Emergency Landing West of Kewaskum

FAA Safety Inspector Ken Tenpenny, center, stopped to catch his breath as he and two other men worked to remove a single engine plane which made a forced landing in a rainsoaked hay field on the farm of Jerome Mayer, about four miles west of Kewaskum on Highway 28.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Bad weather and apparent engine problems forced a Chicago man to look for a soft place to bring down his small single engine plane this week.

According to Kenneth Tenpenny, a FAA Aviation Safety Inspector from Milwaukee, Floyd R. Korten Hof, 55, of 2841 Lincoln Drive, Chicago, was returning to Chicago from Rhinelander Monday afternoon when he ran into problems over the Kewaskum area about 3:00 p.m. Korten Hof reported he had encountered bad weather and was experiencing engine problems.

The pilot started heading for the West Bend Airport but changed his mind and elected to head back to Fond du Lac, apparently thinking it was closer. Before Korten Hof could reach either airport his engine reportedly failed and he was forced to bring the plane down in a hay field on a farm belonging to Jerome G. Mayer, 5761 Highway 28W, approximately four miles west of Kewaskum.

Tenpenny, who was at the scene of the unscheduled landing Tuesday morning, said he would be continuing his investigation of the incident. He said he would try to start the plane's engine and determine what the problem was and what if any repairs would be required so the plane could be flown back to Chicago.

Tenpenny said he had been informed the pilot had returned to Chicago. According to the plane's registration, it belongs to another individual and had been rented by Korten Hof.

Tenpenny said local law enforcement officials would probably be requested to provide traffic control and clearance within the next day or so to allow the plane to make a safe takeoff from the field.

The plane had to be towed out of a low marshy spot where it had become lodged on touchdown. The pilot suffered no injuries and there was only slight damage to the plane.

Trapp Suit Dismissed

By GERRY MUELLER

A lawsuit filed last October by Charles Trapp, husband of school board member Clara Trapp, against School District Administrator Penny Kleinhans was dismissed Monday by Washington County Circuit Court Judge Richard T. Becker.

The suit was dismissed with prejudice because the sworn statements of three key witnesses collaborated Kleinhans' original statements made several months ago. In the lawsuit Trapp had sought $110,000 in damages for alleged defamation of his character by Kleinhans.

The dismissal with prejudice prevents the plaintiff from refiling the suit at a later date.

Trapp's decision to drop the suit came after Kleinhans' attorney J. Patrick Condon informed Trapp's lawyer Arik Guenther that, if the suit were not dropped by the end of April, the judge would be asked to consider the lawsuit frivolous. If the suit had continued and the judge declared it frivolous, Trapp could have been held liable for all the costs related to the lawsuit.

Kleinhans said Trapp's decision to drop the suit had nothing to do with her recent decision to accept a position with the Menomonie School District.

In a prepared statement Kleinhans said, "Frankly, this is one lawsuit that, due to lack of merit, should never have been filed."

"There are no winners in these types of lawsuits. The losers in this lawsuit are the children of the Kewaskum School District. When all is said and done, it has cost the district approximately $5,000 in taxpayer's money to defend the case and additional costs could arise in increased insurance premiums. These thousands of dollars that could have been used for educational purposes."

In her statement Kleinhans stated Trapp's case fell apart when one of the principal witnesses collaborated her accounts of incidents referred to in Trapp's lawsuit. "Trapp's own attorney indicated he would advise him to drop the suit" stated Kleinhans.

In a conference call between the attorneys and judge on April 29th, Trapp's lawyer announced that his clients would move to have the lawsuit dismissed.

School Board OK's Tennis Court Repairs

Horner to Head Up Search for New District Administrator

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

After more than a hour's discussion of bids, what was recommended to be done and what should be done, the Kewaskum School Board finally voted to go ahead with water diversion work and asphalt repairs for the high school's south tennis court.

On a 4-3 vote, the board approved contracts for $3,990 to Ram Construction to do the water diversion work along the south court and to Fahrner Asphalt Sales for $4,373, to do the court's repairs and color coating.

The only thing the seven-member board could agree on was that water runoff from rains and the piling of snow along the west side of the court was the culprit causing the damage. How it should be done, who should do it and just how much work was required to rectify the problem was another issue. Board members Don Nowak and Neal Weare questioned which proposal would do the job properly and most economically.

Board member Perry Ankerson asked Buildings Superintendent Fred Boehlke if the bids he had brought in were his recommendation. Boehlke said, "This is what I was asked to do by the Finance - Transportation - Buildings and Grounds Committee." "My idea would be to just run a swale along the south side of the court to allow

Teachers Receive 7.01% Hike First Year, 6.55% Second Year

Board Approves Two-Year Contracts For Teachers, Administrators Monday

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum School Board and Kewaskum Education Association have finally come to terms on teacher wage agreements. At Monday night's meeting the school board approved a two-year master agreement that had been ratified by the teachers union last week.

The new contract calls for a 7.01% or $1,800 across the board salary increase for teachers during the 1987-88 school year. Plus benefits, that brings the increase to 7.94%, or a total average increase per teacher of $2,690.

The second year of the contract, covering 1988-89, calls for a 6.55% salary increase which averages out to an increase of $1,800 across the salary scale (that means in the second year, some teachers will receive less than $1,800 and some more than $1,800). Including fringe benefits, the total package increase for 1988-89 will be 7.58%, representing an average increase per teacher of $2,766.

