Candidates Draw Primary Ballot Positions Some School Board Members Not Happy With Policy Book Job Descriptions

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Four members of the Kewaskum School Board voiced their concerns by voting against policy book job descriptions for the positions of Director of District Audio-Visual Services, District Librarian, Building Media Specialist, and District Reading Specialist during Monday night's meeting.

Board member Ron Theusch told other members, his concern was not with the positions but rather the fact that the policies seemed to be forming another level of authority. In the descriptions, the individuals would be reporting to Director of Instruction Julie Backus who would then report to District Administrator Penny Kleinhans, rather than the individuals reporting directly to Kleinhans.

Theusch asked the board, when we approved the Director of Instruction position did we plan to add another level of administration, I didn't.

Board member Perry Ankeron who also voted against the policies said, "I tend to agree with Ron." I would like to see an organizational chart before approving these descriptions, noted Ankeron. Board member Ralph Horner, who cast a third 'no' vote, told the board, "I have trouble putting these positions into the policy book. I think they're all very open-ended and we could, in effect, be putting in four more full-time positions. Clara Trapp indicated she too, was against the policies.

Policy Committee Chairperson Jeanne Goeden asked if the board wanted to send the policies back to committee. The consensus was yes, for the purpose of having an organizational chart developed which would more clearly define the chain of command and which could be brought back to the board for review.

The board did approve policies concerning school district philosophy and revising the Kindergarten class hours to meet state requirements. The committee has scheduled its next meeting for February 16, at 6:00 p.m.

The board approved the Finance-Transportation-Buildings and Grounds Committee's recommendation to proceed with the necessary wiring to correct electrical problems in the high school Home Ec room.

Business Manager Cherna Gorder presented the Finance

Committee's recommendation for the purchase of a school telephone system which would replace leased services. The board approved the low quote of General Telephone to furnish the system at a cost of $14,999, to be purchased outright by amendment of the budget which would reduce the district's fund equity.

Gorder noted there were two other options for paying for the system, using money from the State Trust Fund, or purchasing on time from General Telephone at an interest rate of 12%. Kleinhans said she was reluctant to use the Trust Fund until the status of the Wayne well was resolved.

The board also approved leasing a West Bend telephone line for a six-month trial period in a move to try and reduce toll charge costs.

The next meeting of the Finance committee was set for January 26, at 7:00 p.m.

The board approved the purchase of a new 46.6 cubic foot refrigerator for the high school at a cost of $1,921, with money coming from the Food Service Fund for the equipment. Buildings Superintendent Fred Boehlke said the present unit, which was transferred from Beechwood Elementary, had compressor and line leaks and repairs were estimated at well over $600. Because of the unit's age, he felt the repairs were too costly.

The district's new part-time Social Worker, Mary Schuster, gave a report on the Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse Committee and its member appointments. Goeden agreed to serve as board representative after Trapp declined to serve on the committee.

Trapp questioned the holding of committee meetings during school hours. She asked who would replace teachers when they had to leave their classes to attend the AODA meetings. Board president Tom Brigham said substitute teachers would be required. Trapp inquired whether it would not be better to hold meetings after school hours. Brigham indicated that the teachers might then want adjustments in their contracts if they're expected to attend meetings outside of the normal school schedule. Either way, there will be a cost to the district, noted Brigham.

On an agenda item concerning Mrs. Trapp's rebuttal to another board member's comments, Brigham said that because there was continuing correspondence between Trapp's attorney and that of another individual who was not in attendance at the meeting on the advice of her attorney, he felt there should not be any board discussion until the matter had been resolved. In reply to a request from the West Bend News for a copy of a letter addressed to Brigham related to the incident, Brigham said the district's lawyer Michael Spector had determined it was part of a closed session meeting and therefore, was not for public release.

Trapp said she still wanted to defend herself against Mr. Peterson's accusations during a December board meeting. Trapp read the following statement. "At the December Board meeting, Mr. Peterson accused me of discussing School

Board Looking Into Procedures To Save Wayne School Well

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum School Board received some information regarding the fate of the Wayne School well Monday night, which has the potentiality of being very good news if things work out.

Just as the board was about to make a decision on hiring a firm to drill a new well, board member Clara Trapp asked the members to hear comments from William Frazier, President of Municipal Well and Pump Corporation, Waukesha, on the possibility of saving the present well.

Frazier told the board he became aware of the Wayne well problem through three of his employees who live in the area. One of them suggested he contact Trapp to discuss the problem and, as a result, came to the meeting at Trapp's request.

Frazier informed the board his firm had dealt with similar problems in other areas including Slinger with successful results. What he told the board was that, basically, the chlorination procedures recommended by the DNR and being used by the district were insufficient and, therefore, ineffective in eliminating the bacteria problem.

Frazier said that the use of only one or two gallons of

Threshold Bus In Head-On Collision West of Kewaskum

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Nine people were injured in an accident early Wednesday morning when a bus carrying clients for the Threshold Sheltered Workshop, West Bend, was hit head on by a car that was attempting to pass another vehicle in heavy fog.

