Powerful, Low-Cost Water Purifier For Home Use Announced by Regal Ware

NEW YORK (Jan. 10, 1989) — The Regal Purewater System, an in-home water purification device unique to the marketplace, was unveiled at a national press conference here today by Regal Ware, Inc., Kewaskum. The system uses multi-stage filtration, aeration and thermal treatment to eliminate harmful bacteria, viruses and cysts, and to substantially reduce heavy metals and toxic contaminants found in drinking water.

NEW YORK (Jan. 10, 1989) — A unique water purification device for home use that kills bacteria and virtually eliminates heavy metals and toxic contaminants found in drinking water was introduced at a press conference here today by Regal Ware, Inc., Kewaskum, Wis.

The new Regal® Purewater System purifies tap water by passing it through a series of filters, via a patented process, using an activated carbon filter, aeration and heating. This ensures the removal of bacteria, chemicals and other pollutants. The process takes about 35 minutes.

The revolutionary product is a response to the deteriorating state of the nation's drinking water, according to James D. Reigle, president of Regal Ware, Inc. He cited a pair of studies released last fall.

The National Wildlife Federation reported that up to 37 million Americans are drinking tap water contaminated with bacteria, heavy metals and radio nucleides. The U.S. Geological Survey announced that groundwater contamination is rising in every state, primarily from garbage dumps, industrial waste, septic tanks and underground gasoline

Veto Placing Beechwood School Sale Referendum on April Ballot

Beechwood School Issue Still a Hot Potato

By GERRY MUELLER

Despite the fact that District Administrator David Heather could not provide any specifics that would brighten the picture for the future of Beechwood Elementary School, the Kewaskum Board of Education voted not to place an advisory referendum concerning possible disposition of the school on the spring election ballot.

Board member Perry Ankerson, who placed the item of the Beechwood School on the meeting's agenda began discussion of the issue by moving that the school board go on record as being in favor of selling the school.

Board member Clara Trapp of Beechwood, who has been against the school's closing and sale from the beginning asked Heather what his position was. "My recommendation is to not sell it at this time," stated Heather. Some time in the future the district might need the school, he noted. When Ankerson asked Heather how far down the road he was looking toward a possible re-opening, he could not give any time frame. Are we looking at one, three, five years from now, asked Ankerson. Heather indicated he could not say specifically.

In responding to Heather's comments, Ankerson told Heather, "you have indicated enrollment was increasing in the village and east side of the district, however, you've never indicated there is any growth in the Beechwood area." Heather agreed there has been no growth in Beechwood and that the slight increase in enrollment was reflected at the Farmington and Kewaskum Elementary schools. Ankerson

Board OKs Part Time Curriculum Coordinator

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The efforts of board member Neal Weare, Monday night, appeared to be that of beating a dead horse, but as it turned out, he was able to breathe some life, if only a very little, into a continuing request to hire a curriculum coordinator for the Kewaskum School District.

Weare placed the issue of the curriculum coordinator position on the school board's agenda in an attempt to get members to take some definite action, either for or against, so the issue could finally be put to rest. The action Weare got was not exactly what he had hoped for.

In making his motion that the district hire a full time curriculum coordinator for the 1989-90 school year, Weare told fellow board members, "Dr. Heather is the third superintendent we've had since I've served as a school board member and they all have seen the need for a curriculum coordinator." We've even had our administrators and our teachers come to us saying there is a need to fill the position, he noted.

Weare reminded the board that the position was not a new one. In fact, the job became vacant and remained unfilled when former Director of Instruction Julie Backus resigned to take a similar position with a neighboring school district.

In asking the board to approve hiring an individual to fill the post Weare also asked them to set aside the petty differences they have had over the position and consider the students, "let's give them the best chance we can."

