Six Candidates for Village Board Election

McElhatton to Challenge Blumer for President's Seat In Spring Election

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

In a surprise move Tuesday, Trustee Tom McElhatton took out and returned nomination papers to run for the position of Kewaskum Village Board president.

McElhatton, whose term as trustee does not expire until next year, will be challenging Paul Blumer. Blumer was up for re-election as trustee this year but instead decided to run for president when incumbent president David Nigh announced last month he would not seek re-election.

With Blumer's bid for the top board job, his trustee's post along with those of incumbents Mary Krueger and Richard Schlice are up for grabs in this spring's election. Krueger and Schlice will be facing competition from newcomers Kenneth Bonlender and Charles Boegel since there are three seats open and four candidates in the running.

Bonlender of 1014 Edgewood Road, is employed by Mercury Marine, Fond du Lac. Boegel, 1438 Park View Drive, works for Regal Ware, Incorporated.

Should McElhatton win the post of president, his trusteeship would be vacant, necessitating either the appointment of someone to complete the unexpired portion of the term or a special election.

Tragedy Strikes Family Twice in Less Than a Month

New Fane Man Killed in Milwaukee Crash

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Donald Jenkins, 66, of 364 Highway S, New Fane, became Milwaukee County's first traffic fatality of 1987 when he died Thursday January 1st, of injuries sustained in a two-car accident in St. Francis.

Jenkins was taken to Trinity Memorial Hospital, Cudahy, where he died at 5:20 p.m., of abdominal injuries suffered in a collision in the 4100 block of South Kinnickinnic Avenue.

According to reports, Kurt Roessle, 19, of Burr Ridge, Illinois, was driving south on Kinnickinnic at 12:20 p.m., when another car unexpectedly cut in front of him. Roessle slammed on his brakes, spinning out of control on the rainsoaked pavement, ending up in the northbound lane.

According to reports, Jenkins' car rammed into Roessle's vehicle. Roessle was cited for driving too fast for conditions.

It was the second time in less than a month that tragedy struck the Jenkins family. On December 10th, Jenkins' wife Barbara died following a lengthy illness.

A complete death notice is included on another page.

Cablevision Rates Going Up

Village Property Tax Collections Ahead of 1986

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

As of January 2nd, the Village of Kewaskum had collected $487,000 in property taxes, exceeding 1986's figures for that same period by $80,000, said Administrator Dan Schmidt.

In comparing previous years during Monday night's Village Board meeting, Schmidt noted collections during the same time frame had run $407,000 in 1986, $266,000 in 1985, and $375,000 in 1984. He also noted the village had dropped from fourth to sixth place in a survey ranking municipality tax rates within Washington County.

In other business Schmidt told the board that Riverbend Cablevision would be increasing its rates as of February 1st, from $12.55 to $13.95 a month, a hike of 11.2%.

Schmidt also informed the trustees that the Village of Kewaskum, in a cooperative effort with the Historical Society, had received a plaque from the National Bicentennial Committee recognizing it as one of the first two hundred bicentennial communities to participate in plans to celebrate the 200th birthday of the U.S. Constitution.

In other action, Trustee Richard Schmidt, Chairman of the village's Library Committee and a newly appointed member of the Federated Library System Committee, advised the board that the new countywide library system has officially gone into effect. As of January 5th, said Schmidt, 101 cards for the new system had been issued by the village.

Schmidt said the village had also decided to participate in a book purchase program offered by the federated system. For a payment of $600, the village will be able to purchase $1,650 worth of books for the adult section of the library. He said the books would cover a wide range of subjects including both fiction and non-fiction. Schmidt

Tompkins Trailer Court Tenants To Hold Meeting

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Residents of the Tompkins Mobile Home Park in the Town of Kewaskum have scheduled a meeting for 2:00 p.m., Sunday, January 11, at Holy Trinity Church, to discuss the possibility of purchasing the property and forming some type of coop group to run the park.

Late last year owner Melvin Tompkins sent his tenants eviction notices informing them they would have to vacate by March 31, 1987. Several of the tenants have gotten together in informal meetings to consider the idea of purchasing the property and making the necessary septic service improvements that would be needed to keep the park open and operating.

Sunday's meeting will be aimed at looking at the possible purchase and some options including getting legal assistance, if the group decides to go ahead with plans to acquire the property.

7 Candidates Compete for 3 Posts

Primary Set for School Board Race

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Even though two of the three Kewaskum School Board incumbents have chosen not to seek re-election, there is an abundance of candidates, enough in fact, to require a primary election which has been set for Tuesday, February 17th.

Six of the seven names on the primary ballot should be familiar to the electors since they are all veteran campaigners, although not all have been successful in their efforts. Robert Schulte is will be the only newcomer to throw his hat into the political arena this year.

Of the three incumbents, board president Tom Brigham, Jean Goeden and Kim Peterson, only Goeden will be seeking re-election. Both Brigham and Peterson took out nomination papers but failed to return them by the 5:00 p.m. Tuesday deadline.

The balance of the challengers seeking a position on the Board of Education are former board members John Spoerl and Neal Weare who were both defeated in their bids for re-election along with Ronald Beimborn, Donald Nowak, and Ruth Schmitt who were also unsuccessful in their prior attempts to win a seat on the board.

With three positions open and seven candidates, only one individual will come out a loser in the primary. The remaining six candidates will move on to challenge each other in the April election.

Property Tax

told the trustees the purchase was a "good deal" since the village had spent over $2,700 on its own for books last year.

Public Works Superintendent Augie Bilgo informed the board that U.S. Sprint had told the village it will be laying an underground fiber-optic cable through the village along the railroad right-of-way from Milwaukee to Appleton. The work will include going under two crossings within the village but no trenching work would be involved.

