Village Approves Re-Zoning for Apartment Project

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Village Board unanimously approved the rezoning of a two-plus acre parcel of land east of the Sison Medical Clinic from B-2 retail, to R-4 multi-family residence for the purpose of constructing two 16-unit apartment buildings on the site.

The approval was, however, contingent upon the village's receiving a formal developer's agreement covering such items as sewer, water and road easements as well as maintenance and repair.

Eight citizens attended the public hearing Monday night on the Herro Company's rezoning request. While no one had any real objections to the project itself, neighboring property owners James Roe of 1044 Fond du Lac Avenue and Dennis Giese of 1036 Fond du Lac Avenue, expressed their concern over several issues they felt were tied to the plan.

Roe's concern was water runoff onto his property. Roe noted that issue has been an ongoing problem with the Sison Clinic which has not been resolved satisfactorily. He wanted to know if the proposed project would compound his present problems.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt said the addition of a curb and sidewalk along the northern edge of the site was expected to eliminate the problem. Roe still wanted more concrete evidence that the situation would be resolved, noting Dr. Sison had continually made promises to take the necessary steps to remedy the situation completely but never followed through.

Lewis Herro, of the Herro Company, said Dr. Sison had

Name of William J. Harbeck Added to Deceased Publishers Memorial Pylon

Mrs. William J. Harbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Kuehl and their sons Andy, Dusty and Ross of Kewaskum and Mr. and Mrs. Don Baldikowski of Milwaukee spent the weekend Sept. 9-10, at the Wisconsin Newspaper Association's Annual outing at the Trees For Tomorrow Environmental Center in Eagle River.

On Saturday morning the association held its annual pylon ceremony at which time those members of the association who passed away during the past year had their names enshrined on the memorial pylon.

Mrs. Harbeck, her daughters Lana, Sharon and their families were present to witness the placing of William J. Harbeck's name on the pylon. Harbeck, the former editor of the Kewaskum Statesman, was one of the twelve publishers who were enshrined.

The memorial ceremony is held to publicly recognize those individuals who have contributed to the newspaper profession during their lifetime.

After the ceremony family members were guests of the newspaper association at a BBQ chicken cookout. A golf tournament was held in the afternoon followed by a steak fry in the evening.

sold off the parcel of land in question to his company and no longer had anything to do with it. "We've been aware of your problem," Herro told Roe. "We're going to work with the village and its engineers to make sure we don't have any problems like that with this project," he noted.

Giese addressed his concerns about sidewalk maintenance, snow removal and the increased traffic flow facing pedestrians on highway 45. "Who is going to take care of the snow," said Giese. "If Dr. Sison's record is any guide, there have been many, many days when those sidewalks were icy." Giese also asked who would be responsible for snow removal on the easement road leading back into the complex. He indicated that in past years when there was a lot of snow, the lot was plowed leaving piles sometimes as high as eight feet. "Some of that ends up on neighboring properties like mine," he noted, "and when the water begins to run off, it comes into our yards."

Herro again responded to the questions and comments. He said his company could not afford to be lax about sidewalk maintenance because of the chance of an injury and lawsuit. As far as the road, Herro said he had planned on approaching the village about the possibility of dedicating that easement to the village if, and when the re-zoning request was approved. "Dan knows nothing about this," said Herro, "he's hearing this tonight for the first time like everyone else."

Schmidt and village attorney Gerald Kiefer said they would have to look into the legalities of Herro's Proposal. Kiefer thought there were some legal requirements as to road size before a municipality could accept dedication. Herro said he did not expect the village to take over the easement for free and his company was willing to pay to have it done.

Herro acknowledged there were some problems with the project. "It's not a real easy piece of property to work with," he stated. Herro noted that his company was willing to, and wanted to work with the village and the parcel's neighbors to eliminate those problems.

Roe, Giese and their wives also asked about the possibility of more lighting in the area and a stop sign for the intersection of highways 45 and H. Schmidt said those issues would be looked into by the village.

In other business Richard Schlice, chairman of the Protection and Public Safety Committee, asked Police Chief Richard Knoebel if Kewaskum, like its neighboring communities, was having problems with skateboarding. Knoebel said, "up to now we haven't had a problem." He said there had been a few instances of youngsters riding on the sidewalks but after officers stopped and talked to the kids they stopped.

In other committee reports, Library chairman Ken Bonlender informed the board the Kewaskum Library will hold a fall story hour during October. Because of the number of children wishing to participate, Head Librarian Kitty Hlavaty has decided to hold two sessions each Wednesday.

Bonlender also said the library had seen a dramatic increase in book circulation this year. "Our circulation is up 15,000 books from this time last year." As far as funding, noted Bonlender, "for the entire year of 1987, we received $3,600, with the increased circulation figures, our funding is already up to $8,000 so far this year."

Trustee Mary Krueger, who represents the village on the County Incineration Committee, told fellow board members that the committee's next meeting is scheduled for September 22, at which time it will receive a preliminary report on the progress of the feasibility study.

In a related comment, Trustee Charles Boegel noted that West Bend will begin a mandatory recycling program in April of 1989. Schmidt also noted that a new law signed by Governor Tommy Thompson this past April will also have an effect on "all" landfills. Effective January 1, 1993, communities will no longer be permitted to haul any yard refuse to their landfills. That means no more grass clippings, branches, etc.

Schmidt was asked what communities were supposed to do with this stuff. "Start compost piles," said Schmidt, "fifty communities in Wisconsin have already gone to composting."

On the recommendation of Chief Knoebel, the board unanimously approved the promotion of patrolman Steven Seitz from a part time to full time police officer.

Knoebel said the idea of promoting from within the department had been discussed with and approved by the Police and Fire Commission. "The position was posted and Seitz applied," said Knoebel. He noted that promoting from within was a sound idea. "It gives more stability to the department and part time officers are more willing to stay with the job if they know there is a chance for advancement," said Knoebel.