Board member Perry Ankerson questioned District Administrator Dr. David Heather about information packets describing various administrative jobs and the responsibilities that went with them. In particular Ankerson was curious about a very detailed schedule for the buildings and grounds superintendent. He asked Heather whether consideration was being given to "trading off" one position, specifically the building and grounds superintendent, for that of the curriculum coordinator. Ankerson said the answer to that question would have significant bearing on his vote regarding the coordinator's position. Heather indicated he did not intend to give up one position to gain another.

Ankerson asked Heather who had requested the information packets. He also asked Heather if any board member had asked him to look into the buildings and grounds superintendent and his duties. Heather stated that no one had made such a request. Heather said he had asked the superintendent to give a two-week outline of his duties so he could see how his time was spent if he was asked to justify the position. It was noted that the other information packets were not in as much detail.

Ankerson did not seem completely satisfied with Heather's reply feeling there was more to the issue. He then referred to a public board meeting at which board member Clara Trapp made "disparaging" remarks about the buildings superintendent and his ability to perform the duties of his position. Heather said he did not single out the buildings superintendent. Ankerson, however, said he felt there was "a pattern developing." "If we're going to discuss a position, it should be done at an open meeting," said Ankerson, "but if we're going to discuss job performance, that should be done in closed session."

Heather again indicated he had no intention of trading positions. He did, however stress that he felt the district had a definite need for a curriculum coordinator.

After Weare's motion was defeated 1-6, board member Ruth Schmitt made a motion to hire a half-time curriculum coordinator. Schmitt said she could not support a full time position especially after hearing Business Manager Cherna Gorder's earlier report that the 1989-90 budget could have a deficit increased by $50,000. Schmitt's motion narrowly passed on a 4-3 vote with Schmitt, Trapp, Weare and Beimborn for and Ankerson, Ralph Horner and Don Nowak voting no. Ankerson indicated he based his no vote on money considerations, noting if the financial picture changed he would reconsider his position.

After the vote, Heather advised the board that while a half time position would help temporarily, it would probably become necessary in the next few years to increase the position as well as those of gifted and talented coordinator and social worker to full time status to meet the demands of state mandates.

In other action the board went on record as being opposed to the proposed property tax amendment which would have removed school taxes from the property tax.

While the state legislature has put off voting on the amendment until 1990, Weare said, as elected officials it was the duty of school boards to keep taxpayers informed as to what is actually taking place. "We must go on record at this time as being opposed to removing the school tax from the property tax until the legislature provides specific information on the alternate source of funding they intend to use to cover those school taxes," said Weare. At this time, there is no indication what funding they intend to use in place of the property tax, he noted.

Schmitt agreed with Weare's comments on keeping the public informed. "This also comes down to the local level," said Schmitt. "Cost controls will penalize those districts with lean budgets while rewarding those with padded budgets," stated Schmitt. "You might as well do away with all school boards because it will all be state controlled."

Another repeat item on Monday night's agenda was discussion on partial self funded health insurance. In addressing the issue again, Ankerson told the board that after salaries and transportation, insurance is the third biggest expenditure in the school district's budget. "And, if you add the cost of dental insurance, it rises to the second largest expenditure."

Ankerson stated the district's insurance costs have gone up in excess of 50% over two years. "I'm not talking about changing coverage, I'm talking about changing the method of funding it," said Ankerson. For the first time we have an opportunity to find out what this is really costing us and I think we should seriously look into it he noted.

On a 6-1 vote, Beimborn voting no, the board approved seeking bids and additional information on a partially self-funded insurance program.

I Need Help!

I'm the Parent of a Middle School Kid

You say you're the parent of a middle school kid. You say he or she is driving you mad. You say that just last year this same child was a mild mannered as Clark Kent, but must have spent the summer in a telephone booth changing into an (shudder) "adolescent."

Well, Bunkie, have I got good news for you. On February 16 at Kewaskum Middle School the Parent Advisory Council has invited an expert on this strange creature. Judith Baenen will teach you how to communicate with and, perhaps, even motivate this kid with whom you once had a passing acquaintance.