Bilgo also advised the board that his department would be trenching out the shallower end of the ice skating pond in an effort to eliminate the recurring growth of cattails. He felt increasing the depth another four inches across the pond would solve the problem. Presently the shallow end is only four inches deep increasing to only 15-18 inches at the deepest end.

The board adopted the services of three men who are retiring from the Kewaskum Fire Department. They are Richard Boden with 25 years, Roger Strack 16 years, and Gregor Rohlinger 17 years.

The meeting was then adjourned.

Statesman Contributor Wins In State-Wide Photo Contest

Chuck Voge, a regular contributor to the Statesman, received word this week from Gary Knowles of the Wisconsin Department of Tourism, that one of his entries in the states 1986 photo contest was awarded one of the contests 39 first places. Chucks winning entry, a black and white photo of an abandoned machine shed taken through the window of another building on an abandoned Washington County farm, earned the photographer a weekend trip for two at the Radisson Hotel in Oshkosh, along with free admission to the EAA Museum, and a cruise for two on the Valley Queen Cruise boat.

The contest was sponsored to acquire photos for use in the "Escape To Wisconsin" promotion, as well as other state publications that are put out by both the Department of Natural Resources and Department of Development.

This year's contest generated over 3,400 entries from as far away as California, Florida and Arizona.

When asked to comment on what the award meant the most to him, Chuck said that "Having my work win with a panel of really knowledgeable judges such as these was worth more than any monetary rewards could be."

Judges for the contest were Ken Butts-Associate Creative Director for the Milwaukee advertising firm of Frankenberg, Laughlin and Constable, which serves as the Department of Development Advertising Agency; Don Magarin, Travel Editor of the Milwaukee Journal and Professor James Fosdick of Madison.

This is the second first place award that the beginning photographer has won in 1986 and at the Statesman, we wish Chuck continued success in his photographic endeavors.

WOOD STOVES

Babies and small children may have repeated coughs and colds when a wood-burning stove is installed. Stoves tend to produce more pollutant particles in room air than any other source. Tobacco smoke is a close second. Only complete removal of these sources of air pollution will relieve an infant suffering repeatedly with respiratory illness.

FFA Safety Calling Program

READ THIS AND WIN

In the following article the Kewaskum FFA will be giving all Kewaskum area residents some facts and data on Agriculture Youth Safety. Then, within the span of one month, members of Kewaskum FFA will be randomly calling area residents. We will ask a question concerning the information included in this article. If you can answer the question correctly you will be the winner of 2 lbs. of cheese. Read this information carefully and keep it by your phone. If an FFA member calls, you will have a certain amount of time to answer and win.

Registration will be in the local stores in the surrounding areas including Kennelly, Sentry & Valley Bank.

The Kewaskum FFA reminds YOU that SAFETY PAYS!

FACTS

Youth have important opportunities in agriculture. They are involved in a small percentage of the accidents occurring in farm work, but their safety is most important.

The first step in preventing accidents is to be able to recognize hazards and to know how to correct them.

Nearly 4 out of 5 agricultural accidents to youth, involve tractors and machinery. Approximately 3/4ths of these accidents involve tractors overturning or passengers falling off. Generally, 4 out of 5 "passenger" victims are under 16. Per hour driven, young people have 4 times more likelihood of an accident than do their parents when driving a tractor on public roads.

Here are some ideas that might help reduce these problems:

- Have a "tractor operator only" policy. Do not allow riders, especially on tractors not equipped with cabs having roll-over protective structures (ROPS).
- Youth should only drive tractors equipped with ROPS cab or a frame.
- Driving tractors on public roads should be done only after considerable field experience and after the person is licensed to drive.

A positive attitude towards accident prevention encourages the use of safety practice. Taking action according to knowledge, experience and judgment is a big step towards developing a positive attitude.

Positive attitudes are encouraged by specific instructions on what and how to do something. Negative attitude may develop when told, "don't do this" and "don't do that," or by simply being told to "be careful."

Federal regulations require that farm youths under 16 take a specific tractor operator program before they may operate a tractor for pay away from the home farm.

Safety training and education help people learn more quickly than do personal experiences. This is especially important to youth who lack personal experience yet require as much knowledge as an adult to operate farm machinery safely.

A primary form of protection is to assign youth only to those jobs they are physically and emotionally equipped to handle. Children under high school age rarely have the physical size and maturity of judgement to operate farm machinery without high risk of accident.

A second type of protection is to provide and require the use of equipment that reduces the amount of physical hazard from agricultural work. This type of protection includes:

- A ROPS cab or frame on the tractor
- Wearing acoustic ear muffs or ear plugs to protect their ears when working on noisy jobs.
- Wearing respirators to protect their lungs from dust or chemicals.
- Wearing gloves to protect their hands from cuts and burns.
- Wearing safety shoes to protect their toes and feet.
- Wearing a bump cap or hard hat to protect their head.
- Wearing goggles and face shields to protect their eyes and face.
- Young people who become accustomed to using protective equipment at an early age are likely to use this equipment the rest of their lives.

Men Need More Nutrition and Health Information

By Joyce Albrecht
Washington County
Extension Home Economist

Many men do not believe that changes in their lifestyle and eating habits can help prevent heart disease. That's one of the findings of a study of 800 Cooperative Extension Service consumers in Iowa.

The men in the study were less likely than women to agree that the risk of heart disease could be reduced by having a lean body, by limiting intake of foods with high amounts of animal fat, by increasing intake of polyunsaturated fats, or by eating low-sodium or low-salt foods.

