New Middle School House Plan Concept Adds Half Teacher Position to Staffing

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

After more than a hour's presentation and discussion, the Kewaskum School Board narrowly approved the recommendation of Middle School principal Steve King to revamp the class structure for the seventh and eighth grades with the start of the 1989-90 school year.

King's proposal called the "House Plan" concept is similar to the system now used for the sixth grade classes. Basically the plan goes away from the present plan which is patterned after the scheduling procedures used at the high school level and which was supposed to help students make a smoother transition from the middle to the high school.

With the approval of King's recommendation, the board also approved the extension of one part time teacher to full time status. King said the increase was needed to make the new concept function properly.

On a 4-3 vote, the proposal just barely received approval. Voting against the motion were board members Clara Trapp, Perry Ankerson and Ralph Horner.

Trapp indicated she had reservations on just how long the new plan would last once it was put into effect. "It's just like when the high school wanted to switch over to the eight-period day," noted Trapp, "now there are people grumbling they want to go back to the seven-period day."

Ankerson's veto was based on the fact that an increase of a half teaching position will add at least another $10,000 to annual staffing costs. Keeping the '89-90 budget in mind, Ankerson told fellow board members that the 10% increase on taxes he projected at the board's last meeting is "extremely on the low side" and that represented a tax increase on a budget with no increase in itself. District Administrator David Heather agreed with Ankerson's comments that a projected increase of 10% for next year was indeed, very low.

Horner told the meeting, "The budget is coming up and I've seen this time and time again, the board approves things that will end up cut when they try to trim the budget back."

In addressing the budget further when the item of issuing teacher contracts was brought up, Ankerson told fellow board members, we can continue to vote on adding items but we better be prepared to do something about them. "We have very few choices remaining as to where we can trim the budget and one of them is to reduce staff," stated Ankerson. "We don't have to offer all these classes nor do we have to have classes of fourteen and fifteen students."

Heather noted that issuance of contracts still was not binding at this time. He told the board it had until May to make staffing cuts that could be made with just cause such as lack of funds, reductions in program, etc.

The board also heard a report by Athletic Director Perry Koth on the possibility of the district requesting a transfer to a different athletic conference. Koth told the board that even if the two conferences involved agreed to the change, the final decision and approval would be made by the WIAA. He told the board, the way the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, to which Kewaskum belongs, is set up there are only seven schools and it would be very difficult to leave unless other schools would come in to take Kewaskum's place. By the same token, those schools would have to get their conference's and WIAA approval to transfer also.

In other action the board approved several coaching and advisor resignations along with appointments to fill some of the openings. The board accepted the resignation of the HS basketball coach, HS annual advisor, HS head and assistant boys track coaches and 7th grade volleyball coach.

Fran Charland was appointed boys head track coach, Perry Koth appointed girls head track coach and Milt Dickens was appointed assistant track coach.

Mrs. Chris Dehler, a Farmington Elementary School teacher, gave a short presentation on a Cooperative Learning program being used in the FES second grade.

Board president Ralph Horner presented High School principal LeRoy Kopecky and Middle School principal Steve King with plaques from Ventures in Excellence for the completion of courses in hiring teachers.

The board also gave LVEC Dan Wangerin permission to apply for four Carl Perkins vocational grants. Two of the grants, for disadvantaged and handicapped, are 100% reimbursement the other two are for business education and the coordinator's position reimbursed at a rate of 25% and 10%.

The board then adjourned to closed session.

March 20 Is Ag Day

Governor Tommy G. Thompson has proclaimed Monday, March 20, as Wisconsin's "Agriculture Day."

In making the proclamation, Thompson states Wisconsin's agriculture industry is committed to the preservation of the family farm, the productive and efficient use of Wisconsin cropland, and to the preservation of rural Wisconsin communities.

The first day of spring is typically set aside to pay tribute to the food and agricultural system, says Howard Richards, Secretary of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP).

"Not only do we pay tribute where tribute belongs, but it's also an opportunity to educate consumers on the importance agriculture plays in the state's economy," says Richards.