The new contract raises the beginning base salary from the 1986-87 contract figure of $16,575, to $18,375 for 1987-88. In the first year of the contract

Shop-At-Home

Do you bring home everything you've paid for when you shop out of town? It's probably not as obvious as getting only nine eggs for the price of a dozen, but you don't get full value for the dollars spent.

Wherever you buy, part of the money goes to support the community in which you spend. Your money goes to support schools, churches, civic projects and to pay people who work in that community.

When you buy anywhere else, your home community is a little poorer because you carried off part of its resources.

Doug La Follette Brings Campaign To Kewaskum

"Working with the people of Wisconsin over the past years, I've shaken more hands than anyone except Bill Proxmire," Doug La Follette said as he brought his campaign for the U.S. Senate to Kewaskum.

Currently serving his third term as Wisconsin's Secretary of State, La Follette told area residents: "Most politicians promise something to every special interest group. As a candidate for the U.S. Senate, I make only two promises to the people of Wisconsin," he said.

"First, I won't just sit in Washington. I'll get back home to Wisconsin on a regular basis to talk with you and listen to you, the people I work for. I have been getting out of Madison and visiting with folks from Kenosha to Superior, and from Coon Valley to Green Bay all the years I've served you as Secretary of State," La Follette reminded people of the Kewaskum area. "I promised you I would, and I've kept the faith," he said.

"My second promise is to remain truly independent of big money and special interests; and I will continue to fight for the people of Wisconsin," he said.

"My only special interests are the taxpayers of Wisconsin and our children's future," La Follette stressed.

"I am committed to giving the people of Wisconsin straight talk and common sense solutions that give all Americans a fair shake. Only with this independent leadership can we balance the budget, save Wisconsin's small businesses and family farms, and make the tough choices needed to improve education, stop the curse of drugs on our youth and insure that our environment is protected from pollution," La Follette concluded.

WAYNE CRUSADERS 4-H

The Wayne Crusaders have been very busy the first quarter of this year. The club sold candy bars to raise money for the treasury. The club also has an on-going paper and aluminum drive every Saturday at the Town of Wayne town hall, during regular dumping hours.

The club donated a VCR to the Allenton Senior Home, with a membership to a video club. The club also made table favors for the residents of the home, and are planning more activities of this type.

Several speakers have helped make the monthly meetings interesting and informative. Anna Burman, the foreign exchange student from Sweden gave a slide presentation about her home. Anne Anderson spoke on nutrition. Philip Filber and Tim Herman gave a presentation about pork production.

Members are preparing for the upcoming county fair by attending project meetings and working on exhibits.

The club met at the Wayne Elementary School gym for a volleyball match for the April meeting. 40 members joined in the fun.

Future plans for the club include helping at the Dairy Promotion day at the Robert Ihlenfeld farm on June 11; an ice cream cone give-away for dairy month; and a demonstration workshop at the May meeting, which will teach members how to give informative demonstrations.

The Kohlsville fire department tried to burn off the club's prairie on April 16th, but the prairie was already too green to burn. Club members will be weeding the prairie by hand this summer, to give the native prairie plants a chance to grow stronger. The prairie is now in its third year.

Boehlke was asked if the district could construct the swale itself. He indicated he would rather have a professional come in who would meter the area to make sure the drainage pitch was correct and construct some type of permanent barrier which would divert the water toward the swale away from the court.

In discussing the court repair itself, Boehlke noted that none of the contractors who had bid on the repair work would guarantee their work. He said most of the contractors indicated that cracking would probably occur again after a period of time and they could not predict how long the repairs would last.

Board member Clara Trapp noted that some of the bids covered work around the north court. Trapp said since there were no problems in that area she did not see a need to do any extra diversion work there. The other board members agreed. It was then decided to proceed with work only in the area of the south court.

In other action the board approved the bid of Iron Fireman, Inc. to repair a heat exchanger in the high school tech ed area furnace. Boehlke had planned on presenting the low bid of $12,500 from Invytr Corporation, as recommended by the Finance Committee, however after checking back with the firm, he was informed the company planned to make repairs by cutting a hole in the building's roof to remove the exchanger. That would have added at least another $3,000 to the cost of the job.

Boehlke said he did not like the idea of cutting a hole in a roof. Once you start tampering with a roof you end up with more problems, he noted.

Boehlke stated Iron Fireman's bid of $12,850 included going into the furnace and cutting up the exchanger, if necessary, to remove it. They would also work with the furnace manufacturer to build a new exchanger which would fit through the existing opening.

The board also approved the bid of $6,062 from Auto Equipment, Inc., to cut open, clean out, drain and fill with a gravel-type material, two fuel tanks which are being abandoned by the district. Boehlke recommended the work be done before July 1st. He indicated after that date, regulation changes will require the drilling of ground test holes around the tanks to check for pollution. That additional work would probably double the cost of the tank abandonment.

In other business the board discussed procedures for the posting of the district administrator position. Weare asked fellow board members whether the plan was to go outside of the district or look for someone in-house. Board member Ruth Schmitt said she would like to advertise outside the district. She also felt that if the district did not receive more than twenty or so applicants, the board could handle the interviewing and elimination process without hiring a consultant.

Weare said the search for a new administrator should begin immediately. "I, for one, do not want to sit for the months of July and August without a superintendent." He also reminded the board that the annual meeting was not too far off.