However, both men and women agreed that the risk of heart disease could be reduced by exercising regularly and avoiding high cholesterol foods.

The findings of this study suggest that men, including those in Wisconsin, need more nutrition and health information. All individuals, men and women, should be taught the importance of and the links between nutrition, fitness and health.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services have outlined seven dietary guidelines to build a healthy diet (and help prevent heart disease and other chronic conditions). One of the dietary guidelines least understood by men is "avoid too much fat, saturated fat and cholesterol."

Most nutritionists recommend that Americans reduce their daily consumption of fat from the current average of 40% of their calories to between 30% to 35%.

Reducing the fat in your diet is an especially good idea if you want to lose weight. The fat in foods provides many calories but few vitamins and minerals.

So, you can eat less fat and fewer calories without reducing most other nutrients. She suggests 13 ways to avoid eating too much fat:

1. Steam, boil, or bake vegetables, or stir fry foods in a small amount of vegetable oil.
2. Season vegetables with herbs and spices instead of sauces, butter or margarine.
3. Drink skim or low-fat milk instead of whole milk; eat more low-fat cheeses.

4. Substitute blender-whipped low-fat cottage cheese, buttermilk and plain low-fat yogurt in recipes that call for sour cream or mayonnaise.

5. Choose lean cuts of meat. (They will probably be less expensive, too).

6. Trim fat from meat before and/or after cooking.

7. Roast, bake, broil or simmer meat, poultry and fish.

8. Skin poultry before cooking.

9. Cook meat or poultry on a rack so the fat will drain off. Use a non-stick pan for cooking, so you don't have to add any fat.

10. Chill meat or poultry broth to solidify fat and remove it before using the broth.

11. Try lemon juice on your salads or use limited amounts of oil-based salad dressing.

12. To reduce saturated fat, use margarine instead of butter in baked products and, when possible, use oil instead of shortening.

13. Limit egg yolks to one per serving when making scrambled eggs. Use additional egg whites for larger servings.

More tips for busy people on eating right and staying healthy can be found in the new Extension Bulletin, "Food for Working Families." It is available through the U.W. Extension Home Economist, P.O. Box 1986, West Bend 53095 or by calling the U.W. Extension Office at 338-4479; 644-5204 or 342-2929.

Brickle Announces Bid for Senate Seat

Fond du Lac County Register of Deeds, Mary A. Brickle, today announced her candidacy for the 18th District State Senate Seat being vacated by former State Senator Scott McCallum, who was recently elected Wisconsin's Lt. Governor.

A lifelong resident of Fond du Lac County, Brickle has served as Register of Deeds since January 1983. In addition to her background as an elected official, Brickle also has extensive business experience, serving for over 20 years as a bookkeeper and office manager for Brickle Distributing Company, Dickson Beverage and Anheuser-Busch, Inc., prior to being elected.

"Since being elected I have learned a tremendous amount about local government and the things that either make it work well or poorly," noted Brickle, "and I have learned how important it is in that regard for our area to be well represented in Madison, and I think I can do a good job in the State Senate."

Brickle said, "As a Register of Deeds I've had to implement a fair amount of legislation and I've seen what kinds of problems arise when legislators with less practical experience aren't able to envision the effects of the measures they pass or how the new laws will wind up being implemented." Brickle added, "I believe the insight I've gained working as Register would make me a more careful legislator and would help me to anticipate and to prevent these sorts of problems in advance of the passage of bills."

Brickle, a Democrat, is also running because, as she puts it, "I recognize this is a critical juncture for our state — perhaps a turning point." "There is a tremendous need right now for solid, effective leadership in our Legislature," she added, noting, "This Legislature will tackle a number of important issues that will shape our state's economy and affect our important industries, as well as issues concerning the future of our higher educational system, our income and inheritance tax climate and the way we fund local government services like public schools and county social services."

Brickle cites her over 20 years of experience in budgeting and in developing 5-year business plans as among her strengths. "My business experience has helped me to run a busy government office smoothly," the two-term Register of Deeds added.

A lifelong resident of Fond du Lac County, Brickle is a graduate of Fond du Lac St. Mary Springs High School and attended Marian College in addition to completing coursework at UW-Fond du Lac campus and the Moraine Park Technical Institute.

Brickle said that while she enjoys serving as Register of Deeds she feels the move to the Senate would provide her with a challenge and added, "I want to be part of the process of shaping state policy and decisions on things that affect people in a wider range of areas."

Brickle, 55, is the mother of seven children — Michael, Brian, Colleen, Mona, Sheila, Maureen, and Kyle. She resides at 374 Gillett Street in Fond du Lac.

Spring Semester Enrollment Likely to Hit New High at UWWC

WEST BEND - Spring semester enrollment appears likely to hit a new high this month at the UW Center-Washington County.

When the annual pre-Christmas registration of continuing (previously enrolled) students ended on Dec. 22, UWWC reported a record advance spring headcount of 557. The total is up 71 (15%) over the early-signup count for spring 1985 when an all-time second-semester high of 711 students were on hand.

According to Mike Murphy, director of student services at UWWC, the heavy advance registration has resulted in the early filling of 15 of the 101 courses being offered this spring. He said additional class sections may be added for some courses when students register on Jan. 14, 15 and 20.

Murphy said continuing students are permitted to register first to assure them of an opportunity to get all the courses they need during their freshman and sophomore years. He said, "A student who comes here is guaranteed to get the courses he or she wants over a two-year period."

The student services director said he cannot explain why advance registration drew such long lines of students in December. He said he suspects that as the lines grew, students became afraid certain classes might close and joined in the lines.

