Water Main Break Cancels Classes For High School Students Monday

Public Works employee Alan Kuehl and Superintendent Augie Bilgo (bending over) spent several cold, wet hours repairing the broken main.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Many of Kewaskum's high school students were saying hoorah, hoorah, no school today, but most of them didn't know about their three-day weekend until they heard about it on the radio Monday morning.

The benefactor of the students having Monday off was an eight-inch water main which broke about 6:00 p.m.

Sunday near the corner of Bilgo Lane and Third Street, as the result of the cold weather and shifting ground.

Public Works crews were on the scene Monday repairing the break and restoring water to the school. The staff, however, was not as lucky as their students. They reported to work as usual, quenching their thirst with bottled water.

Classes at the high school resumed on Tuesday.

Fire Destroys Farmington Home

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Fillmore Fire Department was called out last Wednesday to battle a fire which destroyed a Town of Farmington home.

Fire fighters, hampered by freezing temperatures, battled the blaze which heavily damaged the Stephan Janisch resident at 9056 Fillmore Road.

Janisch who discovered the fire at approximately 7:30 p.m., and his wife who were both at home, escaped the burning ranch style home unharmed.

Fillmore firefighters, with assistance from the Boltonville, Newburg and Waubeka Fire Departments, fought the fire for an hour before bringing it under control. Their efforts were hampered by the freezing up of hoses and pumps because of the extremely cold temperatures.

Three Fillmore firemen, Bruce Kurth, Jeff Fahney and Scott Hayes sustained injuries in fighting the blaze. All three were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend, where they were treated and released.

The fire, which began in a workshop attached to the home, is under investigation but its cause is not considered to be of a suspicious nature.

No dollar estimate was placed on the fire loss.

BABES Program, Substance Abuse Education for the Youngest Students

By GERRY MUELLER

They were only five and six years old in the session this reporter attended, but the students at Kewaskum Elementary School were talking about drugs, peer pressure and self-image. Big words for little people, but it's all part of the B.A.B.E.S. program sponsored by The Council on Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse of Washington County.

For the past few weeks, Kewaskum School District students, grades Kindergarten through second grade, have participated in the BABES (Beginning Alcohol and Additional Basic Education Studies), a primary prevention program designed to give youngsters "a lifetime of protection from substance abuse."

The program is implemented through the use of animal

Teachers Enjoy 'Wellness' Inservice

The entire Kewaskum school district was involved in a "Wellness" day at the high school, February 20th, as part of their in-service training. Coordinated by District Administrator Dr. David Heather, the afternoon was highlighted with various wellness speakers and topics.

The first session contained a choice of two programs, one on "Facts and Fallacies of Cholesterol" with Mrs. Cindy Hesse from the Wisconsin Dairy Council and the other was entitled "Preventive Foot Care" with Dr. T.J. Benda doing the presentation. Both programs received a favorable response and were enjoyed and proved informative to those attending.

The next session was "Who's in Charge of Your Life" with Ms. Pat Jocz as the scheduled speaker. This session started out with everyone placing a black dot on their hand and watching the color changes throughout the two hour session. The dots turned from a black to a brownish, to green, to a deep blue, and finally to a violet depending upon how relaxed an individual was.

Ms. Jocz brought out some interesting thoughts on coping and stress and how to deal with these things every day on the job. She ended her session by doing a relaxation technique that hopefully did just what it was suppose to do...get the participants to relax!

The afternoon ended with a session on "Health Walking" in which Brian Seefeldt, manager of "The Fast Foot" in West Bend came to talk to the group on the benefits of walking and how important it is to wear the right shoes. He stressed that comfortable shoes make exercising more enjoyable and that if there's "no pain, there's all gain" for you.

At the breaks, teachers had a chance to get their blood pressure taken and pick up informational materials from the various sessions.

Refreshments were also offered for the teachers during the afternoon featuring mostly healthy snacks to keep with the wellness theme. The cafeteria ladies did however manage to slip in a pan of brownies on the last break to sweeten the day.

The teachers seemed to really enjoy this inservice theme and something was learned by all. It was a very informative afternoon.

Friends of Abused Families Awarded $3,000 Grant Recently

Friends of Abused Families, Inc. recently received an award of $3000 from Emergency Food and Shelter National Board Program. The fiscal agent for the program is United Way of America and Jackie Fogel is the local representative in Washington County.

One of the main barriers the residents at Friends encounter is finding affordable housing in Washington County. Once the resident finds affordable housing, another barrier encountered is the lack of personal funds for the first months' rent.

The residents need to set-up new households. Providing shelter and food is a big expense for the women and children. The grant monies will be used to pay the 1st month rent for five families and to get each family started with a $100 food voucher purchased at a local food store. Pick 'n Save food store is working with Friends on the voucher system.

Ann Stoffel says "It gives us great pleasure knowing we can start out five families (women & children) to overcome one of the main financial barriers in living lives free of domestic abuse."

On an expressway, two wrongs do not make a right, but many times two rights make a left.

New Beltone Hearing Aid Service Center Located in Kennelly's Pharmacy

After 12 years of serving residents in Dodge, Fond du Lac, and Washington Counties, and more recently Winnebago County and parts of Waukesha County, the Beltone Hearing Aid Center has added another Service Center in Kewaskum to better serve the hearing-impaired community. The new Service Center is located at the Kennelly Pharmacy, 927 Fond du Lac Avenue, in Kewaskum.

