Horner, Boegel Not Seeking Re-Election

Few Challenges In Spring Elections

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Village Board, Tuesday night, unanimously approved having its engineers complete documentation and procedures for bidding on the construction of a new Well #1.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt informed the trustees that the cost of the new well is estimated to be about $70,000 plus engineering and contingency costs which could take that figure up to $90,000. Schmidt noted, however, that every effort was being made to keep the cost closer to the $70,000 figure. "One way to do that is by keeping the old well pumping at minimum capacity," said Schmidt.

Schmidt said $44,000 had been placed in the 1988 budget for the project with another $26,900 included in the 1989 budget. "We don't anticipate borrowing any money or increasing any rates," said Schmidt. He did note that if the cost went over the $70,000 figure, money could be taken from other areas in the Water Department's budget. He said, however, that could make the department's budget somewhat tight by the end of 1989.

It is hoped the new well, which will be located adjacent to the old one on Reigle Drive, could be drilled in April and in service by May or June.

The trustees agreed the village had to move on the project. Schmidt said the old well is continuing to pump less and less water each week.

If you're a non-resident, don't try leaving your garbage on some Kewaskum resident's curb for village crews to pick up. That almost seemed like someone was trying to play a joke, but Schmidt said the incidents are becoming more and more frequent as non-residents try to "dump" their trash in the village rather than take it to their own landfills where they are probably being charged to dispose of their trash.

Schmidt said several individuals have already been caught doing just that. "In fact" said Schmidt, "we caught an individual doing it this morning on Main Street." The trustees asked how the village was handling such a situation. "We calculate how many bags of trash there were and send the person a bill, charging $1.50 for each bagful left," said Schmidt.

The trustees thought the village should have an ordinance against such actions. Schmidt said that it did, but the incidents had not been a problem before. Police Chief Richard Knoebel said in that case the village should issue a citation instead of a bill. "That way you can take them into court and you are sure of recovering all your costs." Schmidt said he would consider doing that.

In other action the board gave approval to Schmidt's request to look into a computer system for the village.

Schmidt stressed he was not looking for permission to purchase anything but rather to go around to neighboring communities to see what types of systems they have and how they are working out.

Schmidt said, with the assistance of the village's accounting firm and former board president Gerald Stollenwerk who is knowledgeable in the computer area, he would be looking at a system with three or four terminals and

Plans Progressing for New Number 1 Well

Local governing bodies will see few, if any, changes following the spring elections as most incumbents will be running unopposed.

The only real surprise is that Ralph Horner, president of the Kewaskum Board of Education whose term is running out, has apparently changed his mind and will not seek re-election. Although Horner had taken out nomination papers, he did not return them by Tuesday's 5:00 p.m. filing deadline. Horner could not be reached for comment on his decision.

Horner's decision not to run again leaves only one incumbent on the ballot, Clara Trapp from the Town of Scott. The election, however, will not be lacking in candidates. In fact, there still will be enough to provide some competition for the two posts as newcomers Paul Seymour of Allenton and John Schulte of rural Kewaskum have thrown their hats into the political arena.

In the Kewaskum Village

Board election, incumbent president Paul Blumer will be challenged for his post by retired Kewaskum Police Chief Donald Hlavaty. Blumer is seeking his second term as board president.

The terms of trustees Mary Krueger, Kenneth Bonlender and Charles Boegel also expire. Both Krueger and Bonlender have filed their papers and will be seeking re-election. Boegel indicated that while he enjoyed serving on the board, personal reasons dictate his not running for a second term.

There will, however, be a candidate for the seat Boegel is vacating. Vincent Groh has filed nomination papers for the post of trustee. This still will not create any competition for the three trusteeships.

The only other local election, at this time, to have any competition for offices is in the Town of Farmington. Challenges will be for the supervisory posts where incumbents Francis Mayer and Joseph Sekeres will face competition from Richard Schneider and James Degnitz. Schneider has run for office before.

Farmington's treasurer Kurt Schmidt, who was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Kenneth Ramthun, will be challenged by Nancy Rodenkirch of Boltonville. Schmidt took over the job of treasurer when Ramthun moved out of the township. He will be seeking his first full term.

In the Town of Kewaskum candidates are selected by caucus. That caucus will be coming up shortly and until that time the incumbents, Chairman George Allmann, Supervisors Daniel Stoffel, David Dorn, Clerk Barbara Hinz and Treasurer Dolores Prost will not know if they will be facing any competition for their jobs.

All other elections have incumbents running unopposed for their offices. For the Town of Auburn they are, Roger Scheif, chairman, Camilla Butzke Clerk, Ervin Seifert and Kenneth Jandre Supervisors and Maureen Heberer treasurer.

In the Town of Wayne the unopposed candidates are Carl Hohlweck chairman, Orville Kern clerk, Gerald Schulz treasurer, Mark Strobel and Leonard Peter supervisors, and constable John Buck.

No information could be obtained for the Town of Scott's election.

Kewaskum Sno-Chiefs Torch Run Sunday

The Badger State Winter Games Torch Run will begin at the Amerahn on Sunday, Jan. 8, with the Kewaskum Sno-Chiefs carrying the torch on a snowmobile equipped with wheels.

The Kewaskum team will proceed to Hwy. 28 East with escort provided by the Kewaskum police department and the Washington County Sheriff's Department. The procession will continue on Highway 28 through St. Michaels, continue on Highway 28 to Boltonville and on to the Sheboygan County line where the Sheboygan County Sheriff's Department will then provide escort. The Kewaskum team will then proceed Northeast on Highway 28 to Batavia where the exchange of the torch from the Kewaskum club to the Plymouth club will take place.

The Plymouth team will proceed North on Highway 28 through Cascade to County Highway E North, continue to E until joining Highway 67 Northeast to the Plymouth city limits where additional escort will be provided by the Plymouth Police Department. The procession will continue through Plymouth on Highway C to the East to Fairview Drive and end at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds.