Courses closed by Dec. 22 (with their enrollments) are:

- Astronomy 100 (50),
- Chemistry 155 (48),
- Communications 101 (29),
- Communications 103 (58),

Letters to the Editor

Letter To The Editor:
Kewaskum Statesman
Kewaskum, Wisconsin

Is it possible our concerns regarding Wayne School are about to be addressed? Our school board and administration seemed to be dragging their feet regarding D.P.I.'s recommendation to close Wayne. Now however, is the time for them to act. If they have any sense of fiscal responsibility, they certainly will not throw away $10,000-$40,000 for a new well and correction of the asbestos problem at Wayne. At worst they should not be spending any more than the $40 per week for drinking water. The obvious solution is to close Wayne immediately and transport the children to Kewaskum Elementary just as D.P.I. has recommended. The savings, as with Beechwood should be substantial. Not only would there be savings in no longer having to manage the building, but also transportation savings, savings in salaries of not only support staff but teachers as well, etc.

Taxpayers, "Do you realize we may be looking at a $100,000 decision." I encourage all taxpayers to attend the next board meeting to ensure a correct, to sound, responsible decision is made in this situation.

Name Withheld

Editor of the
Kewaskum Statesman:

This is an open letter to the residents of the Kewaskum School District.

This week marks the beginning of the campaign for election to the Kewaskum School Board. It could be a long, negative campaign if all candidates don't make a commitment to be positive, upbeat, and progressive.

As a candidate for reelection, I will do my part to keep the campaign on a positive note.

I have worked with some of the other candidates, both professionally and socially, and feel that although we may disagree on some issues, we have enough respect for each other to let the issues guide the campaign and to communicate in a reasonable manner.

I am looking forward to a positive, progressive campaign that addresses the educational issues facing the Kewaskum School District. After all, our children are our most precious resource.

Gentlemen:

My family has been reading your paper for as long as I can remember, so thought you might be interested to know that my Uncle, Alex J. (Ollie) Marx, passed away Dec. 18th at 93 years of age.

He was born in New Fane in 1893 to John and Barbara (nee lang) Marx, a twin to my mother, Frances, and the youngest of a family of nine children.

Their parents owned and operated the general store in New Fane. Their father was postmaster and held several minor political appointments in the county.

While the twins were very young, their mother passed away, so their father and older brothers and sisters were faced with bringing up the younger children.

The twins were about fifteen when another blow struck the family, their beloved father passed away suddenly two days before Christmas. This would be about 1908. By this time two of the brothers had left home, the eldest, William, to Alaska where he spend the rest of his life, and John who made his home here in Seattle, Washington.

After much urging and many letters from John, the acting head of the family, Anton, married his childhood sweetheart, Annie Krueger, sld the family, Annie and moved his brothers and sisters west. They all lived in Seattle and were always a very close knit family.

As a young man, my Uncle worked as a salesman in a men's hat store, so before long he owned and operated two hat stores of his own here on Second Avenue. The above letterhead is from his last store which he closed about 1960 and retired.

He never did marry, and has lived with his twin, my mother Frances, for about the last twelve years. My mother is now the last surviving member of that Marx clan that moved west. He will be greatly missed by his sister plus many nieces, nephews and a host of friends.

Very Truly Yours
Norman E. Jordan
A Nephew

Dear Editor:

Ordinarily, I would not consider the procedures within a private institution a matter for the public, but since others have seen fit to bring it up, then the letter regarding "New Creation" in the January 2nd edition of the Statesman fairly begs for clarification.

Presentation, discussion and review were mentioned. Not mentioned was the very important fact that all the important decisions were made ahead of time. This is in direct conflict with the authors of this course and with others involved with this type of education. "The duty to involve the parents from the very beginning in the development of the program, the choosing of materials, the choice of staff..." (Program Manual p.20) was ignored. How many parent couples representing the highest standards of the local Roman Catholic community were involved? None!

What about shock tactics? What is being given to the children is "shocking" and those who give it are using "tactics." We who are entitled to true Catholic teaching have been giving you the facts from the very books intended for our children.

The parents of Holy Trinity students have the right to expect the re-inforcement of traditional Christian and Roman Catholic values and morals which we instill in our homes.

There are those who think this course will help them with their responsibilities. That kind of help can be obtained privately. Are they less embarrassed by their personal difficulties if these are aired in a classroom of other's children? Do they assume that their difficulty in some area of family living is my problem also? I would resent that assumption. Secure people do not need and must not allow the use of classroom time to discuss matters of a personal nature.

To state that only one family objected to the program is false, as many of your readers know.

Friday, Jan. 9, 1987, Kewaskum Statesman, Page 9

The community should know that approval was obtained by heavily disguised press. Quite a few parents that I talked to said they didn't like what was going on but were made to feel that they were the only ones that felt that way.

Parents were asked to sign a consent form for this course. Do we sign a slip so our children can take math, reading or social studies? Parents' special permission has been required for field trips, sports participation, kitchen duty and other activities in which the student could be physically harmed, and our signature released the school from responsibility. Signing for a classroom course seems strange. There is a great potential for not only physical but also for mental and spiritual harm. This must certainly be known by those who introduced this program. The harm may not show for years but when it does, the school will have your signed consent.

Sincerely,
Laurence Dirmeier

Attention: Kathryn J. Sweet,
Chairperson

Dear Board Members,

I am writing this letter to you in protest to the proposed elimination of the summer programs at Moraine Park Technical Institute. I have a three-fold interest in this issue; first as a taxpayer, second as a parent and lastly as an employer.

As a taxpayer, I am concerned that although MPTI claims that it is forced to shut down the summer programs due to escalating costs and budget restrictions, I am certain that my taxes is inevitable, why must MPTI still be forced to cut services? My question, Is someone mismanaging these allocated funds?