In final business before going into closed session the board approved Trick or Treat hours for the village. To coincide with the City of West Bend and Town of Kewaskum, Halloween Trick or Treat hours will be Sunday, October 30, from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Kewaskum Schools Receive $11,000 Grant Programs to Prevent Drug, Alcohol Use

Jackie Schoening

More than 145 Wisconsin school districts will share nearly $1.7 million dollars in expanded alcohol and other drug grants administered by the Department of Public Instruction for this '88-89 school year.

The Kewaskum School District was awarded $11,000 of that sum to be used for the expansion and implementation of programs to prevent drug or alcohol use among students or to assist students who have problems with alcohol or drugs.

Last year was the first year of an effective, successful SAP program after previous attempts to start a program were unsuccessful and unsupported. The initial start of the program was in February of the '87-88 school year in which an "Awareness Day" was organized. The program was very well received by the students as well as the community which is why Jackie Schoening, the coordinator of the program feels this time it stayed "alive." "We need the support, backing, and involvement of not only teachers, but the parents and the community as well."

The overwhelming interest of last year's program at the high school and middle school level has carried into the new year and with funding more teachers can be core trained and also trained as AODA (Alcohol and Other Drug) facilitators to help students.

Groups the high school students can utilize include "Eating Disorders," "Recovery," and "Concerned Persons." "This year we will also initiate a 'Use-Abuse' group if there is enough interest. It seems because we've kept the groups basic, we get more of a wide range of people, who may not want to talk about their problem yet, but feel better knowing others have a problem too," says Schoening. She plans on breaking the groups up into more specific categories as they become too big to handle.

Teachers who facilitate these programs donate their prep time and are available for students before and after school. Not only do teachers realize the need for an Assistance Program but they volunteer their prep time to make the program work. This year over 3/4 of the high school staff will be helping the program in one way or another.

In the Middle School, a "Quest" program was started by the Lion's Club of Kewaskum and is now taken over by the district. The program consists of an adolescent drug and alcohol curriculum to help students become aware of these problems and there is also a section of self-awareness and the problems of growing up, which is something Middle Schoolers need help coping with.

In the Elementary School level, a program will be made available next year. The curriculum will key on "prevention" so that the alcohol/drug problem can be stopped before it's ever started. Self esteem type programs will also be initiated.

Said Schoening of these programs, "Any parent wants 'better' for their kids, but they're not sure how to give their kids better. These programs assist parents in helping them give their kids better."

In addition to the funding by the state, the Kewaskum school board's been a great help and positively affects what can be done for the students. They strongly back the S.A.P. program which is another reason for its success. Also implemented by the school board this year was a "No smoking anytime on the school grounds or at school functions" policy, just another way to turn our community drug-free.

Future goals for the S.A.P. program include the initiating of an E.A.P. program (Employee Assistance Program). Schoening comments, "the most successful S.A.P. programs have successful E.A.P. programs. Kids aren't the only ones with problems." She also hopes to get a "Parent Network" formed, and is working toward 100% of the H.S. staff, trained in understanding the problems of adolescence. "Basically, we're working toward an Alcohol-Free, Drug-Free community - right now, one in four students sitting in a classroom is affected by this problem in some way. We're working to change that... and with your support we will." Schoening stated. "It isn't just drugs and alcohol, its growing up and surviving... in this world today, its rough," Schoening concluded.

Any questions concerning the S.A.P. program or how you can get involved call Jackie Schoening at 626-2166 or the building coordinators, Connie Strand 626-2166 or Linda Bastable, 626-2178.

Production dates are Oct. 28-30 and Nov. 4-6 at the University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County, where Ford is an assistant professor of speech and theatre.

Ford has picked Michelle Retzlaff of West Bend to play the central role of Vivien Bliss, a writer of Harlequin romance novels. The action revolves around her attempts to finish her latest book despite a series of complications.

Rounding out the cast are Andy Gonring and Mary Beth Sancomb of West Bend, as Edgar and Doris Chisholm; Pat Gangnon of West Bend and Theresa Masiarchin of Hartford as Bill and Peggy Scant; M. Jesse Schubert of Fredonia as Peter Prior; and Karen Collins of West Bend as Betty Scant.

According to Ford, the play by Canadian playwright Allan Stratton is a "hilarious" show that is patterned after the classic French bedroom farce. He said it contains such elements as confused identities, disguises, long-lost relatives, ambushes, chases and mayhem.

Services Held for Archbishop Cousins

Archbishop William E. Cousins

Archbishop William E. Cousins, former head of the Archdiocese of Milwaukee, died September 14 of complications of pneumonia at St. Anne's Home for the Elderly. He was suffering from cancer of the brain. He was 86 years old.

In his 61 years as a priest, Cousins served as an Auxiliary Bishop of the Chicago Archdiocese from 1949 to 1952; Bishop of Peoria from 1952 to 1958; Archbishop of Milwaukee from 1959 to 1977. He had been retired in Oconomowoc Lake since 1977.

Cousins was born on August 20, 1902 in Chicago to Norman and Theresa (Hartery) Cousins. He was ordained by George Cardinal Mundelein on April 23, 1927, and graduated in the first class from St. Mary of the Lake Seminary of the Archdiocese of Chicago.

In 1934, he was appointed as the superior of the Chicago Archdiocesan Mission Band. For the next twelve years, he travelled around the country, preaching and organizing parish missions.

In May of 1949, he was named by Pope Pius XII as Auxiliary to Samuel Cardinal Stritch. Three years later Pope Pius XII then named him as the fourth Bishop of Peoria. While in Peoria, he established the Diocesan Council of Men, the Family Rosary Program, and the Christian Family Movement Federation.

In 1962, 1963 and 1964, Cousins went to Rome for sessions of the Second Vatican Council. In his 18 years as Archbishop of Milwaukee, he began the DeSales Preparatory Seminary (later to become the Archbishop Cousins Catholic Center-Archdiocesan offices); he helped convene the National Conference on Religion and Race in Chicago and also the Greater Milwaukee conference on Religion and Race; he began an Archdiocesan sponsored parish in Asuncion, Paraguay; he established an Office for Laity; a pro tem Priest Senate and Due Process Office in the Archdiocese.

