Kewaskum Man Presumed Drowned In Lake Winnebago

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Chief Deputy Ed Henke of the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department, confirmed Tuesday morning, that a Kewaskum man is missing and presumed drowned in Lake Winnebago.

The apparent victim has been identified as David J. Ziegelbauer, 45, of 8735 Highway 45, Kewaskum.

According to information released by the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department, the incident began about 9:00 a.m., Monday morning when Ziegelbauer and his sixteen year-old son went on to Lake Winnebago with their ATV (all-terrain vehicle), off Calumetville to go ice fishing.

Around 11:30 a.m., the pair apparently noticed open water and saw other people trying to get off the lake. Ziegelbauer and the boy apparently could not return to their point of entry onto the lake because of the open water. They proceeded south to find a place to cross but could not.

Conditions were windy and snowy and it is thought the pair became disoriented and came all the way down southeast on the lake. Around 2:00 p.m., a Welling Beach resident reported seeing two people. Later, around 2:30 p.m., the two were sighted near Bechaud Beach, north of the lake's south shore near Fond du Lac.

A resident reported seeing two people then all of a sudden one disappeared apparently breaking through the ice. The younger individual got on the ATV and ultimately headed west-southwest from the point of the last sighting point. Henke stated the youth was ultimately rescued at that location about 3:00 p.m., by Department of Natural Resources and Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department personnel.

Henke said a search party had been organized and the department's Diving Team assembled. However, he did not hold out much hope that the man would be found. "It's really treacherous out there," said Henke, "there is a lot of open water and the ice is continually shifting back and forth."

Henke said the searchers and divers would continue to look for Ziegelbauer, however, the wind and weather conditions were expected to deteriorate in the afternoon. He indicated in that case no personnel would be endangered and the search would be suspended. Henke was hoping that residents who last saw the two people on the lake would be able to pinpoint the area to aid searchers. "At this point," said Henke, "we are presuming the individual has drowned."

Shane Relinquishes Coroner's Post

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Although he won the post of Washington County coroner by fairly beating the other candidates, Jim Shane has decided not to take office in January.

Shane made the decision after an opinion by state's Attorney General Donald Hanaway indicated Shane's holding the coroner's post while retaining his position as a full time West Bend police officer, would not be compatible. County Corporate Counsel Pat Faragher had asked Hanaway to make a decision about Shane's situation.

Rather than take the issue to court and take the risk of losing his job as police officer, Shane decided to resign as coroner. He expressed his disappointment with the situation noting he had asked for legal opinions about the possibility of a conflict of interest before he had even begun to campaign for the job. At that time, there seemed to be no problem.

Shane, who has been with the West Bend Police Department since 1974, would have had to pay back any salary earned as an officer while he served as coroner. The coroner's job is a part time position while Shane earns approximately $14 an hour as a full time policeman.

Faragher indicated one other candidate who ran for coroner is a city employe and he did not know if this also would present another conflict.

Governor Tommy Thompson has been asked to appoint a replacement for Shane.

In another unrelated issue, Hanaway has been asked to look into the legal ramifications of defeated incumbent Washington County Sheriff Clarence Schwartz's returning to the sheriff's department as a deputy.

Schwartz has been considering returning to the force, however, one of the questions at issue is his seniority. Hanaway is being asked to decide whether the time Schwartz served as Sheriff, outside of the bargaining unit (union), can be counted towards his seniority if and when he returns in the position of a deputy. Hanaway will have to carefully review this point before rendering a decision since it could affect other individuals in similar circumstances throughout the state.

WEAC's State Convention On the Move to Madison

MADISON — The Wisconsin Education Association Council, representing nearly 50,000 teachers and public school employees, has announced that it will hold its annual state convention in Madison starting next fall.

The WEAC convention in late October attracts up to 15,000 teachers and school support personnel annually and is one of the oldest and the largest convention held annually in the state. For the last 93 years the convention has been held in Milwaukee.

"WEAC is very excited about the prospects of holding our convention in the capital city," said WEAC President James Blank. "The move to Madison gives WEAC members a unique opportunity to make use of the city's vast educational and governmental resources."

Blank credited the joint efforts of Madison and Dane county officials with helping WEAC reach a five-year agreement on the Madison convention site. Because of its size, WEAC will hold convention sessions at the Dane County Coliseum, the University of Wisconsin field-house and at several Madison hotels.

To celebrate the move, next fall's convention will feature a series of top-notch educational and public figures as speakers, Blank predicted.

The impetus to move the WEAC convention out of Milwaukee came at the request of its members after the Milwaukee Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce and area business leaders publicly opposed teacher efforts to have surplus earnings in the state's retirement fund used to provide earlier teacher retirement benefits.

Dean of UW Center to Retire In February

Kewaskum Statesman,

Robert O. Thompson has announced that he will be retiring in February after 16 years as the dean of the University of Wisconsin Center — Washington County, West Bend.

Thompson's announcement came at a specially called meeting of the UWWC Collegium, the governing body of the freshman-sophomore center. He told the 30 faculty, staff and students in attendance that he had reached his decision after "wrestling" with it for several weeks.

"This is a difficult decision," he said. "But after considering all the factors, I know it is the right one."

According to Thompson, UW Centers Chancellor Stephen Portch will name a search and screen committee to conduct a national search for his replacement. An acting dean will be appointed in February to serve until a new dean is selected, probably by next June.