The anticipated time schedule's as follows:

10:30 Kewaskum Amerahn Ballroom.

11:30 Washington-Sheboygan County lines.

12:00 Batavia Exchange.

1:00 Plymouth City limits

1:30 Sheboygan County Fairgrounds.

Wausau corporate leaders, Bombardier (Ski-Doo Snowmobiles) and GTE, are sponsors of the Badger State Winter Games Torch Run. The Run will be modeled after the unique Bombardier-sponsored 1988 Calgary Winter Olympics Torch Run which utilized snowmobiles equipped with wheels to carry the Olympic Torch. At least 25 Wisconsin communities will be involved in the Winter Games Torch Run.

Eastern Wisconsin Honors Concert at KHS Saturday

On January 7, 1989, Kewaskum High School will be hosting the Annual Eastern Wisconsin Conference Honors Band and Choir Concert. The concert will be held in Rose Hall beginning at 7:00 a.m. The admission charge is $1.00 per person.

The outstanding band and choir members of each of the seven schools; Chilton, Kewaskum, Kiel, New Holstein, Plymouth, Sheboygan Falls and Two Rivers, will spend the day in rehearsal preparing for the evening concert. Clinicians chosen for the program are Dr. Gerald Olson, band and Dr. David Saladino, choir.

Dr. Olson is Associate Professor of Music and Education at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He conducts the concert and university bands; coordinates the instrumental music education curriculum at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and is past director of Summer Music Clinic. Recently he was chairman of the MENC Task Force on "Music Teacher Education." Since 1981 Dr. Olson has served as a consultant and conductor to developing instrumental music programs in Newfoundland and Labrador. During the 1983-84 academic year he was the Henrietta Harvey Visiting Professor in Music at Memorial University, St. John's Newfoundland. Dr. Olson is founder and consulting editor of the journal, Dialogue in Instrumental Musical Education.

Dr. Saladino is a native of Miami, Florida. His undergraduate and graduate degrees in Music are from the Universities of Tampa and Illinois, respectively. His PH.D. was completed at the Florida State University in 1984. Dr. Saladino has been an active member of various professional associations including, MENC, ACDA, and the College Music Society. He has served the Wisconsin Choral Directors Association (WCDA) as publicity chair of the 1980 "old" North Central Convention in Madison and most recently as program chair for the WCDA State Convention January 21-23, 1988 in Appleton. His current position is Director of Choral Activities at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point.

New Year's Eve Lock-In at KHS

The wrestling Club provided high school students an alternative to drinking this new Year's Eve by sponsoring a "lock-in" at the high school.

Under the supervision of Coach Chambers and Coach Nell, approximately 35 students spent the evening being locked in the school. The wrestlers came at six o'clock for an hour practice, with non-wrestlers coming at seven. Basketball, volleyball, movies, and board games were played in the early part of the evening. At midnight hats, horns, and party favors helped ring in the New Year. Laser tag was the popular game of the wee hours of the morning.

Said Bobby Castro, senior wrestler, "It was definitely an experience to sleep where you go to school. I think the students that came had a good time."

Hopefully this can turn into even a bigger event next year and more students will want to ring in the New Year "alcohol-free."

screens and one printer. He estimated the cost to be between $12,000 and $24,000 depending on how many packages would be acquired with the system. "We would be doing our own water and sewer billing along with some of the other work being done for the village by SERPAC," said Schmidt. He noted that Serpac would be completely out of the computer service business by 1991, and the village would have to find an alternate source to handle its computer needs.

Schmidt reminded the board that the village will be hosting the Mid-Moraine Association's meeting on January 25th, and the guest speaker was anticipated to be Milwaukee Mayor John Nordquist.

Schmidt advised the board that the sewer and watermain project on Highway 45 is expected to be completed by the end of the week. The only work left would be installation of the new lift station which is expected to be delivered by the end of March.

'Double Cash' Sales Continue Strong; 'Instant Cash' Drawing Is Jan. 12

MADISON...Sales of the Wisconsin Lottery's new instant scratch game "Double Cash," remain well above the previous game's pace, according to Wisconsin Lottery Executive Director William Flynn.

"Double Cash" sales estimates show players buying more than 1 million tickets daily through the first two weeks of the game. The previous game, "Instant Cash," was selling an estimated 780,000 tickets daily.

The deadline for receipt of to send "ENTRY" tickets for the "Instant Cash" $1 million preliminary drawing is Wednesday, January 11, 1989. "Players should send their "ENTRY" tickets now," Flynn said.

"Instant Cash" "ENTRY" tickets should be sent to: $1,000,000 Drawing, Wisconsin Lottery, Madison WI 53776. Tickets must be received in the regular mail delivery January 11, 1989 to be included in the January 12, 1989 drawing. Only mailed "ENTRY" tickets are accepted.

The 10 finalists will be drawn at 2 p.m. Thursday, January 12, 1989 at Lottery headquarters in

Appreciation Day for SAP Volunteers

Superintendent Dr. Heather along with Mr. LeRoy Kopecky, high school principal have declared January 16, 1989 Student Assistance Program (SAP) volunteer appreciation day.

To honor all of the teachers who donate their time and talent to this cause, a tea will be given in their honor. "Without our volunteer teachers there wouldn't be a program," stated Jackie Schoening, coordinator of SAP.

Many teachers are involved in the SAP program in various ways; some teachers are trained as facilitators and lead groups, others take over classes of the facilitators while they are in group, and still others offer assistance as chaperones etc. for various SAP activities. All in all there is much to do to keep the program strong, and the administration and teaching staff are providing the base to keep it growing. Mr. Kopecky also sent a personal thank you to each of his facilitators involved in the high school program.

State Approves Expansion Of West Bend's UW-Center

The State Building Commission, chaired by Gov. Tommy Thompson, voted unanimously on December 14 to endorse an estimated $2.16 million expansion project at the University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County in West Bend.

