Board's Action Stuns Audience

Beechwood School to Re-Open

Return Sixth Graders to the Elementary Schools

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

After almost three hours of discussion and input from the audience, the Kewaskum School Board last Wednesday, voted four to three to re-open the Beechwood School and return all the remaining sixth grade students to the elementary schools, effective the beginning of the 1987-88 school year.

The positive reactions toward the new middle school sixth grade program and the moving of Beechwood students to Farmington seemed to have no effect on the four board members, Ronald Beimborn, Ralph Horner, Ruth Schmitt, and Clara Trapp.

Board member Perry Anker-son asked Trapp, "why do we want to do this?" "Because of overcrowding at the Middle School and Farmington" said Trapp, "I think it's my duty."

Beimborn told the audience the Middle School was built for 300-350 students and last year's enrollment was 380, plus special education students. Julie Backus, Director of Instruction, stated that in the past the building had housed more than that. She also noted that a recent outside study of the building showed it had the space capacity to hold up to 427 students based on the original floor plans. Next year the enrollment will be 375. "We're exceeding the square footage needed per student in every case" said District Administrator Penny Kleinhans.

Beimborn also refuted the administration's written report showing a savings of $105,000 in the closing of Beechwood. He said the savings were only $5,000. When both Trapp and Beimborn were asked to explain how they arrived at their figures, neither could give a dollar accounting. Beimborn said he hadn't had time to review the administration's report. Richard Theusch, Town of Wayne, asked Beimborn how much time he needed since these were the same figures presented over the past year, and when meetings had been held at Beechwood and Kohls-ville discussing the school's closing.

Mrs. Jacquie Branchford, Farmington PTO president, told the board she had spent a considerable amount of time at the school. "I really don't see an overcrowding. I've talked with teachers and they see no problems."

Mrs. Diane Stangl, a sixth grade teacher, admitted there had been some problems last year. "It was a transitional year and trial period and I 100% fully believe this year will be better than last year. They, (the sixth graders) did a lot more than they ever dreamed possible at an elementary school." Backus noted that many of the problems had been corrected before the end of the school year.

Mr. Jim Borusky, another middle school teacher, told the board he had talked to all the fifth grade classes at least three times. "They are ready for the middle school and they want to come to the middle school."

The board was told the teachers and administrators had spent many hours preparing schedules and new programs for the sixth grade. "We have come up with things we want to do for next year" said Mary Reilly-Kliss, another teacher, "and we need your commitment so we can make things work."

Mr. John Hazlewood, representing Concerned

Parents For Education, told the board he had taken a parents survey of last year's sixth grade students. "Of the 48 I was able to contact, 36 said it had been a good experience."

Former board member and president Tom Brigham told the board he perceived two basic issues, the Beechwood School, which tends to be both a philosophical argument as well as a fiscal consideration, and the question of moving the sixth graders back to their geographic boundary elementary schools, which seemed to him to be an education curriculum decision. "Certainly, it is within the board's parameter to make fiscal decisions; that you have done. I would think that the board would listen to the professionals and administrators when it comes down to the discussion of curriculum, and classes, and staffing as far as qualification for those classes. It would seem to me that this board, by voting the second part of this motion, is in fact, taking over the roll of educators and professionals, and perhaps, usurping their position, or most certainly, in some cases, their competence versus the educational professionals."

Board member Ronald Theusch asked Trapp, "what is the cost going to be to open Beechwood?" "I haven't figured that out yet" she stated.

Schmitt's argument for the opening of Beechwood had been based, in part, on anticipated future growth in the Beechwood - Farmington area. Jack Theusch, Farmington Town Chairman, told Schmitt he did not know where she was getting her information. "I've gone round and round with Mrs. Schmitt on this issue and I've

Beechwood, 6th Grade Transfer Decisions Draw Further Fire

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

While the audience for Monday night's regularly scheduled meeting was considerably smaller, the Kewaskum School Board still drew a barrage of fire from angry, upset, parents and teachers who opposed the board's decisions last week to re-open Beechwood School and shift all the sixth grade students back to the elementary schools.

Mrs. Joyce Schulteis, a parent, read a letter which she sent to the area newspapers, addressed to "The voters of the Beechwood School District, formerly the Kewaskum School District." In her comments Schulteis stated, "We now have a school board representing one particular district, it's mainly Beechwood." Decisions are now made on the wants, not the needs, of the Beechwood School District. Decisions are now made without any regard as to the outcome of the entire school district.

Schulteis continued, "Last Wednesday the present board, excluding three members, made decisions based on personal vendettas against the present administration and former board." She said she was writing her letter as a concerned parent, taxpayer, and also a person who has been in the field of education for 25 years. (Schulteis is employed in a neighboring school district).

Schulteis also noted that the Kewaskum School District, in educational circles, has been tagged as the least desirable school district to work in because of the school board members. She said, never in 25 years, had she seen such a blatant disregard for the welfare of students or the needs of a school district as the charade of a meeting which was held on July 8th. Schulteis said, in essence, the board had literally failed 125 children. Students who had anticipated being in the middle school will now spend another year at the elementary level. She felt the actions of the four board members was narrow-minded and selfish.

Mrs. Emily Land, another parent, also voiced her opposition to the Beechwood re-opening and the transfer of sixth graders. I have a child going into the sixth grade, noted Land, and she was really looking forward to school. Now, she doesn't really care if school opens at all.

The administrators were asked what effect the actions of last week's decisions would have on teacher schedules. District Administrator Penny Kleinhans noted it would impact scheduling on all levels, from the elementary schools right on up to the high school. She said nine teachers coordinate classes between the middle and high schools. Some middle school classes would have to be limited and some sixth grade classes might have to be dropped completely because it would be virtually impossible for some teachers to hold classes at the middle school and then be expected to travel out to the outlying schools for sixth grade students. Programs which in all probably would be affected are the Quest program, Home Ec, Keyboarding, and band.

Kleinhans was asked what would be involved in re-opening Beechwood and getting it operational. She told the board the kitchen would have to be completely re-equipped with a milk cooler, stove, refrigerator, freezer and various small appliances, at a cost of approximately $6,000. Carpet replacement, heating and air conditioning and paving repairs, could add another $3,000 to $8,000. There is also extensive repairs needed for the fencing, but Kleinhans had no costs for that.

"Listening to Mr. Beimborn, I got the impression money was not a problem," said Kleinhans. Regarding staffing, Kleinhans said, "We are not going to recommend split level classes as I consider that educationally unsound." Based on that, she noted, we are looking at a minimum of three to four additional teachers and a teaching principal position. (Reporter's notebook: Based on

Road Reconstruction to Start Next Week On STH 28 Between Kewaskum and STH 144

Road construction is expected to start the week of July 20, 1987 on the reconstruction of STH 28 between USH 45 and STH 144. The work will consist of grading and placing a new recycled bituminous surface.

The work will be performed under a contract let to Payne & Dolan, Inc. of Waukesha, Wisconsin, at an estimated cost of $886,160.52. Financing will be 100 percent by the State of Wisconsin from funds provided primarily by gas taxes.

STH 28 east of CTH "S" will be closed to through traffic during construction operations, with access only to local property owners. It is anticipated that the highway will be closed during the week of July 20th, 1987 and will be reopened in October, 1987. Traffic is urged to use caution in the construction zone.

A suitable detour will be provided by the State and will follow US 45, CTH "H," and STH 144.

Every possible effort will be made to provide continuous and safe ingress and egress to all business and residential properties during this reconstruction, but pedestrians and motorists are urged to use caution in the construction zone.

