Recommend Purchase of Van Committee to Recommend Two-Year Bussing Pact

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

After nearly two hours of discussion and bargaining, the Finance - Transportation - Buildings and Grounds Committee and Chuck Johnson of Johnson Bus Service were able to come up with a bus contract proposal which will be presented to the full School Board at its August 11th meeting.

Originally the board had sought a one-year contract which included Johnson's paying for fuel. In the past, because of tax laws, it was more economical for the district to purchase the fuel while Johnson furnished services. With recent tax exemption changes, however, it was felt a better contract could be negotiated with Johnson furnishing the fuel also.

After listening to Johnson's proposal at last month's meeting the board unanimously voted to reject the bid, feeling it could purchase fuel for considerably less than the price quoted in Johnson's proposal. The contract was sent back to the Finance Committee for further negotiations based on the district's resuming the purchase of fuel.

In presenting his new bid at Wednesday night's meeting Johnson proposed a one-year contract carrying a 10.6% increase over the contract which had just expired. Johnson based his large increase in the last year of the old two-year contract and a 15% loss in income for the coming year due to the district's reduction in routes.

Committee Chairman Ron Theusch said he could not understand why Johnson's contract for service to Fond du Lac had increased 6% and yet 10.6% for Kewaskum. Johnson told Theusch, "because they didn't cut 15% of my income."

Committee member Bob Schulteis told Johnson, with the reduction in routes we should be seeing a bigger decrease. Johnson said in the past Kewaskum's bussing costs had been lower per student than neighboring districts. The committee sympathized with

Fate of Beechwood School Discussed

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Beechwood School Disposition Committee held its first meeting Monday night to consider the future of the recently closed school.

After the one-hour meeting, held in the High School library progressed it became very apparent that the group was facing a very complex problem and there was more involved in the situation than simply closing the doors and hanging out a "for sale" sign.

Perry Ankerson, chairman of the committee, said he had called the meeting to review and discuss the option the school district had in relation to the fate of the school. "We can consider closing it, opening it, disposing of it, or using it as a community center, are there any other viable options?" asked Ankerson.

When the first and what seemed to be the easiest solution, selling the property, was brought up, the approximately one dozen Beechwood residents at the meeting strongly voiced their opposition. Ankerson told the group he wanted public input and suggestions which would help his committee make a sound recommendation to the electors at the Annual Meeting on September 3rd. He indicated any and all ideas would be given serious consideration. Selling the property is just one of the options being considered.

In opening the meeting to discussion from the floor Ankerson stated, "remember, the school is closed and that issue is over." He stressed the sole purpose of the meeting was to discuss the district's obligation to the building until the Annual Meeting and to try and arrive at a logical recommendation. Ankerson said he would

Kewaskum Family to Welcome AFS Daughter

A new family member is expected to arrive next week on the doorstep of the Arnold and Vivian Stommel family of Roseland Drive in Kewaskum. Hlin Magnussdottir of Iceland will spend the next year attending Kewaskum Community High School, while living with the Stommel family.

The Stommels and Hlin have been brought together through AFS International/Intercultural Programs, the leading nonprofit international exchange organization. with host families.

Hlin is 17 years old and lives in a small village in the eastern part of the country called Egilsstadir. She speaks Icelandic, Danish, and English. She enjoys jazz dancing. Hlin's host father, Arnold Stommel, is a factory worker at Regal Ware Inc. His wife, Vivian Stommel, works at West Bend Company. Arnie enjoys cooking, gardening, and cake decorating. He is active with the Knights of Columbus organization. Vivian enjoys gardening, Girl Scouting, and fancy work. Noren Hired by Board Well #2 Down for Repairs

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Village Board was informed Monday night that the village's number two well has been taken out of service because of casing leaks.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt said the well is expected to be down for at least one week while repairs are made. Although this is the same problem encountered with well #1 last year, Schmidt expected repair costs to be substantially lower, approximately $12,500.

With #1, said Schmidt, we had to replace pumps, casings, and grout. With #2, we're only looking at the casings. Grouting on #2 has already been done and there will not be any pump replacement.

The board also reviewed a letter from the village's engineers regarding Fire House repairs. Initially there appeared to be a problem with roof leaks. The engineer's report, however, indicated the water problem was due to leaks at the parapit wall and not in the roof not permit any comments concerning the re-opening of the school. Ralph Buchel, Beechwood, asked Ankerson, "what if the voters at the Annual Meeting vote to open the school, what would you do?" District Administrator Penny Kleinhans told Buchel such a vote would only be advisory and not binding on the School Board. The board would still have the power to make the final decision.

Irene Gnacinski of Beechwood told the committee she felt the building should be kept by the district. Citing situations in neighboring school districts, Gnacinski said, in a couple of years down the road she did not want to see the district having to build in Kewaskum because of increased population.

Several Beechwood residents pointed out that the building was not only a school, but a community center for the area. Where will the senior citizens, scouts, and other groups go when they want to meet? The committee was asked. The Beechwood Fire Department hall, and new Town of Scott Town Hall were mentioned as alternatives.

School Board member Clara Trapp, who was in the audience, told the committee, Judge Becker (in the Beechwood closing lawsuit) had ruled that the school was a community building and that the district had to maintain it and make it available for public use. Kleinhans said she had discussed that point with the district's legal counsel Michael Spector and he disagreed with how the ruling was being interpreted by some Beechwood residents. Ankerson said it was illogical to think that when schools were closed, districts were obligated to keep the buildings available for the public. If that were the case, he noted, no building would ever be sold.

"My first choice would be to recommend to the voters to sell the building at fair-market value," said committee member Chuck Voge. If some organization in Beechwood wanted to take it over, Voge indicated he thought the district could consider selling it for less, or work out an acceptable agreement. "As long as the school remains in the district it will be an item of controversy and the School Board will be continually pressured to re-open it," stated Voge.

Voge, however, felt the committee could be putting the cart before the horse, in discussing the option of selling the property. Before any recommendations are considered, said Voge, there should be an informal title search made to determine just who owns the property and whether there are any conditions in the title such as the property reverting back to the original owner if it is no longer used as a school. He also suggested the district have an independent appraisal made with a fair market value set, information collected on how much money would go back on to the tax rolls, how the property is currently zoned, and what insurance costs would be.

The committee doesn't have to rush into anything just to make a recommendation at the Annual Meeting. If necessary a special electors meeting could be called for the specific item of the Beechwood School, said Voge. Kleinhans agreed that such a meeting could be called after the annual meeting.

After listening to Voge's comments, Ankerson directed Kleinhans to place the item of a title search and appraisal on the August 11th School Board agenda.

In summing up discussions, Trapp told the committee, "why not keep the building for a year and see if what you've done is really going to work (referring to the transfer of students to Farmington and the Middle School)." "I would like to see it kept at least one year," said Trapp.

When discussion on the committee's next meeting came up, committee member Ron Beimborn asked that it be held at Beechwood. Voge objected to the request. "That would be like playing to a stacked deck," Ankerson scheduled the next meeting for 7:30 p.m. Monday, August 18, in the High School library.

Bussing

Johnson's problem but it did not feel it should be penalized because of it.

The committee members noted that current bus contracts around the area were being settled for increases ranging from 4.4% to 8.8%, and they just could not accept Johnson's justification of the need for a 10.6% hike. Johnson admitted he was trying to recoup some of the $7,000 in added insurance costs he had to pay out last year.

After some discussion, the committee agreed that the district's bussing costs over the past few years had been somewhat lower than average. Theusch told Johnson he thought the district would be willing to work to bring their costs in line with the average but not all in one year.

Theusch asked Johnson if he would consider a two-year contract with a 7% increase for 1986-87, and 7% increase for 1987-88. "I'm comfortable with your proposal if you are," said Johnson.

The committee voted to recommend the two-year contract with the addition of $270 to cover the cost of installation of strobe lights on three of the district's busses.

In other business, the committee inspected a 1985, 12-passenger Chevrolet van for possible purchase by the district. The used vehicle has 7,000 miles on it, and the balance of its warranty is in effect.

Business Manager Cherna Gorder said the asking price was $12,900. District Administrator Penny Kleinhans said there had been $9,000 set aside from the Trust Fund loan for the purchase of a vehicle. Gorder said there was also an additional $9,000 in the vehicle replacement fund which could be used to pay part of the purchase cost.

Everyone was in agreement that the vehicle would meet a majority of the district's transportation needs. The proposed vehicle would not require any special modifications and only a chauffeur's license would be required to operate it.

Buildings Superintendent Fred Boehlke and Kleinhans said the district had been looking a long time for such a vehicle. If the district were to purchase the same van new, it would cost over $18,000. The van has a heavy-duty one-ton truck frame and is equipped with safety belts on all the seats.

The committee moved to recommend the purchase for $12,900 or less.

The committee also agreed to present the request of Football Coach Fran Charland to relocate the high school weight training room into the old wrestling room.

Because of the amount and size of the equipment, Charland said it was difficult to make efficient use of the equipment. Right now we have to move some of the equipment into either the old gym or hallway when we want to use it. The old wrestling room is presently being used as a maintenance storage area, said Charland.

Dyal urges other families to consider opening their homes and hearts to AFS students for a year or a summer stay. Interested families can call AFS toll free at 1-800-AFS-INFO or contact a local representative.

AFS is run on the community level by local volunteers who are the foundation of AFS. They are responsible for recruitment, selection and support of participants, and for fundraising which helps to sustain AFS's diverse programs.

The AFS idea originated with the American Field Service ambulance drivers who served in World Wars I and II and who later established an international exchange program for secondary school students in an effort to promote global peace, understanding and friendship. Since 1947 over 150,000 students and an equal number of families have formed a global community through the AFS experience.