Thompson told the collegium meeting that he had concluded that his resignation would come at "a good time" for UWWC. He said, "The campus is in excellent shape in terms of program and staff." During a recent budget hearing in Madison, he reported, UW Centers leaders had called UWWC "a model campus."

Along with campus considerations, Thompson listed a number of personal factors among his reasons for retiring, including his age and his family.

He said, "I just had my 63rd birthday. I have always intended to retire before 65."

The timing, he added, also was influenced by his desire to spend more time with his family, travel, work on some research and writing projects and "roam the Lake Michigan beaches in search of Petosky stones."

Thompson is the second dean to serve UWWC. He was appointed in the spring of 1973, less than five years after the campus opened. During his tenure, enrollments grew from around 500 students to a record 856 students this fall.

A highlight of his service was his leadership in obtaining a major expansion of campus facilities in the early 1980s. A final go-ahead for a second expansion is expected in February from the Washington County Board and West Bend Common Council.

"I think we will get the needed facilities," Thompson told the collegium Monday. "I intend to be involved in the final approval in February."

During his announcement, Thompson looked back on his years at UWWC. "It's been a very exciting 16 years," he said. "It will be difficult to leave. It's been a good job — challenging and rewarding, never boring or routine."

But, he added, he has learned over the years that "it is not only important to commit yourself to something but also to be willing to let go."

Thompson said he plans to work with the acting dean to accomplish "the easiest and best transition." He said, "Much needs to be passed on."

After the session, those in attendance expressed surprise and sadness at the announcement. One staff member told Thompson, "There are three people I'd hate to have to follow in a job: Vince Lombardi, Al McGuire and Bob Thompson."

I'll Keep That Resolution

Husband: "One important New Year's resolution I've made is not to lose my temper."

Wife: "And you intend to keep that resolution no matter what?"

Husband: "Certainly!"

Wife: "Well, in that case I'll tell you—I—I had an accident with the car this morning."

I AM HERE!

I am here, ready or not, but once past, I shall never return again. How will you use the precious gift of time that I extend to you?

In each hour of three hundred and sixty five days I will give you sixty minutes. It remains for you to fill them with sixty seconds of hope, love, honest endeavor, patience, trust in God and kindness to your fellow man.

I am the New Year, clean and unspoiled, unused in any way. Each day I will provide a new leaf in your Book of Life and upon these pages you will place your imprint.

UWWC Group Takes Fifth Annual Tour Of London Theatres

Twelve students, faculty and area community members are participating in the fifth annual London Theatre Tour of the University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County.

During the Dec. 27 through Jan. 11 trip, the group will see four plays in London's West End theatre district: "Candide," "Les Miserables," "Starlight Express" and an undetermined fourth show.

In addition, the group will attend an Elizabethan banquet at the Hatfield House, a castle the new Elizabethan era was proclaimed after the death of Queen Victoria died. The banquet is a multi-course meal that lasts from late afternoon until 1 a.m. and features madrigal singers and wandering minstrels.

Brad Ford, assistant professor of communication and theater arts at UWWC, said students will pay about $15 for "hot ticket shows" compared to $50 to $60 for comparable seats on Broadway.

Leading the tour with Ford is his wife, Jan, associate director of student services at UWWC.

The UWWC group will stay in three service flats in the Bayswater area, about two blocks from Hyde Park. On their first day in London, they will have an orientation walking tour of the theatre district, Buckingham Palace, Westminster Abbey, Big Ben, the Parliament, the Thames River and the Cabinet War Rooms where Winston Churchill planned World War II strategy.

During their stay, the UWWC visitors will have free passes to ride subways in "the tube" and on the red double-decker buses.

The trip will allow participants plenty of free time to explore special interests, Jan Ford said, explaining that she and her husband plan to go to an afternoon tea dance, the opera and a concert by the London Symphony Orchestra.

She sees many values for UWWC students in a trip abroad. "It really opens their eyes," she said. "You think of the English as being the same as you, but when you get over there, their customs and behavior are different. It's a different country, but the English language makes it easier to experience it."

This will be Jan's fourth trip to London. For her, personally, she said, "I gained such an appreciation of how young our country is. You walk through a castle that's been there since the 800s or visit some Roman ruins that are 1500 years old, and you look at America as being kind of a baby."

Tour members come from eight area communities and include: Germantown: Maggie Hurley, Denise Schultz; Hubertus: Marlo Zernia; Kewaskum: Mary McNamara; Menomonee Falls: Scott Christensen; Mequon: Jodi Larson and Mary-Kay Schram; Milwaukee: Maureen Dwyer; Slinger: Michele Klingbiel; West Bend: Patricia Dorn.

Plant Your Own Family Tree

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Kewaskum Postmaster Frank Beesten has announced that the United States Postal Service, in conjunction with the American Association of Retired People (AARP) and the National Genealogical Society, has launched a national "Plant a Family Tree" campaign.

During the campaign, free fill-in family tree charts will be available at the post office and Kewaskum Library. The family tree charts will offer suggestions on how to get started and where to get help in researching trees. The purpose of the campaign is to encourage Americans to learn about their family heritage and their place in the history of this country.

The organizations feel people realize, after they have become adults, and sometimes too late, what a rich opportunity they missed as children by not getting to know their grandparents better. American families no longer stay in one place, moving across the country and, in some cases, the world, growing up with little knowledge of their own families and roots, their heritage or their place in history.

