School District Business Mgr. Cherna Gorder Resigning

Cherna Gorder

By GERRY MUELLER

Business Manager Cherna Gorder confirmed Wednesday morning that she will be submitting her resignation to the Kewaskum Board of Education effective October 27th, to accept a post with the Sheboygan Area School District.

Gorder, who has been the district's business manager for five years, came from the Deerfield School District near Madison, in 1984, where she had been employed as district accountant.

Gorder will begin working for the Sheboygan School District October 30th, as Comptroller under Dan Moberly, Director of Business Services. She will be replacing A. George Haynes, who resigned to accept a position with the Fox Point / Bayside School District.

Moberly said Gorder was among five finalists interviewed from a field of 21 applicants. Her contract was approved by the Sheboygan Board of Education at a meeting Tuesday evening.

The Sheboygan School District is almost three times larger than Kewaskum's, consisting of two high schools, three middle schools, and thirteen elementary schools, with a total enrollment of over 9,100 students.

Gorder said salary was not a major consideration. I consider the move as an advancement in my career.

School Board Told Again: We Need Walls, More Aides

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Board of Education was faced Monday night, by a rare sight, an almost fullhouse audience. Among the 50-plus people present were a large number of Kewaskum Middle School students along with several KMS parents, there to address the board on the serious need for walls in the school's open classroom area. Also on hand was Mrs. Kathy Boyd to express parent concerns on the need for additional aides at the elementary schools.

Mrs. Janet Lauenstein, representing the KMS Parents Advisory Council, Robert Sobolewski representing the KMS teachers and Jason Sauer, president of the KMS Student Council, all addressed the board or presented petitions with hundreds of signatures supporting the need for enclosing the open area classes.

Sobolewski told the board that in the nine years he had been in the district, walls at the middle school had been a number one concern of the teachers. "The noise is a detraction for both teachers and students when you have to compete with what's going on down the hall." Interim principal David Jones also told the board, "My observation is that it (KMS) is an abnormally noisy building."

told the gathering it appears that something has to be done to correct the matter. She, however, indicated she would not be pressured or rushed into a decision. "If we do make a change, it's going to be done right. That's why I'm dragging my heels on this. I want to be sure we're doing this in a correct manner. It's not going to be a miracle solution that will eliminate all the noise whatever we do."

Schmitt's comments were directed to the fact that it is not just simply a matter of putting up a few walls, but that changes would have to be made in the heating, air conditioning and ventilation systems as well.

Board member Paul Seymour said he heard the comments coming from both sides, the need for walls, yet board members feeling they were not technically prepared to make a decision.

Board member Perry Ankerson again noted that, until recently, he had not heard one comment from concerned individuals regarding the need for walls at the middle school.

Since the walls were part of a non-action agenda item, discussion of a priority list for the $200,000 capital improvement loan, no action was required or taken by the board.

Besides the $35,000 KMS walls, District Administrator David Heather's priority list

Parents Can Go Back to School For KMS Mini-Day Peek Oct. 24

Are you perhaps a middle school parent feeling those "back to school" blues...after all, you stay home and off they go in new Levis, right?

Refreshments are being generously funded by KMS Student Council. An extra treat will be an opportunity to meet the new interim principal at KMS, Mr. Dave Jones.

Injured in Farm Accident

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Vincent Groh, of 1254 Roseland Drive, Kewaskum, suffered serious damage to his left hand in an accident on the Lloyd Etta farm Monday afternoon.

According to Mrs. Etta, the accident occurred at about 3 p.m., as Groh was unhitching a wagon from a corn picker. Vince was apparently trying to remove some leaves and debris when the glove on his left hand became entangled in the rollers, she stated.

Mrs. Etta said Groh tried to signal for help to about 50 passing motorists. Finally James Klug of Beechwood came by and noticed Groh bent over the equipment. He stopped and found Groh with his hand caught in the rollers. Klug immediately turned off the tractor and Groh's hand was worked free.

Groh was taken to St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend and then transferred to Froedtert Memorial Hospital, Milwaukee, where he underwent eight hours of surgery.

Mrs. Etta said Groh's left thumb had been severely damaged and partially severed, however, doctors were able to reattach it. She said Groh's hand had been saved and it was hoped the thumb could also be saved.

U.S. 45 West Bend Bypass Dedication Set for Oct. 20

Department of Transportation officials will join the communities of Greater West Bend and Washington County on Friday, October 20th, in a dedication of the 4-lane West Bend Bypass.

"We're joining the West Bend area business community in celebrating their improved connection to other Wisconsin markets," said DOT District Director Harvey Shebesta.

The morning event, which will feature a convoy of trucks carrying locally-manufactured products, will begin at 10:00 a.m. at the West Bend Elevator Company on County Trunk D.

Transportation Secretary Ronald R. Fiedler plans to attend the West Bend Bypass dedication.