According to a preliminary Washington County Sheriff's Department report, the incident occurred at 7:20 a.m. on Highway H 90 feet west of Highway B, when a 1984 Chevrolet Cavalier driven by Keith A. Bartelt, 17, of Beechnut Drive, West Bend, was traveling eastbound on Hwy. H and passed a vehicle on the left in heavy fog. The westbound Threshold bus driven by Richard A. Kirschberg, 43, of Indian Lore Road, West Bend, was struck head on by the Bartelt vehicle.

According to the report Bartelt received head and leg injuries. Four other passengers in the Bartelt vehicle were also injured. Bruce D. Troller, 17, received head and arm injuries, Shelly Hug, 14, arm injuries, Kevin E. Bartelt 15, head and arm injuries and Tamara Hug 17, head and leg injuries.

The extent of the bus driver's injuries were not listed. Bus passengers Joan N. Krueger, 45, received head injuries, Shirley A. Thorn, leg injuries and Paul G. Nigh, 18, head injuries.

The jaws of life had to be used on the Bartelt vehicle to remove the passengers. The injured were transported to St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend, by the Kewaskum, West Bend and Schmidt Ambulance rescue squads.

The Sheriff's Department spokesperson said the accident was still under investigation and could not say if a citation had been issued.

Tenants Form Mobile Home Park Association

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Residents of the Tompkins Mobile Home Park voted Sunday afternoon, to form the Kewaskum Mobile Home Park Association and continue looking into the possibility of acquiring the property from present owner Melvin Tompkins. Of the twenty-four households represented at the meeting, twenty-two voted for establishment of the association and two against.

Frank Chudnow, Project Manager with the Wisconsin Partnership Housing Development, addressed the meeting. He presented guidelines and steps to take in proceeding with determining just what would be required and what the tenants could be facing in taking on such a project.

Informational bulletins were passed out along with surveys which sought information regarding several pertinent items such as financial capabilities, formal support, etc., of each household in the park.

The surveys will be turned over to Chudnow who will do a feasibility analysis to determine, from the data gathered, just how practical and realistic the idea is.

The tenants formed several committees to look into a variety of issues concerning the plan to Board business in public. Well, a very interesting thing happened on Wednesday, December 24th. I received a phone call from a friend. She had heard my name mentioned in a West Bend drug store the day before, on Dec. 23rd, at approximately 3:15 p.m. and called me to find out what the crisis was now on the Kewaskum School Board. I asked her if she worked at the drug store and she said, "no, that she was simply going through the check-out line and heard this discussion. Mr. Brigham, who has constantly criticized my actions outside the board meetings, was the person mentioning my name and talking about me and my board activities in that West Bend drug store on December 23rd. Isn't this the pot calling the kettle black?" After reading the statement, Trapp asked Brigham, "Did you hear that or didn't ya?" Brigham did not acknowledge her comments.

In other action the board moved to hold back a check for $1,185 to the law firm of Quarles and Brady. The district had made several requests for a cost breakdown which it still has not received. The board unanimously voted to hold the check until the information was received.

The board accepted two coaching and one teaching resignations. Ms. Kathy Sugden-Small had submitted her resignation as of January 16th, from the Business Education Department. Kleinhans recommended the board accept the resignation effective January 23rd, which is the official end of the district's quarter.

Kleinhans said she felt Small had an obligation to the students to complete the semester because of the testing and grading which would be difficult for a new teacher take over. David Wietor, on behalf of Small and the KEA, told the board it had no power to hold Small even though she had signed a contract. The board asked what responsibility it had to release a teacher or retain them if their services were needed. Kleinhans indicated teachers are not bound by a contract, except for a fine, however, if the district were to try and get out of a contract there would be "mucho problems." The board moved to accept the resignation effective January 23rd, along with the $200 penalty for breaking the contract.

Kleinhans advised the board that candidates in the February 17th Primary School Board election had drawn for their positions on the ballot. They will be listed as follows, #1 Robert Schulteis, #2 Ruth Schmitt, #3 John Spoerl, #4 Jeanne Goeden, #5 Ronald Beimborn, #6 Neal Weare, #7 Donald Nowak.

Kleinhans reviewed some correspondence with the board and the meeting was then adjourned.

Wayne Well

Kohlsville Fire Department had done something similar to clean up the well. The department, at that time, noted the procedure was only temporary, because it did not have the proper equipment. Hohlweck said the well was then good for about five years before problems again started.

Board member Kim Peterson asked what the DNR's reaction would be in the district trying this procedure. Frazier said he had worked with Chad Czarkowski, DNR Water Supply Specialist, before and had received good cooperation in similar situations.

Frazier was asked what the procedure would cost. He indicated that since he had not personally inspected the well, he thought a ballpark price would be around $2,500. (The board had received four bids to drill a new well ranging from $6,700 to $10,200 plus approximately another $3,000 in related costs for a new line and closing the old well.)

Frazier told the board that he could not guarantee the procedure, but then again, he noted, a well driller can't guarantee either that you won't have the same problem in a year with a new well. "Just what's your success ratio" asked Peterson. "So far, 100%" stated Frazier. "I like your figures," commented Peterson.

The board directed Buildings Superintendent Fred Boehlke to work with Frazier in contacting the DNR about trying the well cleaning procedure. It will hold a special meeting Monday, January 19th, at 6:30 p.m., to make a decision on whether to go ahead with the chlorination if the DNR gives the okay, or approve one of the bids to drill a new well.

successful in-the-black operation.