BEECHWOOD TO REOPEN

given her documented figures time after time," noted Theusch. "In 1980 our population was 2,387, in 1987 it dropped to 2,355. We have one 59-lot subdivision which has gone bankrupt, another which hasn't sold a lot in five years. Our equalized value has dropped $9 million. Those are the real facts," commented Theusch.

Several people noted the district was finally catching up with other districts who have had the sixth grade in their middle schools for years.

Ankerson told the board, "There is no regard for the management of this school district and the children. We're marching headlong into the past. I am almost ashamed to be on this board when something is passed with absolutely no concept of what it's going to take to make it work and with really no understanding of what the impact is. It's a sad day for the school district of Kewaskum."

When the board moved to continue discussion on the motion, one woman in the audience told the board, "I'm a nurse and part of my nursing process is learning to take a problem, break it down, analyze it, work out a plan of action and then try to implement it. As far as I'm concerned, you're all intelligent people, but as far as this vote tonight, you sure aren't showing it."

Another resident, Robert Gavin, asked the board where the money was coming from. "Another thing," said Gavin, "I get around a lot of places in the Kewaskum - West Bend area and people think this is about the stupidest school board they ever saw in their life."

When Horner asked if the board was ready to vote, teacher Kathy Charland asked to make one more comment. "Were you not interested in some of the questions that were brought up? Why weren't Ms. Kleinhans, or Mrs. Backus, or Miss Gordier asked the questions we need to have answered. I asked a specific question, many specific questions were asked. I think they were quite relevant to the decisions you're making tonight. Aren't you curious what the answers are? You have to be, and I don't know the answers. If you already know the answers tell us what you know for a fact. We want to know where these decisions are coming from. And would you like to know why we teachers are leaving in the middle of the year or at the school's end?" (Without saying any more she simply pointed to the board).

After the motion was passed, Kenneth Bonlender of Kewaskum asked, "I'd like to know how in the hell you four board members who voted yes, on this last issue, are going to get this school ready to go in 30 days. It's not the other three's problem, it's yours and I want to see that school run right in 30 days because you voted yes."

There were two motions passed, the first covered the opening of Beechwood for grades one through six, with kindergarten and special ed going to Farmington, and the second motion transferring the remaining sixth grade classes back to their boundary elementary schools.

In other action the board approved the first reading of a bylaw amendment which will see the board go to a two-meetings-a-month format on a trial basis. Ankerson asked Schmitt her reasoning for such a proposal. She said it would give residents a better opportunity to address the board and give their input. There were some groans and laughter following that statement. She also hoped it would help to shorten the length of the meetings. Kleinhans noted her opposition to the amendment, indicating a more streamlined and controlled meeting would improve the situation.

The board also tabled discussion on the budget due to the events of the evening. The board then voted to move back the date of the annual meeting to September 30, to allow the administrators time to rework the budget.

Igel Named Collegiate Academic All-American

The United States Achievement Academy has published nationally. "Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in American history. Certainly, winners of the Academic All-American Collegiate Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The USAA has established the Academic All-American Collegiate Award Program in order to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The Academic All-American Collegiate Scholars must earn a 3.30 or better grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school official or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the USAA. These are awards few students can ever hope to attain.

Jeff who attends UW-Stout, was nominated for this National Award by Robert Swanson - Chancellor. Jeff will appear in the Academic All-American Collegiate Directory, which is published nationally. "Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in American history. Certainly, winners of the Academic All-American Collegiate Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects Academic All-American Collegiate Scholars upon the exclusive recommendations of professors, instructors, deans, and other qualified sponsors. Once awarded, the students may be recognized by the USAA for other honors.

Jeff is the son of Roger and Joan Igel. The grandparents are Steve and Esther Igel of Newburg, and Earl Senkbeil of West Bend.

To the Editor:

There will be a special meeting of the Kewaskum School Board on Monday, July 20. A motion to rescind the Board action of July 8 which resulted in the re-opening of Beechwood School and the return of the sixth graders to the outlying schools will be on the agenda. It will be the best (and very probably the last) opportunity to reverse decisions which are extremely costly both educationally and financially to residents of the Kewaskum School District.

Re-opening Beechwood school and moving the sixth graders back to the outlying schools will result in a great deal of upheaval and confusion. It will leave this year's sixth graders with far fewer opportunities than last year's had while attending the Middle School. The staff at the Middle School has worked very hard to provide a program which will broaden the educational opportunities for all students. These Board decisions will sabotage those plans and school morale as well.

As the situation now stands, Beechwood school would open this fall with 68 students in grades 1 through 6. This year there will be 15 sixth graders from the Beechwood attendance area and 7 kindergarten children. This means that next year when the 15 sixth graders move on and the 7 Kindergarten children become 1st graders there will be a further loss of 8 students. This results in a projected enrollment from the Beechwood attendance area of 60 students for the year after next (1988-89). Considering these student numbers, it is difficult to justify the huge costs involved. The School District of Kewaskum realized a savings in the neighborhood of $100,000 by having Beechwood school closed during the 1986-87 school year. The loss of this savings is only the beginning of the cost involved in re-opening Beechwood. Kitchen equipment carpeting, fence repair, classroom equipment and more will be needed to get the school operational. Personnel will need to be added to give the children who attend the kind of education they deserve (and currently get without added expenditure).

Because of these decisions, we as a school district are getting less for more. We are getting far less educational opportunities for our children at a much greater cost. The money must come from someplace. There are only two alternatives. Either the taxpayer will pay more or service to other students will be reduced.

These issues (and many, many more) were raised at the July 8th meeting. None (and I mean NONE) were answered by proponents of these decisions. If you are concerned about the quality of education in our district, concerned about how your tax dollars are spent or both, make your opinion known at the special meeting Monday night or by talking to your school board members before then. Insist that all the questions raised by these actions are answered and that all the sentiment of all the people involved be taken into account in the Board's reconsideration of these decisions.

Ron Theusch

TO THE VOTERS OF THE BEECHWOOD SCHOOL DISTRICT FORMERLY THE KEWASKUM SCHOOL DISTRICT:

We now have a school board representing one particular district, mainly Beechwood. Decisions are now made on the wants, not the needs, of the Beechwood School District. Decisions are now made without any lack of regard as to what the outcome will be on the entire school district.

Last Wednesday the present school board, excluding three members, made decisions based on personal vendettas against the present administration and the former board. My comments pertain directly to the conduct of these four board members, Clara Trapp, Ruth Schmitt, Ron Beimborn and Ralph Horner.

I am writing this as a concerned parent, taxpayer, and also a person who has been in the field of education for the past twenty-five years. Never have I seen such a blatant disregard for the welfare of students or the needs of an entire school district as that charade of a meeting which was held last Wednesday evening.

Let me initially address the emotional impact on the future of the Kewaskum sixth graders, as that is something that does not carry a price tag. The above mentioned four board members voted to return the sixth graders back to area elementary schools, but far beyond that motion, they have now taken upon themselves the responsibility of having failed each and everyone of those 125 students....YES, they have actually in essence failed those children. Can you begin to imagine the impact on a child's self concept when they have been under the assumption that they were completing their last year in elementary school, went through their farewells to teachers and friends, and in all probability had some type of small graduation or recognition ceremony at the end of the year, and now five weeks prior to the opening of school being informed that they are now going to spend another year at the elementary school they thought they had just graduated from. Yes, they may be in the sixth grade on records, but in their mind they are completing another year in the fifth grade. Maybe someone ought to inform these board members of the importance of a child's self concept, oh, but someone did, a professional guidance counselor who is employed by the district told the board members at this meeting of the tremendous impact this would have on a child's self concept...and you guessed it right, they didn't listen!!!! This is just another indication that their minds were made up prior to the time this so called open meeting was held. All the thought that goes into the retention of a child, and yet these four uninformed, thoughtless board members retained all 125 of these children...and without even one parent conference or a progress report indicating the child is to be retained. I as a professional educator would not take on that type of responsibility.... but then again my background is in the field of education and deals with the welfare of children.