"The Kewaskum community has been very supportive of Beltone ever since our business began in the early 1950's," said Tom Thompson, a Licensed Hearing Aid Dispenser and owner of the Beltone Hearing Aid Center. "With our new, convenient Service Center, we'll be able to provide the same quality products and service conveniently to many of our clients."

"At Beltoné, we've spent the past 49 years helping our neighbors hear better and enjoy life more. We've been able to help more than 3 million people with their hearing problems. With our new Service Center, we'll be able to increase our commitment to the hearing-impaired. That's a good feeling!"

"Our staff has grown to the point where we now number 17. And we've grown in other ways, too," said Thompson, "opening, in addition to our main office in Beaver Dam, 3 branch offices in Fond du Lac, West Bend and Oshkosh as well as Service Centers in Waupun, Ripon, Pewaukee, Oconomowoc, Hartford, Germantown, and Kewaskum to serve even more area residents."

The new Service Center location will offer comprehensive electronic hearing tests free of charge to anyone who suspects a hearing loss in themselves or a friend. A 10-point hearing check-up and cleaning will be available at no charge to current hearing aid wearers, regardless of brand.

"Most people don't think of their hearing when they assess their own health," said Thompson. "Despite the fact that 20 million Americans suffer from a hearing loss, it is often misunderstood and overlooked." According to a study commissioned by the Hearing Industries Association, nearly every individual with a hearing impairment can be helped with modern hearing aids. "Many people do not realize that hearing aids can significantly improve their hearing, or that modern hearing aids are so small that other people may not even notice them," he added.

The independently-owned Beltone Service Center in Kewaskum is part of the Chicago-based Beltone Electronics Corporation's network of trained and authorized hearing aid specialists who have served the hearing impaired for nearly 50 years. That network currently consists of more than 3300 Beltone offices and service center locations throughout the U.S., Canada, and overseas.

Legion Supports Governor's Endorsement on Increasing Bed Capacity at Veteran's Home

Robert Oliver, State Commander of the Wisconsin American Legion from Montello, stated, "The Wisconsin American Legion, an organization of 80,000 members, strongly supports Governor Tommy Thompson's endorsement and fiscal decision to increase the bed capacity at the Wisconsin Veterans Home at King."

The Wisconsin American Legion has a mandate of longstanding to utilize the veterans' facility at King to its capabilities before considering the construction of a veterans home in another area of the state.

The proposal to construct a 204 bed, skilled-nursing care facility, the renovation of the Burns-Clemens Building, and the renovating of the Ove Building will add 200 beds to the existing home.

Buettner Receives Steiger Award

State Senator Carol Buettner (R-Oshkosh) has been named as the 1989 recipient of the William A. Steiger Human Service Award which will be presented on February 27, 1989 at the Inn on the Park Hotel in Madison at 5:00 p.m. This is the first year that the award has been given.

The award is being presented by the Wisconsin Community Action Program Association and is given in recognition of William A. Steiger, Congressman from Wisconsin who died in office in 1978. Steiger is known for his support of Community Action and its mission of helping disadvantaged people gain self-sufficiency through various programs.

"I'm very pleased and honored to have been selected for this award, especially in light of the fact that Bill Steiger was my Congressman in the 6th Congressional District," Buettner said. "Bill was a person I hold in high esteem. He valued people and he looked for ways to help them reach their full potential," Buettner added.

Each year the Wisconsin Community Action Program Association honors individuals from the State Legislature whom they feel have made an outstanding contribution in support of the work of community action.

The private, non-profit agencies work with low-income individuals through programs providing education, job training and creation, weatherization, elderly nutrition programs and other services.

Buettner, a former director of the Winnebago County Elderly Nutrition Program, has had first-hand experience in Community Action at the county level and has been a strong supporter of their efforts in the State Legislature.

In authorizing the name of former Congressman William Steiger for this award, Janet Steiger, his wife, stated that, "Bill would be honored to be so remembered for his work with Community Action Agencies in Wisconsin."

New Radiation Cancer Treatment Successful During First Year of Use

A treatment is designed to treat abdominal tumors that cannot be completely removed surgically, yet have not grown too large or spread to other locations within the abdomen.

The procedure, available in only a few places in the country, is called intraoperative radiation therapy. Six patients have received the treatment at St. Luke's since February 1988.

Without the use of intra-operative radiation, the outlook for these patients was very poor. There is no question that our first patient would be dead today without this treatment," said Howard Lewis, M.D., director of St. Luke's intra-operative radiation program. "After undergoing this procedure, all the patients are doing much better, and there has been no recurrence of the malignancies in the treated areas."

Using a specially designed lucite cylinder during surgery, surgeons and radiation oncologists expose tumors to cancer killing electron radiation at levels up to 10 times greater than can be used through conventional radiation delivered through the skin. The cylinder isolates healthy nearby tissue from radiation exposure.

In selective cases this procedure can provide an excellent supplement to the surgical treatment of cancer," said Francisco Martinez, M.D., a surgeon who has participated in three of the intraoperative procedures at St. Luke's.

Intraoperative radiation recovery from surgery, patients also receive conventional radiation treatment. "Thus far we've experienced no complications, no problems with recovery and we've been able to control the malignancies," Lewis noted. Lewis stressed that the procedure is still in its infancy and continued study will be needed to determine the long-range benefit to the patients.

