Revenue Sharing Losses Will Mean Higher Taxes for 1986

Proposed 1987 Village Budget Up Almost 5%

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Although there have been decreases in almost every Village of Kewaskum departmental budget, the General Budget proposed for 1987, carried a 4.6% increase over 1986, from $1,168,836, to $1,222,252.

This is a preliminary budget, Village Administrator Dan Schmidt told the trustees Monday night, noting he would not receive the village's actual assessed equalized value figures for several more days. He indicated the equalized value numbers he had used were strictly estimates and, because of the drop in farmland values, this figure was considerably lower than that of last year.

The assessed equalized value of $59,543,930 for 1985, resulted in a village tax rate of $6.63 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. Using an estimated value of $58,430,000 for 1986, the rate would calculate out to $6.93, up 30c per $1,000. Trustee Mary Krueger asked Schmidt what this increase would mean in actual dollars on the tax bill. On a $70,000 house, you'd be looking at an increase in the village's portion of the tax of about $21.00.

"The budget, as far as revenues and expenditures, is the closest budget we've ever done," stated Schmidt. As an example, he used a fire service contract saying, in the past, if a contract was $32,430, it was rounded off to $32,500 and that figure was put into the budget.

"Now, whatever the exact dollar amount of the contract is, that's what we are using in the budget."

"It's a very tight budget, on the revenue side we've increased wherever we thought we could and on the expenditure side we've cut wherever we could." Schmidt indicated most of the increase was due to higher operating expenses such as insurance, electric, phone, etc. "The insurance industry alone is looking at an anticipated 15% increase for next year," Schmidt told the board.

The only big increase in the village's budget is in the Public Works Department area, and that is due to approximately $120,000 being budgeted to cover the village's portion of the Trees which normally stand high along the banks of the Milwaukee River found their bases submerged and leaves hanging into the water as last month's rain runoff raised the river's water level.

October, for our area at least, has started out much better than September, with a few consecutive days of full sunshine.

That fact alone is more than welcome news to farmers as many of them are foregoing their annual trips to the Farm Progress Days show in favor of getting out into their fields to chop silage and pick corn.

While 1985 was one big wet headache, 1986 is even a bigger one as far as getting crops in. Recent agriculture surveys indicate that only 1% of this year's corn crop is in as compared to 6% at this time last year. If the

The Installation Service for Rev. James P. Bettin took place at Peace United Church of Christ in Kewaskum on Sunday, Sept. 28, at 9:30 a.m.

Rev. Robert Horst, Southeast Wisconsin Association Minister for the United Church of Christ, officiated at the installation. Rita Sorensen of West Bend, representing the Church and Ministry Committee of Southeast Association, took part in the service, as did Clark Pearson of Kewaskum, President of Peace Church. The sermon was presented by Rev. Louis Riesch, Superintendent of Cedar Lake Home Campus, West Bend. Special music was rendered by Peace Church Chancel Choir, directed by Larry Ammel, and by the Children's Choir, directed by Cheryl Ammel. Organ accompaniments were by Margaret McFadden.

A total of 313 persons attended the installation, including 40 members of St. John United Church of Christ from Arlington Heights, Illinois. Rev. Bettin's previous pastorate before he began his duties in Kewaskum on August 1. Visitors were also present from St. Paul's U.C.C Church, Sheboygan, as well as others from Oshkosh and Cambridge, WI.

A festive reception in Peace Church Fellowship Hall for all congregation members and guests immediately followed the installation. Floral arrangements were provided by Peace and St. John Churches.

Highway 28 E Repairs Definitely A Two-Year Project

By GERRY MUELLER

Kewaskum Village Administrator Dan Schmidt updated the Village Board on the schedule for repair of Highway 28, (Main Street) through the village, east of Highway 144.

Schmidt said the latest report indicates that repair of Highway 28 will still be a two-year project with the portion within the village limits being completed in 1987. That work, however, does not include the bridge repairs.

Originally plans had only been to resurface the deck of the bridge. Now, the Highway Department has decided to look at replacing the entire deck which would move that portion of the Main Street repairs into 1988. The bridge would remain open as one side at a time was rebuilt.

Trustee Paul Blumer expressed his unhappiness with the change in plans. He noted it did not make sense to repair the Main Street roadbed in 1987, only to have heavy equipment and trucks traveling back and forth on it when the bridge was being fixed in 1988. Blumer felt both the village portion of the repairs and the bridge work should be done in 1987. Schmidt indicated the village had no control over the schedule.

Schmidt also said that the rural portion of Highway 28, from the village limits to Highway 144, was not scheduled to be repaired until 1988. The three gravel areas were to have been blacktopped, but the rain is being blamed for that work not being completed.

Budget

Main Street (Highway 28) repairs scheduled for 1987.

Trustee Richard Schmidt said, "the one thing people have to be made aware of is the fact that we're losing $25,000 in federal shared revenues." In reply to that statement, Dan Schmidt said all the communities were being asked to adopt a resolution supporting General Revenue Sharing, "as is," and to contact all the legislators informing them of that support. He said, "federal revenue sharing is dead as far as the House of Representatives is concerned."

Asked how accurate he felt his estimated rate of $6.93 was, Schmidt said, "I hope I'm within 20c one way or the other." Schmidt was very concerned that residents understand that this rate only covered the village's budget. We still do not have any other figures yet as far as vocational school, county, etc., but we do know that Washington County is looking at about a 15% increase.

A public hearing on the proposed budget has been scheduled for Monday, November 3rd.

In other action, the board discussed the possibility of eliminating parking on Main Street during the Kewaskum Firemen's parade in July. Earlier this year, Robert Kirst had presented a request and petition with 44 signatures asking that parking be banned, during the parade only, so spectators would have better visibility and more room to view the parade. Kirst had indicated that only about 30 parking spaces would be lost. However, after investigating the situation, the village determined that 110 spaces along Main Street and 44 along Fond du Lac Avenue would be lost, with no alternative parking area.

Several of the board members felt a parking ban might discourage people from coming to the parade. Krueger said a ban would be hard to enforce except by ticketing the people and that would really make them mad. You want to draw people to the picnic not chase them away, she noted.

Trustee Howard Laubenstein told the board, "I think we should leave well enough alone." The board unanimously approved a motion to continue allowing parking during the parade. Board President David Nigh added, "if they (Mr. Kirst and the petitioners) could find an alternate parking solution, the board would review the request further."

Water Pollution Control Superintendent Pete Albers informed the board that his department's ammonia testing equipment was down for repairs and temporary testing would be handled by Marquette University. Albers said tests had to be conducted by a DNR registered and certified agency and since Kewaskum was one of the few communities qualified, there was no place nearby other than Marquette to take over the tests.