Laing said once the information on the analysis was received from Chudnow, the association would decide what its next move would be.

buy the park. A seven-member Steering Committee, consisting of park residents Norman Gruber, Earl Perkins, Jim Laing, Edna Laing, Eleanore Guenther, Chuck Reetz, and Les Weisinger, was set up to interview a lawyer the association is considering hiring to handle the legal aspects of the project.

Other committees will look into other items including necessary septic system and water line repairs, the possibility of seeking annexation to the Village of Kewaskum to obtain municipal sewer and water service, and the need for other improvements within the park.

One of the items discussed at the meeting was the need to attract several more tenants. Approximately 36 of the 42 lots are presently rented. Edna Laing, of the Steering Committee, noted tenants felt all the lots would have to be occupied if the park expects to run as a

Foreign Exchange Student to Spend Semester at KHS

The group in the photo above was probably one from the Milwaukee area who frequently came to Kewaskum on a chartered train for a parade and day of fun at the local parks. The building on the right was the Stork Hardware Company. The building today houses Kettle Moraine Electric at the intersection of Hwys. 45 and 28 in the heart of Kewaskum. The building on the left was a livery stable and was located where Herriges Oil, Inc., now has the Shell gas station. The time in history must have been before women's lib. The only two women on the picture are in the center window on the second story of Stork Hardware.

Megumi Sueki

A new foreign exchange student arrived in Kewaskum to spend the second semester at KHS. Megumi Sueki, 16 years old, comes to Kewaskum from Chiba, Japan.

Her host family in Kewaskum is Penny and Jim Kleinhans. Megumi attended a private school in Tokyo. She said Japanese high schools have many rules related to individual dress and hair style. Megumi said she already feels more freedom in her Kewaskum school and enjoys it much.

While in America, Megumi wants to see as much of the country as possible. She looks forward to meeting people, attending school and church, and learning as much as possible about the American way of life.

Megumi has three younger sisters in Japan. Her father is a company employee and her mother is a housewife.

Jaycees Celebrating National Jaycee Week

January 11th to the 17th has been proclaimed National Jaycee Week all across the United States. This week, Jaycees celebrate the 67th Anniversary of the founding of the U.S. Jaycees on January 21, 1929, when a meeting was held in St. Louis to organize the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Today, the Jaycee Organization offers young men and women an opportunity to change and help shape their communities.

The Jaycee process offers a three fold benefit to its members. Through the Individual Development programs, Jaycees are helped to realize their personal potential in such areas as goal setting, family communications, leadership skills, human relations, public speaking and spiritual development.

The Management Development programs offer Jaycees opportunities to study and develop actual skills in personal management, financial management, planning, and organization. Through action programs in the community, Jaycees gain needed leadership experience and become more sensitive to the needs of those around them. These three aspects of the organization combine to form what is known as the "Total Jaycee Concept."

The Kewaskum Jaycees would like to encourage young men and women from our area to take advantage of this tremendous growth experience. It can change your life!

The Kewaskum Jaycees meet on the first Monday night of each month at 8 p.m. at the Kewaskum Branch of the West Bend Savings and Loan. Use the rear entrance to the downstairs meeting room. Or for more information call 626-2209. It's a positive step ahead!

Financial freedom...and convenience. Once you've established a Valley Equityline, you have ready access to a significant line of credit simply by writing a check.

Are there restrictions?

No. You can write a check for whatever you want...or need. From rec. vehicles to remodeling to college tuition. The decision is yours. But checks must be written in amounts of $500.00 or more.

How do I establish a VALLEY EQUITYLINE?

Simply come into Valley Bank. Your credit line will be based on your home equity, credit record, and personal borrowing needs. Pending approval, you'll receive special checks that access your Valley Equityline funds.

What are the limits?

Whatever your home equity allows...even up to $100,000. But the minimum line of credit is $5,000.00.

How do I repay my credit in use?

Similar to other forms of credit, you pay monthly installments based on funds in use. The repayment plan is based on a minimum of $100, or 2 percent of your outstanding balance (whichever is greater). And as you repay these funds, they revolve back to your line of credit.

What about interest rates...or fees?

The Annual Percentage Rates will be quoted based on market conditions. Administrative and closing fees will be similar to conventional equity loans.

What about....?

For the whole story about Valley Equityline, call Valley Bank.

Strong. Helpful. Friendly.

Letters to the Editor

January 13, 1987

Editor
The Statesman
Kewaskum, WI 53040

This letter is addressed to all the electors of the Kewaskum School District for the purpose of urging their attendance at the Special Meeting called by the Board of Education for Monday, January 19, 1987. The meeting will be held in the commons area (lunch room) at Kewaskum High School beginning at 8:30 p.m.

A Special Meeting is run like an Annual Meeting with an elected chairperson. The purpose is to allow the electors of a district to exercise statutory powers vested in them and direct the actions of the School Board. In this instance the Kewaskum Board is seeking input on the disposition of the Beechwood Elementary School. Property can be sold by the school district only with permission of the voters from the district.