On February 16, at 7:30 when you are still feeling lovey and warm from the Valentines you received, shock yourself back to reality learning how to tolerate and, maybe, even understand your "adolescent" or soon to be "adolescent." Those of you out there who are smugly smiling because you had an edifying conversation about the Super Bowl at dinner with your 10-year-old, just wait. Your time is near. Be strong and be prepared. Join us on February 16, 7:30 p.m., at Kewaskum Middle School. BE THERE!

Stommel Receives Award For Community Service

Vivian Stommel, a member of Holy Trinity Catholic Church and the Kewaskum community, has been presented the "St. Anne Award" by the Adult Recognition Committee of the Milwaukee Archdiocesan Catholic Committee on Girl Scouting.

The recipients of these National Awards are all adult volunteers who have met the requirements of being actively involved in Girl Scouting, in their parish ministries and activities, as well as in their community.

Stommel won this award based on her long hours and commitment to others, including volunteering with the Kewaskum Girl Scouts, directing the children's choir at Holy Trinity, cake decorating, and planting trees in Kiwanis Park.

Such intensive volunteer work takes up a lot if not most of a person's free time. "The reason I do it is because I receive great pleasure knowing that I helped a child grow up to be morally responsible. This guidance is especially needed in today's society where both mom and dad work. Just taking the time to listen and share what you know with younger people is ultimately rewarding for me," Stommel said, who is employed as a wrapper, Fabricated Metals, West Bend Co.

Those receiving the St. Anne Award have volunteered a minimum of ten years of service to the Girl Scout Organization.

Also presented the St. Anne Award from this area was Ruth Ann Bruesch, Holy Angels Parish, West Bend. The medals were presented at St. Alphonsus Church in Greendale on Sunday, Dec. 4, 1988 at a 5:00 p.m. Mass.

Vivian and her husband Arnie and daughter Annette reside in Kewaskum.

Indian Girls Dunk the Falcons

On Thursday, January 5th the Sheboygan Falls basketball team traveled to Kewaskum to try and defeat the Indians. With a nice try, the Indians just couldn't let them do it. The Falcons lost 57-11 to the girls varsity. The Indians jumped out to a 21-5 lead right away.

Sheboygan Falls only shot 8 percent which is 2 out of 26 shots. Kewaskum's field goal percentage was 37, averaging about 24 of 65 shots.

By halftime, the score was 31-5, the Indians only allowing them two buckets in the second half. At the end of the 3rd quarter, Kewaskum was ahead 42-6.

Pam Osterbrink hit a game high 24 points while Kristi

Lubahn had 8 and Deb Rimmel had 6.

The varsity's standing now is 5-6 overall (3-2 conference).

The Kewaskum JV's also had a victory, 42-15. At halftime the score was only 14-11. Coach Amundson's talk at the half must have been a good one, and the results of the game showed it. While the Falcons allowed the Indians 28 points after half, Kewaskum allowed them a mere 4 points. Kelly Rohlinger played a great game having 12 points, and Tracey Steinert and Brenda Falk both with 8 points.

The freshmen didn't have a game since Sheboygan Falls doesn't have a team this year.

PEER LISTENING Students Help Students at KHS

Twelve students at Kewaskum High School have become members of a group called Peer Listening under the direction of KHS guidance counselor John Baitinger, the group gives students the opportunity to seek counseling from people in their own age group. Students who feel they have problems they cannot solve by themselves can approach the listeners for help. The listeners primarily advise during their studyhall hours. If they do not have time to help the student, the listener will refer the student to another member of the group.

Not anyone can become a peer listener. Students who wish to do so must first fill out an application, give reasons why they want to become a listener, and are asked what they would do in several problem situations before even being considered. These students are then interviewed by Prevention Specialist Sandy Gunderson and Outreach Interventionalist Larry Smikowski. Once chosen, the members of this year's group attended a five-day training session at The Unity Club in West Bend. At the training session, the students were informed about many of the problems facing teenagers, and advised on how they can help them. This was done through video tapes and speeches given each day by speakers knowledgeable in a particular topic. Some of the topics discussed were active listening, goal setting, alcoholism, drug abuse, suicide, teen pregnancy, abortion, contraceptives, and domestic violence. Upon completing this course, the peer listeners were given their certification.

