Kewaskum Jaycees Take Part in National Convention

Richard Thiemer of Kewaskum, Closing Ceremonies Chairman Convention Committee, shakes hands with Danny Thomas following presentation to St. Jude's Research Hospital.

Jaycees from all over the nation gathered in Milwaukee to celebrate their 66th Convention.

A spectacular 5-day event was kicked off with a "welcome party" sponsored by Wisconsin Jaycee chapters. The Kewaskum Jaycees, assisted by Jaycees from West Bend, Hartford, and St. Francis, were state hosts to Jaycees from Arizona, Maine, New Hampshire, and Tennessee.

Known for Wisconsin's great hospitality, Jaycees from out of state enjoyed our "German" style brats 'n beer. Along with great food, there were games for the whole family, a magician magic show, a D.J. and some great polka music.

Following a day of great parties and idea sharing, the official opening ceremonies took place at MECCA in Milwaukee. The "Kids From Wisconsin" provided great entertainment.

Included in the opening ceremonies was the Parade of Flags. Each state president presented their state Jaycee flag, accompanied by their families, to the front of the convention hall.

Awards were presented to the top achievers in the nation. Honored from the State of Wisconsin were Paul Bertucci, State President; Judy Mesner, Management Vice President; Donald Scherschel, Regional Director, and District Directors, Georgia Quinten and Ralph Drager. Also honored were chapter Presidents, Bill Heyters and Dennis Hach.

A moment of silence was observed for Ken Joop and Doug Feider, two Jaycees who had worked on bringing the National Convention to Milwaukee, but died before it became a reality.

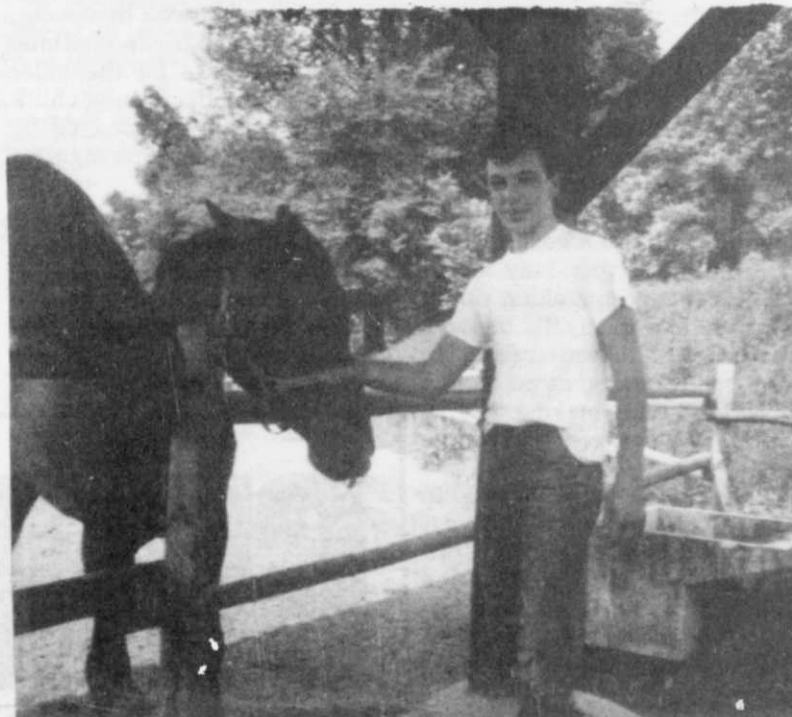

The "Get-Aquainted" Party held at the Summerfest Grounds in Milwaukee was fantastic. The Class of '62 - Surf Boys provided the nite's entertainment.

Included in the week's events were special presentations to Mrs. Bill Brownfield, whose husband wrote the Jaycee Creed; MDA Poster Child Ben Teraberry and Bart Connor, Olympic Gold Medalist. Olympic decathlete Bruce Jenner made a guest appearance and spoke on commitment and his career.

Elected as the 67th National Jaycee President was Michael Alcorn from Indiana. Paul Bertucci, Wisconsin '86 State

Ag Vet Student from Italy Spends 3 Months with Oelhafen Family

Mattia Lucia

Mattia Lucia, an agriculture vet, and breeding student at the University of Milan, Italy, will be heading home this weekend, after spending three months with the Jim Oelhafen family of Wayne.

Matt arrived in Milwaukee, June 19, after a 22-hour flight from Milan, and met the Oelhafens personally for the first time. He was a personal friend of Mrs. Bob (Anja) Miller, of Hartford, who helped arrange his stay.

Matt's three months here have been extremely busy, interesting and informative. He arrived in time for the annual Kewaskum Dairy Day festivities and even got involved in the ice cream eating contest. He has visited Summerfest, State Fair, U.W. Madison, Great America, Chicago, County Stadium, Packer Hall of Fame, A.B.S., Slinger races. 4th of July

Fire Service Contracts Reviewed

Timblin Apartment Project Gets Final OK

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Approval of the certified survey map, building permit and developer's agreement by the Kewaskum Village Board Monday night, gave the green light to an apartment project planned for construction west of the Kewaskum Shopping Mall.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt indicated that final approval of the developer's agreement by the village's attorney would be the last step before actual work began, however, he foresaw no problem on that point. Actual construction work could begin as early as this week, Schmidt noted.

The board's action was good news for project developer Tom Timblin, who is hoping to have the two eight-unit apartment buildings completed before the end of the year. Good construction weather time is running short and Timblin had expressed hope at last month's meeting that work could get under way before the end of September.

In other action, the board reviewed the proposed 1987 fire service contracts for the Towns of Kewaskum and Auburn. The Town of Kewaskum will be issued a contract of $37,471.00, for fire services provided by the village next year. The new contract is up slightly over 1986. The Town of Auburn will receive a 1987 service contract for $19,048.00, down slightly from this year's contract.

Schmidt said the Village of

'Hammering Hank' Surprised

A congratulatory celebration was held for Henry Becker on Sunday, September 14, by the Village of Kewaskum. The Kewaskum Village Board, employees, family and friends gathered to express their appreciation for community service rendered and to congratulate "Hammering Hank" on his 75th birthday.

festivities, and his greatest thrill of allCounty Fair and sleeping in the back of a pick-up.

He has made many friends here, and really enjoys riding in his American brother, Brian's truck and attending KHS with him. Although Matt is no longer in high school, American schools are very exciting to him, as they do not have gymnasiums, cafeterias, or teachers you can talk to in Italy.

He also visited Wayne Elementary and showed students how well he has tutored his littlest brother, Brad, in the Italian language.

Since Matt's intentions were to see American agriculture first-hand, he has had the opportunity to visit several neighboring states, including Iowa, Indiana and Illinois, while "riding shotgun" for Oelhafen Trucking.

Of course, Matt also was totally involved in the day-to-day operations of Nordic Farms, and immediately took over the calf feeding program. He loves animals, and has a keen eye for any problems that may arise. He also spent time taking riding lessons, and plans to use his know-how in his vet studies. He also spent many days in the Wisconsin sun, making hay, a task he will not miss back in the city of Milan.

Mattia will be returning to Milan, and will serve one year in the Italian Army. Upon completion, he returns to the university to finish his final two years. He hopes to become involved with the agricultural segment of the economy, possibly even back here in Wisconsin, as he vows, "Ciao a tutti, arrivederci!" (Goodbye everyone, see you again soon)!

