The Kewaskum Indians, with a record of 5-21, won a berth to the state tournament in Stevens Point on Friday evening at the WIAA Cedarburg Sectional.

After a very rough and slow season for the Indians, it all paid off after the Indians beat the Random Lake Rams 4-0, to make it to the sectional finals when they took victory over West Bend East with a score of 6-2.

West Bend East's centerfielder, Dean Sternig, was the first to score after teammate Kraig Sadownikow hit a single to send Sternig home, but the Indians centerfielder, Dan Heisdorf, also proved to be tough and brought in their first run after Donath's single to keep the score tied 1-1 at the end of the first inning.

It was the second inning that the Indians started the rally with Krause getting on base because of East's, Mark Nelson's error at third base. Then Budiach hit a base hit with Hartman also advancing to first with a walk-bases loaded. It was Heisdorf's and Heberer's back to back singles that helped the Indians score Krause and Budiach.

After a pitching charge by East, Heberer hit a single bringing Hartman home and advancing Heisdorf to third. Then Donath hit a fly ball to right field which Heisdorf tagged up on to bring the score 5-1 with one out. Aupperle then struck out making it out number two. Heberer, now on second after Waechter's single, came home on Rich Radtke's single. Krause struck out to end what proved to be the Indian's winning inning with the score at 6-1.

Krause later replaced Waechter to get the win allowing only one run scored by Dean Sternig, off of three hits.

The Indians advanced to the WIAA State Tournament on Wednesday to face Arcadia in a 9:00 p.m. game with a record of 6-21. This will be the second time since 1986 that the Indians advanced to state.

Kewaskum High School sent a booster bus to help back the Indians in their Wednesday opener for the 1989 WIAA State Baseball Tournament in Stevens Point.

Veto Sale of Beechwood School

Electors Approve $7.8 Million School Budget for 1989-90

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Attendance at Monday night's Annual School District Meeting was one of the lowest in the past four years. Approximately 55 electors were all that showed up to cast their votes on three major issues which affect the entire school district community. The first issue being the approval of the proposed 1989-90 budget of over $7.8 million, second, the setting of the tax levy and third, the fate of the closed Beechwood School property.

Despite the fact that next year's budget will mean an increase of 13.02% in the tax levy over this year, there was little discussion or questions following Business Manager Cherna Gorder's presentation. Gorder told those attending the meeting, that while the budget itself had only increased 3.5% or $266,000 over last year, losses in revenues for the coming year were a major factor in a double-digit levy increase.

General State Aid for the district is expected to drop by 1.6% or over $50,000. That, along with the fact that there is some question as to what size increase, if any, the district will see in its equalized value are the determining factors which establish the levy. Based on no increase in the equalized value over last year, the 1989-90 levy will be $15.69 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. On a $70,000 home, that would represent a tax increase of $126.70. If the district were

C of C Names 1989-90 Board Of Directors

The Annual Meeting of the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce was held Wednesday, July 19, at 6:30 p.m. in the Community Room of the Municipal Building.

Members who attended included President Ed Miller of Miller's Furniture; Vice President Don Sedgwick of The Village Bootery; Secretary Jan Bartelt of Shefond Mobil Mart; Treasurer Bill Geidel of Sentry Foods; Judy Jaeger of Jaeger Sewing Center; Greg Callaway of Callaway & Co. Goldsmithing; Charleen Barutha of West Bend Savings and Loan; Larry Williams of KL Home and Hardware; Paul Behring of Behring's Market; Wayne Rimmel of Regal Ware, Inc.; Sandi Amerling of Village Hair Stylists; Lana Kuehl of The Kewaskum Statesman; Ron Schmitz of Behnke Schmitz & Associates; Gladys Seefeldt of Buffy's Village Inn and Larry Martin of Miller Funeral Home.

The main order of business for the evening was the naming of the new 1989-90 Board of Directors who will represent the Chamber of Commerce. New members to the Board of Directors are Sandi Amerling of Village Hair Stylists; Lana Kuehl of The Kewaskum Statesman; Charleen Barutha of West Bend Savings and Loan and Gladys Seefeldt of Buffy's Village Inn. These members will serve on the Board of Directors for a two year term.

Holdover members from last year's Board of Directors include Jan Bartelt of Shefond Mobil Mart, Don Sedgwick of The Village Bootery and Chuck Wilgenbusch of Valley Bank. They will serve for one more year.

Outgoing members who served a two year term on the Board of Directors are Wayne Rimmel of Regal Ware, Inc., Ed Miller of Miller's Furniture, Bill Geidel of Sentry Foods, and Richard Thieme of Richard's Kut and Style Shop.

The new 1989-90 officers will be elected from the Board of Directors on Monday, August 7.

In other business, a promotional incentive program for Middle School students was discussed and Stephen King, Principal, will attend the next meeting on Wednesday, August 16th to elaborate on this program.

Police Chief Richard Knoebel will be asked to attend a meeting in the very near future to update the Chamber of Commerce members on how to deal with suspicious patrons in your place of business. This should prove to be a very in-fortunate enough to see at least a 5% increase in its equalized value, the levy could drop to $14.94, which would reflect an increase of $74.20 on that same $70,000 home.

Gorder said the question of the district's new equalized value could not be answered until October when the state officially releases its figures.

While action on the budget had a greater impact on the school district and its taxpayers, it was the Beechwood School and its fate which, as in past meetings, received the bulk of the evening's discussion by both the electors and school board members.