Federal Emergency Food, Housing Grants Awarded

More than $12,000 has been awarded to four Washington County human service agencies to help meet the needs of the homeless and hungry. The Federal grant announced last December, will be utilized primarily for shelter by the requesting agencies.

St. Vincent de Paul in Hartford has been awarded $7,300 to provide emergency shelter for Washington County homeless families. The West Bend Chapter of the American Red Cross will receive $1,631 for both emergency shelter and some food. Friends of Abused Families has been granted $3,000 to help clients with rent as they move toward independence, and the Council on Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse has $800 to help pay for emergency shelter for clients with chemical dependencies.

"We are extremely excited about receiving these funds," said Jacquelyn Fogel, Executive Director of United Way of

Kewaskum Statesman
Friday, March 3, 1989, Page 6

Washington County and chair of the local program review board.

"We knew we had a homeless population here, but until now did not have the resources to adequately serve the population. In 1987 we identified 31 homeless families in Washington County. United Way of Wisconsin has realized that there are these pockets of poverty and hunger in even the most progressive communities. This year they made a commitment to do something about that by making sure all counties receive some of the Federal funds."

Agencies receiving funds must use them before December 31, 1989. A local review board has been set up to review and monitor the use of the funds, and report the results back to the National Board. The Federal Emergency Management Agency has designated United Way as the administrator and distributor of the federal program.

Cline - Wodsedalek

Lorna and Richard Cline of West Bend are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter, Tracy L. Cline, to Dallas D. Wodsedalek, son of Margaret and Wayne Wodsedalek of Kewaskum.

The bride to be is a 1988 graduate of Kewaskum High School, and is employed at West Bend Mutual Insurance Co. as a data entry operator. Dallas is also a 1988 Kewaskum High School graduate, and works for West Bend Elevator as a truck driver.

A September 23, 1989 wedding is being planned by the couple.

DOT Extends Frozen Road Law for Overweight Loads

The state Department of Transportation has granted a two-week extension to the "frozen road" declaration, enabling loggers to continue to transport heavier loads over state trunk highways until March 10.

"We recognize that logging is an important industry in the northern part of the state, and want to ensure that operators can move their products out of the forests as efficiently as possible without damaging the roads," according to DOT Secretary Ronald R. Fiedler.

Ted Stephenson, state highway maintenance engineer, said that highways are still frozen deeply enough that no damage will result from continuing the weight exemption which applies to logging operations and to winter maintenance trucks carrying salt or sand. Loggers are permitted to haul loads with gross weight of up to 98,000 during the time that roads are frozen.

Stephenson said the annual load restrictions are scheduled to go into effect March 12, and that permits for overweight loads will be suspended during the spring thaw when roads are more susceptible to damage.

Restrictions could be imposed earlier if there is an extended period of warm weather resulting in an early spring thaw, Stephenson added.

puppets which the children come to know as friends who talk to them in an uncomplicated way about such things as feelings, self-image, coping skills, drugs and alcohol and how to ask for help.

The lessons include the experiences of one puppet who is recovering from alcohol and substance abuse. Although targeted toward alcohol and drug abuse, the lessons can apply to other situations in everyday life which the children may encounter as they grow up.

Marty Ison-Kocos, the council's Public Information Coordinator, who has been presenting the seven-week program, uses songs and stories to get her message across to the students. And each time the children come to another session they are eager to relate those stories and participate in the songs.

Teachers also attend the lessons so that they can follow through on the skill concepts and help to reinforce them in the classroom.

Ison-Kocos said the students and staff at Kewaskum, Farmington and Wayne have been very receptive to the program. "We have been fortunate to have Peer Listeners from Kewaskum High School and parent volunteers assisting with some of the programs," stated Ison-Kocos.

Upon completion of the program, each of the students was presented with a certificate of participation.

Marty Ison-Kocos, Public Information Coordinator (left) and Chrissy Carter, a student at Concordia College and UW-M, presented the final session of the BABES program on alcohol and drug education to KES kindergarten students. Upon completion of the program, Ison-Kocos presented certificates to the students.

The clinic is designed as a learning experience to better prepare the choirs for the March 15 choral concert in Rose Hall Kewaskum High School.

We would like to express our sincere thanks to all our relatives and friends who shared in the loss of our dear father KILIAN RUPLINGER.

Very special thanks to Rev. Richard Fechhelm, donors of flowers, memorial tributes, Twohig Funeral Home, Hope Nursing Home, Lomira, pallbearers, choir and organist, donors of food, and to all who showed their respect and helped us in any way. Your kindnesses will always be remembered.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, RICHARD HALFMANN who passed away three years ago, March 7, 1986:

A beautiful memory of one so dear, We cherish still with love sincere, He left us quietly, his thoughts unknown, But left us with a memory we are proud to own. So treasure him Lord in your garden of rest. For when on earth, he was one of the best.

Loved and always remembered by wife, children, and grandchildren.

A wise man will make more opportunity than he finds.

BIRTHDAY MEMORY

In memory of Jennifer Ramthun, on her 18th birthday, March 3, 1989:

She was different, she was special, Unique in a thousand ways. She was giving, she was loving. We'll miss her all our days.

Of course, the Lord did welcome her.

With His angels magnifying the beauty of that Heavenly place devoid of pain and crying.

And so, instead of mourning as we remember her this hour, We really should be celebrating the blooming of a flower.

But forgive us, Lord, for pining and wishing she was here, It's hard to give up someone we have come to love so dear.

For she was different, she was special,

Unique in a thousand ways. She was giving, she was loving.