"Secretary Fiedler supported West Bend's desire to advance construction of the southbound lanes. To move this project from 1991 to 1989, our design team put in a lot of overtime," said Shebesta.

The first stage of the West Bend Bypass was constructed between 1984 and 1986, providing a new 13-mile roadway around the western end of the city. Two-way traffic has been carried on the 2-lane facility.

Since January, 1989, seven bridges have been constructed to accommodate two new lanes of southbound traffic. Paving for the new southbound lanes of the bypass is nearly completed. When the $8 million Stage 2 segment is ready to open to traffic, the existing 2-lane bypass will carry northbound traffic.

For further details about the highway dedication, contact Betty Pearson, vice president of the West Bend Chamber of Commerce, at (414) 338-2666.

50th Anniversary

Herbert and Gladys Ramel celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary on Sunday, October 1, at Riverview Inn, Kewaskum, with relatives and friends.

They have one daughter, Diann (Donald) Thomas, four grandchildren, Tracy, Tammy, Terry and Todd (Michelle) Thomas and one great-granddaughter Ashley.

Their wedding attendants were Virginia Schneider and Arnold Ramel (deceased).

School Board

included $30,000 for science room equipment, $31,000 to upgrade and add computers, $16,000 to lower the second and third floor ceilings at KES, $30,000 for the purchase of an IBM Writing to Read computer lab, $32,000 for science rooms remodeling, $5,000 to replace the Rose Hall sound system and $30,000 to rebuild the high school tennis courts.

In reviewing the list Ankerson questioned why roof repairs, especially for Kewaskum Elementary were not among the nine priority items listed. (A motion during the meeting to approve $2,300 for still more KES roof repairs died on a 3-3-1 vote.)

Another speaker during the board's audience to visitors portion of its agenda was Mrs. Kathy Boyd who addressed parent concerns for additional classroom instructional aides at the three elementary schools to help with large classes in grades Kindergarten to third grade.

Boyd said a motion would be brought to the board's next meeting asking for the hiring of three full-time aides at Farmington, two to three aides at Kewaskum and possibly a half-time aide at Wayne. She stated that studies show in classes with more than 22 students, a teacher's effectiveness is diminished. Parents from these schools feel there is a need for instructional aides within these classes, noted Boyd.

In other business the board acted on and approved the revised 1989 tax levy as presented by Business Manager Cherna Gorder. An increase in equalized value and state aids for the school district will almost offset increases reflected in the revised levy.

According to Gorder's report, the district can expect an estimated $35,000 more in state aids than earlier projected. She said that state figures indicated an increase of 1% which she calculated to be about $35,000, not the $50,000 projected by the state. Her recommendation to the board was to use that money to offset a portion of the $50,000 taken from the district's Fund Equity during the budgeting process to reduce the tax levy for 1989. Heather said he would rather use the money in the area of instruction for more teachers.

Schmitt told fellow board members she could see no rush to make a decision on how the money should be used.

The equalized valuation rose by 2.43%.

The revised levy of $4,045,627, including debt service, represents a 10.66% increase as compared to 1988's 13.02% increase. For the mill rate, that represents a rise of $1.48 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, from $13.88 in 1988, to $15.36 for 1989.

In other action the board approved the purchase of vertical blinds for three areas in the high school at a cost of $5,623 and a new lawnmower for $3,990 plus trade.

Recommendations to appoint Ken Erickson KMS teacher-in-charge and KMS boys and girls seventh grade basketball coach were unanimously approved. John Breese was approved as the KES intramural advisor and Randy Backhaus as assistant FFA advisor. Ms. Julie Wenzlaff was hired to replace Mrs. Doris Olk during maternity leave.

Good News Winners

Brian Lauenstein, son of John and Janet Lauenstein and Kim Resch daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Resch were selected as Good News winners at Kewaskum Middle School.

Kim was nominated by Mr. Bill Wuebben in health class and Brian was nominated by Mr. Dennis Reha in geography class.

Congratulations Kim and Brian.

Alma Kraemer, 100, Still Leads An Active Lifestyle

Alma Kraemer

By Douglas Neumann

In a tradition-rich community like Beechwood, many families have celebrated special occasions in the same way for generations. But on Sept. 11, a special occasion so rare occurred that nobody knew of any traditions.

On that day Alma Anna Marie Lubach Kraemer reached the monumental plateau of 100 years of age. Tossing aside tradition, relatives and friends just made sure the party was deserving of the honoree.

"I was surprised so many people came," Mrs. Kraemer said after her open house.

The Sept. 10 celebration began at St. John United Church of Christ, where the morning worship service included congratulations and special music was sung in her honor.

The immediate family then gathered at the Five Pillars

Supper Club, Random Lake, for dinner. An open house followed back at the church in Beechwood, where Alma Kraemer was baptized, confirmed and married. She still actively participates in the church, which reached its centennial birthday just last year.

Over 150 people visited during the open house and many more have expressed their well wishes with cards.

