Harbecks Honored With Golden Membership In Wisconsin Newspaper Association

The Wisconsin Newspaper Association has made their selections for "Publisher of the Year," in both the daily and weekly divisions. The award is based on achievements of the newspapers in the Association's 1988 Better Newspaper Contest. The awards were presented at the Paper Valley Hotel in Appleton Friday.

Publisher Richard L. Royle of The Star in Sun Prairie received the award for weekly newspapers. Publisher and general manager Gary B. Gaier of the Chippewa Herald-Telegram in Chippewa Falls received the honor for daily newspapers.

The "Publisher of the Year" is chosen based on the number of points which the newspaper accumulates in the Wisconsin Newspaper Association Foundation's Better Newspaper Contest categories. The Star received three first places, four second places, and one honorable mention award. The Chippewa Herald-Telegram received seven first places, one second place, and seven third place awards.

The Association also honored eight publishers and spouses with Golden Membership in the organization. They are: Marcie and Bill Harbeck, Kewaskum Statesman; Joseph Soulak, South Milwaukee Voice Journal; Jay Walch, Wisconsin Dells Events; Frank Eames, Elkhorn Independent; Charles Alexander, Eau Claire Country Today; Ken Blanchard, La Crosse Tribune; Frank Gursky, Inter-County Leader in Frederic.

Three newspapers were also inducted into the "Century Club," having reached the 100-year mark of continuous publication. They are: The Ashland Daily Press, Reedsburg Times-Press, and The Mid-County Times in Pardeeville.

The Better Newspaper Contest drew 1807 entries from 136 daily and weekly newspapers in Wisconsin. Judging of the contest was done by editors, photographers, and publishers from the Wisconsin Newspaper Association.

The annual Fourth of July holiday fireworks display will again be held in Kewaskum River Hill Park on Sunday evening, July 3. The event is sponsored by the Village of Kewaskum under the supervision of the Kewaskum Fire Department.

The spectacular fireworks will be set off at dusk from the west side of the Milwaukee River. Spectators on the park hill across the river will have the best view of the brilliant fireworks, which will include ground displays of color and light and thunderous aerial bursts and sprays illuminating the sky.

The park will open at 5:00 p.m. and food and refreshment stands will be in operation at that time. Hamburgers, French fries, hot dogs, popcorn, beer and soda will be available. Live music will be provided starting at 7:00 p.m. to midnight by "The Mountaineers."

All residents of Kewaskum and surrounding area are invited to "light up" their holiday celebration by attending the traditional fireworks. Come early and enjoy the entire evening.

In the event of rain the fireworks will be held on Monday night, July 4.

A reminder that the annual Kewaskum Firemen - Legion picnic will be held on Saturday and Sunday, July 9 and 10, with an excellent parade at 12 noon on Sunday.

Interim School Superintendent Named

By GERRY MUELLER

Mr. Ray Kinziger, of Berlin, has agreed to accept the position of interim superintendent for the Kewaskum School District beginning July 5th. He will assume the temporary position until a permanent replacement is found to succeed Penny Kleinhans who is leaving the district this week to accept a position with the Menomonie School District.

Kinziger will be retiring effective June 30th from his position as superintendent of the Berlin School District.

At its June 13th meeting, the board voted to offer the position to an administrator within the district. The individual contacted, however, declined the job so the board went to its alternate plan to secure an individual from outside the district. The board was furnished with the names of retirees who might be interested in the position and Kinziger was contacted.

Kinziger has already met with Kleinhans, Business Manager Cherna Gorder and some of the board members.

According to the school board's June 13th action, Kinziger will work up to three days a week and be paid $200 per day. He will be available as long as needed.

The district reportedly now has 42 applicants for the position of School District Administrator.

Gas Spill Clean-Up

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Fire Department was called out to clean up a gasoline spill early Friday evening.

The incident occurred about 6:30 p.m., at the Shefond Mobil Mart, 1149 Fond du Lac Avenue, as the driver of a Wolf Transport truck was filling the station's underground tanks.

A tank was accidentally filled to overflowing causing the excess fuel to run off the station's property on to the parking lot of Thee Avenue Restaurant to the south.

Fire Department personnel used a fuel absorbing compound to soak up the gasoline which was then swept up and removed. The firefighters were at the scene approximately one hour. There were no injuries or fire.

Kewaskum Statesman,

The Village Board would like to remind the residents of the Village of One (1) topic covered in the Village's Municipal Code. The topic is covered in Chapter 10, Public Nuisance and Chapter 14, Public Health and Welfare. This public nuisance is in reference to a health hazard. The Village has undertaken

Church Women United To Hold Annual Tea And Auction July 8

Church Women United of Washington County will hold their annual Summer Tea and auction on July 8 at Our Saviour's United Church of Christ, W172 N12541 Division Road, Germantown.

The service will begin at 1:30 p.m. with refreshments served by the host church following the service. There will be a brief business meeting and announcements. We wish to remind all members that membership dues of 20 cents per person as well as the "Fellowship of the Least Coin" are accepted at all meetings and these are to be paid to Bertha Hodgson, treasurer. Also, the Nicaragua project is an ongoing project. You may bring any sewing items to these meetings and whatever is collected will be forwarded to Nicaragua.

The Summer Tea also is the time for the annual AUCTION! Do not bring used clothes for this auction. The best items for sale are bakery, plants, jams, jellies and white elephant items. This is always a fun time. The money made on this auction is used both to help defray costs to send members to conferences as well as in our outreach programs.

We would encourage members from all the churches of Washington County to share in this experience. For further information you may call Trudy Staskal at 338-2706.

several steps to alleviate any clearwater (storm water) problems (flooding) in the entire community, but people are not cooperating. We find that people cut their grass and either discharge or dump their clippings on to the street. This same problem exists with the raking and dumping of leaves onto the street.

This practice of grass and leave disposal onto the streets is of great concern. The grass and leaves eventually ends up covering (plugging up) catch basins causing water to back up during certain times of the year, which results in the flooding of streets and homes.

This action is in violation of the Municipal Code and does call for action by the Board such as the cost of abatement and possible forfeiture of up to $500.00 for someone convicted thereof.

