Kewaskum School District Equalized Value Drops Almost 10%

More State Aids Mean Decrease in Levy

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Business Manager Cherna Gorder told the Board of Education Monday night, the Kewaskum School District will receive an estimated $215,000 more in state aids than anticipated for the coming year, however, the state property tax credit will also drop by $22,461, from $506,531 in the original budget calculations to $484,070, resulting in a net increase of $192,539.

At previous meetings Gorder had indicated there was a possibility the district could receive some additional aids "if" its equalized value dropped below the state figure. Data recently released by the Department of Revenue show Kewaskum's equalized value dropped $27,411,474, a decrease of 9.9%, as compared to the state drop of slightly over 2%.

The large decrease in equalized valuation is due to the drop in farmland values in most agricultural communities. So the state, in a sense, is picking up some of the tab for poorer communities. Gorder said the cities and large urban communities who have increased in value will be feeling the brunt of the situation through lower state aids.

The new levy of $3,420,880, for the 1986-87 budget represents a 7.1% drop from the 1985-86 figure of $3,682,477. Broken down by municipality, the average decrease is as follows: Village of Kewaskum .3%, Town of Kewaskum 4.8%, Town of Wayne 14.6%, Town of Farmington 8.2%, Town of Barton 5.5%, Town of Auburn 5.4%, Town of Ashford 8.8%, Town of Mitchell 13.7%, and Town of Scott 10.8%. After the meeting, Gorder stressed these figures are averages and do not mean each and every taxpayer will see that exact amount of a decrease on their bills, some could be less.

A breakdown of the equalized values for 1986-87 show the Town of Wayne's value decreased the most, dropping 17.1% or $8,210,200, followed by Town of Mitchell 16.3% or $65,264, Town of Scott 13.4% $3,464,218, Town of Ashford 11.6% $22,884, Town of Farmington 10.9% $8,109,500, Town of Auburn 8.3% $1,586,289, Town of Barton 8.3% $1,336,319, Town of Kewaskum 7.6% $2,690,400, and Village of Kewaskum 3.3% or $1,926,400. These figures equal the district total average decrease of 9.9%.

In her report, Gorder reminded the board that the figures were estimates based on Department of Instruction

Trick or Treat Time Set for Village

Trick or Treat Time has been set for the Village of Kewaskum between 2:00 p.m. and 4:00 p.m. on Sunday, October 26, 1986.

We ask the citizens to follow some of the following suggestions to make this a safe and enjoyable time for our children.

Keep your children in their own familiar neighborhoods.

Do not use masks or costumes that do not afford a good field of vision for the children.

Do not follow the children in a car.

Parents, inspect all treats before allowing the children to eat them.

Report any suspicious treats and any other suspicious activity to the police at once. The longer you wait the more difficult it becomes to apprehend the suspect.

The Auxiliary Police will be on patrol as well as an extra squad car during this time. Report to them and go to them to help you across dangerous intersections.

With all our cooperation, this should be a safe and meaningful experience for our youngsters.

Thank you

Is Mother Nature Mad at Us?

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Last week we did an item on our wet September. Apparently Mother Nature read it and wasn't too happy with our grumbings.

It seems she's getting back at us because now the old girl is sprinkling us with snow (on Tuesday, Oct. 14, temperature 34°). Nothing much (so far) mind you, just enough to let us know complaining gets you nowhere.

All we'd like to ask now, is please let the sun shine and hold off on the snow, at least until deer season starts.

High School Enrollment Down, Grades Up Slightly

District Administrator Penelope Kleinhans has released the results of the first official count of student population in the Kewaskum District for the 1986-87 school year. The third Friday in September is officially the first of two times that a membership count is required by the Department of Public Instruction. These counts become the official basis upon which a significant part of next year's state aids will be figured for our district.

The membership count at the elementary level totals 738 children. This year that number reflects through the fifth grade only as sixth graders were transitioned into the Middle School this fall. The number of students at the Middle School is now 379. Total pre-kindergarten through eighth grade enrollments for 1985-86 was 1,105 compared with 1,117 students this fall, an increase of 12 children.

The Kewaskum High School currently has a student body of 646. That total breaks down into 155 freshmen, 153 sophomores, 167 juniors and 171 seniors. The enrollment last year was 681. This year's figures reflect a drop of 35 youngsters. In two years the decline has been 89 students.

Superintendent Kleinhans said that the trends in Kewaskum reflect most of the nation with enrollments at the elementary level continuing steady or showing some slight increase, (1% increase in Kewaskum), while secondary enrollments continue to decline. The overall decrease in student population for the district in 1985-86 is about 1.3%.

Local Senior Citizens Club Celebrates 19th Anniversary

The Senior Citizens XYZ Club of Kewaskum celebrated its 19th anniversary with a festive dinner at the Amerahn on Wednesday, Oct. 8, with 85 members in attendance.

Charter members were Clifford and Elsa Stautz, Mary Ann Gruber, Mr. Schmidt-bauer, and John Butzkovis of these, only two are still with us, namely Elsa Stautz and Mary Ann Gruber and they were in attendance.

The meetings were first held in the Peace Church Fellowship Hall. Incidentally, Hattie Weddig had the honor of preparing and serving the first coffee to the group. For a time Evangeline Teeselink and Sylvia Fickler served sandwiches.

Musical entertainment was provided by Gerald Schaeffer.

estimates, and final calculations would not be done until June, 1987.

In another budget related item, Gordor reported on the financing progress for the new in-house computer. After investigating sources to finance the purchase, Gordor recommended the computer be placed in the 1986-87 budget and purchased outright. She told the board her reasons for the recommendation were that the district would have to pay at least 11% interest on a loan, plus paperwork and legal fees. She said another advantage of the outright purchase would be the district would get all its state aids back next year rather than spread over three years. "We would receive approximately 44% of the $32,458 (purchase price) or $14,282 in extra equalized aid back next year." Gordor's report noted that only $28,560 would have to be added to the budget because of the monthly savings with the CESA system.