President, won the election for National Vice President.

A huge parade down Wisconsin Avenue to the lake front was the beginning of the close to the convention. All states, dressed in traditional state costumes, created a spectacular color down the busy street. Even the brief downpour of rain couldn't diminish the excitement.

Following the swearing in of the new year's officers, 7 outstanding presidents were awarded plaques in honor of Clayton Frost, a dedicated Jaycee who helped to improve the Jaycee concepts.

Actor and founder of St. Jude's, Danny Thomas, was on hand for closing ceremonies to accept a $447,000.00 check from the Jaycees for the St. Jude's Research Hospital. He assured the Jaycees that with their help, valuable research can continue to hasten a cure for the killer diseases that affect young children. He was also dismayed by the lack of media coverage for such a great event.

The "New Odyssey Productions," a show band from Chicago, provided great closing entertainment.

Next year's gathering for Jaycees nation-wide is planned for June '87 in Reno, Nevada.

Kewaskum Fire Department's total budget for 1987 was down $112.

The Village Board's Public Services Committee will work in conjunction with the Kewaskum Historical Society in forming a Bicentennial Group. The new group will be directing its attention to the 200th anniversary celebration of the United States Constitution on September 17, 1987. Board member Richard Schlice and the Society's president will serve as vice-chairmen of the Bicentennial Committee.

In other business, the board approved the application of Rose Kuehl for a Class 'B' liquor license at 215 Main Street. Bartenders' licenses were also approved for Donald Ruplinger and Michael Strobel.

In budget related discussions, the board reviewed the latest information regarding the village's equalized value figures, TIF funds, and revenue-sharing statistics.

There are two ways to be clever. First, think of a bright remark in time to say it. Second, think of it in time not to say it.

GUNG HO

When Michael Keaton persuades a Japanese auto firm to reopen his home town's defunct auto factory, he's a hero.

But when the Japanese hire him to enforce their policies among his American co-workers, he goes from hero to zero in seconds flat.

It's manpower vs. horsepower on the assembly line. Salami vs. sushi in the cafeteria. And a head-on cultural collision that's enough to upset the world's balance of laughter.

See how really crazy things can get when Michael Keaton's in charge. Gung Ho, a blue-collar comedy by director Ron Howard—that could only be Made In America.

Open Forum at Allenton to Discuss Property Tax Reform

Congress is busy arguing a tax bill at present in order to put a heavier burden upon the U.S. taxpayer. The pretense for this tax reform is the national debt which can be directly traced to the international bankers. As a result the various states in America are suffering because the Federal Government is returning less money to the states. Hence, county and local governments and schools suffer also. To finance the services offered by these latter governments, the property taxpayers have been paying more and more in the last five years - about 10% per year, according to Edward Slegel, Kewaskum.

There is a grass roots movement in Washington county and across the State, working actively to pressure state Senators and Assemblymen to initiate alternatives means of funding, especially for education. Recall, under Gov. Dreyfus, the 1% increase in the slaes tax for the relief of property tax. Then when Earl gained office, he promptly included this money into the general state revenue and consequently there was no property tax relief.

The grass roots group, called the Washington County Property Taxpayers Network Core Team, is presided by Lillian Ritger of the town of Addison. She and others around the county have been meeting faithfully for the purpose of property tax relief.

An Open Forum will be held in the Addison town hall in Allenton on Monday, Sept. 22 at 8 p.m. Property tax reform will be discussed. Donald Stitt, John Merkt, Joan Rudnitzki, Mary Panzer and Jeffrey May will be in attendance to answer questions and give their opinions on issues raised.

Lillian Ritger was the local organizer of Project Isidore, the Catholic Archdiocesan program to aid farmers.

United Way Opens Tuesday; Teachers, Administrators, Support Staff Pledge $4,037

United Way of Kewaskum

Tuesday, September 23 marks the official start of the Kewaskum United Way campaign. The board members will meet at Kewaskum Valley Bank at 7:30 to start the ball rolling toward their goal of $30,000.

At last week's meeting, Jerry Gosa, school division chairman, announced, "The Kewaskum teachers, administrators and support staff have really given United Way a big boost. My latest figures show pledges in the amount of $4,037 and a whopping 80% in participation."

Margaret McFadden, board president, indicated that Kewaskum United Way had received a check for $260 from K-Mart of West Bend, which puts a total of $4,297 in the fund. Watch the contributions continue to grow on the thermometer in front of the Kewaskum Valley Bank.

The Bay Lakes Boy Scout Council is one of the agencies partially supported by Kewaskum United Way. Their mission is to serve others by helping to instill values in young people and in other ways to prepare them to make ethical choices over their lifetime in achieving their full potential.

The Bay Lakes Council, consolidated in 1973 from local councils, provides program and office service as a resource to community partner organizations and their packs, troops, teams and posts in a 22 1/2 county area by mobilizing people power and financial resources so that youth who need and want scouting can receive quality experiences led by the finest available adult leadership.

In the Kewaskum area, the Bay Lakes Boy Scout Council serves over 450 youth — 75 in cub packs, 34 in scout troops and 348 in career awareness exploring posts. Scouting functions at four levels with first through fifth grade boys in cub packs; 11 to 13-year-olds in scout troops; varsity teams for 14 to 17-year-old boys and co-ed explorer posts for youth 15 to 20. At present there are 9,000 explorer post members in Wisconsin and 50% of these are girls.

Locally, Frederick W. Lettow is the unit leader for the cub pack of 33 boys in Kewaskum sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. William Rochon is the unit leader for 17 boys in the Farmington area and Dan Haluzak is the unit leader for 25 boys in the Wayne and Allenton area.

Fred J. Gildersleeve provides leadership for a Boy Scout troop in Kewaskum with 25 boys and Hans Halfmann is the unit leader for 9 boys in the Wayne and Allenton locality. There are two career awareness explorer posts of 348 youth with Mrs. Sharon Blank as unit leader and sponsored by Kewaskum Community High School.

The closest camp is Camp Rokilo on 300 acres at Cedar Lake, east of Kiel. Cub packs have day camp there in the summer while the scouts stay for a week. This summer 1,000 boys were at Camp Rokilo and during the rest of the year between 2,000 and 3,000 boys are there for weekend outings.

Mr. L. N. Peterson of Kewaskum is past president and presently a member of the Bay Lakes Council whose office is located in Menasha.

Big Brothers and Sisters of Washington County is another agency that receives support from Kewaskum United Way. They have been active in the area since 1969 with a program that works at prevention of delinquent behavior by matching adults with children between the ages of 6 and 14. The matches sometimes continue until age 18 but may terminate earlier if circumstances change for the participants.

Their program attempts to develop a healthy, normal personality through sharing of activities for approximately 3 hours per week for a minimum of one year.

The children are quite often from single parent families due to death, divorce or disability. Big Brothers and Sisters is not an effort to replace the absent parent but rather to teach friendship.

The adult volunteers go through a thorough screening process including reference checks and range in age from 18 years to people in their 60's. The median age is usually late 20's and early 30's.

There is a wide spectrum of matches, not just boys and girls with men and women but sometimes an alternate type of situation with a cross gender match or couple with a child.

The time spent together each week is not to be a specially planned event but rather just day to day ordinary activities. There are monthly group activities for the organization as a whole.

All matches are followed up by checks with the big brothers and sisters, the little brothers and sisters and the parent to make sure the match is beneficial to everyone.