Schmitt said, if necessary, the district could hire an interim superintendent. Weare said that could cost the district at least $300 a day. That is what the board had been told the last time the district had to find a new superintendent. Schmitt felt that figure was high. As a point of interest, Farmington Elementary School Principal Tom Larsen told the board West Bend had recently paid $300 a day for an interim principal.

Ankerson said he was curious as to who would head up the search. After further discussion he moved that the position be immediately posted internally and that board president Ralph Horner head the search to include the State of Wisconsin, if necessary.

Horner then asked Ankerson what he expected Horner to do and what he felt it entailed. "That means you take a leadership role and head up the search," said Ankerson, "you will do the sifting and narrowing down of candidates."

Ankerson's motion passed 6-1, with Horner abstaining from the vote. "We're off to an enthusiastic beginning," stated Ankerson after the vote.

In the election of board officers for the coming year, Horner and Ankerson were nominated for president. On a secret written ballot, Horner was elected by a 4-3 vote. Ron Beimborn and Neal Weare were nominated for vice president, Beimborn won 4-3. For clerk, Schmitt and Trapp were nominated, Schmitt won 5-2, and for treasurer, Don Nowak and Trapp were nominated, Trapp won 4-3.

The board also approved the request of Business Manager Cherna Gorder to purchase 17 new computers at a cost of $20,800 and two new copiers at a cost of $6,600.

Gorder indicated the purchases during the current budget year would benefit the district. Some of the purchases had been planned for next year. "If cost controls go through, we will be limited to an increase of only 4.4% over this year," stated Gorder. Increasing this year's expenditures would, in effect, increase the dollar amount covered under that 4.4% limit for next year.

The board also accepted several resignations for middle school and high school coaching positions including that of Joe Harlow as assistant high school football coach. In his letter of resignation, Harlow cited continuing back problems as his reason for leaving coaching.

Under non action items, Ankerson asked the board if anyone was aware of the status of the Trapp lawsuit. Trapp indicated it was being dropped because it was endangering her husband's health to the point of almost killing him.

Ankerson asked Gorder if there had been any official word. She said she had heard the judge had signed papers to dismiss the suit. Ankerson asked if it had been done because the suit had been found frivolous. Gorder said she did not know the specifics. Ankerson then asked Gorder to check into the lawsuit's status and find out the reason for the dismissal.

High School principal LeRoy Kopecky also informed the board that graduation has been scheduled for June 3rd and he invited the board to attend the ceremony and accompany the graduates in the processional. Horner and Nowak agreed to do the reading for awarding of diplomas. Both members have a student graduating this year.

Tripoli Shrine Parade at Port Washington May 14

Downtown Port Washington will come alive at 3:30 p.m. on Saturday, May 14, when the Tripoli Shrine of Milwaukee stages a gala parade, beginning at Port Washington High School on Webster Street and proceeding along a well marked route.

The event is being held in conjunction with a closed program at the school that will feature the initiation of new members into the Shrine, a national Masonic organization. Overseeing this part of the day's activities will be Potentate Carl R. Garry, who is serving as the organization's chief executive officer.

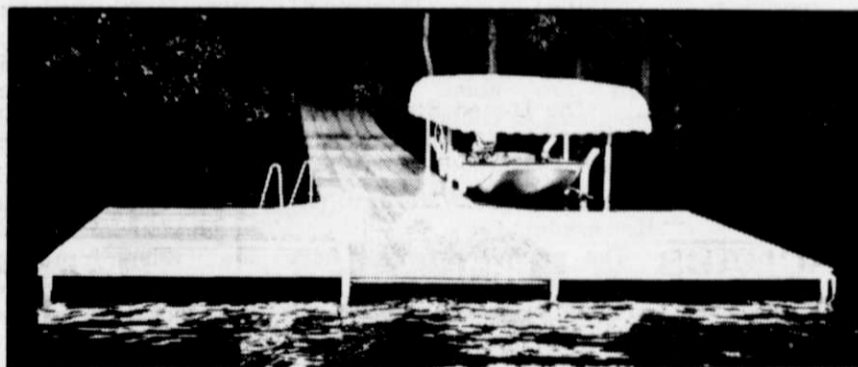

In charge of making arrangements for the overall program is Robert B. Albrecht, President of the Washington - Ozaukee County Shrine Club, a social arm of Tripoli Shrine for members living in this area. He resides in Mequon.

The colorful parade, always a crowd-pleaser, will boast a variety of Tripoli units that have performed all across the country. These range from clowns, drum and bugle corps, and marching bands to Scottish pipers, antique autos and a horse patrol. A new attraction will be the Long Riders, a bicycle manned by 36 Shriners. The parade will be headed by a Color Guard and Tripoli's staff of officers.

Each year Tripoli sponsors major events designed to raise money for the operation of Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children and Burn Centers which provide inpatient and outpatient care without charge. Two of these are the Wisconsin High School All-Star Football Game at Oshkosh and the Midwest Shrine Game in Milwaukee. The latter highlights the Green Bay Packers and another team in the National Football League.

Veterans Highways to Be Dedicated at 6 Sites May 21

Wisconsin veterans and friends are encouraged to set aside Saturday, May 21, to attend the dedication of four Wisconsin highways to honor veterans.