Gordor also added the Middle School's air conditioner repair costs into the budget as approved at last month's meetings. The two items increase the budget expenditures from $6,700,927 to $6,740,347. The budgeted revenue figure of $6,781,550 will remain the same, however, since the computer and air condition costs will be taken out of the fund equity, reducing that balance from $1,274,701 to $1,235,281.

The board approved Gordor's recommendation and certification of the levy on a 5-1-1 vote, with board member Ralph Horner voting "no," and Clara Trapp absent.

In other action the board approved short term loan borrowing of $900,000 at an interest rate of 4.33%.

The board also approved the recommendations of the Finance - Transportation - Building and Grounds Committee to hire the Alliance Group for water treatment chemicals and services at a cost of $1,062, and the purchase of a replacement pickup truck for $4,250. The truck was a budgeted item, with funds in the Vehicle Replacement account. The committee's next meeting is set for October 27.

Perry Ankerson, chairman of the Beechwood Elementary School Disposition Committee, informed the board information on the title search, and a verbal appraisal of the property had been received. The next meeting of the group is scheduled for Monday, October 20th, at 7:30 p.m., in the High School Library.

The Policy Committee presented several policies and amendments for approval and adoption. Its next meeting will be November 7th.

Ankerson informed the board that the Negotiations Committee and teachers union will exchange final offers on October 20th, with a meeting with a mediator scheduled for November 13th.

The board also approved the request of the Beechwood PTO to hold its annual Halloween Party in the school building. Mrs. Irene Gnacinski, who presented the request, also asked the board to consider allowing the senior citizens and Beechwood Fire Department to use the facility. Board president Tom Brigham asked that building use permit requests be submitted for administration review and consideration.

An agenda item relating to board member Clara Trapp was removed and placed on the board's December 8th agenda.

New Law Prohibits Right Turns in Front of Passenger and School Buses

A new law is now in effect prohibiting drivers from making a right turn in front of a school bus or passenger bus which has stopped to load or unload passengers at an urban intersection.

Col. Howard N. Goetsch, deputy administrator of the state Department of Transportation's Division of State Patrol, said the law will provide additional safety to passengers crossing the street who may be hidden by the bus from the view of drivers approaching from the rear. The law was passed by the Legislature last spring and became effective Aug. 1.

Goetsch said secs. 346.075 and 346.48(3) of the Wisconsin Statutes now prohibit motor vehicle operators from overtaking and making right turns in front of motor buses and school buses that are stopped and are loading or unloading passengers at an urban intersection on the right side of the road.

In most urban areas, school bus drivers are not permitted to use red flashing warning lights.

The primary effect of the new law will be in urban areas, since drivers are already required to come to a full stop when meeting school buses in rural areas that are displaying flashing red warning lights.

Goetsch said the penalty for violating the new law is a forfeiture of between $25 and $300 in addition to court costs and penalty assessment for a first offense. Demerit points are also assessed against the driver's record, he added.

Blood Bank, Nova Services Also Funded by Kewaskum UW

Jerry Gosa

The Kewaskum United Way thermometer is in place in front of Kewaskum Valley Bank once again as an indicator of the progress of the United Way Drive in the Kewaskum School District.

Jerry Gosa, school division chairman, teachers, school administrators and support staff have nudged the mercury up to its present position with their contributions. Roy Esser, transportation division chairman, is responsible for the red paint on the thermometer as it hopefully rises to the top. It's up to the residents of the larger Kewaskum community to keep Roy Esser busy with his paint-brush.

The Kewaskum Area Blood Bank is supported solely by the Kewaskum United Way. Every October and April the Blood Bank springs into action under the guidance of Mrs. Cherie Ramthun and Mrs. Kathy Ramthun for their semi-annual blood drive. An average of 200 pints is collected annually.

Volunteers from Holy Trinity Church, Peace United Church of Christ, St. Lucas Evangelical Lutheran Church and the Junior Women's Club take turns in providing hospitality, preparing and serving refreshments for the blood donors. The juices, coffee, milk and sandwich ingredients are purchased by the Blood Bank while cookies and bars are donated by the volunteers. The Blood Bank also is responsible for publicity and notifies potential donors.

Nova Services began operations in 1976 by taking over the Washington County Shelter Care Home which provides temporary and emergency care for children that must leave their homes for a variety of reasons. 145 children received services there last year.

Mrs. Paul Van Demark is the present coordinator for Nova Services which also oversees a Girls' Group Home and a Boys' Group Home. All three homes have a capacity of eight occupants at a time. Nova Services takes on the parental role and provides transportation to school, jobs, recreational and educational outings, as well as working on parent rehabilitation and aftercare when the children return home.

Nova Services operates Project Payback which assists youthful offenders to pay back their victims along with a Truancy Intervention Program for schools requesting help so that truant youth is not referred to court.

The sixth program of Nova Services is a Community Work Program for youth 14 to 20. The work is done for community government and non-profit agencies. Last year Nova helped 17 youths and their families and located 3 job sites for youth in the Kewaskum area.

West Bend Gallery To Host Concert of Brass Chamber Music

On Sunday, October 19, the West Bend Gallery of Fine Arts will host the Washington Brass Quintet in a concert of brass chamber music. The recital is one in a series of musical events organized in conjunction with the Moraine Area Private Music Teachers Organization.

The Washington Brass is a group of area musicians who perform a wide variety of quintet literature. The October 19 recital will feature selections from the Baroque Era to the present, exhibiting the many sounds and styles of music that have been composed for brass instruments. Works by Bach, Ewald, Dukas, as well as Sousa and Stephen Foster, are among the compositions that will be performed.

The members of the quintet are all active musicians, playing frequently with local concert groups. Kerry Nichols, trumpet, holds BA and MA degrees from UW-Oshkosh and is band director at Washington High School in Germantown. Brian O'Keefe, trumpet, is the band director at Cedarburg High School and holds a BA degree in music from UW-Madison. Ken Carson, also a graduate of the UW-Madison School of Music, is a band director in the Whitefish Bay School System and plays French horn in the quintet. David Kliss performs both on euphonium and trombone. He is a UW-Green Bay graduate and teaches band at Kennedy Middle School in Germantown. Marty Gross holds a BA degree in music from UW-Madison and is the tuba player with the quintet. He is currently working as an instrument repair technician.

