$36 Million in State Transportation Funds Approved

DOT to Go Ahead in 1987 With Main St., Hwy. 28, Other Highway Projects

The Legislature's Joint Committee on Finance has preserved much of the Department of Transportation's 1987 plan to improve existing state highways by approving $36 million in state transportation funds in place of federal highway funds that were stalled in Congress this year.

Legislative authorization permits the DOT to go ahead with early 1987 contract awards on 33 projects in 20 counties.

A list of highway improvement projects salvaged and re-instated by the legislative action for 1987 construction includes the following: Washington County — Resurface State Highway 28 [Main Street] from Fond du Lac Ave. to Carroll Rd. in Kewaskum; resurface State Highway 28 from Kewaskum east to Hwy. 144; resurface State Highway 145 from US Highway 41 to old 45. Fond du Lac County — Recondition State Highway 67 from Campbellsport to US Highway 45.

Without the funds, the DOT had warned that it would be forced to eliminate 95 miles of resurfacing, 16 miles of reconditioning work and 18 miles of reconstruction.

Under the plan approved by the committee, the loan will be repaid to the state transportation fund when Congress okays a new highway bill and the funds are distributed.

Transportation Secretary Lowell Jackson told the committee it was unlikely that Congress, convening in January, would make the federal funds available in a timely fashion — soon enough to allow Wisconsin to get the projects started and finished in the state's short construction season — but will likely pass the legislation in the spring.

The federal fund delay will still leave the state $12 million short for the planned Interstate rehabilitation in 1987, $4.4 million short for a discretionary bridge (approaches to the Wabasha bridge over the Mississippi River) and $6.5 million short for local highways.

3 Return Papers for Village Board Election

List of School Board Candidates Lengthens

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

As the deadline for filing nomination papers grows near, the number of candidates seeking a seat on the Kewaskum Board of Education continues to increase.

To date, seven individuals have taken out papers. They are Ronald Beimborn, Tom Brigham, Jean Goeden, Ruth Schmitt, Robert Schulteis, John Spoerl, and Neal Weare. Of the seven, Beimborn, Goeden, Schmitt, Schulteis and Weare, have already returned their papers.

The latest additions to that list, Beimborn and Spoerl, have both run for the board previously with Beimborn being defeated in his first bid for a seat and Spoerl losing in his attempt for re-election to a second term on the board.

Of the three incumbents, Goeden, Brigham and Kim Peterson, only Peterson has not indicated whether or not he will seek re-election. He is completing his first term on the board.

In the Kewaskum Village Board race, all three incumbents, Mary Krueger, Richard Schlice, and Paul Blumer have returned their papers. Blumer, however, is passing up re-election as trustee to run for the post of board president.

Kenneth Bonlender, of 1014 Edgewood, has taken out nomination papers for the Village Board election but has not returned them as yet.

Candidates for both elections have until 5:00 p.m., Tuesday, January 6th, to file nomination papers.

Sewer Work for Apartment Project to Begin Soon

Timblin Developer's Agreement Okayed by Village Board

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

At a special meeting Monday afternoon, the Kewaskum Village Board voted to accept a developer's agreement between itself and Tom Timblin covering a variety of items related to a proposed apartment project on the south end of the village.

Gerald Kiefer, the village's attorney, told the trustees he and Administrator Dan Schmidt wanted to run the revised agreement by them again mainly because of a new clause which will allow Timblin to defer part of the sewer connection costs on to his 1988 tax bill.

Kiefer noted the original agreement had been written up based on Timblin's initial plan to build two eight-family units that were to have been started this past fall. Because of the rains, Timblin postponed the start of construction and subsequently revised his plans to construct a single, larger, 36-unit building in place of the two smaller units.

Kiefer informed the board that the clause covering the sewer hook-up fees was not in the original draft of the agreement. (For the original two units, Timblin would have paid the total hook-up fee of $3,200 at the time the building permit was issued). Under the revised agreement, Timblin will pay a fee of $200 per unit with one-half of the total cost ($3,600) being paid upon issuance of the building permit and the second half added to the 1988 tax bill. Kiefer told the board, "it's not a bad concession considering the size of the project." Trustee Richard Schmidt agreed, noting that the half payment was already $400 more than the total fee would have been for the original project.

The agreement was also revised in a section concerning improvements for Courtney Lane, the new street which will run north and south behind the Kewaskum shopping mall. To guaranty that the roadwork will be completed and in accordance with village specifications, Timblin will be required to provide a $100,000 surety, or construction, bond to cover completion in the event he failed to do so.

Kiefer said most of the other changes concerned pushing back some completion dates because of the fact that construction will not start until after the first of the year. "We now have a new agreement which I feel is satisfactory to protect the village's interests," stated Kiefer.

After receiving the board's approval of the agreement Timblin said work for the sewer and water connections would begin within the next two weeks. "We plan on having the building completed by August 1st," said Timblin.

In other action the board approved signing the contract to participate in the Countywide Library System service. The service will go into effect on January 1st.

Friends for Battered Women Changes Name

Friends for Battered Women of Washington County has changed the name of their agency to Friends of Abused Families to better reflect the multiple services of this agency to help victims of domestic abuse.

The new name was approved by the Board of Directors at the Nov. 24 meeting. Executive Director Joan Michaud said battered women will not be forgotten but will remain the primary service group of the agency.

But other family members are also directly affected whenever a violent outburst takes place in a home and because each family member faces a crisis, the agency name was changed to Friends of Abused Families.

County-Wide Library Services Begin

County-wide library services for rural residents of Washington County began on January 2, 1987, according to Daniel Stoffel, chairman of the Washington County Library Services Board. Under the new plan, Kewaskum area residents who are not currently served by a public library can get a library card free of charge from the Kewaskum Public Library. This card will allow them all the privileges that are currently afforded to village residents.