Simultaneous ceremonies are set for 11 a.m. at locations near Milwaukee, Madison, La Crosse, Chippewa Falls, Stevens Point and Green Bay.

The governor, secretaries of the state Departments of Transportation and Veterans Affairs, legislators, and veterans representatives are expected to participate in the ceremonies.

New signs will be unveiled naming and dedicating the following highways as living memorials to Wisconsin's veterans:

* Wisconsin Veterans Memorial Highway, I-94 from Milwaukee to Madison, I-90 and I-94 from Madison to near Tomah, and I-90 from there to La Crosse.

* Wisconsin Veterans Memorial Highway, WIS 29, beginning at Green Bay and proceeding west to the junction with I-94 in Dunn County. Both of these routes will honor Wisconsin veterans of all wars in which the United States has engaged.

* Korean War Veterans Memorial Highway, US 51 from the Wisconsin - Illinois border to Hurley.

* Vietnam War Veterans Memorial Highway, US 10, beginning at Manitowoc and proceeding west to the Wisconsin-Minnesota border.

Some 56 signs will be erected on the four routes. The red, white and blue 4-by-8 foot signs feature the American flag, the name of the highway, and an outline of the state showing the highway's route.

Legislation authorizing the remaining of the highways was passed last fall. It repealed a law created some 40 years ago which called for the creation of a Silent Cross Memorial Highway, which was to include US 51 north and south, and an east and west route from Milwaukee to Madison to the Mississippi River.

The original legislation envisioned complete reconstruction of the named highways, and was expected to be completed in the 1990s. Last year's action knocked out the reconstruction requirement and advanced the dedication of the highways by about 10 years.

State Conservation Group Is Spreading Its' Wings

Mayville, Wis — A grass-roots effort to bring back the wild pheasant is making progress in what once was the heart of ringneck range in Wisconsin.

"Wings Over Wisconsin," founded by 12 conservation-minded citizens in Waupun eight years ago, has launched a program to bring sportsmen, landowners, and state and federal agencies together in a plan to release wild pheasants in prime habitat in Fond du Lac County; then protect them from hunters and predators until a self-sustaining population is established.

The plan calls for buying wild-trapped birds from Iowa — 150 each year for three years — at an estimated cost of $100 per bird. Wisconsin's Department of Natural Resources (DNR), which is experimenting with Iowa birds elsewhere in the state, would act as intermediary between the club and the Iowa game department.

To set the stage for the project, the "Wings" group is working to restore habitat in a nine-square-mile area of the Town of Waupun. Lying just north of the City of Waupun, the region was once some of the best pheasant habitat in the state.

Arnie Mueller, Mayville, executive secretary of the "Wings" group, reported that a survey of 109 landowners in the pilot area brought responses, from 23 landowners who owned a total of 2,277 acres, 629 of which were not in crops. Most of them said they would welcome assistance or more information.

"That's a start," Mueller said. "We had hoped for more response but we're making progress."

"Wings Over Wisconsin" has, in fact, made great gains since organizing in 1980. There now are about 3,600 in members in chapters based in Waupun, Mayville, Beaver Dam, Columbus, Markesan, Eden, Portage, Waterford, and Kewaskum.

The group's activities have grown even faster. They have included large-scale releases of pheasant hens as well as plantings of trees, shrubs and switchgrass. Funds are also provided for conservation scholarships, sponsorship of students at environmental workshops, and support for hunter safety courses. A unique "Wings" program also provides free bird feeders and bird seed to nursing homes and senior citizen centers, and the "Wingettes" a ladies chapter, has helped complete the Marsh Haven Nature Center just east of Waupun. Each chapter also has local projects benefitting wildlife.

The focus now is on the pilot program near Waupun. Wings offers seed, trees, shrubs and hands-on help for landowners, while urging them to sign up for the federal Conservation Reserve Program. That plan provides annual payments for taking land from production. "Wings" offers added incentives, such as sharing costs of re-seeding and paying for plantings of food patches and other beneficial cover. Highly erodible land and strips along water courses are eligible.

So far, one landowner in the pilot area has entered 72 acres in the CRP program. Another has 44 acres in the federal Water Bank Reserve. Also helping to form a nucleus for the "Wings" project are 300 acres of wetland owned by the DNR and a 110-acre farm which is owned by the Waupun chapter.

Tom Nigus, wildlife manager at DNR's area headquarters at Horicon, has emphasized that "significant habitat changes" must take place before the "Wings" project can succeed.

"But the potential is there because that once was the heart of some of the best habitat in the state," he added.

"Re-establishing the habitat is what we have to look at first," agreed Gary Jackson, Marshall, president of "Wings over Wisconsin," in a recent interview.

An associate professor of the UW Environmental Resources Center in Madison, Jackson noted that other parts of the plan, such as predator management, are also important.

In addition to trapping of skunks, opossums and raccoons, the program might include removing trees which serve as hawk perches in the proximity of winter food and cover patches, Jackson said.

Annual fund-raising banquets conducted by each chapter have been the major source of revenue for "Wings

Over Wisconsin," but Mueller is hoping that other individuals and organizations will want to help with the costly pheasant restoration project.

"It could show the way and provide the seed stock to bring pheasants back to our state," he declared. "We don't want to hunt birds that we're planting. We should be hunting their offspring."

Members, alumni, families and guests again gathered at the Amerahn to mark another successful year for the Kewaskum Future Farmers of America chapter.