This is an important issue for reasons both educational and financial. Resources that go to maintain the unused building (estimated to be $9,500/year) can't be used for children and programs elsewhere in the district.

Some people have expressed concern about the possible future need for the building because of increased population. At this time there is nothing to indicate we will have a major increase in enrollment. In fact, the district census and enrollment projections done at the university and state departments show continuing decline. From 1985 to 1986 Washington County school-age population decreased from 19,451 to 19,229. Our Kewaskum District has had a steady decline for the past 8 years. It is anticipated that enrollment will level off by 1990 at about 1,500 students. We are presently at 1,760, down from 2,200 students in 1980. Currently, if we should get an increase in elementary students, (the only age level increasing anywhere nationally), there is enough empty space at Kewaskum Elementary School to absorb at least 150 students.

Some have said that there will be major building in our district due to the Highway 45 bypass. A recent Milwaukee Journal article outlined housing starts in Washington County through October of 1986. Municipalities that were down included Farmington, no permits, down from 11; Kewaskum (Town) 2, down from 6; Wayne 5, up from 0 and Kewaskum (Village) 3, up from 0. This is a net loss of 9 in what were expected to be the "growth" areas of our district.

There has been discussion about retaining the Beechwood Elementary School for use by local groups. This is indeed a worthy idea. It is important for everyone in the district to understand it will then be necessary to levy taxes for that additional useage, custodial and upkeep cost.

Ceasing to use the Beechwood Elementary School as a teaching center this year will result in savings to the taxpayers of about $90,000. Re-opening would add those costs back into the budget.

The building has been appraised, been found to be in good condition and have a sale price range of $175,000 to $225,000. It is understood that realistically the building will only sell for what it can be used for in that location, for example another school or apartments or a care home.

The Beechwood Elementary School came into the Kewaskum School District at consolidation in 1966 with $90,822 of debt. It now stands free and clear, as does the title.

I have given some of what we hope will be useful information as you reflect on this needed decision. Your thoughts, opinions and vote are greatly desired and will be much appreciated at the Special Meeting on Monday the 19th.

Sincerely,

Penny J. Kleinhaus
District Chairperson

TO: All Kewaskum School District Residents

Once again, I have decided to vote for the Kewaskum School Board. I am committed to addressing some serious problems in this school district during this campaign. I am sorry to disappoint Mrs. Goeden, but I do not believe that everything in this school district is "positive, upbeat and progressive." If all was well, I would go take knitting lessons instead of working to ease the burden of the taxpayers and to provide a good education for our children.

I have been attending school board meetings for the past 8 or 9 years. I have seen the pendulum swing from a system where top administrators had almost no voice in educational issues to a school board that has allowed almost total control to be assumed by our top administrators. I am leery of hearing board members ask, "What does the administration recommend?", and then vote accordingly.

I believe a school board member has an obligation to see that as much tax money as possible goes to educate children, not to ease administrative burdens or to redecorate. I also believe that school board members should be willing to work in cooperation with the municipalities within the district. When our school district can offer a balance between good schools and lower taxes, we can continue to grow together.

I hope you will all take time to vote in the primary to be held on Tuesday, February 17. You can make a difference.

Ruth A. Schmitt
Kewaskum School Board Candidate

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to a letter written by Mary Ann Peterson (Mrs. Kim Peterson) of 202 Forest Ave., Kewaskum, which appeared in the January 2nd issue of the Kewaskum Statesman.

First of all, I strongly believe that someone should be in attendance at a meeting if they choose to write about it. Mary Ann Peterson did not attend the December Board of Education meeting. Secondly, I did not "stalk out of the unadjoined meeting" using abusive language. I did refuse to vote on a few issues after being falsely accused by Kim Peterson of something I did not do.

Tell me, gentle reader, which is worse—refusing to vote on a few issues in one meeting or attending scarcely fifty percent of the School Board meetings the first two years one is in office? Such is the case of Kim Peterson!

Sincerely,

Clara Trapp

Dear Editor:

During the past few weeks, letters concerning the "New Creation" series have appeared. It concerns me greatly to find that there is a need for discussion on this series. This series, along with similar sex educational series have been emphatically condemned by Rome!

This is nothing new. The Church has made it clear since 1929 by Pope Plus XI and has restated her position repeatedly since. In 1950, Bishops of the United States issued the following statement: "...If sex instruction is properly carried out in the home, a deep reverence will be developed in the child, and he will be spared the shameful inferences which he often makes when he is left to himself to find out about sex. We protest in the strongest possible terms against the introduction of sex instruction into the schools..."

1951, Pope Pius XII further condemned sex education in the schools and encouraged parents to fight this movement ... "... unite with them therefore under the direction of your Bishops certainly; call to your aid all Catholic women and mothers with their powerful contribution, in order to fight together, without human timidity of respect, to stop and curtail these movements under whatever patronage or under whatever name or under whatever patronage they conceal themselves or are patronized."

Pope Paul in September of 1972 again condemned sex education in the school. Then on June 21, 1986, the "New Creation" series itself was condemned, in a letter from Cardinal Gagnon at the Vatican:

"From my last letter it should be clear that it is the NEW CREATION SERIES which does not follow the philosophies and theology of Vatican II." In that letter I expressed the judgement of the Holy Father. I know well how difficult it is for Catholic parents to oppose its (NEW CREATION SERIES) implementation, but it's precisely about that difficulty I wrote in my last letter. It must be done, however."