And we'll miss her, miss her, miss her, all our days!

Happy Birthday Jenny!

- LOVE -

Dad, Mom,
Danny, Steve, Kevin,
Sharyl and Megan

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of our Mother and Grandmother, Mary Neidinger, on the anniversary of her birthday March 6.

Just a line of sweet remembrance,

Just a memory fond and true, Just a token of love's devotion, That our hearts still long for you.

Sadly missed by Bob and Marilyn Schlamer, grandchildren Robert, Mark, Lisa and Kurt and great-grandchild Joshua.

Joint State/Club Project Aims To Predict Long Lake's Future

Dick Edwards (left), president of the Long Lake Fishing Club Inc., presents DNR Horicon Area water resources specialist Mark Sesing with a $1000 check on behalf of his 700 plus club members. The money helped pay for half of a $2,000 project in cooperation with DNR to study nutrient loading and conduct a user survey on the Fond du Lac County lake.

DUNDEE — Sharing responsibility with the public for wise natural resource management and environmental protection is one of the cornerstones upon which the Department of Natural Resources has formed its strategic direction for the agency's future.

"We're in it (shared responsibility) for the long run and so is Long Lake, no pun intended," affirms Mark Sesing, DNR Horicon Area water resources management specialist.

"The Department is looking to build a trusting relationship with the public, one fashioned out of citizen involvement, partnership, support, advice and cooperation... and the Long Lake project, I believe, illustrates our philosophy," notes Mr. Sesing.

What Mr. Sesing is referring to is a long range study conducted jointly last summer by DNR and the Long Lake Fishing Club, Inc.

"Our survey results are in, and now it's a matter of analyzing what science and lake residents have told us and moving on from there," adds Mr. Sesing.

What science and lake residents have told DNR and the Long Lake Fishing Club, "really we're an environmental group," explains Club president Dick Edwards, is that perceived lake problems revolve around recreation, mercury in fish, weeds, algae, septic systems and nonpoint pollution.

Long Lake, encompassing 427 acres, is a long, angular water body located in northeast Fond du Lac County north of Dundee. Its east shore abuts the Northern Unit of the Kettle Moraine State Forest while the west shore is typical of most southern Wisconsin lakes and lined with permanent homes, summer cottages, taverns and resorts. In other words, it's intensely developed.

Mr. Sesing initially looked to examine Long Lake as part of DNR's "Key Lakes" management program. Already, DNR activities on Long Lake included a priority watershed project (East Branch - Milwaukee River), ambient monitoring, along with fish habitat and harvest projects.

"I was looking to develop and stimulate local interest (in lake management) by initiating a nutrient survey. Hopefully, this, in turn, would lead to increased public awareness and perspectives regarding these nutrient sources and their importance in lake management," recalls Mr. Sesing.

He contacted Mr. Edwards, who not only agreed with the study's objectives, but proposed expanding the project to include a door-to-door and mailed lake user surveys.

Mr. Edwards, on behalf of the Long Lake Fishing Club, further offered to pay 50 percent of the project's $2,000 cost.

"We were interested in learning how many and what types of wastewater systems exist around the lake and the extent and variety of ways people enjoy the lake," says Mr. Edwards.

The survey would "simply tell Long Lake residents that this is what's going on, does it require lake management and would a lake district help out," explains Mr. Edwards.

So, while Mr. Sesing began estimating phosphorus loads from the watershed, atmosphere and septic systems, a student technician from Oshkosh conducted a door-to-door survey of property owners.

"We emphasized that survey information would be used for study purposes only and in no way used to intimidate septic systems owners," points out Mr. Edwards.

Again, while Mr. Sesing was running a bacteria survey of in-shore areas around the lake, Mr. Edwards' fishing club mailed a survey letter to over 700 club members, plus distributed it to lake users.

"The latter survey helped determine people's perceptions of lake problems, attitudes towards waste disposal, lake user restrictions, and so on," continues Mr. Edwards.

"Hopefully, after analyzing both survey results and the nutrient study, we'll be able to judge Long Lake's place in the ecological ladder both now and in the future, along with improving the lake fishery," explains Mr. Sesing.

What will be the upshot after data and survey results are analyzed by DNR and interested lake residents?

"From our standpoint," says Mr. Edwards, "it will point us towards projects (that) we should initiate, such as controlling purple loosestrife or channel dredging, boating safety or boat patrols, based on the survey findings."

For Mr. Sesing, "it revealed that people are concerned and interested in learning more about lake management."

And for the both of them? The local and state partnership "proved that interested organizations, such as our Long Lake Fishing Club, and DNR can work together in addressing environmental needs," emphasizes Mr. Edwards.

TODAY'S AGRICULTURE

By Jack Trzebiatowski, Extension Agriculture Agent

SAMPLING SOIL FOR CARRYOVER NITRATE-N

How much of the nitrogen applied in 1988 but not used by crops that withered in the drought will still be available in 1989? That question cannot be answered until we know how much rain will fall between now and next June. If present trends continue, enough nitrate could be carried over to warrant testing to determine how much additional nitrogen should be added as manure, fertilizer or plowed down legume.

Most Wisconsin ASCS-approved soil testing labs already offer a soil nitrate test, but none make adjustments in N recommendations based on this test. Guidelines are being prepared so that these recommendations and adjustments can be made. A special Information Sheet for Soil Nitrate Test is being prepared and will be available at all labs and county Extension offices early in March. This Information Sheet should accompany soil samples submitted for nitrate analysis.