The Village would ask that all residents keep their grass clippings and leaves off the streets and away from the catch basins in the curb area. Also to refrain from dumping their grass or leaves in ditched areas.

FOURTH OF JULY CLOSED NOTICE

Tiffany was announced as the fourth runner-up, and received a very large and beautiful trophy and a bouquet of red, white and blue flowers from the reigning Wisconsin Queen.

Tiffany and her very proud parents, Carolann and Timothy Ramthun, would like to thank the following people for sponsoring Tiffany in the pageant; Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Ramthun, Dr. and Mrs. Richard G. Memories...

The Statesman welcomes readers to submit photos for the "Memories" feature. Photos should show life in the olden days in this area. Deliver or mail to The Statesman, 250 Main St., P.O. Box 98, Kewaskum, WI 53040. Photos can be picked up again after publication.

Alma (Strege) Horwitz sent this postcard to her sister Elsie in Ephraim on May 26, 1908. The message read, "How do you like me now? Send my best regards to Ma."

Alma, along with her two brothers, Adolph and Walter, had left the farm of their parents, Augusta and Edward Strege, to make their fortunes in the big city of Milwaukee.

Elsie was to marry Charles Tuttle and move to Campbellsport where they would live, farm and raise a family. They had seven children, Edward, Opal, Gary, Elwyn, Francis, Augusta (Mae) Engelmann and Katherine Mielke. Elsie, along with some members of her family, including her mother and father, Augusta and Edward Strege, are buried in the Campbellsport Cemetery.

Alma and her husband Ben, went on to own and operate a large chain of hosiery stores throughout Milwaukee and southeastern Wisconsin for almost fifty years. They had three children, Hyman (deceased), Lillian and Pearl.

Hyman was the father of the Statesman's reporter Gerry Mueller of Kewaskum and her sister, Kathy Kiesner of Campbellsport.

JULY 4: INDEPENDENCE DAY

In order to better understand the significance of this day, the 212th anniversary of our nation's birth, we should all take a moment to reflect upon the past, as well as examine the present, in an effort to better understand the possibilities the future holds for Americans and the citizens of the world.

In 1776, the Founding Fathers of this nation gathered to complete their quest for independence and freedom. Moral oppression and physical servitude had held them captive for too long. Consequently, in Philadelphia on July 4, 1776, fifty-six men signed the Declaration of Independence and took the momentous initial step toward a free and independent nation. They unselfishly devoted their entire lives to the creation of the United States of America.

As the years progressed and our representative democracy took shape, people around the world came to understand the uniqueness of America's government. Written two centuries ago, the Constitution created the guidelines for the governing system which still exists today - a government by the people and for the people. Little did they know that they had created what would soon prove to be the mightiest nation on earth.

No other nation's government, whether democratic or socialist, has remained intact without significant change over the past 212 years besides the United States. This fact most clearly proves this nation of ours can and will continue to sustain its position as the world's moral leader.

Today, our nation continues to adamantly stress the importance of the basic human rights stated in Thomas Jefferson's preamble to the Declaration of Independence. These "unalienable rights" include "Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness." Yet these basic human rights and liberties which we often take for granted are denied to people in all corners of the globe.

On this historically symbolic day, the citizens of America ought to patriotically recommit themselves to this nation and to the continued promotion of these basic principles of universal human rights. Only then can we progress towards a still stronger nation as well as world peace and freedom continue.

Historical Society Visits Sheboygan

On Saturday, June 4th, sixteen members of the Kewaskum Historical Society went to visit the Sheboygan Historical Society located on Taylor Dr., just southeast of the Sheboygan

Memorial Mall. The members enjoyed a very well conducted tour of the Taylor House built in 1850 and the Weinhold Family Homestead and the barn which is the newest addition to the museum.

Our tour guides were Rita Frakes and Virginia Klunk and they did a very fine job. Just a reminder, the Kewaskum Historical Society located on Parkview Dr. in Kewaskum is open every Sunday 1 to 4 p.m. thru September 11.

— BUCKLE UP —
To Save Your Own Life!

Last week Alma and I drove to West Bend about 9:00 p.m. southbound traffic at the south end of the swamp and on US 45 we faced a long string of cars northbound. Suddenly the third auto in northbound lane turned into my lane to pass as I approached at 60 mi./hr. There was not even a split second before he passed me only because the leading northbound car veered off to his edge of the pavement enough to allow room for the miscreant to pass.

As it occurred I recall that I only had time to grip the steering wheel tightly - No use of foot brake - no lessening of the acceleration - Just Whoosh!

We were so happy to know we had Buckled Up! We may have survived the crash - who knows???

Please Buckle-up Always.

Beauty In Our Village

Awaken all you Villagers to see the magical beauty of our streets. Our village workers have been super busy painting white rectangles to hold autos and have the edge of every driveway painted a brilliant canary yellow - The NO NO sign to prevent wrongful parking.

I rode through many cities and villages with my son Bill on Monday all around Green Bay, Oconto Falls, Lena, etc. None of these villages and cities had any evidence of the Kewaskum street beauty except Oconto Falls, which was about fifty percent similar.

Take another look at our clean and well maintained streets - the best in Wisconsin!

Forty-six Kewaskum area students and adults traveled to Washington D.C. and other historic places in the eastern part of the United States on what is described as a learning vacation, not a vacation from learning.

Among the many places visited on the trip were Gettysburg, Pennsylvania which included a guided tour of the historic battle field, Washington D.C. including Arlington National Cemetery, The Lincoln and Jefferson Memorial, The Marine Memorial and the Vietnam Veterans Memorial, The White House, Fords Theatre, the Smithsonian Institution, The Capital Building, The Supreme Court, The Library of Congress, The Kennedy Performing Arts Center, a meeting with Senator William Proxmire, Mount Vernon, Colonial Williamsburg, Jamestown, Yorktown, Monticello and a portion of the Blue Ridge Parkway.