As the nation's leader in the production of milk, cheese, sweet corn, green beans, snap peas, and mink pelts, Wisconsin also plays a large role in the nation's agriculture economy.

"Today's food and fiber system represents 17 percent of the gross national product," says Richards, "and employs 17 percent of the entire U.S. work force."

Of the 20 million jobs created by agriculture, 98 percent of these people are involved in off-farm business. "Only one in every 49 U.S. citizens is a farmer, which represents two percent of the population," he says.

The efficiency of the U.S. farmer is documented in their ability to feed and clothe 92 domestic and 22 abroad people each year, for a total of 114 people. "This fact alone emphasizes the need to salute farmers," says Richards.

103 Year Old Kewaskum Native to Celebrate Older Sister's Birthday

Hulda Kleineschay

It's not often that a 103 year old has an older sister. But that's the case with Cedar Lake Home Campus resident, Hulda Kleineschay.

Hulda and her sister, Emma, are Kewaskum natives. Hulda was born August 26, 1885. She is a long time member of Peace United Church of Christ in Kewaskum. Emma, who will be 106 in April, resides in a nursing home in Fond du Lac.

Hulda married John Kleineschay. Her older sister, Emma, married John's brother, Henry.

The two sisters will celebrate Emma's birthday realizing the exceptional privilege they have been provided by the winds of time. We congratulate them both. Their longevity, indeed, points out the ever increasing aging span of the elderly in the United States.

ARTIFICIAL SWEETENERS

Doctors compared the weight changes of 17,000 middle-age women who were 5 to 10 year users of artificial sweeteners with a like number of non-users. "Regardless of their weight at the beginning of the study, sweetener users were more likely to gain weight than non-users - what's more they gained it faster," report the doctors. They speculate that using artificial sweeteners leads people to overestimate the calories saved, thus providing an excuse to overeat.

Honoring America's Providers

National Agriculture Day - Honoring America's Providers

National Agriculture Day is an annual observance which focusses national attention on the important contribution the food and fiber industry makes to the American economy. The official observance for 1989 Ag Day is March 20th.

All across the country people celebrate agriculture on this day, and during the week of March 19-25, to help increase the awareness of agriculture's accomplishments and the challenges it faces in continuing to meet the world's food and fiber needs.

How many people know American agriculture a production miracle? Well, it is! Consider these facts.

*Fewer than 2.5% of the nation's population, using only 60% of production capacity, can provide 250 million Americans food of the highest quality and purity at less cost as a percentage of income than any other country in the world.

*The food and fiber industry alone generates approximately 20% of the nation's Gross National Product and 20% of the national employment.

Farmers are consumers as well as producers

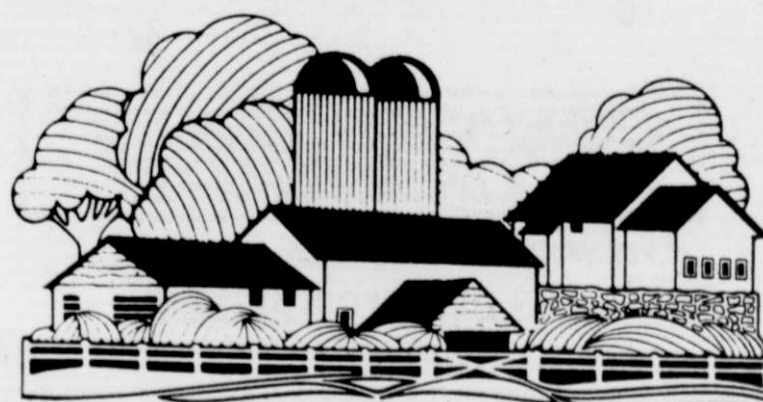

Like everyone else, the U.S. farmer is a consumer and a taxpayer, as well as a producer.

Farmers pay about $3.7 billion in farm real estate taxes annually, and $474 million in personal property taxes.

In 1986, farm operators spent about $122 billion for goods and services to produce crops and livestock. They had available $37.5 billion in personal income from production activities and government payment and $44.7 billion from nonfarm sources to spend for personal taxes, debt reduction, investments, and some of the same things that city people buy.