In addition to adjusting N recommendations for residual N, adjustments will also be made for legume crops to be plowed down and manure use if the necessary information is included on the Information Sheet for Soil Nitrate Test.

The most accurate method of determining the amount of nitrogen carry-over for 1989 crops is to perform a nitrate soil test in fields where substantial nitrogen carry-over is suspected. Follow the sampling and handling procedure described below.

1. Take a composite sample of at least 15 cores from a "uniform" soil area not larger than 20 acres. If major differences in soil type, previous crop or past nitrogen use (including manure) exist within the field, take separate composite samples from each area.

2. Take samples to a depth of 36 inches, but separate each core into 0- to 12-, 12- to 24- and 24- to 36-inch segments. Place each segment in a separate clean plastic bucket marked for the appropriate depth. (On some soils, nitrate results from 2-ft samples will allow partial crediting of carry-over N.)

3. Mix the soil cores from each depth thoroughly. Place about 8 oz. (1 cup) of mixed soil into a clean soil sample bag (or any clean plastic bag).

4. Label the bag with field, sample and depth identification. Use "A", "B" and "C" to designate sample depth of 0- to 12-, 12- to 24- and 24- to 36-inches, respectively.

5. Complete the Information Sheet for Soil Nitrate Test.

6. If the sample can be delivered to the soil testing lab the same day it is collected, no special handling is needed. Otherwise, air dry each sample by spreading it out on clean paper for 24 to 48 hours. Alternatively, the samples can be frozen immediately and transported to the lab while still frozen. Soil samples for nitrate testing should not be stored or shipped in the moist condition at room temperature. Moist storage can result in changes in soil nitrate levels due to microbial N transformations.

Farm Equipment Show Celebrates 30th Year

MADISON, WI — Thousands of visitors are expected to attend this year's "Electric Power and Farm Equipment Show" in Madison, March 15, 16 and 17 at the Dane County Exposition Center.

Recognized as one of the Nation's largest indoor farm shows, over 300 exhibitors will be on hand to explain and/or demonstrate the latest in farm equipment services ranging from the "how-to" of farm computers to grain dryers, feed processing equipment, tractors and power units.

"Thirty Years And Still Growing" will be the theme for this year's Farm Show, bringing together the latest in equipment, technology and ideas.

Among the new additions to this year's show will be a hearing test station sponsored by the National Farm Medicine Center, a program of the Marshfield Research Foundation and Marshfield Clinic. Free hearing tests will be offered to anyone interested.

Access to the Farm Show will be more convenient for visitors travelling the interstate highway system. With the opening of the new Beltline Highway extension, there are no stoplights between I-90/94 and the Coliseum Exposition Center exit.

Co-sponsored by the Wisconsin Farm Equipment Association and Wisconsin Power and Light Company, the three day event is free and open to the public. Show hours are 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday and 9:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m. on Friday.

WHEDA Crop Loans Available for Wisconsin Farmers

State-guaranteed loans to help farmers plant crops this spring are now available through many Wisconsin lenders. The Wisconsin Housing and Economic Development Authority (WHEDA) announced that it will begin accepting reservations under the Credit Relief Outreach Program (CROP). Farmers interested in a CROP loan should contact their lender.

CROP loans can be used to buy the supplies farmers need to plant and harvest their crops. Farmers can buy seed, feed, fuel, fertilizer, or other consumables. Loans are available in amounts up to $20,000.

Farmers who take out these one-year production loans pay 8% interest. The State pays the lender an additional 2% on the loan and guarantees the loan against default.

CROP provides loans to farmers who could not ordinarily be able to get this kind of short-term credit.

This year, the Wisconsin Legislature will allow up to $30 million for CROP loans. In 1988, because of the drought and cutbacks in a similar federal program, the CROP program quickly ran out of the $20 million allocated to it.

Only three percent of the earth's water is fresh.

Boats Are Now To Be Titled

by Doug Bilgo
Warden

Those of you who have received your renewal notice on your boat registration that expires on March 31, 1989 may have noticed a change in the renewal application. The application is now for registration and titling. Beginning Feb. 1, 1989 applicants purchasing or renewing any motorized or sail boat 16 feet or longer will have to register and title their boat.

The change is that now a boat 16 feet and longer required to be registered must also be titled. The Manufacturer's Statement of origin must come in with the application on a new boat. The new information for titling includes the series or model of the boat, purchase date, phone number of the applicant, and make of the engine on inboard or inboard outdrive boats.

Those of you whose boat registration does not expire until March 31, 1990 can also title your boat at this time at no cost. To do so pick up the new registration and titling application at a DNR Office or Boat Dealer. Fill out the form completely, checking the box "Original Title Only," and you will receive a title for your boat. Remember only boats 16 feet and longer required to be registered will be titled.

There is no additional fee for a title at this time, however, legislation is pending. Quick action could save you money.

The applicant is to retain the receipt copy of the application for immediate operation of the boat and that the receipt must be on board when the boat is being operated.

A few quick reminders, game fishing closes at the end of the day on March 1st, and ice shelters must be removed from the ice by March 5th. You may continue to use a portable shelter, but you must remove it when it is not occupied.

Wisconsin Electric Lowers Rate by 2.8%

MILWAUKEE — The price of electricity for Wisconsin Electric Power Co. customers will go down again next year, with the company's seventh rate decrease since 1983.