There were three resolutions directly concerning the school; seeking board authorization to sell the property, authorization to lease it and authorization to allow the school to be used for community purposes.

In addressing the issue, board member Perry Ankerson asked how much it was costing the district just to maintain the property. Administrator David Heather said it was running between $8,000 and $8,500 a year.

Ankerson also asked Heather how much it would cost the district to re-open and make the school operational and whether enrollment projections would warrant opening the school in the next two to three years. Heather said costs to re-establish the school would run between $175,000 and $250,000, including staffing. As far as a need to open the school, Heather indicated enrollment projections showed a continued decrease.

Jerry Secor, Town of Farmington, told the board he hadn't heard any figures as to what it would cost to build extra classrooms if the school was sold and enrollments began to increase. Ankerson said, "even if the school district grows, you have to ask what chance we will have to have major growth in Beechwood." He noted parents would probably not look favorably on having their children bussed from one side of the district to the other.

Maurice Hovland, Town of Kewaskum, indicated he had no major opinion for or against selling the school. "I feel this issue is based solely on" emotion," said Hovland. He did say, however, that at a special meeting on the school three years ago, a motion was made and approved that Beechwood would not be sold for five years. "I would like to see that motion upheld for at least two more years," said Hovland, "if for no other reason that it shows the district respects their (the voters') opinion."

There was also some question as to whether the Town of Scott board would allow the property to be re-zoned if a prospective buyer wanted to use it for something other than a school or institution.

When all was said and done, the resolution to sell the school failed with 36 voting 'no' and 19 voting 'yes.'

The next resolution concerning authorization to lease the property, however, passed on a 31-23 vote. Janet Hubbell, of Kewaskum, questioned the board about the district still having the expenses previously incurred if it were leased and administration of the property according to an article she had read in Monday's West Bend News.

Lee Rammer, of Beechwood, responded to Hubbell saying the News' article was not accurate. He said his only intention was to be administrator of a fund to meet the expenses incurred, strictly as a community service so that the residents could continue to use the school. Rammer said several individuals had indicated they were willing to donate money to meet those costs and he had offered to handle their administration. "I have no interest in the property as a business," said Rammer.

On a 46-6 vote, the district was also authorized to allow the use of the school for community purposes.

Along with the routine resolutions approved for the normal operations of the district, the voters also authorized the board to borrow $200,000 for capital improvement projects during the 1989-90 school year. The nine projects, not included in the general budget, ranged from roof repairs to asbestos removal.

With no objections from the floor, the date for the 1990 Annual Meeting was set for the fourth Monday in July.

95% of School District's Third Graders Scored 'Above Standard' in Reading Test

The School District of Kewaskum has received the results of the third grade reading test taken by the district's third graders last April. Test results indicate that the third graders of the Kewaskum School District scored very well in relation to other third grade students across the state.

The test is based on the student's comprehension of 31 questions and is scored by indicating the student scored "below the standard," "at the standard," or "above the standard." The cut off scores for each grading criteria were established by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction.

Test results indicate that 95% of the Kewaskum third grade students who took the test scored "above the standard." The state average for students scoring "above the standard" was 87.5%. Four percent of the Kewaskum students taking the test scored "at the standard" and one percent of the Kewaskum third graders scored "below the standard." In comparison, the statewide averages for these two categories were "at standard" 7.6% and "below standard" 4.8%.

The reading test results indicate the district's reading program K-3 is doing well and we can be proud of the efforts of our children, their parents and their teachers.

formative session, so please plan on attending.

Lana Kuehl brought up the idea of the Chamber of Commerce sponsoring a large outside community bulletin board. She had been approached by a village resident who thought it was a shame that the people of Kewaskum and tourists traveling through do not know about all the activities going on in the Village nearly every weekend.

Ed Miller, Wayne Rimmel and Ron Schmitz volunteered to check into the feasibility, location and cost of a large marquee-type bulletin board.

Judy Jaeger reported the new maps are in the process of being printed and should be available by the next meeting. Any members wanting some of these new maps should pick them up at the next meeting on Wednesday, August 16.

Plan on attending the next meeting. We have a lot of projects on the drawing boards that can use some of your creative ideas. Promote your business through your Chamber of Commerce.

Plan Commission Sets Temporary Zoning On Annexation Request

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Plan Commission reviewed a petition for annexation Tuesday evening and its members voted to recommend that a temporary R-2 zoning of 14 properties along the Town of Kewaskum side of Bonnie Lane be passed on to the Village Board for approval at its next meeting.

Following that action the commission voted to recommend a permanent R-2 residential zoning for those properties. Zoning Administrator Richard Zarling advised the commission that it could make both the temporary and permanent zoning recommendations at the same time since all the lots involved in the petition have construction (homes) on them that fall into the R-2 category. What the temporary zoning simply does is allow a municipality up to a year to make a final decision on zoning in the event there is a chance there will be a change in the land usage. In this case, noted Zarling, since all the properties already fall into the residential classification, a recommendation for the permanent zoning can be made immediately.

Chairman Paul Blumer informed the commission's members that the annexation petition had been made to the village because of problems with septic systems which no longer meet DNR standards. Annexation of the properties will allow the owners to hook up to the village's sewer and water systems.

As part of the recommendation, all the property owners will be required to provide plat maps which will be used to help the village's engineers lay out the laterals, said Zarling. The entire cost of the construction will be paid for by the property owners.

The subject of sidewalks will have to be addressed by the Village Board as a separate item at a later date due to the fact that not all the owners in the affected area signed the petition. If they had, noted Zarling, there would have been no problem making a decision on sidewalk installation too.

