Board Okays Construction Of Dechlorination Building

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Village Board has given its approval for the construction of a dechlorination/chlorination building to house chemicals and equipment for the Water Pollution Control Department's treatment and testing operations.

Superintendent Pete Albers asked for, and received permission to go ahead with the 16 x 22 foot block and spancrete building, which is expected to cost about $30,000, on a 'time and material' basis, with most of the construction being done by village employees. Albers told the trustees after checking out the cost factors it was decided that was the route to go rather than bidding out the job. The village will save money on engineering, materials and labor costs.

Albers advised the board that the building was a requirement to meet the DNR's spring deadline for a dechlorination system. Several trustees told Albers they did not understand the dechlorination / chlorination operation. We're presently required to chlorinate our wastewater to remove fecal bacteria before we return it to the river, he noted. By spring we will be required to also dechlorinate (remove the chlorine) from the water before we return it to the river because it is harmful to the fish. Another requirement is that each chemical used must be stored in a separate room.

In other non-action discussion Public Works Superintendent Augie Bilgo advised the board that the first phase of the village's sidewalk repair program should be completed this week, including the landscaping. Bilgo said there had been a couple of very minor problems but on the whole, the company had done an excellent job. We've received a lot of good comments on their work, he noted.

Public Services Committee Chairman Larry Williams informed the board he had met with the Lions Club and they have agreed to continue their monthly paper drive. As discussed by the board, the village will pay the club $65 a month for the pickup. As everyone knows, said Williams, there's just no market for paper right now and everyone is paying to have it taken off their hands.

Kewaskum Library Board representative Ken Bonlender advised the board that one of the assistant librarians has resigned. He asked for permission to advertise for a replacement. The request was unanimously approved.

Trustee Vince Groh, Protection and Public Safety Committee Chairman, told fellow board members he would be meeting with representatives of the Kewaskum Police Department for the purpose of working on the Neighborhood Watch program.

While there was nothing from the parks Committee, Bilgo asked if anyone was following up on the construction completion of the new concession stand at the Kiwanis Park. Chairman Tom McElhatton said he was working on it but as yet, could not find anyone to finish the last items. Bilgo also noted that the interior of the building had not been completely cleaned up after the last ball tournament. There are about 20 empty kegs in there and the cooler is still running, he noted. McElhatton said he would follow up on that also.

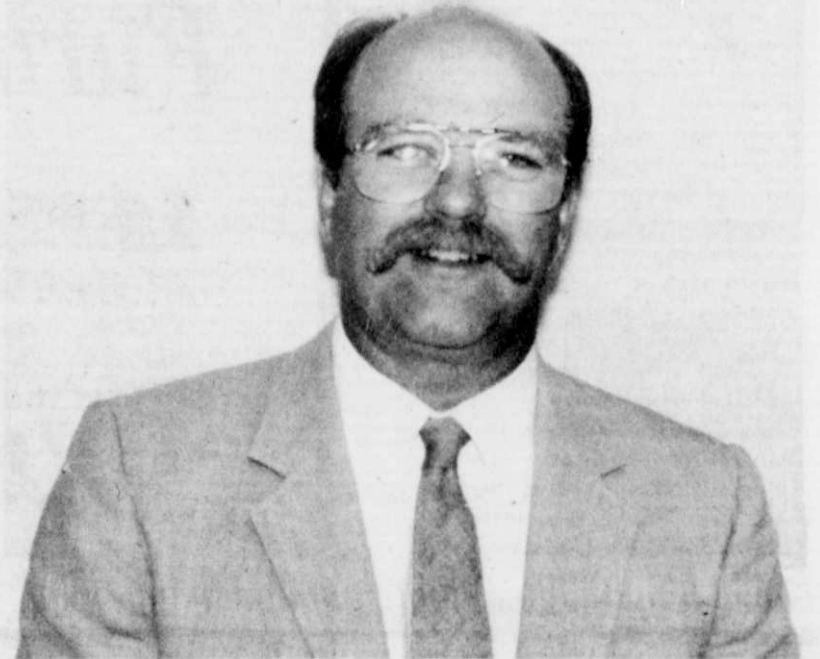

McElhatton noted there were a few problems to be ironed out. The first year was a learning experience for everyone involved. There are going to be some rules and changes made for the stand's operation next year, noted McElhatton.

Fire Chief Donald Ehnert reminded the board that budget time is rapidly approaching. One of the items he will be pushing for is replacement of all the department's air tank apparatus.

Ehnert noted such a replacement would represent a fairly sizeable figure in his budget but he felt strongly that getting all the equipment uniform would greatly increase the safety for the firefighters. "Thirty years ago we only had one or two multi-family structures, now we've got 24, 47, etc., large buildings which can produce toxic fumes." Firefighting is becoming more complicated and we're dealing with more people, he noted.

In final business the board approved Resolution 89-18 which retains the village's present system of billing for fire and hydrant rental services.

KMS Principal Stephen King Submitting Resignation

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Kewaskum's Middle School principal Steve King confirmed Monday morning that he will be resigning to accept a position with the Wauwatosa School District. "It's not really official yet," said King, "I have not formally submitted my letter of resignation, although I do have it prepared."

King said he was one of about 55 candidates being considered for the post of principal at one of Wauwatosa's two middle schools, Longfellow, located on 76th Street and North Avenue.

The Kewaskum School Board was aware of the situation, however, no action was taken at its meeting last Monday night since the Wauwatosa School Board was also meeting that same night to make a decision on the final candidate, noted King. "I was informed last Tuesday morning that I had been selected and I met with the Wauwatosa School Superintendent late last Wednesday afternoon." King said he was told the contract had been signed but that he had not actually seen it yet.

King said the position became vacant as the result of a shift in Wauwatosa's administrative personnel in August when one of its staff left to accept a position with the Slinger School District.

Longfellow has a student population of 838 students, more than double KMS. King noted he will also have an assistant principal to aid in the operation of the school. Wauwatosa is a large school district with an enrollment of 7,000 students which includes two middle and two high schools.

King, who came to the Kewaskum School District in 1988, from the West Bend School District, said the new position would provide both career advancement and new challenges. He said his resignation, which becomes effective October 2, will be presented to the Kewaskum School Board at a special meeting following a school board workshop on Monday, September 25th.

