Bull Injures Area Man

Ervin Lawrenz, 69, of 2754 Mink Creek Road, Town of Scott was seriously injured Saturday by a young bull on the Willard Schroeder farm, 1932 Abbott Drive, Town of Sherman.

According to reports, Lawrenz was checking line fences and apparently did not know there was a bull among the herd of cows in the field in which he was walking.

The dehorned yearling bull apparently charged Lawrenz from behind butting him around then knocking the man into a creek. Lawrenz was rendered unconscious.

Lawrenz was discovered some time later with his feet and legs submerged in the water. He was taken by Random Lake Ambulance to St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend. His body temperature had dropped very low, apparently due to the time spent in the cold water.

Lawrenz was later transferred to St. Luke's Hospital Milwaukee, where his condition was noted as improved after surgery.

Over a hundred people were on hand Sunday, for the actual dedication of the new Beechwood firehouse which was completed earlier this year. Visitors, however, continued to come and go as the community held a daylong celebration to mark the culmination of almost five years of planning that led to the construction of the department's new home.

In dedicating the building, Charles Fick, Chairman of the Town of Scott, noted the department and the people of the community represented tradition, dedication, and commitment. Tradition, said Fick, was marked by the fact that many members of the department can look back over the past 70 plus years and proudly note that their fathers and grandfathers before them had served as volunteer fire-fighters. Dedication and commitment he noted were shown in times such as the ice storms of a few years ago when members of the department went out to help people of the community who were without heat, light, and water, even though their own families were in the same situation.

Reverend Kesting, pastor of United Church of Christ, Beechwood, and a member of the Silver Creek Volunteer Fire Department, was asked to describe what it was like to get up at 3:00 in the morning and answer a fire call. He said, no one would ever win any fashion awards, you just grab any clothes that are handy and go out to do a job you've trained to do, to the best of your ability. The new 48 foot x 84 foot building, with over 4,000 square feet of space, now has room for all Beechwood's trucks and equipment plus offices and showers.

Beechwood Fire Chief Roger Vetter gave a short history of his organization. The department was established almost 75 years ago in 1913, with the purchase of its first piece of equipment a hand pumper (which the department still owns). The first firehouse was built on the shores of Beechwood Lake, and though it was unheated, it served the community until 1961. In that year the department bought a building on the corner of Highways A and S, and remodeled it into a garage and hall.

After over twenty years in that building, the department realized it had again outgrown its quarters and the plan to build a new structure began to take shape. The department is now comprised of 35 active members and 20 First Responders.

In his closing comments, Vetter thanked the many people, too numerous to mention, who have donated over $5,000 to the project along with various items of equipment. He said he specifically wanted to thank the Ladies Auxiliary who have held fundraisers and donated numerous pieces of equipment, the latest being a Cascade system which will allow the department to recharge its own oxygen tanks.

In the future, the department plans to expand the building with the addition of a meeting room and kitchen.

As Jean Linton, President of the Beechwood Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary, Charles Fick, Chairman of the Town of Scott, and Terry Heberer, President of the Department, looked on, Beechwood Fire Chief Roger Vetter cut the ribbon signifying the official dedication and opening of the new Beechwood Firehouse.

Village Moving on Some Firehouse Repairs

BY GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Village Board was updated Monday night, on renovation plans that will hopefully remedy water leakage problems at the firehouse.

Trustee Richard Schmidt said his Protection and Public Safety Committee, Fire Department Committee and the village's engineers had met on May 7th, to review the four problem areas and a list of proposals to eliminate them.

For leakage problems in the high roof and parapet areas it was decided to leave the existing metal roof intact and cover it with 1/2 inch plywood over 1 1/2 inches of insulation. A layer of single ply roof membrane would then be applied over the plywood.

Water damage caused by leakage through metal roof exposed fasteners will be eliminated by removal of the existing metal roof in the low sloped area and replacing it with conventional fiberglass shingles. Schmidt said, however, before that work is done the engineers would be looking at the problem of removing the sag which has developed in that area of the roof.

The committees are still investigating the problem of water cracks in the exterior masonry walls. Schmidt said they are looking into an insulation system call Dryvit, which is applied in the same general manner as plaster. He said this procedure would provide both waterproofing and insulation. Schmidt said a local example of the Dryvit process application is the Clothes Clinic building in West Bend.

The engineers are still working on the problem of water running off the main roof and adjacent areas next to the building at the north entrance.