In the cherry country of Door County thousands of workers — men, women, boys and girls — formerly used to spend July and August picking cherries during the season to earn extra money. Today cherry-picking machines have replaced hand picking although there are still some customers who want to go out and pick their own. The pickers were housed in separate camps throughout Door County and school principals and recreation leaders were recruited to look after the welfare, morals and entertainment. Outstanding Young Farmer Named by Jaycees

Schreffler was recently named Kewaskum's Outstanding Young Farmer for 1986, by the Kewaskum Jaycees.

Schreffler, 34, has been farming ever since he got out of high school and even before that, "all his life," according to his wife, Kathy, who also comes from a farm background.

After attending the short course at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, he returned to Kewaskum and now farms 360 acres off County V in a partnership with his stepfather, Alvin Panzer.

The two milk nearly 70 dairy cows and concentrate their growing efforts on raising crops to feed their animals.

To keep erosion at a minimum, Schreffler uses strip cropping, alternating rows of corn, hay and oats.

The first American coin bearing the portrait of a living president was the 1926 half dollar. It bore the heads of President George Washington and Calvin Coolidge.

The 1985-86 edition of the Kewaskum High School Swing Choir concluded its hectic year with a third-place finish in the Six Flags Great America Choral Festival on May 9th and 10th. The festival, sponsored by Educational Tour Consultants, featured choruses from Virginia, Minnesota, Iowa, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, and Illinois.

David Bertelsen, director of the swing choir, wishes to thank all those who helped send the group to Chicago for this festival. Fund-raisers included a candle sale, light-bulb sale, pig roast, and car-wash. "We couldn't have participated in the Great America Festival without all of the community support," Bertelsen said. A special thanks goes to the Jim Oelhafen family and Robert Kougl family for monetary gifts, to Raynor Herriges for the use of his car wash, and to Marigold Foods, for the donation of milk used at the pig roast.

Bertelsen also wished to extend his gratitude to the Kewaskum Swing Choir for all of their hard work, enthusiasm, and imagination shown throughout the past school year.

Tryouts for the 1986-87 Swing Choir will be held during the week of September 8-12. Any student who attends Kewaskum High School is eligible to try out.

4-H Interstate Exchange

On June 22 to June 28, ten Clinton County, Michigan Youths, and three chaperones spent a week with host families in Washington County under a 4-H exchange program. The delegates, 14 to 18 years old, were selected from applications and recommendations by the general leaders.

The exchange was a program in which Michigan delegates would learn about the Washington County area, and Wisconsin, and share the information with Michigan 4-H members and families. The purpose is to develop an understanding and appreciation of similarities and differences in living situations in another cultural or geographical area.

The week included group activities, such as a tour to the Miller Brewery, a trip to the Domes, and a family pot-luck picnic at Sandy Knoll Park. The rest of the time was to be spent with the family. The Teen Crusaders 4-H Older Youth help fund the activities.

Washington County delegates that participated in hosting delegates and chaperones from Clinton County, Michigan, in 1986 are: Lynn Frase, Terry Groth, Jim Doll, Ken Falk, Tracy Hahn, Jackie Twifold, Jackie Infalt, Diane Hammen and Theresa Masiarchin. One chaperone stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Groth, and two stayed with Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Doll.

The learning experience that you receive on exchange programs is tremendous and very interesting. The people that you meet are friendly and out-going.

An observation made about Wisconsin from our Michigan delegates was that Wisconsin has many rolling hills and lots of beautiful trees, and also paved roads. In Michigan the land is flat and a lot of dirt roads.

The Interstate Exchange program is co-ordinated by Helen and LeRoy Doll, adult advisors to the Teen Crusaders 4-H Older Youth of Washington County.

active member on the school board for 15 years, 22 years on the town board and 25 years on the county board. He has also been a member of the Farm Bureau for 40 years. During his time on the county board he served on the Sheriff's Committee, Ag Committee, Personal Committee, and Fair Committee. And on top of all this he has become an honorary member of the Richfield Fire Department.

Not only has our most admired senior citizen been active in the community but he has also succeeded in his family's dairy farm and has been a devoted husband and father for 48 years.

It is my pleasure to introduce to you Hugo (Pat) Schwulst, our most admired senior citizen.

Our next most admired senior citizen has spent her lifetime devoted to her fellow man. Born in Farmington and raised in Washington County she has achieved many things. She holds two degrees - one is a Bachelor of Education and the second is a Bachelor of Science. She taught English and Social Science for 12 years at Neenah Public Schools; she was a troop leader for girl scouts; girl reserves, and campfire girls. She was a Sunday School Superintendent for nine years, was active on the Neenah Public Library Council for 4 years, and a member of the Professional Club for 8 years. She was Junior Red Cross Chairman for Neenah Public Schools for 6 years.

Through her devotion to public service, she served on the American Red Cross which aided the Armed Forces, veterans and their families worldwide. It was in the Red Cross that this woman served many roles. She is truly a remarkable woman.

Some of her accomplishments include working with the Cancer Society, serving on the Southeastern Wisconsin Area Agency on Aging, Washington County Committee on Aging, Program

Chairman of Town & Country, Ecumenical member of the Catholic Social Services, Memorial Chairman for the Cancer Society and a grandmother to the Farmington area 4-H clubs.

She has received much satisfaction from her devotion to the people of Washington County.

It is a pleasure to give to you our next most admired senior citizen, Clara Jaehning.

Ricky Skaggs to Perform at Sheboygan County Fair Aug. 28

Country music star Ricky Skaggs will be performing at the Sheboygan County Fair on Thursday evening, August 28.

Reserve seat advance tickets are $6, while at the door tickets will be sold for $8. Advance tickets are available at First Interstate Banks, First Wisconsin Banks, Ticketron Outlets (at Sears in Sheboygan or toll free 1-800-382-8080 for Visa or Mastercard), Heberlein's Drugs, Adams' Drugs, (both in Plymouth) and the County Fair Office in Plymouth.

From Willie Nelson to Roy Acuff, from Charlie Daniels to Ray Charles, the ranks of Ricky Skaggs fans keep growing. At the age of 28, recognized as a unique talent by both his peers and his admirers, Skaggs has become one of country music's fastest comers, an artist who is almost single-handedly creating a genuine hunger for traditional sounds against contemporary settings.

If his achievements appear somewhat meteoric in their time frame, they make sense within the context of Skaggs' background. He was born July 18, 1954 in the backwoods rurality of Cordell, Ky., to parents who envisioned music as a natural household element. Skaggs' father taught him mandolin at five; by the age of seven, Ricky had already performed with Flatt & Scruggs on their popular Martha White-sponsored TV show in Nashville. His parents tried the same year to get him on the Grand Ole Opry, but were told he was too young; as fate would have it, Skaggs' permanent induction onto the Opry in June, 1982 as its 61st member came almost exactly 20 years later to the day.

Nothing influenced the child as much as the music of Ralph and Carter Stanley, however. From the moment he first glimpsed the Stanley Brothers in concert, he was irresistibly drawn to the aching beauty of bluegrass mountain strains. Skaggs' devotion to his instruments paid off: when he was 15, he was invited by Ralph Stanley to join his group.

Eventually, after several years on the road, Skaggs left the band and moved to Washington, D.C. He joined the Country Gentlemen, a group closely tagged with spurring the "newgrass movement" which was expanding the perimeters of traditional bluegrass. In D.C., Skaggs became friends with other struggling artists: Linda Ronstadt, Rodney Crowell, Lowell George, Emmylou Harris. When he left the Country Gentlemen, he joined J.D. Crowe & the New South, then formed his own group, Boone Creek. By the time he turned 25, Ricky Skaggs had carved his own reputation as a virtuoso on mandolin, fiddle, banjo and guitar — more than that, however, he was known for weaving high tenor harmonies that could reach out and touch the soul with crystal clarity.

In 1977, Emmylou Harris asked him to join her Hot Band, replacing Rodney Crowell. His collaboration led to one of her finest albums, "Roses In The Snow." In 1978, while still with Emmylou, Skaggs recorded his first solo effort, "Sweet Temptation," on Sugar Hill Records. Though the album was on a small independent, it still managed to chart a single, "I'll Take The Blame," and got excellent reviews across the country, showing Skaggs that his music could be commercial without sacrificing honesty or conviction. Confident of his potential, he left the Hot Band, and shortly after signed with Epic Records in Nashville.

The label, in a rare show of trust for an unproven act, allowed its new artist full freedom in the studio. The result, "Waitin' For The Sun To Shine," received such overwhelming response that it has stayed on national country LP charts almost a full year after its release.

"I want to bridge the gap between contemporary and the pure traditional country," Skaggs explains. "There are a lot of people who have just begun getting into country who think what we're doing is 'new stuff.' Sometimes it's hard to hear the country in country music these days... I hope what I'm doing is a way of getting back to the basics."

'Star Spangled Summer'

The Beechwood Summer Reading Program was again a success with 61 children signing up and reading 1,475 books. Stars were placed on the bulletin board for each book read. The Statue of Liberty on the bulletin board was drawn by Sue Barth.

By Sue Buechel

Once again the Beechwood Summer Library Reading Program has been a dazzling success. The bulletin board featured the Statue of Liberty and 1,475 stars and almost glowed in the dark. This year's theme was "Star Spangled Summer." It was run in conjunction with the Random Lake library. Beechwood library is allowed to be in this program because we are in Sheboygan County and are a part of a countywide library system.

Each week of the library, we obtained a "Tales-to-Go" kit from the Mead Library in Sheboygan and these kits were quite entertaining. They included filmstrips and many fun activities for the children attending. A particular favorite was "The Little Old Lady Who Swallowed a Fly."

There were 61 children that signed up for this program. When each child signed up they received a bookmark, a pin and a big red star with their name on, for placement on the bulletin board in the hallway. For every book they read, they filled out a white or blue star with their name and that was also placed on the bulletin board in the school hallway. At the end of the program, students completing their contracts were given a certificate for a free sundae at Dairy Queen, popcorn, Koolaid and a free movie.