Farmers' 1986 purchases included the following:

- $6.4 billion for farm tractors and other motor vehicles, machinery, and equipment;
- $9.5 billion for fuel, lubricants, and maintenance for machinery and motor vehicles used in the farm business;
- $19 billion for feed and seed;
- $5.8 billion for fertilizer and lime.

This Special Ag Day Message Sponsored By These Companies ...

Small-Scale Agriculture

Small-scale agriculture implies people utilizing alternative systems to attain gainful employment. Small-scale agriculture, sometimes referred to as "small farms," constitutes a significant number of the Nation's 2.2 million farms, as noted in the 1988 Fact Book of Agriculture introduction.

When farms grossing less than $40,000 annually are defined as "small," then more than 7 out of 10 U.S. farms are classified as small.

Awareness is growing that small-scale farmers make a significant contribution to economic development of both agribusiness and consumer industries of rural communities throughout the United States. Some say such people are the "mortar" providing rural communities with social and economic strengths.

USDA's Office for Small-Scale Agriculture was created as part of the Cooperative State Research Service to increase and improve the flow of information about small-scale farming to agricultural producers and consumers. It is a focal point for distribution of USDA resources on this subject.

The office functions as a liaison to other USDA agencies such as the Extension Service and the Agricultural Research Service in identifying and directing research and educational programs to improve usefulness of information received by all small-scale farmers and others wishing to join their ranks.

Ongoing and planned activities of the office include:

- A bimonthly newsletter on small-scale agriculture;
- Factsheets on small-scale agriculture;
- A national directory of small-scale agriculture contacts;
- An assessment of all ongoing USDA research and educational efforts that target on small-scale agriculture;
- Continual monitoring and/or implementing of conferences on small-scale agriculture.

Everyone's Irish On St. Patrick's Day - Even St. Patrick!

Although people have been celebrating the birthday of St. Patrick for more than 1,500 years, no one knows for sure when he was born or when he died.

Hallmark research indicates that St. Patrick could have been born in any year from 373 to 398 A.D. The day on which St. Patrick was born is even more of a mystery. But historically, people have made up facts to explain the unknown.

One explanation appears on a turn-of-the-century postcard from the Hallmark Historical Collection. According to it, some say the saint was born at midnight on March 8, and others claim he was born March 9.

"...And all was a mistake between midnight and morn...and some blamed the baby and some blamed the clock," the card says. St. Patrick had two birthdays until an Irish priest suggested combining the dates eight and nine and letting March 17 be St. Patrick's birthday.

Not only is "when" a mystery, so is "where".

St. Patrick is said to have been born in Scotland, England, France and Wales. However, in his Confession, St. Patrick claims to have been born in Bannavem Taberniae.

But, according to Hallmark research, no one has been able to determine exactly where that is.

Speculation on the origin of the elusive patron saint of Ireland is of considerably less interest than celebrating his birth, perhaps because everyone is a little bit Irish on St. Patrick's Day.

Whether or not they can prove Irish descent, most Americans celebrate - with parades, public and family gatherings, wearing of the green and sending St. Patrick's Day Cards.

St. Patrick's Day is the ninth largest card-sending holiday in the United States, according to Hallmark. About 16 million St. Patrick's day cards are expected to be given this year to commemorate the birth of that elusive patron saint of Ireland.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of a precious friend, Ann-Marie Horner, who died on February 16, 1989.

God gave me a special friend to brighten my days, someone to whom to talk, someone with whom to exchange directions.

Ann-Marie came to this world with such a pure heart.

It seemed as if Ann-Marie loved and cared for everyone.

She gave me the joy and happiness of being a friend.

Ann-Marie always gave me the push to be who I was, not to be who others want me to be.

Ann-Marie's spirit will always be a part of me.

The joy and happiness of Ann-Marie will always be a part of me.

She left us with wonderful memories.

We shall treasure throughout the years.