"Since coming to the Archdiocese as his successor in 1977, I have held William Cousins in highest esteem," said Archbishop Rembert Weakland. "His gentleness, humility and concern for people has been inspirational to all who knew him."

I admired him as an excellent preacher. Many thousands of people were uplifted by his preaching of a compassionate and loving God. Archbishop Cousins, himself, was proud to be a founding father of the Second Vatican Council.

Personally, I will sense the loss of an outstanding churchman and a very supportive friend."

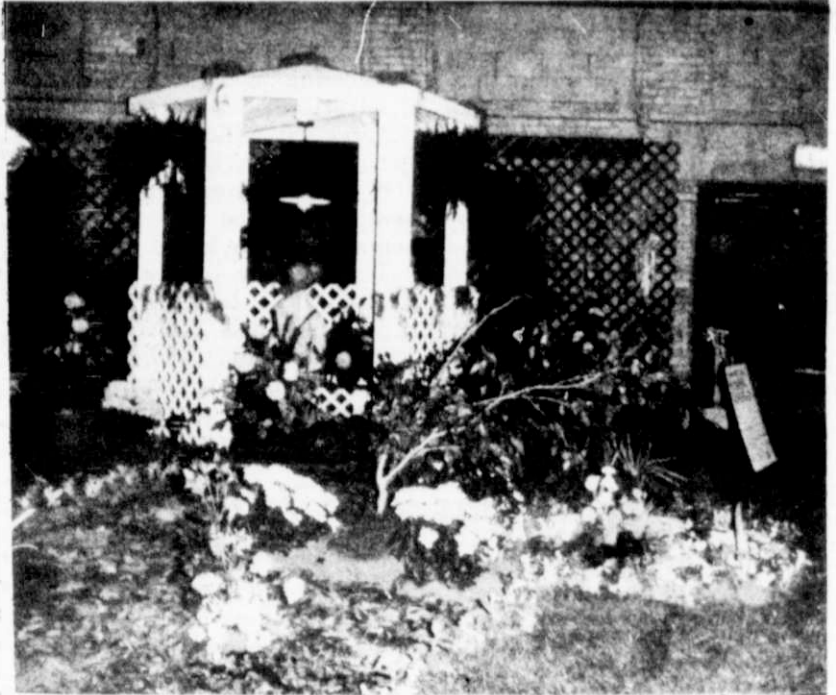

He is survived by his sister-in-law, Ellen of Chicago. Schramka Funeral Home of Milwaukee will handle arrangements with the body. All memorials should be given to the Sisters of the Poor at St. Anne's Home for the Elderly, 3800 N. 92nd Street, Milwaukee, WI 53222.

Conversation With Children: A Simple Gift Grandparents Can Give

Children learn communication skills though the examples they see and hear. Grandparents who listen with interest, attention and patience to their grandchildren set a valuable example, according to David Riley, UW-Madison Extension Child development specialist.

Good conversation leads to thinking and speaking skills. These are the foundations of learning and will help a child become a better reader and writer. Children learn most from people they care about. Research confirms that grandparents can have a big influence on children's learning and how children feel about themselves.

Here are some tips for grandparents and other adults who want to help children develop their communication skills.

1. Invite Children To Talk. Children are more likely to share their ideas and feelings when others think their ideas are important. Include them in adult conversations.

2. Expect Children to Think. Don't always have the answer.

The best answer may be another question.

3. Listen Patiently. People think faster than they speak. With limited vocabulary and experience in talking, children often take longer than adults to find the right words.

4. Show Interest And Concentrate On What Is Being Said. Children can tell whether they have an adult's interest and attention by the way the parent replies or doesn't reply.

5. Hear Children Out. It is easy to form an opinion or reject children's views before they finish what they have to say. By letting children fully develop their ideas, adults also gain valuable insight into children's understanding and abilities to reason.

6. Reduce Distractions. Distractions can prevent the communication of even simple, clear messages. Get rid of unnecessary noise including the sound of the radio or television.

7. Practice Turn-taking In Conversation. Some adults talk too much. The same is true of children. Conversation requires turn-taking which you can help a child to learn.

scheduled from Hubbell and UW Centers Chancellor Stephen Portch of Madison. In the afternoon, Margaret Cleek, chairman of the UW Centers faculty Senate Steering Committee, will report on faculty policy concerns. Cleek is an associate professor of psychology at UWWC.

Board discussions are set on the relations of the centers with the business community and on the impact on the centers of the new "Design for Diversity," a plan for minorities developed by the UW regents and president.

Bylaws of the Board of Visitors charge the group with serving in an advisory role to the chancellor and the administrators at the 13 centers. According to the bylaws, visitors are also responsible for being informed about the Centers' mission, purposes, achievements and problems, and exchanging information of interest to individual Centers and campus advisory boards and foundations." Board members are recommended by the campus dean and the UW Centers Chancellor and appointed by the UW System Board of Regents.

New Enrollment Record Set This Fall at UWWC

A new enrollment record was set Aug. 31 when 854 students registered for the fall semester at the University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County.

The old record was established in the fall of 1987 when 789 students signed up for classes. Registration resumed during the first week of classes, which started Sept. 6, and the record could grow larger.

Preliminary statistics on fall enrollments show a record 373 new freshmen enrolled, up from the previous high of 342 in 1986. Last fall, 291 new freshmen were on campus.

When the final day of August registration began, 685 students had already registered for fall. About 40 students were in line when registration started at 10 a.m. The line never ended until 7 p.m., when the process ended.

By noon, 78 people were in line. Many people waited up to an hour and a half to complete their registration.

By the end of the day, half of the 156 lecture, laboratory and discussion sections were filled to capacity and closed. UWWC Dean Robert O. Thompson said, "Our classes have never filled up so completely before."

By the time registrations are completed, Thompson said, UWWC should have reached its enrollment limits in terms of available space and budget. He said, "We hope our expansion project will move ahead quickly so we can have additional facilities by January of 1990."