Fran Charland, history teacher at Kewaskum High School, was the tour organizer and guide. "The trip went extremely well and was very worthwhile. The students and adults were very enthusiastic and cooperative. This was the fifth time I've taken people on this tour and they get better and better each time. We do a lot in seven days but we have excellent transportation with a very deluxe motor coach from Otte Bus Service of Cedar Grove and as always an extremely competent driver. We stay at very good quality motels or hotels and really try to give the people their money's worth in both comfort and information. I would like to thank all those who went along for their cooperation and generosity and would also like to mention that this trip will be offered again next year and it is open to any middle-school, high-school student or adult in the Kewaskum School District or other upon request."

If you have any questions, contact Fran Charland at Kewaskum High School for more details or to sign up.

'Bright New Wings' Lifts the Spirits

Kewaskum Statesman, Friday, July 1, 1988, Page 8

The musical, "Bright New Wings," which was performed by the Chancel Choir of Peace Church on Sunday, June 19, lifted the spirits of the people who filled the sanctuary. Above the choir, colorful butterflies spanned the chancel area, setting the mood for the theme song, "I have a new song to sing, and it's like bright new wings..." Stories of five lives touched by Jesus were recounted in a setting of pioneer America. The musical was directed by Larry Ammel.

Awards Assembly Held at Kewaskum Middle School

Julie Backus, KMS Principal, announced the names of students and volunteers honored at a school awards assembly held at Kewaskum Middle School on June 2, 1988.

Awards were presented to the 8th graders for the presidential academic fitness program which is given for an overall grade-point average of at least B+, as well as overall achievement on the standardized tests of over the 80th percentile. The students honored received a certificate signed by President Reagan and Secretary of Education William Bennett. The 8th grade recipients were Jenny Beimborn, Jenny Brigham, Leila Byers, Shawn Erdmann, Rachel Gosa, Dina Heckel, Jason Jagielski, Renee Kertscher, Garrett Mielkie, Stacey Pamperin, Kim Petrie, Jenny Schinker, Tricia Schultz, and Matt Seiser.

Those receiving a 3.3 and receiving a special presidential certificate for extraordinary effort were Nicole Oppermann, Sheldon Oppermann, and Dan Staehler.

The next award was part of the school's participation this year for the first time in the "Who's Who Achievement and Service Award." Students chosen by the faculty had to meet 3 criteria: a minimum grade point of B or 3.0 or above, demonstrated leadership in school and community programs and good citizenship in the school or community. In addition the award can only be given to 15% of the 7th and 8th grade classes. The students who received the certificate will have their name permanently entered on a certificate to be hung in the school and will have an opportunity to participate in additional who's who recognition during the sophomore year in high school. They will then be eligible to apply for $75,000 in college scholarships.

The 8th grade recipients were: Jenny Beimborn, Jenny Brigham, Shawn Erdmann, Rachel Gosa, Jason Jagielski, Karen Junk, Renee Kertscher, Melissa Kuechler, Nicole Oppermann, Sheldon Oppermann, Stacey Pamperin, Kim Petrie, Tracy Ruplinger, Jenny Schinker, Tricia Schultz, Dan Staehler, and Michael Stopar.

The 7th grade recipients were: Kate Berres, Sarah Brath, Rebecca Braun, Doug Buechel, Nicole Cayner, Karyn Dossinger, Carrie Fellenz, Keith Herman, Heather Koch, Kristin Krebs, Julie Mertz, Jenny Pesch, Marty Schlice, Yvonne Schlice, Christa Schmidt, Dan Schulteis, Jason Sharpee, Debra Steger, and Jenny VanAssche.

Perfect attendance awards were also presented. Those receiving two years of perfect attendance were: 8th grade — Tracy Lulich, Joe Rehbein, and Bob Schreffler; 7th grade — Amy Justman, Kerry Resch, Marty Schlice, Christa Schmidt, Dan Schulteis, and Debra Steger. Students with one year of perfect attendance were: 8th grade — Sara Beck, Jenny Beimborn, Nicole Fellenz, Tammy Gundrum, Sherry Hass, Thad Koontz, Melissa Kuehler, Vicki Rehbein, Tracy Ruplinger, and Jenny Schinker; 7th grade — Chad Bindrich, Derek Follmann, Heather Koch, Yvonne Schlice, Jamie Severance, and Brad Weinreich.

In announcing the volunteer awards, Mrs. Backus noted that an important, but too often unrecognized part of our program is the role of volunteers — people who devote hours and energy to helping with projects, some long-term and some short-term. Parent volunteers honored were Kathy Brigham, Sue Buechel, Edith Frank, and Carolyn and Ron Beimborn.

Beechwood Firemen Celebrate 75 Years of Service

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Last week's annual Beechwood Firemen's picnic and parade marked a milestone for the department as it celebrated 75 years of continuous service to the community.

A highlight of the parade was the department's first fire engine, again traveling the streets of Beechwood under its own power. The horsedrawn hand pumper brought back memories for a few old timers when the rig passed the original firehouse in which the equipment was kept.

The original firehouse still stands along Highway A, just about kitty-corner from the second firehouse which was erected in 1961. Both buildings are now part of history as they have been replaced by a third fire station which was completed last year. The new firehouse is located just east of its predecessors on Highway S.

Another celebration was noted in the parade. A float marking the 100th anniversary of St. John's United Church of Christ, 1888 to 1988, depicted an early church scene of the 1800's.

Lewis 'Bud' Schmidt of New Fane, used a pair of his light driving horses to pull Beechwood's first piece of firefighting equipment, a hand pumper, in Sunday's parade. Schmidt and the rig are shown passing the department's first firehouse in which the equipment was stored.

St. John's United Church of Christ marked its 100th anniversary with a float depicting an early church scene.

Lutheran Synod Holds Convention

The Northern Wisconsin District of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod held its 36th Biennial Convention June 20 through the 22 in the newly constructed gymnasium of Winnebago Lutheran Academy in Fond du Lac, Wisconsin.

The 339 delegates in attendance represented 149 congregations from as far north as Sault St. Marie, Michigan southward to Kewaskum, Wisconsin and from Lake Michigan to Montello, Wisconsin.

Elected to a two year term as District Officers were President Carl Voss of Green Bay, First Vice-President Douglas Engelbrecht of Neenah, Second Vice-President Gerald Free of Hortonville, and Paul Kolander of Montello as Secretary.