Each month, the members of the Kewaskum Peer Listening Group and the members of other peer listening groups in the county attend a county meeting. At these meetings, students listen to speeches, practice listening exercises, and share experiences.

On Wednesday, December 14, the Slinger peer listeners held a Christmas party for all the other groups in the county.

Regal Ware

tanks.

Researchers at the University of Arizona recently tested the Regal Purewater System, and found that it destroyed more than 99.9 percent of all harmful bacteria and parasites found in contaminated drinking water. Independent researchers at Oneida Environmental Technology Center, Green Bay, Wis., reported that the reduction of lead in tests of the Regal Purewater System was to levels consistently below the new proposed standard of five parts per billion. All tests showed that the unit surpassed U.S. Environmental Protection Agency standards for classification as a water purifier.

According to Regal Ware's president, James D. Reigle, the unit produces water superior to that produced by most commercially available purification systems — and at a much lower cost. The unit will sell for under $100.

One-of-a-Kind Product

"The Regal Purewater System is one of a kind," said Reigle. "It destroys bacteria and removes most toxins, yet it retains the minerals that make water healthful and give it a clean, delicious taste."

The completely automatic unit, about the size of a household coffee maker, is equipped with two half-gallon containers that fit under the faucet for easy dispensing and refrigerated storage. It is suitable for countertop use and is also portable.

Once the unit is plugged into an electrical outlet, a manual timer starts the cycle and a light indicates the unit is on. Using minimal electricity, the system produces one gallon of water per 35-minute cycle. The result is highly clarified, fresh-tasting water that is bacteriologically safe; substantially free of visible particles and other contaminants, including chlorine, sulfur and pesticides; and contains significantly reduced levels of heavy metals such as lead, mercury and cadmium.

Easy to Maintain

The multi-stage filtration and thermal treatment process not only renders most of the contaminants harmless, it allows the appliance to maintain itself virtually free of scale buildup. The only maintenance required is a filter change every three to four months, depending on the amount of use and source water conditions. Replacement filters will sell for about $20.

Regal Ware has monitored the water purification market closely for several years. In collaboration with Purewater Sciences International, Inc., New York, extensive research was conducted on the treatment systems currently available, as well as bottled water consumption and potential sales of a home water purification device.

According to Reigle, data revealed that a growing number of families are turning to point-of-use water treatment systems and bottled water, reflecting the public's anxiety over the quality of its drinking water.

"Clean, pure water is essential to our health and longevity," said Reigle, "and yet we have an undeniable drinking water crisis in our country. Government agencies at all levels have done an admirable job trying to clean up our water sources, but they are fighting an uphill battle against decades of neglect."

Bottled Water Not the Answer
About 75 percent of all bottled water in the United States comes from groundwater sources, which, Reigle explained, in many cases is not any higher in quality than tap water. Consumption of bottled water, however, is growing 10 to 15 percent a year.

Point-of-use water purification equipment is a $200 million a year industry. Most of the water treatment equipment available to consumers, Reigle noted, is either too expensive or inefficient.

"We set out to build an in-home water purification device that was affordable, effective and reliable, yet easy to operate and maintain," said Reigle. "We believe our product is the most thorough, efficient and portable water treatment device available."

The Regal Purewater System currently is available in Miami, Cincinnati and Sacramento, and nationally via direct mail. The company expects national in-store distribution by late spring. For more information, contact Regal Ware at (414)626-2121.

Regal Ware, Inc., headquartered in Kewaskum, Wis., has been one of the world's leading housewares manufacturers for over 40 years. The company has more than 1,500 employees and offers more than 500 products worldwide.

School Board

told the meeting that, in order to open Beechwood, it would require bussing of students from Farmington.