Schmidt said another meeting would be scheduled when the engineers had more information on the remaining problem areas.

In other action the board discussed a Parks Committee proposal to go ahead with the DNR canoe launch project for the west side of River Hill Park. Several of the trustees questioned what the chances were of the DNR deciding to step in somewhere down the line and taking over that area of the park, possibly charging a fee to use the area including the restroom facilities, of which the village would be paying the major portion of the construction cost.

Trustee Mary Krueger asked, are there really that many people who would use the launch. She expressed concern that the village would pay the major share of the bathroom facility's cost which would end up being abused. Look at the damage that has already been done at the shelter building, she noted. "My point is, how many people would use it versus the trouble it would be, is it really worth it?"

Parks Committee Chairman Tom McElhatton indicated a major portion of the lavatory usage would come from people using that side of the park for fishing and picnicing. Krueger noted, would we then be better off to just go ahead with the bathrooms and tell the DNR we're not interested in the canoe launch. She felt that action would allow the village to maintain control over the building and the shoreline along the river.

Several comments were made indicating that the DNR is already trying to obtain shoreline easements in other areas which would then make them open to the public and would be under the jurisdiction of the DNR.

The decision to go ahead with the project was delayed until the board's next meeting. More information will then be presented on the village's constructing just a bathroom facility without a launch.

In other business Administrator Dan Schmidt advised the board he had received three news items from County Horticultural Agent Dan Wilson on alternative ways to use grass clippings. They will be run in the paper in the hope they will help to eliminate the need for the Public Works Department to collect the clippings with the regular garbage.

In other action the board approved some minor revisions in the Pool and Parks rules, and a Class B beer license for Gladys Glamann, 1536 Fond du Lac Avenue.

Boy Admits Setting Timblin Barn Fire

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

After questioning by the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department early last week, an eight year old boy admitted setting the May 9th fire which destroyed a barn, freestall shed, Harvestore silo, and over 70 head of cattle on the William Timblin farm, 2263 Highway B, Eden.

The youngster told authorities he had also been involved in almost a dozen other fire setting incidents near his home in Fond du Lac. During questioning, the boy said he started the fires because "It was fun." The youngster, no relation to the Timblins, was visiting the farm at the time the fire broke out.

The boy said he found a disposable lighter on the property, went into the upper portion of the barn, where he set fire to some hay and cornstalks on the barn floor. He stamped out the fire but it re-ignited and flames shot out. He ran from the barn and later gave the lighter to his mother.

Although witnesses told officials they had seen the boy run from the barn, he denied any involvement during initial questioning the day of the fire. Authorities recovered the lighter from the parent.

The boy was turned over to juvenile intake personnel and was expected to be referred to the Juvenile Firestarters program for counseling.

Ashford Barn Fire Under Investigation

A fire on the Claude Stommel property, 1933 Superior Drive, Town of Ashford, early this week is being considered of a suspicious nature and is under investigation according to the Fond du Lac Sheriff's Department.

Firefighters from Campbell-sport, Knowles, and Lomira were called to the scene, but they were unable to save a 32 foot x 60 foot building used for storage.

The barn, insured for $35,000 contained wagons, a tractor, old combine, two cars and some lumber.

The blaze was noticed by Stommel at about 2:30 a.m. Firefighters remained on the scene for approximately 2 1/2 hours.

There was no dollar amount placed on the fire loss. Insurance investigators were expected to inspect the site.

The Sheriff's Department is investigating the fire as a possible arson case.

Establish Planning Committee For Development of Chapter 2 Grant

Kewaskum, WI. Julie Backus, Director of Instruction and Chapter 2 Coordinator, has announced the establishment of a planning committee for the development of the 87-88 Chapter 2 grant. Parents actively involved in the school, PTO and school board representatives will join together with staff and administration from the Kewaskum Schools as well as Holy Trinity and St. Lucas to discuss needs in their schools that can be helped through this special federal grant.

This year, as in the past, the Kewaskum School District, will receive an allocation based on enrollment and special needs to be divided equitably among the public and private schools. A wide number of special projects can be targeted to receive these funds. In the past, computers and computer software, special learning resources such as filmstrips and audio-visual equipment, staff development time, as well as many other items were purchased with these funds.