Alma's great-grandchildren who attended performed a short program of readings and songs at the church.

Mrs. Kraemer was born Sept. 11, 1889 on a farm in the Town of Auburn in Fond du Lac County, the daughter of the late Edward and Catherine Luhn Lubach. On the day of her birth, William McKinley was president of the United States. The Spanish-American War broke out in 1898 - and that was the year that Pierre and Marie Curie isolated the element radium.

On Feb. 11, 1915 she married Henry Kraemer, and they had 55 years of marriage together. Mr. Kraemer died in 1970. They had three sons. Roland, who married the former Elizabeth Bade, died in 1975. His surviving spouse, now Elizabeth Werbeckes, lives at rural Cascade. Byron Kraemer died at birth. Virgil, who married the former June Hetebrueg, lives in Fond du Lac. The centennial honoree also has six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

On Sept. 11, Alma celebrated her actual birth date with the Cascade Senior Citizens, friends and relatives. The reception before the regular dinner was held in her honor.

On Sept. 19, the Beechwood Card Club took Alma to John's Country Inn at Silver Creek to again celebrate the special birthday.

She entertained friends and relatives throughout the week, as always, at her home just outside Beechwood. She enjoys an active lifestyle, especially baking and caring for flowers around her home. She also gets out to play cards and participate in senior citizen events. Mrs. Kraemer is an avid reader of newspapers, magazines and the Bible.

Her secret to such a long life? Quoting from the Bible and 100 years of experience, Alma insists the key is: "Accepting the things you cannot change."

Editor's Note: Douglas Neumann, Mrs. Kraemer's great-grandson, is a journalism student at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

IN MEMORY

In Memory of BRENDA OELHAFEN who passed away four years ago October 23, 1985:

There was a time, when we shopped,
For skirts, shoes, tapes and pearls...
Things in general, loved by girls.

But now I wander through the stores alone,
Your bouncy steps and cheery face, I recall,
But they are gone.

Instead, it is sad to see the latest styles,
With the laughter and joy
Of the girls in the aisles.

I have to settle for a nosegay or a seasonal bloom,
To add some life
At your tomb.

Now, instead of girl - talk,
chit-chat and your songs
I think of the four long years
That you are gone.

Miss You,
Mom

Representatives Attend State GFWC Conference

Delegates, club leaders and members of 35 GFWC Wisconsin Junior Women's Clubs gathered on October 6 and 7, at the Valley Inn in Neenah for their 37th Annual Fall Conference.

Attending the conference as representative of GFWC Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club were Louise Martin, Club President and Gayle Van Ess, Sixth District President and Club Public Affairs Chairman.

The conference was most informative with a variety of excellent speakers. Heading the list was Cindy Rice of DuQuoin, IL., the General Federation of Women's Clubs Director of Junior Clubs. Ms. Rice addressed the opening session on volunteerism, and then led a workshop on the GFWC Junior Special Project - Teen Suicide.

Mary Kaye Ernest of Mequon, the GFWC Wisconsin Director of Junior Clubs, presided over the conference and announced the establishment of a new Award, "The GFWC Wisconsin Junior Woman of the Year." This most meaningful award was established in honor of the GFWC Centennial Celebration - 1890 - 1990. A winner will be determined each year, with the award to be made at the Annual GFWC Wisconsin Convention, commencing in 1990.

The highlight of Saturday's General Session was luncheon speaker, Cindy Rewolinski of the Milwaukee area. Ms. Rewolinski is the Executive Director of the Wisconsin Alliance for Children, a Statewide, non-profit education and advocacy organization. The mission of the Alliance is to ensure healthy and productive lives for all Wisconsin children and their families.

The Juniors were most fortunate to have in attendance and addressing the General Session, the GFWC Wisconsin Federation of Women's Clubs' President and First Vice President, Lois Reinfeldt of Burlington, and Ina Trummer of Watertown, respectively. Dorothy Dimond of South Milwaukee, the GFWC Home Life Health Division chairman was the guest speaker at an important workshop on Friday evening, addressing the "Keys to the Prevention of Birth Defects Caused by Alcohol and Drug Abuse - Education and Communication." Ms. Dimond is very active with the March of Dimes, bringing their educational programs to Clubwomen around the world. During the Conservation Workshop, Marion Ermac of Crivitz, the GFWC Wisconsin Conservation Department Chairman led the Juniors through the GFWC "Living with Chemicals" program and discussions on the "Great Lakes Waters" issues and recycling issues.

You can be sure all Juniors in attendance came home well equipped to start their 1989-1990 Club year with renewed vigor and enthusiasm.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs is the largest and oldest nondenominational, nonpartisan, international volunteer service organization of women in the world. Its purpose is to enter into communication and to unite the various Women's Clubs for their mutual benefit and promotion of their common interests. Thus is created the GFWC motto: Unity in Diversity.