The meeting had its thoughtful moments, and its serious moments but it still had plenty of time for goodhearted fun and laughter.

The evening's guest speaker was Rich Heine, a FFA Section 10 officer. He told the audience that 70% of all people employed are associated with agriculture.

Heine's message to the members was to set their goals in life high and to never stop trying to reach them. He used himself as an example noting that when he was younger, he had a farm accident which resulted in his receiving a plastic kneecap to replace one that had been seriously damaged. Heine said the doctors told him the leg would always be stiff and he would never be able to bend that knee. "I wanted to be a farmer and that meant bending to milk cows" said Heine, "so I worked and exercised until I could finally bend that knee." "It may make noise and crack a little, but I can bend it. I set a goal for myself and I was determined to reach it." Heine now breeds, shows and sells Ayrshire cattle.

As part of its program the chapter also recognized two citizens for their contributions to the FFA. This year's 'Honorary Chapter Farmer' awards went to Dan Wangerin and William Butzlaff, Sr.

Other awards were, Star Greenhand - Tim Herman; Roman Muckerheide Award - Curtis Arndt; Star Chapter Farmer - Dave Steger; State Proficiency - Andy Degnitz and Bob Friedemann; State Farmer - Steve Redig, and American Farmer Award - Jon Etta.

FFA Advisor David Rizzardi gave special recognition to Etta who will also be competing on the national level this summer. It will be the first time a Kewaskum FFA member has ever reached the national level of competition.

Scholarships were also awarded to graduating seniors. Bob Friedemann received the Kewaskum Frozen Foods scholarship presented by co-owner David Nigh and the New Fane Kettle Riders Snowmobile Club/James Aupperle Memorial scholarship presented by New Fane club vice president Dennis Seideman. Dallas Wodsedalek received the Kewaskum Veterinary Clinic scholarship presented by Dr. Greg Ogi. David Schmidt was awarded the FFA Alumni scholarship presented by John Herriges, President of FFA Alumni. Andy Degnitz received the Waubeka Mill scholarship presented by Jacquie Voeks.

Bill O'Brien of Midwest Livestock presented Bill Butzlaff, Jr. with the annual Midwest Livestock Breeders award. John Lockwood of the Kewaskum Mill presented Keith Bartelt with the Purina Outstanding Senior award. Dave Hahn presented Dave Steger with the East Central/Select Sires award.

Dave Schmidt was named "Member of the Year." Local awards were also presented to chapter members.

Area Youth Featured in State 4-H Art Exhibit

"Bruce's Moose," a sketch on scratchboard by Donna Starr, and "Summer Sunrise," a watercolour by Weston Duenkel, have been selected as two of ten pieces of artwork from the S.E. District to be included in the State 4-H Art Exhibit. The State 4-H Art Exhibit features the creative work of 4-H'ers of all ages and all media from around Wisconsin.

Starr's and Duenkel's artwork will accompany the Washington County delegation to State 4-H Congress in Madison on June 6-9. There, the artwork will be displayed and evaluated by members of the 4-H Art Team under the direction of Susan Farmer, the State 4-H Visual Arts specialist. Scholarships from the 4-H Foundation, honorable mentions, and nominations for the National Francis Hook Scholarship Competition will be awarded by the Art Team to qualifying exhibits in the State 4-H Art Exhibit.

Donna Starr, 17, the daughter of James and Mary Jane Starr of West Bend, is a member of the Addison Achievers 4-H Club where she works under the direction of her visual arts leader, Mrs. Ellen Gilbert. Starr described the process of creating her scratchboard sketches. She uses different tools to remove the top, black coating of a specially prepared canvas, creating, in effect, a negative image of the subject. Starr's sketches are completed in about an hour's time from live-mounts of animals.

Weston Duenkel, 11, the son of Alan and Shirley Duenkel of West Bend, is a member of the Good Luck 4-H Club. "Summer Sunrise" is Duenkel's first experiment in watercolours, his usual medium is pencil sketches. Duenkel is a two-time winner of the Washington County Junior Fair-Fairbook cover contest and also the designer of the program cover for this year's 4-H Music & Drama Festival.

Criteria for the selection of artwork for the State 4-H Art Exhibit includes: originality, quality, completed within the last year, representative of different age groups and media, including clay, leather, and fibers. For more information about the 4-H Art Program, contact the Washington County UW-Extension Office.

Official Traffic Signs Now Required for All Disabled Parking Spaces

As of May 1, every parking space in Wisconsin reserved for disabled persons will have to display the official highway sign, according to the state Department of Transportation.

Harry Price, state traffic engineer, said the "grandfather" clause adopted in 1983 permitting merchants to continue to use non-conforming signs has expired. "From now on, the only official marker in the state is the highway sign with the international symbol of access — the wheel chair — stating that the space or spaces are reserved for vehicles with DIS or VET license plates or displaying the official disabled parking card issued by the state DOT," Price said.

Along with the statewide requirement for posting the official traffic sign is a new law signed by Governor Tommy Thompson making it clear that county and local law enforcement agencies are responsible for enforcing the disabled parking laws at all parking lots and spaces which are open to the public.

"We now have a 'clean' law clearly specifying the type of marking that is required and defining the enforcement responsibility," Price said.

WISCONSIN OUTDOORS AND CONSERVATION NEWS

New Tire Recovery Fee Went Into Effect May 1

May 1, new car buyers began helping Wisconsin tackle the problem of disposing of worn-out tires that have become health, safety and environmental hazards, according to Department of Natural Resources officials.

