Let There Be Light... at the Kiwanis Park Softball Diamond

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Discussion became very heated at Monday night's Kewaskum Village Board meeting as the trustees considered the issue of purchasing lights for the Kiwanis Park's softball field. Talk almost began to sound like trying to solve the riddle of 'which came first, the chicken or the egg.'

Parks Committee chairman Tom McElhatton told fellow board members that after some discussion with individuals from the Kewaskum Softball Association he found it difficult to get any commitments for use of the diamond. "Trying to get a men's league this year is almost impossible," said McElhatton. "It's hard to get a commitment without the facilities."

McElhatton told the board he had talked to some players and he was told they were established in other areas and hated to leave especially for a place that is in a maybe situation with its lights.

On the reverse side of the coin, Trustee Richard Schmidt said he was against spending almost $30,000 to install lights unless there were assurances and some firm commitments that the facilities would be used. He said surveys taken in the early eighties showed few teams willing to use the field. He also felt baseball participation has been dropping off the past few years. Older players are dropping out and fewer young people are taking up the sport, he said.

Trustee Ken Bonlender strongly disagreed with Schmidt's comments noting he was "on the other side of the table" as a team sponsor during those 1982 discussions between the board and the association. Bonlender told Schmidt, back then the village was asking too much money for the facilities it had to offer. He told the board the teams found better sites for less money. He also disagreed with participation dropping off. He noted teams have to have someplace to play. He felt participation would pick up if the proper facilities were available.

Schmidt still felt the cost was not justified. Bonlender noted, this is a community service, we're not trying to make a profit just cover some of the related costs. He felt the lights should be installed. By not doing it, he said, we're sending our kids off to play in Fillmore or Beechwood when they could be playing ball in their own village park. If we don't want to put up the lights we shouldn't have spent the money for fencing and all the other improvements.

Schmidt was still concerned about who would pick up the costs for such things as umpires and trophies. "What you're talking about tonight is putting up the lights and that's all," said McElhatton. He told the board, the other things can be worked out with the association later.

Trustee Mary Krueger asked McElhatton, "What you're saying is, you have to have lights before a league and Dick has taken the opposing view you have to have a league before the lights."

After listening to the debate, Trustee Chuck Boegel stated,

"I do think we are going to have to put the lights in some time." He felt the bids were reasonable and that the cost would only go up in the future. "I'd like my kids to have the chance to use a lighted field," he noted.

McElhatton and Administrator Dan Schmidt told the board that between the Diamond Lighting Fund and Parks Development Fund, there was enough money to cover the cost of the lights.

Boegel made the motion, seconded by Krueger, that the village proceed with the installation of the lights. The motion was approved and the contract awarded to low bidder Statz Electric of Milwaukee, at $27,300.

Grand Openings Gone to the Dogs

The Kewaskum area has been graced with two new businesses involved in animal care: Wyndmist Boarding and Training Kennels, 8057 Town Line Rd., owned by Cyndie Reinheimer; and Joyce Kuhnke's Dog and Cat Grooming, 6571 St. Kilian Dr., St. Kilian.

Both are highly referred by veterinarians from Kewaskum, Allenton, Campbellsport, West Bend and by numerous satisfied customers. Wyndmist and Joy Kuhnke's know it is important for animal owners to be at peace when leaving their "loved ones" in someone else's care.

Joy Kuhnke's Dog and Cat Grooming opened their doors in 1983 at their home in St. Kilian, so they missed having an official "grand opening." Joy takes pride in being a homemaker, business owner, and a girl scout and 4-H leader. Married to Tom Kuhnke for 13 years they have two daughters, Becky and Shelly, two Shelties, a cat, and two gerbils.

Joy started dog and cat grooming in Milwaukee where her parents owned one of the city's top boarding and training kennels. There she groomed and exhibited her parent's Best in Show Borzoi (Russian Wolfhounds) and Scottish Deerhounds. People with all breeds of dogs were impressed with the quality of her work, and they encouraged Joy to open a grooming business at the kennel in 1969. The Kuhnke's moved to St. Kilian in 1979.

Joy and her family now raise Shetland Sheepdogs (Shelties). Working well with animals has been passed down to Becky; last year she and her dog took Grand Champion in Obedience at the Washington County Junior Fair. While Joy is knowledgeable in raising and training dogs and cats her business specialty is complete grooming for all purebred and mixed breeds, of all sizes, and she also teaches owners to maintain hair and skin between visits to her shop. Joy says it takes a lot of patience to give each customer her best, and her business thrives on top quality and gentle grooming, as she's been doing for the past 19 years.

Walk through the doors of Wyndmist Boarding and Training Kennels located on Town Line Road in rural Kewaskum, and Cyndie Reinheimer's love for animals is apparent. Numerous cats meow greetings, a bird watches from its cage, and a chorus of dogs echo throughout the clean, spacious kennel accommodations tucked among the horses, steer, sheep and goats ... all at home on Cyndie's rustic minifarm.

This "home" atmosphere is what keeps pet owners coming back to Wyndmist. Cyndie treats each animal boarder as if it were her own and during their stays they are groomed, exercised and can even be trained if so requested, as Cyndie also offers obedience classes, beginners and advanced, or private training to meet everyone's needs.

Her experience began in Brookfield when she was eight years old and trained her own Irish Setter and Old English Sheep Dog. As an adult she moved to Dundee in the early

Lendved Re-Elected President of AWSC

George Lendved, president of the Association of Wisconsin Snowmobile Clubs, accepted a plaque presented in recognition of his tireless efforts and dedication to improving the sport of snowmobiling and continued growth of the AWSC.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

George Lendved of Kewaskum has been re-elected president of the Association of Wisconsin Snowmobile Clubs, a nationally known state organization devoted to developing and promoting good, safe snowmobiling in Wisconsin and throughout the snowbelt. Lendved was elected to a third term during the association's annual convention held recently in Appleton. Also elected were vice president Paul Statz of Waunakee, secretary Pat Hafenstein of Waterloo, and treasurer Mary Gescheidle of Fond du Lac.