Work Under Way to Clean Up Discarded Tires on Area Farm

Kewaskum Statesman,
Friday, Oct. 13, 1989, Page 9

Stacks of tires higher than a semi-truck lined the road leading into the Ketter gravel pit where over a million tires have been discarded over the past twelve years.

Employees of Waste Management of Wisconsin loaded tires onto a conveyor to be shredded and hauled to a Franklin landfill.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Approximately 1.5 million tires which have accumulated on a rural Campbellsport farm over the last twelve years are headed for a shredder.

The Department of Resources recently found itself unsuccessful in its legal efforts to force farm owners Loren and Alice Ketter to dispose of the mountain of unwanted tires which have accumulated in an old gravel pit on one of their properties. As a result, acting under emergency rules, the DNR has hired Waste Management of Wisconsin, Inc., to do the clean-up, expected to take ten months and cost approximately $1 million.

The project is the second such major clean-up for the state but the first in Wisconsin for Waste Management. Money for the tire removal comes from the $2-per-tire fee assessed on all new vehicles registered for the first time. That fee is expected to generate over $3 million a year.

Waste Management employees began working at the Ketter farm last week. The tires are handloaded into a hopper which shreds the tires into small chunks and then conveys them into waiting semi trucks.

The firm is using the shredded tires as covering material at its Franklin landfill site to prevent refuse from blowing away. Normally, ground would be used for that purpose, however, landfill operators are finding dirt in short supply.

Scrapped tires are a major disposal problem in that they cannot be successfully disposed of in landfills. They are resistant to compression, do not deteriorate and create air pockets which cause them to work their way back up to the surface of a landfill.

It's estimated there are 20 million old tires in piles around Wisconsin and an average of 5 million tires are being added to those piles annually.

Another problem with the unwanted tires is trying to find a market for them. Right now companies trying to recycle tires are operating at a loss while more and more tires are literally being "dumped on their doorsteps" because most landfills will not take them.

Tires are being illegally transported and dumped in the state, abandoned in warehouses and vacant buildings.

There are uses for the old tires such as fuel sources, however, companies are not willing to touch them unless it is economically sound. In an effort to stimulate new markets for old tires, the state will pay a penny-a-pound rebate to final users of Wisconsin generated scrap tires. Approximately $750,000 will be set aside for the rebate program next year. Paul Koziar, Director of the DNR's Waste Tire Removal Program, said the rebate is one way the state is trying to combat the problem it is facing of imported tires from Minnesota which are being used as fuel by a Tomahawk area papermill. We're hoping the rebate program will be an incentive to help recycle Wisconsin's tires, he noted.

The Campbellsport area is the target for two more major clean-ups. Next year, in 1990, the DNR will direct its efforts to another stockpile of about one million tires on Wiesner Auto Salvage property near Lake Bernice. Koziar said the third site is a Grahl farm located in the Town of Eden, which has an estimated 650,000 discarded tires on the property. We're not exactly sure when that area will be cleaned up, said Koziar, right now our emergency rules are directed at cleaning up problem sites which contain over a million tires.

In an unrelated action, the Attorney General's Office, this week, issued a restraining order against Winnebago Tire Company of rural Kewaskum, prohibiting them from accepting any more tires until they are in compliance with their contractual agreement.

Koziar said the firm had contracted to keep a maximum of 25,000 tires at any one time on their property for recycling. "I was out there last week," said Koziar "and they have about 150,000 tires on the property and no place to go with them." He said the company was continuing to shred tires but it was storing the shredded material in trucks on its property. Processed or unprocessed, he noted, they still cannot have more than the contracted amount on the site.

Koziar said the state is actively involved in trying to find outlets to help recycling firms such as Winnebago market their projects. He said it is difficult when the state has materials being brought in by out-of-state contractors.

In Charge of Your Life?' at Cedar Ridge

Thinking of who makes decisions affecting lives when a loved one is seriously ill doesn't often hit home until illness strikes a family. Then it becomes important.

To wade through the medical, legal and moral complexities, the Benevolent Corporation Cedar Campuses is sponsoring for the community a free workshop series entitled "Who's In Charge of Your Life?"

The 3 session series will be presented at the West Bend Cedar Ridge Campus on October 13th from 2:00 - 3:15 p.m.

Dr. David Dahl, chairperson of Milwaukee's Sinai-Samaritan Hospital Ethics Committee, will speak on the physician's perspective at the lead off session on Friday, October 13, 2:00 - 3:15 p.m.

The clergy's perspective will be discussed at the October 20 session. Rev. Tom Pexton, chaplain at Sinai-Samaritan Hospital, Milwaukee, will give this presentation.

The concluding session on October 27 will be presented by Atty. Elaine Shanebrook, West Bend, on the lawyer's perspective.

Each session will help participants understand the decision making process regarding a serious or terminal illness. It will provide participants a better understanding of the rights and responsibilities of all involved.

The October 13, 20, 27 series will be held in the Cedar Ridge Retirement Campus Assembly Room, 113 Cedar Ridge Drive, West Bend. The campus is located south of Hwy. 33 off Scenic Drive West. For more information, call the Education Department at 334-9487.

