Hwy. 45 Crash Injures Two Picnic Here July 11-12

Rescue squad and Flight for Life medical personnel worked over accident victim Alice Lawrenz after she was removed from her vehicle. The Flight for Life helicopter (background) waited to transport Lawrenz to the Milwaukee County Medical Complex.

Medical personnel treated Lawrenz while they waited for rescue workers to remove her from the car. The Jaws of Life were needed to free the victim from her vehicle.

A two-car accident on Highway 45, just north of Friendly Drive, seriously injured two women Tuesday, one from West Bend and one from Random Lake.

Injured in the crash which occurred at 2:16 p.m., were Christie Currie, 46, of 614 Jefferson Street, West Bend, and Alice Lawrenz, 53, of 2754 Mink Creek Drive, Random Lake.

According to the Washington County Sheriff's Department report, the Currie vehicle was northbound on Highway 45, when it drifted left of center entering the southbound lane. The Lawrenz car was southbound on 45. The Lawrenz vehicle swerved into the northbound lane in an attempt to avoid a collision, however, about the same time the Currie vehicle swerved back into the Kewaskum's annual Firemen - Legion picnic will take place in River Hill Park on Saturday evening and Sunday, July 11 and 12.

Waterfights will christen the Saturday evening opening at 6:30 p.m. with many neighboring fire departments competing for the championship trophy. Live entertainment by "Ida Red" will be featured in the beer garden from 8 p.m. until midnight. Rides, refreshments and games can be enjoyed by young and old.

A spectacular parade begins the Sunday festivities at 12 noon, led this year by the Kewaskum High School Band. This legendary event features the Tripoli Motor Corp. with 35 motorized units, the Hartford City Band, Marquis Drum and Bugle Corps, and various other area bands and marching units.

The mammoth parade will again feature many beautiful floats, dance bands, baton twirlers, novelty and military units, drill teams, children's specialties, comic and clown entries, clubs and organizations, visiting fire departments, Legionnaires, antique cars, horses and riders, and much more.

This year's parade theme is: "Celebrating the 200th anniversary of the U.S. Constitution." The parade will originate from the High School campus area and adjacent streets, and proceed from there to River Hill Park. All participants should be ready to line up no later than 11:30 a.m. Many great prizes will be awarded for the best floats and children's specialties.

Musicians will perform at two locations in the park immediately following the parade, and the music will continue throughout the evening.

Schmitt Requests Another Meeting on School Budget

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Another special meeting of the Kewaskum School Board has been scheduled for Wednesday, July 8, at 7:30 p.m., in the Kewaskum High School, to discuss the 1987-88 budget.

The written request for the meeting came from board member Ruth Schmitt, according to District Administrator Penny Kleinhans. Kleinhans said in phone conversations on Monday and Wednesday, that there has been no conversation between herself and Schmitt and she knew nothing more about the meeting than what had been in Schmitt's request. "There has been absolutely no communication with the administration," said Kleinhans.

Kleinhans said she had, however, been informed by the Administration Office secretary that when Mrs. Schmitt was called and asked to come to the office to sign the paperwork necessary to publish the Annual Meeting notice she had declined to do so.

Kleinhans was concerned about the situation noting the notices have to be signed so that the district can meet the legal requirements as far as publication.

Since there have been no other meetings since the special meeting last week when the budget was approved by the board, it appears Schmitt is acting as an individual rather than with approval or sanction from the full board.

While it is every board member's right to request a meeting, there appears to be some questions arising both legal and policywise with regard to Schmitt's action. Even if Schmitt had signed the notices, they are not binding should the board decide to make changes in either the budget or Annual Meeting date. It would merely be a matter of revising the necessary papers.

Other items on the agenda include discussion of the assignment of sixth graders, possible opening of the Beechwood School for 1987-88, possible action on changing the Annual Meeting date, and review of bills from the district's legal council.

District Wins Arbitration Settlement In Teacher Contract Negotiations

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum School District was informed Wednesday, that it had won an arbitration settlement in teacher wage negotiations for the 1986-87 contract period. That settlement approves the district's final offer of a 4.65% increase, including wages and benefits.

District Administrator Penny Kleinhans said, in his decision Sherwood Malamud, Mediator-Arbitrator with the WERC, threw out the Kewaskum Education Association's salary figures from the West Bend and Elmbrook School Districts as not being comparable. He indicated Kewaskum compared more favorably with the Mayville School District which recently settled their contract.

Business Manager Cherna Gorder said the 4.65% settlement results in an average increase of $1,477 per teacher, including wages and fringe

Dr. Charles Ogi and his son and partner, Dr. Gregory Ogi, have announced the opening of a second veterinary clinic. The new facility, Allenton Animal Clinic, is located at 516 Main Street, Allenton.

Dr. Greg Ogi said the second clinic was opened to provide a more convenient location for their clients in the Allenton area. Ogi said although the new clinic has been open only two weeks, he has received several favorable comments about the facility.

The clinic will be affiliated with the Kewaskum Veterinary Clinic. Doctors Charles and Greg Ogi will both provide care for large and small animals at the two clinics. Both clinics feature a large animal drug dispensary to meet the animal healthcare needs of area farmers.

The two clinics will serve an area of approximately 20 square miles, from just south and west of Allenton, north to Eden, and east of Kewaskum.

Dr. Charles Ogi graduated from Ohio State University - College of Veterinary Medicine in 1954. He moved to Kewaskum following graduation and has maintained his practice here for the past 33 years.

Dr. Greg Ogi, a 1974 graduate of Kewaskum High School and 1982 graduate of the University of Minnesota School of Veterinary Medicine, returned to Kewaskum and joined his father's practice.

Last year the Kewaskum Clinic's facilities were moved from Dr. Charles Ogi's home to the newly remodeled building at 1511 Fond du Lac Avenue. The Kewaskum office, phone 626-2380, is staffed by Mrs. Charles (Donna) Ogi, and is open Monday through Friday 12:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., and 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., Saturday 12:30 to 2:30.