A decrease in rates averaging 2.8 percent went into effect Jan. 1, 1989, following Public Service Commission of Wisconsin action.

The average decrease for the typical residential customer will be 2 percent, or about $8.40 per year. Small commercial and industrial customers will see a decrease of about 4.1 percent, and large commercial and industrial customers will see a decrease of about 2.2 percent.

The decreases are not the same because of differences in the cost of providing electricity to different types of customers.

"The price our customers pay for electricity is actually less than it was in 1983," said Patrick Woodke, WE manager of Rates. "Through various cost-cutting measures, we have been able to continue to reduce our operating costs and again pass along the savings to our customers."

Woodke added that the savings will affect all customer classes and benefit not only residential customers, but also commercial and industrial customers who need to stay price-competitive in the marketplace.

With the rate decrease, residential customers will be paying 6.33 cents per kilowatt-hour, plus $3.50 for a monthly facilities charge.

The lowest form of humor by far is a pun thought of by someone else.

They grow corn a little differently in Brazil. The FS Seed Division of GROWMARK, Inc., found that out this winter when they contracted with a Brazilian seed company to produce FS seed corn.

The drought of '88 cut seed corn production for most Midwest seed companies. GROWMARK, like others, sought winter production sites when the yield reductions became evident. Three growing sites were obtained. One in Southern Florida, where FS has experience growing winter corn for research trials and another in the Rio Grande area of Northern Mexico.

Harvest of the Florida crop was completed in early January. In spite of heavy insect and disease pressures, and a near miss by Hurricane Keith, those crops yielded about as expected.

The Rio Grande growing site was not as lucky, however, when it came to hurricanes. Being no gentleman, Hurricane Gilbert dumped too much salt-laden rains on the Mexican crop at a critical time. Diseases and insects were also a major problem. Yields were very disappointing as a result.

Brazil was the third and last site obtained. According to Jim Happel, seed corn product manager for the FS Seed Division, GROWMARK's effort in Brazil this winter is the first time foreign-produced seed corn parent stock is being grown and exported out of the country. He recently returned from a ten day evaluation of the two growing sites secured in that sprawling country.

"It's not as good as we hoped it would be," he said. "We got planted late, it was hot and dry early in the season, and disease was a problem during pollination." With all that working against the crop Happel says final yields will be about half of what is possible in Brazil.

"The best time to plant the crop in Brazil is mid-to-late August, but because it took time to make arrangements, most of our crop was planted after October 1. Because of the tropical location, we decided this was not a major concern."

Early season dryness, compared by many to the U.S. drought, and mid-summer (for Brazil) temperatures over 100 degrees Fahrenheit during the critical pollination period, baked crops in the state of Parana, about 600 miles west of Rio de Janeiro.

In Minas Gerais, 600 miles north of Rio de Janeiro, where the heat was not a problem, the yields were better. A plant disease similar to Northern Corn Leaf Blight did cause some damage before it was brought under control, however. At both sites, heavy infestations of ear worm had to be overcome.

Harvest of the crop in Brazil has begun. The plan is to harvest the corn on the ear, dry the corn and then shell it (similar to how it is done in the U.S.). The shelled corn will be placed in 50 kilo bags (110 pounds) and containerized for ocean transport. Happel says FS hopes to have the boat loaded and on its way by February 28. If all goes well, that corn will arrive in Illinois for processing 17 days later.

Following that timetable, the processed and bagged seed would be available to Midwest growers by early April.

"At the moment, we have been able to meet most seed corn orders, although some growers may not get as many bags of their first choice as they want," said Happel.

The price of FS seed corn is slightly higher for 1989, approximately 12 to 13 percent on the average. Those increases do not cover all the increased production costs from the drought and winter production. FS is absorbing most of that added cost.

Happel came away with some favorable opinions and interesting observations about growing corn in Brazil. "I think it is viable to grow corn in Brazil. Some areas we saw are very similar to Illinois and Iowa in many respects. If you plant the crop a little earlier and control and insect and disease problems, yields could be very good."

"The seed company we worked with has been very cooperative and has been doing everything necessary to produce a good crop for us." He added that the company produces a number of seed products for Brazilian growers, including corn, soybeans, wheat rice and peas.

The soil at the Parana site (in the heart of the Brazilian soybean belt) is a fine red soil, with a high clay and iron content. Terracing is extensively used in the rolling topography (similar to northwestern Illinois and eastern Iowa). As mentioned earlier, it can get very hot during their summer (November - January).

The northern growing area in Minas Gerais is closer to the equator, but cooler, thanks to a higher elevation. Soils are more similar to the U.S. Midwest.

Being closer to the equator, the growing season is longer, said Happel.

Brazilians use an interesting mix of new and old technology to produce corn, he said. Fields are tilled and planted with modern four-wheel drive tractors and planters. Fertilizers, pesticides and other chemicals are applied through modern overhead irrigation systems. The source of the water is streams and reservoirs, instead of wells, however. In dry seasons, when above ground water is limited, irrigation water can be limited as well.

Old technology kicks in when it's time for cultivation. Mule-powered cultivators and hand-weeding is common. Corn is harvested by hand and spread on slabs to be dried by the sun. Low labor costs ($1-$2 per day) are the motivating factors behind the hand labor.

As a final observation, Happel calls Brazil "a sleeping giant" with great potential for crop production.