Shane Announces Candidacy

James R. Shane

Citing a desire to further his involvement in the community and law enforcement, James R. Shane of West Bend is announcing his candidacy for the republican nomination for Washington County Coroner.

Shane, a lifelong resident of Washington County, has served with the West Bend Police Department for the past 14 years. Shane is also a trained emergency medical technician and was recently sworn in as a deputy coroner for Washington County.

He says, "The office of Coroner requires a person with investigative knowledge, knowledge of the rules of evidence set down by our courts and medical training. I am entering this contest because I believe that I can, with all my past experiences, best serve all the residents of Washington County in a professional manner."

Stitt Announces Re-Election Bid

PORT WASHINGTON — Donald K. Stitt has announced that he is seeking a second term as a State Senator from the 20th Senate District.

The 20th Senate District includes nearly all of Ozaukee County, and parts of Washington, Dodge, Fond du Lac and Southern Sheboygan Counties.

The primary election will be held September 13th and the general election will be held Tuesday, November 8th.

Stitt said he is excited about the chance to serve four more years. "We're in a new and productive era of state government in Wisconsin," Stitt said. "I look forward to the challenges ahead."

Stitt said there has been a renewed interest on the part of legislators to keep a leary eye on increased government growth, higher taxes and undo regulation.

"I believe that my positions on the issues have been consistent and tough," Stitt said. "I will continue to fight for lower tax levels and reduced spending so that individuals, families, and businesses can grow and prosper."

Stitt is a former member of the Port Washington Board of Education, and an Assistant District Attorney. He was elected to the State Assembly in 1979, and re-elected in 1980 and 1982. In 1984, he was elected to the State Senate and has served as the ranking Senate Republican on the budget-writing Joint Finance Committee for four years.

Stitt is also a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee,

Panzer Named Moraine Park Technical College's Legislator of the Year

State Representative Mary Panzer (R-West Bend) was named Moraine Park Technical College's (MPTC) Legislator of the Year at the College's graduation ceremony held on May 26. "It is extremely rewarding to be honored as a friend of both Moraine Park Technical College and the Vocational, Technical and Adult Education (VTAE) system," said Panzer after receiving her award.

Representative Panzer was thanked by MPTC officials for her long-time working partnership with the school, as well as her dedicated service to the VTAE system as a member of the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee.

During her remarks, Representative Panzer congratulated the graduates, and briefly discussed how important the VTAE system is to the continued economic health of Wisconsin.

Drunk Driving Costs Go Up July 1

The cost of driving drunk will go up an additional $57.50 on July 1, bringing the total initial outlay for a first offender to $576, according to the state Department of Transportation.

The increase came through the state budget, which added $50 to the surcharge, $5 more court costs, and, 1987 Wis Act 326, which raised the penalty assessment from 19% to 20% of the forfeiture amount.

The initial outlay for a first conviction of operating while intoxicated (OWI) on or after July 1 will include: a minimum forfeiture, $250; surcharge, $250; penalty assessment, $50; court costs $15; jail assessment fee, $10 and $1 court automation fee.

In addition, drivers convicted of OWI are required to pay for their alcohol/drug use assessment (in the $75 to $100 range), plus the cost of group dynamics traffic safety school (around $75); or treatment of their drinking/drug use problem if required by the driver safety plan developed in the assessment process.

There are also charges for an occupational license and reinstatement fee. But the major unanticipated cost for most drivers is the increase in their insurance premiums, which normally are tripled after a drunk driving conviction.

The costs are even higher for drivers who have been convicted previously, and other penalties are added, including a mandatory jail term for second and subsequent convictions.

Panzer Appointed To Corporate Takeover Committee

State Representative Mary Panzer (R-West Bend) was appointed to the newly formed Corporate Takeover Advisory Committee.

"I am honored to be on the committee," said Panzer, "that will be re-examining Wisconsin's Corporate Takeover Law from both a technical and policy perspective."

The 14 member panel, headed by Commissioner Walter H. White Jr., includes a number of other state legislators as well as leading attorneys and business executives from Milwaukee and Madison.

"This group has been organized to help determine the proper balance between a free-market economy and the protection of Wisconsin companies," stated Panzer.

General Clinic to Offer Walk-In Care

WEST BEND — The General Clinic will offer Walk-In Care from 5 to 8 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays beginning Tuesday, July 5th. These services will be provided at the main General Clinic facility at 279 S. 17th Avenue (North Entrance).

"The new Walk-In Care is in response to requests from our patients," said Dr. Charles S. Geiger, Jr., clinic Medical Director. "We have become aware of the need for a regular evening clinic for persons seeking medical attention outside of normally scheduled clinic hours."

A physician and a nurse will staff the after hours walk-in clinic each of the four evenings, Geiger said. Personnel will vary but there will always be a General Clinic physician and a health care professional on duty. Patients of all ages will be seen.

"You need not be a current General Clinic patient to be treated," Geiger continued, adding that Walk-In Care may be of particular importance to a clinic patient whose work prevents him or her from coming to the clinic during normal daytime hours.

The Pharmacy at the clinic will remain open during Walk-In Care hours and x-ray and support services will be available.

The General Clinic has a main office in West Bend and a second facility at 1713 North Main Street. The Jackson Office is at N168 W20060 Main Street and will maintain their regular hours, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, and additional scheduled evening hours during the week.

One Step Leads to Another...

With Wisconsin's new Administrative Suspension Law one step can lead to a long road of walking. Now if you're pulled over and either fail the breath test, or refuse to be tested, you lose your license on the spot.

No loopholes. Just thousands of dollars in fines, fees, court costs, and high-risk insurance for three years. That's what driving drunk in Wisconsin will cost you.

One step leads to another. Drive drunk. Get stopped. Lose your license on the spot. And it's a long, long road back to where you were before.

New Riding Techniques Could Save Motorcyclists' Lives

Wisconsin motorcyclists should learn two new riding techniques that could save their lives, according to the state Department of Transportation. The first is simply to use the front brake. "About 70 percent of a motorcycle's stopping power is in the front brake, yet even some experienced riders may be afraid to use it," according to Ronald Thompson, DOT motorcycle safety program manager.

