Apartment Project Gets Okay For Preliminary Groundwork

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The 36-unit apartment project of Tom Timblin will get under way shortly with the approval of the Kewaskum Village Board of a permit to begin construction of footings and foundations.

The action came Monday night after Administrator Dan Schmidt advised the board that the Board of Appeals had granted Timblin's request for a variance and plans for the preliminary groundwork had been approved by the state.

The next step will be state approval of the project's final plans. Once that has been received, Timblin will be able to apply for a building permit for actual construction of the units.

In other business trustee Howard Laubenstein asked Water Pollution Control Superintendent Pete Albers for an update regarding correction of discharge problems at the dairy. Albers said the dairy had sent prints and an application to the Department of Natural Resources for approval of plans for Ph control modifications at its plant.

Albers also informed the board that there had been another milk spill of approximately 3,600 gallons on Saturday. He said some of the milk had gotten into the river and the DNR has been in contact with the dairy about the situation. He also noted that when all the data had been gathered on the spill the dairy would be assessed a charge for the discharge.

Mr. Gene Bohn of the Kettle Moraine Insurance Agency reviewed the village's property insurance coverage with the board. He advised the trustees that even with the slight increase in the village's appraised value he felt the village's coverage was adequate.

Laubenstein, chairman of the Public Works Committee, informed the board that the village had been advised by Wisconsin Electric that the meter box at the village-owned residence on Fond du Lac Avenue was in poor condition and required replacement. The board approved the installation of two new service boxes and necessary rewiring at a cost of $1,096.

Parks Committee Chairman Tom McElhatton advised the board that 666 swim passes have been sold, approximately 100 more than last year.

Trustee Ken Bonlender informed the board that 40 new library cards had been issued in July and the library now has 12

VCR tapes available for rent.

The board also discussed ways of increasing usage of the library's facilities, especially by the rural community residents. Trustee Mary Krueger noted many people still do not realize that they can obtain the same materials through the Kewaskum Library as offered by the larger ones. With the countywide system, she noted, the same books and materials are available to everyone at any library, not just West Bend or Hartford.

Trustee Richard Schmidt told the board that each library in the county-wide system will also be receiving approximately $1,600 in state funds. Kewaskum will use $1,000 for equipment and $600 for book purchases. Because books are being purchased through the county system, noted Schmidt, the village is able to double its buying power, getting almost $1,200 worth of books for its $600.

Because of Labor Day and other conflicts, the board has rescheduled its September meeting dates. A special meeting to open bids on the firehouse project has been set for August 27th, with the next two regular meetings set for August 31st, and September 21st.

Registration Begins at KHS

The registration dates have been set for students at Kewaskum High School. August 10, 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, and 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m., August 11, 1:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. August 12, 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon are this year's registration dates and times.

The 10th is reserved for incoming freshmen, their siblings, and transfer students. Among the activities this day will be picture taking, paying of fees, meeting the counselors, interpretation of the schedule, touring the building, and a general acclamation to high school life.

Tuesday and Wednesday are open to all students for registration. Tours and building acclamation will not be provided during these days.

Please call the high school office at 626-2166 should you have any questions.

Board Rejects All Bids on Firehouse Renovations

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Village Board unanimously voted, Monday night, to reject all the bids received on the firehouse renovation project and to put the project out for re-bids.

The action came after the board was informed by Administrator Dan Schmidt that none of the three bids submitted met the specifications provided to the contractors. Schmidt said he had been advised in a letter from the village's consulting engineers that the three bids "in one way or another, did not respond to the specific requirements of the bid proposal."

The bidders were asked to provide a "base bid," and/or alternate bids if there was any deviation from the proposal. All three contractors deviated in some way on the materials quoted in their base bids and none of them provided any alternate bids.

The proposal specifications had stated a specific type of waterproofing/insulating system and roofing system be used as the materials for the base bid. The apparent low bidder, Eagle Construction, however submitted its base bid based on two different systems. The other two contractors bidding, HIS Corporation and JBJ Construction, also did not comply with the specs.

Several of the trustees noted their concern that three other points in the specifications, namely the repair of the sagging roof, some electrical work, and some excavating and backfill work had not been listed in the bid prices.

Trustee Tom McElhatton told the other board members, "as much as I want this done, I don't like this," (the discrepancies). Trustee Mary Krueger said she could not understand how there could be such discrepancies when the proposal was so specific. "Personally I think this thing has to be thrown out and re-bid" said Trustee Howard Laubenstein.

The major concern of the board was whether or not the materials being bid would meet or surpass the quality standards of the materials set forth in the bid proposal. "Is it going to do the job?" asked Krueger. "The building is only fifteen years old and we're going to spend over $100,000 to take care of these problems." Several other board members agreed with Krueger's comments, noting if the work is going to be done, it is going to be done right and with the proper materials.

The board agreed to meet with the Fire Department Committee Thursday evening to discuss the situation and review the bid requirements again. Schmidt was also authorized to advertise for re-bids and to notify the three contractors that their bids had been rejected.

Registration at Middle School

Kewaskum Middle School registration for all incoming 6th, 7th, and 8th graders will be held on Tuesday, August 11th, from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. and on Wednesday, August 12th, from 8 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

Students should register at the KMS office between these hours. Registration materials have been mailed to all previously registered students. If you will be a KMS student and did not receive the information, it may be completed during registration hours.

FREE PRAIRIE WALK SATURDAY, AUGUST 22

A free prairie study tour will be held Saturday, Aug. 22nd from 9:00 - 10:30 a.m. on the Cedar Lake Home Campus.

Knowledgeable naturalists will guide participants of all ages through the colorful prairie and explain the wide variety of plants and flowers native to Wisconsin.

Because prairie flowers bloom at different times, an additional date is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 19th at 10:30 a.m.

The not for profit Cedar Lake Home Campus is located at 5595 Hwy. Z, two miles south of State 33, West of West Bend.

Tornado Warning

High winds downed trees, branches and power lines last Wednesday afternoon when severe weather hit this area around mid-afternoon. Some 1,700 residents in the Jackson and Town of Trenton area were without power when two substations were knocked out.

The tornado warning siren was sounded in the village after a report of a tornado, which was sighted by a State Patrol officer north of West Bend. Skies blackened and clouds dumped .6 inches of rain in less than an hour.

Reigle, Tessar on Cedar Lake Board

The Cedar Lake Home Campus Foundation recently elected the officers and directors for the 1987-88 fiscal year.

Paul W. Bast, was re-elected President. He resides in Jackson and formerly held the position of President, of M&I First National Bank, in West Bend.

Vice President, Frank Musbach, Richfield, is the Vice President of First Bank in Milwaukee.

Elective Secretary was Ruth Hess former Executive Secretary with the Ziegler Company. She resides in West Bend.

James Reigle of Kewaskum is Treasurer. He is President of Regal Ware Company.

Those serving on the Foundation Board of Directors include Mrs. Burt Lass, Waukesha; Wayland Tessar, Kewaskum; William Wetterau, Richfield; Mrs. David Loomans, West Bend; Richard Klug, Hubertus; Rev. Louis Riesch, West Bend; A.D. Robertson, Milwaukee; and Ken Moebius, Milwaukee.

The Foundation provides the opportunity for individuals to share in the important work on the Cedar Lake Home Campus through direct cash gifts, gifts of property, life insurance, life income gifts, wills and bequests.

Farmington Public Meeting Regarding Resurfacing of 144

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation is hosting a Public Informational Meeting on Thursday, August 20, 1987, at the Farmington Town Hall, 9422 Highway 144, to exchange information regarding the resurfacing of STH 144 from West Bend to the North County Line. From 4:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Transportation Department staff will be available at the school to answer individual questions.

Written comments are encouraged from those who are unable to attend. Comments should be sent to Ronald Cech, 141 N.W. Barstow Street, P.O. Box 649, Waukesha, Wisconsin 53187. Your telephone calls are welcome at (414) 521-5335.

Public Hearing Set for Proposed Changes in Driver License Applications

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation will hold a public hearing on Aug. 20 to review a proposal to tighten requirements for driver license or identification card applications. The hearing will start at 1 p.m. in the Hill Farms State Transportation Building, Rm. 145B, 4802 Sheboygan Ave., Madison.

The changes are intended to strengthen safeguards against issuing false ID cards or driver's licenses, and prevent application for two or more licenses by the same person.

The more stringent identification requirements are also intended to prevent people with bad driving records from applying for licenses or identification cards under false names.

Under the proposed rule, a certified birth certificate would be required when applying for a driver's license or ID card. Passports would also be accepted, but hospital or baptismal records will no longer be accepted. Because of numerous cases of fraud, photocopies will be required to be certified.

In addition, all applicants would be required to provide their social security numbers starting March 1, 1988.

Certain exceptions would be allowed for people who can't get their certified birth certificates or equally acceptable documents, such as passports or immigration service identification. In those cases, an appeal may be made to the administrator, depending on the facts of the individual case.

The rule also provides for issuing temporary driver's licenses not good for identification, while a birth certificate is being obtained.

The department's policy regarding aliases would be clarified under the new rule. Those known to use aliases must meet the more stringent identification requirements and cannot qualify for exceptions.

The rule would allow the department to retake an applicant's photo when the license's restrictions, such as eyesight requirements, have changed. This provision would also remedy cases in which people have unidentifiable photos that should be retaken.

The amended rule would also eliminate the current practice of issuing a renewal school bus license to a person age 69 or older which, in some cases, may be valid for over one year. All school bus licenses for people 69 years old or older would expire on the person's next birthday.

Other changes would allow spouses or parents, in certain cases, to vouch for the identity of people who lose their licenses.