The district will begin an immediate search for King's replacement, with an individual in place hopefully by November. In the meantime, the district will be looking for an interim principal to fill the position.

Beautiful Weather Contributes to Turkey Shoot's Success

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Although attendance was down slightly for the Kewaskum Kiwanis annual turkey shoot Sunday, the event, including the weather, was an overall success.

Kiwanis member Chuck Wilgenbusch said an unofficial count showed 340 turkeys were won by sharpshooters in the various events, down approximately 90 birds from last year. We feel things went very well considering the earlier uncertainty as to whether there would be a turkey shoot at all. Wilgenbusch thought part of the drop in attendance was due to the fact that the club had to make some fast arrangements and plan a whole new setup for the event. First we announced that the shoot was cancelled, then we announced it was on again. That delayed getting our advertising and flyers out as early as we have in the past. All in all things went well.

The setup at the new site on the New Fane Sportsmen Club grounds was well organized though, with room for the duck, cork gun, sausage, dart, trapshoot and rifle lines as well as areas for the compound bow and bow and arrow enthusiasts. There was also room to enjoy a brat or hamburger along with something cool to drink.

People trying their luck at the Trout Pond, which was set up atop the club's hill, got not only some good fishing in, but an excellent view of the surrounding Kettle Moraine countryside.

Kiwanis member LeRoy Kopecky said action at the pond was excellent. A 14 1/4"-inch Trout caught by Aaron Hoffer of Waukesha, turned out to be the winning catch of the day.

The Kiwanians thank all those who came out and helped make the day a success. Funds from the event are used to support local groups, activities and projects throughout the year.

Homecoming... 1964 and 25 Years Later...

The weekend of October 16 was the time set for the '64 Homecoming activities. Following the annual parade was a terrific bonfire and pep rally. Friday night staged the unfortunate defeat of the Indians by the Random Lake Rams, 26-0. Music for the dance was provided by the Rivas. The gym was decorated to accent the theme of "Indian Summer Victory," with a large teepee, cornstalks, pumpkins and hay.

Children of 1964 Homecoming King and Queen on 1989 Court

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

In 1964, Carol Volm and Ken Ramthun were Kewaskum High School students dating each other, having fun and participating in school activities. When football season arrived the popular couple was chosen to be on the homecoming court and then selected as king and queen.

After high school Carol and Ken remained sweethearts. Ken went on to school in Madison, enrolled in the University of Wisconsin's Farm Short Course. Carol went to Milwaukee to study cosmetology.

In 1968, Ken and Carol were married with Ken following through on his ambition to be a farmer. Eventually Ken and Carol's family started to grow as little Ramthuns began arriving.

This week, exactly 25 years after Ken and Carol were part of their homecoming court, the couple's two eldest children, Mike and Chris, both seniors at Kewaskum High School, will be a part of their 1989 homecoming court.

Chris, 16, representing the Cheerleading Squad, will be escorted by Steve Gerhartz, and Mike, 17, will be the escort of Laurice Thull, representative for the Tennis Team.

The story of high school and college sweethearts marrying is not new or unusual but more than likely after marriage, a couple, usually because of career demands or advancement, leaves the area where they were born and raised. The Ramthuns are the exception to the rule, not only have they continued to live and work in the same community, they have raised a family which is attending the very same schools to which they went.

While Chris and Mike may not think it is anything special, Carol can hardly wait for the chance to see the two of them on the court and part of Kewaskum's homecoming activities, as she and Ken were 25 years ago.

According to folklore, you can expect rain if an ant covers the hole to his anthill.

Member Glenn Asch Will Perform With Milwaukee Symphony at West Bend Benefit

The 20th anniversary appearances of The Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra in West Bend will be held Sunday evening, October 22 for the general public and Wednesday morning, January 10, for students in the high schools' auditorium. Both concerts are for the benefit of the West Bend Community and Alumni Scholarship Foundation (W/B COLUMNS). The concert October 22 will feature two local members of the orchestra:

Symphonic Valley Concert Dinner and Tree Lighting

The Cedar Valley Retreat Center, Town of Wayne, is planning an exceptional evening for the community on Wednesday, October 25th.

A 5:30 p.m. variety concert will be presented, featuring Mozart, Beethoven and a bit of ragtime. Glenn Asch, violinist with the Milwaukee Symphony; his wife, Laurie, violinist with the Milwaukee Music Under the Stars orchestra; viola, Ruth Wilson, retired music professor of U.W.M. and cellist, Julie Slightom, who is also a German teacher at M.P.S. will make up the exciting string quartet. Their music will both inspire and entertain. The musicians plan to dine with the audience following the concert at a delicious 6:30 p.m. leisurely six course dinner.

During the dinner, the Cedar Valley Blue-Heron pond premier lighting of the newly installed enchanted first sculptored trees will occur.

The public is cordially invited to make reservations for this special event. Reservations are limited to the first one hundred fifty persons calling Cedar Lake Home, 334-9487. The concert/dinner is $10 per person and the proceeds will be used toward the Cedar Lake Home Campus new auditorium/chapel.

Richard Metzger, principal trumpet, and Glenn Asch, violinist. Metzger is a graduate of West Bend High School and Asch is a graduate of Kewaskum High School. Associate Conductor Harvey Felder will be on the podium.

The two concerts by the nationally acclaimed Milwaukee Symphony are being sponsored by B. C. Ziegler and Company, the local investment firm who brought the Symphony to West Bend in 1970 for two free concerts to celebrate the opening of the then newly completed East and West High Schools and their joint auditorium. Ziegler again sponsored the Symphony concerts in 1971 as benefit concerts with proceeds from ticket sales going to W/B COLUMNS. Since then various West Bend firms and foundations have sponsored the Symphony for the benefit of W/B COLUMNS, with Ziegler sponsoring the orchestra's appearance four times.

In announcing this year's concert dates, Mrs. Laurie Kirsch, president of W/B COLUMNS, commented, "Our community can be proud of its business leaders for their forward thinking in providing W/B COLUMNS college scholarships for our youth while, at the same time, giving our citizens the opportunity to hear one of America's best symphony orchestras at a reasonable price. I particularly want to compliment B. C. Ziegler and Company for first bringing the Milwaukee Symphony to West Bend twenty years ago, and for initiating the business sponsorship of these annual concerts. We are looking forward to the appearance of our two local members of the orchestra as soloists with the symphony on October 22."