The second technique, called counter steering, is a new concept for most riders — that cyclists should steer left in order to turn right, and vice versa. "Actually cyclists push on the handlebar in the direction they want to turn," Thompson said. "At medium to high speeds, you don't really steer a motorcycle," Thompson explained. "Riders steer by leaning. Counter steering breaks the gyroscopic effect of the rotating wheels, and permits the cyclist to quickly lean into a turn."

Because the concept is difficult to understand, the DOT is developing a training video demonstrating the counter steering technique. The videotape will be used in rider training courses and made available to cycle clubs and other groups.

Can cyclists learn counter steering on their own? "They can, but a safer, easier way is to enroll in a rider training course which the DOT offers mainly through the state vocational college system," Thompson said. "We recommend that people practice counter steering in a parking lot or a street where there isn't any traffic to contend with."

Thompson said that if all Wisconsin cyclists knew how to brake and counter steer, the number of motorcycling deaths and injuries could be cut substantially. "Motorcycle riding is not instinctive. People have to learn to ride...and experience can be a harsh teacher," he added.

When faced with a sudden danger, such as a car suddenly turning in front of the oncoming motorcycle, the average cyclist may freeze and crash into the hazard that a trained rider would have no difficulty in steering around. "You have to practice safety all the time. We teach riders how to always be looking for an out as they ride along, and to be aggressive in looking for hazards. Then if the rider knows how to stop quickly and safely by using both brakes and how to counter steer to turn quickly, the chance of emerging with life and limbs intact is greatly improved," Thompson said.

Rider training courses are offered at nearly all of the VTAE schools in Wisconsin, as well as through police departments in Monroe County and Port Washington.

"At a cost of about $1.25 per hour of instruction, the rider training is a real bargain," Thompson said. "Motorcycles and helmets are provided by local sponsors; all the student has to provide is leather boots, gloves, long pants and long sleeved jacket or shirt."

Classes will continue through the summer months. Most are scheduled for evenings and weekends to accommodate people who work or go to school during the day.

Information about the courses is available by calling the local VTAE school, or through Division of Motor Vehicles examining stations.

Motorcycle program coordinator for this area is: Sgt. Donald R. Theisen, Port Washington Police Dept., (414) 284-2611.

Sheriff Schwartz Reminds Motorists To Watch Out for Playing Children

Warmer weather means kids playing outside, running around on foot, and riding bicycles. Sheriff Clarence A. Schwartz reminds motorists that extra caution must be used to prevent tragedy.

"Children don't think about getting hit by cars. Danger is something that they learn about with time. We all have to do the worrying for them," the sheriff stated.

That means motorists must be on the look-out for children. When approaching a child on a bike, for example, slow down and be prepared for the possibility that the child will swerve into your path. If the child is walking on the side of the road, don't assume that they will stay there as you drive by. When backing your vehicle out of a driveway, do so slowly... someone might be walking past on the street or sidewalk.

"We have an excellent pedestrian safety record in Washington County, but as more and more people move here, and more vehicles are on the residential roads, the danger increases. Let's be careful for our children's sake."

Adults Learn Educational Options

Jim Schlosser of West Bend came to Adult Preview Night hoping to find some career options after his job with a Milwaukee firm was eliminated.

After serving as Director of Public Works in West Bend for 17 years, Jim Schlosser left to work in the private sector. He took a sales job with a manufacturing company in Milwaukee only to find himself unemployed a short time later when his position was "eliminated."

"Where am I going to go from here?" asked Schlosser, echoing the thoughts of many adults faced with job termination. Schlosser was one of 56 people who turned out for Adult Preview Night held recently in West Bend. The program introduced adults to career services and educational programs available at Moraine Park Technical College.

The people in the room were unemployed, underemployed, underpaid, payless or just plain restless. There was the art teacher who wanted to try something new, the photographer who was looking to increase her skills, the part-time worker who wanted more hours and more money, the disillusioned secretary who felt stuck in her current job and the newcomer to the city who wanted to further his education.

The program included a career assessment exercise and career discussion groups, explanations of Moraine Park's GOAL Skills Center and other career services, a panel discussion with adults who had returned to school and a look at the placement and salary ranges of Moraine Park's 1987 graduates.

One of the adults attending the program said that the career test reaffirmed her interest areas. "It showed me where I thought I'd be career-wise," she said. "I work part time in child care and would like to do something with more hours - preferably secretarial or something. I would consider part-time school, but I'm looking for the skills for a job, not a degree."

Nancy Schultz, Chris Buss and Marion Mintzloff, student ambassadors for Moraine Park at the West Bend campus, conducted a panel discussion to address many of the fears and problems faced by returning adult students.

Schultz went back to school because she was afraid that if something happened to her husband she wouldn't be able to support her family. Buss, recently divorced, decided the accounting program at Moraine Park would offer her better paying job opportunities than would her current position as a secretary.

"I was employed as a part-time nurses aide when I found myself divorced and faced with raising four kids," said Mintzloff. "I was sure I should go into computers, but the counselors at Moraine Park sat down with me and we examined my interests and goals. As a result, I started in the Reentry Women Project. This spring I will graduate from the medical records technician program."

One of the biggest fears faced by adults returning to school is the feeling that they will be isolated from the rest of the student body due to their age. "I was frightened that first day," said Buss who is 34. "I thought everyone would be younger than I was, but I soon found out that we're all just like a family; we're all just the same. The first-year students ask the second-year students for advice because we've been there."

One of the adults in the audience asked how these women balanced school, work and family. All three women responded that they had to budget their time. After attending to their families, they went to their rooms to study and the family was instructed to leave them alone.

"I have three girls at home, ages

10, 8 and 3," said Schultz. "The older ones watch the younger one. In order for me to be in school, my husband works a lot of overtime. Sometimes I feel like both the mom and dad. Many times I feel like quitting, but I force myself to keep going because this is what I want. It's a lot of work, but it pays off."

Another adult asked how hard it was to study after being out of school for so long. "I write my notes on index cards and put them on the sink and memorize them while I'm doing the dishes," said Buss. "You have to schedule studying into your daily routine. I started taking some basic classes and gradually worked into accounting classes."