The afternoon vote came during a regular meeting of the commission in the Governor's conference room at the state capitol. Endorsement came as approval of a state expenditure of $211,400 for movable equipment for the new facilities.

Wednesday's state backing for the UWWC project followed similar action a week earlier by the UW Board of Regents. With the twin go-aheads from the state and University, the way was cleared for final action at the local level by the Washington County Board and the West Bend Common Council.

Following the commission vote, UWWC Dean Robert O. Thompson expressed satisfaction at the result. He said, "This is in keeping with the agreement made between the state and the city and county before the campus opened in 1968. The state agreed then to pay for equipment and operating expenses for UWWC; the city and county agreed to share any costs of land and buildings."

The project was let out for bids on Dec. 19. Thompson said bids will be opened on Jan. 26 by the UWWC Board of Commissioners, a city-county body that oversees campus facilities and has directed the expansion effort.

On Feb. 6, the bids will be reviewed by the West Bend finance committee and voted on by the council. The county finance committee will examine the bids on Feb. 8 with a vote scheduled by the county board on Feb. 14.

Earlier this year the city and county authorized the hiring of an architect and the preparation of plans for bidding. Costs of construction will be shared 75-25 by the county and city, respectively.

Preliminary estimates on the construction indicate tentative figures of $1,847,200 for new construction and remodeling and $313,000 for maintenance and improvements on roofs, parking lots and heating - ventilating-air conditioning systems.

In a report presented to the commission and the Board of Regents, UWWC spelled out the details of what would be included in the projects two new additions and the remodeling of three areas of existing space.

- ADDITONS:

The UWWC report said the larger of the two additions will link the library and union buildings. Included in the 13,173 gross square feet (a measure of usable space) will be two computer science laboratories, a mathematics - engineering lab, an audio-visual classroom, a continuing education conference room, a book store, faculty offices and storage areas.

An addition of 7,970 gross square feet (GSF) will be added to the Union and provide for an enlarged cafeteria and student lounge, a maintenance shop, a theatre storage and set-construction area, a vehicle storage area and unloading dock.

- REMODELING:

A remodeling of 6,570 GSF will take place in the library, the report said, explaining: "Walls will be removed and spaces reconfigured to convert existing classroom, office and group study space to library use. Those existing functions will be relocated in the proposed addition."

A second remodeling of 4,144 GSF will be in the Union and include installation of overhead doors for access to theatre storage and construction.

A final remodeling of 1,410 GSF would rearrange space near the student services office to provide for file storage and a combined career office and conference room.

The movable equipment to be provided by the state includes furniture such as desks, chairs, tables, file cabinets, room dividers, shelving and workbenches, and equipment such as computer components, power tools, screens, videotape player, TV receivers and overhead, slide and sound projectors.

In its request to the Board of Regents and the State Building Commission, UWWC officials explained its need for the additional space. The request said, in part, "The Washington County Center opened its doors in the Fall of 1968 and has shown steady enrollment growth leading to the Fall of 1988 when a record 856 students registered. From the start, some required spaces have been either missing or are inadequate.

"In 1978, a plan was developed to meet space needs for the foreseeable future. Budget constraints on the part of Washington County and the City of West Bend resulted in the deferral of the space provided in this project..."

"This new and remodeled construction project picks up all spaces deferred in 1978 and adds some additional instructional areas to accommodate the 300-plus enrollment increase that has occurred since that time. If the proposed project proceeds as planned, it will result in a 'complete' campus for the first time in its 20-year history."

Village of Kewaskum NEWS NOTES

The Village Board would like to remind the residents of the Village that the ordinance in reference to "Garbage and Refuse Disposal," Chapter 14 of the Municipal Code, explains the manner in which gargage and refuse is to be disposed. This is to reiterate the fact that this ordinance will be enforced and all residents and commercial establishments will be asked to comply with these rules and regulations.

These are some points that should be emphasized:

I. Commercial establishments are allowed only two garbage cans or one mobile container if the Village is to pick up their garbage and refuse. Residential units are to provide garbage cans or plastic bags for the disposal of their garbage and refuse.

A. A mobile container shall be capable of fitting the Village's garbage truck, hydraulic attachment for unloading. Such container shall be flyproof, ratproof and leakproof and shall be fitted with 14 gauge metal constructed covers. The minimum size for a mobile container shall be 1.5 cubic yards and the maximum shall be 2 cubic yards.

B. A garbage can may be a plastic or galvanized metal container of the type commonly sold as a garbage can, of a capacity not less than 20 gallons and not to exceed 30 gallons, having two handles upon the sides thereof or bail by which it may be lifted and a tight fitting metal or plastic top with a handle, and so constructed as to permit the free discharge of its contents. No garbage can shall weigh more than 60 pounds when filled.

C. A plastic or polyethylene disposal bag is a container other than a garbage can, which is used for garbage disposal. Such bag shall meet the same criteria as a garbage can and shall withstand a drop of 5' onto smooth concrete when filled to a total weight of 30 lbs. with a material having a weight density of 15 lbs. per cu. ft. The bags shall be securely closed with a twist tie.

II. If appropriate containers are not used or if a container has been condemned as unfit for a garbage receptacle, the Department of Public Works may tag the containers and until a proper container is provided may discontinue collection service. The owner or user thereof may be subject to the provisions of section 14.15.

NOTE: Barrels Prohibited - (steel, plastic and card board barrels are not allowed).

Within the next few months the Department of Public Works will be monitoring and tagging condemned and non-permissible containers. The Village does ask for your cooperation.

The Village Board would again like to remind everyone to consider RECYCLING whenever possible. You are encouraged to keep your recyclables neat and orderly not to cause or create a public nuisance. Your efforts will be rewarded by helping to save you and future generations' environment. Recycling is here to stay and eventually will be made mandatory for the entire State of Wisconsin.

Thank you!

Campus Notes

Thomas W. Davis, Milwaukee School of Engineering (MSOE) vice president of academics, announced that a total of 493 students comprised the college's 1988 fall quarter Dean's List.