Clearly, the Church has taken a stand against this series, so what is it doing in the school curriculum?

For those that wish to obtain further information on the Church's position of sex education, write:

This series is being offered at Holy Trinity. There is no other version. For those of you who have doubts, or were told otherwise, I ask, did you look to go to the school and bother at the teachers manuals and student text to reference the material quoted in the past weeks?

Letter to the Editor:

On January 22nd we will recall the saddest day in the history of the United States. It was on this day fourteen years ago that the Supreme Court's ruling legalizing abortion in all the states of this great country of ours was passed. They gave the woman the right to murder (that is what abortion really is) her own child during all nine months of her pregnancy. This poor innocent child will never have the opportunity to know love, or give love in return to anyone. What a great thing this child is robbed of by its own mother.

Won't you please join me and other Pro-Life people in showing you care about these innocent little children, who every year lose their life by abortion. Please tie a red ribbon around a tree on your property to show everyone you care and support life not abortion.

For more information and ways to help fight abortion please contact Joyce Spaeth at 692-2579.

Kewaskum Juniors' Time Capsule... THE FIRST TEN YEARS

Looking through the beautiful "History Books" of the first years of the GFWC Kewaskum Juniors is indeed varietal "Time Capsule" of events facing local, national and international concern. The group was formed on October 25, 1967, with the support of several women in the Kewaskum Women's Club, particularly Mrs. L.N. Peterson, Mrs. Norman Held, Mrs. Ed Miller, Mrs. Orv Behnke, Mrs. Marshall Boyd and Mrs. Richard Edwards.

Prepared to accept a charter on January 12, 1967 from Mrs. Kenneth Reed, Wisconsin Federation President, the 32 charter members elected their officers: President, Mrs. Sharron Miller; Vice-President, Mrs. Honora Norton; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Isabelle Straub; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Dolores Hammes and Treasurer, Mrs. Sandra Remmel.

Only three months after the club's charter, members were attending district and state conventions, and had received the Humanitarian Service Award from the United Cerebral Palsy Association for volunteer service. This active first year would set the tone for years to come, that the GFWC Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club would take an aggressive part in volunteer service to Kewaskum, the surrounding area, and yes, the world.

The 1967-68 club year saw committee chairmen for the club, as well as three new members. The first program highlighted Mrs. Max Sulewsky, whose credits included starting "To Suds or Not To Suds," regarding detergent pollution. Kewaskum Juniors chaperoned a school dance, toured the Washington County Hospital, asked for support of the Kewaskum Youth Center, hosted a sell-out basketball exhibition between the Green Bay Packer All-Stars and Kewaskum Educators, hosted High School senior girls for a program on fashion and sent two special care packages to a reconnaissance platoon in Viet Nam.

On April 27, 1968, Honora Ann Norton was installed as the club's President, and shortly following received notice that the Kewaskum Club had won the Shell Oil Education Award for their student scholarship program, aid to young people and educational facilities.

In 1968, Mrs. Ed Miller and Mrs. Harvey Ramthun Jr. both accepted positions at the State level. Highlights of the 1968-1970 term included bake sales, scholarship awards, Project Concern stamp book campaign, story hour, babysitting clinic, block parents, KHS post-prom, charm classes for teens and the development of the club chorus. The club participated in Education Week, visited the Samaritan Hospital in West Bend, participated in Operation Healthy Babies and held the Snowflake Fantasy fashion show. Inner-city Milwaukee residents attended a club meeting panel discussion on inner-city life. Another meeting hosted peace corps volunteers.

During the terms of presidents Shirley Perkins ('70-'72), Kathy Ramthun ('72-'74), and Isabelle Straub ('74-'76), the club continued its dedication to volunteer service, receiving a special award from Project Concern, sponsoring student council representatives at workshops, working with the schools on various projects, urging citizen action on environmental concerns, hosting style shows, assisting scholarship programs, assisting with vision screening and assistance to the Library.

A major project in the 1971 club year was solicitation of signatures promoting better treatment of American POW's, as part of the national POW-MIA week. The club also promoted the "Up With People" program at the High Bunny, promotion of "Wonderful Wisconsin Week," Woodsy Owl and Smokey Bear contests, celebration of Arbor Day, a Halloween Party at Beechwood, and opening of the Recycling Center culminated the first ten years of the club. An article highlighting the second ten years will be featured in next week's paper.

Area Chamber of Commerce to Meet

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce will be meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 21, at 8:15 p.m., at the Community Room in the Municipal Building.

All members are encouraged to attend. Dairy Days will be discussed.

Tips for Parents Coaching Students for Semester Exams

As the semester I exams approach, parents and students can prepare together. Solid test preparation means solid study skills. This involves time, planning, organization, note-taking, setting priorities, reviewing, and plenty of hard work and home work. Parents can get involved in the development of these study skills by helping to coach their son or daughter through the semester exams on January 22nd and 23rd.

Where to Start:

- Know your son's/-daughter's schedule of courses.
- Know how he/she is doing in those courses. Look at report cards, warnings, tests, and homework. Ask to see them!
- Know how he/she has prepared thus far. Look at notebooks, handouts, review sheets, past exams, and textbooks.