All three women admitted that they had made some sacrifices in order to return to school but agreed that the benefits far outweighed the disadvantages. As Buss said, "There are many times I wanted to give up, but I just kept telling myself 'No, I want this,' and I kept on working."

Buss, Schultz and Mintzloff will all graduate at the end of May and the audience wanted to know if they had found any jobs yet. Buss said she already has a job starting June 6 at the West Bend hospital. Schultz has just begun sending out resumes and Mintzloff has three interviews scheduled.

So what about Jim Schlosser? Did the program help him decide what to do with his future? "I found out that there were a lot of resources here that I wasn't aware of," he said. "Rather than going right back to school, I'm going to talk to the counselors and set some kind of direction. I want to stay in the West Bend area because my family is here and I have three teenage daughters at home. Now I have some idea where to begin."

Billions Available for Home Repair Grants and Subsidized Loans

Most homeowners are unaware that regardless of their income there are Federal, state and local programs that will help them repair and remodel their homes.

Government at all levels recognizes that neighborhoods are the basis of life in our country. When a neighborhood deteriorates, many things happen both physically and socially. When the homes look shabby, a neighborhood seems more attractive to crime and criminals. An area in decline is like a spreading cancer. As homes become shabby looking and in need of maintenance, the residents lose their desire to keep up the neighborhood. Streets become receptacles for trash, schools lower their standards and very quickly the selling price of homes in the area drops sharply. This accelerates the cycle of degeneration.

In order to keep and maintain the nation's housing and neighborhoods, government at all levels have programs to give homeowners money (that does not have to be repaid) for repairs or to lend them money at below market levels or at no interest. In many areas utility companies will either do energy conservation work free or at low cost and in other places will lend homeowners money at no interest to pay the contractor of their choice for the necessary work. In addition there are tax incentives to promote efficient energy use.

These programs are not restricted to low-income people, slum areas or urban neighborhoods. Owners of single or multi-family dwellings are eligible for some programs regardless of income. Most of the loans offer long terms and low payments.

Some of the other home improvements covered under these programs are: attic and wall insulation, new windows, outerwall siding, security doors and locks, window guards, sidewalks and masonry work, bathrooms and kitchens, electrical and plumbing work, new roofs, gutters or downspouts.

Consumer Education Research Center, a national non-profit consumer group, has just published its 1988 update of CONSUMERS GUIDE TO HOME REPAIR GRANTS AND SUBSIDIZED LOANS a 240-page book which lists over 7,000 sources of loan and grant programs offered by all levels of government in addition to utility companies and others, typical programs offered and eligibility requirements. Form letters for inquiries to these loan and grant sources are included as well as detailed instructions on determining your debt-to-income ratio for eligibility. The book can be obtained for $10 plus $2 shipping and handling from CERC GRANTS, 134 Evergreen Pl., East Orange, N.J. 07018 or by calling 1-800-USA-0121 for credit card order outside N.J.

Robert L. Berko of CERC, tells us, "Some of these programs have no income ceiling and others allow income of as much as $100,000 per year. There are even programs for which tenants are eligible and many allow loans or give grants to poor credit risks. In many areas, people with disabilities can receive grants to pay for needed repairs such as access ramps and widening of doorways."

Since it is important that the work be done properly, the book includes a section showing how to pick a reputable contractor, negotiate a contract and insure that the work is done properly and for a fair price.

Radon Threat In Wisconsin

Radon levels in many areas of Wisconsin are higher than previously suspected, and across the US between 5,000 and 20,000 cases of lung cancer per year may be attributed to radon exposure, according to an article in this month's issue of the Wisconsin Medical Journal.

"Radon as an Environmental Hazard in Wisconsin: A Basic Guide," by Melvin S. Blumenthal, MD, of Monroe, discusses a ten-state survey conducted in 1987 by the US Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), tells how radon testing can be carried out in homes and recommends that health authorities and physicians become more involved in solving the problem.

Last year, a survey by the EPA found that of 3,000 homes tested in the state, more than a fourth had radon levels higher than the EPA "action level" of 4 pCi/L (picocuries per liter). The EPA has defined this level as a target for corrective action. According to Dr. Blumenthal's article, an exposure to 4 pCi/L is equal to receiving 100 chest x-rays each year or smoking one-third pack of cigarettes per day; it triples a nonsmoker's risk of death from lung cancer. In Wisconsin, the EPA survey found that radon levels in homes varied across the state, but generally were highest in the northeast and along the southern border.

Dr. Blumenthal also cites evidence that one fourth of lung cancers among nonsmokers may be due to radon exposure, with between 5,000 and 20,000 cases of lung cancer in the US per year. This incidence compares to about 7,000 cases per year from asbestos exposure.

Five percent of the homes surveyed by the EPA in Wisconsin had levels of 10 pCi/L which carries about the same lung cancer risk as smoking one pack of cigarettes per day, according to Dr. Blumenthal. Exposure to 200 pCi/L for a long period (20 to 40 years) gives about a 50 percent chance of developing lung cancer. One percent of the homes in Wisconsin showed radon levels that high.

The major factor determining the level of radon in a home is the makeup of the earth around and under the house, especially the pressure differential of radon gas between the soil and the house, Dr. Blumenthal says. Radon infiltrates a house primarily through cracks and penetration points in below-ground walls and slabs. Many other factors contribute to radon levels in the home, including ventilation, the habits and activities of the occupants and home construction aspects (unpaved basements and crawl spaces, cracks or holes in the foundation, etc.).

Radon measurement on a house-by-house basis is necessary to gauge the risk of cancer to the occupants, according to Dr. Blumenthal's article. Radon levels are commonly measured using either a charcoal canister or an alpha track detector. Both are relatively inexpensive, and a list of manufacturers and distributors certified by the EPA is available from the state Department of Health and Social Services and the EPA.

"Because of the relationship between dose and risk, there is increasing urgency for remedial action at higher home concentrations of radon," according to the article. Dr. Blumenthal recommends that persons who wish to reduce radon levels in their homes hire knowledgeable and honest diagnosticians to undertake home surveys to select appropriate and cost-effective remedies.

"Systems to limit radon entry can often reduce indoor radon levels by more than 95 percent, usually at a cost of less than $1,000," Dr. Blumenthal says.