There are many ways of re-establishing contact with family members including writing one another and talking to older members of the family about your ancestors. Look back through old family bibles and other documents such as birth certificates, marriage licenses, even old letters from one family member to another. Other sources of information and places to get help on your search are The National Archives, The National Genealogical Society, and The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, which has the largest collection of genealogical information in the world.

Local libraries and historical societies are also excellent sources of information or at least, starting points for your research.

To start your family tree simply pick up one of the free charts at the post office or library.

Quit Smoking In the New Year

"I resolve to..."

It's a common phrase around this time of year as people usher in the new year with self-improvement resolutions. As the lights go up and the clock strikes midnight, they promise to eat fewer sweets, begin that long postponed exercise program or make more time for the family.

While many New Year's resolutions fall by the wayside within a week of conception, the American Lung Association of Wisconsin hopes there's at least one that will get the consideration and commitment it deserves:

"I resolve to quit smoking."

The chance to turn over a new leaf of health encourages many smokers to renew their effort to kick the habit. But resolutions are just the beginning of a process that requires determination and practice.

The American Lung Association of Wisconsin provides a variety of stop-smoking programs to help smokers make good on their resolutions. The Cigarette Break-Away is a three-hour program combining hypnosis with group activities and information on positive alternatives to smoking. A clinical psychologist uses hypnosis to focus participants' subconscious on their desire to quit smoking.

The Freedom From Smoking workshop teaches weight control and stress management as it focuses on the quitting process. A trained counselor helps participants learn to handle situations which trigger their smoking and develop individual plans for dealing with the physical, social and emotional aspects of quitting.

For a more detailed listing of the stop-smoking programs in your area, please call the Lung Association toll-free at 1-(800) 242-5160, or in Milwaukee at 258-9100.

Call the Statesman for all your advertising needs.

ON THE ROCKS

In some places the ice cap that covers Antarctica is over 3 miles thick. According to Ranger Rick magazine, that's about the same as 13 Empire State Buildings stacked on top of each other.

The 'Fantasticks' Fantastic!

The 5th hour Theatrical Literature class of Mrs. Lori Telschow had the opportunity to attend the longest running play on Broadway, "The Fantasticks," last Thursday, Dec. 15th.

The Fantasticks, with a modern day Romeo and Juliet type plot, was performed superbly by six actors and one actress. There was satire, humor, and a lesson to be learned by all as this story told of the lives of two scheming fathers trying to marry off their kids to each other.

"I really enjoyed the play" was the general comment of all students involved. Hopefully there will be more such opportunities in the future for the students to see a first rate performance at the PAC.

Birkholz Named Assistant Vice President at WB Mutual

Shirley Birkholz

The Board of Directors of West Bend Mutual Insurance Company recently announced the promotion of Shirley Birkholz to Assistant Vice President — Methods and Procedures.

Birkholz has been with West Bend Mutual since 1951. She served as an inland marine underwriter and then as administrative coordinator before she was named Methods and Procedures manager in January 1988. As assistant vice president, she oversees the department primarily responsible for assisting personnel in the effective application of the company's computer system.

Number of Women-Owned Businesses at Record High

Madison, WI — The number of women-owned businesses is continuing its long-term growth, according to new government figures. The Internal Revenue Service recently published 1986 figures for women-owned sole proprietorships. Between 1980 and 1986 the number of women-owned sole proprietorships grew from 2.5 to 4.1 million, an increase of 64%. During the same period, business receipts doubled from $36 to $72 billion.

James Abdnor, Administrator of the Small Business Administration (SBA), in commenting on the new figures, said, "Women-owned businesses are currently the fastest growing segment of the economy and I believe that what we are seeing today is just the beginning. As these businesses mature, their share of the market and of total sales is also expected to increase."

Between 1985 and 1986 the number of receipts of women-owned sole proprietorships increased by 10%. The number of women-owned firms increased from 3.7 to 4.1 million and receipts increased from $65 to $72 billion. Another plus is that women's share of all sole proprietorships and receipts also increased from 1985 levels, from 28% to 30% and 12-13% respectively.

Carol M. Crockett, director of SBA's Office of Women's Business Ownership, said, "These figures are very encouraging and illustrate the contribution women are making to the health of our nation's economy. Women are truly participants in the economic mainstream and are succeeding in our nation's dynamic entrepreneurial economy."

All programs administered by the Small Business Administration are equal opportunity programs and are administered to insure non-discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, marital status, national origin or any other basis not related to creditworthiness or lawful qualifications.

The better a woman looks, the longer a man does.

Home Heating Systems Should Be Checked

Even though the heat is turned on, consumers should have their central heating systems inspected this winter, say government safety experts.

"Central heating equipment should be inspected annually by a qualified heating contractor," says Jane Jansen, Consumer Protection Director with the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection.

The contractor should look for possible overheating or fuel leaks which may cause a fire or explosion. This includes testing the furnace or boiler, electrical and mechanical components, valves, thermostat controls, and automatic safety switches.

Consumers should also request the contractor check the venting system. Chimneys and flues should be clear at all times so exhaust gases, especially carbon monoxide, are properly vented outside.

Jansen cautioned homeowners to beware of carbon monoxide fumes. "The silent killer" is colorless and odorless. Harmful carbon monoxide levels cause people to have flu-type symptoms, according to U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission reports.