The Library Service Plan which was passed by the Washington County Board of Supervisors in 1986 makes the public libraries in Washington County part of the Mid-Wisconsin Federated Library System, headquartered in Fond du Lac, with the resource library for Washington County being the West Bend Community Memorial Library.

The plan's intent is to ensure that all residents of the county have free access to the public libraries of the county. The libraries will be reimbursed for a portion of their expenses from a levy that has been assessed on the property of the unserved areas.

Dan Wickert, President of West Bend Elevator Retires

Dan Wickert, President of West Bend Elevator, 3434 County Hwy. D, West Bend, has retired as of January 1, 1987.

An open house in Dan's honor will be held on Friday, Jan. 9, from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturday, Jan. 10, from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

The public is invited to stop in

Kewaskum Students Take Part Performance by Music Students At UWWC Part of Final Exams

WEST BEND — Taking final exams is bad enough in itself. But 51 music students took part of their onstage recently before more than 100 people at the UW Center - Washington County.

Albert Asch, associate professor of instrumental music at UWWC, told the audience it was hearing "a sort of Christmas concert, an end of the semester class, and a chance for students to get together." Then he reminded his jazz ensemble, which opened the evening, "This is also a final exam. And by the way, guys, you messed up on two notes."

The Christmas format covered most of the program with an occasional bit of verbal stretching by Asch and Peter Ayer, associate professor of vocal music at UWWC.

Asch set the tone following the opening jazzy rendition of "Perdido," when he asked, "You've heard of Santa's Dasher and Dancer? Perido was his spare reindeer."

Ayer kept pace in the humor department, prefacing an 18-guitar performance by his fundamentals of music class with a tongue-in-check announcement. "We were going to present Charles Dickens' 'Christmas Carol,'" he said. Then he pointed out a well-known member of the audience and added, "But with him here, we decided not to. One Scrooge a night is enough."

A highlight of the evening was "Introduction and Fandango" by Boccherini, featuring music student Victor Sese of Kewaskum, guitarist, and Anna Asch, lecturer in music, on the harpsichord. The duo's ensemble playing blended the sounds of the two instruments until it was hard to distinguish between them.

The 10-member jazz ensemble had the audience smiling and nodding its approval with an upbeat version of "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen" and "Good King Wenceslas" that picked up steam like an accelerating brass locomotive.

Rounding out the pre-intermission instrumental half of the performance was Telemann's "Trio Sonata" by a quartet consisting of a flute, cello, harpsichord and oboe which tiptoed through four intricate movements.

During the last half of the evening, Ayer's fundamentals students played carols on recorders as well as guitars. A nine-member vocal ensemble sang four numbers, demonstrating pleasing chord modulations during "Now the Holly," arranged by Ayer. The 16-member chorus was at its best while displaying a pleasing confident sound during "A New Noel" by Whitney, the last of its three pieces.

Both teachers played along with their students - Ayer on the guitar and Asch on the sax and oboe.

During his set with the jazz group, Asch also managed at times to direct with his right hand while keeping his left hand on the keys and his lips on the mouthpiece. When asked how he managed to do so many things at once, he laughed and replied, "I fake it a lot."

Music students from the Kewaskum community who performed included: Chorus, Jacqueline Lee Jenkins, 364 Hwy. S; Fundamentals, Susan Maki, 4139 Ridge Road; Shelly Christine Ostrom, 1202 River-view; Guitar Solo, Victor Sese, 808 Pleasantwood Drive; Instrumental Quartet [Harpsichord], Phil McFadden, Box 373.

Other performers were from Allenton, Campbellsport, Cedarburg, Fredonia, Germantown, Grafton, Hartford, Jackson, Port Washington, Richfield, Saukville, Slinger and West Bend.

Kettle Riders Distribute Christmas Gift Baskets

In keeping with the holiday spirit of giving, the New Fane Kettle Riders Snowmobile Club continued its annual tradition of delivering Christmas Gift Boxes to senior citizens in its area.

The club also presented the Beechwood Rest Home with a basket containing a variety of fruits, candy, nuts and wine to use in celebrating the holidays.

Reduce Home Moisture Build-up After Weatherizing

By Joyce Albrecht
Washington County
Extension Home Economist

As Wisconsinites seal up their homes to make them more energy efficient, some are encountering moisture problems — musty odors, excess condensation on windows, and mold on ceilings and walls.

These problems are not only annoying, they can damage the home if allowed to continue.

Energy Conservation practices such as caulking and weather-stripping are designed to trap heated air indoors; sometimes, as a side effect, they also trap humidity. If too much moisture builds up inside the home it can get into the insulation and wood frame causing wood decay and exterior paint peeling.

But returning to loosely-constructed homes is not the answer. While dry, these homes are costly to heat, drafty in the winter and stuffy during the spring and fall.

To prevent moisture damage, homeowners first must determine the source of their moisture problems. Before doing anything else, locate and repair any water leaks. Stains on walls and ceilings and high humidity levels may be symptoms of a leaky roof, leaky plumbing, or rain being driven through cracks in the siding rather than humidity trapped inside the house. Usually these symptoms are limited to one area of the house.

Homeowners who have moisture problems caused by air-tight homes can attack them in three ways. First, they can reduce moisture generated by every-day activities. Unknowingly we add a great deal of moisture to our homes. Moisture can be reduced by shortening showers and baths, doing less stove-top cooking in open containers, limiting the number of house plants, and storing cord wood outside rather than in the basement.

Second, homeowners can prevent condensation by warming up the surfaces where it collects. Condensation occurs when cold window panes and walls come in contact with moisture-filled warm air — the same way that eye glasses fog after coming indoors on a cold day. The fog disappears as the glass warms. The same principle holds for windows, walls and ceilings. Add another layer of glass or plastic to windows and put more insulation on walls and ceilings to keep them warmer and thereby reduce condensation.