There is no charge to attend this comprehensive workshop.

Volunteer Center Sponsoring Pumpkin Carving Contest

The Volunteer Center of Washington County is promoting some "cutting up" for the community from October 26 through October 28.

Rita Sorensen, Director of the Volunteer Center, has announced that $400 in prizes will be offered to winning individuals or families who enter the Center's first annual "Great Pumpkin Caper." A separate competition for business and corporation has a traveling trophy as a prize.

Proceeds from the event will be to support the efforts of the Volunteer Center, which enlists 275 volunteers in donating their time and talents to a variety of jobs in 43 Human Service agencies in Washington County each year.

According to Sorensen, a $5 ticket is required for each individual or family entry and a $25 ticket for businesses, corporations and departments. Participants can use their tickets to obtain a free 9-11 inch pumpkin from Meadowbrook Orchards Farm Market, 408 South Main in West Bend. Or the ticket will be good for $1 off on a larger pumpkin.

Entry tickets and information are available at all Washington County Banks; Bank One, M & I Bank, and Valley Bank, and the Volunteer Center office in the Centrum Building in downtown West Bend. Call 338-8256 for answers to questions.

All entries will be on display at the Paradise Mall during the four days of the "Great Pumpkin Caper" with judging by a panel of celebrity judges at 1:00 p.m., Saturday, October 28.

Sorensen said, "Be creative, your pumpkin can be scary, funny, highly decorated, or made into a famous person look-alike."

Program for Parent And Child Education

Moraine Park Technical College, West Bend is piloting a unique program for parent and child education: PACE.

Funded by a State Incentive Grant and Moraine Park Technical College, this program is free to qualified Washington County parents or primary care givers of preschool children. To be eligible, these adults must be 18 years or older and without a high school diploma.

Parents attend classes to earn high school equivalency diplomas while their three-, four- or five-year-old child participates in a community preschool activity. A special time is provided for parent and child together to share learning experiences.

Numerous research studies conclude that educational achievement of children is more closely linked to the family's educational attainment and economic status than to any other variable. In addition, most of the new jobs in the '90s will require not only high school but also some post-secondary training.

This free program is currently accepting students. Classes will begin October 1989. To learn more about PACE, contact Claire Ciha, Moraine Park Technical College, West Bend Campus, 2151 N. Main St., West Bend 53095, or call (414) 334-3413.

Practicing artists need to develop business skills in order to successfully pursue their careers. This one-day workshop will address: researching exhibition opportunities, approaching galleries, grants and funding for artists, financial planning and taxes, balancing a job and an art career, and assembling the materials every professional artist needs.

We will discuss how to present your work in the best and most professional way, and we will work on the group's professional materials including: art resumes, slide portfolios, cover letters and artist's statements.

Lisa Pines is an artist and Director of the Career Planning and Placement Center at the School of the Art Institute of Chicago (SAIC). Ms. Pines holds a BA from Connecticut College and a MFA from SAIC. She has developed programs, workshops and courses that address the career issues that confront fine artists. She hopes that by providing information and support for emerging artists, they will be able to successfully pursue their art careers and make informed choices along the way.

Textbook Loan Bill Still on the Shelf

Once again, buried in the rubble of state house issues is the question of loaning textbooks to both public and private schools.

This past February, Senate Bill 38 was introduced to initiate a textbook loan program in Wisconsin. Under the measure, the state superintendent of schools would be charged with developing a list of textbooks available to students.

However, just like last year, the bill is languishing.

This is too bad; it deserves legislative committee passage and full debate on the floor of the State Assembly and the State Senate.

Currently, each school board is allowed by law to purchase textbooks for public schools in the district and to sell them to pupils, or rent them to pupils.

Senate Bill 28 would essentially extend this privilege to private schools. Chief support of the measure, not surprisingly, has come largely from persons involved in parochial education.

The legislation's intent is to generate a better state listing of textbooks for public and private schools. It gives local school districts the ability to select from a broader range of books. And it allows school districts throughout the state an equal chance to receive the books.

I believe these are laudatory objectives. On these merits, little disagreement has arisen.

Yet there has been concern that a "textbook loan program" would erode the local control that should be given to private and parochial schools. Such concern emanates from the fact that the Department of Public

Kewaskum Statesman,

Friday, Oct. 13, 1989, Page 13

Instruction would be charged with administrating the enhanced program. The fear is: more mandates from Madison.

One way to retain a high degree of local control would be to institute parental oversight over the Department of Public Instruction's selection of books available for loan.

For instance, a proposed modification already put forth would allow a pupil's parent or guardian to request the purchase of certain books, thus permitting them a form of local input and control. This is a positive and workable approach.

Another critical concern about SB 38 has been how much will it cost us? It's true that the measure will not be inexpensive. One time start-up costs and annual costs for the program will require a generous amount of State General Purpose Revenue (GPR). It will be important that these expenditures are monitored closely.