The convention was attended by approximately 1,000 snowmobilers from throughout the state.

Despite less than favorable snow conditions for winter sports the last few winters, membership in the association has continued to grow. Retiring vice president, Joann Smith, chairperson of the Membership Committee, told those attending the convention, the association now has 21,025 member families, 570 clubs, 778 commercial memberships (restaurants, motels, etc.) and over 4,000 new members this year.

Lendved and the AWSC continuously work to expand and improve Wisconsin's program and trail system which has become a model to other snowbelt states. The association and its membership have become nationally and internationally known for pursuing legislation which has resulted in a better, safer sport for everyone.

Snowmobiling in Wisconsin is a completely self-supporting sport with trail construction, maintenance and safety courses funded by snowmobile registration fees and a small gas tax return from the gasoline used by the snowmobilers.

The sport of snowmobiling also pumps millions of dollars annually into the state's economy. As a guest legislator

ODYSSEY OF THE MIND WHAT IS IT?

The Odyssey of the Mind combines the excitement of an athletic competition with fun-filled mental gymnastics for youngsters. It provides "creative problem solving" for all ages, combined with the thrill of seeing their imagination at work, constructively. Like the ancient Greek athletes' contests and their modern day counterparts, "creative problem solving" provides training and competition requiring diligence and hard work for participants. However, students don't have to be athletic nor do you have to spend a lot of money to provide a fun-filled, enriching program.

Odyssey of the Mind is a creative problem solving competition which involves "hands on" building, developing, and making things in order to solve problems. Students from elementary through high school compete in teams of seven students (only five at a time may be on the "field") in three different levels of competition (K-5, 6-8, 9-12). The solutions to the problems are judged according to the quality of the solution and the style in which it is accomplished. The solution becomes the team's entry in the competition.

The problems lend themselves to divergent solutions, are relatively inexpensive to solve, and can be watched by spectators. There are two types of problems: Long Term Problems and Spontaneous Problems for the students to solve. A spontaneous problem follows:

With one minute to think and two minutes to respond, name as many birds as you can.

Each team has a coach which may be a teacher, principal, counselor, parent, or other citizen. Odyssey of the Mind is designed as a program for creative students. The best way to identify these students is through the creative problem solving competition itself.

Once selected for the teams, students are trained brainstorming techniques, redefining problems which develop flexibility and the ability to synthesize. There is an effort to develop students' confidence and ability to relax in order to be more creative.

She is now the proud owner of Champion Bearded Collies, rough and smooth Collies, Welsh Corgies, and Australian Shepherds, and Cyndie usually has puppies available, pet and show quality. She can also help individuals find puppies of other breeds by referring them to reputable breeders.

After 15 years experience Cyndie has confidence in herself and her growing business, and she offers a complete line of pet care products including Diamond brand dog food for top quality and show results, leashes, a variety of collars, brushes, combs, food supplements, chew bones, treats, cages and much more.

Her sons, Josh and Joel, have a hand in helping her with the animals. They each have their own Collie, and Josh is in Jr. Showmanship 4-H projects, working his dog in obedience. Cyndie is also willing to help with any pet problems you might have, such as house-breaking a new puppy.

Cyndie can do a simple clipping, bathing and combout but she will be referring larger grooming needs to Joy Kuhnke's Dog and Cat

Grooming, and in turn Joy will be sending her customer's to Wyndmist for their boarding and training needs. These two new businesses are fine examples of community members working together to serve the needs of the people and "their best friends."

speaking at the convention noted, "Years ago northern businesses put the key in the door after Labor Day, closing up for the winter. Now everything from motels to gas stations remain open all winter long to enjoy the business brought in by the snowmobiler."

Annually hundreds of youths, ages 12 to 16, are certified for snowmobile operation by volunteer safety course instructors throughout the state who work in conjunction with the Department of Natural Resources. Without these volunteers, the DNR would be facing an impossible task.

The AWSC works continually with the Wisconsin Department of Tourism in its efforts to promote the state and its limitless winter recreation resources and, specifically, the sport of family snowmobiling.

Kewaskum Woman Wins Paradise Mall Trip for Two to Germany

Mae Oppermann, Kewaskum, couldn't believe her ears when she was called Jan. 5 and told she had just won a trip to Germany.

"I didn't believe it," she said recently. "I thought it was a crank call."

But when she went down to Paradise Mall to check the story out, she knew it was true.

Her name was picked from about 10,000 in a raffle at the mall for a week-long trip for two to Germany. Airline tickets, hotels and one meal per day are covered in the trip.

The promotion for the newly-opened mall started Nov. 13 and ended on the day of the drawing, Jan. 5.

Oppermann will be leaving for the country where she said some of her relatives reside, June 16 to June 30. Instead of just one week and one other tourist, she said that she will be staying for two weeks and four people total will be taking the trip.

Oppermann and her companions will be flying via American Airlines and staying in a Quality Inn hotel in Frankfurt during their stay.

MEDICINE STORAGE

Many medicines lose their potency if not stored in exactly the right type of container. Some bottles must be impermeable to dampness or air - must not absorb chemicals that evaporate from medication - must not admit light of a certain wavelength. It is safer to keep each medication separate in its own bottle - the one supplied by the pharmacist.

Winnebago Tire Only Licensed Tire Recycler in State
Counties and DNR Shutting Down Tire Graveyards

At Winnebago Tire, Larry Verkuilen, at top, places tires into the grinder while Jim Meidenbauer, lower, directs the larger pieces back onto the conveyor for regrinding. Tire chips must be reduced to pieces no larger than two inches maximum to be used as fuel material.