Sadly missed by a special friend, Debra Remmel.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

Second letter to the editor,
Kewaskum Statesman
March 13, 1989

Dear Concerned Voting
Member of the Community:

Thank you for the positive response to my introductory letter in last week's "Letter to the Editor." I suggested that you will realize where I stand on issues of concern.

Thursday, March 16th, is the forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Washington County, who invited Village President and School Board candidates to speak and answer questions. Questions will be accepted from the audience. This is one of your opportunities of civic involvement. I hope many of you will attend the forum at the high school, beginning at 7:00 p.m.

We the people, in general, leave it up to the schools to educate our children. The school board makes the policy for the administration to carry out. As a board member, I will vote to facilitate the children with an education that enables them to enter the job market, be prepared for higher education, and preserve values conducive to blending into a healthy society. Many children do not want higher education and the costs are often prohibitive. Therefore, by the time the child receives his diploma, it is imperative that he or she has the hope and confidence to pursue a rewarding, healthy lifestyle. This is what I see as the need that you trust our schools and school board to carry out.

I would like to see and talk to as many of you as possible tonight at the forum. Thank You.

Sincerely,
John C. Schulte

Dear Editor:

March 15 is a historic day for our nation's 27 million veterans. It marks the transition of their agency, the Veterans Administration, to the Department of Veterans Affairs and elevates VA to the President's Cabinet.

In making this change, Congress and the President recognized what we in VA have long known; military veterans (who, with their families, constitute one third of our population) deserve representation at our highest level of government. Their contribution to our way of life and their needs influence people and events far beyond the bounds of "veterans affairs."

— Veterans are served by the nation's largest hospital system which plays vital national roles in medical education and research.

— Veterans buying homes through the VA-guaranteed home loan program are a major economic force in the national real estate, home building and mortgage lending industries.

— Veterans continue to be a major force in the financing of higher education through their participation in popular GI Bill education assistance programs.

We at the Milwaukee Regional Office welcome today's historic change and are proud to be a part of the nation's newest Cabinet department. Our employees will mark the day the best way we know — by doing our jobs and serving veterans with renewed pride and dedication. After all, it's their special day.

Jon A. Baker

Letter to the Editor:

On behalf of Big Brothers/-Big Sisters of Washington County, Inc. I would like to thank the many people who helped in so many ways to make "Bowl for Kids '89" a successful fund raiser for our agency. From the 615 bowler volunteers who raised pledges on behalf of our agency to the numerous volunteers who organized and ran the event, we are extremely grateful. Thanks also to those businesses whose support was so essential: Lighthouse Lanes, Kettle Moraine Bowl, Schwai's Country Store, Steiner Electric, Speeds TV & Appliance, Hardees of West Bend and to the many businesses who formed or sponsored teams.

Because of the concern and generosity of so many, our agency is able to provide a much needed and ongoing service to single parent children of Washington County. What has been given to our agency has, in reality, been given to them. They and we thank you.

Sincerely,

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Washington County, Inc.

Letter to the Editor:

As the 1989 Co-Chairmen of our area's "Jail and Bail" fundraiser for The American Cancer Society, we would like to take this opportunity to thank all those people that made this year's event such a fantastic success.

We would like to thank our other members on the committee... Jim and Jean Stoffel, Bob Sparks, and Nicole Condon, the ACS Area Executive Director for all their input and assistance in making sure that everything ran smoothly.

While the committee worked hard and long to put everything together, it took the positive and the enthusiastic response from those arrested, those who so generously pledged donations to get their friends out of jail, and the area businesses who supported our efforts to help us raise over $16,900 for the American Cancer Society.

We feel that a "Special Thank You" is in order for Killy Honeck for allowing us to stage our event in his Honeck Chevrolet Showroom. The area was most spacious for our needs and the location could not have been better! We would also like to thank Claudia Laubach of Honecks for working with us to see that everything went smoothly.