- Know the exam schedule.
- Coaching Techniques:
 - Reject student attempts to shrug you off with statements that they know everything or have no work. Everyone can improve, and has work to do.
 - Provide a place to study in which the student feels comfortable.
 - See to it that all required materials are on hand — notebook, texts, paper and pens.
 - Set a routine — a common starting time and ending time.
 - Set priorities. Homework should be done before the social life begins.

- Encourage — concentrate on helping. . . not just finding out everything he/she doesn't know or understand.
- Ask or understand direction — what did the teacher say was important to study? You can be sure it will be on the exam.
- Look at the material learned in September — semester exams test for the cumulative nature of learning — not just the most recent.

By following the above tips and techniques, parents and students alike can complete this first semester assured at least that they have given it their best effort.

Cub scout pack 3744 held its monthly pack meeting and Christmas party on Dec. 15th. The Flag ceremony was conducted by Bear Den 2.

Webelo Badges and activity pins were earned by: Anthony Bunkelman, aquanaut; David Gosa, aquanaut, Patrick Bertram, aquanaut and scholar; Tim Buss, aquanaut; Michael Jansen, aquanaut; Shannon Mitchell, aquanaut; Josh Boegel, scholar, aquanaut, craftsman, engineer, and outdoorsman; Jeffrey Rinzel, scholar, aquanaut, craftsman, engineer, and outdoorsman; Guy Lippert, scholar, aquanaut, craftsman, engineer, and outdoorsman; Chad Trezenski, scholar, aquanaut, craftsman, and engineer; Craig Erdmann, scholar, aquanaut, craftsman, and engineer; Reuben Oppermann, scholar, aquanaut, and craftsman.

All of the cub scouts brought an ornament they had made at their den meetings to hang on our Christmas tree.

Each cub scout brought a nonperishable food item for the food pantry.

Cub Scout Den News

The cub scouts are working toward arrow points, earning achievements, and activity badges.

Some of the cub scouts made bird feeders from milk cartons and pine cones. Webelos den 2, as credit toward their engineer badge, learned about floor plans, bridges, and how a block and tackle works. Wolf den 1, made recipe holders, and webelos den 1, did a wood tapping project.

All of the cub scouts made Christmas tree ornaments and presents for their parents. Wolf den 3 sent some of their ornaments to the Threshold, and were sent a handmade Thank You.

In December the pack toured the Milwaukee County Museum in Milwaukee.

The webelos had a great time in the wizard wing. They saw a lot of "heat" things and had a lot of fun.

Summer Employment Opportunity With DNR

The Department of Natural Resources is now accepting applications from young men and women, 15 to 19 years of age, to participate in salaried summer jobs. Application forms for the Youth Conservation Camp (YCC) program in Wisconsin are available at all Wisconsin high school guidance offices.

The camps, located near Manitowish Waters, Minong, Montello and Campbellsport, are operated by the department to offer a summer work-learn experience in conservation.

There are two five-week sessions at each camp during the months of June, July and August. Campers are paid $3.35 per hour (work is scheduled for 32 hours per week - $3.35 x 32 hours = $107.20 salary a week). A room and board charge of $27.50 per week will be deducted from the salary.

Work activity offered at the summer camps includes projects related to forestry, fish management, wildlife and recreational use areas.

These young campers accomplish a wide variety of forestry, parks, fish and game habitat projects, and facility maintenance that otherwise could not be done locally if we relied solely on department employees. The camps provide an educational opportunity for participants because of the experiences and associations each youth will find in group work assignments, educational tours and presentations.

Youths interested in participating in one of the YCC summer camps must apply by March 1, through their high school guidance counselor, or by writing directly to the Department of Natural Resources, Youth Conservation Camp Section, Box 7921, Madison, WI 53707. Application forms and informational brochures are available in all Wisconsin high schools. The department will notify applicants in April or May whether they have been selected to attend one of the camps. There are 800 positions open at the four camps.

Number of Dropouts Down

MADISON — The statewide dropout rate for the 1985-86 school year was 3.49 percent (9,302 students) compared to a 1984-85 rate of 3.65 (9,849 students), State Superintendent Herbert J. Grover reports.

Grover commended school districts for the seventh consecutive year of reduced dropout rates and credited them for keeping young people in school. He set a goal for 1990 to have at least 90 percent of those who enter the ninth grade graduate four years later.

While all districts must develop plans for serving children at risk, only those with 50 or more dropouts or a dropout rate of more than 5 percent are required to submit their plans to the state superintendent. The number of districts with dropout rates requiring them to submit a plan is down from 35 to 29 this year.

Grover said he continues to be saddened by the dropout rate in Milwaukee. The district reported an 11.2 percent dropout rate for 1985-86, compared to 10.7 percent the previous school year. Milwaukee's 1985-86 high school enrollment was 25,736. During that school year, 2,872 students dropped out.

In his 1987-89 budget request, Grover has called for special programs to be supported by $4.8 million in additional state aid for Milwaukee. He proposes a five-year improvement plan, relying heavily on recommendations for the Commission on the Quality of Education in Metropolitan Milwaukee Public Schools.