Blueprints are being finalized by architects in preparation for getting bids on construction early next year.

Mike Murphy, director of student services, told a faculty workshop on registration day that most classrooms would be full. "If you want to know how many students are enrolled in your classes, count the number of chairs in the rooms," he said.

In an attempt to meet freshmen needs, two new sections of English, two of math and one in computer science were added. All were filled quickly.

Registration has been underway since last spring. Continuing students enrolled last spring signed up for classes in May. New students began registering on a first-come, first-served basis on specific dates in June and July. All new students were required to complete placement testing and program planning sessions before being allowed to enroll.

Many last-minute registrants expressed frustration at the dwindling list of available classes. "This was an unfortunate situation for a lot of people who waited to the end to register," Murphy said. "In other years, some could not get the classes they wanted. This year, some were not able to get into anything."

According to Murphy, the more credits a UWWC student earns, the easier it becomes to get the desired classes. Spring registration begins Dec. 5, with students having earned the most credits allowed to sign up first.

Thompson expressed concern about the filled classes but noted: "The fact that we continue to grow shows we're meeting a very real educational need in this area."

He attributed the continual growth of UWWC to an increasing awareness of the campus strengths. He said, "People are talking about our excellent faculty and how well students are prepared to transfer to other schools. When you provide a good product at less cost, people respond."

Classes with openings are still available in 18 departments including art, bacteriology, business, chemistry, communications, computer science, economics, education, English literature, geography, German, graphics, math, mechanics, music, physical education, philosophy, physics, political science, Spanish, zoology and psychology.

For more information, call Murphy at 338-5201.

Questions drivers ask

Q: How can I get a form to apply for an exemption from the seat belt law? I'm in my seventies and have arthritis that makes it difficult to reach the buckle and fasten it.

A: There is no form required for an exemption to the mandatory seat belt law.

People can be legally exempted if they carry with them a doctor's written statement that wearing a seat belt would be harmful due to a physical or medical condition.

The statement must be carried with the person in motor vehicles at all times, and must contain the name, address and phone number of the physician. It will be valid for a year unless the physician states that the medical condition is permanent. In that case, the statement will be valid indefinitely.

Although it may be difficult for some older people to comply with the seat belt law, there are studies that indicate it is even more important for older people to use belts than younger people. The reason is that older bones are more susceptible to fractures, and that older people may suffer more serious injuries if they are involved in a motor vehicle crash.

Excellent Turnout for Turkey Shoot Despite Weather Neither Wind, Rain or Hail....

Despite the almost continuous drizzle during the morning hours, shoppers stayed around the Regal Ware truck to snap up the bargains on cookware. Proceeds from the sale go to the Kewaskum Kiwanis.

A bird's (not turkey's) eye view of shooters on the rifle line for Sunday's 36th Annual Turkey Shoot.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

By the looks of the weather early Sunday morning you would have thought the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club would have to change from its yearly turkey shoot to a duck shoot.

But, Mother Nature's heart must have softened for a good cause. By around 9:00 a.m., the heavy rains, wind (which toppled the beer tent) and, in some areas such as St. Michaels and the Bar-N-Ranch, mothball sized hail gave in to occasional light showers. And by noon even the showers subsided.

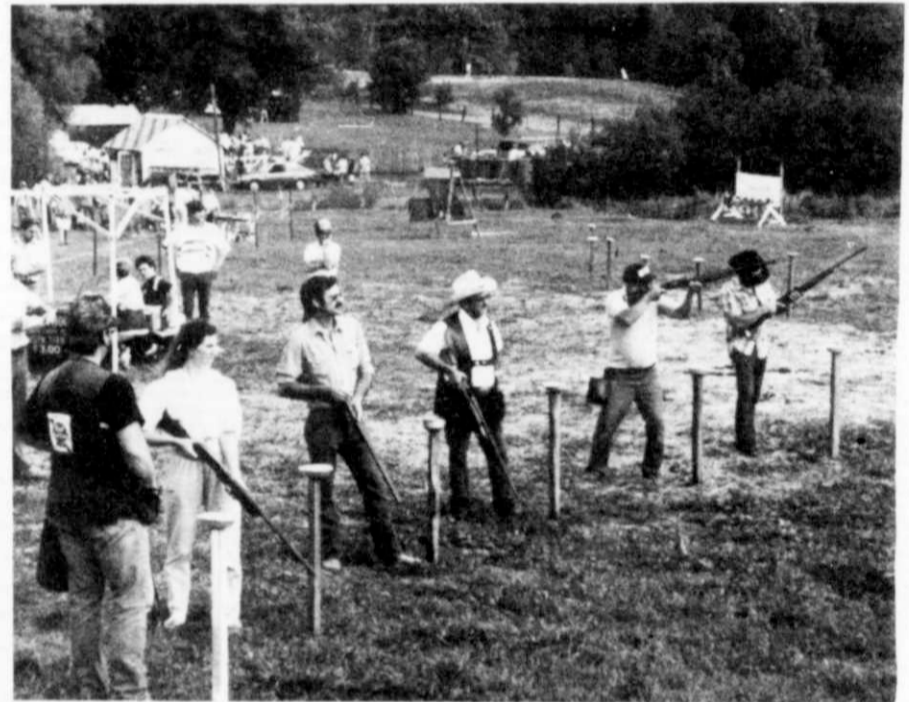

Despite the ominous beginning the Kiwanians' 36th Annual Turkey Shoot drew a good crowd throughout the entire day with active participation at all the events from bow to trapshoot and, of course, the always popular Trout Pond.

No one seemed to be deterred by the raindrops falling on their gunsights, or the pots they bought at the Regal sale filling up with water as they waited to snap up more bargains.

The final count for turkey given away was down slightly, 432 as compared to last year's record high of 445. Nevertheless the annual fundraiser was a success, thanks to all those stouthearted individuals who refused to be intimidated by a "little" rain.