Finally, homeowners can remove the excess moisture in their home air by using a dehumidifier or ventilation fans. Dehumidifiers have a number of drawbacks. They consume energy and typically are most effective at warmer temperatures. Ventilation fans that exhaust stale air and draw in fresh air are the best choice to eliminate humidity at low cost. Many homes already have these fans.

For more information on diagnosing and solving home moisture problems, contact the U.W. Extension Office for the bulletin "Moisture Problems in the Home."

... about your Social Security

By David Becker, Social Security Branch Manager in West Bend

APPLYING FOR A SOCIAL SECURITY CARD

When someone applies for a Social Security number, they need to have documentary proof of three things — age, identity, and U.S. citizenship or Lawful alien status.

Nearly everyone in the Washington County area who applies for a Social Security number remembers to bring evidence of age and citizenship, but many forget the evidence of identity.

Evidence of identity is always requested before the Social Security number can be assigned, no matter how young the person is. The rule applies to infants and small children as well as adults.

A person applying for a Social Security number usually needs at least two pieces of evidence: one to establish age and citizenship and the other to establish identity.

The best evidence of age and citizenship is a public birth certificate established before a person's 5th birthday which was issued by a U.S. State or Local government. Of course, a foreign born person needs the appropriate immigration or naturalization records as well.

Some people find it difficult to find evidence of identity for infants or young children. Examples of documents that can be used include vaccination certificates, newspaper birth announcements, day car or nursery school records, adoption records, or doctor, clinic or hospital records.

In fact, any document that gives enough identifying data to establish proper identity can be used.

Also, please note that parents who apply for a Social Security number for a child must also provide evidence of their own identity in addition to the required evidence for the child.

Only original documents or copies certified by the issuing agency can be used. Uncertified or notarized photocopies are not acceptable.

U.S. citizens applying for a Social Security card to replace a lost card need evidence of their identity, while foreign born persons need evidence of current U. S. citizenship or lawful alien status as well as evidence of identity.

People reporting name changes need evidence of identity under both the old and new names before a new card can be issued.

Although people 18 or over who are applying for a Social Security number for the first time must apply in person, others may apply by mail. Social Security will return all original proofs submitted to the applicant promptly. Documents issued by the Immigration and Naturalization Service should not be mailed.

Whether a person is applying for an original Social Security card, a replacement card, or a changed name card, there is no charge.

The Social Security Administration receives about 10 to 12 million Social Security number requests each year. Unfortunately, a number of these cases required double handling for the required documentation. You can help us and get your card more quickly if the necessary evidence is submitted in the beginning.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS

The English started the custom of cleaning the chimney on New Year's Day. This was supposed to bring good luck to the household during the coming year. Today the expression we use is "cleaning the slate". This means making resolutions to correct faults or bad habits, and resolving to make the new year better.

One good New Year's resolution many people will make this year will be to give up smoking. That resolution may be easier to keep with the help of a product called Nicorette, a nicotine-containing chewing gum. Available only by prescription, it can help the body get over its craving for nicotine while breaking the habit of handling, lighting and smoking cigarettes. Ask your physician for more information. It could help you stay smoke-free in 1987.

Red Cross Schedules CPR, First Aid Classes

The West Bend Red Cross has scheduled 2 Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation Classes and a Multimedia First Aid Class.

Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation or (CPR) is a combination of artificial respiration and artificial circulation used to keep a victim of heart attacks alive until medical assistance arrives. The first four minutes after a heart attack are the most crucial. A CPR course will teach you how to handle this emergency and how to recognize the signs and symptoms of a possible heart attack victim.

The CPR classes are scheduled as follows: Race For Life, a one night CPR course that teaches one man adult CPR only. This class is scheduled for Wednesday evening, Jan. 7th from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. The other CPR class is a complete Modular CPR course which includes CPR for the adult, child and infant, and Foreign Body Obstruction for adult, child, and infant. This course will be conducted on three Thursday evenings, starting Jan. 8th, 15th, and completing on January 22nd from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The Multimedia First Aid Course is scheduled for two Wednesday evenings, Jan. 21st and 28th from 6:00 to 10:00 p.m. This course teaches the first aid procedures for the general public. It meets the recommendations of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970.

All classes will be held at the West Bend Marine Bank Community Room. To enroll call the West Bend Red Cross at 334-5687. Certification is given upon successful completion.

East Central/Select Sires is the fast growing member cooperative of Select Sires. A leader in the A.I. industry, they serve dairy and beef farmers in southern Wisconsin.

Groundbreaking Held for Expanded West Bend Mall

GROUNDBREAKING ceremonies for the new 400,000 square foot enclosed Washington Mall in West Bend, took place at 12 noon on Friday, Dec. 19, on South Main Street. It was decided to rename the new shopping center Paradise Mall, said William Spatz, president of Spatz & Company, developer and manager of the mall. Shopko will anchor the south end of the new mall and their new store in Paradise Mall will be 94,000 square feet, an increase of 50 percent of selling area. In addition, the new Shopko will include pharmacy department and optical center, as well as a full complement of namebrands in health and beauty supplies, clothing, housewares, toys and other retail items. The existing 71,000 square foot Kohl's Department Store will continue to anchor the north end of the mall. Spatz plans to add 50 to 60 new specialty shops encompassing 104,000 square feet in addition to a 9,000 square foot food court. The opening of the new mall will be in October of 1987.

Tax Forms On the Way

Tax time is here again. Taxpayers who filed a return last year should be receiving their 1986 forms this week according to the Internal Revenue Service. Generally, taxpayers will receive the tax package with the forms they filed in the past.

Again this year there will be three different forms that taxpayers may use. Many single taxpayers will be able to use the Form 1040EZ. Taxpayers who cannot use the Form 1040EZ, because they do not meet the requirements, may be able to use the Form 1040A. When using the Form 1040A, taxpayers can also claim the Child and Dependent Care Credit and take an IRA deduction.