The Allenton office, phone 629-9050, is staffed by Mrs. Greg (Julie) Ogi, with hours 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday and 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. on Saturday. Small animal care at both clinics will be in appointment. Greg noted, however, that 24-hour emergency service is available at both clinics.

Fire Destroys Lomira Barn

Fire destroyed two buildings on the farm of Donna and Ron Luedtke, 666 Water St., Rt. 1, Lomira last Sunday afternoon.

A hired hand who resides at the farm, first spotted the fire around 2:45 p.m., which destroyed the 160 by 40 foot barn and its contents, and a 100 by 40 foot shed containing milking facilities, Donna said the cows were all saved. She said the animals were transported to an empty farm in neighboring Eden. The Luedtke's have 300 head of cattle, 200 of which are milk cows.

Fighting the blaze were volunteer fire departments from Lomira and Campbellsport, who were called in to help with the fire. Members of the Kewaskum Fire Department manned the Campbellsport Fire Station while those firemen were called to action.

Mrs. Luedtke commented that firefighters remained at the scene until close to one o'clock, although the fire had been brought under control earlier. Fortunately no one was injured and the barn was insured, she stated.

Firemen returned to the scene Monday to tear apart the remains of the buildings and to prevent any smolderings from reigniting the fire, and to determine the origin.

On January 1, 1956, the store was turned over to Harold and his wife Eleanor (Hron). In 1961 they purchased the portion of the Lay Lumber Company and tore it down to build an IGA Foodliner. It opened for business January 29, 1962. The store name was changed to Marx Sentry in 1966 and was located at 140 Main Street.

In 1976 it again changed hands, this time to Bill and Judy (Marx) Geidel. Judy is the daughter of Harold and Eleanor Marx and a fourth generation direct descendant of Nic Marx. Mike Geidel, son of Bill and Judy, is presently employed as manager, and begins the fifth generation in the grocery store business.

The store was moved again in November of 1981, to the Kewaskum Mall, just south of Kewaskum, which has adequate facilities for the enlarged store.

Standish Participates in Military Airlift Rodeo at Pope Air Force Base

Air Force Staff Sgt. Timothy M. Standish of Kewaskum, sights in on a target during the combat patrol test for security policemen in Airlift Rodeo at Pope Air Force Base, N.C.

was a live firing at pop-up targets at different distances of between 50 and 300 meters. As the team leader, I took my team through the second event, combat patrol, where we had to locate a downed pilot, avoiding booby traps, and snipers."

According to competition officials, the "kills" are acquired by means of an electronic detection device much like those of a sophisticated "Photon" wargame system. "The third event, and hardest for most teams, was the tactics course. During this test, we had to navigate over rough terrain using a compass and map to locate and defend from attack an emergency airfield."

The final event for all the security police teams was the obstacle course with 25 different tests of endurance and strength.

For Standish to qualify to compete in the Airlift Rodeo, he had to compete against security policemen in his unit, using his everyday skills for the chance to attend the competition.

"My primary job at Little Rock is as a quality control evaluator. I make sure our law enforcement and security specialists are doing their jobs correctly and understand the correct procedures of emergency situations," explained Standish.

"I am also a member of the base emergency services team, which functions the same way a civilian S.W.A.T. unit from a police force would.

Standish, 24, is a 1982 graduate of Kewaskum High School. He is currently working on his bachelor's degree in criminal justice from Park College at Little Rock Air Force Base.

Story by Cecil B. Newberry

POPE AIR FORCE BASE, N.C. — As the Air Force C-130 Hercules aircraft clears the trees, it drops down to just 20 feet over the grassy field. Flying at 200 miles per hour, drag chutes pop out the back of the aircraft, and cargo is pulled from the plane to resupply the waiting ground forces.

While men quickly unload the supplies, Staff Sgt. Timothy M. Standish of Kewaskum grips his M-16 rifle, and keeps a close eye on the perimeter of the field for enemy troops that may try to ambush the small force of Americans.

The scenario is not real, but for Standish, son of Francis J. and Margret J. Standish, 2915 Highway H, this five-day exercise is as "real world" as he ever hopes to see.

Standish, a security police specialist at Little Rock Air Force Base, Ark., is at Pope Air Force Base for the Military Airlift Command's annual Airlift Rodeo. The competition is designed to test the operational capabilities of MAC to transport troops and equipment in a wartime environment. This year's contest has 41 American teams from around the world, and 12 allied teams from as far away as Australia and Israel.

"We have competitions like Airlift Rodeo to help us sharpen our combat skills while in a peacetime environment," explained Standish. "By competing against other Air Force and allied units, we get a cross-feed of information that may help us survive in a hostile situation," said Standish.

Standish participated in four events with his squad of four security specialists. As a team, they compiled points to be added to the scores of their aircrew and maintenance teams.

"This is my second Airlift Rodeo event, and this year I feel a little more pressure than I did last year. Little Rock is the defending champion security police team, and everyone is out to take our spot," said Standish.

"Our first event this year was combat marksmanship, which

-AMERICA-
You Are Mine

You are mine, because I freely about it — but, PRAY to myself, have the right to be FREE! We the people of the United States have the right to freedom of press, (such as this) speech, and religion.

May, we thank you God, for these rights, which are freely given to us — for there would be no America, without them. And let us not forget the men, who use their name and time to fight for the right beliefs in the defense for their country. Not to mention those, who freely gave their lives in fighting for those rights in the name of patriotism, especially.

In the ravaged blood soaked wars, that have gone before us — may we still fight for that right and belief, that there will be no more. May, we fight in speech only — that, we love our America — Beautiful. Our wars not only in these United States — be no more — but, all over the world — not just talk freely about it — but, PRAY to God Almighty — daily about it! It, also comes freely — that God gave us an amazingly gorgeous 50 states! The rolling farm hills of Wisconsin, to the beautiful mountains of California, to the Lake Michigan of Chicago, and the right to live where we wish.