At present there are 39 Big Brother matches, 39 Big Sister matches, 2 matches between couples and a child and 1 cross gender match. Anyone interested in the program may call Kathy at 334-7896.

Former Church is Their Castle

Editor's Note — The following item is reprinted from the Tomahawk [Wis.] Leader, relating to Dale and LaVerne Gruendeman, who purchased the Prairie Rapids Lutheran Church in 1967 and remodeled it into a modern retirement home. Mrs. Gruendeman, the former LaVerne Moldenhauer of Kewaskum, managed Nolting Beauty Shop in Kewaskum a number of years and later owned and operated LaVerne's Beauty Shop in Boltonville, where the Gruendemans made their home. Dale was employed by Hunzinger Construction of Milwaukee. His father, Carl, is a resident of Kewaskum. "Welcome" is the Gruendemans' password to all!

By Graham Foster

A home is a castle — and sometimes a church. That's the case of Dale and LaVerne Gruendeman, who remodeled the former Prairie Rapids Lutheran Church, Town of Nokomis, into a modern retirement home.

It took about 16 years, "but you're really never done," Dale said this week.

The church was built over 70 years ago — the Gruendemans aren't sure exactly when.

"It was here when we came in 1915," said Amund Running, a longtime Nokomis resident who attended the church. He thinks it was erected about 1910.

The building had been vacant about 10 years when the Gruendemans bought it in 1967 for $1,500. The price included an acre of land. Worship services had ended in the church and the members were attending Grace Lutheran Church in Tomahawk.

When the Gruendemans took title, it looked as though services had just ended, LaVerne said. "The baptismal font was here, the pews, the song books, the collection envelopes — everything was here. "Windows were intact. There had been no vandalism.

But, there was no bell in the steeple. Church members said there never had been.

Dale was no stranger to building construction, but he lacked time to work on the church. The Gruendemans lived in Kewaskum, and Dale was employed by Hunzinger Construction of Milwaukee.

Most of the work was done on weekends. And, "when it rained, we came up here," LaVerne said.

The couple had been coming north on camping vacations for about 25 years. One year they decided to look up an old Army buddy, the late Tom Blume, who lived nearby. That's when they first saw the vacant church and decided to buy it and change it into a home.

The first project was to lower the height. They pulled the bell tower off with a truck and cut the building by six feet. They saved the lumber to make a three-stall garage.

The foundation stayed intact for their 24' x 48' home. But, they added new siding and put in new windows. The church windows had been white glass, not stained glass. The maple floors stayed, but are now covered by carpet.

And, the new owners used insulation. The church's only insulation, they said, had been provided by bats. There was plenty of evidence.

The old roof came off and the building was closed in during a holiday work bee.

"We had two people helping," Dale said. "It was over July 4. It didn't rain for four days, but it sure rained on the fifth."

The Gruendemans wonder how the congregation had kept warm, as the only heat was from an oil space heater. The home now has forced-air heat from an oil furnace. It was the only project they contracted out.

The home no longer looks like a church, but there are subtle reminders. A yard light, for instance, is made of a former interior globe turned upside down on a pipe.

"Many people think the church is gone," LaVerne said. "But the original walls are there."

Although their home had been a church, the Gruendemans found that it was too small. They recently built an addition to the west. With it came a dining room and a spa room with hot tub.

"Dale likes it so well in the north we don't go south," LaVerne explained. "We can go down there (the spa room) when it's 40 below."

At one time, Dale and LaVerne thought they would remodel their newly-acquired church and sell it. but, they found, they had put more than time and work into it.

"We had too much love in it to give it up," LaVerne said.

This was the Prairie Rapids Church that the Gruendemans bought in 1967.

Loaned Executives
Work for Washington County United Way

Ric Leitheiser

"My bank, like all others, does a lot of lending. But this time, because the bank I work for believes so strongly in United Way, they've made a different kind of loan. They've loaned me to work on the United Way campaign for the next eight weeks," says Mark Maurer of the West Bend Marine Bank.

And at one of his many company presentations the people who are listening to Mark are always impressed with his sincerity and the message he's delivering - this community is important to me and United Way is an important part of this community.

Mark is one of four loaned executives working for the Washington County United Way. The other businesses who are loaning workers are the M & I First National Bank, West Bend Mutual Insurance Company and West Bend Savings & Loan Association.

Each company has agreed to allow one of their employees to spend part of their regular work week on the United Way Campaign for the next eight weeks. The four have scheduled regular hours to work at the United Way office. Now they are busy scheduling appointments to meet with local companies and discuss their company's campaign.

Ric Leitheiser, from M & I First National Bank, formerly of Kewaskum, Woody Miller from West Bend Mutual and Nancie Heaps from West Bend Savings & Loan Association joined Mark for a week of intensive training held mostly in Milwaukee. They learned how to run a good United Way campaign, and toured local agencies to learn about the services and programs funded by United Way of Washington County.

"I can't say enough good things about the work they're doing," says Jacquelyn Fogel, Executive Director of United Way. "All four have so much energy and enthusiasm. I am certain their impact will be significant this year. It was an incredible show of support to have these four businesses loan us this quality of worker for eight weeks."

Loaned executives will be working for United Way through October 17.

Natural Resources
Career Workshop

Michael Schuessler, 6915 County B, Belgium, sponsored by Adell Sportsmen's Club, and Scott Haefs, Route 1, Lomira, sponsored by International Association of Aerospace and Machinist Workers, North Fond du Lac, attended a week long session of a natural resources career workshop at the Central Wisconsin Environmental Station near Nelsonville this summer. They received scholarships from the above sponsors.

The workshops are sponsored by the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point and the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. Three one-week sessions were attended by approximately 160 high school students from the Midwest. The workshops focus on career possibilities and give students a wide range of field experience in the areas of natural resources and environmental protection. Participants are involved in many facets of natural resources including forestry, fire control, fish and wildlife management, park services, environmental standards and law enforcement.

Environmental organizations and sports, conservation and service clubs throughout Wisconsin lend their support to the workshops through financial scholarships in varying amounts to qualified and deserving high school students interested in natural resources. Information about the workshops can be obtained by writing to the Central Wisconsin Environmental Station, 7290 County MM, Amherst Junction, WI 54407, or calling 715-824-2428.

People who want fashion and value get into their newspaper. Nancy and Dave are no exception. While Dave makes an active statement with the sports-page suit, Nancy shows her keen eye for fashion with the society section jumper and contrasting comic strip pumps.

Like most people in Wisconsin, to stay current in a fast-paced world, they get into their Newspaper. Newspapers are the preferred source of advertising information by a 2 to 1 margin over the nearest competitive media, with more people making purchases from Newspaper advertising than any other media.

With 94% of Wisconsin residents having read a Newspaper last week, there's a lot of people getting dressed with the help of Newspapers.

Letter To The Editor
Kewaskum, Statesman
Kewaskum, Wisconsin

As a result of the recent annual School District meeting the taxpayers of the district have reason to celebrate. We can expect even greater joy in the near future as the board and administration continue their progressive march of change. Just as DPI has recommended, Wayne School with its drastically declining enrollment (presently 127) needs to be closed so that Kewaskum Elementary can operate at an efficient level. With the closing of Wayne and the selling of Beechwood together with the elimination of a few more teaching positions next year's budget will be even greater cause for celebration. And then finally with the sale of Wayne, the following year's budget should also be kept very respectable.