Of course, some taxpayers may not be able to use either the Form 1040EZ or Form 1040A because of the amount or kind of income received, filing status, the need to file certain additional forms and/or schedules, or the need to pay other taxes that can only be shown on a Form 1040. If your tax package does not have all the forms you need, use the handy form in the package to place an order with the IRS. Many libraries have a book of reproducible IRS forms and can provide copies.

Dear Editor:

In the past weeks letters have been submitted to your newspaper regarding the New Creation series being taught at Holy Trinity School. We would appreciate space to present a different view of concerned parents.

Before the series was implemented in the class rooms, parents attended meetings. Material to be covered was presented by the teachers. Discussion periods for parents to voice their concerns and questions were included. Parents were encouraged to take the work books home and study them and return them with a parent consent form signed. If the parents did not want their children to participate, they went to a different class room.

Parents of one family stated their objection to the program to the opposition of the strong majority of parents who favored the program. It seems that now shock tactics are being presented in the news articles to gain the public's attention.

In choosing Holy Trinity School over a good public school system for our child, our requirements were considerations of a christian education with human values and morals emphasized. In our relations with school personnel and policy, we have found the primary consideration of the school is in the best interest of the student. Material covered in New Creation is not taking away our rights or responsibilities as parents. It is assisting us in an area of vital concern in today's world.

Sincerely,
Hugo and Isabelle Straub

Dear Editor,

It is of grave concern when an elected official to the Kewaskum District Board of Education refuses to vote on agenda items that affect our children's education — not abstentions, but a flat refusal to vote on several items. Such was the case at the board's regular December meeting.

It is insulting to the people in this district when that same board member stalks out of the unadjoined meeting using abusive language. Such was the case at the December board meeting.

And it is a severe shortcoming on the part of the news media present at that meeting to fail to report to the district this particular incident, so that all may be fully informed of all the facts.

Sincerely,
M. A. Peterson

Dear Editor,

In a few weeks the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club will be celebrating its 20th anniversary as a club. We will be hosting a gathering of all past Juniors to reminisce, remember, celebrate and rededicate our club to the ideals of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs. In the course of preparing for this event, an attempt was made to locate all past Kewaskum Jrs. and send them each a personal invitation. However due to moves, name changes and other circumstances, not all past juniors could be located. If you have ever been a member of the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club and did not receive an invitation, won't you join us on January 20, 1987 at 6:30 p.m. in the Kewaskum Community Room of the Municipal Building? We will be having a social time from 6:30 - 7:00 p.m. followed by our speaker Mrs. Janie Reed, Past President of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's Club. She will speak on the topic "The Goose That Lays Golden Eggs." All past juniors are cordially invited.

Please RSVP if attending by calling 533-8808 or 626-4135. Hope to see you all to celebrate twenty years of dedicated service to the Village of Kewaskum.

Sincerely Yours In
Juniors,
Ms. Beth Stoffel,

Letter to the Editor:

Big Brothers and Big Sisters are very special people who take time to give of themselves. I would like to publicly acknowledge some other very special people who have given their generous support to Big Brothers/Big Sisters, by getting involved in this year's two-for-one coupon Match Book.

They are Barth's Linden Inn, The Country Retreat, Fin-N-Feather, Frangipane's, The Glacier Inn, Lam's Lohmann's Steak House, No No's, Sawmill Inn, Tally Ho, and Timmer's on Big Cedar Lake.

These businesses have taken a genuine interest in the needs and success of this agency. Through their involvement, and the support of the many people who will purchase the coupon books, a vital and important program will continue to maintain its excellence in the county, and provide the necessary services needed for those who benefit.

For those interested in purchasing a Coupon Book or getting additional information you can contact the Big Brothers/Big Sisters office at 334-7896 Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m., or by picking them up at one of the participating restaurants at a cost of $12. Again, we express our appreciation to our many area supporters as well as a happy and prosperous New Year.

To the Readers of this Paper:

My husband and I would like to share a gift that we received for Christmas from our daughter and her husband, Wendi and Randy Dreher.

We want to extend the thought of this poem to our parents, Mrs. Leo Goeden of Newburg and Wally and Ethyl (Eggert) Ohmann of West Bend.

Today, in a quiet moment,
In my mind's eye I saw your face.

I thought of the ways you've touched my life
And made it a better place.

When I was small, confused and scared,
You offered a safe place to hide.

When I was bad, you still loved me -
When I was good, you took pride.

When I was young and headstrong
And had to have my way,
Your strength and gentle wisdom

Stopped my going too far astray.

When I was wrong, you taught me

To stand and pay the price.
You taught me the wisest can make mistakes -

But it's fools who make them twice.

There are so many ways, I can't count them all,
That you helped me and guided me through.

The word Parent means, discipline, caring and love.
The word Parent ... to me ... means you.

If you would like — please cut this out and share it with a parent/parents of yours. It sure is a special gift, one we will cherish forever.

Sincerely,
Willie & Jeanne Goeden

To the Editor:

Here is an innovative solution to the farm crisis, promising better than demeaning dependency, or the huge expense of traditional farm programs that solve little. The goal is to improve markets both here and abroad. The way is by federally mandating a balance in foreign trade, rendering harmless all forms of existing trade adversity.

Today's crisis is a creation of our own government, responsible for decades of economics assistance to needy nations. Instead of creating new markets for U.S. products, our foreign aid and support for world bank loans have unwittingly closed or flooded old markets, both domestic and foreign. The cost has reached untold billions of dollars and millions of jobs, despite the obvious that there is

NEWS EXTRA

New Accident Report Began With the New Year

On Jan. 1, the state Department of Transportation (DOT) introduced a new accident report form and procedure which will make things easier for most drivers involved in traffic accidents.

"In most cases, motorists will no longer need to fill out a separate accident report unless the investigating officer does not fill one out," explains Joyce Gelderman, director of the Bureau of Driver Licensing, Division of Motor Vehicles.