By GERRY MUELLER
 Statesman Staff Writer

Effective May 1st, a new law will go into effect adding $10 to the price of each new car sold. That money, expected to add up to about $2.9 million a year, will be targeted for use in cleaning up piles of discarded tires throughout the state as well as provide funds to study tire recycling methods.

The DNR reports several landfills in Fond Du Lac County which lack the required solid waste landfill permits have illegal piles of more than a million tires each.

With the DNR's assistance, Fond du Lac County has already closed down three area tire graveyards, Wiesner Auto Salvage, Lake Bernice Road, Town of Ashford, the J. P. Grahl property near highway 45 and Church Road, Town of Eden, and the Loren Ketter property off highway DD, in the Town of Auburn.

By early this fall the DNR will begin shutting down as many of the tire piles as it can find. The DNR has a record of reported tire dumps but more illegal piles are being located through the use of aerial surveys.

While tires from neighboring communities have found their way to local landfills, thousands more are being transported in from Milwaukee County and it is rumored, as far south as Illinois.

The DNR will be facing a monumental task in tracking down and cleaning up all the sites. As many dumps are being shut down new piles of illegally dumped tires are sprouting up in gravel pits, and abandoned dumps. One possible and somewhat hopeful answer to the problem of disposing of these tires is recycling. One method is through a shredding process which turns tires into a recyclable commodity for use in road construction and for use as fuel. However, to date, there is only one state licensed shredding plant in operation, Winnebago Tire, Inc., at 3462 Townhall Road, in the Town of Barton, owned and operated by Richard A. and Richard E.

Village Will No Longer Pick Up Discarded Tires

By GERRY MUELLER
 Statesman Staff Writer

Effective with the adoption of an ordinance Monday night, Kewaskum's Public Works Department will no longer pick up or dispose of discarded tires.

With the enactment of the ordinance, the Public Works Department is instructed to leave all tires placed with trash for collection, to lay.

The ordinance is the result of comments made by Public Works Superintendent Augie Bilgo during the board's last meeting when he advised the trustees of the fact that communities or individuals will no longer be allowed to dispose of unwanted tires in landfills.

Discarded tires are becoming a bigger and bigger problem every year as millions of tires are being dumped in either legal or illegal landfills. The big problem with the tires is the fact that they do not remain buried and eventually work themselves up to the surface of landfills.

One solution for disposing of the tires and which is in the experimental stage, is the recycling of the shredded materials to be used in road construction or as burnable fuels. Trustee Richard Schmidt told the board, road building contractors who are using recycled tire materials in their bids are being given extra consideration, even if their bids are higher, in an effort to

Zima. While the DNR is looking for relief in recycling, it appears slow in getting operations moving. It was 18 months before the Zimas had the necessary permits, licenses and DNR approval to begin operation.

Winnebago is also fighting an uphill battle in its efforts to make the recycling plant profitable. The Zimas will pick up tires in bulk quantities charging 70c per tire within a 35-mile radius and 75c per tire for pickup 35-70 miles away. Individual tires are taken at the plant at $1.50 per car tire.

The company, however, is finding it hard to compete with truckers known as tire jockeys who travel to businesses offering to pick up tires for as little as 30c a piece. At prices like that businesses do not question or are they interested in where the tire will end up, very possibly and probably illegally dumped in the middle of a rural farm field or in some pit hidden from view in an isolated wooded area.

Rick Zima said he and his father have approximately $45,000 invested in the shredding equipment which can process up to 1,000 tires per day. He said he could use all the tires the company can get. "We've got a firm commitment from Fort Howard Paper in Green Bay and Nekoosa Papers in Tomahawk to take all the recycled tires we can supply. The companies burn the chips along with coal. Zima said the air cleaners and washers required for the burning of coal also remove the impurities and pollutants released from the tires.

For these two companies, it's past the experimental stage, said Zima, noting Nekoosa has been using shredded tires as part of its fuel requirements for about nine years.

Rick hopes the publicity the operation has been receiving will help increase the volume of tires they have been getting. In an interview Wednesday, Zima said they were down to only enough tires to run for another day. "We've been getting a lot of inquiries about the operation, and that's a good sign," he said.

Rick related one funny, but also sad story about the tire situation. "I got a call from a truck leasing company in Milwaukee. It seems some guy leased one of their trucks in Illinois, drove it to Wisconsin and abandoned it. When the company recovered it, they found it loaded with over 200 tires. The company asked if we would take the tires. We said, sure, so they'll be driving the load up to us. They were just happy to be able to get rid of the tires legally." Zima said this was just one example of how people are getting rid of tires.

Since it went into operation last November, Winnebago Tire has processed approximately 20,000 tires through its shredder.

In Milwaukee County, people have been renting garages and buildings under false names and loading them up with unwanted tires, then disappearing. The end result is the property owners getting stuck with a big headache and a bunch of tires they have to pay someone to haul away.

One route Wisconsin could take to cut down on the illegal dumping of tires would be to follow the example of the State of Minnesota and license all its tire jockeys.

looking into the replacement of some of the village-owned street lights with the more cost and energy efficient sodium lights. Some of the cost could be recovered through Wisconsin Electric's Smart Energy program. He noted that while the cost savings on the lights themselves would not be significant, the savings in energy consumption would. We would be replacing 250 watt mercury vapor lights with 70 watt sodium lights, said Schmidt. That would reduce wattage consumption by more than two-thirds. Trustee Tom McElhatton agreed that would be a big saving since electricity charges are calculated on the number of watts used.

Schmidt told the board an application had to be filed by March 31st to participate in the program. The board instructed him to proceed with the application.

Trustee Mary Krueger updated the board on the County Incineration Committee's activities. She said the group's next meeting objective will be to select an engineering firm who will draw up a grant application for funding to do a feasibility study. Krueger said the committee was pressed for time and must pick a firm soon because the deadline for the grant application is April 1st.

In other action the board approved the hiring of a high school student to work as a part time aide in the library.