Oh, I know, some of you skeptics are asking but will Tom and Perry and Ron actually vote to close Wayne since they have such close ties to this area. I say we already know the answer to that question. Perry has repeatedly spoken about this district's inability to accept heavy tax levies as a result of its poor economy while Tom has often repeated the board has a moral commitment to ensure the efficient operation of this district's business. He also has repeatedly stated that the majority of the people in the district overwhelming support this action through their phone calls and comments. Remember how the petition of 900 signatures to keep Beechwood open was simply disregarded and quickly set aside by this fearless leader.

I believe it is time to begin our crusade of supportive comments and calls to Tom, Perry, Ron, Jeanne, Penny, Cherna, and Julie acknowledging our desire to tackle this nasty job immediately. After all it must take some time to listen to thousands of people. C'mon folks, before you know it, the spring elections will be upon us and it is imperative this action be settled before then. Any delay could result in the loss of one or more of these wonderful board members and worse yet the possible loss of some of our caring administrative staff.

SUBJECT:
PROPERTY TAX REFORM
Dear Editor,

To start with I would like to say I am all for the best possible education that we can give our kids, if it can be afforded by the taxpayer. I am quite sure the majority agrees with this, but having served as a FMHA loan committee member for Ozaukee, Washington and Waukesha Counties I got a first hand look at what is going on out here.

When I look at the hardship over the years that the unfair property tax has caused on farms, businesses and some home owners and is getting worse in many cases, many have and will be forced out of their homes, off the farms and out of business. This ever increasing unfair tax cannot go on. It is simply an outdated tax.

The main source of funding public education in Wisconsin in the future must come from other sources based on income, sales and other alternative taxes.

If you make an income, you pay your share. If you buy certain items, you pay a fair sales tax. This would be the fairest possible way to fund education. I do not see how anyone who is concerned about fairness can dispute this.

We can no longer go on expecting many property owners to borrow money to pay these property taxes without dissent. Many have already borrowed themselves out of business, out of their homes and off the farms due to lack of income to cover these unfair costs. We look at each other, blame each other for present education woes. Education should be our focus and it cannot be under present funding methods.

Teachers' salaries are not the problem, building referendums are not the problem, nor is providing the latest up to date school programs a problem. The problem is simply a case of unfair funding. With a change to a fair income-sales tax type of funding the needed money to cover all these costs could be raised fairly and easily.

This would make things much simpler for school boards to meet the needs of their districts. The feeling by many of being cheated or paying more than their share would be gone. This is the key issue, "fairness." So all could get down to devoting more time to the educational needs of our children rather than time wasted on cutting due to lack of funds.

Property tax was fairer years back when most all the people had 40 to 80 acres of land and all made basically the same income. A look at your family tree will show that most all came from families who have farmed at one time or still do.

So again from a fairness view point, let's all work together to see that this much needed change comes about. It would be for the betterment of our communities and all of us. Public interest in education would possibly increase also.

Unless changes are made in funding, you will see deeper and deeper cuts in school budgets until the unfair funding issue is faced by all.

Some say there should not be budgets cuts, that this unfair funding issue should be faced at the polls. I say, that since nothing has been done on this issue, that's what we have going right now at school board elections. Boards are voted in who make a stand on zero growth budgets and other cost saving ideas. I foresee deeper cuts until the real issue of unfair funding is faced by all. I hope that all see the real problem and try to help solve it before its effects hurt our children's education. With enough support we can change things through our state representatives. We now have one group, The Property Tax Network, who realize the problem and hopefully others will recognize it.

The point again is fairness and that is what most are concerned with. The magic word is "money." The key issue is where is it "coming from."

So please work together on the real problem of getting fair funding for the educational system of Wisconsin. For those interested, there will be a public forum on September 22 at Addison Town Hall, located in Allenton, WI. The topic of discussion is Property Tax Reform and the time is 8-9:30 p.m.

Those legislators, who represent Washington County, and their opponents in the Fall Election were invited to attend. Senator Donald Stitt, Representative Mary Panzer, Jeffrey May, Representative John Merkt and Joan Rudnitzke will be attending the public forum. A definite answer has not been received from Senator Scott McCallum and Representative Dwight York, as to whether or not they can attend.

The forum is sponsored by the Washington County Property Tax Network core team along with members of Farm Bureau, Farmers Union, National Farmers Org. and other interested groups.

More could be said, and I am sure it will be. I could go on.

Respectfully,

Mary A. Krumbiegel

Sept. 17-23 Marks Constitution Week

September 17 marks the 199th anniversary of the signing of the United States Constitution. The Joseph Marest Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution reminds area residents to read and study the Constitution during this Constitution Week.

"The Constitution is the oldest constitution still in active use in the world today and is the basic document of our republic," said Jean Schumann, chapter chairman of Constitution Week. "The week from September 17 through 23, gives Americans an opportunity to recall the achievements of our founders, the nature of limited government and the rights and privileges - as well as the responsibilities - of citizenship."

The National Society of the DAR celebrates Constitution Week each year. On the national, state and local levels, the DAR is also in the midst of preparations to celebrate the bicentennial of the Constitution in 1987.

Nationally, a three year celebration of the writing and ratification of the Constitution began this month. Chief Justice Warren Burger is retiring from the Supreme Court to head a special commission to educate the public about the Constitution and to commemorate its bicentennial.

Despite Weather Turkey Shoot Another Success

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

It was a cold, wet, dreary day, but that did not seem to dampen the enthusiasm of those hearty souls who came to the Kewaskum Kiwanis' 34th Annual Turkey Shoot on Sunday.

Over 400 turkeys were taken by marksmen, along with some lively catches out of the Trout Pond.

There were activities to attract almost everyone's interest. If you did not wish to try your luck at the ranges or pond, there was plenty of food to enjoy, and things to buy.

Along with the rifle, pistol and trap shooting ranges, marksmen tried their skills at the archery range which included something new this year, the compound bow area.

Of perennial interest was the Regal Ware truck which provided cookware bargains. Eager shoppers snapped up everything from coffee pots to sets of kettles.

Proceeds from the annual event are used to support area youth groups and the Kewaskum Kiwanis Park.