The Dean's List consists of those students who earned a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.2. They must have completed a minimum of 30 total credits by the end of their second term at the college to become eligible. Students who earn a cumulative grade point average of 3.7 or more are listed as having high honors.

Included on the Dean's List from this area are the following:

Campbellsport — Bernadette J. Griesemer, Business and Computer Systems.

Kewaskum — Randy R. Schickert, Mechanical Engineering Technology.

West Bend — Michael Thomas Loomans, Electrical Engineering Technology.

Fire Destroys Popular Dance Hall

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

P. J. Wisconski's, 2109 Highway 143, in the Town of Jackson, was the victim of an early morning fire on New Year's Day. The popular dance hall and bar, formerly known as the Artistic Roller Rink, had been open less than a year after extensive remodeling.

The first alarm was turned in at 5:45 a.m. and fire departments from Jackson, West Bend, Newburg, Cedarburg and Slinger responded to the fire which raged throughout the morning. Three firemen received minor injuries and one was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend, where he was treated and released.

Wisconski's had become a popular gathering place for country music and Texas dancing enthusiasts. The hall had provided free dance lessons during the week and featured country and western bands from all over the country on weekends.

Officials say the building was a total loss. The structure's appraised value had been put at over $185,000, however a dollar estimate of the total damage to the building and its contents was not available.

The State Fire Marshal's office had been called in as part of a routine fire investigation.

Goeden to Exhibit New Car at State Fair Park Auto Show

Indy racing cars, jazzed-up street machines and everything in between will be on display at the 28th annual "International Championship World of Wheels" custom auto show Jan. 13-15, 1989, at State Fair Park in West Allis.

More than 150 vehicles on exhibit will include the nation's top customs, street rods, street machines, sports cars, competition cars, trucks and 4 x 4's. Most of the exhibitors live within a 100-mile radius of Milwaukee.

One of those exhibitors will be well-known area modified and late models driver Willie Goeden, owner of Goeden's Auto Body, St. Michaels. Goeden will display a new car similar to the one which he was driving when he was involved in a near fatal accident at the Kaukauna International Raceway in 1987.

Although Willie is still on the road to recovery from serious head an internal injuries, his love of cars and racing is as strong as ever.

Goeden will be displaying the car, which he plans to rent to out-of-state drivers, for the first time at next weekend's show. The new car is a 1988 T-Bird body, with Rander chassis, B&B motor and the familiar blue and white with red letters paint.

Goeden designed the car doing some of the simple work, while twin sons David and Donald handled the heavier work. The car will carry the number "72", the number Goeden has used ever since he began racing late models. "I always like to have a nice looking car. I don't like junk, even though you see a lot of junk on the tracks — poor maintenance," said Goeden.

Goeden has been in racing for 28 years having competed on tracks throughout Wisconsin and neighboring states. He will be at the show Friday and Saturday nights.

Show hours are 6-11 p.m. Friday, noon-11 p.m. Saturday, and noon to 8 p.m. Sunday. The show will be held in the north, south and east exhibit halls. Admission is $6 for adults and $2 for children ages 6 to 12.

A major attraction of the show will be two Cart Indy cars, the Miller High Life sponsored #9, driven by Danny Sullivan and car #1, driven by Rick Mears.

What do Greg Louganis and Cher have in common?

They both have a LEARNING DISABILITY. That's also true for Agatha Christie, Thomas Edison, Woodrow Wilson, Nelson Rockefeller and Bruce Jenner. Their learning disability is called DYSLEXIA (meaning "difficulty in reading.") But there are other types of learning disabilities too. Learning disabilities occur when normally intelligent children have difficulty processing the information taught in school and begin to fall behind academically.

If you are concerned that your child fits this description; call for an appointment at CEDAR-HAVEN REHABILITATION AGENCY. Our rehabilitation experts work with people of all ages to help them reach their maximum potential. Call TODAY for more information.

INSOMNIA

Troubled with insomnia? Lack of sleep results in poor health and efficiency. What to do? Replace that evening cup of coffee with a glass of warm milk. It contains a concentration of amino acids that triggers the biochemical sleep process. Milk is soothing and also provides essential vitamins and minerals for good health. If milk doesn't agree with you, try old-fashioned chamomile tea, a natural sedative.

Threshold Receives Stained Glass Artwork

In recognition of Threshold's 25th anniversary, Helen Hinterberg of Barton Artglass presented a stained glass window to Tom Bergerud, Threshold's Executive Director. The window depicts the new logo developed to capture The Threshold's mission.

Threshold is defined as "the place or point of entering or beginning." The outside square frame of the logo represents this doorway or entrance. Passing through this entrance way are four figures symbolizing disabled citizens. The Threshold is not a final destination. It is a transitional resource for those needing special assistance in achieving full equality and vocational opportunity. The figures raised arms throughout the process represents growth and achievement. The Threshold strives to assist all workers to reach their highest potential.

The window was designed and made by Helen Hinterberg, Barton Artglass and several of her students Mary Pickens, Katie Yde, Lucky Wagner and Mary Deering. The completed work represents 50 hours of work with an estimated value of $725. The copper foil technique and sand blasting were used to make this stained glass window which was placed in Threshold's front lobby.

At the annual Kewaskum Kiwanis Club Christmas party held at the Glacier Inn on December 19, President Bob Sparks, left, presented a plaque to Dr. R. G. Edwards, center, for 40 consecutive years of outstanding, dedicated service to Kewaskum Kiwanis, and Marvin Martin, right, received a pin recognizing him for 41 years of perfect attendance as a member of the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club.

Surgery to Give New Face to Area Man

By Janet Malmon
West Bend News Staff Writer

Carl Yahr has spent nearly 48 years getting used to stares and rude comments about his appearance.

Suffering from a congenital deformity that severely disfigured both his face and hands, Yahr has learned to take strangers' reactions in stride.