If the contractor finds soot accumulation in the chimney, a chimney sweep should clean the chimney and flue.

For more information, call any DATCP consumer protection regional office in Eau Claire, Green Bay, Milwaukee, or Madison, or the toll-free hotline, 1-800-362-3020.

New Year's Pin Money

On New Year's one English custom was for husbands to give their wives enough money to buy a year's supply of pins. This was where our term of "pin money" originated. Later this custom was dropped as pins started being manufactured by machines.

Iowa, Walworth and Ozaukee Counties Recognized by DHI

Ozaukee-Washington DHI Manager Dennis Diedrich receives the small county membership award from DHI President Don Long at the 1988 state convention.

Wisconsin Dairy Herd Improvement Cooperative (WDHIC) recognized nine counties for outstanding membership achievements at its state convention, Dec. 9-10 in Green Bay. Counties were recognized on increased DHI membership over the past year. Iowa county placed first in the large county division with a 5.7 percent increase. Iowa DHI is managed by Dan DeMuth. Chippewa placed third, Barron second in the large county division. In the medium county division, Walworth county had the largest increase at just under nine percent. Walworth county is part of WDHIC Whitewater, which is managed by Field Service Director Ron Meyer and Manager Joel Amdall. Washington county placed second, and Buffalo placed third in the division. In the small county division, Ozaukee had the largest increase in members with a 13 percent increase. Washington DHI is managed by Dennis Diedrich. Ashland had the second largest increase and Juneau the third largest. Currently, more than 15,000 dairy herds in Wisconsin are on a DHI program.

Farmers to Receive Special One-Time Property Tax Credit

Farmers may not be aware of it, but a special one-time property tax credit will be available to them next year. A measure, passed by the Legislature during the height of the drought, provides a 10-percent property tax credit to all farmers regardless of whether they suffered losses due to the drought. The maximum credit is $1000.

"I look at it as a down payment on permanent and more substantial property tax relief," said Don Haldeman, president of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation (WFBF). He urged voters to carefully question candidates on their sincerity in cutting property taxes.

The program will provide $21.4 million in property tax relief. Although the WFBF Board of Directors had asked for a 30 percent reduction, Haldeman said the credit was a "nice gesture" by legislators and recognized property tax inequity and the impact of the drought on farm income.

The measure became effective when Peter Senn, state executive director of the Wisconsin State ASCS Office, certified in late August that 52 percent of the state's crops were lost. The legislation specified that losses had to be at least 40 percent before the credit would be given.

In order to obtain the 10 percent credit, farmers must fill out a special section of their state income tax form. Credit will be given on 1988 taxes filed in 1989 and will not appear on property tax bills. Farmers who owe state income taxes will have the property tax credit deducted from the amount owed. Those who don't owe state income taxes will receive a refund check for the amount of their property tax credit.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

December 13, 1988

Dear Editor:

As a reader of the Vilas County News Review, I felt this letter to the Editor dated November 23, was important enough to get maximum coverage; therefore, with the permission of Jan Russell, Three Lakes, WI., I am forwarding it to you for consideration in your newspaper.

Thank You.

Sincerely,
Robert Dierking

The letter is as follows:

Dear Editor,

Recently a North Woods mother was tried and convicted of deliberately choosing to take the life of her two young children because she didn't want them any more. She was interviewed on national television from her prison cell, and the live TV audience was clearly enraged at this unthinkable, heinous act, and demonstrated no mercy whatsoever.

And yet 4,000 mothers a day are choosing to kill their unwanted preborn children at various stages of development up until birth, because it's been made legal for them to do so. Jamie Goodrum bludgeoned her children to death and is in prison because the law says she has to pay for her crime. One million five hundred thousand mothers a year walk into abortion clinics or hospitals and submit their children into the hands of an executioner. He can lawfully scrape their offspring away from the uterus, tear them into pieces with a vacuum apparatus, burn them to death with a salt solution, or administer a prostaglandin chemical causing some babies to be born alive and left to die of neglect and starvation. Neither the mother nor the "doctor" will ever be tried or convicted of murder, nor will the owner of the abortion clinic and all those who attended the mother ever be tried and convicted of being accessories to a crime.

Ironically, the only difference between the Jamie Goodrums who are serving a sentence for murder and those who are free to commit their crime again - and again - is TIME. Preborn children have just begun their journey into the miracle of life, the Goodrum children had traveled there just a little longer. Or, could it be that murder of preborn children is excused and allowed because we can't SEE the color of his hair or her eyes, or hear his voice or hold her tiny little hand?

The hearts of a fragmented world were touched and our cheers went up in unison when little Jessica was freed from her potential tomb, and the Alaskan Gray Whales were finally released from their prison of ice. Together we rejoiced that their lives were spared, and the celebration will linger long.

What then is happening to the human race? Why do we place such a high value on some life, but not on ALL life? One hundred years ago the black man was considered to be a non-person. Today we look back with pride on those who worked to restore his dignity. We are ashamed of those who did not. One hundred years from now, will future generations look back on us with pride for the way in which we have preserved the sacredness of human life? Or will they be ashamed?

Practices once viewed as unthinkable are now acceptable. The destruction of human life, young and old, is being increasingly sanctioned by the medical profession, by the courts, by parents, and by silent Christians. We have an obligation to affirm the absolute uniqueness and intrinsic value of human life because we are created in the image of God. Cultures can be judged in many ways, but the final measure of mankind's humanity is how humanely people treated one another.