Administrator Schmidt also informed the board the treatment plant had received excessive amounts of dairy product refuse from the dairy plant in the last three to four weeks. That resulted in bacteria, which makes the tanks work, dying off. When the tanks don't recover, they have to be pumped, said Schmidt. This has happened before and we've billed the dairy for a portion of the pumping cost. Krueger asked if the dairy knew it was happening. It's an in-house maintenance problem that was supposedly taken care of, noted Schmidt.

In cooperation with neighboring communities the village set Sunday, October 26, from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m., as Trick or Treat Day.

The board also authorized the Police Department to advertise for bids on a 1987 police squad replacement and Schmidt to seek proposals for the Municipal Annual audit.

ALCOHOL HYPERTENSION

For 10% to 30% of people with high blood pressure, it may be caused by too much alcohol. Just 5 drinks a day [beer, wine, cocktails] is enough to produce hypertension - and it disappears just a few days after the drinking habit is halted. Five or more drinks a day also triples the risk of death or permanent brain damage from strokes.

Weather

weather does not continue to improve, that will mean bad news as farmers will be faced with another season where many fields will go unharvested until spring. Already many farmers are expecting to see large beet and soybean losses because fields are just too soggy, bogging down equipment.

While the weather service at Mitchell Field in Milwaukee officially records the month as the fifth wettest September on record, other areas will tell you September, 1986, set an all-time record. Markesan in Green Lake County, had an unofficial record 18 inches fall during the month, with almost six inches coming in one period on September 22nd. Juneau County also had an unofficial report of a record 17.3 inches for the month. Rain gauges in many parts of Washington and Fond du Lac Counties topped off at anywhere from 10 to 14.5 inches.

Unofficial sources also counted only five days that had more than four hours of sun and another five with amounts of less than four hours.

Not only has the rain put harvesting back, but many farmers who plant winter wheat have begun to wonder whether they will get a crop in and, if they do, will it have enough of a start to make it through the winter.

Locally the Hon-E-Kor Country Club golf course was closed for about a week with parts of it being under water due to flooding. The front nine is now open again for walking only with no carts allowed on the course. The back nine is still closed and may not re-open depending on the weather. Bud Korth reported Wednesday that the water in the river has gone down two feet and is back within its banks, but the ground is still saturated with water.

A number of homes in the village also had water in the basements due to the frequent and heavy rains and there was standing water in many yards and fields.

After earlier federal denial of Wisconsin's request for aid under a major disaster declaration, President Reagan Tuesday declared five southeastern counties as disaster areas as a result of floods in September. The declaration means that flood victims in Milwaukee, Sheboygan, Fond du Lac, Ozaukee and Kenosha counties will be eligible for a wide range of federal programs, including low-interest loans for repairs to homes and businesses, assistance with temporary housing and help in paying medical bills.

In meeting the declaration, Reagan overturned the Federal Emergency Management Agency rejection of Gov. Earl's formal request that the counties be named disaster areas. According to Earl's office, about 6,000 homes were damaged in the recent flood, about 4,200 of them in Fond du Lac County. The rains deluged some of the areas and caused widespread flooding.

More rains is in the forecast for the balance of the week. Let's hope the weatherman is wrong.

This is a scene on the "freeway" near St. Kilian that started out as a joyride back in 1916. And you thought we had muddy conditions this fall. Obviously the old touring car got stuck in the mud and it took a team of horses, a knee-deep crew of men and a snickering dog to get it out. That's what you get for being in the wrong lane of traffic. The approaching horses and buggy from the opposite direction apparently are proceeding with no problems.

Village of Kewaskum NEWS NOTES

HEALTH HAZARD

The Village Board would like to remind the residents of the Village of One (1) topic covered in the Village's Municipal Code. The topic is covered in Chapter 10, Public Nuisance and Chapter 14, Public Health and Welfare. This public nuisance is in reference to a health hazard. The Village has undertaken several steps to alleviate any clearwater (storm water) problems (flooding) in the entire community, but people ARE NOT cooperating. We find that people cut their grass and either discharge or dump their clippings on to the street. This same problem exists with the raking and dumping of leaves onto the streets.

This practice of grass and leaf disposal onto the streets is of great concern. The grass and leaves eventually ends up covering (plugging up) catch basins causing water to back up during certain times of the year, which results in the flooding of streets and homes.

This action is in violation of the Municipal Code and does call for action by the Board such as the cost of abatement and possible forfeiture of up to $500.00 for someone convicted thereof.

The Village would ask that all residents keep their grass clippings and leaves off the streets and away from the catch basins in the curb area. Also to refrain from dumping their grass or leaves in ditched areas.

Renee Kapp, a senior at Kewaskum High School, completed another successful year of showing Columbia sheep winning grand champion Columbia ewe honors at the Southern Junior Livestock Show on Sunday, Sept. 14. The Southern Show held at Mineral Point, Wisconsin, featured 34 sheep exhibitors from 11 counties and is the oldest junior show in the state. Renee's fall ewe lamb, "Sophie," received first place in her class and competed against the first place spring and yearling ewes for the championship.

Earlier in the year, Renee won reserve champion pair of lambs with a pair of spring lambs at the Spring Preview Show at Portage. At the Wisconsin State Fair, Renee showed the first place Columbia fall ewe lamb in the junior division, along with blue ribbons in the yearling ram, spring ewe, yearling ewe, pair of lambs and flock classes. Renee also showed the champion Columbia ram and champion Columbia ewe at the Washington County Fair.

Renee, who is president of the Kewaskum FFA chapter, has been showing sheep for five years. She works in a management program with George and Anne Allmann of Kewaskum who raise purebred Columbia sheep.

County Considering Its Own Sales Tax

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Faced with another double digit increase in its tax levy, the Washington County Finance Committee will review the possibility of establishing a 0.5% sales tax on goods purchased within the county.

If the tax became reality, county residents would also have to pay the .5% sales tax on all major purchases such as cars, boats, etc., made outside of the county.

If enacted, the tax would go into effect April 1, 1987, and could generate approximately $2 million in revenues which would be used to offset the levy increase.

Washington County is facing a proposed tax levy of $9,898,442 for 1987, a 29.2% increase over the current levy of $7,660,847. That increase would result in a 15% hike in the tax rate from $3.63 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, to $4.18 per $1,000.

As a result of a change in state law which occurred last October, counties may now establish the tax, set at exactly 0.5%, and use the money for county purposes.