"If I get a chance, I tell them that the good Lord made me this way, and that's the way I am," said the West Bend native.

But this may change in February, when Yahr, 47, is scheduled to undergo a kind of plastic surgery so unusual that it is done by only two physicians in the state.

The procedure is called cranio-facial reconstructive surgery, and it is "complicated, intricate and somewhat risky," said Dr. Roger Mixter, assistant professor in the Department of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery at the University Hospital & Clinics, Madison.

In an eight-hour operation under Mixter's leadership, Yahr's sunken facial skeleton will be moved forward and built up with bone taken from the head, hip and maybe the ribs.

Yahr suffers from Apert's syndrome, Mixter said, a condition that causes the bones in his face, skull, hands and feet to fuse prematurely.

It is the result of a spontaneous genetic mutation and is not necessarily hereditary, although children of Apert's patients are more apt to be born with the disease than others.

Apert's syndrome surfaces in one out of every 100,000 births, Mixter said.

The symptoms include an unusually short mid face, extruding eyes, an overbite, and an unusually shaped forehead and skull.

Sleep apnea, or the cessation of breathing while sleeping, is another problem. Sleep apnea happens when Yahr's normal-sized tongue drops back into his undersized air passage, or pharynx.

Although respiration kicks in once the oxygen level gets too low, the condition is still troublesome in that it causes restlessness, unusual dreams and a feeling of agitation upon waking.

An alternative way to treat sleep apnea is to give the supplemental oxygen at night.

About 10 percent of people with Apert's syndrome are developmentally delayed, but Yahr does not fall into this category, Mixter emphasized.

"He's a bright, normal individual locked in a body and face that's abnormal," Mixter said.

The purpose of the operation is both to improve Yahr's appearance and to correct the medical problems. Mixter said the surgery is intended to lessen the sleep apnea, give Yahr's eyes more coverage and thus more protection, and line up his jaws better to help him with chewing.

What makes Yahr's situation even more unusual is that he is an adult.

Mixter has performed about 20 of these cranio-facial reconstructive surgeries, and only two have been on adults. Another three adults, including Yahr, are currently on the waiting list.

"It is fairly unusual to get an adult patient with this problem in this day and age," Mixter said.

Most people with Apert's syndrome are treated as children, but because the surgery is so new — only 20 years — there is a backlog of patients who have not received treatment, he said.

The operation is not without its risks, which range from dental problems to blindness and death.

But the probability of developing any of these problems is less than 1 percent, Mixter said. Both Mixter and Yahr said they feel the benefits outweigh the risks.

"Despite his age, the risks are low enough to take the risk (of the surgery)," Mixter said. "Changes of success are high. His appearance will be markedly improved."

Yahr said he's somewhat worried about the operation but is determined to go through with it.

"This is something I have to go for," he said. "I feel good about it. I'm not afraid. I'm going to ask God to help me and guide the doctor's hands."

Both Yahr and Mixter said they did not know how much the operation would cost, but Yahr said his insurance will cover the operation as long as a second opinion corroborates that of Mixter's. Mixter said this is standard procedure with reconstructive surgery.

Yahr is no newcomer to facial operations. He has already undergone three, the first to adjust his eye muscles, the second to stitch shut the corners of his eye and the third, a failed attempt, to repair his undersized pharynx.

He has declined to let anyone operate on his fingers, which are fused all the way from the bone to the skin. After all, he said, he's gotten used to them over the years.

"I can write. I can drive a car. I have a job. I don't have any reason to want to change," said Yahr, who has worked as a housekeeper at the West Bend Company for the past 18 years and also owns two multi-family dwellings in the city.

He is considering, however, allowing Mixter to operate on his forehead the following year.

This would be a much less intricate procedure intended to conform Yahr's forehead so it looks more proportional to the rest of the face, Mixter said.

First, however, Yahr is waiting to see how the Feb. 28 operation turns out.

Mixter predicted that Yahr will need a month to recover.

"Knowing him and his resiliency, Carl will probably be back (at work) one month after surgery — if all goes well," Mixter said.

The scars will need more time to heal.

Yahr hopes that there won't be so many stares and rude comments about his appearance after the surgery.

He makes it clear about why he's planning to do it: "I'm doing it for myself, not for anybody else," he said.

But he doesn't expect it to dramatically change his lifestyle.

"I'll still be the same inside — loving and caring," he said.

Kempthorne Named Interim Dean at UWWC

Dion Q. Kempthorne, a professor of English at the University of Wisconsin Center-Washington County, has been named acting dean of the center, effective Feb. 15.

Kempthorne will replace Dean Robert O. Thompson, who is retiring after 16 years at UWWC. He will serve on an interim basis until a permanent replacement for Thompson is appointed, probably by June. A national search is underway to find a new dean.

UW Centers Chancellor Steven Portch of Madison selected Kempthorne from a list of faculty nominated by the UWWC Steering Committee. In announcing Kempthorne's assignment, Portch said, "We are fortunate to have someone with Dion's experience and skills willing to accept the role."

In informing UWWC faculty of Kempthorne's selection, Thompson said, "I can assure you that Dion and I will work closely together between now and Feb. 15th to effect a smooth transition."

Thompson cited Kempthorne's leadership role with the 13 freshman-sophomore centers including service as chair of the centers' Department of English and chair of the centers' Faculty Senate.

He told faculty, "Dion brings a varied background of administrative experience to the position and will provide excellent leadership for our Center."

Kempthorne has been at UWWC since 1981. Prior to coming here, he taught for eleven years at the UW Center - Manitowoc. He began teaching in the UW System as an instructor in 1966 and was promoted to assistant professor in 1973, associate professor in 1975 and full professor in 1983.

Before joining the UW System, Kempthorne taught at Craig High School in Janesville.

Over the years, he has taught 14 different literature, composition and creative writing courses at the centers.