Yad Vashem is a monument in Jerusalem to the six million Jews and others who were killed in the Nazi Holocaust. What kind of memorial will be erected one day for the 22.5 million children destroyed thus far by the abortion holocaust?

There are choices to be made in every age. And who we are depends on the choices we make. What will our choices be?

Sincerely,
Jan Russell

Two village youths were injured in a collision which occurred at 1:05 a.m. Sunday on Fond du Lac Avenue, at the intersection with North Ave. Injured were William Sengpiel, 19, who suffered lacerations to his face and hands, and a passenger in his car David Hanselman, 20, who incurred a scalp laceration which required two stitches.

Cub Scout News

Cub Scouts keep busy working on advancement and November was no exception. The scouts worked on the theme of "see it and do it." They took a tour of the West Bend Flying Service, studied about stars and planets, which included star gazing with a telescope.

The dens made bird feeders which helped them complete one of their achievements which helps them advance.

The Pack participated in the Scouting for Food Drive where the scouts put bags on house doors one week and asked the community to fill the bags with food for the needy and the next week they picked up the filled bags and took them to our local food pantry. We wish to thank those who helped make the food drive a success.

The boys also had some fun at their meetings, singing songs and playing games and performing magic tricks.

JANUARY 3 MEETING OF RIVEREDGE BIRD CLUB

The January 3 meeting of the Riveredge Bird Club will feature a discussion of the pros and cons of field guides used to identify birds, slides from a recent trip to Costa Rica by Andy Larsen, and a review of the Christmas bird count. The Club meets on the first Tuesday of the month at 7 p.m. at the Riveredge Nature Center, located on Highway Y just north of Newburg. All meetings are open to the public and there is no charge or dues to attend.

County Totals for Catholic Stewardship Appeal Announced

Pledges from Washington County parishes to the 1988 Catholic Stewardship Appeal increased $34,903 over last year. With a goal of $268,078, a total of $297,994 was pledged. 5,756 people, or 54% of all potential donors, contributed. The average gift was $51.77.

As of November 7, $282,012.32 had been paid. As early as mid-October, reports showed that the Appeal had significantly passed its goal of $6 million for the entire 10 counties of the Archdiocese of Milwaukee. Archbishop Rembert G. Weakland said, "I am personally most grateful to all who contributed to the Stewardship Appeal. The needs were especially varied this past year and so my appreciation is even more profound."

The Appeal, which ends December 31, funds Archdiocesan programs and services available to the 21 parishes in Washington County. These include: Christian formation programs, seminarian education, social ministry services and programs, youth ministry programs, ministry to the disabled, and many more.

Recycling Christmas Trees Saves Landfill Space

MADISON, WI — Christmas trees are not included in a law that will prohibit disposing of yard wastes and woody vegetative materials in landfills, but that doesn't mean Christmas trees need take up valuable landfill space.

Although the law, which passed last spring, does not go into effect until January 1, 1993, Department of Natural Resources Assistant Recycling Coordinator Kate Cooper says it has generated several inquiries this holiday season as to whether Christmas trees are considered yard waste.

While the law does not include Christmas trees, Cooper points out "there is no earthly reason why Christmas trees should be put in landfills." She acknowledges, however, that is probably where many Wisconsin Christmas trees end up.

As an alternative, Cooper says the DNR would like to see communities recycle Christmas trees by chipping them for mulch or to be composted.

Recycling Christmas trees is not a new idea. The City of San Diego, Calif., has been doing it for almost 20 years. In most cases, Cooper says, municipalities use the mulch in parks or as a bed for trails.

The idea has begun to catch on in Wisconsin. The City of Brookfield uses the chips from Christmas trees in city parks and lets residents pick up chips for use in their own yards or gardens. Madison also chips Christmas trees; the chips are used by an area chicken farmer to compost chicken manure.

Communities may run into some obstacles establishing a Christmas tree recycling program, but Cooper notes that there are creative means of getting around them.

A successful program would need a heavy duty tree chipper that can handle material the size of Christmas trees. "Several communities could go in together to purchase or rent a mobile chipper," she suggests.

Collecting the trees and funding personnel to operate the chipper also pose challenges. In some cities in other states the program is run by service organizations or clubs as a fund-raising event; people drop off trees at a site and then contribute a nominal fee for the service.

"It could be an opportunity for groups to raise money while generating publicity about recycling," Cooper says.

Besides saving landfill space, "recycling Christmas trees is a good way to return to the soil something that brings people so much holiday joy," Cooper says.

January 3 First Day To Reserve Campsites

MADISON, WI — Do you have a favorite campsite at a state park or forest that you would like to camp at on a specific weekend next year?

If so, mark January 3, 1989, on your calendar as the first day to reserve sites at state campgrounds. Reservations will be accepted for the period from May 1 through the last weekend in October.

Approximately 2,000 of the total 5,300 campsites at 39 state parks, forests and recreational areas may be reserved in advance.

Reservations must be made using a Department of Natural Resources family campsite reservation application and delivered by mail or in person to the park or forest office where you plan to camp. The applications are available at state park, forest and other DNR offices.

DNR offices will not accept any application for the 1989 season that is postmarked or received prior to January 3, 1989. Applications will be processed according to the date they are postmarked or delivered in person, and will grant reservations for each day by random selection.