KEWASKUM 4-H'ERS

Important Reminder! The next Kewaskum 4-H meeting will be Aug. 13, 1987. It will start at 7:00 p.m. at Labor Center. There will be election of officers for the new 4-H year. If you are nominated be prepared to give a speech on why you want to be an officer.

Hope to see you all there!

Rate Reduction Requested By Fire Fighters to Sponsor Bike-a-Thon

MILWAUKEE — A decrease in electric rates of 1.4 percent was requested by Wisconsin Electric Power Co. If approved, this will be the company's sixth rate reduction in less than four years.

The decrease, which is made possible by lower-than-projected fuel costs, renegotiation of coal transportation contracts and reductions in the cost of purchased power, would amount to about $14.3 million, or $5 annually for the typical residential customer. The decrease must be approved by the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin before becoming effective.

This rate reduction would affect the bills of Wisconsin Electric's 850,000 residential, farm, commercial and industrial customers. It is the result of application of the authorized fuel cost adjustment arrangement.

We want to pass along to our customers as soon as possible the fuel cost savings we've been able to realize," said Tom Cassidy, WE executive vice president. "It's important that our residential customers have the most reasonable household electric bills, while our commercial and industrial customers have the opportunity to increase their competitiveness by keeping their energy costs to a minimum."

The rate decrease reflects Wisconsin Electric's ongoing efforts to reduce costs wherever possible and pass along those savings to its customers. The company's goal is to be the least-cost provider of quality energy services in the Midwest, Cassidy said.

Local Artist to Be Introduced at Newcomers Show

A "Newcomers Show" at which the works of four talented artists will be introduced will open Sunday, Aug. 9, at Landmarks Gallery, 231 N. 76th St., Milwaukee.

They are: Dennis Dean, watercolorist from Mequon; Marion Messner, oil painter from Cudahy; Audrey Saben, acrylic painter from Appleton, and Sandra Wynveen, Kewaskum, who specializes in pencil sketches.

Also known as a Milwaukee TV personality, Dean's vibrant watercolors reflect Wisconsin landscapes and rural scenes. He will personalize a limited edition print of a Vernon County barn which will be shown.

Messner, a veteran traveler uses her brush to record her journeys. A street scene on the Island near Elba near Italy, a Lucerne, Switzerland view as well as Wisconsin grain fields near Barneveld, are among her subjects.

Saben specializes in florals executed with ribbons of paint. The unusual texture resembles tooth paste as it flows from a tube. The effect is an explosion of color, like fireworks bursting into floral patterns.

Wynveen, a master in pencil drawing arranges textures and shadows so that her sketches of Indian life and lore take on an animated quality.

Each of the artists is professional and dramatic. The Landmarks Show is intended to showcase their work and focus public attention.

The Newcomers' Show will open with a champagne reception 1-5 p.m. Aug. 9, and extend through August 24.

50th Anniversary

Lester and Esther Ehnert of 644 Mill Road, Kewaskum will celebrate their 50th Wedding Anniversary with an open house at the Amerahn Hall on August 16th.

Esther (nee Rosenthal) and Lester were married August 28, 1937 in the Town of Scott by Rev. Gustav Kaniess.

Attendants at the wedding were Fred Kleinke, Helen Scott, Fred Couturier, and Edwin Bruesewitz, all deceased and Hildagard Couturier, Irene Bruesewitz, Glen Ehnert and Janet Reinhardt, living.

Lester is a retired Fond du Lac County employee of 25 years and they are life long farmers from the Town of Auburn.

The couple are members of St. John's Lutheran Church in New Fane, and are parents of four children, Richard (Joan) of rural Campbellsport, Mrs. (Homer) Barbara Justman of West Bend, Mrs. (Harry) Cheryl Beall of Kewaskum and Mrs. (Dennis) Pamela Jacak of Kewaskum. They also have eight grandchildren and two deceased.

Live music and light refreshments will be served from 2 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. at the Amerahn, Hwy. 45 north, Kewaskum, during the open house golden anniversary celebration.

A family dinner will be held prior to the open house.

Instructor and Students Perform at International Special Olympics in Indiana

Local Jazzercise instructor Pam Fritz, and two of her students, Sandy Krautkramer of Boltonville and Carol Smiles of West Bend, joined 100 of their colleagues and performed in the opening ceremonies of the International Special Olympics on Sunday, August 2, at the University of Notre Dame in South Bend, Indiana.

The ceremonies were televised on ABC on Monday evening, August 3. Jazzercise was featured in a 4-minute dance segment and integrated into other numbers throughout the opening ceremonies. Over 4,000 Special Olympians participated in the games.

"Being a part of the Special Olympics Opening Ceremonies was a treat for Jazzercise because of the Games' emphasis on participation," stated Judi Sheppard Missett, founder of the world's largest dance fitness organization. "We agree with the Special Olympics philosophy that everyone who gives exercise and athletics a try is a winner."

Jazzercise instructors have also performed in the Opening Ceremonies of the 1984 Summer Olympics in Los Angeles and the 1986 Liberty Weekend celebration in New York. Founded in the late '60s by Missett, the program currently has 400,000 students and 3,500 instructors in all 50 states and 22 countries.

Pam Fritz has been a Jazzercise instructor for 4½ years and currently teaches classes Monday at 5:30 p.m., and Tuesday and Thursday at 9:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. For more information about classes in the Kewaskum area, call 626-2038.

Area Student Second in Nation in Major Appliance Repair Contest

Joel Hilbelink, Route 1, Adell, recently placed second at the national Skills Olympics in Wichita, Kan. in the major appliance repair contest. The 23rd annual Skills Olympics was part of the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) National Leadership Conference held June 22-26. More than 2,500 outstanding students competed in 38 different trade, technical and leadership fields.

Hilbelink, a student at Moraine Park Technical Institute in Fond du Lac, competed against other post-secondary students working against the clock to solve real-life problems found in major appliance repair. The competition, designed by representatives of the appliance industry, consisted of a written exam, a hands-on problem-solving test, a brazing exercise and oral exams to test customer relations and job-seeking skills.

In the hands-on portion of the competition, each student worked on a total of eight pre-designed "product failures" on automatic washers, refrigerators, electric ranges and microwaves. Contestants were evaluated on diagnostic speed, accuracy, proper use of tools, product handling and safety.

Hilbelink is the newest in a long line of MPTI appliance repair students who have won national awards at the yearly VICA conference. In all, students from the school have won six national titles in appliance troubleshooting since 1978, more than any other school in the country. Moraine Park has also won the Wisconsin VICA competition in appliance repair every year over that span.

Participating in Junior High School Band, Orchestra Camp

Nine Fond du Lac County residents are among those participating in the Junior High School Band and Orchestra Camp this week (July 26 through Aug. 1) on the campus of the University of Wisconsin - Green Bay. They are:

Gregory A. Holl, 1068 Hwy. S, Kewaskum; Michele A. Zima, Rt. 1, Eldorado; Tessa R.

Fry, 16 Chickadee Ct. N. Fond du Lac; Mike J. McCoy, 235 E. Ninth St., Fond du Lac; Jon B. Oehmcke, 756 Bragg St., Fond du Lac; Treana Olofson, 2001 Winnebago Dr., Fond du Lac; David G. Schmitz, 53 Cottage Ave. Fond du Lac; Jason T. Waller, 31 N. Royal Ave., Fond du Lac; Laurie M. Zitlow, 352 N. Park Ave., Fond du Lac.

More than 340 junior high school students from Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana are attending the intensive program designed to supplement music instruction during the regular academic year. UW-Green Bay faculty members and music educators and performers from across the state serve as instructors for the camp.

The daily schedule for camp participants includes more than six hours of rehearsals, sectionals and master classes, along with instruction in music theory, music appreciation and creating music. Students also take part in sports activities, social events and evening recreation on and off the campus. A concert Saturday morning winds up the week's events.

Vermont was the first state to be added to the original 13 colonies.

THANK YOU!

From the family of Willie Goeden, here is the latest news concerning the current status of his recovery.

First of all, the response and concern continues to be overwhelming. My children and I sincerely appreciate all the thoughtfulness. Concerning Willie; he still continues to travel to St. Elizabeth's Hospital three times a week and will continue to do so for several months.

Willie is continuing to improve. Looks great and with his strong will, he is determined to return to work and to the physical status he enjoyed before the accident. But it's going to take time and much effort on his part.

Currently, one problem Willie faces is double vision, which is caused by a paralyzed nerve that works the muscle to the brain. This has affected Willie's balance, but it is improving. In time the doctors are hoping this will heal and his eye sight will be as good as it once was.

Another problem, quite common with severe head injuries, is that the patient reaches plateaus when improvement comes more slowly, not just physically, but mentally as well. This hampers one's basic reflexes and at times, their ability to reason. Willie and our entire family have been very patient during these plateaus. Still, we hope people will understand he has quite a ways to go before he is 100%.

Head injuries are unlike any other injuries people suffer and sometimes it is difficult to measure just how much improvement can be made. Not even the doctors can predict whether people with head injuries will fully recover to have the same personality as before.

We wholeheartedly thank everyone for all their cards, letters, calls and gifts of concern. We personally hope to be able to meet the new friends we have made since the accident...also with the old...perhaps at the upcoming golf outing at High Cliff on Aug. 4; the corn roast on Aug. 16th after the Blue Race at Wisconsin International Raceway; or the benefit dance at the Amerahn on Sept. 18.

God bless you all. All your prayers are what have helped Willie to come through this ordeal. And they will continue to be appreciated.

County Courthouse To Be Rededicated

The Washington County courthouse will be rededicated Aug. 29 as part of the Bicentennial observation of the adoption of the United States Constitution.