Influenza, Pneumonia Vaccine Available to County Residents

Influenza vaccine and pneumonia vaccine will be available to Washington County residents 65 years of age and older, and those with chronic disease, at clinics offered by Washington County Community Health Nursing Service. The charge for vaccine will be: Influenza vaccine, $4.00 per dose; Pneumonia vaccine, $9.00 per dose.

WHAT IS INFLUENZA ["FLU"]? It is an illness caused by influenza viruses. It generally affects people of all ages. Typically, people with influenza have fever, chills, headache, cough, and muscle aches and may be sick for several days to a week or so. Most people recover fully. A small proportion of cases are particularly severe, and patients may develop pneumonia or other complications. The risk of complications and death from influenza is highest for people with chronic health problems and those over 65 years of age.

WHO SHOULD GET INFLUENZA VACCINE? 1) Individuals over 13 years of age with chronic health problems such as diabetes, diseases of the heart, lungs, or kidneys, or severe anemia. 2) Elderly persons 65 years and over and 3) Individuals who provide care to high-risk persons.

Influenza vaccine will not be given to:

- Those who have a fever or feel ill with something more serious than a cold on the day of clinic.
- Those who have received another type of vaccine in the past 14 days.
- Those with allergies to eggs.
- Those with multiple sclerosis or other recurring or persistent neurological illnesses.
- Those who are pregnant.
- Children under 13 years of age.

WHAT IS PNEUMONIA? It is an acute bacterial or viral illness affecting 400,000 to 500,000 persons per year. Pneumococcal infections cause respiratory symptoms, meningitis, and otitis media. The risk of complications is greatest for persons over 65 years of age and those with chronic health problems.

WHO SHOULD GET PNEUMONIA VACCINE? 1) Elderly persons 65 years and over. 2) Persons, two years and older, with immune deficiencies. Children, from 2 years through 17 years, will need a written order from their physician to receive the vaccine. 3) Persons with chronic health problems such as diabetes, chronic respiratory disease, or cardio-respiratory disease.

WHO SHOULD NOT GET VACCINE? 1) Those who have a fever, illness, or active infection on the day of clinic. 2) Those who have had a pneumonia vaccine; repeat immunizations of pneumonia vaccine are not recommended. 4) Those who are pregnant.

Pneumonia vaccine and influenza vaccine can be administered on the same visit to a clinic.

Those attending clinic will be required to complete a consent form prior to immunization. Registered nurses will be available to answer questions regarding the immunization.

If you have any questions about influenza or pneumonia, please call the Community Health Nursing Service, 338-4462, 644-5204, or 342-2929.

Weekly Health Tip

From Tom Kennelly

TOOTH SEALANT

Dental sealants are thin plastic films, painted on the chewing surfaces of large flat molars, premolars, and bicuspids. The film, which can last for 10 years or more, prevents decay along the irregular surfaces, pits and fissures of these teeth, where food particles and bacteria lodge. Dental health experts are again alerting parents about effective but underused plastic sealants to protect children's permanent teeth against decay.

Turkey Shoot

A perennial favorite among area marksmen is the trapshoot. The New Fane Sportsman's Club provided the perfect setting for shooters and spectators alike.

A gentleman showed his shooting style at the new dart game manned by Tom Kennelly. Break the correct balloon and you win yourself a turkey!

The Ripple family of West Bend said they always enjoy the Turkey Shoot. With the luck Jenni Ripple-Mironas, center, of Chicago and her sister Tanya Ripple of West Bend had at the Trout Pond and the pans Mom bought at the Regal Ware sale, they had the winning combination for an excellent homemade fish fry! Jenni's 14 inch fish was the biggest catch until it was beat out by a 14 1/4 inch trout caught by Aaron Hoffer of Waukesha, later in the day.

Apology to Aggie And Elmer Kittel

The Kewaskum Kiwanis would like to clarify a portion of its article on the history of the turkey shoot which ran in last week's paper.

In the paragraph where we extended our thanks and appreciation to several people and groups, we may have unintentionally inferred that Aggie and Elmer Kittel of the Bar-N-Ranch Tavern are no longer in business. That was not our intention and if it was taken that way we are sorry. The Kittels and the Bar-N-Ranch are definitely still in business and we still thank them for all the help they have given the Kiwanis over the years.

An expanded and remodeled library will reopen to the public at West Bend on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 24, at the University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County.

The library has been closed since May for renovation as part of the $2.1 million expansion project now underway at UWWC.

Fall semester weekly library hours are 12:30 to 4:30 p.m., Sundays; 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., Mondays through Thursdays; and 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., Fridays. The library is closed on Saturdays.

During the 1988-89 academic year, about 550 non-student residents of Washington County used the library. No charge is made of public use of the library, but a show of identification is required when registering. For further information, call 338-5206.

The major impact of the remodeling is a large increase in library space. When UWWC opened in the fall of 1968, the entire library building had been planned to serve as a learning resources center. However, enrollments were much higher

Barton Days Saturday

The Barton Business Association is pleased to announce BARTON DAYS, Saturday, Sept. 23. An olde time party is again being planned. Over 7,000 enjoyed last year's Street re-opening party. This year's event will consist of village wide rummage sales, antique & collectible flea markets on Saturday from 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. Admission is FREE. River Drive will be closed on Saturday for the Flea Market.

Barton area residents are encouraged to have a rummage sale at their homes that day and the BBA will help promote the sale with free rummage sale signs available at Olde Opera House Antiques, 1749 Barton Ave., West Bend.

Some of the olde time scheduled events include: free horse and buggy rides compliments of Bank One West Bend, a pig roast, live music (from noon till 8 p.m.) by Pappy, Don Allen, Revival & the Mountaineers by Pizza Joe's and The DDDDD's parking lots. Also, live music by Art Minz & a Flea Market at Half Mile Fair Antique Mall. At the Olde Opera House Antiques a player piano will be playing olde time music that you request.