The October 19 recital will be at 2:00 p.m. at the West Bend Gallery of Fine Arts. A reception given by the Moraine Area Private Music Teachers Organization will be held immediately after the program.

Snowmobiling Alive and Well in Wisconsin

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Snowmobiling, a sport that was enjoyed by relatively few people ten or fifteen years ago, has become so popular that now, hundreds of thousands of men, women and children throughout the United States participate in it each year.

Generating millions of dollars annually in income for motels, hotels, clothing manufacturers, travel agencies, gas stations, restaurants, snowmobile dealers and a host of other businesses, has made snowmobiling one of the most popular winter sports in the thirty-one states of America's snow belt. Businesses that closed their doors after the summer tourist season now remain open year round and many of them report higher incomes from their winter trade than from the summer.

Snowmobiling in Wisconsin itself, has come a long way in the last decade or so, too. From a few hundred miles of poorly marked and unorganized trails to a system which now contains approximately 20,000 miles of well marked state, county, and private club trails which a snowmobiler can travel from one end of the state to the other, with virtually no break.

In those early years, there were a few scattered clubs throughout the state with low memberships because people were engaging in a sport that was still in its infancy. Now, hundreds of clubs representing thousands of snowmobilers have banded together forming county and state associations to see that their sport remains alive, well, and growing.

During those early years, snowmobilers were looked at as renegades or rowdies who enjoyed their sport with little regard for person or property. As with all sports and activities, there are always a few who fall into that category. However, the majority were families who enjoyed the winter and being outdoors. It has been that majority which has worked very hard over the years, to organize the sport, improve its image, help set up rules and regulations to govern itself and help develop and run safety courses to make youngsters responsible snowmobilers.

It is also that togetherness which has helped the sport continue to grow. Through the tireless and constant efforts of the Association of Wisconsin Snowmobile Clubs and its past and present officers, supported by its member clubs, Wisconsin has become known as the number one state in snowmobiling.

On the county level, organizations such as our area's Washington County, Fond du Lac County and Northern Kettle Moraine Snowmobile Associations, work for the sport in conjunction with state and county officials.

At the second annual banquet of the Fond du Lac County Snowmobile Association last Saturday, Joann Smith, Wisconsin Rapids, Vice-president of the AWSC, spoke to clubs about projects and ways to bring new members into their clubs.

As with any organization, new members must be continually recruited to stay alive, healthy, and growing.

Kewaskum's area clubs are always happy to accept new members and, if individuals do not know who to contact, local snowmobile dealers can supply names and addresses of the various clubs.

Among those area clubs attending the banquet, were the Campbellsport Sno-Cougars, Crooked Trails, and the New Fane Kettle Riders.

A JOHN HUGHES PRODUCTION

1986 COLOR 96 MINUTES STEREO PG-13 CLOSED CAPTIONED

Teen sensations Molly Ringwald and Andrew McCarthy drew rave reviews for their starring performances in this hit love story by John Hughes.

She's a high school girl from the wrong side of town. He's the wealthy heart-throb who asks her to the prom. But as fast as their romance builds, it's threatened by the painful reality of peer pressure.

Pretty in Pink is a bittersweet story with a surprising, upbeat ending. It's punctuated throughout with delightful humor and a major hit soundtrack.

Also starring Harry Dean Stanton (Repo Man) Jon Cryer (No Small Affair), James Spader (Endless Love) and Annie Potts (Ghostbusters).

A service project was completed last week by Dave Stradtman's building trades class. The class constructed and installed a twenty-four foot wheelchair ramp at the home of Ms. Autumn Brockman, a Kewaskum elementary student. The materials were paid for by the Brockmans with an assistance grant from the Spina Bifida Foundation.

Instructor Stradtman said that the project was an excellent learning situation for his class of 14 students. It was also a good way of welcoming a new family to Kewaskum.

HOME IS WHERE THE NEWSPAPER IS

If you want to reach Wisconsin people right where they live, you want to look at Newspapers, because newspapers have Wisconsin's households covered.

In a recent survey, Wisconsin residents chose newspapers as being the most informative of all media. That's probably why so many people read newspapers. In fact in the last week, 94% of Wisconsin residents read a newspaper. And more people reported making purchases through a Newspaper ad than from any other form of advertising.

So, if you're looking to cover Wisconsin's homes with your advertising message, use the media that hits home...

Thousands of Canada Geese on Horicon Marsh

These photos were taken at Horicon Marsh last week on one of our rare sunny days.

It is estimated that more than 115,000 Canada geese had gathered at the Horicon refuge (150,000 birds throughout the state) on their annual migration from Canada to the south. The wild geese remain at the marsh and feed in the area until colder weather sets in. They provide hunting and viewing opportunities for thousands of people.

The waterfowl season got off to a slow start due to the high water conditions this year, which spread the geese out. Large concentrations were rarer and the harvests were down. The Canada goose season at Theresa Marsh was also down, due to limited access to hunting areas.

To celebrate the return of the Canada geese, the Waupun Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring Wild Goose Days 1986 this weekend, Oct. 16-19. A wide variety of events have been scheduled for the four-day celebration and all are free except the bus tours and food stands.

Highlights will be 40 DeLorean cars in one parking lot Saturday, from noon to 3 p.m.; a three-day art show; a two-day prison arts and crafts show; open house at Waupun Memorial Hospital to exhibit the new CAT scanner and flight-for-life helicopter on Saturday; pet show; square dancing; tours of the marsh area; the city's new $1.3 safety building to be dedicated at 2 p.m. Saturday; tours of the museum and historic mansion, and the city's life-size bronze statues, including the world famous "End of the Trail."

Your HEALTH TIP

from Tom Leitzke, R.P.H.

AVOID STROKE

Lack of exercise lets our muscles become flabby, permits the blood fats to rise and thereby worsens arteriosclerosis [hardening of the arteries]. This in turn causes earlier deaths from high blood pressure, heart disease, and stroke. Reduction of blood fats occurs when people exercise regularly. Walking, swimming, bicycling, three times a week is adequate.