The trees, the birds, the animals — the sun, moon and stars, are all real true beliefs of a freedom of the free heart.

To salute "Old Glory" at the opening of the small "hometown," 4th of July parade. While "wee" tots look on with gleeful eyes, catching the thrown candy from the "time-consuming" flowered floats, as they roll on by. The jovial hand-shakes of the clowns, and the feet stamping of the onlookers — as the marching bands go by in the same miracle rhythms as yours. YES — it's all here — 'cause you have the right to be so lavishly entertained, and it's all OURS to hold strong and freely! And the fireworks display crackling their wonderment of loud colors in the sky above.

And, not to forget to mention that right, to pick out your own friendships, place of employment, the right to go fish'n, camp'n, and to go to the vacation spots you so freely pick.

And then, to praise the hard working farmer — that supplies and plants these states with the beautiful seeds of food that we eat and take so much for granted.

Yes, God has been good to us Americans — may, we take the time to thank Him above — for it all.

Yes America you are mine — forever, I pray!!

Citizen Advocacy finds people to help. Contributions to the CA 400 will allow this important work to continue and grow.

Citizen Advocacy will acknowledge donations of $50.00 by providing a newspaper ad thanking CA 400 businesses, sending a mailing to individuals citing the business donors, presenting the business with a beautiful certificate to display, and providing the Citizen Advocacy newsletter so that CA supporters know first hand what kinds of services their donations help provide in the community.

County Deputies Retrain in Use of Scott Air-Paks

As part of its annual program of in-service training, deputies of the Washington County Sheriff's Department underwent retraining in the use of the Scott Air-Pak. The deputies wore the breathing apparatus and entered the totally black and smoke-filled environment of a fire department "smokehouse." The training simulates the search and rescue of an unconscious inmate in a cellblock.

In the picture, Deputy Robert

Friedemann (foreground) and Deputy Peter Ritger (background) leave the smokehouse after locating and removing a 100 pound sandbag, which simulated the inmate's body.

All deputies in the Corrections/Communications Division, as well as all supervisory personnel in the department in general, attended the training session, which was held with the cooperation of the West Bend Fire Department.

'The Pestilence' of Pornography' Its' Effects On the Young and Innocent

Editors Note:

Jon Kuhaupt, a student at Calvary Life Academy, won First Place in the Washington County Citizens for Decency contest for high school students. He was presented with an award on May 21st, 1987. The following is his prize winning essay on pornography.

We are living in a new age; an age of high technology, knowledge and understanding. In the midsts of our so called "enlightened" age, a new ignorance is unfolding. We, in our age of higher understanding, have failed to see the degradation and debauchery of a perverting and obscene source of individuals.

What is this pestilence that sweeps America, taking its young and innocent along? The pestilence that we face now is one that devours all the steps into its path of filth and abuse. This pestilence that we face is pornography! Any printed, filmed or video taped depiction of sex, or sexual acts, or display of the genitals. Pornography is an uprising dilemma to our nation as a whole and each citizen individually.

The pornography industry is approximately an eight billion dollar per year operation in the United States. Many forms of pornography are available ranging from soft core to hard core pornography. These include magazines, books, television channels, satellite and telephone sources. The porno industry has become more and more popular, so popular that porno magazines can almost be found in any store. These "adult stores" also sell films, devices, video tapes and almost anything the consumer wants to fulfill his or her "recreational" needs. Adult porn shops are everywhere. A census of 1970 by the President's Commission Obscenity and Pornography stated that about 1,000 stores were open nationwide. In 1983, the figure arose to a staggering 15,000 to 20,000 stores. With the growth of porn shops yearly, I regret to see what the total will be by the year 2,000.

In addition to bookshops, pornography is also available in the form of film and video. According to the Adult Film Association, theater owners, film producers, and distributors state that there are approximately 800 adult theaters nationwide carrying such video pornography.

Hearing the various forms of pornography available, we also must look into the content which pornography employs. Pornography is either soft or hard core. Soft core porno is usually nudity of women, men and children, and the degradation of sex. Pornography in the hard core form employs intercourse, both heterosexual and homosexual, explicit depictions of sex between people and animals, sado-masochistic sex, which includes depictions of bondage, torture, rape and perhaps death. The people and especially children involved in porn are usually used, abused, and later thrown away by porn producers. Kiddie porn, involving children in sexual acts either among their peers or with adults, is also a market big among pornographers. The law is against it, but there are approximately 250 child pornography magazines being sold in the country.

What effects does pornography have on those that view it? How do these effects affect others-especially children? The U.S. Supreme Court noted a relationship between explicit material and crime some 10 years when it stated, "...there is at least an arguable correlation between obscene material and crime." Exposure to erotica increases male acceptance of interpersonal violence against women, particularly sexual assault and rape. Crimes, such as homosexual conduct, child molestation, and other forms of violent, deviant, and bizarre behavior exists. A study conducted by Michigan demonstrated that the 38,000 sex crimes on file, 41% involved pornography, just prior to the crime or during the crime.

There is no wonder why pornography and rape go hand in hand. The abuser addicted to pornography must fulfill his fantasies and someone is the target of his assaults. To get his "turn ons," the porn-addict attacks his victim be it man, woman or child.

One must constantly be aware of the link between child abuse and pornography. Alfred S. Regnery, Administrator of the Office of Juvenile Justice, Delinquency and Prevention, said that as many as 6,000 children are murdered each year in this nation.

It is believed that a substantial number of those children are physically and sexually abused by their murders. In a growing number of cases, police have found pornographic material in the possession of the offenders.

According to Melvin Anshell M.D., a prominent psychiatrist, the effects of pornography "embellishes the physical sex life and pornography has a sexually regressive effect." The porn abuser is addicted to the pornography and keeps coming back for more in order to get a new sexual high. The next thing that happens is escalation-the individual needs a rougher, meaner, a more bizarre and explicit material to get his "turn-ons."