Educators and informed parents around the country now the recent teacher contract settlement for 1986-87, that cost could conservatively add up to another $100,000 in addition to the equipment and repair costs).

There will also be the costs of added maintenance personnel time to move equipment and furniture and generally prepare the school to open, plus the time needed to reschedule the teachers, students and bus routes.

More complete information on the re-opening costs will be presented to the board at another special meeting scheduled for next Monday, July 20th, at 7:00 p.m.

In other action, the board discussed the procedures for taking, and approval of board minutes. The item was placed on the agenda as the result of board member Perry Ankerson noticing changes from the preliminary to final minutes of the June 8th meeting. He questioned why some of his conversations had been deleted.

"My concern is people editing minutes. I was upset because I felt this was deceptive," Ankerson said he had no problems with board members making error corrections, but purposely removing paragraphs and sentences because a board member did not feel they were pertinent to the meeting was not appropriate. His comments were directed to the actions of Ruth Schmitt. When Ankerson asked Schmitt why she directed the minutes be edited, she indicated we did not feel they had any significant value. Ankerson asked Schmitt, "who is the 'We'?" Schmitt replied there was no "we" that she had taken it upon herself to call Kleinahns and direct her to make the deletions of Ankerson's statement and another line referring to board president Ralph Horner's decision on a committee appointment.

"I'm very, very upset that someone would try to edit the minutes" said board member Ron Theusch. "Factual corrections are fine, but any other concerns should be addressed at a meeting."

Kleinahns also said, "It is very inappropriate for me to get on the phone with you individually and argue about the minutes." She suggested, to avoid future problems the board might want to consider verbatim formal minutes.

Board member Donald Nowak said he was perfectly satisfied with the present procedure, however, if editing of the minutes was going to be a continuing problem he would move to consider formal minutes.

Schmitt said she would not vote for informal minutes unless there were tapes available to the general public and press. Kleinahns said the tapes were always available and anyone could come into the administration office to hear them.

Ankerson said since the board had Mrs. Schmitt as its elected clerk, maybe it should consider dispensing with the services of a recording secretary and let Schmitt take the minutes.

Board member Clara Trapp asked to address the comments of the tapes being available in the administration office. She noted in the past, with the previous board when she had sought to check the tapes for something not appearing in the minutes she was brushed aside. "And when I wanted to go in there, and when I did go in there, you are afraid, I am afraid, to go in by you (Kleinahns) alone for a harassment suit." "I believe your husband is the one who threatened and said he was going to blow us all away with a gun" said Kleinahns. "He never said that," said Trapp.

The board decided to remain with the present procedure of taking minutes. Kleinahns then added, "We will not, in the future, add or delete anything over the phone. We will take care of that at a meeting."

In other action, Julie Backus, Director of Instruction, informed the board that the district had not received an applied for grant to fund the Alcohol and Drug Abuse training program. She asked the board to re-affirm its commitment to provide the funds necessary to proceed with the program. The board told her to go ahead with the program.

Backus also went over the district's latest competency based testing scores.

The board agreed to begin its two meeting a month schedule in October. It also approved the district's CESA 6 general services and special ed services contracts for 1987-88.

Business Manager Cherna Gorder was given authorization to award the district's milk contract to John Engelhardt, and to purchase three replacement copiers for the district.

Homecoming Sunday at Salem UCC on July 26

Salem United Church of Christ at Wayne has declared July 26 as HOMECOMING SUNDAY. A special service at 10:00 a.m. will honor former members and prior confirmation classes. A number of former pastors of the congregation will also be present to bring greetings and to renew acquaintances.

Following the service, there will be a pot-luck dinner served for all who attend.

This special service is one in a series of special programs celebrating the 130th anniversary of Salem UCC. A variety of historical items will be on display. Of particular interest will be the book of pictures of previous confirmation classes. There's an almost complete set of pictures of each class since 1913! Mr. and Mrs. Fred Menger have been instrumental in accomplishing this project.

An historical account, with many pictures of the congregation's life and people, has also been prepared. Other items of historical interest will also be displayed.

The public is invited to attend this festive worship service. Members and friends are asked to bring food for sharing with the many guests for the pot-luck.

St. John's Lutheran Congregation, New Fane, after thorough deliberation, has decided to erect a new parsonage with modern equipment. The stone part of the present parsonage was put up more than 60 years ago and plainly showed the ravages of the years. The frame addition, built in 1902, is still in very good condition, but as the expense of rebuilding this would have been practically the same as a new house, it was deemed wiser to put up an entirely new building. The contract has been let to Schlaefer Brothers of Campbellsport. The work of tearing down the old building is being done by the members of the congregation. For the present only the stone part is being razed. The pastor and his family will occupy the frame part until the new parsonage is finished, which should be about by November 1.

Production of 1938 Wisconsin license plates for automobiles is now getting underway at the state prison at Waupun. Next year's color combination calls for a black letter on silver background.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koepke, living about three miles north of this village experienced an accident last Monday, which they will not soon forget. While enroute on their way home from a visit in the Town of Wayne last Monday morning and near the Jos. Karl cheese factory, three miles west of this village, they met Dr. N. Hausmann with his automobile. Seeing him approach, Mr. Koepke turned out of the road, which was a high embankment. When the auto approached, the horse became shy and in some manner upset the rig, throwing the occupants forcibly to the ground. Dr. Hausmann at once stopped his car and hurried to the scene to release the couple from beneath the buggy, which was damaged considerably. Mrs. Koepke received only a few slight bruises while her husband escaped injury.

The dwelling of Reinhold Frauenheim in Boltonville was completely destroyed by fire last Saturday evening, together with most of its contents. The fire originated from oily cloths, which after having been used to oil the kitchen floor, had been thrown into a wood box where they soon became ignited from the intense heat. The family lost most of their belongings and had only time to escape with their lives, after they had been notified of the fire by their son and daughter, who were just returning home.

At the Advancement Association meeting held Tuesday evening the program committee reported that since announcing the program for the Homecoming to be held in this village on July 27th and 28th, they had a proposition for the association in regard to having the Wisconsin Light Guard of Milwaukee, consisting of about 50 and 65 members to be present at the Homecoming celebration. This proposition was met very enthusiastically by all members present and it was decided to have the soldiers come to this village. and camp in the North Side Park.

Rain Delays Parade

Cloudburst Turned '30's Picnic Into Puddles

Around 1939, when the firemen held the Badger Firemen's Tournament and Picnic, a cloudburst also put a damper on that parade and picnic. Heinie and His Grenadiers of WTMJ radio fame of Milwaukee, who were the big radio entertainers for that era, were hired for a considerable amount of money to be the main attraction. The celebration was a two day affair, with a children's parade held on Saturday preceding the big parade on Sunday. Many, many people turned out for what was to become one of the largest celebrations ever held in Kewaskum.

On Sunday, Frank Heppie, local postmaster at that time, was grand marshal. As the parade proceeded to the Village Park, the downpour began and the cloudburst continued until the park was turned into a muddy lake. The picnic was then moved to the Opera House, now Riverview Inn. Heinie agreed to play there for half price.