Soil Erosion Costs Farmers, Damages Soil

Soil erosion attacks farmers pocketbooks — both in the short run and over time. A recent USDA Soil Conservation Service study shows that erosion inflicts annual costs, mostly through fertilizer washed away in sediment. Over time, it permanently damages the soil through gradual changes that limit production potential.

"Most everyone would agree that erosion imposes some costs on landowners," says Clifton Maguire, SCS State Conservationist. "This study showed that allowing erosion to continue unchecked, even in the short run, makes poor economic sense. By switching to conservation tillage, farmers can increase their net return by reducing production costs and the effects of erosion. When used in combination with contour stripcropping or contour farming, erosion is further reduced at little or no cost."

The study looked at nine farms in Grant and Pierce counties over three years. The soils on these sites were Tama, Fayette and Seaton silt loam, among Wisconsin's most productive soils. Actual corn and alfalfa yields and degree of erosion and fertility were analyzed. Using a computer model to adjust for differences in climate and management, the effect of erosion on yield was isolated.

"You can plant and harvest the best hybrid corn on time and apply fertilizer and pesticides according to crop needs, but if you fail to control soil erosion, the time will come when all the right inputs will not produce a profitable output," says Don Kurer, District Conservationist in Washington County. "Not to mention the damage it does when it's deposited downslope or in a stream." Nutrients lost in sediment are a major component of the annual cost of erosion. Lower yields and higher fuel costs to till denser eroded soil are also part of the onsite erosion costs.

If farmers spring moldboard plow up and down a six percent slope, they can lose up to 20 tons of sediment per acre on Tama soil. Translated, that's about $18 worth of nutrients lost per acre. The erosion toll goes up to $22 per acre when you include lost yield and higher fuel costs. The annual cost of erosion, planting no-till corn year after year, is less than $4 per acre.

"If farmers realized how much sediment comes off a field and the dollar value of it, they'd be standing in line to get conservation practices installed on their land," says Louis Barber, SCS District Conservationist in Pierce County.

According to Maguire, annual costs due to erosion can be controlled with proper management. Poor management practices that fail to protect the soil, such as moldboard plowing up and down hill, shoot up erosion costs. In addition to depleting the soil's nutrient reserve, the erosion process renders existing nutrients less available to the crop. Over time, the losses mount up and would require a significant investment to restore fertility to the soil.

In the long run, erosion changes the nature of the soil. It reduces organic matter, increases the percent clay in the plow layer and raises the soil density. According to the study, organic matter and soil density limited corn and alfalfa yields more than any other soil factors. A 20 percent decrease in organic content recorded on Tama silt loam resulted in an 8 bushel per acre loss in yield.

On the soils studied, eroded cropland produced lower net returns than less eroded fields. In effect, farmers cropping eroded land are economically handicapped by lower yield potential and higher fertilizer and fuel costs. It actually costs more to produce crops on eroded land than on uneroded land.

"Even though it seems like common sense, we need studies like these to quantify the real economic damage erosion causes," says Maguire, "both to farmers and to taxpayers who pay to dredge our lakes and rivers."

Stricter Emission Standards for Some Vehicles Start Nov. 1

Starting November 1, some vehicles will have to meet stricter pollution standards when they undergo their annual tests for tail pipe emissions, the Department of Natural Resources reports.

A rule change adopted in 1986 by the National Resources Board tightens the limits on emissions of hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide from 1972-1980 model year automobiles and 1975-1984 model year light-duty trucks.

The change was needed to help southeastern Wisconsin reach the level of emissions that will allow this area to attain the federal standard for ozone and carbon monoxide by December 1987, the government's deadline. Reactive hydrocarbons are one of two pollutants that go into making ozone, a common summertime air pollutant in Wisconsin.

Emission limits for 1981 and newer automobiles and for 1985 and newer light-duty trucks are not changed by the rule revisions, the DNR said, because "limits for these newer vehicles are at levels more stringent than those for the older vehicles." The limits for newer vehicles correspond to those set by the federal government.

Revised limits also will be applied to more equitably reflect the impacts of vehicle age and wear, the DNR reported. Some model years fail at a higher rate than others, reflecting a lower level of technology, explained Christopher Bovee, inspection-maintenance specialist with the DNR's mobile sources unit at Madison. The revised limits will more accurately reflect differences in model year technology, he said.

Opinions, Opinions, Opinions

It was a nice warm day in August, that I found my good friend Grandpa Davis sitting on a bench in River View Park, enjoying the warmth of the bright sun, while he watched the birds search for food in the nearby bushes. Grandpa was past eighty years in age, and I knew that he had had a very full and busy life as the family doctor for our community; moreover, I also knew that he was often outspoken on the affairs of the community, the state and the nation.

After our friendly greetings to each other, I asked him what was his opinion of our elected President Reagan. Grandpa hesitated a few seconds before he replied, "Mr. Reagan is a very good honest man, who has been trying for over four years to give the American people the help they need, but all his efforts have been blocked by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, Mr. 'Tip' O'Neil. How can that be you ask? Because Mr. O'Neil has full control for the placement of all bills before the House for a vote, and he has not allowed a single bill, intended for the good of America, to come on the floor for a vote since Mr. Reagan was elected. Moreover, he does this maneuvering very slyly, so that he will receive no personal blame."

Having some knowledge of present day politics, I had to agree wholeheartedly with Grandpa's stated opinion. Actually, I remarked, that the vote recently passed by the House, was the Tax Reform Bill sponsored by the Democrats — the first and only Bill intended to help America that Mr. 'Tip' O'Neil has allowed to come to a vote on the House floor. Just think, I added, how greedy and avaricious some men become when they have the power to withhold progress.

At this moment a young mother was pushing her baby buggy past us. Her beautiful golden-haired daughter was sitting upright in the buggy, smiling as she jabbered noiseless words to herself. This visitation of youth caused me to ask Grandpa what was his opinion of the Abortion Laws of our land. Oh boy, did I start a bonfire — no a conflagration of sorts, as he stuttered, almost incoherently, that our Supreme Court Justices were all murderers. He added this query, "How can any adult deny that human life begins when the egg of the female becomes fertilized by the spermatozoa of the male, and begins to develop immediately, according to God's law, to become a full term baby in nine months?"