The children involved in sexual abuse are also affected for life. The child abused will show damaging results. Some of these are: (a) the psyche is damaged. (b) His self image is ruined. (c) Children become exploitive. (d) It makes the child very vulnerable. (e) Provides misinformation about sex. (f) It corrupts and confuses the child's morals.

The child who sees pornography or reads it is also addicted. The child is introduced to a damaging and wrong definition of sex and meaning of love. The child becomes sometimes sexually active at a young age. The child experiments, abuses, and attacks himself and others with the new knowledge attained. The child, constantly being open to pornographic materials becomes perverted in the physical and mental being. Young people are an open target to pornography and are enticed into its mind bending methods daily.

Children who are addicted to pornography turn out to be future abusers. These children are America's future! Unless the distribution of pornography is stopped, the future will be dismal indeed. Pornography, child abuse and like crimes can be stopped. We the people have the power to end the horror that porn produces. The results will be a safer and happier tomorrow for all.

Fireworks Can Cause Wildfires

We are well into the summer vacation season now and the Fourth of July holiday weekend will be here. Make it a safe weekend, both for yourself and for others who share the outdoors with you.

In your enthusiasm to celebrate the nation's birthday, remember that the sale, possession and use of fireworks is illegal in Wisconsin unless a permit is obtained from a local governmental official where the fireworks are to be used.

Earl Meyer, fire prevention specialist in the Department of Natural Resources' Bureau of Forestry, said the illegal use of these banned materials has resulted in wildfires being started which threaten lives and property in Wisconsin. "That's why we support the ban on the use of these fireworks except by special permit," Meyer said.

And, he had an admonition for holiday celebrants. "Remember, Meyer cautioned, "if you start a wildfire, you become liable for the costs of suppressing that fire and for all the damage caused by it."

For those of you celebrating the July 4th weekends in state parks and campgrounds, Meyer said the ban on the use of fireworks would be enforced. And, he urged everyone to be careful with campfires, building them only where areas are provided for them, keeping them small, and making sure they are completely extinguished before you leave.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO ALL KEWASKUM PARENTS/TAXPAYERS

Do you know what your school board is up to? Have you taken the time to find out? You can learn part of the story at a hastily called school board meeting on Wednesday, July 8.

The stated purpose of the meeting is to: A. Reopen the budget. B. Consider reopening Beechwood School. C. Consider moving the 6th graders back to the local schools.

The school administration has documented that the closing of Beechwood School saved the taxpayers between $93,000 and $103,000 this past year. Now the school board wants to take $100,000 from savings to pay for reopening the school. Where will the money come from to keep it open the following year? And where will the money come from if we need emergency maintenance or high priced state mandated programs? An expensive loan and then higher taxes?

Thanks to a forward looking board and a businesslike administration, the present board inherited a stable fiscal situation. The future was looking bright for the Kewaskum school district. But the new board, many of whom ran on a platform promising lower taxes, are quickly laying the groundwork for higher taxes. The sad thing is, quality of education seldom enters the picture. Most decisions are based on the struggle for power and the enormous egos of some of the school board members.

People of the Kewaskum district, we're moving backward. Back to higher taxes and poorer schools.

I urge you to attend the meeting on July 8. Find out for yourself what's going on. Make your voice heard. Please. Before it's too late for our children. And our pocketbooks.

John Hazlewood, Sr.

Editor of Statesman:

It hasn't taken long for the Big Spenders School Board's "Big Spenders" to show their true colors.

Not only did they vote "no" to reduce the budget by $100,000 at the budget hearing meeting on June 23, but they are now proposing changes that will destroy all the hard work done in the past 2 years to bring the taxes down to the lowest level in years.

Within two months of assuming a majority on the School Board, Mrs. Trapp and her followers have called a special meeting on Wednesday night, July 8th, at Kewaskum High School to reconsider a previous Board decision to move all sixth graders from outlying schools to the middle school, and close the Beechwood Elementary School. If Clara Trapp, Ron Beimborn, Ruth Schmitt and Ralph Horner succeed, it will cost the hard-pressed property taxpayers of the Kewaskum School District approximately $100,000. This should be a matter of great concern for those who voted for the "big spenders" in April, thinking they would hold school spending in check.

An expenditure of $100,000 can often be justified on educational grounds, however, the decision to reopen the Beechwood School and move the sixth graders back to the outlying schools would not be educationally sound.

For the past year, the sixth graders of the Kewaskum School District have benefited from special programming designed for pre-adolescent students called "middle level" education. It has given them more opportunities for growth and success.

Moving the Beechwood students to the Farmington Elementary School has resulted in single classes for every grade level with their own teacher. This is in contrast to having one teacher with two combined grades such as we had at Beechwood Elementary School, an educationally poor concept. It also allowed the students more services, such as a reading specialist.

It's time for the tax payers of the Kewaskum School District to stop this foolishness. Clara and her companions should be told next Wednesday, July 8th, in no uncertain terms, that their ideas will be harmful to the tax payers and children of the Kewaskum School District.

Sincerely,
Shirley Schlice

Letter to the Editor:

This letter is to bring to the attention of racing fans the lack of sportsmanship, rules and regulations at the WIR and Slinger Speedway.

It's too bad the Miller Distributing Co., who is sponsoring some of the drivers, doesn't put some of that money into promotional and proper behavior classes for their "drivers," Bickle and the Herbst crew.

Their attitudes, foul language and skill of driving has a lot to be desired. One can be an aggressive driver and yet maintain the proper conduct a stock car driver should have. Instead they act like spoiled little brats! They have a long way - more years of experience, before they will, if ever, be called professionals!

The backing of such people should be taken very seriously. These drivers are "on stage" before at least one million people a season. Does the agent of this area's Miller Distribution Co. use such poor judgement to have this unruly representation?

As fans of racing we would hope other fans will write and tell the sponsors, promoters, and officials, that racing is not racing without rules and regulations, that should be followed, then enforced. Most of all we want to see good clean racing sportsmanship on and off the track. Where have all the gentlemen of racing gone?