In 86-87, the project focused on continuing to develop a writing skills lab at Kewaskum Middle School where students had the opportunity to use word processors to improve their basic and creative writing skills both for language arts and other subjects. Another part of the project provided funds for teachers to travel to competency testing workshops and to begin to meet to develop goals for students in the areas of math, language arts, and reading. A portable mini-camera was purchased for use throughout

MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day calls us to remember the sacrifices of the past and to recommit ourselves to a peaceful future. It is a time to recognize the courage and sacrifice of those who have given their lives for our nation.

On a day marked by parades, speeches, and celebrations, it can be easy to overlook the deeper meaning of Memorial Day. This day recognizes the tragic suffering; the pain and death of Americans in war on our own soil, in the trenches in Europe, the beaches and seas of the Pacific, on the hilltops in Korea and the jungles of Viet Nam to protect our freedom and freedom throughout the world.

We have our peace and our freedom as a direct result of the sacrifices of the lives we honor on Memorial Day. By losing our sons, daughters, brothers, sisters, husbands, fathers, and friends, we have lost the most valuable asset our nation has to offer...the lives of our people.

We are right in honoring those sacrifices with our ceremonies and speeches. It seems appropriate to bring our families together on this day to honor our nation's dead heroes. However, our deeds and words ring hollow if we do not also respond with a strengthened commitment to peace and freedom through law instead of war, and through diplomacy rather than armed conflict.

Nevertheless, we must recognize we live in an unsettled world and other countries may not share our desire for a peaceful future; nor do they place the high price on human life which we as a nation do. Therefore, we must maintain a strong defense to protect our citizens, our shores, and our liberties from those who would take them from us.

Memorial Day is a time to commit ourselves to preserving the freedom and hope for the generations yet to come. It is a time to dedicate ourselves to holding up this hope to all in this world who are oppressed. Likewise, we owe it our young people to dedicate ourselves to prayer and peaceful efforts toward advancing harmony and freedom throughout the world.

the district for taping special events and for use in instruction. St. Lucas utilized their funds to purchase additional software to use in the classroom.

Interested community members are welcome to attend the planning session on Friday, May 29 at 8:00 a.m. in the Middle School conference room. Anyone having questions or ideas for the program are encouraged to call Julie Backus at 626-2178.

Village of Kewaskum NEWS NOTES

Making Use of Your Yard Waste

First In a Series of Three

Landfills in Kewaskum and the surrounding communities are rapidly being filled up. But if more people take an active role in recycling to reduce the amount of waste entering our landfills, landfill life can be extended and long-range costs reduced.

About 50% of household waste is readily recyclable (Newspaper, glass, metals and yard waste). Of these items, yard waste is one of the easiest to put to use. Brush, leaves, grass, and other plant refuse are valuable renewable resources for mulches and composting.

Taking advantage of a mulch may be the most beneficial practice that can be used around your trees or on your shrub beds, flowers, and vegetables. A mulch is a collection of fallen leaves, grasses, or other materials. Mulches are applied to reduce soil erosion, aid in controlling weeds, keep the soil moist and cool, and add essential organic matter to the soil.

There are several types of materials used as mulches. Each material should be accessible, easily applied, and relatively free of weed seeds. Some of these suggested materials include grass clippings, compost, and leaves.

Under normal mowing conditions, clippings should not be removed from the lawn. Lawns benefit by allowing the clippings to remain. Each year approximately one-half of the lawn's nutrient needs are added back to the soil when clippings are returned. This means less fertilizer is needed to keep the lawn healthy. Contrary to popular belief, clippings do not add to a lawn's thatch layer when the grass is mowed regularly. Only if the grass becomes too tall and matting occurs should clippings be removed. In this case, mulching with grass clippings is an excellent way to dispose of your clippings.

Leaves are one of the best mulching materials for trees and other woody plants. Leaves should be partially decomposed or finely chopped before using. If not broken down, they may pack too heavily and may cause damage if applied over herbaceous perennials.

Leaves, like other organic mulches, add humus to the soil and increase the water-holding capacity of the soil. However, they decompose slowly. Leaves are low in nitrogen, so additional nitrogen may need to be added to prevent a nitrogen deficiency in your plants. Add one cup of dried blood or 10-10-10 fertilizer per bushel of chopped leaves.

Compost is perhaps the best mulch you can use and you make it yourself from leftover plant materials from your lawn and garden. (More about composting will be coming in another article).

Once you have chosen your mulching material, it is easily applied. Simply spread a three to five inch layer on the soil around your plants. Additional mulch will be needed later over the old layers to maintain the proper thickness and receive maximum results. Garden mulches should be worked into the soil in fall to decompose by next spring.