Motorists involved in reportable accidents are still required to alert the nearest law enforcement agency immediately. Those accidents which need to be reported remain unchanged: Any accidents which involve injury or death, $500 damage to private property of any one person or $200 damage to government property must all be reported to the DOT on either a law enforcement agency's report or a motorist's report.

"Motorists involved in an accident should ask the law enforcement officer if a report is being submitted," says Gelderman. "If not, then the motorist needs to get a driver's copy of form MV400 called 'Driver Report of Accident.' These can be obtained from local law enforcement agencies and driver exam stations throughout the state. But, in most cases, the motorists won't have to fill out anything at all—the investigating officer will handle everything." There's another change: Under the new system, at the scene of an accident the law enforcement officer will ask for the name of the insurance company, the policyholder's name and the policy number to complete the report. Motorists are encouraged to carry this insurance information with them, along with their driver's license, at all times.

Anyone with questions about the new form and reporting requirements can call the Traffic Accident Section, of DOT at (608) 266-1751.

more profit in selling than in buying. Developing nations have been quick to learn this to our growing disadvantage.

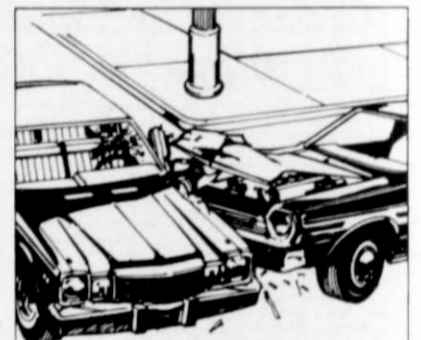

It will take a new federal law to indirectly require other nations to buy as much from us as we buy from them, in dollar amounts. When periodic monitoring determines that a nation is buying less, new orders for their goods and services are to be delayed until trade is again in balance. The exception under the law will be positive trade imbalances in our favor. This mandated lapse in commerce, or the threat of it, will spur the sale of all American products, but most particularly bulk and processed food. Nothing has greater universal demand to facilitate re-sale of surplus purchases.

Despite their having to buy more of our products for trade parity, other nations will continue to find U.S. markets the most lucrative in the world. Their profits will be in jeopardy, however, salvageable only by discontinuing unfair trade practices that impede our exports, something years of trade negotiations have failed to achieve.

Not often do we see a federal law proposed that does so much, for so many, for so little. But Congress will do it only if asked repeatedly!

Advisory Committee on Education Block Grant To Meet; York Member

MADISON — Wisconsin's Education Block Grant State Advisory Committee will meet at 1 p.m.; Jan. 8, 1987, in Room 041 of GEF 3, 125 South Webster Street, Madison, to discuss the use of Chapter 2 block grant funds for the next school year. State Representative Dwight York, Lomira, is a member of the committee.

Wisconsin received approximately $9.3 million in educational block grants for the current school year. The allocation for 1987-88 is not known.

During its meeting, the advisory committee, chaired by John (Nick) Kramer of Fennimore, will hear a progress report on the block grant program and begin work on recommendations for use of 1987-88 funds. As required by the federal Education Consolidation and Improvement Act of 1981, the committee was appointed by the governor to advise State Superintendent Herbert J. Grover on the use of federal block grant funds.

School districts apply to the Department of Public Instruction for block grant funds which may be used for programs to improve basic literacy skills in reading, mathematics, and communication; support services such as counseling and guidance; and special needs to support innovative and experimental projects. Current allocations to school districts are based on the 1985-86 school enrollment of private and public school children, the number of children whose families receive Aid to Families with Dependent Children, and a sparsity factor.

The Education Consolidation and Improvement Act of 1981 consolidated 30 categorical programs into one block grant. Congress allocates a lump sum to each state rather than appropriating money for individual programs.

Sensenbrenner Announces Washington County Nominations to Academies

BROOKFIELD, WI - Rep. F. James Sensenbrenner, Jr. (R-Wisconsin) has announced his Washington County nominations to the United States Service Academies for the class entering in 1987. Dale Herr, Melissa Miceli and Phil Reichert were nominated as competing alternates to the United States Military Academy at West Point. Allison Datka and Adam Plummer were nominated as competing alternates to the United States Military Academy at Annapolis. Brian Kilian and Keir Whitson were nominated as competing alternates to the United States Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs.

Dale Herr, a 1987 graduate of West Bend High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Herr, 577 Paradise Drive, West Bend.

Melissa Miceli, a 1987 graduate of West Bend West High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Miceli, 2218 Wellington Drive, West Bend.

Allison Datka, a 1987 graduate of Germantown High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Datka, N100 W15233 Mars Court, Germantown.

Phil Reichert, a 1987 graduate of Washington High School, Germantown, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Reichert, 606 Highland Drive, Colgate.

Adam Plummer, a 1987 graduate of Washington High School, Germantown, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Plummer, W162 N9651 Mayflower Drive, Germantown.

Brian Kilian, a 1987 graduate of Washington High School, Germantown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kilian, 3477 Pioneer Road, Richfield.

Keir Whitson, a 1987 graduate of West Bend High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitson, 922 Hickory Street, West Bend.

Sensenbrenner said, "the young people selected this year have extraordinary academic records and a broad range of interests, pursuits, and achievements. They all have the potential to win appointment to the academies and the promise that marks outstanding military careers. This year's selection process was difficult because of the high caliber of so many applicants."

Because of the large number of highly qualified applicants, Sensenbrenner used the "competitive" method of nomination, selecting ten candidates for each vacancy that he is entitled to fill and allowing the individual academies to select the persons best qualified from among the list. All recommendations for nomination were made by the Ninth District Academy Nomination Selection Committee, a panel of citizens appointed by Sensenbrenner to review and evaluate the applicants.

The selection of nominees is based on a composite of academic factors - school records, junior class rank, and SAT scores - leadership potential, extracurricular activities, athletics, physical fitness, and recommendations.