That's when a new state law assessing a $2 per-tire fee on all new, on-road vehicle registrations began. The new revenues will finance a waste tire cleanup and recovery program signed into law last November.

The $3 million dollars raised annually will be used to clean up the estimated 20 million waste tires in dumps and illegal stockpiles around the state. Grants to fund tire recycling projects will also come from the fee.

In October 1986 the magnitude of the problem was dramatized when five million tires caught fire near Somerset in St. Croix County, forcing an evacuation of area residents and posing a pollution risk to nearby surface and groundwater.

"We don't want to see a repeat of Somerset," said Department Secretary C.D. "Buzz" Besadny. "We want to tackle this problem and it's going to take determination, innovation and cash to get the job done."

The Legislature added the fee to new car, truck, motorcycle and RV registration after considering a number of other options, such as charging a fee when new tires were purchased. By including the fee with motor vehicle registration — an established method of fee collection — the need for additional forms and staff was eliminated. The fee will be deposited into the general fund and earmarked for the tire program.

Spare tires are included under the fee. The fee on a new car, then, would be $10. Tractors and other off-road vehicles are exempt.

This spring, the Department of Natural Resources will hire a full-time tire specialist to develop a long-range tire recovery plan and the rules to administer a cleanup program. Two new department staffers will also begin an inventory of all tire stockpiles and dumps in the state. Piles with over 1,000,000 tires and those deemed a fire or other health hazard will be first on the cleanup roster.

Grants for developing tire recycling operations will be awarded to municipalities, private businesses or nonprofit organizations and are expected to be available in the spring of 1989. Individuals and organizations interested in receiving more information on the grants may write John Reindl, State Recycling Coordinator, Department of Natural Resources, P.O. Box 7921, Madison, WI 53707.

Pearson Captures Four Medalist Honors Indian Golfers Take Two of Four

PEARSON MEDALIST AT WEST BEND INVITATIONAL

On Tuesday, May 3, Kewaskum golfers traveled to West Bend Country Club where West Bend East and West hosted the West Bend Invitational, a four man varsity format that consists of nine holes. Grafton won by firing a team total of 166 which was tied with Fond du Lac's 166, although Grafton pulled it out in a sudden death playoff, while the Kewaskum Indians tied for third place with Hartford, and the defending state champions Waukesha South at 171. The medalist honors went to Eric Pearson who fired an excellent one over par 38 on the tough front nine at West Bend Country Club. However, Eric had to win a sudden death playoff with Tom Wiestch from Menomonee Falls who also fired a 38. Eric and Tom played three extra holes before Eric finally won. Kewaskum also got scores of 44 from both Joel Fleury and Gregg Dean, and had a 45 from freshman D.J. Slaughenhoup. Coach Joe Harlow stated that this was the best finish in Kewaskum history at the West Bend Invitational, and that this was the first medalist we have had in the Invitational.

INDIANS WIN SECOND CONFERENCE MEET

On Wednesday, May 4, the Indians were on the road again this time defeating the Chilton Tigers 174 to 186 at Hickory Hills, a course which was not in the best of shape. Eric Pearson again managed to pull it together and fired a one over par 37 to capture medalist honors. The Indians had the highest team score of the year at 174. The other scores that counted for Kewaskum were Joel Fleury who shot a 43. Joel said later, "I had to count a triple bogey and two double bogeys on the first four holes, but I played the last five even par." Gregg Dean shot a 44 and Joel Miller fired a 50. Coach Joe Harlow was happy to come away with the win, but stated, "We have to start shooting some lower numbers to be competitive."

PEARSON STRIKES AGAIN

On Friday, May 6, the Kewaskum golfers traveled to Hawthorne Hills for the Port Washington/Brown Deer Invitational. While Grafton walked away with the first place trophy by firing an excellent five man total of 381, Kewaskum came as runner-up by firing a 405. The medalist honors again went to Eric Pearson who shot a respectable 35-35-72 one over par for eighteen holes. He had to enter a sudden death playoff with Dan Hefle of Grafton who also shot a 72. Eric parred the first hole in sudden death, while Dan Hefle had some problems and bogeyed the first hole. Therefore, for the third time this week, Eric received medalist honors. Next, behind Eric for Kewaskum, came a 42-37-79 from Gregg Dean followed by Joel Fleury with a 82, Joel Miller with a 86, and D.J. Slaughenhoup also with a 86.

Coach Joe Harlow said after the meet, "This is our best finish in history of this tournament and Eric is the first one to be a medalist in Kewaskum history in this Invitational."

KEWASKUM WINS BIG OVER NEW HOLSTEIN

On Monday, May 9, the Indians traveled to Quit-Quit-Oc to have their third conference win over the Huskies of New Holstein by winning 172 to 193. Medalist honors went to Eric Pearson who fired a 38 in the rain. Eric had one birdie, six pars, and two double bogeys, a good round under the raining conditions. Kewaskum also had a 42 from Gregg Dean, a 44 from Joel Fleury who again had a late start by starting five over after three holes, and a disappointing 48 from Joel Miller who had tree troubles all day. The Indians are now three and zero in conference. "The next meet will tell the story," said Coach Joe Harlow. The Indians meet the tough Plymouth Panthers on Wednesday, May 11.