Grandpa soon was his quiet self as he expanded on another opinion that he had observed thousands of times in his fifty years of medical practice. Continuing, he told about his fascination and wonder observing the miracle of human birth: how uplifting to his soul it was, to see and to hear LIFE come to the just born FETUS — now, with life, it becomes a BABY. "The doctor," he said, "checks the mother to be sure she can deliver a live baby, then the doctor must listen with a head stethoscope, or a monitor, to the fetal heart tones after every hard contraction until the rate returns to normal. After each stressful contraction the fetal heart rate slows very much, but returns to normal in a few seconds. Should it not do so, the conscientious doctor will make plans to obtain additional help so that the labor can end happily for all parties."

"Golly, gee, Grandpa Davis, you surely do have good ideas about the delivery of a healthy live baby." "Yes," he replied, "It was this denial to me to attend to more live birth phenomena, which had produced a strong desire for my return to the practice of medicine, especially obstetrics." However he was fully aware that age, and changes in his health caused him to realize his inadequacy to fulfill such a dream.

Turning toward Grandpa once more, I asked him one more question. For a man who has lived eight decades, I continued, you surely must have some definite ideas, or opinions on the controversy over creation versus evolution.

Immediately Grandpa's face beamed as if I had pressed on his button for the light of knowledge. He turned to face me, right hand upraised with the palm facing toward heaven, thereby signifying the calmness of his inner spirit, and stated his opinion.

"Son, to me, there is no cause for an argument, because I know it is common knowledge to the farmer, to the horticulturist, to the veterinarian, and to the medical doctor, that unused parts of an animal or of a plant tend to become smaller and smaller with each succeeding generation until, in the passage of many thousands of years, that particular unused part will disappear completely, for example, the dew claws on a dog."

"On the other hand," Grandpa continued, "no matter how much the scientists have learned to be of aid to nature, none have ever come close to causing life to develop in an inanimate object, nor have they caused sprouts to form on any substance that has no living seed within itself. Therefore, it is my belief, that the great Creator and Darwin's theory coincide exactly. It is man that cannot understand nor comprehend the limitlessness of time, when compared to the short span of a human life."

Grandpa Davis you have made me realize that there are several different concepts or facets to many of these questions. Now I can tell my classmates how well you have explained the differences of opinions on these subjects. Actually you have placed the edict of murder squarely on the heads of the Supreme Court Judges on the abortion question.

Grandpa before we part I have one last question on which to get your opinion. That is the controversy over the elections soon to be held. There is so much said by both sides for or against each other; so much animosity and character slashing by some individuals, all of which confuses me so very much.

Grandpa's eyes began to dazzle me as he looked at me in his soul searching manner, his voice had hardened like steel, and the words he emitted were like metal chips, each falling into place. "My son," he said, "our Bible has warned us about the wickedness of the world, the terrorism and the needless bloodshed we see occurring all over our planet. There is distrust by many peoples over all areas of our globe, the true cause for which I do not know."

"It is my opinion, though, that the Bolshevik 1917 Revolution, which overthrew the Czars rule over all Russia, should receive a large amount of blame for all the unrest, terrorism and the wars and rumors of wars now existent. After the downfall of the Czar and his military protection, the new leaders, not only preached hatred to all other leaders, but exterminated thousands of people to reduce opposition to themselves.

We must remember that the Russian people had been serfs or slaves under the Czarist regime, some of them very cruel too, whereas the communist rulers, who were also very cruel, do offer a much better life than the people had had for hundreds of years when the Czars ruled their lives.

It is my fervent prayer that our President Reagan shall come home with a formula from Mr. Gorbachev that may lead to a lasting real peace in the world. Mr. Gorbachev is the first General Secretary of the Soviet Regime who is too young to have ever experienced life under the Czar, hence he may be more amenable to compromise."

"However I am certain," grandpa continued, "that in my opinion, our great President Ronald W. Reagan shall deserve to receive the praise of all Americans for the good he has tried so faithfully and strenuously to do for our beloved America. We, the people, shall have a banknote made to honor him with his picture on it; it shall be a twenty-five dollar Federal Reserve Note, which shall glorify him for eternity I hope."

At this moment I arose and profusely thanked Grandpa for all his good opinions on life's problems. I told him that he was truly one man who had most of our problems solved, according to his opinions.

First of State's Business Logo Signs to Be Introduced Along Newly Built Hwy. 45 Around West Bend

Colorful signs, listing by name and brand the traveler services available at or near the next interchange or intersection, will make their debut on Wisconsin highways Oct. 20.

On that day, the first of the state's "specific business logo signs" will be introduced along newly-built US 45 around West Bend. The blue and white signs will display gas, food, lodging and camping outlets' names and logos, specifically identifying those services to travelers in need. It's expected that merchant interest in the signs will grow, and they'll be dotting many state highways.

The Derse Co. of Milwaukee is under contract with the State Department of Transportation (DOT) to erect the sign panels and maintain them. Ted Stephenson, DOT state highway maintenance engineer, says the signs should prove real friends to the traveler.

"With the specific information signs, the motorist gets more than a simple indication of services available," Stephenson says. "They get a choice — they can choose the dealer they prefer to patronize."

"Also, if Wisconsin is to be competitive, we have to advertise our tourism industry," Stephenson says. "We'll have signs telling travelers how to get to specific business places."

The DOT and the Derse Co. have been announcing details of the new signs to businesses across the state. The first of several information meetings on the signs was held recently at the DOT's district office in Rhinelander. Stephenson and other DOT personnel were on hand, as business owners who attended the meeting learned about eligibility requirements and were able to submit applications. Similar meetings are planned for each of the DOT's other seven transportation districts.

Plans call for the signs to be erected in clusters of four, advertising food, lodging and camping, and up to six advertising gas stations.