As a parent, I was assured that my daughter would have 72 consecutive weeks of instruction (excluding, of course, holidays and semester-end inservices). I am sure that my daughter will be losing much needed income-potentially five to ten thousand dollars if her graduation date and the start of her apprenticeship are delayed for three months. In addition, she will become a productive taxpaying member of our community three to six months later due to this delay. Furthermore, I cannot stress enough the importance of instructional continuity, especially in a trade and technical school which MPTI certainly is. This continuity would be disrupted at least twice in a standard two year program if MPTI eliminates its summer instruction.

Finally, my concerns as an employer. I am certainly in the unique situation to be both a parent of and an employer of MPTI students. The Machine Tooling Technics program at MPTI is training for the tool and die industry. My corporation operates a full twelve months each year, non-stop. We are currently short of tool makers in our trade, and with the elimination of the summer programs, you are forcing employers to wait even longer for qualified apprentices. I will need to hire an apprentice in early fall of 1987. My daughter's current graduation date is set for November of 1987. Now, you are asking me to wait until February of 1988 to hire her as an apprentice in my company?

It is my suggestion that MPTI explore other viable alternatives to solve the financial problems currently plaguing them. I sincerely hope that you will consider the concerns I have voiced and resolve to continue the summer instruction at MPTI. This is certainly in the best interests of everyone concerned.

Sincerely,

Kenneth A. Quevy

Area Bridal Couples Eligible For Fairytale Wedding

Brides to be — is your future husband a real storybook prince? Do you dream of a fairytale wedding? How about seven bridal attendants with names like Dopey, Sneezzy and Grumpy?

One lucky Milwaukee area couple will have the unusual opportunity to be married during an actual performance of Holiday On Ice's newest family entertainment extravaganza, "Walt Disney's World On Ice starring Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." The show, which brings to life Walt Disney's most beloved fairytale classic, opens at Milwaukee's Mecca Arena on Thursday, Jan. 22 for 19 dazzling performances through Sunday, Feb. 1.

The Snow White tale will take on a new happily-ever-after ending at 1:00 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 23 when the ice show's finale will be interrupted by an announcement that a real wedding will take place.

Mickey Mouse will give away the bride, Snow White will be the maid of honor, and the Handsome Prince will be best man. All seven dwarfs — Dopey, Sneezzy, Doc, Bashful, Happy, Sleepy and Grumpy — will be special guests and a religious or civic official of the couple's choice will conduct what is certain to be one of the most unusual wedding ceremonies ever performed. The bridal couple will receive 50 complimentary front-row tickets for their families and friends.

The couple will be selected based on the best written response to the statement, "We deserve a real fairytale wedding because..." The contest is being co-sponsored by Walt Disney's World On Ice and WMIL Radio. Applicants should send their replies to Fairytale Wedding, c/o Walt Disney's World On Ice, 5225, N. Ironwood Rd., Suite 200, Milwaukee, WI 53217; or c/o WMIL-FM, 12100 W. Howard, Greenfield, WI 53288. Responses must be received no later than Wednesday, Jan. 14.

The ice spectacular, a celebration of the 50th anniversary of Disney's "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," features world-class figure skating, lavish costumes, fanciful sets, dazzling special effects, and musical favorites like "Heigh Ho, Heigh Ho," "Someday My Prince Will Come" and "Whistle While You Work."

4-H Becoming More Popular Among Urban Youth

Wisconsin 4-H's latest enrollment statistics show an interesting trend: Overall membership is up, and urban and suburban membership continues to surpass that from farms and small towns.

Enrollment in 4-H now stands at 142,588, an increase of 52 percent since 1980. Most other youth organizations have been losing members during this time, according to JoAnn Gruber-Hagen, University of Wisconsin-Madison extension youth specialist.

Part of the increase comes from the populations traditionally served by 4-H — the farm youth, up 3 percent, and rural non-farm youth, up 20 percent. This has occurred despite the decrease in farm and rural populations.

Urban and suburban enrollment, however, has been increasing more rapidly; it's up 116 percent since 1980. This means 4-H is increasingly appealing to youth from large population centers, says Gruber-Hagen.

Even though total membership has increased, year-round participation, as measured by membership in clubs, has decreased 14 percent. Short term participation, as evidenced by enrollment in special interest groups, is up 171 percent.

Gruber-Hagen says this trend mirrors changes in society over the period. "In society, we have witnessed trends towards shorter term commitments."

This does not mean members are less active. Special projects are usually very intensive, meeting more frequently than clubs and often covering the same curricular, she says.

Also reflecting social trends is the 100-percent increase in enrollment in the physical fitness area.

Although enrollment in long-term projects has declined overall by 33 percent, some project areas have experienced an increase. Plant and soil science (both agricultural production areas) and natural science projects are up. Project areas defined as production agriculture, such as dairy, beef, chickens, rabbits, crops and gardening, have seen a 15-percent enrollment increase. Gruber-Hagen attributes part of this increased popularity to backyard gardens and rabbit hutches kept by urban and suburban members.

Involvement in community service projects is up 300 percent. Gruber-Hagen says this means 4-H has been successful in instilling the ethic of providing for community welfare. "This is a 300-percent increase of concern for others," she says. "It speaks well for the type of leadership we have."

One area of dramatic decrease is in public speaking projects. Gruber-Hagen says speaking contests have been on the wane for years, but this doesn't mean informal oral communication training is declining. Dairy judging, being an officer and being a leader all require one to stand up and orally present information.