Application forms list all parks, forests and recreation areas that accept advanced reservations. You must specify the site number you would like to reserve and indicate whether you'll accept an alternate site if your first selection has already been reserved.

You may reserve sites with or without electricity, as well as sites designated for the disabled. Reservations must be made for a minimum of two nights, or a minimum of three nights on holiday weekends.

Separate applications are required for each individual site and applications must include full payment for the number of nights reserved plus a $3 reservation fee. Camping fees will be refunded if the reservation is cancelled in writing no later than four days before the site is to be occupied. The reservation fee will not be refunded.

According to Dave Weizenicker, director of the DNR's Bureau of Parks and Recreation, reservable campsites are usually filled on most weekends at several of the state's most popular parks.

Weizenicker recommends anyone wishing to reserve sites at Devil's Lake, Peninsula, Mirror Lake, Governor Dodge and Kohler-Andrae to file their applications early in the year. However, reserved sites are often available for weekends at many other state parks, such as Amnicon Falls, Copper Falls, Interstate, Lake Wissota, Merrick and Nelson Dewey.

Although you are only required to submit reservation applications to the park or forest office a minimum of seven days prior to the date you wish to camp, Weizenicker suggests you reserve sites early.

Search and Rescue

What is the Search and Rescue Team?

It is another service which is provided by the Washington County Association of Snowmobile Clubs (WCASC). It is the member snowmobile clubs which have organized people and equipment to help either local police departments or the county sheriff's department in severe winter storms. These teams can handle a variety of duties: searching for stranded people, delivery of all types of supplies to people who are snowbound, or getting people to needed medical help or medical help to them.

Our county is split into four zones. We have a coordinator who works with the sheriff's department. Each zone has a leader and co-leader. The leader organizes a team of people to respond to calls from the coordinator. These teams have snowmobiles and rescue equipment ready so if a call comes in we can respond. 1987 was the first time in several years that we had to mobilize these teams. It took us less than two hours to have the teams and equipment ready to serve the county. Our county residents listened well to local police and sheriff departments and stayed indoors. We were not called out in that storm, but we were ready if we had been called. These are all volunteers who are snowmobilers and are ready to help when asked.

Please support your local clubs by joining. Be a part of serving your community through your snowmobile club.

Higher Prices Expected At Hay Auctions

Expect higher prices than last year at the quality-tested hay auctions scheduled throughout the state through April.

Prices are already higher because of hay shortages caused by the 1988 drought, according to Terry Howard, University of Wisconsin - Madison extension dairy scientist. The extent of the shortage is no known, he says.

"Hay will be of varying quality this year," adds Howard. Some hay is better than usual because it received no rain damage; however, hay from set-aside acreage is of poorer quality, he says.

"Hay auctions are a simple and logical way for those who have hay to obtain market value," Howard says. "Hay auctions provide opportunity for buyers to get the quality of hay they want and help establish what price various qualities of hay are worth."

All hay must arrive at the auction site no later than 10:30 a.m. on the day of sale. Sales begin at noon.

The auctions in our area will be at Lomira on the following dates: Jan. 6, Jan. 20, Feb. 17, Mar. 3, Mar. 17, Apr. 7 and Apr. 21. Contact Pat O'Brien at (414)269-4351.

The National Exercise For Life Institute

Plan For Indoor Exercise During Winter's Uncertain Weather

"Winter's cold, rain, and snow bring many people's outdoor exercise programs to a halt; yet a regular exercise program may be more important during the winter than at any other time of year," according to Diane DeMarco, executive director of the National Exercise for Life Institute.

The extra activities and stress of the holidays, coupled with fewer hours of sunlight and the hassle of nasty weather and long days indoors, can bring on cabin fever and "the blues."

However, regular exercise stimulates the brain's production of the hormone norepinephrine, which is related to emotional stability. Exercise may also stimulate substances in the brain called endorphins. These chemicals are referred to as "natural opiates" because they give a natural feeling of well-being.

"Regular aerobic exercise is important because it helps you to maintain and improve your flexibility, strength and endurance. It also improves your mental acuity and helps you to manage stress," said Dale Moss, M.S., clinical exercise physiologist at Abbott Northwestern Hospital in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

People who live in "winter cities," where the average January temperature is 32 degrees Fahrenheit, especially need to plan for winter exercise activities, noted DeMarco. Cities in this category include Minneapolis, Chicago, Spokane, Washington and Kansas City, Missouri. However, parts of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas average between 40 and 80 days of snow cover per year.

"Even in warmer parts of the nation, people can't rely on being able to pursue their regular outdoor exercise activities year-round," said DeMarco.

"The exercise people select should be something they enjoy, and be endurance-based," noted

Moss. "Cross-country skiing, of course, is the Cadillac of aerobic exercise," he added.

Fitness experts agree that cross-country skiing is the world's best exercise because it uses all of the major muscles in the body. Even in snow-belt states, however, cross-country skiing is not always available.

In fact, it was the exceptionally cold winter of 1975, plus temporary lack of suitable snow, that inspired cross-country ski enthusiast Ed Pauls to invent the NordicTrack cross-country ski exercise machine.