Memories...

When they were built in the late 1880's by Rosenheimer Brothers, the buildings pictured above must have added a sense of job security to Kewaskum residents. The business was incorporated in 1891 and the name was changed to L. Rosenheimer Malt and Grain Company. The brothers chose the name to honor their father, the first L. Rosenheimer. The building on the left was the elevator; the low part, the malt house; the tall buildings contained the kilns; the three large storage tanks were usually used for storing malt. In September of 1911 the elevator burned to the ground with some damage to the malt house. The elevator was rebuilt to the south of its original location. Glacier Processing now occupies the building.

Good News from United Way

(This article is part of a continuing series on activities of United Way agencies in Washington County.)

Youth contribute many valuable hours of work for the benefit of our community. The Volunteer Center has placed 127 enthusiastic young people in youth volunteer jobs through a new program which began in 1988. These jobs include working with disabled children, at nature camps, and assisting in summer art programs.

Kettle Moraine Hospice volunteers were recently honored at a special dinner sponsored by the Volunteer Center of Milwaukee. They were also listed in a 1989 book of "Who's Who of Volunteers."

The Full Shelf Food Pantry in West Bend has been helping more families in the area. In April 1989, there was a 40% increase in the number of families served, compared to the previous year.

The Kewaskum Special Olympics team participated in the state Track & Field meet in Stevens Point in June. This year's season ended with a banquet to recognize supporters and applaud the efforts of the Special Olympians at the state meet.

Some recent activities of the American Red Cross in West Bend have been: transporting hundreds of passengers thousands of miles for medical care; issuing certificates for First Aid, CPR and Babysitting skills; working with families who've had fires; sewing for the Veterans Hospital; and giving monthly birthday parties for residents of the Samaritan Home.

The Red Cross slogan of "Neighbor Helping Neighbor" can be applied to all United Way agencies in Washington County. Together, we're painting a brighter picture!

Wisconsin Electric Celebrates First 'Smart Money' Milestone

MILWAUKEE — A celebration for customers who did not use too much electricity, for bills that did not go up and for a power plant that was not built was held July 18th by Wisconsin Electric Power Co.

"We're celebrating the first milestone in our Smart Money energy conservation program — the saving of 125 megawatts of energy demand. That represents a small power plant we did not have to build and savings for customers," said Dick Abdo, Wisconsin Electric president, in a ceremony at Zeidler Park in downtown Milwaukee. "The result is more efficient energy use and lower electric bills for our customers."

"We're committed to helping customers conserve energy, keeping electric bills to a minimum and stretching future energy supplies," Abdo noted.

He said the company is moving toward its next milestone — 250 megawatts of energy-demand savings — which it should reach by the end of 1990. "But the Smart Money effort will continue beyond that, as we look for new ways to help our customers conserve energy and save money."

"We're investing in cost-effective conservation because it's less costly than building new power plants," Abdo said.

Abdo encouraged customers to take advantage of the interest-free loans, rebates and energy savings available through Smart Money.

Smart Money offers are available to residential customers through Aug. 31. Customers who are interested in purchasing energy-efficient appliances or turning in inefficient but operating freezers, refrigerators and room air conditioners may call the Smart Money Energy Line for more information. In Milwaukee, call 221-4800. Outside Milwaukee, call toll-free at 1-800-922-6253.

Commercial, industrial and farm customers can call 221-4900 in Milwaukee or toll-free at 1-800-544-7989 outside Milwaukee.

Students who have already registered may pay a registration deposit by Aug. 4 for the fall semester: $100 for those carrying 12 or more credits and $50 for part-time students. The deposit will be applied toward tuition and fees.

Security Laminate Improved For Driver's Licenses And Identification Cards

A new plastic laminate, designed for better legibility and to help prevent alterations is now being used on Wisconsin driver licenses and identification cards.

The announcement was made by Norbert K. Anderson, administrator of the state Department of Transportation's Division of Motor Vehicles, who said that the switch is being made in response to comments by the public, law enforcement agencies and others that the licenses and identification cards were occasionally difficult to read because of the intensity of the security feature in the previous laminate.

The new laminate has a latent image of two columns of the words "Wisconsin" printed down the middle of the license separated by an outline of the state. The latent image overlays part of the person's photo and the printed data on the driver's license or identification card.

Any attempt to cut out the photo to replace it with another, or to alter any of the letters or numbers will disrupt the latent image and void the license or identification card.

The latent-image technology has been developing rapidly in the wake of a nationwide 21 drinking age, because driver's licenses are the uniform means of identification and proof of age, Anderson said. "We're trying to make it difficult to change the birthdate or any other feature on the license without it being obvious to a trained observer," he added.

County AODA Council To Host Training For Peer Listeners

The Council on Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse of Washington County will host a training for the Peer Listeners from Washington County High Schools. The training, which will be held during the week of July 31 - August 4 at Fifth Avenue Methodist Church, will include workshops presented by experts on such topics as grief, sexuality, chemical dependency, eating disorders, dating abuse, runaways, active listening and information and referral.