Ankerson asked Heather if he had any plan if Beechwood were to be reopened. Heather said Kindergarten, first and second grade classes could be held at Beechwood, with third, fourth and fifth grade students attending Farmington. "Are you contemplating split classes, asked Ankerson. "That would not be educationally sound," said Heather.

"We have a potential increase of 14 students," noted Ankerson, "two at Farmington, twelve at Kewaskum, a decrease of two at Wayne and no growth in Beechwood. "My contention is then, wouldn't it make a lot more sense to add room where the enrollment is, then bus students?" Ankerson told Heather if the school board wanted to see attendance increase at its meetings just suggests that Farmington students should be bussed to Beechwood.

Ankerson asked Heather, "If you opened the school today, how many students would you need?" He stated 25 per class, for a total of 125 students using five classrooms. Ankerson said, "I'd do it for 20 in a class." Records for the last three years Beechwood was open show that even with students bussed from Farmington, the school's enrollment never rose above 95 students, well below Heather's recommended 125.

In 1983-84 there were 84 students including half-time kindergarten pupils which reduced that figure down to 76 full time equivalent students. In 1984-85 the count was 90 including kindergarten, or 81 full time equivalent students. In 1985-86, the last year the school was open, the count was 95 which included 8 students from Farmington and 12 half time kindergarten pupils.

"No one here is willing to predict the opening of that school," said Ankerson. "If we need space, we have that space in the wrong place. I suggest the building be put on the market and the funds from that sale put into a special Capital Expenditures account to be used for items such as classrooms and asbestos removal. Deep down we all know that this district will desperately need that money."

Ankerson noted that by simply doing a good job of watching school boundaries, the district could handle its increases. Even with the completion of the highway 45 Bypass, noted Ankerson, the Southeastern Regional Planning Commission has revised its growth projections downward for this area. They're now projecting most of the growth will come in the area of the county south of West Bend.

Heather confirmed some of Ankerson's remarks noting he was already considering making some boundary adjustments that would eliminate in particular, one unusual class size problem which has occurred at KES. He said, however, he was not prepared to go into that issue at this time and would come back to the board on it in April or May.

Board member Donald Nowak questioned Ankerson's motion, verifying that it would be a recommendation, not a vote. Nowak said it (Beechwood) was an issue that had to be addressed and he felt the taxpayers should have the opportunity to express their opinion as to whether or not the school should be sold.

The board declined to show its support for the sale of the school. Ankerson then made his motion to put the item on the April ballot as an advisory referendum. Heather asked Ankerson what he wanted the referendum to say. He indicated, simply, are you in favor of selling the Beechwood School and placing the funds from that sale in a special account for capital expenditures.

Trapp indicated she would vote against the motion. She said the district had been fed a line of hogwash when it was told closing Beechwood would save the district money. Ankerson told Trapp he understood she had emotional ties to the building but, it was just that, a building. "I do not have any emotional ties!", exclaimed Trapp.

Ankerson, in reply to Trapp's comments about saving money, noted she had been on the board three years and he could not recall Trapp's ever voting for any of the tax saving proposals that had come before it. "Excuse me," said Ankerson, "I seem to remember one, for about $78."

Board president Ralph Horner also said he would vote against the motion, citing the results of a previous special meeting indicated the electors did not want to sell the property and that it should be kept by the district for five years.

When the vote on Ankerson's motion was called for, Trapp, Horner, Ron Beimbom and Ruth Schmitt voted against placing the referendum on the April ballot, while Ankerson, Nowak and Neal Weare voted in favor.

In replying to Nowak's earlier comments about his taxes going up, Ankerson said; my taxes, your taxes and those of a lot more people are being used just to maintain that building.

Weekly Health Tip

From Tom Kennelly

BP and ALCOHOL

Medicines taken to lower blood pressure [BP] are antagonized by alcoholic drinks. Researchers find that the more alcohol one takes each day, the greater this antagonistic effect. Thus the BP of those taking 4 or 5 drinks daily tends to be higher than those who drink only 1 or no alcoholic drinks a day. Obesity is a major cause of high blood pressure, and alcohol is loaded with empty calories, which only add to overweight.