The Department of Public Instruction reporting system defines dropout as those students who leave school before graduation and do not enter another public or private school or attend fulltime at a vocational school. School districts reported their 1985-86 dropout information this fall.

The statewide retention/graduation rate for 1985-86 improved over the previous year. The retention/graduation rate is defined as the percentage of the statewide ninth-grade students graduating four years later. That rate was 84.6 percent for the 1985-86 school year compared to 84.5 percent the previous year. This means out of every 1,000 students who entered ninth grade in 1982, about 154 did not graduate four years later. Nationally, Wisconsin's retention rate is the sixth highest.

Dropout rates by ethnic categories show 12.37 percent of black students dropped out during the 1985-86 school year; 9.96 percent of Hispanics; 6.74 percent of Indians, 2.78 percent of whites; and 2.28 percent of Asian students.

Grover said the consistent improvement in the dropout rates is a compliment to the citizens of this state who are willing to support quality public education. He cited new legislation which requires all school districts to have a plan to serve children who are at risk of failing to graduate from school, and said Wisconsin is in the forefront nationally for doing something — rather than just talking — about children who need special attention.

Washington County Real Estate Market Looks Strong for 1987

The 1987 real estate market in Washington County should be the best since 1980 according to Richard A. Larson, President of West Bend Savings' Financial Resource Group. Larson said, "The Wisconsin economy is picking up and the Washington County prospects are excellent. With today's low mortgage loan interest rates both new home building and the sale of existing homes will be strong."

Larson pinpointed the types of real estate he thought would increase in value and be the most actively bought and sold. Single family homes and condominiums in good condition and newer, well maintained two family homes will be top sellers. Improved building lots with water and sewer installed will be substantially more active than in 1986 and since the local supply is very limited, the prices will increase. Seasonal lake property in the Big Cedar, Little Cedar and Silver Lake area will also be much sought after.

"Some properties are going to be much harder to sell and will probably experience a drop in value because of active depreciation," Larson said. He specifically noted that older, badly run-down homes, older rural area homes, farm properties, and any property that has a great deal of deferred maintenance will be difficult to sell. Not only are buyers avoiding many of these, but lenders are reluctant to grant loans on these properties or will require shorter term loans with larger down payments. "It is getting virtually impossible to obtain a high percentage loan on most properties of this type," he said.

Larson noted that commercial properties and multiple family housing, while an active segment of the market, was experiencing a shake-up in value. The Tax Reform Act has greatly affected this type of property and the capital gains tax elimination at the federal level has hurt this type of sale. However, demand remains fairly strong and since northern Washington County has a relatively limited supply of commercial properties, the better ones will find an active market. As with single family residences, older or poorly maintained property will be harder to sell unless it has a desirable location that overcomes its condition.

Mortgage loan interest rates are expected to stay level or increase only slightly during 1987 which should assist the real estate market, Larson said. With the federal budget deficits and other problems looming on the horizon later in the year, prices and interest rates could climb in late 1987 or early 1988. He did not foresee any major inflationary increases but predicted the current lower prices and interest rates will probably not last.

Larson is a member of several key real estate mortgage secondary market committees working with the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation and the Federal National Mortgage Association. At one of the committee's most recent meetings in Washington D.C., Larson said the real estate and mortgage lending outlook for 1987 was the subject of two full day's discussions. Larson in the past has also served as the vice chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago.

Soil Conservationist Don Kurer Retires to 'The Farm'

Friday, Jan. 16, 1987, Kewaskum Statesman, Page 14

Dorothy and Don Kurer

The largest contour strip cropping job of Don's career, 112 acres, done at one time in the spring of 1986. A portion can be seen from his back porch.

Indeed, the Lord will give what is good; And our land will yield its produce. Ps 85:12

A successful career of soil conservation ended in Washington County on January 3rd when District Conservationist, Don Kurer, left his last footprints on the rich soils of southeastern Wisconsin that he has loved and that he has worked hard to preserve for 28 years.

No one knows of his love and respect for the soil more than his family. There wasn't a trip they took when he didn't stop along the roadside to point out a conservation practice meant to save the soil from eroding. Little did he know that he was also instilling in his family of 3 sons and 1 daughter that same love and respect for the land he himself had.

After graduating from the University of Wisconsin at Madison in soils and agronomy in 1952, he spent 5 years with the Allis Chalmers Farm Equipment Co. before he crossed paths with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service that was to mark the beginning of a long and satisfying career which earned him several SCS merit awards and certificates of appreciation. In 1983, he and co-worker Ike Kumrow were nominated by the State Conservationist for USDA's Superior Service Award for their work in Washington County.

His love for what makes things grow was tested in his first seven years with the Department of Agriculture when he was assigned a position as a soil scientist. His job was to help map the soils of a seven county region in southeastern Wisconsin by taking soil borings on nearly every acre of land and determining the types of soil found there. Not only were the days long, but there were some unexpected surprises also. "Once I remember when I was way out in the middle of a field taking a soil boring suddenly an angry looking pony came charging across the field toward me. Rather than wait to see what it was going to do, I ran for the refuge of a fallen tree and wound up being chased around it a few times before I could make a break for safety." By the end of seven years as a soil scientist, Don had walked and mapped thousands of acres of Wisconsin farmland and co-authored the Ozaukee County Soil Survey Report. Today his youngest son, Gary, an Ozaukee county conservationist, relies on this soil survey to make recommendations on how these soils should be used.