Several new businesses have opened on Barton Ave. since last year's 1.2 million dollar street improvement: UnderCar transmission and Drive Train Service, Oak Wood Family Dining at Pizza Joe's, Olde Opera House Antiques, Village Pets, Four Seasons Ceramics, Wisconsin House Woodworks and Wisconsin House Antiques. The Village Square is having an OPEN HOUSE, tour the newly remodeled retail/office building. Still under renovation for retail & office space, is the Gadow Mill, an Historical building located by the dam on the Milwaukee River.

than expected and part of the building was converted to classroom use.

Classrooms and a computer lab are being relocated in a major addition linking the library and union buildings and scheduled for opening in January.

Association Librarian Nancy Bigler of West Bend said, Changes were made to increase efficiency and provide better services to students. Everything was planned with student uses in mind."

Along with a more spacious arrangement of shelving for books and periodicals, new student study rooms have been created. The former entry area has been converted to a room for record playing, microfilm use and typing. A student audio-visual study room is now available. Staff work areas and storage spaces have been relocated and expanded.

A new ceiling is in place and many areas have new overhead lighting in areas of high use such as the reference and periodical sections. New carpeting has been installed.

Bigler said library users should find the library "visually more appealing, open and spacious." She said the windows provide views of the outdoors from almost any spot in the building.

Library changes have required a major effort by UWWC library and maintenance and library staff to prepare for construction and to relocate things after its completion. Four hundred pieces of furniture were moved out of the building and relocated in hallways throughout the campus.

Books were packed into 1,500 boxes, each weighing from 40 to 80 pounds. Boxes were moved on pallets to permit construction and carpeting work. Boxes and pallets were donated by Regal Ware of Kewaskum.

A dozen students worked for more than 500 hours to clear the library. Returning materials is equally complex. Head librarian Tom Fitz of West Bend said, "It was easier to move out than it is to move back in."

With the library building closed, library services were relocated to two classrooms.

Construction and carpeting delays kept the library from opening when the fall semester began on Sept. 5. Carpeting arrived on campus a day later.

On Sept. 11, the library opened for limited student use. Fitz said about 60 students came in the first day. "We've had a constant parade of people since," he said.

The general public returns on Sunday, Sept. 24. Bigler said, "With only our two classrooms this summer, we couldn't serve the public very well. So we missed them. We're looking forward to seeing them again."

Asch to Present Australian Slide Show at UWWC

Australia moves on screen Sept. 27 during the second international slide show in the 1989-90 Lecture Series at the University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County in West Bend.

Albert J. Asch, professor of music at UWWC, will speak at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 27, in the campus lecture hall. He will show slides from a month-long visit by he and his wife in 1983. "I will focus on Sidney and its environs," he said.

Asch said many Americans are unaware of the complexities of Australia. He said, "Few people realize the country is the same size as the United States. If you really want to see Australia, you should plan a six-month visit."

Fifty persons attended the opening lecture on China earlier in September, delivered by Gary Britton, professor of mathematics at UWWC. Admission is free. The public is invited.

Asch's slides will be of special interest to his audience. He teaches photography on a regular basis through UW Extension's Continuing Education Program at UWWC. He also serves as advisor to photographers on "Ubiquitous," the weekly student paper at the campus.

Asch came to UWWC in 1968, the year it opened. During his first year at the campus, he founded the Moraine Symphony Orchestra and has directed it ever since. Eleven years ago, he started the Lakeshore Symphonic Band and continues today as its conductor.

He holds a B.M. degree (1954) and M.A. degree (1955) from the University of Kentucky. He was named Teacher of the Year at UWWC by students for three consecutive academic years, beginning in 1970-71, and is one of the recipients of the Rolfs Teaching Award at UWWC.

Prior to coming to UWWC, Asch taught at Wichita State University, the University of Illinois and the University of Louisville. He performs on the oboe and other woodwind instruments and works with the campus theatre pit orchestras and a variety of student instrumental groups.

For further information on the lecture, call UWWC, 338-5233.

The Kettle Moraine... A Horseman's Delight

At the vet checkpoint in the New Prospect Horseriders Camp, an endurance rider's mount was examined for any signs of injury or lameness.

Lanny Medley of Rienzi, Mississippi, held his wife Sondra's horse Willie, as farrier Harold Heinen of Oostburg replaced a shoe lost on the trail. Heinen is well-known to area horseowners. He has been shoeing horses for longer than he cares to remember both for private individuals, horse shows and race tracks throughout the country.

One of the early leaders in the 100-mile endurance ride watched as a veterinarian checked the respiration of her horse at the Hwy. 28 checkpoint. A member of her pit crew gave the horse hay and water during the exam, using every precious second of the 20-minute rest break before heading back onto the trail.

A second group of riders came down the steep, rocky trail into the checkpoint set up in the Hwy. 28 gravel pit parking lot.

For the tenderfoot, there are the trailwise horses of a nearby riding stable to take you through the Scenic Moraine.

Riders at a nearby dude ranch stop to give their horses a drink before heading out on the bridle trail.

The uses of the northern unit of the Kettle Moraine State Forest, which runs from south of Kewaskum to the Greenbush area, are as diversified as the terrain within it. And this past weekend, the Horseriders Camp at New Prospect was the setting for one of several organized events for riding enthusiasts which take place in the park throughout the year.

The Colorama Rides, sponsored by the Plymouth Trail Riders since 1966, are competitive events which challenge the stamina and condition of riders and their horses against a landscape which contains everything from miles of open flat land, to steep hills and woods with twisting, winding trails.

The Colorama Rides, held each September, as well as the Kamaha sponsored by the Kettle Moraine Arabian Horse Association in May and the competition in June, hosted by the Appaloosa horse association APDRA, are not your typical horse against horse races. They are, in fact, called endurance rides because they test the mettle of both horse and rider against the land and the clock. Conditioning and training play a vital part in winning an endurance ride.

This past weekend, over 100 riders participated in the two-day event which included a 50-mile and 100-mile ride on Saturday and a 25-mile ride on Sunday. Competitors came from throughout Wisconsin as well as across the United States, to get up at 5:00 a.m. in 40-degree temperatures, saddle their mounts and head into a grueling day in the saddle.

Men and women began arriving on Friday, driving cars, trucks and campers pulling horse trailers, from Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota and as far away as Kentucky, Mississippi, South Carolina and Texas.