Presently two of the state's 72 counties have already enacted the tax, Barron and Dunn Counties, located in northern Wisconsin.

In Milwaukee County, several of its county supervisors have also proposed the establishment of the county sales tax which could generate as much as $35 million. The money would be used to help Finance the Milwaukee County Park System.

Turns Down Offer of $27,000 Mercedes Benz for Dog

Sandee Filo Captures Third Place in World-Class German Shepherd Competition in Denmark

By Joanne Curry

A local world-class talent was recently recognized in world-class competition. The competition was the W.U.S.V. Europameister Schaft, the world championship for German shepherd working dogs. The talent is Sandee Filo of Campbellsport.

Sandee has always loved animals and, with husband Larry, turned this love into a profitable and exciting business. For the past seven years the couple has been breeding, raising, importing, and training German shepherds. It wasn't until two years ago that Sandee began competing with her dogs on a national and international level. She reached the pinnacle of success on Sunday, September 21st, when she and her dog Pele vom Arolser Holz (Pele for short), captured the third place bronze medal at the Europameister Schaft in Aalborg, Denmark.

"I would have been happy just to place in the top twenty-five percent," said Sandee, still overwhelmed by her success.

Larry put the win in perspective when he explained, "In the United States, this is an infant organization. The Germans have been doing this for a hundred years."

This was the first time an American placed higher than ninth in this world event, which is usually dominated by Germans.

The competition is far more than the beauty-contest type of dog show most of us are familiar with. These dogs are specially bred and trained for use in police work, the military and as guard dogs. Throughout their lives, they can compete for degrees in the Schutzhund training clubs of their respective nations. These degrees are earned for abilities in three categories: tracking, protection, and obedience work. As the dog earns higher degrees, its personal value and the value of its breeding potential increase.

Soon after Sandee and Larry became involved in raising dogs, they joined a Schutzhund club and began competing locally. As their operation grew and they added more kennels, they formed their own club.

Even with hired help, their workdays often ran sixteen hours because they also raise tropical birds. It was all a labor of love for Sandee, who always felt that her talent for training and handling dogs was a little better than average. When Larry and her parents, John and Dolly Heindl of rural Kewaskum, urged her to compete on a larger scale, Sandee's modest nature made her reluctant.

Fortunately, she overcame her reluctance and in fewer than two years of qualifying trials around the United States she and Pele had accumulated enough high scores to be accepted to the American team.

After her win, a German man offered Larry a $27,000 Mercedes Benz in exchange for Pele. No deal was struck.

Sandee later joked that Larry had better like the car enough to live in it if he traded off her dog.

The Filos, along with other German shepherd breeders, are hopeful that their sports will soon be admitted as an Olympic event. When it does, Sandee will no doubt be more experienced and even tougher competition for the Germans.

Anyone interested in watching training sessions or learning more about the Schutzhund Club can contact Larry and Sandee at Steinig Tal Kennels, 995 Mink Lane, Route 4, Campbellsport, WI 53010.

KHS Guidance Department College Planning Group Sessions Held

This year as in the past, the high school guidance department under the direction of Dave Wietor ran small college planning groups for over 80 seniors at Kewaskum High School who plan on attending college or technical school next year.

Choosing a college is an important and sometimes difficult task and these groups stressed the importance to plan now and take it step by step to increase the chances of making a decision that is good for each student. Students were provided with a detailed game plan to follow, starting with college selection and including the application process, admission requirements, test applications and financial aid. A special financial aids night has been planned for parents on Dec. 10th when additional information and application forms will be provided.

The group meetings also stressed that college choice is a very personal and individual decision. The picture a student has of himself - his abilities, interests, attitudes and personality - play an important role in the college decision process. What students know about themselves will help define what they are looking for in a college. College is a place where a student hopes to be able to be what he is; a place in which he hopes to be able to become what he is capable of becoming.

GO FOR A TEST READ

People needing high powered information before making a car purchase get into their newspaper, because newspapers are the number one source of automotive information. In fact, more people buying new and used cars rely on newspapers for automobile information than all other mass media combined.

94% of Wisconsin people read a newspaper in the last week. Half of those newspaper readers bought a car in the last 2 years. This means 1.7 million people went for a test read.

So whether you're buying or selling, accelerate into the fast lane with the powerful advertising vehicle...

Two More Agencies Partially Funded by Kewaskum United Way

Two more agencies partially supported by Kewaskum United Way are Friends for Battered Women and Kewaskum Chapter Special Olympics.

Friends for Battered Women opened a shelter house this August at a confidential location in Washington County. The house will accommodate 12 women and children at a time so that they have a chance to remove themselves from dangerous domestic situations, stabilize their lives and regroup away from outside pressure. About 60 people have been housed so far this year and 180 are expected to be served in 1987.

Director Jean V. Michaud oversees six staff members plus numerous volunteers for the agency. A 24-Hour Crisis Line provides emotional support and information to battered women and sexual assault victims.

Short term one-to-one counseling services are available in order for women to clarify their problems and identify alternatives and solutions. If women need to curtail violence in their lives through the legal system, emotional support and assistance is given for restraining orders and injunctions.

At present there are 3 on-going support groups for battered women that meet weekly.

Friends for Battered Women maintains a Speakers Bureau to present programs and in-service training on domestic violence and sexual assault to community groups and agencies as well as educational presentations to students throughout the county. The office for Friends for Battered Women is located at 138 N. Main St., West Bend.

Kewaskum Chapter Special Olympics sponsors extra curricular activities for mentally retarded or physically handicapped persons.

This year the two volunteer coaches Jeaneen Kudek and Kathy Charland, are working with 10 athletes from the age of eight to young adults. The participants train locally once a week for competition in bowling in the fall, swimming, track and field in the spring.

Meets are held in the Sheboygan area with first and second place going on to the state meet in Milwaukee and Stevens Point. The state meet is a two day competition, participants stay in a motel and ribbons and medals are awarded, followed by a banquet. Locally there is an annual dinner for all participants in the special olympics.

The budget for Kewaskum Chapter Special Olympics is totally supported by voluntary contributions.

Greeting Card Designer Guest At Unique Woman of God Coffee

The Unique Woman of God will host a coffee on Thursday, Oct. 23, featuring Dawn Nawrocki. She will share her Christian message, "Are You Ready to Listen."