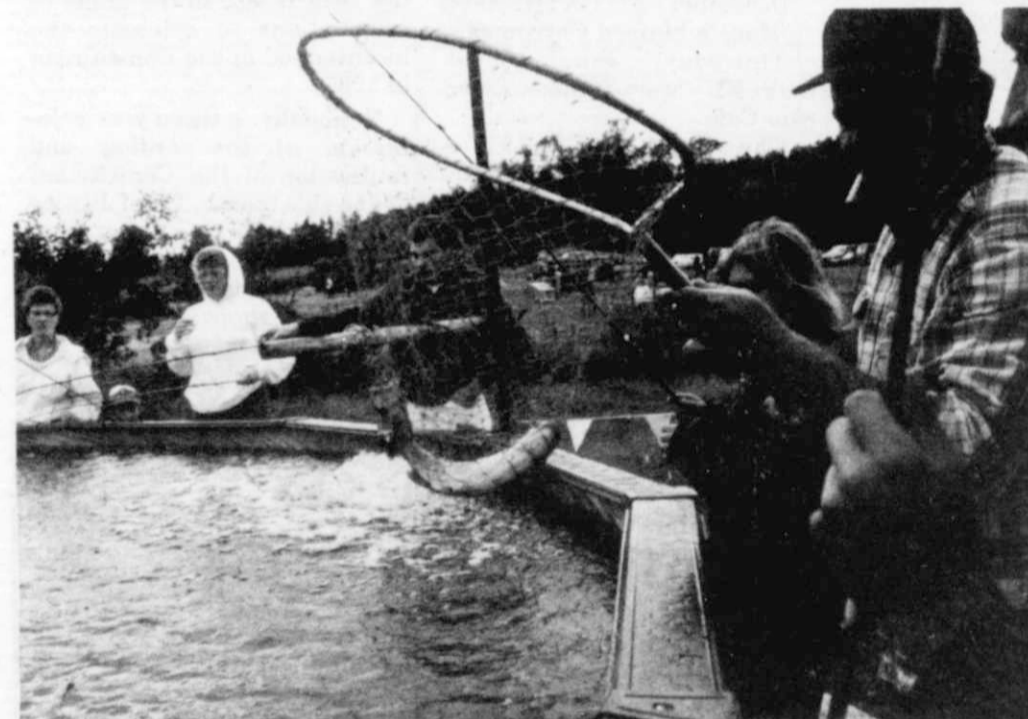

A young marksman got an "assist" from his dad at the B-B gun range.

Boxes and boxes of goodies waiting for eager buyers at the Regal truck cookware sale.

Ladies also tried their skills at the archery and rifle ranges.

Mike Smith hauled in an angler's catch at the Trout Pond.

Taking a "bead" on a balloon in hopes of winning a nice turkey dinner.

New Name for Ten-Year-Old Firm

Dance Slimnastics is celebrating its tenth year in business with a name change. Now known as The Fitness Firm, they continue to offer a variety of fitness classes to the public as well as to business and industry.

Originated in 1976 in Port Washington, WI by founder Ruth Sovo, the firm has grown from one instructor to over 800 instructors nationwide. 60,000 students participate nationally every year.

"We started out with one version of traditional aerobic dance classes," explained Sovo. "From there our programs have been developed extensively to include traditional aerobic dance as well as simplified choreography for those who like less complicated footwork, EasyFit Low Impact Aerobics, for those who are overweight, underexercised, older or who want a gentler workout, Aqua-Fit for dance-exercise done standing in a pool, Aerobics for Men which uses no dancing movements at all, KidsFit which is aimed at kids 5-12 years old, and WorkUp which isn't aerobic at all. It's a toning and stretching class done on the floor."

Because of the variety of fitness options available through her firm, Sovo felt the former name no longer reflected what they offer. "We have men in our classes, but you never would have guessed it by our old name. And our programs are no longer limited to aerobic dance," Sovo commented. "With the public much more knowledgeable due to the fitness movement, we felt we needed a name that represented us more accurately." Instructors and students suggested new names for the business. The winning name was turned in by Dawn Heikkinen, an instructor from Prentice, WI.

The Fitness Firm is a non-profit company offering classes in the area.

For additional information on The Fitness Firm classes or programs, contact Jacquie at 338-6754 or Mary 338-0050.

Stahler National Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced Tim Stahler has been named a United States National Award winner in leadership service.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American high school students.

Stahler, who attends St. Lawrence Seminary was nominated for this National Award by Rev. Joe Diermeier, Counselor at the school. Tim will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

Stahler is the son of Raymond and Marianne Stahler, Kewaskum. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lee of Mesa, Arizona, and Mrs. Anthony (Coletta) Stahler of Kewaskum.

Safe Way to Save Cabbage? Make Sauerkraut!

By Joyce Albrecht
Washington County
Extension Home Economist

Sauerkraut — fermented cabbage — is a long-standing tradition in Wisconsin. The state offers abundant supplies of this vegetable, and people have preserved in this way since pioneer times.

"Natural fermentation is the oldest and safest type of preservation known. It makes food poisoning impossible."

Fermentation takes place in a brine made of salt and cabbage juice. In the absence of air, bacteria form lactic acid. This is responsible for the preservation.

"Sauerkraut has practically all the attributes of fresh cabbage. It has only 42 calories per cup and is a good source of vitamin C." However, because of the salt needed to regulate the fermentation, it is a high sodium food, containing approximately 1.5 grams per cup.

Sauerkraut isn't difficult to make. For those who process only a few heads at a time, "Kitchenette Sauerkraut" is probably the best method. For this, you need 1- or 2-quart, standard canning jars. Sterilize these, the covers and a large bowl and spoon to be used in packing the cabbage. This prevents the wrong bacteria from getting into and spoiling the kraut.

To prepare the cabbage, remove spoiled spots and defective leaves. Also take off the coarse outer leaves. This gets rid of any insecticide spray or dust. Rinse heads in cold water to remove any visible dirt.

Cut the heads into halves or quarters, and slice or chop into the sterilized bowl or pan.

Traditionally, the cabbage is shredded as long and thin as possible. But cut it as you like; it makes no difference in making the kraut.

A 2-quart jar holds about 3½ pounds of shredded cabbage. To this amount, mix in 2½ tablespoons noniodized salt and, if desired, 1 teaspoon sugar.

You need to use noniodized salt or the iodine may prevent fermentation. Coarse, pickling salt is sold at most supermarkets.

The salt draws out the cabbage juice so it can ferment. It also helps control fermentation by favoring the right kind of bacteria and discouraging the kind that might cause spoilage.

Firmly pack this mixture into the jars. Fill each to the top, and press cabbage until the juice runs out. Put the lid on the jar just firmly enough to keep the air out. Then set the jar on a pan or tray because juice may leak out during fermentation.

Keep the jars at room temperature (68 to 72 degrees) until bubbling stops. This takes about 2 weeks. Do not pour the juice that bubbles out back into the jar.

When bubbling stops, tighten the cover. Wipe each jar, and make sure no air is in it. If there is any air space, fill the jar with boiling hot, weak brine made with 2 tablespoons salt to 1 quart of water. Tighten the cover.

The sauerkraut will be ready to eat in 2 to 10 weeks. It depends on how acidic you like it. When it tastes right, process the jars in a boiling water bath for 15 minutes.

For information on making sauerkraut or other canning, contact the UW-Extension.

Citizen Advocacy Funded at 28% By United Way

The 1986-87 United Way fund drive kickoff is set for September 23. Jackie Fogel, Director of United Way of Washington County, recently took time to discuss United Way's involvement with Citizen Advocacy of Washington County.

Citizen Advocacy (CA) is funded at 28% by United Way organizations from Greater Milwaukee, Kewaskum, Hartford and Washington County. The remaining funds come primarily from individual private donations and CA fund raisers. United Way's allocation to CA supports CA's meaningful, credible position in our community.

Ms. Fogel said, "It's a great agency. We've been proud to fund it. They continue to demonstrate the need for their services."

"One thing about CA is that they don't receive any public (government) dollars, as a lot of other agencies do. Most of the United Way agencies rely on some government financing; as much as 80% of some budgets comes from government sources," said Fogel.

"Because of the nature of CA's work, they have to rely almost entirely on private donations and United Way. That means if United Way doesn't fill the gap, there is no governmental agency that will. Unfortunately, private fundraising still has to be done outside of the United Way campaign. I wish that weren't the case. I would rather tell you that United Way raises enough money to fully finance that agency. Our primary goal is to make sure the dollars match the needs in the community," she said.