Nonetheless, such costs seem well worth incurring, especially as old textbooks need updating so that students have an opportunity to learn from the most current information available.

The idea of a textbook loan program has been around for some time now. Each legislative session the issue seems to take a back seat to other policy priorities.

This sort of status quo should be put to bed. Passage of SB 38 needs to be accelerated. Positive public policy like this deserves fuller consideration. It needs to see the light of day in the State Legislature.

Jim Borusky guides Debbie Neumann as she aims at the target during Riflery.

Larry Seefeldt and Dale Prunty work on their printing stamps made in Ms. Merritt's Arts and Crafts class.

Carrie Strigenz had help from Cliff, Camp Director, as he lifted her up to kiss the moose.

Dale Squier was stuck being the table scraper after a dinner of chicken, baked potatoes and salad.

Mrs. Kathy West poses behind the lean-to that was built during Outdoor Survival. Her group included Jenny Knoeck, Peter Reis, Damien Doherty, Marc Herman and Jenny Butzlaff.

Kewaskum Middle School 6th graders once again participated in the district's second overnight outdoor education experience. This year we took approximately 125 sixth graders, 15 staff members, and eight high school students as counselors. We again visited the beautiful Camp Whitcomb located in the Kettle Moraine near Hartland. In this natural setting, our students had many opportunities to experience and appreciate the outdoors.

Our participating staff members and volunteers included Mr. Borusky (Riflery), Mr. Brenner (Orienteering), Mrs. Domasky, (Creative Writing), Mr. Erickson (Bait Casting), Mrs. Heather (Canoeing), Ms. Holfeltz (Sand Volleyball), Mr. King (Supervising Principal), Ms. Merritt (Arts & Crafts), Mrs. Nelson (Outdoor Cooking), Mr. Reha (Camp Songs), Mr. Sobolewski (Wrath of Math), Mr. Squier (Sand Volleyball), Mrs. Stangl (Wet & Wild-pond study), Mrs. West (Outdoor Survival), and Mr. Stangl (overnight).

The high school students who volunteered their time were Heidi Gruhle, David Kuphal, Michelle Marx, Jeni Mitchell, Kim Petrie, Kris Schinker, Dan Stollenwerk, and Cheri Westphal.

They were responsible for helping the different teachers lead their groups and also helping them supervise in the cabins at night. They were a wonderful new asset to our program!

The students' reaction papers written after their camp experience were filled with exciting comments about the academic activities they participated in, and also the other activities such as the night hike, campfire time, recreation time, and cabin time.

A great time was had by all!

Special Permit For Handicapped Hunters Available

Permits issued by the Department of Natural Resources provide hunters with physical disabilities increased opportunities for a safe, challenging, and successful outdoor experience.

What is a hunt or shoot from a stationary vehicle permit?

Another term for this permit is called a Class A Permit. Persons holding this permit can hunt from a stationary vehicle. You can also take a deer of either sex in any areas of the state open to deer gun hunting and you are permitted to hunt with a crossbow (in or out of a vehicle) during the regular archery seasons. You may shoot from your stationary vehicle on unpaved roads with fine shot. You may only shoot single slugs, or musket balls, arrows, or bolts when you are parked more than 50 feet from the centerline on any road found on a Wisconsin County Highway map. Legal vehicles include legally registered autos, trucks, ATV's and snowmobiles. During any transportation, in or on these vehicles, firearms have to be unloaded and enclosed within a carrying case. Any bow or crossbow has to be unstrung or enclosed within a carrying case.

Persons who typically qualify for a Class A Permit are those with mobility impairments that preclude normal walking and those with severe lung or cardiovascular diseases. Persons who are legally blind can also obtain a variation of this permit that allows them to take any deer during the deer gun season. The visually impaired permit (Class C) requires the use of a sighted aide at all times during hunting.

Permits are good for five years. Persons holding a permit issued prior to 1988 can continue to use the old permit until January 1, 1994 at which time a new permit will have to be applied for.

A temporary permit which is good for one year (class B) can be obtained by persons who suffer a temporary disability such as a broken leg or major surgery. This permit allows you to shoot from a stationary vehicle, but does not allow you to use a crossbow or take any deer unless you have a valid hunters choice permit.

A crossbow permit allows the hunter to legally use a crossbow during the established hunting seasons in Wisconsin. If you do not meet the criteria for a Class A Permit, you may still qualify if your disability affects fingers, hands, arms or shoulders. Amputations, nerve damage, limited strength or range of motion are examples of disabilities that may qualify for a crossbow permit. A crossbow has to meet certain specifications indicated on the application. "Linear Bows" are not crossbows and are not legal for hunting.

A crossbow permit is good for five years from the date issued. Persons holding permits issued prior to 1989 can continue to use the "old" permit until January 1, 1995 at which time a new permit will have to be applied for.