Some amusing tales were recalled of that day. At that time people really dressed up for a picnic, wearing their Sunday finery. Many men and women wore straw hats which were drooping and ruined. Ladies wore dresses of crepe material which shrunk and their petticoats stuck out as much as six inches.

It rained for several years after this, in a much lesser degree, at the Kewaskum Firemen's picnics, until they got a reputation such as the "Boltonville Rain Days" yearly celebration. If it was a dry season, people would say, "Wait until the Kewaskum Picnic — then it will rain."

For many years now, until Sunday, the firemen have had good luck. Perhaps Sunday's weather was not too unfortunate though, as it had been beastly hot for days and the rain and clouds helped squelch the heat we've all come to expect at the Kewaskum Firemen-Legion picnics.

Setting up the famous Kewaskum "picnic patties"

The annual Kewaskum Firemen-Legion parade on Sunday was about to begin at noon as scheduled when dark clouds loomed over Kewaskum and within minutes a downpour of rain which lasted about twenty minutes, postponed the parade for a half hour. Many of the floats were ruined and did not participate in the parade. Some of the bands, including the KHS band did not march in the parade as their instruments got wet and all participants got drenched.

Attendance at the picnic was down due to the fact that people got drenched and went home, although many many people were on hand to watch the parade, and attended the picnic.

Winners of the water fights held Saturday night at 6:30 p.m. were: First place Jackson Fire Department; second place Hartford and third place Allenton. Other departments in the water fights were Theresa, Lomira, Silver Creek, Slinger, Eden, Campbellsport, Fillmore, Newburg, Kohlsville and Boltonville.

According to Robert Staehler, parade chairman, it has been about 25 years since the parade got rained on.

All in all the Firemen-Legion have been pretty fortunate with the parades.

Polowing is a list of the winners in the float and children's entries in the parade: Floats — 1. My Little Friends Day Care; 2. Sno-Chiefs Snowmobile Club; 3. Kewaskum Boy Scouts; 4. Family Hair Salon.

Children's Specialties — 1. Robbie Weinfurter; 2. Josh Settig; 3. & 4. — Unknown. (Would the three children riding decorated bikes call Bob Stoltzman at 626-4503.

The picnic committee would like to thank all who attended the picnic and helped in any way. Special thanks to the Kewaskum Lions Club, Miller's Furniture and Sentry Foods for their donations toward the music in the parade.

Weekly Health Tip
 From Tom Kennelly

NAP FOR ENERGY
 Winston Churchill took a snooze each afternoon, saying it enabled him to "press a day-and-a-half's work into one." Actually, half the people in the world take a nap each day - the siesta of the tropics and subtropics. Evidence indicates a brief afternoon nap - between 2 and 3 p.m. - gives the best energizing results. More than a one hour nap won't increase the benefits.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

realize that in this day and age sixth graders belong in middle schools. Other districts have done this years ago. Our district was on the way to becoming an updated and informed district of sound educational trends. We were on our way to giving our children the best educational experiences possible, at the lowest possible tax rate. Our son had the opportunity to experience what he deserved, being a sixth grader in a middle school. His growth and success went far beyond what was on a report card. My heart goes out to those children who will be denied this experience. Again that vote by Ruth Schmitt, Clara Trapp, Ron Beimbom and Ralph Horner was one of the most narrow minded, selfish public displays of ignorance that I have ever seen. These four board members need to come out of the closet and become aware of the educational experiences that are given to children in this century. We are suppose to be dedicated to the education of our children, as they are our future, and this can hardly be accomplished with a group of four present board members who are adamant on establishing practices that have long since proven ineffective in the field of present day education. Change is a part of growth... but these members have chosen to stop growing...that may be their choice but when it effects children it is no longer their choice.

Another interesting observation is how three of the board members came with written summaries of their proposal and position. The inability of these board members to rationally discuss issues without the use of prepared statements that are read, is another indication of their inability to individually think for themselves. The board member without notes has already proved that she has the inability to rationally discuss any issues!!!!!!

Mr. Ron Beimbom also added a great deal of inaccurate information to the meeting. He tossed, and I mean tossed, out a figure of $5,000 as the only amount that was saved by closing Beechwood. Mr. Beimbom was made aware over a year ago that the savings was well over one hundred thousand dollars. This sheet was itemized in detail as to how and where the savings would occur, and yet he blatantly told the audience that he didn't have time to review these figures, and gave no indication of where or how he came up with his figure of $5,000. The savings of one hundred thousand is now deceptive, as reopening Beechwood will cost a great deal more. This amount doesn't begin to cover all the professional hours that have gone into developing programs for the sixth graders, such as workshops for teachers, curriculum changes etc....taxpayers be ready for an increase to pay for all of this.

Another area that is not enumerated with a dollar sign is the effect that this will have on the moral of the professional staff in our district. Kewaskum is being put on a list... a list of least desirable schools to teach in...not because of students, but because of school board policies and members. They had the ignorance to question or second guess why teachers were leaving or looking elsewhere! The answer is in the relationship of the board to the professionals in the district.

If you recall it was these newly elected board members who said during their campaign statements pertaining to the need to cooperate, the need for sound educational practices, the need to lower taxes and to establish good relationships within the community. One board member in his campaign even went so far as to infer that something crooked was being done by the past board. This particular board member now comes to meetings with prepared statements and gives figures that cannot be substantiated....now who is being crooked?

The silent majority of this district, who I feel have got to be concerned with our children had better come forth and let these board members know that they are not going to tolerate their ignorance in regard to making educational decisions that will effect our children. We are paying for taxes in this century, and that is where the education of our children should be.

Our teachers have been outstanding...but let me make you aware that this will not continue, as they will look elsewhere, and many of them have been. Morale will suffer and as a consequence so will the education of our children and that will be a direct result of the vote that was cast by CLARA TRAPP, RON BEIMBORN, RUTH SCHMITT and RALPH HORNER, again a vote that displayed individual vendettas against our administration and previous board. A vote that was cast with out any regard as to the impact it would have on our children. Again, a vote of pure IGNORANCE!!!

Joyce Schulteis

July 8, 1987

To Kewaskum School District Residents:

The Kewaskum School Board has again lived up to it's reputation for absurdity — at least four of its members have. Without thought to implementation or teacher contracts or time factors, they have voted (am I having deja vu) to open Beechwood and put all 6th graders back in the grade schools. Never mind that our administrators and teachers have spent the last six months preparing for the 1987-88 with the opposite in mind. Never mind that the experts they hire to administrate our schools council against this move, or that most people at the meeting spoke against the decision. No, they went boldly forth without a thought—period.

Now they expect our over-worked staff to open a school, reschedule all middle school students and teachers, and shuffle all four grade schools in 30 days. Maybe they have some extra time to help out?

And wait until you get your tax bill, folks. Many figures were bandied around tonight, but I tend to put credence in our Business Manager's $105,-000,00. That money must come from somewhere and guess who's going to get the bill, taxpayers. You and I!

Wait, I have an idea. Perhaps it's time the entire school district spoke out on this issue. We need a referendum. Call for one, School Board, if you dare!

Margaret McFadden

Fellow Taxpayers of the Kewaskum School District:

I was one of the approximately 125 people attending the July 8th special meeting of the Kewaskum School Board. I have attended other meetings but I must say the actions of four of its members that night have to be the biggest fiasco yet.