Every year this program has been held at the Beechwood Elementary School, it has far exceeded my expectations. This year the students and preschoolers read 1,475 books! Our goal when we set up the program was 1,000 books.

The children that read books or had books read to them this summer have retained and/or improved their reading abilities through this summer program and will be better prepared when school starts in a few weeks.

Here is the list of children attending this summer:

READ-TO-ME PROGRAM — Randy Gessner, Tracy Gessner, Andrea Hartmann, Alison Heise, Ashlie Rae Landess, Allyson Link, Travis Luedtke, Nathan Mueller, Scott Mueller, Lori Petushek, Peter Petushek, Jessica Schmidt, Jordan Schmidt, Jody Schmidt, Lorna Schmidt, Stacy Siebenaler, Travis Siebenaler, Bradley Vetter, Nicole Vetter, Elizabeth Werdermann, Jacob Wilson.

READING PROGRAM — Jennifer Beimborn, Bryan Blair, Tacee Blair, Doug Buechel, Jeff Buechel, Carrie Gehl, Kirk Gehl, Chris

Gerlach, Michele Gerlach, Heath Heise, Stacy Heberer, Stephanie Heberer, Jackie Hintz, Beth Kempf, Kevin Klahn, Jeff Klug, Matt Klug, Bradley Krahn, Holly Krahn, Jason Krahn, Kelly Krahn, Rachele Krahn, Tanya Krahn, Todd Krahn, Jenny Krause, Angela Lepp, Melanie Lepp, Jason Link, Misty Luedtke, Carrie Michaels, Cheryl Michaels, Beth Petushek, Staci Petushek, Tina Petushek, Randy Reysen, Julie Ruplinger, Tracy Ruplinger, Jennifer Schmidt, Dixie Schneider, Nicole Wilkens.

Special thanks to Carolyn Beimborn, June Lepp, Eloise Blair and Marlene Krahn for helping our program run smoothly.

Thanks to Sue Barth for her creativity in drawing the Statue of Liberty for our bulletin board. She looked great.

Thanks to Kathie Mueller and Marlene Krahn for undergoing pain and agony so the stars could continue to shine. You two work great under pressure.

I have been in charge of the summer reading program for the last three years at the Beechwood Elementary School. I have enjoyed working with all the area children and it was with sadness that I saw this year's program come to a close. I have had many requests from parents and children that I see about being allowed to keep this program and our library intact for the community to use.

During the school year we have a Story Hour set up and last year had 24 preschoolers attending. I have requested these programs of the school board and hope to be allowed to continue them. The P.T.O. owns a majority of the materials in the library and have worked hard to improve its contents and programs. It is run strictly on a volunteer basis. Please let us continue.

25 Years Ago

August 4, 1961

It was resolved by the electors of Kewaskum Jt. School District No. 1 at the annual meeting on July 24, that a tax be levied on all the taxable property of the district for operating expense for the year commencing in 1961 and ending in 1962 in the amount of $121,930.00.

Plans for the cornerstone laying at the new Washington County courthouse were discussed and completed at meetings of the Cornerstone and Dedication committee held at the courthouse Thursday and Monday. The ceremony will be held at 2 p.m. next Thursday, Aug. 10. Reuben Schmahl of the Town of Jackson was elected chairman of the committee. A program of approximately an hour's length has been planned. Copies of the West Bend News, Hartford Times - Press and Kewaskum Statesman will be included in the contents of the cornerstone box.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kempf, Route 2, Kewaskum, on July 29.

for quite a few years but used to be a busy place where many famous Rimmel concrete mixers, silo fillers, and other parts originated and were manufactured. The site will probably be transformed into residence lots.

A surprisingly large crowd of 500 people came out Wednesday evening to see Campbell-sport engage Kewaskum in a floodlight game of donkey baseball on the local diamond. Kewaskum won the game 6 to 3 in eight innings. Elmer Ramthun was the star for the locals, getting three long hits and scoring two runs. Other local players included "Hans" Schlosser, "Bud" Lay, "Sully" Claus, "Ham" Schmidt, "Batchy" Smith, Fred Buss Jr., "Smokey" Keller, "Butch" Casper and Bill Schaefer.

St. John's Lutheran Church at New Fane was the scene of the marriage of one of Kewaskum's popular young men to one of New Fane's most popular young ladies in a beautiful summer service which united Miss Lucille Heberer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Heberer, and Otto Stenschke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Traugott Stenschke, as man and wife on August 2.

Death this week saddened the home of prominent local businessman and public official and the hearts of the entire populace of the village of Kewaskum, when John Brunner, 64, passed away at his home on August 2.

Funeral services for the late Joseph Schladweiler, 72, who died at the home of his brother, Mich. Schladweiler, in the Town of Auburn, 6½ miles northeast of Kewaskum, on July 28, were held last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferd. Buechel, Beechwood, are the proud parents of a baby boy born to them on Monday.

An 8-pound baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kilian Kral of West Bend, on July 26. The former is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kral of this village.

the firemen's picnic, John Schmidt and his brother, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Schmidt, living three miles west of this village, experienced a runaway in which the former was seriously hurt. The runaway was caused by a tug of the harness loosening from the phil near Herman Backhaus' place. When rounding the curve on Fond du Lac Avenue, the buggy was upset and the occupants forcibly thrown to the ground. John, the older of the two, sustained a broken hip. The younger of the two boys was fortunate in escaping injury with only a few slight bruises.

Automobiles are still arriving in this village as two more were purchased the past week. Theodore Eisentraut, a machinist employed in Nic. Rimmel's machine shop purchased a Kenmore runabout and expects the car today. Wm. Eberle, night fireman in the L. Rosenheimer Malt & Grain Co.'s malt house, purchased a Maxwell runabout at Fond du Lac. A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Campbell last Monday.

Thought near death Monday night when she was taken to St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac, after being injured in an automobile accident, Mrs. John Foerster, 50, whose husband operates a tavern at Wayne Center, west of Kewaskum, was reported to be in a fairly good condition Tuesday. Mrs. Foerster was riding in a small roadster with her son, Jerome, 17, when he turned out to pass a team and hayrack proceeding in the same direction. The car failed to clear the rack and a projecting board caught the right side of the car. Mrs. Foerster was thrown out and suffered severe lacerations.

Music news & notes

The first time blacks and whites made music together for a national audience was 1936, according to Lionel Hampton. He and Teddy Wilson appeared on the Camel Caravan Radio Hour, sponsored by Camel cigarettes, with Benny Goodman and Gene Krupa. That was 11 years before Jackie Robinson became the first black major league baseball player.

Smoking and Pregnancy

You may have heard it said that if you are pregnant and still smoking cigarettes, you are smoking for two. The statement is true. What it means is that the nicotine, carbon monoxide and other chemicals that you inhale with every cigarette are passing into your baby's body, too. In effect, your baby has become a smoker, even before it has taken its first breath outside your body. Think about that. Think about it while we take a quick look at some of the bad effects that your smoking may be having on your baby.

We know that up to 14 percent of all premature deliveries in the U.S. may be attributed to maternal smoking. We know, too, that babies born to mothers who smoke during pregnancy are, on the average, seven ounces lighter at birth than babies born to nonsmokers. This difference in birth weight is important because low-birth-weight babies are susceptible to many more newborn problems than normal-weight babies. In fact, two-thirds of all babies who die in their first year are low-birth-weight infants (they weighed 5½ pounds or less at birth).

Smoking during pregnancy increases the risk of miscarriage and the risk that the baby will be stillborn. Maternal smoking also is strongly associated with sudden infant death syndrome.

The more one smokes, of course, the greater the risk to the baby. The sooner one quits, the healthier the baby is likely to be. If you stop early in pregnancy, in fact, the chances of your baby weighing less than normal will be no greater than if you had never smoked at all. So, won't it be worthwhile to kick the habit? Can you do it?

Most smokers need a motive to quit. You already have a strong one—protecting your baby's health. Even if you have tried and failed to quit before, the fact of your pregnancy may make this attempt much easier. You'll be quitting for two.

Morning sickness is another reason for quitting. Many women find that smoking tends to bring it on and to make it worse.

Plan how you're going to quit. Recognize, at the outset, that you may be in for a difficult time, and ask your family and friends for encouragement and support. Tell them that you have picked a "quitting day," and ask them to help you keep your promise when that day arrives.

Recognize, too, however, that many smokers must try several times before they succeed in quitting. If you fail, don't be discouraged. Go back and try again. You may find it helpful to attend a clinic or join a cessation group. You should definitely ask your doctor for advice. Local offices of the American Cancer Society, the American Heart Association and the American Lung Association will give you help, too. And if you will write to "Clearing the Air," Public Health Service, Rockville, Maryland 20857, we'll send you an excellent little booklet of tips, techniques and sound advice on quitting. It's called "Clearing the Air," as you may have guessed, and it will help you do just that.

There's no better time to stop smoking than when you're pregnant. And once you've stopped, don't start again. If you nurse your baby, nicotine from your cigarette will find its way into your breast milk and thus into your baby's body. If you smoke at home... well, you get the idea: you'll still be smoking for two, and that's not good. Children of smoking parents have more pneumonia and bronchitis during their first year of life than other children.

So, do yourself and your baby a big favor. Quit now. Quit for good.

4-H Youth at State Fair

If you still plan to attend the Wisconsin State Fair, July 31 - August 10 at West Allis, check out the Youth Expo Building where 4-H'ers and other youth are presenting exhibits, demonstrations and clothing revues.

As you watch the activity, consider which ones you might like to be involved in — perhaps next year. It's an experience you can't get anywhere else, and one that you sure can't buy.

Four-H'ers and others involved in communication arts give formal speeches and demonstrations, many of which are performed for the public twice daily. Thus, participants are given a chance to try new approaches, and receive constructive criticism from their peers.

Many also attend workshops, where they share experience and learn skills from professional communicators, such as broadcasters, public relations specialists, even "the guys who sell kitchen knives on the fairgrounds."