While some riders participate occasionally, most travel each weekend all year long, to rides across the country. It is not a sport for the faint-of-heart. The rides are demanding and they are strictly supervised and controlled. There are several checkpoints along the trails for each ride. There horses are given a 20-minute rest and examined by veterinarians who check respiration, pulse and for any signs of lameness, injury, exhaustion or dehydration. If a horse appears to be in any kind of distress, the animal is pulled from the race. All horses are also vet checked prior to the start of a ride to ensure they are physically fit to compete.

A horse and rider cannot do it alone, each team is supported by a pit crew which meets them at each checkpoint. It is their job to help cool down the horse, provide feed and water to

Piano Classes to Begin at UWWC

WEST BEND — Three adults - only group piano classes for beginners and advanced students get underway here in September and October at the University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County.

The popular new group sessions will be taught in the UWWC electronic piano lab. Cost of the ten-week courses is $65.

The group lessons, taught by veteran piano teacher Judy Mitchell of West Bend, were first introduced last January and filled up almost instantly. Student reactions were "very favorable," Mitchell said.

Two beginners classes are planned: the first, on Saturdays from 10 to 11 a.m., starting Sept. 30 and continuing through Dec. 9; the second, Wednesdays from 8:15 to 9:30 p.m., starting Oct. 4 and continuing through Dec. 13.

The advanced class will meet Wednesdays from 7 to 8:15 p.m., starting Oct. 4 and continuing through Dec. 13. A pre-requisite for the course is one of Mitchell's beginning courses.

Mitchell, who runs her own piano studio in West Bend, has taught group lessons in several college settings. She has her master's degree in music from the University of Wisconsin.

According to Mitchell, some adults who were wary of group lessons discovered they liked them better than the individual approach.

During class evaluations of the course, they explained some of their reasons, including:

- Students get to be with the instructor for an hour or more a week instead of the usual 30 minutes.

- Listening to other students provides a lot more opportunities to hear what is expected.

- Sessions allow more time for practicing the lesson in class.

- Group sessions permit students to feel a sense of success before leaving the lab.

- Learning in a group can be less stressful. "If you are not prepared," Mitchell laughed, "you can hide in a group session."

Students said they like the way Mitchell explains each new section and takes time to review what has gone before. They also find it helpful when she divides the group and lets half play the right-hand part and half, the left-hand.

"That way they can hear the whole piece even though they cannot play both hands at once," she said.

At the end of 10 weeks, students are ready to put both hands together. Mitchell's beginners tackle songs like: "Windy," "Love is Blue," "Michael, Row Your Boat Ashore," "This Old Man" and "When the Saints Go Marching In."

The piano courses are part of the UW Extension Continuing Education Program at UWWC. To reserve a spot or get more information, call Joan Laabs or Kathy Kissling at 338-5215.

When a man from Kentucky was asked by a spectator at one of the checkpoints how much the prize money was, he laughed and said, "what money, we're out here because we like to ride and love the challenge."

All the riding done in the Kettle Moraine, however, is not competitive. Throughout the year the camp's facilities are available for use by groups and individuals for campouts and leisurely riding. You can ride as long as you want, as far as you want, without any pressure. The park's campsites and slip stalls can be reserved for anywhere from one day to entire weeks by contacting the Department of Natural Resources headquarters at Mauthe Lake.

For the tenderfoot or those who cannot afford the luxury of owning their own horse, there is a dude ranch which borders the state forest land. There, horses can be rented for a ride through some of the most scenic land in the country.

Lowell Mason to At Campbellsport

International T.V. and recording artist, Lowell Mason, will be appearing Friday, September 22, at 7:30 p.m., at Campbellsport Community Center 163 E. Main.

Mason has been called the World's Smallest Gospel Singer because of his unique height of only 46 inches. His voice, however, has no comparison to his size. When he sings, his booming bass voice brings a thrill to everyone that listens.

During the program you will hear a variety of songs. The mood can change quickly from a deep spiritual moving hymn like "Hallelujah" to a rousing, handclapping gospel favorite like "Daddy Sang Bass." The experience of many years of performing before audiences around the world accredits this very talented man with being truly a professional in his chosen field of Gospel Music.

Lowell Mason began his career at the very early age of only 9 years. At that time he joined the staff of the "Children's Bible Hour" radio broadcast out of Grand Rapids, Michigan. For seven years he was a regular feature on that weekly radio program which was heard from coast to coast. During his teenage years, Lowell worked with the organization called "Youth For Christ" in the United States, and with "Victorious Christian Youth" in Canada. During his Junior High and High School years, Lowell was constantly in demand for weekend and summer personal appearances.

After completion of high school in 1955, Lowell Mason joined the Cecil Todd Evangelistic Team of Joplin, Missouri. Lowell Mason was featured regularly on their T.V. program from 1964 until 1974.

Since then, he continues his singing as Little Lowell and the Masons travel nearly 100,000 miles each year taking the Gospel in song to people of all faiths.

This special program is designed to appeal to all people ages 1-100 and is open to the general public. There is no admission charge. A free will offering will be received.

The concert is sponsored by Campbellsport Alliance Church. For more information phone 533-4516.

Fond du Lac Author Has Book Published

LOST IN THE MOUNTAINS

by
Marjory E. Williams

CARLTON PRESS, New York, is pleased to announce the publication of Marjory E. Williams' book, LOST IN THE MOUNTAINS, in August. A hardbound edition, the book retails at $9.95.

Here is an exciting adventure for intrepid young readers of all ages. When Davey gets lost in the woods on a camping trip looking for his dog, his survival skills are crucial. Luckily for him, he had once saved an eagle, and the grateful bird watches out for him, warning him of signs of danger in the forest. There's also old Pops, a hermit who teaches him other necessary techniques like hunting, trapping, and fishing. By the time Davey makes it back home, he is a seasoned man of the wilderness, thriving on his independence. Later in life, Davey shows a run-away orphan the coping skills he has mastered, thus guiding another generation in the delights of the great outdoors. This book will appeal to all parents and young people who would like to foster independence and a getting back to nature communion very few are fortunate enough to know.

Marjory E. Williams was born in Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, in 1912. Married forty-seven years, she farmed ten of them on her husband's homestead. A retired widow, the author still loves nature, reading books about wild animals, mountain adventures, and the West. A trip to the mountains in California was the inspiration for this book. For further information, please contact Carlton Press at the above address, or the author at 98 Stonegate, Apt. M-1, Fond du Lac, WI 54935.