The utter lack of logic, common sense, and plain reasoning had to be seen and heard to be believed. It was obvious from the very opening of the meeting, when school board member Clara Trapp read already prepared, written-out motions to #1, re-open Beechwood School, and #2, transfer all the sixth graders back to the elementary schools, just what the outcome would be.

Parents and teachers of the sixth grade students spoke positively and supportively about the new middle school schedules and programs. Parents of the incoming sixth grade class told how their children were looking forward to the new semester. All to no avail. The shock came to the over 100 of us (a very few from Beechwood), including parents, teachers and counselors, who believed our two hours of input supporting the new sixth grade program, along with keeping Beechwood closed, would have any effect on their decision.

To those four board members, Clara Trapp, Ronald Beimbom, Ralph Horner, and Ruth Schmitt: I am saying as a taxpayer, your illogical, unprofessional actions are going to cost this district dearly, both financially and emotionally. You, who have campaigned on the stand that you would reduce costs and taxes in this district. You, who voted against the budget and tax cuts presented by the other three board members. Well, now you can add your $105,000 Beechwood costs into the budget plus the cost of opening the school, add teachers, aides, bus routes and all the overtime needed to make the physical and scheduling changes.

If this is your way of saving the Kewaskum School District taxpayers money, I'm afraid we're really in trouble.

And to Mrs. Schmitt: you read your policy revision about holding two meetings a month so people can come and give you their input. You had over a hundred people at that meeting last week and you listened with deaf ears. What difference will two meetings make; more time for you not to listen to what the people of this community want?

People may have considered your side of the issues if you had only come forward with some real "black and white" facts and figures on paper. Instead, all the four of you did was say those people at the meeting (who could and did have their facts and figures) were wrong simply because they did not agree with you and your views.

Remember, you were elected to represent and work for all the families and taxpayers of this district, not just a few. Instead of working to bring this community together, your actions have widened the rift.

I'm afraid this move was just a powerplay to show who rules the district. Fellow taxpayers of the district, I think we all have to let these people know we live in a democracy, not a dictatorship to be ruled by a few.

A very concerned taxpayer

To the editor of the Statesman and the people of the Kewaskum School District:

I am a history teacher and so like many of you, I have heard many quotes and cliché's which seemingly enrich and enhance our understanding of the past. For example: "I may not agree with what you say, but I do defend to the death your right to say it." I am sure many of us have struggled with that one on occasion. Another that seems somehow appropriate could be "Forgive them Father, for they know not what they do."

Of course, there is more to history than the collection of enlightening quotations. There is the on-going study of the cause and effect relationship so that students learn early and well that what we do can, and probably will have some subsequent impact on our lives in the future. There is also considerable time and effort given to the development of problem solving skills and decision making process. This, of course, is where the students learn to deal with problems and with making informed decisions by collecting information about the issue they are considering. Then they study all the data they have collected in an attempt to determine what the impact of that decision will be before the actual decision is made. This seems to me, to be a reasonably intelligent way of doing things. I am sure we all realize that we seldom regret the decisions we have made after careful consideration of all the available pertinent information which could guide us.

This being the case, you can easily imagine my profound disappointment at the school board meeting on Wed. July 8, because it became strikingly clear that the majority of our duly elected keepers of the intellectual flame in the Kewaskum School District were not going to employ these very same basic decision making skills and collect and study all available pertinent information before making their decision, instead, they chose to make their emotional decision first and then ordered that information be gathered to implement the decision whether or not it was educationally or economically sound or even possible.

As a teacher, I was disappointed by this procedure and as a parent of current and future Kewaskum schools students I was shocked and dismayed that this approach to very important decisions was used by our educational leaders.

The decision to re-open the Beechwood Elementary School has been made. Fortunately, we still do not know if that was the best decision for all concerned and that's unfortunate. What is even worse was the decision to send all the sixth graders back to the outlying schools without a clear understanding of the educational, economic, and administrative impact of this woefully unenlightened decision.

I was told by a current school board member that having the sixth graders in the outlying schools was okay, because that's the way we used to do it and it was good enough for students then so it will have to be good enough now.

Now there's one of those qualities that has made America the great place that it is. I could not help wondering if Henry Ford thought horses were the final word on transportation - to say nothing of Orville and Wilbur Wright—who must have been among the first to say: if God wanted us to fly, He would have given us wings! Children today don't have to face the horror of polio—I'm glad Jonas Salk did not feel that the way it was, was good enough. I recognize that change does not automatically mean progress, but unfortunately with the approach used by the four members of the Kewaskum school board, there was not enough pertinent and factual information collected to allow them to make an informed decision.

If you have an opinion regarding this very important educational issue, perhaps you could attend the next school board meeting on July 20 and voice that opinion - it really does matter!

Thank you for your time-
Sincerely,
Fran Charland

Our school district, Mr. Beimborn, is very big business. According to the fourth draft of our budget, I noted a final figure for 1987/1988 of $6,914, 286. Outside of Regal Ware and perhaps Kemp's Dairy I can not think of other multi-million dollar business concerns in the immediate Kewaskum area. You say we are NOT dealing with management yet do we not have administrators? You say we are not dealing with labor yet do we not deal with teacher and support staff unions? You say we do not deal with "everything in this room" and that I surmise means the parents, community members, and teachers who came on the evening of July 8 to express their opinions - do we not deal with the validity of opinions? You expressed we "deal with kids-that's our school district." Yes indeed but behind each "kid" stands the army of taxpayers, parents and many more residents who are not parents, willing or not willing, to ensure a quality education. Our fixed and middle income residents who basically comprise our district deserve far more than your seemingly naive assessment of what is included in the make up of a school district.

It is unfortunate the members on the board who recognize our district's financial situation and who have demonstrated the creative use of these confined resources are in the minority this time around.

To the residents of the Kewaskum School District:

There is so much to say regarding the decisions made by the school board of July 8th. However, I will not attempt to say it all in this letter. Instead, I would like to impress upon all of the parents of this district that many, many students will be affected by the changes in programming for the 1987-88 school year. PLEASE attend the meeting on July 20th and become informed and involved!

See you there!

Kewaskum School District Taxpayers Beware!

Do you know what it will cost to reopen Beechwood School and return the sixth graders to the elementary schools? This was one of many items discussed at Monday night's school board meeting. The administration recommended that three to four additional teaching staff members and a teaching principal be hired. A stove, refrigerator, milk cooler, copy machine, and other kitchen items and supplies will have to be purchased before school begins. Carpeting, paint, asphalt, fencing, a furnace, and a water heater will have to be replaced or repaired. District Administrator Kleinhans read a letter from Mr. Zarling which listed many needs and additional costs that would be incurred at Kewaskum

Elementary School to open additional classrooms to accommodate the return of the sixth graders to that school. At the meeting, a paper entitled "Project Enrollment Figures - 1987-1988" was handed out, which states that there are six classrooms at Wayne and eleven classrooms at Farmington. When the sixth graders return to these schools, there will be a need for seven Classrooms at Wayne and thirteen classrooms at Farmington. Educational programs including choir, group band, computer keyboarding, science labs, home economics, vocational education, exploratory courses, and the Quest program will no longer be available to the sixth graders upon their return to the elementary schools.

Not once throughout this meeting did our elected officials, Ruth Schmitt, Ralph Horner, Ron Beimborn, or Clara Trapp, express any concern about the costs of the plan for which they voted. At the June 23rd school board meeting, a budget was approved by a 4-2 vote which would have reduced our taxes. For the first time in many years, the taxpayer would have gotten some much needed tax relief. But at the July 8th meeting, the school board chose to rescind the motion which would have lowered taxes.