Kewaskum Part of Torch Run

Snowmobilers Support Badger State Winter Games

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Although spectators were few and far between because of Sunday's bone-chilling temperatures, Bob and Jeanne Staehler of Kewaskum carried the torch in one of the first legs of the Torch Run leading to the first Badger State Winter Games to be held in Wausau next month.

Riding a 1989 Ski-Doo Safari Scout snowmobile specially equipped with wheels for high-way use, the Staehlers, escorted by the Kewaskum Police and Washington County Sheriff's Departments, traveled from the Amerahn south on highways 45, to highway 28, to the Sheboygan County line where they were met by members of the Plymouth Sno-Rangers Snowmobile Club. The Plymouth club was scheduled to carry the torch on the next leg of its journey to its final destination in Wausau.

Staehler is a past president of the Kewaskum Sno-Chiefs as well as past president of the Association of Wisconsin Snowmobile Clubs and former chairman of the Governor's Snowmobile Recreation Council.

The Staehlers represented Kewaskum as one of the approximately 25 communities statewide who are participating in the Torch Run for the Badger State Winter Games which is being sponsored jointly by the Bombardier Corporation, manufacturers of Ski-Doo snowmobiles, and GTE-North.

The Association of Wisconsin Snowmobile Clubs and Wisconsin Ski-Doo dealers helped in the organization of the month-long event which will culminate with the Winter Games in Wausau, February 3-5. The first annual Badger State Winter Games will include competition in four sports, Alpine and cross country skiing, curling and hockey. Figure skating will be a demonstration sport for 1989.

Neither Bombardier or GTE are strangers in supporting amateur sports. Last year Ski-Doo was the exclusive sponsor of the 1988 Calgary Winter Olympics Torch Run. GTE is a major sponsor of Wisconsin's amateur sports festival and has sponsored the Badger State Summer Games Torch Run for the past three years.

"Snowmobiling is a very popular sport in Wisconsin," said Russ Davis, National Sales Manager of Bombardier's snowmobile division, "and even though it is not part of the Badger Games as an event, it

It's not really Mr. and Mrs. Darth Vader, but Jeanne (holding torch) and Bob Staehler, all bundled up against last Sunday's bitter cold as they prepared to ride their leg of the Badger State Winter Games Torch Run. Allen Amerling, right, held the sign which shows all the Wisconsin communities which are participating in the month-long event.

It was off and away as the Staehlers headed down Main Street to a rendezvous with members of the Plymouth Sno-Rangers who would run the next leg of the Torch Run.

For the seventh time in six years, your electric rates have gone down.

On January 1, 1989, Wisconsin Electric decreased the price of electricity by an average of 2.0 percent.

In spite of the fact that inflation has increased about 21 percent over the past six years, the price of electricity from Wisconsin Electric has gone down about 9 percent. Due to company cost-cutting efforts and lower fuel costs, today the price you pay for electricity here is less than six years ago and one of the lowest in the nation.

Low electric rates are one of the things that make Wisconsin such a great place to live and work! And we're proud to be a part of it.

Charles Haessly residing about four miles west of Campbellsport, last Friday afternoon lost a thumb while operating a circle saw on his brother's farm which was close by to his. The injury was very painful and it was lucky Mr. Haessly's entire hand was not severed. A physician was called and the injured member amputated.

Reports were circulated on Tuesday that Jacob Honeck of the Town of Kewaskum had been found unconscious on the road near Allenton that morning and that his team of horses had run away and were not found.

Mr. Honeck together with his son Kilian delivered some grain with two teams to Allenton on Monday. Upon returning home Kilian went in advance and did not pay any attention to his father in the rear and arrived home unaware of any accident.