Little Jimmy was strutting into his first grade classroom when someone tripped him and he fell flat. "Now, be a big boy and don't cry," soothed the teacher. "Cry, hell," he said, "I'm going to sue somebody."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

September 8, 1989

To the Editor:

There have been some confusing reports about the status of Wisconsin's minimum wage, and I want to take this opportunity to attempt to clarify what the state is doing and why.

First, let's get the facts straight.

Some have suggested that Wisconsin's minimum wage is much lower than it ought to be. The fact is that for the first time in Wisconsin history our minimum wage exceeds the federal minimum wage; something that is true for just a small percentage of the states.

Others have said the Thompson Administration has fought any increase in the minimum wage. The fact is that this Administration has acted to raise the state's minimum wage in 1987 and, again in 1989 after there had been no adjustments for six years under the two previous Governors.

It has been argued that the Administration tried to "pull a fast one" by increasing the minimum wage through the implementation of an administrative rule, rather than through legislation passed by the Legislature. The fact is that every single adjustment of the minimum wage in the state's history was accomplished in the same administrative procedure — never through a bill passed by the Legislature.

You may also have heard it argued that it is terribly unfair to provide for a 120 day training period during which newly hired workers are paid 20c per hour less than those who have been on the job more than four months.

The fact is that the probationary/training wage is nothing new in Wisconsin. In fact, for 28 years after the State's minimum wage was first introduced in 1919, Wisconsin had a training wage element as part of the minimum wage law. The state's first minimum wage was 22c per hour. But an employe was paid 18c per hour for the first ninety days on the job, and 20c per hour for the second three months.

Finally, you have probably heard it reported that the Thompson Administration "defied" the Legislature and ignored an action to change the minimum wage rule.

The fact is that one committee of the Legislature composed of 10 members met in the middle of the night and attempted to suspend a portion of a legally established administrative rule that had the force of law.

Our lawyers and the Department of Justice have questioned the constitutionality of the committee's action. As a result, we have had no choice but to implement the rule as promulgated.

The issue may now be decided through a court case, but in the meantime, the Administration is entirely comfortable with the actions we have taken.

Sincerely,
Gerald Whitburn
Secretary

Sept. 17-23 Is School Bus Safety Week

Kewaskum Statesman,

Friday, Sept. 22, 1989, Page 19

Parents! - what have you done to make sure your child is safe on the way to and at the school bus pick up point? Once he or she is in the school bus, his or her safety is increased tremendously. The danger area is outside of the school bus.

PARENTS! At the pick up point make sure: 1. Your child is always on time. 2. Your child waits quietly away from the road. 3. Your child is told not to move towards the school bus until the bus is stopped and the driver opens the door. 4. Tell your child not to play on snow banks at the pick up point.

On the way to the pick up point, parents! Make sure: 1. You have your child dressed properly - not too warm, not too cold. 2. If your child must walk, he or she walks on the left shoulder of the road facing oncoming traffic. 3. Clothing does not interfere with your child's eyesight. Some hoods and parkas really limit vision. Explain that to your child. 4. Your child has a back pack for books, lunch, etc., so he or she isn't dropping items on the road.

Finally, with two working parents, many times no one is home morning or afternoon to help the child. The Wisconsin School Bus Association encourages these parents to take some time off the first two or three days of school to properly walk your child through these safety measures. When colder weather comes, review these rules once again.

Parents, you are part of the school bus safety team! We need your help!

Dear Friend,

We are in the age of informed consumers. Thank goodness! When you hear some car dealers yell sale, do you feel they are crying wolf?

As you know, when a dealer yells SALE, it doesn't always mean SAVINGS. So, I thought I'd tell you why we are having a Real Sale this September.

We bought too many 1989 vehicles! There are reasons for this:

- 1) To give you a better selection throughout the year, after all you can't test ride a picture! Salesmen and customers just don't enjoy working with a dealer without a great selection!
- 2) In order to offer you competitive prices, dealers have volume quotas. The car manufacturers pressure us to overstock.

It is almost impossible to time our inventory stock right down to the last day. The fact is, on September 27th ... 1989 is over ... and we have cars left. It will be your last chance for rebates and the manufacturers incentives.

So, from now until September 27th, we are having a Very Special Inventory Clearance Sale. You will realize our best prices of the year, with the factory rebates and savings, if you act now.

I never cry wolf - THIS REAL DEAL SALE MEANS SAVINGS. Come in now and see for yourself. And, as always, your trade-in is welcomed.

Thank you for considering Schwartzburg.

Fall Turkey Hunting Permits Mailed

MADISON, WI - All of the Fall 1989 turkey hunting permits should be in the mail by September 15, announced Department of Natural Resources Wildlife Staff Specialist Ed Frank.

Wisconsin will experience its first fall turkey season this October when 7,260 permit winners will hunt during three time periods in eight zones in southwestern Wisconsin. There were 17,708 applicants for the 7,260 permits available.

If success rates are similar to spring hunting, Frank predicts approximately 1,450 turkeys will be harvested this fall.

Frank also notes that fall turkey hunting is quite different from spring hunting. To help hunters, the Wisconsin Chapter of the National Wild Turkey Federation sponsored four fall turkey seminars.

For more information contact Ed Frank - 608-266-8840.

Record Number of Hunter's Choice Deer Permits Available

MADISON, WI — A record 346,970 Hunter's Choice permits are available for this year's gun deer season, Nov. 18-26.

A Hunter's Choice permit allows a hunter to kill a deer of either sex. Applications for the permit must be postmarked by Sept. 29 and mailed to DNR License Section, P.O. Box 7186, Madison, WI 53707.

A large northern deer herd, estimated at 100,000 above population goals, resulted in an increase of Hunter's Choice permits from the 296,630 available last year. Statewide, the deer population is estimated at more than one million.

If excess Hunter's Choice permits remain after all applicants for a given deer management unit have received their permits, those extra permits are issued as 'bonus' permits in that unit. A bonus permit allows a hunter who has filled his or her Hunter's Choice permit to get a second permit. An estimated 45,000 bonus permits are expected to be available in select units.

For more information: Bureau of Wildlife Management — 608-266-1877.

