Campbellsport Infant Drowns

An 8-month-old Campbellsport infant died Friday when he drowned in a tub at his home, according to Fond du Lac County authorities.

Christopher Rochwite, son of Mark and Holly Rochwite of 646 Elmore Drive, was pronounced dead at 4:15 p.m. Friday at St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac Coroner Susan Casper said.

According to Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Lt. Fred Mathwig, Holly Rochwite was giving their dog a bath about 3 p.m. Friday, when she took the dog out of a tub, left the room, and Christopher crawled in and drowned.

Casper said the death was accidental and that the infant drowned in a shallow basin-tub, which was not a typical bathtub.

The sheriff's department continued its investigation on Saturday.

Campbellsport ambulance transported the infant to St. Agnes and was met en route by Fond du Lac paramedics.

Megabucks Sales Figures Announced

MADISON...Sales for the new MEGABUCKS lotto game continue to exceed lottery projections, according to Wisconsin Lottery Executive Director William F. Flynn, Jr.

"We had expected to sell $70.5 million in MEGABUCKS tickets during our first twelve months, which is about $1.3 million per week.

"So far, we are selling over $2.9 million per week," Flynn

Washington County has sold $55,215 worth of Megabucks tickets, with the leading retailer being Prescott's on South Main in West Bend. They had $4,872 in Megabucks retail sales.

Flynn noted the game has yet to see a big winner, which would put the jackpot for the following drawing at $2 million.

"We have been talking to players who matched five of the six numbers drawn, asking them how they selected their numbers.

"Dates, such as birthdays and anniversaries have been very popular methods for those winners, who have each collected more than $1,000," Flynn added.

Some winners have also used combinations of trap and skeet shooting scores, Social Security numbers, etc.

"It seems as though players who choose their own numbers, as opposed to using computer selected Quick Pick numbers have more fun waiting to see if their 'system' was successful," Flynn remarked.

"Players also seem to think that because our playslip has three sets of boards, that $3 is all they may play," Flynn stated.

"Players are welcome to use multiple playslips, if they wish to choose more than three sets of numbers," Flynn explained. INSTANT TICKETS

STILL POPULAR:

The Lottery's "Double Feature" instant scratch game sales have continued to hold its own, despite the publicity and excitement that has been generated by the MEGA-BUCKS game.

"We are still selling about $3 million per week, which maintains the rate established before MEGABUCKS went on sale," Flynn said.

"What people may have forgotten is that there is a significant amount of money to be won with the "Double Feature" game.

"The top instant prize is $10,000, and we still have a number of those winning tickets still out waiting to be found.

"The MONEY GAME weekly television show also has a current jackpot of $110,000 going into the Saturday, August 26 show. If a player wins the $50,000 prize in the Bonus Round at the end of the show, we will also add $60,000 from the cash box for a $110,000 top prize, which I think is really exciting," Flynn noted.

NEW STATIONS ADDED TO MEGABUCKS RADIO NETWORK:

Radio stations in Reedsburg and West Bend have joined the network that carries the MEGABUCKS drawings live at 9:59 p.m. every Wednesday and Saturday.

WRDB, 1400 AM in Reedsburg and WBKV 1470 AM in West Bend now carry the drawings, expanding the network to 43 stations in 24

On Sunday, July 2nd, about 220 members of the Schoofs family gathered together at Kiwanis Community Park in Kewaskum.

The occasion was to celebrate 130 years since Henry and Marie (Opgenorth) Schoofs and their four sons immigrated from the Rhine Province, Prussia, and settled on a hundred acre farm about 11/2 miles northwest of Kewaskum. Today that farm all. is still in the family, owned by a great-grandson.

The day began with a mass in the park, celebrated by Fr. Allan Weinert and concelebrated by Abbot Robert Schoofs, O.S.B. of the St. Benidict Abby, Benet Lake, WI. He is also a great-grandson.

After mass, a catered meal was enjoyed by all. The afternoon was filled with card playing, visiting,

Red Cross Campaign Helps Parents Help Their Children

The Red Cross has launched a national campaign to help parents prevent the thousands of choking, suffocation, and drowning, similar accidental deaths that take the lives of infants and young children every year. The American Red Cross Infant and CPR Campaign encourages parents to make prevention a habit and, if necessary, to become rescuers of their own children.