Dawn is the designer and president of Pricilla Greeting cards, Inc. Pricilla is a pregnant cartoon character that was designed to cheer up and encourage women through their pregnancies and early motherhood experiences. Dawn's field of expertise is quite apparent as she has already experienced five pregnancies. What was once a little local greeting card business has turned into a nation-wide business. Dawn and her artist, Denise Keller, also have created a weekly cartoon of Pricilla and Pete (Pricilla's husband) that has been published weekly in six Wisconsin community newspapers. Also, what was once a local business now looks to the future with the possibility of national syndication. Dawn takes none of the credit for how far this business has come and said, "When I stepped out of God's shoes and did my own things, I fell flat on my face. God started this business and I just do his work. He lets me know what to do and when to do it, but I have to be willing to listen."

Dawn, her husband, Bill, and their children reside in Milwaukee.

The coffee will be held at the Riverside Cafe, 111 North Main Street, West Bend, from 9:30 - 11:00 a.m., at a prepaid reservation cost of $3.00. Reservations must be mailed to Lou Reichert, 937 Redwood Street, West Bend, 53095, no later than Friday, Oct. 17. Please include names of people with reservation.

KHS Guidance Dept. Advice To College Bound Students

The PSAT/NMSQT is a multiple choice test that measures verbal and mathematical reasoning abilities important to doing work in college. There are 65 verbal questions and 50 math questions. The test takes one hour and 40 minutes. More than a million students, mostly juniors, take it annually.

This year the test will be administered at Kewaskum High School on Tuesday, October 21st. Students intending to take the test must sign up no later than Friday, October 10th, in the KHS guidance office. A fee of $5.00 must be paid on the day of the test.

The PSAT/NMSQT lets students compare their ability to do college work with the ability of other college bound students. After the test, students will receive a Report of Student Answers and a test book to let them review their performance. In addition the test gives students practice for taking the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT). Taking the PSAT/NMSQT helps students begin planning for college. Students can get an idea of how they will do on a college admissions test and can find colleges that seek students like them.

Taking the PSAT/NMSQT also provides entry to the scholarship programs conducted by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC). Students who score extremely high on this test may be eligible for available scholarship dollars from participating organizations and schools.

Finally through the PSAT/NMSQT students can get mail from colleges and universities that are interested in students like them. The Student Search Service makes it possible for colleges to send information to students if they want to receive it.

Any junior student who is considering attending college after graduation from Kewaskum is encouraged and advised to take the test.

Letters to the Editor

October 6, 1986

Editor:

As one of the parents who object to the musical "Grease" being staged in Kewaskum High School or any high school, I feel there are valid points to be made.

First, in order for anyone to make a judgement on the play, you must read the script. The TV edited version of the movie contains much different dialog, songs, and scenes, etc. However, the same basic story line is present. The teens are bragging about their sexual activities, making fun of the virgin and generally showing disrespect for parents and authority. The only theme of the play is sex. It is what all the dialog and song lyrics are about.

When the nation is faced with a teen pregnancy epidemic, should we not be educating our youth to act responsibly not encouraging them by glamorizing promiscuous sex on the stage of the local high school, all in the name of entertainment. As a parent of three teens, I could not sit in an audience and applaud when the performance demeans the moral values we should be teaching our teens. For example, a song criticizes the virgin as: "Here I am, Sandra Dee, lousey with virginity..." At the end of the play, the virgin character sings, "Good bye to Sandra Dee." Obviously she is saying a farewell to her virginity. This play can have all the profanity and all the blasphemy removed but the plot cannot be changed, and that is the main objection. What has been removed are mere token gestures.

I have spent thirteen years of my life involved in the pro-life movement and the past 3 1/2 years doing problem pregnancy counseling. Perhaps that is why I am sensitive to the many influences and pressures on our teens. Obviously the media via rock song lyrics, TV soap operas, movies, etc. which encourage improper sexual conduct has a detrimental effect on our teens. Isn't it time we start doing something to stem the pregnancy epidemic? If we do not start locally when we have the opportunity, when will we,or will we?

At the school board meeting, students felt they were mature enough to decide what is right and wrong for themselves. But adults know that guidance is very much needed for our children in their teen years. If they were mature enough, we wouldn't need a closed campus and drug and alcohol abuse programs etc.

Another comment made by one of the students about being naive about teen sex is not the issue here. We are not advocating a "stick your head in the sand" approach but just the opposite. Let us honestly admit there is a problem of teen pregnancy and promiscuous behavior and let us have meaningful discussions in an atmosphere where values and ethics can play an integral part of finding a solution to these problems. The musical, "Grease" is taking the naive approach by encouraging and glamorizing sinful and irresponsible behavior.

When making the request to cancel the musical, I was not without concern for the students and advisors who had already invested time into the project. I have as much pride in KHS as any of the students involved. KHS is my alma mater and I performed in musicals and plays on that very same stage.

So, I do understand! But there comes a time to stand up for what is right, no matter the consequences. If a play has to be edited so drastically to make it acceptable by the community, I question its selection in the first place. I fear many of the "editions" might not have been made, had our objections not been raised.

Also, comments were made at the school board meeting about censorship and intellectual and academic freedom. At the high school level, it is not censorship to select literature, text books, etc. that appropriately reflect community values for that age level. We had better be "selecting" materials based on merit, that is not censorship. There is a distinct difference between intellectual and academic freedom at the high school level compared to the college level because of the maturity of those involved.

I sincerely hope that all of us can continue to work together with our schools and churches to provide a good value system with high morals for our children to take them into the future.

Sincerely,
Ann Enright

Editor-Kewaskum Statesman:

Hats off to Carol Frac and Ann Enright for their courageous stand against the Kewaskum High School presentation of the rock musical "Grease" at the Sept. 29, 1986, School Board meeting.

Thank God for parents who love their children so much that they expose themselves to public and family ridicule to stand up for their convictions. Thank God that you care so much for all our children.

So often educators and our school systems tell us that values are taught at home and that the school and home need to support one another. How unfortunate that in this situation, high moral values seem only to be at the home level. I don't know where they are at the school level.

Kewaskum Statesman, Page 9
Friday, Oct. 3, 1986

In a time when teen pregnancy and promiscuity are at an all time high, do we need to have a play presented at school that promotes teen sex and alcohol use?

I am proud to know these ladies and I stand with them in protest against the actions of the Kewaskum School Board in allowing the play "Grease" to be presented.

Sincerely,

Sue Ostrom

HOW TO KEEP YOUR BEST FRIEND OUT OF THE DOG HOUSE.

Dogs are fun. They're loyal. And they protect your home from everything and everyone. Including our meter readers.

Last year alone, 34 of our employees were attacked and injured by "family pets."

We know they don't mean it. After all, it's hard for a dog to tell the difference between a threatening stranger and a friendly meter reader.