"In view of the very large number of persons at risk, local health authorities should consider sponsoring radon surveys in their communities. With estimated deaths attributable to radon of between 5,000 and 20,000 per year in the US, the case for greater involvement by the medical profession is now evident," the article concludes.

For more information about radon in Wisconsin, contact John Micka at the Department of Health and Social Services, Radiation Protection Section, at 608-273-5180.

A side bar accompanying Dr.

Blumenthal's article notes that Wisconsin funds a half-time radiation consultant position in the Department of Health and Social Services to provide radon information and consultation on testing. The governor's proposed budget for 1988-1989 deleted funding for this position, but it was restored by the legislature. The legislature also provided an additional $20,000 for the creation of two radon centers, one each in Marathon and Waukesha counties. A bill introduced in the last legislative session to provide $67,000 for the program (which would have funded testing in schools) died at the end of the session. The State Medical Society of Wisconsin supports continued state funding for radon-related activities.

The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club recently completed work on two new tennis courts in the village which are located on the Kewaskum High School grounds. Climaxing several years of planning and work, the courts provide additional recreational facilities for sports and athletic minded residents of the community.

On June 17, the Blue Echoes band of Kewaskum went to Milwaukee to cut their first record at Kay Recording Studios. The boys were in the studio for two hours before a good cut was made. From there the tape recordings were sent to RCA Victor in Tennessee for finishing work. The instrumental, "Moonride" by the Blue Echoes is the featured side of the record. "What I Say," the singing version by Dave Sutton (Skrentny), which was originally recorded by Jerry Lee Lewis, was chosen by the band for the reverse side.

Patricia A. Eggert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Eggert of Route 1, Kewaskum (New Fane), and Robert C. Hintz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hintz, Route 1, Kewaskum (Beechwood), exchanged nuptial vows in Peace United Church of Christ, Kewaskum on June 22.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Marx, Route 2, Kewaskum, on June 19.

Twin sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Muench, Kewaskum, on June 19.

Sons were also born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Becker, Kewaskum on June 22; to Mr. and Mrs. Roger Zettler, Route 1, Kewaskum, on June 19, and to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Herriges, Route 2, Kewaskum, on June 24.

At a special meeting of the Kewaskum Village Board on Monday evening of this week in the village hall, the members passed a motion to install ornamental street lighting on the two most important streets of the village, namely Main Street and Fond du Lac Avenue. The new light standards will replace the suspended street lights which are now in use and will greatly improve the appearance of the village as well as its lighting. A total of 26 light standards will be installed with an additional six to be placed on the bridge crossing the Milwaukee River on East Main Street. On Fond du Lac Avenue the standards will occupy both sides of the street as far south as the K. A. Honeck garage and north as far as the Val. Peters' Harness Shop. The entire length of Main Street will be decorated with the lights from the intersection with Fond du Lac Avenue to the bridge on East Main Street. The lights will be placed so that those on one side of the street will be between those on the other side. All of the lights will remain on until midnight each night. From then on for the rest of the night half will illuminate the streets.

A change in the business of Kewaskum has taken place during the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kirchner Sr. and son, who for many years operated a tavern at Myra, this week had their household goods moved into this village. Mr. Kirchner has taken over the Archway Cafe and began operation of his new place of business today. Lester Dreher, who conducted the Archway for the past two years, has again gone into the cattle buying business.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Dorothy Firme, popular Town of Scott young lady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Firme of Batavia, became the bride of Earl Etta, well known dance orchestra leader, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Etta, of the Town of Kewaskum in a charming ceremony performed by the Rev. Richard M.A. Gadow of this village in the Evangelical church at Beechwood. The wedding took place June 25.

With the drawing of a close of June, the month of beautiful weddings, occurred a very pretty ceremony June 29 at St. Bridget's Church, Town of Wayne, when the Rev. Philip J. Vogt of Kewaskum read the nuptial mass uniting in marriage Miss Loretta Campbell, popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Campbell of St. Bridget's, and Francis Mathieu, well known son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Mathieu of South Elmore.

In a beautiful nuptial mass at St. Mary's Church in Barton June 25, Miss Margaret E. Otten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Otten of Route 3, West Bend, became the bride of Lester J. Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nic. Schneider of Route 2, Kewaskum.

Miss Arlene Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schneider of Route 2, Kewaskum, and Leo Fellenz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fellenz of Kewaskum, were united in matrimony in a nuptial mass June 28, in St. Michael's Church at St. Michaels.

F. G. Jensen, who conducts a barbershop at Neosho, found a pearl last Tuesday that is estimated to be worth about $2,000. Mr. Jensen took the pearl from the shell of a clam which he picked up in the river a short distance below the Neosho dam. It is about the size of a 10 cent piece and button-shaped. It has a beautiful lavender color with dark shade in the center. Mr. Jansen took the pearl to the city of Hartford on Wednesday and had it weighed at Amidon Bros. Jewelry Store, its weight being over 32 grains.

The Ev. Reformed Salem's congregation in Wayne will hold their annual picnic on July 4th, in Henry Menger's Waeldchen nearby. This promises to be the greatest picnic ever held in this vicinity. The following enjoyments will be on the program: bowling, target shooting, doll rack, cane rack, grab bags, etc., different games and also several swings will be at hand for the little folks. Rev. J. C. Schatlos will deliver a speech for the event in the afternoon. The West Bend celebrated brew shall still the thirsty ones, and ice cold lemonade will go two glasses for 5 cents each. One hundred gallons of favorite homemade ice cream will be at hand at the fruit stand to be served cold for young and old. Dinner and supper will be served at the park. The Frauenverein of the congregation will spare no time to please every body and invite all friends and neighboring congregations to be present.

Last Tuesday morning at the home of the bride's parents at Antigo a wedding ceremony was performed, whereby Newton W. Rosenheimer and Miss Malinda Holley were united in holy bonds of matrimony.

$5 Million in Loans Authorized for State Drought-Stricken Farmers

The continuing dry conditions in Wisconsin have prompted the Wisconsin Housing and Economic Development Authority (WHEDA) to reopen its low-interest farm production loan program. WHEDA Executive Director Richard J. Longabaugh announced that the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee has approved an additional $5 million to fund the Credit Relief Outreach Program (CROP). Loans guaranteed under the additional authority may only be used for purposes related to drought relief. Lenders started taking applications for these one-year farm production loans June 20, 1988.