"NordicTrack simulates the motions of cross-country skiing, but it also became popular with non-skiers because it provides a convenient, total-body workout," said Pauls, a mechanical design engineer and the chairman of NordicTrack. "Today, 75 percent of all NordicTrack owners have never cross-country skied," he added.

"NordicTrack gives the benefits of an aerobic workout, but without the trauma of running or jogging," noted Roy Bergman, M.D., F.A.C.S., Liaison to National Governing Bodies, United States Olympic Committee on Sports Medicine.

Dr. Bergman also noted that NordicTrack can be used indoors. "A lot of people won't run if it's raining outside. And if you can use something inside, you're much more likely to keep up the program year-round, and avoid becoming sedentary," Dr. Bergman added.

People who use in-home equipment tend to want to get the maximum workout in the least amount of time. "The NordicTrack gives a complete aerobic workout, and tones the entire body, in as little as 20 minutes a day, three days a week," said Pauls.

Indians Bring Home Early Christmas Gifts

All three Kewaskum boy's teams gave their coaches an early Christmas present Dec. 23rd by posting victories before the home crowd against the Chilton Tigers.

The Varsity squad had tough going during the first half and were down 37-30. Chilton's Dean Schmitz pounded away at the scoreboard contributing nine points for the Tigers while Kewaskum's Mike Ciriacks and Joel Miller each popped in six. Randy Krell and Ciriacks exhibited some tough board work underneath to help keep the Indians in the game.

The second half our Indians inched their way to a victory but the struggle was intense. Kewaskum scored eight unanswered points to start the 3rd quarter including a follow-up basket by Paul Budiak on a missed shot. Streubing popping in two on the charity stripe, and a beautiful assist from Mike Heberer to Steve Gerhartz. Kewaskum had taken the lead 38-37. Just as quickly, Chilton turned around and scored eight unanswered points to put them back into the lead 45-38.

The Indians were down by as many as nine points in this quarter but kept bouncing back within victory range. A couple of three point plays (basket plus foul shot) kept the Tigers right in the game at this point. 3rd quarter score 52-45 Chilton.

And then came the thriller fourth quarter which had the crowd on their feet. Gerhartz and Ciriacks performed brilliantly and led the Indians on to victory with superb inside board work and excellent shooting. Gerhartz popped in the first six Indian points of this quarter and put his team right back in the game 51-54.

The Indians could taste victory in the air. Chilton drove home a couple of three pointers but the Indians did a little "driving" themselves. Gerhartz kept popping, Ciriacks and Krell kept rebounding and Heather and Heberer added two and the Indians stayed right in contention. Any time the Tigers tried to break the game open, Gerhartz was there to add some points to the Indian total and with less than three minutes remaining on the clock pulled us within three, 66-69. Teammate

Mike Struebing connects to make it 68-69 and then Ciriacks pops and its 70-69, Kewaskum leads and the fans are on their feet. The Indians have another streak, this time with nine unanswered points in a row. They were hot! Chilton pulled down an offensive rebound and put one through to make it 71-69 but then Kewaskum's scrappy Joel Miller steals, goes up for the shot, gets fouled and makes one of two to tie the ball game. Its 71-71 with 2:01 left. Miller again comes down court off a Gerhartz defensive board to make it 73-71. Chilton drives down court and shoots, misses, and Indian's muscleman Ciriacks gets fouled underneath. Coach Schatz calls time with 41 seconds on the clock to settle his squad down. Ciriacks makes both pressure free-throws to put Kewaskum in the drivers seat 75-71, but the Tigers weren't quite done. Chilton's Dean Schmitz went down and popped in two more points for the Tigers. (he ended his night with 28 pts., the game high) Ciriacks drove home two more to end the game 77-73, the Kewaskum Indians the victors... and how sweet it was.

Gerhartz ended his night with 23 points, a new personal best with Ciriacks adding 16 pts. Struebing was also in double figures with 10 pts. and Krell, playing tough underneath, added 7 in the victory. Other than Chilton's Schmitz' with 28, Mike Engler and Mike McAffell had 14 pts. each, in the loss.

JayVee's Mark Felix led his team to victory 43-33 hitting some key free throws in the fourth quarter to put the game out of each for the Chilton Tigers. Felix ended the night with 21 points and displayed some excellent pressure defense. Chris Schmidt was also a dominating force on the inside.

The freshmen also won a thriller 62-57, to boost their record to 3-1 in the conference and in a tie for first place Kewaskum's Chad Cook popped in 19 points with teammate Matt Seiser adding 18 pts. From a defensive angle, Joel Fleischman was the key board man who also contributed 12 points in the victory.

Raiders Trounce Indians

The Kewaskum Indians were trounced upon by Two Rivers Tuesday night losing miserably to the conference champion contenders by a score of 98-64 at Two Rivers.

The home team opened with a fine exhibition of shooting, popping in six quick points before the Indians could blink. Using pressure defense, the Indians couldn't even get the ball down court to attempt a shot as Indian turn-overs turned into Raider baskets. By the end of the quarter, the Raiders already had 37 points on the scoreboard, to the Indians 13. Cory Shimulunas and Jeremy Karmen who ended up with 28 and 30 points respectively, were dominant forces in this first quarter scoring surge.