"CA is a great organization. The programs are good. They've proven that over the years. They can manage their finances well, which is very important to United Way," said Fogel.

Ms. Fogel explained the need filled by Citizen Advocacy by saying, "It's not the same thing as providing a wheelchair, a lift, or a curb cut. It's a much more obscure concept. It's making sure that basic constitutional rights for the person with a disability are not inadvertently overlooked. That's another thing... advocacy does not assume maliciousness on anyone's part. It's just making sure the systems operate the way they're supposed to. Citizen Advocacy makes sure people don't fall through the cracks."

A proven United Way agency is one which has satisfied stringent requirements. "United Way agencies must be fiscally sound, produce a program budget showing exactly how the dollars get spent, provide good management, and they have to respond to a need in the community," concluded Fogel.

Youth Soccer Athletic Extravaganza Saturday

Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Washington County along with the Kettle Moraine Soccer League are ready for the second annual Youth Athletic Extravaganza. The Regner Park soccer fields, West Bend, will be the place to be Saturday, September 20th, from 9:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The day is centered around youth participation and for the most part the county-wide youth soccer program. In addition to the six soccer matches, the Hartford Sideliners Gymnasts and the West Bend YMCA Pom Pom squad will have demonstrations.

Like last year the Milwaukee Wave Professional Indoor Soccer Team will send some players to have a clinic for the young soccer players and other spectators. Kevin O'Meara, board member of Big Brothers and Big Sisters, organizer of the event, said, "Last year the kids really enjoyed watching and listening to the members of the Wave as they gave the youth some instruction and a chance to participate kicking and heading the ball with team members." Volunteers and staff of Big Brothers and Big Sisters will run a concession stand throughout the day with coffee in the morning and brats, hot dogs, snacks and soda throughout the whole day. This is a great fund raiser for Big Brothers and Big Sisters because we have most of the county represented, which is our market area.

The Big Brothers and Big Sisters agency matches single parent children with adults who make at least a year's commitment. Through the weekly commitment it is hoped that a friendship is developed to enhance healthy, normal personality development.

Teams from Allenton, Erin, Germantown, Hartford, Slinger and West Bend will be playing. The schedule of the day is as follows:

8:45 a.m. - Welcome.

9:00 a.m. - Regner #1 - U12 Allenton Warriors vs. Slinger Slammers. Regner #2 - U10 West Bend Goal Busters vs. West Bend Rowdies.

10:00 a.m. - YMCA Pom Pom Demonstration.

10:30 a.m. - Regner #1 - U10 West Bend Bears vs. Germantown Strikers. Regner #2 - U8 Hartford Thundercats vs. Germantown Steamers.

11:30 a.m. - Regner #2 - Hartford Sideliners Gymnastic Demonstration; Coordinator - Mary Scherr.

12:00 p.m. - Regner #1 - U14 Slinger Sting vs. Hartford Nighthawks. Regner #2 - U8 Erin Leprachau vs. Germantown Cosmos. 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. Milwaukee Wave Demonstration - Professional Indoor Soccer Team.

Kettle Moraine Soccer League in third year. "Fun, fitness, and fairplay" is the motto of the Kettle Moraine Soccer League which was officially formed August 11, 1984. "Our league was founded and is committed to preserving out high ideals in the areas of sportsmanship, teamwork and building strong boys and girls," the initial officers of the Kettle Moraine Soccer League stated in their league purpose. "In the past many organized sports activities have been criticized for emphasizing winning and ultimately placing undue stress on our young people. In summary, the Kettle Moraine Soccer League hopes to be different by emphasizing participation, teamwork, sportsmanship, spectatorship that sets good examples and moral character."

The five participating clubs and presidents include: Erin Soccer Club, Jack Peselm; Germantown Recreation Department, President, Mark Schroeder with coordinator, Brett Allwardt; Hartford Area Sideliners, Dave Ehley; Slinger Area Soccer Club, Tom Kops; and West Bend YMCA, Jack Murray. Chairman of the league is Ken Kainz, director of referees is Jerry Luedtke, and Carol Butzke is director of scheduling. The Kettle Moraine Soccer League is proud and happy to be a service to the Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Washington County through our participation in this day dedicated to youth activities.

By far the largest total enrollment and freshman class in history enrolled at Kewaskum Community High School last week. The 455 students in high school and 138 freshmen both set all-time high records.

Wally Cudnohoske of Kewaskum has opened a Mobil service station in the Lee Honeck garage building on South Fond du Lac Avenue. Wally has leased the station from the Mobil Oil Co., which had previously leased it from Honeck. The new proprietor took over the business on Sept. 9.

After 30 years of dedicated service, Harry Schaefer has resigned as chief of Kewaskum's volunteer fire department. The board appointed Armin Oppermann, assistant chief, to fill the post on a temporary basis. During Mr. Schaefer's reign as chief, the fire department has undergone monumental changes. From hand drawn equipment, with the river and the Rosenheimer Malt and Grain Company well the only dependable sources of water in 1931, to our modern department equipped to fight all types of fire in any imaginable place in 1961 — the progress is unbelievable.

Wedding vows were exchanged in St. Bridget's Church, Town of Wayne, on September 9, by Miss Susanne Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Schmidt, Route 3, Campbellsport, and Donald Felix, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Felix, also of Route 3, Campbellsport.

Scenic Moraine conference teams will open the 1961 football season September 15, with the Kewaskum Indians playing their loop opener at Random Lake in a night game. Coach Ernie Mitchell at Kewaskum is starting a rebuilding phase and figures the Indians will have to be alert to improve on the 3-3-1 mark of last season. The lettermen are tackles Lawrence Coulter and Ed Ferber, guards Jerry Geidel, Tom Spartz and Harold Schladweiler, end Terry Theusch and halfback Jim Klahn.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Eichstedt, Kewaskum, on Sept. 7; to Mr. and Mrs. August Bilgo, Kewaskum, on Sept. 11, and to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Herman, Kewaskum, on Sept. 12. Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Schickert, Route 2, Kewaskum, on Sept. 12, and to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bindrich, Route 1, Kewaskum, on Sept. 12.

A beautiful late summer wedding of much interest to residents of Kewaskum and vicinity took place at Milwaukee on Sept. 12, when Miss Camilla Driessel, daughter of Mrs. Dorothea Driessel of this village became the bride of Malcolm Chinnok of Milwaukee.

Game Warden Charles A. Schlumpf of Fond du Lac County supervised the planting of 100 cans of fish last Saturday in Lake Fifteen, Long Lake, Round Lake and Forest Lake. The fish were taken from Moose Lake near Antigo and consisted of bluegills, perch and bullheads.

A 9½ pound baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Klemke of this village on Sept. 11.

Five members of last year's graduating class of the Kewaskum High School are attending the Fountain City Business College at Fond du Lac this year, namely Kilian Honeck, Jr., Armond Mertz, Viola Backus, Ruby Menger and Janice Koch. Two others, Elaine Schleif and Frances Bunkelman, are attending the Dodge County Normal School at Mayville.

Albert Theusch, who has rented the Math. Herriges tavern and filling station at St. Michaels, took possession on Tuesday morning. Mr. Herriges will devote his time to his garage and repair shop.

Vincent Fellenz and Miss Evelyn Nichols were married during a nuptial high mass on Thursday morning at St. Michaels.