The board then adjourned to closed session to discuss business related to the purchase and sale of land in the Kewaskum Industrial Park.

World Day of Prayer March 4

CHURCH WOMEN UNITED OF WASHINGTON COUNTY will lead the Christians in Washington County in a World Day of Prayer on Friday, March 4, 1988. There will be several services taking place throughout the County. The West Bend and Kewaskum area people are encouraged to attend the program at Fifth Avenue Methodist Church. It will begin at 9:00 a.m. with Bible study, followed by a formal worship and prayer service.

The Jackson and Slinger area will hold its prayer service at 1:30 at St. Peter U.C.C., Jackson.

Special programs and services will also be held with laywomen as leaders at Cedar Lake Home, at Meadowbrook Manor, The Samaritan Home, and Meadow Creek Home in Kewaskum.

The service has been written by women from Brazil from both Protestant and Catholic Traditions. This special day of prayer was begun by women in the United States as a day of prayer for missions, and it has developed into a movement in which Christian people in over 170 countries engage in prayer. We encourage YOU to join us on this special day.

Taxpayers Can Get Updates on Refunds By Using Tele-Tax

Tele-Tax, the IRS service offering recorded tax information, is proving to be popular among Wisconsin taxpayers this year - and that should be even more true in the weeks to come. After March 15, taxpayers will be able to get information on the status of their tax refunds by calling Tele-Tax.

Tele-Tax covers approximately 150 areas of tax information that answer many Federal tax questions. It also includes a topic of local information such as the location of volunteer tax assistance sites. You can hear up to three topics each time you call.

If it's been ten weeks since you mailed your 1987 tax return, you will be able to use Tele-Tax to check the status of your refund after March 15. When you call, have a copy of your tax return available - since you will need to know the first social security number shown on your return, the filing status, and the exact amount of your refund. After you call, just follow the recorded instructions.

To use Tele-Tax, in Milwaukee, call 273-8100. Elsewhere in Wisconsin, call toll-free, 1-800-554-4477.

promote the use of more recyclable materials.

While the ordinance may not find favor with some village residents, they still have a nearby outlet at which they can dispose of those unwanted tires. The only state approved and licensed tire recycling plant has gone into operation next to the Northpoint Shopping Center in the Town of Barton. Winnebago Tire, Inc. will take unwanted tires at a charge of $1.50 per car tire and $10 per truck/tire. (See related story on another page)

Holy Trinity Students, Teachers Raise $1,911 for Heart Association

A total of 95 students and teachers at Holy Trinity School jumped rope for three hours on Feb. 4, to share their spirit of caring with their community. At the same time they were promoting their cardiovascular fitness and raising money for the American Heart Association, (AHA).

The event, called Jump Rope for Heart, was sponsored by the American Alliance of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance, and its aim was to show the benefits of regular exercise and to raise money for AHA'S research and education programs. Students were organized into teams of six, jumped in two minute segments, and raised money from sponsors for every minute the team jumped.

The students gave it everything they had. Every team succeeded in jumping their goal of 180 minutes. Parent volunteers served juice and helped to monitor each team. It was exciting to see students, teachers and parents working together toward a goal they can feel good about. Since heart and blood vessel diseases kill more Americans than all other causes of death combined, it meant a lot to be jumping to raise money for something as important as heart research. Many students showed someone special how much they cared by jump roping

"IN HONOR OF" some relative or friend who has had heart disease. These students wore a picture of the person or persons' name on their clothing while they jumped. Many responses from students involved in the event showed their desire to hold the event again next year.

Other students took part in various "Outreach Programs." Using the Valentines Day Theme, cards were made for the elderly. Placemats were designed and went to residents at Tri Manor Home, West Bend and St. Joseph's Convent, Campbellsport. Other students made "Care Boxes," included in each box was a personal letter written by the student and various items including toys and a paper back book the student may have enjoyed reading and wished to share. The care boxes went to St. Rose's School, 31st. and Michigan, Milwaukee.

Girl Scouts to Celebrate 'Going and Growing' Sunday

Over a 76-year period, Girl Scouting, going and growing, has been a precious natural resource on which our communities and our nation have come to rely. It's a force of nearly three million girls and adults who make a collective impact on our lives in ways only Girl Scouts can.

Going and growing, yet constant as a positive influence on the lives of girls and young women, Girl Scouting imparts values and encouragement that last a lifetime.

This week the Kewaskum area scouts once again celebrate Girl Scout week. On Sunday, March 6, they will begin with church services. In Kewaskum, Holy Trinity will honor the Girl Scouts at the 9:00 a.m. Mass with the "I Live My Faith" and the "Family of God" awards.

At the 9:30 a.m. service at the Peace United Church of Christ the scouts will receive religious awards.

The scouts from St. Michaels will attend the 10:30 Mass.

At St. John's Church in New Fane the Girl Scouts will attend the 10:15 a.m. service.

The Girl Scouts will hold their annual Girl Scout Dinner at 12:30 p.m. following church services, at the Amerahn.

Following dinner there will be a program with each troop taking part. The theme for this year's program will be "It's a Small World."

As one of the community activities for Girl Scout week there is going to be an "Art Fair." The Scouts art work will be on display at the Valley Bank, Kewaskum, from Monday, March 7, until Friday, March 11.

Any registered Scout may enter a maximum of two items, made by the scout this past year.

Judging will be done by scouts on March 5th.

There will be patches for 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes.

The leaders will set-up on Saturday, March 5, at 9:00 a.m. They will remove the art projects on March 12 at 9:00 a.m.