Kiwanian Chuck Wilgenbusch, left, handed sharpshooter Greg Callaway, right, of Campbellsport his turkey. Callaway said he won his bird with his first shot.

Men and women competed together on the trapshoot line.

EXERCISE FOR SENIORS

The fear of falling is understandable in folks over 65. Many imbalance problems can be overcome with easy-to-do exercises. While sitting, the head can be rocked back and forth, then side to side, then rotated left to right to exercise neck muscles and loosen neck vertebrae. The arms can be drawn to chest, then extended front, sidewise, overhead, then gently rotated. While lying, similar exercises of the legs are possible. Be creative - start slowly - all muscles can be toned, all joints loosened with simple home exercises that contribute to better coordination and balance.

When the school bell rang at the high school August 25th, three new teachers started their first day of teaching at Kewaskum High School. They are Lori Ferguson, the new Spanish teacher, and Dave Dillman and Lori Telschow who are both teaching various English courses.

Ms. Ferguson, who just returned from a summer in Mexico really enjoys the staff and the community. Since living here she says she has met some wonderful people. Her long range plans include getting married, (she's currently engaged but hasn't set the date) earning a master's degree, and owning her own farm. In her spare time, she enjoys music, crafts, farming, and sports.

Dave Dillman, one of the new English teachers is married with four children ranging from 5-13 years old. He received his B.S. degree from St. Joseph's college, and his M.S. from Indiana State University. Dave's background experience includes teaching at Taycheedah Correctional Institute and working in the summer for the Paratech Ambulance Service in Milwaukee. His short range goal is to always "stay one step ahead of his students." He enjoys the students here and finds the faculty very supportive. For recreation, Dave likes to camp and work on model railroads.

Lori Telschow, also an English teacher comes from Sheboygan, where she had been a Communication Arts teacher for the past two years. She is married with two children, Zachary who is two years old and Kady, six months. She received her B.A. degree from Carthage College in Kenosha and is currently working on her Master's Degree and Reading Specialist license at Cardinal Stritch in Milwaukee. A long range goal she has is to eventually teach at a university or have the time to develop and implement effective new reading programs for high school and middle school students. Her reaction to Kewaskum is, "I find school to be the challenge I'm looking for and am really appreciating the closeness of a small town community."

A unique experience she related to in the interview was the day the bid was accepted on their new home in Kewaskum, her and her family drove back to take one more look at the house and were greeted by a manure spreader going the other way. "Just one of the things a city girl has to get used to," she commented.

It seems all the new teachers are enjoying their new jobs and their new community. Welcome and good luck.

UNICEF Cards Give Special Meaning to the Holidays

Each year at this time, UNICEF (the United Nations Children's Fund) issues its unique collection of cards, gifts and stationery. These cards are known the world over. Artists and museums throughout the world contribute designs for the benefit of UNICEF. The designs are taken from contemporary works and photographs as well as paintings of masters.

Particularly appealing to the very young, are pop-up books to add new dimension to a child's understanding of the world's diverse cultures. New this year is a World Atlas for children with photos and drawings to illustrate the environment.

The U.S. Committee for UNICEF, one of 34 national committees operating on UNICEF's behalf around the world, raises funds for the purpose of increasing resources to UNICEF through its Greeting Card Program. The U.S. Committee for UNICEF relies on Americans, not only to purchase cards and gifts, but to become a part of a nationwide, volunteer sales network. Each year thousands of individuals, groups, civic organizations, and commercial outlets sell UNICEF items. Organizations can sell cards to their membership or to the public by staffing outlets in malls, banks, and building lobbies. Cards can also be sold by bookstores, churches and art galleries.

In spite of the many groups

President Reagan Proclaims Farm Safety Week Sept. 18-24

MADISON, WI — The week of September 18-24, 1988 has been proclaimed as National Farm Safety Week. The 45th annual observance is marked by a proclamation by President Ronald Reagan.

"Each year hundreds of lives and millions of dollars are lost on farms as a result of preventable accidents and illness," says Bill Koepnick, Director of the Wisconsin Council of Safety. "The president's proclamation will help us all focus our attention on farmer's safety and health needs."

The Wisconsin Council of Safety estimates that in 1987, agricultural accidents resulted in approximately 1,600 deaths and 160,000 disabling injuries nationally. That rate is six percent less than a year ago, but still shows that farming is one of the most hazardous industries in the U.S.

The Wisconsin Council of Safety believes that by following these tips you can improve your chances of avoiding a serious accident:

- Always read operators' manuals and product labels, and carefully follow their suggestions on proper and safe use and maintenance. Make sure all other operators do so too.

- Use personal protective equipment, such as hard hats, respirators, safety shoes and safety goggles when the job or working conditions call for them.

- If your tractor has roll-over protective structures (ROPS), wear your safety belt; if it does not, consider installing ROPS if available for your model

- Keep shielding on equipment when operating. Shut off the power before unclogging any machine or attending to operating problems.

- When applying pesticides or herbicides, follow label directions to the letter and wear appropriate protective gear. Post treated areas. To avoid posing a hazard to the environment or others, safely dispose of empty containers and leftover chemicals; seek expert advice if necessary.

- Exercise care at home and during recreation. Protect children and elderly family and friends from accidents.

The Wisconsin Council of Safety wants each farm worker to use extra care. Safety must come first.

The Wisconsin Council of Safety is a division of The WMC Foundation, Inc., Wisconsin Manufacturers & Commerce.

25 Years Ago

September 20, 1963

The Blue Echoes band of Kewaskum has received word that their recent recording, "What I Say," is among the "top twenty" in Atlanta, Georgia, Louisiana and Alabama. A total of 1,100 records in Georgia alone were sold but the boys in the band have not received word on how many were sold in the other states. The four Kewaskum youths comprising the band include Dave Skrentny, guitar and singer; Larry Roesel, lead guitar; Leroy Schultz, bass guitar, and Homer Justman, drums.

She is one of 2,500 amateurs who auditioned for the show. Mrs. Ludwig sings western songs with stereo guitar. It is reported that her audition was well liked and she will be notified in December whether she is to go on to Chicago, where the amateur show will be held.