Thank You

The Power Lawnmower: Is It Friend or Foe?

The power lawnmower has changed the American landscape and taken the drudgery out of yardwork. But it has also claimed more than its share of fingers, toes and eyes.

An award-winning project jointly developed by the Milwaukee chapter of the American Red Cross and Briggs & Stratton Corporation is aimed at changing that. Red Cross chapters across the country have joined in sponsoring "Knowing Mowing," a lawnmower safety course for youths age 12 and up.

"Knowing Mowing" recently won the Milwaukee chapter one out of only four "Health Innovations" awards presented by the American Red Cross at its national convention of 2,800 chapters, held in Denver.

According to the U.S. Consumer Products Safety Commission, more than 60,000 accidents a year are caused by the unsafe operation of power lawnmowers.

Briggs & Stratton's George Thompson said the outdoor equipment industry has done all that is technically and economically feasible to make the mower itself safer. "The next step is education of the operator," he said.

Thompson said nearly two-thirds of the accidents involve contact with the blade, either through the discharge chute or under the blade housing. "Every one of those is preventable," he said.

The next biggest cause of lawnmower injuries is thrown objects. "People don't realize that the tip of a rotary lawnmower blade is moving at over 200 miles per hour. A stone, bone or piece of metal can be picked up by the mower and hurled with great force. Cleaning up the lawn before mowing is crucial," Thompson said.

Norman McKonly, manager of the Greater Milwaukee Chapter of the American Red Cross listed some "Do's" of lawnmowing.

Always wear heavy-duty shoes with non-slip soles, and long pants to protect your legs.

Always mow in sufficient daylight and when the grass is dry.

Clear the area of all objects that could be thrown by the blade.

Keep an eye out for children, bystanders or pets.

Look ahead three to four feet while you mow.

Turn the mower off when crossing a sidewalk or driveway to avoid hurling stones that may be on the pavement.

Mow across an incline with a walk-behind mower, and up and down the incline with a riding mower.

Stop the engine and disconnect the sparkplug when working on the underside of the mower.

"Don'ts" include:

Never mow on an incline that is too steep for balance and control.

Never adjust mower height, clean grass chute, or remove grass bag with the engine running.

Never pull a walk-behind mower toward you.

Youngsters under age 15 have by far the most lawnmower accidents of any age group. That fact led to the Briggs & Stratton and Red Cross "Knowing Mowing" collaboration.

When is a youngster old enough to mow the lawn?

"When he or she no longer wants to mow it," McKonly quipped. "Actually, it depends on a child's size and physical development. We usually figure about 12 is a good age to start mowing, provided the youngster has had good instruction."

Muckerheide was married and the father of two small children.

The Byron Klein farm, Route 1, Kewaskum, was the location for shooting a farm film being made by Aid Association for Lutherans of Appleton. Located one mile northeast of Kewaskum, the 60 acre farm was selected because it typifies the average Lutheran home in size and appearance. Byron and Mrs. Klein have lived on the Klein homestead during their entire 38 years of married life. They are members of St. Lucas Lutheran Church of Kewaskum. The farm film will be distributed by Aid Association for Lutherans, America's largest fraternal life insurance society, to their agents throughout the United States and Canada for showing to their farm clients.

David Foy, 26, a son of John Foy, Armstrong, was killed when the automobile he was driving struck a culvert about a mile north of Campbellsport early Monday morning. Mr. Foy was driving north at the time of the accident, it was said, and ran off the road and crashed into the culvert. He was alone in the car. Foy had attended a family gathering at the home of his sister, Mrs. David Hanrahan near Adell, where he ate supper. He later took his brother Leo, of West Bend, to Campbellsport, where he left him a short time before the accident.

The Village Board the past week installed a new system of parking cars in the village to comply with an ordinance recently passed by that body. Men were at work the past few days marking Main Street with parking lanes, which will greatly improve the old method of parking your car wherever and in any way you saw fit. With the new markings, the cars must be parked at an angle with the curb instead of parallel to the curb as was the previous habit. The new system will greatly improve traffic regulations and also improve the appearance of Main Street at a busy time.

Reports heard hereabouts the past week were that the Schmitt brothers, Paul, Herbert and Irvin of St. Kilian had seen a deer in that vicinity on June 24. The deer was said to have been seen in the fields on the Schmitt farm. The young men then watched it cross some of the neighbors' fields and finally disappear into the John Coulter marsh. This deer was the first seen around this county for many years.

The Rev. Mrs. Margaret Oosterhuis performed the nuptial ceremony uniting one of Kewaskum's leading businessmen, Charles F. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. C. Miller, and Miss Mary McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCormick of Wild Rose, as husband and wife.

The St. Michaels Catholic Church was the scene of a summer wedding on June 26, when Miss Marie Theisen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Math. Theisen of near St. Michaels, became the bride of Elmer Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Peters of the Town of West Bend.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kirchner, Jr. and daughter of Myra, moved to Wayne last Thursday where Mr. Kirchner has taken over the Foerster tavern. The former proprietor, Arthur Jaeger, and family have gone to Theresa Senn, where Art is now operating the Heinecke tavern.

In a ceremony performed by the Rev. Caleb Hauser, on June 19, in Elmore, Miss Erna Elizabeth Senn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Senn of Elmore, was married to Erwin E. Rusch, son of Mrs. Johanna Rusch, also of Elmore.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jung of Theresa and Mr. and Mrs. Ph. H. Jung of the Town of Wayne, returned home from Madison, South Dakota this week, where they spent a few days with relatives and friends. The party went via auto, making the trip with a Buick Model 21. The distance covered as registered by the speedometer was 550 miles and it took them three and one-half days. On their journey they encountered various kinds of roads.

Miss Alvina S. Opgenorth of this village and Joseph J. Reinartz of West Bend were married in the Holy Trinity Church in this village on June 26.