An ad for H.J. Lay Lumber Company reads as follows: COLD ICE-BOXES. A wooden ice-box is a money waster. It falls down on the one big ice-box requirement — it doesn't keep the cold in. Most of them are half below ground. Moisture outside and it soon starts to decay - repair expense quickly follows. The heat stays out and the cold stays in, in a Marquette Concrete ice-box. Dampness, which destroys wood and rusts iron, hardens Marquette Concrete. The Marquette Cement ice-box will far outlast your time, without one cent's worth of repairs. It's easily made with unskilled labor and materials are inexpensive. We'll gladly send you details for making an ice-box with Marquette Portland Cement.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Reindl of the town last week Friday.

West Bend's saloon keepers have agreed among themselves to close their saloons at 12 at night after next Sunday, and will under no consideration countenance anyone of their number to remain open later unless they may agree upon for special occasions.

St. Matthew's Church at Campbellsport was the scene of a very pretty wedding last Tuesday morning when Rev. July performed the wedding ceremony of Miss Gertrude Becker and Kilian Flasch.

F. August Oppermann, 82, passed away at his home in this village last Wednesday evening.

Early American colonists used the milk in which blueberries had been boiled to paint their houses gray, not blue.

Why the Leaves Change Color

By Ronda Allen

Madison - Autumn in Wisconsin means apples, cranberries and pumpkin pies. It's a time for festivals, football games, leafy smells and color galore! As you wind through the Badger State's woods, bluffs, and rolling countryside this fall season 1986, keep in mind that colorful splendor you look forward to year after year is the result of some very complex coordination in "Mother Nature's" Season Change Department.

First she sends out Jack Frost, but warns not to "nip" too deeply. The air must be chilled to just above freezing to start the coloring process. During growing season the leaves are filled with green chlorophyll and pigments. When temperatures drop, chlorophyll production stops and the color pigments are unmasked. Next, she adds an abundance of bright sunny days to the fall color mix, then a seasonal pinch of rain and voila! Mother Nature has created a brilliant natural palette that will dazzle visitors to Wisconsin.

The coloring process itself is fascinating. Those crisp yellows that we get from poplar, some beech and most birches mean the leaves have few tannins. An abundance of these brownish compounds will cast a brownish-yellow color in certain species of oak and beech trees.

The vibrant reds are the stars of Wisconsin's fall color scene. This is where the sunshine comes in. Sunlight converts sugars that have been trapped in certain leaves into anthocyanins. The more anthocyanins a leaf has, the deeper the red and purple hues. Our Wisconsin maples and sumac are "outstanding in their fields" with these shades of brilliance.

It should be noted that not all trees shimmer with color in their autumn transition. Giants like the willow, alder, elder and some oaks are relatively colorless. But mixed with the entire spectrum, their neutral shades add a rich dimension to a photographer's depth of field.

When the leaves begin to fall, it's more than gravity that brings them floating and swirling down to lawns, fields and forest beds. At the base of each leaf where it connects to the tree's stem are abscission cells. When the growing season ends and the leaves begin to dry out, these cells shrink and release the leaf from the stem. Once again, some trees do not conform to the norm. The mighty oak, for instance, never develops abscission cells and like other deciduous trees, its leaves hang on into winter until they are "weathered" off their stems.

Since rich fall color in Wisconsin depends on dry weather conditions, plenty of sunshine and crisp, but not freezing temperatures, it should be noted that peak color can be enjoyed at different times statewide. In northern Wisconsin color gets top billing mid to late September. Tourists to Central Wisconsin can expect peak color in late September to mid October. Southern Wisconsin visitors will get the full spectrum in early to late October. Even weeks after these general "peaks" have passed, there frequently are pockets of spectacular color remaining to surprise the late visitor.

Highlights in the north include breathtaking vistas along Lake Superior's shoreline, (Highway 13 & 2); Chequamegon National Forest, Flambeau River State Forest, Copper Falls State Park and Pattison Falls State Park (take Highways 3, 13, 27, 53, 63, 70, & 35; Nicolet National Forest, Northern Highland and American Legion State Forests (take Highways 51, 17, 47, 55, 32, & 141).

To the north and east along Lake Michigan's shores, glorious colorama can be seen from Green Bay and Door County all the way south to Kenosha and Racine. Take Highways 42 and 57 out to the Door County peninsula, then south on Highway 43 and 31.

Visitors won't want to miss Wisconsin's Kettle Moraine in the southeastern section of the state. And those blaze oranges, crimsons and yellows can be seen from high viewing points at Holy Hill, south of Hartford, Parnell Tower, near Plymouth, and Lapham Peak outside Delafield. For a panoramic view of the Wisconsin River Valley, visitors are invited to take in the beauty from Rib Mountain State Park in Wausau, then wind south around Waupaca's chain of lakes to Hartman Creek State Park.

The Baraboo Range and Wisconsin River bluff country along Highway 78 and 60, clothed in autumn finery, are two outstanding fall color regions in southern Wisconsin. Other bright spots are Blue Mound, Wyalusing, Nelson Dewey and Governor Dodge State Parks and oak-clad hills around sparkling Lake Geneva.

As you travel, treat yourself to the fine quality food products available along our scenic routes. Wisconsin apples are crisp and juicy, and Wisconsin honey is unbeatable. Cranberries, fruit jelly, and of course, several kinds of world-famous Wisconsin cheese make any fall trip more enjoyable.

Bikers will enjoy Wisconsin's fall beauty on any of the five dedicated bike trails statewide and on hundreds of miles of trails that wind through all seven Wisconsin tourism regions. For bicycle trail information, contact the Wisconsin Department of Transportation and ask for the new Wisconsin Bicycle Escape Guides. Tom Hicken and Crew Build Up Own Racing Car; Places 4th

As a spectator of the sport of auto racing, Tom "Tommy" Hicken, 22, of West Bend decided at the close of the 1985 racing season if he could start out small he could be behind the wheel of a race car of his own. In the fall of that year he, along with pit crew, girl friend Tamme Mannigel, Al and Gary Bath, and Wayne "Jiggs" Mannigel, built up a car for competition in the amateur division at Slinger Super Speedway.

1986 was Tom's first racing season and he placed 4th overall in point standings out of a field of approximately 30 cars. He says, "I couldn't have done it without Don Goeden and the Goeden pit crew expertise."

Tom's yellow and red #74,

1974 Monte Carlo was painted by Tamme and sponsored by Jiggs and Two Hits and A Miss, Sears Diehard, J.J. Liquor, Speeds TV and Appliance, where he is employed, all of West Bend; Bath Auto Salvage, Derge Railings, Kewaskum; The Pub, Mayville; Wolf's Bar and Hall, Allenton, and Frank and Barb's Country Inn, LeRoy.

Oneida and Sauk Counties each registered more than 1,000 deer.

Wisconsin's first bow deer season was in 1934, open in only two counties, Columbia and Sauk. The season was for bucks only. Beginning in 1943, the season was for either sex deer. The first deer killed by bow and arrow was in 1930 in Vilas County by special permit during the regular gun deer season.

Deer registration stations for Washington County: Pike Lake State Park, Kettle Moraine Drive, Hartford; Frank's Tavern, N168 W20448 Main, Jackson; Wayne's Sport Shop, 1903 North Main, West Bend; Navin's Mobil Service, 6705 Highway W, Allenton; Wally's & Bee's Tavern, 1571 Lake Drive, Hubertus.