We need some answers as to the cost of this plan and the effect that it will have upon our children. The administrative staff does not recommend this plan because it is not cost efficient or educationally sound and will disrupt our children's education. Therefore, it is necessary that we, the parents and taxpayers of the School District of Kewaskum, attend Monday night's school board meeting.

Unfair Judging at the Kewaskum Firemen-Legion Parade

In my estimation judging of the floats is totally unfair. Just how is this judging really done? All entrants should be at the starting point at 11:30 a.m. and the parade starts at 12:00 noon. This then gives the judges only 1/2 hr. to see all floats, but you must remember that only the very basics are on the floats at this time as the characters in costume are quite uncomfortable sitting in the sun, and, therefore if judging is done only at the starting point they miss a lot of detail, etc. It is my understanding that they this year did not judge along the parade route. Why? If you give the excuse "Rain"-forget it as we stuck thru it to the end, and you as the selected judges should complete your assigned duty to the end or decline the job of judging.

It seems the floats could be partially judged at the starting point and again in "full dress" on the parade route. If the entrants do not go beyond the starting point to the parade route this should be an automatic disqualification. What I really would like to see is the individual score sheets of each of the judges in this particular instance. Do we have them? Also, if I recollect correctly it seemed like a mother/daughter team of judges - that is at least according to the conversation I overheard.

If judging was done at the starting point, where then was the third judge?

Why not have out of town judges? This way no favoritism would be shown to local entrants.

Let's get on the ball for next year!

July 13, 1987

This is an open letter to the people of the Kewaskum School District:

My family is my first priority, and with the accident and serious injuries suffered by my husband, I have not been able to keep up with school issues.

However, I did hear that once again Clara Trapp has mentioned my name in reference to the selection process for the district administrator's position two years ago.

Let's set the record straight, once and for all.

Lynn Dieringer, Neal Weare and I were selected and asked by the other School Board members to do the job, since the others worked during the day. The intent was to visit the candidates in their working environment and meet other school personnel and community members during the school day.

Something came up and Neal couldn't go, so we contacted Board President Tom Brigham, who said that Lynn and I should go to the districts of the three finalists.

Lynn and I made an effort to reach a diverse group of people in each community, including newspaper editors and reporters, business leaders, school personnel and parents.

I have served and worked with three business managers and three administrators, and have met many others from different school districts at conventions, seminars, etc., and I feel that School Board made a wise decision two years ago.

The administration has:

- (1) Lowered our taxes, while at the same time upgraded education.
 - (2) Seen that students, in each grade at each school are now learning from the same textbooks, and we have district-wide continuity in curriculum.
 - (3) Provided better opportunities for the middle school and high school students through exploratory courses, the professional-development period at the eight-period day; students are now expanding their knowledge of jobs and college through career exploration and updated, expanded vocational/technical classes, including co-op programs in the community.
 - (4) Kept the School Board better informed on state law and new mandates and policy.
 - (5) Made money for the district by strict cash management and investing of funds.
 - (6) Written grant requests and received thousands of dollars for education.
 - (7) And, very importantly, the administration has provided the opportunity for our teachers to utilize their professionalism by serving on committees and helping make decisions about curriculum and inservice.
- I believe the administration is concerned about all the children in our school district and, in the 10 years I served on the School Board, I always thought about the education and welfare of all the children in our district.

As most of you are aware, last Wednesday night, four of the School Board members were only interested in Beechwood and Clara's ego and her vindictiveness against the administration and me.

I'm a private citizen now, we have a family business to keep afloat, and my family doesn't need this continued harassment.

Sincerely,
Jeanne Goeden

To Whom It May Concern:
(Fire Dept.-Legion Picnic Parade)

For the past several years I have been observing the Kewaskum Fireman-Legion Parade.

Your Parade is to be congratulated as to the size, bands, floats and all other entrants. Be that as it may for the presentation of the parade, but again as an observer and a previous judge may I say that it seems the judging of the floats seems to be either prejudiced or unfair. This type of judging will eventually eliminate people and businesses preparing a float to support your Firemen Dept. and Legion and each year you will have less float entrants.

This year prompted me to write this letter, as the First Place Winner never even participated in the parade and still accepted the First Place Winning Prize. All other entrants (even without people and characters on them finished the parade route). I heard the reason for not completing the parade was that it was unsafe to have all the little children on the top of a high semi-trailer bed after the rain. In the first place any parents considering and or allowing this small child on top of a high semi-bed regardless of the weather needs to think about how very unsafe this could be—who would be liable for any such mishap? These parents should never entrust their children to such conditions.

What I and many other people would like to see is a picture of the 1st prize winner in the paper—then maybe we could see if judging is done on a fair and even basis.

I guess what I am trying to say is that in the future why doesn't the Fire Department & Legion just donate $100.00 to the Day Care Center and eliminate all the hassle of judging and then you will have many more participants in the parade and everyone will be more at ease.

Dear Editor,

What would you do with a pile of dirt the size of a city block and 6,125 feet high? Well, if you spread it out over a million acres of land and planted it with native grasses and trees, you'd have some of the richest timberlands and abundant wildlife anywhere in the country.

It is possible. In fact, it's anticipated. If all of Wisconsin's eligible farm land is enrolled in the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) we stand to gain more than $18 million dollars of income to rural landowners through forest industry benefits alone. Declining grassland bird species will get a strong second chance and more than 36.7 million tons of top soil, one of our most precious natural resources, will be saved.

Wisconsin farmers have enrolled 255,735 acres into the CRP to date, a mere 17% of the goal. Our neighboring states of Iowa and Minnesota have done much better. Both states have enrolled in excess of 1 million acres.

Admittedly, Wisconsin's dairy agriculture may explain some of the difference between states. However, I can't help but think that broad scale public support for CRP in those states, even in urban areas, has been the motivating factor.

Won't you help us get the word out to landowners? Enclosed is background information on CRP and some suggested story ideas. The next sign-up period for the Conservation Reserve Program is July 20 - 31. Advance coverage of the sign-up can make the difference between success and failure.

Thank you for your consideration. With your help, this next sign-up can be the most successful ever.

Sincerely,
C.D. Besadny,
Secretary
Department of Natural Resources

Curzon, Melger Win Expo Races

BY: Dick Jepsen

A capacity crowd was on hand Wednesday night at the Manitowoc Expo grounds as Eastern Wisconsin Stock Cars made it's first of five scheduled visits. Inaugural features were won by Bailey's Harbor Gregg Curzon in the modifieds and Mark Melger of Sheboygan Falls in the sportsmen.

The evening's races were marred by one of Eastern Wisconsin Stock Cars most devastating crashes in the modified feature. The accident occurred just after the start of the 20 lap event when a couple of cars got out of shape in turn two which created a cloud of dust blinding the drivers. When the sound of motors stopped and the dust settled nine cars lay strewn on and next to the back straightaway.

The car of Greg Otte rolled and came to a stop in the field next to John Hock and the airborne Wayne Goetsch. On the track was the battered cars of Ken Biertzer, Frankie Heimerl, Chuck Melis, Ken Schulz, Randy Tracy and Terry Marten.

Among the most serious injuries were Frankie Heimerl of West Bend with a possible broken kneecap, Ken Schulz of Plymouth, back and knee injuries, John Hoch of Beaver Dam, a shoulder injury, Wayne Goetsch, neck injury, Randy Tracy, arm injury and Chuck Melis, a knee injury, while the other three drivers escaped with minor bumps and bruises.