Electronic Income Tax Filing Will Speed Refunds to Taxpayers

The Internal Revenue Service has announced a major expansion of its electronic filing project which will speed refunds to taxpayers in many new areas of the country next year.

Beginning with the 1988 filing period, taxpayers will be able to file electronically through participating tax return preparers in all of Wisconsin as well as in all or part of thirteen other states. They will also be able to have their refunds directly deposited to their checking or savings accounts. During the last filing period, only those people in the Milwaukee metropolitan area were able to participate in a test of this system.

Electronic filing cuts the waiting period for a tax refund by up to three weeks by eliminating manual processing of tax returns submitted on paper. Because costs are reduced, electronic filing could save the government about $200 million over ten years.

The IRS invites applications from return preparers and service bureaus interested in qualifying to transmit returns electronically. The Milwaukee IRS office will schedule seminars in several areas of the state during the next three months so that interested tax preparers can learn more about this opportunity. In the meantime, specifications for those firms interested in more information are now available from the Milwaukee IRS District Office, 517 East Wisconsin Avenue, Milwaukee, WI 53202, ATTN: Electronic Filing Coordinator.

When you buy a used car, be sure it doesn't sag or lean to one side or have ripples in the doors or have the roof line. These could be the result of a major accident. Examine closely the paint in the section below the doors and on the lower parts of the fenders. If it looks a bit dimply, it may mean the metal has rusted away from within.

Wisconsin Electric Energy Program a Savings Success

MILWAUKEE — The phone line to the Smart Money Energy Program has been one of the most popular in Wisconsin, handling more than 28,000 calls about the Wisconsin Electric Power Co. program in the past month.

"We've had overwhelming response in the program's first few weeks," said Tom Golding, Wisconsin Electric superintendent of energy conservation. "Our customers are responding enthusiastically to Smart Money."

Customers may get rebates on new energy-efficient refrigerators, freezers, lights, water heaters, heat pumps, air conditioners and thermostats. The rebates range from $25 to $650, and customers may be eligible for free financing.

"Not only has the Smart Money energy line logged 28,000 phone calls regarding the program, but about 12,000 customers have already purchased energy-efficient appliances through the program or requested to turn in old, inefficient models," Golding said.

The Smart Money Energy Program is an $84 million conservation effort aimed at reducing inefficient uses of electricity in the home and workplace.

The 28,000 calls were logged between May 2 and June 16. Even though the Smart Money program did not get under way officially until May 18, word spread rapidly once it was approved early in the year.

"Customers began requesting information right away on rebates and loans, and on how to turn in old, inefficient appliances for savings bonds," Golding said.

Golding noted that residential customers have sent in more than 6,700 requests for rebates and loans, which are taking between six and eight weeks to process. In addition, almost 7,000 customers have called asking to have their old appliances picked up. Pickups of old appliances are taking between two and three weeks. Commercial and industrial customers can also save money and energy by using the Smart Money Energy Program. "They can make their offices, shops and plants more energy efficient and become more competitive in the marketplace by taking advantage of economic incentives to upgrade old lighting, motors and other inefficient electrical equipment," said Golding.

More than $200,000 in rebates and loans have been requested by about 100 commercial and industrial customers, Golding said. The more efficient equipment they are buying is expected to result in about 1,000 kilowatts of reduced energy demand on Wisconsin Electric's system, and a projected savings of more than 200,000 kilowatt-hours per year.

"Every dollar our business customers save on energy is one less dollar they have to charge for goods and services," Golding said.

If the company can convince customers to get rid of inefficient appliances and equipment, it will have to build fewer power plants in the future. That will save customers money in the long run and result in more stable rates.

The Smart Money Energy Program is available to all 850,000 Wisconsin Electric residential, commercial, industrial and farm customers in Wisconsin. Smart Money informational materials have been mailed to all eligible customers.

For more information, customers may call the Smart Money Energy Line, 221-4800 in Milwaukee or 1-800-922-6253 outside the metropolitan area, visit their local Wisconsin Electric office, or call the company's Energy Facts Phone, 221-2000 in Milwaukee or 1-800-222-9288 from outlying areas.

Panzer Receives Fire Service Award

Brian Mayer and Mary Panzer as he presented the plaque to her.

State Representative Mary Panzer (R-West Bend) was honored by the Wisconsin Fire Chiefs' Association Saturday, June 20 for her work and support of local fire departments and their 22,750 members. The award was presented at the Wisconsin Fire Chiefs' convention in La Crosse.

Brian Mayer, West Bend fire chief and president of the Wisconsin Fire Chiefs' Association presented Representative Panzer with a plaque which read, "For Outstanding Service and Contribution to the Wisconsin Fire Service."

"Mary recognizes the importance of local departments and has been a champion in supporting legislation which enables us to increase our efficiency and effectiveness,"

Mayer stated.

"I am very pleased and honored to receive this award," Panzer said. "I think everyone recognizes the importance of our local firemen. They are truly a dedicated group who are always there when we need them most. I am pleased that I have been in a position to give them assistance and support."

VISIT YOUR STATE CAPITOL

Wisconsin's State Capitol is generally regarded as the most beautiful state capitol in the United States. If you or your children have never seen the Capitol, you should consider a day trip to Madison to tour this magnificent building.

Tours of the Capitol are available every week day at 9 a.m., 10 a.m., 11 a.m., 1 p.m., 2 p.m., 3 p.m., and 4 p.m. There is no fee. If you have a group of more than 10 people, you should contact the Capitol Information and Tour Service at 608-266-0382 or my office at 608-266-7513 and my staff will be glad to assist you.

The Capitol tour includes visits to the State Senate, Assembly and Supreme Court and provides you with many facts about the building and its history. If you come to Madison in early summer, you may be able to see the Senate or Assembly in session. Although the tour does not include the GAR Civil War Museum, you may want to browse through it. This museum is located on the fourth floor of the Capitol.