The professionals often give the amateur speakers advice on how to capture and hold an audience. Many of the participants perform in front of their first non-captive audience. Some of the audience is there because they just want to sit down and rest, and it can be quite a challenge to get their interest and keep it.

Holly Prochnow, Diana Buckmann, and Lynn Hammen were selected to present their demonstrations August 4 - 7.

"Action centers" in the Expo building are the sites of informal demonstrations where youth explain their projects, such as leathercraft or other visual arts activities.

Other youth participate in 4-H clothing revues, which are held four times daily. Revue participants, who plan and coordinate the revues as well as model clothing and accessories they've made as part of a 4-H clothing project, have been judged the best clothing review participants at their county fair.

Jeanne Awve, Myraneers 4-H Club and Diane Hammen of the Badger Boosters 4-H Club are Washington County's 1986 representatives.

Once they arrive at the state revue, competition ends and cooperative sharing and learning becomes the main thrust of activities. Participants attend three- or five-day clothing workshops where they learn basic skills, such as color, line, makeup, speaking and modeling, as well as self-confidence.

Adult volunteers attend the workshops as facilitators. They just stand back and let (the youth) provide the ideas, props, scripts and the work. They learn to work as a team. The shows are demanding and can be stressful, but they provide opportunities to gain leadership abilities and experience. Participants are encouraged to go home and help with their own county clothing revues.

The entertaining and educational clothing revues have consistently drawn big crowds at the fair.

New State License Plates to Be Issued, Sen. Stitt Reports

In the last state budget, the Legislature approved a provision to have our state license plates redesigned. The Department of Transportation (DOT) held a design contest and Mr. David Hornung of Fond du Lac won!

The new design displays dark blue "Wisconsin" and "America's Dairyland" legends and characters, as well as an illustration of Wisconsin's most notable sites: our water resources, our farms, and our beautiful natural setting.

Since DOT estimates license plates have a "life expectancy" of seven years, the new plates will be replacing the 25,000 oldest plates each month. In addition, people who purchase a new car with an operation date on or after August 16, 1986 will receive a new plate.

The following chart estimates the date you may receive your new plate:

Year of Original Issue	Anticipated Replacement Year
1979	1986
1979	1987
1979	1988
1980-81	1989
1981-82	1990
1982-1983-1984	1991
1984-85	1992

If you are anxious to replace the old yellow and black with the attractive new plate, you may do so after August 1, 1986. You must enclose a $10.00 check or money order payable to REGISTRATION FEE TRUST for each set of plates you need. Also enclose the certificate of title for each vehicle and mail it to:

Wisconsin Department of Transportation
Graphic Plate Processing
P.O. Box 7911
Madison, WI 53707
The new plates will certainly help to convey a more positive impression of Wisconsin. In addition, by reissuing the plates to approximately 1/7 of the auto fleet each year, we are saving state tax dollars.

If you have any question or concerns, please feel free to contact me, Senator Don Stitt at P.O. Box 7882, Madison, Wisconsin 53707 or call my office at 608-266-7513 or leave a message with the Legislative Hotline at 1-800-362-9696.

Auto Owners May Apply for New Designer Plates

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation will begin in August to issue the state's new multi-colored graphic design automobile license plate.

First vehicles to sport the colorful plates - white with blue numbers and letters, a red barn, orange sun, blue lake, green foliage and white sailboat - will be some car and station wagon owners whose black on yellow plates were issued to them in August 1979, and those taking advantage of the $10 early renewal option.

Beginning Aug. 16, people registering their cars for the first time will receive the new graphic plates. These include newcomers who begin operating their cars in Wisconsin on or after Aug. 16, and car buyers without plates to transfer from another vehicle.

Norbert Anderson, administrator of the Division of Motor Vehicles, said his division will issue 25,000 sets of new plates monthly to people who are renewing their registrations. "This will be the introduction of a money saving scheduled replacement," he explained.

Rather than replace all auto license plates in one year, the replacements will be spread out over a period of seven years with the oldest plates being replaced first.

"This allows plates to remain in use over a period approximately their usable life expectancy," Anderson added.

All personalized plates, including special plates, will be replaced in 1987.

Under the early replacement option provided by state law, auto owners may send in their certificates of title with $10 and receive new plates immediately, rather than waiting for their scheduled replacement year. The $10 fee is an early issuance fee, and is in addition to payment of annual registration renewal fees.

The only auto owners not eligible for early replacement are those who hold plates scheduled for replacement in 1987. These include special plates such as Personalized, Disabled, Disabled Veteran, Collector, Amateur Radio, and a few other specialized auto registrations.

Anderson advised people whose current plates were originally issued in 1979 to wait until they receive their renewal notices before applying for early issuance.

"There are still about a million of the 1979-issue plates still in service," Anderson said. "We will be replacing about a third of them in each of the next three years. If the renewal notice says that the new plates will not be issued, then they may choose to exercise the early replacement option at that time," he added.

The recommended method of applying for early replacement is to enclose a $10 check or money order payable to the Registration Fee Trust. Enclose the certificate of title and mail to the Department of Transportation, Graphic Plate Processing Unit, P.O. Box 7911, Madison 53707.

Anderson said the orders will be processed after Aug. 1, which is the effective date of the early-issuance legislation and the date on which the plate replacement began.

Anderson said the division plans to publicize the two-digit prefixes of license numbers scheduled for replacement each month so that vehicle owners will be able to find out if their plates are scheduled for replacement.

The list will be available about 60 days before the date of plate expiration, he said.

Tips for better beer drinking

Americans drank 186 million barrels of beer last year, enough to fill almost 165,000 large backyard swimming pools.

Although the United States doesn't lead the world in its per capita beer consumption, Americans are paying more attention to how they drink their beer, says Howard Hillman, author of "Gourmet Guide to Beer."

Hillman demolishes some long-held myths and practices about beer-drinking:

- A good head promotes flavor and is best produced by pouring right to the center of a straight-up glass, not down the side of a tilted glass.

- Beer should be sipped slowly and savored, not swigged absent-mindedly.

- Beer tastes best when drunk from a glass, preferably one shaped like a tulip or a brandy snifter. Pewter tankards, he says, are best left hanging from the rafters as decorative features, because pewter can change the flavor of beer.

John Kucich, president of All Brand Importers, a beer importer, maintains that despite all the beer Americans drank last year, the market is still relatively undeveloped. His company sees a market that's ready to be tapped further.

Washington County Fair Auction Is Well Above Average Sale

The meat animal sale at the Washington County Fair may not have topped last year's record-setting sale, but it is well above average for the 17 years the sale has been held, said Dave Rizzardi, chairman of the sale.

Rizzardi, who is an agriculture instructor at Kewaskum, said gross sales were in the neighborhood of $52,700 with beef animals bringing $35,711, hogs bringing $12,400 and sheep bringing $4,600.

The average price per pound for beef was 95 cents, for hogs $1.44 and for sheep $1.73. There were 31 steers, 40 hogs and 24 sheep auctioned at the sale.

A hog sold by Jim Butzlaff, of Route 1, Allenton, was purchased by Farmers Implement of Allenton for $3.30 a pound and was then donated back to the sale and repurchased by Bob Fish Pontiac of West Bend. The buyers designated their purchase money to Don Nelson's farm fund.

Nelson, the Milwaukee Bucks Basketball coach, has started a fund to help the state's troubled farmers. The Slinger buyers aided that cause with $433.50, Rizzardi said.

This year's show and sale saw a new category in classes of market animals. The committee decided to add classes for home-bred animals, meaning the dam of the market animal must have been owned at the time of breeding.

"The committee members decided they would like to promote and give credit to families that have their own herds," Rizzardi said.

The champion home-bred market hog was shown by Vicki Janz of West Bend. Her 245-pound animal was purchased by Schwartzburg Chevrolet - Olds of West Bend for $1.50 per pound. The reserve home-bred barrow was shown by Marshall Jutz of Hartford. His 225-pound hog was purchased for $1.20 a pound by A. Hendrickson and Son Excavating and Grading of Slinger.

The champion home-bred beef was shown by Ann Shaw of West Bend. Her 1,140-pound steer was purchased by M and I

Bank of West Bend for $1.10 a pound. The reserve champion home-bred was shown and sold by John Hupfer of West Bend, weighed 1,070 pounds and was purchased for $1.05.

The champion home-bred market lamb was shown by Terry Groth of Jackson. His 105-pound animal was purchased by Vogel Seed of Jackson for $1.60 a pound. The reserve champion home-bred market lamb was shown by Joe Kuhaupt of Slinger. His 99-pound animal went for $1.90 to First National Bank of Hartford.

In the regular steer category, Troy Bader of Hartford had the champion beef bred steer. His 1,255-pound animal went for $1.50 a pound to the First National Bank of Hartford, bringing a total of $1,882.

The reserve champion beef bred steer was shown by Holly Etta of Kewaskum. Her 1,200-pound steer was purchased by Hanson Food of Slinger for $1.20 per pound, bringing a total of $1,440.

The champion dairy bred steer was shown by Brian Oelhafen of Allenton. His 1,145-pound steer was purchased by Kewaskum Frozen Foods for $1.35, bringing a total of $1,545. The reserve champion dairy bred steer was shown by Jim Schultz of West Bend. He sold his 1200-pound steer to Family Farm Meats of Allenton for $1.10 a pound and a total of $1,320.

The champion market hog was shown by Pam Hetzel of Hartford. Her 220-pound Duroc sold for $2 per pound to the First National Bank of Hartford for a total of $440. Keith Herman of Allenton had the reserve champion market hog. His 235-pound animal was purchased by the Kewaskum Mill for $1.35 a pound and a total of $317.