New Holstein KO's Indians' Hopes For Victorious Season Finale

The three Kewaskum Indian teams traveled to New Holstein for their final game of the season only to end up defeated before the home-town Huskie crowd.

The Varsity squad started without the advantage of the team's leading scorer junior Steve Gerhartz who left school 3rd hour with the flu. Team members Bruce Waechter and Paul Budiac were also sick and unable to make the game which cut our Indian squad down to nine players.

The Indians put themselves in their seemingly traditional rut first quarter letting the Huskies score away behind Eric Klapperich's seven points. By the end of this quarter Kewaskum was down 22-7 with only Brian Leitheiser and Randy Krell producing any scoring for our Indian team.

The second quarter wasn't much better for the Indians as on five occasions the Indians were in a bonus situation at the free throw line and unable to sink that first shot. The New Holstein team drilled in 14 points in the meantime and by the half were leading by a comfortable 36-17.

If the Indians could have just erased those first two quarters from the scoreboard, in the second half of play, everything started kicking in, free throws were being made, baskets sinking in, and even a three pointer by Tom Sharp. Kewaskum out-scored New Holstein in quarters three and four by a total of 46 to 34 but down to the Indians slow start, they were unable to make up the difference and turn it into a victory battle. Would Gerhartz have made up that difference?

The question remains unanswered as the Kewaskum team bowed in defeat 63-70. Scoring in double figures for our Indians were Rich Radtke with 12 and Randy Krell with 11. Big man Mike Ciriacks battled for 12 rebounds to help the Kewaskum board action. Klapperich lead the Huskie team with a game high 26 points.

The JayVee team lost a heartbreaker of a game against New Holstein. Coming from behind to tie the game at the last minute, the Jayvee team went into overtime only to have their hopes crushed, and one single free throw (which was all that was scored in the overtime) Final score was 69-68, and the Jayvee's ended their season with a 9-11 record overall.

The Freshmen team lost to New Holstein 63-49 which was the only team to beat the young Indians twice. Joel Fleischman had 14 points in the loss. The Freshmen team ended up with a 11-4 record on the season and 8-4 record on the season.

Ayer Dives His Way to Victory

Peter Ayer of West Bend is the new state masters three-meter spring board diving champion in the men-over-50 age category.

Ayer, 61, won the title on Feb. 19 at the Wisconsin YMCA diving meet at the Walter Schraeder pool. His victory came on scores compiled in executing eight dives.

Ayer is a professor of vocal music here at the University of Wisconsin Center — Washington County, where he has taught since 1969.

On April 22, he plans to compete in the National Masters Diving Championships at Cleveland, Ohio. In 1981, Ayer placed first in the 50-to-59 bracket at the nationals. Several weeks later, he was in a motorcycle accident that left him as what he described as "a bag of bones in a hospital."

At that time, he recalls, doctors had assessed his shattered ankles and massive injuries and "figured if I could get up and walk over to change the knobs on a TV set, that was all I could expect."

By August 1987, however, Ayer was back in national masters competition at Orlando, Fla. He placed eighth overall. In his 60-to-69 age bracket, he was second in both the one- and three-meter diving and fifth in platform diving.

VOTING BY ABSENTEE BALLOT

Any qualified elector, unable to get to the polling place on election day for any reason, may ask to vote by absentee ballot. A qualified elector is a person who is a U.S. citizen, who will be 18 years of age or older on election day, who has resided in the ward or municipality where the person wishes to vote at least 10 days before the election. If the voter resides in a municipality which requires voter registration, then registration is also required for the voter to receive an absentee ballot.

To obtain an absentee ballot, the voter should contact the clerk of the city, village or town in which the voter resides. A written request must be made by the voter for the absentee ballot. If the voter contacts the clerk by telephone the clerk will send the application form to the voter. If the voter requests an absentee ballot by mail, a written request, signed by the voter which indicates that the voter resides within the municipality, will be honored. Written requests may be made beginning six months before the primary election. The deadline for receipt of the written request by mail is 5:00 p.m. on the Friday before the election. If the voter goes to the clerk's office to complete a written request, the request must be made no later than 5:00 p.m. on the day before the election.

If the absentee voter resides in a nursing home, the absentee ballot will be delivered to the nursing home by two special voting deputies appointed by the municipal clerk. The special voting deputies will present the absentee ballot to the voter and provide assistance in marking or punching the ballot if necessary. At the request of an absentee voter a relative may provide the assistance. After voting at the nursing home is completed, the special voting deputies will return the absentee ballot to the municipal clerk.

With two exceptions, the voter who wants to cast an absentee ballot, must make a separate written request before each election. If a voter is indefinitely confined to his or her home or a care facility because of illness, age, or disability, the voter need not make a request before each election. There is a special statement on the application form which is provided by the municipal clerk which can be completed asking that an absentee ballot be automatically mailed to the indefinitely confined or military voter before each election. If the voter fails to vote and return the ballot sent to the voter, a separate written request for the next election must be made before the voter can obtain a ballot.

A voter who is hospitalized on election day may obtain an absentee ballot by designating another person as the agent for the voter. There is a statement on the application form for this purpose. An application by agent for a hospitalized elector may be made in person at the municipal clerk's office no earlier than 7 days before the election and no later than 5:00 p.m. on the day of the election.