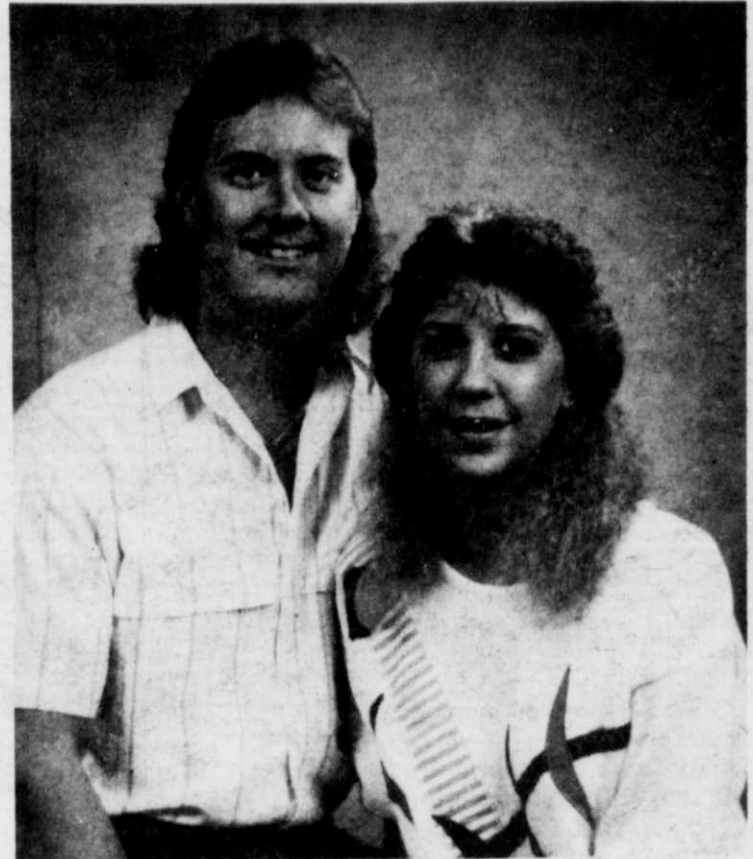

Ellen Baerman, Education Ambassador for the N.A.S.A. Space Program will give the keynote address. The week will also feature Jean Sable, writer, poet and dramatist who will present her one-act play "Please Remember Me."

"We are very excited about the program," said Sandy Gunderson, Peer Listener Coordinator. "We began the program 4 years ago with less than 10 kids. This year we will train 100!"

Peer Listeners make themselves available to fellow students who might need to talk about a particular problem. They are not trained to counsel, but rather to listen and provide information to where that student might turn for further assistance. "Kids are always more willing to open up to other kids" said Larry Smikowski, Interventionist at The Council. "During the training we try to provide a lot of good information on the various problems kids face. We also allow time for role playing. It's a very intense week."

CARBOHYDRATES - ENERGY

The average American gets more than enough protein. Excess protein won't build muscles - only exercise does. Extra protein is stored as fat.

Carbohydrates are the most efficient fuel for the body. For athletes and exercisers, eating more complex carbohydrates [vegetables, fruits, and whole grains] will increase energy reserves [glycogen] in muscles and liver, thus prolonging exertion time before tiring or exhaustion occurs.

Habitat for Humanity Work Crew Returns Home from Zanesville Project

The Habitat for Humanity work crew from Peace United Church of Christ returned to Kewaskum Saturday, July 15 after a 1140 mile round trip over eight days, to build for the poor in Zanesville, Ohio.

One new house and yard was completed and is being occupied, three sites were cleared of growth and debris for future new housing, and one older home was completely stripped inside and rewired for renovation. The latter project included the brick-by-brick removal of four fireplaces, the original heating and cooking source for the home. Richard Moore, Habitat project leader for the week in Zanesville, praised the Kewaskum team as the hardest working and most productive crew Zanesville has yet had. Moore, a retired insurance executive, spends many days each month as a Habitat volunteer. He was at the work site to coordinate labor each day.

Moore and his wife are also active volunteers at "Christ's Table," a daily meal program at St. John's ALC Lutheran Church of Zanesville, where 300-400 people are served a nourishing noon meal for a cost of 25c per person. Everyone who comes to the "Table" is fed, regardless of ability to give a donation. The dollar per day per person paid voluntarily by the Kewaskum workers who joined the "Table" each noon therefore fed three hungry people besides themselves. Rev. Donald Worth of Zanesville Central Presbyterian Church arranged for the work crew to eat with and come to know the "Table" group as friends. The Habitat crew was housed at the Presbyterian Church. Breakfasts and evening meals were cooked by work team members Marion Erdmann, Ruth Gruhle, and Betty Bettin at that church.

The unemployment rate in Zanesville is extremely high, and the need for affordable, non-interest homes to be purchased through Habitat is vital for those who do have low-income jobs. Young adults sleeping on streets and the riverbank all year is a major problem, Moore stressed, although the crime rate is lower than average. The Appalachian poor represent an economic challenge to state and local government in Ohio and churches step in to meet that challenge most effectively.

In addition to the Habitat cooks, other workers included Bret Rauch, Robert Schreffler, Shannon, Susan, Pat, and Patrick McFadden, Darlene and Wayland Tessar, Richard Zarling, Willard Gruhle, Connie and Howard Zemlicka, Steve and Chris Romans, Karen Kletti, Marlene Domasky, Kevin Hinz, Brian Goetsch, Courtney Sparks, Jennifer Stelter, and Rev. James Bettin.

Seven members of the team also worked for Habitat in Nashville, Tennessee in 1987 and Buffalo, New York in 1988. Seven others are two year veterans. A project for 1990 has not yet been chosen, but work team members at the Peace Church service on Sunday, July 16 expressed desires to take part in a fourth venture. Dirt, poison ivy, heat and humidity in the high '90's did not dampen

Peace Church members not actively building offer monetary support for transportation, food, and materials for the crew. $800.00 was presented to the Zanesville project by Peace Church to purchase building supplies for Habitat. One tenth of all such gifts is tithed for a foreign project where a Habitat house costs only one-tenth as much to build.