Initially, the Derse Co. hopes to erect eight signs along US 45 around West Bend. The signs would go up at two of the three West Bend interchanges. Each of those signs would, in turn, have a complementary ramp sign. Four of the signs would go up at the Paradise Dr. interchange, four at the WIS 33 interchange.

Eventually the signs will be erected on the entire Wisconsin Interstate system, plus other highways which are eligible for federal aids. Highways within Milwaukee County are not included in the program. The DOT's five-year contract with the Derse Co. calls for building 200 signs per year. The company has mailed an announcement on the program to 20,000 state businesses, and initial response has been strong. In two weeks, there were more than 500 qualified, positive responses. The bulk of returns has followed the heavily-used routes — the Interstates.

Generally, businesses must be located within three miles of the interchange or intersection, and offer a public telephone. Restaurants must provide on-premise service for three meals a day, and be properly licensed or approved. Lodging must be licensed or approved, while camping facilities must also have adequate parking and modern, sanitary facilities and drinking water. Gas stations must be open at least 16 hours a day, seven days a week, on the Interstate and 12 hours a day, seven days a week, on non-Interstate routes, and offer fuel, oil, tire repair and water, plus restroom facilities.

Cost of the signing program will be borne by the advertisers.

The Derse Co. is responsible for marketing the program to eligible businesses, reviewing applications and determining which businesses will be offered the opportunity to be listed.

In loving memory of Michael Stern who passed away three years ago, Oct. 18, 1983:

Those we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts,
Of those they left behind.
The happy house we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still;
Death has left a loneliness,
The world can never fill.

Sadly missed by mother, Shirley and brother, Tom.

It was His will,
But in our hearts we love her still.
Her memory is as dear today,

No deaths from diphtheria in 1937 — a good objective! From 1915 to 1924 - ten years - there were 29,531 cases of diphtheria and 2,928 deaths, an average of 2,959 cases and 292.6 deaths per year in Wisconsin. Active immunization against diphtheria began to make headway about 1925 and has been increasingly applied since. With the inception of immunization the case and death rate began to fall and has continued to fall progressively. In 1930 there were 799 cases reported and 72 deaths; and last year, 1935, there were only 158 cases and 11 deaths in Wisconsin. In the light of this successful diminution in the case and death rate of diphtheria by immunization it becomes evident that it is for the best interests of every child to be immunized.

Grell & Wollensak, proprietors of the local creamery have carpenters at work building an addition to the creamery which will be used for a boiler room. The firm also received a new boiler which will be installed and while this work is going on Fred Andrae will use his traction engine to run the plant. As soon as all day current is secured from the L. Rosenheimer Malt & Grain Co., the firm will have a motor installed to run their plant.

Joe Bassil, employed in Nic. Haug's blacksmith shop at Campbell-sport had the misfortune last Saturday of having his right hand badly cut with a circle saw. Joe was busily engaged in sawing some lumber when in some manner the piece which he was sawing drew back pulling his right hand along which came in contact with the saw. The hand was badly cut across the palm and penetrated some of the small bones which was necessary for them to be taken out.

Minutes of Village Board Meeting

Regular Meeting
October 6, 1986
8:00 P.M.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin met in Regular Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President David E. Nigh presided. All Trustee Members were present.

On a motion by Trustee Mary Krueger, seconded by Trustee Paul Blumer and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the minutes of September 15, 1986.

On a motion by Trustee Howard Laubenstein, seconded by Trustee Richard Schmidt and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the advertising for bids for a 1987 police squad.

Superintendent of Water Pollution Control, Peter Albers, informed the Board that the Orion Tester (used for testing ammonia) has been taken out of service and will be sent in for repair. The testing for ammonia must continue and arrangements have been made to have Marquette University carry out that function on an interim basis.

Discussion was held on the possibility of assessing the dairy a prorated share of the cost to pump the digester tanks due to an excessive amount of dairy by-products entering the treatment plant. The Board directed a letter of notice to be sent to the dairy.

Superintendent of Public Works, Augie Bilgo, discussed briefly the problems his department is encountering due to grass clippings and leaves being deposited in the streets. The board asked for a news article and said a get tough policy should be implemented.

Administrator Daniel Schmidt reviewed a variety of correspondence with the Board as follows:

1. Balance Sheet review for September, 1986.

2. Mid-Moraine Municipal Association - Seminar information and announcement of Legislative Committee Meeting.

3. Review of some brief correspondence.

On a motion by Trustee Paul Blumer, seconded by Trustee Richard Schmidt and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the payment of bills as recommended by the Administrative Committee. The total of all claims as recommended are as follows:

General Fund	$99,497.26
Sewage Fund	24,140.35
Water Fund	18,606.82
TID #1 Fund	52,930.08
TOTAL	$195,174.51

General Voucher #6005 thru #6210

Sewage Voucher #4376 thru #4395

Water Voucher #4945 thru #4958

TID Voucher #235 thru #238

Trustee Richard Schmidt, the Board Representative on the Library Board, reviewed the meeting of October 6, 1986

After considerable discussion and review of the petitions presented by Robert Kirst in reference to restricting the parking on all or part of the parade route for a specified time, prior to and during the Firemen/Legion parade, motion was made by Trustee Howard Laubenstein, seconded by Trustee Paul Blumer and unanimously carried by voice vote, the move to not restrict parking along the parade route, for the primary reason of the displacement of approximately 150 vehicles.

Trustee Howard Laubenstein asked how the fire house repair work was progressing. Administrator Schmidt informed the Board that the engineer has been in contact with several contractors asking for proposals. One proposal was received the end of last week and another is expected this week. The Engineer plans to review them and submit a recommendation to the Board on the meeting of October 20, 1986.

It was also noted that on the explanation sheet of the Fire Department Budget for 1987, that the money ($25,000) that is in the 1986 budget for fire house roof repair would be placed in the restricted fund under the Fire Department category. This can then be used in 1987 or whenever for the designated roof repairs.

On a motion by Trustee Mary Krueger, seconded by Trustee Thomas McElhatton and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board designated Sunday, October 26, 1986, from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. as the Village of Kewaskum Trick or Treat hours. (This coincides with other Washington County communities).