Welfare Benefits Highest in Area, Sen. Stitt Reports

Recently, many politicians have been discussing Wisconsin's comparatively high levels of welfare benefits and, thus, either proposing solutions or simply endorsing those benefits. What are the factors behind the increased welfare spending and is it necessary?

Overall, Wisconsin is sixth in the nation per $1,000 of personal income in welfare spending. One-sixth of our state budget is spent on welfare programs. Since 1980, benefit levels for Wisconsin's general relief programs have grown 351% and the caseload had grown 459%. Wisconsin is number three in the nation for AFDC payments per family. Only two other states - Alaska and California - pay more.

As a result of these statistics, an Illinois AFDC family can move to Wisconsin and collect $281 more in welfare benefits. AFDC recipients in other states have a strong incentive to "escape to Wisconsin." In Kenosha County, 24% of new AFDC applicants list Illinois as their previous state of residence and in Milwaukee County, 29% of new AFDC cases were previously out-of-state residents.

In Wisconsin's last two year budget, Governor Tony Earl increased AFDC payments by 6% or $23.5 million. However, the State Legislature reduced this percentage.

Our disadvantaged citizens certainly deserve some level of support, but it should be kept low enough to create a strong incentive for those individuals to seek employment and become productive, taxpaying citizens. Welfare programs should encourage the private sector to create jobs for the unemployed through policies like workfare and enterprise zones. In addition, welfare benefits should at least be reduced to a level that does not encourage welfare migration to Wisconsin.

Please feel free to contact me with your concerns, Senator Don Stitt at P.O. Box 7882, Madison, Wisconsin 53707 or call my office at 608-266-7513 or leave a message with the Legislative Hotline at 1-800-362-9696.

washington county, wis. SHERIFFS DEPARTMENT

Clarence A. Schwartz, Sheriff

Ski Equipment Thefts

As ski enthusiasts purchase equipment for the winter season, other persons are also planning a season of activity. Their pleasure isn't skiing, however. It is the theft of ski equipment.

Each winter, thousands of dollars worth of ski equipment is stolen from ski hills in Washington County. The problem isn't limited to this area, either. Most, if not all, of these thefts could have been easily prevented. In most cases, according to Sheriff Clarence Schwartz, the victim allowed the theft to take place.

How does it happen? Some persons ignore locker facilities that are often provided, and instead choose to just leave their skis and poles propped against the chalet, while they go inside for refreshments. Others leave the equipment in plain view, in an unlocked vehicle. It only takes a few seconds for someone to remove the skis, bindings and poles.

How can this be prevented? Obviously, the first step is to be more careful with the equipment. Use locker facilities, if provided, or lock the equipment out of sight in your car, truck or van.

Keep a record of the serial numbers of the equipment. This information is valuable for law enforcement, in case the equipment is recovered. Your insurance company will also demand it. Be sure you also save the sales receipts.

"Some people think their equipment is disposable, because they'll just get an insurance payoff if its stolen," the Sheriff stated.

What is often forgotten is that insurance may not always pay the replacement value of the equipment, leaving you to pay the rest. There may also be a deductible, which you would also have to cover. It is a far better idea to prevent the theft from taking place.

50 Years Ago

January 1, 1937

As a climax to the mild, above freezing temperatures and heavy rainstorms of the past week in this vicinity, a severe, short but snappy windstorm accompanied the rain early Wednesday afternoon which did tremendous damage in numerous places. In this village a number of trees were uprooted and broken off, two of which, on the parochial school grounds snapped off simultaneously, being witnessed by this writer. In various buildings and business places a number of broken windows and doors were reported. Many smaller objects were given in to the wind, which lasted only a few minutes and vanished as suddenly as it arrived. The most serious damage reported was at the old Sebastian Pflum farm, several miles south of the village, where the bulk of the storm struck. On the farm, which is now being occupied by John Felten, a smoke house and shed were blown down, the barn doors were ripped from their foundations and were blown about, windows were broken in the house, and bricks were torn out of the side of the building and strewn about the premises. The car garage, which was also damaged, was completely lifted by the wind and completely so that it now rests at an angle from its original foundation. The weather during the past week has been most unusual for this time of year in Wisconsin.

EXTRA! As we go to press we receive the bulletin that Arnold Kohn, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kohn, of the Town of Kewaskum, died at St.

Catherine's Hospital, Kenosha, from injuries received at about 2:30 a.m. Thursday morning when the Kewaskum Creamery truck he was driving to Chicago crashed into a parked truck without lights south of Union Grove. A passenger, Herbert Backhaus, Jr. of this village, was also severely injured and is confined to the same hospital. Laborers worked three hours to remove the victims from the wreckage.

Two daring young men who must have been hard up for a ride or were in a hurry to get somewhere visited this village early last Sunday morning and made off with a milk truck and its contents, owned by Jos. Schoofs, local milkman, while it was parked on the street. Theo. Schoofs, who is employed by his father in the business, had parked the truck in front of the Ramthun Hardware store, while he carried the milk to the rear of the building. Upon coming back he saw two unknown men jump into his truck and drive away before he could attempt to stop them. He immediately notified Chief of Police Brandt who, in turn notified authorities in surrounding cities but to no avail. The truck was not recovered until Monday, when abandoned and milkless, it was found by a Milwaukee patrolman.

The new tavern and lunch room on Fond du Lac Avenue in this village, managed by Lester Dreher, which has been without a business name since its opening last summer received the title, "The Archway Cafe" in the contest which closed last week. Mrs. Edward Weddig of the village suggested the winning name.

Edward Petri, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Petri of Campbellsport, died December 28, in St. Joseph's Hospital, Milwaukee, after a short illness.

An esteemed resident of the Town of Farmington, Joseph Simon, 70, passed away in death on December 26 following an extended illness.