"The age distribution of 4-H members does not hold a lot of surprises," Gruber-Hagen says. The break point is at high school. Enrollment grows fairly strong through ages 13 and 14, levels off, then declines.

The big increase over the last six years has been in the youngest groups. A lot of these kids are targeted by short term projects, especially those at the Milwaukee Zoo and the Wehr Nature Center in Milwaukee.

Gruber-Hagen says the drop off as members age is due to competing activities and part-time jobs. "For younger kids, there are fewer competing activities, such as church, school and scouts," she says. "As they get into junior high and high school, school activities take off and they start getting employed. But, they are still getting a social experience in educational environment."

The Kewaskum firemen were called out last Thursday to extinguish a roof fire at the Leo Zehren farm home at Route 3, Campbellsport, located west of St. Kilian. The blaze, believed to have started from sparks from a chimney, burned a hole several feet in diameter in the southeast corner of the roof of the home. The fire had a pretty good start before it was noticed. When firemen arrived members of the Zehren family and neighbors had the blaze fairly well under control by dousing it with buckets of water.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Giese, Route 1, Theresa, announce the engagement of their daughter, Vernice, to Richard Roesel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gregor Heimermann, Route 1, Campbellsport. Richard is now serving with the 32nd Division at Fort Lewis, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ehnert, New Fane, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Ann, to Homer Justman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Justman, Route 2, Kewaskum.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Liermann, Sr. of Beechwood, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharon June, to Pvt. Ronald D. Geidel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Geidel of Fredonia.

On Christmas Eve, Mr. and Mrs. Werner Johann, Route 4, West Bend, announced the engagement of their daughter, Kathy, to David Mertzig, son of Mrs. Leona Mertzig, Route 1, Kewaskum.

On Christmas Day, Mr. and Mrs. Gregor Weis, Route 3, Campbellsport, announced the engagement of their daughter, Doris, to Willard Rusch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rusch, West Bend.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Fellenz, Route 1, Kewaskum, announce the betrothal of their daughter, Marilyn, to Leroy J. Heimermann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Heimermann, Route 3, Campbellsport.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Roger Schleif, Route 3, Campbellsport, on December 28, and to Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Thull, Route 1, Kewaskum, on December 28. Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. William Seefeldt, Kewaskum, on December 29, and to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ruplinger, Route 1, Allenton, on December 31.

Due to the rain and sleet all night Thursday which froze and coated electric lines with ice, a number of the overweighted wires in this community cracked to the ground and the current was shut off almost all day Friday by the Wisconsin Gas and Electric Company while the lines were being repaired in slow order.

An alarm of fire was sounded in the village last Tuesday morning, when a milk truck owned by Darwin Perkins started to burn while parked in the rear of his home on Main Street. Mr. Perkins was getting ready to make his regular trip to Chicago and had left the engine running in order to warm it up, while he went into the house for breakfast. During that time the cab backfired and set fire to the carburetor enveloping the truck in flames. Prompt work by Mr. Perkins and the Kewaskum Fire Department extinguished the fire before serious damage was done.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Chesak of West Bend announce the engagement of their twin daughters, Rosalie and Loretta; Miss Rosalie to Charles Klumb and Miss Loretta to Armond Schaefer. Both of the young men are Kewaskum residents and are employed at the L. Rosenheimer Store.

The engagement of Miss Doris Hartmann of Random Lake and Ernie Pomahoc of West Bend has also been announced. Mr. Pomahoc's home is in Fillmore and he is employed as office man for the West Bend Lithia Co.

The local milk dealers have now decided to change the price of milk from 7 cents to 8 cents instead of nine as announced last week. Due to the increase of everything entering into the production of milk, this move was found necessary. Milk is now 8 cents per quart.

Death struck a very unwanted blow in the village January 2, when it claimed William F. Schultz, beloved and esteemed businessman at his home after having been ailing for the past 14 months, following a stroke.

A baby boy was born to Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Graf of Wayne on December 24.

The newly elected officers of the Young People's society of the Peace Ev. Church were installed Monday evening as follows: President, Howard Schmidt; vice-president, Mona Mertes; secretary, Patricia Buss; treasurer, Charlotte Romaine.

Up to the present time the records for cold weather and snowstorms for the winter have been broken. On last Saturday morning the mercury fell to 26 below zero. The snow on Monday brought milder weather, which ended with a severe blizzard and colder weather. This blizzard was the worst experienced here for ten years. Trains on Tuesday were stalled, roads were blockaded and mail carriers were unable to cover their routes. Passenger train No. 117 due here at 6:10 was stalled in a snow drift a short distance this side of Campbellsport for over 20 hours. The cold weather connected with this blizzard made it so much the worse. Drifts of 12 feet high could be seen on all roads.

Mrs. Martin Leonard died at her home 1½ miles west of St. Kilian last Thursday morning at the age of 87 years.

Mrs. Anna Emmer, age 82 years, died at the home of her son William 2½ miles south of St. Kilian last Wednesday.

Farm Programs at UW Extension

By Jack Trzebiatowski
Washington Co. Ag Agent

Did you make a profit in your farm business in 1986? Where is your business going in 1987? Have you planned the financial and personal objectives of your business for the upcoming year?

These may be difficult questions to answer without spending some time taking a look at what you and your farm business have achieved in the past year and are planning for the next year.

The Washington County U.W. Extension Office has planned a series of programs to help address the above questions. The programs will be held on Wednesday afternoons starting January 21 and concluding February 18. All sessions will be at the Washington County Courthouse from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. Registration cost is $10.00 per family.

The programs will combine informational discussions and workshops. Farm families are encouraged to attend as a family unit (husband and wife or partners and spouses).