Frater Adrian William Staehler of St. Michaels, rural Kewaskum, pronounced his solemn vows in the Capuchin Order at St. Mary's Capuchin seminary at Crown Point, Indiana on September 1. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Staehler of Route 1, Kewaskum.

50 Years Ago

September 23, 1938

The primary election on Tuesday brought out a light vote in the Village, Town and County. The Village cast 182 ballots and the Town 88, which in both cases is less than half of the entire voting strength.

Lehman Rosenheimer, Jr., returned Wednesday from a two-day buying trip in the Chicago dress and coat market for the L. Rosenheimer Department Store, with a large selection of the newest styles and fabrics for the fall and winter seasons. Lehman reports that youthful wool plaids are being shown extensively in dresses and has included a choice selection of these with the many silk and silk crepe numbers. Persian and Persian trim coats seem as predominant as plain and figured fabrics this fall and a large selection of both these in green, brown and black complete a well balanced stock to choose from. All dresses and coats are now on display at the L. Rosenheimer Store.

A grand threshers' dance, given by Heberer Bros. and crew will be held at Rudy Kolafa's Hall, New Fane, Sept. 24. Music by Al's Melody Kings, furnishing old time music with an old time swing. Admission is 25c.

Thank You for Supporting Baseball Card Program

On behalf of the Washington County Sheriff's Department, myself as Sheriff, and the citizens of Washington County, I wish to extend sincere appreciation for your generous donation to the Milwaukee Brewer Baseball Card Program being sponsored by this Department.

Previous programs proved that your support will substantially aid in the improvement of relations between the young people of our community and uniformed police officers, and was again termed a "huge" success.

We are grateful for the consideration given by our County business community. Be assured positive contacts such as this program is offering, will contribute towards positive effects on the future of our young people and is definitely a wise investment.

Dear Editor:

Sound investments promise high returns with a minimum of risk. Girl Scouting is one sure investment that yields excellent benefits for girls and their communities, requiring only an enthusiastic commitment of time and talent.

The women and men who volunteer to lead Girl Scout troops are making substantial investments in our community. They are stepping in to see that our girls do not become part of the growing group of young people abusing alcohol and drugs, dropping out of school, facing unemployment and giving up on life by committing suicide.

Girl Scout leaders form key partnerships with girls. They help girls realize their worth, develop sound values and decision-making skills, and turn potentially destructive behavior into positive action. These leaders invest time and support. Girls gain self-confidence and begin exploring their future roles as women. With their personal lives in focus, girls move on to become responsible citizens and make valuable contributions to society.

A good investment pays out dividends for many years. The investment of a Girl Scout leader helps ensure a positive future for girls and for our community and it gives volunteers the benefit of knowing that they have helped mold tomorrow's leaders.

Think about how much you can invest. It can benefit all of us.

Sincerely,

Shirley Reinhardt
President, Board of Directors
Wau-Bun Girl Scout Council

MEDICAL MARVEL

The worried husband phoned his doctor at four A.M.

"Will you rush over? My wife has appendicitis," he pleaded.

"Impossible," yawned the doctor. "Just give her some carbonated soda."

"But doctor, I tell you this is serious."

"Now look, Mr. Jones, three years ago I operated on your wife and took out her appendix. Ever hear of anyone having a second appendix?"

"Doctor, have you ever heard of anyone having a second wife?"

Rodenkirch Elected Chairman Of Dairy Council of Wisconsin

Daniel Rodenkirch

The Dairy Council of Wisconsin and the Dairy Nutrition Council elected officers and members of their board of directors at a joint annual meeting held Aug. 23 in Milwaukee.

There are eight new members on the board, including three from areas other than the dairy industry. They are Jane Armstrong, a food consultant from Oak Brook, Ill.; Chet Bradley of the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction; and Elizabeth Yaeger of the Milwaukee Department of Public Health.

"Because the Dairy Councils work closely with consumers, educators and health professionals, it's important to have their perspectives represented on the board," said Daniel C. Borschke, president of DCW and DNCI.

Daniel Rodenkirch was elected chairman of The Dairy Council of Wisconsin. He replaces Edwin Qualmann, who served two years as chairman. Rodenkirch is a dairy farmer from Kewaskum, Wis. He has been a member of the DCW board of directors for 14 years, serving as first vice chairman for the last three years.

The Dairy Council of Wisconsin and the Dairy Nutrition Council are non-profit nutrition education organizations. The Councils provide nutrition information to the media, educators, consumers, health professionals and corporate groups. DCW serves the entire state of Wisconsin. DNCI serves 17 counties in northern Illinois and Lake County, Ind.

invaluable to us in determining the total wild turkey population," added Katsma.

There have been 439 sightings totalling 2,200 individual birds in the Southern Unit of the Kettle Moraine State Forest since stocking first took place in January, 1986. Andersen estimates the population at around 350 birds.

On the Northern Unit of Kettle Moraine State Forest, there have been 555 reports, totalling 2,869 individual birds, since stocking first took place in January, 1985. Katsma estimates the Northern Unit population at 700.

Kettle Moraine visitors are asked to continue to report sightings. Report cards are available from area businesses near both the Northern and Southern Units.

Wild turkeys have been absent in southeast Wisconsin for over 135 years. Although huntable populations exist in southwestern and central Wisconsin, turkeys in southeast Wisconsin are still protected.

Turkey sightings can be reported to: Dale Katsma, Wildlife Manager, Route 4, Woodchuck Lane, Plymouth, WI 53073, (414) 892-8756 or Mark Andersen, Wildlife Manager, S91 W39091 Highway 59, Eagle, WI 53119, (414) 2135.

Governor Proclaims September As Pedestrian Rights and Safety Month

Governor Tommy Thompson has proclaimed September to be Pedestrian Rights and Safety Month, reminding drivers that the new school term brings a new crop of inexperienced walkers to Wisconsin's crosswalks and roadsides.