"The drought is causing severe problems for many Wisconsin farmers," said Longabaugh. "Farmers may need the extra credit provided by CROP to borrow for seed, fertilizer, or some of the other consumables used in producing a crop."

WHEDA's CROP Program closed earlier this year, after all of the $20 million allocated to it by the Legislature had been committed. It was the first time in the program's four-year history that the entire allocation was used up.

Acting at the request of the Governor and Legislators, WHEDA, through the Secretary of the Department of Administration, petitioned the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee to approve a higher lending authorization for the program. The Committee approved the increase authorized on June 16, 1988.

CROP loans are originated by local participating lenders. They provide loans to farmers who would ordinarily not be able to get this kind of credit. WHEDA guarantees 90 percent of the loan amount.

Farmers should contact their local participating lender for more information. They can also call WHEDA toll-free at 1-800-544-3363.

USDA Announces Emergency Drought Provisions

(Washington, D.C.) — REP. F. JAMES SENSENBRENNER, JR. (R-WI) was informed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) that six counties in the Ninth District qualify for emergency haying and grazing of land which Ninth District farmers had previously agreed not to harvest.

Sensenbrenner said, "With rainfall levels way below normal and temperatures abnormally high, harvest levels will be down. Wisconsin farmers need this assistance. I am pleased the Department of Agriculture has acted promptly on this matter."

Counties approved under this emergency program include Dodge, Ozaukee, Washington, Jefferson, Fond du Lac and Sheboygan. According to the provisions set up by the USDA, haying and grazing will be allowed for any consecutive five-month period between April and October in these designated counties.

Sensenbrenner concluded, "Before you begin harvesting, be sure and contact your county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office for the guidelines of this emergency program. In order to be eligible for this emergency program, you must sign up with your county ASCS office."

No. 1 Grand Nat'l. Tractor Pull At Tomah July 8-10

TOMAH, WI - The Budweiser Wisconsin Dairyland Grand National Tractor and Truck Pull will be held in Tomah, Wis. the weekend of July 8-10.

The Tomah pull, selected as the number 1 pull in the nation five out of the past eight years, will attract pullers from all over the United States and Canada to compete for a purse and trophies totaling $115,000.

The famous Budweiser Clydesdales will be appearing at the Tomah event through the efforts of S & S Distributors, the local Budweiser distributor, and the Monroe County Fair Association, the promoter of the gigantic tractor-truck pull weekend.

The Budweiser Clydesdale will arrive in Tomah Mon., July 4 and be stabled on the pull grounds the entire week of the event. For the fans' viewing pleasure, the popular hitch will be on public review throughout the weekend and will perform in front of the grandstand at all pull sessions.

The Friday evening and the Saturday and Sunday afternoon and evening sessions will be a mixture of super stocks, modified, pro stock, mini rods and the exciting 4-wheel and 2-wheel-drive truck classes.

A special attraction will be the appearance of Ray Carpenter's "Bounty Hunter" out of Bettendorf, Iowa. Special effects on the super truck is that its cab extends 7 feet from the ground - its fire-shooting stacks - and a cab that revolves a full 360 degrees when up in the air. Over 2,000 pieces of the unit are chromed, the rest are stainless steel and aluminum to keep everything shining.

There will be a free dance at the Recreation Park pull site Friday night and a parade in downtown Tomah at 10 a.m., Saturday. Also planned are an art and craft show, flea market, carnival, commercial booths and food and refreshment concessions.

The event, that in 1987 attracted over 60,000 fans, is sponsored by the National Tractor Pullers Ass'n. and promoted locally by the Monroe County Fair Ass'n. and Anheuser-Busch, under the Budweiser label.

Admission to the grounds and parking will be free. Grandstand tickets will be available at the park each day of the pull.

WISCONSIN OUTDOORS AND CONSERVATION NEWS

State Park Trail Guide Available

"Biking Wisconsin's State Park Trails," a pocket guide featuring detailed maps of almost 200 miles of improved bicycle trails in eight state parks, is now available from the Department of Natural Resources, Bureau of Parks and Recreation.

More than 200,000 people of all ages rode on state park bike trails in 1987. Almost $5.3 million has been invested to acquire rail corridors and convert them to bicycle trails, according to Bonnie Gruber of the Department's Bureau of Parks and Recreation.

"The old abandoned rails and ties have been removed and the surface covered with crushed compacted limestone to provide a smooth safe riding surface. The slopes on the trails don't exceed two to three percent, so people with physical disabilities or limitations can pedal easily or use motorized wheelchairs to get out and see Wisconsin's state parks and unique natural resources," Gruber said.

"Wisconsin has been a pioneer in converting former railroad right-of-ways into trails for bicycling and hiking in spring, summer and fall, and snowmobiling and cross-country skiing in winter," she continued.

"Biking Wisconsin's State Park Trails" features eight trails: the Bearskin Trail south from Minocqua; the Glacial Drumlin Trail from Waukesha to Cottage Grove; The Sugar Trail from New Glarus to Brodhead; Military Ridge Trail from Verona to Dodgeville; the Elroy-Sparta Trail from Wilton to Elroy; the newly opened La Crosse River Trail from Sparta to La Crosse; the Great River Trail north from La Crosse; and the Red Cedar Trail south from Menomonie.

The booklet is sized to fit into bicycle map pouches. The maps are on a scale of two to four miles to the inch so cyclists can easily find roads, towns and points of interest along the trails.

The maps also show distances between communities, picnic areas, campgrounds, rest rooms, historic sites and wildlife areas. The supporting text tells about community festivals and other special sights along the way.

This 32-page color booklet was published as a supplement to the May-June issue of Wisconsin Natural Resources magazine. "Biking Wisconsin's State Park Trails" is sold at bike trail headquarters, DNR offices and other outlets for $3.00, or by mail for $4.00 including postage and handling. Write to: Department of Natural Resources, Bureau of Parks and Recreation, P.O. Box 7921, Madison, WI 53707.