District Attorney David C. Resheske is chairperson of a special committee to arrange for the rededication ceremony. The committee will work with County Board Chairman Reuben J. Schmahl to plan the event which is expected to involve many local persons.

Similar ceremonies are being held in other counties statewide between May and September to commemorate the drafting of the Constitution, which was completed Sept. 17, 1787.

The Wisconsin Committee on the Bicentennial of the Constitution has been working with local bar associations and public officials for months to mount a number of programs in the schools and public buildings throughout the state during 1987.

Resheske said the Bicentennial offers citizens an opportunity to celebrate the Constitution not only for the part it has played in American history, but for its significance to modern government and its role in the continuation of individual freedom.

The best thing for a woman to do to have beautiful hands is nothing.

THANKS EXPRESSED

My sincere thanks to all who remembered me with cards, visits, gifts and phone calls while I was a patient at Columbia Hospital, Milwaukee. Special thanks to my family, relatives and friends and to Rev. Staskal for his visits and prayers. These acts of kindness are sincerely appreciated and will always be treasured.

Merlin Dreher Passes Away

Merlin (Red) Dreher, age 58, of Kewaskum, passed away on Monday, August 3, 1987 at Veterans Medical Center in Milwaukee.

Mr. Dreher was born on March 27, 1929 in Kewaskum, the son of Edward and Irene (Uelmen) Dreher.

Mr. Dreher was a truck driver for 39 years, including driving for Red Owl Inc. from 1975 until his retirement in 1983.

He was a member of the Teamsters Union #200. The Robert G. Romaine American Legion Post #384 in Kewaskum and the Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum.

Survivors include: two sons, Michael (Sharon) of Campbellport and Randall (Wendi) of Kewaskum; three daughters, Mrs. Michael (Linda) Enright and Mrs. Michael (Shelly) Lewis both of Kewaskum and Mrs. Charles (Carole) Neitzel of West Bend; his mother Irene Dreher of Kewaskum; five brothers, Allen (Shirley) Dreher and Gerald Dreher both of Kewaskum, Edward (Ramona) Dreher of Libertyville, Ill., Floyd (Judy) Dreher of West Bend and Richard (Carole) Dreher of Campbellport; two sisters, Mrs. Stan (Joan) Dirks and Mrs. Thomas (Janet) Spartz both of Kewaskum.

He is further survived by four grandchildren, Corey and Jason Enright, Jessica Lewis and Charles Neitzel.

He was preceded in death by his father, Edward, on December 20, 1973 and an infant brother.

Funeral services will be held at Miller's Funeral Home, Kewaskum, at 9:30 a.m. and at Holy Trinity Catholic Church, Kewaskum at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, August 7, with Father Robert Berghammer officiating. Burial with military graveside rites will be in the parish cemetery. Friends may call after 4:00 p.m. on Thursday, August 6, at the funeral home where there will be a scripture service at 7:30 p.m. at St. Mary Catholic Church, Lomira, with burial in the parish cemetery.

My heart is heavy and sad... For my little friend, I feel bad. I pray for him every night... That he will win this fight. I'll lend a hand and try to be stronger. Until my little friend Scotty has this sickness no longer.

In Memory

In loving memory of our beloved son Scott "Scotty" Schneider, who passed away two years ago Aug. 4, 1985. The poem below was written by a friend who had loved Scotty very deeply and will always hold a special place in our hearts.

Scotty

Who is Scotty?
Is he your favorite stuffed animal?

No, he is not....

Could it be a name of a tissue?

No, it is not....

Is it your terrier puppy?

No, he is not....

No, No, No, 3 guesses you're out....

I'll tell you what Scotty is all about.

Scotty is a little boy,
Who has filled my world with joy.

I babysit for him and his big brother,

He's very special to me, like no other.

For you see its Leukemia, they've discovered.

From which I wish and pray he recovers.

Many times it gives him agony and pain,

But he never ever complains.

It has been two years now since we had lost our little boy Scotty, but it only seems like yesterday. We can only hope that someday the tears and the pain of losing Scotty will get easier to live with. His dad Roger, his mother Ann, his brother Shawn and his sister Jamie love and sadly miss Scotty each and everyday.

IN MEMORY

PAUL J. SCHMITT

Aug. 8, 1982 to Aug. 8, 1987

The dust of dying memories
May blur our eyes with tears,
But just his smile, or gleaming eyes,

Could quiet all our fears.
He brought comfort & guidance
To so many o'er the years.

He'll be a part of life around us
Until our own judgement nears.
Five years since he has left us,
Yet his voice we always hear.

"I'm where the Lord prepared a place;

I'll wait for you, my dears."

Put a smile on your back-to-school list.

New clothes. New shoes. Notebooks, paper, pencils and more. The list seems endless. But don't forget one of the most important things your kids can take to school: a healthy smile. A back-to-school checkup can stop problems before they start, prevent disease and help your children begin the year with confidence. So why not call for an appointment soon? It could be the most important thing on your back-to-school list!

Special Services at Waubeka Sunday

On Sunday, August 9th, there will be a special worship service at St. Paul's Community Church, Waubeka at 9:30 a.m. Our guest preacher will be the Rev. Mr. Carroll Olm, Administrator of Fairhaven in Whitewater. (Fairhaven is one of the United Church of Christ homes for the elderly in Wisconsin).

Carroll Olm grew up in Waubeka during the pastorate of his father, the Rev. Paul Olm of the then Waubeka Community Church of which he was the first resident pastor from 1926-1945. It is very fitting he preaches on this Sunday, the Sunday of the Waubeka School reunion where Carroll attended school. After several pastorates one in Mulberry, Indiana and two in Wisconsin at St. Paul's in Sheboygan and at Calvary Memorial in Wauwatosa, Carroll was called as administrator of the Fairhaven home in Whitewater to the ministry of aging, serving the needs of the elderly since 1960.

Last year Carroll Olm received the Doctor of Divinity degree from Lakeland College.

The public is invited to worship at 9:30 a.m. This is a joint worship service for St. Paul's Community, Waubeka, and St. Martin's congregations, Fillmore.

DOT Offers Variety Of Exhibits at the State Fairgrounds

The travelin' man might learn a thing or two at the Department of Transportation's Wisconsin State Fair exhibit in West Allis Aug. 6-16.

And maybe his girlfriend who's got a ticket to ride might start caring if she also stopped by.

The DOT urges fair-goers not to walk on by when strolling near Exhibit Hall No. 411-South Wing. Don't let "foolish pride" keep you from seeing what is new in transportation in Wisconsin.

"Transportation: Moving Wisconsin Forward" is geared toward speeding you right into the fast lane of technology. With nine state-of-the-art displays, many with hands-on demonstrations, you won't want to get back in the saddle again.

One of the most popular displays features the latest in blood-alcohol concentration testing equipment: the Intoxilyzer 5000. Using computerized circuitry, the machine is faster and more efficient than the old Breathalyzer. The Wisconsin State Patrol will offer demonstrations.

Next time you can't wait to get on the road again, you might want to first check your driving record. Anyone at the state fair can easily do this by stopping at the Division of Motor Vehicles license terminals. A computer check will update you with the number of point violations or speeding tickets you've accumulated, or the time you shouldn't have taken that "misty taste of moonshine" before hitting the country roads.

The DOT's speed monitoring display is not designed to police every move you make, every breath you take, but is intended just to give people a feel for the average vehicle speeds on I-94 eastbound at the Waukesha and Milwaukee county line. A computer hook-up will allow viewers to check the speeds of cars or small and large trucks. Now you can tell your friends driving this portion of I-94, "I'll be watching you."

Another display will show a State Patrol motorcycle. Children sitting on the State Patrol motorcycle can get their photos taken. They'll look sweet upon the seat of a motorcycle built for two. (The Harley-Davidson accommodates two kids easily).

The state in traffic signals will be illustrated in a display designed to simulate various driving conditions at signalized intersections. The signal can be controlled by programming. Traffic signals may not light up your life, but they can give you hope to go on when driving those bottlenecks.

The state Bureau of Aeronautics will display a computerized weather information system recently developed by the DOT that has made our pilots happy when skies are grey. WeatherMation, which displays weather data beamed by satellite, is sometimes a pilot's only sunshine.

And, don't forget to visit the computer-aided drafting and design exhibit used for making highway maps, and airports — it'll turn your head around.

To Hold Auditions For Musical 'Oliver' Final Registration At KM Lutheran High

Spotlight Production Community Theatre will hold open auditions for their Dinner Theatre production of the musical "OLIVER!" at the West Bend Recreation Dept., 724 Elm St., West Bend.

Males and Females ages 10 and over are invited to compete for speaking, non-speaking, singing, non-singing, dancing, and non-dancing roles.

Auditions for children's roles (including the lead) will begin at 7 p.m. on August 18th and 19th. Auditions for adult roles begin at 7 p.m. on September 9th and 10th. Music and material will be provided. Auditioners may, if they wish, prepare a song from the show.

Production dates are Nov. 6, 7, 8, 13, 14, 15. For more information call Director Jackie Maynard at 338-0964 or (Milwaukee Metro) 375-1519.

Kettle Moraine Lutheran High School, 3399 Division Road, Jackson, will hold its final registration for the 1987-88 school year on Monday, August 17, 1987, from 9:00 - 4:00 and 6:00 - 8:00 p.m.

Any questions regarding registration should be directed to the school at 677-3877 or 677-4051.

Friday, August 21, from 7:45 till noon will be freshman orientation day, with only the ninth graders in attendance. The first full day of school for all students will be Monday, August 24. The opening service for the new school year will also be held on Monday, August 24, at 9:00 a.m.