As one Peace Church member declared last Sunday, "Eating and working with the poor in Zanesville taught me that we are more alike than different in our cares, concerns, and problems; we ate at Christ's Table, and we built in His name for our brothers and sisters in need. To take part in Habitat means to be a servant."

Addresses UW Board of Regents On Non-Traditional Age Students

WEST BEND — At age 47, Elizabeth Collins of West Bend just finished three years as a non-traditional age student here at the University of Wisconsin Center — Washington County. Recently she was selected to address the UW Board of Regents on behalf of all non-traditional age students attending the system's 13 freshman-sophomore campuses.

In July at Richland Center, Collins told the Regents about the impact her studies have made on her, her husband Dan and their three children ages 20 to 26. She admitted that Dan, a toolroom machinist for 27 years, "sometimes speaks longingly of his old life and his old wife."

She added, "I think he dreams of rhubarb pie, homemade chocolate chip cookies and not eating leftovers. Frankly, so do I sometimes."

Collins described her life before college to the Regents. "It was a wonderful life," she said, and included taking care of the family, driving a school bus, baby sitting, volunteering, singing in the church choir, raising horses, feeding chickens, milking goats, organic gardening and various other hobbies.

"Now," she told the regents, "I do almost none of those things but have found another wonderful life...I have had the opportunity to start a completely new career, have have a second chance at a college education — a chance that did not exist for me at 18 — a chance to become almost a new person."

About a third of the students at UWWC and the other freshman-sophomore centers are in the non-traditional age group. Collins explained why at Richland Center. She said, "In my family and social world, young women, after graduating from high school, worked at a job, lived at home, and then married and 'settled down' to raise a family."

But according to Collins, raising children began to fuel her interest in "going to college and learning things." Her interest grew when one son dropped out of college and another showed little interest in schooling. She told the Regents that she began to think "if I could 'start again,' maybe my sons would realize someday that they could do the same thing."

In her talk at Richland Center, Collins talked about what it was like to return to school. "At first I was terrified," she said. "A large campus was completely out of the question. I simply could not have done it. For me it was attend the Washington County Center or never go to college. So I enrolled for six credits."

What was it like? "It was not easy," Collins reported to the Regents. "The first week of classes I shook so hard I could not take notes. I cried when I had my first written assignment because I didn't know where to write my name, and it took me three days to figure out three pages of philosophy."

But Collins moved beyond this early period to win a major scholarship during her first year at UWWC. Last May, she won a second top scholarship for her junior and senior years at UW-Milwaukee, where she is majoring in comparative history.

In her address to the Regents, Collins sought to alert the UW leaders to the importance of her age group. She said, "As a nontraditional student, I represent a growing number of people entering your two year centers across the state."

"We are the students who stay in their communities, raise their families, and work part-time or full-time jobs."

"We are the students who often work harder, contribute more in your classrooms and take learning more seriously than many younger students."

"We are the ones who serve as role models for those who — Like me — may have never been on a college campus, or who were interrupted ten, twenty or more years before and who say to themselves, I would, I should, maybe I could have a second chance, too."

Collins calls herself "a University of Wisconsin Centers success story" and credits what has happened to UWWC. She admitted to the Regents "that if it had not been for the small, two year campus in West Bend, I would not have started my new life." And she spelled out exactly how it happened for her.

"The campus was close to home so I was able to remain active in my community."

"The classes were small enough so I was not afraid to speak in class."

"The professors were not only knowledgeable and accessible but people who got to know me and my interests. They encouraged me to reach beyond what I thought were my expectations and my capabilities."

Collins said she is very pleased that all of her credits have transferred due to "the solid curriculum," at UWWC. She said, "Although I still feel a little frightened, I know I am academically well prepared."

She told the Regents about one "unique opportunity" of returning to school in her forties — sharing college life with her daughter. "At home we were mother and daughter," she said, "but at school we were academic peers."

The pair did have some agreements about how to conduct themselves at UWWC. When they were in the same classroom, Collins said, they did not sit together. "And I was not to turn around and give her 'mother looks' and she was not to yell, 'Hey, Ma!' down the hall."

Collins educational dreams don't stop with a four-year degree. "After earning my B.A.," she said "I hope either to teach older adults or enter law school. As society ages, I believe there will be an increased need for various forms of adult learning. As a 'non-trad' myself — I could offer encouragement."

The delivery horse of M. R. Boeckler became frightened while at the Campbellsport depot this morning and started a mad run down Main Street. When opposite the blacksmith shop of Andrew Suckawady the runaway horse took it into his head to do a little "Circus Stunt" so he ran between the hitching rail and another horse which was tied to it, clearing all without damaging horses or wagon and proceeded on his way down the street when he stopped near Boeckler's store. Aug. Bretzke who owned the horse tied in front of the blacksmith shop examined his animal but could not find a scratch on him, not even the tie rope being broken.

What Is Megabucks?

What Is The Game? Players choose six numbers between 1-54. Each $1 ticket contains two plays, so players would select two different sets of numbers on a $1 ticket. MEGABUCKS will offer Quick Picks (computer randomly selects numbers for player) and will allow players to purchase tickets for up to two draws at one time. If the player buys a ticket on Friday, he/she may have the ticket good for the drawing Saturday night and the following Wednesday. The cost is two plays for $1 per drawing.