While in Madison, you may also want to tour the Governor's Residence. Tours of the Residence are conducted every Thursday between noon and 3 p.m. through September 24th. There is no fee for the tour which lasts half an hour. The Governor's Residence is located at 99 Cambridge Road in the Village of Maple Bluff which is adjacent to Madison. Groups of 20 or more are asked to make reservations by calling 608-266-3554.

The State Historical Society is located on the Capitol Square on the corner of Mifflin and Carroll. This is its new location and you might find it very interesting to tour. The University of Wisconsin is another site you won't want to miss while in Madison. Further information regarding visits to Madison can be obtained from the Madison Chamber of Commerce at 608-256-8348.

Clarence A. Schwartz, Sheriff

Potion to Sober Drunks Doubled by Sheriff Schwartz

If you drink alcoholic beverages, the only way to rid your body of the intoxicants is to let your body metabolize the alcohol. In other words, time is the healer.

"People want a fountain of youth, a drug that will cure baldness, and magic potions for beauty. Now, there's a company that offers every drinker's dream: a liquid that will reduce the alcohol content in your body!" says Sheriff Clarence Schwartz.

Known as "Anxiety Relief," the potion is being sold to tavern owners as a way for customers to drink more, stay at the tavern longer, without fear of an intoxicated driving ticket. The liquid supposedly reduces the test results of a breath exam should the customer be arrested. Not surprisingly, the company tells customers, "the less alcohol present, the better this product works." That's because the potion doesn't do anything in the first place. The product, says the manufacturer, contains herbs, vitamins, minerals, and "other natural ingredients." A bottle costs $35, with the seller keeping $13 as profit.

"I was given a copy of the sales pitch by a county tavern owner," the Sheriff said. "If this product really worked, it would be medical history. I doubt that this is the case!"

The company, which is based in Waukegan, has been asked to substantiate its claims by the Illinois Department of Justice. The Wisconsin Department of Justice has labeled the claims for Anxiety Relief as "absurd."

According to Sheriff Schwartz, "the company's letter to prospective clients says: 'We anticipate a lot of legal problems, as law enforcement agencies don't like this idea.'"

"They're right. But not because we're afraid of its effect on the breath test. We don't like the idea of people having their money taken from them."

"It is possible to safely drink at your local tavern without resorting to products of this kind. Simply keep track of the number of drinks consumed over the course of the evening. Better yet, have a 'designated driver' who doesn't drink alcoholic beverages drive you home."

"I applaud the tavern operator who alerted me to this. This shows concern for this patrons."

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of my dear husband and our father, RAY A. REYSEN, who passed away one year ago, July 4, 1986:

Just a year ago you left us,
And we miss you very much.
But we know that you are
With the Lord,
And feel His gentle touch.
We know that you are happy
there
And that He loves you, too.
And we will meet again some day
Beyond the skies of blue.

Sadly missed by wife and family.

But little do they know the Lies within our hearts con-

Washington County Parks Offer New Swimming and Camping Opportunities

The Washington County Land Use and Park Department has announced that new facilities have been opened for campers and swimmers. Family camping is now available at Glacier Hills County Park on Friess Lake Road at the corner with Hill road in Richfield. Campers may use the seven new family camping sites on a non-reserved self-registration basis. The nightly fee is $5.00. Unfinished cabins are also available for rent in the camping area and near the lake. Water and toilets are nearby, the camp sites each contain a gravel pad, picnic table and campfire ring. Other available attractions in the park include playground equipment, a Nature Center open Sundays, canoe launch site, basketball court, hiking trails and more.

The "No Swimming" signs have been removed at Glacier Hills County Park and at Sandy Knoll County Park on Wallace Lake Road just one mile northeast of West Bend. The swimming areas now posted "Swim at your own risk - No lifeguard on duty" just as they are at many other rural park swimming areas in the country. Swimmers are urged to exercise caution and proper parental oversight is needed. No fee is charged for admission to these sites, or for general use of any Washington County Park.

Many opportunities for family picnicking, canoeing and camping, and group picnic reservations still exist in the County Parks. To call for information from West Bend phone 338-4455; from Milwaukee Metro exchanges, phone 342-2929, ext. 4445; and from Hartford/Slinger exchanges, phone 644-5204, ext. 4445. Melis, Goetsch Double In Plymouth Stocks

By: Dick Jepsen

A pair of drivers had a big night Saturday at the Plymouth Fairgrounds as they collected their first feature wins of the season and also won their respective heats. 25-year-old Tim Melis of Plymouth led flag to record his second career feature, the first coming on July 5 of last year, while Al Goetsch ended his long winless drought with a victory in the second sportsmen heat and the 25 lap main event.

In the 30 lap modified feature Tim Melis wasted little time proving his dominance as he built up a quick four length advantage over defending champ Wayne Goetsch and John Hoch battling for second. Goetsch, struggling with his new car this season, lost third to Jim Melis on lap three and temporarily lost fourth to Frankie Heimerl on the next before Heimerl dropped out with mechanical problems on lap five.

Jim Melis, putting the pressure on Hoch, slipped underneath him going into turn one to take second on lap seven. Goetsch challenged Hoch for third for several circuits before he started to lose ground using the outside groove, finishing the event out of the top ten. The only red of the event came out at the midway point of the 30 lapper when a marker tire barrel in the ground came out and landed on the track; this erased Melis' huge lead.

Melis took over where he left off building up his lead as Randy Tracy, who had charged all the way from fifteenth starting position, challenged Jim Melis for the runner-up spot while further back Johnny Corrao and Hoch battled for fourth. Curzon dropped Hoch to sixth on lap seventeen and joined Corrao as they moved in on the battle for second with Tracy and Melis. Positions remained the same to the checkers with Melis finishing ten lengths ahead of his brother Jim at the finish. Finishing bumper to bumper behind the Melis brothers were the cars of Tracy, Corrao and Curzon.