It's human to try to be great, but it's greater to try to be human.

Sheboygan County Fair to Feature Top Name Entertainment

Big name Country and Western Entertainment - Ronnie Milsap, Mel Tillis and the Forester Sisters will appear during the Sheboygan County Fair.

Ronnie Milsap will perform at the new 4,000 seat grandstand for two evening shows.

Mel Tillis and The Foresters will perform at the grandstand for two evening shows.

Reserved seats for each performance are $8 both in advance and at the door for grandstand seats with backs. Stageside seating is $10. The advantage to early ticket purchases is better seating. Tickets will go on sale in June at various locations (to be announced) throughout the county and through Ticketron.

Ronnie Milsap has won the Academy of Country Music's Song of the Year, Best Male Vocalist (three times), Entertainer of the Year, and Album of the Year (three times).

He has also won four Grammy Awards and has had more than 35 top ten singles including over 30 number one hits. Some of his versatile music has crossed over to become a top-ten hit in the adult-contemporary charts, as well as rhythm and blues, rock, and videos on MTV.

Born blind to a sawmill Mountains, he was steeped in classical music training at 7 at a North Carolina school for the blind.

"In some ways it's a blessing that I was born blind," says Milsap. "I was totally taken out of the environment that my father's family and all the generations before me had been in. If I had been born sighted and gone through public school system there, I certainly would not be doing what I'm doing now."

Mel Tillis has been Country Music Association's Entertainer of the Year. Nashville Songwriters Assoc. elected him to its Hall of Fame.

He has had 35 songs in the Top 10. He has had 60 chart hits by himself and an additional 13 through duets with Webb Pierce, Nancy Sinatra, Glenn Campbell and others.

Tillis has written an autobiography, Stutterin' Boy. His latest movie is Uphill all the Way, a comedy western co-starring Roy Clark.

MOTOR VEHICLE LAWS HANDBOOK AVAILABLE

A new handbook on traffic and motor vehicle laws, including the "new" laws related to operating while intoxicated is available to the public, announced Department of Transportation officials.

The updated handbook is available for $4 at Document Sales, 3617 Pierstorff St., Madison 53704, or at the Hill Farms State Transportation Building, room 253.

"If you're in doubt about any traffic laws this handbook will help clarify it," said Norbert Anderson, Administrator of the DOT's Division of Motor Vehicles.

ORANGE CREAMSICLES

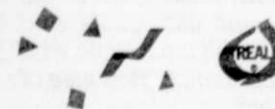

- 2 cups (1 pint) vanilla ice cream, softened
- 1 can (6-ounce) frozen orange juice concentrate
- 1 carton (6-ounce) orange yogurt
- 6 5-ounce paper cups
- 6 wooden sticks

1. In large bowl, mix softened ice cream, juice concentrate and

- yogurt, stirring until thoroughly blended.
- 2. Pour into paper cups. Cover each cup with foil. Make a slit in foil with knife and insert stick into orange mixture.
- 3. Freeze until hard (about 6 hours). Remove foil and paper cups to serve.

Makes 6 creamsicles.

Try making these the night before an afternoon out with friends and enjoy their cool, refreshing flavor when you're ready.

Zoo Opens First-Of-Its-Kind Dairy Exhibit

The doors have opened to the Dairy Complex, the first building completed in the Milwaukee County Zoo's and the Zoological Society of Milwaukee County's $25 million Capital Campaign.

The $1 million Complex, located in the Stackner Heritage Farm (formerly the Children's Zoo), celebrates America's Dairyland. It consists of three components: the cow barn, the educational center and the dairy store.

The Cow Barn

Visitors enter the Dairy Complex through the cow barn. Children will enjoy a close look at how cows are cared for when they watch zookeepers following their dairy animal care routines.

Donations from several Wisconsin dairy farmers made possible this exhibit of seven varieties of dairy cows: black and white Holstein, red and white Holstein, Jersey, Guernsey, milking shorthorn, Ayrshire and brown Swiss.

The Education Center

From the cow barn, visitors enter a historic octagonal barn. This 1986 barn, originally built just north of Milwaukee, has been restored at the Zoo.

An integration of history and future has taken place with the installation of nine high-tech educational exhibits. Surrounded by barn boards, visitors view a modern milking parlor.

A fiberglass cow with a transparent side surrounded by a bank of phones lets visitors learn how milk is "naturally" produced. A munchkin milk factory, a hand milking cow made of fiberglass, a calcium quiz game and four additional exhibits bring the dairy industry into focus for young and old.

The Dairy Store

The Dairy Store brings the goodness of a country farm home to the Zoo with lots of good food and country keepsakes.

Visitors will enjoy the finest in ice cream and milk for sale in the store. Eventually, additional dairy products such as cheese, yogurt and even milk shakes may be offered.

Cows are the topic. So cows are featured in the Dairy Store. Cow t-shirts, cow magnets, cow stuffed animals, cow notecards, cow postcards and other moo material are just a few of the items in the Zoo's one and only dairy store.

Plans for the Dairy Complex began in October, 1985. Groundbreaking took place April 17, 1986, and the official grand opening to the public was Saturday, May 9, 1987. Zoo staff along with outside contractors developed this three-part Dairy Complex.

For additional information about the Dairy Complex, contact the Milwaukee County Zoo, 414/771-3040.

NOTE OF THANKS

The family of Scott "Scotty" Schneider would like to thank Mr. David Stradtman and his students from the Construction Skills class. They did a wonderful job on the two benches that were donated by the family to the Kewaskum Elementary School in memory of Scotty. Scotty was five years old when he died of Leukemia, this is just a small thank you for the love Scotty's classmates had given him in that short time.

SOCIAL SECURITY CREDITS

By Dave Becker
Branch Manager
West Bend

Social Security credits (for quarters of coverage) are earned by working in a job covered by Social Security. One credit or quarter of coverage is earned for a certain amount of covered earnings. The amount of covered earnings needed for a credit automatically rises each year in accordance with increases in average wage levels.

As many as (but no more than) four Social Security credits can be earned each year, regardless of total earnings. In 1987, one credit can be earned for each $460 of covered annual earnings. A person will get four credits if his or her covered annual earnings amount is $1,840 or more.

Almost all jobs are covered by Social Security, but special rules apply to some types of work. Information about how credits are earned or any other Social Security matter can be obtained at any Social Security office, or by calling 1-800-242-9946.

Legal Guides Available For Wisconsin Farmers

Farmers in Wisconsin can obtain a copy of a publication titled "A legal guide for Wisconsin Farmers." This publication was produced as a cooperative effort of the State Bar of Wisconsin and Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection.

The legal guide is one way of providing information to farm families about the legal rights and responsibilities in their creditor/debtor relationships.

With the present financial position facing many farm families there is a need for farmers to have a better understanding of their legal rights and responsibilities.

These guides are available free from the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection simply by calling the Farm Crises Info Line at 800-362-3020. Copies are also available from the Washington County Extension Office to individuals that stop by and pick them up. Copies mailed from the Extension Office will have a .75c charge for postage.

West Bend Woman Receives Top Mary Kay Seminar Award

Julie Lepak

Julie Lepak, West Bend, was named to the Director Court of Personal Sales today at Mary Kay Cosmetics' 24th annual national seminar. Ms. Lepak, who joined the 140,000-member sales organization in May 1978, received the prestigious award for outstanding achievement as a professional businesswoman. "Julie has helped scores of women achieve their career potential. She is a shining example of entrepreneurial leadership," said Mary Kay Ash, company founder and chairman of the board.

Mary Kay Ash, presented Ms. Lepak as a member of the Director Court of Personal Sales with a 14-carat gold chain with white-gold flair design inset with 17 diamonds. Ms. Lepak was honored during a gala awards ceremony attended by 6,000 Mary Kay beauty consultants and sales directors.

The seminar's 1987 theme, Success Express, celebrates the company's tradition of recognizing women for their business achievements. The Mary Kay seminar consists of four consecutive three-day meetings at the Dallas Convention Center attended by 24,000 independent businesswomen from throughout the United States, who receive intense product, business and sales training.

Mary Kay Cosmetics, Inc. is an international manufacturer and distributor of premium skin, hair and body care products, cosmetics, toiletries and fragrances.

Making the Initial Contact at MPTI

Have you thought about attending Moraine Park Technical Institute? Whether you're a high school senior planning on continuing your education at the technical institute or an employed adult considering going back to school, the same question comes up: Where and how do you start?

One way is to start slowly by taking just one course. Hundreds of courses are offered at the MPTI campuses in Beaver Dam, Fond du Lac and West Bend. A number of courses are also offered at the 16 MPTI Instructional Centers located throughout the Moraine Park VTAE district. You can contact your local center supervisor to see what courses are offered in your community. In addition, the full schedule of MPTI classes is published and sent to all district households twice each year.

You may be interested in enrolling in an associate degree or vocational diploma program on a full-time or part-time basis. To do so, you must submit an application along with a $10 nonrefundable application fee and a copy of your high school and/or post-secondary transcripts. Your next step is to contact one of MPTI's program counselors at the Beaver Dam, Fond du Lac or West Bend campuses to discuss the program of your choice. Finally, you will have to take an admissions test to help determine your ability to successfully complete the program you have chosen. Once these steps have been completed, you will receive a notice of your acceptance within four to six weeks.

The Amazon River in South America is 4,000 miles long—longer than the highway route between New York City and San Francisco.

An Equal Opportunity Employer/Educator Functioning Under An Affirmative Action Plan

Begin Retirement Planning Now

by Joyce Albrecht
Extension Home Economist

One out of 10 Americans older than 65 lives in poverty. Younger adults can keep themselves out of those ranks later on with careful financial planning now.