How Do We Know If We Won? The six winning numbers will be drawn on a live televised drawing carried via satellite at 9:59 p.m. Wednesdays and Saturdays on the Wisconsin Lottery TV and Radio Networks. Winning numbers will be likely to be published in most daily newspapers sold in Wisconsin and will also be available on a recorded telephone message.

How Much Do We Win? MEGABUCKS is a pari-mutuel game, which means that the size of the jackpot and prize amount paid at each level varies depending on sales and how many people share a prize pool. Matching 6 of 6 earns all or part of the big jackpot, which will always be $2 million or more (It is $30 million Wednesday, July 12). Matching 5 of 6 usually pays about $1,000 while matching 4 of 6 pays between $40 and $50 in most cases.

Do All Lottery Retailers Sell Megabucks Tickets? No. About 1,440 locations statewide will have MEGABUCKS terminals. There is a terminal in every county in Wisconsin. Nearly every community with significant retail sales has one or more terminals.

Is This A Wisconsin Game? Yes. Money played in Wisconsin stays in Wisconsin. The MEGABUCKS computer network is not connected with any other lottery or Lotto* America. All Lotto* America states report daily sales at the end of the each day to Lotto* America offices in Des Moines, Iowa. They use personal computers to compute changes in the jackpots, etc.

If Wisconsin sells 30 per cent of the tickets in a drawing, it is obligated to fund 30 per cent of the prize pool paid in that game.

If someone in Oregon hits the jackpot, Wisconsin's share of the jackpot payment is based on its ticket sales for the jackpot. If someone from Wisconsin wins the jackpot, the other lotteries pay their portion of the prizes to the Wisconsin winner.

Lotto*America is a jackpot pool, as opposed to a lottery of its own. It allows states with small populations to pool their lotto sales and create the bigger jackpots that players look forward to playing.

Wisconsin will pay its own winners with Wisconsin Lottery checks.

Will Terminals Be Used For Other Games? Yes. Additional games using the terminals will be designed and made available at later dates.

What Will Happen To The Instant Games? They will continue to improve and become more and more fun.

JVs Add Two More to Win Column to Cop Conference Title

By Dennis Butz
The Kewaskum JV's won two big games, thus assuring themselves of at least a share of the conference title. The Indians, now 10-1 in conference, are alone in first place with only one game to go.

On Monday, the Indians beat New Holstein 4-1 with a three run seventh inning rally. The JV's led off the seventh with two infield hits by Brian Dobke and Rob Kertscher. After a bunt, a strikeout, and an intentional walk, Chad Cook knocked in two runs with an opposite field single. Jason Krahn then singled in one more run to make the score 4-1.

On the defensive side, Chad Cook and Dave Powers combined to throw a two hitter. Cook also struck out seven in four innings of work.

Brian Dobke was a perfect three for three at the plate, while Krahn, Kertscher, and Jim "Jocko" Marx collected two hits each.

On Tuesday, the JV's played co-leading Random Lake, and managed to hold on for an 11-8 win.

The JV's started out hot, scoring nine runs in the first four innings. They then added two more runs in the sixth to make the score 11-2. A late Random Lake rally fell short making the final score 11-8.

The JV's had a good game defensively as infielders Rob Kertscher, Jason Krahn, and Chad Cook made one big play after another. Shawn Schneider pitched six strong innings before being relieved by Dave Powers in the seventh. Jason Krahn and Russ Bielaga led the Indians with two hits while every other starter got one.

The Indians final game is against Random Lake at home this Friday, July 28. Come on out and watch the future state champs of Kewaskum High!!

Physical cards or Alternate Year cards must be turned in before you start practice. These cards are available in the high school office and they will also be available in the weight room in the evenings.

User's Fee: Each athlete must pay a one time users fee of $15 per year. This will cover all sports for this year. This must be paid in the high school office. If you have a problem with this matter contact Coach Pearson.

WeightRoom: The weight room is open every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. If you have not already been doing so, I urge you to get into the weight room. Whatever you can do to make yourself stronger will certainly help make you a better football player.

Running: We will be doing a lot of running again this fall. Be in good shape when practice begins. We will have a timed mile and 40 yard dash the first days of practice. The more preseason running you do the better off you will be.

Have a super rest of the summer vacation! Get in shape, do some running so the first week of practice is not so tough on you. We want football to be an enjoyable experience for you! Winning makes it even more enjoyable.

Hot Indian Bats Defeat Falls, 7-1, In Season Finale

by Dennis Aupperle

The Kewaskum Indians played a solid game all around having just three errors, three strikeouts as a team and collected nine hits to beat Sheboygan Falls in the last regular season game.

The Indians scored twice in the first on singles by Dan Heisdorf and Mike Heberer, while Chris Donath and Bruce Waechter sacrificed them in.

In the second Paul Budiac singled and was brought in by Mark Hartman's double off the fence. The Indian bats kept going scoring two more in the second, one in the third and one in the sixth.

Dennis Aupperle got the win for Kewaskum, giving up three hits, striking out ten and walking four.

Name Donath All-Conference

TOMORROW'S TECHNOLOGY

Space Race Is Promising Us Down To Earth Advantages

An interesting outcome of our nation's leadership in space is being felt right down here on earth. A good example of this is the development of a permanently manned space station. Building it will enhance America's civilian space endeavors, and reinforce our position as a worldwide leader in science and technology.

According to the Center for National Program Evaluation (CNPE), Space Station funding provides an economic boost that ripples throughout the economy. Historically, each dollar of U.S. government money spent on aerospace projects has generated about seven dollars worth of economic activity.