But some of these attacks, even by small dogs, resulted in hospital treatment, medical expenses and impoundment of the pet for medical tests. In some cases, the owner was held legally liable for the actions of the dog.

On the day your meter is scheduled to be read, please make sure your dog is secured. You can find the date for your next scheduled meter reading on your electric bill. Or, you can call your local Wisconsin Electric office and ask.

You'll be helping our meter reader. And keeping your best friend out of the dog house.

Board Takes Courageous Stand on 'Grease'

By Chuck Voge

At its September 29th special meeting the five members of the Kewaskum School Board that were in attendance were backed into a tight corner by opponents to the presentation of the 1950's rock and roll musical "Grease" as this year's choice for the annual high school class play.

A very important principle, INTELLECTUAL AND ACADEMIC FREEDOM went on trial at this meeting which can best be described as a scaled down, modern day version of the 1925 Scopes Monkey trial. Apparently our society learned something from the Scopes trial, since Monday evening's meeting had quite a different outcome than the famous 1925 trial that pitted orator and statesman William Jennings Bryan as prosecutor against defense attorney Clarence Darrow.

By voting to uphold the decision to present "Grease," the board members reinforced the students right to explore and learn without having the subject matter spoon fed to them. When the academic and intellectual freedom of all was pitted against the moral judgements of a few, academic and intellectual freedom won out, and in a public school system, that's as it should be.

This must have been a very difficult decision for at least three board members who must face re-election in the coming year. It was an unselfish and open-minded decision for which they should be commended.

The above editorial does not reflect the opinions of the Kewaskum Statesman, since the Statesman takes no stand on the issue. Opinions and observations stated are those of the writer.

Washington County Joins National 4-H Week Celebration

In Washington County some 625 4-H members have planned special activities and events in observance of National 4-H Week, October 5 to 11, according to Kandi Veal, 4-H and Youth Agent. The Washington County 4-H'ers are among nearly 4.5 million young people across the country who are participating in the week-long celebration using the theme "4-H For Youth, For America."

"What we do for our youth today, we do for America tomorrow," said Veal in explaining the theme. "Through 4-H, young people can acquire knowledge and develop life skills that enable them to become self-directing, productive and contributing members of our society. Specifically, they learn good health habits, develop respect for themselves and others, explore career and leisure time opportunities, share responsibility for preserving the environment, learn how to use technology, and develop leadership and citizenship skills through participation in 4-H. And, that's something to celebrate."

"But 4-H is not only for youth," Veal added. "It's for adults, who as volunteer leaders can share their skills and expertise with young people. It's for families, who can participate in the fun and learning together. It's for the community, which benefits from the community service carried out by youth."

It is through this network of volunteer leaders, state land-grant universities, state and local governments, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, that 4-H has been able to stimulate youth to develop life skills. In Washington County some 250 adult volunteer leaders work with 650 boys and girls from 9 to 19 years of age in 25 4-H clubs through the Cooperative Extension Service at University of Wisconsin. Programs are conducted in 3,150 counties nationwide. In addition, some 82 countries around the globe enroll approximately five million youth in programs similar to 4-H.

How to Join: If you would like more information about the 4-H program contact the Washington County UW-Extension Office, 338-4478, 644-5204, 342-2929.

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the youth of Wisconsin represent the future of Wisconsin and our nation; and
 WHEREAS, the 4-H program has helped Wisconsin youth grow and develop for over 70 years;

4-H Is More

Opportunities - Challenges - Leadership - Personal Growth - Fun - Friendship - are all part of the 4-H program in Washington County. Four-H is all of these and much more!! Four-H is many things to many people. It is a fantastic opportunity for youth 9-18 to get involved in special activities, community service, citizenship and leadership. It is for families to join together and learn together. Four-H is the world's largest dynamic informal educational program for young people. The program combines cooperative efforts of local volunteers and support from businesses in the private sector with work of federal, state and local extension staffs. Four-H is the only youth program which combines county governments, all state land-grant universities, and the United States Department of Agriculture as a support base.

"Four-H For Youth For America" is the 1986-87 national theme. Four-H reaches over 4.5 million youth throughout the nation, both urban and rural. The hands-on experience 4-H'ers gain is the strength of the 4-H program as it allows youth to "learn by doing." Four-H youth in Wisconsin may choose to work in over 80 different project areas ranging from forestry, crops, dairy and small engines to drama, youth leadership, camping and rocketry. Exploring areas begin at the club level; but it doesn't stop there. Four-H extends further learning opportunities at the county, state, national and international level.

Let's take a closer look at what is going on right here in Washington County. Currently over 650 4-H youth are in one of 25 4-H clubs or special interest activities in Washington County. Community involvement includes club projects such as: St. Lawrence Eager Beavers 4-H Club in their community paper drive or Jr. and Sr. Hi-Lite Happy Workers Christmas caroling at the Elderly Housing Project. Each 4-H club throughout the county has their own project they work with to strengthen the community.

Four-H challenges young people to build on their 4-H Foundation by participating in state drama workshops and State 4-H Congress.

At the National level, young people have the opportunity to strengthen citizenship and leadership skills at Citizenship - Washington Focus in Washington D.C. and National 4-H Congress in Chicago.

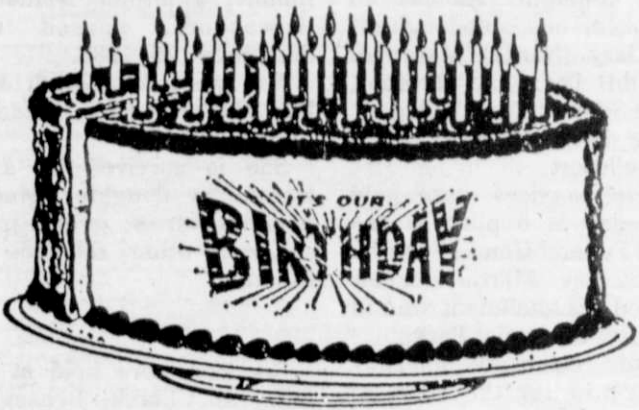

We each need to take steps beyond our culture and look to new ideas and ways of learning and living. Cross-cultural understanding is becoming essential in our society today. Whether across county lines with intrastate exchanges, state lines with interstate exchanges or across the ocean to other countries, 4-H strengthens world understanding. Younger 4-H members can experience another way of life with a county exchange. Older members are exchanging to Clinton County, Michigan.