It's never too early to begin building a retirement nest egg. Begin planning for retirement by age 45 and no later than age 55. Some key facts underscore the need for retirement planning.

Due to increased life expectancies in the United States, people can expect to spend more years in retirement. On the average in Wisconsin, a 65 year old man can expect to live 15 more years, a 65 year old woman almost 20.

In retirement, a person's financial situation changes. While some expenses may be reduced, the sharp drop in income that often accompanies retirement makes it necessary to take full advantage of financial resources such as pensions, Social Security and personal savings and investments.

Future retirees can expect to provide more of their own support. The nation's Social Security program and private pension plans will face continued strain due to the growing elderly population. In 1930, only 5% of the population was 65 or older. By 1986, this had more than doubled to almost 12%. By 2025 (when the baby boomers are all over 60), it's "predicted" that nearly one in five people (20%) will be over 65.

All this doesn't mean people should have negative attitudes toward retirement. Making plans and carrying them out can make retirement a positive and fulfilling experience.

Planning begins with careful thought about financial goals. Do you want to remain financially independent for as long as possible? How closely do you want to maintain your current lifestyle? Is your goal to leave an estate to children or to support a surviving spouse or charity? Do you want to volunteer, travel, take up a new hobby or start a small business? If you have a spouse, write down your goals and get your spouse to do the same, then compare them.

Setting goals may be easy, but carrying them out present a much more difficult task. Many people may have to overcome stumbling blocks before they can begin planning for retirement.

Ask yourself these questions: Are you putting off financial planning for retirement years because you have the illusion that government or private pensions will meet your total financial needs? Do you recall unpleasant experiences other family members had in retirement and prefer not to think about the same possible outcome for yourself? Do you avoid thinking about retirement because you perceive a loss of status for those not in the paid labor force? Do you find it difficult to set aside time or become interested in planning for later years?

You may have other more pressing reasons for dragging your feet. Maybe all your current income is needed for living expenses, you've had an unexpected cut in your income or you've faced unexpected expenses.

Whatever the case, it's important to start arranging your finances for retirement as soon as you can. You'll have a better chance of financing the goals you set for your retirement years.

To answer other questions on how to prepare for an adequate retirement income, contact the Washington County U.W. Extension Office for a copy of the bulletin "Your Retirement: A Financial Planning Guide."

enormous in this poorest country of the Western Hemisphere. Her work includes giving immunization shots for DPT, measles, T-B, and oral polio; plus prenatal care for mothers. She stressed a great need for volunteers to aid in helping with primary health care in all third world countries.

The recognition event for Hospice volunteers also included an outdoor and indoor tour of the Cedar Valley Retreat facilities available to the public. Kettle Moraine Hospice Service Recognizes Volunteers

Members of the Kettle Moraine Hospice Service were recently given recognition for services at a banquet and program at the Cedar Valley Retreat Campus near Kohlsville. Rev. Louis Riesch welcomed the group and commended them for their many hours of volunteer community service and support care of families of the terminally ill. Dennis Crass gave the invocation and Marge Lloyd presented the opening address and the volunteer recognition awards in the form of special medals for each Hospice volunteer.

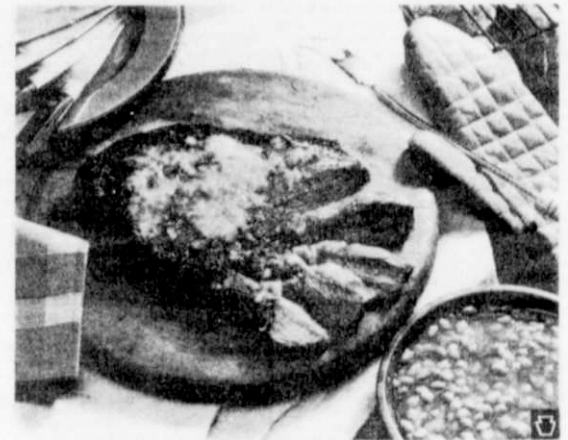

The evening speaker was Heidi Thomas who outlined the "Ventures in People: Haiti Project." She and her husband

Roland, have served as volunteers in giving primary health care service in Haiti since 1984. She said that there is one doctor for each 10,000 people and 8 hospital beds for each 10,000 people. The health needs are

BACK TO BASICS COOKING

Steak yourself to a sizzling barbecue that's dressed for success. It's easy and the flavor is superb. All you have to do is marinate a sirloin steak in a snappy combination of beer, chopped onion and naturally brewed Kikkoman Soy Sauce. Marinating will also help seal in the natural juices during grilling. Sirloin is an excellent choice because it's favorably priced and one steak will easily serve three to four avid eaters. But, it's the brewed soy sauce that blends together the diverse flavors of the beer and onion for a harmonious and rich tasting marinade. And, for a special zesty topper — sprinkle shredded Cheddar cheese over the steak just before it comes off the grill.

BARBECUED BEER STEAK

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1-1/2 pound beef sirloin steak, about 3/4 inch thick | 1/2 cup naturally brewed Kikkoman Soy Sauce |
| 1 can (7 oz.) beer | 1/4 teaspoon black pepper |
| 1 medium onion, finely chopped | 1/4 cup shredded Cheddar cheese |

Place steak in plastic bag. Combine beer, onion, soy sauce and pepper; pour over steak. Press air out of bag; tie top securely. Refrigerate 8 hours or overnight, turning over occasionally. Remove steak from marinade and place on grill 4 to 5 inches from hot coals. Cook 7 to 10 minutes on each side, or to desired degree of doneness; sprinkle cheese evenly over top side of steak during last few seconds of cooking time. To serve, cut across grain into thin slices. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Is summer camp tax-deductible?

ASK MR. BERKO

Dear Mr. Berko: My husband and I both work and my son is going to summer camp. One of the other parents told me that he deducts part of the cost from his taxes. I really don't believe it. He reads your column and I hope you print this so he will not wind up in trouble with the IRS. Wilhelmina G., Tabor, IN

Dear Wilhelmina: Don't show him this answer because he is probably correct. If you check up to $2,400 ($4,800 for two children) of the camp charges. This is covered under the same IRS rules that allow deductions for the cost of baby-sitters and other child care expenses. These are all dependent on a situation in which there is no parent home to watch the child. I wasn't kidding about the child not learning anything useful. A computer camp, sports camp or any facility that teaches the child cannot qualify because it would be considered an educational institution. Incidentally, you can even deduct the room, food and incidental costs of school or other supervised trips. Transportation costs are not deductible and the total for the year must be less than the above maximum.

Can vets get free treatment for non service-connected illness?

Dear Mr. Berko: I have always gone to the local Veterans hospital for treatment of a non service-connected problem. I have been told that I can no longer get free treatment if I have any money. I do not have enough money for treatment at a private hospital, but I'm not broke. Is there any way I can get treatment at the VA hospital?

Bernie L., Fayetteville, NC

Dear Bernie: A provision of the 1985 Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act established a means test for veterans with non service-connected disabilities. It gives exception to former POWs and vets exposed to radiation or Agent Orange. For free medical care, the means test requires that your income is less than $15,000 for a single person and $18,000 with one dependent. Veterans with incomes between $15,000 and $20,000 (no dependents) or up to $25,000 (with one dependent) are eligible for VA hospital care on a space-available basis. Veterans with higher incomes up to $20,000 (no dependents) or $25,000 (one dependent) will have to pay the lower of the Medicare deductible (currently $492) or the cost of care for the first 90 days of hospital stay. Veterans with higher incomes are required to pay some of the costs of outpatient treatment, home health care and nursing home care.

Trusting a Bull Can Be Fatal

by Jack Trzbiatowski
Extension Agriculture Agent

There's no such thing as a "pet" bull. Many farmers and their family members have lost their lives discovering this.

The beasts are unpredictable. That gentle giant you've trusted for years can turn on you in a wink, sometimes with crushing, goring, sometimes results.

Bulls cause most animal-related deaths on the farm. In 1985, bulls killed three people; a cow killed one. In 1986, bulls killed two people; a horse killed one. Cows are involved in more non-fatal incidents than bulls, but people are exposed to many more cows than bulls.

Many dairy farmers have dropped bulls entirely, which isn't a bad idea from a safety and genetic-improvement standpoint.

If you keep a bull in the pasture with your cows, always know where he is when you enter, and keep an eye on him so he can't sneak up behind you. Bull pens are far safer than than pens for cows free, especially if you can get cows to the bull without having to get into the pen with him. The first board or pipe of a bull pen should be at least a foot off the ground, which allows you to dive and roll under it if you're in a hurry.

Don't use woven-wire fencing fabric for a bull pen, it may hold a calm bull, but if a 1,600-pound animal gets mad, he'll get out and you'll have a big problem. Heavy works well for bull pens.

If you use other pens to hold large animals, consider placing gates or other openings about 14 inches wide in the fencing. They will allow a person to get through in a hurry, but not an angry large animal.

The rings you see in cartoon bulls' noses are a good idea for farm bulls too. If you must move a bull, have at least two people for the job.

Cows are least predictable right after calving. Some will behave normally, some won't. You never know, so be careful. If you're in the field, be sure that you know what the cow is up to when you first approach her calf. You may have to back off. This also applies to swine and other animals with newborn offspring.

For more information, ask for publication A3149, "Safe Handling of Farm Animals," at your county UW-Extension office.

Older Adults and Heat Stress

Hot weather is welcome relief for many who live in Wisconsin but hot temperatures also can cause heat stress.