Girl Scouts Working on Religious Awards

At a special meeting of the Kewaskum Advancement Association, which was held in the village hall last Tuesday evening, the enterprise investigating committee, consisting of D. M. Rosenheimer, A. A. Perschbacher and Nic. Rimmel reported that they have secured an option from Mr. Rimmel, for the purchase of his entire business, machine shop, foundry and hardware business, and recommended that the concern be turned over to a stock company with a capitalization of $40,000. All present at the meeting were very enthusiastic over the affair and at the present time indications are, that no trouble will be met by raising this amount. A corporation of this kind not only would be a paying proposition, but also a good help to the village. In a course of time a large number of men could be employed. It is also the intention that in case a corporation is formed that the hardware and tinware business will be discontinued and go exclusively into manufacturing. The machine shop will be run in connection and repairing done as heretofore.

Articles of incorporation of the Campbellsport Co-operative Association were filed in the office of the Register of Deeds. The purpose of the company as stated in the articles of incorporation is to conduct any agricultural, dairy, mercantile, mining, manufacturing or mechanical business on the co-operation plan. The principal place of business will be at Campbellsport where the co-operative store will be located.

Publicly this grand man will demonstrate his marvelous skill in extracting teeth free from any pain, as each night he will extract, free of charge, a few teeth on the stage before the audience. $100 for any tooth he cannot successfully extract.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of my dear husband, father and grandfather, Richard Halfmann, who passed away two years ago, March 7, 1986:

We often sit and think of you
And speak of how you died;
To think you could not say goodbye to us
Before you closed your eyes.
The flowers we place upon your grave,
May wither and decay
But the love for you who sleeps beneath
Shall never fade away.

Loved and always remembered by wife, children, and grandchildren.

Lepak Awarded Pink Buick By Mary Kay Cosmetics

DALLAS, Texas — The brand new pink Buick Century being driven through the streets of West Bend, Wisconsin by Julie Lepak is a unique "trophy on wheels" recently awarded her in recognition of her leadership and sales achievements with Mary Kay Cosmetics, Inc.

In a company that awards diamonds, minks and exotic vacations to top achievers in the more than 130,000-member sales force, Mary Kay's pink car is undoubtedly the most sought-after prize. The pink car was first offered as an award to top sales directors in 1969 after company founder and Board Chairman Mary Kay Ash had her personal car custom-painted pastel pink.

Ms. Lepak, an independent sales director for the Dallas-based cosmetics firm, won the free use of the pink car by leading her sales unit to exceed specified sales levels during a six-month qualification period. The coveted pink car is the ultimate symbol of success in Mary Kay.

Sensenbrenner Names County Nominations To Service Academies

Rep. F. James Sensenbrenner, Jr. (R-Wisconsin) has announced his nominations to the United States Service Academies for the entering class of 1988. In Washington County, Julie Wolfgram was nominated as a competing alternate to the U.S. Naval Academy. John Cosgrove was nominated to both the U.S. Air Force Academy, and the U.S. Naval Academy as a competing alternate. Steven Walter was named a competing alternate to both the U.S. Air Force Academy, and the U.S. Military Academy.

John Cosgrove, a 1988 graduate of Hartford Union High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cosgrove, 1435 Scenic Drive, Hubertus.

Steven Walter, a 1988 graduate of Hartford Union High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Walter, S68 Sunset Drive, Hartford.

Julie Wolfgram, a 1988 graduate of Washington High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wolfgram, W158 N9754 Sumac Road, Germantown.

Sensenbrenner said, "the young people selected this year have extraordinary academic records and a broad range of interests, pursuits, extra-curricular activities, and athletic achievements. They all have the potential to win appointment to the academies and the promise that marks outstanding military careers."

Because of the large number of highly qualified applicants, Sensenbrenner used the "competitive" method of nomination, selecting ten candidates for each vacancy that he is entitled to fill and allowing the individual academies to select the persons best qualified from among the list. All recommendations for nomination were made by the Ninth District Academy Nomination Selection Committee, a panel of citizens appointed by Sensenbrenner to review and evaluate the applicants.

The selection of nominees is based on a composite of academic factors: school records, class rank, and SAT or ACT scores, along with leadership potential, extra-curricular activities, athletics, physical fitness and community involvement.

Some Clean Water Grant Recipients To Get Tax Break

Uncle Sam is giving a tax break to many rural land or small business owners who have received grants to replace failing septic systems or prevent soil and barnyard runoff into streams, a Department of Natural Resources grant official said.

Tim Kessenich, specialist in the Department's Bureau of Community Assistance Management, says a recent decision issued by the secretary of the U.S. Department of Agriculture means most people who receive Wisconsin grants to replace or upgrade failing septic systems or clean up agricultural pollution may exclude those grant payments from all or part of their gross taxable income.

"This decision will mean a welcome tax break for many landowners, rural home dwellers and some rural small business owners who have received or are eligible to get water pollution prevention grants from us," Kessenich said.

Under the new federal policy, grants made to people who qualify for funding under certain state conservation programs are exempt from taxation because the money is being used for soil and water conservation purposes, protecting or restoring the environment, improving forests or providing habitat for wildlife.

Two Wisconsin grant programs are affected by the decision, Kessenich said. Under the state's private sewage system replacement or rehabilitation program, the Department of Natural Resources funnels $2 million a year to 49 participating counties, which distribute the money to eligible applicants. Each year grants are awarded to more than 1,000 owners of rural homes or country taverns, motels, restaurants and other small businesses not served by municipal sewage systems.

Also affected are grants issued under the state's non-point source water pollution abatement program. Since 1978 the Department has given more than $26,840,000 to landowners and municipalities in 37 counties to pay for practices that cut soil erosion and manure runoff in 30 priority watersheds. Work funded under this program includes terracing of fields on hillsides to cut soil erosion, fencing cattle out of streams, and building collection and storage systems to prevent barnyard and feedlot runoff from entering watersheds.

"The effect of the new policy on individual grant recipients may vary," Kessenich said. "Tax regulations affecting payments to homeowners differ from regulations affecting business or owners of income property."