Kempthorne received all of his degrees in English from UW-Madison: a Ph.D. in 1973, an M.S. in 1966 and a B.S. in 1964. His doctoral specialization was 19th Century American Literature and 20th Century literature.

As an undergraduate at Madison, Kempthorne played football and was on the Badger team that went to the 1963 Rose Bowl.

During his teaching career, he has won many teaching awards and grants including the 1983 Rolfs Foundation Exceptional Teaching Ability Award at UWWC, the Chancellor's Exceptional Merit Award in 1978, and the UW Center Manitowoc Campus Award for Teaching Excellence.

Kempthorne's extensive service to the University includes six years as the center's faculty athletic representative to the Wisconsin Collegiate Conference. He is currently the chairman of the UWWC Steering Committee and also heads the Design for Diversity Committee.

Over the years at UWWC, he has chaired the tenure committee, the publications board, the institutional development and promotions committee, and has served on the appointments, evaluations, steering, curriculum and academic actions committees.

Since 1976, Kempthorne has been a member of the executive committee of the centers' English Department and was chairman from 1979 to 1981.

Kempthorne is active professionally as a writer and speaker. Among his recently published works are "The Drop," a poem in the Wisconsin Academy Review of March 1988, and "Who's Talking?," an article published this year by the national Council of Teachers of English.

Last April he was a presenter on discussion techniques at the Freshman Year Experience Conference at Oak Brook, Ill. His topic was "Teaching Talking."

Earlier this year, Kempthorne participated in several other professional conferences: the English Institute at Harvard University and the Conference on Literacy and Linguistics at UW Milwaukee.

He is a member of the boards of directors of the Washington County Campus Foundation and past president of the UW-Madison Alumni Association of West Bend.

Up to 400,000 Wisconsin youngsters will learn the importance of heart-healthy habits from two new "Getting to Know Your Heart" classroom kits that are being offered free of charge to all elementary schools in the state by the American Heart Association of Wisconsin.

More than 1,100 Wisconsin elementary schools received a special Christmas present from the American Heart Association.

They received one free set of the AHA's two new heart-health education classroom kits for grades 1-3 and 4-6.

The American Heart Association of Wisconsin offered the "Getting to Know Your Heart" program at no charge to all public, private and parochial elementary schools in the state this fall.

The program was designed to help children develop good heart-health habits before they have to break bad ones, according to Felix Tristani, M.D., president of the American Heart Association of Wisconsin.

The classroom kits contain video and audio tapes, posters, games, worksheets that teach the physiology of the heart and the benefits of good nutrition, regular exercise and not smoking.

Younger students will use stethoscopes to listen to their heartbeats, and older ones will use siphons and tubing to simulate the circulatory system.

Tristani described the one-time offer as "a major step in the Heart Association's ongoing effort to help Wisconsin youngsters make healthier lifestyle decisions."

He noted that poor health habits which can lead to cardiovascular disease in adults often begin in childhood. Heart disease and stroke are the number one cause of death in America and in Wisconsin.

The new AHA classroom kits follow the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction's Guide to Curriculum Planning in Health Education. They reinforce and expand on lessons taught by the AHA "Heart Treasure Chest" program for preschool and kindergarten.

Tristani said that Wisconsin was one of only a few American Heart Association affiliates in the nation to offer the $70 program free of charge to all schools statewide.

He estimated that the kits could reach up to 400,000 Wisconsin youngsters and that the cost of the project could be as high as $150,000 depending on the number of schools that request kits.

He said the one-time offer was made possible in part by the outstanding support hundreds of Wisconsin schools have given to the AHA Jump Rope For Heart exercise and fund-raising program, which has raised nearly $4 million for heart research and education since 1979.

Jump Rope For Heart is sponsored by the Wisconsin Association for Health Physical Education, Recreation and Dance, an association of physical education coordinators.

Tristani urged school administrators who had not yet ordered the free Getting to Know Your Heart kits to do so in early January so they could be used during February, which is American Heart Month.

School principals who need an order form for the free kits or want more information on the Heart Treasure Chest program for pre-school and kindergarten students should call the American Heart Association of Wisconsin at 271-9999 in Milwaukee or toll-free at 1 (800) 242-9236.

Area schools who already have their kits include:

Allenton — Allenton Elementary School.

Campbellsport — Wayne Elementary School.

Colgate — Amy Belle Elementary.

Germantown — County Line, St. Boniface and MacArthur Elementary.

Hartford — Lincoln Elementary, Rossman Elementary, St. Kilian and Peace Lutheran Elementary.

Jackson — Jackson Elementary.

Kewaskum — Kewaskum Elementary, Holy Trinity and St. Lucas.

Richfield — Richfield Elementary and Rockfield Elementary.

Slinger — Slinger Elementary and St. Peter Catholic School.

West Bend — St. Mary Immaculate Conception, Barton Elementary, Holy Angels, First Baptist Academy, Fair Park, Good Shepherd Lutheran Calvary Life Academy and St. John's Lutheran.

NEWS EXTRA...

Village of Kewaskum NEWS NOTES

The snow and ice season has arrived bringing along some problems. To alleviate the problem or to clarify a few items let us refer to the Municipal Code, Chapter 8.09, which covers "Snow and Ice Removal."

I. Sidewalks to be kept clear. The owner or occupant of any lot or parcel shall promptly each day remove all snow and ice which may have fallen or accumulated upon the sidewalk in front of each lot or parcel; provided, when ice has so formed that it cannot be removed, the owner or occupant shall keep the same sprinkled with a material which will prevent the sidewalk from being dangerous to pedestrians. If the owner or occupant fails to comply with this subsection, the Superintendent of Public Works shall cause the snow or ice to be removed or sprinkled as required in this section and the cost thereof assessed against the property as a special tax.

II. Snow not to be deposited in the streets. No person shall cause to be deposited snow from his premises or sidewalk abutting thereon onto any street in the Village without a permit from the Superintendent of Public Works who may require to be paid a fee sufficient to reimburse the Village for the cost of removal of such snow.