"Heat stress is a dangerous medical condition that occurs when a person's body temperature rises from the normal 98.6 degrees to over 100 degrees because of hot outdoor temperatures," said Edward Olson, chairman of the Wisconsin Energy & Older Adult Network and the Milwaukee County Commission on Aging. "Older adults are more susceptible to heat stress."

To guard against the dangers of heat stress and to make summer safer, older adults should:

*Slow down. Physical activity produces body heat. Over-exertion makes the heart work harder.

*Drink plenty of water, fruity juices or other non-alcoholic, caffeine-free liquids each day during hot weather. Don't wait until feeling thirsty. Thirst means the body is already low on fluids.

*Use fans or air conditioners to cool a house.

*Take a cool bath or shower. Water cools the body 25 times faster than air.

*If taking medication, contact a doctor or pharmacist and ask if the medication could have an adverse reaction in hot weather.

*Wear loose-fitting, light weight, light-colored clothes. If going outdoors, wear a hat or use a parasol or umbrella to protect the head and neck from the sun.

*Avoid cooking and eating hot food and heavy meals during hot weather. Avoid extra salt and alcohol.

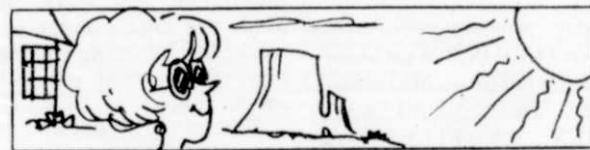

Warning signs of heat stress include dizziness, rapid heartbeat, nausea, throbbing headaches, drier-than-usual skin, diarrhea, chest pain, extreme weakness, breathing problems, mental changes, vomiting or cramps.

"If older adults experience any of these effects during very hot weather, a physician should be contacted," Olson said.

Olson urged older adults to visit air-conditioned public and private "cooling centers" such as churches, shopping centers, senior centers, meal sites, movie theaters and restaurants during hot weather.

"Informational materials on how to prevent heat stress are available at nutrition sites and senior centers," Olson said. "And please remember to check in with a friend or family member daily."

The Wisconsin Energy and Older Adult Network is a consortium of older adults, older adult organizations, social service agencies, energy suppliers and policy-makers concerned about the energy needs of older adults. It was initiated by Wisconsin Electric Power Company in 1982.

High Taxes Driving People Out of Wisconsin

By Senator Donald Stitt

For years, Wisconsin has been beckoning out-of-state tourists to escape to Wisconsin. Rather hypocritically, at the same time we have been developing a tax policy that forces our own residents to escape from Wisconsin.

A study released last month by the Wisconsin Institute of Certified Public Accountants (WICPA) found that taxes are the primary reason residents leave the state. Of the 189 CPA's who responded to the WICPA survey, 90% said that during the past five years, 1383 of their clients had left Wisconsin primarily for tax purposes.

According to the survey, 97% of the CPA's said that the state income tax was an important factor in their clients' decision to leave Wisconsin. State inheritance taxes were cited by 93% as an important factor and capital gains taxes were mentioned by 84%.

The WICPA survey also examined the effect Wisconsin's capital gains tax has on the state. The CPA's surveyed reported that in the five years covered by the survey, their clients who left Wisconsin because of the state's capital gains tax took with them estates worth $288.7 million, annual incomes of $22.5 million, and annual charitable contributions of $1.1 million.

As the WICPA survey shows, Wisconsin's exorbitant taxes are driving residents out of the state. These residents are taking with them millions of dollars in capital that could be invested in the state to create new businesses and jobs.

The Legislature needs to reexamine the state's tax policy if we want to keep our citizens in Wisconsin. We need to eliminate the inheritance tax and keep a capital gains exemption so Wisconsin residents are no longer forced out of the state because they can no longer afford to live here.

1987 Rustic Roads Map Now Available

For slow-paced back-roads summer traveling pleasure, the Wisconsin Department of Transportation has published a new edition of its Rustic Roads brochure just in time for leisurely jaunts around the state.

The brochures provide small maps of the 47 routes designated as Rustic Roads throughout the state. Rustic roads are back-country or side roads, low on traffic volume and high on historical, cultural and scenic value.

The 47 rustic roads presented in the brochure are located in 25 counties and range from 2 to 26 miles in length. Some roads pass through thickly wooded lake country, abounding with wildlife. Others wind through open farming areas offering pleasant agricultural vistas. A few roads are gravel, most are paved; some are curved, others hilly. But they all offer enjoyable sights for the rural traveler.

The roads are identified by brown and yellow signs with a one-to-three digit identification number prefixed by the letter "R," assigned by the state Rustic Roads Board. The maximum speed on any rustic road is 45 mph.

Wisconsin's Rustic Roads System was created by the 1973 state Legislature to preserve what remains of the state's scenic, lightly traveled country roads, making them available to all citizens by bike, foot or car.

Anyone interested in nominating a road for inclusion in the Rustic Roads system should contact the town chairperson, county highway commissioner, or member of the Rustic Roads Board.

For a free copy of the new brochure, "Wisconsin's Rustic Roads, a Positive Step Backward," contact the Wisconsin Department of Transportation, Rustic Roads Board, PO Box 7913, Madison, WI 53707.

Mortgage Choices Increase For Prospective Homeowners

Prospective homeowners face a number of tough questions when they decide to build or buy a new home. Perhaps the most difficult choice is between the lower rate adjustable financing or the higher rate, but guaranteed long term fixed rate financing.

Traditionally, homebuyers throughout Washington County have opted for adjustable rate financing. A major influence in this trend is West Bend Savings, the County's largest home lender. West Bend Savings has vigorously advocated the adjustable rate loan for several years. In some parts of the County, fixed rate lending has been more prevalent and lately the media has been reporting extensively about fixed rate loans. These mixed signals received by home buyers have made the decision of what type of loan to use a very difficult one.

When contacted, Richard A. Larson, president of West Bend Savings indicated that West Bend Savings and its affiliate, Citizens Mortgage, recognized the confusion the borrower faces and they have taken steps to make the decision easier for the home buyer. "You can literally have your cake and eat it too," he said. West Bend Savings is offering a Convertible Adjustable Loan. The feature of this loan allow the borrower to have the lower starting interest rate and faster service of the adjustable loan and at the same time, have the guaranteed right to convert the loan to a fixed rate loan. This convertible election can be made by the borrower on the loans anniversary during the first five years. Larson pointed out that this is a very flexible and valuable option for the home buyer and is available at a very nominal cost.

"I know families can save money and are way ahead by using adjustable financing. Our experience has been that even though rates go up as well as down and the payment increases and decreases over the life of the loan, you save money on the average with an adjustable loan. Initial adjustable rates are lower . . . in fact, almost 2% lower at this time . . . and loan commitments are quickly available. We have seen unfortunate cases where families have spent thousands of dollars in refinancing because they took out fixed rate loans at higher rates and then refinanced when rates have come down. This refinancing is needless and if they had selected adjustable rate financing, the rate and the payment would have adjusted to current standards without extra costs." "In fact," Larson said, "some mortgage banking representatives are advocating fixed rate loans because it is the only type of financing they have available. At West Bend Savings, we offer both fixed rate and adjustable rate loans. Our experience is that over 80% of our customers elect adjustable rate loans when they are given the opportunity to compare the two."

A Convertible Loan offers the best of both worlds. The borrower can begin with an adjustable rate loan and if they find they are uncomfortable with the adjustments, they can convert to a fixed rate loan with very little cost at the applicable rate. Larson expects the Convertible Adjustable Loan to become one of the most popular loans in their mortgage loan menu.

Not all conservation efforts are in the wild. The peregrine falcon, an endangered species, was introduced successfully into several cities in the U.S., where it could nest on building ledges and prey on the large pigeon population.

Recycled Materials Bringing High Prices

Prices paid for recycled materials in Wisconsin are the highest they've been for the past few years, according to a recent market analysis done by Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources' recycling staff.

The market now is especially good for aluminum, newsprint, corrugated cardboard, glass containers, plastic milk bottles and car batteries. John Reindl, DNR recycling coordinator, reports that recycling companies are paying good prices for all materials except waste oil.

"The recycling market is very good right now," said Reindl. "Prices should remain relatively stable for the next few months."

Aluminum prices range from about $0.38/lb. in Green Bay to $0.40/lb. in Madison and $0.47/lb. in Racine. These prices are nearly double the prices paid earlier this year.

Prices for aluminum have been fluctuating lately according to listings in the Wall Street Journal. Reindl does not expect prices to climb now that summer is ending and demand for soft drinks and beer lessens. Aluminum markets should stay strong, though, due to the high energy costs of mining bauxite compared to recycling aluminum scrap.

Car batteries, which contain lead, are now bringing good prices compared to last year when, Reindl noted, "you couldn't give them away." In fact, some companies are competing for batteries. One Madison recycler is paying $0.25/battery, while in Racine car batteries may bring as much as $1.25/each.

"The price of lead may fall," noted Reindl. "People would be wise to sell batteries now and not wait for prices to rise. I'd offer that same advice for aluminum too."

Newsprint prices are about $35-$40/ton on the Chicago Board, some of the highest prices quoted in almost three years. Reindl pointed out that paper prices tend to fluctuate widely, reflecting the general health of the economy and the strength of the U.S. dollar.

The strong market for recyclables, especially newsprint, aluminum and lead, follows in part from the decreased value of the U.S. dollar in world markets. Foreign materials are becoming relatively expensive compared to those available in the United States.

Glass prices are up compared to previous years and should remain stable, according to information Reindl received. A Burlington, Wisconsin company pays $50/ton for glass ($55/ton if it comes from more than 75 miles away).

Prices for glass in northeast Illinois are reaching $75/ton. An intermediate broker in La Crosse pays $40/ton; most other Wisconsin companies pay about $10/ton for glass.