Choking and suffocation emergencies are the leading cause of accidental death in infants less than one year old, according to a recent study by the Injury Prevention Center at Johns Hopkins University.

The campaign focuses on injury prevention and the need to know first aid for choking, rescue breathing (mouth-tomouth), CPR, what to do in an emergency, and how to use a community's emergency medical services system.

The campaign stresses what every parent already knows: Babies aren't small adults.

"While most people have heard about the abdominal thrusts used to help a choking adult, many parents are unaware that you don't use the same technique on a choking infant," says Jackie Wicklund of the West Bend Chapter of the American Red Cross. "First aid techniques for infants are different from those used with adults because of their different body sizes."

Unlike adults, infants and children typically do not suffer cardiac arrests brought about by an unhealthy lifestyle. A child's heart will stop beating,

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of our RON SARAUER, who passed away one year ago, Sept. 1, 1988:

God stood that morn beside your bed

These are the words He must have said:

"You have suffered more than you can stand. Come with Me - just take My hand." It broke our hearts to lose you,

But you did not go alone, For part of us went with you, The day God called you home.

Loved and remembered by his family.

Needs Volunteers

Originally organized as a service group, the Auxiliary also has a number of fundraising projects (Magic Marketplace, the Auxiliary Ball, the Christmas Love-Light Tree, etc.) However, our main endeavor is in In-service work in the hospital. Our Volunteeer Service Hours from 1964 through 1988 total 221,112!

Volunteers staff the front information desk, aid in physical therapy, out-patient departments, x-ray, central supply, floor duty under staff direction, deliver mail and flowers, assist in discharging patients, act as tour guides, and perform other functions where

The Auxiliary also operates a hospital gift shop - The wellwisher. This shop has a variety of gifts and fresh flowers, and also makes available a gift cart for inpatients. The Auxiliary has also instituted some new activities in the last year or so, for which Volunteers are greatly needed, on a continuing basis. They include: Celebration Dinners for new parents, a weekly Bingo Game for inpatients, and the Infant Car Seat Program (originated by The West Bend Junior Women's Club).

In 1985 our membership to male volunteers was opened! We welcome anyone wishing to donate volunteer time to In-service work and/or fund raising.

Please call the Volunteer Coordinator at 334-5960 for further information becoming a hospital volunteer.

We need you!

(...and don't forget Magic Marketplace Autumn Leaves Fall Festival, Silverbrook Middle School, October 1, 1989 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.)

THANK YOU

Thanks to St. Jude and Holy Spirit for favors granted.

This 1930 Ford Deluxe Roadster owned by Morry Weber of Hartford, took first place in its class.

The car lot of Schwartzburg Chevrolet-Oldsmobile of West Bend, was the site of the Kettle Moraine Klassic Kar Klub's 15th Annual car show last Sunday.

Hundred of visitors to the show, sponsored by Schwartzburg and the car club, had a chance to cast their ballots for their favorite auto.

Hundreds of visitors to the show, sponsored by Schwartzburg and the car club, had a chance to cast their ballots for their favorite auto. Trophies were awarded in seven classes, with trophies also going to the "Best of Show" and "Peoples"

Choice" vehicles.

Fred Olsen of Germantown, took Best of Show with his red and white 1957 Chevrolet Convertible. As one individual commented after looking over Olsen's car, "it looks better than brand new."

Two antique autos which drew a lot of attention were a 1923 Ford Depot Hack owned and shown by Bud and Marge Armstrong of Grafton and a 1930 Ford Deluxe Roadster owned by Morry Weber of Hartford. Weber took the first place trophy for his class with that entry.

Over 150 antique and classic cars were on display during the one-day show.

A 1923 Ford Depot Hack, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bud Armstrong of Grafton drew quite a bit of interest at Sunday's Kettle Moraine Klassic Kar show.

A rarity among cars is this 1957 Ford retractable hardtop convertible. The metal roof actually folds up and retracts to store in the car's trunk.

While the Homeowners Away... The Neighbors Will Play!

Joe and Ann Enright came home from their trip to Germany Tuesday evening to find a new building on their property. Courtesy of their "friends and neighbors??" the Enrights found the "new" shed Joe has been pining for. We also heard Joe may have ruffled international relations a little. It seems he was nabbed for not wearing his seat belt.