Second quarter action saw a spark of action from the Indians as Brian Leitheiser, Mike Ciriacks, and Mark Heather all scored in the opening minutes of the quarter. Ciriacks using his size underneath was at the free throw line three times during this quarter in bonus situations and he made all six for 100% free throw shooting. The Indians kept chipping away at the scoreboard and at one time were only down 47-33. That 14 point deficit quickly widened again as all the Raider starters contributed by putting in at least one basket. By half-time the gap was up to 20 points, 53-33. Although Kewaskum outscored the Raiders 20 to 16 in this quarter, they were already down by too many points to bounce back.

Two Rivers added 28 points to their score in 3rd quarter action as Raiders Shimulunas and Karmen kept popping away. By the end of the quarter they had widened the gap to 81-48.

Fourth quarter scoring was back and fourth but by then the game was out of reach for our Indians. Final score, 98-64. Randy Krell played a solid game for the Indians and ended up with 17 points, being 7 for 10 from the floor. Indian Mike Ciriacks pounded in 14 points and pulled down five defensive rebounds, fighting off tough competition. Kewaskum will be out for their first win this Friday at home against Chilton. Varsity game-time is 7:30 p.m.

The Kewaskum JayVee's lost 61-42. Mark Felix had 11 points and 10 more were added by Tim Butschlick in the defeat.

The freshmen team lost 57-51 for their first defeat of the season. Chad Cook had 16 and Matt Seiser added 13. Early foul trouble was a factor in the loss.

New Bass Size Limits Go Into Effect January 1

MADISON, WI — Anglers are reminded that new large-mouth and smallmouth bass size limits go into effect January 1, 1989, Department of Natural Resources fisheries management regulation specialist John Klingbiel said.

The size limit for both species in the northern zone is 12 inches. The northern zone includes all waters north of a line formed by the St. Croix River and highways 70, 27 and 64, the west bank of Green Bay, and the area north of highway 29. The southern zone includes all waters south of that line; the southern zone size limit is 14 inches.

All of Lake Michigan has a 12-inch size limit. The Mississippi River and a few experimental lakes are exempt from the new regulations. The Mississippi River has no size limits.

"The rule will affect all anglers beginning in January," Klingbiel stated. "The bass fishing season is closed in most waters during March and April, and won't reopen until Saturday, May 6, 1989."

The size limit rules were backed and promoted by the Conservation Congress and bass anglers for the main purpose of making more fish and bigger fish available.

A bass size limit allows a larger number of small fish to grow older and bigger, according to Klingbiel, which translates to potentially more and bigger bass on the stringer.

"Bass are not the target fish of ice anglers, but are sometimes incidental to their catches of walleye and panfish," Klingbiel said. "Those anglers need to be aware of the new size limit rules."

UWVC Women's Basketball Team Tops UW-Waukesha

Nearly the half-way point in their season, the University of Wisconsin Center — Washington County women's basketball team hit the .500 mark when it defeated the UW Center — Waukesha 57-46 in a contest held Dec. 14 in Waukesha.

The win, second in a row for the Wildcats, gives the team a 3-3 record in Wisconsin Collegiate Conference play. It also sets up a three-way tie for first place among the other teams in the Wildcats division.

"We feel we're in the driver's seat now," said UWVC women's coach Tom Brigham. "We host both UWVC — Fond du Lac and Waukesha on our own court next semester."

"If we keep playing the type of ball we have been, it's very possible that we can win our division," Brigham said.

In this latest win, the UWVC women cagers showed a better balance of scoring, while shooting a team total of 47 percent from the floor.

High scorer was Kelly Koller of West Bend with 27 points, followed by Tammy Becker of West Bend with 15, Debbie Gerner of Newburg with 11 and Tisha Warda of West Bend adding 5 points. Gerner had her best game ever, said Brigham, scoring 9 of her 11 points in the second half.

Missy Gundlach of West Bend did an excellent job for the Wildcats on defense, frustrating two of Waukesha's prime players, Brigham said.

Although UWVC's semester break begins Dec. 23, the women's team will not be idle, taking on the UWVC alumni team on Jan. 7 at noon at the UWVC gym.

Other January contests include traveling to UWC-Marathon on Jan. 12, hosting UWC-Marshfield on Jan. 14 at 1 p.m., taking on UWC-Marinette there on Jan. 21, hosting Silver Lake college at 7 p.m. on Jan. 23 and traveling to Waukesha Area Technical College on Jan. 25.

UWVC Expects Large Turnout For Alumni Basketball Game

More than 50 athletes are expected to turn out at West Bend Jan. 7 for the annual alumni basketball games at the University of Wisconsin Center — Washington County.

Tom Brigham, UWVC athletic director, has extended an invitation to former competitors on both the men's and women's teams to sign up for the Saturday event.

According to Brigham, a new format for the day should allow participation of all interested athletes. An Oldtimers' Game is being added to the Saturday events to permit more men to compete.

Last year about 25 alumni men showed up along with 12 women.

Brigham said the current Wildcat women's team will open the action with a noon game. "Oldtimer" men, who were at UWVC from 1986 through 1983, will compete against each other at 2 p.m. The Varsity men will take the floor at 3 p.m. to face former players from 1983-84 to the present.

UWVC teams compete in the Wisconsin Collegiate Conference.

Brigham said, "The alumni games have been valuable in re-establishing the player-to-player friendships formed over the years. Teams here do develop a certain family relationship."

Alumni interested in playing can call Brigham at UWVC, 338-5200.

A sign on a Scottish golf course reads as follows: "Members will refrain from picking up lost balls until they have stopped rolling."