A 6½ pound baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stange of Beechwood on Christmas Eve. The mother is the former Irene Backhaus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Backhaus of this village. Congratulations are also in order to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peters of West Bend on the arrival of a baby boy on

Washington County UW-Extension Schedules Session for Pesticide Application Certification and Recertification

By Jack Trzebiatowski
UW-Extension
Agriculture Agent

Individuals that use restricted use pesticides need to be trained and certified before they can purchase or use these products. The Washington County UW-Extension office has scheduled a session for individuals that wish to be certified as private applicators of restricted use pesticides. The session will be held on two afternoons, January 13, and 14, 1987 from 1:00 - 4:00 p.m. It will be held in the basement meeting room of the Washington County Courthouse in West Bend. In order to receive certification, participants must attend both afternoons. Normally the pesticides certification is scheduled for a single day session from 9:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. This has been a problem for many farmers who have difficulty working this around their schedule.

The Environmental Protection Agency has recently classified additional pesticides as restricted use products. This will require more individuals to become certified in order to apply the products they need for their farming operation. Most of the corn root worm insecticides and some herbicides are now classified as restricted use products.

Individuals that plan on attending the certification program must register by January 6, 1987. Registration cost is $17.00 for the training materials and $3.00 for postage if the materials are mailed. This session will be for individuals in both Washington and Ozaukee county and registration can be made at either the Ozaukee or Washington County Extension Office.

Mushrooms Bake Along With Roast

Instead of something starchy, why not try luscious baked mushrooms with your next roast? They'll be less fattening—and they bake right at the same time. No watching necessary. Just place the rinsed mushrooms in a baking dish, dot with butter (you can decrease this or leave it out entirely if you're seriously dieting), add a squeeze of lemon juice and seasoning. Bake, covered, till tender and golden. The seasonings may be changed from dill to oregano or Italian seasoning, if you prefer. Microwave directions are included in the following recipe.

HERBED BAKED MUSHROOMS

- 1 pound fresh mushrooms
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon dill weed, crushed
- 1/2 teaspoon onion powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash ground black pepper

Preheat oven to 400° F. Rinse mushrooms and pat dry; set aside. Grease a shallow 1 quart baking pan. Place reserved mushrooms in pan. Dot with butter. Sprinkle with lemon juice, dill, onion powder, salt and black pepper. Cover and bake until mushrooms are tender and golden, about 20 minutes.

EYE DISORDERS IN CHILDREN

Does your child see as well as he or she should? It's hard for a parent to tell, since young children can't tell you and even if they can, they won't since they have probably been seeing that way all their life and have no way of knowing that what they see should be any different.

A child may be giving some clues that his vision is abnormal. Excessive rubbing of the eyes, shutting or covering one eye, difficulty with close work, frequent blinking, squinting or frowning, undue sensitivity to light, inflamed or watery eyes, recurring styes and itching and burning of the eyes may be signs of eye problems, and may indicate the need for an examination.

Waiting for these signs to develop isn't the best way for a parent to protect his child's eyesight. The best way to defend against serious vision impairment according to the National Society to Prevent Blindness, is to have a child's eyes examined shortly after birth and again by the age of four. Periodic eye examinations are recommended thereafter to make sure that both eyes are maintaining good vision.

Awareness of possible eye disorders in children emphasizes the need for early attention to prevent possible permanent visual damage.

Amblyopia or lazy eye is the condition that eye authorities are most concerned about because if it is not discovered and treated before the age of seven, it usually leads to permanent reduction of vision in the affected eye. It is often caused when one eye turns in or out while the other sees straight, so that a double image is sent to the brain. The child solves this confusion by ignoring the message from one eye, thus gradually weakening it through disuse. The usual treatment is to patch the good eye in order to force the use of the weaker one.

A related eye problem is strabismus or squint, when the eyes are not straight or properly aligned, but turn in (crossed eyes) or out (wall eyes), up or down. Strabismus may be due to birth injuries, heredity, faulty muscle attachments, excessive farsightedness, or certain illnesses. It cannot be outgrown, nor will it improve by itself. Treatment, directed toward straightening the eyes, can involve glasses, patching, eye drops, surgery and eye exercises, alone, or in combination.

Other conditions such as a myopia (nearsightedness), hyperopia (farsightedness) and astigmatism can also cause psychological and physical damage if not detected and treated at an early age.

Eye problems affect one in every 20 children between the ages of three and five. Early attention to your child's eyesight may help prevent problems later in life.

Winter Road Maintenance System Now Going Strong

Early ice and snow — and memories of winter past — have put the state Department of Transportation (DOT) winter highway maintenance system into full operation.

The snow removal priority system, in effect since 1974, is being continued this winter with few changes, says Robert Jack, district maintenance engineer for the eight-county southeast district headquartered in Waukesha.

During the 1986-87 winter maintenance season, about 1,200 miles of the busiest highways in the district are receiving priority road maintenance, with pavements being cleared of snow and ice as soon as possible after a storm. More than 650 of those miles are receiving top priority, around-the-clock maintenance, Jack says.

Steve Shober, DOT regional maintenance engineer, said a total of $24 million has been budgeted to clear ice and snow from the 11,950-mile state highway system this winter. In the event the budgeted figure is exceeded, necessary funds will be provided to maintain a constant level of service. Last year, winter road maintenance cost $30.5 million. In 1984-85, the total cost statewide was $23.2 million.

Motorists who'll travel southern Wisconsin for Christmas will be happy to hear of new weapons the DOT has in its snow-fighting arsenal.

There's "X-band radar," which has the edge on conventional radar for detecting approaching winter storms, Shober says. The DOT has purchased two X-band units, and will use them to supplement National Weather Service coverage. Snow clouds are often too low to be picked up by other types of radar. The X-band detects the low clouds, and helps users determine the speed and intensity of an approaching snowstorm. The department hopes to have the radar operational by year's end.