III. Other sidewalk hazards. This is the deposit of or washing of gravel from a private driveway onto a sidewalk. We ask that this gravel also be removed promptly. It should be noted that not only does this gravel create a hazard on the sidewalk, but when it ends up in the gutter it blocks water drainage and eventually blocks/plugs storm sewers.

As for this and all ordinances a penalty is also provided for in Chapter 25.04 of this Municipal Code.

Street Value of $113.3 Million State Seized 113.7 Tons Of Marijuana During 1988

MADISON — Attorney General Don Hanaway announced today that 113.7 tons of marijuana with a conservative street value of $113.3 million were seized and destroyed during the Wisconsin Department of Justice's 1988 Marijuana Eradication Program.

The statewide effort began on August 11 and ended in December. Commercial cultivations of marijuana were targeted, and 120 people were arrested and charged with growing it. That is 96 more than a year ago.

"This is the sixth year of the eradication program, and it was successful because we received outstanding cooperation from sheriffs and police departments, state agencies and federal authorities," Hanaway said. "The program would not have succeeded without them."

"The abuse of illegal drugs is a major cause of crime in Wisconsin, and marijuana is illegal," he said. "It is not only dangerous to health, but experts believe it leads to the use of harder drugs, such as cocaine."

Hanaway said illegal hard drug sales total $1.3 billion a year in Wisconsin.

"The fact is, drugs are causing misery, crime and death," he said. "It is a crisis, which we hope this program and our new Alliance For a Drug-Free Wisconsin will help relieve."

The alliance is a project initiated by Hanaway, Governor Tommy Thompson and state School Superintendent Herbert Grover to involve communities throughout the state in the fight against drugs.

Over 134,500 marijuana plants from 350 plots were destroyed during the 1988 program, Hanaway said. That compares with about 300,000 plants and 165 tons confiscated and destroyed in 1987. The law enforcement effort was as intense as last year, but the severe drought in 1988 could have resulted in natural destruction of plants, causing a decline in this year's crop, he said.

The U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration estimates that each plant produces 1-3 pounds of saleable marijuana. Current street prices range from $425 to nearly $2,000 a pound.

Most plots discovered this year were small. Special agents of the Wisconsin Department of Justice said they believe growers are trying to avoid detection by cultivating smaller, better concealed plots.

In Walworth County, officers found three plots of about 200 marijuana plants each, hidden in a cornfield.

In Vilas County, a plot was

Gov. Thompson to Lead Badger State Winter Games Torch Run Kickoff

Wisconsin Gov. Tommy Thompson will climb aboard a Ski-Doo snowmobile and carry the Badger State Games torch on the first leg of its month-long journey around the state, Thursday, Jan. 5 at noon at the State Capitol in Madison.

Thompson's trek highlights the kickoff ceremonies of the first Badger State Winter Games Torch Run. The first leg of the Torch Run will continue down East Washington Avenue (U.S. Highway 151) to Sun Prairie to complete the first day of a tour that includes 25 Wisconsin communities. The Torch Run spreads the message of the first Badger State Winter Games set for Wausau, Feb. 3-5.

The unique Winter Games Torch Run is co-sponsored by GTE and Ski-Doo, and, with a couple of exceptions, is patterned after the highly-successful Badger State Games Torch Run held every summer. Two 1989 Ski-Doo Safari Scout snowmobiles will be specially equipped with wheels to run down the highways of Wisconsin. Ski-Doo, the world's largest producer of snowmobiles, was also the exclusive sponsor of the 1988 Calgary Winter Olympics Torch Run, which spread the Olympic message across Canada last winter.

"It's an exciting project," Joe Barden, Badger State Games Torch Run director said.

"I know of no other state that features a torch run like this. I think it's a great way to spread the word about the first ever Badger State Winter Games."

The Association of Wisconsin Snowmobile Clubs and Wisconsin Ski-Doo dealers will help Barden with the organization of the month-long event.

"The logistics of the project concerned me at first," Barden said. "But because of the outstanding support of the Wisconsin Snowmobile Clubs and Ski-Doo and GTE, we're ready to go."

Among the highlights of the Torch Run will be appearances at the Budweiser Snowmobile Classic Race of Champions in Plymouth, Jan. 8, and the World Snowmobile Championships in Eagle River, Jan. 15. The Eagle River festivities feature Gov. Thompson, race driver Al Unser and possible national television coverage on ESPN. The Run culminates at the opening ceremonies of the Badger State Winter Games, Feb. 3 in Wausau. Those ceremonies are also sponsored by GTE and Ski-Doo.

The first Badger State Winter Games will include competition in alpine and cross country skiing, curling, figure skating and youth hockey. Major sponsors of the sports festival are: The Dairy Farmers of Wisconsin (Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board), GTE, Wisconsin Bell and WPS.

New Holstein Stuns Indian Grapplers

Indian grapplers were not prepared to meet their conference foes as Kewaskum lost to New Holstein 47-17. It was obvious that the Indian matmen were both physically and mentally beaten by the New Holstein matmen.

There were a few good performances by the Kewaskum wrestlers. Jeff Sabish was the first Indian to win his match, winning by a 13-11 decision. Following him was Bobby Castro winning by a pin. It was Bobby's ninth consecutive pin over his opponents. Shane Megonigle and Dan Heisdorf also won their matches by decisions. After Heisdorf's win Kewaskum grapplers did not win another match the rest of the night.

Snowmobiling and State Lawmakers

In the early years of snowmobiling it was necessary to work with our state lawmakers. There were laws starting to be sponsored that you couldn't run a snowmobile after dark. Another was that you could only ride on public lands. From the beginning snowmobilers had to band together and work to protect our sport. At the start the Association of Wisconsin Snowmobile Clubs had just a few directors working with legislators in five or six counties at one time. This made it hard to keep the Senators and Representatives informed of our needs and desires. It was decided to have a director in each county to better our position with our state lawmakers. Most of the county directors are chosen from the county association of snowmobile clubs. Almost every county in Wisconsin has a county association.