We would also like to thank the following area businesses that likewise assisted us in our efforts.... Kennelly Pharmacy, Kewaskum Frozen Foods, Hawthorne Melody Dairy, Grande Cheese, AMPI - Morning Glory, Herriges Oil Company, Shefond Mobil Mart, Sentry Foods, Kohn's Mini Mart, Regal Ware, Family Acres Inc., GTE, Kewaskum Veterinary Clinic, Kettle Moraine Insurance Agency, Kewaskum Statesman, West Bend News, WBKV, Kewaskum Police Department and Washington County Sheriff's Department. Their help and generosity was greatly appreciated.

Once again Kewaskum has shown that it is a caring community. Such a response as we have had speaks well of our people and our community as a whole. On behalf of our committee and the American Cancer Society we "Thank You."

Regal Ware Inc. and Mardigian Corporation have reached an agreement on the acquisition by Regal Ware of the properties and business of the Buckeye Division at Wooster, Ohio, it was announced Thursday by Mr. J.O. Reigle, president of Regal Ware Inc. and Mr. Edward Mardigian, president of the Mardigian Corp.

The Buckeye Division in Wooster, has a fine record of success in the production and marketing of aluminum and stainless steel cookware, small appliances, step stools and other household products.

The new company is being established as a separate and distinct corporation and will be known as Buckeye Ware, Inc. effective March 31, 1964.

Construction was begun last week on a new four classroom elementary school to serve the Town of Wayne, replacing three presently used one classroom schools in the area. The project, costing $150,000 for construction and equipment will provide the area with a modern school incorporating four classrooms, a multi-purpose room and rooms for the principal and health services.

With residents of this village and area barely dug out from the severe snowstorm of last Wednesday and Thursday which dumped over a foot of snow over the area, another fall of approximately six inches on Sunday afternoon and evening further increased snow removal problems.

Village crew have cleared and hauled most of the snow off the main streets this past week and they are in good shape again. Much of the snow has melted with the temperature this week which reached the low 40's the past couple of days.

Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of R. 3, Campbellsport on Friday, March 6, to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lauters on Sunday, March 8, and to Mr. and Mrs. Jan Rosenthal, Kewaskum, on Tuesday, March 10.

The village of Kewaskum lost one of its most highly esteemed and widely known citizens this week with the death of Louis D. Guth, 81, who quietly passed away Wednesday, March 15th.

Besides being one of Kewaskum's former businessmen and public officials, Mr. Guth was also prominent in important state and county offices.

Mr. Guth was vice-president of the former Farmers and Merchants bank of Kewaskum and one of the first members of the Peace Evangelical Church.

Mrs. Juliana Stenschke, nee Meisner, passed away Thursday, Mar. 16, at the home of her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Gust. Marialke, R 1, Kewaskum. She had attained the age of 71 years.

Mrs. Frank Schultz, 76, nee Wilhelmina Buhs, Town of Auburn, passed away Tues., Mar. 14, following an illness of a year and a half with heart trouble which developed into dropsy.

Mrs. Schultz and her husband, who served as chairman of the Town of Auburn for 50 years, are well known in this vicinity.

Lottery On-Line Contract Negotiations In Process

MADISON...Negotiations between the Wisconsin Lottery and GTECH Corp. to provide equipment and supplies for on-line lottery games are well underway according to Wisconsin Lottery Executive Director William F. Flynn, Jr.

Flynn estimated on-line tickets may be available to the public as early as mid-July, though no firm start date has been set.

The Lottery is also looking at what kinds of on-line games will be initially available.

"We will have some kind of a LOTTO type of game with a big jackpot and a weekly or semi-weekly drawing," Flynn said.

The on-line equipment and supplies vendor could have as much as $5-10 million invested in Wisconsin before the first ticket is sold. The five year contract being negotiated, however, could be worth more than $40 million, depending on market sales.

GTECH's proposal included a fee of five percent of on-line ticket sales revenue.

"GTECH's bid was not the lowest of the three received, it was in the middle. However our evaluation of the three proposals indicated GTECH should be awarded the contract based on the equipment, computer software and other aspects of the proposal we evaluated," Flynn explained.

"The fact that neither of the two unsuccessful bidders protested the award speaks highly of the Request For Proposals (REP) and evaluation done by the Wisconsin lottery," Flynn added.