The champion market lamb was shown by Terry Groth of Jackson and was purchased by Rural Insurance of West Bend. The 126-pound wether brought $2.75 a pound and a total of $346. The reserve champion market lamb was shown by Mark Hetzel of Hartford and purchased by Ewen Glass of Hartford. The 121-pound lamb brought $1.50 a pound and a total of $181.

PREPARING FOR RETIREMENT

If you plan to retire at the end of the year, you should know that there are some things you should be doing right now in preparation of that event.

In the first place, Social Security recommends that you should actually apply for retirement benefits 2 or 3 months before you plan to stop work so that your benefits can start when your earnings from work stop. This gives us plenty of time to process the claim and take care of any problems that may arise.

Being prepared for the retirement interview with the required proofs can make a difference in how long that entire process will be.

Among the documents a person applying for Social Security retirement benefits will need are the following:

- Your Social Security card or a record of the number.

- Proof of your date of birth...an original official record of birth recorded before age 5 is best.

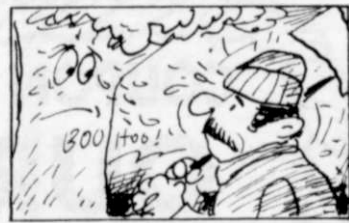

If these are not available, the Social Security office can help determine the best evidence available.

- Your W-2 forms for the last 2 years, or, if you are self-employed, copies of your self-employment tax returns for the last 2 years.

- Marriage certificate if your spouse is applying for benefits, plus the same documents as above for the spouse.

- Birth certificates and Social Security numbers of any children applying for benefits on your Social Security record.

Even if you do not have all the proofs needed, it's best to come into the office and apply in a timely fashion. Social Security representatives can help you secure any evidence needed to complete your application for retirement benefits. Just call the office at 1-800-242-9946.

Letters to the Editor

July 31, 1986

Dear Editor:

The County's Sesqui-centennial Celebration is now history. The Washington County Tourism Council had the privilege of contributing to the affair by way of bringing the "Pioneer Wagon Train" through the county and staging an amateur "Tug O' War" contest Saturday evening on the county fair grounds. Both were unequivocally successful.

Thanks must be extended to those who helped make these events a success. The people who spent a full day on the wagons of course must be commended. It is obvious that they love sharing their expensive hobby of restoration and horses with the public. The wagonmaster, Bud Schmidt, volunteered a lot of time and effort to assure us of an outstanding day. The 26 sponsors from throughout the county helped defray the cost, and without these community-minded businesses the wagon train would not have happened. The cooperation from the police departments and the county sheriffs department was excellent and the street sweeper in West Bend greatly appreciated. The Pioneer Wagon Train received prime attention from the media, both local and Milwaukee. We made newspapers, magazines, radio and TV. How fortunate for our county to get such great exposure.

The spectators at the Tug O' War numbered over 300. Teams came with coaches, cheerleaders, sponsors, and matching team shirts. At least two teams filled their rosters from the audience. Winners of the Men's Division were (in order) Scenic View Country Club, Bob Fish, and Hair Tamers. Other participants were Serigraph Sales, Cochran Sign Co., and Hardee's "Muscles," West Bend. Winners of the Coed Division were (in order) West Bend Savings "Spouses," West Bend Mutual, and the Dairy Queen "Blizzards." Other participants in the coed division were Wesbar, Slinger JC's, and West Bend Savings "Employees." Everyone had a great time, whether pulling or spectating. Congratulations to the winners.

The Pioneer Wagon Train will remain in our memories for a long time. Those that didn't get one yet may still purchase a commemorative mug at the West Bend Area Chamber of Commerce in the Centrum Building at 120 N. Main St., Suite 280, while they last.

The Tug O' War will be bigger and better next year. Those teams that participated this year are already gearing up for the stiff competition they expect in 1987. We encourage teams from the far corners of our county (limited to Washington County) to plan now to enter. We hope to reinstate the women's division. Dairy Queen was the only brave team to enter this division this year.

Your Washington County Tourism Council is pleased to bring our wonderful county to the attention of residents and visitors alike. We invite your support and involvement.

And we encourage you all to help us "talk up" Washington County.

Most 'Facts' About Bats Aren't True, Says Wildlife Magazine

"There is no evidence to suggest that bats ever transmit tuberculosis to man," said Constantine. Although bats have also been accused of transmitting the fungal disease histoplasmosis, this rare disease is not usually traceable to bats because fungus can't survive in the hot, dry attics where bats live. Instead, histoplasmosis usually flourishes in bird roosts and chicken coops in the humid southeastern United States, according to National Wildlife.

Bats are not dirty animals likely to infect homes with dangerous parasites. Bat researchers agree, says National Wildlife, "that you just don't see dirty bats in the wild." Like many mammals, bats work hard to keep themselves clean. And parasites that feed on bats are specialized; they rarely pose any threat to humans.

Poison is the worst possible means of getting bats to leave human living quarters. If you really want to get rid of bats, says National Wildlife, the best way to do it is to seal off all the entrances to their roosting sites—the holes and cracks that give the tiny animals access to attics. Using pesticides poses a real threat to human health, says the magazine, despite the fact that many pest control companies promote the practice and circulate sensational literature about the dangers of bats. And even though the United States Environmental Protection Agency has warned against the use of a pesticide commonly used on bats—Rozol—twenty states still permit the use of this anticoagulant to poison bats.

The truly enlightened homeowner may even want to consider keeping bats around. Europeans build bat-houses in their backyards so they can take advantage of these insect-eaters. Bats can snag up to 500 insects an hour.

But even if you can't bring yourself to cultivate a bat population in your attic, at least refrain from slandering these gentle animals. As National Wildlife tells it, they've unfairly suffered to slurs and abuses of their human neighbors for too long.

If you're one of those many people who believe that bats—the flying mammals associated with witches and Halloween—are rabid, filthy, aggressive animals that can infect humans with tuberculosis and other diseases, you're mistaken.

Those are among the myths that make the bat one of the world's most misunderstood animals, according to the current issue of National Wildlife magazine. The fact is, bats deserve to be known as intelligent, gentle and entertaining animals with an enormous appetite for insects. They pose little health risk to man.

Ignorance and sensational media coverage continue to fuel the myths, but if you're interested in the truth about bats, says the bi-monthly publication of the National Wildlife Federation, consider the following facts:

Bats are not the frequent carriers of rabies that people think they are. "It is safe to say that the incidence of rabies among bats is no greater than the incidence of rabies in other wild animals," Dr. Denny Constantine, widely recognized as the world's foremost authority on rabies and other diseases in bats, told National Wildlife. One bat out of a thousand carries rabies, says Constantine, and in the past 30 years only ten people in the United States have contracted rabies from bats.

"Many more people are killed annually by dog attacks, bee stings, power motors or lightning than have been killed by rabid bats over the last 30 years," says the magazine.

Bats are not by nature aggressive. Healthy bats do not attack people, according to a survey of all available research. One scientist who has handled some 200 species of bats in 20 countries for more than 23 years told National Wildlife he had never seen an aggressive bat. Nor had any of his colleagues ever been attacked by a bat. Stories that describe squadrons of bats attacking humans simply aren't based in fact, according to the magazine.

Bat droppings are not dangerous sources of respiratory diseases, such as tuberculosis.

Cub Scout Day Camp

"A Day With Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn" is the theme of the Cub Scout Day Camp which is in full swing at Camp Silverbrook, West Bend. Glacier Edge District 11, of the Bay-Lakes Council of the Boy Scouts of America, is hosting the event for 750 Cubs and 200 of their leaders.

Registrations are held each day at 8:30 a.m. The day begins with a flag raising ceremony at 9:00 a.m. Dora M. Zillmer, Camp Director reports that events include Archery, BB-Gun Target Shooting, Boating, Confidence Trail, Fishing, Nature Session and Swimming. Activities will commence with the closing assembly and camp patches will be awarded. Departure time is 4:15 p.m.

Packs are reminded to bring their Health Information Forms, and each participant should bring a swim suit, towel and sack lunch; milk will be provided. All clothes and items should be marked with individual's name and pack number.

Camp souvenirs, t-shirts, handicrafts and refreshments are available at the Trading Post.

Food Poisoning Is Preventable

By Mary P. Benoit
County Extension
Summer Home Economist

Eating out or eating in? There are risks whether we cook the food ourselves or leave it to someone else.

Although the incidence of foodborne illness varies from year to year, it occurs more outside the home and is caused by the same three microorganisms — Salmonella, Clostridium perfringens, and Staphylococcus aureus.

These three are the biggest problems, but they wouldn't be if people handled food properly. We mishandle food through improper cooking and storage, poor personal hygiene, using contaminated equipment or food that was bad to begin with, and contaminating cooked food with organisms from raw food.

Holding food at a temperature that allows bacterial growth is the single greatest factor contributing to outbreaks of illness. Bacteria can reproduce when food is cooked or cooled too slowly, improperly refrigerated, or kept warm but not hot.

Heat up foods completely and quickly before simmering, store hot foods in shallow containers so they cool rapidly when refrigerated, and eat foods promptly. Don't put a cooked turkey on the same cutting board you had the raw turkey on without washing the board first.

Meats and raw milk products require the greatest care because they sometimes harbor all three germs.

Salmonella, although easily killed by heat, sanitizing agents, and foodtype acids, is frequently found in beef, pork, and poultry. People who have had salmonellosis will often shed the organism in their stools indefinitely, thereby increasing chances of outbreaks.

Clostridium perfringens is widespread in the environment, soil, and slaughtered animals. Even when meat reaches 145 degrees, the organism's spores can still survive. In the intestine, a growth cycle occurs where eventually an illness-causing toxin is released. Slow heating and cooling make this a common problem in the food service industry.

About 30-50 percent of healthy adults carry staphylococcus aureus in their noses and 30-40 percent of healthy food handlers carry it on their hands. Food-type animals may also harbor this microorganism. It is a major cause of mastitis, leading to contaminated raw milk. Unlike Salmonella, it survives freezing. Like Clostridium perfringens, it releases a toxin that causes illness.