Not only is the economy benefitted—the dream is kept alive—the future of space exploration is continued. The nation faces a critical choice: whether to continue to lead in space, or to allow other nations to assume the leadership of technology and space exploration.

According to CNPE, a non-profit, tax-exempt organization primarily concerned with the study of major issues of national security and science, space and technology policy, the Space Station will help America maintain its technological edge for years to come. To help continue

Many feel building this Space Station will help us maintain our technology edge for years to come.

CNPE's work, send $10 (a tax deductible contribution) to CNPE, P.O. Box 3571, Reston, VA 22090. You will receive issue papers and other items of interest relating to the studies conducted by CNPE.

To find out how your congressmen feel about this issue write to them: U.S. Senate, Washington, DC 20510 or U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, DC 20515.

SOME PLACES STAND BEHIND CAR REPAIRS FOR 90 DAYS.

WE PROMISE YOU A LIFETIME.

Amazing how fast 90 days pass. Fortunately, there's nothing temporary about our free Lifetime Service Guarantee. It's good for as long as you own your Ford, Lincoln, Mercury, or Ford light truck.

Pay just once for a covered repair. Then, if that part fails or wears out, we'll fix it again free. Free parts and free labor. That's on thousands of parts and repairs, not a limited number like those other guarantees out there.

And it doesn't matter how old your vehicle is, how many miles are on it, or where you bought it. What does count is we have the best car repair guarantee in America.

Come in and ask us to see a copy of the Lifetime Service Guarantee. Then don't settle for those 90-day car repair guarantees. Insist on a lifetime.

Recycling Hazardous Waste Into Safe Products

The solution to America's hazardous waste problem may be just around the corner. Recently, a revolutionary technology was developed that uses a wide variety of industrial wastes, many of them hazardous, as ingredients and fuel to manufacture environmentally safe products.

The company that does this is Marine Shale Processors, Inc. (MSP), which owns and operates the largest reuse-recycle facility in the United States. MSP distinguishes itself from waste disposal companies, partial recyclers and incinerators by using 100 percent of the materials it receives to manufacture and produce aggregates, which are used in a variety of construction applications. The unique process totally eliminates the hazardous characteristics of the waste materials.

In the manufacturing process, no hazardous waste water is discharged and no hazardous solids are disposed. The resulting product is a sandlike aggregate, which can be sold for public use since it is non-hazardous. This primary aggregate can be "slagged" at temperatures exceeding 2500 degrees Fahrenheit to produce a glassified matrix. The slagging process completely locks in all toxic metals at the molecular level, which means the hazardous constituents will not leak out. Gold that is used for watches or rings goes through a similar process—the toxic elements inherent in the metal are bonded and rendered inert.

MSP's slagged aggregate provides excellent drainage characteristics when used as fill material or roadbase.

In short, it's a recycling process that's a low cost, environmentally safe alternative to land and water disposal. For more information about MSP, write Marine Shale Processors, 110 James Drive West, Suite 120, St. Rose, Louisiana, 70087 or call 1-800-872-6774.

Great Destinations—

Cape Town harbor one of great beauty

CONNIE SHERLEY
World News Features

CAPE TOWN—Historic, charming Cape Town, at the very tip of Africa, has one of the most beautiful settings in the world.

The Dutch fell in love with the location when they settled here, to begin the development of a vast, largely uninhabited area which was to become the Union of South Africa.

A sheltered, picturesque bay greeted the first arrivals, and in the background was a huge flat-topped eminence which promptly became Table Mountain.

Between the bay and the mountain lies the city, center of a rich farming area and busy with shipping and commerce. The streets are lined with trees and flowering plants, and the hillsides are ablaze much of the year with flowers.

One can ride to the top of Table Mountain on a cable car. The wind will be blowing, to be sure, but you will have the rare and wonderful experience of being able to see the Atlantic Ocean on your right and the Indian Ocean on your left, and note where their waters meet at the Cape of Good Hope.

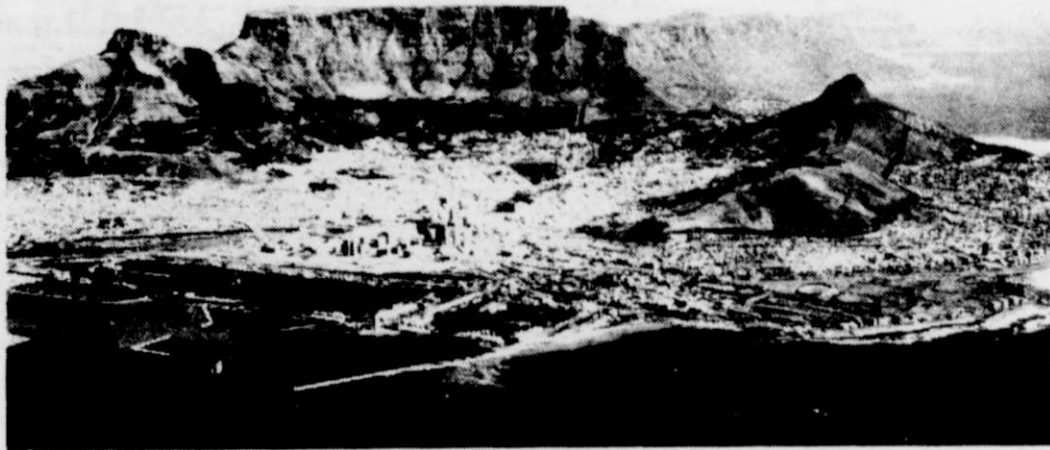

There is a small teahouse at the summit. Its windows offer views you savor and tasty cakes and scones to go along with hot coffee and tea. You are joined at the tables by visitors from all over the world, of all races, here to share what almost amounts to the thrill of discovery.