Flynn said he was pleased with a decision by Wisconsin Attorney General Don Hanaway saying the Lottery's informational and educational announcements were within state law and that Hanaway recognized the "good faith effort" to keep the program within the confines of state law.

"The law allows us to design non-promotional materials that are effective in communicating information about the lottery to the citizens of Wisconsin," Flynn commented.

Ratings for the January 21 $1 Million Drawing Show in the Milwaukee area were encouraging. Flynn reported to the Lottery Board at a March 8 meeting.

"The Lottery show was number one in its time slot with several key demographic groups and placed a strong second in the Milwaukee ratings," he told the board.

Ratings for all markets in Wisconsin are taken in February and should be available in mid-March, Flynn added.

The fourth "Money Game" Show will be broadcast March 18 across Wisconsin.

Scheduled to participate in the telecast from the area are: Andrew Janous of Campbell-sport, Vernita Sinnen of Random Lake and John Hanson of West Bend.

RAILROAD CLUB TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE ON MARCH 19

The Kettle Moraine Ballast Scorers Railroad Club will be holding its 6th annual Open House on Sunday, March 19th, at the West Bend Recreation Center (724 Elm Street) from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Interesting activities will include clinics, movies, videos, a RR model contest (visitor entries welcome), a RR swap area, the portable layouts of the Metro club (Port Washington); the Milwaukee Traction club, the Western Shores club (Racine) and the Fond du Lac Model RR club, plus the permanent layouts of the Ballast Scorers and a tour of a member's home layout. Donation at the door is $1.50 for adults, 50c for senior citizens and children under 12. For more information call (414) 338-6021.

Don't cross a bridge until you have the exact toll ready.

LOOKING FOR HELP... George Zimmerman, Wisconsin Rapids, didn't know which letter to select in a recent BONUS round of the Wisconsin Lottery's "Money Game" television show. Mark Johnson (left), host of the weekly telecast was also looking for suggestions. Zimmerman won a total of $8,450 for his 30 minute's work.

The Kewaskum Indian team is introduced...they're ready for anything!

The fieldhouse was rocking March 1st as Laser 103 radio celebrities invaded the Kewaskum High School gym to play a benefit game against the Kewaskum Indians "made-up" team. Sponsored by the Mexican travelers, it was a game full of excitement and laughs as the Laser team (prepared to really "play" basketball) were surprised to only be up by a point 32-31 at

Ferrantes Fires Up For Kewaskum Defeat

MEQUON — Leading from start to finish, the Thiensville-Mequon Ferrantes took a 142-133 win from the Kewaskum Lakes team here Sunday night. The loss drops Kewaskum into a tie for the cellar with the Ferrantes both teams with 3-11 records.

Although the Ferrantes led throughout, Kewaskum stayed fairly close the entire game. Thiensville led 36-25 after one quarter but Kewaskum narrowed that to 69-60 at the half. The Ferrantes widened the lead to 108-95 after three quarters before Kewaskum cut the final margin to nine.

Excellent free throw shooting aided in the Ferrantes' win as they hit 90.0 percent on 18 of 20 compared to 70.0 percent for Kewaskum on 21 of 30.

Dan Doedens topped six men in double figures for the Ferrantes with 31 points. Pete Loyda and Doug Held each had 23, Gerry Brugger 21, and Brian Rindfleisch 20. Randy Tennes poured in 42 points for Kewaskum, Leon Laatsch had 29, and Tony Pirozzoli 25.

Kewaskum will pull down the curtain on the season at Oconomowoc Sunday. The Express won their showdown game with Cedarburg Saturday to take over first place and are in line to dethrone the four-year champions with a win over Kewaskum.

DNR Proposes Controlled Burning On Theresa Marsh

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources is proposing to conduct controlled burns this spring on the Theresa Marsh Wildlife Area in Washington County. Controlled burning, if done properly, increases plant diversity and grass stand density, thereby improving habitat for grassland nesting bird species such as pheasant, blue-winged teal, bobolink and dickcissel.

Burning of marshlands under regulated conditions is often the most economical method of control brush invasion on typically wet soils where mechanical removal of brush is not possible.