Administrator Schmidt reviewed the proposed departmental budgets with the Board along with budget related information. The entire proposed 1987 budget was then reviewed and discussed and the Administrator asked for guidance regarding the budget. It was the consensus of the Board to proceed working on the proposed 1987 budget which currently reflects a 4.6% increase over the 1986 budget. The current figures used for the property tax for the Village reflect a 2.7% increase. The figures discussed are only for the Village's portion of the property tax.

During the budget discussion Trustee Richard Schmidt brought up two items pertaining to the Department of Public Works and should be noted for future discussion. The first was the possibility of hiring a private contractor to sweep the streets once or twice a year and the second was the possibility of purchasing a wood chipper.

On a motion by Trustee

Kewaskum Statesman, Page 16
Friday, Oct. 18, 1986

Richard Schmidt, seconded by Trustee Richard Schlice and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board scheduled the Budget Hearing for November 3, 1986, at 8:00 p.m.

On a motion by Trustee Mary Krueger, seconded by Trustee Thomas McElhatton and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the Administrator to request proposals from Municipal Accounts for the Municipal annual audit for a period of three (3) years.

Motion was made by Trustee Richard Schmidt, seconded by Trustee Howard Laubenstein to adjourn to closed session under Chapter 19.85 (1) (c) of the Statutes to discuss employee negotiations, compensation and performance data of village employees over which the governmental body has jurisdiction. Roll call vote was 7 "Aye," 0 "Nay," 0 "Absent." The motion was carried unanimously.

SUNDAY WORSHIP
 Sunday, Oct. 19, at 9:00

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of Reuben Schultz, who passed away one year ago, Oct. 20, 1985.

Just a year ago you left us,
 And we miss you very much.
 But we know that you are
 With the Lord,
 And feel His gentle touch.
 We know that you are happy
 there
 And that He loves you, too.
 And we will meet again some day
 Beyond the skies of blue.

Sadly missed by his children and grandchildren.

Freshmen and Seniors Win Powder Puff Classic

By Chuck Voge

The Kewaskum High School sophomore and junior girls sophomores and junior girls freshmen and senior girls in the annual "Powder Puff" football game as a part of this past week's homecoming activities.

The senior-freshmen team coached by Jim Westphal and quarterbacked by Brenda Vetter pulled off a 36-16 victory in the game which was a combination of W.I.A.A. rules put together with another set of rules A.K.A. "make 'em up as you go along." The junior-sophomore team was coached by Dale Schatz and quarterbacked by the formidable Brenda Theusch.

At one point in the contest when the seniors and freshmen had to give up the ball after an unsuccessful 4th down attempt, Westphal called "DEFENSE" meaning he wanted his defensive team to take the field. Nobody ran out, however, and on the sidelines Westphal could be overheard telling his girls, that "when they have the ball, that means that we are on defense."

Announcing duties were handled by Ed Walz, and if you like Bob Uecker's style you would have concurred. He was very conspicuous in his comments and ended up by getting trapped up in the press box when a group of unknown students of dubious intent ran off with the ladder to the box.

After repeated pleas for help, Walz and his play color man Steve Johnson, were finally rescued from the press box. Holding penalties were in much greater supply in the game than were penalty flags. Volunteer officials, Troy Zimdars and Mark Schlosser wisely kept their penalty flags in their pockets for most of the game. Should all of the game's rule infractions have been called the game's official timer would have had to time this one with a calendar rather than a game clock. A good time was indeed had by all and powder puff football would be good material for an official challenge game with a neighboring school such as Campbellsport, for future homecomings.

more spike attempts and was perfect in serving. Cindy Stych and Missy Heisdorf also had some good serves.

After losing the first two games, 6-15 and 8-15, the freshmen won the third game, 15-12.

No. 1 Runner Out, Boys Last in Owl Invite; 8th in Cougar Invite

The Slinger Invitational cross country meet held Oct. 3, involving eight teams, was moved to higher ground due to flooded areas on the regular site.

Shorewood won the boys end of the meet with 57 points and Mayville was tops among the girls with 43. The Slinger boys and girls both placed second with 63 and 58 points respectively.

Kewaskum was last with 224 points in spite of a fine effort by Curt Ayer, who ran a 17:31 for 31st place. Miles Shaw, the Indians' No. 1 runner, did not compete due to a sore knee.

The Indian girls, with only four runners left, lacked a full team. They finished as follows: Ellen Kuphal, 21st; Sherri VARSITY BOYS pay attention as Dawn Dieringer, touchdown in this year's Powder Puff Mania.

Batzler, 30th; Carrie Batzler, 32nd, and Pam Osterbrink, 34th.

The Slinger boys, (43 points) and Random Lake girls (39) finished first Thursday in the Cougar Invitational at Campbellsport.

Tim Schultz of Plymouth won the boys race in 17:00 and Slinger's Diane Breuer topped the girls. Kewaskum boys finished 8th with 215 points. The Indian girls did not field a complete team.

Sandy Klein Runs Well At UW-Stevens Point

The UW-Stevens Point cross country team finished third among eight teams at the UW Center-Sheboygan Invitational recently. Coach Len Hill found support from ninth place finisher Sandy Klein of Kewaskum (20:02) and Jenni Bughi, tenth in 20:04. Klein is a former Kewaskum High School stand-out.

UW-Oshkosh dominated the meet by finishing five of the top six runners. St. Norbert had a second place finish. Trailing Stevens Point was fourth place Lawrence College, followed by College of Lake County, Milwaukee Area Technical College (MATC), and host UW Center-Sheboygan.

Due to poor field conditions, the three-mile race was held on blacktop rather than a cross country course.

Klein was also named WWIAC conference runner of the week at the Wambat Invitational, Sheboygan. At the North Central College Invite, Naperfield, Illinois, on Sept. 20, she placed 14th out of 53 runners. The top 15 got trophies. Saturday Sandy ran at the Eau Claire Invite.