Corrugated cardboard is bringing $65/ton, the highest price seen for several years. Reindl believes the market for corrugated cardboard will remain strong for a few more months as companies build inventories for the Christmas season.

The plastic milk bottle market has also improved, with bottles bringing $0.04-$0.05/lb. Larger collectors, such as community groups or municipalities, have in some cases been able to negotiate contracts with companies that pay up to $0.10/lb. for plastic milk containers.

The market for plastic soda bottles is not strong, according to Reindl, although some Wisconsin companies will take them.

With prices in general as high as they are now, this is a good time for large collectors to contract with companies. Reindl pointed out, though, that not all companies will sign contracts. Many prefer to wait and see what the market brings.

Reindl also noted that prices paid for materials vary according to how they'll be used and where in the state the company is located. For example, prices paid for newsprint may vary according to whether it's used to make new newspaper, cellulose insulation or chipboard.

A DNR publication, Markets for Wisconsin's Recycled Materials, lists more than 600 companies and organizations in or near Wisconsin that buy recyclable materials. This publication is available at DNR field offices, County Extension offices and public libraries. FOR MORE INFORMATION, CONTACT: John Reindl - 608-267-7565.

County Holstein Twilight Meeting

The Washington County Holstein Breeders Association will hold its annual Twilight Meeting on Tuesday, August 11, starting at 7:30 p.m. This Year's host will be the Turner Dairy operated by Karl and Carol Turner and Tom and Leslie Turner.

The Turner Dairy was started in Washington County about April 1, 1987. They presently have 90 cows with part of the herd being registered Holsteins. The Turners are renting the real estate from Charles Spaeth. The farm is located at the intersections of county Hwy. A and Trading Post Road northeast of West Bend and the Town of Farmington.

The evening program will start at 7:30 with the judging of two classes of dairy cattle. Following the judging there will be an opportunity to meet the Turner Family and to learn more about their farming activities. The featured speaker for the evening will be Keith Long from Belle View Farms located near Weyauwega. He will speak about the breeding, feeding and management programs that are used at Belle View Farms. Belle View Farms is one of the highly recognized dairy herds in the state of Wisconsin. There will also be a representative from the Holstein Association to provide an update on Holstein activities. Door prizes will be available and a lunch will be served. The Washington County Holstein Association would like to invite all its members and any other interested dairy farmers or individuals to attend the twilight meeting.

Tornado Watch

This is the first notice of possible tornadoes. The size of the area in which tornado spawning conditions prevail is usually 140 miles wide and 200-300 miles long. This notice means "keep alert."

Tornado Warning

Once such a storm has been sighted and/or reported by the public moving at an indicated speed in a specific direction and verified by radar this warning is given to public officials. It means they should notify their local media and put into play any warning systems that may exist in a community. To the public this "warning" means take cover, usually in the southwest corner of the basement.

Minutes of Village Board Meeting

Special Meeting
July 28, 1987
9:00 p.m.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin met in Special Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Paul Blumer presided. Trustee Kenneth Bonlander and Trustee Thomas McElhatton were absent; all other Trustee Members were present. A quorum was present.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

Robert Skatrud, Village Engineer of Ruekert & Mielke, was present to open bids as follows:

Bids for the renovations to the Kewaskum Fire Station: Contractor/Address; Lump Sum/Base Bid; Alt. I;

1. Eagle Construction, Kewaskum, WI 53040; $100,900; $ +4,450.

2. HIS Corp., Hartford, WI 53027; $106,578; $ +5,106.

3. JBJ Construction, Inc., Menomonee Falls, WI 53051; $106,789; $ +5,500.

On a motion by Trustee Richard Schmidt, seconded by Trustee Charles Boegel and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board turned the bids over to the Engineers for review and a recommendation. (The tentative date for award to be August 3, 1987).

Administrator Daniel Schmidt advised the Board following the results of the opening of the Fire House bids at the August 3rd meeting prior to the award of the contract that a resolution to borrow approximately $65,000 to $75,000 from the Kewaskum Valley Bank would be necessary. The interest rate quoted is 7.8%.

On a motion by Trustee Howard Laubenstein, seconded by Trustee Mary Krueger and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the Operator's (bartender's) License for Valera McDonald, Hartland, WI and authorized the office to issue the license upon proper payment of fee. The Police Department had no objection to the application.

On a motion by Trustee Richard Schmidt, seconded by Trustee Howard Laubenstein to adjourn meeting. Roll call vote was 5 "Aye," 0 "Nay," 2

Absent." The motion was carried by the majority.

Property Tax Freeze Proposed

Property taxes would be frozen and local voters given the option to reduce property taxes by as much as five percent a year, under a measure proposed Thursday by five Republican state legislators.

Announcing the proposal were State Senator Don Stitt, R-Port Washington, Senate Minority Leader Susan Engeleiter, R-Brookfield, Assembly Minority Leader Betty Jo Neisen, R-Shorewood, State Representative Dwight York, R-Lomira, and State Senator Alan Lasee, R-DePere.

"This is the People's Proposition," Stitt said. "We are issuing a guarantee to local taxpayers that their next property tax bill will be no more than it was last year. We are giving local taxpayers control over their tax destiny."

The three main provisions of the Republican proposal are:

*The dollar amount of property taxes levied by school districts, VTAE districts, counties and municipalities would be frozen at 1986 levels.

*A taxing body can increase its levy only with approval by a majority of voters. The increase can be no higher than the rate of inflation in the previous year.

Engeleiter said the proposal calls for the creation of a Joint Survey Committee on local mandates.

"It is important to recognize that state mandates have played a significant role in driving up local property taxes," she said. "This committee should act as the conscience of the legislature when it takes action affecting local governments."

Engeleiter said rising property taxes have created too much tension and conflict between state and local officials.

"Now is the time to stop pointing fingers. We must work together to make sure property taxes go down," she said.

Lasee said farmers desperately need meaningful property tax relief.

"The provision giving local voters the power to reduce property taxes gives farmers something they have never had: Control over a major cost of doing business," Lasee said.

Stitt said their proposal will be drafted as an amendment to the state budget now being considered by the Legislature.

"It is our goal to take action that will have an impact on the next property tax bill sent to local taxpayers," Stitt emphasized.

"And it is our goal to make sure that every dissatisfied property taxpayer in this state knows that there is a proposal now before the state legislature that will, once and for all, guarantee property tax relief."

Advertisement for Bids

RENOVATIONS TO KEWASKUM FIRE STATION (Rebid) Village of Kewaskum Washington County

Bids are invited by the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin for renovations to the Kewaskum Fire Station.

Sealed proposals will be received until 4:00 p.m., Thursday, August 27, 1987 at the Municipal Building, 204 First Street, P.O. Box 38 Kewaskum WI 53040.

The proposed project is to be performed under a single prime contract which will include interior building modifications, masonry, roofing, exterior insulation and finishing and sheet metal work.

Contract Documents including the Plans and Specifications are on file and may be examined at the office of the Village Clerk, the office of the Consulting Engineer, the F.W. Dodge Plan Room in Milwaukee and the Builders Exchange offices in Milwaukee and Fond du Lac.

Contract Documents including Plans and Specifications may be obtained from the office of the Consulting Engineer, Ruekert & Mielke, Inc., 419 Frederick Street, Waukesha, WI 53186, upon a deposit of $100.00 for each set obtained. The full amount of the deposit for up to three (3) sets of Contract Documents will be refunded only to those prime bidders who return the Documents in good condition within ten (10) days of the bid opening date. Prime bidders desiring more than three (3) sets of Documents, non-prime bidders, sub-contractors and materialsmen, upon so returning the Documents will be refunded only half the deposit. Anyone desiring the Contract Documents by mail shall submit a separate check in the amount of $10.00 per set to cover handling and mailing. This fee will not be refunded.

Each proposal must be submitted on the bid form with the Contract Documents and must be enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Bid Proposal for Renovations to the Kewaskum Fire Station."

Each proposal shall be accompanied by a Bid Bond or certified check equal to five (5) per cent of the base bid, payable to the Village as a guarantee that after the bid is accepted, the Bidder will execute and file the contract and a 100 per cent Performance and Payment Bond within fifteen (15) days after the Notice of Award. If the successful bidder fails to execute and file the contract and bond within the specified time, the guarantee amount shall be forfeited to the Village as liquidated damages.

In accordance with Wisconsin Statutes, all prime bidders must establish proof of responsibility. A Proof of Responsibility Form must be filed with the Consulting Engineer not less than five (5) days prior to the bid opening date. The blank form is available from the office of the Consulting Engineer.

No bid shall be withdrawn for a period of thirty (30) days after the bid opening date without the consent of the Village.

The letting of the work is subject to the provisions of the Wisconsin Statutes. The Village reserves the right to reject any or all of the bids, waive any informalities in bidding and accept that bid which serves the best interest of the Village.

Sensenbrenner Backs Pipeline Safety Bill

(Washington D.C.) — REP. F. JAMES SENSENBRENNER, JR. (WI-9) has cosponsored the Safe Pipeline Act of 1987 (H.R. 262). This bill addresses the safety problems caused by the over 1.7 million miles of hazardous liquid and natural gas pipelines throughout the U.S. Many of these pipelines are over 30 years old and are deteriorating.

Sensenbrenner said, "These pipelines snake through our country, often buried close to our homes, schools and workplaces. Yet most people are totally unaware of them. The Safe Pipeline Act of 1987 will allow individuals to provide for their own safety and to locate potential areas of disaster."