YOUR TAXES

A Warning to Protect Wisconsin Taxpayers

It usually happens around filing time. Your phone rings and the person on the other end claims they're representing the Internal Revenue Service. They then may claim that you are being audited - and that you owe money. Or you may be told that you've won a prize and owe a gift to IRS. You may be told to send money through Western Union - or you may be told that someone will come to your house to pick the money up. Usually, they don't - but sometimes they do. In every case, it's fraud - and you could be the victim.

In the past few months, half a dozen cases like this have been reported in Wisconsin. Often times, elderly men and women are the targets. Sometimes they are recent widows or widowers and are told that their spouse had owed money to the IRS. They are then offered the chance to "settle" the bill for cash.

L. M. Phillips, Director of the Milwaukee District of the Internal Revenue Service, wants Wisconsin taxpayers to protect themselves against such schemes. Remember these important points: If you do owe the IRS money, the IRS will send you a formal bill. If an official IRS revenue agent comes to your home, he or she will have proper photo identification. Don't ever send funds Western Union. If you are contacted by someone claiming to be from IRS and have any reason to suspect that person may be a fraud - don't hesitate. Contact IRS Internal Security at (414) 291-3040.

Taxpayers 1988 Guide Is Now Available

TAXES 1988, the annual tax guide and information book published by the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance (WTA), Madison, is now available for purchase.

The WTA, a privately supported government-research and citizen-education organization, said that the 1988 edition incorporates the mass tax law changes affecting the filing of the federal individual income tax returns for 1987 - the most significant changes in more than 30 years. Among them are lower tax rates, higher standard deductions and personal exemptions, the phaseout of itemized deductions for non-mortgage interest expenses, changes in the IRA program and the taxation of capital gains.

The guide also covers the changes in the Wisconsin individual income tax law, including lower rates, and provides step-by-step information in completing the Wisconsin return for 1987.

The 90-page pocket-size book contains information on Wisconsin's homestead credit and the farmland preservation programs.

The guide, in addition to serving as an aid in filling out income tax returns and the homestead credit form, is a useful year-round reference on federal, state and local taxes - property, sales and excise, social security and unemployment compensation. This includes information on the Wisconsin inheritance and gift taxes, which are being phased out. The book also contains some state-by-state comparisons of state and local taxes.

TAXES 1988 may be purchased from the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance, 335 West Wilson Street, Madison 53703-3694. The single-copy price is $1.30, which includes the state sales tax. A sample copy can be viewed at the Statesman office.

Money Talks for Farm Families

Today's Agriculture
by Jack Trzebiatowski

Farm families are still experiencing financial stress. The economic conditions facing agriculture have not improved to relieve the financial difficulties that many farm families are facing.

The Cooperative Extension Service has developed a program to help farm families titled "Money Talks For Farm Families." The program provides financial counseling service to families experiencing financial stress.

Volunteer counselors have been trained to work with farm families. This service is free and confidential and available from the Cooperative Extension Office.

The Money Talks For Farm Families program provides assistance to help farm families to become more competent family resource managers. The program enables farm families to set up a spending plan, establish and negotiate debt repayment with creditors if necessary, organize financial records and examine insurance coverage. The service primarily assists farm families in reaching family financial goals. Farm families are required to be sincerely interested in solving their financial problems.

Families that wish to get county Extension Office to set up an appointment for a visit. Be prepared to answer a few questions about your financial situation so that a volunteer can be matched to assist you. Then you and the volunteer will determine when and how often you should meet.

The program is entirely confidential and financial information and other personal data will be kept between the farm family and the volunteer.

Don't wait too long, there is no need to continue living with the fears and anxieties created by money problems. Assistance can be provided to reduce the stress and develop a more secure financial future.

VOTING BY ABSENTEE BALLOT

Any qualified elector, unable to get to the polling place on election day for any reason, may ask to vote by absentee ballot. A qualified elector is a person who is a U.S. citizen, who will be 18 years of age or older on election day, who has resided in the ward or municipality where the person wishes to vote at least 10 days before the election. If the voter resides in a municipality which requires voter registration, then registration is also required for the voter to receive an absentee ballot.

To obtain an absentee ballot, the voter should contact the clerk of the city, village or town in which the voter resides. A written request must be made by the voter for the absentee ballot. If the voter contacts the clerk by telephone the clerk will send the application form to the voter. If the voter requests an absentee ballot by mail, a written request, signed by the voter which indicates that the voter resides within the municipality, will be honored. Written requests may be made beginning six months before the primary election. The deadline for receipt of the written request by mail is 5:00 p.m. on the Friday before the election. If the voter goes to the clerk's office to complete a written request, the request must be made no later than 5:00 p.m. on the day before the election.

If the absentee voter resides in a nursing home, the absentee ballot will be delivered to the nursing home by two special voting deputies appointed by the municipal clerk. The special voting deputies will present the absentee ballot to the voter and provide assistance in marking or punching the ballot if necessary. At the request of an absentee voter a relative may provide the assistance. After voting at the nursing home is completed, the special voting deputies will return the absentee ballot to the municipal clerk.

With two exceptions, the voter who wants to cast an absentee ballot, must make a separate written request before each election. If a voter is indefinitely confined to his or her home or a care facility because of illness, age, or disability, or if the voter is in the military, the voter need not make a request before each election. There is a special statement on the application form which is provided by the municipal clerk which can be completed asking that an absentee ballot be automatically mailed to the indefinitely confined or military voter before each election. If the voter fails to vote and return the ballot sent to the voter, a separate written request for the next election must be made before the voter can obtain a ballot.

A voter who is hospitalized on election day may obtain an absentee ballot by designating another person as the agent for the voter. There is a statement on the application form for this purpose. An application by agent for a hospitalized elector may be made in person at the municipal clerk's office no earlier than 7 days before the election and no later than 5:00 p.m. on the day of the election.