Four-H also has Japan Labo Exchange: Norske 4-H exchange with Norway and IFYE. You may think this is all "IFYE." IFYE stands for International 4-H Youth Exchange. This program reaches over 82 different countries throughout the world. IFYE's travel to another country to stay with a family and learn a new way of life. This year Mr. and Mrs. Herb Pikoske hosted an IFYE from Switzerland for three weeks. As you can see 4-H is definitely more!!

Four-H is for city and country. It is for parents, the family, the grandparents. 4-H is not just youth!! In Wisconsin, more than 22,000 adults serve as 4-H volunteer leaders. On the national level, over one half million adult volunteer leaders are involved. Here in Washington County, over 250 adult 4-H volunteer leaders offer their time and expertise in specific project areas to help teach 4-H youth. Without the 4-H volunteer leaders, youth and adults and parents support, 4-H could not survive.

Four-H offers you opportunities, challenge, fun and friendship. Yes, 4-H is more!

SCHOOL LUNCH
It's Come a Long Way

1946 - THE NATIONAL SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM WAS BORN. Congress passed the National School Lunch Act, "to safeguard the health and well-being of the Nation's children." The Act authorized cash and commodities for school lunches in participating schools, established minimum meal pattern requirements and provided for free and reduced price meals. In the years following the signing of this act, the basic program has been broadened and expanded. Expansion of the National School Lunch Program accelerated in the 60's, brought in new areas of child nutrition, and extended the benefits to more needy children.

1962 - Congress established National School Lunch Week, beginning each year on second week of October by Presidential proclamation.

1966 - Child Nutrition Act enacted, including Nonfood Assistance Program and the School Breakfast Program.

1970 - The National School Lunch and the Child Nutrition Act was amended to improve all child feeding programs and to reach needy children with a school lunch. Free and reduced price meals eligibility determined by National guidelines.

1971 - Congress guaranteed a level of cash reimbursement of 4 to 6c per student lunch served. This reimbursement rate fluctuated up to 18 1/2c in 1980.

1972 - Offering Free meals becomes a requirement, reduced price meals were optional.

1974 - Purchase of commodities in addition to surplus commodities for school lunch was funded.

1975 - Serving of reduced price meals became mandatory. Offer vs. Serve option was required for Senior high school students.

1977 - School boards given option to extend Offer vs. Serve to junior high/middle schools.

1980 - The Federal Reconciliation Act reduced financial benefits for school lunch extensively.

1981 - The Federal Budget Act reduced financial benefits even more. Offer vs. Serve option was extended to the elementary level.

School lunch has not had cuts in federal funding since 1981. The present rate of reimbursement is 13c for each full price meal plus up to 25c worth of donated commodities.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY SCHOOL LUNCH

The school lunch is 40 years old this year. Holy Trinity will celebrate the "40th" birthday of School Lunch on Thursday, October 16, with birthday cake and other surprises.

School Lunch: America's No. 1 Energy Source Makes a World of Difference in Wisconsin

The second week of October is National School Lunch Week by Presidential proclamation.

National School Lunch is celebrating its 40th birthday this year. Nearly 409,000 children are eating nutritious lunch in school each day through USDA's National School Lunch Program in Wisconsin.

The National School Lunch Program is the oldest and largest of the child nutrition programs operated by the Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) of the Department of Agriculture. The Program was authorized by President Harry S. Truman in 1946 to safeguard the health and well-being of the Nation's children and to encourage the domestic consumption of nutritious agricultural commodities and other food. Since then, schools — both rural and urban throughout our country — have served more than 115 billion lunches.

Nationally, participating public schools, private schools and residential child care centers receive $3.5 billion annually in cash and commodities from USDA to provide meals for 24 million children each day. In return for the cash and commodity assistance, schools and child care centers must meet federal nutritional standards and must make available free or reduced-price lunches to children who qualify. Nationwide, about half of the lunches are served free or reduced-price.

Schools which prepare their own meals are eligible to receive more than 50 different commodities such as chicken, ground beef, turkey, canned fruits and vegetables, cheese, butter, dry milk, honey, rice and flour from the USDA.

Monroe Woods, Midwest Regional Administrator of the USDA Food and Nutrition Service which funds the program, reports that School Food Authorities received more than $51.2 million in cash and commodities to operate more than 2,200 lunch programs in Wisconsin last year.

Lunch planners are getting more creative by offering taco, potato, and salad bars along with other tasty offerings. "Many schools serve lunch more like fast-food restaurants today," says Woods, "but they keep it more nutritious by cutting down on salts, sugars and fats."

Other USDA Food and Nutrition Service programs include Food Stamps, Women Infants and Children Program (WIC) and various commodity food programs. USDA spent more than $20 billion nationally on food programs in 1985.

A series of severe electrical storms which swept over the Kewaskum area Friday night and early Saturday resulted in minor damage and caused most sections of the village to be without light and power for approximately 5 1/2 hours.

Following the recent announcement that Wisconsin's 32nd National Guard Division would be called into active duty, effective Oct. 15, with mobilization at Fort Lewis, Washington, the impact began to be felt in Kewaskum and surrounding area. Members of the two units at West Bend were left with little time to arrange their personal and numerous business affairs. Local plants will be hit by the call to active duty, especially Regal Ware, Inc. and Fairmont Foods. It is reported that both plants will lose a number of men. One or more local teachers will also be included. Members of the West Bend units include the following young men from the Kewaskum and Campbellsport areas as well as former residents:

early next spring. They have also placed an order for several cars. A demonstrating car will also be received early in the spring.

That Kewaskum has proved itself to be a very good market town has been shown the past week when potatoes have been marketed by the wholesale. Last Tuesday was the largest potato day in the history of the village, with 5,500 bushels being received here. Farmers arrived early in the morning with loads. From statements received from the different merchants each bought as follows: L. Rosenheimer, 3,400 bushels; A. G. Koch, 2,000 bushels. The price paid was 50 and 55 cents. At one time, shortly before noon, there were 29 wagon loads, double boxes in line at L. Rosenheimer's unloading station.

Men are at work this week digging a ditch for sewerage in the new Rosenheimer's addition. This sewerage will be connected to the main sewer on Main Street. The work is being done by Louis Schleif and Gerhardt Keller. It is also reported that electric light poles will be set in this addition for the accommodation of those who will erect houses there in the near future.

Martin Stahl died at the home of his son Edward on October 2 at the age of 83.

Mrs. Peter Ross, an old pioneer resident of the Town of Wayne for over 65 years died last Friday morning at the home of her son Philip, at the age of 81.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Bremser of St. Michaels on September 29. A son was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Flasch of St. Kilian last week Friday.