Participants will progress through a series of steps to: analyze their farm business; determine personal and business goals and objectives; prepare financial statements for lenders; evaluate debt repayment schedules; evaluate your costs of production; prepare cash flow projections and be prepared to meet with your lender.

Further information and registration forms are available from the U.W. Extension Office at 338-4477; 644-5204 or 342-2929.

NEWS EXTRA

Study Finds 19-Year Drinking Age Reduced Teenage Alcohol Related Crashes

Although Wisconsin's age 19 drinking law came and went in a little over two years, it was effective in reducing alcohol-related crashes among young drivers.

The one-year hike in the legal drinking age, combined with the provision requiring absolute sobriety of drivers under age 19 was in effect from July 1, 1984 until Sept. 1, 1986, when the minimum drinking age was raised to 21. The absolute sobriety requirement remains in effect for drivers under the age of 19.

The effectiveness is the conclusion of a study which the state Department of Transportation delivered to the state Legislature, in response to a requirement written into the law that the DOT do a before and after evaluation of the effects of raising the drinking age from 18 to 19 and the effects of absolute sobriety requirement on crashes, arrests, and border hopping by drivers too young to legally drink in their home states. At the time Wisconsin adopted the 19-year drinking age, Illinois and Michigan both had 21 minimum ages, while Iowa and Minnesota permitted people to drink at age 19. Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin all raised their drinking ages to 21 in 1986.

The before-and-after study compares statistics from 1980-84 with the 26-month period that the law was in effect. It found that the overall accident rate for all drivers increased 6 percent after the age 19 law, while the accident rate for 18- and 19-year-old drivers increased by 7 and 11 percent respectively.

During the same time periods, the alcohol-related accident rate for all age groups dropped 24 percent in the post-19 period, but the alcohol-related accident rate among drivers under the age of 19 dropped 47 percent.

The report cautions that interpretation was more difficult because the age 19 law went into effect in mid-year and a "grandfather" provision that permitted drivers who had already turned 18 to continue to drink legally.

During the first year, the 18-year-olds who could not legally drink had an alcohol-related accident rate that was 52 percent less than the 18-year-olds who could legally drink. The 18-year-olds who were too young to drink were involved in alcohol-related accidents involving injuries and deaths at a rate that was 46 percent less than the 18-year-olds who could legally drink.

The study noted that border hopping is declining among all age groups, but at an accelerated rate for those affected by the 19 year old drinking age.

NATIONAL BICENTENNIAL WRITING CONTEST

As we enter the new year, our Nation is also preparing to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the Constitution. In honor of this event, the Commission on the Bicentennial of the Constitution is holding a writing competition.

Writing on the theme "The Constitution: How Does the Separation of Powers Help Make It Work?" high school students in each state can win prizes of $250, $500, or $1000 and an all-expense paid trip to Washington, D.C. One national winner will receive $10,000 in cash.

The essay contest is one of the many national, state, and local activities planned to commemorate the 200th birthday of the Constitution. The Commission has already given official recognition to other activities ranging from antique shows to scholarly research papers. Plans are also underway to hold the first-ever meeting of Congress outside the seat of government, in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on July 16, 1987. The meeting will commemorate the "Great Compromise" in which Constitutional Convention delegates agreed to a bicameral legislature in order to meet the representation concerns of both small and large states.

I encourage all high school students to reflect on the significance of the Constitution and participate in the Commission's National Bicentennial Writing Competition.

All essay contest entries must be received by the Commission by April 15, 1987. Students interested in participating should contact their high school principals or write for further information to: National Bicentennial Writing Competition, P.O. Box 50184, Washington, D.C. 20004-0184.

If you want information on other events relating to this celebration contact: Commission on the Bicentennial of the Constitution, 736 Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20503, (202)-653-9800.

Non-student volunteers are welcome in VITA, she said, adding: "A little accounting experience is helpful." For more information, contact Prasad at UWWC, 338-5228.

UWWC's involvement in VITA began as the result of an IRS request for assistance. Prasad sees real values for participating students, such as a chance to work with professional accountants and a headstart on tax work. In the January training, she said, volunteers "will be learning most of the things they will be getting on taxes in advanced courses."

Student reactions to the program have been positive, Prasad said. "They like the training even though it's hard work."

Their only complaint is the low turnout of people seeking assistance. "We have a good bunch of students who want to get involved," Prasad said. "It would be nice if people showed up so they can show what they've learned."

The 1987 student volunteers come from six county communities. They are: GERMANTOWN: Todd Carlson, N109 W15744 Prophet Court.

HARTFORD: Steven J. Indermuehle, 521 Wheelock.

HUBERTUS: Tom Kosyoszk, 1127 Woodside Lane; Debbie Kescenovitz, 1262 Tally Ho Trail.

KEWASKUM: Mike Fultz, 5245 Sunset Drive; Judy Schuh, 2039 Whitewood Drive; Rick Steiner, 8677 Kettleview Drive.

SLINGER: Kim Fassbender, 211 Maple Court; Jeff Klippel, 114 Oakview Dr.

WEST BEND: Denise Ackley, 1217 N. 9th Avenue; Patricia Adelmeier, 1017 Grant Place; Dan Heider, 1254 Park Avenue; Bill Laufer, 815 Hwy. 33 East; Peggy Maney, 530 Poplar Street; Roy Peterson, 1168 Hwy. A; Julia Plasky, 7579 Bavarian Lane; Monty Shaw, 1145 Kinross Court; Pat Tamayo, 222 Linwood Terrace; Linda Wanta, 602 S. 7th Avenue; Paul Wilke, 1947 Birch Terrace.