Seeing a chance to preserve the soils he came to know so well as a soil scientist, he accepted a position as a soil conservationist in the rolling hills of Green County where soil erosion was a problem. He instantly took to his new role to save the soil and has since been dedicated to protecting Wisconsin's most basic resource. After spending two years in Green County, Kurer then transferred to Washington County where he was promoted to District Conservationist for the last eleven years.

In his years as a conservationist, he estimates he has worked on over 275 conservation plans with landowners and laid out about 3,000 acres of contour strips. He designed grass waterways and diversions, and staked and designed many fish and wildlife ponds. With a grin he recalls once when he asked a landowner if he had stocked his private farm pond with fish yet for his family. The landowner replied, "neighbors" tell me there is good eating fish in my pond already."

Don and Dorothy, his wife of 37 years, retired to their 180 acre farm in the town of Wayne where for the past eighteen years they have enjoyed watching their land develop under its own conservation plan. Since beginning the plan they have planted about 4,500 trees and 2,800 shrubs in odd areas and hedgerows, constructed 2 fish and wildlife ponds, laid out contour strips and grass waterways, diversion and terraces and have set aside 20 acres of land for wildlife habitat. Their 18 acre woodlot is certified as a tree farm under the American Tree Farm

System and managed according to a DNR management plan. Dorothy who has been the Washington County Conservation clerk part time in the same office for the last 12 years will retire also. Together they plan to do some traveling, to spend more time with their six grandchildren and to enjoy the beautiful countryside they have had an opportunity to help preserve.

One didn't have to glance at the calendar this week to know it's winter. You could see and feel it all around. Freezing rain and sleet on Thursday and Friday was followed by a severe snowstorm on Saturday and Sunday. Approximately six inches of snow was left in the wake of the weekend storm. High winds caused considerable drifting and held traffic to a minimum. On the heels of the snowstorm came a severe cold wave with temperatures dipping to 14 degrees below zero.

The Kewaskum debaters returned from the Pius XI High School debate tournament in Milwaukee on Saturday with a victorious record of five wins and one loss in Class A competition. They thereby took first place among the 34 teams in the top class of competition with Kohler, Oconomowoc, Janesville and St. Catherine. The affirmative team of Dawn Martin and Mariel Seefeldt did a fine job in recording a two win-one loss record. Both are first year debaters and this is the first time they ever debated together. Losing only to Watertown, they defeated Pius XI and Marquette. The negatives were composed of Richard Groh and Ralph Albrecht. With a perfect record of three wins and no losses, they defeated West Allis Central, West Bend and Hartland Arrowhead. They have now compiled a season's total of eight wins and one loss.

Trout Stamp Contests Open

Artists interested in entering Wisconsin's 1988 annual trout and salmon stamp design contests may submit entries anytime after January 15 this year according to Larry Claggett, trout specialist for the Department of Natural Resources' Bureau of Fish Management. The deadline for the contest is March 13, 1987.

"Artists who plan to enter the contest should first ask for copies of the contest rules," Claggett suggests. For rules of the contest and more information, contact Claggett at 608/267-9658, or write to the Bureau of Fish Management, Department of Natural Resources, P.O. Box 7921, Madison, WI 53707.

The department sponsors design contests for both the inland trout and the Great Lakes trout and salmon stamps each year. Anglers buy about 200,000 inland trout stamps and 250,000 Great Lakes stamps annually. Revenue from the inland stamp is used to develop trout habitat, while money from the sale of the Great Lakes stamp pays for trout and salmon rearing and stocking programs.

Art for the inland waters stamp must depict a species of trout commonly found in Wisconsin or illustrate subject matter related to trout fishing. Entries for the Great Lake Stamp should illustrate a trout or salmon species living in lakes Michigan or Superior or show sport fishing methods typically used in those waters. The designs chosen in this contest will be used for the 1988 stamps.

Kiel Stuns Indians Here, 65-43

Conference leading Kiel came to town Friday night to face the winless Indians. Kiel sporting a 4 and 0 conference record and leading the EWC came out charged in the first quarter of play and it looked like they were ready to bury the Indians as they took a 12 to 2 lead midway through the first quarter. After a timeout however, Kewaskum came back to outscore the Raiders 7 to 2 during the remainder of the quarter to trail by only 14-9 as the quarter came to an end. The second quarter the Indians played the conference leaders even, as each team scored 13 points for a 27-22 half time score. The second half saw Kiel playing intense defense while the Indians found it difficult to get the ball into the basket. Kewaskum went the final 2½ minutes of the third quarter without scoring a point, and started the fourth quarter by not scoring for the first 2 minutes.

Kiel on the other hand was able to build a 20 point lead during this stretch and the game was for all intents and purposes over. Joel Fleury and Mike Coulter led Kewaskum with 13 and 11 points respectively. Kewaskum shot only 32% from the field and 35% from the free throw line while Kiel shot 48% from the field and 53% from the line. Final score Kiel 65, Kewaskum 43.