One day last week Math Kohn of the Town of Kewaskum accomplished the wonderful feat of digging 100 bushels of potatoes with a potato fork.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Glen Gutjahr, who passed away one year ago, October 12, 1985.

The stars are softly shining
Over a lonely, silent grave.
Where in grief and sorrow,
We laid our father and
husband,
Just one year ago today.

When evening shadows fall
And we sit here quite alone,
To our hearts there comes a longing,
If only, Dad, you could come home.

Friends may think that we have forgotten
When at times they see us
smile,
But little do they know the heartaches
That our smiles hide all the while.

Dad, you left us such precious memories,
Memories that time can never erase,
God only knows how we miss you
And long to see your dear face.
You loved your friends and neighbors,
You had a smile for young and old
Now you are smiling with the angels in Heaven,
In that beautiful city of gold.

You were always so true, unself-
fish and kind,
Few in this world your equal will find.
A beautiful life that came to an end,
You died as you lived, everyone's friend.

What we would give if we could say,
"Hi, Dad," in the same old way.
To hear your voice, to see your
smile,
To sit with you and talk awhile.

So to you who have a father and
husband,
Cherish him with care,
You'll never know the heartache
'Til you see his empty chair.

Deeply loved and sadly missed by his wife, children and grandchildren.

Animals are such agreeable friends — they ask no questions, they pass no criticism.

West Bend Section of Ice Age Trail to Be Dedicated Sunday

A recent developed section of the Ice Age National Scenic Trail will be dedicated on Sunday, October 12, at 1:30 p.m. Outdoor enthusiasts are invited to join in the dedication festivities and hike the new trail.

Representative Mary Panzer will participate in the ribbon cutting and trail dedication ceremony. Other officials taking part in the program include West Bend Mayor Don Gonring; John Zillmer, President of the Ice Age Park and Foundation; and Gary Anderson, West Bend Park, Recreation and Forestry Department.

The two-mile-long section of the Ice Age Trail meanders through Glacial Blue Hills Recreation Area and Glacial Environmental Corridor from south of Highway D to Highway 33 on the western edge of West Bend.

Dedication activities will take place at the trail head in Glacial Blue Hills Recreation Area, formerly the Northern Sand and Gravel property on Beaver Dam Road.

After the ceremony, participants will walk the Ice Age Trail south through Glacial Environmental Corridor to Highway 33. A shuttle system is planned to take hikers to Highway D where the walk continues back to the Recreation Area. The walk will be concluded with refreshments sponsored by the Kettle Moraine Audubon Society.

West Bend's Ice Age Trail section is part of the 1,000 mile long National Scenic Trail traversing public and private lands as it winds its way through Wisconsin.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of my dear mother, Elsie Klumb, who passed away one year ago, Oct. 6, 1985:

Though her smile is gone,
And hands we cannot touch,
Still we have so many memories,
Of one we loved so much.
Her memory is our keepsake,
With which we'll never part,
God has her in His keeping,
We have her in our hearts.

Sadly missed by son Ronald and family.

THANK YOU

My sincere thanks to my family, relatives and friends who remembered me with cards, gifts, visits, flowers and phone calls while I was a patient at the hospital and at home. Special thanks to Rev. Hoenecke, Dr. Sison, Dr. Castro, the nurses and staff.

Spring Breeding Stock Up Pheasant, Other Game Seasons Open Oct. 18th

Upland game hunters can anticipate several season openings at noon, Saturday, October 18th, headlined by the statewide pheasant opener, Ed Frank, Department of Natural Resources farm game specialist, said.

The other openings on that date include Hungarian partridge, bobwhite quail, jack-rabbit, and the southern zone cottontail rabbit opener.

"Spring pheasant breeding stock was up for the first time since 1979 marking about a 15 percent increase over last year," Frank said. "The department was encouraged by the increase which was probably due to 30 percent of the corn crop left unharvested over the winter because of heavy early snows."

Preliminary statewide brood observations also indicate a slight increase in wild pheasant populations even though results from a study area in Dodge County showed a decrease. Only dedicated pheasant hunters with good hunting dogs are likely to notice that there are a few more pheasants than past years, Frank commented.

Pheasant season continues through Wednesday, December 10, 1986. For the first two weeks of the season, the daily bag limit is one cock pheasant with a possession limit of two. On several state-managed properties, hen pheasants as well as cocks can be hunted and 2 p.m. pheasant hunting closures have been established. These areas are posted with Department signs.

A free permit with tags must be obtained before hunting pheasants on properties where it is legal to hunt hens as well as roosters. Permits, maps and rules for the 22 public hunting grounds with special pheasant hunting rules can be obtained from most DNR offices.

Quail hunting is expected to be almost the same as last year. Spring populations were down 20 percent from last year, but quail seem to be more widely distributed. "The severe winter had an effect on quail populations," Frank stated. "Researchers state that a 20 percent drop isn't too bad though because without the standing corn left in the fields, the population drop would have been much worse."

Quail bag limits are five daily with 10 in possession after opening day. The season extends through Wednesday, December 10, 1986.

For cottontail rabbits, the season prediction shows no significant change from observation over last year. If anything, populations probably will be down somewhat, Frank noted.

"For the classical farm game species (pheasant, quail, and cottontail rabbits) that exist on cropland with patches of brush and wetlands, populations are in a long-term decline phase," Frank stated. "We don't seem to be able to break out of it. We hope that the Conservation Reserve Program (a program that pays farmers not to grow crops on erodible land) will help, but Wisconsin has some 75,000 acres enrolled now out of a potential 1.4 million acres."

The Conservation Reserve Program is about the only hope for reversing the slow rate of decline in farm game species. Other small game populations like grouse, snowshoe hare and woodcock are all behaving normally with cyclic ups and downs. These species depend primarily on woodlands and aren't influenced as much by agricultural land use trends.

"The cover planted this year under the Conservation Reserve Program should begin producing farm game in 1987. In the 1970's, and early 1980's, wetland drainage and more intensive farming practices decreased the quality of wildlife habitat on farms," Frank said. "There's more grain out there for wildlife now, but it's less available to wildlife during winter when they really need it and because crops like alfalfa hay are planted and harvested earlier and earlier. It has become a death trap for farm game species that are nesting there in late May, or early June."

Hungarian partridge are not experiencing a long-term decline. This species seems to do best in areas where intensively farmed croplands predominate, Frank noted. Their populations are unchanged this year. The Hungarian partridge season extends through Wednesday, December 10th, with a bag limit of three and possession limit of six after the opening day.