Permit application forms are available at most DNR Offices and can be obtained by mail by calling the nearest DNR Office. There is no charge for issuing the permit, but costs associated with doctor or therapist appointments are the responsibility of the applicants. Any other questions, feel free to give me a call at 533-5041.

Wisconsin's 1st Fall Turkey Hunt Now On

MADISON, WI — Wisconsin's first fall wild turkey hunting season began Wednesday Oct. 11. Department of Natural Resources Wildlife Biologist Ed Frank reminds hunters with turkey permits that a 1989-90 turkey stamp is also required. "Fall turkey hunters will need a 1989-90 Wisconsin turkey stamp in addition to their turkey permit and hunting license," said Frank. "The 1989-90 stamp will also be good for the spring 1990 turkey hunt."

The fall hunt runs through three Wednesday - Sunday hunting periods: Oct. 11-15, Oct. 18-22 and Oct. 25-29. A total of 7,260 hunting permits were issued — 2,420 for each period — in eight turkey hunting zones. Successful applicants were notified and the last permits mailed Sept. 18.

If harvest success rates are similar to the spring hunts, Frank estimates that about 1,450 wild turkeys will be taken.

Based on research results from fall seasons in Iowa and Missouri, Frank anticipates that no more than 15 percent of the turkeys harvested will be adult gobblers. About 60 percent of the harvest is expected to be young turkeys hatched earlier in 1989.

Fall turkey hunting is quite different from spring hunting, added Frank. Further, he anticipates the fall hunt to be more difficult than usual because the hatch of young turkeys appears to be down about 25 percent this year. The DNR has a pamphlet available to help fall turkey hunters, entitled "Fall Turkey Hunting in Wisconsin." Pamphlets are available at DNR offices or by writing: Wisconsin DNR, Wildlife Management, P.O. Box 7921, Madison, WI 53707.

Fall turkey hunters should keep an eye out for other hunters in the woods at this time of year, reminds Frank.

"Identifying your target before you shoot is always good advice. This is especially true in the fall, when turkey hunters may encounter small game hunters and bow deer hunters dressed in camouflage."

Pheasant, Other Small Game Hunting Season Opens Saturday

MADISON, WI — The outlook for the several small game hunting seasons that open Saturday, Oct. 14 is generally improved compared to last year, according to Ed Frank, wildlife biologist for the Department of Natural Resources.

Cottontail rabbit — Oct. 14 to Feb. 28. Daily Limit 3. (Southern half of state; northern half opened Sept. 16).

Jackrabbit — Oct. 14 to Nov. 15. Daily limit 3.

Sharp-tailed grouse — Oct. 14 to Nov. 5. Daily limit 1. (north of highways 64-13-29, west to east)

Bobwhite quail — Oct. 14 to Dec. 6. Daily limit 5.

Pheasant — Oct. 14 to Dec. 6. Daily limit Oct. 14-27 1; Remainder 2.

Hungarian partridge — Oct. 14 to Dec. 6. Daily limit 3.

Raccoon - Residents — Oct. 14 to Jan. 31. Unlimited - nonresidents - Nov. 4 to Jan. 31. Unlimited.

Red and gray fox — North of Hwy. 64. Oct. 14 to Jan. 31. Unlimited; south of Hwy. 64. Nov. 4 to Jan. 31. Unlimited.

(Pheasant, quail, gray partridge, jackrabbit and cottontail rabbit seasons open at noon on Oct. 14.)

The raccoon season outlook is excellent, with a higher proportion of larger animals in the population compared to previous years. Frank attributes the increase in larger, older raccoons to the low pelt values of the past few years, which has decreased trapping pressure. For the same reason, fox hunters should have a successful season similar to last year.

"With low pelt prices there should be good hunting this fall for raccoon and red fox," said Frank. "There will be less competition from other hunters and trappers." Best prospects for both are in western and southern Wisconsin.

Although the pheasant outlook in general is poor to fair, that's still an improvement over last year. Based on this year's brood data, the naturally reproduced pheasant population is slightly improved compared to 1988. Frank anticipates the best hunting in the southern quarter of the state.

In addition to the natural pheasant population, the DNR stocks another 65,000 birds on 100 public hunting grounds. And 12 state properties offer rooster/hen hunting by permit (permits are available free): Avoca-Lower Wisconsin River, Blackhawk Lake, Collins, Holland, Kewaunee, Little Scarboro, Mazomanie, New Munster, Pine River-Lower Wisconsin River, Theresa, Witwen and Yellowstone. Bong State Recreation Area, near Kansasville in Kenosha County, is stocked daily and offers rooster/hen hunting by reservation for a fee of $3.

The bobwhite quail season outlook is poor to fair, but the population is up slightly and Frank reports that some quail are moving into new areas. The best hunting prospects are north of the Wisconsin River in southwestern Wisconsin.

Cottontail rabbit prospects are fair, with the best hunting found in the southern two-thirds of the state. The number of young rabbits produced this year is up compared to last year.