Key features of the Safe Pipeline Act are: Community notification of pipeline locations, installation of automatic Shut-Off Valves on pipelines, pipeline inventory requirements, mandated biennial inspections, and site restrictions on new pipelines. The site restrictions will prohibit construction of new main lines within 150 feet of any home, school, nursing home, or other permanently inhabited facility.

Sensenbrenner concluded, "This Act will minimize the hazards associated with pipelines by implementing some new regulations and informing the public of the pipe locations."

People's Proposition Would Give Taxpayers Control Over Their Tax Destiny, Says Stitt

One of the biggest complaints I receive from constituents is that property taxes are too high. The elderly are being forced out of their homes, farmers are being forced off their family farms, and homeowners are being forced to put aside an ever-increasing portion of their paychecks to pay their annual property tax bills.

The property tax revolt that swept across California in 1978 and Massachusetts in 1980 has reached Wisconsin. Taxpayers across the state are telling legislators in dramatic fashion that they are tired of paying high property taxes and they want some control in determining their own tax destiny.

Four of my Republican colleagues and I have responded to these concerns by announcing the "People's Proposition." The People's Proposition would give taxpayers control over their own property taxes by:

*Freezing the dollar amount of property taxes levied by school districts, VTAE districts, counties, and municipalities at 1986 levels.

* Giving taxpayers the authority to decide if they want to increase a taxing body's levy. The annual increase could be no higher than the rate of inflation of the previous year.

* Allowing taxpayers to reduce a taxing jurisdiction's levy by as much as 5%.

Under the People's Proposition, if a majority of voters want additional government services, they can elect to raise their taxes to pay for them. If a majority of voters would rather have lower taxes and fewer government services, they can vote for a tax reduction instead. The People's Proposition puts taxing authority where it belongs - with you, the taxpayer.

Of course, we realize the implications a freeze on taxes could have on local governments. Part of their burden has been created by the state law allowing mediation - arbitration and unfunded state mandates. To free local governments from restrictive state actions, the People's Proposition would:

* Modify the mediation - arbitration law as proposed by Governor Thompson, with the exception of the proposed change that directs the arbitrator to make separate binding determinations on each issue in dispute.

* Create a Joint Survey Committee on Local Mandates, also as proposed by the Governor.

It is our goal to see the People's Proposition pass this year and have you see the impact on your next property tax bill.

PETRI BILL WOULD FIX LIVESTOCK DEDUCTION

WASHINGTON — Rep. Tom Petri (R-Wisc.) reports that he has introduced legislation to restore a favorable tax provision which dairy farmers lost due to an Internal Revenue Service interpretation of last year's tax reform law.

Under the old law, livestock producers could deduct the expenses of raising their animals as those expenses occurred. But under the new law, farmers can take the deductions in this way only as long as the animals become productive within two years. Otherwise, the deductions have to be spread out evenly over the entire assumed life of each animal. "That gets extremely complicated," Petri said.

"Sixth District farmers tell me that dairy cows can often, although not always become productive — that is, start producing milk — within two years after birth," Petri said. "But the Internal Revenue Service has decided on its own to start the two-year clock at the date of conception rather than at the date of the calf's birth nine months later. It's unfair and unworkable."

"If the clock starts at conception, meeting the two-year requirement would mean that the calf would have to start giving milk within 15 months after birth. There's just no way she can manage that trick. She'd have to be bred when she was only six months old," Petri said.

Petri's bill would start the two-year IRS clock running at the calf's birth rather than at conception. "After all," said Petri, "I can't imagine that the IRS would like to carry the principle it's following into other areas, such as the effective date for claiming personal exemptions for human babies."

McCALLUM LISTS TOLL FREE NUMBER FOR SMALL BUSINESS CONFERENCE

MADISON — Lt. Governor Scott McCallum announced that a toll free number for the Governor's Small Business Conference is in operation. The number is: 1-800-236-1102.

McCallum said the phone was installed so that small business people could get questions answered about the conference in a timely fashion. Regional conferences are planned during September in 17 locations across the state. The state conference will be held November 9th and 10th in Madison.

"It is imperative that we have input from the business community if the conference is to be a success. This phone line will facilitate business people's ability to have that vital input and a source of information," McCallum said.

Trout Fishing in State Book Available

Wisconsin trout streams are placed into three classes for fish management purposes, by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

Class 1 - high grade trout waters with conditions favorable for natural reproduction. Requires little or no stocking of hatchery fish.

Class 2 - some native trout but not in sufficient numbers. Moderate to heavy stocking required to maintain good fishing.

Class 3 - marginal trout habitat. Stocking legal trout necessary to provide trout fishing.

WISCONSIN TROUT WATERS, provides 65 detailed 2 color maps showing Class 1 and 2 trout waters and surrounding territory and roads. The trout fisherman can pre-plan his trip using the maps and accompanying trout index. The fisherman can spend his time fishing instead of needlessly driving and wasting gas.

The book has been updated, revised and enlarged to 60 pages; and is available by sending $9.95 to: WISCONSIN TROUT WATERS, Stock #T1987-5M, P.O. Box 5096, Madison, Wisconsin 53705.

Separate from the maps is a complete list of all trout streams in Wisconsin, with notes as to species of trout, stream length and location.

Kewaskum Police Department to Sponsor Hunter Safety Course

Richard Knoebel, a Wisconsin DNR certified hunter safety instructor, invites all young people interested in hunting and recreational shooting to enroll in a Wisconsin Hunter Education course. The course will be starting on Wed., Aug. 19, 1987 at 3:30 p.m. at the Kewaskum Municipal Building Community Room and is sponsored by the Kewaskum Police Department. Students must be 12 years old to enroll (or reach 12 prior to the end of 1987). There is no maximum age, and parents are also encouraged to enroll and participate.

Class size is limited and advanced registration is required. Please contact Richard Knoebel at 626-4311 for more details.

Persons successfully completing the course will receive a distinctive embroidered emblem and a hunter safety graduate certificate. The certificate is valid in lieu of a small game hunting license for one season, and is a lifetime certificate required for hunting in many states and provinces.

Young students certified will also be able to hunt and use firearms without parent or guardian present at age fourteen instead of age sixteen.

Classes will cover responsibilities of hunters, firearms safety in the home and afield, knowledge of firearms and hunting equipment, wildlife identification and management, marksmanship and outdoor skills.

Six from Area Make Trip To Europe to Play Baseball

Four baseball players and two coaches from the Sheboygan area are making a week-long trip to Europe in August.

They join players from Florida, Oregon, Washington and Ohio for seven games in Maastricht, Luxembourg and Brussels, Belgium. They are playing five to six baseball games against teams from Holland.

Gig Christensen and Tom Biederwold from Sheboygan Falls are serving as coaches, and joined by players Jay Klister and Brek Rammer of Sheboygan Falls, Todd Struve of Plymouth and Brian Kraus of New Holstein. Brek Rammer is a Kewaskum High School student, and will be a senior this year. His parents are Karen and Barry Rammer of Sheboygan Falls, and grandparents are Gaylord and Marge Krahn, and Ray and Delores Rammer of Beechwood.

The tour, which departed Saturday and returns Aug. 8, was coordinated by Duane (Moose) Woltzen, former basketball coach and athletic director of Lakeland College.

Freshman Football Practice to Begin

Kewaskum Freshman Football practice begins on Wednesday, August 26th. This is the first day of school.

The first three days of practice will be non-contact and without pads.

You must have a physical card, athletic code signed and users' fee paid before you can begin practicing.

Tomorrow remains mankind's greatest labor-saving device.

Arrow Masters to Present Archery Show and Shoot at Amerahn Aug. 23

On Sunday, Aug. 23, the Campbellsport Arrow Masters will hold an indoor Archery Show and an Outdoor Archery Shoot at the Amerahn Hall in Kewaskum, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Inside show participants will include Total Shooting Systems, the Village Sport Shop, Al's Taxidermy and hunting supplies, Ferbers Archery, Laubensteins (ATV equipment), Kewaskum Frozen Foods (venison sampling), and Bill McCrary, from Madison, with his broadhead museum which is 15 ft. long and under glass.

Speakers will include Glen Hegeland, well known bow hunter and feature writer for numerous hunting magazines and author of "Successful Bow-hunting." He will speak twice during the day, once at 12:00 noon to 1:00 p.m. and again at 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Dale Katsma, a D.N.R. deer biologist and expert on whitetail in Wisconsin, will also speak twice, first at 1:00 p.m. to 2:00 p.m. and again at 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. When speakers are not speaking, hunting movies will be shown in a separate section of the hall from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and from 2:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Bring your whitetail rack. Bill Grosskreutz, an official measurer for Pope and Young will also be there to measure your rack.

Bring your own bow. An outside shoot will include a swinging sausage shoot, a balloon shoot, and a running deer. Also there will be a 3-D down hill shoot at an 8 foot Kodiak bear, a spike buck and a 6 pt. buck. A sight in range for these events will be provided.

The club will sponsor a bow tune up table and arrow speed meter, also a bow pull contest.

Door prizes will be given away hourly. The winner must be present to pick up his or her prize. We will also be selling hamburgers, brats, nachos, beer, and soda.

Admission to the show is $3.00 for adults, $2.00 for children 12 to 16 and under 12 free admission tickets include one free shot at a balloon for a sausage, one free bow tune up, all commercial exhibits, Pope and Young scorer, movies and speakers.

There is free parking. Come rain or shine to the Amerahn in Kewaskum for the areas largest archery event.

MOONLIGHTERS BOWLING TEAM TO MEET MONDAY

The Monday Night Moonlighters will be having their annual fall meeting on Monday, August 10, at 7:30 p.m. at King Pin Lanes.

The first bowling tournament for women was held in St. Louis, Missouri in 1917.