The Department is proposing to burn 210 acres of marshland at Theresa Marsh. Information regarding the Department's proposal can be reviewed at Pike Lake State Park. Contact Bill Ishmael at 644-5248 for information on the controlled burns. Comments on the proposals are welcomed and should be received by Mr. Ishmael no later than 4:30 p.m., April 1, 1989.

Special Trout Fishing Regulations Proposed

MADISON, WI — Wisconsin's trout fishing is rated good by the fishing public, but could become great with proposed regulation changes to improve fishing based on a classification of the state's trout waters, Larry Claggett, Department of Natural Resources trout specialist said.

For almost two years, DNR fisheries managers have been working with and talking to trout fishing groups, individuals and sports clubs in the state about trout fishing. The managers have taken the information the public provided and compared it with stream survey data and produced new regulations to improve trout fishing.

"The major concerns from the public are that fish aren't as big as anglers would like, stocked fish are caught too soon and natural reproduction is sometimes hampered by removal of too many fish," Claggett said. "Research is finding that regulations do provide better fishing quality and quantity."

The department has documented a diversity of stream and trout resources in Wisconsin and also a diversity among anglers, who often want something different from those resources. The proposed new regulations are an attempt to match and tailor the resources to a "best fit" with the desires of the fishing public.

The proposal is not just a listing of more restrictions and less fish," Claggett said. "On 87 percent of the stream miles in Wisconsin, we're trying to increase the weight of the fish that can be harvested. Fewer fish might be allowed to be taken, but on the average they will weigh more than what a previous season bag limit would weigh."

In some cases current regulations would be relaxed to allow the taking of some small brook trout, which would increase utilization of the high numbers of those fish. It would eventually increase the size of brook trout.

The proposed numerical classification of trout streams and lakes specifies the number and size of trout that could be taken. After hearing from a number of groups and individuals, the number of categories has been reduced from six to five. This was done in direct response to the public's wishes. In addition, the actual regulations on local waters have often changed as the result of what people want.

Groups including Trout Unlimited, the Trout Committee of the Conservation Congress and the Isaak Walton League have all endorsed the new regulations.

The biology of the individual stream resource is driving the new regulations, according to Claggett, based on what's in the water and what angler demand is being made on the resources. Each of the five categories is based on trout growth rates, trout reproductive success, fishing pressure, location in a watershed, habitat, long-term fish survival, water quality and other factors.

Classifying streams this way statewide will make it possible for fisheries biologists to manage streams for specific types of trout fishing, added Claggett.

"An example of a relaxation of regulations would be in small, headwater streams crowded with native brook trout, where existing size limits would be removed because these types of streams can sustain a healthy fishery even with added fishing," Claggett stated. "Anglers who like to fish brookies and keep a nice catch of smaller fish to eat would probably want to fish these streams."

On medium-sized streams, which make up the bulk of Wisconsin's trout waters, size limits would be slightly increased and bag limits decreased so anglers could harvest a maximum weight of fish. Size limits would be higher on stocked streams that are fished heavier and where trout grow fast.

On larger streams with habitat for larger fish that grow well, a 12-inch length limit for brown trout and an eight-inch limit for brook trout would be used to provide the catch or harvest of larger trout.

For anglers who fish for sport rather than food, portions of some large, productive streams would be subject to bait and catch-and-release restrictions so trout could grow to trophy sizes.

The season on streams, spring ponds and most lakes would continue to be from the first Saturday in May through September 30. The early season would continue in eight southwestern counties and an extended season would continue on some lakes.

Improvements anglers could expect from the regulations include:

1. Providing a more diverse trout fishing opportunity
2. Increasing the number of brown trout over 12 inches and brook trout over eight inches.
3. Increasing the number of trophy-sized fish over 20 inches.
4. Extending the fishing season on stocked waters by reducing angler harvest of small fish early in the season.

"The public will also have an opportunity to indicate their approval of the rules at the annual spring Conservation Congress hearing held this year on Monday, April 24 in every county in the state," added Claggett.