If a voter requests an absentee ballot stating the reason that he or she is a sequestered juror, the application can be made no earlier than 7 days before the election and no later than 5:00 p.m. on the day of the election. If the application from a sequestered juror is received by the municipal clerk after 5:00 p.m. on the Friday immediately preceding the election, the municipal clerk or the clerk's agent will deliver the absentee ballot to the court and the judge will call a recess to allow the voter to cast his or her vote.

The municipal clerk will send the absentee ballot to the voter once the request is received and the ballots are prepared. Absentee ballots are available twenty-one (21) days before the spring primary and spring election. The municipal clerk keeps a public record of all individuals requesting an absentee ballot indicating when the ballot is requested, sent, and returned to the municipal clerk.

An absentee ballot can be voted at home any time after it is received in the mail. An absentee ballot can also be voted in the clerk's office if the voter appears in person and fills out the written request. The voter should make sure that the certificate-affidavit is properly completed and witnessed by two persons or a person authorized to administer oaths. The voter and the witnesses must sign the certificate on the back of the ballot. If the absentee elector receives assistance in marking the ballot, the person providing the assistance must sign the statement on the back of the ballot which provides that the person giving assistance marked the ballot as directed by the absentee voter. The municipal clerk will make sure that the certificate-affidavit is properly completed by the voter when the absentee ballot is voted in the clerk's office.

The completed absentee ballot must be in the possession of the issuing municipal clerk in time for the clerk to deliver the ballot before the polls close on election day. Voted absentee ballots may be delivered in person to the municipal clerk. Any absentee ballot received after the polls close or any absentee ballot where the certificate-affidavit is not properly completed can not be counted.

To obtain an absentee ballot send a written request to:

Hartford Plant Lands $8.5 Million Contract to Build Outboard Engines

U.S. Marine Power Corp. has landed an $8.5 million contract to build outboard engines for one of the nation's largest department store and catalog retailers.

The contract, which represents 100% of the retailer's 1988 needs for water-cooled, gasoline-powered outboards, has enabled U.S. Marine Power to develop its smaller engine line of 9.9-hp and 15-hp engines to include 5-hp and 7.5-hp engines, according to Ken Kaul, marketing manager.

"We can become more aggressive in the market for smaller outboard engines," said Kaul. "Previously, our strength has been in building engines from 35 hp to 125 hp.

Now we can enhance our line of smaller engines as well."

U.S. Marine Power, which manufactures Force outboards, began supplying engines to the retailer in May 1986.

"The company has been so pleased with the quality, performance and price of our engines, that we received an exclusive contract for these engine sizes for 1988," Kaul said.

"We've been very innovative in our approach to engineering, manufacturing and marketing marine engines," Kaul added. "The marine industry has recognized our ability to build economical, high-quality engines, and it has responded enthusiastically."

The four-year-old company, based in Hartford, is the fastest growing outboard and inboard manufacturer in the marine industry. Sales have increased 45% in the last year alone.

Production of the outboard engines has already begun at the company's manufacturing facilities in Hartford.

U.S. Marine Power manufactures outboard and inboard marine engines at its plants in Gallipolis, Ohio, and in Hartford. It employs a total of 604, of whom 580 work at Hartford.

The company is one of five wholly owned subsidiaries of U.S. Marine Corp. of Arlington, Wash., itself a division of the Brunswick Corp., Skokie, Ill.

Braatz Drive, Kewaskum, Wisconsin, 53040. All nominations will be held in the strictest confidence, but the nominating group or person may have to be contacted, so please sign your letter.

Past recipients of this award include Richard Thiemer, Tom McElhatton and Gayle Van Ess. 2-19-88

Clean Bird Feeders Prevent Disease Among Wild Birds

Keep your bird feeders clean to prevent the spread of Salmonellosis among wild birds in Wisconsin, advises Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources' wildlife disease specialist Susan Marcquenski.

Salmonellosis, a common intestinal disease among wild birds, is caused by Salmonella bacteria. The bacteria are shed through fecal droppings. Bird feeders can enhance the spread of the disease when droppings mix with bird feed.

"If you're feeding wild birds, you need to maintain a clean feeder," said Marcquenski. "Don't let your good intentions of helping the birds turn into a bad situation."

"It's pretty easy to keep bird feeders clean," added Marcquenski. "Once a week remove accumulated seed coat debris and droppings from the feeder and the ground below the feeder. Shovel fresh snow over the area below the feeder and wipe out the feeder's tray."

Finch family members, such as sparrows, finches, grosbeaks and cardinals, are especially vulnerable to Salmonellosis. According to Marcquenski, their tendency to flock at winter feeding sites increases the chance for disease spread.

"The finch family birds are common feeder birds," noted Marcquenski. "However, all birds are at risk of contracting Salmonellosis. Birds which die of the disease may appear healthy and have a complete crop of food. Salmonella induces a general weakening that leads to the bird's sudden death."

Funnel-type feeders are the safest for the birds and easy to keep clean. Flat or platform-style feeders can promote the spread of disease, allowing the birds to walk among the feed or deposit droppings on the feed. Now is also a good time to clean bird houses and get them ready for spring. Marcquenski suggests disinfecting houses, especially those for wrens and bluebirds, by washing them inside and out with a bleach and water solution. Place the houses in direct sunlight to dry - that should kill any bacteria that might remain.

Salmonella bacteria can also infect people, resulting in a flu-like sickness. "Make sure to wash your hands thoroughly before and after handling bird feeders and houses," advises Marcquenski.

Ripon College Wins Midwest Conference Northern Division Title

On Feb. 17, the Ripon College men's basketball team won the Midwest Conference northern division championship, for the third year in a row, by soundly defeating the host Beloit Buccaneers 84-64. The win avenged an earlier 117-109 triple overtime loss to the Bucs at Ripon and propelled the Redmen, 9-3 in the conference and 17-5 overall, into the Midwest Conference championship game against southern division winner Monmouth College, which was played on Feb. 27.