It seems that there was a very pious but somewhat shorttempered old lady. She was very much put out when she was not invited to a picnic given by some of the neighbors. They relented and invited her at the last moment.

"No, thank you. It is too late now. I have already prayed for rain."

Willard Bartelt, 21, of this village was critically injured and Kilian Honeck, Jr. 20, suffered lesser injuries in a collision between two automobiles at West Bend early last Sunday morning, Aug. 27. Honeck, driver of one car, was traveling east on the Decorah Road into the city. His car collided with one being driven by Louis Koller of West Bend who was going west on the same road. Officers Wilbur Juech and Roland Weber, who investigated the accident, say that Honeck apparently intended to turn north into Sixth Sixth Avenue. There was heavy fog at the time and it is thought that because of the impaired vision Honeck changed his mind and decided to stay on the road ahead, at that time the Koller car came along at the intersection. Honeck applied the brakes but the two autos collided with terrific impact. Bartelt a passenger in the Honeck vehicle sustained a skull fracture and other lesser injuries amounting to cuts and bruises.

21 EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLO

State's War on Drugs Gaining Momentum New County Ordinance

by Governor Tommy Thompson

MADISON - Perhaps the most memorable event of my recent seven-day trip to northeastern Wisconsin occurred on the floor of the Phoenix sports center, at the University of Wisconsin - Green

It was there, at coach Dick Bennett's summer basketball camp, that nearly 200 boys were presented with one of the most dramatic, and important messages of their young lives.

The message wasn't mine. It came from one of UW-Green Bay's outstanding varsity basketball players. Raising an ordinary kitchen skillet and an egg high above his head, the varsity player re-enacted a familiar TV commercial: "This is drugs. This is your brains on drugs. Any questions?"

Placing the props on the floor, he then picked up a basketball and advanced toward the basket while shouting, "three, two, one... VICTORY! Upon sinking an impressive shot, he returned to center court and picked up a beer bottle and began to re-enact another popular TV theme.

"My generation has failed to listen to the right message," he told the boys, "and now we're paying the price. We can't have that happen to you. Make the right choice. Say no to drugs and alcohol. Say yes to life!'

Today in Wisconsin - and across America - we are engaged in battle. We have declared war on what may be the greatest enemy in the history of Western civilizationdrug and alcohol abuse.

Those who claim that drug and alcohol abuse is a victimless crime are very wrong. We are all victims. Drug abuse robs adults, children and families of their futures, their dreams, their hopes, and their lives. It causes our citizens to fail in school, to lose their jobs, to commit crimes, to neglect their families and to die prematurely.

The costs associated with abuse are staggering - both financially and socially.

Every year, drug and alcohol abuse costs the state three times the amount we spend on educating every child in the public school system.

- There is a direct link between drug abuse and violent Approximately percent of sexual assault and 60 percent of murder in the state are related to drugs in some

The potential for destruction will continue unless we work together to successfully turn the tide of abuse. Turning the tide will require a unified and coordinated effort from all segments of society.

I am confident that our new state budget (signed into law on Aug. 3), along with the recently formed Alliance for a Drug Free Wisconsin, provides us with important tools to meet the challenge.

By 1991, the state will be spending $81.9 million each year on alcohol and other abuse programs.

This substantial financial commitment calls for an equally substantial commitment to "coordination" efforts. State and local agencies must work together to wisely allocate the funds.

In November, I joined forces with Attornéy General Don Hanaway, Superintendent of Public Instruction Bert Grover to create the Alliance for a Wisconsin. The Drug-Free Alliance reflects the commitment and cooperation at the highest level of state government to fight the war on drugs.

Under the capable leadership of Alliance Coordinator Donna Bestor, the Alliance is working to stop drug abuse before it begins. The Alliance is the primary vehicles for promoting coordination of education, enforcement, and prevention efforts at both the local and state levels.

The budget allocates $500,000 for community prevention pilot projects. This will provide an important link to the Alliance.

Donna Bestor is currently working with communities to form local alliances. She can be contacted at 608/266-9923 to help your community begin a grassroots effort in fighting drug abuse.