Northeast of Allenton, the tugs of the harness on the team which the senior Honeck was driving in some manner became unhooked and the wagon tongue dropped out of the neck yoke, frightening the team which became unmanageable and ran away throwing Mr. Honeck off the wagon. With special effort he was able to crawl to a nearby farmer, Peter Moritz who assisted him and summoned medical aid. Upon examination it was found Mr. Honeck suffered from two broken ribs and other internal injuries.

John Miller, a carpet weaver of Batavia passed away Tuesday, Dec. 30, death being due to dropsy of the heart. Mr. Miller was 61 and survived by his wife and two children. Mr. Miller was long a resident of the town of Kewaskum and moved to Batavia about 15 years ago. Mr. Miller is the brother of Aug. Miller of the town of Kewaskum.

The village of Campbellsport was started by the sound of the fire bell at noon Tuesday and in further investigation the fire was discovered to be on John Braun's farm about one mile to the west of the village.

Braun was having his clover threshed and in some manner the sparks from the engine fell on the hay and caused a fire. However it was quickly extinguished and not much damage was done. The fire department went out to the farm but their assistance was not needed.

Indian Wrestlers Fair Well In Fond du Lac Tournament

Dennis Aupperle, Kewaskum, up against John Harris of Ripon at the Fond du Lac tournament. Dennis pinned John in 3:50 and went on to take first place.

Chris Charland, Kewaskum, pinned Brady Helmbrecht in his first round of the Fond du Lac tournament. The pin came in 4:57. Chris took first at the tournament at 152 weight class.

by Chris Charland

Although Kewaskum only had nine wrestlers participate in the ten team tournament Saturday, Jan. 7, they fared well, placing fourth.

Chris Charland and Dennis Aupperle were the two Indian wrestlers coming home with first place finishes.

Chris wrestled three matches on the day, winning his first two by pin. He then faced John Bell from Marshfield in the finals. Chris decided on him 8-5 to win the 152 pound weight class.

Dennis was the next and last Indian to win in the finals.

Dennis wrestled four times to win the championship at the 275 weight decision. He won his final match 5-0 over Dave Munoz. Bobby Castro and Noel Stradtman took home second place finishes. Placing third for the Indians was Dan Heisdorf and Jeff Sabish placed fourth.

Indians Bow to Campbellsport

In what turned out to be the night of the three point shot for Campbellsport our Kewaskum Indians once again turned out on the short end of the scoreboard bowing to the Campbellsport Cougars 63-50 in the Indian gym Tuesday night.

Junior Steve Gerhartz put on a spectacular show of on-target shooting and sound, aggressive rebounding but even his game-high 27 points wasn't enough to put the Indians in the winner's circle. The clincher for the cougars; three 3-point shots, two by Troy Schill who finished as leading scorer for Campbellsport with 17 pts. and one by Craig Johnson who wound up with 10 pts. for the night. Until these 3-pointers, Kewaskum had tightened a 12-point half-time deficit down to one point, 40-39 by the end of the third quarter.

During the first half of play, our Indians kept the game within reach with Randy Krell and Gerhartz making up 10 points for Kewaskum in the first quarter to Campbellsport's 19. Both big men were playing some intense basketball underneath, with the inside board game getting somewhat physical. Early in the first quarter senior Mike Heberer hit the floor hard and that knee injury from football looked to be re-injured again. Heberer was out for the endurance of the game, and the bad luck continued when Mike Ciriacks checked into the game. Kewaskum got hit with a technical foul for having the wrong number in the scorebook and Campbellsport was up 6-4.

In the second quarter, the Cougars broke away and costly turn-overs and poor shooting spread the point total to sixteen as Campbellsport popped in eight un-answered points before Randy Krell fought for his own rebound and battled one home underneath. Krell hit again on the next possession and Mark (DOC) Heberer drove a 3-pointer through and Kewaskum was back within seven, 20-27. Back came the Cougars Schill, who shot for two plus got fouled and made his free throw for a 3-point play. The second quarter ended with Krell in the bonus situation making 2-2 to set the half-time score at 22-34 Campbellsport.