Cablevision Announces Reduction in Charge For Premium Channel

River Bend Cablevision announces an $8.00 reduction in the monthly charge for its fourth premium channel option. What was offered as Select TV for $17.95 a month has now become SHOWTIME for $9.95 a month.

Starting Feb. 1, the new monthly rate for basic service becomes $13.95. River Bend Cablevision offers 31 basic channels and 4 premium channels. The HOME SHOPPING CLUB was the most recent addition to the basic channel lineup.

Customers were notified of the pending rate change in their billing rate. River Bend Cablevision serves almost 6000 customers in West Bend, Jackson, and Kewaskum.

UWWC Business Students to Assist Low-Income Residents With Tax Forms

WEST BEND — Low-income Washington County residents, who need help filling out their 1986 tax forms, can find 19 pairs of helping hands at the UW Center — Washington County.

For the third straight year, a group of UWWC business and economic students have volunteered to be trained and give time to the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program of the Internal Revenue Service.

According to Sarada Prasad, assistant professor of business at UWWC, the program has proved helpful to elderly, non-English speaking and handicapped individuals.

Volunteer training sessions are set for Jan. 19, 20 and 21 at UWWC. IRS officials will instruct students on the preparation of simple tax returns. "The learning is very intensive," Prasad said.

From Feb. 1 through April 15, students will be available for two hours, one night a week, at the West Bend Community Memorial Library and UWWC to provide tax assistance. With 19 volunteers, no one should have to put in more than one or two weeks' work, Prasad said.

Highway 45 Bypass Saves Time

With the completion of the Highway 45 Bypass, local residents are able to travel between West Bend and Milwaukee in less time. Despite problems with the two-lane nature of the new bypass, the lack of cross-traffic and the avoidance of winter snow drifting are improvements over the old road. Sheriff Clarence Schwartz provides these tips to drivers:

*Yield the right-of-way to vehicles already on the highway when entering the highway. "The bypass is not four lanes wide and divided, like a freeway. Vehicles on the highway cannot pull over and let you in. You must yield the right-of-way, and if that means having to stop at the end of the ramp until traffic clears, then so be it," the Sheriff remarked.

*Don't pass illegally. "It's hard to imagine anything more dangerous than passing on a hill, curve, or where visibility is otherwise obstructed. The same is true for taking a gamble and passing when there is oncoming traffic," the Sheriff observed.

"No passing" zones are clearly marked with solid yellow centerlines and yellow pennants. It is also illegal to pass into oncoming traffic or on the shoulder. Further, the entire pass must be in the legal zone. If you start to pass in a legal zone and then enter a "no passing" zone, you are in violation of the law, and of course, in a dangerous situation.

*Drive the speed limit. Excess speed is a factor in many accidents. The bypass deserves the respect of being driven on at no more than 55 mph. "If conditions warrant, such as traffic congestion or bad weather, then drive less than that," the Sheriff stated.

Sheriff's squad cars, both marked and unmarked, make regular checks of the bypass, and radar is used with regularity. "We are not trying to terrorize people. The bypass is a subject of concern because of its two-lane construction, and because of drivers who are not obeying traffic laws," said Schwartz.

...about your Social Security

By David Becker, Social Security Branch Manager in West Bend

MEDICARE HOSPITAL INSURANCE DEDUCTIBLE INCREASED FOR 1987

The Medicare hospital insurance deductible, the amount a Medicare hospital patient is responsible for when he or she first receives inpatient services in a benefit period, has been increased to $520 in 1987. The 1986 deductible was $492.

Also increased are the per-day amounts patients are responsible for after specific lengths of stay in a hospital or skilled nursing facility. After 60 days of inpatient care in a hospital during a benefit period, Medicare will pay for all covered costs except $130 a day.

The 1986 figure was $123. For each reserve day, Medicare will pay for all covered costs except $260 a day. The 1986 figure was $246.

After 20 days of care in a skilled nursing facility, Medicare will pay for all covered costs except $65 per day. The 1986 figure was $61.50.

The basic monthly premium for Medicare medical insurance will be $17.90, an increase of $2.40 over the 1986 figure of $15.50. Some people will pay more than this rate because there were periods they could have had this protection but did not.

The monthly premium for hospital insurance for people who are not otherwise eligible will be $248 in 1987. The 1986 figure was $214.

The medical insurance annual deductible will remain $75, unchanged from 1986.

4th Quarter Fatal For Lakes Team

By Bob Pick II

Despite losing its third game in a row, the Kewaskum Land O' Lakes basketball team is confident that better days are ahead. After dropping contests to the Menomonee Falls Badgers and Oconomowoc last month, Kewaskum lost a heartbreaker to Cedarburg, 128 to 123, here last Sunday.

Kewaskum charged out to a 38-27 advantage after the first quarter and held a slim 66-63 lead at halftime.

After three quarters, Kewaskum still had a 95-93 edge. Cedarburg outscored Kewaskum 35 to 28 in the fourth to notch its third win in as many outings this season.

Leading the way for Kewaskum were Steve Albinger with 29 points, Leon Laatsch with 26 and Tim Wagner had 21. Cedarburg's top scorers included Rob Sutherland, a 1977 UW Platteville grad, and Grafton's Scott Murray with 36 and 34, respectively.

"It was unfortunate that we had to lose like that, but we played a good game," Manager Bill Backhaus said. "We were down by four points midway through the fourth quarter, but we came back strong and almost won."

Kewaskum is idle next Sunday, but will host Port Washington (0-3) on the evening of January 18th at 7 p.m.

Unbeaten Cedarburg (3-0) travels to Menomonee Falls this coming Sunday to battle Falls Hebring Hotel (4-0) in a game between the only two teams who remain without a loss.