Don Goeden also had problems as he suffered a broken rear axle in turn three. Before the race was restarted both Marten and Goeden were able to make repairs and returned to the line-up. After a lengthy red it was Tim Crimmings taking the lead at the drop of the green from outside the front row followed by Gregg Curzon.

Curzon wasted little time after the first circuit grabbing the lead from Crimmings in turn four. As Curzon started to pull away from the pack Chuck Tuschl of Cato moved in to challenge Crimmings for second. Tuschl needed only two laps to get by Crimmings and moving up to challenge for third was Jim Melis. On lap six Melis running strong passed Crimmings in turn three for third and set his sight on Tuschl.

Melis kept closing the gap on Tuschl and on the last lap, as Curzon scored a easy win, made a successful bid for second on the final turn. Tuschl finished third, while Crimmings and Micky Kardoskee finished fourth and fifth respectively.

Marv Kellar led the first lap of the sportsmen feature before the red appeared for the stalled Firebird of John Born in turn four. When racing resumed Russ Spatz took over and held the lead for one circuit before the second red flag came out for Wayne Goetsch, driving for son Kevin's car came to a stop outside the backstretch after making contact with Chris Willadsen. Mark Melger took control on the restart with Kellar, Bernie Jessen and Richard Hed battling for second dropping Spatz to fifth.

On lap 6 both Jessen and Hed passed Kellar and fought for second until lap 8 when Bob Heineman, Jerry Ziegelbauer, Dale Bauer and Russ Spatz collided in turn two taking all four out of the event. Despite a red flag two laps later when John Born blew his motor in turn one, Melger was able to maintain his lead and win the first sportsmen feature at the Expo.

Hed on the restart got by Jessen on the outside to finish second. Frank Geiger passed Jessen on the last lap for third, dropping Jessen to fourth, with Todd Gerlach finishing fifth. David Laabs of Manitowoc won his first EWSCA feature passing Rick Hed of Sheboygan Falls on lap six and holding off his challengers to the checkers for the win.

Hed finished second with Jim Kroening of Milwaukee third and Dave Murre of Random Lake fourth. Sixty-eight cars participated in the evening's events. The first rollover at the Expo track occurred in the second hobby stock heat when Mike Plate lost a wheel and rolled after hitting a tire barrier in turn 3. Eastern Wisconsin Stock Cars will run four more races at the Expo on July 22, Aug. 5, Aug. 19 and Aug. 26 during the Manitowoc County Fair.

Safety Training Required for Young ATV Operators

All terrain vehicle (ATV) owners and users are reminded that effective July 1st this year, there are restrictions on the operation of these vehicles by young persons.

Gary Homuth, recreational vehicle safety officer, said, "Young persons at least 12 years of age but under 16 years old, may not operate an ATV unless they have successfully completed an ATV safety course, or are accompanied by a person who is 18 years of age or older." He defined "accompanied" as being subject to continuous verbal direction and control by the adult.

Homuth said that of the 78 all terrain vehicle accidents reported in Wisconsin since July 1, 1986, 47 percent involved youngsters 16 years of age or under. And, 33 percent of the 12 ATV fatalities involved youths under 16 years of age. In most of these cases, the young operators were not being supervised.

Although the safety course requirement does not apply to persons who use an ATV exclusively on land under the management and control of the person's immediate family, Homuth encourages all parents to enroll their children in a safety course. The safety training program emphasizes the importance of laws and regulations, responsibility, personal safety and the proper use of ATVs.

Contact your local DNR conservation warden for the location of an ATV safety course.

Six Are Added To Rock River Hall of Fame

Six new members have been voted into the Rock River League Hall of Fame by members of the league's Oldtimers' Association.

Carl Heimerl, Jackson, president of the association, this week announced the mail ballot results.

A pair of fiery-fast right-handers, Al Buchta of Mayville and Gary Schlieve of Ashippun, hurled their way into the Rock Hall that now numbers 86. Schlieve, who lives in Hartford, also had eight years in the pros.

Infielder Jerry Hofmaier, who also doubled as a RH pitcher, spent 29 years in home talent baseball: two breaking in at Slinger in 1954, then eight at Rubicon, two at West Bend and the final 17 at Hartford where he resides.

Another Rock alumni with professional credentials, Clarence "Bud" Hembrook, Waukesha, patrolled the outfield for Fond du Lac in the old Wis. State League and Quincy, Ill. in the Three "I" league before settling down at Theresa in '49.

One of the league's all-time premier catchers, Francis "Corky" Neu, now a Hartford resident, got his Rock River baptism as a 16-year-old at Neosho in 1955 and spent two years there, followed by 12 at Slinger and a pair at Rubicon.

Francis "Bud" Bellon of Horicon, league commissioner for eight years (1957-64) and the association's secretary-treasurer since its beginning in 1980, is the sixth new member to be inducted at the Oldtimers' 8th Hall of Fame Dinner on Saturday night, Oct. 10, at the Mayville Golf club.

Heimerl also announced that enough Oldtimers have indicated interest in a Brewers' afternoon game on Thursday, Aug. 27, vs. Cleveland, a senior citizen's discount date, to schedule an outing.

Attendance at the game is still open to all members and their friends by contacting the secretary by July 20th.

Youth Gymnastics Camp Here July 27-31

Village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held by the Zoning Board of Appeals of the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, on Monday, August 3, 1987, at 6:30 p.m. in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street, Kewaskum, Wisconsin, at which time the Board will consider the following application.

The application of Thomas Timblin for a variance, for the property situated on the east side of Courtney Lane for the property described in CSM #3003 as recorded in Volume 17 of the Certified Survey Maps in Washington County Registry at Page 111. The reason for this variance request is because of the rear yard requirements set forth in Chapter 3.6 of the Village of Kewaskum Zoning Ordinance entitled "R-4 Multiple-Family Residence District." If the variance would be approved it would allow the east side known as the rear yard to be less than the 24 feet rear yard requirement.

After the public hearing the Board of Appeals will meet in closed session to consider the application for variance. The public hearing and meeting have been called by John Tessar, Chariman of the Board of Appeals.

All interested persons will be given an opportunity to be heard.

JOHN TESSAR, CHAIRMAN
Zoning Board of Appeals

Morgan, Wagner Slinger Speedway Feature Winners

Conrad Morgan of Dousman survived a tangle with Dennis Lampman 10 laps from the finish and went on to win the 30 lap late model feature at Slinger Speedway.

Outside front row starter Lampman overpowered pole sitter Jim Weber to grab the lead at the drop of the green flag. On lap 2, Tony Strupp's Dodge Daytona got loose and slowed exiting turn two. This caused the trailing cars of Lowell Bennett and Rich Somers to collide in chain reaction with Strupp's mount costing all three drivers numerous positions.

By lap 5, Lampman owned a 10-car lead margin over runner-up Al Schill while fast qualifier Bobby Dotter showed strength advancing from his ninth starting position to fifth. Three circuits later, Morgan passed Schill for second place. On lap 10, Dotter dropped Joel Laufer to the fifth slot.

Lampman maintained a lead margin through the race's half-way mark while Rich Bickle Jr. passed Laufer for fifth place. On lap 16, Fred Winn hit his mount on the backstretch off turn two bringing out a yellow flag and erasing Lampman's lead cushion.

On the restart, Lampman regained the top spot with Morgan and Schill shadowing his rear bumper. On lap 20, as the leaders charged off turn two, Lampman and Morgan tangled causing Lampman to spin in the racing groove necessitating a caution.