Today there are several steps taken to pass a law. It starts with directors of counties working through the Association of Wisconsin Snowmobile Clubs along with their legal council and the Governor's council (advisors to the governor) making a rough draft of the proposed law. Then changes are made and a lobbyist seeks a sponsor in the senate house. The network of clubs and directors are asked to contact the lawmakers in their counties to make their wishes known.

This program has worked very well for snowmobilers. We are careful to be fair and just in law proposals. Many meetings by all groups of people involved are held and many hours of hard work are put into these proposed laws before action is taken to pass a law to assure that it is fair and just to everyone. A very good relationship has been established between the snowmobilers and lawmakers have expressed this relationship both through phone and written correspondence with them. They also appreciate how well snowmobilers conduct themselves when attending legislation hearings, etc. in our state capitol. They are proud of their people back home.

The Association of Wisconsin Snowmobile Clubs encourages its members to be in touch with their lawmakers, by attending some of their functions and meetings. Let them know who you are and if you are a snowmobiler tell them so. When it comes time for help, the lawmakers will listen and past history shows us that he or she will help.

Wild Turkey Hunting Permits In the Mail by February 1

MADISON, WI — The Department of Natural Resources plans to have wild turkey hunting permits for the Spring 1989 wild turkey season in the mail by the end of January, according to DNR Turkey season coordinator Ed Frank.

"Successful applicants for the 21,280 turkey hunting permits available should begin receiving their permits around February first," said Frank. "With their permit they'll also be getting a list of turkey registration stations and a list of turkey hunter education clinics."

The Spring 1989 wild turkey hunting season goes from April 19 through May 14; it consists of four consecutive five-day hunting periods running Wednesday - Sunday.

The wild turkey permits are only good for one hunting period in one of 16 separate hunting zones located in southwestern and northeastern Wisconsin. A valid Wisconsin hunting license and turkey stamp are required to hunt turkey in addition to the permit.

Turkey hunter education clinics begin the second week of February and run through early April. The clinics, which last about three and one-half hours, are held statewide and cover turkey hunting methods, safety, regulations and hunter-landowner relationships.

For more information contact: Ed Frank — 608-266-8840.

KHS Disappointed in Holiday Play Indian JVs Take Consolation Honors

The Kewaskum holiday tournament turned into nothing but a disappointment here Dec. 29-30th as our Indians just couldn't pull themselves together enough to pull out a victory.

In first round action on Thursday night, our Kewaskum Indians took on the Waupun Warriors and stayed with them pretty much the first quarter being down only three at the buzzer, 15-18. But then Waupun started breaking away and Waupun's Wojahn hit a couple of his three-point shots (he was 4 for 5 on the night) and by half-time were down by eleven, 39-50. Even Kewaskum's Mark Heather who ended up 2 for 3 in three-point shots himself couldn't keep the Indians in the game.

Third quarter action got no better for Kewaskum as they were outscored 15-9 and although in the fourth quarter the Indians were answering Waupun basket for basket, they never could make up the point deficit.

Waupun's Wojahn ended up with 20 points for the victors, and teammates Gorst and Kahl added 20 and 17 points respectively. Mike Ciriacks, Mike Struebing, and Brian Leitheiser chalked up 14, 10, and 10 for the losing team.

In Friday's consolation game, our Indians took on the Campbellsport Cougars who lost by a single point in their first round action and weren't about to lose again. They jumped to a 25-16 lead in the first quarter with strong shooting exhibited by Kevin Braatz, Brian Leider and Bill Reese. By the second quarter our Indians were down by as much as 17 before Kewaskum's Mike Struebing popped in a quick one right before the half to make it 46-31, Campbellsport.

Kewaskum made a comeback in the third quarter outscoring Campbellsport by 22-12. Mike Heberer shot in two baskets and Steve Gerhartz connected on a three-pointer to help close the gap to within five, 58-53. The game stayed intense until with about three minutes left, the Indians just lost it and frequent free throws trips by Campbellsport put the game out of reach for our Indians.

The Cougars were 10 of 12 in these closing minutes to help clinch the victory. Campbellsport's Braatz ended his night with 20 points and Reese added 16 for the Cougars, while Struebing and Gerhartz each popped in 13 and Ciriacks contributed 10 in the loss.

The Indians next game will be in Sheboygan Falls this Friday against the Falcons.

Open Gym Program Set to Start at KHS

Beginning Saturday, Jan. 14th, the Village of Kewaskum will again sponsor the open gym program at the Kewaskum High School. Due to the availability of the gym and subject to change, the dates of the Open Gym sessions will be Jan. 14th and 28th, Feb. 4th, 11th and 25th, and March 11th, 18th and 25th. The hours will again be from noon to 4 p.m.

Participants should be residents of the Kewaskum School District and must provide their own tennis shoes, basketballs and towels. There is a 50c per session charge and anyone age 5 and under must be accompanied by an adult.

If you have any questions regarding the open gym program, please call the Municipal Building at 626-8484, or Craig Knops at 626-8046.

The Kewaskum Indian JayVee team bounced back after a 78-50 loss to Campbellsport to defeat the Sheboygan Falls Falcons 54-40 in the holiday tournament at Kewaskum High School.

In first round action Thursday night, Campbellsport's Chad Eichstadt couldn't be stopped and popped in the game-high 26 points. And he had help. Teammates Brett Bruins and Corey Flier both added 16 more to keep the game out of reach for the JVs. Kewaskum's Mark Felix and Tim Butschlick contributed 19 and 15 in the loss.

The Indians ignited in their consolation round and with 13 points from Mike Ruplinger and excellent team rebounding won handily against Sheboygan Falls to take consolation honors. Coach Dave Dillman was real pleased with the win and stated, "Just about everybody scored."

The JV team is 2-5 overall on the season and travel to Sheboygan Falls Friday for conference action.