If we are going to keep drugs out of the hands of our children, we must get tough on the pushers who hang around schools and playgrounds peddling their poison.

I signed a budget provision designating schools, school yards, buses, youth centers, communty centers and public swimming pools and 1,000 feet around them as "drug-free zones." Any one caught and convicted of selling drugs in a drug-free zone will go to jail; no probation and no parole until those people have served at the very least, a mandatory minimum sentence.

Additionally, anyone convicted of possessing a controlled substance in a drug free zone will be ordered to give up their drivers' license for at least six months and perform community service.

This initiative goes right to the source of the problem - the people who bring illegal drugs into our schools. It proves that we are serious about keeping drugs out of our schools and away from our children.

As your Governor and, perhaps more importantly, as a parent, I am committed to leading the charge in this war. To underscore my personal commitment and involvement, I became only the second Governor to serve as chairman of the state council on Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse.

Wisconsin has made a significant and permanent commitment to fighting drug abuse. But, the war won't be won without the active participation of citizens. Effectively dealing with drug and alcohol abuse demands that everyone be involved.

Please, become personally and actively involved in your community's efforts. Our future, and the quality of life that our children will enjoy tomorrow, depends greatly on the progress we make today.

Regulates Security Alarms

In an effort to reduce false alarms, and the accompanying problems they create for both the sheriff's department and residents and business people, the Washington County Board recently passed new ordinances which regulate security and fire alarms. The ordinance applies to any such alarm which, if activated, would result in a response by the sheriff's department.

Included in the ordinance are panel alarms, which activate an alarm at the sheriff's department in West Bend; automatic dialers that call a special phone number at the department and play a prerecorded announcement; alarms which notify a central station, which in turn calls the department; and local alarms, which merely sound a siren or horn and which results in someone calling the department to report a possible problem.

The ordinance requires that all alarms be registered with the sheriff's department. There are penalties for failing to do so, and for exceeding a maximum number of permitted false alarms in a year.

More information on the ordinance's requirements, and registration forms, can be obtained by contacting: Sgt. J. Washington Martin, Tom County Sheriff's Department, P.O. Box 1986, West Bend, Wisconsin 53095. Ph. 338-4378.

Only those alarms which require a response from the sheriff's department need to be registered. Sheriff's deputies who respond to alarms will check to see that the alarm is registered.

Harvesting Alfalfa in Fall Does Make a Difference

The late spring has delayed harvest schedules on most farms and raised questions about fall harvest management. The standard recommendation has been to take the cutting before September 1 or after October 16. This recommendation was based on the theory that a final cutting before September 1 allowed enough time for alfalfa to grow through a cycle of use and replenishment of root reserves while cutting after October 16 allowed no growth or use of root reserves. Either situation meant that alfalfa roots went into the winter with a high level of carbohydrate reserves. Root reserves are important for winter survival and for regrowth in the spring.

New research has shown that, increased cutting frequency, fall cutting may reduce stand life and first cutting yield the following season. Research of Dr. Rich Walgenbach at the Dairy-Forage Research Center shows that late fall cuttings reduce the yield of the first harvest the following year.

Perhaps more important, these studies and others have also noted an increased level of root discoloration when forage is cut after September 1. Root discoloration is associated with disease and shortened stand life. This means that fall cuttings would be expected to shorten stand life.

How greatly fall cutting affects stand life and first cutting yield of alfalfa depends on several factors:

1. Weather - conditions that allow good winter hardening and good snow cover without temperature extremes will reduce the effect of fall harvest. Unusually warm temperatures, possible with some loss of dormancy, or unusually cold temperatures will increase winter kill after late fall harvest.

2. Alfalfa Variety - greater winter hardiness will increase winter survival when there is a lack of snow cover as we saw last winter. It may also increase winter survival when fall cuttings are taken.

3. Soil Fertility - high levels of soil fertility (especially potassium) have been shown to increase winter survival. This is true under normal conditions and also when stress occurs. High soil fertility would be expected to reduce the harmful effects of fall harvest.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Generally: Do not cut alfalfa after September 1 unless forage is needed. Consider that late fall cuttings will reduce stand life and yield the following spring unless winter weather conditions are favorable. If taken remember that stand yield and persistence will be hurt less if soil fertility is high, the variety is winterhardy, and the stand is 1 or 2 years old.