Eating Salmonella can cause typhoid fever, intestinal problems, and local tissue inflammation. Poisoning by C. perfringens and S. aureus toxins can cause nausea, diarrhea and cramping. How severe the illness is depends on how much bacteria or toxin was consumed. As few as 100 cells of Salmonella can initiate illness.

Cook meats to 145 degrees or above and refrigerate all foods at 45 degrees or below. Using good personal hygiene, washing utensils with soap and water, and choosing foods for their wholesomeness and cleanliness are also a must.

Microwave ovens sometimes don't cook pork properly. Since microwaves heat from the inside out, heating is not uniform, and meat surface temperatures can drop through evaporative cooling. Under these conditions, trichina, the worm sometimes found in pork, can survive.

With proper care, foodborne illnesses can be prevented. If you have any questions regarding food safety, contact your extension office.

CORRECTION

In last week's Honeck Chevrolet Best Car Buys ad, the price on the 1986 Caprice Classic station wagon (stock number 9814), was mistakenly listed at $10,448.49. The price should have been $13,448.00.

Crooked Trails Snowmobile Club Needs You

All clubs question how much work they should put into a club, before it becomes just that - work. Crooked Trails is no exception. I guess the break off point should be when its members no longer have fun working together. Projects bring the members together, this togetherness breeds enthusiasm, enthusiasm brings pride and pride breeds more enthusiasm. This belief is the very reason our club chose to build and enter a float in this year's Campbellsport Fourth of July Parade. The goal was to have a float that could be built over a month's time, use the various skills of our individual members, and provide recognition of our club in the area. This goal was reached on July 4, when our float, which was the Statue of Liberty, took first place in the civic organization category.

I'd like to personally thank Lisa Buddenhagen and Donna Lieberman for spearheading this project and using their skills to get many others involved in this project.

I'd like to challenge snowmobilers in the area to consider joining our club this fall. If you like to snowmobile, want to be associated with an active club, want to see the condition of the trails continue in this area, then our club is for you.

Our spring and summer activities include canoe trips, bowling parties, swim parties, weekend outings, and an annual corn roast.

Our fall and winter activities include trail set up, hay ride, dinner-dance, weekly snowmobile rides, overnight motel trips, and a Christmas party.

Are you interested? If so, you can find out more about our club in one of the following three ways.

1) Call Dorthy Kane 533-8762 or Tom Hinchliffe at 533-8725 for more information.

2) Come to our annual corn roast on Saturday, August 16th, from 12:00 to 6:00 p.m. and see us in action. Members will be present to answer any questions.

3) Come to a "Meet Our Members" party at 3:00 p.m. on September 14th. We will have free beer, videos of past events and other things to help you decide if you would like to join our club. At this session we will offer new memberships at 1/2 of our regular membership fee. This offer is designed to help you try out our club at 1/2 the fee. (You will need a snowmobile registration card to enter).

Remember, an active club is needed to keep members together and to preserve the type of trail system we have all grown accustomed to.

Clarence A. Schwartz, Sheriff

Underage Drinking

With summer weather, underage drinking is becoming more of a problem in Washington County, according to Sheriff Clarence A. Schwartz. "Besides the birds singing and the grass growing, there are the additional sounds of clinking beer bottles and popping can tops," the Sheriff remarked. "It is a time during which many teenagers want to show their independence and perhaps rush the aging process a little. They're only 17 or 18, but want to be 19 or 20."

Persons under age 19 cannot possess, consume, or purchase any intoxicating liquor. They may consume and possess beer, and only beer, but only if their parents are accompanying them. "Unfortunately, in most of our contacts with underage drinkers, Mom and Dad aren't around," the Sheriff stated. "That's because the drinking is going on at roadsides, in driveways, in secret parties at a friend's home." In no case can someone under 19 years of age purchase beer.

"We generally have good cooperation from the liquor stores and taverns, with checking ID's. The underage drinkers are getting the stuff from their older 'legal' aged friends who purchase it and then turn the beer or liquor over to them. We have stronger, easier to enforce laws on this now, and we're hitting those people hard," the Sheriff said.

Adults who supply alcoholic beverages to underage drinkers can be fined up to $500. They also take a risk that an underage drinker will climb into a car after drinking and get into an accident. The adult who furnished the beer or liquor could be sued in court for the resulting damages.

Underage drinkers may not drive a vehicle with any amount of alcohol in their system. "Absolute sobriety" is a separate law from intoxicated driving. As soon as the underage drinker has even one beer, for example, he or she cannot drive a vehicle; and if caught doing so, the penalty is a mandatory suspension of the driver's license.

The Washington County Sheriff's Department has prepared a fact sheet with all of these laws clearly listed. It is available free of charge in the lobby of the Sheriff's Department, or by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Washington County Sheriff, Department 310, P.O. Box 1986, West Bend, WI 53095-7986.

"Parents and teenagers alike will find this information useful. Once read, it eliminates any excuses that the law wasn't clear. Hopefully, those who read it will follow the principles explained in it," the Sheriff stated.

Another Conservation Reserve Program Signup for State Farmers

Wisconsin farmers should be aware that another Conservation Reserve Program signup period began Monday, August 4, 1986, and runs through Friday, August 15, Ed Frank, farm wildlife specialist for the Department of Natural Resources, said.

The Conservation Reserve Program (CRP), a part of the 1985 Farm Bill, is a conservation program designed to retire 40-45 million acres of erodible crop lands in the U.S. from production by 1990. Under CRP, farmers can enroll land meeting erodibility requirements for a 10-year period and receive an annual payment for not cropping this land.

"The annual payment is based on a bid that the landowner submits with his application," Frank said. "The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service has estimated that there are 1.4 million acres eligible for the Conservation Reserve Program in Wisconsin."

Acreage enrollment in 1986 have been disappointing in Wisconsin with only 37,386 acres, amounting to 2.5 percent of the potential acreage, signed up so far. If the state is to see any of the conservation benefits to soil, wildlife and water quality possible through this program, landowners must act now, Frank added.

"There's lots of potential out there for Wisconsin and its wildlife," Tom Hauge, Department private lands wildlife specialist, said. "The grassy reserve that can develop would be of tremendous value to all grassland nesting birds including gamebirds."

In the long run, the payments are also of great benefit to farmers. Currently in Dane County, CRP payments have been as high as $80 per acre while cash rent for farmlands is about $50 per acre. Over the 10-year period, CRP is an attractive program for the landowner.

Lands with a Soil Conservation Service rating of II through IV with soil losses three times the tolerable limit are eligible. In addition, all cropland with a VI-VIII rating is also eligible. The land must also have been planted to an annual crop at least two years during the year 1981 to 1985 to be eligible. Application forms along with help in figuring out bids are available at local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices.

VOTING BY ABSENTEE BALLOT

Any qualified elector, unable to get to the polling place on election day for any reason, may ask to vote by absentee ballot. A qualified elector is a person who is a U.S. citizen, who will be 18 years of age or older on election day, who has resided in the ward or municipality where the person wishes to vote at least 10 days before the election. If the voter resides in a municipality which requires voter registration, then registration is also required for the voter to receive an absentee ballot.

To obtain an absentee ballot, the voter should contact the clerk of the city, village or town in which the voter resides. A written request must be made by the voter for the absentee ballot. If the voter contacts the clerk by telephone the clerk will send the application form to the voter. If the voter requests an absentee ballot by mail, a written request, signed by the voter which indicates that the voter resides within the municipality, will be honored. At the request of an absentee voter a relative may provide the assistance. After voting at the nursing home is completed, the special voting deputies will return the absentee ballot to the municipal clerk.

If the absentee voter resides in a nursing home, the absentee ballot will be delivered to the nursing home by two special voting deputies appointed by the municipal clerk. The special voting deputies will present the absentee ballot to the voter and provide assistance in marking or punching the ballot if necessary. At the request of an absentee voter a relative may provide the assistance. After voting at the nursing home is completed, the special voting deputies will return the absentee ballot to the municipal clerk.

With one exception, the voter who wants to cast an absentee ballot must make a separate written request before each election. If a voter is indefinitely confined to his or her home or a care facility because of illness, age, or disability, the voter need not make a request before each election. There is a special statement on the application which is provided by the municipal clerk which can be completed asking that an absentee ballot be automatically mailed to the voter before each election if he or she is indefinitely confined. If the indefinitely confined voter fails to vote and return the ballot sent to the voter, a separate written request for the next election must be made before the voter can obtain a ballot.

The municipal clerk will send the absentee ballot to the voter once the request is received and the ballots are prepared. Absentee ballots are available thirty (30) days before the fall elections and three weeks before a special or the spring elections. The municipal clerk keeps a public record of all individuals requesting an absentee ballot indicating when the ballot is requested, sent, and returned to the municipal clerk.

An absentee ballot can be voted at home any time after it is received in the mail. An absentee ballot can also be voted in the clerk's office if the voter appears in person and fills out the written request. The voter should make sure that the certificate affidavit is properly completed and witnessed by two persons. The voter and the witnesses must sign the certificate on the absentee ballot carrier envelope. If the absentee elector receives assistance in marking the ballot, the person providing the assistance must sign the statement on the back of the ballot which provides that the person giving assistance marked the ballot as directed by the absentee voter. The municipal clerk will make sure that the certificate-affidavit is properly completed by the voter when the absentee ballot is voted in the clerk's office.

The completed absentee ballot must be in the possession of the issuing municipal clerk no later than the close of the polls on election day. Voted absentee ballots may be delivered in person to the municipal clerk. Any absentee ballot where the certificate-affidavit is not properly completed can not be counted.

Two Others Get Honorable Mention Five Indians Selected On EW All-Conference First or Second Teams

Champion New Holstein and runnerup Kewaskum dominated the Eastern Wisconsin All-Conference baseball first and second teams selected by the coaches.