"School children and older adults continue to be heavily represented in pedestrian accidents," according to Susan Kavulich, pedestrian and bicycle program manager for the state Department of Transportation.

"It's ironic that while studies find parents worry most about drug pushers and kidnapers, it's actually the motor vehicle driver that is the greatest threat to their children's life and health," Kavulich said.

While inexperience and lack of awareness of the danger may contribute to youthful pedestrian accidents, intoxication is a major factor in between 40 and 50% of the adult pedestrian deaths, Kavulich said.

Although pedestrian education programs are conducted in most elementary schools, safety education ought to begin even earlier. Parents and teachers can help prevent the tragedies involving young children. First of all, pre-schoolers should not be allowed to cross a street alone, but instead taught who can help them cross the street safely.

"When walking with their small children, parents ought to teach by example, and by explaining," Kavulich said. "They should obey traffic laws, and as they do they should explain the importance of stopping at the curb and looking left, right, then left again until traffic has cleared before starting to cross. This will prepare children for the time when they are ready to walk to school by themselves or with classmates," she added.

"Parents should instruct children to use crosswalks where they are most visible, and where drivers usually expect to see pedestrians. It's especially important for young children who may mistakenly believe that if they can see the car, the driver can see them and will be able to stop in time," Kavulich said.

In his proclamation, Thompson pointed out that Wisconsin's "Pedestrian Rights" law spells out the rights that pedestrians have to cross the street safely.

For the first time this year, Pedestrian Rights and Safety Month will also include people in wheel chairs. Thompson signed a bill that broadens the definition of a pedestrian to include people in wheelchairs. State law now extends all the rights and responsibilities of pedestrians to wheelchair users.

Kavulich said many communities have scheduled pedestrian safety programs during September, many of them in conjunction with their local schools.

Porcupines are excellent swimmers because their quills are hollow and help keep them afloat.

Wild Turkey Sightings On The Increase, Says DNR

The number of wild turkeys sighted in southeast Wisconsin has increased, according to Dale Katsma and Mark Andersen, Wildlife Managers for the Department of Natural Resources.

"Reports from interested persons are one of the major methods we use to determine the area that wild turkeys occupy and the areas they prefer," said Andersen.

"We appreciate the public's support and would like to thank everyone who has taken the time to report sightings to us. The information has been

O'Connor Adds Another Jewel To His Champion's Crown

For the second time in less than a month, Mike O'Connor became a fourtime winner of yet another golf tournament at Kewaskum's Hon-E-Kor Golf Course.

With an excellent finishing round of 69 on Sunday, O'Connor became the first fourtime winner of the Kettle Moraine Amateur Tournament. He also claimed the title in 1974, 76 and 85. O'Connor finished the 36-hole tourney with a 146 total.

On Saturday O'Connor came in with a 77, 4 strokes behind then leaders Hilary Martin of West Bend Country Club and Bob Talajkowski of Hartford Country Club, who came into the clubhouse with 3 over par 73's and 3 shots behind Clint Gundrum of WBCC who finished the first round with a 74.

On Sunday O'Connor finished his round ahead of Martin and Talajkowski who found their games being challenged by the tough back nine holes. Talajkowski parred 16, then moved on to the 17th where he four-putted the front green losing two strokes. On 18, he hit a ball into the river and the end result was an 82 for the final 18 holes, leaving him in a tie with Gundrum for fourth place.

On the last three holes, Martin bogeyed, parred and double bogeyed for a final round of 77 and a 36-hole total of 150, tying for runnerup honors with Ted Sprinkmann of WBCC who came away with a 72 on Sunday after a 78 in Saturday's competition.

LAKE STURGEON HOOK AND LINE SEASON NOW OPEN

MADISON, WI — Lake sturgeon hook and line season opened September 3 and runs through October 15.

The creel limit is one sturgeon, at least 45 inches long, per season. Sturgeon anglers are reminded that they must first obtain a tag from the Department of Natural Resources or a DNR-authorized agent.

After a lake sturgeon of legal size is taken, anglers must attach the tag to the fish just above the sturgeon's tail, then register the catch at a DNR registration station no later than 6 p.m. the day after the fish is taken.

The lake sturgeon season is open on all inland waters EXCEPT lakes Poygan, Winneconne, Butte des Morts, Winnebago and connecting waters; the Embarrass River from the Pella Dam (Shawano County) downstream; the Wolf River from the dam at Shawano downstream to Lake Poygan; the Fox River from milepost #63 (Johnson Creek) in Green Lake County to Lake Butte des Morts; and the Nemadji River in Douglas County.

On the Menomonee River, the lake sturgeon hook and line season runs through October 31, and the size limit is 50 inches.

Also, anglers on Lake Wisconsin in Columbia County are reminded of the lake sturgeon consumption advisory due to PCB (polychlorinated biphenyl) contamination. ## Indians Suffer 2nd Loss DePere Abbott Pennings traveled to our Indian field Friday and once again a visiting team took home a victory.

Three plays into the first quarter, Kewaskum's two-way player Mike Heberer was down with a knee injury that put him out of the game for the night. After that, DePere scored its first touchdown on a 17 yard run by John Schneider. The extra point kick was good by Tom Benkowski. First quarter score 7-0.

The second quarter was also dominated by DePere with Schneider again scoring this time on a 5 yard run and DePeres Pete Opicka scored on a 2 yard run. Both extra point kicks were "good" by Benkowski and at the half DePere led 21-0.

Kewaskum put a touchdown on the board with a beautiful 22 yard run by Senior Joel Serwe. The two point conversion attempt proved unsuccessful and thus the 6 Indian points was all they could get on the scoreboard.

The fourth quarter proved long and dismal as our Indian defense couldn't stop DePere's Schneider who scored for his third time on a 4 yard run. DePere's Opichka picked off a pass by Kewaskum's quarterback Brian Leitheiser and ran 16 yards for yet another DePere touchdown. Benkowski was 5 for 5 on extra point kicks. Final score DePere 35 - Kewaskum 6. Said Coach Pearson of the game, "It's hard when your quarterback gets hurt right at the start of the game. We also had a record number of turnovers which didn't help the score any." Kewaskum's Serwe had a decent performance for the night carrying the ball for a total of 92 yds. in the loss.