"Sharp-tailed grouse are a declining species because of maturing forests and disappearing grasslands in the northern part of the state. They are only found on several Department managed properties and in a few isolated pockets elsewhere," Frank said.

Sharp-tailed grouse season is open only north of a line formed by highways 64, 13, and 29 (from west to east). Bag limit is three per day with six in possession after opening day. The season closes at the end of legal hunting hours on Sunday, November 9, 1986.

Coulter Scores Both TDs In Loss at Two Rivers

The usual Friday night scheduling was changed when the Kewaskum Indians played an afternoon game at Two Rivers Saturday.

As was expected, the undefeated Raiders mowed down the winless Indians, 33-12, but Kewaskum never gave up and fought back to score two touchdowns in the final quarter after trailing at halftime, 27-0.

The Indians were up against a strong, veteran team. They have a fine quarterback in Pat Johnson, a good passer, and the Raiders are powerful offensively. However, Kewaskum never quit and after being far behind at the half, they were not discouraged but rebounded well in the second half.

The Indians' big senior full-back, Mike Coulter, scored both of his team's touchdowns. The first came on a three-yard run after he had completed a 35-yard dash to the four-yard line with a pass from quarterback Eric Pearson. Carrying defenders with him, Coulter plowed into the end zone in Chicago Bears William Perry style. Mike's other touchdown was scored on a 16-yard dash.

Kewaskum had only two starting backs ready to play. Starting quarterback Rob Baitinger and running back Mark Schlosser were both out with shoulder injuries. They are expected to be back this week.

The game was played in what else but muddy conditions and signal caller Eric Pearson had trouble handling the ball but made out OK considering his limited experience.

Two Rivers scored almost at will in the first half. Their first score came after pounding it out on a drive with their big offensive line. The second TD came after an interference call, giving the Raiders the ball on Kewaskum's 10-yard line. They scored another on a pass and the final score of the half resulted when one of the Indian defenders slipped on a pass play and Two Rivers' Joel Cayenberg intercepted and carried the ball into the end zone. The Raiders tallied six more points in the third quarter and then were shut out in the last period.

Coulter and junior running back Jeff Mueller received mention by Coach Fran Charland for their consistent success, including offensive and defensive play and on kickoff returns. The entire offensive line also showed improvement.

Everyone who made the long trip to Two Rivers got to play, including six sophomores, which should help provide experience for next year's team.

Surprisingly, the Indians bested Two Rivers in first downs, getting 12 to their 11, but the Raiders were well ahead in total yards, 279 to 175. Kewaskum completed four of 10 passes, while the Raiders were five for eight.

The victory improved Two Rivers' record to 2-0 in conference and 6-0 overall, including three pre-season wins over large schools. The Raiders, together with Plymouth, are two of the favorites to win the conference title. The setback left the Indians with an 0-3 mark in conference action.

This Friday night Kewaskum hosts Sheboygan Falls in its homecoming game.

WEEKEND RESULTS

Two Rivers 33, Kewaskum 12
Plymouth 34, New Holstein 6
Kiel 29, Sheboygan Falls 0
Weyauwega-Fremont 18,
Chilton 7 (n-c).

Runners Third At Kiel, Tie for 7th at Slinger

In an EW Conference cross country quadrangular meet run in the mud at Kiel last Tuesday, Chilton came out on top.

The Tigers had all five counters winding up in the top 10 and finished with 26 points, 18 ahead of second place New Holstein. Kewaskum and Kiel were far behind in third and fourth with 83 and 114 points respectively.

The course at Kiel High School was extremely muddy and therefore the times were relatively slow.

Kewaskum's Miles Shaw placed second behind Chilton's Kevin Sherer. Shaw, who continues to do well, stayed with Sherer most of the race but the winner's time of 16:34 was 35 seconds better than Shaw's.

Curt Ayer finished in 11th place with an 18:11. Craig Hubbell finished in 19:19 for 21st place. The Indians' other counters were Kris Follmann in 23rd and John Brown 26th.

The Kewaskum girls ran well but again were short of having a team. Ellen Kuphal, Sherri Batzler, Carrie Batzler and Pam Osterbrink were among the top 10 with a 3rd, 6th, 7th and 8th.

Kiel won the girls competition by a single point over New Holstein, 40 to 41. It was a shame the Indians didn't have a fifth runner as they could have at least tied for first place, even if the runner would have finished last.

The Kewaskum boys didn't fare well in the Slinger Invitational Friday, tying for 7th and last place with Kiel. The girls had an incomplete team.

Markesan's Ron Prochnow, competing in Division two, posted the fastest time of the day — 15:49 for three miles. Mayville's Rob Ketter was the leader in Division one in 16:10.

The Mayville boys topped Division one with 57 points to 63 for Slinger. Shorewood girls finished first with 43 points and Slinger was second with 58.

Boys team scores — Mayville 57, Slinger 63, West Milwaukee 76, Sheboygan Falls 81, Whitnall 112, Shorewood 125, Kiel and Kewaskum 224.

Girls team scores — Shorewood 43, Slinger 58, Mayville 62, Sheboygan Falls 82, Kiel 160, West Milwaukee 210, Kewaskum (incomplete team), Whitnall (incomplete team).

Winner — Ann Brauer, Slinger, 12:12.

Volleyball Girls Lose 2 in EW, 2nd in Grafton Invite

The Kewaskum girls volleyball team dropped their record to 3-4 in the EW Conference by losing two more matches last week Tuesday at Two Rivers and Thursday at Sheboygan Falls.

After a long bus ride of 2½ hours to Two Rivers, the girls appeared to be a little tired and flat, resulting in a 7-15, 14-16 and 15-9 setback to the undefeated, conference leading Raiders, who brought their conference mark to 6-0.

In their loss at Sheboygan Falls, the Falcons took the match by winning the first game, 15-3, and the third one, 15-4.

Playing in the Grafton Invitational Saturday, the Indians played well in defeating three of the teams but were bested by Menomonee Falls, which won the event with a 9-1 record.

Kewaskum split with Kettle Moraine, 3-11 and 11-8, and then overpowered Brookfield Central, 11-0 and 11-4. Then in the championship game between the Indians and Falls, both with only one loss, Kewaskum took an early lead but fizzled out as the result of errors, losing 5-11 and 5-11.

The local girls ended the competition by coming back nicely to win easily over Shorewood, 11-1 and 11-5.

Terri Schmidt had eight serves in succession in one game against Brookfield. Reserves Patty Padden, Dawn Dieringer and Jenny Schuster came up with some fine setting.

Kewaskum hosted New Holstein Tuesday evening and has a bye Thursday.