Exchange Student Families Needed

Families in the Kewaskum area now have the chance to add an international dimension to their lives in a personal and exciting way.

Families can provide a home for a youth for Understanding (YFU) exchange student from an overseas country. In August, over 300 students will be arriving in the four state region that includes Wisconsin. The students will spend a year with a host family. These students are from age 14 to 18 and come from over two dozen countries. They will attend the local high school and return to their native country in July, 1988.

YFU host families are volunteers who provide room and board, and the love, care and understanding they give their own children. Host families do not have to have teenagers as a requirement to host.

As a host family, you gain knowledge of other cultures and have a wonderful opportunity to meet other people who feel it is important to expand their horizons beyond the local community.

YFU is a non-profit organization and has exchanged over 100,000 students worldwide since its founding in 1951.

This year the Kewaskum area has welcomed a student from Japan, Megumi, staying with the James Kleinhans family.

Families who wish more information on how they can participate can contact the YFU regional office at 800-USA-0200 or Chris Plaum, 9251 Hwy. 84, West Bend, WI 53095 (692-2930).

Olympics of the Mind

countries. KHS team members are Mitch Gebheim, Becky Morlen, Leighton Peterson, Scott Kulas, George Walz and Greg Weddig. Their coach is Mary Ann Peterson and assistant coach is Larry Ammel. Accompanying the team and coach to Michigan will be the Mitchell Gebheim's, the L. N. Peterson's, Mrs. Jon Morlen, and the Ken Weddig family. The team and its boosters plan to return to Kewaskum on Sunday, May 31.

Kewaskum will face other state champs and their solutions to the long-range problem "Omer to the Rescue." Each team will also have to solve a spontaneous problem as part of their final score. Since winning at state in April, the team has been busy repairing props, developing new strategies and trying to keep the momentum going. Coach Peterson observed that the team has discovered that the road to glory can be full of creative pot-holes, especially if you're inside the gym working and it's 80 degrees and sunny outside.

New at OM World Finals this year is the Creativity Festival. During this event, teams will "spend" their tokens at activity booths designed and operated by the state OM associations with cash prizes for the top draw. Also each team must create an "Omer of the Year" contestant as part of the festival.

Judges' and coaches' creativity will also be tested in the OMER 500. Their problem is to build an electrically powered vehicle that can compete for speed and accuracy. Coaches receiving help from their teams with this solution are in the Poetic License Division.

GOOD LUCK!

Ethnobotanist to Give Lecture-Tour at Lac Lawrann

Lac Lawrann Conservancy

Lee Olsen, Ethnobotanist and Teacher, will be the guest lecturer and guide on a tour of the Lac Lawrann Conservancy on Sunday, May 31, at 1:30 p.m.

He will speak on the topic, "Indian Uses of Plants." Views and uses of native plants by the Ojibwe, Potawatomi, and Menominee Indians will be the major focus of his lecture. Many of these plants are native to the Conservancy.

Lee is presently rewriting the ethnobotanies by Huron Smith of six Wisconsin Indian tribes through a research position with the Milwaukee Public Museum. He teaches the course "Great Lakes American Indian Ethnobotany" during the summer session at UW-Milwaukee.

A teacher at Webster Transitional School in Cedarburg, Lee has been teaching for 19 years. He is also a photographer of wildflowers for almost 30 years.

Lac Lawrann Conservancy is located in the town of Barton. It is comprised of 104 acres of natural landscape including a lake, with surrounding wetlands, woodlands, and open fields. Visitors to the Conservancy are asked to stay on the paths; and picking plants, collecting, bringing pets, smoking, and littering are prohibited.

The tour is free and open to the public. Reservations are required by calling the West Bend Park, Recreation & Forestry Dept. at 338-5080. Group size is limited, however. Please make your reservations early for this special tour.

Badger Art Festival At West Bend May 31

Artists from a dozen Wisconsin communities are scheduled to participate May 31 in the second annual Badger Art Festival at the West Bend Mutual Insurance Company parking lot.

The annual fund raiser of the West Bend Area Chapter of the UW-Madison Alumni Association provides scholarship money for area students attending UW-Madison.

Along with more traditional art forms, the show features displays of paper sculpture, jewelry, drawings on birch bark, block-printed woodcuts and stained-glass mosaics.