1989 HUNTER'S CHOICE PERMITS

In addition to the general seasons, there will be an open season for holders of validated hunter's choice deer hunting permits in most management units. The hunter's choice permit does not represent an extra deer as does the party permit. It simply allows the permit holder to tag a deer of either sex in the specified Deer Management Unit except as indicated below. The hunter can hunt in other units if desired, but then he/she would be restricted to a legal deer specified for that zone. The areas as shown on the map are management units or parts of units as indicated below:

Small Game Hunters Take to the Field

MADISON, WI — Saturday marks the first opportunity for Wisconsin small game hunters to take to the field with the statewide openings of ruffed grouse, woodcock and squirrel. The cottontail rabbit season north of highways 10 and 54 also opens Saturday.

"If ruffed grouse aren't at a peak population in Wisconsin this year, they are so close that under normal hunting conditions the average hunter isn't going to be able to tell the difference," Ed Frank, DNR upland wildlife ecologist said of the prospects for 1989. "Survey results from 1988 show that the numbers were up, with a harvest again at more than one million ruffed grouse statewide."

Ruffed grouse hunters reported harvesting 1,072,703 birds in 1988, an increase of 50,000 over 1987. Previous harvests of more than one million haven't been recorded since the 1980 and 1981 seasons when harvests were slightly over 1.1 million each year.

"The best prospects for hunters seem to be in northern and western counties," Frank added. "The central forest areas appear not to be at peak population, but hunting there won't be bad as there are reports of reasonable grouse numbers."

While ruffed grouse in Wisconsin and elsewhere seem to respond to 10-year peak population cycles, Frank notes that grouse numbers in the flat, sandy soil areas of Wood, Juneau and Jackson counties aren't responding as expected. Those counties ranked among leading grouse producing counties in the state during the peak seasons of 1980-81 and again in 1978 and 1971. Other top grouse producing counties include Marathon, Marinette, Oconto, Oneida, Forest, Douglas, Price and Bayfield.

western counties reported hearing great numbers of drumming grouse," Frank noted. "Hunters can expect a very good year statewide."

Ruffed grouse daily bag limits are five per day, with a maximum possession limit of 10 birds. The season in the northern zone remains open through Dec. 31 and in the southern zone through Jan. 31.

Woodcock season opens statewide Sept. 16 and runs through Nov. 19. According to Frank, the season outlook for this illusive worm-eating bird is good. Best prospects are in the northern third of Wisconsin. Woodcock harvest numbers were up in 1988. Hunters reporting taking 206,573 woodcock, more than 30,000 over the 1987 total of 177,021.

Cottontail rabbit season opens in the northern zone (north of highways 10 and 54) with somewhat improved population numbers compared to last year. Cottontails have the reputation as commonly being the first game species taken by young hunters. The best prospects for cottontail rabbit hunters are in the southern two thirds of the state.