Against Beloit, the Redmen broke from a 36-36 halftime deadlock and completely dominated the second half. Key factors in the Redmen's second half surge included the strong inside game of Tyrone Kleinhans of Kewaskum.

Team leaders for the Redmen included Kleinhans with 18 points and seven rebounds.

Kleinhans was named "Redmen of the Week."

Redmen Women's Basketball Team Season's End

With the end of a very frustrating season rapidly coming to a close, the Ripon College women's basketball team managed to sandwich a great conference win between two disappointing non-conference losses. During the past week the Redmen lost to Marian, a team they defeated earlier in the season, 54-48; beat Beloit, to assure themselves of at least a third place finish in the northern division, 68-34; and lost to UW-Eau Claire 56-40.

The win and two losses brings their season record to 10-10 and upped their conference record to 2-3.

Team leaders against UW-Eau Claire included Sandy Secor (Kewaskum), 13 points.

The eighteen students and four chaperones stayed in two condo's on Friday and Saturday night. The club left at 1:00 on Friday and returned at 10:30 Sunday night. On Friday the bus experienced true Northern Michigan weather by traveling into 8" of new snow. After several mishaps the bus arrived at the condo's around 10:00 p.m. Friday evening.

Jim Piowarczyk won the coveted "pen award" for the best fall. Jean Klahn won the other "pen award" for the most sitsmarks.

Ski conditions were very good. The weather was a bit on the cold side with temperatures dipping to -10. All in all the trips was very successful.

Indians Top Winless Warriors

With no time remaining on the clock, Joel Fleury sank two pressure free throws to give the Kewaskum boys' basketball team a thrilling 66-65 victory over the winless Warriors of Ozaukee last Tuesday night. The win for the Indians ended its sixteen game losing streak which began back on November 24.

Ozaukee came out with great intensity in the first quarter proving to the Indians that it's record (now 0-18) is somewhat deceiving. The Warrior's Curt Lahti sank four three pointers and scored 11 of Ozaukee's 19 first quarter points. The first quarter ended with Ozaukee leading 19-12.

Steve Johnson scored seven points during the second quarter, but due to weak defense by the Indians Ozaukee maintained its advantage and went into halftime with a 36-30 lead.

The third quarter belonged to the Indians as they outscored the Warriors 20-13 while taking a 50-49 lead. Kewaskum's defense showed some presence causing numerous Warrior turnovers many of which the Indians were able to capitalize from with easy baskets. Johnson scored eight third quarter points while sophomore forward Steve Gerhartz added four as Kewaskum took a slight lead.

Kewaskum and Ozaukee traded baskets throughout much of the final quarter. With a minute remaining, senior guard Rob Baitinger hit a 16 foot jumper to give the Indians a 64-62 lead. Ozaukee's Curt Lahti, who sank five previous three pointers, added one more to his total with 19 seconds left, and Ozaukee led 65-64. The Indians came down the court and set up for a final shot. Kewaskum missed a shot with eight seconds left, but Steve Johnson was there to grab the rebounds and put it up; however, his shot also missed. Joel Fleury seized Johnson's miss and was fouled when time ran out. As Fleury stepped up to the line in the bonus situation, Ozaukee called timeout hoping to put more pressure on Fleury and ruin his concentration. Fleury, Kewaskum's second leading free throw shooter, sank the first free throw to tie the game up to 54 and then hit his bonus throw to give the Indians their third victory of the season.

Although Fleury was the hero of the game scoring 14 points and grabbing nine rebounds, much credit must go to senior forward Steve Johnson and sophomore forward Steve Gerhartz. Johnson scored 17 and pulled down seven boards while Gerhartz scored a game high 11.

Indians Win Final Game

The Kewaskum boys' basketball team ended its regular season with a victory over Sheboygan Falls last Friday night, 79-62. The victory is Kewaskum's first conference win in over two years.

Unlike any of Kewaskum's previous games, the Indians were in total control throughout the entire contest. The Indians played "very consistent" according to coach Dale Schatz. "We never had a bad quarter both offensively and defensively." Schatz stayed with his starters as well as junior guard Mike Struebing and sophomore forward Steve Gerhartz until the final two minutes.

Senior center Joel Fleury led all scorers with 24 points while grabbing nine rebounds. Gerhartz and senior forward Ted Anderson each scored 13 as senior guard Rob Baitinger chipped in 12. Baitinger and senior guard Gregg Dean combined for some excellent passing, and Struebing played well defensively as usual. On Tuesday, March 2, the Indians were defeated by Horicon in their sectional opener, 69-57.

Three KHS Players Among Top 20 Scorers

Kewaskum's last place team had three players in the top 20 scorers in the conference, namely: Joel Fleury, 13th, — 145; Rob Baitinger, 16th — 114; Ted Anderson, 19th — 112.

Kewaskum Lakes Team Loses to Oconomowoc

The Oconomowoc Lakers handed the Kewaskum Lakes team a 173-128 drubbing here Sunday night to tighten their grip on second place. Kewaskum is entrenched in fifth place at 3-9.

Oconomowoc outscored Kewaskum by 11 in each of the first three quarters and by 12 in the fourth. They led 39-28 at the quarter, 62-60 at the half and 132-99 after three quarters.

Local Residents Ski In Birkebeiner Race

On Saturday, February 20th, with temperatures near 0 degrees at 9:00 a.m., some 5,300 skiers in colorful skin tight lycra ski suits jumped and jittered in an effort to stay warm for the start of the 16th American Birkebeiner, the largest international cross country ski race in America.

In 2 hrs: 20 min: 55 seconds, Orjan Blourquist of Umea, Sweden, crossed the finish line 34 miles away to take first place. He did come in first but what about the other 5,000 skiers, the citizen racers and the recreational skiers who challenged themselves to cross the finish line and do their personal best. This is the magnet that draws thousands of people to the small northern town of Hayward each year and this is called "Birkie Fever." Some of your own neighbors have caught this fever.