Comments on the proposed trout fishing regulations can be made to fisheries managers in each of the department's offices statewide, or can be directed to Larry Claggett, (608) 267-9658.

JC's to Sponsor CF Bike-A-Thon

The Kewaskum JC's again this spring will be sponsoring a CF Bike-A-Thon. In years passed support in Kewaskum has been great with hundreds of dollars pledged, by you who care.

A serious illness in a family is always painful, especially when it strikes a child - and profoundly so when it is an incurable disease like cystic fibrosis.

Relatively few of us know much about this complicated disease, but the facts are clear and chilling: CF is the #1 genetic killer of children and young adults in this country. It's inherited, degenerative, mainly attacks the lungs and digestive system, and it's incurable.

But as with most things, there is a positive side to the story. Thirty years ago, a child born with cystic fibrosis seldom lived long enough to enter school. But today, nearly half the children born with CF will live into their mid-twenties.

That long leap forward is due to developments in great medical treatment, an effort that requires a lot of money. A great deal more money is needed to support the research that's being conducted nationwide to find a cure for this tragic disease.

That's why we urge every person who is able to help by participating in Kewaskum JC Bike-A-Thon on May 6th, or by sponsoring a participant through pledges.

Watch for more information here in the Statesman and for registration forms at local business or by calling Linda Gavin at 626-2209 or Kathy Broecker at 626-2073.

season scoring a total of 289 points with a 13.1 game average and pulling down 169 rebounds to rank her fourth in the conference in rebounding.

Interesting to note is the fact that she was 3rd in the conference in steals which is very unusual for a center. Her good inside shooting and tough board work proved she was very deserving of this honor.

Schneider led the "steal" category for the Indian team and was the scrappy guard who could always force a turn-over. She led the conference in steals and was 6th in "assists." Her hustle and determination were the fire to the Indian team and she proved to be a real leader on the court. Schneider ended her season with a 10 point average per game and 198 total points in the league.

Donath, who was the team's corner shot specialist, shot with 46% accuracy from the floor which was the highest on the Indian team. She also averaged 57% accuracy from the free throw line which tied for the highest percentage with teammate Kristi Lubahn. The team could always count on Donath from the corner when the pressure was on and once she found her spot, it was "money"

The team ended their season with a 10-11 overall record and a 7-5 record in the conference to secure 3rd place. Of the five starters from Kewaskum, three were chosen on All-Conference teams which definitely says something about the calibre of girls we have playing basketball for the Indians. Said Coach Dickinsen, "I was very proud of these girls because I really felt they earned this honor."

Steve Gerhartz

Steve Gerhartz, 6 foot 3 junior from the Kewaskum Indian squad was recently selected as a Second team All-Conference player in the Eastern Wisconsin conference.

Gerhartz ended up his season seventh in overall scoring with 173 points and his 17.3 per game scoring average ranked him fifth in the conference. (All this was accomplished despite him missing two games due to illness).

Gerhartz was also second in the conference in field goal percentages with 63%.

Said Coach Schatz of Gerhartz, "He's a kid that always gives 100 percent... I look forward to seeing him lead the team next year."

New Coaches, New Season...

KHS Track Season Begins

The Track season officially is underway as of Monday, March 5th. Opening the season was a meeting introducing the new head boys track coach who is Fran Charland. He will be replacing Dave Drexler who had been the head coach since 1980 and had wanted to be relieved of the extra duty for the past couple of years. Perry Koth will be the new girls head coach, due to a vacancy caused by a teacher leaving. The assistant coaches will be Keith Amundson and Dave Rizzardi (both returning) and Milt Dickinsen who is taking Koth's vacant spot.

Each of the five coaches will be working in different specialties this year. Koth will handle pole vault, hurdles, and girls relays; Charland will be in charge of sprinters and relays; Amundson will be handling all the "jumps," long, high, and triple; Rizzardi will work with shot put and discus; and Dickinsen will be responsible for the distance runners.

The Indians open their indoor season Monday, March 20 at New Holstein. Outdoor track action begins April 11th for the boys at Chilton and for the girls April 14th with the Indians hosting Chilton and Kiel.