In the 25 lap sportsmen feature it was the polesitting '87 Camaro of Al Goetsch setting the pace accompanied by Randy Markwardt of Sheboygan. Engaged in a tight battle for third were the Camaros of Steve Hoffmann and Mark Sanders and the Firebird of Randy Walter. Joining the battle for third on lap eleven was Mark Melger, Howie Weiss and Jim Pitzen just as Bernie Jessen running sixth dropped out of the event.

On lap sixteen Pitzen, using the outside groove, passed both Weiss and Melger to take over sixth and dropped Sanders temporarily to sixth on the following circuit before going high in turn four allowing Sanders to gain back the position as they got by Weiss just before the only red flag of the event came out on lap 21.

Contact between point leaders Mark Melger and Gary Laack caused a multi-car accident involving Richard Hed, T.J. Haferkorn and Kevin Goetsch. Laack at one point became airborne before spinning sideways and being T-boned by Goetsch. Goetsch was shaken but otherwise unhurt but both cars were scratched for the final five laps. Goetsch retained his lead on the restart as Hoffmann, Markwardt and Pitzen ran three abreast for second.

Markwardt was able to capture the second spot and hold it to the checkers finishing three lengths behind the winner Al Goetsch. Pitzen squeaked out third in front of Steve Hoffmann as John Born passed Weiss on the last lap for fifth.

The best finish in a feature event occurred in the hobby stocks as Jim Kroening of Milwaukee beat out Dave Horneck of Kiel in a photo finish. Earlier in the event Kroening battled with Tim Veldman and Bob Otte before taking charge on lap five. Later in the event Wally Becker threatened for the lead but almost spun in turn four giving him a sixth place finish.

In the closing laps Horneck moved into challenge and pulled along side of the leader at the finish only to fall inches short. Third went to Veldman with Dave Garms fourth.

In the modified semi Dave Deicher led flag to flag in the Scott Ditter modified that is usually piloted by Bob Ruh. Deicher had his motor go sour and borrowed Ditters mount for the evening. Placing a close second in the semi was Tim Crimmings of Neosho.

The sportsmen semi proved to be a heart breaker for Ada's Mark Froh as he had a commanding lead in the event before his right rear tire went flat taking him out of the event. That left the battle up to Marv Kellar, the eventual winner, and Sheboygan's Bob Heinemann finishing a half car length back at the checkers. Dale Peters of Cascade won the hobby stock semi while Henry Dickmann took the "B" sportsmen semi honors.

Trophies were presented by Casey St. James of WKTT, sponsors of the T103 night. Next week Saturday, July 4, the Ed Foy Midseason Championship will be run with extended features in all divisions. Also the new Miss EWSCA will be crowned just before the feature events.

Autograph night will also be held in conjunction with the July 4 races, with all drivers staying by their cars after the races to sign autographs in the 1987 yearbook. Time trials start at 6:30 p.m. with races at 7:30 p.m. There will be no increase in admission for the event.

Straub Does Well At Badger State Games

MADISON — Rich Straub, Kewaskum's lone entry in the wrestling competition at the Badger State Games, brought home a silver medal from the event after finishing second at 143 pounds. Also last week, Straub took second place in the USA Federation State Tournament at Schofield.

Straub, the Eastern Wisconsin Conference champion at 138, pinned four opponents and won one match by default en route to the finals where he was pitted against Scott Hale of Hudson.

The two were involved in a high-scoring match which went right down to the wire. In the closing seconds, Straub put Hale to his back, and the referee signaled a pin at the buzzer but was reportedly overruled by the official on the clock, who said time had run out. The near-fall points made the final score 14-12 in Hale's favor.

In his prior matches, Straub pinned Corey Hamre of Fort Atkinson, the Greco Roman State Champion, Mark Centenni of Baraboo, runnerup in Class A at the WIAA State Tournament, and Jason Model of Stoughton and Dan Lehrer of Antigo.

This was Straub's first appearance in the Badger State Games. In a recent qualifying meet at Hartford, Straub won the competition at 143.

By finishing second to Tim Whiting of East Troy in the USAFST meet, Straub automatically won a spot on the National Team, which will wrestle in Cedar Falls, Iowa during mid-July.

Amerahn's Bar & Hall	2	2
Midway Bar	2	2
Barney's of Wayne	2	3

Results over the 1st half of play: All the teams this year are evenly matched judging from the scores, Barney's 4, Saloon 2, with great defensive playing on both sides. The Midway with a 3 run bagger from Ken Koenig's shot, over came Barney's, 7 to 4. The Saloon topped Amerahn in 9 innings. Roger "Dodger" Schneider's 2 home runs for midway still didn't beat the Saloon. Saloon won 10 to 9. Geno Krueger's home run for Amerahn helped put them past Barney's 9 to 5. The Saloon again came on top, 12 to 11, against Barney's. Even Larry Rauch's 2 home runs for Barney's wasn't enough to beat the Saloon's defensive moves. The midway, with Roger "Dodger" Schneider's 4 bagger, gave a 13 to 6 win over Amerahn. There just wasn't enough runners on base when Greg Hudack and Leon "Tree" Schultz homered. Barney's pulled one out with a 5 to 4 win over midway.

Jeff Panzer's 3 run homer couldn't help the Saloon overcome the Amerahn and Bob "Bobber" Mueller's 3 run homer in the 6th helped to win the game, 9 to 7. The midway and Amerahn have a game to make up yet.

Motorcyclists Warned Not to Use Sunglasses at Night

Motorcyclists today were reminded that Wisconsin law prohibits the use of sunglasses as eye protection when they are cycling at night.

Ronald Thompson, motorcycle safety program manager for the state Department of Transportation, said the law went into effect in the fall of 1985.

Wisconsin motorcycle operators must use some form of eye protection. The protection can be in the form of a windshield which rises at least 15 inches above the handlebars, a face shield attached to a helmet, goggles or glasses. The goggles or glasses may not be tinted or darkened when being used for night-time operation.

Thompson said the only darkening that is permissible is photosensitive lenses prescribed by an ophthalmologist, optometrist or oculist.

Thompson said the penalty for violation is a forfeiture ranging from $10 to $200.