Annual Best Ball Tourney Held at Hon-E-Kor

The second annual 36-hole Best Ball Tournament was held at Hon-E-Kor Country Club over the weekend and although the event lucked out on rain, it was a bit muddy and cold. The entire tourney was played on the front nine because of the wet conditions on the back nine.

The tournament, which drew 23 teams, was won by Randy Warobick and Paul Ronyak of West Bend with a 69-71 - even par 140. They finished three strokes ahead of the second place team of Joe Doherty and Mike Mauer in the championship bracket, who hit 143.

The winners of the First Flight were Hon-E-Kor's Tom Larsen and Bill Wuebben with a 75-75-150. They won by two strokes over Pat and Kevin Griffin, who shot 152.

Tops in the second flight scoring were Phil Fleming and Dick Wachter with an 85-82-167. The Berndt/Hallen team was second with 83-90-173.

The flight assignments were determined by the lowest handicaps of the two players on each team.

St. Lucas Boys Open Soccer Season

The St. Lucas Boys' Soccer Schedule opened up with a heart-breaking 3-2 loss to the Thunderbolts of David's Star Lutheran School of Jackson on October 2nd. The Sixers played good team soccer but penalties eventually cost the Sixers the game. David's Star went ahead of St. Lucas on one penalty kick and were ahead to stay on another. Doug Stern gained in all the goals of the game for the Sixers.

St. John's of Lannon totally dominated the October 7-2 meeting beating the Sixers 7-2. Steve Dickman highlighted the day for St. Lucas with some nifty foot work and the scoring of both of the Sixers' goals of the day.

The 76'ers came home last Thursday, the 9th, to host St. John's of Newburg and record their first victory of the year. Stern led the 76'ers with a career high three goals in the contest. Dickman added two of his own and Jody Ludwig kicked a successful penalty kick on to the 6-1 victory over the Crusaders from Newburg.

This week the Sixers traveled to Thiensville for the annual meeting with Calvary Lutheran School on Tuesday, the 14th. On Thursday, the 16th, the Sixers will return home (hopefully to play on the St. Lucas Bowl if dry) to face the shepards tough Rams of Good Shepherd. The Sixers will close out their Soccer Schedule against Bethlehem Lutheran School on Tuesday, Oct. 21st, in Menomonee Falls.

THE 1986 HOMECOMING PARADE drew a large crowd again and adult spectators were represented equally as well as students at the event.

Indians Edged, 7-0, But Stage Homecoming Crowd Pleaser

By Chuck Voge

A well played defeat can at times be more satisfying to watch than a poorly played victory, and in losing, 7-0, to the Sheboygan Falls Falcons in this year's homecoming game Friday, the Kewaskum Indians supplied the standing room only crowd with plenty of high quality football.

What made this one so special or different than the Indians' past performances? Well, for openers, quarterback Eric Pearson took advantage of greatly improved protection in the Kewaskum backfield, and put the Indian passing game on display for all to see. Pearson made good on 8 of 15 attempts for 76 yards and he did it in a manner that showed that he could control the situation on the field, rather than letting it control him. Pearson also showed a lot of class in the way that he rolled out, and scrambled, when necessary to elude blitzing defenders.

The Indians earned additional style points with the like night to day improvement in their offensive line play. While both Pearson and Coulter teamed up for most of Kewaskum's 111 yards gained rushing, it should be noted that the Coulters and Pearsons of the game don't run up impressive stats without someone to make holes for them to run through. The Indian linemen weren't napping Friday night but probably won't get their share of the credit, because who watches linemen besides line coaches and their own mothers.

The Falcons' only score of the evening came on a 35-yard pass play from their junior quarterback, Brek Rammer, to Brian Wulff, one of seven sophomores suited up for the contest. The Falcons' score came with only 2:45 left to play and the conversion attempt was also good to make it 7-0.

On the series that followed Pearson put the Indians right back into the game with a long pass to Johnson complete down near the Falcon goal line. The pass, which could have set up a Kewaskum touchdown and the added possibility of a two point conversion and a Kewaskum win was called back because of an illegal procedure call against the Indians.

Still not to be completely knocked down and counted out the Indians scrambled back in another last minute attempt to tie the game with a passing flurry that had Pearson picking up two more first downs, both through the air, before finally being intercepted by cornerback Toby Leynse with only 23 seconds left in the game. From that point on the Falcons just fell on the ball to run out the clock.

Defensively the 7-point game total pretty much tells the Indian story except for an early game interception by defensive back Steve Johnson that killed a Falcon scoring drive. Coulter was also at his defensive best and either soloed or was in on at least five sacks. For Coulter to not make all conference, the balloting would have to be a complete sham.

A fair question would be, if the Indians played so well how come they lost? A fair answer would be, the Falcons played better. Just 7 points better, and that's not a whole lot. They might have left town with the victory, but they also left knowing that they had been in a ball game.

In other football action the freshmen lost their game with Sheboygan Falls by a score of 38-0 and the JVs also lost to the Falcons 26-0. Next the varsity will play host to Fox Valley Lutheran at 7:30 this Friday, Oct. 17.

Kewaskum to Host WIAA Rules Meeting

Rules Interpretation meetings in four winter sports will be conducted by the WIAA (Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association) for its member schools during the last half of October and first week in November.

Meetings will take place in basketball, wrestling, gymnastics and hockey. Kewaskum has been selected to host one of the wrestling meetings next Wednesday, Oct. 22. The same day wrestling meetings will also be held at Brodhead, Gilman, New Lisbon and Pulaski. Wrestling meetings will also be held on Oct. 20, 21 and 23 at various schools, including one at Two Rivers, also of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, on the 20th. All meetings start at 7:30 p.m. in the high school building. EW's New Holstein hosted one of the basketball meetings.

The wrestling meetings will be conducted by six WIAA officials - Arva Britten of Merrill, Ted Harris of Viroqua, Joe Jilek of Glenwood City, Marty Marasch of Little Chute, Doug Marnocha of Greendale and Robert Reif of Portage - and Don Herrmann of the WIAA staff.

BIZARRE HAIRCUTS with the players' jersey numerals shaved into one temple are vogue with this year's high school football players as demonstrated by Mike Coulter.