The Kewaskum JV's lost by 204-209, although Chad Schmitt had a 47, low for the Kewaskum Indians.

WISCONSIN — You're Among Friends Is New Tourism Theme

"You're Among Friends" will be the new promotional theme to be used by the Wisconsin Department of Development's Division of Tourism Development. Richard Matty, Administrator of the Division, presented the Department of Development's proposal to the Governor's Tourism Advisory Council meeting in Madison.

The Tourism Council unanimously endorsed the theme and encouraged the tourism industry to adapt it for area and local promotions whenever possible.

Following Council approval Matty said, "We're extremely pleased with this new direction because it's not just a good sounding slogan that somebody thought up in the shower, but rather it's based on research in our target markets. It captures the essence of what people tell us they're looking for and what they find in Wisconsin."

"You're among friends is also a great theme for our economic development people to use, and for those trying to bring meetings, conventions, or customers to Wisconsin. For example, any Wisconsin community can pick up on the theme by saying, 'You're among friends in...Eau Claire...Pembine...Darlington and so on.'"

"Certainly the thrust of our economic development sales have focused on the great quality of life, the friendly helpful people, the accessible and accommodating government and university agencies and offices, the 'gemutlichkeit' that makes visitors feel right at home, and openness to new ideas and progressive innovation. 'Wisconsin—You're among friends' says it all!" Matty said.

Matty presented the theme as a special item preceding the planned agenda. Council Chair Tom Diehl of Wisconsin Dells said, "This is a red letter day for Wisconsin's Tourism Industry...this is a theme that represents to very best of Wisconsin and gives people a genuine positive reason to visit the state."

"We know that people travel to see new attractions and sites, experience new places, to fish and enjoy recreation, commune with nature, see the arts, discover history, and sometimes just to sit back and relax...but the key element they remember when they get home was the people. Were they made to feel welcome? Were they treated well? Did they feel like strangers or did they feel at home? It's clear from our focus groups that in Wisconsin people feel wanted. In Wisconsin, people feel like they're literally among friends. This theme will be a real winner!"

Matty said that the entire "Wisconsin—You're Among Friends" campaign will be unveiled at the Governor's Tourism Conference in Green Bay February 22-24.

Indians Compete in Washington County Boys' Tennis Tournament

The Washington County boys' tennis tournament was hosted Saturday by the Kewaskum Indians, and Hartford decisively won it. Tied for second were West Bend West and West Bend East, and Slinger came in fourth. Behind Slinger was Germantown, and Kewaskum took sixth.

Although Kewaskum played well, the only Indian that won was Craig Hubbell, who played number one singles. Hubbell got a bye in the first round, and he played Mike Sauer, the number one player from East, in the second. Hubbell defeated Sauer by a score of 5-3, 5-3. In the finals, Hubbell played last year's county champion, Mike Hickmann, and Hubbell won this match by a score of 7-6, 7-5.

Frank Vollmering, who played number two singles, lost a close match to Slinger in the first round. Vollmering won the first set five games to three. However, his Slinger opponent won the second set and the third-set tiebreaker. (Instead of playing a third set, a tiebreaker was played) In the consolation round, Vollmering lost 5-4, 5-3, to East's number two player.

Tim Kaufmann, playing number three singles, lost a match in the first round to Hartford's number three player, who was the eventual winner. Kaufmann dominated in the first set, winning by a score of five games to one. However, Kaufmann then lost the second set, zero games to five, and went on to lose the tiebreaker. In the consolation round, Tim won his first set to a German foreign exchange student that was playing number three for West Bend West. Again, however, Tim lost both the second set and third-set tiebreaker.

The number two doubles team of sophomore Bruce Waechter and freshman Curtis Ammel did very well. In the first match, they played West Bend West's team of Alderson-Schaub, and Kewaskum lost by a score of 4-5, 3-5. In the consolation round, this team played West Bend East's team of Larson and Jahn. The Indians won the first set five games to one but lost the second set in a tiebreaker and lost the third-set tiebreaker.

Also representing the Kewaskum Indians were George Walz and Ira Sison at number one doubles, Scott Kulas and Sonny Sison at number three doubles, and Adam Miklas at number four singles.

How Kewaskum players did on Saturday:

First singles - Craig Hubbell; first round - bye; second round - defeated Sauer (East) 5-3, 5-3; third round - defeated Hickmann (West) 7-6, 7-5.

Sanfilippos Honored for 25 Years of Judo

A special Judo Clinic was held recently in West Bend honoring Coaches Jon and Joe Sanfilippo. This year marked the Sanfilippo's 25 years of Judo.

The Clinic was given by U.S.J.A. President Phil Porter, 7th degree Black Belt. Sponsors of the event were the West Bend Judo Club, West Bend Park, Recreation and Forestry Dept. and the United States Judo Association.

Over 100 people attended the event with Judoka from Stevens Point, Oshkosh, Sheboygan, Fond du Lac, Milwaukee, Grafton, Madison and Edgerton.

Jon and Joe started Judo 25 years ago in Milwaukee. They used to take the train and later the bus to practice each week. In 1967 they and Ron Rodamer established the West Bend Judo Club. Many thousands of local residence have studied Judo under the instruction of the Sanfilippos. Many of their students have won State Judo Championships, with some winning national awards.

The most famous Judo student is international and olympic team champion Lynn Roethke.