When racing resumed, with Lampman bringing up the rear of the field, Morgan powered out front and held off the charging Schill for the win. Dotter, Bickle Jr. and Laufer rounded out the top five while Lampman finished eleventh.

Jim Wagner of Hartford scored his first sportsman 25 lap feature victory of the season and closed up on point leader Bob Brownell who finished second and threatens to walk off with the sportsman championship in mid-July.

At the drop of the green flag, pole sitter Jeff Madell battled numeral-to-numeral with Jerry Suderland for the lead for several laps. Suderland grabbed the front spot on lap 3 while Wagner dropped Madell to third place.

The running order remained unchanged until lap 11 when leader Suderland's mount blew its engine on the backstretch. No yellow flag was thrown and Wagner inherited the lead.

Rookie drive Jimm Lynch passed Madell for the runner-up position on lap 15. On the following circuit, Wagner began passing slower traffic, which he used to build a lead margin over Lynch.

On lap 17, fast qualifier Roger Otto coasted his ailing IROC-Z Camaro into the infield and out of the race. Brownell and Eddie May were attacking traffic at this point eventually taking second and third positions by lap 23.

Wagner built enough lead cushion to cruise to victory over Brownell, May, Lynch and Madell.

John Henning of Cedarburg and Troy Nicholas of Glendale each won an amateur heat and Jim Kannenberg of Jackson captured the figure 8 race.

Sunday night, July 19th, Slinger Speedway will host the Champion Spark Plug 100 lap late model feature event. This program is a regular Sunday night points race counting towards the season championships in all four racing divisions. Time trials begin at 6:30 p.m. with racing at 8 p.m.

THIEMERDOME THURSDAY GOODTIME LEAGUE

2nd Half Standings

Thornton's Thunderers	2	1
BJ & Co.	2	1
Bartelt Ins.	1	1
A.M. Construction	1	1
Barrel Haus	0	2

HIGHLIGHTS

Sorry for the lack of highlights for the past 3 weeks. Reason was this writer was supporting the national type-setter's walkout.

A hot sultry, "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" type summer evening greeted last week's teams. The fans witnessed probably the 2 most exciting games in the past few years.

The first game saw Bartelt Ins. hand BJ&Co. their first loss of the season. The game went 10 innings with Bartelt Ins. squeezing out a 6-5 victory. The game featured home runs by JB's Gino Krueger and Dennis "Jacker" Jacak. The game saw a new way to break up a double play by Clark "Preston" Pearson as he pulled an Alphonse-Gaston Act on BJ's 1st baseman. It is just too difficult to describe in print. It was vintage Mike "Rags" Pfeiffer on the mound for Bartelt Ins. He finally regained control of his double dip float in the jet stream super dip pitch. It dazzled the BJ potent bats for 10 innings. In the numerous tense situations which faced "Rags" he just gave the BJ hitters the old HOLD MY TEETH AND TIE glare and it froze them at the plate. Dan "Dick" Filzen was his old Ozzie Smith form at shortstop as he made several impossible plays. However, he no longer treats the fans with his back flips as he takes the field. There was some controversy at the end of the game regarding the player re-entry rule. An immediate telegram was sent to Baseball Commissioner Peter Ueberoth and he and his legal department pored thru the complicated Goodtime Rules and he issued the following statement: "You Gotta be Kiddin' me. This is supposed to be a Goodtime League."

The second game saw the surprise team of the second half Thornton's Thunderers come up with 2 runs in the bottom of the 7th to defeat Barrel Haus 6-5. The hot bat of the 2nd half belongs to Brian "Shotgun" Schommer from Thornton's squad as he has been knocking the ball out of the park with frequent regularity. The league commissioner will be checking him for a HOT bat. The crafty manager and owner of the Thornton squad Dennis "H.E. H." Thornton has infused his squad with some young rookies to go along with his arthritic barristers and the results had been first place for his squad. The hero of last week's game was the person who usually wears the goat label namely David "Schaubby" Schaub. He hit a BLUE DARTER over the left fielders head with 2 out in the bottom of the 7th to score the winning run. David wins the Burma Shave close play of the week award.

SPECIAL INTEREST

Chairman of the Thiemerdome Richard Thiemer produced an urgent telegram he had received last week from Bo Black the Director of Milwaukee's Summerfest. It read as

Friday, July 17, 1987,
Kewaskum Statesman, Page 19

Dear King Richard,
There has been much concern over the past 3 years over the lack of attendance on the Thursday evenings during the 10 day Summerfest celebration. Our Board of Directors have just concluded a 24 month survey and their opinion for lack of Thursday nite attendance is the huge success of your Thiemerdome League. We ask that you consider implementing one or both of the following:

1. Close the upper deck and bleacher area to cut down on attendance.
2. Postpone the 2 games which fall on the same Thursday nites during Summerfest.

I trust you will handle with the festa spirit.

Regards,
Bo

The Chairman's reply.

Dear Ms. Black,
Suggest you consider Fall-fest.

Sincerely,
The Captain

Indians Struggle, Win One

by: Ann-Marie Horner

The Kewaskum Indians started last week out right with a 7-6 victory over the Two Rivers Raiders, but couldn't continue the winning streak for the rest of the week.

Mike Schultz from Two Rivers started the game off with a base hit past Indian shortstop Mark Schlosser. The Raiders later scored Schultz by a triple from Preston Amond. The Indians came back immediately with several walks given up to Schlosser, Scott Krahn and Mike Heberer, to load the bases. Steve Johnson then took a walk to bring one run in and tied the game.

The Raiders came alive again in the fifth inning to bring in two runs. To make the game a 3-2 ball game. Then it was the Indian's turn. In the sixth inning, Joe Hynst started the inning with a triple and Steve Johnson brought Hynst home with a single past the second baseman.

The Indians tied the game in the sixth and no one scored in the seventh, so it meant extra innings were needed. The Raiders came alive in the eighth inning. Dennis Aupperle walked the first batter, Craig Millner, and then gave up a double to Paul Simonan. Simonan scored later to make it a 5-3 game. The Indians never gave up, they also rallied in the eighth to bring home two runs to stay in the game. Jeff Miller started the inning with a single and Johnson then followed with a single, to advance Miller to second. Troy Zimdars then followed with a bunt hit past second base and brought home Miller. Eric Pearson hit the ball past second to score Johnson to make it a tie ball game, again.

The Raiders were not going to give up, Steve Stangel hit a triple and Cory Jansky hit a single to bring home Stangel. Once again the Indians were in the hole. Two Rivers' pitcher Jeff Kinkopf gave up five walks to the Indians. The Indians won a close 7-6 game.

After winning the Monday Night game the Indians were pumped up to win another game on Tuesday night. It seemed that Mother Nature had a different idea and the game was cancelled. The Indians played the game on Wednesday night and lost a depressing game against the New Holstein Huskies with a score of 2-8.

New Holstein came up with all eight of their runs in the first four innings. The Indians scored in the fourth with a hit by Noel Stollenwerk to start off the inning. Jeff Miller followed with a single and so did Joe Hynst. Steve Johnson then hit a fly to bring home Stollenwerk. The Indians scored again in the sixth by Miller, but the Indians never came close to the Huskies.

The Indians tried to redeem themselves Thursday night, but they couldn't. The Indians lost to the Campbellsport Rams with a score of 1-2.

The inning was tied in the third and no one scored through the seventh, which meant the Indians would once again go into extra innings. The Rams got their winning run in the Ninth inning and the Indians couldn't come back.