In the Waukesha and Madison areas, "pavement sensors" will be imbedded in roadways and bridge decks in early December. The sensors detect conditions at the pavement surface — temperature, presence of deicing chemicals, whether the surface is icing up. The information is relayed over telephone lines to the DOT's district maintenance offices, where decisions are made how to respond to the conditions.

Southbound US 14, from Madison to Oregon, will be the test site for a new deicer — calcium magnesium acetate. CMA is viewed as a possible alternative to salt, with potential for reduced corrosive and environmental impacts. Wisconsin is one of two states conducting a federally-sponsored study of CMA. Meanwhile, northbound US 14 from Oregon to Madison will be treated with salt.

Shober said county maintenance crews, who maintain the highways under contract to the state, were well prepared for this year's snowplowing, sanding and salting. County crews attended special maintenance training programs conducted by the DOT in the fall.

Other pre-season preparations included clearing side ditches, making shoulders smooth and flush with the pavement to assist snowplows, and erecting snow fences. Sand, salt, equipment parts and other supplies were stockpiled well in advance so that when the "crunch" comes, these items are ready to go.

To deter negative impacts on the environment, roads, bridges and autos, the counties calibrate their salt spreaders, applying just enough to ensure safe driving conditions, Shober says.

The DOT policy is that the orderly movement of traffic during a storm takes precedence over other operations. During severe storms, the district office and the State Patrol are authorized to close a highway and advise the public of the condition through news media and the statewide road report telephone system.

To receive up-to-date, statewide road condition information 24 hours a day, seven days a week, travelers from outside the Madison and Milwaukee areas, and from Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota and northern Illinois, can call a toll-free number: 1-800-ROAD-WIS (762-3947). The number to call in Madison is 266-7040 and in Milwaukee, 342-2211. The same recorded report is given on all three numbers.

In addition, the report is broadcast four times a day over Wisconsin public radio stations — hourly when bad driving conditions develop — and the National Weather Service's NOAA weather radio stations broadcast the report continuously in Wisconsin.

Following are the statewide snow removal priority classifications:

Class 1 Highways — 5,000 vehicles or more daily. There are 2,660 miles in the state, 661 miles in the district; receive around-the-clock service; bare pavement as soon as possible after storm; includes all Interstate highways.

Class 2 — 1,000 - 5,000 vehicles daily. There are 6,060 miles in the state, 612 miles in the district; receive reduced service between 8 p.m. and 4 a.m. on weekdays and all day Sunday; bare pavement as soon as possible after a storm.

Class 3 — Fewer than 1,000 vehicles daily. There are 2,660 miles in the state, 52 miles in the district; receive no service between 8 p.m. and 4 a.m. on weekdays and none on Sunday except to keep them passable in all types of storms; bare pavement near center of Highway sufficiently wide for traction in all types of storms, with full-width bare surface on hills, curves and intersections.

Win Consolation Honors With 1st Victory Indians Lose to Waupun, Beat Falls in Tourney

The Kewaskum Indians participated in the Cougar Holiday Basketball Tournament at Campbellsport over the weekend, together with one other team from the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, Sheboygan Falls, Waupun of the Little Ten Conference and host Campbellsport of the Flyway.

In the first game of the opening round at 6:30 p.m. Friday, the Indians, as expected, were defeated by a strong Waupun team, 89-66. The Warriors are 3-1 in the Little Ten and their victory over Kewaskum brought their overall season record to a glossy 8-2. In the other semifinal contest Friday, Campbellsport also advanced to Saturday evening's final by beating Sheboygan Falls' press and broke the game open with a number of backdoor baskets in the fourth quarter to tip the Falcons, 61-51.

After seven straight losses, the Indians came through with their first victory of the season Saturday evening when they downed Sheboygan Falls, 77-64, to top consolation honors in the tourney.

The Falcons had beaten Kewaskum in an earlier conference game. In the championship contest, Waupun coasted to a 66-51 victory over Campbellsport for the tournament title.

Waupun's full court press rattled the Indians as the Warriors cruised to their 89-66 win Friday. Dean Stelsel got the Warriors off to a fast start with eight points in the first quarter. Kevin DeBoer picked up six points off the Waupun press in the opening period.

Tim Bresser took up the scoring lead in the second half with eight points and scoring ace Corey Krohn helped polish off Kewaskum in the second half, in which Krohn scored 15 of his 21 points. Bresser led all scorers with 24 points, Stelsel adding 14 and Joe Ruppert 10. Mike Coulter paced the Indians with 17 points, followed by Rob Baitinger with 14, and Ted Anderson with 11.

The Warriors ran up a 24-10 lead over Kewaskum and then coasted to victory. The Indians couldn't sustain a drive, again playing well at times and then fading.

In their 77-64 win over Sheboygan Falls Saturday for the consolation title, the Indians trailed at the half, 38-33, but came back in one of their best performances of the season to pull out the victory. Five players scored in the third quarter to pull the Indians to a four-point, 55-51 lead.

Joel Fleury's hot streak of 10 points in the last quarter gave him a total of 26 for the night to top all scorers. Steve Johnson contributed 15 points, Coulter 14 and Anderson 11. Dave Aparicio and John Willadsen both scored 14 points for Falls, while Rammer had 12.

The Kewaskum JVs also lost their opening game in the JV tournament to Waupun, 55-43, while Campbellsport won over Sheboygan Falls, 74-43.

Campbellsport Coach, Teacher Larsen Resigns

Bob Larsen will resign his teaching and coaching duties at Campbellsport High School, effective at the end of the current school year.

Campbellsport athletic director Jerry Marking reported that no replacement has been named for Larsen, who has coached the Cougar varsity football team for the past four years and varsity girls basketball squad.

Campbellsport's football team finished with a 3-4 record in the Flyway Conference the past fall.

Previously, Larsen coached football at Hartford High School, where he had a number of championship teams, Carroll College and the University of Chicago. He presently resides in Hartford.

He said a lot of little things were involved in his decision. He hopes to land another coaching position somewhere else, possibly at a college level.