Jon and Joe both have been State Judo champions and have competed in national competition: At 17 years old, Joe, who is the younger of the two, made his mark in state Judo history by winning three state championships. He captured 1st place in the Junior boys tournament, the high school state tournament and the mens' state championship. He was the youngest Wisconsin Judoka to be promoted to Black Belt.

In high school Jon won 1st place in the 1968 state championship. Jon currently holds a 4th degree black belt in Judo and 2nd degree black belt in Taekwondo (Korean Karate). He also is a U.S.J.A. national examiner and regional referee.

The Sanfilippos have built the largest Judo Club in Wisconsin as well as one of the top 20 in the U.S. In 1981 they were awarded a Bronze Star Club Charter by the U.S.J.A. for having over 100 members.

Both Jon and Joe commented that their highlight of their Judo training came when they were picked to be members of a special State Judo team coached by Mr. B.D. Suh, 6th degree black belt from Korea.

Jon stated that his excitement today, is to see his students learn important life lessons from their practice of Judo. All three of his daughters practice Judo. Kerri has been doing it for 6 years. She has won close to 30 trophies and is the current Wisconsin Junior Judoka of the year. Twins Jennifer and Jessica just started this year.

Joe said Judo is a part of him and he hopes to continue it for many years to come.

President Phil Porter awarded Jon Sanfilippo with his silver life memberships award from the U.S.J.A. Joe received an accommodation for his judo teaching and was promoted to 4th degree Black Belt.

Hydrographic Lake Charts Available

The fisherman who hopes to catch more than occasional straggling bass or walleye will begin by learning something about the lake.

Step one, is the lake map - a hydrographic chart - showing depth of the lake bottom. More than 2500 Wisconsin inland lakes have been surveyed to date. A new update alphabetical index for these lakes is available.

The listing can be obtained at no charge by sending a self-addressed, stamped (45c) No. 10 business envelope to: Lake Map Section, P.O. Box 5096, Madison, Wisconsin 53705.

Tennis Squad Defeats Chilton; Overcome by Two Rivers

On Thursday, May 6, the boys' tennis team decisively beat Chilton's team. Kewaskum, playing in an away meet, won all but one of its varsity matches. Singles players that won for the Indians were Frank Vollmering, Tim Kaufmann, Adam Miklas, and Craig Hubbell. The team of Bruce Waechter and Curtis Ammel, playing number two doubles, and the team of Scott Kulas and Sonny Sison, who played number three doubles, won their matches.

Friday's meet presented a different situation. The Washington High School Raiders (Two Rivers) invaded Kewaskum and walked away with all but one varsity match. Frank Vollmering, playing number two singles, and Tim Kaufmann, playing number three singles, put up a noble fight; both Frank and Tim each won a set, but their foes prevailed. The only Indian to win was Craig Hubbell, who played number one singles.

Here is how the Indians did on Thursday against Chilton: Kewaskum - 6 matches, Two Rivers - 1 match.

Number one singles: Craig Hubbell defeated Daryl Woelfel (6-1, 6-2).

Number two singles: Frank Vollmering defeated Bob Broeckel (6-2, 6-2).

Number three singles: Tim Kaufmann defeated Keith Schmitz (6-1, 6-0).

Number four singles: Adam Miklas defeated Kevin Schmitz (6-0, 6-0).

Number one doubles: George Walz - Ira Sison were defeated by Dan Stratmuller - Kevin Pethan (1-6, 2-6).

Number two doubles: Bruce Waechter - Curtis Ammel defeated Eric Wellstein - Dieter VanBesien (6-4, 6-4).

Number three doubles: Scott Kulas - Sonny Sison defeated Marty Bangaut - Dean Schmitz (6-4, 6-7, 6-4).

UWWC Varsity Athletes To Be Honored at Annual Banquet

Fifty-eight men and women varsity athletes are scheduled to be honored here May 19 at the annual athletic banquet of the University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County.

Two new awards will be featured this year honoring the outstanding male and female athletes at UWWC, one of 13 freshman-sophomore centers of the University.

Students will receive UW letters and team captains and Most Valuable Player awards will be announced for each of seven sports: golf, soccer, volleyball, men's and women's basketball and men's and women's tennis.

Capping the program will be the announcement of the scholastic honor roll for athletes and the naming of the scholar-athlete of the year.

Five students will be recognized for being selected for all-conference honors in the Wisconsin Collegiate Conference, the state association of two-year schools in which UWWC competes. Named to all-conference teams during the past year were:

—Jeanette Hollabaugh of 519 Elder Lane, Allenton, a sophomore forward in basketball, to the WCC first team and to the second team of the Wisconsin Junior College Athletic Association;

—Gary Loduha of 2182 Highway 60, Jackson, to the WCC first team in basketball;

—Brian Bence of N101 W16223 Santa Fe Drive, Germantown, to the WCC first team in soccer;

—Joni Dommissie of 1414 N. 10th Ave., West Bend, to the WCC first team in volleyball; Lisa Hahn of 806 N. 18th Ave., West Bend, WCC honorable mention in basketball.

Tom Brigham, associate professor of physical education and athletic director at UWWC, said the level of varsity participation has continued strong during the last two decades. Intramural sports have grown continually, he said, noting: "This year we seemed to have more teams in each program."

The banquet begins at 6:30 p.m. in the UWWC Union cafeteria and lounge.