Then came the Steve Gerhartz show. He shot. He rebounded. He scored... and scored again. Before the Cougars knew what hit them, Gerhartz popped in six Indian baskets aided by a couple beautiful assists by his teammates and the game was back in reach 33-38. Campbellsport drove down court to make one basket and then Kewaskum hit three more with big men Krell, Ciriacks, and Gerhartz all connecting. At the end of third quarter action the score was Kewaskum 39, Campbellsport 40.

And then came those 3-pointers from the "fire" power of the Campbellsport Cougars, Troy Schill. He popped two in a row in less than a minute and although Gerhartz answered with three Indian baskets, Campbellsport added yet another 3-pointer from Johnson. With 4:36 remaining, coach called time, the score 45-53, Campbellsport and our run for victory fizzled away. With 3:44 remaining the Indians were down by 12 and never regained the point spread. Final score Campbellsport 63, Kewaskum 61. Along with Gerhartz game high and personal best 27 points (he scored 21 points in the second half), Randy Krell drove home another 12 points in the loss.

The JayVee were victorious in a come from behind win against the Cougars. Down by as many as 12 points, the JayVee squad exhibited a "never-say-die" attitude and wound up pulling out a win 48-43 Coach Dillman was ecstatic with the win adding, "The boys could do no wrong. They played the best they ever played." High scorers were Mark Felix with 14 points and Chris Schmidt with 9 points and 9 rebounds.

Freshmen also won by a wide margin 66-37, upping their winning streak to 5-1. Keith Butschlick had 14 points and Joel Fleischman and Chad Cook each contributed 12 and 10 respectfully. Matt Seiser and Kim Marx also popped in 10 and 9 points to round out the scoring.

SHEEPSHEAD WINNERS

5 handed winners on Wednesday, Jan. 4th were: Mathelda Rady, 61-5-56, 19-4-15; Faye Keller 65-11-54, 21-6-15; Ed Hartmann 59-12-47, 23-5-18; Judy Lickman 49-6-43, 16-4-12.

Indians Drop Another One

The Indians traveled to Sheboygan Falls Friday only to drop another game, this time to the Falcons.

Kewaskum started out strong leading by the end of the first quarter 12-10. Then came the second quarter and as Coach Schatz pointed out, "Mental lapses on defense turned into some quick buckets for the Falcons." The Falcons outscored the Indians 25 to 12 this quarter breaking open the game by a 9 point deficit 35-24. The Falcons used the strong shooting and defensive rebounding of 6'2" senior Brett Synder. Synder ended up 13 for 16 from the floor and 7 for 7 from the free throw line for a whopping 34 points. He was the only member of the Falcon team in double figures with Schleicher and Marti next high at eight a piece.

The third quarter, the gap widened as Synder kept popping and the Indians just couldn't get the boards they needed to put some points back on the scoreboard in their favor.

Then came their comeback fourth quarter. Kewaskum lightened the score to 69-61 with about 2:00 left but as Coach Schatz said, "We didn't score and ended up fouling." Their consistent free throw shooting put the game right back out of reach ending the game at 77-61.

Kewaskum shot a miserable 35% from the floor but the bright spot about that is every Indian scored in the game. Rich Radke and Steve Gerhartz led the team with 8 points.

In JayVee action, the Indians pulled out an intense victory against Sheboygan Falls JayVee team 41-38. Leading scorers for Kewaskum were Mark Felix with 20 points and teammate Tim Butschlick adding 12 points. Their record ups itself to 3-5 in the overall season.

Freshmen won handily 77-56. Chad Cook had 21 points with Joel Fleischman popping in another 19. Kewaskum is tie for first place in conference with a 4-1 record.

One player's mother was trying to cheer up the Little League coach after his team's disastrous season. "At least you've taught the boys sportsmanship," she comforted. "They're certainly good losers."

"Good?" howled the miserable coach. "Lady, they're perfect!"