Bow Deer Season To Open Sept. 20

Another excellent season is expected as Wisconsin bow deer hunters take to the field for the opener Saturday, September 20, 1986, after setting a record harvest of 40,744 last year, Frank Haberland, Department of Natural Resources, forest wildlife specialist said.

The 84-day season will run through Sunday, November 16, close for the gun deer season and then reopen Saturday, December 6, and continue through Wednesday, December 31.

"Statewide, the deer herd numbers some 900,000 white-tails available to the bow hunters," Haberland said. "That is down from the 1985 herd level, but it was planned that way because of the harvest reduction in some overpopulated deer management units. There also were some winter deer losses in the north."

Bow hunters have established new harvest records for the last six consecutive years beginning with 20,954 in 1980. Other harvests totals have included 29,083 in 1981, 30,850 in 1982, 32,876 in 1983, and 38,891 in 1984. The harvest topped 40,000 in 1985.

"It was just back in 1974 that the bow harvest topped the 10,000 mark and it only took 12 years to reach more than 40,000," Haberland said. "License sales exceeded 200,000 in 1984 and were over 215,000 last year."

Waupaca County recorded the largest bow harvest in the state with 2,753 deer registered. Marathon County was next with 1,862 and Wood County ranked third with 1,791. Other counties in the top ten included Marinette, 1,766; Portage, 1,590; Shawano, 1,486; Waushara, 1,357; Jackson, 1,312; Adams, 1,194; and Columbia, 1,122. Oconto,

St. Lucas Team Moves to 2-1

On Friday, Sept. 11th, the 76'ERS beat David's Star of Jackson, 28-0.

Jody Ludwig opened the scoring, catching a pass from Doug Stern in the closing seconds of the first half. Stern took it in himself for the extra point and the 76'ERS took a 7-0 lead into halftime.

The second half found the 76'ERS scoring three more times. Kris Munson opened the scoring on a Doug-to-Tim-to-Kris "three way" connection. Erik Kral ran an interception in for a touchdown, as well as pulling down a toss from Stern and heading for another score.

The 76'ERS converted all extra point tries. Ludwig, Kral, and Chris Schmidt added the second half conversions on a toss from Doug and two super runs.

Penalties and Fumbles Lead to 31-0 Indian Loss

By Chuck Voge

When the Kewaskum Indians boarded the player bus for their Sept. 12th trip to Campbellsport they did a beautiful job, and when they picked up their first aid box and other equipment after the game they did a flawless job, but with the exception of a 50-yard runback by senior running back Mark Schlosser, everything in between was just about a total bust.

Throughout the 48 minutes of regulation play Kewaskum failed to pick up so much as one first down, and was penalized 9 times for a total of 72 yards compared to 3 for 25 for the Cougars. The Indians suffered from poor field position all night.

The Indians also coughed up the ball through mistakes on four lost fumbles and one interception. At the start of the first period it looked like a different team than the one that lost the season opener to Horicon as the Indian defense showed a quickness that had not been seen before. Defensive end Mike Coulter broke through the Cougar line almost at will and played a big part in holding the Cougars scoreless for the period.

The Indian defense, however, cannot be faulted for all of the 31 Cougar points since they were on the field much longer than normal. Kewaskum held the ball for only 37 plays from scrimmage compared to 67 for the Cougars, and that's asking an awful lot from a defensive team that's lacking in depth.

The Indian offense also handed Campbellsport a gift of four points when they were dropped twice for safeties in the second and fourth periods.

Inconsistency was the word used by head coach Charland after the Indians' pre-season scrimmage with West Bend East, and it certainly showed its ugly head in the Kewaskum offensive performance. The few times that the Indians had the ball they vacillated from looking like a million bucks on one play, to performing like they were in a sandlot pick up game on the next.

All was not bad, however.

The punting of Steve Johnson was once again above average for a high school punter. The stats are not available yet on Johnson's punting average but it would come as no surprise if his average for the season turns out on the high end of the forties.

If it's any consolation to Kewaskum fans, the Indians are now tied with the Green Bay Packers at 0-2 overall and they get about $75,000.00 less per man than the Packers for playing.

Ron Goebel, quarterback of the 2-0 Cougars, had another big game with nine completions in 17 attempts, two for touchdowns. Brian Jungers caught three passes for 45 yards, including a 7-yard TD reception. Dion Doyle carried 23 times for 94 yards.

Scores of non-conference games involving other Eastern Wisconsin teams were: Sheboygan Falls 20, Horicon 6; Ripon 12, Chilton 3; Little Chute 12, New Holstein 6; Kiel 22, Berlin 12; Two Rivers 21, Oregon 7; Plymouth 21, Monona Grove 6.

Next the Indians will host the Plymouth Panthers this Friday with game time at 7:30 p.m.

The Junior Varsity also lost their game with Slinger by a score of 6-0. The JVs are now 1-1 and have given up a total of ONLY 14 points in both games.

Indian Boys 13th of 19 In Mayville Invitational

The Kewaskum boys finished 13th out of 19 schools in the annual Mayville Cross Country Invitational Friday. The Ripon boys and Waupun girls won team titles in the meet. A total of 281 (151 girls and 130 boys) competed in the multi-school meet.

The boys' course at the Mayville High School was just under three miles, while the girls' course was just under two minutes. The meet was switched from the Mayville Golf Course because of wet grounds.

Slinger, Waupun, Berlin and Mayville rounded out the top five teams in the boys' race. Ripon, Mayville, Lomira and Sheboygan Falls followed Waupun in the girls' section.

Kewaskum boys ended up 13th in team scoring but junior Miles Shaw made the top 10. Shaw maintained a strong pace and ran a 16:21 good for eighth. Curt Ayer, in his second year in the sport, ran a 17:39 and placed 51st as Kewaskum's second best runner.

The Kewaskum girls did not have a full team and therefore their score did not count in the results.

Indians' Defending Champs Lose Volleyball Openers

The Kewaskum girls' volleyball team opened the season with a loss to Sheboygan Falls here last Tuesday, 13-15, 5-15 and 8-15.

The girls held an early 9-5 lead over the Falcons but faded and lost a heartbreaker in the first game. This seemed to break their confidence.

There were some good efforts, especially from Jenny Hintz, who was the team leader in points, and Laurie Blum, who topped the team in assists. Dawn Dieringer had several serves which were either aces or could not be returned.

The Kewaskum girls' volleyball team also lost a match at New Holstein Thursday night, 11-15, 13-15, 15-8.

Not only did the girls lose the match, but also lost their best setter, Laurie Blum, who sprained an ankle in the second game. Laurie had the ankle x-rayed at the hospital and fortunately there was no break.

Shelly Petsch replaced Blum and played well.

The Indians led in the first game, 11-7, but let it slip away. The Indians came back nicely in the second game, after being down, 13-7, to bring the score to 13-14 but then lost a tough one, 13-15. The second team did well in winning the final game.

The Indians shared the title with Two Rivers last season, both with 11-1 records. They have six letter winners back, including two second team all-conference selections, and should be competitive.

Returning are seniors Laurie Blum, Jenny Hintz, Terri Schmidt, Lisa Schneider and Brenda Vetter and Junior Jenny Schuster. Blum and Vetter are the two returnees who earned all-conference honors. Also back is junior Debbie Felix, who has the height as a 5-9 spiker.

The Indians host Plymouth Thursday and play in the Campbellsport Invitational Saturday.