Five Indian players were named to the first or second teams, together with five starters from New Holstein.

Kewaskum had two repeaters from the 1985 all-conference team in catcher Tim Dettmann and stand out pitcher Don Menzel. Dettmann, who wound up a close second for the batting title, and third baseman and pitcher Bob Yahr were two of the seven unanimous selections on the first team.

New Holstein pitching ace Scott Lefeber, who had a perfect 9-0 record against conference teams, was also a unanimous choice, along with infielders John Rulseh of New Holstein and Bryant Fuerst of Plymouth, outfielders Terry Van Egen of Sheboygan Falls and Ken Zorn of Kiel. All are seniors except Zorn. All conference teams except Two Rivers were represented on the first team.

The remainder of the first team included Jeff Halbach of New Holstein, an outfielder, and infielders Todd Struve of Plymouth and Kevin Meyers of Chilton, a sophomore.

Dettmann batted .484 in the conference, right behind Rulseh, who hit .500. A hit in his last time at bat would have given him .500. Coach Tom Bartelt said, adding that Dettmann was the best catcher in the conference without a doubt. Slugger Tim had 41 hits in 95 times at bat, including five doubles, three triples and two home runs.

Although he missed a couple early season games with an injury, Menzel had a 6-2 record in the conference and was 9-2 overall, with a stellar earned run average of 1.67. Menzel pitched 75 1/2 innings, giving up 51 hits and 31 runs, only 18 of them earned. He struck out an even 100 and gave up 39 walks. Coach Bartelt believes if Don had pitched all season he would have been a unanimous choice.

Yahr also had an excellent season playing at third base and as the No. 2 pitcher. He hit .380 with 10 doubles, two triples and one homer. While pitching he threw 53 1/2 innings and ended up with a fine 7-3 record. Bob struck out 29, walked 23 and had a 2.49 ERA.

Kewaskum outfielder Jeff Newhauser and first baseman Jack Aupperle were named to the conference second team. Newhauser batted .342 and had 25 hits in 73 trips to the plate, including three doubles. Aupperle hit .337 with 31 hits in 95 at bats, including two doubles, one triple and one home run.

Indians who received honorable mention were shortstop Rick Staehler and outfielder Tim Bingen.

Kewaskum wound up with a fine 21-9 season record, including regional sectional and state tournament play. Eight members of the team are seniors and only two regulars, Mark Schlosser and Troy Zimdars, will return next year. Bartelt will have to depend on reserves and players coming up from the JVs, who had a good season.

4 KHS Players Join Lakes Team, Lose to Lithias

Kewaskum hosted the West Bend Lithias in a Land o' Lakes contest Sunday and was defeated, 8-4. The Lithias took command with a seven-run barrage in the fourth inning.

Kewaskum was bolstered by the addition of four players from the strong High School team which just concluded their season in the WIAA State Tournament on Friday. They are graduating seniors Bob Yahr, Tim Dettmann, Jack Aupperle and Tim Rohlinger.

The victory brought the Lithias' record to 8-5 in the Lakes and dropped Kewaskum to 1-10.

West Bend won behind the pitching of Greg Knox, who struck out five and walked only one. Newly added Rohlinger made his debut on the mound for Kewaskum and was the loser, whiffing five and walking three. (Yahr had pitched in Friday's State Tournament game).

The Lithias outhit Kewaskum, 11-8, with Meinberg, M. Knoz and Jazak each collecting two hits. Rick Leitheiser got three hits for Kewaskum while Yahr had two.

Kewaskum also was beaten July 30 by Port Washington, 13-6, and by Grafton on Saturday, 9-2. An upset Wednesday night found Thiensville-Mequon hand Plymouth its first loss of the season, 7-3.

In other Lakes game Sunday, the West Bend Benders jolted Barton, 7-5, Port defeated Cedarburg, 12-1 and Grafton downed Saukville, 10-5.

Present Lakes standings are: Plymouth 12-1, Thiensville-Mequon 10-2, Port 10-4, Barton 10-6, West Bend Lithias 8-5, Grafton 6-9, Saukville 5-9, West Bend Benders 3-11, Cedarburg 3-11 and Kewaskum 1-10.

Thiemerdome Thursday Goodtime League

Round Robin Standings
Barrel Haus	1	0

HIGHLIGHTS

It was another night of unusual events at the Dome. The fans witnessed the decline of another All-Star as the Rollie Fingers of the Goodtime League, Mike "Rags" Pfeiffer, had the type of game that makes you go home and kick the dog a wail at the moon. He is a control type pitcher who can paint the black with the best of them. On this night he allowed 7 walks in the 1st inning. His control was so bad his pitches were having trouble finding the ground much less the plate. It really got out of hand when the hitters from BJ & Co. didn't even bother bringing along a bat at their appearance at the plate. When the dust settled BJ & Co. had scored 7 runs which were way too many for the Punch & Judy hitting attack of the Bartelt squad. Rags, however, was awesome at the plate as he screeched 3 line drives, the 3rd of which was scorched so hard that time out had to be called so a new cover could be quickly sewn on the softball. When questioned about his control problems in a post game interview an unconcerned Rags claimed it was just an anomaly. However, later in the evening after the game films were reviewed at the VIP Lounge, Rags did admit that he has been bothered of late by the reoccurrence of an old war injury incurred during the Spanish-American War when Teddy Roosevelt's horse ran over Mike while they were charging up San Juan Hill cracking some of Rag's ribs. BJ & Co. crushed Bartelt Ins. 13-5. The 2nd game saw Barrel Haus embarrass Thornton's Bombers 6-0. The two barristers from the Thornton squad, pitcher Dennis "No Baloney" Maloney and 3rd baseman and all around nice guy Dennis "Helium Feet" Thornton indicated the game was just another Nolo Contendere.

Prior to last week's games Vern "Sno Cone" Ludwig issued a formal written complaint demanding a recount of last week's voting for the player of the year award. Thiemerdome management asked their Atty. Gerald "Artie" Kiefer to start earning his hefty retainer and give them an opinion. Atty. Kiefer indicated that there is much "Red Tape" in a matter such as this and he also gave them some more legal double talk. In short he should have some answers for them next week. In all fairness to Atty. Kiefer his east cost partner Roy F. Cohn passed away this past week and Gerald was forced to assume all his open files.

Jewish-American Nite last week was a huge success. However, several players who joined in the VIP Lounge festivities did call in the next day complaining of severe headaches caused by the Gefilte Fish being left in the brine too long.

Farmington Girls Place First in Tournament

The Farmington Junior Girls Softball team captured first place in a Kettle Moraine Girls Softball Tournament held at the Fillmore-Turner Athletic Field on June 20-21, 1986. Farmington beat Kewaskum, 10-6, and then took Long Lake, 11-9. Farmington's next game against Beechwood proved to be a real nail-biter with lots of offense. With bases loaded in the bottom of the last inning a sparkling defensive play by Tina Weddig turned a double play, doomed Beechwood, Farmington 15, Beechwood 14. Farmington then blew away Kewaskum, 13-6, for the championship.

Ten members of the Farmington team, along with three girls from Beechwood and one from Kewaskum were selected to the Kewaskum Middle School All-Star Team. The All-Star Team took third place in the U.S.S.S.A. State Tournament in Sheboygan on June 27 and 28.

Whitehall State Champs

New Holstein Defeats Indians Again In Semifinals of State Tournament

After breezing through the Regional at Campbellsport and Sectional at Port Washington, and then going on to beat Franklin (Milwaukee suburb) in their opening (quarterfinal) game of the WIAA State Summer Baseball Tournament at Regner Park in West Bend last Wednesday, the Kewaskum Indians' bubble finally burst when they lost to New Holstein's Eastern Wisconsin Conference champions again on Thursday afternoon in the semifinals, 6-3.

New Holstein thus advanced to the State finals Thursday evening, when their bubble also burst as they were defeated convincingly by Whitehall, 6-1, for the State Championship. Whitehall had dedicated its season to getting back and winning the State Tournament after being edged out by Nicolet, 6-5, in the semifinals last year. Many of these same players were back on this year's State Champion team. A crowd of approximately 1,000 persons attended the finals and the attendance was large at all tourney games.

Whitehall reached the finals by beating Frederic and Germantown in the quarterfinals and semifinals, while New Holstein won over Ashland and Kewaskum. Whitehall finished the season with a 29-6 record, including tournament games. New Holstein was 27-4 and Kewaskum 21-9. Germantown advanced to the semifinals with a 4-3 14-inning win over Onalaska Wednesday evening.

Like Kewaskum was a nemesis to West Bend East's North Shore Conference champions this year, beating them in all three meetings between the two teams, New Holstein was a nemesis to the Indians, defeating them in all of their last four games. The Indians had confidence they could beat the Huskies in their State meeting but it was not to be. Irony about this year's State Tournament was the fact that our Eastern Wisconsin Conference was represented by two teams in the State Tournament — New Holstein and Kewaskum — and there were also two teams from Washington County — Germantown and Kewaskum.

Whitehall even treated New Holstein's ace pitcher, Scott Lefebber, rudely in the sixth inning of the championship game, adding their last two runs off of him. He replaced Kurt Klapperich. Lefebber had finished the season with a final record of 15-0.

New Holstein and Whitehall were the only State Tournament returnees from last year, when both lost in the semifinals. The trip to State was the seventh for New Holstein, sixth for Onalaska, fifth for Ashland, third for Whitehall, second for both Frederic and Kewaskum and first for both Franklin and Germantown.

Kewaskum 9, Franklin 5

In the Indians' opening State Tournament game on Wednesday Mark Schlosser, ordinarily not a long ball hitter, smacked out a pair of two-run home runs as they beat Franklin, 9-5, in the quarterfinals.

Right fielder Schlosser connected for his first homer in the last half of the first inning to give Kewaskum a 2-0 lead and then added another two-run round tripper in the third to break a 2-2 tie and make it 4-2. Mark had held a .319 batting average, hitting well all season, but hadn't hit a single home run.