For 1989: Most of this area has had good weather during the growing season but cuttings are running late because of the late spring and rain. If alfalfa was harvested during the first week of August or earlier, cut during the first week of September. This is later than we would like to see but better than the alternatives of losing the hay, harvesting between September 7 and October 16, or harvesting poor quality hay after October 16.

For fields cut mid to late August the question will be whether or not to take a late fall cutting. If rain results in good growth and the forage is needed harvest it and hope for good winter.

Cougars Cage Indians, Then Throw Away the Key, 30-0

To say KHS Varsity Head Coach Clark Pearson had to be disappointed with his young Indians Friday evening has to be an understatement. The Indians, who had previously defeated the Campbellsport Cougars twice, were hungry to make it three, but not hungry enough, for they were shut out 30-0 in the non-conference season opener.

The Cougars were the first ones on the scoreboard only 59 seconds after the kickoff. They gained 51 yards in only three plays, one of which was a 26 yard pass by quarterback Troy Schill to Kevin O'Brien. This was but one of the many exchanges between this Campbellsport "dynamic duo."

Schill also put points on the board with aerials to Tim King, another to O'Brien and the scoring finale was tossed to Don Baumhardt.

The Indians had a difficult time of it this game, and were minus a first down the entire first quarter. Their highlight of the evening came in the third quarter via a 38 yard gain accomplished when quarterback Brian Leitheiser passed to Kim Marx, who took it down the left sideline to the Cougars 21 yard line. The scoring drive was halted when on the next play the ball was knocked out of Dave Kuphal's hands and was recovered by the Cougars.

Leitheiser completed almost 33% of his passes, gaining 117 yards in the air. The Indians offensive line showed a weakness by allowing opposing linemen five shots at quarterback Leitheiser for a total loss of 47 yards.

Luckily, this was a nonconference game. These games give coaches the opportunity to analyze players, shore up their weaknesses, capitalize on their strengths and practice, practice, practice.

The next game is Friday, Sept. 1 at Horicon. Time to forget the Cougars and concentrate on showing the Marshmen some Indian power!

Dettmann, Donath Spark Athletics 7-1 Win in Lakes Team Finale

By Bob Pick II

WEST BEND Dettmann contributed a two-run single in the bottom of the first and Dave Donath added a tworun single in the bottom of the eighth, lifting the Kewaskum Athletics to a 7-1 victory over the West Bend Benders in the Land O'Lakes final game for both teams this summer.

Dennis Aupperle allowed one run on six hits pitching the complete game and prevented the Benders from getting a win in Lakes this season.

With one away in the first, Andy Hoenecke singled to rightcenter, Terry Koth walked. The runners advanced to second and third on a double steal. Dave Donath grounded to short and Hoenecke was tagged out between third and home. Dettmann's single drove in Koth and Donath.

In the fifth the Athletics sent eight batters to the plate resulting in three more runs and a 5-0 advantage. Noel Stollenwerk began the rally with a double down the right field line. Ric Leitheiser was hit by a pitched ball. Mark Schlosser's single to left drove home Stollenwerk and moved Leitheiser to third. Hoenecke hit a sacrifice fly to center to bring home Leitheiser, and move Schlosser to third. Koth drove in Schlosser with a single to right.

The Benders scored their only run of the contest in the sixth thanks to a lead-off triple by father-to-be Andy Klein followed by a single to left by Todd Adornato. The Benders were able to get a least one man aboard in every inning except one, but just couldn't come up with the clutch hit after that to make things happen. This problem plaqued the Benders often throughout the season.

The Athletics final two runs of the game and the season crossed the plate in eighth. Bob Yahr walked. After two strikeouts. Hoenecke singled up the middle and Koth walked. With the bases loaded, Donath singled in the infield and Yahr and Hoenecke were able to score.

The Athletics end with a 9-9 record in Lakes and 13-15 overall. The Benders were 0-18 in Lakes and 4-26 in all their games.

The awards banquet for the Tri-County Nite League and Land O' Lakes is all that remains of the season for the Athletics and Benders. Those will be held in Beaver Dam and Plymouth during the month of October.

The Athletics would like to thank the fans for their support this season. See you next summer.