"Hunters are reminded to exercise caution because of potential fire hazards afield," Frank added. "Smoking materials should not be used outside of vehicles and catalytic converter-equipped vehicles shouldn't be parked over dry grass and weeds."

Several small game seasons opened on Sept. 16: gray and fox squirrels, ruffed grouse, woodcock and cottontail rabbit—northern half of the state.

Indians Record Drops to 0-7 After 35-8 Loss to Raiders

Try as they may, the Kewaskum Indians Football team just can't seem to put a mark in the winner's column this season. The Indians suffered yet another lopsided 35-8 loss, this time to a Homecoming celebrating Two Rivers Raider team.

And celebrate they did. By half-time Two Rivers had 29 points on the board while Kewaskum had yet to score. Kewaskum had four key errors in this half including two pass interceptions, a fumble, and a high snap from the center which ended up going over the Kewaskum punter's head.

The second half saw much less action from the Raiders and the Indians put themselves on the scoreboard with a 7 yard Mark Felix pass to wingback Brian Dobke. On the extra point play, Dave Kuphal made an excellent snag catching the ball behind his head and hanging onto it for a 2 point conversion.

Two Rivers came up with what could be considered the "shady-play-of-the-game" as they drove the ball down to the Kewaskum 10 where they were stopped by some good Indian defense. Two Rivers set up for a field goal attempt when kicker Miller started shouting he didn't have a tee.

According to KHS Coach Pearson, the Raider coach stood on the sidelines yelling, "Here's the tee, here's the tee," and in the meantime the center snapped the ball and the Raider QB Smogeleski threw a pass down the sidelines to the holder who now turned into a pass receiver. Uncovered, he ran for a TD. Of course, our Kewaskum players were quite perplexed as to what was really going on and a trick play such as this definitely wasn't needed with the score being what it was. The Heller brothers, Scott and Brian continue to provide some solid steady defense to an otherwise pretty shakey team while Noel Stradtmann returned to the line-up after missing the Kiel game due to illness and "he played pretty decent at outside linebacker" according to Coach Pearson. Kewaskum gained only 87 yards on the ground and top pass receiver of the game was Bruce Waechter, who caught five passes for 50 yards.

Vogt Continues to Shine In Cross Country for KHS

Junior Laurie Vogt pulled out yet another top five finish in the recent Cougar Cross Country Invitational in Campbellsport with a time of 12:55, good enough for third place. Kewaskum had three girls out due to illness and injury, therefore not having enough runners to make a full team. Other runners that did perform included sophomore Nancy Neumann who clocked a 15:36 for 48th place, Senior Pam Osterbrink who came in 57th with a time of 16:22, and senior Kris Schinker who followed Osterbrink in with a time of 16:23 for 58th place. The Slinger Owls won the Invitational with a team total of 48 points while the individual winner was Plymouth's Jenny Lodl with a time of 12:26.

In the boy's race, freshmen Dean Kreis and Josh Kurtz led the Indians turning in times of 19:15 and 19:46 for 23rd and 40th place. Coach Dave Drexler was especially impressed with Kreis who "ran his best time and just stayed right up there." Kurtz also posted his best time in this Invitational. Other Kewaskum finishers included junior Jon Fry who was clocked at 20:15 for 44th place, sophomore Kevin Kapp in 48th place with a time of 20:20, and junior John Schmidt who came in 54th place with a time of 20:27. KHS Volleyball Team Winding Down the Season

by Kim Stielow

On Tuesday night the Kewaskum Indians volleyball teams traveled to Sheboygan Falls to compete. The varsity was defeated by Sheboygan Falls in the first and third games with total match scores of 13-15, 15-9 and 15-4.

The varsity team seems to be in a depression right now but they are sure they will break it and finish this season with a bang. They hope to make this season last a long time.

Our team high scorer was Karen Felix with a total of 13 points scored, consisting of seven spike kills, five block kills and one ace serve. The assist leaders for the night were Tisha Stradtmann, and Tina Weddig both having six assists.

On Thursday night the Indians went up against New Holstein in a home match. The excitement level was high that evening and paid off for the freshmen who defeated the New Holstein freshmen. Both the J.V. and Varsity lost but not without a good fight.

The results of the varsity match were 15-5, 12-15, and 15-4, but don't let the scores fool you, the Indians came out ready to go and never gave up. They played their toughest match of the season so far and the girls can be proud. More high scores were achieved in this game with our high scorer Felix with four ace serves, eight spike kills and one blocked spike for a total of thirteen points, and our assist leader was Tina Weddig with eleven assists.

The week of October 9th will be the last week of competition for the Freshmen and J.V. and the Varsity will be hosting Sub-Regionals next Tuesday, Oct. 17th against Campbellsport. We ask that you attend and cheer on the Indians on their road to STATE.

AMBITION in the old days was rewarded by more money; today ambition is punished by higher taxes.