Cape Town is historic, since the Dutch began their settlement in this area, but it also is modern, with fine office buildings and homes and a great hotel, the Heerengracht on St. George's St.

It is a five star de luxe hotel in the city center, a five-minute walk from the harbor entrance and opposite the main railway station and city airport terminal.

Another great hotel, which rates among the finest in Africa, is the Mount Nelson, which is on seven acres of parkland, with gardens laid out between 1844 and 1875. The stately hotel itself was built in 1899, with accommodations for 211 persons. A long avenue lined with 60 giant palm trees leads one to the hotel, which has views of Table Mountain, the city and the harbor. Newest five star hotel is the Cape Sun, an excellent choice.

The countryside near Cape Town is supremely beautiful. There are three routes available to the motorist, and there is fine bus and tour service, as well.

Cape Town, with Table Mountain in the background, is at the very tip of South Africa and has one of the world's most attractive settings.

Africa safari interest grows

By CONNIE SHERLEY
World News Features

NAIROBI—Safari trips are bringing increased numbers of Americans to East Africa, tourism officials declare, with both Kenya and Tanzania reporting heavy bookings during coming months.

Louise Dandino of Unitours, a leader in the safari package field, points out tours include travel by coach or by air within Kenya, stays in hotels and rest camps or in tents for a true African experience, and visits to national parks, game reserves and mountain areas.

The Unitours safari trips are arranged for individuals, families or groups. (Children must be 9 or older.)

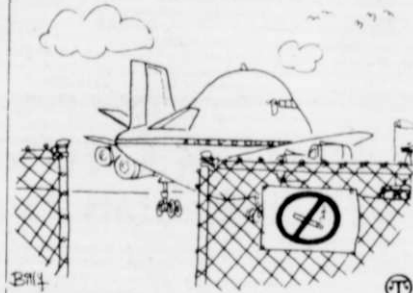

"You see many youngsters on safari, many from Europe," Ms. Dandino declares. "Such a trip is truly an experience to cherish in the years ahead, just as it is for adults."

"There is no zoo on earth like a safari through Africa!"

All the Unitours safari trips from the U.S. connect through Amsterdam or Frankfurt, with stopovers arranged. The packages include the Kichwa Safari to Kenya, 10 days from $748 plus air, with departure dates continuing through February, 1989. A catalog with complete listings will be sent by Unitours on request or can be obtained from travel agents. Unitours is at 8 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, IL 60603.

IT'S A FACT!

Here's good news for those worried about the hazards of secondhand smoke from cigarettes. Major airlines in the United States now restrict smoking on flights of less than two hours. If you're a smoker, perhaps the next time you take a non-smoking flight, you may want to think about quitting for good—not just for two hours. More encouraging news: the information and aid available to help smokers kick the habit may help avoid the tragic loss of 350,000 lives in the U.S. each year due to tobacco-related diseases.

If you're a smoker who wants to quit, researchers have developed ways to help you break the habit. Be sure to see your doctor and ask for help. He or she may prescribe Nicorette—a prescription medication to be used in conjunction with a smoking cessation program. It contains small amounts of nicotine, which helps the smoker quit by reducing nicotine withdrawal symptoms. Make today the day you stop smoking. It can help both you and your loved ones breathe easier.

Happy 200th Birthday, Congress!

Americans, it seems, are not letting the 200th birthday of Congress slip by unnoticed.

Among those observing the anniversary is the Library of Congress, which has a number of exciting events planned. One is a depiction of how Congress has developed over the past 200 years, and how its labors have shaped our history and our lives. Called "To Make All Laws," this exhibition will be on view in the James Madison Memorial Building from Sept. 28, 1989 to Feb. 28, 1990.

Accompanying the exhibition is a book written by James Hutson, constitutional scholar and chief of the Library's Manuscript Division. It will be a lively, well-illustrated volume about the development and achievements of Congress.

As part of the Library's commitment to national outreach, the Library of Congress will take advantage of the bicentennial of Congress to develop and make available some innovative educational programs. These will include an Educator's Institute, to be held at the Library July 10-21, 1989, an educator's resource packet, and a national traveling exhibition based on "To Make All Laws" that will visit 30 public libraries throughout the nation.

A free flyer on the special activities being planned for Congress's bicentennial is available from The Information Office, Library of Congress, Washington, D.C. 20540.

27TH ANNUAL

Corn and Bratwurst Festival and Sidewalk Sale

Village Square Park in Walworth

Saturday, August 5

11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

PERSONALIZED CARICATURES DRAWN BY FAMOUS
CARTOONIST JOE MARTIN. $20.00 minimum contribution.

The Corn-Brat Festival has continued for years as one of the summer high-points in southern Wisconsin and is held in conjunction with the annual Sidewalk Sale. This sale not only includes the merchants of the Walworth/Fontana area, but features booths sponsored by churches, clubs and other organizations of the area. The village population will triple on that day.

During the day-long celebration, there will be entertainment, a beer tent, drive thru service and, again this year, Teriyaki Sticks will be sold using locally grown Kikkoman products in their preparation. Rotarians will be preparing and serving the traditional roasted ears of corn, grilled bratwurst, a variety of beverages, and ice cream for dessert.