Jacci Albiero of West Bend, a member of the festival committee, said a few spaces still remain for persons interested in exhibiting in "any art or craft." Participating artists pay a $20 exhibit fee and make a donation for a silent art auction. A $10 contribution may be made instead of an auction donation.

The festival will run from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information, contact Albiero between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, at 334-2712, West Bend.

HOT DOG HAZARD

Every five days, an American child chokes to death on food. The main culprit is the hot dog. If you tried to design the perfect food to block a child's airway, it would be a bite-size piece of hot dog. Candy, nuts, cookies and grapes are also considered 'hazardous' to children - especially under 4 years of age.

We wish you good health

THIEMERDOME THURSDAY GOODTIME LEAGUE

Bartelt Ins.	1	0
BJ & Co.	1	0
A.M. Const.	0	1
Thornton's	0	1

Highlights

A hot sultry summer like evening greeted the opening night teams at the Thiemerdome.

Chairman of the Board Richard Thieme delighted the standing room only throng with a short speech which emphasized the two T's. Temperance and tolerance.

There were several off season improvements done to the Dome. Namely, the leak in the computerized sprinkling system which consists of a 20' garden hose was repaired with the "old" reliable electrical tape. Also, there is the addition of what has turned out to be a very costly addition of an un-used storage shed. The subject of which shall never be brought up again. Lest we are on the receiving end of the famed Captain's Glare.

The 1st game pitted the Golden Agers from Bartelt Ins. many of whom snuck out of the geriatric ward at St. Joseph's against Thornton's Thunderers. Team owner, Dennis "Hang Em High" Thornton once again has loaded up his squad. However, he has it loaded a bit high on the IQ and a little light on muscle. Which at the Thiemerdome which up to 0 for the season. Dredged out of the mothballs for the Thornton squad is former ALL CITY MVP 1st baseman David "MVP Runner" Resheske. The normally offensive Thornton squad had an off night as they only scored 3 runs compared to 13 by the prosthetic - aided boys from the Bartelt squad. The ACE twirler on the Thornton team Dennis "No Baloney" Maloney arrived late for the game and entered in the 4th inning and by that time all the damage had been done. The game was spiced by some controversy as Vern "Sno Cone" Ludwig alleged that the home plate strike zone mat moved while the pitch was in flight causing the him to lose concentration and subsequently strike out. Substitute umpire Tom Huber handled the matter very diplomatically by telling Vern to "Pound Sand." In case you are wondering, yes, the law was named after Tom and the league will have problems with extra inning games because Tom does have to leave at a certain time.

The Bartelt Boys were paced by a streamlined version of Clark "Preston" Pearson as he led their awesome attack going 4 for 5. The defensive gem of the game was turned in by the caucasian version of the "SAY HEY KID" Gerald A. Kiefer. The normal sloth footed right fielder turned on the after burners and turned a potential triple into a dazzling out.

The 2nd game saw an epic battle as the field looked like the Little Big Horn must have as BJ&Co. soundly trounced A.M. Const. 24 to 8. It was home run derby in the 2nd game as Ed Weisse had a round tripper for A.M. Const. and Rockin' Rodney Schultz and Rich Leetch provided the long ball for BJ&Co. John "Quarter Barrel" Kleinke had his split-fingered, super-dooper 15' bring-the-rain, hover-dip pitch working again as he struck out two of the awe-struck hitters from A.M. Const. The defensive play of the game was turned in by left fielder for A.M. Const., Mark Biertzer, as he tore down the left field fence hauling in a long drive by Dennis "Jacker" Jacak A.M. Const. will be sent a bill from Thiemerdome management for damages sustained to the new, well-constructed fence.

Attendance 623. The numbers in this record opening nite crowd were no doubt aided by the recent swoon of the Thiemerdome farm club, the Thiemerdome Brewers.

SPECIAL* Next week is CUSHION NITE. Bring in your own cushion and get in free.

Sportsmen's Club Auction Successful; Thanks Expressed

On April 25 the Boltonville Sportsman's Club held an auction at the Old School Auction Service in Cheeseville. Col. Lee Martin and his wife, Marlene donated their services for this fundraiser. Even though it was cold and rainy, Col. Lee kept things moving and the excitement running high. Jim Cotter and Del Weiss also helped with the auctioneering.

A bake sale was held in conjunction with the auction. Due to all the help, Col. Lee's free services and the donations of items both from members and non-members, the Club should be able to pay off the debt they incurred when they had the Boltonville Pond dredged last year.