Schlosser's first homer followed Bob Yahr's single for the first hit and cleared the left-center field fence. Mobbed by teammates at home plate was the excited Schlosser. His second home run, coming after a walk to Rick Staehler, went over the left field fence.

The Indians played well defensively, although committing two errors, which accounted for two of the Sabers' runs. But Franklin retaliated with five miscues, three by Dan Oberbrunner.

Yahr, Schlosser and Tim Dettmann all had two hits for the winners. Dettmann's included a two-run single in the fourth when the Indians scored five times to take a 9-3 lead. Tim Bingen and Yahr also hit singles in that inning which began with a double by Menzel.

Franklin tallied a run in the second on Oberbrunner's triple and Mark Kuphal's single. They knotted the game at 2-2 with an unearned run in the third. Shaun Elvington walked, advanced on a wild throw on an attempted force play at second on Todd Neumann's grounder, went to third on a fly ball and scored on a wild pitch. The Sabers completed their scoring with another run in the fourth off a wild pitch by Menzel and scored twice in the fifth but Kewaskum held on to a 9-5 lead. The five Kewaskum runs in the fourth decided the game.

Lefty Menzel went the route for the Indians, striking out six while walking three. Although not as sharp as usual, he hurled well enough to put the Indians into the semifinals. Coach Tom Bartelt had given some thought of removing Menzel to save him for a couple innings Thursday, but decided against it. WIAA rules state that a player may not pitch more than seven innings in the State Tournament.

Todd Neumann was the starting pitcher for Franklin but was replaced by Larry Madsen during Kewaskum's five-run uprising in the fourth.

New Holstein 6, Kewaskum 3

In Thursday's semifinal, New Holstein defeated Kewaskum for the fourth straight time, 6-3, this time to advance to the finals of the State Tournament the same evening against Whitehall which outlasted Germantown, 6-4.

The loss was a disappointing one for the Indians, who wanted to win this game to get even with the Huskies and also to get into the finals of the tournament.

The game was scoreless until the third inning. The Indians' No. 2 pitcher, Yahr, walked Troy Halbach, who was sacrificed to second by Dave Duwell and took third on a wild pitch. Halbach then scored on a sacrifice fly by Tim Meyer. Later in the inning Jeff Halbach ripped a double, driving in John Rulseh and Scott Lefebber for a 3-0 lead.

The Huskies followed with a run in the fourth and two in the fifth. Troy Halbach's double scored Don Flynn in the fourth, and Lefebber finished the Huskie scoring in the fifth with a riveting two-run homer

New Holstein led, 6-0, going into the bottom of the seventh. But No. 2 Huskie pitcher Brian Klapperich got into trouble and Kewaskum scored its three runs. A single by Jeff Newhauser scored Tim Dettmann and Jack Aupperle. Don Menzel followed with a single but the relay from left field cut down Newhauser, who should have stayed on second, as he attempted to reach third. This resulted in the second out. Troy Zimdars capped the Indians' scoring with a double that brought in Menzel. It was a case of too little, too late, as New Holstein held on the win, 6-3.

Klapperich pitched a one-hitter for the first six innings and lasted the entire game but was almost replaced by Kurt Klapperich by Coach Ken Anderson in the seventh. When New Holstein took a 6-0 lead Coach Bartelt replaced starter Yahr with Troy Zimdars. Yahr gave up seven hits, three for extra bases.

The Huskies had nine hits off Yahr and Zimdars, while the normally powerful Indians were held to five.

Hickmann-Hubbell Tennis Winners

Tom Doubleday of Hartford and Bob Johnson of West Bend won their third straight doubles championship in the Men's A division of the Washington County Closed Tennis Tournament over the weekend on the West Bend High School courts. They got past Steve and Pete Neja in a tight match in the finals, 6-4, 7-6.

Sara Alderson of West Bend and Kris Ringel of Cedarburg emerged as the Women's A division champs. Like Doubleday-Johnson, Alderson-Ringel went undefeated in the five matches they played Saturday and Sunday.

Third place in a strong Class A field was awarded to Mathe and Malmsten who beat Joel Fehlhaber, formerly of Kewaskum, and Jim Gardner.

Alderson and Ringel won over Julie Kuepper of Hartford and Beth Neja of West Bend in the finals. In the battle for third place, Nancy Fehlhaber of rural Kewaskum and Cindy Stys emerged on top.

In men's B class, Mike Hickmann, West Bend West junior-to-be and Craig Hubbell, Kewaskum High standout, were the best of 30 teams entered. Hickmann made it to State for the Spartans and Hubbell was the No. 1 netter for the Indians.

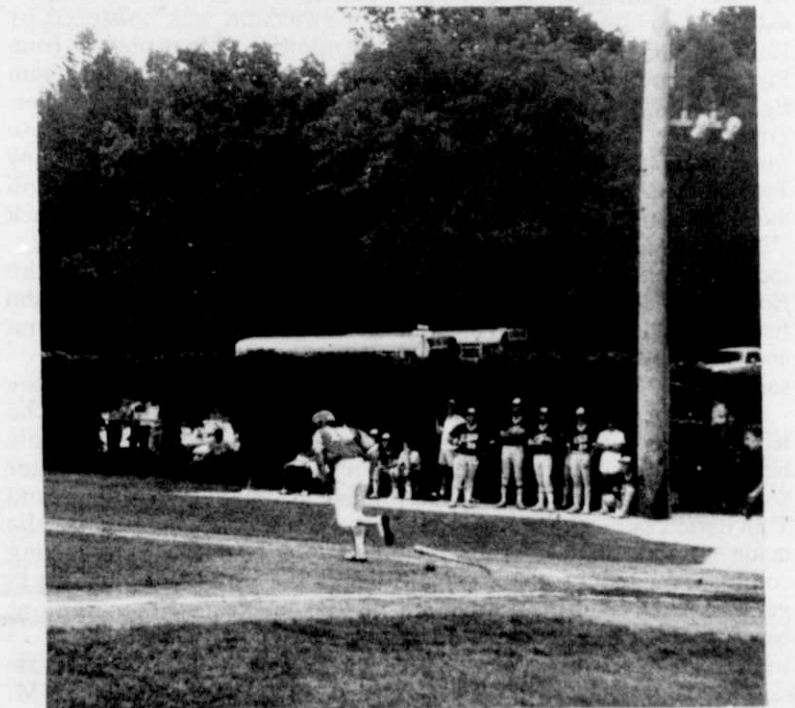

They won five consecutive matches, capped by a three-setter in which they edged out Gary Behnke and Dave Hauser, 7-6, 3-6, 6-3. Third place went to John Rehman and Bryan Goehring, former West Bend West players.

Women's B class was won by Stacy Polachowski and Shelly Strnad. Men's C class winners were Ron Jacobson and Scott Koefert. Women's C class was won by Mia Moran and Peggy Kraase.

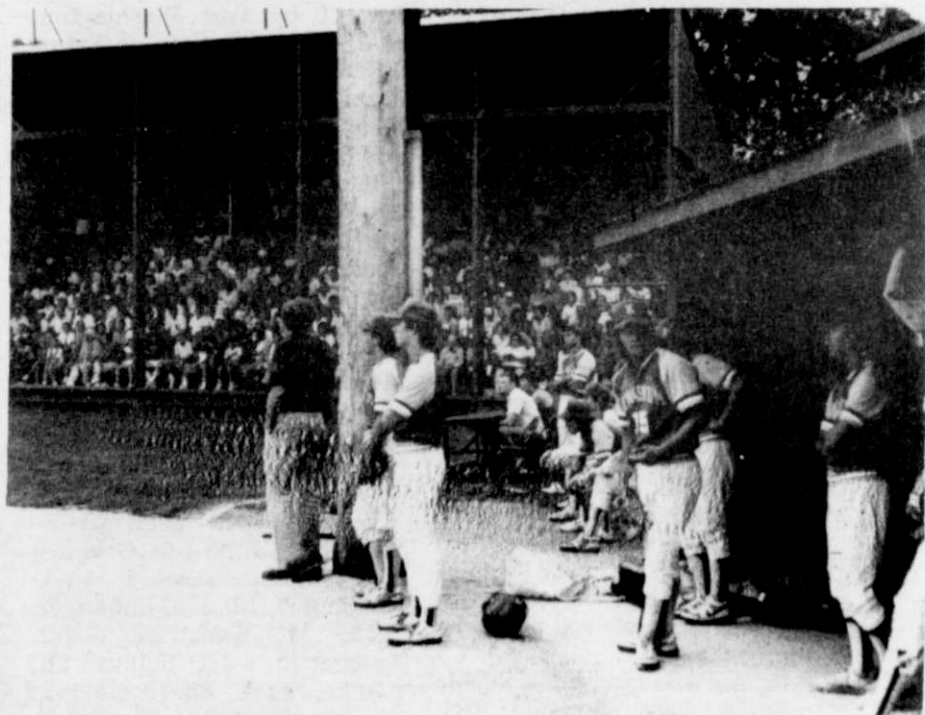

Bob Neja, director of this annual tournament, noted that a record number of 77 teams were entered in doubles and well over 70 teams are expected for the mixed doubles events this weekend.

Mark Schlosser (No. 5) was the hero in the Indians' 9-5 victory over Franklin in Wednesday's State Tournament game. Schlosser hammered out two two-run home runs over the fence to account for four RBIs.

Don Menzel (No. 15) legs it out for first base in Thursday's semifinal 6-3 loss to New Holstein. Menzel was the winning pitcher over Franklin Wednesday and leading hurler for the Indians' season with a 6-2 conference and 9-2 overall mark.

Part of the large grandstand crowd attending Thursday's Kewaskum-New Holstein semifinal contest and some of the anxious Indians watching from the dugout. Paid attendance at the 22nd annual State Tournament totaled 2,694.