If a voter requests an absentee ballot stating the reason that he or she is a sequestered juror, the application can be made no earlier than 7 days before the election, and no later than 5:00 p.m. on the day of the election. If the application from a sequestered juror is received by the municipal clerk after 5:00 p.m. on the Friday immediately preceding the election, the municipal clerk or the clerk's agent will deliver the absentee ballot to the court and the judge will call a recess to allow the voter to cast his or her vote.

The municipal clerk will send the absentee ballot to the voter once the request is received and the ballots are prepared. Absentee ballots are available twenty-one (21) days before the spring primary and spring election. The municipal clerk keeps a public record of all individuals requesting an absentee ballot indicating when the ballot is requested, sent, and returned to the municipal clerk.

An absentee ballot can be voted at home any time after it is received in the mail. An absentee ballot can also be voted in the clerk's office if the voter appears in person and fills out the written request. The voter should make sure that the certificate-affidavit is properly completed and witnessed by two persons. The voter and the witnesses must sign the certificate on the absentee ballot carrier envelope. If the absentee elector receives assistance in marking the ballot, the person providing the assistance must sign the statement on the back of the ballot which provides that the person giving assistance marked the ballot as directed by the absentee voter. The municipal clerk will make sure that the certificate-affidavit is properly completed by the voter when the absentee ballot is voted in the clerk's office.

The completed absentee ballot must be in the possession of the issuing municipal clerk in time for the clerk to deliver the ballot before the polls close on election day. Voted absentee ballots may be delivered in person to the municipal clerk. Any absentee ballot received after the polls close or any absentee ballot where the certificate-affidavit is not properly completed cannot be counted.

To obtain an absentee ballot send a written request to:

KHS Teams Victorious In Last Home Stand

All three Kewaskum basketball teams produced victories Tuesday night, Feb. 21st, in the last home game of the season before the "finale" at New Holstein Friday night.

The Varsity squad started five seniors in this contest and this strategy was a good one as Kewaskum jumped ahead 17-12 by the end of the first quarter. Randy Krell showed his stuff, and scored 10 points on some fine assists from his teammates during this quarter to help open up the lead.

And what Krell did to the score in the first quarter, Steve Gerhartz did in the second, firing in nine points and boosting the lead to 32-20 by the half. Ozaukee was held scoreless until the 3:30 mark in the quarter and then produced a scoring surge of eight points. By this time however, it wasn't threatening as the Indians were well in control of the game.

Kewaskum dominated the second half as well and a calm-confident Coach Schatz watched his team coast to victory instead of worrying about a point deficit. Final score was Kewaskum 68 and Ozaukee 31.

High scorers for the Indians were Gerhartz with 19, Mike Ciriacks with 13, and Krell with 11.

JayVees won handily 43-32 against the Ozaukee Warriors JayVee squad. Because of an 18 point lead at half-time, Coach Dillman was able to substitute his entire team in and out of the game for the entire second half of play. Schultz and Felix each popped in 10 points to lead the team's scoring. The JayVee record stands at 9-10 with hopes of finishing the season at an even .500 mark.

The freshmen team also put out a fine effort and produced a victory, 82-45. High scorers were Mark Siser and Joel Fleischman with 15 each.

Cedarburg Turns Back Kewaskum Lakes Team

KEWASKUM — The Cedarburg Turners showed why they've been Lakes champs the last four years as they handled a fairly-strong Kewaskum Lakes team rather easily here Sunday night, 151-126. The win keeps the Turners tied for first place at 11-1 while the loss keeps Kewaskum tied for fourth at 3-9.

A big 46-22 second quarter put Cedarburg in command and they were never threatened after that, leading 82-60 at halftime. Kewaskum narrowed the margin slightly to 109-93 in the third quarter before the Turners poured it on in the fourth quarter.

Cedarburg claimed 22 of 27 free throws for 81.5 percent to aid in the victory, while Kewaskum made only nine of 15 for 60.0 percent.

Kewaskum Athletic Club Establishes Youth Division

The Kewaskum Athletic Club has established a Youth Division for the purpose of providing the area's youths with opportunities to participate in sports and other activities. The KAC-Youth Division's programs will be directed to those activities not currently provided by the school or other community groups. The programs will be available to all school district residents. These programs will not be school sponsored, but hope to be supported by the community. The goal of the organization is to have a community-wide membership and support. A successful organization of this kind can not only help the participants, but can help pull a community together in support of a worthwhile cause - our children.

The current plans of the club are to organize a baseball program for those individuals too old to play in the Jaycee program and too young to play in the high school program.

In addition, plans are being discussed to provide a Flag football program for seventh and eighth graders. This will provide an opportunity for these participants to learn and practice basic football skills before the high school level. Ideas and suggestions for other programs are welcome.

However, participation and support is needed.

To provide an opportunity for all members of the community to support the organization and to raise funds for the programs, the KAC-Youth Division is offering a membership. The annual membership fee will be $5.00 per family. The membership will allow your children to participate in all school programs either at no cost or at a lower cost than non-members, depending on the needs of the program. Each member will also receive a decal to display in their car window identifying them as a youth supporter. Membership is open to all school district residents with or without children. The only requirement is a willingness to support our children.

To join and pledge your support, please fill out the form below and send to: KAC-Youth Division, c/o Harry Krueger, 525 Hwy. 45, Campbellsport, WI 53010.

Please make checks payable to KAC-Youth Division. Donations greater than $5.00 will be graciously accepted. All donations are tax-deductible.

For more information, call Ric Leitheiser at 334-1432 or attend the March 13th meeting at 7:00 p.m. in the Kewaskum High School library.