The Indians travel to Two Rivers Friday night in hopes of bringing home a victory. Their conference record is 2-2.

JV's Consistency Helps Win 2; Varsity Splits In Volleyball

Last Thursday, Kewaskum had a home game against Sheboygan Falls. The Varsity had a tough first game but couldn't pull it through. The scores were 16-14, 15-8, and 15-6 with the Falls winning them all. Monday against Kiel, they won the first and second game's to take the match. The scores were 16-14, 15-13, and 2-15.

The J.V. team was hot both games. Against Sheboygan Falls, they took the match by winning all 3 games, the scores being 15-6, 15-4, and 15-12. Good serves were made by Mary Jo Breit, Lora Delcore, and Shelly Kasserker. The J.V.'s spiking is also improving. Good spiking came from Tracey Steinert and Amy Chesak.

The J.V.'s also took the match in 3 games against Kiel. The scores were 15-7, 15-7, and 15-5. Good serves were by Nicole Doherty, Kim Stielow, Marlene Wodsedalek, Lora Delcore, Kelly Rohlinger, and Nicole Gaffke. The spiking was 75%. The top spiking was Tracey Steinert.

The freshmen lost to Sheboygan Falls and beat Kiel in a 2-1 match.

Monday was parents' night and the KHS volleyball players and coaches would like to thank all the parents for attending. It was a big success and a victory.

“IT'S TIME TO GET STUCK ON A GOOD HOBBY
INSTEAD OF GLUED TO THE TELEVISION”

144 N. Main Street • West Bend • Wisconsin • 53095 • 334-0487

From Tom's Desk

WELL IT HAS BEEN A WHILE since I have written all of you, and so many things have happened since the last time I wrote. First I will talk about the R/C department and R/C Raceway. As of Oct. 1st the new R/C car club will be running all the races at West Bend Hobbies. This club is in the formation stages now and we should be ready to start races again in October. We would like to have the first race and meeting either the last week of Sept. or the first week of Oct.. Right now we do not have a date for the meeting so please call down to the store (334-0487) for the date and time of the meeting. All regular club information will appear in our monthly mailer. If you are not on our mailing list, stop in, sign up. IT'S FREE!

ON R/C EQUIPMENT. We have lined ourselves up with some new suppliers and I can make this promise now. We can come within $5.00 of any advertised price on any R/C equipment you will need. And that goes not only for cars and boats, but also on any plane kits, radios, and related items. And special orders are never a problem. If there is something that you want that we don't have, Delivery from our suppliers runs only 2 to 3 days in most cases, so we can have your items to you within a week. And if you have a problem, just come on in, its not that far, we are there to help you! Its not like you need to drop it in the mail and hope for the best. Wouldn't it be nice to have a place so close to do all your hobby shopping.

We have been talking about getting some model building classes together for some time. But the more and more I thought about it classes seemed so regimented. So we came up with our own way. We came up with what we call our COME BUILD WITH US nights. These are evenings were some of our master model builders are down at the store, and you can come down and "Build With US". Our experts will be there to offer hints and tips on how to improve your modeling skills or just to lend an extra hand to hold those parts in place while the glue sets. Right now we are planning evenings for plastic models, rockets, trains, and dollhouse. More information will follow in our monthly mailer. And if you are not on our mailing list, stop in, sign up. IT'S FREE!

We are Planning our next model contest for the second week of November.

With the great turn out we had at our first contest I am sure that this one will also be a great success. I do ask that if you are planning on entering any models to please pre-register. There were so many walk ins last time that we were not prepared for that everything just got jumbled together. Please Pre-register!!! The Preregistration forms will be available after October 1st.

Well the progress on the train layout has been pretty much non-existent this summer. But I vow now to have it looking like a almost completed layout by Christmas. So I will be needing some help. We are planning to implement our Come Build With Us program on the layout. Stop in and sign up now!!

That's about all I have to say for now. Our mailer will be starting up as a monthly thing again. So if you have something you want to add. Drop it off and we will see if we can fit it in. And don't forget to stop in and pick up some of our information sheets. They took us all summer to put together and now they are ready for you.

"Radio Control Models, A Bold Alternative To Conventional Modelers" Free Practice Racing on our Super Indoor Carpet Track, Best In Wisconsin!

"IT'S TIME TO GET STUCK ON A GOOD HOBBY INSTEAD OF GLUED TO THE TELEVISION"

EXCITEMENT, FRIENDSHIP, SATISFACTION, and great fun is what radio control hobbying is all about. As a newcomer to the sport, you probably have some questions, so our staff at West Bend Hobbies has attempted to answer most of your "first time" questions in this ad. Take a few minutes to read it through and get a better understanding of radio control hobbying. If you have any other questions, we would be happy to help you.

How Does Radio Control Actually Work?

Today's lightweight radios transmit a signal over a select and limited number of frequencies, to a receiver located on-board the model car, boat, or aircraft. These powerful transmitter signals can carry well over a mile. The receiver in the model "translates" the signal, which directs a small, powerful "servo" motor. The movement of the servo's control arm (or wheel), is connected to the model's controls through a series of cables and linkages. This causes the control surfaces, steer wheels, and/or ship rudder to move in the desired direction. These control movements are in direct proportion to the transmitter control stick movements used to operate the model.

What Are All The Sticks, Levers, And Switches On Most Radios?

They're really very simple and are no more complicated to use than your pocket calculator. It only takes a few minutes reviewing the owner's manual to understand their use.

Depending on the type of transmitter, the basic control functions are located on:

- a. the two slim control sticks in the center of the transmitter
- b. the single control wheel (or)
- c. the stick on the right side

The remaining switches and controls are used for applying small amounts of "trim". These functions enable the model to fly or track smoothly, or are used for "mixing" control functions together automatically.