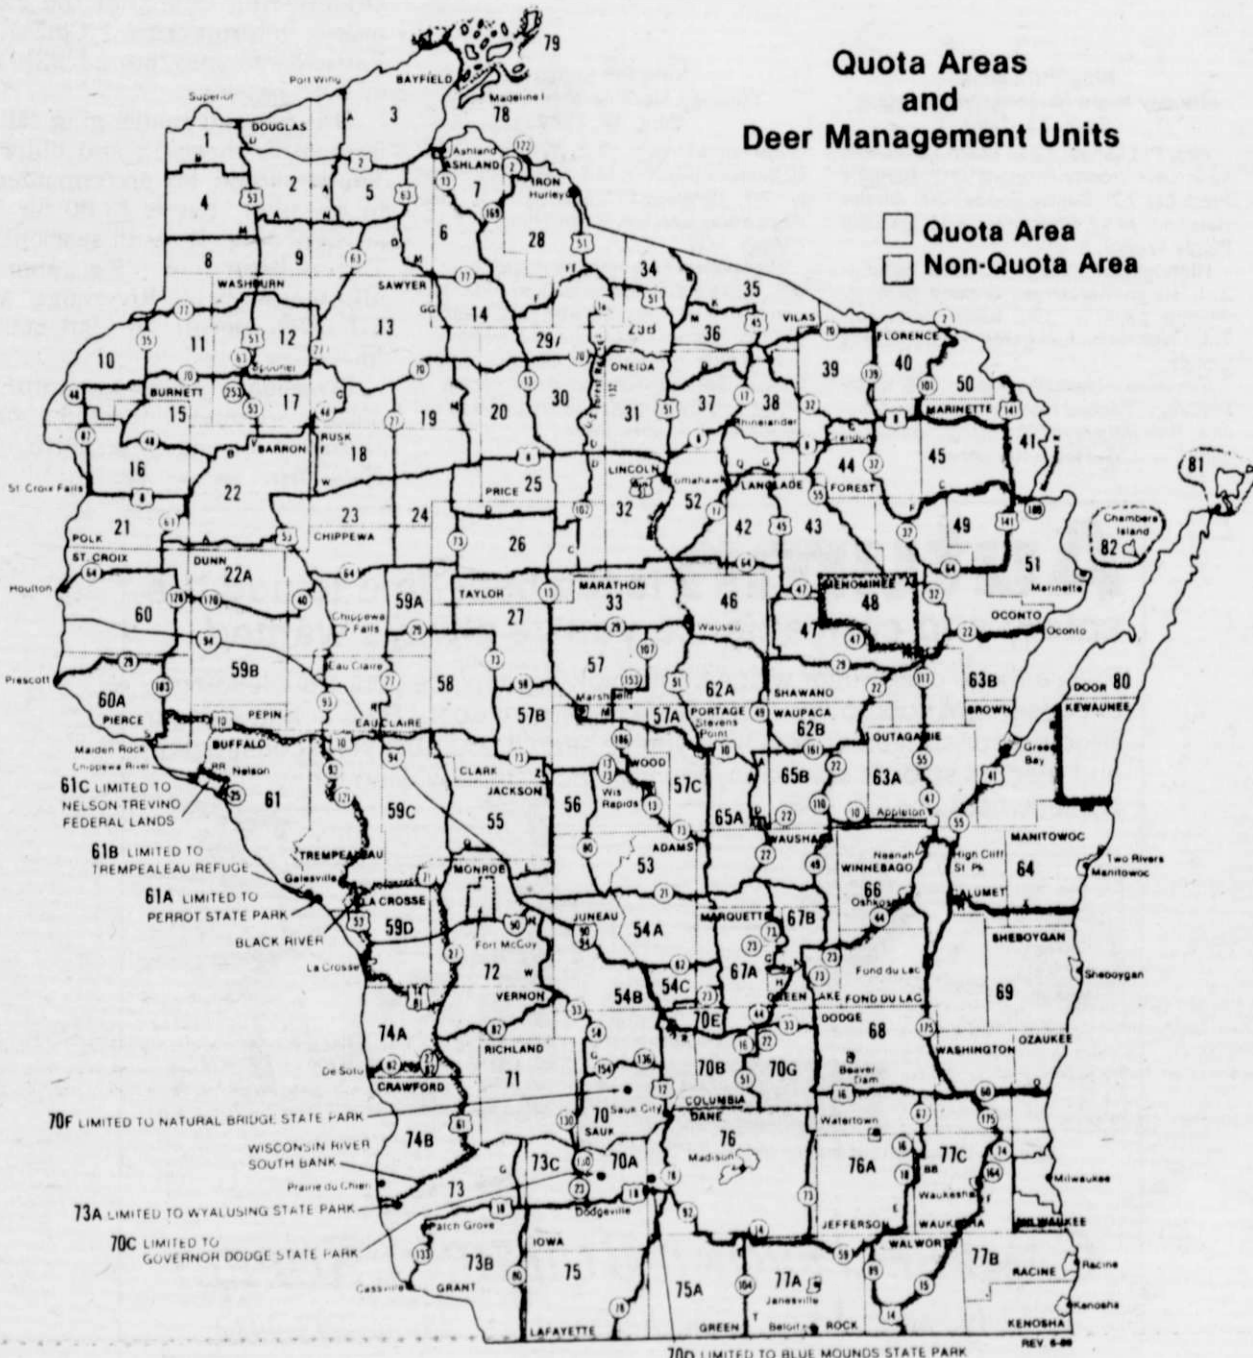

"Cottontail populations are lower than they were in the 1970s, but so are the numbers of hunters pursuing them," Frank said. Harvest totals have dropped from 1.3 million as recent as 1978 to just over 300,000 last year. As many as 125,000 people hunted cottontails in 1983, but only 80,000 were out last year.

Gray and fox squirrel seasons also open Saturday, with the season ranked as very good by Frank. The best prospects will be in the southern two thirds of Wisconsin. Squirrel harvest numbers totaled well over one million in 1988.

Homecoming Game Against Chilton Still On Panthers Shut Out Indians 31-0

As if to atone for their mistakes last week, the Plymouth Panthers did everything in their power to capitalize on the errors of the Indians in their game Friday. When the final whistle blew Kewaskum had gone down to defeat by a score of 31-0.

The Indians could not stand up to the powerful ground game of the Panthers and had to give up the ball after three plays in the opening drive. On the attack, Panthers sophomore Clayton Moore and senior Matt Rooney moved down the field with Moore taking the ball in on the final four.

Kewaskum QB Brian Leitheiser's efforts to get his team on the boards ended in an interception on the next series. Not to be outdone, Panthers QB Chris Hein then had trouble holding onto the ball and Kewaskum recovered.

The Indians saw themselves come up empty again after being unable to move the ball forward, forcing them to punt.

With the ball back in their possession, the Panthers staged a 77-yard march which ended up in another touchdown.

The interception of a second Leitheiser pass handed the Panthers another six points, however they weren't able to convert the extra point.

With less than 4 minutes left in the half, the Panthers got the ball back. Done Lanemak scored on a 38-yard dash, six more points on the board.

The last points to be scored in the game came with less than 5 minutes left in the third quarter. Moore took the ball in from the three-yard line.

The Indians' record is now 0-2 in Eastern Wisconsin and 0-4 overall.

The Indians next opponent will be Chilton. Earlier fears that Friday's homecoming game would be cancelled due to a forfeit by Chilton were erased when Chilton announced it will field a team despite injuries to several players.

Congratulations are in order for the KHS Varsity Volleyball team as they captured first place at the Campbellsport Invitational last Saturday. To accomplish this victory the girls went up against Campbellsport, Laconia, and North Fond du Lac, Fond du Lac.

The first team Kewaskum came up against was Campbellsport. Kewaskum defeated Campbellsport with scores of 15-9, and 15-11. High scorers with spike kills were Andrea Fliess and Karen Felix.

The next team that Kewaskum took on was Laconia. This is the only team we had a loss with; the scores were 15-11, and 10-15. The girls gave good effort in the match but couldn't pull off a sweep. The high scorer with spike kills was Andrea Fliess.

The final team to challenge Kewaskum was North Fond du Lac. If KHS would have split, there would have been a deciding game but they pulled out of it with two suspenseful wins with scores of 15-11, and 16-14. High spike kills were again Andrea Fliess and Karen Felix. Total spike kills for the team was 23.

Quarterback Beau Coulter chalked up the only score for the Raiders.

In the second game, the Lion's Club Packers did not fare

The Bears jumped out to an early halftime lead, 20-6, on two touchdown runs by Sean Fideler and one by Jim Westerman. In the second half, defenses prevailed as Sean Fideler added just one more touchdown for the Bears.

Indian Cagers Lulled Into Defeat

By Kim Stielow

Last week the Kewaskum Indians Volleyball teams lost to New Holstein at all three levels.

The varsity game scores were 15-2, 12-15, 15-3. The Varsity showed that they were more than able to beat New Holstein in the second game with a win of 15 to 12. This effort was not seen in the third game which would of given the Indians a match win.

The high scorer for this game was Andrea Flies with one ace serve, two spike kills, and two block kills. The assist leader was Tisha Stradtman with six assists.

On Thursday the freshman showed that they could bounce back well from a loss by defeating Two Rivers, but the Junior Varsity and Varsity were in a lull Thursday, defeated by Two Rivers.

The Varsity scores were 15-13, 8-15, and 4-15. Even though this was not one of their better nights they still had good point totals and assist totals. Leading the team with points was once again Andrea Fliess with ten total points consisting of nine spike kills and one ace serve. Our assist leader was Tina Weddig with a total of ten.
