprising chased Jahr and Zimdars came in to record the final out. This made it 10-4.

Kewaskum brought the lead to 11-4 with an unearned run in the bottom of the sixth. Aupperle came through with his third hit and scored later on an error.

Gregg Rinn, the Suns' top hitter, opened the seventh with a triple and romped home on a sacrifice fly to end the game at 11-5, and send the Indian players and fans into a frenzy. The Indians out-hit East, 14-9, but both teams hit the ball hard. The Suns weren't out-hit very often this year.

KEWASKUM 11, PORT WASHINGTON 0

Kewaskum earned its berth in the state tournament with an easy 11-0 shutout win over Port Washington in the sectional final Friday evening. Menzel pitched a three-hit shutout.

The Indians took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning on singles by Staehler and Mark Schlosser, and a hit by Dettmann.

The lead was increased to 3-0 in the second. Menzel reached on an error and scored on a Zimdars triple to the wall. Staehler's second hit scored Zimdars.

Four more runs in the fourth put the Indians up 7-0 and they could sense a trip to West Bend for the state tournament. Zimdars and Bingen were the only players to get hits but walks to Staehler, Schlosser and Newhauser helped score four runs.

Menzel was awesome on the mound and Port players said they hadn't seen anyone that good during the North Shore season. West Bend East had also claimed earlier in the season that Kewaskum's pitching was better than that they faced in the conference. Menzel finished with eight strikeouts and walked only one batter.

In the meantime the Indians padded their lead with another run in the fifth and three more in the sixth. The three run sixth came with the help of four hits, including a double by Staehler.

The Indian offense rapped four Port pitchers around for 13 hits. The Indians have hit the ball hard all season.

Regional

KEWASKUM 7, CAMPBELLSPORT 3

In Tuesday's regional game between Kewaskum and Campbellsport, both teams had four hits in the contest but two Cougar pitchers, Brian Hintz and Jeff Krug walked a dozen batters to give the Indians a 7-3 victory and advance to the WIAA sectional.

The Indians struck for three runs right off in the bottom of the first inning (the flip of the coin made Kewaskum the home team). Staehler led off with a walk and later took second. Schlosser singled him home and moved to second on a walk to Dettmann. Aupperle then followed with a base hit.

Menzel shut out the Cougars until the third when Campbellsport scored two runs on a walk, single and two-bagger. Both teams scored a run in the fourth but that was the end of the scoring for the Cougars as Menzel got stingy. He struck out six of the nine batters, including the side in the sixth.

The Indians added three more runs in the sixth without a hit. Zimdars, Bingen and Staehler all walked to load the bases and Jahr's sacrifice fly scored one. Schlosser then walked to load them up again and another run scored on a ground out. The third run came on a sacrifice fly by Aupperle.

Menzel's effort included 13 strikeouts. The loss ended Campbellsport's season with a fine 16-4 record and seven of their 10 regulars will return next season. On the other hand, the Indians have only two juniors who see regular action.

Thiemerdome Thursday Goodtime League

BJ & CO. WINS 1986 THIEMERDOME CHAMPIONSHIP

The championship game between BJ & Co. and A&M Const. was a real slugfest with BJ & Co. winning 8-5. The one man wrecking crew from BJ & Co. was Leon "Boomer" Schultz. He fielded flawlessly at shortstop and was sucking up ground balls like a Hoover. He also had 2 home runs with the 2nd one coming late in the game when the ball was as soft as a bag of rags. BJ hummer John "Super Scout" Kleinke contained the Murderers Row from A&M which consists of the 4 Crass brothers, Randy, Stretch, Blackie and Ricky hitless for the entire game. Some of John's pitches had so much arch on them that there was moisture on the ball by the time it hit the plate.

The final voting for player of the year is completed and the Dome's in-house IBM computer has spit out the following results: Leon "Boomer" Schultz 6,650,795 votes. Vern "Snow Cone" Ludwig 6,650,794 votes. Mike "Rags" Pfeiffer 8 votes. Jeff "Rabbit" Ramel 3 votes. Peggy, Ruth and Rueben voted.

There is still lots of excitement left this year at the Dome. This week is the start of the Round Robin Tournament.

The Dome will also be celebrating Jewish-American Night and Rabbi Sol Rabinovitz will toss in the opening game Matzoh Ball for the Round Robin Tournament. After the game the VIP Lounge will feature Lukshen Kugel, Gefilte Fish and Cheese Blintzes followed with Slempt to wash down these delights.

Fans are urged to arrive early as a large crowd is expected from the Left Bank . . . of the Milwaukee River.

Late Edition Special
Thiemerdome management has just announced that it is just entering negotiations with the Chicago Tribune to purchase the contract of Ex Cubbie ball girl Marla Collins. Captain Dick first must clear this with the treasurer, Evie Thiemer, because he for one certainly knows the wrath of a jealous woman. The male fans of the Domes are in hope that the Cap can pull this one off.
